TICKET SALE AND POSTER CONTEST OPEN FOR PROM

Mail Order Begins Tomorrow; Prizes Offered For Best Art Work

Two more departments of the prom committees have taken action, and announcement comes of the opening of the ticket sale and of a poster contest for which $15 in prizes are being offered.

Orders for prom tickets will be taken by mail beginning tomorrow, James G. Culbertson '25, chairman of the tickets committee announced yesterday. January 25 has been set as the deadline for the receiving of orders.

"Because of the fact that only as many programs will be ordered as there are ticket requests by January 25, those writing in after that date will not be assured of programs."

"Orders should state the number of tickets desired and first and second preference for supper hours, which will be at 11:30, 12, 12:30, 1, and 1:30 o'clock. Places and hours will be arranged according to the order in which requests are received," Culbertson said.

No money will have to be sent with the orders which should be addressed to the Ticket Committee, 225 Lake Lawn place. The date when the tickets should be called and paid for will be announced later, probably at the end of next week.

Spectators' tickets and tickets without the supper stub will be on sale at the University pharmacy and at Morgans.

Last year ticket orders were received by telephone, but because it was thought by the committee that that method was not feasible the mail order scheme was adopted.

With the opening of the ticket sale comes the announcement of a contest which is being inaugurated this year for the first time, a poster contest held by art publicity committee under the direction of Michael Stiver '25, chairman.

The committee is offering $15 in prizes, $10 for the first prize and $5 for the second. The contest is open to everybody. The minimum size for the posters is 20x30 inches and they should be made on heavy board, preferably illustration or Beaver board.

Posters should be delivered to the art laboratory in the engineering machine shop north of Science hall, according to Stiver. Announcement of the winning posters will be made in The Cardinal the following day.

Local merchants have agreed to place all the posters that are turned in to the committee in their show windows during the week before prom.

DISCUSS WORLD TOPICS AT SOPH COMMISSION

The plan of having discussions of live world topics at meetings was the action taken by the Sophomore commission at the weekly meeting in the Y. M. C. A. It was decided to have a leader open up and direct discussions of some interesting, vital subject. Everett Onstad '26 will lead the meeting with a talk on "Should we as Christians fight against our brothers in war?" Carl Kasper '26, will direct the discussion the following week.

Appoint Six to Cardinal Staff

Six students were given appointments on the Cardinal editorial staff yesterday by the board of control at its regular meeting.

Alice Drews '26 and John McCausland '26 were promoted to the positions of special writers and Dorothy Johnson '26, Joyce Larkin '24, Edith Miller '26 and Esther Shreve '26 were given the positions of reporters.

All reporters' string books are to be turned in to Frances Warren '24, woman's editor, before 5:30 o'clock today, according to an announcement made at The Cardinal office yesterday.

CECIL BURLEIGH PRESENTS RECITAL

Popular Violinist Plays Original Sketches to Enthusiastic Audience

By L. C.
Before a crowd which completely filled the auditorium of Music hall the popular Madison violinist, Cecil Burleigh, presented the second faculty recital of the year, last night. Leon Iltis, professor of piano in the School of Music accompanied Mr. Burleigh.

The program included a group of sketches composed by Mr. Burleigh. From his group entitled "Five Indian Sketches" Mr. Burleigh played three pieces, "The Warriors", "From a Wigwam", and "Sun Dance."

"Mazurka" and short sketches entitled "Fragrance," and "Spring" written by Mr. Burleigh were given as encores.

Other numbers given in the recital were a "Sonata" from the works of Caesar Franck, "Nouvelle Fantaisie" by Sarasate, from the opera "Faust" and "Sarabande" and "Tambourin" from the compositions of Leclair. The Milandre-Burmeshter "Minuette" and the Sinding's "Old Melody" were the opening numbers on the program.

Mr. Burleigh's playing and personality show the qualities which so strongly characterize his compositions,—sturdiness, straightforwardness, and poise. At all times natural and unaffected he has the ease which evidences strength and complete realization of the possibilities of his art.

CHARLES MASON REMEY SPEAKS HERE TONIGHT

Charles Mason Remy, author, poet, and traveler, will give a free lecture on the various problems of the countries of the Orient and Asia Minor at 8 o'clock tonight in Music hall. Mr. Remy has been making an extended tour through the Orient and Asia Minor. The lecture is being given under the auspices of the International club.

YELLOW CAB COMPANY AWARDED CONTRACT

The prom transportation contract has been awarded to the Yellow cab and transfer company in addition to the handling of traffic at the Capitol. Fraternities and other organizations are urged to call Norman Clark, B. 4028, student representative, or Valentine Guenther B. 176, chairman of transportation, as soon as possible to make their arrangements.

TO INTRODUCE PROM FOX TROT TOMORROW

The prom fox trot composed by Gilmore will be introduced at the pre-prom dance tomorrow night at Lathrop. This new method for introducing the prom fox trot will be used for the first time tomorrow evening.

CARDINAL REPORTERS

All reporters on The Cardinal staff must turn their string books in to Frances Warren, woman's editor, before 5 o'clock today.

OUTER GATE ONCE MORE FUNCTIONS AS UNITED BODY

Club Plans to Organize Men Into Activities and Co-operate With Union

Outer Gate, organization of non-fraternity men is again functioning as a single body. The group lead by Fergus G. Chandler '25 which had withdrawn from the original group has reunited with it. The organization is headed by Cyril Ballam '26.

The club as now formed plans to organize men of the university into the various activities. A meeting of Outer Gate and Wisconsin Union officials tonight will start action on plans for more definite organization of the Wisconsin Union of which all men students are considered members.

If aims of Outer Gate and the Wisconsin Union can be attained the organizations will work in harmony for furthering plans for the entertainment of unfraternity and unorganized groups.

Chemists to See Picture Showing Making of Films

The motion picture, "A Trip Through Filmland," will be shown at 4:30 o'clock today in the auditorium of the Chemistry building.

The film, which is here under the auspices of the chemistry department and the Photoart house, is the best picture of the industry obtainable and should be of general interest to everyone, especially persons interested in photography, the exhibitors state.

The picture tells the romance of film-making from its beginning in the cotton field and silver mine to its completion in the kodak, besides touching on the film industry in Hollywood.

CON EXAMINATIONS AT BASCOM HALL

Condition examinations in the College of Letters and Science, in all courses excepting Economics, will be held at 1:30 o'clock Saturday in Room 165 Bascom hall instead of at 1 o'clock as previously announced; those in Economics will be given at 1 o'clock Saturday in 401 Sterling hall.

STUDENTS VOLUNTEER REPORT CONVENTION

Delegates to the student volunteer convention held in Indianapolis December 30 and 31 and January 1 will give their reports at a meeting of the Y. M. C. A. members at 7:30 Tuesday evening. A committee is deciding what delegates will speak and will announce the list of talkers later.

CARDINAL CIRCULATION STAFF OFFERS JOBS

Positions are open on the Cardinal circulation staff, according to Earl Wheeler, circulation manager. All those interested are requested to call at the business office or call Wheeler at B. 200.

Twentieth Century Dinosaur Eats Way Up State Street

Way back in the ages when it was 25 below all the year 'round or maybe 125 above, and when dinosaurs and archeopteryxes played hide and seek on the hill, the green monster which lumbered up State street yesterday afternoon would have felt quite at home.

Gorging itself on snow it seemed to be affected not at all by the incongruity of its surroundings or by the bold gaze of the twentieth century despoilers of its prehistoric habitat.

Coming, seemingly, from nowhere, and, with only a temporary stop at the library it pursued its leisurely way until it disappeared in the wilds somewhere along University avenue.

Introduce New L. and S. Courses

Some interesting new subjects have been approved by the Letters and Science faculty which may be of help to the weary student who feels he has taken about everything the university has to offer.

The history of American political ideas is a new two credit course in the Political Science department which is to be taught by Mr. Saunders.

World politics of Africa and the Near East is a two credit course that will be instructed by Prof. F. A. Ogg.

Mr. J. P. Harris will teach a three credit course in municipal administration.

While these are the only subjects approved so far Prof. C. A. Smith states that there will probably be other new subjects offered this semester which have not as yet passed the Letters and Science faculty. Among these is one in the geography department.

BIRGE EULOGIZES PROF. SLAUGHTER

Tells of Late Teacher's Rare Ability to Instill Spirit of Classics in Students

The following eulogy on the death of Prof. M. S. Slaughter, chairman of the Latin department, was received from President Birge yesterday:

"The sudden and unexpected death of Professor Slaughter brings with it a great loss to the university. He was a humanist in the fullest and best sense of the word. His character and temperament as a teacher found their basis in the human and humane qualities of the classics, and he had a rare ability of making these qualities live in the hearts of his students."

"Horace and Lucretius were the authors whom he taught with most pleasure—the poet who has been the companion of men of culture in all times and countries, and the poet whose science and philosophy have the closest appeal to the thought of the present. No wonder that students found him an inspiring guide into Latin letters as a source of illumination for their own problems of thought and life."

PROF. REED TO DIRECT SPANISH AT ARIZONA

Prof. Frank O. Reed of the Romance language department will leave the university next semester on a year's leave of absence, to take charge of the Spanish department, of the University of Arizona at Tucson. Professor Reed was called last summer, but was unable to go as the university was unwilling to release him on so short a notice. He was also called to take charge of the Spanish department of the University of Michigan.

VOTING SYSTEM WILL BE REVISED TO CURB FRAUDS

Court's Investigation Proves Present Methods Too Lax

The election system at Wisconsin is to undergo complete revision.

"After conducting a two month's investigation of the last election the Student Court found certain things radically wrong with the present system, and on the basis of these findings the court recommended to the student senate several changes," Theodore R. Hannon, grad, chief justice of the court stated last night.

As a result of the investigation he announces two major faults in the election system. Multi-voting was practiced. Students who came to vote discovered that their names had already been used for a vote and were crossed off in the directories. Fraudulent stuffing of the ballot boxes occurred also.

Should Initial Ballots To be certain each voter casts but one ballot the court suggests that the fee cards be checked against the two directories, one check before, and one after voting.

To eliminate fraudulent stuffing of the boxes the court suggests that the ballot clerk who hands out the ballots to the voters be required to place his initials on the face of the ballot, and that the receiving ballot clerk be required to initial the marked and folded ballot before dropping it into the box.

Senate Drafts Rules "The student senate and the student court have united to do away with the defects found," said Hannon. "In an effort to have election regulations definite and permanent the judiciary committee of the student senate has drawn up a number of regulations for conducting the elections which are to be voted upon at the next meeting of the senate," Harold R. Maier, 24, chairman of the senate judiciary committee said last night.

The suggested regulations provide for a new type of voting booth and the proper distribution of election booklets. They provide further that the majority of the members of the election committee be seniors and that the chairman of the election committee be a senior.

Dean S. H. Goodnight says of the system of checking the fee cards against the two directories and having the ballots initialed:

"I am entirely favorable. The system may be a little cumbersome, keeping some students from voting, but I say then they need not vote. There is no reason students should not be required to present fee cards for many more things, voting included."

PLAN TO PUBLISH PROM CARDINAL

Sigma Delta Chi Chapter Again Secures Contract to Edit Paper

The Wisconsin chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity, will again publish a prom edition of The Daily Cardinal this year. Walter Plewke '24, business manager of The Cardinal, and Joseph F. Lawler '24, president of the Sigma Delta Chi chapter, will complete the contract this week.

Juniors of the journalism fraternity will direct the work of publishing the edition. Wes. W. Dunlap '25 and Edward Rohrbeck '24 have been named by Porter F. Butts, Cardinal editor, to act as editor and business manager, respectively, of the edition.

The paper will again be a souvenir edition and will be delivered to all prom boxes. Letters will be sent to all prom party chairmen early next week asking the names of all prom givers and features of various parties.

200 PERSONS AT ANNUAL PIG ROAST

Friends of Our Native Landscape Hold First Winter Meeting

Approximately 200 persons attended the annual boar roast of the Wisconsin chapter of the Friends of our Native Landscape and the State Horticultural society held in Lathrop parlors last night.

Old English decorations were made use of. A small cast pig with an apple in its mouth and a red ribbon on its tail was brought in and carved by the head carvers, Professors W. D. Frost and W. O. Hetelkiss. The Varsity quartette represented the singers in the procession.

After the banquet a series of musical selections were given, among which were several numbers by the quartette. A masque entitled "Nordic and Tropic" written by Miss Ragna Eskell, of the Illinois chapter, was presented, the speaking parts of which were taken by Helen Ollis '26 and Ruth Mathews '26 of the Wisconsin players.

The Friends of Our Native Landscape was first organized in Illinois in 1913. It now has chapters in Illinois, Wisconsin and Iowa. The Wisconsin chapter was founded in 1920.

"It is an association for the preservation and the enjoyment of natural scenery," Prof. F. A. Aust, secretary of the Wisconsin chapter, stated. "Its object is to educate as to the value of native beauty, and to aid whatever steps are being taken to protect natural beauties in the landscape."

AGRICULTURE SIGN UP FOR LITTLE INTERNATIONAL

Students in the Agricultural college will sign up for the animals they will groom and show at the Little International Saturday, January 19 according to an announcement made by George R. Sery '24, manager, at the Saddle and Siroin meeting last night. "Fitting will not, however, begin before February 11," Sery stated.

It is expected that more animals will be available than heretofore. Last year more than 225 students "fitted" representatives of the five classes of live stock in the university's herds and flocks.

S. G. A. Library Makes No Charge For Books Drawn

Books may now be drawn free of charge at the S. G. A. library in Lathrop hall. Any S. G. A. member may draw a book for a period of two weeks; after that time, 2 cents a day fine will be charged.

The S. G. A. library contains all of the latest and best fiction and non-fiction books. Among the most popular are "A Lost Lady" by Willa Cather; "The Florentine Dagger" by Ben Hecht; "Captures" by John Galsworthy; "The Blind Bow Boy" by Carl von Vechten; "The Bright Shawl" by Joseph Hergesheimer; "End of the House of Alard" by Sheila Kaye-Smith; and "The Changeling" by Donn Byrne. Three new books which have been ordered and are expected within the next few days are "The Rover" by Joseph Conrad; "The Able McLaughlins" by Margaret Wilson; and "The Dance of Life" by Havenlock Ellis.

S. G. A. GIVES WOMEN CHANCE TO PAY DUES

There are still 86 women who have not paid their S. G. A. dues, according to Lois Jacobs '24, president of the organization. This week end each of these members will be reached either by telephone or by personal interview and will be given every chance to pay their dues. If, by any chance, they fail to respond to this last appeal, they will be called before the judiciary committee sometime next week and some definite action will be taken.

SPECIAL SHORTHAND AND TYPEWRITING CLASSES

will be organized beginning at the opening of the second Semester, Feb. 5, for the benefit of University students. Registration Feb. 2 and 4. A large number should avail themselves of this opportunity.

SWAMP FROSH IN SECOND CONTESTRegulars Win By 35 to 21
Score; Third Meet Set
For Tuesday

Varsity swimmers triumphed for the second time over the frosh last night in the second of a series of three practice meets being held previous to the Iowa meet to be held next Saturday night. The final count was 35-23 to 21-13. The frosh took the first two meets held before the holidays and have determined to make it three victories when the meet is over next Tuesday night.

Herschberger repeated his performance of last Tuesday in swimming the 40 yards in 19 seconds flat. This boy took two first, in addition to going far towards winning the relay for the frosh.

Steinauer's warning to the members of the team had its effect, for nearly every man on both squads reported for action. Following were the results:

Relay—Won by frosh in 1:21. (Stevens, Grigsby, Ratcliff, Herschberger.)

Dives—McGinnis, frosh; Simpkins and Gerber, varsity, tied for second.

40 yard dash—Herschberger, frosh; Grigsby, frosh, and Crane and Porter, varsity, tied for second.

Breast stroke—Czerwonky, varsity; Bell, varsity; Hotten, frosh; time 2:49.

Plunge—Dummer, varsity; Straus, varsity; Cook, varsity.

100 yard dash—Herschberger, frosh; Gerber, varsity; Mageath, varsity.

Back stroke—Czerwonky, varsity; Bauman, varsity; Parker, frosh.

End of Semester
to See No Change
in Women's Sports

The end of the first semester with final examinations does not mark the end of winter sports and gymnastics for women.

The registration that again takes place on February 11 and 12 is merely a re-registration at which time new schedule cards must be made out. Each individual must take the same athletic work again. The only change will be a probable rearrangement of hours in case conflicts occur.

In the now crowded "advanced squad" sections of basketball and baseball of the sophomore and freshmen classes, those who have not proved themselves as efficient as has been expected, will be put in less advanced sections.

CAPTAINS CHOSEN
FOR LAKE RACESTwelve Women Have Entered Teams Being Formed By Mildred Rieck

Captains for the men's teams representing various schools of the university have been chosen for the races which are to take place on Lake Mendota at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon according to announcement made last night. Teams composed of both men and women will take part in the 220 yard race.

The captains of the teams are John Clasman '26, college of letters and science; Leslie Kleval '26, college of agriculture; William Greeley '24, college of engineering; Willis Wood '25, law school; W. Tressler '24, medical school; Earl Wheeler '25, school of commerce.

About twelve women have entered their names up to date, and five more are needed to complete the teams, which are being made up under the direction of Mildred Rieck '24. A team of graduate women students will also compete in the race. The women's races will take place at 2:30, and they will race the same distance as the men.

with attachments for beating cream and eggs, kneading bread, and even polishing silverware.

The home will be completed about June 1, when it will be opened to visitors for one week.

MAT SEASON WILL START SATURDAY
WITH FAST MEETFrosh to Meet Varsity to Line Up Material For Season

Wisconsin's wrestlers will make their first formal appearance of the season at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the armory, when the varsity meets the frosh.

Coach Hitchcock has been holding eliminations all week in an endeavor to get a line on his men, and in preparation for a cut on the squad, which will take place soon. The frosh have been included in the eliminations, and their squad will also be cut. The coach desires to carry a squad of about fifty men for the varsity and the same number for the freshmen. This is approximately seven men for each of the seven weights.

Those wrestlers who have shown up best in the eliminations of this week will take part in the meet which is being held Saturday. Eliminations are not yet complete, but men who have won out in those completed include Goodman, Chapman, Benbow, Holmes, and Bieberstein.

Goodman, who will wrestle for the varsity Saturday in the 115 pound class is taking the place of Hanson who dislocated his elbow shortly before the vacation and who will not be in condition for several weeks. Hanson had been the best contender for the 115 pound class.

Benbow, captain of the squad, will enter the meet in the 125 pound class, Holmes in the 135 pound class, and Chapman will replace Gregory in the 158 pound class. Bieberstein who is a veteran heavyweight from last year's squad also will work Saturday in that class. Best men for the 145 and 175 class have not been picked yet.

Hitchcock is working his men hard in preparation for the first meet with Chicago here January 26.

LONDON — "The Children's Bible" is the title of a new abridged edition of the Scriptures being prepared by Cambridge university for school use. The text will be trimmed so as to be about two-thirds the size of the authorized version.

Ol' Winter Returns;
Hockey Team Set
For Hilltoppers

All of the varsity hockey men are in high spirits today. Winter is back! The thaw did not hurt the ice in the rink and neither did the snow. It will be swept and flooded tonight and should be in good shape tomorrow.

The Marquette game Saturday at 3 o'clock will be a good one. The Hilltoppers have been practicing for some time and will give the Cardinal pucksters plenty of work to do if they expect to get a victory. Coach Blodgett said the team is in good shape. He expects to try McLean, who at present is playing right wing, at goal guard.

A meeting was held last night and the men were instructed in team play by the coach. The officials are looking for a sophomore and a junior manager. This is a good chance for some junior, as this year's junior manager will be made next year's varsity manager. Anybody interested should see or call Coach Blodgett.

MARTIN DIRECTS
SKI HIKE SUNDAYOuting Planned By Winter
Sports Club For Both Men and Women

A ski hike, which is open to all men and women of the university will take place Sunday afternoon under the direction of the Winter Sports club.

"If you have a pair of skis, join the hike, no matter whether you can ski or not," George Martin '23, director of winter sports said yesterday. "Hikers will meet at the pumping house at the foot of Park street at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, and will hike out to the brick factory hill west of the city where the skiing will take place. A bonfire will be built to roast weiners and marshmallows, and these with buns and coffee will be served for lunch."

This ski hike will be the second of a series of winter sport events which will be held throughout the winter months under the direction of Martin who has directed the organization of the Winter Sports club. Two cross country ski races are scheduled to take place January 26 and February 28.

FIRST ICE RACES
TO BE HELD ON LAKE TOMORROWProgram to Include Events
For Both Men and Women

Exhibition skating, relay races, and dashes will start the winter sport program at 2 o'clock Saturday, January 12, on the special rink prepared on Lake Mendota.

This was announced yesterday by the department of intramural athletics, which is furthering the interest of winter sports along with its efforts to champion all athletic events at the university.

The program for Saturday includes an intercollegiate race, and inter class race, a half mile relay race, a 100 yard dash, and an exhibition of fancy skating by campus stars. Each team in the relay race will be composed of four men, each skating 220 yards. The inter class race will be open to co-eds only.

The annual race across Lake Mendota and back again is scheduled for January 19, at which time the long distance skaters will be enabled to test their endurance and staying power. Bob Blodgett was the winner in this event the past two years and the present race will determine his successor.

The international ski tournament, which promises to be one of the most spectacular sights ever witnessed in Madison, is booked for February 9. This meet is open to skiers all over the country and from the entries which have been pouring in of late, the affair promises to be a record breaker.

TWO GAMES SCHEDULED
IN GREEK BASKETBALL

Games scheduled for tomorrow, in the second round of the interfraternity basketball tournament will be played at 1 o'clock in the men's gymnasium. The teams playing at this time are Kappa Sigma vs. Lambda Chi Alpha and Beta Theta Pi vs. Phi Sigma Kappa.

WISCONSIN WINS: A TRIBUTE

"In Professor Rostovtzeff of the history department we have found a man who has gained the admiration of his students by the manner in which he lectures. He is eloquent because he has a command of the language and rare ability in phrasing sentences. He is intensely interesting because he knows his subject and lives it. He is easy to follow because he prepares his lectures thoroughly, presents a definite subject, discusses it clearly and analytically, and covers it completely in the time allotted, and he is inspiring because of the scholarly and masterly way in which he carries on his work."

Such is the tribute which the Commerce magazine paid to Professor Rostovtzeff in an editorial two years ago. Now that the news comes that he has refused an offer from another university we cannot help but reiterate this tribute. More scholarly than most of the teachers in the United States, he has been able to give some of his scholarship to his students in a way which makes the subject live for them almost as it lives for him. His scholarship was recognized when he was made a member of the French Academy and now he and Charles Haslins of Harvard, formerly of this university, are the only members of this famous institution in the country.

It is amazing how vivid and clear his lectures are, how much they stimulate and appeal to the imagination. Having lectured in English only a year before he came here, he was able to make his students understand perfectly within a few months. It is difficult to add much to the statement of the Commerce magazine except to say that during the two years which have passed since its utterance, he has grown in the students' estimation accordingly.

It is good to see that Wisconsin will make every effort to keep her valuable teachers. It would be a shame if the case were otherwise, as it is only too apt to be. We are glad that professor Rostovtzeff has decided to remain on the Badger campus.

SELF GOVERNMENT AND ELECTIONS

The Student court has made the suggestion and the Student senate has laid the matter on the table for consideration. The suggestion is one which may help alleviate chances for fraudulent balloting in student elections, a plan whereby fee cards will be used in voting and each ballot will be signed with the initials of the student casting it. The court has been spending a deal of time in investigating the elections of last November, it has looked into the situation carefully and deliberated upon a remedy. Now the senate has its suggestion and waits only for some expression of student sentiment and to deliberate upon the matter itself.

Must it be taken for granted that some new scheme in carrying on elections must be devised? Possibly. After such a serious mishap in the junior elections last fall, after unfavorable publicity swept the country from coast to coast in connection with them, it would seem evident that some change must occur. But a change, you say, added precautions such as the use of fee cards and initials, does not such a change indicate the downfall of student self government as it should be, self government of individual by himself? If a close check is to be put on the actions of each student poll, does that not mean that university students taken collectively cannot be trusted?

No it does not mean that, not quite, anyway. It means the same age-old thing which one finds anywhere and everywhere—that the majority must suffer because of the small minority. In an institution of this size there are bound to be a few individuals who are willing to take steps to the detriment of the mass.

The precautions are for these few, directed at them specifically and not at the student body generally. It is as if they were not of the student body. Yes, some precaution must be taken in order to safeguard those who are to be trusted. The precautions suggested by the court seem good. They do not involve too much waste of time at the polls; they are sure of success in their aims. At first glance it would seem that the senate would do well to adopt them.

SELF GOVERNMENT AND EXAMINATIONS

Again, in the proposition that examinations be held at Wisconsin on the honor system, one comes up against student self government. There are so many sides to this situation that it is difficult to determine just which is the right one. Perhaps it would be well to look about us first before coming to any definite decision.

At Princeton examinations have been held on the honor system for several years with marked success. Perfect freedom is allowed students while they are writing examinations. They are permitted to leave the building during the period. Princeton men say that the system is splendid in every respect, that it awards the student with more self-esteem than he otherwise would have, that there is much less unfair work than there would be under the police system, that it is much easier for all concerned. Such a report comes from other eastern colleges.

Why is it that the honor system will not work here, if it will not? Students in mid-western institutions of learning are accused of being more immature than their eastern brothers. If such an accusation were justifiable, then perhaps there might be an argument against the honor system. For surely it will not work in secondary schools. But that argument is without foundation. There is little difference in the average maturity of central and eastern students. What one has not he makes up in a different quality.

The system works in eastern schools: it will work here. In fact, it has worked here, time and time again.

The principle difficulty would be in the matter of students informing on one another. That they will not do, not openly at least. But they will do it silently, if the honor system is adopted, they will do it by sending offenders to coventry, a much worse penalty than having offenders make a few extra credits. It can be depended upon that the large majority will welcome the honor system, fall into the spirit of the thing with wholehearted enthusiasm. For the majority are students who are capable of governing themselves, who are glad of an opportunity to govern themselves, who will appreciate what it means to be trusted, who will profit by the rise in self-respect which will evolve from being trusted. And those few who are not in favor of the proposition because they "would rather be able to crib in a pinch" and "get one over on the prof," some of them will fall in with the scheme. Those who do not, they will be sent to coventry and will suffer in the loss of their own self-respect.

Editorial Quips and Facts

The landscape club became traitors last night and instead of feasting their eyes on beautiful scenery, feasted their palates on pork.

Evidently a poor student can not profit by experience. If he cons a subject because he is lazy and does not study, he repeats the operation in his con examination work.

The last time the ski club held a hike, three men showed up for the event and of those three, two were town people. There's going to be another hike Sunday afternoon. Will king winter and his ally, scenery, draw any more this second time?

Another below zero spell is reported to be coming from Canada, but the weather isn't one of them.

There are 16 studying days left before examinations.

A PROPER BALLADE OF LATE DAYS

Now is the drabness of a winter's day

Made rosy by our merry thoughts of Prom,
For yet there are no pesky bills to pay,
Nor worry where the money's coming from.

But e'en these thoughts have slid from out our ken.

The question which has worried us of late
And worried others, is exactly when

Will march the girls who've never broke a date.

But widely sought, the answer reached us quick.

Dean Goodnight called us on the telephone—

"I'm sorry, but Miss Brown is sick."

He said, "The other will not march alone."

STERLING TRACY REVEALS CHEAT

Tricks Rival Newspapers to Get Proof That Latter Was Stealing News

Sterling Tracy '22, is alleged to have tricked a rival newspaper in a newspaper war being waged in Memphis, according to the exposure revealed by the Commercial Appeal of that city recently.

In order to get definite proof that the News Scimitar was stealing death and lodge notices from the Commercial Appeal, fake notices were framed up and printed in the early edition of the latter. They appeared word for word in the Scimitar. The notices were rigged up with the names "U. S. Tom Only" and "W. U. S. Thad Abbey", so that the first letters would stand for "U stole this one," and "Why U Stole This Also." Tracy is said to have been at the bottom of the ruse.

In commenting on the ruse and its supposed perpetrator the Commercial Appeal said of the notices that "They have a Wisconsin swing."

WORLD of SOCIETY

Greeks Say Adieu As Final Social Privileges Cease

Six social organizations have made arrangements to entertain this evening, thereby taking advantage of the semester's social closing. Decorations will be put up on the shelf while all the bright lights will be concentrated over the study table for a few weeks, when the "Prom or History" will break the spell and Wisconsin will once again be in "Blossom Time" socially.

Inner Gate

Members of Inner Gate are entertaining at a formal dancing party this evening at the Sigma Chi chapter house. Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Rose have been invited to chaperon.

Alpha Chi Omega

An informal dancing party will be held tonight at the Alpha Chi Omega house. Mrs. M. McGowan is to chaperon the affair.

Sigma Kappa

Psi of Sigma Kappa has planned a sleigh ride party to be given this evening. Mrs. C. W. Calkins will chaperon.

Mu Phi Epsilon

Active chapters of Mu Phi Epsilon, musical sorority, will be entertained at a luncheon-bridge Saturday noon at the studio of Mrs. Ruth N. Beckwith, member and patroness of the sorority. A yellow and white color scheme will dominate

Southerners Plan Merry Mardi Gras Costume Affair

A Mardi Gras Southern ball, an elaborate costume affair, unique in its nature, will be held this evening from 8:30 to 1 o'clock at the Cameo room, under the auspices of the newly organized Southern club, of which Royce Nichols '27, is president and founder.

Distinctive Southern features will make up the program for the evening. A queen, attended by festive spirits representing every Southern state, will reign during the affair. A shower effect of multi-colored balloons, bright lights, and smilax, will convert the Cameo the placards, table bouquet, and room decorations.

Delta Kappa Epsilon

Active members and pledges of Delta Kappa Epsilon are entertaining at an informal house dance this evening Mr. and Mrs. C. Stephenson have accepted the invitation to chaperon.

Barnard hall

Residents of Barnard hall are holding an informal dance in the parlors tonight. Chaperons will include Prof. and Mrs. E. B. Skinner and Miss E. D. Young, mistress.

Acacia

room into a lovely Southern garden. Special entertainment during intermission will include a minstrel skit, A Spanish dance, and a clog dance.

Appropriate southern melodies will be played by Thompson's six-piece orchestra, including "Bud" Buell, "Skeets" Gilmore and Bob Talley. Ginger ale punch, a famous beverage of the south will be served.

Engagements

Burke-Keyser

Mrs. M. A. Burke, 618 West 114th street, New York city, has announced the engagement of her daughter, Katherine Genin, to Henry Thomas Keyser of the Majestic Hotel, New York city. The announcement was made at a tea given at the Majestic December 29 by Mrs. Burke.

Miss Burke was a member of the class of 1921 and a graduate of Barnard college, Columbia university, class of 1922. She was one of the 19 graduates of Barnard college to be elected to Phi Beta Kappa.

Hesperia literary society will meet at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening. All members are requested to be present.

Lew Has Hard Time With Love-making "RENO"

Presented at the Strand.
Featuring Carmel Meyers,
George Walsh, Lew Cody, and Helene Chadwick.

By HITT and MISS

You may be married in the sight of man but that does not insure your being recognized as a "Mrs."
by the laws of New York State, so Goldwyn's latest picture warns us through five reels.

It would be hard to say whether the moral of the picture is to know where to get your divorce, or a warning against getting any at all.
However, we feel sure that the picture has a moral. Although the plot becomes rather humorous at times, as for example when Lew Cody finds himself with three wives instead of one according to the laws of Carolina, yet there must be an underlying "deeper meaning" such as always accompanies divorce plays.

Poor Lew Cody, the star lover of the screen, has quite a hard time of it in a rather artistic way. His ability of love making is slightly cramped by the fact that wives are not very good material to work on, especially one such as Carmel Meyers, who really prefers her first husband. And so there is nothing left for Lew to do in the end but —well, we won't give it away.

Some rather tragic pictures of married life are shown on the side, which makes the audience realize

Up Stage Bits

BY TORMENTOR

In spite of the forbidding name of Mrs. J. Duro Pampinelli, leading character in "The Torchbearers", the prom play is a play which will interest all of us, especially a few of us who make amateur dramatics our specialty.

For that's what the play's all about—a keen and most amusing satire on amateur dramatics—the kind of dramatics which a group of enthusiastic society women sponsor and then produce in Horticultural hall or some other appropriate place.

Mary Boland and Arthur Shaw as the wife and husband who are nearly estranged due to the theatrical bug which has obsessed the wife, headed the capable Broadway cast of the play in 1922.

With the best of university talent enlisted and with Roy French directing, the prom production of the play should be one of the best things the Wisconsin Players has ever done.

As for the play—Arthur Horn-blow said, "A hilarious burlesque on the efforts of amateur actors;
the second act is worth any price."
That's high praise from Mr. Horn-blow.

Sid Thorson — Rotten make-up,
just a fair show.

Gordon Wanzer—I liked it.

Comments on the Princeton show:

Bill Purnell—I've never seen a better book for comedy, situation, and arrangement. Music and staging was a little weak.

Book Great Things At Shows This Week

By golly, here we wanted to do all kinds of studying for exams next week, but we can't see ourselves running from one show to another already, because there is some big time stuff coming to Madison next week.

The Strand—For the first part of the week, there will be shown the comedy "Luck" with an all-star cast including Johnny Hines and Charles Murray and Violet Merse-reau. For the second part of the week, the Strand booked Booth Tarkington's "The Boy of Mine" in which two children actors, Ben Alexander and a little negro boy will star. The latter is a First National attraction.

The Majestic—For the whole week "Loving Lies" taken from the story by Kyne "The Harbor Bar" will be shown. It features Evelyn Brent and Monte Blue, and is said to be one of the most realistic and thrilling pictures of the Atlantic coast that has ever been filmed.

The Madison — The Paramount picture "Don't Call It Love" with Nita Naldi and Jack Holt will be run. It is said to be a picture especially fitted for sophisticated student audiences, and, hush, hush, also very well adapted for people who intend to go to Prom. "Don't Call It Love" is a society comedy drama.

The Parkway—From Sunday to Friday, D. W. Griffith's "The White Rose" with Mae Marsh and Ivor Novello will be shown. The name Griffith implies that the picture is a big thing. For Friday and Saturday, the Parkway has booked the musical comedy "The Gingham Girl" with the original Boston company. We have heard airs from the "Gingham Girl" and we are going to see the show, which pro-who is now here with Haresfoot is getting funnier.

The next event on the program is Founder's Day. Many alumni all over the country will hear of Haresfoot activities at these banquets.

mises to be one of the best ones that will hit this town this year.

The Orpheum — Blossom Seeley will be here for the whole week.
She is supported by a capable cast and her act is called "Miss Syncopation." For the second part of the week, there will be another attraction besides Blossom, namely, Jim Donahue, a former student of Wisconsin, who will appear here in the musical number "Juvenile Stars," a clever song and dance skit.

HANOVER, N. H.—Dartmouth's fourteenth annual winter carnival will open February 7 for three days of skiing, tobogganing and fireworks.

COLUMBUS, Mo.—In a letter to all parents of students, the presi-

Stock Reducing Sale

A carnival of bargains—a more drastic cut in price than ever before attempted. The reason is obvious—an unusually backward season has resulted in our having more merchandise on hand at this date than in any other year on record—a situation without a precedent. We've gambled with the weather and lost. You who read this announcement will gain by taking advantage of the reductions quoted.
