BADGER'S DRIVE FOR ONE WEEK STARTS MONDAY

Hundreds of Workers To Open Campaign For Subscriptions

The 1924 Badger subscription campaign, to be of one week's duration, will begin tomorrow morning.

Hundreds of canvassers led by men and women captains will start work in the morning on the hill and in the various fraternity, sorority and rooming house districts. Last instructions and buttons were issued to captains for distribution among the team members on Saturday. The mark set for the drive is 5,000 copies.

Kirchner Heads Sale

The sales campaign is directly under the supervision of Willard Kirchner '24, subscription manager, who will be assisted by Helen Kingsford '24, director of the women captains.

Captains are as follows:

Offer Prizes

A vest pocket camera has been donated to The Badger by William J. Meuer, proprietor of the Photocraft shop for presentation to the person obtaining the greatest number of subscriptions. The man and woman obtaining the highest number of subscriptions will be presented with a gold filled fountain pen. Pens will also be given to all members of the team obtaining the highest score. The five men and five women with the highest scores will be placed permanently on The Badger circulation staff.

Work Progresses

The business staff of The Badger is progressing rapidly in its work of organizing an advertising campaign according to Howard Lyman, business manager. Under the guidance of Lyman, who has had much experience in work on the Badger and other business staffs, a group of capable business assistants has been gathered and is now well along in the preliminary work. Lyman assisted on The Badger while a freshman in the capacity of copy collector.

Last year he was also a sophomore assistant, acting as purchasing agent. He is a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity, Scabbard and Blade, Skull and Crescent, and the Interfraternity council. Lyman hopes to add many pages to the advertising section this year.

CHURCH COUNCIL CHOOSES COUTU FOR PRESIDENT

Campus Religious Group Makes Semester's Plans at Meeting

Walter Coutu '24, was elected president of the Campus Religious council at the first meeting of that body Friday noon in the Y. M. C. A. Coutu assumes the office made vacant when Bob Gerholz '23, president last year, did not return to the university.

Plans for the year's work were discussed, and a tentative program outlined for a series of conferences to be held during the semester. The council will not conduct the annual March conference this year but will confine its activities to monthly conferences at which speakers of national prominence will be heard. Probably the most notable of the speakers who will address the conference is Miss Maude Royden, special preacher of the city temple in London who is a strong advocate for women occupying the pulpit. Miss Royden will come to Madison on February 16.

Other speakers who will probably be included in the conferences are: Allen K. Foster, Baptist traveling field secretary, George Craig Stewart, rector of the parish at Evanston, Ill., Dr. Ozora Davis, pastor of the Congregational church of Chicago, Harry E. Fosdick, author of a series of pamphlets which were published by the Y. M. C. A. and Harry Sloan Coffin.

Elman's Second Concert To Take Place At Armory

The Misha Elman recital, which is to take place at the university armory on the evening of November 1, will be the second concert given by this violinist in Madison. Elman has already made nine tours of the United States.

Elman is a native of Russia, and made his first appearance in the United States at the age of 15, when he played with the Russian Symphony orchestra in New York, January 1908. His English debut was made when he was but seven years of age, and his success established his European reputation among the foremost of virtuosos.

Rubel Is Composer of New Wisconsin March

A new Wisconsin marching song entitled "Carry on Wisconsin," written by Henry Scott Rubel '23 and George Allen Dorsey '23 is being published by Hook Bros. The piece will probably be on sale by the end of this week, according to the publishers.

WILLIAMS, GUDE HEAD FIRST OF SENIOR TICKET

Trost, Lunney and Tebell In Race for Class Offices

Rolland F. Williams, captain of the football team, is candidate for president of the senior class on the first student elections ticket to be announced officially.

Helen D. Gude is candidate for vice-president; Wilma M. Trost, for secretary; Julien M. Lunney, for treasurer; and Gustav K. Tebell, for sergeant-at-arms, on the same ticket.

Williams has won six "W's" in the two years—he has engaged in Conference athletics. He played football, basketball and baseball in his sophomore and junior years and now is playing left half-back on the football team.

"Home" in Iron Cross Williams is a member of Beta Theta Pi, Iron Cross, White Spades Star and Arrow, Athletic board, Council of 40 and the "W" club. His home is in Edgerton and he is enrolled in the College of Letters and Science.

Miss Gude is a member of Alpha Chi Omega and Phi Beta Kappa. She was chairman of the 1923 Junior prom supper committee and office manager of the 1923 Badger.

During her second year, Miss Gude was awarded sophomore high honors. She is a member of the Octopus staff. Her home is in Davenport, Iowa, and she also is enrolled in the College of Letters and Science.

Lunney was Prom Assistant

Miss Trost was a member of the indoor baseball team in her sophomore and junior years. She is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta, W. A. A. board, Women's Commerce club and treasurer of Outing club.

Miss Trost last year took part in Union vodvil. Her home is in Milwaukee and she is enrolled in the Course in Commerce.

Lunney was assistant general chairman of the 1923 Junior prom. He is a member of Phi Delta Theta.

Jewelry Store Displays Homecoming Poster Cup

A silver cup on display at Nelson's jewelry shop is to be the first prize in the Homecoming poster contest, according to Herbert H. Brockhausen '23, general chairman of the art committee.

The posters are to be so drawn that they may be used by Madison merchants for the center of their window displays. The only requirement is that the posters typify the spirit of Wisconsin Homecoming. No restrictions have been made as to the size, color, or number of posters submitted by each contestant.

Students in university art courses and in the Madison high schools will compete for the silver cup. The judges of the contest will be Prof. W. H. Varnum and A. N. Colt of the university art course, Architect Frank M. Riley, and Arthur F. Worth of the Madison Print shop.

The contest closes November 5, and the posters will be on display two days before the judges decision is announced. After the prizes have been awarded the posters will be distributed to Madison merchants to use in the window displays. Lucy Smith '25, assistant art director of Homecoming, will handle the details of the contest. After Wednesday, October 8, the silver cup will be on display at the Kamera Kraft shop.

WEATHER: FAIR

Fair weather is predicted for Madison Sunday and Monday with slowly rising temperature.

MEMORIAL FUND IS SWELLED BY GIFT OF BOARD

$3,000 Union Board Profits Added to Memorial Union Funds

The Union Board just added $3,000 to the Memorial Union fund as a result of the concerts, dances, mixers, and Union vodvil conducted by the board last year. This year a series of speakers will be held in addition.

"The students are not only given good dance music and carefully selected concert programs, but at the same time they can support a worthwhile cause," declared Morton Frost '23, chairman of Life-Membership week to be conducted the last of October.

"Your organization is doing fine work at the university, and it is admirable that you are able to show so substantial a profit which you are willing to contribute to such an enterprise as the Memorial Union project," said Walter J. Kohler, vice president of the Union Memorial, in a letter of acknowledgement to Leslie R. Gage '23, president of the Union board.

"We are only too pleased to do all that is in our power to swell the Memorial Union fund and to hasten the actual erection of a home for Wisconsin spirit," said Leslie Gage president of the Union board.

First Senior Summaries Arrive at Badger Office

Dorothy Clare, John S. Davis, Frank Wolfe, Kenneth Williams, and Felix Zuelow were the first five seniors whose summaries have been received at the Badger office. Margaret L. Brown, editor of the senior section, announced yesterday. Miss Clare was on the staff of the Badger last year.

Only 300 senior pictures had been taken by Madison photographers up until Saturday morning. Miss Brown said. Six hundred appointments for sittings have been made. As a photographer does not arrange for more than 25 sittings each day, every senior is requested to make an appointment immediately.

"Positively no summaries or pictures will be accepted after November 1," Gamber Tegtmeyer, editor of the Badger, said. "Summary cards and instructions have been mailed to all seniors registered on the Hill. Those who have not received their cards by Monday should notify us immediately."

RICHARDS' MEN HAND CARLETON SEVERE DEFEAT

Four Thousand Fans Watch Football Squad In Opener

By CHAS. J. LEWIN

Riding rough shod over the Carleton college football team, Wisconsin raised the curtain of the 1922 football season yesterday and handed the Minnesota collegians a 41 to 0 defeat.

About 4,000 fans shivered through a slow contest at Camp Randall and watched Coach Richards' Badgers "do their stuff" against the Blue and White machine.

The game itself was "just another of those things," but it gave Richards an opportunity to determine the extent of his offensive and defensive strength, and to see how well his reserve players could work under fire.

Williams Not In Game

Starting with a team riddled by injuries, two substitutes playing and Capt. "Rollie" Williams held on the sidelines, Wisconsin was not expected to roll up as large a score as it did. Before the fray was ended, a reserve gridiron had been sent into every position except right end. There "Gus" Tebell worked during the entire contest.

Despite the constant shifting of men, the Badger attack never faltered for a minute and Carleton was on the defensive except for a short time in the last quarter when the Northfield huskies captured the oval on Wisconsin's 15-yard line. An attempted drop-kick failed and the Minnesotan's solitary scoring chance faded into history.

Gibson Scores First

Six touchdowns the result of straight football, and five place kicks in the try-for-point, summarize the story of Wisconsin's scoring. When Gibby Gibson sprinted 50 yards for the first touchdown five minutes after the opening whistle, the Badgers knew that their "acid test" would be postponed for one more week, at least.

Offensively and defensively, Carleton was outclassed. It did not find the secret of success in attack until late in the second half when pass after pass enabled the Blue and White to advance into Wisconsin territory. Previous to opening up with the aerial attack, Carleton had received, tried a line plunge or two, and then punted in monotonous succession.

Execute Passes

The collegians were successful in five passes of eleven attempted. On the other hand "Shorty" Barr and his highly-touted ozone attack were unable to get started, seven throws being incomplete. Once Barr was thrown for a 12-yard loss before he could get the ball away.

Taft kicked off to Capt. Harry O'Brien who returned 10 yards in the first play of the game. Carleton punted and Barr returned 43 yards. Another exchange of kicks, two line plunges, and Gibson tore 50 yards around right end, plunging over the line just as a Carleton tackler grabbed him from behind. Tebell counted the extra point.

Play shifted up and down the gridiron during the remainder of the quarter, both teams resorting to the kicking game. Carleton took a forlorn opportunity of scoring by a drop-kick, but Montgomery's attempt was blocked and the ball

STANDARD OIL MAN TO SPEAK

Will Address Chemical Society
on "The Artist in Research"

Dr. Gerald A. Wendt of the Standard Oil company will address the Wisconsin section of the American Chemical society in the Chemistry auditorium at 8 o'clock on Wednesday October 11. Dr. Wendt's subject will be "The Artist in Research."

Dr. Wendt, who is doing research for the Standard Oil company at most promising of the country's younger chemists. He has succeeded in obtaining helium from tungsten by the use of temperatures approximately 40,000 degrees centigrade and has done extensive work on triatomic hydrogen and nitrogen. Dr. Wendt's apparatus has been a material contribution to electrometric titration. His subject is one that should be of extreme interest to everyone doing or conducting research.

A banquet for Dr. Wendt will be held at 6 o'clock on Wednesday in the private dining room of the University club. Reservations must be in the hands of Prof. J. E. Day, secretary, not later than Tuesday afternoon, October 20. A short business session will follow the program.

Y. M. C. A. Finance Drive Will Start This Month

The Y. M. C. A. finance drive will begin the week of October 22 and will continue until the entire amount of $5000.00 is raised. The students are being asked to contribute only one third of this year's budget, the balance being furnished by the parents, faculty, alumni citizens of Madison, and by earnings of the organization.

During the past years the Y. M. C. A. has served the students in many ways. Last year it cashed checks amounting to $150,898.03; it furnished 1218 jobs to university students, loaned money to 317, gave 150 other organizations the use of its rooms in which 587 meetings were held.

The Y. M. C. A. maintains on its racks newspapers and magazines of leading publishers; it furnishes writing paper and reading rooms to all who desire to use them. It also maintains a rooming house list to aid students in securing rooms. Each year incoming freshmen receive the Frosh handbook of which about 1000 are given free of charge.

Professor Fish To Speak On "Prospects of Peace"

Prof. Carl Russell Fish will address the city League of Women voters at an open meeting to be held at 8 o'clock Monday evening, October 9 at the Y. W. C. A. "Prospects of Peace" will be the subject of discussion.

"I am always ready and willing at any occasion to talk peace and its prospects, since world peace today is the most vital problem we have to face," said Professor Fish when asked to speak on this topic. Mrs. Frank B. Morrison, chairman of the publicity committee, urges men and women of the city to attend these Monday evening meetings which the league is conducting during the month of October to stimulate interest and discussion on public questions of the day.

The regular monthly meeting of the league will be held in the form of a 6 o'clock dinner on Wednesday evening, October 11, in the Christ Presbyterian church. Mrs. W. Z. Stuart, state chairman of the league will speak.

Frosh Women to Try Out For Tank Team Monday

Tryouts for the freshmen women's class swimming team will be held Monday at 7 o'clock, in the Lathrop pool.

Groups of four will tryout every 10 minutes, and all freshmen girls interested are asked to sign up on the poster which will be put up on the Lathrop hall bulletin board on Monday morning. Upperclass tryouts will be held Wednesday at 7 o'clock, and all entrants are asked to sign on the bulletin board before then. Those who are unable to tryout at either time are to report to Miss Alice Brownell or Olga Anderson.

230 Wisconsin Co-ops Subject To State Suits

U. W. Firm Among Those Facing Revocation of Licenses

Two hundred and thirty co-operative companies in Wisconsin including the University Co-operative company, Burke Cheese and Supply Co., Equity Farmers' Exchange, Wisconsin Equity Livestock Marketing Association and the Wisconsin Equity Dairy Marketing association, all of Madison face revocation of their license to do business in the state with their officers subject to fine and imprisonment for failure to comply with provisions of the new co-operative association law, Attorney General William J. Morgan announced today.

He has just been requested by Elmer S. Hall, secretary of state, to bring court action against the concerns to compel their compliance with the state co-operative law. Mr. Morgan declined to say whether he would immediately proceed to bring suits to cancel charters until he had time to look into the facts of each case.

The statute involved provides that the name "co-operative" cannot be used unless a company has complied with the provisions of the co-operative law enacted by the 1921 legislature. Using the term without complying with the law subjects persons involved to fine and imprisonment and corporations to revocation of their right to do business in the state.

HOARD STATUE NOT FINISHED

Memorial is Held Up Pending Purchase of Property

The completion of the Hoard Memorial statue which was started shortly before commencement just south of Agriculture hall is held up pending the purchase of the property immediately in front of it. The statue itself was completed last winter and was dedicated by a daughter of Ex-Governor Hoard.

The memorial is being erected by the voluntary contributions of farmers and dairymen all over the state in commemoration of Hoard's services to the dairy industry.

The memorial, when completed, will be similar in construction to the Lincoln Memorial at Bascom hall with a road leading to it from the Wisconsin high school. It will be impossible to place the base work of the memorial or build the road through until the property between the statue and the high school is purchased and the buildings on the property are raised.

Ex-Governor Hoard, who died in 1918, worked for the advance of the dairy business through his entire career as pioneer farmer, editor, political reformer, and public citizen. He came to Wisconsin in 1857, and started the Jefferson County Union, a country paper in 1870. In 1871 he organized the Jefferson Dairyman's association, and the next year the Wisconsin Dairymen's association. In 1885 he founded the Hoards Dairyman, and in 1888 was elected governor of the state of Wisconsin.

The Dairy and Food Commission was founded in his term. He was appointed to the Board of Regents in 1907, and was president of that board the next year.

TSCHUDY LEADS VARSITY HARES IN ANNUAL RUN

New Men Stand Out In All-American Varsity Meet

Lionel Tschudy '23 Varsity cross country runner, was the first man to hit the tape in the annual All-American-Varsity short course meet held yesterday. The race was run in good time and was featured by the excellent work of the new men on the squad.

Sherman, the only All-American to finish within the first ten places, sopped second. Valley and Perry, both sophomores, came in third and fourth respectively.

Morehead First Veteran

Morehead, an "aWa" winner, was the first veteran to cross the line. He placed fifth, and was followed by Ramsay and Wade, the only two "W" men on the squad.

Link, another new man, finished in eighth position. Rossmeisel and Daniels, "aWa" men, were the only other letter winners running yesterday. Rossmeisel came in ninth, while Daniels placed seventeenth.

Schneider, who was expected to finish up in the front ranks, was forced to drop out in the middle of the race on account of trouble with his side. Bergstresser suffered the same misfortune. Lange is another man who did not perform in his usual style.

Indicates Strong Team

The showing made in this first race of the season indicates that the Badgers will put a strong team in the field against Michigan on October 21, when the first dual meet of the year will take place.

The first fifteen men to finish the race are listed as follows: Tschudy first; Sherman (All-American) second; Valley, third; Perry, fourth; Morehead, fifth; Ramsay, sixth; Wade, seventh; Link, eighth; Rossmeisel, ninth; Cohen, tenth; Piper, eleventh; Powell (All-American) twelfth; Chase thirteenth; Smithyman, fourteenth, Herman, fifteenth.

Frosh Football Squad Is Weak Despite Coaching

Although Coach Keg Driver has worked hard and Woods, his assistant, has driven the squad over time to develop a smooth working offense and a reasonably effective defense, the freshman football squad seems only mediocre.

Upon its first test against the Varsity, October 4, McCormick, right tackle, and Nelson, right end, are the two men in the line that look like Varsity material. The backfield is stronger due to the large number of candidates for rear positions. In Poehlman, Colemar, and Williams are three men of ability.

Ed Williams from Sioux City, Ia., is the best all-around back on the squad. He can punt, drop-kick, pass exceptionally well. He is a little weak on defense as was shown in the first frost scrimmage against the Varsity. Fast runners of the Rollie Williams type seem to get by him easily at the safety position. This should be overcome quickly in an aggressive player of his type. Rauland, the second string quarter, although small has shown up very well in practice. He appears strong in the defensive game.

Gibby Fast Worker; Brings Home Bacon

Edward H. "Gibby", Gibson '23 is a fast worker when it comes to collecting free meals. Miss Vera Spinney, manager of the 4C cafeteria, reports that "Gibby" called after the game yesterday to claim the $10.00 meal ticket which he won when he ran 45 yards to score the first touchdown of the season in the Carleton-Wisconsin game. Whether the ticket will be used for quality or quantity of food the half-back declines to state.

went to Wisconsin on its 48-yard line.

The Badgers had advanced to Carleton's 24-yard line when the quarter ended. Line plungers in the second period brought the ball to the goal-line and "Shorty" Barr plunged over for the score, Tebell kicking goal.

Score Quickly

The third quarter saw Wisconsin's attack getting under way and the regular team back on the field, the official scorer was kept busy chalking up Badger points. Harris was the center pin about which the attack moved. After he had brought the ball to Carleton's four yard line Taft went over. A pass from Barr to Irish which netted 15 yards was the outstanding feature of the next score. Saari made the touchdown and Tebell kicked goal.

Taft scored one more touchdown in the third quarter. He also counted the final marker by intercepting a pass and running 30 yards to Carleton's 15-yard line, then grabbing one of Barr's torpedoes back of the goal-line. "Gus" Tebell missed his first try-for-point in seven attempts.

Below Plays Well

Although weakened by substitutions, the Wisconsin line played up to standard. Marty Below was the outstanding figure in the forward wall. He was down under punts with the ends and his savage tackling brought the Carleton receivers down in their tracks. Marty recovered one blocked punt near the Carleton goal, but the play was cancelled because Wisconsin had been offside.

Gus Tebell and Irish held down the ends in fine shape. In his first Varsity contest Tom Nicholls played a steady game at center.

Merrill Taft gained the most yardage from scrimmage. He totaled 81 yards. Gibson scintillated with his long run and the remainder of the Badger backfield showed up in excellent style.

Harris hit the Carleton line with steam-roller effect. Despite an injured leg, he never failed to gain. Carlson advanced for good gains in the second half.

The line-up follows:

Carleton Wisconsin

Bates R. E. Tebell
Middlemist R. T. Murry
Hawkins R. G. Hohfeld

Maloney C. Nichols

Drill L. G. Bieberstein

Sims L. E. Irish

Montgomery Q. B. Barr

Nordley L. H. Carlson

Cassell R. H. Gibson

Negro Boy, 7, Confesses Slaying His Playmate

MILWAUKEE — Elmer Kyle, 7 year old negro lad has confessed to police that he murdered his playmate Jakie Pfeiffer, also 7.

Enraged, he is said to have declared, because Jakie refused to share with him some pencils stolen from a Cherry street store. Elmer struck the boy while the two were standing last Thursday afternoon on the coal hoist at the Calloway company fuel dock at the foot of Knapp street, sending him headlong into the river.

Kyle is being held at Detention home. Under the law, police say, a child between 7 and 14 years old is presumed to be incapable of the commission of a crime unless evidence can show the child realized he was committing a criminal offense. Authorities, however, doubt if it can be proven that the lad intended to take his companion's life.

Boy Scouts Will Report Big Increase

Local council of Boy Scouts of America has increased 60 per cent in membership during the last two years, according to the report which will be read at the annual meeting of the council here the week of Oct. 15. The meeting will follow the close of the fiscal year which falls on Oct. 15.

Other reports will be read at the meeting, the yearly budget will be passed on, and officers elected.

Judge M. B. Rosenberry will probably be among the speakers. Scout executive, R. H. Overholser hopes to make a barbecue chicken dinner at the Yacht club one of the features of this year's meeting.

180 Grads Play at First Meeting Here

One hundred and eighty graduate students received their first lesson in a new course entitled, "How to Play," at Lathrop gymnasium last evening.

"Graduate students," said R. E. Noland, secretary and treasurer of the University Graduate club, "are tucked away in their offices and do not have a chance to get acquainted with other graduate students."

In a moment of seriousness of short speeches by C. S. Slichter, dean of the graduate school, urging the graduates to play as well as work, Prof. W. T. Root, a member of the graduate committee, who warned of the danger of over-specialization.

The purpose is to acquaint graduate students, create good fellowship, and have a good time. Officers will be elected Monday.

campaign, was Chicago advertising manager last year. He is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. Willard Kirchner, circulation manager, was associate in the circulation department last year. He was also circulation manager of the Octopus. Sam Estes, a member of Phi Delta Theta and of Skull and Crescent, who is assistant in the circulation department, was also assistant last year.

Group Departments

"The work of the editorial staff is rapidly being organized," Allen Walter, associate editor said yesterday.

The various departments have been grouped and classified so that people who have had lots of experience on particular types of work can handle them. The selection of places and sizes for the departments have already been made in the book. Many improvements and changes will be made if our plans are effected."

The larger page, adopted by the 1923 Badger staff, will be used again this year, according to Tegtmeyer's plans. Many more pages will be added, however, and extensions will be made to permit the use of more art work.

"We hope to have at least 550 pages in the book this year," Tegtmeyer said last week. "Our idea will be to fill it with less copy, which we think few people care to read, and more art work."

In the fraternity section, pillars in Greek style will be used as a decorative scheme. Drawings of fraternity houses will be made by artists for the section instead of using cuts of the houses. The satire section is to be greatly enlarged. The general theme of the Badger will be "Wisconsin women," to whom it will be dedicated.

Editor in Chief Tegtmeyer is a member of Phi Beta Pi and Alpha Chi Rho fraternities. He was treasurer of the sophomore class last year. Walter was business manager of the Literary magazine last year and associate editor of the Athletic Review. He also was a member of the business staff of the Roll Call, student publication at Culver Military Academy. He was sophomore assistant on the Badger last year, and is a member of Delta Epsilon Epsilon fraternity. He will have direct charge of the athletic, campus life, activities, and satire sections of The Badger.

Rachael Hazwell, a member of Alpha Chi Omega, is also associate editor. She will supervise the organizations, women's athletics, administration and women's sections.

Ellis Fulton, a pledge of Lambda Chi Alpha, who was engravings editor last year, will supervise the printing, art, engravings and photographic work.

Lewin Heads Publicity
The publicity campaign for the year is under the supervision of Charles J. Lewin, editor of The Cardinal, and member of Delta Pi Delta and Sigma Delta Chi fraternities. He is also on the Octopus board of Editors. Lewin's work will consist of keeping the student body informed as to the progress of both business and editorial staffs.

Sections editors are: Athletics, Gilbert Hoffman; satire, Cedric Seaman and Keith Davis, organizations, Luetta Crandall, women, Rosamond Nolte; administration, Marjorie Capron; classes, Margaret Brown; art, Dorothy Johnson; engravings, Vernon Beardsley, photographs, Frank Berman.

Editor Tegtmeyer's plan of diminishing the amount of copy and increasing art and photographic sections will be carried out in all sections. The "Beautiful Woman" section, tried for the first time last year, will be omitted this year. Women's activities will be given greater prominence, however.

Hanson Supervises Ads

Advance form letters to be followed by personal solicitation are being sent to commercial houses in Chicago and in Wisconsin cities by the foreign advertising staff at the present time. Solicitors will make week-end trips to various cities to obtain the ads. Jerome Bjerke, business manager of Regimental Eagle during freshman year, a member of Delta Pi Delta fraternity is foreign advertising manager. The entire advertising department is under the supervision of Lee Hanson, a member of Chi Phi fraternity. Hanson is a second lieutenant in the R. O. T. C.

Adolph Boch, will have complete charge of the organization department. Boch, who is a member of Beta Theta Pi, was a member of the organization staff last year.

Men For Pistol Team

Will Be Picked Soon

A pistol team of 10 or 12 men will be picked from the best shots in about a week, while pistols will be issued to 12 or 15 men with the most accurate eyes.

Later in the season the team will compete with 15 other colleges, among which are Harvard, Yale, and West Point.

Sergeant Mason, in charge of the Pistol club, said, "All men who take R. O. T. C. are eligible for the club. Last Thursday about 25 men turned out. The old men shot as well as usual, and the new men showed considerable ability, but we want to see more men out."

The pistol club practices at 4 o'clock every afternoon but Monday. The hours are posted on the bulletin board in the military department. Men who desire to join should apply to Sergeant Mason.

House Peters Appears

In Parkway Film Today

Another of the Parkway's fall super-attractions is being presented today in "Human Hearts". House Peters and an all star cast enacts this picture version of the stage play by Hal Reid. "Human Hearts" is one of the finest pictures yet produced.

As a special added attraction the Parkway has secured Tom Waterall, noted baritone for an appearance here during the engagement of the picture. Mr. Waterall has just completed an engagement at the Chicago theater. In addition a special Christie comedy of the racetrack "Let 'Er Run" and the Parkway magazine will be shown.

Next Friday and Saturday the farce comedy which delighted Chicago at the La Salle theater for the past six months comes to the Parkway. "Just Married" is the name of the show and it is said to contain 1001 laughs. Mail orders are being filled now and the seat sale at the box office opens Tuesday.

Anna Eva Fay Features At Orpheum This Week

Six representative Orpheum circuit acts, headed by Mrs. Eva Fay, and pictures of the great Smyrna fire, said to be the most remarkable of the kind ever made, makes the Orpheum program for the first half look promising.

Eva Fay is coming again, and the excitement created during her former visit bids fair to be excelled during her engagement next week.

The program offered by this clever woman is much the same as presented here before and has been thoroughly criticized so that a detailed description of the remarkable doings which have stirred Madison from center to circumference is unnecessary.

Included in the list of fine attraction backing up the feature offering is Smiling Billy Mason, the celebrated screen star. He needs no introduction to theatregoers. His laughing face, beaming personally and clever comedy antics have amused millions.

Rose and Mae Wilton are youthful entertainers who will present their diversified act of music and song. One is a violinist of exceptional attainments and the other is destined to reach the grand opera pinnacle. Norris Springtime Follies Monroe and Mae, in a "Breath of Youth and Charm", and Bert and Florence Mayo, supreme aerialists are also a part of the new program.

WHAT PEOPLE THINK?

DO'NT you care a bit about what people think?" asked a convention-bound individual in the play at the Parkway yesterday.

"What people think?" was the laconic rejoinder of Olga Petrova.

In that three word question lurks a world of thought.

A statistically-minded philosopher has put the answer to that question in graphic form.

He drew a large pyramid, and cut off a small bit at the top, labeled it "People who think." A larger segment below this he labeled "People who think they think." Below that, "People who read." At the base was the great mass of the practically illiterate.

When Henry Ford was asked why he was a Republican, he answered, "For the same reason I have ears; I was born that way." People laughed at him for that. But would they have laughed if they had asked the same question of themselves?

Why is the solid South Democratic? Why is Wisconsin Republican? Why are you a Democrat or a Republican?

"Because my convictions are those of my party," you answer. Yes, but where did you get those convictions?

Did you think them out from basic facts, or are they your convictions because they were your father's?

You believe in democracy, in the rule of the people. Why do you believe in it? Have you thought of the fact that the mass of voters are awfully ignorant, while aristocrats are trained to rule? Why do you believe in it then? Because your have thought it out, or because your father and your teachers believe in it?

Americans are Christians. Turks are Moslems. Why do they believe as they do?

Why do you believe what you believe? Is it because you have thought about it, or because someone told you that was the thing to believe?

A philosopher once was talking to a Greek and to a man from an Asiatic tribe.

"What do you do with your old folks when they die?" he asked the Greek. "We burn them," was the answer.

"And what do you do with yours?" he asked the Asian. "Why we eat them, of course. The idea of burning them! Why that's barbaric, disgusting," was the answer.

Each was sure that his way was the only right and decent way of dealing with the dead.

Why do Americans bury their dead?

People believed in slavery a few years ago. Then someone began to think about it.

The double standard of morality was taken for granted not so long ago. Then someone began to think about it.

Critical thought means progress. Dearth of thought means stagnation.

The world is bound by convention and traditional belief, some valid, some wrong.

An historian named Robinson has written a book on that, called "The Mind in the Making." He has traced the history of men's beliefs and shown the ridiculous origin of many a treasured dogma.

That would be a good book for every student to read. It might stimulate some thinking.

GOING TO CHURCH

By Thomas Arkle Clark

Of University of Illinois

I was brought up to go to church. Sometimes we drove the three and a half miles from our house to the village; sometimes if the horses were tired or over-worked we walked. The weather made little difference; if it was cold we bundled up; if it rained we crouched under huge cotton umbrellas.

Our shoes were all shined on Saturday night, our Sunday clothes carefully laid out, our bodies made fit and proper for the Sunday service.

There was never any discussion as to whether we should not go to church. Going to church was like going to school; it was a foregone conclusion, good for our minds, good for our souls. We got the habit and, like most habits of youth, it still persists, and the reward is worth while.

Wagner did not go to church last Sunday, though it has been his custom to do so regularly at home. He is, in fact, a member of the church and looked upon as a leader in religious matters in his home community.

He explained the omission to himself and to his family in the letter he wrote home by alleging that he was too busy. The unfamiliar and exacting duties of college life had taken his time and required his attention.

He had in fact, however, been out rather late on Friday night at a rushing party at a fraternity house.

Saturday afternoon he had gone riding with some friends who had a car in town and Saturday night he had been at a smoker and later had attended the second show at the Park.

It was late when he awakened in the morning. After he got up, he sat around half dressed until dinner was ready.

His real reason for not going to church was that he was a little lazy and just a little afraid, not knowing the boys in the house, that it might not be the popular thing to do. He waited for someone to make the start or the suggestion and no one did. He did not have quite the courage to admit that he was religious and unless he develops a little strength of character he will, perhaps, not go to church today.

Peerless Petrova Pleases Audience With Foreign Voice

BY HICKMAN POWELL

The peerless Petrova of the silent drama waxed vocal at the Parkway yesterday afternoon, in a voice of quality and accent entirely fascinating and equally ineradicable. Rolling consonants tripped from her tongue; while unfamiliar nasals and gutturals tickled the ears of an appreciative audience—a voice entirely foreign, but handled in a manner perfectly understandable to American hearers.

Olga Petrova appeared in her own play, "The White Peacock" a romance of virtue spotless but unconventional, set in a scene of Spanish sophistication. With gowns and scenery well designed to display the proud beauty of the star, the production was alluring to the eye as well as to the ear.

Intellectually, the piece was less striking. The lines were clever enough to be interesting, and not too clever to be realistic. The characters were well developed and psychologically credible. The technicalities of construction were such as to make the most of the dramatic and emotional elements of the plot. The vocabulary was unhampered by prudery. But the ideas were of that unconventionality that seems to have become a convention of the modern stage.

The virtuous wife has withdrawn from the bed and board of a villainous rogue, following his heartless, Pharaic discharge of a chambermaid who has loved too well. Sheltering the maid and her son, "the most legitimate-looking child in the world," the "white peacock" reverts to her maiden name and the artistic career of her Russian maidenhood.

A passionate don bursts into her boudoir in the first act, but his ardor is assuaged by a searching stare straight from her spotless soul. Later he becomes her model, and in her bosom awakes a smouldering passion, which bursts into flame when she learns that the young man is an escaped convict, sentenced by her husband to die for a murder the husband had hired done.

Emotion runs high in unexpurgated vocabulary until the last 10 seconds, when the villains are exterminated with surprising melodramatic speed and the heroine melts into the arms of her hero with the remark that the age of miracles is never past.

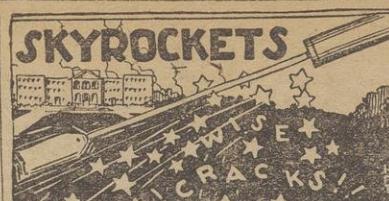

So it ends. A corking story, to say the least.

Realism in details dominates the play, especially in the servant dialogue of the first act. A little too much so, in that first act, perhaps. Those poetic overtones, those imaginative touches which give the impression of reality, were evident not at all until the later periods; and the characters seemed somewhat like paper figures in an interplay of wits.

Mrs. Petrova's support was superb. The high caste husband, steeled to sin, the handsome lover; the conventional countess, all were excellent. The serving woman Ludmilla Toretska, cynical in her old age, was entirely convincing. The professional murderer, H. H. McCullum, played a part of intermingled comedy and horror in a manner of terrifying absurdity.

With such a cast and such a star, any play is excellent.

Church going is a good habit. It turns one's mind away from the daily routine, it calls his attention to higher ideals, it emphasizes his duty to God. It strengthens character and wards off temptation, and it is a habit learned early or seldom offers an opportunity for service. Learned at all. One can give a score of credible excuses for not going to church, but not one of them would hold if analyzed. You can go if you really want to. If you don't, it's because you are lazy, or indifferent, or afraid to stand on your principles.

Tebell's home is in Aurora, Ill. He is enrolled in the Course in Commerce.

LIBRARY CONTAINS VALUABLE VOLUMES

Although the University library does not consider itself a collector of old and valuable books, it nevertheless boasts of several which are of great worth and of great interest.

Two of these books are on the "Investigation and Studies in Jade" and belong to the Heber R. Bishop collection. Mr. Bishop had two sets of books on this subject and in his will he stated that one set was to be sent to the Empress of China, and the other to the University library.

Upon the settling of the estate, the second volume belonging to the second intended for the Empress of China was lost and was replaced by the duplicate intended for this library; thus depriving us of this volume. Some time after the library had received the first volume, a letter was received saying that the lost volume had been recovered and was being sent to the library.

In addition to these two highly prized books are several others. "The Liber Scriptorum of the Author's Club", published by the Author's club in 1900, contains the writings of many of the prominent authors of the latter part of the nineteenth century. The most interesting feature in this book is the fact that each work is accompanied by the signature of the author. To accomplish this it was necessary to send each part of the original copy to a different section of the world. Because of this fact the book is highly valued. Another book is one on "The Art Work of Louis C. Tiffany."

Tennis Semi-Finals Are Half Completed

The frosh tennis tournament is now in the round before the semi-finals, while the Varsity has already half completed the semi-finals, and next week will play off the finals.

Of the varsity, Heneka is the farthest advanced, having won a place in the finals by defeating Gibson, 6-2, 6-8, and 6-1. Campbell will play Gault while Gilmore will do battle with Bennett for the privilege of competing in the final rounds. It is expected that Campbell and Bennett, who have had greater experience than their opponents, will survive the matches.

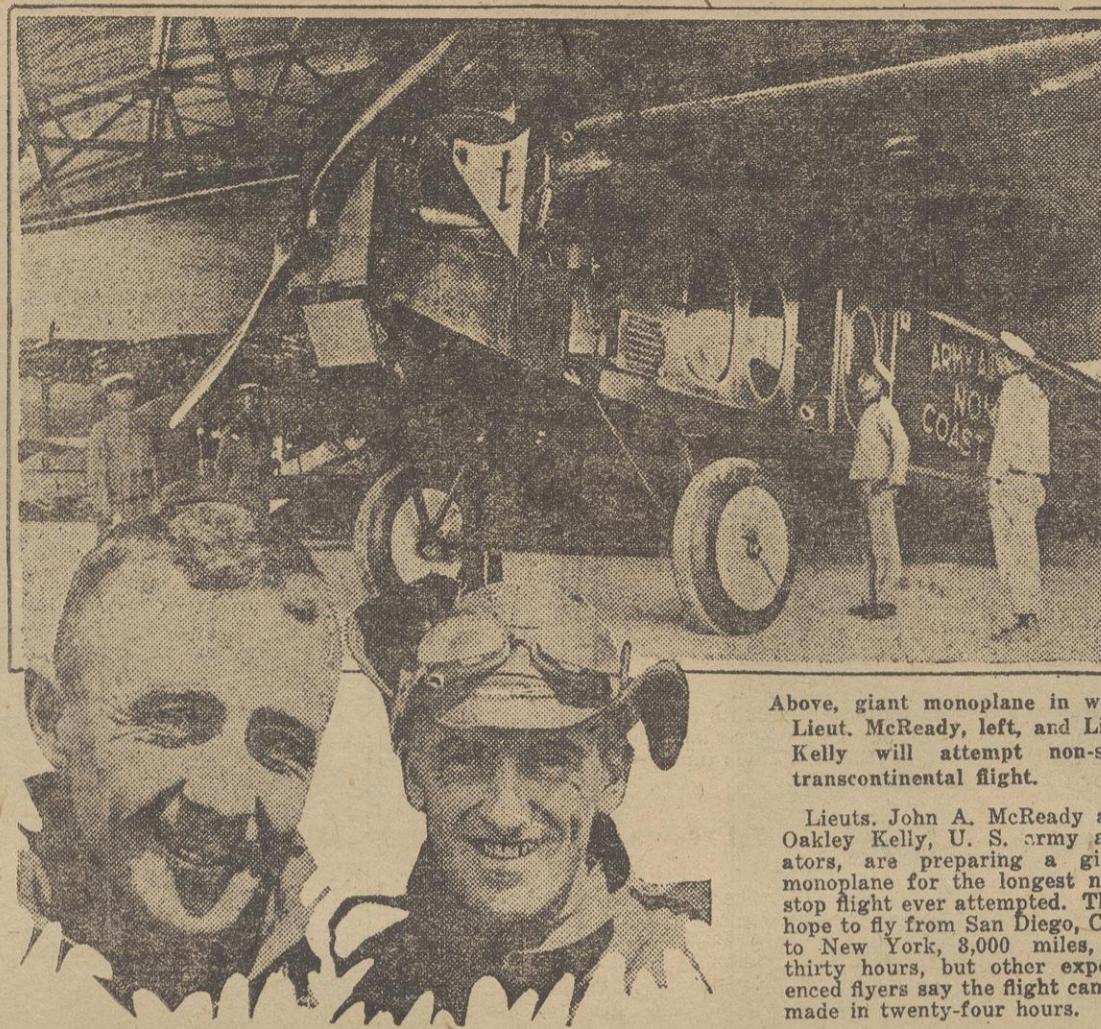

In the frosh tournament, Tramonti defeated Kemp 5-7, 6-4, ad 9-7; Bennett defeated Riley by default, while Robinson and Groenert also won their matches by default. Boardman, who defeated Flickinger some time ago, seems the most likely frosh, and unless the present indications are misleading, he will be one of the strongest men in the finals.

Y. W. C. A. Will Welcome New Freshmen Women

To welcome new girls to the university the Y. W. C. A. has planned a special musical program as an opening feature of the pep service this afternoon. The program will begin at 4:10 and will be followed by an informal tea. Helen Casbeer '23, president, will preside, and Dean Nardin will give a short

Lieuts. John A. McReady and Oakley Kelly, U. S. army aviators, are preparing a giant monoplane for the longest non-stop flight ever attempted. They hope to fly from San Diego, Cal., to New York, 3,000 miles, in thirty hours, but other experienced flyers say the flight can be made in twenty-four hours.

Co-Op Issues 1625 Rebate Cards Since September 1

The university Co-op has issued 1,625 rebate cards since September 1, according to latest figures, an approximate increase of 200 over the same period last year. This is also the largest registration since the beginning of the system 28 years ago.

Credit is given on a Co-op number for all articles purchased, including books, stationary, jewelry, all wearing apparel in the men's department, athletic goods, ad tailoring work.

The enlargement of quarters has led to the addition this year of a ladies' complete stock of lingerie, breakfast gowns, sweaters, and hose.

WOOD EXPERT WILL GIVE TALK ON TRIP

Harry D. Tiemann of the Forest has experiences while on a recent eight months trip to Australia at an illustrated lecture in Music hall auditorium at 8 o'clock Thursday evening, October 12.

"Australia is now the land of opportunity," said Mr. Tiemann yesterday. "Anyone who is capable in any profession business or in agriculture will find there all kinds of chances to earn a good living. I know of no better place for a college man who would like to try his fortune in another part of the world.

"The Australians, far from being uncivilized, are as set in their social ways as the fastidious English. It is the custom for all business to be suspended at four o'clock in the afternoon, when everyone indulges in the universal habit of drinking tea. Customers who happen to be in an office or a shop at that hour are invited by the proprietor to drink tea with him before concluding their business."

Mr. Tiemann will have many experiences to relate which will deal death blows to the prevailing ideas of "wild" Australia.

Librarians Will Meet In Milwaukee On Oct. 9

The annual meeting of the Wisconsin Library association will be held in Milwaukee, Monday and Tuesday, October 9 and 10. Sessions for discussing questions of importance will be held morning and afternoon. Monday evening Edna Ferber will give a talk illustrated by readings from her books. Tuesday evening Zona Gale will address the librarians. Mr. M. E. Dudgeon, librarian of the Milwaukee public library, formerly of Madison, is the president of the organization. Many Madison librarians are planning to attend the meeting.

Blaine Frees Soldier to Give Him Treatment

Sorenson Serving 15 Years Sent to Psychiatric Institute

Governor Blaine today released Frank Sorenson Milwaukee from the state's prison to permit him to go to the Wisconsin Psychiatric Institute for treatment, explaining in a memorandum accompanying the release that Sorenson would later be granted a pardon.

The young man, now 23, is serving 15 years for assault with intent to rob. Early in 1920 he entered a Milwaukee apartment while armed, but fled on being challenged.

Governor Blaine outlined the military service of Sorenson, who previously had served on the Mexican border in 1916 and had been with the Thirty-Second division overseas. His act is attributed to the effects of his war service.

"The temporary permit is granted to meet all conditions of the statutes," Governor Blaine said, adding that "I desire to state in this memorandum that Frank Sorenson will not be returned to the Wisconsin State prison. My conclusion is to grant executive clemency by way of pardon at the proper time. The obligation of the state, however, can be best discharged through the state's determination for complete rehabilitation."

Girl Has Minor Injury in Crash

Lois Kerwin, 18 years old, 205 S. Mills st., suffered a broken thumb and minor bruises as the result of an auto crash at N. Park and W. Dayton sts., at 7:30 this morning. The Willys-Knight car in which Miss Kerwin and her brother, Joe, were riding was wrecked.

The accident occurred when the Kerwin car was struck by a Peerless touring car bearing an Illinois license at the street intersection. Leaves on the wet pavement made it impossible for either of the cars to stop before the crash could be avoided. The other occupants escaped injury.

The sudden chill and rain that visited Madison last night and prevailed throughout the day will be relieved tomorrow by slightly warmer temperature and settled weather, according to the local weather bureau. The highest temperature registered today was 49 degrees, 37 degrees lower than the registered temperature last Wednesday.

City Sealers

To Hold Convention Here Thursday; 100 Expected

Madison will be host to more than 100 city sealers of weights and measures from all over the state, Tuesday to Thursday, when the conference of weight and measure officials is held in the senate chamber of the capitol.

Harvey Thompson, city sealer, will represent Madison. Two representatives of the bureau of standards, Washington, D. C., will be the only federal men to attend.

Gov. John J. Blaine, J. Q. Emery, state dairy and food commissioner, and John Callahan, superintendent of public instruction, will be among the featured speakers of the convention.

The convention will be given over to a discussion of matters affecting the weight and measure business. Representatives from industrial plants both in and out of the state, and city sealers will speak during the conference.

Skinner Says Regent St. Site Is Best

Prof. E. B. Skinner president of the board of education, advocated the purchase of the Regent school site in his talk before the Parent-Teachers association of Doty school Wednesday afternoon.

"It is not that Madison is lacking in facilities for her high school at present, that we are urging the purchase of a new school site, but we must continually keep the future in mind. There are 2,200 high school students enrolled in Madison, 300 of which attend the university high school.

Mrs. E. R. Bentley president of the association, introduced the speaker. Part of the afternoon's entertainment was furnished by the school orchestra and pupils of the fifth grade. Mrs. F. L. Paxson spoke on the proposed reorganization of the Parent-Teachers' association to include the high school.

Continue Search For West Side Gem Thieves

Search by police for the "wash-day" thieves who looted the homes of Jacob Krings, 1820 Rowley ave., and O. H. Samples, 1906 Regent st. of $700 in jewels and $450 in certificates of deposit Monday was being continued today. The thefts are believed to have been committed by the same man.

Bond Speaks at Parent-Teachers' Meet

The school orchestra furnished the main feature of entertainment at the Doty Parent-Teachers' association reception held at the Doty school last night. V. S. Bond, a patron of the school, talked on the benefit derived through cooperation of parents and teachers. Refreshments were served during the evening in charge of a committee headed by Mrs. J. Frederickson.

Graass Enters Congress Race, Independent

Starts Three Cornered Fight In Ninth District

Judge Henry Graass of the fourteenth Wisconsin circuit, Green Bay, today filed nomination papers with Elmer S. Hall, secretary of state, as an independent candidate for congress in the ninth Wisconsin district. Judge Graass, along with Mr. Hall, was defeated for the republican congressional nomination at the September primary by George Schneider, Appleton.

This independent candidacy develops a three cornered contest for congress in the ninth district, between George Schneider, Judge

Graass and Charles J. Hanzel, mayor of Antigo, democratic candidate who will run as an independent unless action by the supreme court Sept. 10 gives him a place on the ballot under a party heading.

Prohibition's Effect on Taxes, Subject

The age-old question why taxes should be so high, which every property-owner and prospective owner discusses with more or less asperity with any willing listener, will be explained from a prohibition standpoint when Frank S. Regan comes to Madison Sunday Oct. 15. Two meeting will be held, at the Woman's building at 2:30 and at Pilgrim church, Jenifer and Bearly streets, at 7:30 p. m.

Dr. Harry Peabody, who spoke before the Congregational club yesterday evening, will speak again on Sunday at the First Congregational church.

Open Meeting of Pythia To Be Held Next Friday

An open meeting will be held by the Pythia Literary society Friday, Oct. 13 from 7 to 8 o'clock in the dancing room on the fifth floor of Lathrop hall, before the regular closed business meeting. The meeting will be open to all university women and is to precede tryouts which will take place sometime the following week and will be announced later in the Cardinal.

All university women who have completed 15 hours work in this university will be admitted to tryouts. This means that both upper and lower class tryouts will be held at the same time, and will be limited to the first 40 who sign up.

In the revision of the constitution, membership in the society was limited to 50 and a new method for tryouts was adopted. Candidates for membership will be judged upon their individuality, originality, personality, presentation and ability as revealed in their tryouts, and upon their previous experience and qualifications as stated on a recommendation slip provided by the society.

The revised constitution was adopted at the first meeting of the year last Friday and is to be printed so that it will be accessible to all members of the society.

Guyer Will Address Badger Club Tonight

"The Origin of Evolution as Understood Today" is the subject of the address which M. F. Guyer, professor of zoology, will give before the Badger club this evening at 8 o'clock in the parlor of the Y. M. C. A.

An open forum will be held after Prof. Guyer's speech. Thomas L. Dartnell '23 will entertain the club with a solo.

A quarterly business meeting is to be held at 7 o'clock before the regular social meeting.

Several speakers and musical entertainers have been procured by the club for the season's social entertainments. Prof. E. A. Ross, department of sociology, W. L. Griffith, director of Big Ten football, and William Young, associate secretary of the Y. M. C. A., are to speak before the club this season. The Wheeler School of Music will also entertain the club this year.

The annual Christmas tree program for the children of Madison from the vocational and Americanization school has been planned by the committee.

Women's Federation In Conference At Madison

The Wisconsin federation of branches of American association of university women will hold its fourth annual conference in Madison, October 27 and 28. The program will open with a reception on Friday evening at the home of President Birge. Two sessions will be held Saturday. At noon, on Saturday, the local chapter will entertain the delegates at luncheon. Delegates will come from Beloit, Fond du Lac, Appleton, Kenosha, Oshkosh, La Crosse, Ripon, Superior, Wausau, Milwaukee and Beaver Dam. Miss Francis G. Perkins, a former regent of the university, is president of the organization.

This Week—

A Knitting Art Exhibit of Creations in

Fleisher's Yarns

REALLY, no feminine wardrobe can call itself complete unless it can boast of at least two sweaters—one on and one in the making!

Why Not Knit Your Own Sweater?

IF YOU like to wear distinctive clothes, you will want to knit your own sweaters so that it will be in just the color that suits you and your Fall wardrobe. You will find knitting a sweater with Fleisher's yarns very easy, and you can do so much in the odd moments usually wasted while visiting before study hours.

First Buy Your Yarn

FLEISHER'S Silver Glow, Luster Iceland, and Silken Wool have a delightful silvery sheen. Corinthian Iceland, when two shades are knit together and teasel-brushed to the proper degree of fluffiness, is quite unusual. Angora works up well in combination as shown in a stunning new Russian Blouse model shown in the sketch. Three to seven balls of yarn made a sweater.

We'll Show You How

ON Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday afternoons from 2 to 5:30, and other afternoons 4 to 6, a demonstrator will gladly show you how to do the stitches and help you in every way possible.

THESE new sweaters and knitted garments were designed by a famous expert who spends her entire time gathering new designs for knitted apparel at noted summer and winter resorts in Europe and America.

"Oh, my dear
yes"

"Indeed, the very newest slip-over is the Russian Blouse," asserts the little pedestalled lady above, who was so anxious to appear in her new Russian sweater that she forgot to cut the yarn.

She received any number of admiring glances and as many compliments on her treasured sweater, too, for it was made of Fleisher's Silver Glow yarn in tangerine with bands of soft gray angora wool at the neck, waist band and cuffs.

"And I knit every stitch myself, too!" she added proudly. "Don't you think the new large mesh is lovely?"

And you'll agree.

NOTED LEADERS AIR PROBLEMS

State Conference of Social Work To Be Held Oct. 11 to 13

"Students may listen to national experts who have achieved great things as well as meditated over them, and may witness practice coupled with theory in the personnel of the speakers who will address the annual State Conference of social work to be held in the state capitol October 11 to 13," said Aubre Williams, executive secretary, Saturday.

The greatest social workers in the state and nation will discuss their problems and solutions. The speakers are: Miss Julia Latrop, former chief of the United States children's bureau; John A. Kingsbury, New York City; Owen R. Lovejoy, head of the national child labor committee, New York; Dr. J. L. Gillin, national director of the educational work of the American Red Cross; Harry D. Baker, St. Croix Falls; J. H. Kolb, University of Wisconsin; Dr. Elizabeth Woods, clinical psychologist of the state department of public instruction; F. M. Wilcox, chairman of the state industrial commission; Rev. Phillip Grodon, Indian missionary; Prof. E. B. Gordon, university extension division.

The speakers for the sectional meetings on Friday afternoon, which will be conducted by specialists along specific lines are: Dr. C. A. Harper, secretary of the state board of health; John S. Donald, University of Wisconsin; Judge James Hill, Baraboo; Rev. F. J. Ryan, Janesville; Prof. J. R. Commons, University of Wisconsin; and Harry D. Baker, St. Croix Falls.

The opening event of the conference will be a luncheon given by Mrs. I. P. Witter, Wisconsin Rapids at the Madison club next Wednesday. The executive luncheon will be attended by: Judge Solon Perrin; Superior; Harry D. Baker, St. Croix Falls; Mrs. Marvin B. Rosenberry, Madison; Mrs. C. J. Otjen, state board of control; Mrs. Joshua Hodges, Marinette; Dr. C. A. Harper; Prof. J. L. Gillin, Madison; and Prof. John R. Commons, Madison.

Euthenics Club To Have Picnic On Drive Monday

The first open meeting of the Euthenics club will be a picnic on the lake drive at 4:30 o'clock on Monday. All home economics students, including freshmen and transfers, are invited. Arrows along the drive will indicate where the picnic will be held. Anyone desiring membership in the Euthenics club is required to attend the two open meetings, the second of which will be held on October 12. Refreshments will be served.

Our Savior's Lutheran — Rev. Holden M. Olsen, pastor: 9:30 a.m., Sunday and Bible school; 9:45 a.m., pastor's Bible class; 10:30 a.m., morning service in English; 6:30 p.m., Luther Guild; 9:00 a.m., Saturday, catechetical instruction.

Forest Fire Wipes Out Several Ontario Towns

NORTH BAY, Ont.—The property loss in the fire which swept many towns in northern Ontario, will probably aggregate $8,000,000. The loss of life will likely total nearly 50, while about 200 farms were burned out, according to a statement issued by Premier Drury today after a trip over the stricken area.

The towns of North Cobalt, Thorne, Heaslip, Carlton and Uno Park were destroyed.

Haileybury was almost destroyed and Engelhart suffered considerable damage.

At Heaslip, John Bond, his wife and eight children and hired man were killed when a storm cellar caved in.

Rescuers found the bodies of Bond and his wife with their arms entwined. They had suffocated. Two daughters, 17 and 18, lay next and in a corner two smaller children were clasped in each others' arms, while the other bodies were nearby.

Marshall, the hired man, had his cap pulled down over his face and his arms outstretched as if groping his way to the younger children.

Supreme Court Quashes Alternative Dem Writ

The Wisconsin supreme court today quashed the alternative writ of mandamus issued by it recently ordering the names of democratic candidates for state office on the general election ballot under a party head.

This action by the court brings to an unsuccessful termination the suit commenced by the democratic party to have the 10 per cent provision of the state primary law held unconstitutional.

As a result of the court action, democratic candidates who failed to obtain the necessary percentage of votes in the primary election, will now go on the general election ballot as independents. The restrictive provision of the state primary law which requires party candidates in the primary to poll in the aggregate, 10 per cent of the total vote for governor in the last general election, is upheld by the court.

Who Pays?

We have heard several fellows remark, in an off-hand way, that there would be no rebate at the Co-Op this year—that the rebate money would be used to pay for the new store. We want you to know how the Co-Op is financed, so there will be no misunderstanding.

In 1892 the Co-Op was started in the small store on the corner of University Avenue and Francis Street. During the next few years moves were made and each time larger space was taken and business increased.

In 1913 the directors realized that as time went on more space would be needed and that State Street property was going up and rents would be sure to advance. The present land and building was purchased on a land contract, a small amount paid down, and each year small made. Last year the Co-Op received the deed and there was a small mortgage held by the Regents of the University of Wisconsin.

This year when the building was remodeled the amount of the mortgage was increased and each year, for the next twenty years, small payments will be made. The amount that will be paid each year will not be more than half the amount that would be paid for rent if the building was not owned by the Co-Op.

With additional space we have increased our stock of furnishing goods, shoes, etc., and have put in the finest line of young men's clothing in the city and we expect a large increase in business.

The Co-Op is here to serve the students and its purpose is to sell good merchandise at as low a price as possible and every student that buys here and has his purchases put on a number is buying at lower prices than he can buy any place in the country. We want you to remember that the only reason for the Co-Op being here is to supply the students with the things they need at the lowest price possible.

There is no private capital in the Co-Op—no salaries are paid to directors—no man or woman owns more than one $2.50 share of stock—the only dividends paid are the rebates on purchases—the new building will not affect the rebate—buy everything you need on your Co-Op number and save money.
