MARQUETTE MAY GET STATE CAGE TOURNEY, REPORT

Financial Failure Here, Says Barnes in Unofficial Statement

The state high school basketball tournament probably will be taken from the University of Wisconsin and placed in the hands of Marquette university at Milwaukee unless the annual event can be made a financial success here. This statement was made unofficially last night by V. G. Barnes, principal of Central high school and chairman of the state board of athletic control.

The state board has been dissatisfied with the results of the tournament ever since the athletic department of the university was given the sponsorship of the affair in 1920, according to Chairman Barnes.

May Go To Marquette

The criticism does not concern the departmental management of the tournament, but involves solely the inability of Madison to support the event.

"If Madison can not support the state tournament, I feel that Milwaukee can, and it is my opinion, speaking unofficially, that it will go to Marquette in another year if results are not more satisfying," was the statement made by Barnes.

Irings Athletes—Meanwell

"The catastrophe that such a move on the part of the state board would be to this university can be prevented by making this ninth annual tournament a financial success," was the emphatic appeal of Norman Clark '24, general chairman. "Knowing that we can not hope to keep the tournament here unless we make it pay, the chairmen of this year have been expending every effort to secure large crowds for the games."

This annual tournament, played off in the armory, is the greatest feeder of men into the university that there is in the opinion of Coach Meanwell.

"The best athletes in the high schools play on the basketball teams," was his comment. "The value of this source of native men can not be over-estimated," he added.

Doctor Meanwell is now out of the city and has not been reached in regard to this new development in the tournament plans.

NEWSPAPERS TEND TO MERGE--BLEYER

Head of Journalism School Discusses Tendency of Modern Journals

That the combination of the New York Tribune and the New-York Herald under the ownership of Ogden Reed illustrates the tendency of newspapers in America and England to consolidate is the opinion of Prof. W. G. Bleyer, head of the department of journalism.

"It is another example of the process in England and America greatly accelerated in London and New York. In London there are only three evening papers now while there were seven in 1900."

This tendency to combine is good in so far as it makes for strong, financially independent papers, Professor Bleyer believes. He stated that it was not a good tendency in that it limits the variety of editorial opinion.

"The Tribune is the only republican morning paper in New York now," continued Professor Bleyer. "It is interesting to note that the papers now combined were once bitter rivals. The Herald was founded by James Gordon Bennet, who was bitterly opposed by Horace Greeley, the founder of the Tribune."

The new Herald-Tribune has incorporated in it the Recorder, the Press, the Sun, the Herald, and the Tribune.

Philip Clark '24, Ill Three Weeks Dies in Milwaukee

Word was received last night from Milwaukee of the death of Philip E. Clark '24, who was enrolled in the Course in Commerce.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Clark, a sister, Florence, and a brother, Roger. William Hendrickson '24, Edwin Sorenson '25, and Arthur Trost '24 will leave for Milwaukee Monday to act as pallbearers.

Entertainment is being provided free of charge.

Other entertainment which is being held as a surprise will also be offered, it was said on Friday.

The celebration in honor of the championship team is particularly fitting," Gordon B. Wanzer '24, manager of the team said. "I am glad to hear the team is to be treated. They surely have it coming."

EXAM APPLICATIONS MUST BE IN APRIL 8

"Applications for the condition examinations to be given April 13 must be filed by April 8," George Chandler, assistant secretary of the faculty said yesterday.

Official application blanks to be filled out by students wishing to take these examinations will be available within the next week or ten days. At that time also official announcement will be made as to the place of meeting for the examinations.

Those who pass will receive no grade points. The results of these examinations have not been very encouraging in the past; for only 35 per cent of the students taking them pass, according to Mr. Chandler.

McDonald '24 is directing the local publicity for the Military ball, and Gardner has been chosen to act as general secretary by Howard B. Lyman '24, chairman of the ball.

Student Volunteer Conference Opens at Wesley Chapel

"Racial pride and the theory of race superiority are corporate sins of America, and the kind of missionaries who are needed to carry Christianity abroad are those who will have a sympathetic interest and work shoulder to shoulder with people in foreign lands," declared Dr. John Aberly, president of the Lutheran Theological Seminary at Maywood, Ill., and a former missionary to India, in the opening session of State Student Volunteer conference at Wesley chapel last night.

The subject of Dr. Aberly's address was "Present world movements and their bearing on mission work."

The registration for the conference totals 58. Of this number 45 are university students here, 9 are from Milton college, 3 from Carroll college, and 1 from the Missionary House seminary at Plymouth.

SIX TEAMS OPEN RELIEF CAMPAIGN

Student Friendship Workers to Visit Fraternity and Rooming Houses

Six teams of men students under the leadership of Eugene Tuhar '25, executive secretary of the student friendship drive, will begin today to visit fraternity and rooming houses in a personal solicitation campaign for the benefit of European university relief. The teams will work in collaboration with Miss Margaret Quayle, director from the national headquarters, who is here to assist in the drive.

District chairman of the S. G. A. have begun the sale of tickets for the Parkway showing of Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, proceeds from which will go to the fund. Twenty per cent of the profits from tickets sold will be turned over to the committee. These tickets also will be on sale at tables in campus buildings on the first three days of next week.

Headquarters for the drive have been opened in the Union board offices in the Union building and members of the finance committee are there all day to receive contributions to the fund. Checks may be mailed to that office at 752 Langdon street or may be brought to the headquarters.

Last night Miss Quayle spoke at the S. G. A. party in Lathrop. Yesterday she spoke to the members of the teams who will visit the rooming houses. Tomorrow afternoon she will speak at the Y. W. C. A. vespers in Lathrop hall. This meeting will be open to men as well as women.

Profits from the Union board dance last night amounted to approximately $150. John C. Dawson '24, president of the board, said after the dance. This fund will be placed at the disposal of the committee.

On February 29, Prof. Angelo Lipari, assistant professor of Romance languages, and a group of students organized an Italian club, electing Helen Brod '25, president; Elizabeth Kempton '25, vice-president, Louise Roedell '27, secretary-treasurer, and Margaret Jones '25, chairman of the social committee.

The club was formed for the purpose of cultivating an acquaintance with Italian authors.

The next meeting will be held at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening in Music hall. Professor Rostovtzeff will speak, and all those interested in Italian will be welcome.

MICHIGAN AGAIN DEFEATS BADGER DEBATERS HERE

Professor Rarig Says Contest Was Close, But Gives Wolverines Victory

Duplicating its victory of last year, Michigan defeated Wisconsin in the annual mid-West debating contest which was held last night in Music hall.

"Hardest Debate"

"It is the hardest debate that I have ever judged and I was forced to render my decision on the basis of work done, on the weight of evidence advanced and the coherence of reasoning," declared Professor Frank M. Rarig, of the speech department of Minnesota, who judged the debate.

The proposition debated was, "Resolved that the drainage project of the Chicago sanitary district in so far as it involves the diversion from Lake Michigan of sufficient water to provide adequate sanitation for the city of Chicago should be permanently guaranteed."

Blake closer

The Wisconsin affirmative team was represented by Emanuel W. Goodman '26, Harold J. Sporer '25, and Henry W. Blake '24, closer.

Walter Pear '25, Burton Sibley '25, and Donald Cook '24, closer, upheld the negative side of the question for Michigan.

The affirmative team contended that the system now in operation in the Chicago sanitary district is satisfactory to the city of Chicago and that when the project is carried out to its fullest extent it will be beneficial to other interests along the Great Lakes.

The project of the sanitary district as outlined by the affirmative provides for the erection of compensating works by which the lakes will be kept at their normal level. These works will be constructed at the expense of the city of Chicago.

Evidence was advanced by the negative to show that the communities along the Illinois river are effected by the drainage canal, that there is a great loss of water power to industrial enterprises in Canada, and that the shipping interests of the great lakes are damaged to the extent of over $2,000,000 each year.

BADGER PROFESSORS TO SPEAK AT CONVENTION

Prof. Richard T. Ely, Prof. Edward Bennett, Prof. James T. Rood, and Prof. O. L. Kowalek are scheduled to speak before the annual convention of the Wisconsin Utilities association when it meets in Milwaukee April 17 and 18. The problem of how to improve electric, gas and street railway services for the citizens without increasing the cost to the customers is the convention program announced today by J. N. Cadby, secretary of the state association.

LA CROSSE AIDS MEMORIAL UNION

River City Alumni Subscribe $4,000; Campaign on in North Dakota

More than $4,000 have been subscribed by the La Crosse alumni for the Memorial Union building since the alumni meeting on Feb. 9, which was addressed by Prof. E. H. Gardner of the building fund committee. The campaign is still being carried on by Harry J. Hirshheimer, La Crosse alumnus, who graduated from the College of Engineering in '91.

A North Dakota campaign is being carried on under the direction of Gov. R. A. Nestos, who was graduated from the university in 1902, and Harlow L. Walster, of Fargo, N. D., who was graduated from the College of Agriculture in 1908.

The 150 alumni in North Dakota are being reached through the efforts of the Memorial Union building committee which is writing to each to explain the purpose for the campaign and the necessity for the Memorial Union building.

FRATS HERE TO STAY, SAYS DEAN

Glicksman Scoffs at Idea of Abolishing Greek Hohses From Camps

"To advocate the abolition of fraternities at Wisconsin now is as absurd as to support doing away with Main hall or the dean's office," said Harry Glicksman, assistant dean of the College of Letters and Science, in speaking on the subject, "Are Campus Conditions Satisfactory?" before the meeting of the leaders of the discussion groups under the supervision of the Y. M. C. A. in the fellowship room of the association building yesterday noon.

Absence of dormitories was the main necessity for the organization of social groups was the opinion of the dean. He told of the uncompleted plan of former President Van Hise to form a quadrangle at Wisconsin.

"When dormitories are established, they may supplant fraternities to some extent. In 90 cases out of 100, parents will yield to the arguments that fraternities and sororities afford more comfort and more convenience to their children, and they will not consider the charge that these groups tend to foster snobbish men."

The fault of the present system was pointed out as the setting off of one group from another because of social accident and the early pledging.

"You do your pledging too soon. I believe that all pledging should be postponed until at least the second semester. New students see the social and not the curriculum contact during their first days," declared the dean.

"I believe in the honor system. But we cannot have it here at Wisconsin now because the students do not want it. They will not trust one another. When every student will contribute his share to the tribunal of honesty, then we will be able to establish successfully the honor system. We must have the student 'esprit de corps' for the honor system to succeed."

SPANISH PLAY IS NOW IN LAST THREE ACTS

Under the direction of Samuel Wofsy, instructor of the Romance language department, the cast of the farce, "Una Yanqui en Espana" which will be presented by the Spanish club April 7, is gradually being perfected. Rehearsals have been started on the last three acts.

Copies of the play have been placed on sale at the Co-op, and will be required for outside reading in a number of Spanish courses.

The play abounds in farcical situations brought about by the efforts of an American girl in trying to reform a Spanish village according to her notions of efficiency.

ROUGH-HOUSE INITIATIONS HAVE NO DEFENSE, STATES DEAN GOODNIGHT

That there is absolutely no defense whatever for "rough house" initiation is the opinion of Dean Scott H. Goodnight as the general season of this activity draws to a close in the Latin quarter.

"After being paddled and bullied around without sleep and proper nourishment, the new members of the fraternities are in no condition to appreciate the formal ceremony and ritual which immediately follows the rough initiation," Dean Goodnight said yesterday. "For that reason and others, it makes him a worse fraternity man rather than a better."

"Rough initiation very often sours

PUBLICITY HEAD GIVES LECTURE

General Electric Company Representative Speaks Here Next Week

C. M. Ripley, head of the publicity department of the General Electric company of Schenectady, N. Y. will give a series of lectures here on March 25, 26 and 27.

He will speak on "What Electricity Has Done for Civilization," "A Bird's Eye View of a Big Corporation" and "What Becomes of the Income of a Corporation." The second of these lectures, on March 26, will be broadcast from WHA, the university station.

Mr. Ripley will base his lectures largely on material gained in his study of industrial conditions as he has found them from his work among I. W. W. and Socialist parties and with the trade unions and employees of this country.

"At the present time the ignorance of the people themselves is the basis of practically all the industrial strife throughout the country," he has stated. "If the people were familiar with the actual facts and conditions pertaining to industrial management and cost of operation, the red agitators would have a hard time making their misstatements which are accepted as the gospel truth."

Slides are being furnished by the economics, electrical engineering and physics departments for use during the lectures.

DRESDEN TO PLAY AT COZY CORNER PARTY

Those attending the Cozy Corner party given by the S. G. A. in Lathrop parlors tonight will be entertained by Prof. Arnold Dresden, of the mathematics department, with several piano selections. The picture for the Badger will be taken. Social hour will extend from 7 to 8 o'clock.

ESTABLISH THREE BRANCH COURSES

Milwaukee Extension Division Offers New Works For Ex-Service Men

Three two-year courses, a Course in Letters and Science, a Course in Engineering and a Course in Commerce, are offered at the University Extension division at Milwaukee.

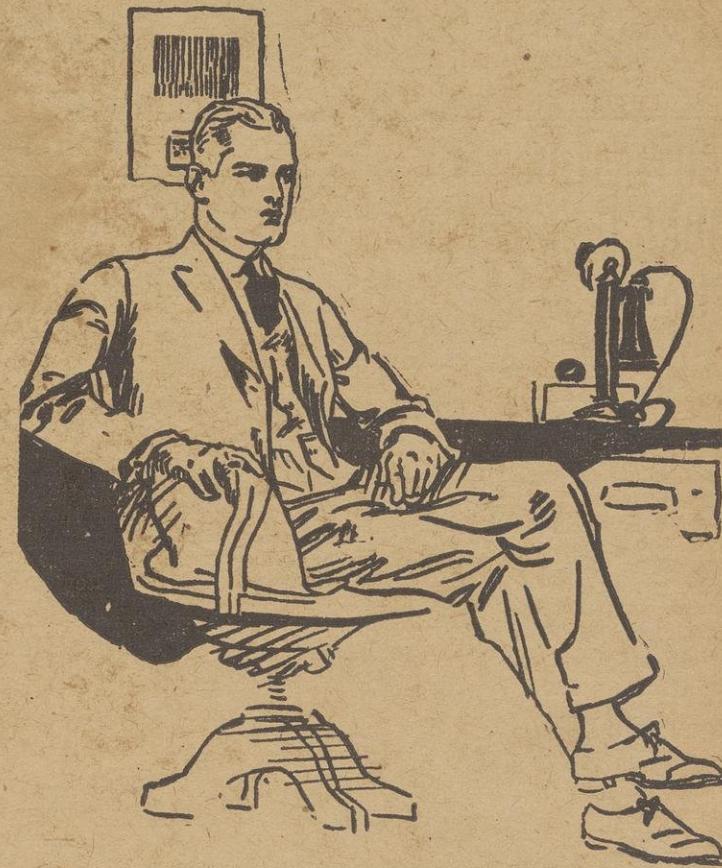

Any student taking two years of the required number of credits, either in the Letters and Science or Engineering courses may enter the University of Wisconsin as a junior. Full time day courses in engineering were established to meet the requirements of ex-service men. Regular freshman and sophomore work is offered; students completing these classes may enter the junior class in the College of Engineering here.

The two-year complete Course in Commerce, offered at the extension division cannot be substituted for the first two years in the four year program at Madison.

Besides the day courses there are also evening classes at the school. Most of the evening classes are not given for university credit, but are intended for those persons who can devote only a part of their time to study. The evening classes include both business and cultural subjects.

ATHLETICS IN THE
COLLEGIATE WORLDNEGOTIATIONS FOR LOCAL H. S. SERIES
PRACTICALLY FAILAttempts to Arrange Post-
Season Basketball Games
Are Unsuccessful

Negotiations on the part of university officials of the state cage tourney to arrange a local series between the three Madison high schools, to be played in conjunction with the games of the state series, have practically failed. Norm Clark '24, general chairman, announced last night that his attempts to arrange a post-season series has practically been unsuccessful.

"We felt that with the absence of any Madison high school team from the finals the interest of Madison cage fans in the state games would not be very great. Formerly, the Madison support has been responsible for the success of the tournament.

"With a local series included in the program the success of the ticket sale would be secured. It is entirely as vital to the Madison high schools that the tournament remain here as it is to the university," said Clark.

V. G. Barnes, chairman of the state athletic board, has expressed approval of the institution of a local tournament as a permanent feature, providing the event remains with the university.

Wisconsin high and Central high have favored the plan, East side high practically being the only obstacle.

Other special measures have been arranged by the publicity committee for securing the support of Madison fans. Students will be called upon to attend the series games and act as hosts to the state men. Students are urged to support the teams of their local high schools.

The fraternities which have cooperated with the entertainment committee of the state championship tournament by housing members of the district championship teams are:

Kappa Psi, Phi Kappa Psi, Zeta Psi, Alpha Chi Rho, Theta Xi, Delta Kappa Epsilon, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Beta Sigma Pi. Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Phi Kappa Sigma, Square and Compass, Chi Psi, Delta Upsilon, Phi Sigma Kappa, Chi Phi.

Alpha Kappa Lambda, Delta Sigma Phi, Alpha Gamma Rho, Beta Theta Pi, Theta Chi, Phi Gamma Delta, and Alpha Tau Omega.

SORORITY RELAYS
GO BACK TO 1909Women Interested in Track Activities Because of Annual Carnival Races

An addition to the university athletic curriculum was made in 1909 with the inauguration of the sorority relay. A decade ago girls showed little interest in track activities and in order to arouse their enthusiasm this method was taken.

At first there was a great deal of confusion, some thinking that the girls themselves were to participate. As a consequence only a few of the sororities entered.

As the idea became generally known that the men were to run for the fair ones the relay increased in favor and competition waxed keen among the various sorority chapters. Each year has witnessed a greater number of sororities entering the race until this year practically every sorority on the campus will be represented with a team in the relays that are to be run in connection with the 18th annual relay carnival.

The idea of an inter-sorority relay originated at our own Wisconsin and since has spread to Missouri university, Iowa university and other colleges over the country. The result has been that in these schools the co-eds have taken a greater interest in athletics in general and track in particular because of the vital interest in their own sorority relays.

The annex record for the sorority relays was made by a team representing the Alpha Chi Omega sorority in 1922. This sorority also won

PHY. ED. STUDENTS
TEST EFFICIENCYCoach Schlatter Works to Raise Standards of Physical Development

Believing in the old proverb of Socrates that, "It is a disgrace for a man to grow old without ever seeing the beauty and strength of which his body is capable," Coach Schlatter is putting the men in the department of physical education through efficiency tests. The men have been working on these tests all year and will have them completed before spring. Men have been taken into the course at the first of the year that would not be able to make even a grade of poor but by the end of the year, after diligent work, have made grades of good or even excellent.

The coach believes that "no man has the right to be an amateur in the matter of Physical Training. It is a part of his profession as a citizen to keep himself in good condition, ready to serve his state at a moment's notice."

He also states that "It isn't the size of your muscles that count but what can you do with them? The old standard of measuring a man's muscular efficiency by his muscle-bulk is obsolete."

The standard of excellence is not beyond your power of attainment. Others reached it. You can. Say 'I WILL' and get busy," was the advice given by Schlatter to all the men taking work under him.

The motto of the department of physical education is "Mens Sana In Corpore Sano" meaning "A Sound mind in a sound body."

Three Telegraphic
Rifle Meets Set
For Coming Week

Three telegraphic matches to be fired next week will keep the Wisconsin's rifle team busy. The meets will be held with the University of Illinois, Rhode Island State University, and Oregon Agricultural college.

With the exception of the Hearst Trophy match, the three meets will mark the close of the indoor shooting season. As soon as the weather allows, the team will practice with regulation army rifles on the stone quarry range.

The probable line-up for next week will be: Capt. William A. Rorison, Harry C. Hull, Leslie P. Drake, Franklin D. Fulton, Carl J. Neess, Anthony Paroni, Christian J. Randall, George H. Ross, Paul F. Murphy and Ernest J. Hewitt.

GARTERS ARE DISCARDED
BY WABASH STUDENTS

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind. — Along with the corset of the modern flapper, the garter has been discarded.

A census taken at Wabash college was responsible for the startling discovery. Ninety-five per cent of the students said they had no use for the leg elastics.

Sagging socks have long been conspicuous on the Wabash campus, but it was not known until the taking of the census that "garterless legs" were so general.

Preliminary Heats Held in Gym Yesterday Afternoon
For Carnival

In the preliminary heats of the inter-fraternity relay race held in the gymnasium annex yesterday afternoon, Delta Upsilon, Kappa Sigma, Alpha Gamma Rho, Phi Kappa Psi, Beta Theta Pi, Phi Kappa Sigma, Theta Chi, Tau Kappa Epsilon, and Theta Xi qualified to enter the final runs which will take place during the eighteenth annual relay carnival tonight.

The times of the trials were exceptionally fast and close competition marked the preliminary runs. No records were broken, although the Delta Upsilon tracksters covered the half-mile distance in 1 minute 40.35 seconds. The record of 1 minute 39.25 seconds was won by the Delta Upsilon team in 1918.

Results of the preliminary trials indicate that the interfraternity events will be closely contested races tonight, and it is possible that annex records will be lowered in some of the events.

More than 200 reserved seats had been sold last night for the indoor games and the sale will continue at the general office of the gymnasium this morning and afternoon. All of the seats will be reserved, and holders of spectator tickets are requested to enter the annex at the Langdon street entrance.

Entrants in the various events will receive contestant tickets and number by calling at the gymnasium this morning and afternoon. Only athletes having contestant tickets will be allowed to enter through the gymnasium.

Special programs containing pictures of several of the captains of the competing teams in the inter-sorority relay races have been printed and will be sold at the carnival tonight.

The results of the heats in the inter-fraternity relay race are:

First heat—Phi Kappa Psi, first; Beta Theta Pi, second; Phi Kappa Sigma, third. Time, 1:41.5-10.

Second heat—Kappa Sigma, first; Theta Xi, second; Delta Pi Epsilon, third. Time, 1:40.7-10.

Third heat—Theta Chi, first; Delta Chi, second; Alpha Sigma Phi, third. Time, 1:42.1-5.

Fourth heat—Alpha Gamma Rho, first; Tau Kappa Epsilon, second; Sigma Chi, third. Time, 1:40.4-5.

Fifth heat—Delta Upsilon, first; Kappa Psi, second; Delta Sigma Phi, third. Time, 1:40.35.

Sixth heat—Pi Kappa Alpha, first; Triangle, second. Time 1:44.3-10.

Daveys-Elliots
Easy Winners in
Friday Contests

Wins by the Daveys over the Westons 16 to 3, and the Elliots over the Carpenters 23 to 7 were the results in last night's Wisconsin Intramural league basketball games.

Three field goals by McDonald, of the Daveys, with other counters by each of his teammates Baltus, Berger, Dye and Turkovich brought about the defeat of the Westons by the Daveys. The Westons were held to a meager field ringer and a free throw.

In the second battle the Elliots had little trouble in routing the Carpenters who were making their first appearance in the league. Jacobs, forward for the Elliots, ran up six baskets for his team; while Johns, a fast forward was the leading factor in the Carpenter game. Dupee refereed both of the matches.

MAJORITY OF MEN
IN SPORTS—JONESReport Filed By Director
Shows Interest in Athletics

A large majority of men students take an active part in athletics, according to a report made by Coach T. E. Jones, director of the department of physical education. Participations in the various sports were listed as 7,735, but some participants take part in more than one sport.

Twenty-five different kinds of athletics were promoted by the department. Not only intercollegiate athletics, but intramural athletics and contests between various organizations, such as inter-fraternity, and inter-college meets, gave every man in the university an opportunity to participate in some sport.

Track, with 1,827 participants, was most popular. Following in popularity were baseball, basketball, boxing, swimming, tennis and soccer football, and canoeing. Football claimed 302, including the scrubs, all-Americans, freshmen and spring football. Other sports listed were tobogganing, skiing, crew, volleyball, development basketball, wrestling, ice-hockey, cross country, water basketball, gymnastics, handball, golf, field hockey, horseshoe contests and fencing.

CHLORINE REMEDY
NOT FAIRLY TRIEDTreatment For Colds Not Given Exact Test Here,
Says Doctor

That chlorine treatment for colds has not yet been given a fair test at Wisconsin is the opinion of Dr. C. Muehlberger, state toxicologist.

"Many persons still have the delusion that chlorine is a deadly gas no matter how weak it may be. It has been found by experimentation that three milligrams in one liter will kill a dog in half an hour.

"Slight irritation of the throat and nose will be caused by .048 milligrams per liter while the amount administered here is only .015 milligrams per liter, or less than one-two hundredth of a killing solution. There is absolutely no danger to any one taking the treatment," Dr. Muehlberger said.

The chlorine is hardly noticeable in the room where it is circulated by an electric fan, sometimes causing a barely perceptible watering of the eyes and tickling of the throat but no other disagreeable sensations.

The treatment was administered again at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. During the hour in which the students were subjected to less than a pint of chlorine, they read, studied or played cards.

"At the end of the time some almost had to be driven out of the

Doctor Loevenhart who has recently returned from the East will conduct further experiments here with the chlorine. He will be assisted by Lieut. G. P. Coon, who is on leave from the U. S. Chemical Warfare service.

BASEBALL TEAM
DOES LAST LICKS
AS TRIP COMESProspects Are Bright as Spring Training in Southern States Nears

With its strength mounting day by day and with its machine beginning to run smooth and slick, the varsity baseball team is putting in the last few licks before it embarks on the spring southern training trip, with the brightest prospects that have faced a Wisconsin nine for several years.

The return of Herb Christenson, pitching ace of two years back, who was out of school last year, has added materially to the team's hopes.

Christy is a dependable pitcher with plenty of experience and a world of speed.

He and Bill Johnson will carry the bulk of the work on the delivering end of the battery, while Capt. Eddie Aschenbrenner, with Lambley to supplant him, will do the receiving. This battery in itself is mighty good, but there is a shortage of pitchers of varsity caliber, and the probabilities are that Johnson and Christy will have to toil unrelieved.

The infield at present is shaping into a combination that is slick, smooth and fast. Steen, at first, is a lefthander that looks as if he will fill the place in satisfactory manner, while Ellingson, second base, Murphy, shortstop, and Goss, third base, are showing some fast pre-season stuff.

None of these men have their berths definitely cinched, however, and the fact that no place is secure is tending to make a good team.

Ritchie, Porter, Hanson, and Luther are working on the mound and will undoubtedly be used to support Johnson and Christenson. Lambley, Smith, and Wall are second string catchers and will see action either behind the bat or in the outfield.

Quite a fight has been waged in the infield and Tangat at third, McAlpin, shortstop, Skaife, second, and Fritz Radke and Feuchtwanger, first, are liable to see plenty of action before the season is over.

There are fewer likely reserves in the outfield, but Toibat is sure of a chance there, and Radke may also be tried in the garden, as he is hitting well.

The team on a whole is several notches above the team last year at this time. The men are hitting hard and are fielding fast and smooth. The infield is working in a slick, well oiled way, and the batery is stronger than usual.

Right now Ohio State looms up as the most formidable team in the conference, in the opinion of Coach Lowman. Hege Workman is probably the leading twirler in the Big Ten, and he is supported by a mighty effective infield.

Doctor Loevenhart who has recently returned from the East will conduct further experiments here with the chlorine. He will be assisted by Lieut. G. P. Coon, who is on leave from the U. S. Chemical Warfare service.

NEEDED, A REVITALIZED BAND

There can be no doubt but that experience is the best guide for action.

While it is true that the Badger annuals for years past have been all of a high calibre of work and have all represented Wisconsin in the truest and best light possible, it can not be denied, after a study of the Badger history, that those editors who had had some annual experience during their first and second years, were able to produce the most coherent and most professional-like books, and that those editors who by the present political system were elected to the job without any previous experience or effort on the Badger were at a serious handicap, at least in the technical matters.

On this count alone, that Badger editors are to be required to have served an apprenticeship upon the staff the previous year—the new senate referendum on giving the Badger board the power of appointment should be passed when students are given an opportunity to vote, February 28.

It has been argued by opponents to the plan that it is not the development of technical or professional skill that it is wanted and that a less fine book but more amateur and free from the influences of professional artists and engravers is desired. If this could work out it might be true, but it has proved in the past that the inexperienced editor has had to depend upon those professional sources just as much as any one else but has not been qualified to suggest to direct or to discuss with the artists the plan in mind. On the other hand, the student editors equipped with experience can talk to the professional workers and tell them what is wanted in such a way that the fullest cooperation is obtained and in the end it has been largely student ingenuity which is responsible for the product.

Further objection has been raised that the appointment by the board will leave too much power in the hands of the former editor and that he will naturally recommend the person of his fraternity affiliations. The remedy for this, which obviously is an evil if true, is to be found in the forming of the board and not in a general condemnation of the idea. If the appointment is based purely upon merit and the recommending editor has to point out to the board why such and such a man is the best qualified, and if he must be made to account for the number of hours and the quality of work done, not much room for "graft" seems to be left. At any rate there is less opportunity for one man to play favoritism when he is being carefully checked by a board, than there is for a well oiled political machine to place an experienced and perhaps even inefficient and incapable man in the office.

The Cardinal has long been under the Board system. In the past there have been troubles, it is true. But these troubles always arose when the board was in a lethargic condition such as that in which the present

Badger Board is. For the last two years the Cardinal board has been having regular meeting and it now is an important and powerful, but just board. No fraternity or political favoritism can arise out of The Cardinal. The men who hold positions have won by merit.

A similar plan can work for the Badger.

CONTINUED REBIRTH

It is particularly gratifying that in this year of 1924 which has proved to be a year of rebirth for Wisconsin spirit and enthusiasm as demonstrated by several well-defined incidents such as Founder's Day and the meeting of the teams at the train, that the senior class should take upon itself the idea of further developing this spirit through class organization.

It has been several years since any class has felt any very definite unity or consciousness. The class has come together as freshman, worn the green caps more or less indefinitely and then broken permanently away from all class feeling except on a few isolated days such as the day of the rush and cap night.

Most classes the past few years have failed to realize that future alumni organization and Wisconsin loyalty is perhaps best built upon class devotion. Often the leaders have failed to realize that this class devotion is only successfully built up by separate activity for men and women.

It is encouraging to note that the present senior class has adopted the segregation idea and is counting on building up an intense loyalty for the class itself. The choice of the class leaders in making the men's stag banquet in honor of the championship basketball team is also laudable and no more than these men deserve.

With Madison's death-corner at which during the past three or four years six men have been killed the city police department would be expected to do something to clear up the mystery or protect Madisonians. ## Broun Lauds Beauty of Our Campus; Chats About His Trip

EDITOR'S NOTE

With his return to New York, Heywood Broun, writer for the New York World, comments on his Western trip and Wisconsin in his column, "It Seems to Me," on March 18. His column for March 18, in part, is given here.

Once landed at some destination in the hinterlands I had a fine time. I have learned a little. Now I know, for instance, that the University of Wisconsin is far and away the most beautiful of all American colleges. I have met Booth Tarkington and seen Euclid Avenue of Cleveland and the war monument of Indianapolis. I liked Tarkington the best.

It is wonderfully refreshing for an itinerant lecturer to strike new territory. There is a singing in my heart whenever I come to a town where I know that nobody has heard the mule story and it will be perfectly safe to tell it.

The business of lecturing appeals to the native crudity in man, since it affords him an opportunity to sell over and over again precisely the same product. I suppose this cannot be done indefinitely. In Cleveland something happened which disturbed me a little. A newspaper had a report on the lecture and said, "Broun told his famous mule story." Fame is something which ill becomes an anecdote. A man's greatest usefulness lies ahead of him when he has attained fame, but quite the reverse is true of a humorous story. Fame and retirement should descend upon it simultaneously. I shall have to get another story.

Still, it serves one good purpose. In a certain city the Chairman who introduced me told the audience that he was sure "I would convulse every listener."

I bet him even money on that and won hands down. With ten outlying election districts still missing I counted 231 persons out of a possible 250 who gave no evidence of being convulsed. I could hardly have won the wager so easily without the mule story.

If railroad men ever turn to novel writing it must be that their books take a gloomy view of life. After four days on the cars I am not enthusiastic about the "See America first" propaganda. Or, at any rate, it should not be seen through a train window.

The things to see are well enough when you get there, but they are such a devil of a distance apart! West of Pittsburgh the landscape is highly conventionalized. For the life of me I can't tell Ohio from Indiana, or Illinois from Iowa. Adventurous attempts in architecture are few and mostly unfortunate.

Worst of all, American villages, towns and cities invariably turn their least smiling countenance toward the tracks. Indeed, the traveler does not see the countenance at all, but merely the kidneys of these towns by which he flashes.

GETTING HALF SHOT WILL NOT LEND A MILITARY ASPECT TO THE MILITARY BALL.

Classifiers Remarks

A complete classification of all men is impossible. Certain generalities may be mentioned. Lawyers as a whole are second string men. This is due to their glaring deficiency in inherent ability and looks. The Sig Eps have a typical bunch of fine fellers of whom Carl Schaeffer is the typicalist. Some of the larger houses, such as the Betas, get only one point on fraternal connections. The Phi Psi's rate the same in this grading as they do in their studies. The Kappa Sigs would rate higher except for their loss of pull. The only thing that holds the Dekes down is because "Line" is graded only six points. Another house on the campus defies classification. It lost half its members last semester. General average of the male population of the school is estimated at 84.

THE PROFESSOR who made this classification refuses to tell us which set he belongs in. At present he is preparing a zoological classification of certain person to be run in this col next Saturday.

The Reader's Say-So

PREJUDICE AND THE KLAN

Editor, The Cardinal:

I am not a member of the Klan and I have no intention of becoming one, but it was not pleasing to me to see The Cardinal print such an editorial as it did last Tuesday.

The editorial proves that the writer is either prejudiced against, or ignorant of, the Klan movement. I believe the latter to be the case. Evidently the writer thinks that Simmons and Clarke still hold sway in the organization. They did two years ago, and the editorial would have gone great then—but the Klan is changed now—Simmons and Clarke are out.

I have been interested in the Klan enough to read up on the subject. I invite your editorial writer to do the same. He may find in the "Outlook" in the December, January, and February issues articles printed with the intention of informing such as he. They are articles which give facts, quite different from the editorial in question which are unbiased.

Keep away from the Hearst International, my dear editorial writer.

H. P.

WHAT ARE THE FACTS

Editor, The Cardinal:

The letter of "C. A. T." in your issue of March 15, 1924, under the heading, "That Flaming Cross" shows the extent to which this organization of K's will go, in order to gain members among the credulous. In fact there never has been a time, from its very beginning in 1915, when the whole fabric of Klanism was not based on a myth.

The frigid winds, which were braved by William Joseph Simmons on Thanksgiving night, 1915, the "temperature far below freezing" on Stone Mountain near Atlanta, Ga., when the first fiery cross was displayed—all are myths, and are given the lie direct by the records of the weather bureau.

The story about the late President Harding's membership in the Klan is of the same stripe. Are we to believe "C. A. T." who lacks the courage to sign his name? It is possible to trace this silly story back to the very day and place of its origin. On Aug. 10, 1923 memorial services were held for President Harding at Lake Charles, La., To quote, "200 robed and masked Klansmen marched to a position just before the rostrum. Their leader, announcing that they were members of the Lake Charles Klan said, 'Fellow countrymen, we have come to join you in this ceremonial of mourning in honor of our deceased President and fellow klansman, Warren G. Harding.' This is how it started. The man who first made the statement had his face covered from the eyes of his fellow men!

What are the facts? On Oct. 6, 1923, Mr. George B. Christian, Harding's Private Secretary, issued the following statement, "All statements that President Harding was a klansman or that there was a White House initiation are absolutely false. He held decided views contrary on their methods." Dr. Charles E. Sawyer, Harding's physician, also made a similar statement.

These birds do not number at the present time more than 1,800,000 at the most. "Imperial Wizard" Hiram W. Evans, on June 30, 1923, stated at Dallas, Texas, that the Klan then numbered "more than a million." Yet, to hear the Klan blow-hards, always anonymous, of course, there are now 10,000,000 members in the U. S.

Anyone wishing to know the character of the hooded crew from authoritative sources is invited to send a two cent stamp to the writer, Huntington, Ind.

GLICKSMAN PRIZE WILL BE AWARDED

Senior Women to Be Honored
For Character and Service

A prize of $50 is to be given to the senior girl ranking highest in character and in campus community service. This award, established last June by friends of the late Mrs. Harry Glicksman, is to be awarded annually, according to terms of the trust establishing the prize, to a woman in the senior class in recognition of intellectual attainments, high womanhood, and service in the college community.

The purpose of Mrs. Glicksman's friends was to perpetuate her memory and influence by providing an incentive for high character and community service among women of future generations.

President Birge last spring appointed the following as a committee to select the recipient of the prize from year to year: Dean F. Louise Nardin, Dean F. Roe, and Miss Ruth Garwood. The first award was made at commencement of 1923 to Mildred Martha Downie '23, Madison, a home economics senior who was a member of Omicron Nu, honorary home economics sorority, and vice-president of the senior class.

The prize will be awarded again this year and the committee, according to one of its members, will select the winner shortly before commencement.

MUSIC SCHOOL HAS COURSE IN PIANO

Under the direction of Miss Francis Landon, instructor in piano at the School of Music, classes in piano technique are being given this year for the first time in the history of the school.

Enrollment in the classes is compulsory for students beginning the study of piano at the school, and the present enrollment totals more than 45. One-half hour, three times a week, is given to this work and credit for it is included in the credit given for piano training. At the end of each semester an examination is given the classes covering the technical work studied.

"The classes in piano technique have resulted in an excellent standardization of piano work in the school, as well as in a uniformly higher standard of technical performance," L. A. Coon, of the piano faculty of the school said.

100 Econ Students Will Visit Prison at Waupun in May

Studying criminals and criminal conditions at first hand will be the opportunity of 100 students in Economics 161, criminology and penology, this spring when they take their annual inspection trip to Waupun, according to Prof. J. L. Gilliland, instructor in the course.

No definite arrangements have been made as yet but the trip will be made sometime after the first of May. When the conditions the students found there would mean something to them."

The state prison at Waupun affords a laboratory where the students have a glimpse of the things they have been reading about in text books during the year.

HAVE FOUNDED BUREAU FOR COLLEGE WOMEN

MILWAUKEE — The American Association of University women have established an employment bureau to enable college women trained for business positions to secure profitable positions.

Failure of employers in many instances to recognize the ability of college trained women has been the incentive for establishing such an organization.

Milwaukee manufacturers and business men have agreed to cooperate in securing jobs for the women, according to Miss Agnes Kenney who is superintendent of the bureau.
