It all comes out in the wash, as people are wont to say. President Coolidge is mortified to death that Frank L. Smith, Republican candidate for senator in Illinois, has allowed his campaign to be financed by public utility interests in that state. The interests that Mr. Samuel Insull had at heart when he turned over so many dollars to candidate Smith were as obvious to President Coolidge as to the general public.

Yet it must have been with some pain that the President read Frank Smith's rejoinder. Smith is a Republican. He knows how the Grand Old Party works and how it sustains itself. This is what he says:

"In a presidential year the great protected interests contribute to the campaign funds of the candidates who will give them, or continue a protective tariff. Who finds anything sinister in that?"

Mr. Smith ought to know that a great many people find something "sinister in that." If the moneyed interests, by sheer weight of their gold and silver, can turn an election, our government serves them and not the people. Mr. Smith ought to know that one of these fine days, the Democratic party is going to come into its own and is going to make an appeal that not even money can withstand. That's a long story, however.

As a result of its postway recovery, the Pennsylvania railroad feels itself in a position to raise dividends from six to seven per cent on its common stock. This is the highest dividend that the company has paid since 1907. The New York Central railroad now pays seven per cent, and the Baltimore and Ohio railroad recently raised its rate from five to six per cent.

President Green and other high officials of the American Federation of Labor were present at the laying of the keel of a new 10,000 ton navy cruiser at the Brooklyn Navy yard last Tuesday. Mr. Green made a speech in which he uttered some high sounding remarks about national defense. He wanted to be sure that no one would have brass, henceforth, to link the Federation with pacifism. The very idea!

What is Mr. Green ashamed of? Is the pacifist view of things so intolerable—especially for the workingmen who inevitably become tools in the Martian chess game?

This is the day of big combines and mergers. The latest sensation of the business world was created last Monday with the announced proposal to merge the two largest mail order houses in the country, Sears Roebuck and Company and Montgomery Ward. Assets of the new corporation, if it is finally approved, will amount to $235,000,000 and annual business more than $450,000,000.

The merger, it is estimated, will save over $10,000,000 a year on operating expenses. For catalogues alone, the two houses spent between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000.

Four years ago, thousands of men, garbed in black shirts marched on Rome, raised an insurrection, and virtually undertook to run the Italian government by force. To the outsider it would seem that Italy has rid herself of troubles. Benito Mussolini, the Fa-

GOPHERS DEFEAT BADGERS, 16-10

President Frank Tells Purpose Of University Education In Talk To Fathers Last Night

Koering Replies for Fathers; Weekly Cardinal Makes Initial Appearance

"It is the business of the university," declared President Glenn Frank in his address to the fathers last night, "to train the student to cultivate his scientific attitude of mind outside of the laboratory as well as within." Approximately 1000 fathers invaded the men's gymnasium at 6:30 o'clock for the annual father-faculty banquet and heard President Frank deliver his second address to the fathers. His topic was "The University as Father by Proxy."

Copies of the Weekly Cardinal, new student publication sponsored by the Daily Cardinal, were distributed shortly before dinner was served. While the fathers ate, Frank Rohrer's orchestra furnished music, after which several songs were sung by a selected group of the Men's Glee club led by Blaire L. Stewart. Prof. E. D. Gordon took the platform and directed songs by the fathers.

Koehring Responds

Phillip Koehring, of Milwaukee, and father of Calvin Koehring '27, chairman of Fathers' Day, responded on behalf of the fathers in thanking President Frank or offering the opportunity to visit the university.

President Frank took several minutes to introduce his main subject by explaining the work on the university budget which will come before the legislature in two months. "The requests to be made are being carefully drawn up," he said, "and are not intended to be unprecedented in size in an effort to satisfy all the suppressed desires of the past decade. The budget will consider carefully the university's responsibility to the state. The pressing necessity is to catch up for time lost in the educational gap caused by the Great War. Besides the mere catching up, Wisconsin must still go forward if she is to retain her position as one of the greatest universities in the nation."

Speaks of Fatherhood

The main subject of the president's talk, however, dealt with the fine art of fatherhood and sonship. The point to be remembered, the president pointed out, is that both relationships are temporary. "We must learn to grow up, and when to give up! Failure to grow up

Prof. Gordon to Conduct Symphony at Dallas Conv

Prof. E. B. Gordon of the school of music will lead the huge national symphony orchestra consisting of 250 young artists chosen from the ranks of secondary school musicians throughout the country it was announced this week. The orchestra will be assembled to play at the convention of the National Educators association that is meeting at Dallas, Texas, this spring.

Prof. Gordon, who last year was president of the National Music conference and is on the present board of directors, will also lead the chorus of 1,000 voices which will sing at Dallas. He will be aided by Prof. J. E. Maddy of the University of Michigan.

Because of the competition and because of the grade of music to be played, the applicant will have to be a finished musician according to Prof. Gordon who is conducting the trials at Madison. The successful applicant will receive music on which to practice and will again be tested on his arrival at Dallas.

HIGH SCHOOL AG CONTEST CLOSES

Winners Announced Yesterday at Meeting; West Salem is High Team

The most successful state high school agricultural contest ever held at the university came to a close yesterday. All of the teams entered in the contest were at the game in a body rooting for Wisconsin.

The winners of the events were announced at a meeting at Agricultural hall at 10 o'clock yesterday.

The high team for all classes was the high team for all classes was of a possible 3000; the high fat stock team, Belmont with a score of 1991 against a possible 2400; the high dairy team, Mondovi, 487 points out of 600; high Holstein team, Osceola first with 265 points, and Fort Atchinson and Mondovi tied for second place with 260 points each.

Individual high scores in the judging of dairy cattle were Keith Roesch, Lancaster, first with 198.2 points; Malcolm Lamont, Colby, second with 176.8 points; Julius Moy, Mondovi third with 175.5 points; Elmer Kunz, Fort Atchinson, fourth with 175.4 points; Gerald Dankemeyer, Marshfield, fifth, with 166.3 points; and Chris Duholm, Milltown, sixth with 166.2 points. High individual scores in the Holstein class were Vernon Nutteman, West Salem, first, with 99 points out of 100; and Julius Moy, Mondovi, second with 98.5 points.

In the fat stock classes, high scores were made by Clifford Schultz, Milton, first with 740 points; Chris Duholm, Milltown, second with 725 points; Percy Hardiman, Waukesha, third with 766 points; Vernon Nutteman, West Salem and Vernon Stimpson, Mt. Hope, tied for fourth with 705 points.

The high team for all classes is to be presented with a pennant which they will hold until the next contest. Other winning teams and individuals are to be presented cups. These have not been given out yet, but this will be done sometime within the next month. The presentation will be made at the high schools of the winners.

DIRECTORIES WILL BE DISTRIBUTED TOMORROW

The student directories will be available after 3:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at room 101 Bascom hall. Miss G. M. Martin, assistant registrar, announced yesterday. They will be available after the same hour throughout the week.

Correspondence Study Helps Prisoner Write For Magazine

Ten years ago, a young man with scarcely any education began a long term in the state prison at Waupun. Today, an article written by this young man has been accepted for publication by the Survey magazine.

This has been made possible through the work of the Extension Division of the university, and is only one of many cases in which the prisoners are gaining an education through correspondence study.

The English courses offered are among the most popular taken by the prison at Waupun, is that of a young foreigner who declares that he was sent there because he did not know enough English to prove his innocence in the crime in which he was involved. Through corres-

BADGERS LOSE, BUT BRILLIANCE OF DAY PLEASES EVERYONE

Glorious Saturday . . . the very foam of days, even of "game-days," with the very game of games to set it off! Such a Saturday that even the score was an irrelevant detail, and those who were most concerned with the fact that the game had been lost, were most pleased with the brilliance of the playing.

The stadium was a mass of bright color, alive in the sharp autumn air, every fur coat wore its gay feather, and every cheer was echoed by the fathers who were, if possible, more enthusiastic than the students. There was the usual laughing, calling, chattering and the cracking of peanuts, the merriment over the tiny monkey mascot who amused the bleachers, and the general holiday spirit of all.

And when time for the game came, State street and University avenue were crowded with autos, filled with "rooters" who made it almost impossible for the hurrying throngs on the sidewalk to make their way to Camp Randall.

There are those who discount the "game" as being alien from the end and aim of college, and irrelevant with education . . . even harmful to it. Yet there is little doubt, from what can be gathered from the expression of the paternal faces, that they were rather well satisfied to entrust their offspring to the present system.

Goodnight Returns From Convention of Summer Sessions

Dean Scott H. Goodnight, director of the summer sessions, returned yesterday from a convention of summer school directors in Chicago. Chicago and Northwestern universities were hosts to the convention, the sessions being held on the Chicago campus.

Twenty-five universities from all parts of the United States were represented at the meetings. Wisconsin now has the third largest summer school in the country being outranked in enrollment only by Columbia and Chicago.

"The chief problem now confronting summer schools is to arrange their calendar to accommodate public school teachers which constitute the bulk of summer students," said Dean Goodnight.

DIRECTORIES WILL BE DISTRIBUTED TOMORROW

The student directories will be available after 3:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at room 101 Bascom hall. Miss G. M. Martin, assistant registrar, announced yesterday. They will be available after the same hour throughout the week.

CARDINALS ARE OUTCLASSED IN THRILLING GAME

Team Fights Gamely Against Odds, But Fails to Hold Lead

BY STAN E. KALISH

(Sports Editor)

Bruised, battered, broken, but ever brilliant, a striving though hopelessly outclassed Wisconsin football team was pounded and punctured by a battering ram from the North, the Minnesota Gophers to a 16 to 10 defeat at Randall Stadium yesterday afternoon.

After three years of hopeless ties the Northmen unleashed what may be called the most vicious attack even seen at Randall to sink the tired Wisconsin eleven after trailing in the fourth quarter, 10 to 9, on a brilliant 55-yard return of a punt for touchdown by Nydahl, the Gopher substitute back.

Badgers Fight

Coach George Little's Badgers, though failing to make a single first down in the contest, demonstrated that they are the greatest ball-hawks in the country and by taking advantage of the breaks led until the final moments.

Herbert Joesting, who Fielding Yost would probably call, "The greatest fullback that ever stepped on a football field" led a powerful Northman attack with perhaps the most stupendous amount of plowing since the days of the flying wedge and raw steak football teams. Joesting made 134 of the Gopher 285-yard total, and this includes Nydahl's run for touchdown.

STUDENTS TO HOLD NATIONAL MEETING

Will Attempt to Survey College Problems at Gathering in Milwaukee

In an effort to look out over the world, to scrutinize college life, and to make a fresh search of Jesus' dreams and resources, 3,000 specially selected students representing nearly every university and college in America will meet during the closing days of 1926 and the opening days of 1927 in a national student conference in Milwaukee.

"Twenty-three students will represent Wisconsin," C. V. Hibbard, secretary of the University Y. M. C. A., said. The university will be restricted to 23 delegates according to a definite mathematical plan.

One of the principal aims of the conference is to have all delegates either mature students or advisers. In preparation for this, the Council of Christian associations, comprising the student council of the Y. W. C. A. and the student department of the Y. M. C. A. have issued several booklets on the various subjects, issued a syllabus, and made suggestions for reading to fit the delegates who will attend to take part in and get much out of the discussions.

The principal theme of the conference, according to advance booklets, will be "What Resources Has Jesus For Life in Our World?" The subject is divided in five major sections: 1. We Students—?; 2. Ways Out; 3. Society and You; 4. Religion; 5. Religion and You.

A notable list of speakers and leaders has been arranged for the conference, including G. A. Studdert Kennedy, Charles W. Gilkey, Kirby Page, Bruce Carry, Mordecai Johnson, Harrison Elliott, and Henry Sloane Coffin.

PAN-HELLENIC TO GIVE PRODUCTION

Musical Comedy-Style Show to be Presented Here Nov. 12

A style show interwoven with a musical comedy plot with attendant dancing and singing will be held on November 12 and 13, as the first big undertaking of Pan-Hellenic association for this year, according to Mabel Butler '27, president of the association. Elaborate plans are being made for the production, which will be held from 7:30 to 9 o'clock on Friday and Saturday evenings of Homecoming weekend either in the men's gymnasium or Lathrop hall, the place to be decided definitely later.

The show will be held under the professional direction of Miss Alice Conroy of Milwaukee, who has directed similar shows for clubs and societies in Milwaukee and Chicago.

Pan-Hellenic will take charge of the business end, and the models. Four women from each sorority will participate, twelve acting as models and six as dancers. The fraternities will be asked to cooperate, in order to have both men and women models.

Clothes, which will be for the college men and women exclusively, will be supplied preferably by local merchants, otherwise by shops in Chicago and the east. Scenery and costumes for the dancing will be supplied by Balaban and Kratz. Leo Kehl will direct the dancing.

Chairmen of the committees in charge of the affair are Mabel Butler '26, general chairman, Marcela Eierman '28, entertainment, Elmer Burkhardt '27, properties, Eleanor Warren '27, business manager and head of ticket sales, and Cecil Cohen '28, publicity.

Interest in automobiles has become so keen in Venezuela that during the recent rainy season when many roads were impassable automobile dealers were busy filling orders.

(Continued from Page One) means continued dependence, and failure to give up means a perpetual dictatorship. The two attitudes of dependence and dictatorship are not limited to the family, but their influences reach beyond the small circle and affect the intelligence of the individual."

It is the purpose of the university to teach students to stand on their own feet intellectually, according to the president. "We must teach not what to think, but how to think. Objections are offered by cynical doubters of democracy that if present faculties cannot tell the youth of the nation what to think, new faculties should be procured." But it is the opinion of President Frank that this theory of education is unsound. "I am confident that the University of Wisconsin will be among the last to give comfort and support to these cynical doubters of democracy," he declared.

In closing, the president pointed out that "education must be a goal rather than a gospel. The university aims to be father to your son and daughter by helping him to cultivate the scientific attitude toward life outside the laboratory as well as within."

Y. W. C. A. VESPERS TO BE HELD AT LATHROP

Y. W. C. A. Vespers will be held today at 4:30 o'clock in Lathrop parlors.

A tea will be given at that time in honor of Miss Theodore Caud, who is visiting the United States for three or four months. She has been in India for some time. In May she attended the Y. W. C. A. convention in London.

But the methods used are certainly not those which would inspire the intelligent observer with a feeling of confidence in the new order. Murder and violence have played their part. Free speech has not been tolerated. The press has been gagged. How long will the apparent calm last?

Oklahoma legislators will be asked to appropriate $25,000 for the maintenance of night schools in that state. This sum is to be matched by an equal amount from the federal government. This is how the federal grants-in-aid system works.

The system has given rise to much discussion. On the one hand we are told that states like New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Illinois—the states that fill the federal treasury, are virtually paying for improvements in Oklahoma, Nebraska, Idaho and the less populous states. Balancing this is the argument that education and improvement have national as well as local aspects, and therefore deserve encouragement and sustenance from the federal pocketbook.

FOUR RECOUNTS TAKEN ON VICE-PRESIDENCY

Gordon E. Dawson '28, Madison, was elected vice-president of the junior class in a race which was so close that four recounts of the votes were necessary before the election committee would announce the winner. Dawson received 357 votes, one more than Charlotte Wollaege. Elise Roberts was third with 229 votes.

Daniel Kerth, chairman of the election committee, said that it was certain that Dawson was the winner because different people counted the votes on each of the four tabulations.

Mr. Kerth also said that due to the fine cooperation of the members of the election committee, this election had gone off as smoothly as any election held in recent years.

bracing twice when Gopher scores seemed certain. Two great guards were uncovered by Wisconsin in the personages of Schuette and Cole. Both men smeared more than a fair share of the ground-gaining Minnesota cross buck, and may replace Von Bremer and Wagner when the Cardinals meet Michigan next week.

Coach T. E. Jones, who scouted Minnesota this year, asserted recently that Minnesota has the greatest team in years if they learn to play smart football. Dr. Clarence Spears, the Gopher coach, seems to have fathomed the grooming of intelligent football into the heads of the Gophers for they played a heady game and certainly deserved to win.

'Stics Tell Story
Wisconsin was good, Minnesota was better, that is the story.

Now a glance as to the reason the Gophers are best:

Minnesota made 15 first downs to the Wisconsin's none. The Gophers made 285 yards from scrimmage while Wisconsin counted 47. At Wisconsin's own game, that of passing, the Gophers excelled, completing 6 of 15 passes for a 71-yard gain, three being intercepted. Wisconsin counted but 2 of 8 passes for a 9 yard gain. One Badger attempt was intercepted. Minnesota was penalized 50 yards, Wisconsin 25.

Wisconsin Outplayed

Although badly outplayed for most of the first half, the Badgers made a couple of heroic stands, but succumbed to a 9 to 7 score at half time.

Captain Harmon won the toss, and after an exchange of punts, the Badgers advanced the ball to the Gopher 44-yard line where "Butch" Leitl attempted a place-kick which was blocked by Minnesota who failed to advance on plunges and passes.

A series of line plunges with the great Joesting featuring advanced the ball to the Wisconsin 22-yard line. Here Joesting fumbled and Jeff Burrus scored a touchdown after scampering 82 yards. Harmon made the extra point and it was Wisconsin 7, Minnesota 0.

Gophers Rush

On magnificent runs by Joesting and Almquist the Gophers made a touchdown, the big fullback going over. Almquist's kick was blocked. And the score stood Wisconsin 7, Minnesota 6 at the quarter.

Passes and smashes by the Northmen didn't do a whole lot and the ball was exchanged frequently. Then on a series of smashes the Gophers moved to the Wisconsin 16-yard line where Peplaw put the ball between the cross bar on a drop-kick and the Gophers, when the half ended a few moments later, led 9 to 6.

Last Quarter Fast

Wisconsin kicked off in the third quarter, both teams threatening, but neither having the necessary punch. The Badgers then advanced the ball to the 31-yard line, where the Maroon and Gold line held. "Butch" Leitl made a difficult place kick and Wisconsin led, 10 to 9. There was no further scoring in the quarter. The final quarter was a thriller, both teams threatening several times, but perfectly functioning defenses prevented scoring. With four minutes to go, Nydahl received Barnum's punt on his own 45-yard line, and with beautiful interference and clever running carried the ball 55 yards for a touchdown. He dropkicked goal.

Training Table

Minnesota has come and saw and made a conquest. And we're darn glad that Coach Little didn't sign them up for two games this season.

With all their juggling system and their bum strategy, the Gophers played a rushing, go-getting game from start to finish. Such plunging as that of Joesting, or such line play as that of Hyde, Gary, and Hanson, are not to be seen every Saturday afternoon.

Just as Michigan was preparing to go through the season undefeated, Navy comes forward and politely but firmly flops the Wolverines, 10-0. Michigan revealed a sad shortage in line strength, but her forwards were consistently outplayed by their opponents. The Wolverine pass attack was completely flattened by the removal of Benny Friedman from the game on account of injuries.

The one other big upset in yesterday's game was Illinois' victory over Pennsylvania. Displaying aggressive talent that almost took Penn off its feet, the Illini held their mighty eastern opponents scoreless for three quarters and then added the final insult of booting a field goal in the last minute or so of play.

Brown continued her march to glory in the East by defeating the once great Dartmouth eleven, 7-0. With triumphs over Yale and Dartmouth to her credit, Brown is beginning to resemble storm clouds hanging above the gridiron horizon on the Atlantic seaboard.

Ohio State took an 18-0 workout against Chicago yesterday, adding one more to the handsome collection of lacings that the Maroons are getting up. The Buckeyes didn't get irritated until Chicago recovered a fumble on the State four yard line and nearly shoved it across for a touchdown. Thereafter, Capt. Marty Karow, Johnny Grimm, and Elmer Marek did everything but carve their initials on the goal posts.

Around the wheel and back to our own little accident at Camp Randall yesterday. It looked for a time as if Minnesota intended to cripple Wisconsin before starting up the steam-roller act. Full back was an especially dangerous position; both "Red" Kreuz and Joe Kresky got

Phelan Building Miracle Football Team for Purdue

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Oct. — Just another football game, won by one team and lost by another was the manner in which many fans looked upon the recent 6 to 0 victory of Purdue over Chicago, but to those in close touch with Purdue football history, the game entered the "football miracle" class, and a glance at Purdue's football records shows that in winning, Jimmy Phelan, head football coach, had guided his eleven to a feat which fifteen other Purdue coaches had failed to accomplish.

Back in 1894 D. M. Balliet, a Princeton man, coached a Purdue team which defeated Chicago 10 to 6. The chances are that few who played in the game or watched it realized they were witnessing the last victory of Purdue over Chicago on the Midway until a 22-year period had elapsed, excepting the 1918 game, which Purdue won 7 to 3, a war year that is not recorded on the conference books.

Balliet had three more chances to crack the Maroons but failed, and even Andy Smith, whose California elevens on the Pacific coast spread him fame far and near, three times tried to humble Coach Stagg's eleven but failed, only once his team was within six points of a victory. Besides Balliet, other coaches since 1849 who tried to beat the Staggs but failed were S. M. Hammond, W. S. Church, A. P. Jamison, C. M. Best, O. F. Cutts, A. E. Hershner, M. E. Witham, L. C. Turner, F. Speik, M. H. Horr, J. E. Moll, Andy Smith, Ceo O'Donnell, Arthur Scanlon, and William Dietz. Phelan tried four times before winning against Chicago, last season holding the Maroons to a 6 to 0 score.

To many, the breaking of Purdue's Chicago jinx means the opening of a new football era at Purdue. At any rate, it is certain that Phelan has stamped himself as a young coach of distinction by developing a team in five years like the present one. Purdue's important games remain with Northwestern Nov. 6 and Indiana Nov. 20.

Rollie Barnum scraped through with a couple of odd nicks after he moved into the fullback job.

WISCONSIN CROSS COUNTRY MEN WIN OVER MINNESOTA

Cardinal Harriers Take First Five Places to Walk Away, 15 to 40

By taking the first five places Wisconsin's cross country team made a walkaway of its race with Minnesota here this morning, winning by a score of 15 to 40.

Just as they did in the quadrangular race at Chicago last week, Capt. Schutt, J. Zola, Chapman and Petaja finished in four abreast formation, tying for first place. Gumbrecht, who came in fifth, was only a yard behind.

Minnesota Sixth

Wexner was the first Minnesota man to finish. He followed Gumbrecht over the line closely and was chalked up in sixth place. Three other Minnesota men struggled into seventh, eighth and ninth places.

By their victory today, the Badger harriers proved that they are logical choice for another Big Ten cross country championship. They have won this honor twice in succession during the past two years.

FATHER'S SERVICES TO BE GIVEN BY HILLEL

Special services will be held in honor of visiting fathers at Hillel foundation this morning. Rabbi Solomon Landman will speak on the subject, "Is the College Jew Failing Judaism?" Services will begin at 11 o'clock. Music by the Hillel choir consisting of 25 voices will be given under the direction of Mrs. D. B. Caster of the university School of Music.

London dancing teachers are trying to tone down the Charleston so that it will be acceptable for the exclusive ball rooms there.

Dr. Ganfield Advises Us

In an effort to stop the rising tide of popular opinion against the Volstead act, the professional drys, with their backs driven to the wall, are flooding the country with dry literature. Church members have cajoled for funds in order that Anti-Saloon speakers might go around and rant and rave about the beauties of our beautiful prohibition law. Various citizens committees, apparently with the good of humanity at heart, are broadcasting dry propaganda which rhapsodizes on the good effects of prohibition.

There is a reason for all this last minute effort to make the people of Wisconsin believe something that isn't true. Tuesday the people will for the first time have a chance to express themselves through the ballot on a question which was railroaded through Wisconsin's state legislature as it was through other state legislatures. Tuesday the people will be consulted for the first time about the merits of a law which has brought with it so many social evils. Following is the complete referendum:

"Shall the congress of the United States amend the Volstead act so as to authorize the manufacture and sale of beer for beverage purposes, of an alcoholic percentage of 2.75 per cent by weight, under government supervision, but with the provision that no beverage so purchased shall be drunk on the premises where obtained?"

Of course the Daily Cardinal shall vote "yes" on that amendment. We believe that prohibition as it exists is bringing about the downfall of youth.

The most recent dry propaganda to come to our office is a package of literature from the Citizen's Committee of 1000, of which Dr. W. A. Ganfield is chairman. In a letter addressed to us, Dr. Ganfield tells us to "vote 'no' on the beer referendum." He encloses a long diatribe against the anti-prohibition forces which is labeled "for immediate release." Then he suggests that it occurred to him that this would be a splendid time to "run some strong article in our newspaper or as a good editorial." What a singular occurrence, Doctor. From what we have been able to observe, the forces of the dry propagandists work much more smoothly and more effectively than the forces of dry enforcement, which are in a sad state of demoralization.

By a curiously wrought argument, Dr. Ganfield attempts to prove that the bootleggers would vote yes on the referendum. "They are the Wisconsin law-breakers," he says, "and they thrive because of their ability to discover or create a demand for their liquor." Since when did bootleggers create a demand? The demand for liquor has always existed and bootleggers are merely trying to furnish the supply.

The bootlegger would be the last person to desire the return of conditions as they existed before prohibition. Prohibition has made him rich, and he will vote "dry." The drys and the bootleggers are in close companionship when it comes to voting at the polls. We wouldn't say that they were bedfellows, but the notorious fact remains that they welcome the opportunity to vote "dry," even though they don't attend church as religiously as their Anti-Saloon league brethren.

The mail from the Citizen's Committee of 1000 extremists also included a cartoon which pictures a saloon at either end of a dance hall with beer being sold there, but drunk in the dance hall. The cartoon contends that "not on the premises" is a joker, and that the beer is bought in one room and drunk in the next.

Dr. Ganfield should realize that his cartoon is no joke at all, but a picture of actual conditions as they exist TODAY, under prohibition. If he and his brother reformers would get around to some of the country dance halls and actually get in touch with present-day conditions, he would see that poisonous whiskey is being sold and consumed freely in and around dance halls. We are aware that certain members of this student body believe that prohibition does prohibit and that it is a success. They haven't understood what we meant when we told them that they had their heads in the sand. Some of us, being gregarious animals by nature, like to get around among folks, forming contacts and seeing life as it actually exists. We have witnessed a debauchery of youth under the prohibition law, and it is our contention that a modification of the Volstead act, making possible a replacing of good, wholesome beer for the poisonous moonshine that is now being sold, will put a stop to the debauchery of youth which is sending many to the insane asylums and to early graves.

Football and Whatnot

Football games, cross-country meets, hundreds of visitors chatting with student friends, a date on the night of the big game—all of those things go to make university life glamorous and exciting. Red feathers are proudly displayed on the coats of every loyal Badger. Old grads meet unexpectedly on the street amid lusty shouts of joy. Everywhere a hustle and bustle indicates that something is going to happen. The air has electricity in it. Something seems to be impending.

Football is the most appealing of Wisconsin's traditions. It is at a football game as at no other time that the Wisconsin spirit runs rampant. There is something about a football game which dispels a spirit of cynicism regarding specialized athletics. A spirit which attracts thousands of football fans in a huge stadium must be a compelling spirit. We cannot define Wisconsin spirit and divide it into component parts. It is something to be wondered at—intangible yet amazingly real. It draws men across continents to attend reunions and it causes aged graduates to act like grade children when a cardinal-clad halfback crosses the goal line.

Yesterday they came from all corners of the state and from many different parts of the nation—even those folks who never attended the university were choked up when they heard the Varsity toast. As it swept across the gridiron, a huge column of tone, and was echoed from section to section, there were many old men who felt strong emotions welling up within them. It is needless to say that many of these men envied their sons who are now attending school and continually being bathed in this electrifying collegiate atmosphere. As students, we are indeed lucky.

The uncle of one of the boys suggested this verse to us yesterday, anent our prohibition policy:

Ten thousand Jews are making booze,
Without the law's permission,
To fill the needs of all the Swedes,
Who voted for Prohibition.

Of course we are not underwriting the sentiment herein expressed, but we are merely presenting it for your approval or disapproval.

Soon it'll be cold enough so that one can eat oysters with a feeling of assurance.

The only reason so many men make it a habit to appear on the campus sans hat is that it saves them the effort of tipping it to their co-ed friends.

What bothers us most is how the true New Yorker ever manages to work with celebrities arriving on every boat and demanding royal welcomes. It wasn't so bad before channel swimmers became so profuse and queens stayed in their own countries, but now it must be an awful nuisance.

We don't know what the Rumanian national debt is, but at the present rate we bet Queen Marie pays it off before leaving America.

ers," he says, "and they thrive because of their ability to discover or create a demand for their liquor." Since when did bootleggers create a demand? The demand for liquor has always existed and bootleggers are merely trying to furnish the supply.

The bootlegger would be the last person to desire the return of conditions as they existed before prohibition. Prohibition has made him rich, and he will vote "dry." The drys and the bootleggers are in close companionship when it comes to voting at the polls. We wouldn't say that they were bedfellows, but the notorious fact remains that they welcome the opportunity to vote "dry," even though they don't attend church as religiously as their Anti-Saloon league brethren.

EXTRA EXTRA EXTRA

Approximately 1,500 fathers are the guests of the university today, and approximately 1,500 fathers asked the question, "Where the hell do you spend all the money?"

Don't be backward, boys, take him around to the places—he was young once. Show him your taste is as good as his.

And if he doesn't agree—well, he can't kick your pants in front of all the rest of the boys.

While watching the game in the stadium yesterday afternoon we felt like the cross country team did when it won yesterday—Like it was with them, there was no one ahead of us. We sat in Row 1.

One bird in the row back of us who had an affinity for a megaphone kept yelling, "Score one pint, fellows, I managed to."

A choice portion of femininity sitting not far away kept insisting that her ticket entitled her to a seat on the 75 yard line.

She must have sold dress goods this summer by the yard. She couldn't have worked at a remnant counter and still be used to those figures.

gus tips. An English lecturer Friday afternoon gave a talk on Liberalism. Fine stuff for the dads to listen to.

One of the Dads stopped before an armless statue in the Libe and asked what had happened to the poor fellow. A frosh with a red shirt on answered that he got that way when he played against the Badgers two years ago.

One of the boys at the house bought an overcoat that was too loud, so he borrowed a muffler.

Another of the boys who is taking military training—cavalry to be exact—complaints that he is in the aviation half of the time.

When that fellow behind me yelled that a Gopher had intercepted one, I was reminded of the gopher not paid before Nov. 15. After that a fine of ten cents per week will be charged until the dues are paid.

CASTALIA PICTURE

The Castalia Literary society will meet at 9:30 o'clock this morning at DeLonge's studio to have its Badger group picture taken.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

A Hallowe'en party for Lutheran students will be held at 6:30 this evening at the Calvary Lutheran Church. Everyone is urged to dress in as odd a manner as possible.

National Officers of Civil Engineers to be Guests Here

George S. Davison, president, and George T. Seabury, secretary of the American Society of Civil Engineers will be guests of the local student chapter of that organization on Thursday, Nov. 4.

The coming of two such prominent engineers to the Wisconsin campus is an event of utmost importance to every engineering student, and every engineer should avail himself of the opportunity to hear these men," said Jack Levin '27, president of the society's local chapter here.

An attempt is being made to have President Davison address the entire engineering school on Thursday afternoon, and both men have agreed to speak at a banquet which will be given in their honor by the civil engineering students on Thursday night. Arrangements for entertaining the guests are in charge of Jack Levin '27, and L. H. Kessler of the engineering faculty.

W. S. G. A DUES

Every woman, who has not done so, must pay her W. S. G. A. dues by tomorrow. A fine of twenty-five cents will be attached to all dues that I intercepted a rock I threw at him this summer.

The girl friend, upon reading some of the publicity for the military ball, asked whether or not it was a war cry.

Jonah is all wet—just like he was when the whale got rid of him. Why—because the Milwaukee serial is not yet done.

"Are you from Milwaukee?"

"No, I was just initiated."

And by the way, Jonah set himself up to be a WHALE of a humorist.

Con Eklund got a big kick out of the Orph because it had an old bar room act in it.

Loz had the game all figured out that we were going to win.

"Yes, I understand that we used a style of play that is very hard to understand."

"I read in the paper that all along we have used an overhead style of play."

Which reminds me of the Gopher back who couldn't quite snare some of the passes, singing, "Oh, How I Miss You Tonight."

"This floors me," said the guy who sits next to us in history as he slipped on the manana peel in Bac-com.

"I found a new definition for a pedestrian the other day: a fellow who owns a second hand auto."

Somehow or other the above reminds me of a note issued by the dean's office last spring during the picnic season which said in part:

"Before giving your coat to the girl to sit on, take it off."

DISILLUSIONMENT

If all the jokes about the girl walking home were true, there wouldn't be any room on the highways for the cars to pass.

The roommate, after taking these exams, is trying to sell the frame he brought to collitch with him with which he meant to surround his diploma. All we can say is, that the worst is yet to come.

Twas tough we lost.

Hildegard Wooll and S. G. Crownhart Married Yesterday

The marriage of Hildegard Loretta Wooll ex '23, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Wesley Wooll of Janesville, and Jess George Crownhart '21, son of Justice and Mrs. Charles H. Crownhart of this city, took place at 8 o'clock last evening at the Colonial club, Janesville. The Rev. Harry Willman of Trinity Episcopal church read the marriage service.

The bride wore a period gown of white satin charmeuse, trimmed with chantilly lace, with a veil of the lace edged with tulle. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and white roses.

Miss Evelyn Kavelage, Janesville, was maid of honor and wore a period gown of golden crepe satin, and carried a bouquet of sunrise roses.

Little Jean Dearborn, Janesville, was flower girl and Joe Bostwick was ring bearer.

Charles H. Crownhart Jr. '28, was best man. Dr. G. K. Wooll, brother of the bride, and Lloyd Strope, Detroit, Mich., were ushers. Mrs. Maurice Weirick played the wedding marches.

A reception followed the ceremony after which a supper was served to 150 guests. The decorations

Fathers Prefer formals from Andelson's

Says Polly to Sue:

What an adorable frock; where in the world did you get it? Says Sue to Polly:

Why at Andelson's, of course. You should see their line of exquisite formals. Oh, Polly, Dad is the best old dear; I took him in there yesterday afternoon to show him a dress I had picked out for Homecoming and he said to go ahead and get two if they were all as reasonable as that one.

Who wouldn't covet one of our delightfully chic formals revealing the mode as decreed by Paris couturiers and developed in the newest materials and colors.

But you do not have to wait for several allowances in order to afford one of Andelson's Paris inspired creations. Our low prices don't tell half the story.

Notice to Sororities

A splendid Langdon Street Home is for sale. Ideal for a Sorority. Formerly occupied by a good sorority that is now building a new house.

Beautiful, large club rooms. Many fine studies. A large dormitory. Large, well lighted bathrooms. The house is in splendid shape now, but it will be remodeled and a new front built on to make it one of the prettiest and most striking of any sorority home in the Latin Quarter. Sketches are now ready for your inspection. This is not an old, down residence, but a fine house.

This house and lot can be bought for only $32,000. The lot alone is worth close to that. No payment down is required. The monthly payments will be only $200 a month. Here is a fine chance for some sorority to own a beautiful home. The terms are easier than rent.

Write at once if interested and I will arrange to give you or send you all particulars. For sale direct by owner. No commissions. A wonderful opportunity for your sorority. Don't let this chance slip. This property also would make a good fraternity house. Please give name of sorority when writing.

Write today to C. S. R., Cardinal.

FOREIGN HONORS OFFERED STUDENTS

Many Scholarships Available for Study in France and Germany

Fellowships and scholarships open to American students for study in foreign countries will be listed here daily according to the country in which work may be done. Fellowships available in German and French universities follow.

American German student exchange fellowships can be used at any German university, and carry a stipend that covers tuition, board, and lodging during the academic term. Requirements are American citizenship; a working knowledge of the German language; ability to carry on studies at a German university, which implies at least two years in an American college; ability to do independent study and research; a health certificate; good character and adaptability. Preference is given to candidates between 20 and 30. Apply for information to the American German Student Exchange, Institute of International Education, 522 Fifth avenue, New York city.

American Field Service fellowships for French universities must be used at designated French universities and institutes of learning. For 1926-27 there will be eleven fellowships valued at $1200 each, tenable for one year with possibility of renewal for one year.

They are open only to men and the candidate must be a citizen of the United States or one of its possessions; he must be a graduate of a school requiring three years of study for a degree or must have spent five years in work requiring like technical skill; and he must have a knowledge of French.

Apply for full information to the Institute of International Education, 522 Fifth avenue, New York city. Applications must be in by Dec. 15.

"Aptitude" Machine Aids Students to Choose Vocations

Professor Clark L. Hull of the Psychology department has invented a new machine which may in time be of infinite use in aiding students to choose their vocation.

"I expect that some day there will be a battery of tests that measure the important mental processes contributing to success in various vocations," declared Professor Hull. "These tests will probably require from one half day to a whole day to be taken."

The results of the tests will then be tabulated on a special machine of the professor's own making and the results will enable the student to select the life work he is best adapted to.

Professor Hull recently published an article concerning this "aptitude" machine in the American Journal of Educational Psychology. He estimates that it will probably take five years before the tests can be formulated and applied.

The mark of the best college suit in America Today

You probably know the story of how the VARSITY-approved suit came about . . . how retail merchants from college centers got together . . . then interpreted the preferences of the college man . . . with the result . . . the best college suit you can buy anywhere at any price.

Here Are Facts

The coat has a rounded lapel—a sure winner. The sack coat is 28 3/4 inches long in the 37 size. The vest cut has a developed athletic shoulder which assures neatness and freedom of action as well. The trousers hang with a six-inch drop. The knee is 21 and the bottom 19 inches. An allowance is provided for the chap who wants to wear the trousers fuller. There is a liberal waist band with two buttons. The trousers can be worn with braces or belt.

In Many Fabrics

The fabrics are those chosen by Joe Ripp, manager of the Co-op clothing department and one of the VARSITY-approved style committee . . . and they are just what Wisconsin men want.
