WISCONSIN WELCOMES FRESHMEN TODAY

HARD WORK IS PROGRAM FOR BADGER TEAM

Coach Puts Squad Through Stiff Scrimmage Thursday

The weather was still warm yesterday but no let up in training on the Badger football field could be noticed. In fact the scrimmage that Coach Richards put his men through was more gruelling than ever.

Choosing the two squads to be as evenly matched as possible, the coach began play with the first team receiving the kick off. Both teams seemed to be much stronger on offensive than defensive playing.

Holmes, halfback, captured the oval and carried it down the field in grand style for a large gain before he was tackled. Then by a series of line plunges in which both Holmes and Elliott figured for good advances the ball was pushed across the second's goal line. Davey kicked goal.

The scrubs then took the offensive and managed to carry the fight to their opponents three yard line in surprisingly short order. Here, however, as was done many times last year in varsity conflicts, the regulars line suddenly stiffened and the ball was lost to Captain Weston's men on downs. Once during the contest the first team was forced to relinquish the ball.

For the varsity Coach Richards had the same men in the line-up who skirmished Wednesday, with the exception of the guards and one halfback: Davey quarter, Sundt fullback, Elliott right half, Bunge center, Stark and Scotty tackles, and Weston and Knapp ends. Holmes replaced Gibson at left half and Cosgrove and Scherneck filled the guard positions.

Cosgrove of Fond du Lac is a dark horse who suddenly turned up Wednesday for practice for the first time and who will probably be used to solve the line problem. He had not been in a uniform for five years but was put in the scrimmage the same afternoon of his appearance as tackle on the second team. He is in good condition, weighing 185 pounds, and proving himself a good lineman he was given a chance with the first teamers yesterday.

Coach Tom Jones took charge of the punting practice in which various members of the back field candidates tried their toes, Rollie Williams, Sundt and Davey making good boots. Beginning tomorrow, however, Coach Jones will devote most of his time to organizing the freshmen grid candidates, many of whom have already reported for uniforms.

ROOMING LIST IS MUCH TOO LONG

Rent Situation Indicates Slump In Enrollment of Current Year

Rooms for 1,036 men students remain untaken on the university Y. M. C. A. list, according to a report on rooming conditions issued yesterday by the sophomore commission.

The report does not bear out the early season housing shortage scare which turned many students to other institutions. Over 400 double rooms are listed as well as 92 single rooms and 72 with capacity for more than two occupants. Although the total can be somewhat discounted because of the failure of landladies to report rooms rented, there are still more than enough to take care of the late arrivals, and short course students who will enroll in the College of Agriculture in six weeks.

UNION STAGES FIRST MIXER

All-University Event Will Be Held Saturday Night

The university social season will swing into full tilt tomorrow evening at 8:30 when the Union board stages its first all-university mixer in the men's gymnasium. Thompson's best orchestra has been engaged to furnish jazz for the occasion; the stunt committee has arranged plenty of surprises; refreshments have been provided; and a real time for every one is promised by those in charge.

The Union board wants all new students to understand that the mixers are big informal dances to which men and women go alone, in groups, or in couples, and at which formal introductions are superfluous. The purpose of the mixer is to aid new students in getting acquainted and to give old students an opportunity to renew last year's acquaintances and meet the freshmen. Many acquaintances have been made at past mixers which have ripened into friendship and lasted through four years of university life. Indeed, many relationships far more serious and lasting than friendship have been traced to these rollicking university affairs. "Here's a chance to meet that frosh girl!" is the way one enthusiastic engineer expressed it yesterday.

It is the purpose of the Union board to give one mixer a month throughout the year, in addition to those put on by other organizations.

ENTIRE STUDENT BODY MEETS FOR GREETING TO NEW CLASS

MODESTY
Campus Neighbors Think Student Bathers Need More Clothes When Not in Water

The balmy air of these Indian summer days seems intoxicating. Not exactly that it makes one groggy, but it has made student frequenters to the shores of Lake Mendota feel a little too keenly the "get next to nature" call. In other words, a bathing suit in the water is the proper idea, but when it alone garbs the swimmer's frame upon his journey to and from the lake the idea just isn't.

That's what residents in the campus district think, so they called the office of the perservers of the city's peace and told them. Down there they knew about an ordinance that covered the situation and they chose to warn the offenders of its existence. It runs in this wise: Wear not upon the streets suits of the species bathing except be it well covered with another article of clothing known as a bawth robe or rain coat.

Thus it is that though the air is free, one can't expose too much of oneself to it.

NEW UNIFORMS FOR R. O. T. C. OFFICERS

The entire reserve officers training corps will be clothed in flashy new uniforms and should make an excellent appearance this year, according to information received from the office of the commandant. The uniform is valued at $45. Students must furnish their own shoes, however, while the overcoats will be issued by the department and are to be turned in at the end of the year.

Joke Artists Paged by Octopus

Forward, fools!

This is the time when it pays to be foolish, because the more foolish you are the more fortunate you are.

The Octopus is offering a prize of five dollars in cash to the person contributing the best original joke. To the person offering the second best joke, two dollars will be given and to the next three, year subscriptions to the Octopus.

Anyone is eligible to enter this contest. The only restriction is that the joke be original, be it prose or poetry. Even short stories, not over 150 words, can be sent in. The contest closes at noon, Saturday, October 4. By that time all jokes must be sent to Rodney Welsh, Octopus office, Union building.

Each joke that is sent in will be numbered and judged by the board of editors at its meeting on the first Monday in October.

Parade on Upper Campus to Precede Speaking Program

The greatest crowd of students and faculty members ever assembled at any university function is expected to collect on the upper campus this morning at 10:50 o'clock to welcome the class of 1924 to Wisconsin and give them a demonstration of what Wisconsin spirit really means. A mighty column of first year misses and green capped yearlings, escorted by the upperclassmen, will move up the center of the campus to the foot of the Lincoln monument, where the program of welcome will be held.

No 11 o'clock classes will be held today, except in case of rain; so it will be possible for every student to be present. The Council of 40 has asked that every student in the university, from grad to freshman, help make an imposing pageant of the classes by being present and taking an active part.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PAGEANT

Prof. C. I. Corp and assistants, distinguished by cardinal badges, will direct the march to Lincoln terrace.

Freshmen meet on lower part of upper campus—in front of the clock tower of Music hall.

Sophomores form on the walk in front of the Engineering building.

Seniors, Graduate and Law students gather in the lawns west of North hall and South hall. Those whose last names begin with any letter from A to M assemble at North hall; those with initials from N to Z at South hall.

"The one great critical phase of this Varsity Welcome," declares Prof. Julius Olson, who is in charge of the function, "is whether the student body will turn out. Everything with respect to any future development in the welcome depends on that. That means that every individual ought to feel his share of the responsibility in the Varsity Welcome."

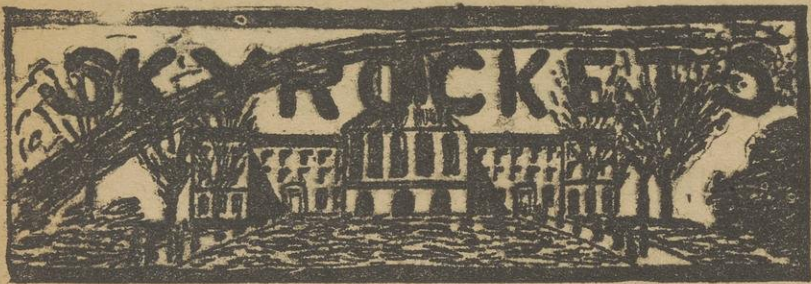

If today's demonstration turns out to be the success that is expected, it is planned to make the preparations much more elaborate in the future. Distinctive caps will be provided for the different classes to wear, and various other paraphernalia will be acquired. Those who have planned the pageant see an immense field for future developments.

A brief program will follow the pageant. President E. A. Birge,

VARSAITY OUT TO WELCOME THE FRESHMEN

Lincoln Terrace 11 O'clock Today

OVERHEARD A FELLOW just yesterday telling another chap what a time he had when he was home. It seems he lives in Mexico and is quite the collegiate Bull Hound, so when home he took one of those dark-eyed Mack Sennett penoritas to a cabaret. Scarcely had she been seated a moment when she spotted a large four bladed electric fan overhead. It was revolving slowly and as she cast her bountiful eyes up on it a look of peaceful adoration spread on both corners of her mouth. He could not distract her. So in desperation he asked "What are you looking at?"

"Oh, sen'ur," she beamed, "At that wo-nderful electric fan!"

Oh, almost forgot—you see she was fond of revolutions.

Now that ol'Henry has reduced his "COMMODITIES" (whatever that may be) to a pre-war pre-ice it won't be long before sundaes will be a dime and the movies a jit—and bursars' burdens, oh, couple of dollars say, then we can all go fussing Eh wot?

AND finance-ers say that German marks are going up. Cheer up ye French fizzle, maybe other marks will follow suit.

HELPFUL HINTS

To ad writers—Be more careful. We will point out some mistakes in yesterday's edition:

FOR RENT—To girls, double rooms excellently located; 1910 Kendall; $8.50 each.

The "w" was left out of two. Misspelling is always bad; also it would be better to indicate the model by numeral, 1910 is rather out of date.

WANTED—A woman of fastidious tastes to share double room with student.

This speaks for itself.

LOST—Diploma of Fred Nath. Our'n is lost too, but we don't advertise it.

WANTED—Barber for Friday and Saturday.

This chap is presumably an engineer; however, would advise a shave also on—say Wednesday.

O. Ridgy Nelle wrote us a poem today:

RUSHING

We like to rush,
To go to a show
Eat luscious feeds
And "Orph" the vrst row.

To shovel and bull
About this and that;
To laugh and sing
And praise THE frat.

BUT THE GIRLS, God bless'em
Must be formal and neat,
Say "My de-ar! You are lovely,"
And—"I think you look sweet."

That duck spoke a mouthful:
"With bonnet and curl,"
When rushing rolls 'round
Thank God I'm no girl!

GREEN CAPS!!!

Did you notice the swagger that the last year's Frosh put on when they spied 'em? It is probably a Grand and Glorious feelin', Eh?

"There little froshie
Don't you cry
You'll be a Sophomore
By and by!"

Notice that wind yesterday too!!
And that reminds me of another thing—

You acan always tell a Frosh from any one else because anyone else looks at a girl's face to see if it's someone they know, and a Frosh looks at her ankle because—well because it's good looking, I s'pose. Honest Injun.

Seeks Mandamus To Get Student Bonus

Testimony on mandamus proceedings in which Ellis M. Lindemuth of Superior asks that court to issue a writ of mandamus compelling the service board to grant him a student bonus, was closed in circuit court and the case taken under advisement by Judge Stevens. Lindemuth registered for war service in Michigan and then moved to Superior, Wis. The board refused to grant him the bonus on the grounds that he was not a citizen of Wisconsin at the time of his registration.

AT THE STRAND

Tourneur pictures have "atmosphere." Perhaps no other producer could have conveyed on the screen the air of brooding mystery that invests the latest Tourneur picture, "The White Circle," which is now showing at the Strand theater. The picture was adapted from the famous story by Robert Louis Stevenson, "The Pavilion on the Links." The plot centered around the attempt by a London banker to escape with the funds of an Italian secret society. He has offered the hand of his daughter to a wealthy adventurer in return for his assistance. On the lonely Scottish coast a drama of love and conflict is fought out. In addition there will be shown a Mack Sennet comedy "By Golly" with Charles Murray and Harriet Hammond.

NO LACK OF EMPLOYMENT IN WISCONSIN

Lay-offs in Industries Balanced by Demand, Says Report

There is no serious unemployment in Wisconsin at the present time. Labor people, however, are claiming lay-offs in many industries. Frank J. Weber, Business Agent of the Milwaukee Federated Trades Council, claims that 2500 men have been laid off in Milwaukee. At Racine the J. I. Case Company, cut out all over time and night shifts two weeks ago. The Hamilton-Beach Manufacturing Co. is closed entirely. Lay-offs have also occurred in Beloit and Janesville machine shops.

At the eleven free employment offices of the state there is as yet no surplus of applicants for work over calls for help, except at Racine. Last week calls for help exceeded applications for work at every office, except Racine, Rhinelander and Sheboygan. At the last two offices the figures were even. At Ashland, Green Bay, La Crosse, Superior and Wausau the total calls for help were considerably in excess of applications for work.

Paper Mills Active

There is dullness in the leather working industries and in some classes of machine shops and foundries. On the other hand, paper mills are as active as ever, and due to the strike last spring there is marked activity in woods work and in the wood working industry generally. The demand for common labor is still keen, although some proposed construction work has been abandoned for the time. At the employment offices there is a keen demand for common labor and woods labor, but a surplus in clerical and semi-skilled lines.

AUTUMN HATS SHOW ORIENTAL COLORS

The newest hats are like the foliage. They remain the same as the spring models as far as texture is concerned, but the summer colorings change during the early fall days for the deeper and richer hues of the glorious autumn woodlands. Deep, rich tones prevail, the pheasant tones, oriental colorings and other vivid hues. Here are two small hats for first wear; both are brilliant blue shades with gold trimmings.

Wilson To Be Active In Campaign, Report

WASHINGTON—President Wilson will actively participate in the democratic presidential campaign when "the proper time comes," it was stated today at the white house. He probably will not make any speeches, officials said, but will confine himself to statements on campaign issues, particularly the league of nations. While he has not received a formal invitation from democratic headquarters to take part in the campaign white house officers said he considered it his duty to do so as a member of the party.

LET'S MAKE IT BIG!

THE most impressive welcome in the history of the university is scheduled for 11 o'clock this morning. When classes are dismissed at 10:50, men and women from seniors to freshmen will assemble on the upper campus. The presence of the faculty will contribute to the significance of the welcome. In numbers, in beauty of setting, and in dignity the event will occupy a unique place in the college world.

How will the welcome affect the student body, and what will be its reaction on university spirit? In a previous editorial the fact was pointed out that freshmen will catch the Wisconsin spirit of teamwork for the alma mater. But the event will prove equally stimulating to members of the upper classes. At the beginning of the year they are to assemble in one place, to extend a joint welcome to the incoming class which will soon succeed them. No more effective method could be devised to arouse the enthusiasm and feelings of unity which during the summer have lain dormant.

The Lincoln statue, which gives the keynote to the program, contributes a definite inspiration. Every student will give thoughtful consideration to the life and character of the man who achieved and served. Can the effect in rousing students to make the most of their present opportunities be predicted or measured? Upperclassmen have passed through the period of adjustment to college life. Their experience has fitted them to utilize the training which classroom and campus offer. The Lincoln spirit of perseverance and refusal to be daunted by difficulties can turn opportunities into deeds.

To the seniors and juniors the welcome should appeal with special force. Their undergraduate days are numbered, and the number doesn't run into six figures. The months which remain will rush by with constantly accelerated speed. These upperclassmen realize with regret that the service which they give must be rendered "now or never." To the Varsity Welcome, which towers pre-eminent in its power to create and revive university spirit, they should give enthusiastic backing.

The class of 1923 will assemble for the first time as sophomores. The Varsity Welcome is the first university function to which they have been summoned since acquiring their new status. By their response today the condition of sophomores will be accurately indicated. A turnout of an overwhelming majority will demonstrate that the class of 1923 possesses the pep and spirit of a strong class.

In order to establish a new standard for the Varsity Welcome the presence of every upperclassman is urgently necessary. The event is capable of developing Wisconsin spirit as is no other single occasion during the entire year. Every upperclassman owes it to the freshmen, to himself, and most truly of all to Wisconsin, to be present when the Varsity Welcome begins at 11 o'clock.

THE ROOM SHORTAGE SCARE

SHORTAGE of rooms has been more or less of a bane with university authorities ever since enrollment records began to totter. It was expected that the present session would see the breaking point, with students actually turned away because of a dearth of rooms.

The result has been accomplished in a manner entirely unexpected. Prospective students heard the rumors and remained away without so much as conducting a personal investigation. Now, instead of a shortage there is a plentiful supply at reasonable rates minus the anticipated increase.

It is not yet too late in the game to make it a point to see that every available room is occupied. Students themselves can be the guiding factors in putting the proposition across. Numberless newcomers and as many upperclassmen know of someone or other who has been the victim of the unfortunate circumstance herein related. Those who have gone to other schools are out of the question; those who remained at home awaiting an opportunity to enter at Wisconsin should in all fairness be informed of the present status of affairs.

Increased enrollment, better facilities, and more commodious quarters are all indications of a bigger and better Wisconsin. Let's make it a real thing by putting a student in every vacant student room in Madison. In the future someone ought to attach the kibosh to wild rumors before they materialize or gain any headway.

200 BADGER TEACHERS

AT STATE FAIR SCHOOL

More than 200 teachers from all parts of the state attended a training school in home economics which was conducted at the State Fair at Milwaukee by Mrs. Nellie Kedzie Jones, of the home economics department of the University of Wisconsin Extension division. This number included county superintendents, supervisors, and rural school teachers.

The training school consisted of a series of lectures delivered each morning during the fair by prominent speakers. This system gave the teachers an opportunity to visit the fair buildings during the rest of the day. Five large tents provided lodging for the teachers and they made their own beds and washed their own dishes as part of their training.

Assisting Mrs. Jones in the work were: Mrs. D. H. Otis, Mrs. C. P. Norgord, and Mrs. R. E. Vaughan of Madison.

WOLFE EXPECTS BIG MEMBERSHIP IN "Y"

As a result of many questions regarding university memberships, Frederick E. Wolfe, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., is anxious to more fully explain the qualifications for membership to students. Because the membership fee of applicants is taken care of by the association, and is not paid by the applicant themselves, and because of the benefits of possession of the membership, Mr. Wolfe looks for a large enrollment of new students in the next few weeks. "Y" work by the upperclassmen has already made a good start for the year, and arrangements for participation by first year men are being made now.

METHODIST PASTOR OFFERS SCRIPTURE COURSES TO FROSH

Aim is to Familiarize Students
With Ideals of New Testament

Following are some of the interesting themes of chapters in the course presented to freshmen by one of the university pastors, the Rev. E. W. Blakeman, at the University Methodist church, beginning Sunday next:

"Religion and Friendship." The stranger, mutual rights, civility, the development of courtesy, Christian culture.

"The Home." Initial conception of the modern home. Integrity of the member in the home, women, children, etc., in various civilizations. Jesus's contribution. Paul's dogmatic pronouncements. Threatening evils. Spiritual guarantees. The fatherhood and brotherhood idea.

"Meaning of Work." Old Testament notion of livelihood. Growth of lordship and slavery. The New Testament and dignity of labor. Evolution of liberty shown in attitude toward work and shown between different workers. Sacredness of a man's productions. Honor in study.

"Integrity of Classes and Individuals in work." An honor system, its basis, the ethical issues. Jesus' indignation at wrong. His willingness to champion rights of weaker brothers or erring ones. His method of developing solidarity. Love and Right interdependent.

The class will be assigned one of such topics each week with several Scripture references and a number of leading questions. Campus application of the rather well-known ideas and ideals of the New Testament is the aim.

Dr. Blakeman brings to this course twelve years of experience as a pastor at Wisconsin and a preparation in theology, ethics and sociology. All freshmen and only the freshmen are to be admitted.

FEDERAL BOARD TO START OFFICE HERE

At a meeting of the Federal Board students held yesterday, M. H. Tiege, Federal Board Cancellor and Coordinator at the university, announced that Madison would be one of the five Wisconsin cities to have a federal board office. This office is to be established here within the next few days and is to have complete authority for the placing in training and re-habilitation of the disabled service men. This welcome news to former service men, will cut much of the needless red tape and delay formally experienced when all claims had to be handled through many offices and sub-offices.

The Federal Board students at the university now number over 200 and include both regular and special students. A student remains in training until completion of his training or until his rehabilitation has been accomplished. In the most of cases the men will need the full four year course before being able to compete in the industrial or commercial fields with normal men. Since the previous raise, each student receives $100 per month while in training.

Many of these men won honors or high honors at the university last year and in only rare cases were disabled men below the scholastic standards. One man carried 20 hours and secured 57 grade points the second semester of 1920.

For relaxation the men have formed the Gun and Blade club. The club rooms are maintained on the first floor of the Union building where Mr. Tiege's office is also located.

The present officers of the club are Elison M. Boerke, president; M. W. Brown, secretary; Norman Koelsch, treasurer. Mr. Scolten and Mr. Myrland are on the executive and entertainment committees. It is probable that by next year the club members will maintain their own club house and mess.

GLEE CLUB HOLDS TRYOUTS FOR MEN

First Glee club tryouts were held yesterday at 5 p. m. in 27 Music hall, and more than 25 candidates were given vocal tests by Mr. Swinney.

Tryouts today will be held at 4:30, and again on Saturday from 9 a. m. until noon in Mr. Swinney's office at 27 Music hall. All upperclassmen and graduates interested are urged to tryout for positions at these hours. Special appointments will be made with those unable to appear by noon Saturday, Mr. Swinney announced last night.

The applicants who are successful in the preliminary tryouts will compete in final tests next week, the date to be announced later. Regular rehearsals will begin next week and will continue twice a week for the remainder of the season.

The organization of the Glee club has commenced with a marked enthusiasm that promises much for its success during the coming year.

The officers for the coming year are: John Warren, president; Earl Brow, vice-president; John Gregg, secretary; and Walter Blair, business manager. The business manager has practically completed the booking of the 1920-21 engagements. Besides the annual ten day trip through Wisconsin, week-end engagements in Beloit, Janesville, and Baraboo are scheduled and a home concert will be given early in the spring.

AT THE FULLER

Fate plays strange tricks with the plans of mortals. Little Doris Moore was drawn from her secluded home down into the maelstrom of the metropolitan underworld. How, when her chances for happiness seemed slimmest, Fate, in the person of honest Bill Lake, intervened, and she found the great love for which she was destined, you will see in R. A. Walsh's initial production "The Deep Purple," based on Paul Armstrong's famous stage success of the same name, at the Fuller theater today.

ORPHEUM PRESENTS POPULAR PROGRAM

Music, comedy, dancing, and gymnastics feature the school opening bill at the Orpheum. Although the program offers nothing startling or sensational, no act is curtailed without a couple of encores.

Elsie Williams and Co. easily carry off headline honors with a rather cleverly acted farce of the time worn theme where a young couple embark on their martial career bound to quarrel never. But no sooner have they left the minister than they are at swords point over some triviality. Miss Williams is very good to look at and that counts for a lot. Alden MacClaskie as the young husband fits in well.

Joe Darcey is a versatile white "colored" man. His patter, his songs, and his dancing score a huge success since he was called four times. Great Libby thrills his audience by a series of audacious daredeviltries on a bicycle. The climax of his thrillers is a triple spin. Burke and Betty do some singing and dancing and cornet playing that get across "strong." Miss Betty plays a couple of songs on her cornet and Burke sings some songs that lift the act a little above the ordinary.

Balancing 320 pounds with one hand is the feature of the Baltus Trio act, the last on the program. The three men have a series of endurance and strength acts that are good.

AT THE GRAND

Can a man, by his last will and testament, properly bequeath his only daughter to a man she never has seen? The question is raised by "Love's Harvest," in which Shirley Mason is to be starred at the Grand theater beginning today.

Miss Mason, who will be remembered for her sweetness and charm is to play the part of a girl who has that dilemma thrust upon her. Though she is only 15 years old at the opening of the play, she shows that she has a will of her own, and she solves the problem confronting her.

An amended complaint asking that the court set aside the findings and award of the industrial commission was filed this morning by the Smalley Manufacturing Co. of Manitowoc and the Maryland Casualty Co., in their case against the commission and Matildo Dusold of Manitowoc.

Mrs. Dusold filed a compensation claim against the Smalley company for the death of her husband, who, she alleges, died as the result of injuries received while in the employ of the company. The commission filed findings on the case last July, granting the widow an award.

NEW PHARMACY BULLETIN SHOWS SCOPE OF WORK

With a view to answering the needs of a constantly increasing number of students interested in pharmacy and allied subjects, the 1920-21 bulletin of the Course in Pharmacy of the University of Wisconsin has recently been prepared, outlining the work offered in the two year and four-year courses, as well as graduate work. A staff of some 12 persons comprise the teaching faculty, who cooperate with the departments of botany and chemistry in the teaching of subjects allied to pharmacy and in the use of laboratories.

Two courses are offered in pharmacy, a two-year course leading to the degrees of graduate in pharmacy, and a four-year course leading to the degree of bachelor of science, pharmacy course. The former consists in more strictly scientific and technical training than the longer course which allows for a more general education and fits a student for special lines of work, such as cultivation of medicinal plants, pharmaceutical journalism, and special work in manufacturing establishments, research, or government service.

Connected with the department is the Wisconsin Pharmaceutical garden, a 38-acre plot near the university, and laboratory which offer facilities for the observation and cultivation of medicinal plants and for the preparation and testing of crude drugs, pharmaceutical preparations, and chemicals.

The dispensary of the course in pharmacy which was originally established during the S. A. T. C. period will be continued with the completion of the Bradley Memorial hospital at the university and will afford advanced students in the course an opportunity to improve themselves professionally.

METHODIST CHURCH PLANS NEW COURSE

Miss Lella Bascom will offer a course upon "The Social Principles of Jesus" this fall at the University Methodist church at 9:30 a. m. each Sunday, open to all students.

The initial lesson assigns as readings: Matthew 22:35-40; 26:36-46; 6: and John 8:16-18. The following questions will be followed in the discussion:

1. What limit is there to the responsibility of the individual for social wrongs outside of his immediate control?

2. In what way does our commerce show the principle of solidarity? In what way does it deny that principle?

3. What is the relation of the principle of brotherhood (a) to the negro problem? (b) to the Japanese problem?

4. When is competition unbrotherly?

5. Is there any moral difference for a Christian between receiving interest upon bonds of (a) our government, (b) a country club, (c) a brewery, (d) a munition factory?

6. Analyse the "brotherhood" practiced by college fraternities.

UP 25 CENTS Green Cap Wearers Undis- mayed as Headgear Prices Are Boosted

In spite of the fact that the wearing of the green has advanced 25 cents in price, the frosh started promptly Thursday morning on their verdant campaign.

It is rather hard to get accustomed to them though. You know they haven't any rubbers under the chin, and even the long locks which hang down over the noble brows, aren't long enough to stick hat pins through. And that wind we had yesterday. Well, all the weight is below the cap. As a result, it was not an uncommon scene to see frantic freshmen galloping down the street after their green ads. They really don't stay where they are put, so a little adjustment is necessary every time they feel to see if the tie is right, or the hair is combed.

Thursday sophomores were quiet and civil while their younger brothers were becoming accustomed to the new scenery, but from now on freshmen might just as well leave their books at home while they learn what the word "button" means.

Ex-service men who are disabled receive exemption from the Federal board, and do not have to wear the green cap.

Asks State Churches Into Film Movement

Wisconsin churches are to be given an opportunity to join in the "within the church" movement for the adoption of the motion picture as a means of giving a more universal appeal to the church message. Mr. DaPrun will arrive in Madison soon to lay before ministers a plan devised by prominent clergymen and laymen by which churches will be able to obtain a regular film supply to fit their needs. The movement is endorsed by the heads of the leading Protestant denominations. It will include a biblical film which may be used in the Sunday school or church service on Sunday. The films will be made by churchmen from the church's point of view. The church film movement has grown in recent years until now more than 2,000 churches have their own projection machine.

SEES CHEAPER MEN'S CLOTHES

Price Cut But Textile Firms Will Reduce Cost, Belief

CHICAGO—Recent price reductions of from 20 to 25 per cent announced by textile manufacturers will be reflected in the prices of men's clothing next spring, Eli Strouse, president of the National Clothing Manufacturers, declared Wednesday night at the association's convention.

Mr. Strouse added that men's clothing prices can not go down more quickly than the high cost of labor and materials, and that people must remember that the cost of textiles is not the only factor entering into clothing prices.

Mail Order Firms Cut.

CHICAGO—Price reductions of from 10 to 20 per cent in several lines of merchandise were announced today by Sears, Roebuck and Co. and Montgomery Ward and Co., two large mail order houses. Cotton staples, such as muslins, cambrics, sheetings and poplins led the list in amount of reductions. Cuts were also made in men's and women's ready to wear clothing and shoes.

BAND HOLDS FIRST REHEARSALS; MANY MUSICIANS REPORT

The University of Wisconsin concert band met for the first rehearsal Wednesday evening and a second Thursday afternoon to prepare for the convocation and Varsity Welcome this morning.

Tryouts for positions in both bands have brought out much material and made it possible to develop two bands of well arranged instrumentation. The concert band already numbers over 50 pieces, and the second band has grown to the number of 45.

E. W. Morphy, who has studied abroad and is a recognized authority in the music world, is this year's director. Mr. Morphy also spent eight years at the University of Illinois.

In speaking of the work already accomplished, Mr. Morphy said:

"The enthusiasm manifested at the rehearsal the other night will certainly tend to make the band a power in the university community. The splendid spirit of cooperation among the men should make for wonderful results."

Hog Cholera Spreads In State Counties

The state department of agriculture reports that hog cholera continues to spread in certain counties in the state.

Fresh outbreaks are reported in La Crosse county near West Salem and Bangor; Trempealeau county, near Galesville; Grant and Crawford counties, near Boscobel; St. Croix county, near New Richmond; Dodge county, near Beaver Dam and Juneau; Dane county, near Sun Prairie; Sheboygan county, near Sheboygan Falls; Kenosha county, near Kenosha. The following warning note is sounded to breeders in all infected districts: "Don't put your faith in irresponsible vendors of improved hog remedies. Accept the assurance of all responsible authorities, and of all progressive experienced swine breeders, that there is no cure for hog cholera, and that there is no prevention for it except hog cholera serum, properly prepared and properly administered."

WAR ON FIRE IS STATE AIM

The fire prevention division of the Industrial commission has issued a special program for "Fire and Accident Prevention Day" Oct. 9, which was proclaimed Monday by the governor. Efforts will be made to have special programs in all public schools, with emphasis on the careless practices which are responsible for most fires and many accidents. Civic organizations are also being canvassed to insure the observance of the day throughout the state.

During the last three years the property loss due to fires in Wisconsin has been practically stationary. The total fire loss was $6,276,575 in 1917, $6,051,055 in 1918, and $5,972,200 in 1919. This represents in reality considerable reduction in the frequency and seriousness of fires, since building values, insurance totals, and replacement costs, have all increased greatly during these three years.

At least two-thirds of the fire loss is preventable, according to the Industrial commission, which has charge of the fire prevention work of the state, being due to violation of law, or to flagrant carelessness.

APPLES HIGH; LACK PICKERS

Shortage of Help Cause of Big Price, Says Market Body

"Many people are wondering why the price of apples remains so high with so big a crop everywhere," said Director Nordman of the Division of Markets today. "The trouble lies in the scarcity of farm labor. I hear from many parts of the state of farmers filling their silos and doing other fall work with many men short, though they are offering in some cases as high as $5 a day. Such farmers may have many fall apples ripening and dropping on the ground to rot, but obviously they cannot drop their other work which is suffering to pick and market apples, even if they could get men to do it." "It would help the apple situation some," continued Mr. Nordman, "if the hundreds of people in every town or city who have automobiles would go out to where there are orchards and offer to pick the apples and carry them to town themselves. In this way the farmer could get a reasonable price for his apples and the auto owners would get good apples at probably about half what they have to pay in town."

DEBATES Wisconsin, Illinois and Mich- igan Men to Take Floor Against California Team

Four inter-collegiate debates will be the outstanding features of the work of the Forensic societies this year.

The first of these will be a series of all-American debates. The Universities of Wisconsin, Illinois, and Michigan will pick their two best debaters, on the basis of the work they do in inter-collegiate events this year. California university, Leland Stanford university, and the University of Southern California will do the same. The six men from the middle west institutions and those from the far western universities will be divided into two teams, and each one of the teams from the middle west will debate a team from the west.

Arrangements for the all-American debate have been under way since last spring. The idea is a new one for the literary societies to take up, and was suggested by the public speaking department, under the direction of Prof. James M. O'Neill.

The first inter-collegiate debate is scheduled to take place January 18. On December 3 there will be a debate between Hesperia and Philomathia, the subject of which will be announced soon.
