Scheduled

WILL HAVE CONFERENCE

The opening-week program for the entertainment and education of Summer School students presents exceptional opportunities for a large variety of interests and tastes.

Prof. John R. Commons, co-operating with the state industrial commission, will hold a series of conferences every afternoon during the summer session on industrial relations. The meeting will be held in the state capitol.

The history of science will be given in a series of lectures by Dr. C. D. Leake in 119 Bascom hall at 2:30 on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. His subjects are "The Aim and Spirit of Science," "The Beginnings of Science," "Science and Practical Needs; Egypt and Babylon," and "The Influence of Abstract Thought: Greek Philosophers."

Will Hold Musical Tomorrow.

Community singing and piano solos by Mr. L. L. Iltis will constitute the first informal musical evening under direction of Prof. P. W. Dykema at 7 tomorrow night. Professor Dykema will also give a lecture on "Citizenship Values of Musical Culture," in Music hall at 3:30 Tuesday.

Free moving pictures will be given in Music hall Wednesday at 7 p. m. "Les Miserables" and a travel picture will be shown.

For those interested in fine arts, Prof. Katherine Allen will give two lectures on "Rome and the Campagna" in 260 Bascom hall at 10 a. m., on Tuesday and Thursday.

Group and country dances will be given during the play hour, every Tuesday evening in the University gymnasium, under the direction of Dr. J. C. Elsom. On Thursday at 3:30 in 112 Bascom hall Dr. Elsom will give a talk on "The Education of the Boy Through Scouting."

Will Give Vesper Service.

A promenade concert will be presented on the upper campus at 6:30 by the Wild Rose band of boys and girls.

The last event on the week's program is a Vesper service which will be given in the Open Air theater Sunday night at 7 p. m.

The detailed program, including lectures, follows:

Tonight.

Honorary Sorority Grants Mu Alpha National Charter

Musical Ability, Scholarship,
And Activities Are Basis
Of Election

Mu Alpha, local honorary music sorority, was granted a charter by Mu Phi Epsilon, national honorary music sorority, at the recent national convention in St. Louis, Missouri.

The local chapter was represented at the convention by Beatrice Walker '23, Helen Gunderson, and Vera Eastman '23.

Mu Alphas was established in the regular session 1920-21, in connection with the University School of Music. Members have been elected on the basis of musical ability, high scholarship, and general activities. The sorority was admitted to Keystone last year.

Charter members of the new Wisconsin chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon are: Minnie Beattie; Charlotte Belscamper '23; Janet Breitenbach '23; Ruby Britts '23; Frances Beechler '22; Irma Duncan '24; Vera Eastman '23; Reba Hayden '22; Barbara Hildreth '23; Lois Jacobs '24; Grace M. Jones '23; Jean Kilgour '23; Florence Lampert '22; Frances Landon '23; Carmelita Lewis '24; Louise Madden '25; Margaret Moore '25; Florence Robb '24; Mildred Sheerer '25; Hilda Schulz '25; Esther Vance '22; Beatrice Walker '23; Helen Wheeler '23.

Honorary members are: Miss Helen Gunderson, Mrs. Glenore D. Caton, and Miss Jane Peterson, instructors in music in the university; Mrs. F. L. Browne, Mrs. Lucille Campbell Cooper, Mrs. Helen Piper Law, Miss Marion Phelps. Patrons and patronesses are Professor and Mrs. Lowell Townsend and Professor and Mrs. Peter Dykema.

TENTING COLONY DOUBLES IN SIZE

Approximately 150 campers are living in 40 tents in the University colony this summer, according to reports given out by A. S. Gallistel, superintendent of buildings and grounds. This is nearly double the population of the colony last year, when 80 students lived in the colony.

The camp is on the shore of Lake Mendota, about two and one-half miles west of the gymnasium. The campers furnish their own tents and equipment, platforms being provided by the university.

Water is furnished by a well on the grounds, and groceries and milk are delivered every morning. Mail is brought by boat once a day and around-the-lake boats stop at the camp on signal.

Mr. Gallistel, who is in charge of the camp, has a cottage on the grounds. Summer session students who have families are the principle occupants of the tents.

of Prof. P. W. Dykema. Community singing, piano solos by Mr. L. L. Iltis. The general public is invited to participate and listen. Auditorium, Music hall.

TUESDAY
10 a. m.—Illustrated lectures on Rome and the Campagna. I: "The City and the City," by Professor Katherine Allen. 260, Bascom Hall.

2:30 p. m.—Industrial relations conference. II: "The Administration of Wisconsin Labor. Laws through the Industrial Commission," by Commissioner F. M. Wilcox, senate chambers.

2:30 p. m.—Lecture on the History of Science. II: "The Beginnings of Science," by Dr. C. D. Leake. 119, Science Hall.

3:30 p. m.—Lecture, "Citizenship Values of Musical Culture," by Prof. P. W. Dykema, auditorium, Music Hall.

WILL ENFORCE TRAFFIC RULES DURING SUMMER

Record Enrollment Results In Congestion In Bascom
Hall

Congestion in the corridors and on the staircases in Bascom hall, due to the record enrollment in the summer session, necessitates strict observance of the traffic regulations as enforced during the regular year.

The central doorway is to be used only an an entrance and the two side doorways as exits only. The two central sets of staircases are for upbound traffic only, while the staircases in the wings are to be used only for descending traffic.

These simple rules were instituted three years ago in order to provide for freedom and a greater margin of safety in the business building of the university, and their whole-hearted observance on the part of all concerned at once helped to make the overcrowding of Bascom hall more bearable. Since that time the student body has always shown a fine spirit of co-operation in the enforcement of these rules, and it is expected that students in the summer session this year will be quick to respond.

Geologists Return From West Tuesday

Nineteen Men and Women Will

Staff

The Rocky Mountain tour which is being conducted by Doctor Lebeck of the department of Geology with Miss Genevera Loft and Ralph Brown acting as assistants, will arrive in Madison on July 4 after completing a 24 day tour which included the Flathead range of the Northern Rockies, the Big-horn country, Pikes Peak, the Grand Canyon, and Glacier Park.

Letters which have been received from members of the class pronounce the trip the best of its kind which has ever been offered by the department of Geology.

The entire tour has proceeded on schedule without a mishap and everything has been most favorable. The weather has been ideal and the auto trips and hikes have been thoroughly enjoyed by all.

The class is now at Glacier Park for a week and will start home on June 30, arriving here in time to celebrate the Fourth of July.

SIGMA PHI HOLDS CONVENTION HERE

More than 100 delegates from the 10 chapters of Sigma Phi fraternity met in national convention at the lodge of Alpha chapter, 106 N. Prospect ave, last Friday, Saturday, and Sunday.

S. S. Hickox, Wisconsin, was general chairman in charge of the meetings, and Harry Kimbark, Wisconsin, was chairman of the convention.

The national convention will be held next year at Clinton, N. Y., with Beta chapter of Hamilton college. Sigma Phi was founded at Union college in 1827 and Alpha chapter was established here in 1908.

REGARDING DISTRIBUTION
Today's issue of the Summer Session Cardinal is being distributed free of charge as a "get acquainted" proposition. Regular routes will be established with Wednesday's edition.

MORE ENROLL ON FIRST DAY THAN IN 1920

Late Registration Will Bring
Total Above Last Year

EXACT FIGURES FRIDAY.

The first day of registration for the summer session surpassed the enrollment of 1920 and judging from the number of late arrivals this summer's registration will equal if it does not exceed that of last year.

Owing to the new plan of having classes on Monday morning instead of Tuesday as in previous years, the exact figures for attendance will not be available until the latter part of the week according to Dean S. H. Goodnight, director of the summer session.

In accordance with the new plan there was no registration this morning. This afternoon and tomorrow will complete the majority of entrances but there will be a few late ones which will possibly extend through next week.

For the first time in a number of years the enrollment of the summer session last year exceeded that of the University of California. Wisconsin took third place with 4,547 students in the rank of colleges, having the largest summer enrollment, defeating California by more than a hundred students. Columbia ranked first with 11,809 students and Chicago second with 6,458. Chicago, however, is not ranked as a regular summer session, and is not represented at the meeting of directors held annually.

One of the notable features of the summer session is its rapid growth the past few years. In 1918 the enrollment of the summer session was 2,084 students, which was less than half the enrollment of 4,547 for last year. Of this number the college of Letters and Science claimed slightly more than four times as many as all the rest of the colleges put together. The women students also had a slight lead over the men.

Out of the students enrolled last year more than half were teachers. There were 288 university, college and normal instructors, 178 superintendents and principals, 1,184 high school teachers, and 937 other teachers, making a total of 2,587 teachers. Of the total number of teachers, 1,000 held a normal degree, 898 a bachelor degree, and 159 a higher degree. Altogether there were 1,207 graduate students, and 3,977 undergraduates.

During the past four years, every state in the Union, and 24 foreign countries have been represented by students at the summer session. States other than Wisconsin having the largest enrollment last year were Illinois with more than 500, Ohio and Indiana with over 200, Michigan and Missouri with nearly 200, and Minnesota and Iowa with over 100 students. Of the foreign countries represented, China sent 42 students, the Philippine Is-

U. W. Society

Under this department heading readers of the Summer Session Cardinal will be given all of the interesting, gossipy, and entertaining social news of the season. Miss Mary James, junior in the course in journalism in the regular session, will have charge of the department.

She will need the cooperation of our subscribers to make her column the success you want it, and for that reason she has arranged office hours on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from 1:30 to 3:00 p. m. in the Union building where she will be glad to receive personal or telephone messages. She has no private line but B. 250 will reach her.

Groups and organizations that are planning social functions should be sure to call Miss James. If you are entertaining for any reason at all we would like to know about it, and if you are contemplating engagement or marriage (or know friends that are) let us in on the secret, we'll try to tell the world about it.

Our motto: "If there isn't a breeze on Mendota, you'll find one in the society column."

Y. W. C. A. Entertains All Summer Students With Welcome Party

By Mary James

Students of the summer session first entered into society's whirl at the Y. W. C. A. welcome, Saturday evening.

The welcome was given in the form of a lawn party on the terrace between Lathrop hall and the Biology building. Decorations of colored lanterns and brightly trimmed paper caps were used.

The frolic opened with a grand march, which was lead by Miss Ida Gilbert, summer session secretary and Miss Lillian Stupp, recreational leader. After the grand march, the guests were divided into groups each of which presented a stunt. Many games were played as a part of the entertainment, and later light refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. G. I. Gilbert, Oklahoma City, Okla., were the chaperons.

Summer Club Organized

The Y. W. C. A. has organized a summer club. Each noon social hours are being held so that the students may become acquainted. Later picnics, launch rides, and musicals will be given. All university women are invited to become members.

University Club Opened

The University club opened today for the summer session. Meals are to be served as during the regular year, and reservations for parties may be made.

At the close of the summer session the club will again close, and not reopen until about October 1.

Luther Get-Together

The Luther Memorial church will entertain all Lutheran students and their friends at a launch ride and a picnic supper on Wednesday evening. The arrangements have been in charge of Miss Marion Neprud who has planned an entertainment of games and songs.

A number of the members of the faculty are planning enjoyable vacations for the summer months. Some are going to Europe and others will visit places of interest in the United States.

Prof. Joan Ortega will conduct the second official trip to Spain which has been organized by the Spanish bureau of international education, Carnegie foundation. In addition to visiting Spain the students will see the battlefields of France, Paris, Switzerland, and Germany.

Prof. H. B. Lathrop accompanied by his family will spend the summer in Europe and remain for the first semester of next year for study in the British museum.

Prof. B. G. Morgan who is conducting a private party in Europe, sailed from Montreal for Liverpool on June 24. The trip includes visits to Paris, through southern France, northern Italy, Switzerland and Germany.

The members of the party are:

Gladys Boerner, Josephine Jung, Marion Moelanpah, and Ruth Garwood.

Miss Aurelia Bollinger, class of '21, will go to Japan where she will be a missionary for the Reformed church.

Prof. F. A. Ernst sailed on June 8 for France, where he will do newspaper work this summer.

HAVE YOU YOUR'S ?

With this issue, the first of the 1922 session, the summer session edition of The Daily Cardinal enters upon another period of service to its readers.

It is the purpose of the Cardinal to portray accurately and interestingly the university news of the day, to represent student thought, and to offer a forecast of events. It is as essential to the life of the active and interested students as is the metropolitan paper to the good citizen.

Simultaneously with the passing of the small, compact collegiate institution the student newspaper came into its own. The Cardinal has filled its place for years. To read its columns is to know the happenings of your colleagues and the activities that concern you.

A subscription includes the issues for the six weeks prior. The price is $1.00. Sign up today at the Cardinal office in the Union Building, 752 Langdon St.

OUR GREETING

To the summer session students the Daily Cardinal extends a hearty welcome.

There are many among the new registrants who are entering Wisconsin for the first time. To them especially does the Daily Cardinal wish to express its sincere wishes for a profitable and pleasant summer term.

As an institution of higher learning Wisconsin has secured a merited high rank among the colleges of the country. But Wisconsin's scholastic success is only in part due to the excellence of the instruction and to the standards that it requires. No university, no college, can be wholly successful unless it attracts a class of students who are earnest in endeavor and cosmopolitan in interests.

The daily grind of study is but a small part of the benefits derived from a scholastic course. The acquaintanceships made, the friendships gained will be stored up in memory as associations too pleasant to be soon put aside, too valuable to be soon forgot. Inconsequential as they may seem while they are being enacted and lived, they nevertheless become a part of us and are reflected in all our future acts. Environment, no less than heredity, tends to make us what we are.

Studies may be the avowed and paramount aim but the little humanities and associations are what will be longest remembered and most eagerly re-lived.

Again we welcome you and wish each of you a happy and successful summer.

Not good luck—but success—be with you.

A COURSE IN SOCIAL GRACES

Protest against putting a course in etiquette in the university curricula was raised recently by the Columbia Spectator.

"Truly, a Columbia graduate would be the laughing stock of the college world not to mention the general public were he to undergo instruction in how to handle a tea-cup, introduce at a formal function, or dress correctly for afternoon calling," the editorial states.

At first thought this protest seems justified. And yet when we consider the courses in personal hygiene which are given to all undergraduates; and when we consider how many of the incoming freshmen learn a great deal during the course of the lectures on the fundamentals that most of us ought to learn at home, we think there is still a chance that a course in social graces might not be amiss.

As for being public laughing stock, a university can't very well become that, else all the colleges in the country had been laughed out of existence long ago.—Daily Illini.

GETTING BACKGROUND

One of the important functions of a college education is to give the student a background of culture and general information that is not necessary for any direct application to a certain profession but is applied in his daily intercourse with his fellow men.

Cultural subjects are offered at the university for that purpose. But the finishing touch, one that is not ordinarily obtained at college, is travel. Unfamiliar sights and new surroundings give the student a fresh viewpoint that he cannot receive in his scholastic life at the university. Historic events take on a new significance and a glamour of romance when the places at which they occurred are visited.

Many students this summer will be given an opportunity to gain this last element through the European trips now being arranged by members of the faculty for those who can arrange to go.

Special arrangements for traveling facilities at a minimum of expense have been arranged, and the course of travel will include sojourns in practically every important country of Europe.

A CHANGE

Vacation carries different meanings to most of us. For some it is a period of pleasure and open-air life. To others it carries a picture of rest and sleep, with nothing more taxing on the mind than eating three square meals a day. For still a third group vacation means the development of some hobby apart from the regular work of the day. For us all it should constitute a change of scenery.

There is nothing more inspiring and invigorating than to come into contact with new ideas. A change from the old duties and surroundings can do more than anything else toward creating a new interest in life. It refreshes the outlook and inspires to better effort. It broadens the mind and makes us forget our troubles. It makes us see ourselves as others view us, and we return to our labors with new interests and a better philosophy.

The summer will send students to all parts of the state. Many will be in search of work, others will not. Usually the active man is the more efficient and keener. He will get the most out of his summer. But whatever the recess will bring, it should create a change of surroundings.—Ohio State Lantern.

PAGING EVERETT TRUE

Often, in the course of the week's events, it becomes necessary for the student to tie himself to the Library, where he attempts to pursue the fleeting muse in halls of peace and quiet. But what a dictionary of meaning, what a history of failure lies in that word "attempt." Napoleon attempted to conquer the world; Wilhelm, of Potsdam, attempted the same play but was stopped in the line; Carpenter attempted to put the helmet of defeat on Dempsey's head—and, in like manner, the student who seeks the privacy of the Library for purposes of study strikes many treacherous snags and hidden obstacles.

Dainty wisps of femininity gently flit about the room on high French heels to exchange greetings of the day with friends whom they have not seen for probably many hours or even a whole day. A constant buzz of voices, stage whispers, sweet nothings, incoherent somethings, occasional laughter, these are but a few of the "props" for that stirring drama of college life, as played on the Library stage. Male and female flappers hold faithful trysts there, even as of old; romantic damsels congregate to tell their sympathetic sisters of their woes and tales of love, while powder and puffs of virgin white and red add color to the scene.

The play has been running for months and even years. Once in an age a daring mortal plucks up enough courage to warn the actors that, unless they leave the stage, the wrath of the gods will fall upon their heads. But such venturesome persons are few and far between. Is the fear of the Amazon and her male cohort too great for them?—Michigan Daily.

BULLETIN BOARD

Each day of publication this column will be reserved for the use of groups and organizations. It is one of the regular departments of the Summer Session Cardinal that makes the publication of real service to its readers.

Bulletins must necessarily be brief, but it should be their purpose to state clearly the activity or event that is to take place; the time, and all arrangements that will be of interest to the participants.

We are going to make an effort to have a person in the office during regular hours who will be glad to assist group leaders in preparing their bulletins.

The Cardinal office will be open every day from 10 to 12 a. m. and from 1:30 to 3:00 p. m. It will be much more to our mutual satisfaction if you call in person when giving material for the bulletin board, and for that reason we cannot guarantee telephone messages.

Material must be in by 3:00 p. m. on the day of publication.

LUTHERANS

Reservations for the Lutheran Launch ride and picnic supper to be given Wednesday, June 28 can be made by calling Marion Neprud, B. 7855. Meet at the Park street pier at 5:00 p. m. Price 60c.

MORE ENROLL FIRST DAY

lands 18, and 38 from other foreign countries, making a total of 88 foreigners.

An outstanding fact which is not considered very favorable by Dean Goodnight, director of the summer session, is that the enrollment of Wisconsin students has been constantly decreasing for the last four years, with the enrollment of non residents increasing, so that more than one-half of the students last year were non-resident students.

During the last summer session there were 145 undergraduate degrees conferred, 74 Bachelor of Arts, 15 Bachelor of Philosophy, 43 Bachelor of Science, 7 Bachelor of Laws, 1 Graduate in Pharmacy, 1 Graduate in Agriculture, and 4 Graduates in music degrees. Sixty-two higher degrees were also conferred, among which there were 30 Master of Arts, 17 Master of Science, 5 Master of Philosophy, 1 Mechanical Engineer, 9 Doctor of Philosophy.

There are over 50 courses in the college of letters and science, college of Engineering, Medical school, Law school and Agricultural school.

Far families who desire to enjoy camp life while one or more members do summer work, a tenting colony has been organized in a beautiful spot on Lake Mendota. Twenty-seven families, numbering 80 persons, were accommodated in the colony last year, and 10 applications for platforms could not be granted because of the lack of accommodations. The colony was very popular and under the organization of Superintendent A. S. Galilei, accommodations will be greatly improved.

Careful provisions are made for proper diversions and the promotion of cultural organizations and social intercourse during the summer session.

A successful Monday evening chorus is conducted by the school of Music, the department of Physical Education gives a supervised play hour one evening each week, and on Friday mornings social gatherings for the students and faculty are occasionally held. Short musical and literary programs, games, mixer features, and dancing make up the entertainment. At the end of the session there is usually an outdoor social gathering at which a pageant or play is presented.

Classes are conducted during the session from 8 a. m. to 1 p. m. Monday to Friday. From two to five lectures, demonstrations, round table, or recitals are given each afternoon during the session which are open to the general public. With the exception of plays in the outdoor theatre by traveling troupes and occasional amateur theatricals, all exercises are free.

The summer session fee, regardless of the residence of the student or of the number of courses carried, is $22 for the six-week session, and $35 for the ten-week session in the Law School. The Law School session begins on Monday, July 19, and closes on Friday, August 25. Lectures in the colleges and graduate school begin Monday, June 4, and close Friday, August 4.

Many Profs. From Other Universities
Here For Summer

The summer school faculty will be supplemented by nineteen professors from other universities this year, according to an announcement made by Dean S. H. Goodnight, director of the summer session.

Frank B. Thayer, Medill School of Journalism, Northwestern university, will join the Course in Journalism staff. H. F. Goodrich, Iowa State university, will lecture in the Law school.

In industrial arts, Miss Helen B. Canfield, West Side High school, Cleveland, A. R. Graham, state board of vocational education, H. W. Schmidt, state superintendent's office, and George B. Cox, Huntsville state college, Texas, will teach.

Miss Elizabeth P. Hunt, Wellesley college, and J. P. Grinnell college, will join the staff of the department of speech. Albert H. Sanford, La Crosse Normal school, will lecture in history. John Staack, U. S. geological survey, will teach topographical engineering. W. H. Pyle, University of Missouri, and C. J. Galpin formerly of the University of Wisconsin and now of the federal department of agriculture, will also be on the staff.

The School of Education will have on its staff: Charles J. Anderson, assistant state superintendent of public instruction in Wisconsin; Miss Pauline Camp, and Dr. Elizabeth Wood, both of Wisconsin state department of education; W. D. Fuller, superintendent of schools Portland, Maine; T. W. Gosling, superintendent of schools, Madison; S. C. Kohs, Portland, Ore.,

Miss Estaline Wilson, grammar grade supervisor, Cincinnati, Ohio. Careful investigations and surveys of the needs and accomplishments of seventeen Wisconsin cities will be made by Wisconsin students, residents of the cities and members Prof. L. S. Smith's classes in city planning. The cities will be "city planned" during the spring vacation and the students will write essays embodying the results of the study.

Madison,
June 26.

We know you are here primarily for work—
BUT, we also know that recreation is a large item in your program, or should be.

That canoe of yours will hold an Orpheus Portable Phonograph—and with the combination of a calm lake, moonlight, and music—snuff (the Orpheus is priced at only $27.00).

For a ukulele—and you know all that word means—you can pay from $2.00 up. And a very adequate assortment awaits your selection.

Students Will Play Evening Ball Games

Student baseball games will be played Tuesday and Thursday evenings during the summer session under the direction of Coach Guy S. Loman.

Two teams have already been formed in the summer session baseball league, one consisting of members of this summer's baseball coaching class; the other including several "W" baseball men, among them "Jack" Williams '22 and "Gus" Tebell, '23.

The games will be played on the lower campus at 6 o'clock all being five-innings in length.

Places for a limited number of teams are still open in the league. Teams desiring to enter should see Coach Lowman in the gymnasium at 4:30 Tuesday afternoon.

Day and evening classes in commerce subjects are now being conducted in Milwaukee by the Badger university extension division.

There are 78 separate classes in Freshman English at the university this year.

Don't Neglect Religious Study

Students enrolled in the University Summer School have now an enviable opportunity to develop their religious thought under the leadership of one of America's greatest theologians, Rev. Frank Gavin, Th. D.

Rev. Frank Gavin, Th. D.

The courses Professors Gavin will instruct are given under the auspices of the Episcopal Church, and are open to all University Students. The work to be taken up is of inestimable value in presenting to graduate as well as undergraduate students the modern conception of Christianity's place in the world of today.

Among The Courses Offered Are:

1. Modern Thought and The Bible. 8:00 a. m. M.T.W.T.F.
2. Round Table Conference on the Church in the World Today 1:30 p. m. Tuesdays and Thursdays
3. History of Christian Thought and Activity (primarily for graduates) 1:30 p. m. M.W.F.

Registration at St. Francis Clubhouse, 1015 University Ave. on June 26, 27 and 28 with a fee of $1.00

St. Francis Clubhouse is open for the use of all Episcopal Students at all times. There are no dues.

Rev. Stanley M. Cleveland, the Student Chaplain has his office in the Clubhouse, and is available at all times to help in any way possible.
