

LIBRARIES

UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN-MADISON

The Wisconsin alumni magazine. Volume 26, Number 8 June 1925

[s.l.]: General Alumni Association of University of Wisconsin, June 1925

<https://digital.library.wisc.edu/1711.dl/QGZB5COYM65WR83>

This material may be protected by copyright law (e.g., Title 17, US Code).

For information on re-use, see

<http://digital.library.wisc.edu/1711.dl/Copyright>

The libraries provide public access to a wide range of material, including online exhibits, digitized collections, archival finding aids, our catalog, online articles, and a growing range of materials in many media.

When possible, we provide rights information in catalog records, finding aids, and other metadata that accompanies collections or items. However, it is always the user's obligation to evaluate copyright and rights issues in light of their own use.

The WISCONSIN ALUMNI MAGAZINE

Volume XXVI

June, 1925

Number 8

Reunion Dates and Program

Friday, June 19, Class Day.....Class Reunions

Saturday, June 20, Alumni Day—

Singing by quartette, Music Hall, 10:30 a. m.

Luncheon, Lathrop Hall, 12:00 noon.

Zigzag Parade, Upper Campus, 1:00 p. m.

Ball Game, Lower Campus, 2:30 p. m.

Band Concert, President's Lawn, 3:30 p. m.

Alumni Dinner, Gymnasium, 6:00 p. m.

Followed by President's Reception and Alumni Ball.

Sunday, June 21.....Baccalaureate

Monday, June 22.....Commencement

EXTRA! On May 20 Glenn Frank, editor of the Century Magazine, accepted the presidency of our University.

A Growing List of loyal Life Members of the General Alumni Association bespeaks increasing interest in our co-operative work for Wisconsin.

Among additions to the Life Membership roll since last issue are the following:

Name	Year	Residence
T. G. Nee	'99	c/o Horne Co., Ltd., 36 Kawaguchicho, Nishiku, Osaka, Japan.
Rose A. Pesta	'02	Windermere Hotel, Chicago, Ill.
L. B. Robertson	'06	6738 Cornell Ave., Chicago, Ill.
K. M. Mann	'11	12 Wilde Place, Montclair, N. J.

CUT ALONG THIS LINE

CUT ALONG THIS LINE

Mail to General Alumni Headquarters
821 State St., Madison, Wis.

This check will serve as a receipt and membership card

Life Membership

Name of city and state here

Date

1924

Pay to the order of The Wisconsin Alumni Association

Fifty Dollars ($50.00)

For Life Membership in the General Alumni Association

To _____
Name of bank here

Name

Address of bank here

Address

Over
9,000
Annual
Members

THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION OF THE UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN

Alumni Headquarters, 821 State Street, Madison
Robert S. Crawford, '03, Executive Secretary

Over
300
Life
Members

ALUMNI BOARD

GEORGE I. HAIGHT, '99, Pres.
CHARLES L. BYRON, '08, V. Pres.
WALTER ALEXANDER, '97, Rec. Sec'y.
F. H. ELWELL, '08, Treas.
L. F. VAN HAGAN, '04
VICTOR FALK, '11
STUART REID, '15
LOYAL DURAND, '91
MRS. T. E. BRITTINGHAM, '89

MEMBER OF THE ALUMNI MAGAZINES ASSOCIATED

The Wisconsin Alumni Magazine

ROBERT S. CRAWFORD, EDITOR
Ruth Nerdrum, '24, Assistant

"A Magazine Aiming to Preserve and Strengthen the Bond of Interest and Reverence of the Wisconsin Graduate for His Alma Mater."

THE WISCONSIN ALUMNI MAGAZINE is published monthly during the school year (November to August, inclusive) by the General Alumni Association and entered at the P. O. Madison, Wisconsin, as second class matter. ALUMNI DUES—Incl. $2.50 subscription to The Alumni Magazine—$4.00 a year, "payable on or before July 1 of each year for the fiscal year beginning May 1 next preceding." SUBSCRIPTION to The Wisconsin Alumni Magazine alone, without the privileges of membership, $4.50 a year; foreign postage 50 cents extra. CHANGE OF ADDRESS should be reported before the 21st of the month. REMITTANCES should be made payable to the Wisconsin Alumni Association and may be by check, draft, express or postal money order. All mail should be addressed to THE WISCONSIN ALUMNI ASSOCIATION, 821 State Street, MADISON.

ALUMNI PROFESSIONAL DIRECTORY

A Reliable Guide to and for Wisconsin Graduates

LAWYERS

- California—WILLIAM F. ADAMS, '00, L '03, 1109 Title Ins. Bldg., Los Angeles.
PAUL W. BOEHM, '01 (MAYWOOD & BOEHM), First Nat'l Bank Bldg., San Diego.
Colorado—CYRUS W. DOLPH, '96, 311 Bennett Bldg., Colorado Springs.
JOHN H. GABRIEL, '87, L '89, 712-13 Kittredge Bldg., Denver.
Georgia—FRANK E. RADENSLIBEN, '99, 1221-26 Atlanta Trust Co. Bldg., Atlanta.
Illinois—FRED D. SILBER, '94 (McGoorty, Silber Isaacs & Woley), Corporation and Commercial Practice, 614 Home Ins. Bldg., Chicago.
GEORGE I. HAIGHT, '99, W. H. HAIGHT, '03 (HAIGHT, ADCOCK, HAIGHT & HARRIS), General and Patent Law, 1041 The Rookery, Chicago.
GLEN E. SMITH, '09, L '13, McCormick Building, 332 S. Michigan Ave., Chicago.
PHILIP E. SIGGERS, ex '16 (LL.B., M.P.L.), Patent and Trade-Mark Causes, 10 S. La Salle St., Chicago.
Indiana—ELMER L. GOLDSMITH, E '15 (Lockwood & Lockwood), Patent and Trademark Law, Fletcher Trust Bldg., Indianapolis.
Minnesota—EUGENE C. NOYES, '98, 822 Security Bldg., Minneapolis.
CLARK R. FLETCHER, '11 (ALLEN & FLETCHER), 631-39 Metropolitan Bank Bldg., Minneapolis.

- Missouri—HARRY S. GLEICK, '15, L '17, Suite 316-19 Chemical Bldg., St. Louis.
North Dakota—G. S. WOOLEDDGE, '04 (GREENLEAF & WOOLEDDGE), Minot.
Ohio—JOE G. FOGG, '04 (CALFEE, FOGG & WHITE 1607-12 Williamson Bldg., Cleveland.
Washington—ARTHUR REMINGTON, '87, 1012-1014 Rust Bldg., Tacoma.
W. C. DONOVAN, '96, 1001 Old Nat'l Bank Bldg., Spokane.
Wisconsin—EDWARD H. RYAN, '74, Pheobus Bldg., Janesville.
E. J. B. SCHUBRING, '01, First Central Bldg., Madison.
M. B. OLBRICH, '04, TIMOTHY BROWN, '11, LEE L. SIEBECKER, '15 (OLBRICH, BROWN & SIEBECKER), Madison.
RICHARD B. RUNKE, '00, Stange Bldg., Merrill.
R. G. HARVEY, '03 (THOMPSON & HARVEY), Os good Bldg., Racine.
J. W. COLLINS, '97, W. B. COLLINS, '01, L '09 (COLLINS & COLLINS), York Bldg., Sheboygan.

REALTORS

- Idaho—HARVEY HOLMES, '00, Pres. Real Estate Board and Dairy Farm Special, Pocatello.
Ohio—ANNE H. MAC NEIL JOHNSON, '03, Ph. M. '04, Instr. Dept. Ed. '04-'06. Realtor, 201 Mercantile Library Bldg., Cincinnati.

PRESIDENT BIRGE

An Appreciation

By DR. J. M. DODSON, '80.

NOW that Dr. Edward A. Birge has signified his intention to relinquish his duties as President of the University of Wisconsin, a student of his earliest days as instructor in the University is moved to give expression to his appreciation of the long and distinguished service which Dr. Birge has given to it.

It falls to the lot of few men to serve a great institution of learning for a half century. This year Dr. Birge celebrates the fiftieth anniversary of his entrance into membership of the faculty of the University of Wisconsin. Nominated for appointment by the revered President Bascom, whose pupil he had been at Williams College, Dr. Birge entered upon his duties as instructor in natural history in 1875. He was young, energetic, and full of enthusiasm for the newer, broader conceptions of the scope and purposes of an institution for higher learning, which in the latter part of the 19th century found their fullest, most effective expression in Germany. He became one of a small group of the teachers of science and other branches, who, lighting their torches in the laboratories of the great teachers and investigators of Germany, transferred the flame to some of our American universities and colleges.

This was some years before the founding of the Johns Hopkins university, which was the first of the institution in the United States to be organized with the avowed purpose of making original investigation a fundamental and essential tenet of its program. Dr. Birge was among the first of the teachers in American schools to emphasize the idea that the true university must seek to add to the sum total of knowledge, as well as to transmit that which is already known. He realized, moreover, that the search for new knowledge is the most valuable of pedagogic methods, and that only in an institution where worth while research is being carried on, is there created that inspiring atmosphere which is the best environment for the stimulation and development of students of the highest order.

The influence of Dr. Birge's teaching in classroom and laboratory began at once to permeate other departments of the University. The study of materials at first hand, in the laboratory, the field, and the library, already being developed, especially in the departments of geology and history, came to be more largely and effectively employed in other branches. The students who were shaping their studies toward a career in which the biological sciences were of fundamental importance were naturally the first to realize the benefits of Dr. Birge's teaching, and conspicuous among them were the young men who were preparing for the study and practice of medicine.

The rapid development of the medical sciences, which began with the remarkable discoveries of Pasteur in the early sixties was just getting well under way at the time Dr. Birge began his teaching career at Madison. It very soon became evident that the student who was to be capable of comprehending and keeping pace with the newer knowledge of the causes and manifestations of disease and of the newer, more efficient methods of preventing and curing illness, must have a much more thorough and comprehensive knowledge of the sciences fundamental to medicine, than had previously been demanded of the student entering the medical school. He must have a considerable knowledge and a working knowledge of physics, chemistry, zoology, some botany, of embryology and of bacteriology.

DR. BIRGE

Dr. Birge was one of the first of the University men to realize the need of the prospective medical student for longer and better courses in these sciences and to see that they were provided. In the late eighties these courses at Wisconsin were organized by Professor Birge into a definite "pre-medical curriculum," the first, with one possible exception (a similar group at Yale) to be provided in this country. This was more than fifteen years prior to the time when such a preparation for medical study was made obligatory by the majority of medical colleges. How much this meant during the years from 1885 onward to the students preparing for medicine is realized by scores of physicians, many of whom have risen to distinction in the medical profession, and who secured their preparation for medical study under

(Continued on page 324)

The Wisconsin Alumni Magazine

"If there is any man in America who is service personified, that man is President Birge."

Volume XXVI

Madison, Wis., June, 1925

Number 8

PRESIDENT Edward A. Birge, Wisconsin's most industrious public servant, completes half a century of efficient labor at our University this year. During these five decades, Dr. Birge, as teacher, investigator, discoverer, counselor, and administrator has with steadfast courage, high scholarship, far-sighted skill, daring faith, spiritual vision, wonderful efficiency, and tireless industry, advanced the great work of education. To Wisconsin he has given priceless gifts of mind and soul with such modesty, generosity, and sincerity as should inspire us all, as well as make him the recipient of our enduring respect, admiration, and gratitude.

Dr. Birge The fight for sufficient appropriations to meet the increased building and operating needs of our University was virtually won on May 15, according to the Wisconsin State Journal. On that date the Senate sent to engrossment without argument or opposition the budget measure after amending it with but two votes in opposition, to include $246,000 additional for operation.

Victory All members of the General Alumni Association and dependent members of their families who will return to Madison for alumni meetings this June should take advantage of the certificate plan offered by most of the American railway passenger associations. As this special rate of one and one-half fare for the round trip can not be validated until 250 or more certificates have been deposited at the Alumni Headquarters on arrival in Madison, we urge all members to secure such certificates. Members living near Madison may feel that the few cents or few dollars they could save are hardly worth bothering about, but they are the very ones who should get certificates since, in doing so, they make it easier for fellow alumni coming long distances to secure the benefits offered by railroad companies.

Railroad Certificates We earnestly advise all our members to call on their local railroad agent for details. He can tell you the dates of sale under which you must be back at the place from which you started if you are to secure the privilege granted by the railroad company. If your local ticket agent does not have these certificates, ask him to inform you as to the nearest station where certificates can be obtained.

This special rate is allowed subject to railroad rules and regulations governing convention rates under the certificate plan. These regulations demand that 250 certificates be deposited before any validation may be made, but a certificate from a nearby point counts just as much toward this total number as does a certificate from far away. So alumni who are coming to Madison and are not even planning to return home in time to secure personal benefits through the possession of certificates are also advised to secure such certificates and to leave them at the Alumni Headquarters on their arrival in Madison. No matter how near to Madison you may be or how far away you are, if you are returning to Madison for Commencement by train, be sure to secure a certificate when you purchase your ticket.

Saturday, June 20, is Alumni Day at Wisconsin.

And at six o'clock on that day, in the University Gymnasium, occurs the annual alumni dinner, occasion of mirth and jollity.

Alumni Dinner This year's dinner will be more! It will be an occasion of rare and deep pleasure to every Wisconsin son and daughter, for shall we not be witnesses of our beloved "Prexy's" commencement, the commencement of the leisure-time he has so richly earned, "the last of life for which the first was made?"

Come! You cannot stay away! Let us seize upon this opportunity to show our love and esteem for Dr. Birge, whose devotion to Alma Mater should be a source of inspiration to us all.

Tickets for the dinner may be reserved beforehand for $1.75 per ticket by writing to Alumni Headquarters, 821 State St., to be called for at Music Hall preceding the dinner.

You save money by reserving your tickets in advance by mail, for any tickets not so reserved in advance will cost $2.00 when placed on open sale at Madison, Friday afternoon and Saturday morning.

No tickets will be sold at the door.

Members of all classes should read the valuable informative report found in the 1908 Class News Section of this issue. Said report is of real value to all who are interested in tracing missing members, getting out a class directory, or locating those former students who did not receive degrees. It gives statistical facts rather than sentimental speculation.

The 1908 Class History

Large classes should follow the example set by 1908 in getting out a class directory every five years. To do this will mean hard work plus real money. But it will pay big dividends. Watch 1908!

In addition to the reunions scheduled for the "fives" and "oughts" from 1860 to 1920, the class of 1881, 1888, 1924, and the department of journalism announce special Interim Reunions reunions. Indeed all alumni who can spend a day or more in Madison during Commencement season, June 19-22, will meet many friends. Such meetings are among the best pleasures of life. Take advantage of the opportunity this June.

President G. I. Haight, '99, announces the appointment of the following committee on nomination for three members of the Alumni Board and ten members at large of the Alumni Council: Nominating Committee CHARLES ROGERS, '93 (Chairman), Fort Atkinson, ISABEL BACON LAFOLETTE, '21, 123 E. Mifflin St., Madison, OSCAR FRITSCHÉ, '24, 130 S. Hancock St., Madison.

This committee also is asked to recommend nominees for the ten placed at large on the Alumni Council. The present incumbents are: ROLLAND WILLIAMS, ex'23, Univ. of Iowa, Iowa City, Ia., MORRIS MITCHELL, '12, 1330-1st Nat'l Soo Line Bldg., Minneapolis, Minn., D. Y. SWATY, '98, 1549 Compton Rd., Cleveland, O., H. W. ADAMS, '00, 834 Church St., Beloit, Wis., C. L. BYRON, '08, 38 S. Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill., CATHERINE CLEVELAND, '94, 4807 Greenwood Ave., Chicago, Ill., J. H. GABRIEL, '87, 526 Kittredge Bldg., Denver, Colo., MARY ORVIS, '07, 319 N. Pennsylvania St., Indianapolis, Ind., C. B. ROGERS, '93, 95 N. Main St., Ft. Atkinson, G. M. SUNDT, ex '22, 303 Princeton Ave., Madison. All are eligible to reelection. Suggestions on the matter of these ten nominations are likewise solicited in the same manner by the same committee.

The Old Grads will not return this year to find the mill entirely shut down. The Annual Station Day of the College of Agriculture will be held on Commencement Day, June 22, beginning at 8:30 a. m. and continuing until 4:00 p. m.

See the University in Action

Each department of the College will present the results of research and interesting stunts. One especially pleasing feature will be the work being done with the Ultra Violet Ray in the Agricultural Chemistry Department. Every Grad should get in on this. Something will be doing all the time.

Picnic lunch will be partaken of at College Beach, Lake Mendota. Bring a lunch. A refreshment stand will dispense ice cream and soft drinks.

Among the activities of the afternoon the women of the Home Economics Department will hold open house, show interesting features of research and instruction and hold an open air meeting under the trees on the hill overlooking Lake Mendota and Picnic Point. You can be a real part of this. Won't it feel good to be right in it again?

At 4:00 o'clock we will all go to the great stadium and see 1925 graduate. Station Day is for men, women, boys and girls.—E. L. L.

ATHLETICS

KENNETH BUTLER, '25

COACH George Little officially ended spring football practice Thursday, May 14, with a final scrimmage between the "greens" and the "blacks," the two teams formed for practice purposes. In addition to daily scrimmages the past month, Coach Little has given his men an intensive course in the fundamentals of football, preparing them for the finer work to be taken up next fall. At this time prospects for a successful team next fall are bright. Some of the spring material has been very capable, and this will be re-enforced by the return of many of the varsity regulars next fall.

The state interscholastic track meet was held May 23. Both individual and team awards were given the successful contestants. The high score team received a large trophy, and prizes were granted to winners of the first four places in both singles and doubles in the tennis matches.

The tennis season has started off disastrously for the Badger tennis team. The first set-back was in the matches against the Marquette tennis team. The result of the first matches was a tie, but Marquette defeated Captain Sam Durand's men in the second matches. May 2 the Minnesota team defeated the Badgers. Minnesota won both of the doubles matches and was able to take two of the single matches. Giesse and Manierre were the only two men able to win their matches for Wisconsin in this meet. The next defeat was at the hands of the Iowa team by a 5 to 1 count. Coach Masely's men dropped every game of the singles competition, and Captain Durand, paired with Foster, were the only Badgers who could win in the doubles matches.

Crew practice is being held almost daily and five shells are seen upon the waters of Mendota, three varsity crews and two freshman crews. Oarsmen in the first crew last week were Jefferson Burrus, No. 5, William Treichle, No. 4, K. C. Sly, No. 3, William Gerhardt, No. 2, and Stuart Porter, bow. Slight damage to the varsity shell incurred in a mishap around Picnic Point will prevent the varsity from getting much needed practice for several days.

Displaying exceptional form, the Wisconsin golf team defeated Marquette 21 to 3 on May 2 at the Maple Bluff links. A. B. Beck was the individual star of the match, making a 75 in his singles match with Fons, captain of the Marquette squad. In the afternoon in the doubles match, Bock, paired with Head, made a 76, bringing his total score up to 151. In the singles of the morning

Captain Porter won from his man 2 to 1. Bock and Guenther won 3 points each from their men.

About 150 of the best high school swimmers in the state, representing 20 schools, competed for honors in the first annual interscholastic swimming tournament held on Saturday, May 23. Arrangements for the meet were made by Coach Joe Steinauer. Seven events were held. They are the 160-yard relay, fancy diving, 40-yard free style, 100-yard free style, breast stroke, 200-yard free style, and 100-yard back-stroke. Two team trophies were given, one to the winner of the meet and the other to the winner of the relay.

GEORGE LITTLE

Four new records were established in the second annual Mid-West relay carnival and good marks were made in every relay and special event. The carnival was held at Camp Randall May 2. Washington high school, Milwaukee, lowered the record of the Cedar Rapids, Iowa, quartet in the distance medley relay run by completing the event in 11 minutes, 22 2-10 seconds. The old mark was 11 minutes 32 seconds. De Long, of Milton Union, made a new mark in the discus event. Washburn, of Oak Park, Chicago, broke the record in the javelin event, and Crowley, of Milwaukee East, broke the running broad jump record when he landed in the pit 20 feet 1 1/2 inches from the take-off board.

Wisconsin trackmen were one of the outstanding teams at the Drake relays held last month. The Badgers broke two Drake records in the special events and placed in two of the major university relays. Schwarze won both the discus throw and the shot put. A fourth in the two mile and a third in the mile was the Wisconsin quota in the relays.

Defeats at the hands of Ohio, Minnesota and Michigan and overwhelming victory over Michigan was the record of the Badger baseball team the past month. At Michigan the team suffered an 8 to 0 defeat, but when the Wolverines came to Camp Randall May 9 in a return game lost honors were retrieved. Coach Lowman's men outbatted, outfielded, and out-witted the Wolverines at every turn. "Lefty" Clausen pitched air-tight ball, allowing the Maize and Blue six hits. Oscar Edwards made two home runs in the game. Edwards is a pitcher, but has played in the outfield because of his hitting ability. Every man on the team got at least one hit in this game.

On May 2 the team lost to Ohio by a 4 to 1 score. A walk, a hit, and two errors gave the Scarlet and Gray the chance in the opening inning, and the Ohio team was able to squeeze three runs over on the Badgers.

A break in the Badger pitching in the eighth inning cost the Wisconsin team a hard fought game at Minneapolis May 12. The Gophers bunched five hits after two outs and piled up six runs to win, 10 to 9. It was clearly Wisconsin's game until the fatal eighth. Stoll, who started the inning on the mound for Wisconsin, blew up and Schrenk was put in. Larson was the star at the bat with three hits.

CAMPUS NOTES

By KATHRYN PERRY, '23.

APPARATUS WORTH $700 was given to the University by the Monarch Metal company, St. Louis, to be used for determining the infiltration of air through windows and doors, and certain specified building materials. The apparatus is being used in the studies of heating and ventilating carried on in the College of Engineering.

SOME 14,723 VISITORS viewed the eighty exhibits included in the University of Wisconsin Exposition held in April to give the people of the state a cross section of what their University is doing. Already nine times as many clippings from Wisconsin newspapers have been received praising the Exposition as have ever been received concerning any past Exposition, according to Eugene Tuhtar, '25, general chairman.

Some 2,000 guests from 208 Wisconsin cities registered with the University Records office. This registration includes 1,323 visitors, 311 graduates, 234 parents of present students, 125 former students, and 9 legislators. Hundreds of faculty members and Madison people attended without signing. Besides 208 Wisconsin cities, 21 states, and 3 foreign countries were represented. Illinois sent 54 guests, Iowa, Minnesota, and Michigan 10 each, and California 5. One registered from Ireland, 2 from Canada, and 1 from South Africa.

THE ENGINEERS' BAND FOR SAINT PATRICK PARADE

TRACK SQUAD THAT WENT TO CALIFORNIA

HARESFOOT TROUPE LEAVING MADISON

OUT-OF-DOOR COMMENCEMENT at five o'clock in the new concrete stadium at Camp Randall will be held for the first time this year. The exercises will be held on Monday, June 22, at sunset, and if rain should prevent the open-air exercises, the 1,500 or more graduates will receive their degrees in the Agricultural Pavilion as in former years. The seniors have approved the plan because the stock pavilion is both too small and too hot. The hour of five o'clock in the evening was selected because at the customary time, nine o'clock in the morning, the sun is too hot for a two-hour service. The senior class will assemble just inside Memorial Arch near Camp Randall, and will march from there to the stadium. The audience will be seated in the bleachers in the north curve of the horseshoe. Chairs for the graduating class will stand on the field directly in front of the audience, and the platform for the speakers and officials will be built facing the audience and the graduating class.

THE 7TH ANNUAL MEMORIAL DAY service in honor of the 139 students and graduates of the University of Wisconsin who died in the World War was held on the campus for the second time in cooperation with the city of Madison. A song by the Mozart club, invocation by Father Hengell, an address by Michael Olbrich, '05, composed the program. Some 139 girls dressed in white each carried a wreath and when the names of the dead were read, each deposited it at the foot of the Lincoln monument. The services have been held ever since the close of the World War.

A MUSEUM ROBBERY of Indian relics was made at the State Historical museum and articles from nine different cases in five different rooms were stolen. Most of the stolen curios were Indian relics, and about half of them have now been recovered from various Chicago curio shops by Police Detective Putnam, according to Dr. Charles E. Brown, curator of the museum. The robbers were thought to be experts because they unlocked the cases, selected the best relics, and locked the cases again.

Although the lost articles are worth only about $300 in money they are more valuable in a historical sense. Descriptions of each article were broadcast from radio Station WHA. This is the second time in seventy-five years that the museum has been robbed. Founded in 1828, it is the oldest museum in the Middle West.

A $2,673.80 student loan fund, known as the "Mrs. William F. Allen Memorial Loan Fund of the University League," has been given to the University through the merging of the bequest of the late Mrs. Allen and the University League Loan fund. Mrs. William F. Allen, mother of Miss Katherine Allen of the University classics department, left about $2,000 for use as loan funds for needy students. The University League, women relatives of the University professors, has been raising small amounts for loan funds for some time, until the University League loan fund now amounts to more than $600.

PHI BETA KAPPA elected forty members of the class of 1925 and ten members of the class of 1926. Prof. C. E. Merriam, president of the American Political Science Society, and chairman of the Political Science department of the University of Chicago, gave the address. Those elected from the class of 1926 are: Frederick Anthony Hahn, Watertown; Lucy Hall, Selma, Ala.; Mary Elizabeth Haven, Hudson; Clara Jenson, Madison; Ruth Kirk, Maumee, Ohio; Otto Mortensen, South Milwaukee; Richard Pearse, Madison; Beatrice Richardson, Detroit; Lillian Twenhofel, Madison; Helen Williams, Delavan.

Those seniors elected are: Glen Bell, Madison; Marjorie Benton, Aurora, Ill.; John Bergstresser, Kansas City; John Davenport, Baraboo; Henry Dittmar, Fond du Lac; Mildred Elser, Beaver Dam; Alice Folson, Fond du Lac; Clifford Franseen, Frederick; Phillip Cault, Topeka, Kans.; Minna Grotophorst, Plain; Sven Gunderson, La Crosse; Hazel Hanisch, Waupun; Louise Holt, Waukesha; Emilie Hunt, Madison; Ann Jamba, Madison; Stanley Kadow, Manitowoc; Norton Kaiser, Adell; Dorothy King, Wilmette, Ill.; Hugo Duester, Madison; To Tsun Li, Hupek, China; Christopher Mason, Blanchardville; Margaret Meyer, Wauwautosa; Kathleen Munn, Superior; Frances Parkhill, Rochester, Minn.; Helen Rickett, Washington, D. C.; Elizabeth Ritzmann, Oak Park, Ill.; Esther Saenger, Waukegan, Ill.; Beatrice Sellery, Madison; Anita Showerman, Madison; Mrs. Velve Hutchinson Shufeldt, Racine; Edna Smith, Two Rivers; Sarah Stevenson, Des Moines, Ia.; George Sullivan, Fond du Lac; Clayton Turney, Fairfield, Ia.; Hazel Weingandt, Milwaukee; Gordon Wilson, Leal, N. D.; Edward Wimmer, Milwaukee; Erna Wolf, Milwaukee; and Agnes Zeimet, Madison.

NINE DEGREES to mid-year graduates were granted by the Board of Regents. These include, Thomas Martineau, Oshkosh; Earl Haney, Crandon; Milton Frazier, Norwalk; and Rigmor Estvad, Madison. B. S. degrees were given to Helmer Amundson, Rio; Reuben Pech, Manitowoc; and Everette Jones, Dodgeville.

PLANS for three new buildings, the Memorial Union, the Field House, and the dormitories are being submitted to Mr. Paul Cret, Philadelphia architect, in order that he may draw up a unified building program for the University campus on the general order of the one he made some seventeen years ago. Permission is granted, and means of finance with no state help has been arranged for all three buildings, and now plans for their architecture and location are being considered.

U. W. CLUBS

"Sit together, listen together, sing together, eat together, and you'll work together."

LOCAL U. W. CLUBS

The organized alumni body of our University is rapidly growing in numbers and effectiveness. The Alumni Council, to which the various alumni clubs send representatives, and which is the central directing organization, is ambitious to bring about a closer fellowship among the alumni, former students, and friends of the University. It believes that one of the most effective means to this end is the formation throughout the country of University of Wisconsin clubs. There are numerous communities in which the number of available members is such as to make the formation of these clubs entirely feasible and desirable. Clubs have already been established in a number of cities, in several counties, and in a few states.

The reports from local clubs are always important. We ask each club secretary to see to it that all members of the local club are members of the General Alumni Association.

A. A. U. W.

DURING the national convention of the American Association of University Women held in Indianapolis April 8 to 11, the following Wisconsin alumnae had dinner together on college night: Mary Clark Brittingham, '89, Zilpha Vernon Showerman, '90, Edith Lyon Bechtel, '95, Ellen Sabin, Hon. '95, Frances Perkins, '98, Mary McCumber, '99, Mabel Goddard, '04, Lulu Runge, '05, Minnie Riess Detling, '05, Evelyn Niedecken Walbridge, '07, Martha Wertz Schenning, '08, Helen Hunter Ball, '10, Teresa Ryan, '11, Alida Degeler, '11, Helen Murray, '14, Riah Fagan Cox, '15, Kate Martin Stanfield, '18, Kate Huber, ex'19, Edith Martin Maplesden, '19, Mae Scherneck Wachs, '20, Marjorie Six, '21, Gertrude Schuller, '21, Isabella Bugbee, '21, Florence Seder, ex'22, Vajen Hitz, '23, Bertha Clow, '24, Helen Haswell, '24, Viola Swain, ex'24, Gertrude Brown, ex'26.

ANTIGO

ESTHER ENGLISH, '15

Wisconsin alumni, former students, and parents of students resident in this city and Langlade county, the number exceeding fifty, gathered about the banquet table in the lobby of the new Fifth Ward grade school to greet and hear Prof. Andrew Hopkins, '03. Community singing of varsity songs led by Clyde Van Doren and J. H. Lasher awoke the memories of the old days and aroused the true Wisconsin spirit. President Henry Hay, '98, of the Langlade County U. W. Club, who was toastmaster, gave brief introductory remarks as to the purpose of the meeting and read the message of President George Haight. Catherine Wheeler, '22, voiced the sentiments of affection and gratitude that alumni hold for their Alma Mater. Professor Hopkins, using graphic charts and telling words, appealed to alumni and former students to use their influence in bringing about a more generous and adequate support of the institution. At the close of his address resolutions were passed calling on the governor and the members of the legislature from Langlade county to support more liberal appropriations for the University, and in recognition of the services of President Birge to the University, the state, and the nation. Irvin White, '14, was elected president of the Club, and Esther English, '15, secretary-treasurer.

The banquet was prepared and served in excellent style by the sophomore cookery class of the home economics department under the direction of Gertrude Meiselwitz, '22. After the program University movies brought by Professor Hopkins were shown at the opera house through the courtesy of Manager John Hanus.—4-14-25.

DAVENPORT

A. R. NIEMAND, '17.

April 7 was Haresfoot day in Davenport. For weeks previous the alumni of the Tri-Cities had been sending names to Madison to be placed on the Haresfoot mailing list and sounding the praises of "Ivan Ho!" With George Sheets, '08, on the editorial staff of our largest daily, "Ivan Ho!" received more publicity than any theatrical performance given in Davenport in years. At a joint luncheon meeting of the civic clubs the members of the cast aroused the enthusiasm of the local business men by their selections from the play.

The performance was held in the evening in our new Masonic Temple Auditorium and was attended by a large and appreciative audience. From the opening number to "On Wisconsin" the applause was long and continuous, the "girls" in particular being well received. The Recording Orchestra made a tremendous hit with its selections.

On April 18 the Glee Club sang its way into the hearts of the alumni. Encore after encore was called for, the Prize Song and the Pirate Song being the favorites. The Davenport concert was the last regular concert on the Glee Club schedule and a dance was held after the concert. A hurry-up call was sent to the Lend-a-Hand and Y. W. C. A. for girls for the members of the Glee Club and the response was generous.

The Tri-City Wisconsin Alumni Association is very much encouraged over its success with Haresfoot and the Glee Club and is looking forward to a repetition of the performances next spring.—4-21-25.

DENVER

CLIFFORD BETTS, '13.

The letter of April 23 from Alumni Headquarters carrying intimate news of the University will encourage and strengthen the local club. We of Colorado are very glad to see the inauguration of a regular news letter, because contact at this distance is more difficult to maintain than within the state or at Chicago.

On the 15th of this month Coach and Mrs. Jones and the Wisconsin track team stopped over with us on their way from Berkeley to the Kansas relays. It was a pleasure to take them up to the track for a work-out and back to the Denver Athletic Club for dinner before train time. Local alumni have developed a keen interest in the boys and their records at the subsequent meets, in addition to which they learned how to sing "Yonnie Yohnson."

The following wire was sent recently to the State Legislature:

"President of Senate and Speaker of General Assembly, State of Wisconsin, Madison, Wis.

Gentlemen:

Two hundred Wisconsin grads in Colorado urge that the University which has been a leader among state universities and has made Wisconsin famous be allowed sufficient funds to carry on.

U. W. Club of Colorado."—4-27-25.

DETROIT ALUMNAE

ELLEN EGAN, '17.

The U. W. Alumnae Club had their monthly luncheon not at the College Club, their customary place, but at the Woman's City Club, April 18. This change, however, was only temporary, and the next meeting will be at the College Club. Despite the temptation of a bright sunny day, eleven members were present.

Pledges were received at this meeting for the Industrial Scholarship Fund, and it is hoped that by the time of the May luncheon sufficient money will have been raised to send two girls to the University this summer.—5-2-25.

MADISON COMMERCE ALUMNAE

BERTHA SCHWENN, '21.

Madison Commerce alumnae held their annual chicken dinner at the Carlton Hotel, Edgerton, Wednesday evening, May 13. Those present were Irene Hensley, '20, Marguerite Brigham, '24, Angeline Lins, '23, Elsie Ekern, '22, Grace McRae, '21, Mary Fowler Rennebohm, '20, Rosalind Tough, '24, Pearl Claus, '20, Mary McNulty, '17, Mabel Crummev, '24, Helen Roth, '21, Bertha Schwenn, '21. Guests of the club were Elsie Iversen, '23, and Helen Conway, ex'23.

The club, which has been meeting once a month for bridge, will close the season's activities with a picnic on June 2.—5-14-25.

MINNEAPOLIS ALUMNAE

IRMA ALEXANDER BULLIS, '15.

Our club has passed a very enjoyable season under the presidency and vice presidency of Henrietta Woods Kessenich, '16, and Florence Bashford Spensley. They have planned and worked tirelessly to make the year a success and to them our thanks are due.

The last regular luncheon and bridge party of the season was held at Hotel Leamington May 9. Mrs. Woods of Madison and Mrs. George Buckstaff, '86, of Oshkosh, were the guests of honor. Mrs. Buckstaff gave an interesting talk on the University. She concluded her remarks with a beautiful tribute to President Birge which was enthusiastically received. Instead of the usual game of bridge, Mrs. Florence Spensley had arranged for our club to be the first to play a new game called Everybody's Cross-word Puzzle Game. It was quite a novel game and a pleasant afternoon was passed.

A committee was appointed to make arrangements for a picnic to be held sometime in June. Eleanor Groff Adams, '13, made a plea for funds to assist in sending a Minnesota girl from some Minnesota industrial plant to the University for the summer session. A fund of twenty-five dollars was voted and the major portion was subscribed and collected at the luncheon.

The nominating committee under the chairmanship of Louise Finch Frobach, '21, read the slate of officers for the next year and they were voted in, as follows: President, Mary James Stark, '23; vice-president, Ann Briggs Loughin, '19; Secretary, Letha Grover Williams, '20; treasurer, Dolores Ward Jacobs, ex'19.

Those present at the meeting were: Florence Bashford Spensley, Florence Cornelius Flohil, '84, Abby Jewett Cates, '79, Mrs. George Buckstaff, '86, Leora Chase Sherman, ex'87, Mrs. Woods, May Cunningham

Lobb, '03, Mildred Curtis Murphy, '07, Amy Basson Young, '10, Ella Horne Olsen, '12, Eleanor Groff Adams, '13, Ruth Green, '15, Irma Alexander Bullis, '15, Coie Winter Ensign, '16, Henrietta Woods Kessenich, '16, Ruth Remington Cernighan, ex'17, Beatrice Utman Pierce, ex'18, Dolores Ward Jacobs, ex'19, Josie Sinaiko Mendow, ex'19, Marion Roth, '20, Louise Finch Frobach, '21, Majel Buckstaff Leary, ex'21, Dorothea Birdsell, '22, Mary James Stark, '23, Phylliss Geobeke, '23.—5-10-25.

NEW YORK ALUMNAE

Wisconsin alumnae in New York have arranged a series of informal luncheons at the Hotel McAlpin, to be held the third Saturday of each month, twelve to one o'clock. Over forty attended the first luncheon in March at the Hotel Allerton. The May luncheon was to be a joint affair with the organization of women who resided formerly in the state of Wisconsin.

Theodora Briggs, '13, 20 Christopher St., and Doris Simonson, '20, 1 West 67th St., have been responsible for the development and request the announcement that Wisconsin alumnae in New York should make it a point to drop in at the luncheons informally. It is expected the series will continue throughout the year.—5-6-25.

NEW YORK ALUMNI

J. S. THOMPSON, '10.

Over one hundred attended the annual meeting, dinner and dance at the Biltmore, April 24. In a thought-provoking, informing talk about the University, Dean

Slichter informed and inspired his hearers. He made one proud to be a graduate of a university, and of Wisconsin in particular. His contrast of eastern and western colleges brought joy to homesick Badgers in New York. Houdini, the magician and exposé of mediums, was, because of his birthplace at Appleton, an incidental speaker. Gerhard Dahl, '96, was toastmaster, and Alumni Secretary Crawford, '03, was a guest of honor. Arba Marvin, '00, was chairman of the dinner committee.

The report of the nominating committee (H. E. Benedict, '16, chairman), which had been distributed in advance to the five hundred alumni resident in and near New York was adopted unanimously. Karl Mann, '11, who has filled the unexpired term of C. O. Bickelhaupt, '11, who moved to Atlanta in January, was elected president for the year 1925-1926. J. S. Thompson, '10, was elected secretary-treasurer succeeding J. M. Bickel, '16. The other new officers are: Vice-presidents, H. E. Benedict, '16, J. M. Bickel, '16, J. R. Bill, '17, H. Edw. Bilkey, '12, E. P. Kohl, '13, Arba Marvin, '00; Executive Committee: W. S. Kies, '99, chairman, Theodor J. Briggs, '13, Eulalie Jones, ex'23, J. K. Livingston, '1a, E. M. McMahon, '08, Doris Simonson, '20, F. E. Stoppenbach, '12, R. E. Tomlinson, '01, Mary Woodward, ex'22.

The beef-steak dinner-smoker at "Beefsteak Charlie's" which the famous trio Ed Bill, ex'16, W. D. Richardson, '10, and Frank Stoppenbach, '12, successfully engineered one night in March for fifty Badger alumni, was a high-water mark for the 1924-1925 year. Advance notices spoke feelingly of the old days at Pete Hammacher's, Ben Stigen's, et al, and as in fulfillment of the promises the alumni sat round a huge horseshoe, with saw-dust on the floor, there were tears in many eyes at the mention of those brothers who had failed to get the idea—including the artist.

Preparations are under way for participating in an organized way in the Poughkeepsie Regatta on June 22. The New York-Wisconsin alumni expect to reserve, as they did last year, a special car on the West Shore train from Weehawken to Highlands, and a car in the observation train. All good Badger rooters should reserve seats in the Wisconsin car on the observation train. There will be megaphones and colors for all. Address H. Edw. Bilkey, 111 William St., New York, Telephone Beekman 1990 for details of tickets, schedules, etc.

A special committee of New York alumni who are engaged in writing and publishing was appointed by President Karl Mann to answer the request for suggestions on improving the Alumni Magazine. Their report, drafted by George Hill, '08, has been forwarded to George Haight, president of the Alumni Association.—5-4-25.

OCONOMOWOC

A. C. OOSTERHUIS, '09.

Coach and Director Little had an enthusiastic audience of ninety Wisconsin alumni from this territory when he spoke before the Oconomowoc Alumni club, May 13, at a banquet at the Majestic hotel. It was a splendid meeting and a warm and hearty reception was tendered Mr. Little. In his talk he stressed the point that athletics in universities are there essentially to make men of all students and he graphically illustrated his premise by many examples. He declared that all students at the University receive benefit from the athletic department and that the coaches did not strive to train just a few men.

Mr. Little has the unbounded confidence of the Oconomowoc alumni and we believe sincerely that he is going to lead Wisconsin to greater planes of glory in an athletic way, and that he will at the same time steadfastly maintain her high standard for clean athletics.

Previous to Mr. Little's address, Walter Frautschi, of Madison, president of the class of 1924, gave a short talk.

The toastmaster for the evening was J. F. Kettenhofen, ex'06. Following the banquet, the entire crowd adjourned to the Carnation Club where a dance was held.

Officers of the Oconomowoc club are Stuart Reid, '15, president; Luella Voight Jacobs, '18, vice-president; A. C. Oosterhuis, '09, secretary-treasurer.—5-14-25.

OMAHA

HELEN PIERCE GAY, '00.

On April 30 the following eight members of the Omaha U. W. Club had lunch with Prof. M. V. O'Shea:

Henrietta Crane Lyman, '74, Albert Ritchie, '76, H. O. Wilkinson, ex'80, Mabel Palliser Osborne, '11, Lloyd Osborne, ex'14, Katherine Newman Gray, '15, Bertha Lichnovsky, ex'24, and myself.

On April 24 Wisconsin alumni in Omaha had a block for "College Night," and a tea was recently given by Dora Davis, '21, and myself for Wisconsin women.

Wisconsin alumni are active in Omaha.—5-2-25.

PHILADELPHIA

WILLIAM STERICKER, '17.

On March 5 twenty-six of the local alumni and their friends gathered at the Girard Craftsman's Club for dinner. After dinner a brief business session was held at which W. J. Bollenbeck, '08, was nominated for president, Earl Mylecraine, ex'19, first vice-president, W. A. Clark, '20, treasurer, and William Stericker, '17, secretary. Herman Blum, '08, objected because the alumnae were not represented and nominated Lillian COAPMAN Williams, '13, for second vice-president. All these officers were unanimously elected.

The meeting was then turned over to our genial toastmaster, C. C. Parlin, '93, who told of the great game the football team played at Chicago and of the enthusiastic welcome to the crew which he had been fortunate enough to witness.

Emory Johnson, '88, who is dean of Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania, told how that school is trying to solve its problems. He deplored the lack of training in physical sciences for any except science students. There is a need for such courses which do not include laboratory work.

Mr. Parlin then told of such a course in chemistry under Professor Daniels. It was Spring, the room was warm, and the hour was 12-1. Finally the soothing breeze was too much and most of the class dropped off to sleep, to be awakened by a tremendous explosion.

Rodney True, '90, now head of the Department of Botany at the University of Pennsylvania, said that in a science course with no lab you could not tell when the student was unconscious. A large part of the value of a science course was the lab training in the accumulation and interpretation of data—suspended judgment rather than cut and dried dogma results.

Our new president was then called on. He read President Birge's message from the March issue of the ALUMNI MAGAZINE and then summarized the rest of the contents. He presented a resolution calling upon the Wisconsin legislature to furnish adequate funds for the University's maintenance. This resolution was unanimously adopted. Copies have been sent to both houses of the legislature.

The writer then reminisced somewhat on Kahlenberg's and Snow's lectures and told of some of the newer developments in which the University is interested, such as the Colloid Institute.

The meeting was then formally adjourned but many of those present stayed for some time to talk over Wisconsin days and to get acquainted with fellow Wisconsinites.—4-25-25.

On April 26 we had the pleasure of having Robert Crawford, '03, with us. Our guest told us about the situation at the University and the conditions in the state that brought it about. He pointed out that in spite of the fact that $5,000,000 for the biennial sounded large, only slightly over half of it was raised by taxation. Even if the University were to get nothing, the reduction of taxes would be less than two cents on the dollar.

A lively discussion followed. The cost of the numerous bureaus of the state was certainly small, but the question was raised whether these bureaus did not impose other expenses on the taxpayers which were much greater than the costs. The exodus of manufacturing concerns as well as the farmers' troubles indicated that something was wrong. But the University has borne the brunt of it all. Local taxes are much more important to the individual taxpayer than are the University taxes. Wisconsin has built one of the greatest systems of concrete roads in the country during the time that she has stunted the University. Some relief in this direction will be the result of a two-cent tax on gasoline which will come from the non-resident user of the road as well as the residents. Almost everyone present participated in this discussion.

Those present besides Mr. Crawford were: C. C. Parlin, '93, H. E. Ferry, '02, Herman Blum, '05, E. V. Eyman, '07, W. J. Bollenbeck, '08, Harold Morris, '11, W. C. Beyer, '13, Mrs. Beyer, Wm. Stericker, '17, Armand Quick, '18, Earl Mylecraine, '19, Leona OWEN Clark, '20, W. A. Clark, '20, J. H. Jones, '20, Edna Hempe, '23, Elizabeth Kirk, '23, and J. M. Royer, '23.

Mr. Blum invited the local club to visit his plant, the Craftex Mills, where they make woven pictures. He offered as further inducement a luncheon and a sample of his product to all who came. Mr. Parlin said that he would be glad to arrange to take the club through the Curtis Publishing Company's building. Notices will be sent when arrangements have been made.—5-9-25.

SYRACUSE

ELLA WYMAN BREWER, '09.

On April 17 there was held in Syracuse the annual dinner and reunion of Wisconsin alumni. The group in Syracuse is not large enough to make possible more than one meeting a year, but that meeting is eagerly anticipated and well attended.

More than usual interest was attached to the meeting on April 17, for on that evening Professor Jastrow spoke before a large audience at Syracuse University on "Superstition," and the Wisconsin group had the honor of entertaining him at their dinner before the lecture. He spoke informally to them on the present situation at Wisconsin, and inspired his hearers (some of them his former pupils) with a desire to lend their interest and support to the immediate problems of the University.

Those who were present to meet Professor Jastrow at dinner were: Prof. Charles Cabeen, '82, and Sarah CLARK Cabeen, '84, Dr. Robert Brewer, '07, Ella WYMAN Brewer, '09, Prof. William Schaffrath, '08, and Mrs. Schaffrath, Prof. Raymond Piper, '12, and Mrs. Piper, William Carnes, '14, and Mary Hopkins Carnes, '10, Prof. Finla Crawford, '16, Dr. Ira Thomson, '16, J. W. Nash, '18, Prof. Waldo Schumacher, '23, Prof. Lewis Crawford, Agnes Martin, Prof. Simeon Hart, and Mrs. Hart, and Mrs. Bertram Reddington.

CELEBRATION OF 20 YEARS OF JOURNALISM AT WISCONSIN IS TO BE A GREAT EVENT

They're coming from all over the country—old grads, coming back to celebrate the first big Wisconsin Journalists' reunion on June 19, 20, and 21. Dozens of letters enthusiastically endorsing the event have already been received and more are coming in daily.

Twenty years have slipped by since the first course in journalism was instituted by Daddy Bleyer, '96, at the University. From 1905 until the present time approximately 1,500 men and women who were in some way connected with the journalism department have left Wisconsin and are now out in the field. The glorious get-together this June is for each and every one of them, and a large percentage are expected back for the reunion.

Plans are going forward rapidly. The general committee in Madison meets every two weeks, and two letters to all graduates on the list have already been mailed out. The first letter has produced excellent results, and many reuners have sent in checks to help pay for the publicity work now being carried on by Ken Olson, '20, and his committee.

Old South Hall is all set to receive and register the old timers. The men's headquarters will be at the Delta Pi Delta lodge and the women's at the Coranto house, the journalistic fraternity and sorority respectively.

On Saturday morning, June 20, the big costume parade will be held, and in the afternoon of the same day there will be a "wild" journalists' picnic on the shores of old Lake Mendota.

Then—Saturday evening there will be a special journalists' table at the general alumni banquet, and according to the plans, the scribes are going to cause a near riot. The stunts committee, headed by Beatrice Morgan, '21, will see to that.

To wind up the three big days, on Sunday, June 21, there will be a dinner and mixer at noon.

During the reunion a permanent organization will be effected, and plans for the next reunion will be started.

Herbert Brockhausen is organizing a scribes' band which will be ready for action at all times. He says: "Ask for any tune from 'They Kept the Pig in the Parlor' to 'On Wisconsin,' and you shall have it."

Reuners' Newspaper is being prepared and will soon be sent out to the graduate mailing list, and every former journalism student at Wisconsin is urged to be on the lookout for it.

The Reunion committees have already been appointed and are now at work. The following are the various chairmen: General chairman, Franklin Bump Jr., '20; Assistant General Chairman, Herbert Brockhausen, '22; Publicity, Kenneth Olson, '20; Finance, J. H. Coe, '07; Picnic, Margaret Daly, '22; Stunts, Beatrice Morgan, '21; Banquet and Sunday Dinner, Mrs. Mary Irwin, '22; Registration, Prof. Grant Hyde, '12; and Permanent Organization, Prof. W. G. Bleyer, '96.

The finance committee has asked that all checks from Reuners who are coming back be sent to Franklin Bump Jr., 303 Princeton Avenue, Madison. The financial help which is sent in will be used to defray the publicity expenses of printing, postage, etc.

SUMMER_SESSION TENTING COLCNY

COME BACK and join the parade of classes on the elm-flanked slope. Julius will show you your place.

ALUMNI NEWS

Alumni please keep in touch with the MAGAZINE and with your class secretary.

ENGAGEMENTS

- 1918 Mabel FERRY, San Diego, Calif., to Dr. Howard Halbert, Pasadena. The wedding will occur in the fall.
- 1918 Isabell Zuelsdorf to Dr. Arno LANGJAHR, both of Milwaukee.
- 1920 Edna JONES, Spring Green, to Fred Goldsmith, Los Angeles, Calif.
- ex '20 Alice FILES, Cody, Wyoming, to George Donnell, Minneapolis, Minn. Mr. Donnell is a graduate of the University of Minnesota. The marriage will take place in August.
- ex '21 Harriet DAWSON to Homer WOLFE, La Crosse. The wedding will take place on June 10.
- 1921 Mary MARTINEAU, Marinette, to Samuel Edgerton, Cleveland, O.
- 1922 Virginia Lange, Reedsburg, to Emerson COLE, Madison. The marriage will take place on June 5.
- 1922 Eva MILLER to Herbert Diederich, both of Milwaukee.
- 1922 Katherine ROSENBERRY, Madison, to Burton WHITE, Oconomowoc. The wedding will take place in July.
- 1923 Lois Longenecker, Neillsville, to Ray ORR, Mt. Hope. The wedding will take place in August.
- 1923 Dorothy CLARE, Oak Park, Ill., to Walter Shar, Madison.
- ex '23 Jeanette Dingee, Wichita, Kan., to Ralph HAWKS, Horicon. The marriage will take place in the fall.
- 1924 Catherine KENNEY, Madison, to Wilfrid Doyle, Menominee, Mich. Mr. Doyle is advertising manager with the Lloyd Manufacturing Company of Menominee.
- 1924 Jessie RAYMOND, Madison, to John RELLAHAN, Stevens Point. The marriage will occur in the summer.
- 1924 Dorothy JOHNSON, Omaha, Neb., to Rufus PHILLIPS, Madison.
- 1924 Arleen KLUG, Milwaukee, to Carroll HEFT, Racine.
- 1925 Louise DURHAM, Kenilworth, Ill., to Walter Mead, a senior at Yale University.
- 1925 Eleanor HANSEN, Madison, to James Nichols, graduate student, Danbury, Conn. Mr. Nichols graduated from Cornell University in 1924 and has been taking graduate work at Wisconsin. Next year he is to have a fellowship in Sweden in the University of Upsala. The marriage will take place some time in July.
- 1925 Marion Gault, Portage, to James DOUGLAS. Miss Gault is a senior in the Wisconsin School of Music.
- 1925 Dorothy RUNKEL, Kirkwood, Mo., to Walter KUEBLER, Red Oak, Ia. It is expected that the wedding will take place in September.
- 1925 Hazel WEINGANDT, Milwaukee, to Clarence JAX, Cleveland, O.
- ex '25 Marion Funk, Eau Claire, to Charles WHITWORTH, Madison. Miss Funk is a graduate of the Minneapolis Art Institute.
- 1926 Constance HAMMETT, Sheboygan, to Eusebius GARTON, Sheboygan. No definite date has been set for the wedding.
- ex '27 Dorothy POWELL, Milwaukee, to Irwin Clayton, also of Milwaukee.
- Faculty Elizabeth BRANDEIS, Washington, D. C., to Paul RAUSCHENBUSCH, Madison. Both are members of the economics faculty.
- Faculty Elizabeth WILLIAMS, Indianapolis, to Alexander Dowling, Indianapolis. Miss Williams graduated from Mount Holyoke in 1924 and is now an assistant in the zoology department.
- 1920 Gladys Peterson, Racine, to Vilas RASMUSSEN, Oconomowoc, April 25. They are at home in Oconomowoc, where Mr. Rasmussen is practicing law.
- 1920 Frederick BICKEL, New York, to Ellis Baker, May 3.
- 1920 Mae FARRELL, Chicago, to C. C. Pedersen, Chicago, February 22. They reside at 6246 South Park Ave.
- 1921 Marie BIELENBERG, Elgin, Ill., to Dr. Raymond Dowell, April 30.
- 1921 Edith Gronen, Porterville, Calif., to Samuel MARSHALL, Madison, May 2. Mr. Marshall is assistant geologist with the George F. Getty Co. of Los Angeles.
- 1922 Katherine FERGUSON, Chicago, to Dr. Lyman Chalkly Jr., Lexington, Ky. They are spending a few months in St. Augustine, Florida.
- 1922 Mary McLEAN, Menomonie, to Ronald RAMESY, Chicago, April 28 at Minneapolis.
- 1922 Mary Alexander, Madison, to Charles WHEELER Jr., Chicago, May 2. Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler will be at home after June 1 at 11144 Esmond St., Chicago.
- 1923 Agnes DELANEY, Madison, to Austin STIBBE, Peshtigo, April 11, at St. Paul, Minn. They reside at 2939 Tyler St., N. E., Minneapolis, where Mr. Stibbe is an internal revenue agent in the federal service.
- 1923 Marjorie Baker, Ft. Atkinson, to Harvey ROYCE, Koshkonong, April 14. Mr. and Mrs. Royce are at home at 23 W. Doty St., Madison.
- 1923 Helen Jelmsst, Madison, to Orin KAASA, Merrill, May 1 in Chicago. They will make their home in Whiting, Ind.
- ex '23 Ruth Staude, Jefferson, to Leonard KRAMP, Watertown, May 2. They are at home at 215 N. Maple St., Watertown.
- 1924 Gladys THOMPSON to G. H. Gifford, February 29. They live at 1618 Jonquil Terrace, Chicago.
- 1924 Marion LYNCH, Delavan, to Harwood GREGORY, Chicago, in April.
- ex '24 Charlotte NYE, Madison, to George LEONHARD Jr., Marshfield, May 9. Mr. Leonhard is state agent of the Chicago Fire and Marine Insurance Company and is in charge of northern Wisconsin and upper Michigan territory. They will establish their residence at Long Lake of the Chain O' Lakes, Waupaca.
- ex '24 Ida Favell, Wisconsin Veterans' Home, to Royal FISHER, Waupaca, April 30. Mr. and Mrs. Fisher are at home on East Union St., Waupaca.
- ex '27 Dorothy Brogden to Minor HARRIS, both of Rush Lake, at Menomonie, Mich. on April 4.

BIRTHS

- 1908 To Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Walker (Mabel GILKEY), 333 Washington Blvd., Oshkosh, a daughter, Caroline Gilkey, April 8.
- 1911 To Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bucher (Margaret HEAD), 1629 Hinman Ave., Evanston, a son, in April.
- 1915 To Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bourret (Evelyn HANSON), West Bend, Iowa, a daughter, Marguerite Elizabeth, October 12, 1924.
- 1915 To Mr. and Mrs. Overton WOODWARD, 301 North Blvd., Richmond, Va., a daughter, Mary Elizabeth, April 4.
- 1916 To Mr. and Mrs. Martin KLOSER, 6904 Dante Ave., Chicago, a daughter, Camille, March 14.
- 1916 To Mr. and Mrs. James A. SCHAD (Marjorie CARLTON), 1641 Lunt Ave., Apt. 2, Chicago, Ill., a daughter, Marjorie Jane, February 25.
- 1916 To Mr. and Mrs. A. D. FULTON, 605 Roland Ave., Roland Park, Baltimore, Md., a daughter, February 7.
- ex '16 To Mr. and Mrs. Philip SIGGERS, Evanston, Ill., a son, April 18.
- 1917 To Mr. and Mrs. Charles KARCH (Lillian KOEHLER), 256 E. Sumner St., Hartford, a second daughter, Kathryn Louise, February 12.
- 1917 To Mr. and Mrs. Paul TAYLOR (Katherine WHITESIDE), 2563 Martinez Ave., Berkeley, Calif., a son, April 27.
- ex '17 To Mr. and Mrs. Meade DURBROW (Dorothea NELSON), 518 Ellis Ave., Rockford, Ill., a daughter, Helen, April 27.

MARRIAGES

- 1910 Frances Wyness, Chicago, to Paul MILLER, Milwaukee, February 27.
- 1915 Emily SIMS, Dodgeville, to Bytne Alexandre Marconnier, Tacoma, Wash. Mr. Marconnier is engaged in editorial work in St. Louis, Mo. They are at home at The Argonne, 3664 Washington Ave., St. Louis.
- 1919 Rebecca Adland to Emil STERN, March 17. They are at home at 5009 Sheridan Road, Chicago.

- 1918 To Mr. and Mrs. Stanley BELDEN, Racine, a daughter, Mary Joanne, April 10.
- ex '19 To Mr. and Mrs. Earl MYLECRAINE, 542 South Lansdowne Ave., Lansdowne, Pa., a son, Walter Earl, August 22, 1924.
- 1920 To Lieut. and Mrs. Harry Rogers Jr. (Jessie MEGEATH), 2370 West Lawn Ave., Madison, a son, James Sumner, April 17.
- 1920 To Mr. and Mrs. V. E. McCALLUM, 856 Webster Ave., Chicago, Ill., a son, Evan Arthur, January 6.
- 1921 To Mr. and Mrs. E. F. BESPALOW, manager, Shearman Concrete Pipe Co., Jacksonville, Fla., a daughter, Hope Marilyn, January 11.

DEATHS

JANE NAGLE HENDERSON, '69, passed away on January 19.

LEMUEL J. ARTHUR, '75, died in Los Angeles, Calif., on March 15, 1922. Mr. Arthur had been a resident of Los Angeles for a number of years. His Wisconsin home was at Beetown, Grant County.

JOHN R. MATHEWS, '78, passed away at the City Hospital, Menomonee, on April 11, following an operation. Throughout his life he had taken an active part in the affairs of his community, serving as city clerk, member of the school board, postmaster, city attorney, and for eighteen years as mayor of Menomonee. He is survived by his wife and five children.

REV. FLORENCE KOLLOCK CROOKER, '82, died at her home in Elgin, Ill., on April 21. Rev. Crooker had been a Universalist minister for forty-nine years. Interment was in the family plot in Madison. She is survived by her husband, Rev. J. H. Crooker, and by her brother, Dr. George Kollock, Orlando, Fla.

ROBERT NORMAN McMAYNN, law '94, Milwaukee, died of apoplexy in New York City, where he had gone on a business trip, on April 20. Mr. McMynnn had left for New York the day before, apparently in the best of health. News of his death came as a shock to all Wisconsin alumni.

R. N. McMAYNN

Mr. McMynnn served as president of the General Alumni Association in 1922-1923 and in 1923-1924; and at the time of his death he was a member of the Alumni Board.

Robert N. McMynnn was born on February 22, 1871, at Racine, the son of Col. John G. McMynnn, noted Wisconsin educator and state superintendent of public instruction in the period following the civil war. Given his early education at Racine Academy, conducted by his father, Mr. McMynnn subsequently entered this university, but after three years here transferred to Williams College and graduated there in 1891 with high honors that brought him election to Phi Beta Kappa. Then turning to law he was graduated from the law school of the University in 1894.

After receiving his law degree he became a member of the faculty of the Milwaukee Normal School for a time. Later he entered the practice of law in Milwaukee, in which profession he was engaged at the time of his death. Mr. McMynnn is survived by his widow, Elizabeth Palmer McMynnn, and a sister, Louise (Mrs. Howard Greene, '83).

At a meeting of the Alumni Board on May 2 it was voted to appoint a committee to draw up resolutions on the passing of Mr. McMynnn. The following committee was appointed: Francis McGovern, '90, Harry Kellogg, '94, Edw. Sherry, '92, Loyal Durand, '91, and Robert Crawford, '03.

MINNIE WESTOVER CHASE, '99, Madison, died at her home on April 23 after a brief illness. Following her graduation from the University she taught science and mathematics in the high school at Mazomanie and the year following taught in the high school at Berlin. In 1901 she was married to Dr. S. H. Chase.

Mrs. Chase was always interested in the civic welfare of Madison and was a member of the Civics Club. She served also on the Board of Directors of the A. A. U. W. and of the College Club. She is survived by her husband and three children, in addition to a large circle of relatives and friends, who are in great sorrow on account of her untimely death.

G. W. MOSHER, '00, Chicago, Ill., passed away on March 17.

MILAN RAYNARD BUMP, '02, passed away at Denver, Colo., on May 5.

JOHN A. MCCORMICK, '04, died at his home in Milwaukee, March 20, of pneumonia. Mr. McCormick had practiced law in Milwaukee for twenty-one years. For fifteen years he was legislative counsel for the Milwaukee Real Estate Board, and in that capacity had earned for himself the reputation of being one of the most sincere and earnest counselors any organization ever had at the Capitol. He was considered the best-informed man in the state in the law of land titles.

Judge J. B. French, who had been acquainted with Mr. McCormick since his boyhood, paid the following tribute to his character and personality:

"In the law profession where he was best known he was held in high esteem by all whose good fortune it was to know him. As a lawyer of no mean ability he held the confidence and respect of the bench and bar of Wisconsin. His clean ethical manner at the bar, as in all relations of life was a distinguishing mark of his character. He so well built his earthly tabernacle that he was highly esteemed and dearly loved by all who knew him. His life was a benediction, a fine expression of young manhood. He has left the fragrance of a good memory and sweet memories that will not perish.

"In affairs of state his counsel was sought in deliberating upon economic problems before the people for solution. As legislative counsel no one ever presented an argument before legislative committees or the various departments at the state capitol with fairer presentation and greater earnestness or purpose than he."

Mr. McCormick was unmarried. Two sisters and two brothers survive him.

RICHARD F. DUCKERT, '11, Madison, died at his home on April 29, following an illness of six weeks caused by a heart ailment. Mr. Duckert had practiced law in Madison following his graduation from the law school in 1911.

Mrs. Duckert and three children, Marguerite, aged 10, Robert, 7, and Frank, 5, survive.

MARTIN PERRY HENDERSON, Ph.D. '14, died in November, 1923.

FLORA CARNCROSS, '16, died on April 3 in a Peking, China, hospital following an operation. She was buried in the Christian cemetery at Nanking, China. Miss Carncross was a native of Lodi, where her parents now reside. She had spent seventeen years in China. At the time of her death she was teaching English in Ginling College at Nanking. Besides her parents three sisters and two brothers survive.

E. R. ELLIAN, '17, Fond du Lac, died suddenly from an acute heart attack on April 24, while attending a meeting of the Fox River Valley School Masters' Club. Mr. Ellian had been principal of the Fond du Lac senior high school since 1922. He is survived by his widow and a young son.

EMMA FRANCIS, M. S., '16, passed away at State College, Pennsylvania, March, 1925, following an attack of pneumonia.

Miss Francis had been in charge of the animal research laboratory at Pennsylvania State College for the past four years and had been assisting Professor R. A. Dutcher in a number of nutritional studies.

After completing her advanced work at Wisconsin, Miss Francis became a research worker in the nutrition laboratories at the Battle Creek sanatorium. Later she became assistant professor of agricultural and biological chemistry, which title she held at the time of her death. Seven national chemical, medical, and scientific associations claimed her membership, and many scientific articles have been written by her. Her vitamin research studies are of national importance, and with her death the scientific world is brought to realize a great loss.

WILLIAM F. DELANEY, '20, passed away at his home, 781 Frederick Ave., Milwaukee, on April 25. Mr. Delaney had been an agent for the Fidelity & Casualty Insurance Company. He is survived by his mother.

WILLIAM DIXON HIESTAND, Hon. M. A., '23, registrar of the University for thirty-eight years, passed away at his home, 902 Garfield St., Madison, on April 23, after an illness of several months.

Born on the Hiestand homestead in Blooming Grove on July 8, 1861, Mr. Hiestand came of sturdy pioneer stock. His father, Jacob Hiestand, associated with W. T. Pomeroy of Edgerton, was among those who introduced the tobacco growing industry in Wisconsin. He attended the district school and later completed the high school course in Madison, after which he entered the University to study law. He did not complete the course, however, having become interested in the work of court reporting. Having learned shorthand after graduating from high school he reported many celebrated cases both in Dane county courts and in the federal court at St. Paul.

W. D. HEISTAND

Mr. Hiestand became registrar under the administration of President Thomas C. Chamberlin in 1887, and served under Presidents Chamberlin, Adams, Van Hise, and Birge. In recognition of his services to the University Mr. Hiestand was accorded the honorary degree of master of arts at the commencement exercises in 1923. He is survived by his widow and one son, William, who will graduate from the University in June.

"The University never had a closer friend or a man who would stand up and fight harder for it," said Prof. R. A. Moore. "He was greatly impressed with the importance of the University and outside the presidents probably was one of the best posted men in regard to its inner workings."

President Birge spoke briefly of his associations with Mr. Hiestand at the funeral:

"In this assembly of friends it is surely unnecessary for me to speak of the personal qualities which made him so much and so closely our friend or of our loss in his going. Let me speak rather of him as a member of the University of Wisconsin; let us recall him in the place where we knew him for so many years.

"There are few who can speak of him in these relations with greater knowledge than I have, for his work was more closely related to mine and for more years than that of any other of my comrades in the University. I have been thinking much of it and of him during these past weeks since that vague certainty of separation, whose presence is ever with us as years increase, was suddenly changed to the definite and sharply-limited uncertainty of an exact date so near at hand. And as I have thought of his life with us, the good fortune and happiness which attended it have shaped themselves more and more clearly in my mind.

"Mr. Hiestand was fortunate in long service which he gave the University. Only four or five of the thousand names which the current catalogue lists in active service appear in the catalogue of 1888 which first contains his name. He was fortunate in that he came here just at the beginning of the wonderful growth of universities which has so amazed the world. His appointment was the first step that President Chamberlin took in the reorganization of the University which was the work of his five years with us. It marked a definite period in our history when the president appointed a registrar and so assigned to a new officer that traditional duty of admitting students which had been the prerogative of his office for nearly forty years; and Mr. Hiestand was one of the first registrars appointed in this part of the country.

"The University then listed about five hundred students 'on the hill.' So small was the institution that Mr. Hiestand first served, but it was an institution whose numbers were to double and redouble with startling rapidity. He did not merely grow with this growth so as to remain adequate to his increasing duties. He developed an organization, he devised methods and put them into operation so that the registrar's office of the University of Wisconsin was and still is looked to as a model of good administration. As the number of the university students multiplied all over the country the position of registrar became more and more important and Mr. Hiestand, during all his years of service, kept his place in the front rank of his fellows and kept the University in the first position.

"With all this he did not let records and cards absorb his attention. It would be hard to compute how many thousands of students passed through his office for admission and record. It would be still harder to enumerate those to whom he gave good counsel adapted to their personal needs. Kindness and humanity were ever present with him and in his office rather than rigid formality; and, therefore, his death is felt as a personal loss and a personal grief by our alumni all over the world.

"He was fortunate in his friends. With his own temperament he must have had many warm friends wherever his work might have lain. But University relations added many close friends whom he might otherwise have missed. He was singularly fortunate perhaps in his intimate cooperation with successive presidents of the University—with Chamberlin, with Van Hise, most close of all perhaps with Adams, whose portrait on the wall before us is a silent witness of a friendship interrupted only by death.

"Most of all was Mr. Hiestand fortunate in that he spent these many years of his life in association with a university—with an institution which more than any other human organization has a personality, an individuality of its own. A university lives for generations, for centuries, growing and changing indeed, but still preserving its personal character and temper as nothing else in the world does. A business concern, a manufacturing plant, are matters of a day. States are long lived but they are rapidly changed by many forces; churches endure much longer and keep their character for centuries; but both church and state are so extensive that they lack the individual qualities of a university. For a university is wrought directly out of human personalities freely given to it; given in the certainty that the gift will endure in that personal life which receives it. So the words that have just been read in your hearing are true in a very rare sense of those who give themselves to a university—their glory shall not be blotted out, but it shall continue for generations as this individualized life goes on. This supreme good fortune our friend shared and he could devote not only his work but also himself, without grudging or reserve, to an institution which has wrought his life into its larger personality and will carry it on forever.

"What then shall we say when a life so happy and so fortunate in its usefulness is thus ended before its time? It would be easy to speak of our loss and that of the University; equally easy to speak of his gain. But would either manner of speech be quite fair to the divine plan thus manifested in his life as in that of each of us? And, if not, what words shall we find to express the clear hope with which our hearts follow those, who, like our friend, are called away from us before the day's work is done, long before darkness has come, even before the sinking sun has drawn out the lengthening shadows?

"Our lord said many things of the future life, addressed to various times and men and moods. Some are temporary and others are addressed to all ages, seeking their own in every generation. And of these the words which the passing years bring most often to my thought are: 'My Father worketh hitherto and I work.' As 'heirs of God' we are born to the eternal inheritance of work, not as a penalty but as a privilege, as that which both here and hereafter unites us most nearly to the divine nature and powers. To find the work which He has given us to do and to finish it is our greatest blessing. That happiness also belonged to our friend—to have done his appointed work in the spirit in which it was given to him; and therefore he is ready for happiness in whatever duty may now be assigned. So we think of him not as 'resting,' for he was not looking for rest; not as 'rewarded,' for such activity is its own reward; but as still busy and happy in new labors. Somewhere 'in the sounding labor-house vast of being' he is called to new responsibilities and given new duties and he fulfills them in that spirit which he so well showed while among us.

"Is it prying too far into the secrets of the future if from the work assigned us here we draw some hint of that to come? I think not, for we who were his associates here have been called to duties which do not belong merely to the day; they reach back far into the past; they look to the distant future. We are not only trying to do our day's work fairly and honorably. Beyond that and more than that we are preparing a place here for those who shall come after us, a place where they may find a spiritual home for nurture and for happiness. And as in that great work he had his happy part, so we may think of him, and of those many who have in like manner left us, as somehow, somewhere, helping to prepare a place for us who shall follow them.

"That is my hope and my faith for myself as I look forward; that is my faith for my friends; that is my most confident faith for those who have shared the comradeship of labor in the University."

MILDRED HANSON, ex '25. Rio, passed away at her home on April 21, following a long illness.

CLASS NEWS

Class secretaries are asked to get their material to this MAGAZINE before the tenth of each month.

1866

1868

Sec'y—J. G. TAYLOR, Arlington, Mass.

The class of 1868 sends greetings. Originally we numbered nine, now four, in four different states. Add our ages together and we antedate the landing of the Pilgrims. When the University was incorporated we sucked our thumb, or toe, as you please.

May Wisconsin never forget her University.—John TAYLOR.

An interesting booklet has just been received at the Alumni Headquarters indicating the love and esteem in which the Rev. John TAYLOR is held by his former parishioners of the Park Avenue Congregational Church of Arlington Heights, Mass., of which he is Pastor Emeritus. The contents of the booklet were gathered and presented on the occasion of his eightieth birthday, November 12, 1924. Following is one of many fine tributes paid him:

BIRTHDAY GREETING TO JOHN G. TAYLOR

John G.
Taylor, he
Is the sort of man I'd like to be!

Oh, many a time I have walked with him
And many a time I've talked with him;
And many a time since that sorry day
When from his haunts I strayed away,
I've roamed in memory over the hills
And through the vales where the sunlight spills
Its precious gold, with him beside
As friend and counsellor and guide.
And wasn't it good for me to listen
To all those fine preachments of his'n!
And wasn't life a grand, sweet song
Whenever the two of us strolled along
Some loitering lane or woody dell
Where the wild folks live and the fairies dwell!

And now he is eighty! How many years
Has he planted smiles in the place of tears.
And builded hopes in the place of fears!
And may he add to his full four-score
Of splendid seasons, full many more,
With peace and well-earned comfort rife,
To crown the autumn of his life.

And I wish him to feel, this happy day,
From over the hills and far away
I send him a hand-clasp, warm and true;
And I'm thinking now, as I used to do,
That John G.
Taylor, he
Is the sort of man I'd like to be.

COME BACK to attend the alumni banquet. See the reunion classes led by the right hand of joy. It will inspire you.

1860

Sec'y—J. B. PARKINSON, Madison
516 Wisconsin Ave.

Reune June 19-22!

1863

Sec'y—FRANK WATERMAN, Omaha, Nebr.
1726 S. 28th St.

1865

Sec'y—ANNIE CHAMBERLAIN
4840 Hazel Ave., Philadelphia, Pa.

Reune June 19-22!

1869

Sec'y—JANE NAGEL HENDERSON
R. F. D. 2, N. Yakima, Wash.

1870

Sec'y—B. W. JONES, Madison
17 Langdon St.

Reune June 19-22!

1873

Sec'y—M. S. FRAWLEY, Eau Claire
326 4th St.

1874

Sec'y—A. D. CONOVER, Madison
421 N. Murray St.

1875

Sec'y—CLARA MOORE HARPER, Madison
227 Langdon St.

Reune June 19-22!

Of our class of thirty-one graduates sixteen responded to our reunion letter and nearly everyone is coming. Our first meeting will be on Friday, June 19, at one o'clock, at the Loraine Hotel. There will be a six o'clock dinner on Friday. Saturday we will lunch together at one o'clock, and Saturday evening the class will attend the alumni dinner at the Gymnasium.

Members of the class of 1874 are invited to attend the reunion of 1875.

Other announcements will be made at the first meeting on June 19—Clara MOORE Harper.

1876

Sec'y—F. W. HALL, Madison
842 Prospect Place

1877

Sec'y—A. C. PRESCOTT, Sheboygan

1878

Sec'y—F. E. NOYES, Marinette
644 Marinette Ave.

1879

Sec'y—SUSAN STERLING, Madison
612 Howard Place

Missing member: Edith STEARNS Hicks (Mrs. J. W.)

1880

Sec'y—ANNIE DINSDALE SWENSON
Mendota Beach, Madison
Reune June 19-22!

Humphrey DESMOND, Wells Bldg., Milwaukee, writes:

"Of the thirty-nine members of the class of '80, twenty-four are now living, nine of whom have intimated that they will be present at the forty-fifth reunion. We are hoping that a few others whom we have not heard from will also decide to come, so that the class will have a quorum. Eleven were present at the fortieth anniversary.

"Our university classes graduate at an average age of about twenty-two, and the expectancy of life at that age, according to the American tables, is forty-one more years. As the decades pass, the expectancy of life increases. I note that of the class of '75 which is to hold its fiftieth anniversary this year nearly half survive, which is indeed a very good record."

Dr. J. M. DODSON, 5707 Blackstone Ave., Chicago, whose article on President Birge is published in this issue, in addition to many other activities is executive secretary of the Bureau of Health & Public Instruction of the American Medical Association, and chairman of the editorial board of Hygeia.

1881

Sec'y—F. S. WHITE, Chicago, Ill.
5308 Hyde Park Blvd.

Our class reunions every year.

Dear Classmates: Just as I was about to project my Ego again on you I was happily relieved by receiving the inclosed communique from our steadfast and stentorian friend W. J. M. He embodies so much enthusiasm and has been so faithful for many years in reuning in June that a mere suggestion from him of its joys and its power of rejuvenation should be an incentive to you, one and all, from near and far, to try its influence. I can recall no other alumnus, of any class, who can compete with our W. J. M. in number of progeny sent so far to their schooling, nor any indulgent papa who has proudly pursued them to the annual June commencement as frequently as W. J.

Our class was always unique and celebrated for some outstanding accomplishment. The thing Mr. Secretary Crawford most commends us for is our having been the first class to become 100% members of the General Alumni Association. I trust you all continue to belong.

Hope to see you in June (19-22)! F. S. W.—5-6-25.

Dear Fred: As usual, I expect to "reune in June" and bring my family. However, although two of my sons will also have their first reunion, and my daughter was the first child of '81 to graduate at Wisconsin, I have concluded to desist from keeping one or more representatives at U. W. and give others a chance.

I would like to see more of the old grads at Madison. It helps to keep us young. Of course it is some trouble and expense to travel a few miles, or a few hundred, but to a resident of this state of magnificent distances a few thousand miles is a mere trifle. I still claim the championship for traveling more miles to attend reunions than any other grad.

The ALUMNI MAGAZINE wants us old grads to send in reminiscences, but that is easier said than done. After playing truant a number of years I returned with my family at the cordial invitation of our old chum who had become a distinguished member of the faculty. When he met me at the station his first remark was, "Now Tim (my pet name), remember that I am a member of the faculty; don't get too damned reminiscent!"

Of course you remember me trying to stop the gallery gods when they applauded Dr. Butler's prayer at the dedication of the new Library, now the old Music Hall.

What was my reward?

Those unregenerate Norwegians, Julius Olson and Magnus Swenson, jealous of the obvious superiority of the Irish, have ever since maintained that I was the guy who started the rucus!

That is another Nordic myth. Not all the lies told on the Irish are true.

Following your illustrious example, I haven't said a word about myself.

Best regards to Mrs. White. Will see you both in Madison. This is a degenerate age, but my regular headquarters are still at Hausman's.—Cordially yours, W. J. Moroney.

Missing member: May REMINGTON Thayer (Mrs. S. E.)

1882

Sec'y—DR. L. R. HEAD, Madison
416 Wisconsin Ave.

Missing member: Minna GILBERT Bundy (Mrs. M. G.)

1883

Sec'y—A. C. UMBREIT, Milwaukee
916 Shepard Ave.

B. B. CARTER gives his business address as 924 Monadnock Bldg., Chicago, and his residence address as 129 N. Lincoln St., Hinsdale, Ill.

Missing member: Frank KINNE, ex'83.

1884

Sec'y—CLARA BAKER FLETT, Madison
Lathrop Hall

Missing member: Charles J. PERKINS.

1885

Sec'y—O. D. BRANDENBURG, Madison
114 S. Carroll St.

Reune June 19-22!

L. P. CONOVER gives his residence address as 28 South Oak St., Hinsdale, Ill.—Rose SCHUSTER Taylor has been visiting her daughter in Berkeley, Calif. She gives her address as 2813 Channing Way.—Henry RUENZEL, 2710 McKinley Blvd., Milwaukee, was granted the highest honor obtainable in pharmacy when the University conferred upon him the degree of master of pharmacy in April. Mr. Ruenzel graduated with the first class and has been proprietor of a drug store at 2332 Vliet St., Milwaukee, for twenty years. The occasion of the conferring of the degree was the fortieth anniversary of the graduation of the first class in pharmacy in 1885.

Missing members: Charles W. GILMAN, James M. HUTCHINSON, Rev. C. F. NILES.

1886

Sec'y—EMMA NUNNS PEASE
Wauwatosa

Judge E. B. BELDEN, law '86, was re-elected judge of the First Judicial Circuit for the fifth time without opposition at the recent April election. Judge Belden began his judicial career at twenty-three years of age and already has the longest record of judicial service in the history of the state.

Missing member: Henry H. ROSER.

1887

Sec'y—KATHERINE ALLEN, Madison
228 Langdon St.

1888

Sec'y—SOPHIE LEWIS BRIGGS, Madison
137 W. Gilman St.

INTERIM REUNION

Although this is not a reuning year for the class of 1888 plans are under way for a get-together, sponsored by the Madison members of the class. Our class president has reserved the Colonial Room at the Loraine Hotel for a class luncheon to which we are all invited as his guests. That the number to be planned for at this luncheon may be known and that plans for other entertainment may be made members of '88 are asked to communicate with the secretary of the class, at the address given above.

1889

Sec'y—ERNEST WARNER, Madison
109 W. Main St.

Change of address: E. T. ERIKSEN, Box 2, Orland, Calif.

Missing members: James M. SHORTT, Winfield SMITH.

1890

Sec'y—W. N. PARKER, Madison
14 So. Carroll St.

Reune June 19-22!

BLAST NUMBER TWO

"Blast No. 2" of the class of MIGHTY '90 went out to all members on May 14. The following responded to "Blast No. 1:" Dave Fairchild, Sam Swansen, J. L. Shepherd, Artie Hoskins, Royal Hart, Tim Harrington, Ed. Browne, Fred Bolender, and John Baker (non grad). They are all coming to the "Reune in June," and will bring their wives, husbands, children, and grandchildren. Madison alumni will be hosts. Walt Seymour is on his way from China to attend the reunion and see his son graduate from the University. Loyal Durand is coming with all his folks.

COME BACK to your old haunts. Time works her changes but your eyes are still the eyes of youth.

Lost! Where is Cora Parker Huntington, Corporal Pingel, Eleanor Cerinthia Austin? Their "Blasts" came back.

L. S. SMITH of the Engineering Department recently attended the International City Planning Congress in New York City. He was a delegate from the Madison City Planning Commission.

1891

Sec'y—ELSBETH VEERHUSEN KIND, Madison
1711 Van Hise Ave.

Missing members: Fred W. PRAEL, Emma ROSENSTENGEL Ward (Mrs. Harrison).

1892

Sec'y—MARILLA ANDREWS BUCHWALTER,
R. R. 6, National Road, Springfield, O.

Earl DEMOE, whose whereabouts have been missing in the records of the Alumni Headquarters, is reported as living in Northbrook, Ill., R. F. D. No. 1.

Change of address: Dr. W. M. THOMAS, 2742 N. Clark St., Chicago.

1893

Sec'y—JULIA MURPHY, Madison
635 Howard place

Missing members: H. W. MORRIS, ex'93, Florence Williams Richards (Mrs. J. T.).

1894

Sec'y—CAROLINE YOUNG, Madison
103 E. Wilson St.

Edward HENNING has been named federal judge for the southern district of California by President Coolidge.

MR. HENNING WITH LLOYD-GEORGE

Prior to his appointment Mr. Henning practiced law in Los Angeles with C. A. McGee, '99.

Change of address: Dean WILLIAMS, 998 Cramer St., Milwaukee; Herman SCHLUNDT, Chemistry Department, University of Missouri, Columbia, Mo.

1895

Sec'y—ANNA GRIFFITHS, Madison
131 W. Gilman St.

Reune June 19-22!

Change of address: Dr. A. W. GRAY, Sta. C, Route 6, Milwaukee.

Missing member: Jerre T. RICHARDS.

1896

Sec'y—G. F. THOMPSON, Chicago, Ill.
4100 W. Madison St.

Change of address: Dr. C. D. SHUART, Waupun; Luther LEMON, 5469 Hyde Park Blvd., Chicago; E. A. IVERSON,

The University appropriation bill was passed by th e on⁷May 18 and by the Assembly on May 21.

7312 Oglesby Ave., Chicago; Susan PORTER, Route 18, Evansville.

Missing member: Olga MUELLER Eddy (Mrs. A. G.).

1897

Sec'y—HELEN PRAY SHELDON, Madison
102 Spooner St.

A. R. HAGER was elected president of the Shanghai Rotary Club at its April meeting.—C. C. MONTGOMERY sends a new business address to Headquarters, 811 Washington Bldg., Los Angeles, Calif.

Missing member: A. P. HOLLIS.

1898

Sec'y—MAY CHURCH JOHN, Milwaukee
635 Shepard Ave.

Change of address: Enos WIGDALE, 5000 S. Michigan Ave., Chicago.

1899

Change of address: Bernard HEYN, Bar Bldg., 36 W. 44th St., New York City; Grant PRATT, Eau Claire.

Missing members: Adolph F. BEERBAUM, Jessamine LEE FOX (Mrs. M. L.), Sara HEIMDEL Van Dusen (Mrs. H. L.).

1900

Sec'y—J. N. KOFFEND Jr., Appleton
846 Prospect Ave.

Reune June 19-22!

At a meeting of Madison members of the class on May 7, the following arrangements were made for the reunion! The headquarters of the class will be the Cabinet Room of the Y. M. C. A. A class luncheon has been arranged for Friday noon, June 19, on porch of the College Women's Club, and a six o'clock dinner at the Maple Bluff Golf Club on the same day. Florence Allen and Bertha Brigham Harper will have charge of the decorations in the headquarters and at Maple Bluff. No class meetings for Saturday have been planned inasmuch as that is general alumni day, and we shall attend all general alumni functions in a body.

Change of address: Adeline BASSET BROWN, Antioch College, Yellow Springs, O.; P. D. GURNEE, 139 W. Wilson St., Madison.

Missing members: Louise HINKLEY, Donald MAC MILLAN, John F. NICHOLSON.

1901

Sec'y—CLARA STILLMAN HARTMAN
Milwaukee, 4001 Highland Blvd.

ERIC ALLEN, dean of the University of Oregon School of Journalism, will serve this year as honorary president of Sigma Delta Chi, national journalism fraternity. A year ago he served as president of the American Association of Schools and Departments of Journalism. Dean Allen succeeds James Wright Brown, publisher of Editor and Publisher, as honorary national president.

Change of address: A. A. BALDWIN, Route 6, Portland, Ore.; Oscar KROESING, 421 Park Pl., Milwaukee.

Missing member: A. K. WHEELER.

1902

Sec'y—JANE SHERRILL, Madison
City Y. W. C. A.

John PATRICK, of the Oliver Iron Mining Co., Ironwood, Mich., was chosen mayor of Ironwood recently when the new city commission held its first meeting and organized. Mr. Patrick was principal of the high school in Ironwood some years ago.—J. Chester GREY, in addition to his duties as manager of the Lansing Fuel & Gas Co., 110 E. Michigan Ave., Lansing, Mich., acts as president this year of the Michigan Gas Association and as president of the Lansing Rotary Club.—Herbert Dow is connected with the Nordberg Mfg. Co., Milwaukee.

Change of address: La Maude YULE Miller, 1800 Lyndale Ave. S., Minneapolis, Minn.

Missing members: Henry L. JANES, Kittle BUTTON Payne (Mrs. J. D.).

ERIC ALLEN, '01.

1903

Sec'y—W. H. HEIN, St. Louis, Mo.
5238 Kensington Ave.

George BRIGGS acts as secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, Eastland, Tex.

Change of address: W. B. RICHARDS, Route 1, Maitland, Fla.

Missing members: Stuart J. FULLER, Frank D. SHELDON, ex'03, Albert E. SHOWER.

1904

Sec'y—FLORENCE MOFFAT BENNETT
Madison, 322 S. Hamilton St.

M. A. Whiting, 650 Rugby Road, Schnectady, N. Y., was one of the forty-three out of approximately 70,000 employes of the General Electric Company to whom awards were made this year by the Charles A. Coffin Foundation. The award was made to Mr. Whiting for inventing and developing an effective system of direct current motor control for high speed elevators.

To receive one of these awards is a high honor. They are given on the basis of noteworthy service rendered in the field in which the recipient is engaged. Engineers, commercial men, foremen, shop employes and members of the administrative branch are all eligible, the basis of awards being not the line of work an employe is following, but the notable service rendered in that particular field. The Charles A. Coffin Foundation was established by the General Electric Company in 1922 as a permanent tribute to Charles A. Coffin, for years the head of the Company, for the purpose of giving recognition to notable contributions to the progress and advancement of the electrical art and industry in three fields, central stations (electric light and power companies), electric traction, and within the ranks of the General Electric Company itself. For the past two years it has also awarded a certain number of college and university fellowships for research work by students.

Following his graduation, Mr. Whiting engaged in preliminary survey work with a prospective interurban electric railway and in January, 1905, entered the Students' Engineering Training Course (Testing Department) of the General Electric Company at the Schenectady Works of the General Electric Company. On completing this, he entered what is now the Industrial Engineering Department, of which he has since continued a member.

L. R. DAVIES, State Supervisor of Vocational Agricultural Education in Colorado, called at Alumni Headquarters while on a recent visit to his mother in Madison.

Missing members: Loren D. BLACKMAN, Huldah HAINKE, H. O. JACOBSON, ex'04; H. L. McDONALD.

1906

Sec'y—L. W. BRIDGMAN, Madison
1910 Kendall Ave.

Change of address: Frank BRUCE, publisher, 354 Milwaukee St., Milwaukee; Therese HICKISCH Pick, 118-8th Ave., West Bend; Agnes YOUNG Tucker, Kelly Hall, University of Chicago, Chicago.

Missing members: Ray J. HAGGERTY, Jesse E. JACOBSEN, Arden R. JOHNSON.

1907

Sec'y—RALPH GUGLER, Milwaukee
694 Broadway

Change of address: William WADSWORTH, 926 Austin Blvd., Oak Park, Ill.; C. R. CLARK, 1428 E. 19th St., Eugene, Ore.; Elizabeth HASTINGS MacLeod, 330 Lincoln Ave., Eau Claire; James CURTAIN, 1304 Cleveland Ave., Niagara Falls, N. Y.; F. J. DERGE, 60 Wall St., New York City.

Missing members: S. G. ENGLE, Katherine SANDERSON, Justine WATERMAN Sorenson (Mrs. J. S.).

1908

Sec'y—F. H. ELWELL, Madison
2025 Chadbourne Ave.

Liba PESHAKOVA (Josephine Peshak) is taking graduate work at Columbia University. Her permanent address is 3559 N. Western Ave., Chicago, Ill. For several years she was in dramatic work, teaching in the Cosmopolitan School of Music and Dramatic Arts, Chicago, tutoring and giving recitals. During this period she changed her name, adopting the Czech form, daughters of the family Peshak being called Peshakova in Bohemia. For a time she played in stock, in Indianapolis. In 1918 she became field secretary of the National American Woman suffrage Association. She worked in the campaign for ratification of the suffrage amendment, and later as field secretary for the National League of Women Voters, these campaigns taking her to fifteen states. She assisted in the election campaign of Bertha Rembaugh for municipal judge, New York City, in 1919, and of Mrs. Hooper, candidate for United States Senator, in 1922.—Lillian JONASSEN Beach, after study in Europe, entered concert work, later joining the Aborn Opera Company. With them she advanced to prima donna roles. Later she was prima donna in "The Red Widow" on tour, in revivals of "Oh! Oh! Delphine" and "Gypsy Love" and other productions, and in musical stock. She was leading woman in Belasco's "The Boomerang" on tour for two seasons, and in "The Acquittal," and other dramatic productions. She also has played in dramatic stock and moving pictures,

(Continued on next page)

1905

Sec'y—LILLIAN TAYLOR JERRARD
Winnetka, Ill.

Reune June 19-22!

*Write Your Classmates today
Urge them to come - Letter to REX WELTON, Madison
So he will know how many there will be in your party.*

Keep the Camp Fires
Burning

Send Your Checks Early
Get Your Heart
Yearning

For that Great 20th Year
Homecoming of the Mighty Class 1905

(Write a classmate today urging him to come.)

John BERG, Pierre, S. D., has been reappointed state engineer for South Dakota for the four-year term beginning March 2, 1925. Mr. and Mrs. Berg (Lily LEIGHTY), and children are planning on attending the reunion in June.

Change of address: C. S. REED, 191 Park Ave., Yonkers, N. Y.; H. B. HAWKINS, Chinese Customs Service, Shanghai, China; V. E. McMULLEN, 915 Chapin St., Beloit; Percy SAWYER, 670 Irving Park Blvd., Chicago; P. G. WEST, 1438 Orchard Grove Ave., Cleveland, O.

Missing member: L. R. BALCH.

in leading roles with Universal and Fox. During the war she was assistant and later director of all Liberty Loan campaigns in New York theaters. On June 30, 1923, she married J. M. Beach, consulting engineer, a Leland Stanford man, and retired from the stage. Permanent address, Three Arts Club, 340 West 85th St., New York City.—John BEATH since January has been in the Department of Education, Normal School, La Crosse. The Class History did not chronicle his marriage to Miss Etta Boulden, Wilmot, in 1911. A son, Andrew, was born in 1917.—Dallas BURCH is doing field work and special investigations for the Bureau of Animal Industry, U. S. Department of Agriculture; address 69 N. State St., Salt Lake City, Utah.—Percy CUSHING is with Taming, Keene & Co., brokers, 7 Wall St., New York City.

Change of address: Oscar RADEMAKER, lawyer, Medford; Bryant RYALL, State Com. Y. M. C. A., 811 S. & L. Bldg., Des Moines, Ia.; John HAYES, Maple Lake, Minn.; Clarence RICE, 1636 Holton St., Milwaukee; Helen SUMNER Woodbury, 4534 Reno Road, N. W., Washington, D. C.; Lieut. T. A. BAUMEISTER, Camp Alfred, Vail, N. J.; J. T. TIERNEY, Kearney, N. J.; Anna SABY, Baldwin; Susan ARMSTRONG, 225 Juneau Ave., Milwaukee.

THE 1908 CLASS HISTORY

By GEORGE HILL, '08, Box 67, P. O. Sta. F.,
New York City

THIS report is for the information not only of '08, but of other classes which may contemplate getting out histories, or tracing their missing members.

Two editions of the '08 history have been published, in 1920 and 1924. The book is made up of informal accounts of what members of the class have been doing, mostly in the shape of letters from the people themselves.

For the recent edition, we tried to trace all the people who were ever registered with '08—1089 altogether. Of that total, 51 are deceased, 1038 living, so far as we were able to learn.

Those who took degrees were fairly easy to follow, starting from the Alumni Headquarters' file of addresses, though about 20% had wandered off to other addresses without notifying Headquarters. We finally located all but 32 of our 439 living '08 graduates.

There are 133, once with '08, who took diplomas with '09 and other classes. These we also circularized, 29 responding.

It was when we came to those who had not taken degrees that we stepped off into deep water, as all we had to start with was the list of their home towns in the old U. W. catalogs. The initial circularizing was done by our reunion committee, and followed up for over a year by the Historian. Notwithstanding all that, nearly two-thirds of our 466 non-graduates were untraceable—spurlos versenkt. We finally got replies from 74—about 16%—of our non-grads, almost all of whom renewed affiliation with the class.

Our experience indicates the difficulty of bringing non-grads into alumni activity after a lapse of years. The enthusiasm for the University of many of those whom we did reach shows the potentialities of this group, if it were possible to keep in touch with them.

As for the history itself, the advantages of such a publication are obvious. It promotes solidarity, it is a handy book of reference for addresses, and it makes entertaining reading—anyhow, 58 subscribers wrote and said it did. But any class which projects such a book should also reckon on the difficulties of the job.

If all the hours that were given to the recent '08 book, by members of the class and their office help, were placed end to end, the aggregate would be equivalent to over 100 days' full time work for one person. About 2000 form and 650 personal letters and 500 cards were sent. Two or three follow-ups were necessary to land some biographies and subscriptions. It isn't that people are shy and parsimonious—it's simply that replying to class letters is The Kind of a Job that Men Forget. Biographical data for those not heard from were assembled from classmates, Alumni Magazine files, professional directories, etc., that part of the job alone taking over 20 days.

Then there is the usual difficulty of finance. The '08 first edition left a deficit of about $45, which was met by the class officers. The second edition will about break even. Of the members of the class who graduated in '08, 65% subscribed to the second edition; of those who took degrees with other classes, 22%; of non-graduates, 13%; of those who took their M. A. in '08, 7%.

A few copies were bought outside the class; a few remain unsold. It seems fair to assume that the above percentages are about the limit of what any U. W. class can expect, in financing such an enterprise, as the '08 book had every advantage, with a flying start from the previous edition, and the backing of a lively class organization.

Of members of the GENERAL ALUMNI ASSOCIATION, about 93% subscribed for the directory and about 78% sent biographies, while of non-members only 47% subscribed and only 34% sent data. That members of the ASSOCIATION subscribed and contributed biographies to about twice the extent that non-members did seems creditable to them, and significant of the interest of that group in all alumni matters.

COME BACK and see the effulgence of a sunset. Watch the shadows as they gather timidly at Picnic Point and then hurry confidently to your feet.

Class of 1908 History, Financial Report

Receipts

381 Subscriptions at $1.35	$514.35
Donations	6.22
Interest on Liberty Bonds	7.65
Profit on Sale of Liberty Bonds56
Total Receipts	$528.78

Expenses

Stationery and Mimeographing....	$ 33.10
Typing and Addressing.....	27.25
Printing.....	357.91
Mailing Envelopes.....	9.10
Postage.....	97.42
Total Expenses.....	$524.78

Balance on hand Mar. 31, 1925.. $ 4.00

Note: Ten copies of the first edition were used to furnish sample pages for second edition circularizing, with the understanding that, if receipts from second edition warranted it, $15.00 would be paid for those copies, to those who stood the deficit on first edition. This payment was to be made only after all other expenses of second edition had been met. Above balance will therefore go in partial payment of this obligation.

(Signed) GEORGE B. HILL,
Class Historian.

I have audited the accounts of Geo. B. Hill, Class Historian, and I hereby certify that the above is a correct summary of the receipts and expenses of the 1908 History, Second Edition.

F. H. ELWELL,
Class Treasurer.

March 31, 1925.

1909
Sec'y—E. E. WITTE, Madison
1609 Madison St.

Stella KAYSER, a member of the faculty of the Wisconsin School of Music, recently delivered a series of lectures in Madison on "New Ways of Interesting Children in the Study of the Piano." Miss Kayser, who has been unusually successful in working with children in music, has taken special work along this line in New York City under the direction of the American Institute of Applied Arts.—In reappointing Herman SACHTJEN as state prohibition commissioner, Governor Blaine issued a statement to the effect that he made this appointment because during Sachtjen's previous term, state prohibition enforcement, has been "free from graft and suspicions" and "clean in all respects."

Nils OLSEN was recently appointed as assistant chief of the bureau of agricultural economics by Secretary of Agriculture W. M. Jardine. The appointment is a promotion for Mr. Olsen who has been connected with the United States department of agriculture since 1919. He first was employed as an assistant agricultural economist to do research work in agricultural history. In 1922 he assisted in the administration of the seed loan funds in the northwest and later was placed in complete charge of this work with headquarters at Grand Forks, N. Dak. In July, 1923, he returned to Washington, where he was made executive secretary of the committee which prepared the report on the wheat situation submitted to President Coolidge in the fall of the year by Secretary Wallace. After this he was placed in charge of the division of agricultural finance in the bureau of agricultural economics, conducting studies relating to farm credit, farm taxation, and farm insurance.

His work in the department won the admiration of the late Secretary Wallace, and Mr. Olsen was called upon frequently to assist the Secretary's office in connection with the nation-wide agricultural problems. He collaborated with Secretary Wallace in the preparation of his book, "Our Debt and Duty to the Farmer," which recently came from the press.

Change of address: H. J. BESLEY, 1105 K St., N. W., Washington, D. C.; E. R. SUHM, 335 Howell Ave., Milwaukee; Julia MURRAY Zimmerman, 14 E. Monroe St., Chicago; Pomeroy MERRILL, c/o Calcite Quarry Co., Route 4, Myerstown, Pa.

Missing members: Emily HOLMES Baker (Mrs. R. L.), R. G. BUNDY, ex'09, Walter G. GRIMMER, Herman LACHMUND, Alfred V. LARSON, Alfred T. LATHROP, Ira F. PETTIBONE, Edward C. STOCKER, H. WUERTH.

1910
Sec'y—W. B. MEUER, Madison:
2314 Rugby Row
Reune June 19-22!

Oh, Boy! Is our reunion going to be hot! You tell the world she is! It seems as tho we just can't keep this Madison bunch quiet—they are aching so for the time to arrive. The third meeting has already been held and the attendance seems to get larger with each succeeding meeting. The next get-together is going to be called at some nearby road-house at which wives, husbands, and sweethearts will be included. Then with one more meeting to come just before the reunion date we'll be ready to receive the greatest class that ever graduated from Wisconsin.

It really wouldn't be fair to spill all our thunder in this article, because that would leave nothing for our publicity committee to send out. They've got a job, and they want to do it up brown, so why spoil a good youngster's enthusiasm and ambition. No doubt you have all gotten the first spasm—two more, one hotter than the other, will follow.

It was decided at the last meeting to wear white skirts and waists, and white shirts and trousers, with white Sox or stockings and white shoes. This outfit the members are to furnish themselves, but the regalia committee will furnish green caps, green neckties, and green Spanish sashes—and what could be sweeter? But what the gang needs to know right away is how many people are coming so that we can order enough ties, hats and sashes. Won't you sit right down and write Calla Andrus, c/o Democrat Printing Co., Madison, that you and friend wife or husband or sweetheart will be here, the size of the hats (give circumference of the head) and how many children are coming?

Our program will start with a little housewarming at the reunion headquarters (The Presbyterian Student House, corner of State and Murray Streets) for Friday night. On Saturday we will join with the General Alumni Association in their various doings—a parade, baseball game, return of the crew from Poughkeepsie, Alumni banquet and the big dance in Lathrop on Saturday night. Our own big reunion will reach its height on Sunday—an eleven o'clock barbecue across Lake Mendota—we hope it will be Camp Indianola. And oh! is that going to be a party!—the biggest thing ever pulled in any class reunion to date. It will be the talk of your lifetime no matter how long you live. Oliver Story is taking care of this and he already has a darky man and wife spoken for to come up from Savannah to put on a real southern barbecue. That will be the stuff. Write your own ticket!

Molly Wright Abel is going to take care of the kiddies and in fact will have a regular professional nurse to look after them provided you let her know that you are bringing them. Of course, Molly is not going to stay away from any of the doings herself, but she will see that your children are taken care of in good shape, so that you will be able to almost forget them and have a good time knowing that they are in absolutely safe hands. We are even ready to put on a movie show or anything else to amuse them if we can only have the dope in advance that they are coming.

Everyone within 150 to 300 miles can be at the picnic on Sunday, because it makes such a nice Sunday drive here and back. Of course, we want everyone to come in on Friday who possibly can and stay over until Sunday night. But those who can't will make it their business to arrive here by 11 o'clock Sunday morning and to stay with us until the picnic is over, which will be towards the middle of the afternoon.

And the expense of all this will be only five bucks per grown folk—children free. Pay now or when you arrive. George Luhman, who runs a Milwaukee bank, is the official collector; send your ducats to him or to Calla Andrus.

Again we say—Come to Reunion June 19 to 22. Write a word now—today, or you will forget—saying "I'm coming." Then we'll know how many to provide for. Snuff for this particular time.

Change of address: Pearl PADLEY, Lodi; Lillian REMS-BURG, 847 N. Church St., Rockford, Ill.; Esther COCHRANE Dunham, 418 N. 39th St., Omaha, Neb. Summer address: Sandstone Camp, Green Lake, Wis. consin; Gertrude LUKES Brewer, 2658 Lincolnwood Drive, Evanston, Ill.; Dr. M. N. SMITH-PETERSON, 31 Bay State Road, Boston Mass.; G. O. PLAMONDON, 4855 Gladys Ave., Chicago; Belinda SANDERS Juve, 4319 River Road, N. W., Washington, D. C.

Missing members: Thomas CRAFER, A. H. KUHLMAN, Charles B. NUTI, Beulah SMITH, Shigeru TOMIMOTO, William H. WITT.

1911

Sec'y—E. D. STEINHAGEN, Milwaukee
721 51st St.

Paul WEAVER, formerly of Madison, who is directing the Glee Club at the University of North Carolina, is achieving marked success in his work, according to reports recently received. Carl Adams, music critic for the Cincinnati Enquirer, said of the Glee Club, after hearing a recent concert: "With such an organization as this it is safe to say that the University of North Carolina will assume the musical leadership of southern colleges, just as Harvard has in the North."

Change of address: James MAINLAND, 2109 Clear Lake Ave., Springfield, Ill.; Carl SAGEN, 424 Post Bldg., Battle Creek, Mich.; Edward HANDY, 548 Sherman Ave., Evanston, Ill.; Griffith RICHARDS, 1910 Vilas St., Madison; Mamie SANDERS, 134 N. Butler St., Madison.

Missing members: W. T. CUSHING, Cyril A. FAY, Fleurette HARTWIG Garrett (Mrs. G. W.), Rosetta HENDRICKSON, A. D. KELLER, Herman H. KOENIG, G. A. SCARCLIFF, Carl E. SEAGER, ex'II, Cornelia BOETTGE Shonot (Mrs. Archie), Harry F. SMITH, John A. SOMDAL, J. C. STEPHENS, John B. WOFFENDEN, ex'II.

1912

Sec'y—LAURA JOHNSON, Madison
111 E. Gorham St.

Otto ROEHLING, who studied voice in Berlin and later in New York, following his graduation from the University, appeared in a recital at the Athenaeum in Milwaukee on April 19.—Maude BARRETT is head of the Investigation Division of the Juvenile Court, Cook County, Illinois. Her address is 1410 E. 58th St., Chicago.

Change of address: W. H. GRIFFITH, 2737 Robinwood Toledo, O.; R. L. LARSEN, 227½ Crosby St., Akron, O.; Nelle HUDSON, 818 Cranberry St., Erie, Pa.; Leah BRADLEY, 24 Remsen St., Brooklyn, N. Y.; Rev. H. V. LACY, c/o J. N. Ankeny, York, Neb.; Lieut. A. A. ORT, U. S. N., Navy Yard, Plant Division, Boston, Mass.; H. V. MEISSNER, 933 Hackett Ave., Milwaukee.

Missing members: Florence SNELL Ermeling (Mrs. R. W.), Elisha B. BEIDLEMAN, Joseph P. BENDT, Fayette FOSTER, Edward HOLT, ex'12, Walter E. JESSUP, Carl J. JOHNSON, Bang KWAWK, Therese C. MULLER, Edgar NORSMAN, ex'12, H. A. PFLUGHOEFT, Merle PIERSON, Earl V. RUDOLPH, Thomas H. RUST, Ilma JUNGKUNZ Schilling (Mrs. G. W.), Archie SHONAT, Helen BREEN Siebecker (Mrs. Lee), Agnes JOHNSON Towne (Mrs. Westly).

1913

Sec'y—ALVIN REIS, Madison
Assistant Attorney General

John WATTAWA, after having practiced law in Paris, France, for about four years, has returned to the United States, and now has offices in the Southern Bldg., Washington, D. C.

Change of address: W. M. DUFFUS, 35 Bradford Road, Newton Highlands, Mass.; LeROY LORENZ, 1517 Fuller Bldg., San Bernardino, Calif.; R. H. JOHNSON, 1281 Marlowe Ave., Cleveland, O.; A. J. JOHNSTON, 1214 McCormick Bldg., Chicago; Florence CLAUSEN Oistad, 2040 Princeton Ave., St. Paul, Minn.; A. G. SCHNEIDER, 3519 Pinegrove Ave., Chicago, business address, Room

COME BACK and help sing the old-time songs.

1511, 77 W. Washington St., Chicago; H. O. WATRUD, Blanchardville; S. D. WONDERS, c/o Gilbert & Barter Mfg. Co., Springfield, Mass.; E. P. KOHL, 20 E. 52nd St., New York City; D. A. BROWN, 166 Lakewood Blvd., Madison.

Missing members: V. R. BUXTON, CYRUS A. CASEY, Ellen CAVANAGH, R. P. DECKER, R. M. DOYLE, Jeanne BARTHE Fleming (Mrs. J. J.), Alfred KELM, P. B. KORST, Ming Ho LI, W. E. MEYER, Louise MORROW, Marjory MULLON, P. P. PATTERSON, Evelyn ROSS, K. SCHAUERMANN, Andrew SEIFERT, Ralph J. SHEFFER, C. D. Earl D. WEIL, ex'13.

1914

Sec'y—RUSSELL CARPENTER, Madison
Gay Building

Behold the following message from our Class President and let's have a splendid representation at Commencement 1925.

As a member of the class of 1914 and as an ardent reader of the ALUMNI MAGAZINE, I had always wished for more representation for the class in the MAGAZINE than we have been receiving the last ten years. Now, with the peer of all class secretaries right on the ground in Madison, our future is assured. Our past, of course, has always been pleasant in retrospection, and now it looks as if peeping into the future would be even more gladsome. This preliminary paragraph is primarily to let the class know that the idea of having various 1914 folks write to the MAGAZINE belongs to Russell Carpenter, and consequently, let's give him a lot of credit.

Writing as a member of the class and not as its president (as I do not expect to exercise any presidential prerogatives until 1929 at least), I am naturally tempted to talk about my own city first, just as did Alfred Haake in his interesting missive in the February issue.

Des Moines goes Detroit one better in the number of nineteen fourteeners in our midst. While we may be omitting some one, it is absolutely unintentional. Our present census shows four—with Mrs. A. M. Douglas heading the list, then James (Ike) CUMMINS, John CORLEY, and yours truly. But who, you ask, is Mrs. A. M. Douglas? Ah, now we are going to tell you. She is none other than Martha McCLENAHAN, formerly of Cedar Rapids, but now casting her lot with the City of Certainties as the Chamber of Commerce insists on having it. Martha or "Pat" rather, and her husband and daughter have been in Des Moines about a year and declare they think it's a great place.

John CORLEY and Ike CUMMINS are so far above the writer in their occupations that there really is no comparison. Both the aforementioned gents are bond dealers, John being a partner in the firm of Polk, Corley Wheelock Company, and Ike being in business for himself. In addition, Brother Cummins actually boasts that he basks in what he terms single blessedness. And that's that!

Art BRAYTON is nothing but an ordinary editor, but fortunately he has a couple of extraordinary trade papers to edit. The fortunate thing about it is that he has an opportunity to travel a good bit and has thus been fortunate in seeing a good many of the famous class of 1914 in action.

In Richmond, Virginia, Ivan BICKELHAUPT and Helen HARRISON Bickelhaupt are upholding the traditions of the class in great shape. They are busily engaged in providing an education and all the good things of life for Miss Nancy Bickelhaupt and Mr. Peter Bickelhaupt, who, as near as I can remember, must be about a year and a half old. I don't know whether he has manifested any signs of writing a Haresfoot show or not, but he is a coming young man, and of course Nancy is a fine girl. Ivan is manager of the Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel Company's office in Richmond.

Over in Norman, Oklahoma, another famous 1914 gentleman holds forth in an institution of learning—none other than Arthur HALLAM himself. Arthur is professor of Journalism at the University of Oklahoma, has a wife and two fine children, and claims he likes the southwest better than the upper campus.

In that same section, but a little further south, at Austin, Texas, is Walter HORNADAY, another 1914'er I believe, who is also engaged in journalistic work in the capital city of the Lone Star State.

Speaking professorily, as we were a moment ago, I had a very pleasant visit recently with Roy FRENCH, another 1914 man who shineth from afar with his achievements. Roy is professor and head of the department of Journalism at the University of North Dakota at Grand Forks. He was at Madison, associated with Professor Bleyer until last fall, but is doing exceptionally well at North Dakota. I saw him at a journalistic convention in Bloomington, Indiana, last November, and found that the duties of teaching have rested lightly on his alabaster brow.

While we are in the vicinity of North Dakota, it would be a crime not to mention a young lady who I believe honors the class of 1914 by claiming it as her own, along with some slight affiliation with the unknown group finishing in 1915. This is Miss Agnes BOEING, sometimes known familiarly as "Pokey." Miss Boeing is with Cheney Brothers, well known silk manufacturers in New York. She travels extensively giving lectures on the development and uses of silks, and her work takes her to all the large colleges and universities of the country. She was in Des Moines not so long ago and insisted that 1914 was her class, so we'll give in.

This letter seems to be running largely to gossip, but it is subject to the editorial blue pencil of Class Secretary Carpenter, so I do not worry. It is quite a while as yet until the 15th reunion of the class of 1914, which according to present schedule and plans is to take place with considerable eclat in Madison, in June, 1929, but it is not a bit too early to begin now to make plans.

As a matter of fact some of the members of the class in Tasmania, Somaliland, and other interesting localities in Abyssinia and kindred spots have cabled (collect) that they have already engaged passage so as not to miss out on the 15th Reunion. The fame and success of the 10th Reunion at Madison last June have spread around the world, and it looks as if the Standing Room Only sign would be out early for the 15th gathering of 1914.

By now everyone has had the special edition of the ALUMNI MAGAZINE, telling of the action of the State Legislature concerning further appropriations for the University, as well as the wonderful plea made by President Birge and the president of the Alumni Association. I am sure that every member of our class will be very glad of an opportunity of doing what they can, and doing it NOW.

As the years pass, the University means more to us all the time, and when an appeal such as this is broadcast, there will be no group more ready and willing to help than the members of the class which President Birge himself designated as one of the best at the Alumni Banquet last June—the class of 1914.

I am not appealing merely because I happened to be chosen president of the class last year, but I am asking all of you to give the University all the help you can at once, asking it merely as a graduate—as one of those thousands who think so often of Wisconsin, and who, every chance they get, go back to the place we will never forget and never want to. Let's help Wisconsin now and keep on helping her, for if there ever was a deserving cause, it is that of the University that has done so much for us, and which is still doing that same work for thousands of others, work that can be done nowhere else except at WISCONSIN.—ARTHUR H. BRAYTON.

Change of address: Marion BRECK, 765-47th St., Milwaukee; Edgar BAIRD, University, N. Dak.; Edward SMITH, Portland Cement Association, 111 W. Washington St., Chicago; Robert WAHL, real estate broker, 551 Cass St., Milwaukee; Florence Ross Johnston, 224 N. Drew Ave., Appleton.

Missing members: Bessie BAER, Tillie BRANDT, Lester BRUMM, George BUSHNELL, Clifford ENGLISH, ex '14, James W. HARRIS Jr., Anna HORST, Ruth KLEIN, Edward A. KRUEGER, E. U. MENZI, Paul M. PAINE, Orrin PETERSON, H. K. RAKSHIT, Henry REKERSDRES, Arthur SCHUBRING, Marjorie SHEETS, Sidney H. SMALL, ex '14, Valeria THOMA, C. E. VAN GENT.

The Outstanding Class

Sec'y—N. P. BIART, Madison
652 Knickerbocker St.
Reune June 19-22!

We're alive,
We're alive,
VARSITY, VARSITY
ONE AND FIVE!

ALL MEMBERS OF THE OUTSTANDING CLASS:

On your marks!
Get set!!
GO!

The dash for the only ten year reunion we will ever enjoy is on. There are at least 175 entries to date.

Neither the Kentucky Derby nor Paavo Nurmi in action can offer greater thrills. They are OUTSTANDING, too.

Check your worries. Draw a draft on the Bank of Happiness and it will be honored anywhere June 19, 20, 21 and 22.

Everybody I have talked to is coming.

Neither taps nor reveille will be blown for three days. They even say in Madison that the owls are looking forward to a vacation.

We don't care how you come, but doggoneit, well-come!—Bill Foster.

Come join us at reunion. We'll rejuvenate you. Every part of our program of three days of hilarity will take you back ten years!—Nat. Biart.

We shall sing, dance, and be gay. Of course, you are coming!—Rhoda Owen Otto, Chairman Social Committee.

The Regalia Committee is providing a "dress up" for each and every one of you. The outfits are not only beautiful, but youthful—at least a reduction of ten years! And, if you own a car, don't leave it at home, for we have regalia for it too!—Mary Sayle, Chairman Regalia Committee.

We have picked out one of the most beautiful houses along the shores of old Lake Mendota for headquarters. For details regarding availability of rooms, write me.—Ralph Crowl, Chairman Housing Committee.

Special features? I should say so! Come and see for yourself. It will be worth the trip.—

COME BACK and join in the festivities of Class Day. You will not be disappointed. You have the promise, of many classmates.

Orrin Fried, Chairman Special Features Committee.

We will have a special box for you at the General Alumni Association Ball at Lathrop Hall, trimmed in our class colors of green and white. Here the members of The Outstanding Class can meet between dances.—A. J. Helfrecht, Chairman Alumni Ball Committee.

Yes, our program of stunts at the General Alumni Association dinner will continue to make the Class of 1915 live up to its reputation of being The Outstanding Class.—Ben Bull, Chairman of Alumni Dinner Committee.

THE PROGRAM

Friday, June 19.

Bring your musical instruments.

9:00-11:30 A. M.—Registration—Mrs. McIntyre
Informal reunion of old friendships. Gossip—bridge, poker, swimming, and boating or just "set" and enjoy Mendota.

11:30- 1:00 P. M.—Buffet lunch under the oaks.

1:00 P. M.—Gymkhana or carnival of fun. Bring your golf clubs and swimming suits. Bridge, swimming, putting, and barnyard golf.

4:00 P. M.—Tea on the Terrace.

4:00- 7:00 P. M.—Rest.

7:00 P. M.—Banquet and dance at the Madison Club.

Saturday, June 20

10:00 A. M.—Bus ride and luncheon at Fox's Bluff. The bus will pick up the bunch at 10 o'clock. We will visit all the old places around the campus and drive to Frank's for an early lunch.

1:00 P. M.—Alumni Parade on the upper campus.

6:00 P. M.—Alumni banquet at Gymnasium.

Sunday June 21

Launch ride and picnic.

Pond Sheppon Wu wrote recently to the Wisconsin Engineer as follows: "Since the beginning of the present year I have joined the Government Salt Administration as the chief of the newly created Works Department. My department has to do with construction works in all the districts throughout China. I have made a number of inspection trips in connection with some proposed work and find that we will have a lot to do in the future because, ever since the reorganization of this service in 1915, no attention has been paid to the proper housing of the different works and staffs, nor the improvements of the various properties. We have now a program to spend a million dollars a year for the next five years for such improvements. I am starting a designing division also. Just now I am building a thousand feet of concrete bunding for one of our depots near Tientsin and up to date office buildings in Harbin, Tientsin, and Hankow."

Change of address: Allen NANCE, Route 4, Warren, O.; Dorothy BUNDY, 704 S. State St., Springfield, Ill.; Royal ROBERTS, professor of marketing, Northeastern University, Boston, Mass.; Olive THAUER Edmonds, 1414 Wealthy St., S. E., Grand Rapids, Mich.; Halsey DARROW, Clarendon Hills, P. O. Hinsdale, Ill.; Alfred BOOTH, American Bank Note Co., 118 E. 20th St., Chicago, residence address 624 Garrett Place, Evanston, Ill.; F. W. HODSON, 2728 E. 10th St., Tulsa, Okla.; Verle WILLIAMS, 1924-6th Ave., South Hibbing, Minn.; Richard HUNT, 602 Great Republic Bldg., Los Angeles, Calif.; Edwin HERREID, 1508 Larrabee St., Chicago; C. F. LOWETH, 4556 Woodlawn Ave., Chicago; Carlington STONE, 2815 Mildred Ave., Chicago; Reva BRISTOL, 27 E. Pearl St., Torrington, Conn.; Louise WARNER McRae, Route 2, Kewanee, Ill.; Irma ALEXANDER Bullis, 3244 2nd Ave. S., Minneapolis, Minn.; Evelyn HANSEN Bourret, West Bend, Ia.

New member: Halsey DARROW, Clarendon Hills, P. O. Hinsdale, Ill.

Message from Leo Schoepf at Ladysmith.

Nineteen Fifteen Band Reunion—Madison, June 19.

Director General—Charles Sanderson; Right Hand Man—Elmer Nordness.

Full set of instruments furnished by Frank Holton & Company, Elkhorn, through Bill Arvold.

"Will we be there? Heck Yes." A balanced instrumentation of at least thirty-five pieces. Hot Darn! but there'll be music. Regrets afterwards are bitter medicine. Make those plans now—then follow them.

What'll the program be? Be assured it's a real He-Program. We know the Madison end of Band Reunion is a success. We plan on a concert of the Old Stuff; that'll take us back ten years and set the scene for the Big Time. Charlie Mann will be with us to put over the program. I hope the Major (Saugstad) will be back, too.

Mr. and Mrs. Von Geltch, sure, we want you back; we trust you'll be with us.

On April 22 at Madison we had a meeting of available band men and worked out our plan. Who were present? Harry Marsh, Herb Whipple, Sanderson, Al Nordness, Elb Carpenter, Louie Watzke, Bill Arvold, Chap Chapman, Walter Frautschi, and myself.

Each one of you will be sent a letter. All members of the 1915 Band are expected back. All other band members will be welcome. Shoot back O. K. at once.

We expect at least thirty-five and hope to have sixty-five. We want a balanced instrumentation and we want each man to pucker real lip.

A full set of Holton instruments will be furnished us free. That removes another excuse perhaps. If any of you haven't an instrument now, beg, borrow, or steal a mouth piece some place and get on familiar terms again.

Holton instruments need no introduction. We know there are none better.

Now, will you be back?

Send your answer to Sanderson, 407 Gay Building, Madison.—Leo Schoepf, '15, Ladysmith.

Missing members: Elna ANDERSON, Jeanette BENSON, J. W. BURKE, ex'15, O. L. CUNNINGHAM, Walter H. KNOBEL, Peter H. MILLER, Randolph R. PAYNE, Jack SELLS, Esther SHAPIRO, W. R. SHIRLEY, ex'15, Frances LOOMIS Wallace (Mrs. E. R.), Mildred SCHMIDT Wiggers (Mrs. E. A.), ex'15.

1916

Sec'y—JESSIE BOSSHARD MAURER
Madison, 1119 Sherman Ave.

Change of address: Marion O'NEIL, 366 Fair St., Paterson, N. J.; Marion JENNINGS, 1632 Sheridan

Rd., Evanston, Ill.; Anna STRANG Baxter, 15 Kilbourn Road, Belmont, Mass.; Gail PALMER, 615 Thompson St., Sturgeon Bay; Earl RICKMEIER, 1424 W St., N. W., Apt. 30, Washington, D. C.; Katherine WATTAWA Dalson, Mar-Main Arms, South Bend, Ind.; Wilbur ROADHOUSE, 6026 Winthrop Ave., Chicago; Irene LAPPLEY Maiers, 1163 South Pierce St., Milwaukee; Florence TURNER, 3942 Walnut St., Philadelphia, Pa.; Frank THAYER, American City Bureau, Tribune Tower, 435 North Michigan Ave., Chicago; R. N. FALGE, 1263 E. 143rd St., East Cleveland, O.; A. R. T. LILLIE, 901 Ridgeway Drive, Highland Park, Morton Grove, Ill.; A. W. Howson, 6743 Dorchester Ave., Chicago; Ralph BOHN, 6816 Lakewood Ave., Chicago; H. G. MARSH, 336 Norris Ct., Madison; H. A. DOERINGSFELD, 4409 Second Ave. S., Minneapolis, Minn.

Missing members: Forrest R. BLACK, John BROYLES, Lillian EASTLUND Butler, (Mrs. R. P.). Grant I. BUTTERBAUGH, Jos. Carlson, John N. DUNCAN, Geo. ELDRD, Chas. V. FOWLER, J. R. FRAWLEY, Martin H. HIGGINS, Othmar C. LINK, Alexander MAGNUS, Joseph J. MAUCINI, Verne R. McDUGGLE, Norvin McQUOWN, Norman MELAND, Dr. Margaret WILSON MORTIS, Dr. Hugo MUELLER, A. E. MURPHY, Harry S. MURPHY, Charles NICHOLSON, R. H. PARKER, Harry C. POLLAK, Harold L. RAU, P. C. STREHLOW, Genevieve HITTNER Trace (Mrs. Arthur), Joseph A. WEBER, Caroline WELLS, Henry E. WHITE.

1917

Sec'y—MARGUERITE JENISON, Urbana, Ill.
412 Lincoln Hall

Charles GOLDAMMER recently purchased the Schwartz Hotel at Elkhart Lake, one of the largest summer resorts in the state. He will run it himself.—Leo SCHAEFER is an instructor in Wharton School at the University of Pennsylvania and also in Villa Nova College.—Mead DURBROW is in charge of sales in northern Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, and Iowa for the Fyrc Mfg. Co., makers of the Fyrc Through-the-Windshield Spot-light. He resides at 518 Ellis Ave., Rockford, Ill.—Gordon REESE is engaged in interior decorating in Milwaukee. His address is 356 Prospect Ave.—Almira HENKEL became the proprietor and principal of the Kelly School of Stenography in Milwaukee, on January 1. Miss Henkel has been engaged as stenographer and secretary since her graduation. She may be reached at her school 166 Mason St., Room 3, Milwaukee.—William STERICKER wrote a chapter entitled "Silica and its Derivatives" for a recent book on "Colloidal Behaviour" which was edited by Dr. Robert H. Bogue.

Change of address: Capt. B. L. HARPER, 606 W. 58th St., Seattle, Wash.; Dr. James EVANS, 951 Cass St., La Crosse; Theodora NELSON, 85 Adelaide Ave., New Brunswick, N. J.; Capt. E. L. BURWELL Jr., U. S. M. C., Aide's Office, Marine Barracks, Quantico, Va.; Beatrice TABOR Conrad, Sao Paulo Tramway Light & Power Co., Caixa a, Sao Paulo, Brazil; P. J. BLATCHFORD, 6720 Crandon Ave., Chicago; A. E. ETTER, 13943 Euclid Ave., E. Cleveland, O.; Margaret CHAPMAN, 322 S. Fourth St., Mankato, Minn.; C. L. NORDMEYER, 6633 University Drive, St. Louis, Mo.; H. A. ZISCHKE, State Manager, Union Central Life Insurance Co., 1117 Northwestern Bank Bldg., Portland, Ore.; P. T. NORTON, 1575 Mulford Road, Columbus, O.; J. H. McROBERTS, 955 Adams St., Denver, Colo.; J. Harlen GEISSE, 120 Elder Ave., Lansdowne, Pa.; E. C. ALVORD Jr., 297 Home Office Bldg., Washington, D. C.; Helen ECKERT McCann, 5920 McPherson Ave., St. Louis, Mo.; Genevieve NAGLER Dellinger, 915 Bank of Italy Bldg., Los Angeles, Calif.; Grace FISHER Albert, 421 West St., Baraboo; Vera ALDERSON Fowler, 1535 Camp Ave., Rockford, Ill.; L. A. WATZKE, 2211 Rowley Ave., Madison.

Missing members: Gladys AUSMAN, Walter J. BARR, Countess Alexander Boije Af GENNAS, Lela BROWN, Howard BUCK, Alice CHARLTON, Arthur LANZ, Milo MARGENAU, Clara MOSER, Nora MULLOWNEY, G. M. NAIDL, Grace PEEBLES, Elias POWELL, Ruth ROBERTSON, Wilda SAWYER, Allison SCOTT, Russell SMITH, Ellen GURNEY Tomlinson (Mrs. C. W.), Victor C. TURNER, Helen YOUNKER.

1918

Sec'y—HOWARD HANCOCK, Oshkosh
State Normal

Annie GIDLEY Lowry submits the following tribute to her Alma Mater:

Thy children gather round thy hearth
Whereon Truth lit a mighty blaze—
The bright flags fill them with desire
To lift up torches from that fire
And travel unilluminated ways.

The Reverend B. F. B. Ivins, was recently ordained bishop coadjutor of the Milwaukee diocese of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

DeWitt YATES is mechanical engineer for the American Steam Pump Co., Battle Creek, Mich. He can be reached in care of this company.—George TOWN, 811 E. College Ave., Waukesha, is assistant professor in the chemistry department of the University.—Edward SCHRANK is assistant manager of the Oshkosh Division of the Wisconsin Public Service; his residence is 805 Doty St., Green Bay.—Stanley and John BELDEN are in the automobile business in Racine, having the agency for the Nash and Ajax cars.—H. H. FULLER is assistant engineer for the United Electric Light & Power Co., 56 Cooper Sq., New York City.

Change of address: J. B. HALEY, P. O. Box 291, Ashland, Va.; H. S. LIPSCHUTZ, 2715 Webb Ave., New York City; Ida STARKWEATHER Atchison, R. F. D. 7, Fremont, O.; Lewis SUHR, 1645 Gregory St., Chicago; Verna JOHNSON, No. 36 Altonia Apts., Portland, Ore.; Hazel SANDERS, 134 N. Butler St., Madison; Frances SARLES Mason, 315 N. Water St., Sparta; D. A. COLDWELL, Maplewood, Mo.; Reba HANER Hall, 5493 Cornell Ave., Chicago; Ovid BLIX, 391-43rd St., Milwaukee; Dorothy Ross Pain, 1011 Ash St., Winnetka, Ill.; Margaret FRASER, 334 Penn Road, Wynnewood, Pa.; H. M. GASSER, 7845 San Pedro, Los Angeles, Calif.; John SCHMIDT, 168 Newark Ave., Bloomfield, N. J.; Cecelia LINS Corry, 715 Marshall Ave., South Milwaukee; A. M. ROGERS, 6844 S. Shore Drive, Chicago; Alice BEMIS H'Doubler, 841 Normal St., Springfield, Mo.; Carroll CLARKE, Hansen, Idaho; Margaret CHAMBERLAIN Dickinson, 691 Cramer St., Milwaukee; Ida STARKWEATHER, 1537 Lakeland Ave., Lakewood, O.

Missing members: Dorothy BRINKER, Mary DOHERTY, Laura HAMILTON, John W. HARRIS, Clarence M. HEUBLEIN, Dorothy LOOMIS, Margaret McGUIRE, Herman K. MURPHEY, Leona MURPHY, Ingrid NELSON, Evelyn NICOLLS, Hilda ROJAS, Herbert W. SCHMITZ, Alberita RICHARDS Semrad (Mrs. P. G.), Margaret SENNETT, Tracy R. SHANE, Harold J. SHAPIRO, Eber SIMPSON, Hannah SMYLLIE, Margaret STEVENS, Nelson TAN, Pansy YORK, ex'18, Milton ZELLMER.

1919

[Sec'y—VELMA REID CONNORS, Hurley

Margaret HUTLAN is head dietitian at the Army and Navy Hospital, Hot Springs, Ark.—Eva SCHAIRER, 12 E. Gilman St., Madison, is an instructor in foods at the University. She is planning to attend Columbia University next year.

Change of address: Alice MOORE, 1804 E. 100th St., Cleveland, O.; Irma MAROHN, 130 Prospect Ave., Milwaukee; E. F. FREYMILLER, Frederick; Thomas BAINBRIDGE, 1425 E. 65th Pl., Chicago; Louisa PARKER Butler, St. Michael, Alaska.

New member: Earl MYLECRRAINE, 1333 Olive St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Missing members: Ethel VASEY Albright (Mrs. L.), Virginia TENER Butterfield (Mrs. James), Margery CARLSON, W. J. CAUWENBERG, H. R. CHIPMAN, Charles E. DECKER, Dorothy GRACE, Alfred F. HAUBRICH, Frances HAY, Grace HUTCHINSON, Julia JOHNSON, Marion LAMONT Lingenfelter (Mrs. J. S.), K. T. LIU, Mary LOWELL, Lucille LOWREY, Sigrid MOE, Eleanor O'LAUGHLIN, Gretchen DUNAWAY Payne (Mrs. H. D.), C. J. PELLOW, Frederic PROBST, Leota CAMPBELL Sullivan (Mrs. F. A.), Andrew T. THORSEN, John F. TILLEMANN, Dr. Anna WHELAN.

1920

Sec'y—PHYLLIS B. HAMILTON, Detroit
4922 Linsdale

Reune June 19-22!

Peace and Plenty, Peace and Plenty,
Varsity, Varsity, Nineteen Twenty!

Classmates, June 19, is almost upon us. Are you all set? All right, let's go!

The 1920 Reunion plans are well under way, and you'll find a warm reception awaiting you in Madison when you come back. We have secured the beautiful and spacious College Club at 12 E. Gilman St. for 1920 Headquarters, and if you've grown too feeble to walk, there is a bus line running within a block of the Club.

Reunion committees are as follows: GENERAL CHAIRMAN, Dorothy Belle Wood; PUBLICITY, Phyllis Hamilton; FINANCE, Harlow Pease; STUNTS, Red Perkins, chairman, Bonnie Hawthorne, Vincent O'Shea.

COME BACK to the Pipe of Peace ceremonial. In the firelight the venerable pipe will be handed to new keepers.

LOCAL REPRESENTATIVES, Loring Hammond, Milwaukee, Leonard Erikson, Lawrence Meyer, Florence HANNA Tuttle, Marjorie Bartholf, Chicago, Carol COATES Coleman, Minneapolis, Eleanor GAIK Green, Detroit, Katherine STACKHOUSE Sidwell, Indianapolis, Christina McLay, Janesville.

CHEER LEADER, Larry Hall, SONG LEADER, Doris Simmonson, REGALIA, Adelin BRIGGS Hohlfeld, Helen Ulrich.

The commencement and 1920 Reunion program will consist of these events:

Thursday, June 18.

7:00-9:00 P. M.—1920 class registration at headquarters, College Club.

8:00 P. M.—Class Play.

Friday, June 19, Class Day

9:00-12:00 M.—1920 class registration at headquarters.

1:00 P. M.—Luncheon of 1920 alumni.

2:30 P. M.—Boat ride, song practise, 1920 alumni.

4:30 P. M.—Class Day Exercises.

8:00-11:00 P. M.—1920 class lawn party (dancing, bridge, 'n everything) College Club.

11:00 P. M.—Pipe of Peace Ceremony, lower campus.

Saturday, June 20, Alumni Day

10:00 A. M.—Glee Club Quartet—Music Hall.

11:00 A. M.—1920 class business meeting—Lathrop Hall.

12:00 M.—Senior-Alumni luncheon—cafeteria style—Lathrop Hall

1:00 P. M.—Parade by classes—upper campus.

2:00 P. M.—Wisconsin-Chicago baseball game—lower campus.

3:30 P. M.—Concert by University Band—President's Lawn.

5:30 P. M.—Classes form at Music Hall for Senior-Alumni dinner.

6:00 P. M.—Dinner, reception, and ball for Alumni, seniors, faculty and regents. Admission by ticket which should be reserved immediately by writing to Alumni Headquarters 821 State St., Madison.

Sunday, June 21, Baccalaureate Day

9:00 A. M.—1920 Class Breakfast.

4:00 P. M.—Baccalaureate Exercises—Men's Gym.

Monday, June 22, Commencement Day

A FEW REUNION HINTS

We need class songs and yells! Make up one! Bring a white dress or your ice cream pants. Write for hotel reservations TODAY; there are two new hotels in Madison, the Loraine and the Belmont.

Send your $3 to Phyllis Hamilton P. D. Q.

Read the back cover of the May ALUMNI Magazine, and save money!

Write to your old pals and urge them to come back; talk up the reunion everywhere.

Here are the names of some who expect to return:

A few of those who have announced their intention of returning for the 1920 reunion are Elizabeth Anderson, Merville Hobbs, and Ruth Sayre from Chicago. Marj Bartholf will leave her nursing job long enough to spend the week-end in large fashion. With her from Evanston will come Helen PERKINS Cutler. Milwaukee will be well represented—Chuck Carpenter, Amy JOBSE Hahn, Mildred Winnie Thwaits, Drit Haessler, Isabelle Hill and our worthy treasurer, Harlow, I hear, have announced their intention to shake off old age by being in Madison on June 19, 20, 21. If you can scrape a few more 1920'ers together from Milwaukee or vicinity, you can hire a special train you know.

Gert NOETZEL Christopherson is coming all the way from New Jersey. That's the long distance record for you. Sounds interesting, doesn't it? Dack Conover will pry herself loose from her work long enough to hold forth on that week-end. Old commerce grads who have given their bond to return are Leroy Edwards, Jimmie Lindsey, Mary FOWLER Rennebohm, Charles White. Here are some more progressive folk who believe in doing things right—Lois COTTRELL Fiddick, Anna-Laura Gebhardt, Edna Jones, Earle Kidder (we're assured of one doctor anyhow; you see how well organized everything is—provision has even been made for accidents, etc.), Zella Loomer, Garnet KLEVEN Lowe, Bertha Lund, Dick Marshall, Mirbelle Netherwood, Eighmy-bell Osborn, Jessie MEGEATH Rogers, Marion Roth, Lola WHITE Trexell, Mabel Vernon, Mae SCHERNECKER Wachs. Freddie Bickel says he'll be there—God willing. So am I, Freddie, so am I!

I have heard distant rumors that two Mortarboarders from the East will attend—Betty BEAL Flagg and Doris Simmonson. Madison is contributing 'em in pairs—Hod and Marg Pinther, Ruth and Howard King. Don Harrison says he'll try to attend—hope he tries hard. Phyl Hamilton says she'll come if her money holds out; "it looks doubtful at the present moment." And of course Dorothy Belle Wood has to be there for she's chairman of the whole works.

1920 as usual leads: We publish for the first time a list of those poor unfortunates who cannot answer the roll-call in June. By rights this paragraph ought to be heavily scored in black, or whatever you do to 'em, but as it is, black ink alone will have to do, together with heavy hearts that they can't be with us. Marj Allen, Melcena BRADLEY Bennett, Lloyd Bergset, Bill Brandon, Larry Chapman, Herb Cramer, Bob Gilman, Dorothy KRUEGER Hiecke, Charles Kimball, John Owens, Mannie Parsley, Sarah Proctor, Ralph Stiles, and Edith SHEA Tucker cannot come. We sympathize with them. Let this be a lesson to other loyal 1920'ers to hurry forth a letter today to Phyllis Hamilton, 4922 Linsdale, Detroit, Mich., telling of their joy at being able to return and enclosing a check for shekels.

Herbert LINDEMAN is with the A. P. Green Fire Brick Co., Mexico, Mo. He may be reached in care of the Hoxsey Hotel.—Clyde FARRELL is in the history department of the University of North Dakota, Grand Forks, N. Dak.—James MILLER, 222 Liberty St., Berlin, Wis., is manager of the Fuller Goodman Lumber Co.—Grace McLAY is general secretary of the Y. W. C. A. of Mitchell, S. Dak., address, 205 E. Fourth Ave.—Robert IRVINE is a physician and surgeon in Manawa, with offices in the First National Bank Bldg.—Gertrude NOETZEL Christopherson may be reached at her former address, 427 Barney St., Waukesha.

Change of address: Mary GREGORY Treleaven, 314 S. Maple Ave., Oak Park, Ill.; Esther STACY Wright, Salix, Ia.; Ruth JORNDT, 5798 Kingsbury, St. Louis, Mo.; Elizabeth VENNUS, Gen. Del., LaJolla, Calif.; Robert SHORT, 214 W. Franklin St., Elkhart, Ind.; temporary address, Banning, Calif.; Marian KIMBALL Wheelock, 505 E. California St., Urbana, Ill.; L. F. ERIKSON, 936 Argyle St., Chicago; Dorothy BRIDGE, 218 E. Huron St., Chicago; Mary JOHNSTONE, 312 N. Harvey Ave., Oak Park Ill.; William BRANDON, 239 6th Ave., N., S. St. Paul, Minn.; Charles CARPENTER, 581 Prospect Ave., Milwaukee; Leroy EDWARDS, 2691 Boston Blvd., Detroit, Mich.; Dorothy KRUEGER Hiecke, 555 O'Farrell St., San Francisco, Calif.; Catharine CLEVELAND, room 716 Little Bldg., Boston, Mass., summer address, St. Anthony, Newfoundland; Orville RADKE, 521½ Ring St., Milwaukee.

New members: Garnet KLEVEN Lowe, 107 S. 4th St., Mt. Horeb; Ralph STILES, c/o Washburn-Crosby Co., Minneapolis, Minn.

Missing members: Emma DERNEHL, James R. DONOVAN, Joseph N. GLASER, Edith HOPPIN, Marian BERGSON Jacobson (Mrs. W.), H. B. KILLOUGH, F. P. LING, W. F. LIVINGSTON, John R. McCORRY, Margaret MORAN, Lila OLSON, Carol MUNRO Sheldon (Mrs. P. B.), Lucy WOOLERY.

1921

Sec'y—MARY PARKINSON, Milwaukee
54 Prospect Ave.

David SMITH is a salesman in the display advertising department in the Dallas Morning News, Dallas, Tex.—Genevieve MORGAN, 17 Holmesdale Ct., Covington, Ky., is principal of the Week-Day Schools of Religion in that city.—Horace CARVER, 337 W. Madison St., Chicago, is advertising manager of the Bear Brand Hosiery Co.—Milton SHOEMAKER is with the DuPont Fiber Silk Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For the past two years he has been engaged in research work on artificial silk. His address is 40 Rosedale Ave., Buffalo.

Change of address: K. E. CRISTY, R. F. D. 1, Ringwood, Ill.; Helen WEST MORRISON, 911 Washington St., Evanston, Ill.; Marie MCKITRICK, 1901 West Lawn Ave., Madison; D. H. MEEK, 7118 Constance Ave., Chicago; Vincent O'SHEA, 141 E. 44th St., New York City; Gladys KNIGHT Howell, 606 Woodside Ave., Essexville, Mich.; Dewey NELSON, 908 Wisconsin Ave., Oak Park, Ill.; Clyde NASH, 1770 Page Ave., East Cleveland, O.; F. E. SMITH, Pettibone Mulliken Co., 725, 140 S. Dearborn St., Chicago; Edna HUFFMAN, 1917 Winnebago St., Madison; Carroll WHALEY, 2626 Ballou St., Chicago; Catherine WOODMAN Gates, Rockville, Md.; Lucy PUEHLER, Utuado, Porto Rico; Esther ROBERTS, 677 S. West Lake St., Los Angeles, Calif.; Arthur FOSS, 1072 Thorndale Ave., Chicago; Thelma OTTESON Allen, 403 N. Murray St., Madison; A. M. LEHR, 1305 S. Main St., Tulsa, Okla.; V. A. TIEDJENS, 17 Lawndale Ave., Waltham, Mass.; Eloise GERRY, 341 Hawley Terrace, Yonkers, N. Y.; Ruth RUGGLES Alt, Hurley; N. J. SCHAAL, 6303 17th N. E., Seattle, Wash.; A. A. WOLF, Jefferson; Marie BODDEN, 1216 Astor St., Chicago; Dorothy REAM Wilson, 1029 Mound St., Madison; G. H. HEAD, c/o Y. M. C. A., Racine; Katherine FORWARD Finnegan, 6528 Kimbark Ave., Chicago; Katherine WINCKLER, 5652 Stony Island Ave., Chicago; Selma ALBRECHT, 1509 Adams St., Madison; M. E. FIELD, Security State Bank Bldg., Madison.

Missing members: Kathleen WAITE Barrett (Mrs. E. A.), E. F. BESPALOW, Russel P. BLOWNEY, Frances RYAN Cody (Mrs. E. M.), J. Leslie CURTIN, Gladys HADLEY, Prof. O. E. HERTZBERG, Earl J. HESEMAN, Hobart V. HODGE, ex'21, Lucille HUBBARD, Alfred IHLAN, Clarence KRAUSE, Dorothy JONES Krohn (Mrs. Victor), Henriette LIEBE, Mary MARTINEAU, Anita MEYER, Lillian MOREHOUSE, Herbert J. MUTH, Josephine PASSMORE, Josephine PATCHEN, Charlotte PEABODY, HASSO PESTALOZZI, Emory PETERSON, Clarence RAMSETT, Jack RUBENSTYNE, Anita SHERBURNE, ex'21, Myrtle WHITE, Arthur WILLIAMS.

1922

Sec'y—NORMA KIECKHEFER GODFREY
Wauwatosa, 284 First Ave.

Cecilia HOWE, 1114 2nd Ave., W., Ashland, is a teacher of history in the Ashland High School.—Lenette May ROGERS is one of the six American students who have received awards of graduate fellowships for study in Belgium during the college year 1925-26. The six have selected the Universities of Brussels, Ghent, Liege, and Louvain under the auspices of the Commission for Relief in Belgium Educational Foundation of the United States. Miss Rogers was formerly an assistant in botany at the University after receiving a M. A. degree there.—H. G. AFLECK is now a second lieutenant of infantry in the United States army, stationed at Denver, Colo.—Leon CHASE has resigned from the engineering staff of the city of LaCrosse and is resident engineer for Taylor and Woltman, consulting engineers at Bloomington, Ill.—E. M. BARNES, 715 Main St., Wheeling, W. Va., and G. R. SCHNEIDER are with Engstrom & Co., general building contractors, in Wheeling.—R. P. BETHKE is development engineer with the Western Electric Co., Chicago. His residence address is 142 N. Lorel Ave.—N. N. SCHOMISCH, 169 Main St., Oshkosh, is with Lamb, Graham & Co., certified public accountants, Oshkosh.—Rollin HICKEY is an auditor with F. W. Lafrenty & Co., 140 S. Dearborn St., Chicago.—Elmer WOELFFER has been appointed show herd manager at the Grangeville Guernsey Farm, Grangeville, Idaho.

Change of address: Theodore CARLSON, R. 6, Box 23, Oshkosh; Sherwood BUCKSTAFF, c/o Roxana Petroleum Corp., Wichita Falls, Tex.; Jessie STEVENS, Westwood, Mass.; E. L. COX, 137 N. Franklin St., Madison; T. A. LEDIN, 2530 Argyle St., Chicago; Fern FOXON Patten, 115 S. Main St., Oxford, O.; Foster STRONG, 2427 Haste St., Berkeley Calif.; Margaret RAMSEY, 834 Island Ave., Milwaukee, after June, 7641 Eastlake Terr., Chicago; Mary SMILEY, 515 Grove St., Rockford, Ill.; Abraham KAUFMAN, 1930 Grand Concourse, New York City; W. F. CARBERRY, 353 S. Reno St., Los Angeles, Calif.; Dorothy PFLEUGNER, 2810 Cedar St., Milwaukee; Ben SWEET, 516 S. Orchard St., Madison; Alice OAKES, 1053 E. South Temple St., Salt Lake City, Utah; H. V. FOSHION, Algoma; C. B. CHRISTIANSON, Central City, Ky.; M. K. DREWRY, 367½ Beulah Ave., Milwaukee; Margaret WALKER Parham, 321 G St., San Mateo, Calif.; Jessie STEVENS Medley, R. F. D. Oakland, Ore.; Lincoln SOLLITT, 704 Middlebury St., Elkhart, Ind.; Dexter BROWN, 2319 Tribune Tower, Chicago; Dorothea BIRDSSELL, Wayzata, Minn.; J. G. DICKINSON, 691 Cramer St., Milwaukee; Reba HAYDEN Stone, 21 Fountain Pl., New Rochelle, N. Y.; Auta LYMAN, 1236 Lincoln Way E., South Bend, Ind.

Missing members: Dorothy ALLEN, Louise ALLYN, Mervyn BRAUN, Samuel T. FONG, Margaret GORLEY, Cheng-Chin HSIUNG, Victor E. KROHN, Anita KUEHN, Mary McDOWELL, Omar P. MILLER, Gertrude MORRIS, Theresa BAUGHMAN Ricketts (Mrs. H. W.), Edwin E. SMITH, ex'22, Alice SPENSLEY, Helen UHL, Gertrude WICKENDEN, Adolph YOUNGBERG.

1923

Sec'y—ISABEL CAPPS, California
Box 1003 Stanford University.

Gustav TEBELL has been appointed head football coach at North Carolina State College. He will continue to handle the varsity basketball team and will also COME BACK and see your mates. Distant places know them. Where else can you go to see so many at one time? Meet them face to face. They will be awaiting you—at Madison—in June.

carry his share of the instruction in the general program of physical training for all students.—Robert BOHMAN in engaged in the real estate business with Baird & Warner, 134 S. La Salle St., Chicago. His residence address is 6916 Dante Ave.—Reeve STROCK has been placed in charge of the construction of radio station WHI, Chicago. Strock has been very active in radio work; he is credited with the development of a condenser microphone transmitter now in use by the General Electric Co.—J. P. LEE has bought the drug store in Menomonie in which he has been associated for the past year. The transfer will take place June 1.—Haskell COATES is American Vice Consul in Australia. He may be reached through American Consulate General, Melbourne, Australia.—Helene FOSTER writes: "I am sailing for Brussels on the George Washington June 10 with the International Chamber of Commerce party, to attend the conference of that organization, and, incidentally to do some writing in connection with the meetings. After the conference I expect to travel for a couple of months before returning home."—D. B. BELL is a student at Rush Medical College, Chicago, address 1537 Juneway Terr.—Wallace ELSLIE, 308 N. Orchard St., Madison, is doing graduate work at the University.—Fred ROFOLLO is an income tax auditor for the Wisconsin Tax Commission. He may be reached in care of H. F. Edmonds, Assessor of Incomes, Racine.—Charles HUGHES, 621 Pioneer Bldg., St. Paul, Minn., is correspondent for Halsey Stuart & Co.

Change of address: F. C. CHRISTOPHERSON, 448 Washington Ave., Madison; E. A. ABRAMOFKY, 3927 Cherry St., Milwaukee; Harvey BURTHE, 29 E. Main St., Madison; Viola WHITE, HIXTON; J. A. POTTS, 296 16th St., Milwaukee; Kenneth LAMB, 2220 Cherry St., Milwaukee; Harry McMURRY, 423 N. Butler St., Madison; R. A. ROBERTS, 319 Broad St., Philadelphia; F. A. VETTER, 836 Leland Ave., Edgewater Sta., Chicago; J. L. BRADER, 46 Breese Terr., Madison; Pearl ANDERBERG, 1108 S. 4th Ave., Sioux Falls, S. D.; H. J. DVORAK, 4420 Chestnut St., Philadelphia; Julia GALE DAVIS, 480 N. Baldwin St., Madison; F. D. CARDINAL, 920 W. B St., Iron Mt., Mich.; Dorothy VANHOLTEN, 182 Portland Ave., Wauwatosa; Cecil DULL, Evanston Hospital Assn., Evanston, Ill.; S. A. McCORMICK, 126 Humboldt Pkwy., Buffalo, N. Y.; Ruth FULLER, 1621 Columbia Ave., Chicago; C. A. ANDREW, 209 W. Gilman St., Madison; J. L. PETERSON, 1025 8th St., Beloit; R. G. MARQUEZ, Malaujas, Philippine Islands; Merle VANHORN MacLaren, 2536 Milan, New Orleans, La.; Dorothy DOPP Tiedjens, 17 Lawndale Ave., Waltham, Mass.; Dorothy BOELBY Connor, 311 W. St., Waynesburg, Pa.; Althea BETZER Drewry, 367½ Beulah Ave., Milwaukee; Helen SWENSEN, 494 Cass St., Milwaukee; Frances Thompson, 732 Allen St., Syracuse, N. Y.; Norma CARL, 2260 Grand Ave., Cedar Rapids, Ia.; Charlotte BREMER, 1718 Miller Ave., Madison.

Missing members: Joseph P. BURKE, Mary E. CHASE, Helen CLARK, Elbert D. DISSMORE, Lala DIXON, Myron A. GIBBON, Pearl HAGENS, George B. HENRY, Otto B. HERBENER, Eugene C. HOTALING, Edward W. JOHNSON, Lloyd S. KAPPERS, Wilber G. KATZ, Doris KOENEMAN, Claude MEARS, Martha NICOLAI, Annieta SCHROEDER Noran (Mrs. John), Walter R. PALECHECK, Robert B. POWELL, Harold C. SMITH, Hubert F. TOWNSEND, Shores A. WALKER, Douglas J. WEBB, Clarence W. WEBER, Agnes WILSON.

1924

Sec'y—ESTHER BILSTAD, Cambridge

"WE REUNE EVERY YEAR"

Preparations are being made by your class officers at Madison to have a program provided for all members of the class of '24 who return to Madison this commencement. A central headquarters will be established, there will be a place for you to register, and at least one big class get-together picnic will be held. Aside from that there will be big things doing at Commencement this year for everyone in every class. Needless to say, "Watch '24" will once more startle the campus, and for those not in our class there will be something worth watching.

Hop on a train and come back to Madison again for a few days. We Madisonites want to see you, and there are plenty of others scattered the country over who would like to meet you once more—WALTER FRAUTSCHI, President, Class of 1924.

Eleanore BRAINARD and Ethel SMITH are physiotherapists in the Children's Hospital, Farmington, Mich.—Carol WALKER is teaching in the high school at Fennimore.—Hendrick GREGG is junior engineer for Henry L. Doherty Co. of New York. His work is in Denver, Colo., where he resides at 1238 Race St.—Milton BREIVOGEL, 499 Belleview Pl., Milwaukee, is assistant engineer on the Board of Public Land Commissioners.—Harold FRY is in the service department of the Good-year Tire and Rubber Co., Des Moines, Ia., address, 1022-24 W. Locust St.—Janice BOARDMAN, 324 Madeline Dr., Pasadena, Calif., is teaching physical education in the Westridge School.—Faith URBAN, 1206 5th St., Wausau, is teaching French in the Wausau High School.—Ernesto AZCON is sampler for the Elm Orlu Mine, Butte, Mont. He is staying at the Y. M. C. A.—Alethea SMITH is instructor of public speaking and assistant director of dramatics at the University of Minnesota, address, 906 Fifth St., S. E.—Lyn Ching HUANG is doing graduate work at Cornell University. His address is 126 Linden Ave., Ithaca, N. Y.—Herbert DENIG is district salesman for the Standard Oil Co. in Sibley, Ia.—Adolph THORSEN, 245 Prospect Ave., Milwaukee, is bond salesman for Halsey Stuart & Co.—G. V. VAUGHAN, 108 Langdon St., Madison, is a staff writer for the Associated Press.

REPORT OF THE TREASURER

The Class of 1924 entered its final year with a debt of $342.00 charged against it as a result of damages done during the freshman year. Of the total, $28.50 was a charge made by the University, and $313.50 was made by the City of Madison for damages done to fire hose on that memorable Cap Night. The first debt was discharged completely, and we were able to have the latter one greatly reduced. By getting the Class of 1923 to bear their share of it, we were able to clear ourselves with a payment of $90.00. A list of receipts and expenditures follows.

Receipts

Balance turned over by Ed Rhorbeck, the preceding Class Treasurer.....	$	57
Borrowed from the Wisconsin Union, March 31.....		20.00
April 3.....		250.00
Proceeds from the Senior Stag Banquet ticket sales March 25.....		127.30
Net income from the Senior Class Dance, May 24.....		158.95
Net income from Senior Class Play.....		99.00
Senior Dues
782 dues at $5.00 each.....		3910.00
4 dues at $2.00 each (alumni dues only) ..		8.00
1 class dues only.....		3.00
Bad checks redeposited.....		18.50
Interest on savings to May 1, 1925.....		26.07
Total.....	$4,621.39

Expenditures

For Senior Stag Banquet
Luther Memorial Church.....	$	255.00
Postage.....		18.59
Phil Franzen, Sign Painting.....		21.50

Daily Cardinal, Advertising.....	$6.00
Democrat Printing Co., Printing.....	10.00
H. C. Netherwood Printing Co.....	1.20
Wisconsin Union, Loans of Mar. 21st and April 3.....	270.00
Democrat Printing Co.
Invoices No. 4209 and No. 4265.....	9.50
Invoice No. 4148.....	20.75
Invoice No. 4237.....	92.22
Invoice No. 4637.....	15.34
Invoice No. 4748.....	10.89
H. C. Netherwood Printing Co.
Stationery.....	2.50
Stamp and Pad.....	2.35
Daily Cardinal, cuts for Class Day program.	10.00
Straus Printing Co., Class Day Programs.....	13.50
Brewington Typewriter Co., typing for Class Day.....	1.00
Hook Bros., Piano for Class Day Exercises..	10.00
Eliot Sharp, Royalty on Senior Class Play..	25.00
Mary Ridings, typing for Senior Sing.....	1.50
Cash drawn for Stationery and Postage.....	27.94
Wilbur Wittenburg, Pipe of Peace Ceremony	9.03
G. L. Gilbert, Arranging Campus for Pipe of Peace Ceremony.....	11.40
City of Madison, Damages for hose destroyed on Cap Night.....	90.00
Cost of Bond for Class Treasurer.....	2.50
Alumni Association for 786 Membership dues.....	1572.00
State Treasurer for Chimes Fund.....	1630.00
Reunion Fund, four 6½% bonds at $100....	400.00
Interest accumulated on above bonds to date of purchase.....	7.08
One year's rental of a Safety Deposit box for above bonds.....	1.50
Refund for overpaid dues.....	5.00
Loss on bad checks (all were redeposited)...	18.50
Deposited in Savings Account, May 1, 1925..	26.07
Balance in checking account, May 1, 1925..	23.53
Total.....	$4621.39
Signed G. H. Finkle,
Treasurer of Class of 1924.

The present address of the treasurer is GEORGE FINKLE, 603 Pierce Street, Berlin. Any members of the class who have not yet paid their class obligations can address him there. The amount is five dollars, of which two dollars is for membership in the Alumni Association and three dollars is for the Chimes Fund Class Memorial and for the establishment of a reunion fund.

Bertha ELBEL Rupp is society editor of the Capital Times of Madison. Her address is 444 Hawthorne Ct., Apt. 304.—Harold MAIER is a reporter on the Sheboygan Press.—John CLOSS is research assistant in chemistry at the University, address, 131 Langdon St.—Mabel DUTHEY is a chemist with the C. F. Burgess Laboratories, address, 201 N. Pinckney St., Madison.—Harold HARTWIG is a lawyer with the firm Weissenbach, H. C. & Okin, 7 S. Dearborn St., Chicago. His residence address is 4555 Ellis Ave., Chicago.—Floyd JOHNSON, 7936 Susquehanna St., Pittsburg, is electrical engineer for the Westinghouse Elec. & Mfg. Co., E. Pittsburg, Pa.—Frederick JOHNSON, 6348 Magnolia Ave., is in the bond business with the Ill. Merchants Trust Co., 231 S. LaSalle St., Chicago.—Oswald KELLER represents the International Correspondence School of Scranton, Pa., in Manitowoc. His address is P. O. Box 12, Manitowoc.—Guy PETERSON, 2218 Chadbourne Ave., Madison, is a free lance writer.—Mary Jane LUCAS is in the Industrial Loan Dept., Union Bank Bldg., of Chicago, 25 N. Dearborn St. Her residence address is 542 S. Washington St., Park Ridge, Ill.—Donald MacGREGOR is an instructor of physics in the American University, Beirut, Syria.

Mail will reach him in care of the American university.—Guenther MEYLAND, 118 E. Arch St., Marquette, Mich., is an instructor in English in the Northern State Normal.—Mary Louise MULHALL, 1900 Katherine St., Sioux City, Ia., is manager and part owner of The Marilyn Tea Shop of that city.—Roy PHILLIPS is an instructor in Spanish in the University. He is staying at the University Club.—John WELLS is an engineer for the Iowa Light, Heat & Power Co., Carroll, Ia.—Pearl WHEELER, 306 Midway Apts., Rockford, Ill., is auditorium instructor in the Kishwaukee School.—Clement TROUT is associate analyst in the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, U. S. D. A., Washington, D. C.—Milo SMITH, 7035 Jeffery Ave., Chicago, is assistant advertising manager of the Chicago Bridge & Iron Works, 37 W. Van Buren St.—Herbert SMITH is with the Wisconsin Telephone & Telegraph Co., Milwaukee, address, 143 28th St.—Clinton SKIFSTAD is superintendent of schools, Custer, Mich.—Arthur ROBERTS is accountant with the Wisconsin Telephone and Telegraph Co., Milwaukee. His address is 837 S. Pierce St.—Paul NICHOL, 227 N. 17th St., Kansas City, Kans., is with Proctor & Gamble Mfg. Co., of that city.—Helen ROCK is a teacher of English and physical education in the Watertown High School. She is living at 313 Ninth St.—Maurine HALL is an instructor in physical education at the Washington State Normal School, Ellensburg, Wash., address Box 465 Washington State Normal School.—Cornelius ROSS is bond salesman for the Illinois Merchants Trust Co., Chicago.—Arline PAGE has resigned her position in the Educational Department of the Boston Store of Milwaukee and is now business manager and secretary of the Milwaukee County League of Women Voters.—Stanley HETLAND is assistant sales manager of the Amity Leather Co., West Bend.—Ray BAXANDALL is with the Dean W. Geer Co., of Oshkosh, an advertising agency serving the manufacturers an retailers of the Fox River Valley.

Change of address: Dorothy JOHNSON, 2315 Grand Ave., Milwaukee; Talcott PERSIS Beckwith, 231 W. Hamilton Ave., Flint, Mich.; Edith LYONS, 20 Champion Ave., Fond du Lac; L. G. HASTINGS, 483 West End Ave., New York City; E. E. OLSON, 379 E. Oklahoma Ave., Milwaukee; Irene MORSE, 844 E. College Ave., Appleton; Ruth STOKER, Nurses' Home, John Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, Md.; Joe WILKINSON, 418 Stinson Blvd., Minneapolis, Minn.; Edith SCHOENBERG, 5923 Clemens Ave., St. Louis, Mo.; Thomas RISK, 218 N. Murray St., Madison; Charles EISEMAN, 5482 University Ave., Chicago; Ray DAVIS, Box 125, Rexburg, Idaho; James WATSON, 130 S. Maple Ave., Webster Groves, Mo.; Rose DROUGHT, 1203 W. Illinois St., Urbana, Ill.; J. D. BLOSSOM, 342 Cloverdale Ave., Akron, O.; D. J. GREILING, c/o Gen. Ref. Co., The Arcade, Cleveland, O.; Sylvia ROSENBERG Scheinfeld, 755 Bartlett Ave., Milwaukee; Catherine BOYD, Sturgeon Bay; Dorothy SIMPSON, 613 Howard Pl., Madison; Evelyn SMITH, 237 Lake Lawn Pl., Madison; P. R. ENRIGHT, Wis. Tel. Co., Madison; W. B. BATES Jr., Stephenson, Miss.

Missing members: Marjorie BETZ, Charles R. BURNHAM, Leita DAVY, Harvey T. ELLINGSON, ex '24 Kathryn GURLEY, Lane HILDRETH, Clara HOENING, Toshi HOSOYA, ex '24, Ruth JACOBS, Garnett L. JOHNSON, Raymond F. KORFMACHER, Sarah LAMB, Charles MOHR, Myrl SUMMERS, Eugene WILLIAMS, Adelbert YOUNG.

CONKLIN & SONS COMPANY (Established 1854)
Coal, Wood, Mendota Lake Ice, Cement,
Stucco, White Lime, Hair and Sewer Pipe.
MAIN OFFICES: 24 E. MIFFLIN ST. MADISON

THE EDUCATION OF GIFTED CHILDREN

By DR. V. A. C. HENMON

SCIENCE has made it perfectly evident that heredity plays a great role in determining mental make-up. The resemblances between related individuals in mental traits, as unmistakable as physical traits, the inevitable tendency of superior gifts, as well as mental deficiency, to go with the blood, the failure of environmental influences to accomplish the changes ordinarily ascribed to it, the markedly unequal effects of equal practice and opportunity on different individuals, all point to the fact that capacity in an individual is determined more by the germ cells from which he springs than by the education he receives. This does not mean that education is unimportant. The man of parts may be born, but he must be discovered and given an opportunity. The ordinary conception of human equality, defended on the ground of its democracy, is really undemocratic, since it does not give equal opportunity for the use of inborn capacities. Equality of opportunity is the only equality that is worth anything. It does mean that talent must be found and cannot be created by anything we do. Some educational theorists insist that a teacher must be imbued with a strong faith in the power of education. Thus Bagley finds that the writings of the "environmental" school are replete with inspiration and "firmly believes that a strong faith in their doctrines is essential to enthusiastic service in the cause of education." It seems to me the height of folly thus to blind ourselves to facts. Education becomes not less interesting and important, but much more so, if the teacher's function is more that of a diagnostician and director than a trainer.

If mental ability is normally distributed then we should expect as many very superior children in our schools as very inferior. As a matter of fact, whenever we apply tests of mental ability we do find a close approximation to the normal distribution, even though none of the tests available are as adequate to differentiate abilities above the average as those below. This means as much differentiation above the average as below and that for every special class child below the average there is a special class child above the average, whose special education would not be merely a burden society must carry, but an enormously profitable investment. The approximate constancy of intelligence quotients has been pretty definitely shown and this means the possibility of long range predictions of future performance and makes possible fairly accurate selections of the gifted early in their careers. The best evidence we have now goes to show that the intelligence quotients lying between 90 and 110 tend to remain constant, while those below 90 tend, on the average, to decrease while those above 110 tend, on the average, to increase. In the practical handling of exceptional children this is a fact of no little importance.

If we grant that children of superior ability and promise should be given the fullest opportunity for development, and I think there is no more important problem in American education, then two questions arise. How shall they be selected? and What shall be done with them or for them after they are selected?

Those who have wrestled with the problem at all are beginning to realize that the selection of the gifted is a pretty complex affair. The National Society Committee on Education of Gifted Children found themselves in such disagreement as to methods of selection and education after selection that their report is limited to "the presentation of individual and independent convictions." The four main methods of selection actually used, where special classes are provided, are intelligence examinations, teachers' judgments, school marks, and standard educational tests or some combination of these. The chief criterion to date is the teachers' judgments of superiority. But the teacher's judgment is likely to be determined by quality of school work already performed or preparation for work immediately following. What is needed is a measure of what a pupil can do, not of what he has done. The type of examination required is one that will test a pupil's power to do the work which lies ahead of him rather than a test of acquisition of what lies behind him. This is just what an intelligence test does give or is supposed to give. Which is the more reliable index? The evidence goes to show that as many superior children are likely to be overlooked, on the one hand, as are included, and, on the other hand, a great many children of average or below average intelligence are included when the teacher's judgment alone is the basis for selection. Whipple found that when teachers were asked to select the upper fifth of their grades, which would mean in terms of intelligence quotients those ranged from 110 I. Q. up, they actually selected a group one-third of which were below 110 I. Q. The subsequent follow-up for a year showed very clearly the greater reliability of the test ratings.

Of nine pupils who would not have been admitted to the special group by the mental tests, but were included by the teachers' judgment one passed, one was absent, and seven failed to do two years' work in one, while of twenty-three pupils who were admitted to the group by mental tests, but not by the teachers' judgment, sixteen passed, two were absent, two were failed, doubtless with right, while three were wrongly failed. This should not be taken to mean that teachers' judgments should be eliminated as unreliable, but need to be supplemented by other tests. Horn argues vigorously that selection of the gifted and curricular adjustments should be made on a basis of school accomplishment rather than on a basis of intelligence scores. He maintains that "The American public is convinced of the sound policy of rewarding achievement rather than native endowment or superior opportunity. It admits that the man or woman of superior talent or opportunity can achieve in a superior way, but it insists that no credit is due or no further opportunity deserved until the achievement has actually been made. It especially exalts those who succeed in the face of what seems to be impossible barriers of poor physical endowment, inferior mental resources, or untoward circumstance." Horn goes on to say "The public may be counted upon to support any plan which gives additional opportunity to those who show through accomplishment that they deserve and will profit from it. They cannot be counted upon to support a plan which will extend these special opportunities to those who have such real or supposed talents as are displayed only by tests of native ability." Horn's doctrine, I think, is largely wrong. How can we expect achievement in proportion to capacity if or when the opportunity for achievement in proportion to capacity is denied? There is abundant evidence to show that large numbers of children are working far below their latent possibilities without their knowing it or anyone else knowing it or caring much about it. The most striking, disconcerting, and disheartening fact brought out in recent years is that relative to their capacities, the poorest work or achievement is done by those of the highest abilities and that the best work relatively is done by those below the average in ability. Burt found this state of affairs in England and it has been repeatedly found in our schools. It shows the skill, devotion, and assiduity of teachers who are able to bring lower level pupils to achieve more than might reasonably be expected, but in the meantime talent is resting on its oars. The democracy in education of Bagley and Horn magnifies community of interests and makes bits of knowledge and skill, which are speedily forgotten, sacrosanct. In the reaction against training and formal discipline we are in danger of making as much of a fetish of knowledge as we formerly did of discipline. The development of individuality so that each pupil is active at his highest level of achievement, so far from being undemocratic, is democracy at its very best, I cannot conceive of an educational program that more sanely expresses the real spirit of democracy. The conservation of the individual and of individuality is the very keel and backbone of democracy.

(Next month this series concludes with a discussion entitled "What Shall Be Done with Gifted Children When Selected?")

PRESIDENT BIRGE

(Continued from page 292)

Dr. Birge. The development of this premedical curriculum led naturally to the institution of the first two years of the medical school in the early part of this century. From the very first the work of this school had been recognized as of a high order equal to that of any medical school in this country.

As an undergraduate student at Wisconsin in the first years of Dr. Birge's teaching career, as a postgraduate student at intervals during three years from 1885, and as teacher and administrator for thirty-five years in a medical school to which most of the University of Wisconsin students have resorted for the completion of their medical courses, I have been in position to have first-hand knowledge of these matters. To the amazing advance of medical education in the last half, and especially in the last quarter century, Dr. Birge has been one of the important contributors.

His teaching has been equally inspiring to those who have entered fields of activity other than medicine, such as teaching, agriculture, research, and other lines. Of his long service as dean I cannot speak from such immediate knowledge, for that came after I left Madison, but I know it to have been a faithful, arduous, untiring, and efficient service. As president he has conducted the affairs of this great and growing University with wisdom and distinction, doing his part to maintain for it the distinguished rank which it occupies in the minds of the educational world. His sound judgment and balanced sense of proportion as to the relative values of the several phases of University work and activity have been an important agency in holding the institution to the high purposes which it is its function to subserve—the increase of useful knowledge by research, its impartation to young men and women, and the development in these students of high ideals of attainment and of service.

Horlick's

The Original

MALTED MILK

A Delicious Food-Drink for All Ages
Beware of substitutes and imitations.

Information Furnished,

Alumni who are not members of reuning classes but who need information as to hotels and rooming houses can secure same by writing promptly to Fred Gustorf, 717 Langdon street, Madison. Mr. Gustorf is chairman of the Alumni Committee of the class of 1925.

OTHER UNIVERSITIES

Installation of equipment for the new phonetic and rhetoric laboratory is practically completed in room 2006 of Angell Hall, where apparatus for the use of thirty students will be ready by the middle of next semester, according to Professor A. R. Morris, of the rhetoric department. Tables have already been installed and chimographs have been ordered.—The Michigan Alumnus, January 15, 1925.

Only life members have the right to vote and hold office in the Alumni Association of the University of Minnesota.

The test of a teacher is measured by what his students think of him fifteen years after leaving college. And the teacher is longest remembered who most stimulates the thinking and the ambition of the man or woman during the years of preparation in college. Courses of study are soon neglected or forgotten, but the inspiring instructor never is.—Northwestern University Alumni News.

BOOK NOTES

The History of the American Frontier, 1763-1893 (Houghton Mifflin Company, Boston, $6.00), by Dr. FREDERIC L. PAXSON.

In this volume Professor Paxson has brought to maturity the task he began in 1910 when he wrote The Last American Frontier. In that earlier volume he confined attention to the trans-Mississippi, and to the period from 1830 onward. In this new volume the author sweeps into one full stream of narration the entire epic of the American westward movement from its crossing of the Appalachian barrier to the final disappearance of the frontier. Nearly one-half of the space is given to the earlier cis-Mississippi movements; and the chapters on the later frontier have been entirely re-written and re-conceived. In breadth of knowledge and handling and in depth of grasp this new volume shows an enormous advance over the earlier one. It is the work of a master of comprehension and an adept at showing the interrelationship of forces and their free interplay on the field of the West. The scholarship underlying the work is enormous, but does not obtrude its erudition more than to declare with firmness and conviction the writer's conclusions. Chief of these, possibly, is that stated in the preface that "the frontier with its continuous influence is the most American thing in all America."

That Professor Paxson has written the definitive history of the frontier or the westward movement he himself would be the last to assert. That protean and remarkable phenomenon we call the frontier presents itself under as many aspects as the great region of country over which it sweeps, and its history will be seen in as many lights as the subjective observers may choose. But Professor Paxson gives the American public in this volume a standard history of the West, which will bear the test of time and use, and, we venture to believe, will grow increasingly valuable as it is employed and mastered. We heartily recommend it to Wisconsin readers, and to all who love the history of the land wherein we dwell.—Wisconsin Magazine of History, March, 1925.

Geologists

On Thursday, March 26, in connection with the annual meeting of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists, held in Wichita, Kansas, thirty-one Wisconsin alumni had luncheon together at the Hotel Lassen. Among those present were Messrs. T. B. Williams, E. G. Allen, '99, R. E. Rettger, S. M. Weidman, '94, R. B. Dunlevy, '93, Herbert Weeks, '20, F. A. Edson, '09, T. H. Kernan, '16, C. W. Tomlinson,

'13, M. E. Roberts, '18, R. D. Longyear, '15, R. S. Knappen, '15, W. G. Barrett. Messrs. A. C. Tester and W. H. Twenhofel of the University Faculty were also present at this luncheon.

At the annual banquet held on Friday evening, March 27, in the Rose Room of the Forum Building, the Wisconsin alumni, wearing caps decorated with Wisconsin colors, had a special table. In addition to those named above and others, four alumnae were present at this table. These were Mrs. R. C. Knapton, Mrs. Fanny Carter Edson, '10, Mrs. R. S. Tarr, and Miss Lydia Ainsworth. Others in attendance at the banquet knew that Wisconsin was present, due to singing of Wisconsin songs and the giving of Wisconsin cheers.—W. H. TWENHOFEL, 4-13-25.

Wisconsin Meetings

Alumni meetings concerned with Foundation Day or with the crisis confronting the University were held as follows in Wisconsin between February 4 and April 10

City	Date	Speaker
Antigo	3-30	A. Hopkins, '03
Appleton	2-18	G. Sellery
Appleton	3-27	J. Dawson, '24
Baraboo	3-23	M. Mason, '98
Beloit	2-4	S. Gilman, '99
Elkhorn	3-23	W. Kiekhofe, '13
Green Bay	4-6	M. Mason, '98
Kenosha	3-23	J. Pyre, '92
LaCrosse	2-7	M. Mason, '98
Manitowoc	3-10	M. Strehlow, '02
Marinette	3-31	O. Kowalke, '02
Marshfield	2-10	T. Lloyd-Jones, '96
Marshfield	3-10	T. Brazeau, '97
Medford	3-26	Local alumni
Monroe	4-9	S. Goodnight, '05
Neenah	4-6	M. Mason, '98
Milwaukee	4-14	T. Kronshage, '91 G. Little
Oconomowoc	5-13	G. Little
Oshkosh	3-27	W. Frautschi, '24 T. Kronshage, '91, G. Haight, '99 and A. S. Johnson, '17
Platteville	3-20	Local alumni
Racine	2-25	J. Pyre, '92
River Falls	3-19	O. Hallam, '87
Sheboygan	4-3	F. McGovern, '90
Sparta	2-18	A. Hopkins, '03
Stoughton	3-25	G. Sellery
Watertown	2-7	T. Lloyd-Jones, '96
Wausau	3-28	T. Kronshage, '91, G. Haight, and J. Phillips, '99

All the speakers who addressed these meetings are members of the ALUMNI ASSOCIATION.

Notice to Alumni

Members of the General Alumni Association interested in securing, free of charge, the cloth-bound life sketch of Charles Kendall Adams recently written by Charles Foster Smith should notify the University Editor at once as the edition is limited.

FACULTY NEWS

KATHRYN PERRY, '23.

The death of WILLIAM DIXON HIESTAND, registrar of the University of Wisconsin during the last 38 years, was learned with sorrow by thousands of former students throughout the United States. Since 1887 every incoming student has registered in his office, and he is recalled by many to whom he gave kindly aid and advice. Mr. Hiestand was the first and only registrar the University has had. He served under four presidents, Chamberlin, Adams, Van Hise, and Birge. In June, 1923, the University bestowed upon him the honorary degree of master of arts.

Several University professors spoke at the fifth education conference of Wisconsin high school superintendents held at the University by the School of Education. Prof. M. V. O'SHEA, Theodore Kronshage Jr., president of the regents, President E. A. BIRGE, Dean G. C. SELLERY, Prof. E. C. DAVIS, science, Prof. M. F. GUYER, zoology, Prof. Max MASON, physics, Prof. G. B. MORTIMER, agronomy, E. J. KRAUS, botany, Prof. F. C. KRAUSKOPF, chemistry, Prof. B. Q. MORGAN, German, Prof. Guy B. FOWLKES, Prof. V. A. C. HENMON, education, were all on the program.

The Pulitzer prize for the best book of 1924 on the history of the United States was awarded to PROF. FREDERIC L. PAXSON, of the history department of the University. "History of the American Frontier," recently published as a treatise on Western development and the pushing westward of the American frontier from 1763 to 1883 is the book that won the prize. The award was announced by Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia university, and is accompanied with a cash prize of $2,000. Professor Paxson has been at Wisconsin since 1910 and is now in Paris.

A new commandant, MAJOR BERNARD R. PEYTON, U. S. Field Artillery, has been detailed at the University Military corps to relieve MAJOR O. L. BRUN-

ZELL, who is being sent by the war department to the War School for Officers in Washington, D. C.

DR. FINLEY M. K. FOSTER, of the University of Delaware, will join the faculty of the English department next fall to teach two new courses in the Victorian era.

Two large oil paintings, copies of two famous works of Velazquez in the Prado gallery, Madrid, executed by Mrs. Solalinde, wife of PROF. A. G. SOLALINDE, Spanish department, have been lent to the newly remodeled University club. The pictures are "The Infant," Ferdinand of Austria, one of the most famous "Hunters" of Velazquez, and an equestrian portrait of Prince Balthazar Charles, son of Philip IV.

DR. HERMAN HEALD KAHLBERG, son of PROF. L. KAHLBERG of the chemistry department, has discovered a new oxide, called "oxide of boron." Boron can now be used for the first time as an element in a battery. Dr. Herman Kahlenberg received his doctor's degree last February from Wisconsin and is now at the Kahlenberg laboratories at Two Rivers.

PROFS. W. G. BLEYER, GRANT HYDE, of the Wisconsin Course in Journalism, and PROF. ANDREW HOPKINS, agricultural journalism, will be the hosts at the annual meeting of the American Association of College News Bureaus to be held in Madison June 25, 26, and 27.

PROF. FREDERICK OGG spoke to the Phi Kappa Phi society on "Recent Advances in Government." This is the last of a series of Thursday evening lectures sponsored this year by Phi Kappa Phi.

PROF. M. I. ROSTOVITZEFF of the history department was elected an honorary member of Phi Beta Kappa this spring. Professor Rostovtzeff came to the University from Russia five years ago, and will take up his work at Yale university next fall.

52.4 PER CENT of the New Business paid for in The Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company in the year 1924 was upon applications of members previously insured in the Company.

Once a Policyholder—Always a Prospect

The Policyholders' Company

The Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company

W. D. Van Dyke, President
Milwaukee, Wisconsin

A Good Reference

When you are asked for references a favorable report from your bank always carries weight.

When depositors have banked with us for a number of years, and when we have learned to know them, we are always pleased to have them give us as a reference.

Some day it may be worth a great deal to you to be able to refer to this bank.

Bank of Wisconsin
Madison, Wisconsin