DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE.

CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES.

HISTORICAL OUTLINE OF ADMISSION OF WISCONSIN INTO THE UNION.

CONSTITUTION OF WISCONSIN.

DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE.

UNANIMOUSLY PASSED BY THE CONGRESS OF THE THIRTEEN UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, JULY 4, 1776.

When, in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth the separate and equal station to which the laws of nature and of nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed; and that whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or to abolish it, and to institute a new government, laying its foundation on such principles, and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly, all experience hath shown that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same object, evinces a design to reduce them under absolute despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such government, and to provide new guards for their future security. Such has been the patient suffrance of these colonies, and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former systems of government. The history of the present king of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having, in direct object the establishment of an absolute tyranny over these States. To prove this, let facts be submitted to a candid world:

He has refused his assent to laws the most wholesome and necessary for the public good. He has forbidden his Governors to pass laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his assent should be obtained; and, when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them. He has refused to pass other laws for the accommodation of large districts of people unless these people would relinquish the right of representation in the legislature—a right inestimable to them, and formidable to tyrants only. He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the depository of their public records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures. He has dissolved representative houses repeatedly for opposing, with manly firmness, his invasions on the rights of the people. He has refused, for a long time after such dissolutions, to cause others to be elected; whereby the legislative powers, incapable of annihilation, have returned to the people at large for their exercise, the State remaining, in the meantime, exposed to all the danger of invasion from without and convulsions within. He has endeavored to prevent the population of these States; for that purpose, obstructing the laws for naturalization of foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their emigration hither, and raising the conditions of new appropriations of lands. He has obstructed the administration of justice, by refusing his assent to laws for establishing judiciary powers. He has made judges dependent on his will alone for the tenure of their offices and the amount and payment of their salaries. He has erected a multitude of new offices, and sent hither swarms of officers to harass our people, and eat out their substance. He has kept among us, in times of peace, standing armies, without the consent of our legislature. He has effected to render the military independent of and superior to the civil power. He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation:

For quartering large bodies of armed troops among us; for protecting them, by a mock trial, from punishment, for any murders which they should commit on the inhabitants of these States; for cutting off our trade with all parts of the world; for imposing taxes on us without our consent; for depriving us, in many cases, of the benefits of trial by jury. For transporting us beyond seas to be tried, for pretended offences. For abolishing the free system of English laws in a neighboring province, establishing therein an arbitrary government, and enlarging its boundaries, so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these colonies; for taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable laws, and altering, fundamentally, the powers of our governments; for suspending our own legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever. He has abdicated government here, by declaring us out of his protection, and waging war against us. He has plundered our seas, ravaged our coast, burnt our towns, and destroyed the lives of our people. He is at this time, transporting large armies of foreign mercenaries to complete the works of death, desolation, and tyranny, already begun, with circumstances of cruelty and perfidy scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unworthy the head of a civilized nation. He has constrained our fellow citizens, taken captive on the high seas, to bear arms against their country, to become the executioners of their friends and brethren, or to fall themselves by their hands. He has excited domestic insurrections among us, and has endeavored to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers the merciless Indian savages, whose known rule of warfare is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes, and conditions.

In every stage of these oppressions, we have petitioned for redress, in the most humble terms; our repeated petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A prince whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people.

Nor have we been wanting in attention to our British brethren. We have warned them, from time to time, of attempts made by their legislature to extend an unwarrantable jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them, by the ties of our common kindred, to disavow these usurpations, which would inevitably interrupt our connections and correspondence. They, too, have been deaf to the voice of justice and consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity which denounces our separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind, enemies in war—in peace, friends.

We, therefore, the representatives of the United States of America, in General Congress assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do, in the name and by the authority of the good people of these colonies, solemnly publish and declare, that these United Colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent States; that they are absolved from all allegiance to the British crown, and that all political connections between them and the State of Great Britain is, and ought to be, totally dissolved; and that, as free and independent States, they have full power to levy war, conclude peace, contract alliances, establish commerce, and to do all other acts and things which independent States may of right do. And for the support of this declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor.

(Signed) JOHN HANCOCK.

And by the delegates from New Hampshire, Massachusetts Bay, Connecticut, Rhode Island, &c., New Jersey, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Georgia.

CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES.

PREAMBLE.

WE, the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquillity, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America.

ARTICLE I.

SECTION 1. All legislative powers herein granted shall be vested in a Congress of the United States, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives.

SECTION 2. The House of Representatives shall be composed of members chosen every second year by the people of the several States, and the electors in each State shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the State legislature.

No person shall be a Representative who shall not have attained to the age of twenty-five years, and been seven years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that State in which he shall be chosen.

Representatives and direct taxes shall be apportioned among the several states which may be included within this Union according to their respective numbers, which shall be determined by adding to the whole number of free persons, including those bound to service for a term of years, and excluding Indians not taxed, three-fifths of all other persons. The actual enumeration shall be made within three years after the first meeting of the Congress of the United States, and within every subsequent term of ten years, in such manner as they shall by law direct. The number of Representatives shall not exceed one for every thirty thousand, but each State shall have at least one Representative; and until such enumeration shall be made, the State of New Hampshire shall be entitled to choose three, Massachusetts eight, Rhode Island and Province Plantations one, Connecticut five, New York six, New Jersey four, Pennsylvania eight, Delaware one, Maryland six, Virginia ten, North Carolina five, South Carolina five, Georgia three.

When vacancies happen in the representation from any State, the executive authority thereof shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies.

The House of Representatives shall choose their Speaker and other officers, and shall have the sole power of impeachment.

SECTION 3. The Senate of the United States shall be composed of two Senators from each State, chosen by the legislature thereof, for six years; and each Senator shall have one vote.

Immediately after they shall be assembled in consequence of the first election, they shall be divided as equally as may be into three classes. The seats of the Senators of the first class shall be vacated at the expiration of the second year; of the second class, at the expiration of the fourth year, and of the third class, at the expiration of the sixth year, so that one-third may be chosen every second year; and if vacancies happen by resignation or otherwise, during the recess of the legislature of any state, the executive thereof may make temporary appointments until the next meeting of the legislature, which shall then fill such vacancies.

No person shall be a Senator who shall not have attained to the age of thirty years, and been nine years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that State for which he shall be chosen.

The Vice President of the United States shall be President of the Senate, but shall have no vote unless they be equally divided.

The Senate shall choose their other officers, and also a President pro tempore in the absence of the Vice President, or when he shall exercise the office of President of the United States.

The Senate shall have the sole power to try all impeachments. When sitting for that purpose, they shall be on oath or affirmation. When the President of the United States is tried, the Chief Justice shall preside; and no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of the members present.

Judgment in case of impeachment shall not extend further than to removal from office, and disqualification to hold and enjoy any office of honor, trust or profit under the United States; but the party convicted shall, nevertheless, be liable and subject to indictment, trial, judgment and punishment, according to law.

SECTION 4. The times, places, and manner of holding elections for Senators and Representatives shall be prescribed in each State by the legislature thereof; but the Congress may at any time by law make or alter such regulations, except as to the places of choosing Senators.

The Congress shall assemble at least once in every year, and such meeting shall be on the first Monday in December, unless they shall by law appoint a different day.

SECTION 5. Each house shall be the judge of the elections, returns, and qualifications of its own members, and a majority of each shall constitute a quorum to do business; but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may be authorized to compel the attendance of absent members, in such manner and under such penalties as each house may provide.

Each house may determine the rules of its proceedings, punish its members for disorderly behavior, and with the concurrence of two-thirds, expel a member.

Each house shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and from time to time publish the same, excepting such parts as may in their judgment require secrecy, and the yeas and nays of the members of either house on any question shall, at the desire of one-fifth of those present, be entered on the journal.

Neither house, during the session of Congress, shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other place than that in which the two houses shall be sitting.

SECTION 6. The Senators and Representatives shall receive a compensation for their services, to be ascertained by law, and paid out of the Treasury of the United States. They shall, in all cases except treason, felony and breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at the session of their respective houses, and in going to and returning from the same; and for any speech or debate in either house, they shall not be questioned in any other place.

No Senator or Representative shall, during the time for which he was elected, be appointed to any civil office under the authority of the United States, which shall have been created, or the emoluments whereof shall have been increased during such time; and no person holding any office under the United States shall be a member of either house during his continuance in office.

SECTION 7. All bills for raising revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives; but the Senate may propose or concur with the amendments as on other bills.

Every bill which shall have passed the House of Representatives and the Senate, shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the President of the United States; if he approves, he shall sign it, but if not he shall return it, with his objections, to that house in which it shall have originated, who shall enter the objections at large on their journal and proceed to reconsider it. If after such reconsideration two-thirds of that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if approved by two-thirds of that house it shall become a law. But in all cases the votes of both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the persons voting for and against the bill shall be entered on the journal of each house respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the President within ten days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law in like manner as if he had signed it unless the Congress by their adjournment prevents its return, in which case it shall not be a law.

Every order, resolution or vote to which the concurrence of the Senate and House of Representatives may be necessary (except on a question of adjournment) shall be presented to the President of the United States; and before the same shall take effect, shall be approved by him, or, being disapproved by him, shall be repassed by two-thirds of the Senate and House of Representatives, according to the rules and limitations prescribed in the case of a bill.

SECTION 8. The Congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes, duties, imposts and excises, to pay the debts and provide for the common defense and general welfare of the United States; but all duties, imposts and excises shall be uniform throughout the United States:

To borrow money on the credit of the United States;

To regulate commerce with foreign nations, and among the several States and with the Indian tribes;

To establish an uniform rule of naturalization, and uniform laws on the subject of bankruptcies throughout the United States;

To coin money, regulate the value thereof, and of foreign coin, and fix the standard of weights and measures;

To provide for the punishment of counterfeiting the securities and current coin of the United States;

To establish post offices and post roads;

To promote the progress of science and useful arts, by securing for limited times to authors and inventors the exclusive right to their respective writings and discoveries;

To constitute tribunals inferior to the Supreme Court;

To define and punish piracies and felonies committed on the high seas, and offenses against the laws of nations;

To declare war, grant letters of marque and reprisal, and make rules concerning captures on land and water;

To raise and support armies, but no appropriation of money to that use shall be for a longer term than two years;

To provide and maintain a navy;

To make rules for the government and regulation of the land and naval forces;

To provide for calling forth the militia to execute the laws of the Union, suppress insurrections and repel invasions;

To provide for organizing, arming, and disciplining the militia, and for governing such part of them as may be employed in the service of the United States, reserving to the States respectively, the appointment of the officers, and the authority of training the militia according to the discipline prescribed by Congress;

To exercise exclusive legislation in all cases whatsoever, over such district (not exceeding ten miles square) as may, by cession of particular States, and the acceptance of Congress, become the seat of government of the United States, and to exercise like authority over all places purchased by the consent of the legislature of the State in which the same shall be, for the erection of forts, magazines, arsenals, dockyards, and other needful buildings; and

To make all laws which shall be necessary and proper for carrying into execution the foregoing powers, and all other powers vested by this Constitution in the Government of the United States, or in any department or officer thereof.

SECTION 9. The migration or importation of such persons as any of the States now existing shall think proper to admit, shall not be prohibited by the Congress prior to the year one thousand eight hundred and eight, but a tax or duty may be imposed on such importation, not exceeding ten dollars for each person.

The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended, unless when in cases of rebellion or invasion the public safety may require it.

No bill of attainder or ex post facto law shall be passed.

No capitation, or other direct tax shall be laid, unless in proportion to the census or enumeration hereinbefore directed to be taken.

No tax or duty shall be laid on articles exported from any State.

No preference shall be given by any regulation of commerce or revenue to the ports of one State over those of another; nor shall vessels bound to, or from one State, be obliged to enter, clear or pay duties in another.

No money shall be drawn from the treasury, but in consequence of appropriations made by law; and a regular statement and account of the receipts and expenditures of all public money shall be published from time to time.

No title of nobility shall be granted by the United States; and no person holding an office of profit or trust under them, shall, without the consent of the Congress, accept of any present, emolument, office or title of any kind whatever, from any king, prince or foreign State.

SECTION 10. No State shall enter into any treaty, alliance or confederation; grant letters of marque and reprisal; coin money; emit bills of credit; make anything but gold and silver coin a tender in payment of debts; pass any bill of attainder; ex post facto law, or law impairing the obligation of contracts, or grant any title of nobility.

No state shall, without the consent of the Congress, lay any imposts or duties on imports or exports, except what may be absolutely necessary for executing its inspection laws; and the net produce of all duties and imposts, laid by any State on imports or exports, shall be for the use of the Treasury of the United States; and all such laws shall be subject to the revision and control of the Congress.

No state shall, without the consent of Congress, lay any duty of tonnage, keep troops or ships of war in time of peace, enter into any agreement or compact with another State, or with a foreign power, or engage in war, unless actually invaded, or in such imminent danger as will not admit of delay.

ARTICLE II.

SECTION 1. The executive power shall be vested in a President of the United States of America. He shall hold his office during the term of four years, and together with the Vice-President, chosen for the same term, be elected as follows:

Each state shall appoint, in such manner as the legislature thereof may direct a number of electors, equal to the whole number of Senators and Representatives to which the State may be entitled in the congress; but no Senator or Representative, or person holding an office of trust or profit under the United States shall be appointed an elector.

The electors shall meet in their respective States, and vote by ballot for two persons, of whom one at least shall not be an inhabitant of the same State with themselves. And they shall make a list of all the persons voted for, and of the number of votes for each; which list they shall sign and certify, and transmit, sealed, to the seat of government of the United States, directed to the President of the Senate. The President of the Senate shall, in the presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, open all the certificates, and the votes shall then be counted. The person having the greatest number of votes shall be the President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed; and if there be more than one who have such a majority, and have an equal number of votes, then the House of Representatives shall immediately choose by ballot one of them for President; and if no person have a majority, then from the five highest on the list the said House shall in like manner choose a President. But in choosing the President, the votes shall be taken by States, the representation from each State having one vote; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members from two-thirds of the States, and a majority of all the States shall be necessary to a choice. In every case, after the choice of the President, the person having the greatest number of votes of the electors, shall be the Vice-President. But if there should remain two or more who have equal votes, the Senate shall choose from them by ballot the Vice-President.

The Congress may determine the time of choosing the electors, and the day on which they shall give their votes; which day shall be the same throughout the United States.

No person except a natural-born citizen, or a citizen of the United States, at the time of the adoption of this Constitution, shall be eligible to the office of President; neither shall any person be eligible to that office, who shall not have attained to the age of thirty-five years, and been fourteen years a resident within the United States.

In case of the removal of the President from office, or of his death, resignation, or inability to discharge the powers and duties of the said office, the same shall devolve on the Vice-President, and the Congress may by law provide for the case of removal, death, resignation or inability both of the President and Vice-President, declaring what officer shall then act as President, and such officer shall act accordingly, until the disability be removed, or a President shall be elected.

The President shall, at stated times, receive for his services a compensation which shall be neither increased nor diminished during the period for which he shall have been elected, and he shall not receive within that period any other emolument from the United States, or any of them.

Before he enters on the execution of his office, he shall take the following oath or affirmation:

"I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully execute the office of President of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, preserve, protect, and defend the constitution of the United States."

SECTION 2. The President shall be commander-in-chief of the army and navy of the United States, and of the militia of the several States, when called into the actual service of the United States; he may require the opinion, in writing, of the principal officer in each of the executive departments, upon any subject relating to the duties of their respective offices, and he shall have power to grant reprieves and pardons for offenses against the United States, except in cases of impeachment.

He shall have power, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, to make treaties, provided two-thirds of the Senators present concur; and he shall nominate, and by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, shall appoint ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls, judges of the Supreme Court, and all other officers of the United States whose appointments are not herein otherwise provided for and which shall be established by law; but the Congress may by law vest the appointment of such inferior officers as they think proper, in the President alone, in the courts of law or in the heads of departments.

The President shall have power to fill up all vacancies that may happen during the recess of the Senate, by granting commissions which shall expire at the end of their next session.

SECTION 3. He shall from time to time give to the Congress such information of the state of the Union, and recommend to their consideration measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient; he may on extraordinary occasions convene both Houses, or either of them, and in case of disagreement between them, with respect to the time of adjournment, he may adjourn them to such time as he shall think proper; he shall receive ambassadors and other public ministers; he shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed; and shall commission all of the officers of the United States.

SECTION 4. The President, Vice-President, and all civil officers of the United States, shall be removed from office on impeachment for, and conviction of treason, bribery or other high crimes and misdemeanors.

ARTICLE III.

SECTION 1. The judicial power of the United States shall be vested in one Supreme Court, and in such inferior courts as the Congress may from time to time ordain and establish. The judges, both of the supreme and inferior courts, shall hold their offices during good behavior, and shall at stated times receive for their services a compensation which shall not be diminished during their continuance in office.

SECTION 2. The judicial power shall extend to all cases, in law and equity, arising under this Constitution, the laws of the United States, and treaties made or which shall be made, under their authority; to all cases affecting ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls; to all cases of admiralty and maritime jurisdiction; to controversies to which the United States shall be a party; to controversies between two or more States; between a State and citizens of another State; between citizens of different States; between citizens of the same

State claiming lands under grants of different States, and between a State or the citizens thereof, and foreign States, citizens or subjects.

In all cases affecting ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls, and those in which a State shall be a party, the Supreme Court shall have original jurisdiction. In all the other cases before mentioned, the Supreme Court shall have appellate jurisdiction, both as to law and fact; with such exceptions, and under such regulations as the Congress shall make.

The trial of all crimes, except in cases of impeachment, shall be by jury; and such trial shall be held in the State where the said crime shall have been committed; but when not committed within any State, the trial shall be at such place or places as the Congress may by law have directed.

SECTION 3. Treason against the United States shall consist only in levying war against them, or in adhering to their enemies, giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted of treason unless on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or on confession in open court.

The Congress shall have power to declare the punishment of treason, but no attainder of treason shall work corruption of blood or forfeiture except during the life of the person attainted.

ARTICLE IV.

SECTION 1. Full faith and credit shall be given in each State to the public acts, records, and judicial proceedings of every other State. And the Congress may by general laws prescribe the manner in which such acts, records and proceedings shall be proved, and the effect thereof.

SECTION 2. The citizens of each State shall be entitled to all privileges and immunities of citizens in the several States.

A person charged in any State with treason, felony, or other crime, who shall flee from justice and be found in another State, shall, on demand of the executive authority of the State from which he fled, be delivered up, to be removed to the State having jurisdiction of the crime.

No person held to service or labor in one State, under the laws thereof, escaping into another, shall, in consequence of any law or regulation therein, be discharged from such service or labor, but shall be delivered up on claim of the party to whom such service or labor may be due.

SECTION 3. New States may be admitted by the Congress into this Union; but no new State shall be formed or erected within the jurisdiction of any other State; nor any State be formed by the junction of two or more States, or part of States, without the consent of the legislature of the States concerned as well as of the Congress.

The Congress shall have power to dispose of and make all needful rules and regulations respecting the territory or other property belonging to the United States; and nothing in this Constitution shall be so construed as to prejudice any claims of the United States, or of any particular State.

SECTION 4. The United States shall guarantee to every State in this Union a republican form of government, and shall protect each of them against invasion, and on application of the legislature, or of the executive (when the legislature cannot be convened), against domestic violence.

ARTICLE V.

The Congress, whenever two-thirds of both houses shall deem it necessary, shall propose amendments to this Constitution, or, on the application of the legislature of two-thirds of the several States, shall call a convention for proposing amendments, which in either case, shall be valid to all intents and purposes, as part of this Constitution, when ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several States, or by conventions in three-fourths thereof, as the one or the other mode of ratification may be proposed by the Congress; provided that no amendment which may be made prior to the year one thousand eight hundred and eight, shall in any manner affect the first and fourth clauses in the ninth section of the first article; and that no State, without its consent, shall be deprived of its equal suffrage in the Senate.

ARTICLE VI.

All debts contracted and engagements entered into, before the adoption of this Constitution, shall be as valid against the United States under this Constitution as under the Confederation.

This Constitution, and the laws of the United States which shall be made in pursuance thereof, and all treaties made, or which shall be made, under the authority of the United States, shall be the supreme law of the land; and the judges in every State shall be bound thereby, anything in the Constitution or laws of any State to the contrary notwithstanding.

The Senators and Representatives before mentioned, and the members of the several State legislatures, and all executive and judicial officers, both of the United States and of the several States, shall be bound by oath or affirmation, to support this Constitution; but no religious test shall ever be required as a qualification to any office or public trust under the United States.

ARTICLE 7 I.

The ratification of the conventions of nine States shall be sufficient for the establishment of this Constitution between the States so ratifying the same. Done in convention by the unanimous consent of the States present, the seventeenth day of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and eighty-seven, and of the Independence of the United States of America the twelfth. AMENDMENTS.

[The first ten amendments were proposed at the first session of the first Congress of the United States, which was begun and held at the city of New York, on the 4th, of March, 1789, and were adopted by the requisite number of States.—I vol. Laws of U. S., p. 72.]

[The preamble and resolution following, preceded the original proposition of the amendments, and, as they have been supposed by a high equity judge (8 Wendell's reports, p. 100) to have an important bearing on the construction of those amendments, they are here inserted. They will be found in the journals of the first session of the first Congress.]

CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES, begun and held at the city of New York, on Wednesday, the 4th of March, 1789. The conventions of a number of the States having at the time of their adopting the Constitution, expressed a desire, in order to prevent misconstruction or abuse of its powers, that further declaratory and restrictive clauses should be added; and as extending the ground of public confidence in the government, will best insure the beneficent ends of its institution,—

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, two-thirds of both houses concurring, That the following articles be proposed to the legislatures of the several States, as amendments to the Constitution of the United States, all or any of which articles, when ratified by three-fourths of said legislatures, to be valid to all intents and purposes as part of said Constitution, namely:

ARTICLE I.

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the government for a redress of grievances.

ARTICLE II.

A well regulated militia, being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed.

ARTICLE III.

No soldier shall in time of peace, be quartered in any house, without the consent of the owner, nor in time of war, but in a manner to be prescribed by law.

ARTICLE IV.

The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers and effects against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and no warrants shall issue, but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the person or things to be seized.

ARTICLE V.

No person shall be held to answer for a capital, or otherwise infamous crime, unless on a presentment or indictment of a grand jury, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the militia, when in actual service in time of war or public danger; nor shall any person be subject for the offense to be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; nor shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself, nor be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor shall private property be taken for public use, without just compensation,

ARTICLE VI.

In all criminal prosecutions the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial, by an impartial jury of the state and district wherein the crime shall have been committed, which district shall have been previously ascertained by law, and to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation; to be confronted with the witnesses against him; to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor, and to have the assistance of counsel for his defense.

ARTICLE VII.

In suits at common law, where the value in controversy shall exceed twenty dollars, the right of trial by jury shall be preserved, and no fact tried by a jury shall be otherwise re-examined in any court of the United States, than according to rules of the common law.

ARTICLE VIII.

Excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel and unusual punishments inflicted.

ARTICLE IX.

The enumeration in the Constitution, of certain rights shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people.

ARTICLE X.

The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people.

ARTICLE XI.

The judicial power of the United States shall not be construed to extend to any suit in law or equity, commenced or prosecuted against one of the United States by citizens of another State, or by citizens or subjects of any foreign State.

ARTICLE XII.

The electors shall meet in their respective States and vote by ballot for President and Vice-President, one of whom at least, shall not be an inhabitant of the same State with themselves; they shall name in their ballots the persons voted for as President, and in distinct ballots the person voted for as Vice-President, and they shall make distinct lists of all persons voted for as President, and of all persons voted for as Vice-President and of the number of votes for each; which list they shall sign and certify, and transmit sealed to the seat of government of the United States, directed to the President of the Senate. The President of the Senate shall, in the presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, open all the certificates, and the vote shall then be counted; the person having the greatest number of votes for President shall be the President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed; and if no person have such majority, then from the persons having the highest numbers, not exceeding three on the list of those voted for as President, the House of Representatives shall choose immediately, by ballot, the President. But in choosing the President, the vote shall be taken by States, the representation from each State having one vote; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members from two-thirds of the States, and a majority of all the States shall be necessary to a choice. And if the House of Representatives shall not choose a President whenever the right of choice shall devolve upon them, before the fourth day of March next following, then the Vice-President shall act as President, as in the case of the death or other constitutional disability of the President.

The person having the greatest number of votes as Vice-President shall be the Vice-President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed, and if no person have a majority, then from the two highest numbers on the list, the Senate shall choose the Vice-President; a quorum for the purpose shall consist of two-thirds of the whole number of Senators, and a majority of the whole number shall be necessary to a choice. But no person constitutionally ineligible to the office of President shall be eligible to that of Vice-President of the United States.

ARTICLE XIII.

SECTION 1. Neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime, whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall exist within the United States, or any place subject to their jurisdiction.

SECTION 2. Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

ARTICLE XIV.

SECTION 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States, and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States, nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

SECTION 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State, excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice President of the United States, Representatives in Congress, the executive and judicial officers of a State, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State, being twenty-one years of age, and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged, except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State.

SECTION 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President, or Vice President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States, or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath as member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; but Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability.

SECTION 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States, authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing the insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims shall be held illegal and void.

SECTION 5. The Congress shall have power to enforce, by appropriate legislation, the provisions of this article.

ARTICLE XV.

SECTION 1. The right of the citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude.

SECTION 2. The Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

HISTORY OF THE AMENDMENTS.

Twelve amendments were proposed by Congress, September 25, 1789, the last ten of which were adopted, and they are the first ten as given above. They were proclaimed in force, December 15, 1791.

The rejected Articles were as follows:

I. After the first enumeration required by the First Article of the Constitution, there shall be one representative for every 30,000 persons, until the number shall amount to one hundred; after which the proportion shall be so regulated by Congress, that there shall not be less than one hundred Representatives nor more than one for every 40,000 persons, until the number shall amount to two hundred; after which the proportion shall be so regulated by Congress that there shall not be less than two hundred Representatives, nor more than one Representative for every 50,000 persons.

II. No law varying the compensation for the services of the Senators and Representatives shall take effect until an election of Representatives shall have intervened.

The twelve proposed amendments were acted upon as follows: All ratified by Kentucky, Maryland, New Jersey, North Carolina, South Carolina, Vermont and Virginia—7.

All excepting Art. I ratified by Delaware—1.

All excepting Art. II ratified by Pennsylvania—1.

All excepting Art. I and II ratified by New Hampshire, New York, Rhode Island—3.

All rejected by Connecticut, Georgia and Massachusetts—3.

Article XI was proposed by Congress March 12, 1794, and declared in force January 8, 1798.

Article XII was proposed in the first session of the Eighth Congress and declared in force September 25, 1804.

Article XIII was proposed by Congress February 1, 1865, and declared in force December 18, 1865.

Article XIV was proposed by Congress June 13, 1866, and declared in force July 28, 1868.

It was ratified by Alabama, Arkansas, Colorado, Connecticut, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Vermont, Virginia, West Virginia and Wisconsin—33.

Of the above, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Texas and Virginia first rejected the amendment but finally ratified it. New Jersey and Ohio rescinded their ratification.

No final action was taken by California—1.

Rejected by Delaware, Kentucky and Maryland—3.

Article XV was proposed by Congress February 26, 1869, and declared in force March 30, 1870.

Of the above Georgia and Ohio first rejected but finally ratified. New York rescinded her ratification. The amendment was rejected by California, Delaware, Kentucky, Maryland, New Jersey and Oregon—6.

No final action was taken by Tennessee—1.

HISTORICAL OUTLINE OF THE ADMISSION OF WISCONSIN TO THE UNION.

[By REUBEN G. THWAITES, Superintendent of State Historical Society of Wisconsin.]

Previous to the fall of New France (1763), what is now Wisconsin was held by the French, who had several military posts within its borders—the chief among them, at Green Bay and Chequamegon. Upon the assumption of British control, the country northwest of the River Ohio (including the present Wisconsin) was made a part of the Province of Quebec; but by the treaty of peace consequent upon the successful issue of the Revolution (1783), the country became a part of the United States. There were, at first, claims by tide-water States to some of the land in the then Northwest, but eventually these were surrendered, and the district became national domain. By the Ordinance of 1787, the trans-Ohio country was erected into the Northwest Territory; the ordinance provided for the ultimate establishment therefrom of five states. The story of how Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, and Illinois were in due course of time detached, will be found set forth in detail in the article on "The Boundaries of Wisconsin," in Wisconsin Historical Collections, Vol. xi.

The country west of Lake Michigan and north of the Illinois line, became in 1818 a part of Michigan Territory, and was organized into Brown and Crawford counties, whose officers exercised civil jurisdiction. Congress, in 1836, erected Wisconsin Territory—the name being derived from its principal river. It is an Indian name, the exact meaning of which is unknown; popular writers are fond of telling us that it signifies "gathering of the waters," or "meeting of the waters"—but there is no warrant for this. The earliest-known French form of the word, is "Misconsing," which gradually became crystallized into "Ouisconsin." When the English language became dominant, it was necessary to change the spelling in order to preserve the sound; it thus, at first, became "Wiskonsan," or "Wiskonsin," but finally, by official action, "Wisconsin." The "k" was, however, rather strenuously insisted on by Governor Doty and many newspaper editors, in the days of Territory.

Preliminary Agitation.—Some of the people of Wisconsin were not content with a Territorial government. The Territory was only two years old, when a bill was introduced in Congress for a State government, but the attempt proved abortive. In 1831, Governor Doty, the leader in the movement, had the question put to popular vote within the Territory, 92 voting for, and 499 against it; in 1832, there was still another vote—ayes 619, nays 1,821; in 1834, a third attempt was defeated in the Territorial council; and in 1845, still another met defeat in the assembly.

At last, after ten years of Territorial existence, popular sentiment had been educated to a general desire for statehood. Accordingly, Morgan L. Martin, of Green Bay, then the Territorial representative in Congress, gave notice in the House of Representatives (January 9, 1846), "of a motion for leave to introduce a bill to enable the people of Wisconsin to form a constitution and State government, and for the admission of such State into the Union." He followed this (January 13) by the introduction of a bill to that effect; the measure was approved by President Polk, August 10.

Meanwhile, in January and February, 1846, the council and house of Wisconsin Territory had favorably voted on the proposition, and discussed some of the principal features of the proposed State constitution. On April 17, the question of statehood was passed upon by the people of the Territory, the returns this time showing 12,334 votes for, and 2,487 against. August 1, Governor Dodge issued a proclamation calling a convention for the drafting of a constitution, and apportioning 124 delegates to the various counties; these delegates were elected September 7.

First Constitutional Convention.—The convention was in session in the Territorial capitol at Madison, between October and December 16, 1846. Don A. J. Upham was president, and Lafayette Kellogg, secretary. The membership was as follows:

Brown—David Agry, Henry S. Baird.

Calumet—Lemuel Goodell.

Columbia—Jeremiah Drake, La Fayette Hill.

Crawford—Peter A. R. Brace.

Dane—John Y. Smith, Abel Dunning, Benjamin Fuller, George B. Smith, Nathaniel F. Hyer, John M. Babcock.

Dodge—William M. Dennis, Stoddard Judd, Hiram Barber, Benjamin Granger, Horace D. Patch, John H. Manahan.

Fond du Lac—Warren Chase, Lorenzo Hazen, Moses S. Gibson.

Grant—Thomas P. Burnett, Thomas Cruson, Lorenzo Eevens, Neeley Gray, J. Allen Barber, James Gilmore, Franklin Z. Hicks, Daniel R. Burt, James R. Vineyard.

Green—Davis Bowen, Noah Phelps, William C. Green, Hiram Brown.

La Pointe—James P. Hayes.

Marquette—Samuel W. Beall.

Manitowoc—Ervander M. Soper.

Milwaukee—Don A. J. Upham, Franz Hübschmann, Wallace W. Graham, Garrett Vliet, John Crawford, Asa Kinney, Garrett M. Fitzgerald, John Cooper, John H. Tweedy, James Magone, Horace Chase, Charles E. Browne.

Portage—Henry C. Goodrich.

Racine—Edward G. Ryan, Marshall M. Strong, Frederick S. Lovell, Elijah Steele, Stephen O. Bennett, Nathaniel Dickinson, Daniel Harkin, Chauncey Kellogg, Haynes French, Chatfield H. Parsons, Victor M. Willard, James H. Hall, James B. Carter, T. S. Stockwell.¹

Rock—A. Hyatt Smith, David Noggle, Sanford P. Hammond, James Chamberlain, Joseph S. Pierce, George B. Hall, David L. Mills, John Hackett, Joseph Kinney Jr., Israel Inman Jr.

Richland—Edward Coumbe.

Sauk—William H. Clark.

St. Croix—William Holcombe.

Sheboygan—David Giddings.

Washington—Bostwick O'Connor, Edward H. Janssen, Patrick Toland, Charles J. Kern, Hopewell Cox, Joel F. Wilson.

Winnebago—James Duane Doty.

The convention, as above constituted, was an able body of thoroughly representative men, of whom 42 were natives of New York State, 29 of New England, and 12 of foreign birth; 69 of them were farmers, and 26 lawyers. The oldest man was 65 years, and the youngest 23. The speeches, as recorded in the newspapers of the day, were of an exceptionally high order of excellence. The constitution which these men framed was submitted to popular vote, April 5, 1847, the result being 14,119 ayes and 20,231 nays. The contest over the document had been of an exciting nature; the defeat was owing to differences of opinion upon the article relating to the rights of married women, the article on exemptions, and those on banks, the elective judiciary, and the numerical size of the legislature.

Second Constitutional Convention. As soon as practicable, Governor Dodge (Sept. 27, 1847) called a special session of the legislature, which convened at Madison October 18, and made provisions for a second constitutional convention, with 69 members. Most of the members of the first convention declined reelection to the second; six alone were returned—S. W. Beall, Warren Chase, Stoddard Judd, Theodore Prentiss, Garret M. Fitzgerald, and Frederick S. Lovell. The membership was as follows, Morgan L. Martin being president, and Thomas McHugh secretary.

Brown—Morgan L. Martin.

Calumet—G. W. Featherstonhaugh.

Chippewa and Crawford—Daniel G. Fenton.

Columbia—James T. Lewis.

Dane—Charles M. Nichols, William A. Wheeler, William H. Fox.

Dodge—Stoddard Judd, Samuel W. Lyman, Charles H. Larrabee.

Fond du Lac—Samuel W. Beall, Warren Chase.

Grant—George W. Lakin, John H. Rountree, Alexander D. Ramsey, Orsamus Cole, William Richardson.

Green—James Biggs, William McDowell.

Iowa—Stephen P. Hollenbeck, Charles Bishop, Joseph Ward.

Jefferson—Theodore Prentiss, Milo Jones, Abram Vanderpool, Jonas Folts.

Lafayette—Charles Dunn, Allen Warden, John O'Connor.

Milwaukee—Byron Kilbourn, Rufus King, Charles H. Larkin, John L. Doran, Garrett M. Fitzgerald, Moritz Schöffler, Albert Fowler.

Portage—William H. Kennedy.

Racine—Theodore Secor, Samuel R. McClellan, Horace T. Sanders, Frederick S. Lovell, Stephen A. Davenport, Andrew B. Jackson, Albert G. Cole, James D. Reymert.

Rock—Almerin M. Carter, Ezra A. Foot, Edward V. Whiton, Paul Crandall, Joseph Colley, Louis P. Harvey.

St. Croix—George W. Brownell.

Walworth—James Harrington, Augustus C. Kinnie, George Gale, Experience Estabrook, Hollis Latham, Ezra A. Mulford.

Washington—Patrick Pantony, James Fagan, Harvey G. Turner.

Waukesha—Peter D. Gifford, George Seagel, Squire S. Case, Alfred L. Castleman, Emulous P. Cotton, Eleazer Root.

The second convention, which, on the whole, was thought to represent a more conservative element than the first, was in session at Madison from December 15, 1847, to February 1, 1848. The nativity list shows that 25 were born in New York State, 24 in New England, and only 7 in foreign lands. The oldest man was 65, and the youngest 25, with an average age of about 37.

The members of both conventions were men of high standing in their respective communities; and later, many of them held prominent positions in the service of the nation and the State.

The State Admitted.—As soon as possible after the close of the convention, notice was given in Congress (February 21, 1848) by our representative, John H.

Tweedy, of his intention to introduce another bill for the admission of Wisconsin into the Union. March 13, the people of the Territory voted on the new constitution, and it was adopted by 16,799 ayes and 6,384 nays. March 16, in a special message, President Polk submitted to Congress the Wisconsin constitution, with accompanying documents. March 20, Mr. Tweedy introduced his promised bill, which on April 13 was favorably reported from the committee on territories, read first and second times, and referred to the committee of the whole. It was made special order for May 9, and "each day thereafter until disposed;" and on the 11th was engrossed, read a third time, and passed. The Senate at once took action; May 12, the bill was there read first and second times and referred to committee on territories; a week later (May 19), the bill was concurred in, and ten days later (May 29) it was approved by the President.

The State Begins Business.—Wisconsin was thus admitted to the Union of States, by the Act of Congress approved May 29, 1848.

Upon the day of the general vote on the new constitution (March 13), the Territorial legislature adjourned sine die, after making full arrangements for the new government which was to succeed it; for it was well understood what the popular verdict would be.

The general election for the first State officers and the members of the first State legislature was held May 8. Upon the 7th of June, Governor Nelson Dewey and his fellow officials were sworn into office, and the legislature opened its first session. Thus the State of Wisconsin began business.

Why the "Badger" State?—In the early lead-mining days in southwestern Wisconsin, the miners from Southern Illinois and farther south returned home every winter and came back to the diggings in the spring, thus imitating the migrations of the fish popularly called the "sucker," in the Rock, Illinois, and other south-flowing rivers of the region. For this reason, the south-winterers were jocosely called "Suckers," and Illinois became known as "The Sucker State." On the other hand, lead-miners from the Eastern States were unable to return home every winter, and at first lived in rude dug-outs—burrowing into the hillsides after the fashion of the badger (Taxidea americana). These men were the first permanent settlers in the mines north of the Illinois line; and thus Wisconsin, in later days, became dubbed "The Badger State." Contrary to general belief, the badger itself is not frequently found in Wisconsin.

CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF WISCONSIN.

PREAMBLE.

We, the people of Wisconsin, grateful to Almighty God for our freedom; in order to secure its blessings, form a more perfect government, insure domestic tranquillity and promote the general welfare; do establish this Constitution.

ARTICLE I.

DECLARATION OF RIGHTS.

SECTION 1. All men are born equally free and independent, and have certain inherent rights; among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness: to secure these rights governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed.

SECTION 2. There should be neither slavery nor involuntary servitude in this state, otherwise than for the punishment of crime, whereof the party shall have been duly convicted.

SECTION 3. Every person may freely speak, write and publish his sentiments on all subjects, being responsible for the abuse of that right, and no laws shall be passed to restrain or abridge the liberty of speech, or of the press. In all criminal prosecutions, or indictments for libel, the truth may be given in evidence, and if it shall appear to the jury, that the matter charged as libelous be true, and was published with good motives and for justifiable ends, the party shall be acquitted; and the jury shall have the right to determine the law and the fact.

SECTION 4. The right of the people peaceably to assemble, to consult for the common good, and to petition the government, or any department thereof, shall never be abridged.

SECTION 5. The right of trial by jury shall remain inviolate, and shall extend to all cases at law, without regard to the amount in controversy; but a jury trial may be waived by the parties in all cases, in the manner prescribed by law.

SECTION 6. Excessive bail shall not be required, nor shall excessive fines be imposed, nor cruel and unusual punishments be inflicted.

SECTION 7. In all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall enjoy the right to be heard by himself and counsel; to demand the nature and cause of the accusation against him; to meet the witnesses face to face; to have compulsory process to compel the attendance of witnesses in his behalf; and in prosecutions by indictment, or information, to a speedy public trial by an impartial jury of the county or district wherein the offense shall have been committed; which county or district shall have been previously ascertained by law.

SECTION 8. No person shall be held to answer for a criminal offense without due process of law, and no person, for the same offense, shall be put twice in jeopardy of punishment, nor shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself. All persons shall before conviction be bailable by sufficient sureties, except for capital offenses when the proof is evident or the presumption great; and the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended unless when in case of rebellion or invasion the public safety may require it.

SECTION 9. Every person is entitled to a certain remedy in the laws, for all injuries, or wrongs which he may receive in his person, property, or character; he ought to obtain justice freely, and without being obliged to purchase it, completely and without denial, promptly and without delay, conformably to the laws.

SECTION 10. Treason against the State shall consist only in levying war against the same, or in adhering to its enemies, giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted of treason, unless on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or on confession in open court.

SECTION 11. The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures shall not be violated; and no warrants shall issue but upon probable cause, supported by oath, or affirmation and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized.

SECTION 12. No bill of attainder, ex-post facto law, nor any law impairing the obligation of contracts shall ever be passed, and no conviction shall work corruption of blood or forfeiture of estate.

SECTION 13. The property of no person shall be taken for public use, without just compensation therefor.

SECTION 14. All lands within the State are declared to be allodial, and feudal tenures are prohibited.—Leases and grants of agricultural land, for a longer term than fifteen years, in which rent, or service of any kind shall be reserved, and all fines and like restraints upon alienation, reserved in any grant of land, hereafter made, are declared to be void.

SECTION 15. No distinction shall ever be made by law between resident aliens and citizens, in reference to the possession, enjoyment, or descent of property.

SECTION 16. No person shall be imprisoned for debt, arising out of, or founded on a contract, expressed or implied.

SECTION 17. The privilege of the debtor to enjoy the necessary comforts of life, shall be recognized by wholesome laws, exempting a reasonable amount of property from seizure, or sale for the payment of any debt, or liability hereafter contracted.

SECTION 18. The right of every man to worship Almighty God, according to the dictates of his own conscience, shall never be infringed; nor shall any man be compelled to attend, erect, or support any place of worship, or to maintain any ministry against his consent; nor shall any control of, or interference with, the rights of conscience be permitted, or any preference be given by law to any religious establishments, or modes of worship; nor shall any money be drawn from the treasury for the benefit of religious societies, or religious, or theological seminaries.

SECTION 19. No religious test shall ever be required as a qualification for any office of public trust under the State, and no person shall be rendered incompetent to give evidence in any court of law, or equity, in consequence of his opinions on the subject of religion.

SECTION 20. The military shall be in strict subordination to the civil power.

SECTION 21. Writs of error shall never be prohibited by law.

SECTION 22. The blessings of a free government can only be maintained by a firm adherence to justice, moderation, temperance, frugality and virtue, and by frequent recurrence to fundamental principles.

ARTICLE II.

BOUNDARIES.

SECTION 1. It is hereby ordained and declared, that the State of Wisconsin doth consent and accept of the boundaries prescribed in the act of Congress entitled "An act to enable the people of Wisconsin Territory to form a Constitution and State government, and for the admission of such State into the Union," approved August sixth, one thousand eight hundred and forty-six, to-wit: Beginning at the north-east corner of the State of Illinois—that is to say; at a point in the centre of Lake Michigan, where the line of forty-two degrees and thirty minutes of north latitude crosses the same; thence running with the boundary line of the State of Michigan, through Lake Michigan, Green Bay, to the mouth of the Menominee river; thence up the channel of the said river to the Brule river; thence up said last mentioned river to Lake Brule; thence along the southern shore of Lake Brule in a direct line to the centre of the channel between Middle and South Islands, in the Lake of the Desert; thence in a direct line to the head waters of the Montreal river, as marked upon the survey made by Captain Cramm; thence down the main channel of the Montreal river to the middle of Lake Superior, thence through the centre of Lake Superior to the mouth of the St. Louis river; thence up the main channel of said river to the first rapids in the same, above the Indian village, according to Nichollet's map thence due south to the main branch of the river St. Croix; thence down the main channel of said river to the Mississippi; thence down the centre of the main channel of that river to the north-west corner of the State of Illinois: thence due east with the northern boundary of the State of Illinois to the place of beginning, as established by "an act to enable the people of the Illinois Territory to form a constitution and State government, and for the admission of such State into the Union on an equal footing with the original States", approved April 18th, 1818. Provided, however, that the following alteration of the aforesaid boundary be, and hereby is proposed to the Congress of the United States as the preference of the State of Wisconsin, and if the same shall be assented and agreed to by the Congress of the United States, then the same shall be and forever remain obligatory on the State of Wisconsin, viz.: Leaving the aforesaid boundary line at the foot of the rapids of the St. Louis river; thence in a direct line, bearing South-westerly, to the mouth of the Iskodewabo, or Rum river, where the same empties into the Mississippi river, thence down the main channel of the said Mississippi river as prescribed in the aforesaid boundary.

SECTION 2. The propositions contained in the act of Congress are hereby accepted, ratified and confirmed, and shall remain irrevocable without the consent of the United States; and it is hereby ordained that this State shall never interfere with the primary disposal of the soil within the same by the United States, nor with any regulations Congress may find necessary for securing the title in such soil to bona-fide purchasers thereof; and no tax shall be imposed on land, the property of the United States, and in no case shall non-resident proprietors be taxed higher than residents. PROVIDED, that nothing in this Constitution, or in the Act of Congress aforesaid, shall in any manner prejudice, or affect the right of the State of Wisconsin to five hundred thousand acres of land, granted to said state, and to be hereafter selected and located by and under the Act of Congress entitled "An act to appropriate the proceeds of the sales of the public lands, and grant pre-emption rights, approved September fourth, one thousand eight hundred and forty-one.

ARTICLE III.

SUFFRAGE.

[Section 1, as amended by a vote of the people at the General Election, November 7, 1882, and November 3, 1908.]

SECTION 1. Every male person of the age of twenty-one years or upwards belonging to either of the following classes who shall have resided within the State for one year next preceding any election, and in the election district where he offers to vote, such time as may be prescribed by the Legislature, not exceeding thirty days, shall be deemed a qualified elector at such election.

1. Citizens of the United States.

2. Persons of foreign birth who, prior to the first day of December, A. D. 1908, shall have declared their intentions to become citizens conformable to the laws of the United States on the subject of naturalization; provided that the rights hereby granted to such persons shall cease on the first day of December, A. D. 1912.

3. Persons of Indian blood who have once been declared by law of congress to be citizens of the United States, any subsequent law of congress to the contrary notwithstanding.

4. Civilized persons of Indian descent not members of any tribe; provided, that the legislature may at any time extend by law the right of suffrage to persons not herein enumerated; but no such law shall be in force until the same shall have been submitted to a vote of the people at a general election and approved by a majority of all the votes cast at such election; and provided further, that in incorporated cities and villages, the legislature may provide for the registration of electors and prescribe proper rules and regulations therefor.

SECTION 2. No person under guardianship, non-compos mentis, or insane, shall be qualified to vote at any election; nor shall any person convicted of treason, or felony, be qualified to vote at any election, unless restored to civil rights.

SECTION 3. All votes shall be given by ballot, except for such township officers as may by law be directed, or allowed to be otherwise chosen.

SECTION 4. No person shall be deemed to have lost his residence in this State, by reason of his absence on business of the United States, or of this State.

SECTION 5. No soldier, seaman, or marine in the army or navy of the United States, shall be deemed a resident of this State, in consequence of being stationed within the same.

SECTION 6. Laws may be passed excluding from the right of suffrage all persons who have been or may be convicted of bribery, or larceny, or of any infamous crime, and depriving every person who shall make, or become directly, or indirectly interested, in any bet or wager depending upon the result of any election, from the right to vote at such election.

ARTICLE IV.

LEGISLATIVE.

SECTION 1. The legislative power shall be vested in a Senate and Assembly.

SECTION 2. The number of the members of the Assembly shall never be less than fifty-four, nor more than one hundred. The Senate shall consist of a number not more than one-third, nor less than one-fourth of the number of the members of the Assembly.

SECTION 3. The Legislature shall provide by law for an enumeration of the inhabitants of the State in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five and at the end of every ten years thereafter; and at their first session after such enumeration, and also after each enumeration made by the authority of the United States, the legislature shall apportion and district anew the members of the Senate and Assembly, according to the number of inhabitants, excluding Indians not taxed, and soldiers and officers of the United States Army and Navy.

SECTION 4. The members of the assembly shall be chosen biennially, by single districts on the Tuesday succeeding the first Monday of November after the adoption of this amendment by the qualified electors of the several districts; such districts to be bounded by county, precinct, town or ward lines, to consist of contiguous territory, and be in as compact form as practicable.

SECTION 5. The senators shall be elected by single districts of convenient contiguous territory, at the same time and in the same manner as members of the assembly are required to be chosen, and no assembly district shall be divided in the formation of a senate district. The senate district shall be numbered in the regular series, and the senators shall be chosen alternately from the odd and even-numbered districts. The Senators elected, or holding over at the time of the adoption of this amendment, shall continue in office till their successors are duly elected and qualified; and after the adoption of this amendment, all senators shall be chosen for the term of four years.

SECTION 6. No person shall be eligible to the Legislature, who shall not have resided one year within the State, and be a qualified elector in the district which he may be chosen to represent.

SECTION 7. Each house shall be the judge of the elections, returns and qualifications of its own members; and a majority of each shall constitute a quorum to do business; but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may compel the attendance of absent members in such manner, and under such penalties as each house may provide.

SECTION 8. Each house may determine the rules of its own proceedings, punish for contempt and disorderly behavior, and with the concurrence of two-thirds of all the members elected, expel a member; but no member shall be expelled a second time for the same cause.

SECTION 9. Each house shall choose its own officers and the Senate shall choose a temporary president, when the Lieutenant-Governor shall not attend as president, or shall act as Governor.

SECTION 10. Each house shall keep a journal of its proceedings and publish the same, except such parts as require secrecy. The doors of each house shall be kept open except when the public welfare shall require secrecy. Neither house shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days.

SECTION 11. The legislature shall meet at the seat of government at such time as shall be provided by law, once in two years and no oftener, unless convened by the Governor in special session, and when so convened no business shall be transacted except as shall be necessary to accomplish the special purposes for which it was convened.

SECTION 12. No member of the Legislature, shall, during the term for which he was elected, be appointed or elected to any civil office in the State, which shall have been created, or the emoluments of which shall have been increased, during the term for which he was elected.

SECTION 13. No person being a member of Congress, or holding any military or civil office under the United States, shall be eligible to a seat in the Legislature and if any person shall, after his election as a member of the Legislature, be elected to Congress, or be appointed to any office, civil or military, under the government of the United States, his acceptance thereof shall vacate his seat.

SECTION 14. The Governor shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies as may occur in either house of the Legislature.

SECTION 15. Members of the Legislature shall in all cases, except treason, felony and breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest; nor shall they be subject to any civil process during the session of the Legislature, nor for fifteen days next before the commencement and after the termination of each session.

SECTION 16. No member of the Legislature shall be liable in any civil action or criminal prosecution whatever, for words spoken in debate.

SECTION 17. The style of the laws of the State shall be "The people of the State of Wisconsin, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:." and no law shall be enacted except by bill.

SECTION 18. No private or local bill which may be passed by the Legislature shall embrace more than one subject, and that shall be expressed in the title.

SECTION 19. Any bill may originate in either house of the Legislature, and a bill passed by one house may be amended by the other.

SECTION 20. The yeas and nays of the members of either house, on any question shall, at the request of one-sixth of those present, be entered on the journal. [Section 21, as amended by a vote of the people at the General Election, November 8, 1881.]

SECTION 21. Each member of the legislature shall receive for his services, for and during a regular session, the sum of five hundred dollars, and ten cents for every mile he shall travel in going to and returning from the place of meeting of the legislature on the most usual route. In case of an extra session of the legislature, no additional compensation shall be allowed to any member thereof, either directly or indirectly, except for mileage, to be computed at the same rate as for a regular session. No stationery, newspapers, postage or other perquisite, except the salary and mileage above provided, shall be received from the state by any member of the legislature for his services, or in any other manner as such member.

SECTION 22. The Legislature may confer upon the boards of supervisors of the several counties of the State, such powers of a local, legislative and administrative character, as they shall from time to time prescribe.

SECTION 23. The Legislature shall establish but one system of town and county government which shall be as nearly uniform as practicable.

SECTION 24. The Legislature shall never authorize any lottery, or grant any divorce.

SECTION 25. The Legislature shall provide by law, that all stationery required for the use of the State, and all printing authorized and required by them to be done for their use, or for the State, shall be let by contract to the lowest bidder, but the Legislature may establish a maximum price, no member of the Legislature or other State Officer, shall be interested, either directly or indirectly, in any such contract.

SECTION 26. The Legislature shall never grant any extra compensation to any public officer, agent, servant, or contractor, after the services shall have been rendered, or the contract entered into; nor shall the compensation of any public officer be increased, or diminished during his term of office.

SECTION 27. The Legislature shall direct by law in what manner and in what courts, suits may be brought against the State.

SECTION 28. Members of the Legislature, and all officers, executive and judicial, except such inferior officers as may be by law exempted, shall before they enter upon the duties of their respective offices, take and subscribe an oath, or affirmation to support the Constitution of the United States, and the Constitution of the State of Wisconsin, and faithfully to discharge the duties of their respective offices to the best of their ability.

SECTION 29. The Legislature shall determine what persons shall constitute the militia of the State, and may provide for organizing and disciplining the same in such manner as shall be prescribed by law.

SECTION 30. In all elections to be made by the Legislature, the members thereof shall vote viva-voce, and their votes shall be entered on the journal.

[Sections 31 and 32, as amended by a vote of the people at the General Election, November 7, 1871, and amendment to section 31, adopted November 8, 1892.]

SECTION 31. The Legislature is prohibited from enacting any special or private laws in the following cases: 1st. For changing the name of persons or constituting one person the heir-at-law of another. 2d. For laying out, opening or altering highways except in cases of State roads extending into more than one county, and military roads to aid in the construction of which lands may be granted by Congress. 3d. For authorizing persons to keep ferries across streams, at points wholly within this state. 4th. For authorizing the sale of mortgage of real or personal property of minors or others under disability. 5th. For locating or changing any county seat. 6th. For assessment or collection of taxes or for extending the time for collection thereof. 7th. For granting corporate powers or privileges, except to cities. 8th. For authorizing the apportionment of any part of the school fund. 9th. For incorporating any city, town or village, or to amend the charter thereof.

SECTION 32. The Legislature shall provide general laws for the transaction of any business that may be prohibited by section thirty-one of this article, and all such laws shall be uniform in their operations throughout the State.

ARTICLE V.

EXECUTIVE.

SECTION 1. The Executive power shall be vested in a Governor, who shall hold his office for two years; a Lieutenant Governor shall be elected at the same time, and for the same term.

SECTION 2. No person except a citizen of the United States and a qualified elector of the State shall be eligible to the office of Governor, or Lieutenant Governor.

SECTION 3. The Governor and Lieutenant Governor shall be elected by the qualified electors of the State at the times and places of choosing members of the Legislature. The persons respectively having the highest number of votes for Governor and Lieutenant Governor, shall be elected; but in case two or more shall have an equal and the highest number of votes for Governor, or Lieutenant Governor, the two houses of the Legislature, at its next annual session, shall forthwith, by joint ballot, choose one of the persons so having an equal and the highest number of votes for Governor, or Lieutenant Governor. The returns of election for Governor and Lieutenant Governor, shall be made in such manner as shall be provided by law.

SECTION 4. The Governor shall be Commander-in-Chief of the Military and Naval forces of the State. He shall have power to convene the Legislature on extraordinary occasions, and in case of invasion, or danger from the prevalence of contagious disease at the seat of government, he may convene them at any other suitable place within the State. He shall communicate to the Legislature, at every session, the condition of the State; and recommend such matters to them for their consideration as he may deem expedient. He shall transact all necessary business with the officers of the government, civil and military. He shall expedite all such measures as may be resolved upon by the Legislature, and shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed.

SECTION 5. The Governor shall receive, during his continuance in office, an annual compensation of five thousand dollars which shall be in full for all traveling or other expenses incident to his duties.

SECTION 6. The Governor shall have power to grant reprieves, commutations and pardons after conviction, for all offenses, except treason and cases of impeachment, upon such conditions and with such restrictions and limitations as he may think proper, subject to such regulations as may be provided by law relative to, the manner of applying for pardons. Under conviction for treason, he shall have the power to suspend the execution of the sentence, until the case shall be reported to the Legislature at its next meeting, when the Legislature shall either pardon, or commute the sentence, direct the execution of the sentence, or grant a further reprieve. He shall annually communicate to the Legislature each case of reprieve, commutation or pardon granted, stating the name of the convict, the crime of which he was convicted, the sentence and its date, and the date of the commutation, pardon or reprieve, with his reasons for granting the same.

SECTION 7. In case of the impeachment of the Governor, or his removal from office, death, inability from mental or physical disease, resignation, or absence from the State, the powers and duties of the office shall devolve upon the Lieutenant Governor for the residue of the term, or until the Governor, absent or impeached, shall have returned, or the disability shall cease. But when the Governor shall, with the consent of the Legislature, be out of the State in time of War, at the head of the Military force thereof, he shall continue Commander-in-chief of the Military force of the State.

SECTION 8. The Lieutenant Governor shall be President of the Senate, but shall have only a casting vote therein. If, during a vacancy in the office of Governor, the Lieutenant Governor shall be impeached, displaced, resign, die, or from mental, or physical disease become incapable of performing the duties of his office, or be absent from the State, the Secretary of State shall act as Governor, until the vacancy shall be filled, or the disability shall cease.

SECTION 9. The Lieutenant Governor shall receive, during his continuance in office, an annual compensation of one thousand dollars.

[Section 10, as amended by a vote of the people at the General Election, Nov. 3, 1908.]

SECTION 10. Every bill which shall have passed the Legislature shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the Governor; if he approve, he shall sign it, but if not, he shall return it, with his objections, to that house in which it shall have originated, who shall enter the objections at large upon the journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If, after such reconsideration two-thirds of the members present, shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if approved by two-thirds of the members present, it shall become a law. But in all such cases the votes of both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the members voting for or against the bill, shall be entered on the journal of each house respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the Governor within six days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law, unless the Legislature shall, by their adjournment, prevent its return, in which case it shall not be a law.

ADMINISTRATIVE.

SECTION 1. There shall be chosen by the qualified electors of the State, at the times and places of choosing the members of the Legislature, a Secretary of State, Treasurer and Attorney General, who shall severally hold their offices for the term of two years.

SECTION 2. The Secretary of State shall keep a fair record of the official acts of the Legislature and Executive department of the State, and shall, when required, lay the same and all matters relative thereto, before either branch of the Legislature. He shall be ex-officio Auditor and shall perform such other duties as shall be assigned him by law. He shall receive as a compensation for his services yearly, such sum as shall be provided by law, and shall keep his office at the seat of government.

SECTION 3. The powers, duties and compensation of the Treasurer and Attorney General shall be prescribed by law.

[Section 4, as amended by a vote of the people at the General Election, November 7, 1882.]

SECTION 4. Sheriffs, coroners, registers of deeds, district attorneys, and all other county officers except judicial officers, shall be chosen by the electors of the respective counties, once in every two years. Sheriffs shall hold no other office, and be ineligible for two years next succeeding the termination of their offices; they may be required by law to renew their security from time to time, and in default of giving such new security their office shall be deemed vacant; but the county shall never be made responsible for the acts of the Sheriff. The Governor may remove any officer in this section mentioned, giving to such a copy of the charges against him and an opportunity of being heard in his defense. All vacancies shall be filled by appointment; and the person appointed to fill a vacancy shall hold only for the unexpired portion of the term to which he shall be appointed and until his successor shall be elected and qualified.

ARTICLE VII.

JUDICIARY.

SECTION 1. The court for the trial of impeachments shall be composed of the Senate. The House of Representatives shall have the power of impeaching all civil officers of this State, for corrupt conduct in office, or for crimes and misdemeanors; but a majority of all the members elected shall concur in an impeachment. On the trial of an impeachment against the Governor, the Lieutenant Governor shall not act as a member of the court. No judicial officer shall exercise his office, after he shall have been impeached, until his acquittal. Before the trial of an impeachment, the members of the court shall take an oath or affirmation truly and impartially to try the impeachment according to evidence; and no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of the members present. Judgment in cases of impeachment shall not extend further than to removal from office, or removal from office and disqualification to hold any office of honor, profit or trust under the State; but the party impeached shall be liable to indictment, trial and punishment according to law.

SECTION 2. The judicial power of this State, both as to matters of law and equity, shall be vested in a Supreme court, Circuit courts, Courts of Probate and in Justices of the Peace. The Legislature may also vest such jurisdiction as shall be deemed necessary in municipal courts, and shall have power to establish inferior courts in the several counties, with limited civil and criminal jurisdiction. Provided, that the jurisdiction which may be vested in municipal courts, shall not exceed, in their respective municipalities, that of circuit courts in their respective circuits, as prescribed in this Constitution: And that the Legislature shall provide as well for the election of Judges of the Municipal courts, as of the Judges of inferior courts, by the qualified electors of the respective jurisdictions. The term of office of the judges of the said Municipal and inferior courts shall not be longer than that of the Judges of the circuit court.

SECTION 3. The Supreme court, except in cases otherwise provided in this Constitution, shall have appellate jurisdiction only, which shall be co-extensive with the State; but in no case removed to the Supreme Court shall a trial by jury be allowed. The Supreme Court shall have a general superintending control over all inferior courts; it shall have power to issue writs of habeas-corpus, mandamus, injunction, quo warranto, certiorari; and other original and remedial writs, and to hear and determine the same.

[Section 4, as amended by a vote of the people at an election held April 7, 1903.]

SECTION 4. The chief justice and associate justices of the Supreme Court shall be severally known as justices of said court, with the same terms of office of ten years respectively as now provided. The Supreme Court shall consist of seven justices, any four of whom shall be a quorum, to be elected as now provided, not more than one each year. The justice having been longest a continuous member of said court, or in case two or more such senior justices shall have served for the same length of time, then the one whose commission first expires shall be ex-officio, the chief-justice.

SECTION 5. The State shall be divided into five judicial circuits, to be composed as follows: The first circuit shall comprise the counties of Racine, Walworth, Rock and Green; the second circuit the counties of Milwaukee, Waukesha, Jefferson and Dane; the third circuit, the counties of Washington, Dodge, Columbia, Marquette, Sauk and Portage; the fourth circuit, the counties of Brown, Manitowoc, Sheboygan, Fond du Lac, Winnebago and Calumet; and the fifth circuit shall comprise the counties of Iowa, LaFayette, Grant, Crawford and St. Croix; and the county of Richland shall be attached to Iowa, the county of Chippewa to the county of Crawford, and the county of La Pointe to the county of St. Croix for judicial purposes until otherwise provided by the Legislature.

SECTION 6. The Legislature may alter the limits, or increase the number of circuits, making them as compact and convenient as practicable, and bounding them by county lines; but no such alteration or increase shall have the effect to remove a judge from office. In case of an increase of circuits, the judge or judges shall be elected as provided in this Constitution and receive a salary not less than that herein provided for the judges of the circuit court.

[Section 7, as amended by a vote of the people at an election held April 6, 1897.]

SECTION 7. For each circuit there shall be chosen by the qualified electors thereof, one circuit judge, except that in any circuit composed of one county only, which county shall contain a population according to the last state or United States census, of one hundred thousand inhabitants or over, the Legislature may, from time to time, authorize additional circuit judges to be chosen. Every circuit judge shall reside in the circuit from which he is elected, and shall hold his office for such term and receive such compensation as the Legislature shall prescribe.

SECTION 8. The circuit courts shall have original jurisdiction in all matters civil and criminal within this State, not excepted in this Constitution, and not hereafter prohibited by law; and appellate jurisdiction from all inferior courts and tribunals and a supervisory control over the same. They shall also have the power to issue writs of habeas corpus, mandamus, injunction, quo warranto, certiorari, and all other writs necessary to carry into effect their orders, judgments and decrees, and give them a general control over inferior courts and jurisdictions.

SECTION 9. When a vacancy shall happen in the office of judge of the Supreme or circuit courts, such vacancy shall be filled by an appointment of the Governor, which shall continue until a successor is elected and qualified; and when elected such successor shall hold his office the residue of the unexpired term. There shall be no election for a judge or judges at any general election for State or county officers, nor within thirty days either before or after such election.

SECTION 10. Each of the judges of the Supreme and circuit courts shall receive a salary, payable at such time as the Legislature shall fix, of not less than one thousand, five hundred dollars annually; they shall receive no fees of office, or other compensation than their salaries; they shall hold no offices of public trust, except a judicial office, during the term for which they are respectively elected, and all votes for either of them for any office, except a judicial office, given by the Legislature or the people, shall be void. No person shall be eligible to the office of judge, who shall not, at the time of his election, be a citizen of the United States, and have attained the age of twenty-five years, and be a qualified elector within the jurisdiction for which he may be chosen.

SECTION 11. The Supreme Court shall hold at least one term, annually, at the seat of government of the State, at such time as shall be provided by law, and the Legislature may provide for holding other terms, and at other places when they may deem it necessary. A Circuit Court shall be held, at least twice in each year, in each county of this State organized for judicial purposes. The judges of the circuit court may hold courts for each other, and shall do so when required by law.

SECTION 12. There shall be a clerk of the circuit court chosen in each county organized for judicial purposes by the qualified electors thereof, who shall hold his office for two years, subject to removal as shall be provided by law; in case of a vacancy the judge of the circuit court shall have power to appoint a clerk until the vacancy shall be filled by an election; the clerk thus elected or appointed shall give such security as the Legislature may require. The supreme court shall appoint its own clerk; and a clerk of the circuit court may be appointed a clerk of the supreme court.

SECTION 13. Any judge of the Supreme or circuit court may be removed from office, by address of both houses of the Legislature, if two-thirds of all the members elected to each house concur therein, but no removal shall be made by virtue of this section, unless the judge complained of shall have been served with a copy of the charges against him, as the ground of address, and shall have had an opportunity of being heard in his defense. On the question of removal, the ayes and noes shall be entered on the journals.

SECTION 14. There shall be chosen in each county, by the qualified electors thereof, a Judge of Probate, who shall hold his office for two years, and until his successors shall be elected and qualified, and whose jurisdiction, powers and duties shall be prescribed by law. Provided, however, that the Legislature shall have power to abolish the office of Judge of Probate in any county, and to confer Probate powers upon such inferior courts as may be established in said county.

SECTION 15. The electors of the several towns, at their annual town meeting, and the electors of cities and villages, at their charter elections, shall in such manner as the Legislature may direct, elect justices of the peace, whose term of office shall be for two years, and until their successors in office shall be elected and qualified. In case of an election to fill a vacancy, occurring before the expiration of a full term, the justice elected shall hold for the residue of the unexpired term. Their number and classification shall be regulated by law. And the tenure of two years shall in no wise interfere with the classification in the first instance. The justices, thus elected, shall have such civil and criminal jurisdiction as shall be prescribed by law.

SECTION 16. The legislature shall pass laws for the regulation of tribunals of conciliation, defining their power and duties. Such tribunals may be established in and for any township, and shall have power to render judgment to be obligatory on the parties, when they shall voluntarily submit their matter in difference to arbitration, and agree to abide the judgment, or assent thereto in writing.

SECTION 17. The style of all writs and process shall be, "The State of Wisconsin"; all criminal prosecutions shall be carried on in the name and by the authority of the same; and all indictments shall conclude against the peace and dignity of the State.

SECTION 18. The Legislature shall impose a tax on all civil suits commenced, or prosecuted in the municipal, inferior, or circuit courts, which shall constitute a fund to be applied toward the payment of the salary of judges.

SECTION 19. The testimony in causes in equity shall be taken in like manner as in cases at law, and the office of master in chancery is hereby prohibited.

SECTION 20. Any suitor, in any court of this State, shall have the right to prosecute or defend his suit either in his own proper person, or by an Attorney or agent of his choice.

SECTION 21. The Legislature shall provide by law for the speedy publication of all statute laws, and of such judicial decisions, made within the State, as may be deemed expedient. And no general law shall be in force until published.

SECTION 22. The Legislature at its first session, after the adoption of this Constitution, shall provide for the appointment of three commissioners, whose duty it shall be to inquire into, revise, and simplify the rules of practice, pleadings, forms and proceedings, and arrange a system, adapted to the courts of record of this State, and report the same to the Legislature, subject to their modification and adoption; and such commission shall terminate upon the rendering of the report, unless otherwise provided by law.

SECTION 23. The Legislature may provide for the appointment of one or more persons in each organized county, and may vest in such person such judicial powers as shall be prescribed by law. Provided, that said power shall not exceed that of a judge of a circuit court at chambers.

ARTICLE VIII.

FINANCE.

[Section 1, as amended by a vote of the people at the General Election, November 3, 1908.]

SECTION 1. The rules of taxation shall be uniform, and taxes shall be levied upon such property as the Legislature shall prescribe. Taxes may also be imposed on incomes, privileges and occupations, which taxes may be graduated and progressive, and reasonable exemptions may be provided.

[Section 2, as amended by a vote of the people at the General Election, November 6, 1877.]

SECTION 2. No money shall be paid out of the treasury, except in pursuance of an appropriation by law. No appropriation shall be made for the payment of any claim against the State, except claims of the United States, and judgments, unless filed within six years after the claim accrued.

SECTION 3. The credit of the State shall never be given, or loaned, in aid of any individual, association, or corporation.

SECTION 4. The State shall never contract any public debt, except in the cases and manner herein provided.

SECTION 5. The Legislature shall provide for an annual tax sufficient to defray the estimated expenses of the State for each year; and whenever the expenses of any year shall exceed the income, the Legislature shall provide for levying a tax for the ensuing year, sufficient, with other sources of income, to pay the deficiency as well as the estimated expenses of such ensuing year.

SECTION 6. For the purpose of defraying extraordinary expenditures, the State may contract public debts (but such debts shall never in the aggregate exceed one hundred thousand dollars). Every such debt shall be authorized by law, for some purpose or purposes to be distinctly specified therein; and the vote of a majority of all the members elected to each house, to be taken by yeas and nays, shall be necessary to the passage of such laws; and every such law shall provide for levying an annual tax sufficient to pay the annual interest of such debt, and the principal within five years from the passage of such law, and shall specially appropriate the proceeds of such taxes to the payment of such principal and interest; and such appropriation shall not be repealed, nor the taxes be postponed, or diminished, until the principal and interest of such debt shall have been wholly paid.

SECTION 7. The Legislature may also borrow money to repel invasion, suppress insurrection, or defend the State in time of war; but the money thus raised shall be applied exclusively to the object for which the loan was authorized, or to the repayment of the debt thereby created.

SECTION 8. On the passage in either house of the Legislature, of any law which imposes, continues, or renews a tax, or creates a debt, or charge, or makes, continues, or renews an appropriation of public, or trust money, or releases, discharges, or commutes a claim, or demand of the State, the question shall be taken by yeas and nays, which shall be duly entered on the journal; and three-fifths of all the members elected to such house shall in all such cases be required to constitute a quorum therein.

SECTION 9. No scrip, certificate or other evidence of State debt, whatsoever, shall be issued, except for such debts as are authorized by the sixth and seventh sections of this Article.

SECTION 10. The State shall never contract any debt for works of Internal Improvement, or be a party in carrying on such works, but whenever grants of land or other property shall have been made to the State, especially dedicated by the grant to particular works of Internal Improvement, the State may carry on such particular works, and shall devote thereto the avails of such grants, and may pledge or appropriate the revenues derived from such works in aid of their completion.

Provided that the State may appropriate money in the treasury or to be thereafter raised by taxation for the construction or improvement of public highways.

ARTICLE IX.

EMINENT DOMAIN AND PROPERTY OF THE STATE.

SECTION 1. The State shall have concurrent jurisdiction on all rivers and lakes bordering on the State, so far as such rivers or lakes shall form a common boundary to the State and any other State, or Territory, now or hereafter to be formed, and bounded by the same; And the river Mississippi and the navigable waters leading into the Mississippi and St. Lawrence, and the carrying places between the same shall be common highways and forever free, as well to the inhabitants of the State, as to the citizens of the United States, without any tax, impost or duty therefor.

SECTION 2. The title to all lands and other property which have accrued to the Territory of Wisconsin by grant, gift, purchase, forfeiture, escheat, or otherwise, shall vest in the State of Wisconsin.

SECTION 3. The people of the State, in their right of sovereignty, are declared to possess the ultimate property, in and to all lands within the jurisdiction of the State, and all lands the title to which shall fail from a defect of heirs, shall revert or escheat to the people.

ARTICLE X.

EDUCATION.

[Section 1, as amended by vote of the people at the General Election, November 4, 1902.]

SECTION 1. The supervision of public instruction shall be vested in a state superintendent and such other officers as the Legislature shall direct; and their qualifications, powers, duties and compensation shall be prescribed by law. The state superintendent shall be chosen by the qualified electors of the state at the same time and in the same manner as members of the supreme court, and shall hold his office for four years from the succeeding first Monday in July. The state superintendent chosen at the general election in November, 1902, shall hold and continue in his office until the first Monday of July, 1905, and his successor shall be chosen at the time of the judicial election in April, 1905. The term of office, time and manner of electing or appointing all other officers of supervision of public instruction shall be fixed by law.

SECTION 2. The proceeds of all lands, that have been or hereafter may be granted by the United States to this State for educational purposes (except the lands heretofore granted for the purposes of a University) and all moneys, and the clear proceeds of all property that may accrue to the State by forfeiture or escheat, and all moneys which may be paid as an equivalent for exemptions from military duty; and the clear proceeds of all fines collected, in the several counties for any breach of the penal laws, and all moneys arising from any grant to the State where the purposes of such grant are not specified, and the five hundred thousand acres of land, to which the State is entitled by the provisions of an act of Congress entitled "An Act to appropriate the proceeds of the sales of the public lands, and to grant pre-emption rights," approved the fourth day of September, one thousand eight hundred and forty-one; and also the five per-centum of the net proceeds of the public lands to which the State shall become entitled on her admission into the Union (if Congress shall consent to such appropriation of the two grants last mentioned) shall be set apart as a separate fund, to be called "The School-Fund," the interest of which and all other revenues derived from the school lands, shall be exclusively applied to the following objects, to-wit:

First. To the support and maintenance of common schools, in each school district, and the purchase of suitable libraries and apparatus therefor.

Second. The residue shall be appropriated to the support and maintenance of Academies and Normal Schools, and suitable libraries and apparatus therefor.

SECTION 3. The Legislature shall provide by law for the establishment of District Schools, which shall be as nearly uniform as practicable; and such schools shall be free and without charge for tuition, to all children between the ages of four and twenty years; and no sectarian instruction shall be allowed therein.

SECTION 4. Each town and city shall be required to raise, by tax, annually, for the support of common schools therein, a sum not less than one-half the amount received by such town or city respectively for school purposes from the income of the school fund.

SECTION 5. Provision shall be made by law, for the distribution of the income of the school fund among the several towns and cities of the State, for the support of common schools therein, in some just proportion to the number of children and youth resident therein, between the ages of four and twenty years, and no appropriation shall be made from the school fund to any city, or town, for the year in which said city or town shall fail to raise such tax; nor to any school district for the year in which a school shall not be maintained at least three months.

SECTION 6. Provision shall be made by law for the establishment of a State University, at or near the seat of State government, and for connecting with the same, from time to time, such colleges in different parts of the State, as the interests of education may require. The proceeds of all lands that have been, or may hereafter be granted by the United States to the State for the support of a University, shall be and remain a perpetual fund, to be called "The University Fund," the interest of which shall be appropriated to the support of the State University, and no Sectarian instruction shall be allowed in such University.

SECTION 7. The Secretary of State, Treasurer and Attorney General, shall constitute a board of commissioners for the sale of the School and University lands, and for the investment of the funds arising therefrom. Any two of said commissioners shall be a quorum for the transaction of all business pertaining to the duties of their office.

SECTION 8. Provision shall be made by law for the sale of all School and University lands, after they shall have been appraised; and when any portion of such lands shall be sold and the purchase money shall not be paid at the time of the sale, the commissioners shall take security by mortgage upon the land sold for the sum remaining unpaid, with seven per cent. interest thereon, payable annually at the office of the Treasurer. The commissioners shall be authorized to execute a good and sufficient conveyance to all purchasers of such lands, and to discharge any mortgages taken as security, when the sum due thereon shall have been paid. The commissioners shall have power to withhold from sale any portion of such lands when they shall deem it expedient, and shall invest all moneys arising from the sale of such lands, as well as all other University and School funds, in such manner as the Legislature shall provide, and shall give such security for the faithful performance of their duties as may be required by law.

ARTICLE XI.

CORPORATIONS.

SECTION 1. Corporations without banking powers or privileges may be formed under general laws, but shall not be created by special act, except for municipal purposes, and in cases where in the judgment of the Legislature, the objects of the corporation cannot be attained under general laws. All general laws or special acts, enacted under the provisions of this section, may be altered or repealed by the Legislature at any time after their passage.

SECTION 2. No municipal corporation shall take private property for public use against the consent of the owner, without the necessity thereof being first established by the verdict of a jury.

SECTION 3. It shall be the duty of the legislature, and they are hereby empowered to provide for the organization of cities and incorporated villages, and to restrict their power of taxation, assessment, borrowing money, contracting debts, and loaning their credit, so as to prevent abuses in assessments and taxation, and in contracting debts by such municipal corporations. No county, city, town, village, school district, or other municipal corporation shall be allowed to become indebted in any manner or for any purpose to any amount, including existing indebtedness, in the aggregate exceeding five per centum on the value of the taxable property therein, to be ascertained by the last assessment for state and county taxes previous to the incurring of such indebtedness. Any county, city, town, village, school district, or other municipal corporation incurring any indebtedness as aforesaid shall, before or at the time of doing so, provide for the collection of a direct annual tax sufficient to pay the interest on such debt as it falls due, and also to pay and discharge the principal thereof within twenty years from the time of contracting the same; except that when such indebtedness is incurred in the acquisition of lands by cities, or by counties having a population of 150,000 or over, for public, municipal purposes, or for the permanent improvement thereof, the city or county incurring the same shall, before or at the time of so doing, provide for the collection of a direct annual tax sufficient to pay the interest on such debt as it falls due, and also to pay and discharge the principal thereof within a period not exceeding fifty years from the time of contracting the same.

SECTION 3a. The State or any of its cities may acquire by gift, purchase, or condemnation lands for establishing, laying out, widening, enlarging, extending and maintaining memorial grounds, streets, squares, parkways, boulevards, parks, playgrounds, sites for public buildings and reservations in and about and along and leading to any or all of the same; and after the establishment, layout, and completion of such improvements, may convey any such real estate thus acquired and not necessary for such improvements, with reservations concerning the future use and occupation of such real estate, so as to protect such public works and improvements, and their environs, and to preserve the view, appearance, light, air and usefulness of such public works."

[Sections 4 and 5, as amended by a vote of the people at a General Election, November 4, 1902.]

SECTION 4. The legislature shall have power to enact a general banking law for the creation of banks, and for the regulation and supervision of the banking business, provided that the vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to each house, to be taken by yeas and nays, be in favor of the passage of such law.

AMENDMENTS.

SECTION 1. Any amendment, or amendments to this Constitution may be proposed in either house of the Legislature, and if the same shall be agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the two houses, such proposed amendment, or amendments, shall be entered on their journals, with the yeas and nays taken thereon, and referred to the Legislature to be chosen at the next general election; and shall be published for three months previous to the time of holding such election, and if, in the Legislature so next chosen, such proposed amendment, or amendments shall be agreed to by a majority of all the members elected to each house, then it shall be the duty of the Legislature to submit such proposed amendment, or amendments to the people in such manner, and at such time, as the Legislature shall prescribe; and if the people shall approve and ratify such amendment, or amendments by a majority of the electors voting thereon, such amendment, or amendments, shall become part of the Constitution; PROVIDED, that if more than one amendment be submitted, they shall be submitted in such manner that the people may vote for or against such amendments separately.

SECTION 2. If at any time a majority of the Senate and Assembly shall deem it necessary to call a convention to revise or change this Constitution, they shall recommend to the electors to vote for or against a convention at the next election for members of the Legislature. And if it shall appear that a majority of the electors voting thereon, have voted for a convention, the Legislature shall, at its next session, provide for calling such convention.

ARTICLE XIII.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS.

[Section 1, as amended by a vote of the people at the General Election, November 7, 1882.]

SECTION 1. The political year for the State of Wisconsin shall commence on the first Monday in January in each year, and the general elections shall be holden on the Tuesday next succeeding the first Monday in November. The first general election for all state and county officers, except judicial officers, after the adoption of this amendment, shall be holden in the year A. D. 1884, and thereafter the general election shall be held biennially. All state, county or other officers elected at the general election in the year 1881, and whose term of office would otherwise expire on the first Monday of January in the year 1884, shall hold and continue in such office respectively, until the first Monday in January in the year 1885.

SECTION 2. Any inhabitant of this State who may hereafter be engaged, either directly or indirectly in a duel, either as principal or accessory, shall forever be disqualified as an elector, and from holding any office under the Constitution and laws of this State, and may be punished in such other manner as shall be prescribed by law.

SECTION 3. No member of Congress, nor any person holding any office of profit or trust under the United States (Postmasters excepted), or under any foreign power; no person convicted of any infamous crime in any court within the United States; and no person being a defaulter to the United States, or to this State, or to any county, or town therein, or to any State, or Territory within the United States, shall be eligible to any office of trust, profit, or honor in this State.

SECTION 4. It shall be the duty of the Legislature to provide a great seal for the State, which shall be kept by the Secretary of State, and all official acts of the Governor, his approbation of the laws excepted, shall be thereby authenticated.

SECTION 5. All persons residing upon Indian lands, within any county of the State, and qualified to exercise the right of suffrage under this Constitution, shall be entitled to vote at the polls which may be held nearest their residence, for State, United States or County officers. Provided, that no person shall vote for county officers out of the county in which he resides.

SECTION 6. The elective officers of the Legislature, other than the presiding officers, shall be a chief clerk and a sergeant-at-arms, to be elected by each house.

SECTION 7. No county with an area of nine hundred square miles, or less, shall be divided, or have any part stricken therefrom, without submitting the question to a vote of the people of the county, nor unless a majority of all the legal voters of the county, voting on the question, shall vote for the same.

SECTION 8. No county seat shall be removed until the point to which it is proposed to be moved shall be fixed by law, and a majority of the voters of the county, voting on the question, shall have voted in favor of its removal to such point.

SECTION 9. All county officers whose election, or appointment is not provided for by this Constitution, shall be elected by the electors of the respective counties, or appointed by the boards of supervisors, or other county authorities, as the Legislature shall direct. All city, town and village officers, whose election or appointment is not provided for by this Constitution, shall be elected by the electors of such cities, towns and villages, or of some division thereof, or appointed by such authorities thereof, as the Legislature shall designate for that purpose. All other officers whose election or appointment is not provided for by this Constitution, and all officers whose offices may hereafter be created by law, shall be elected by the people, or appointed, as the Legislature may direct.

SECTION 10. The Legislature may declare the cases in which any office shall be deemed vacant, and also the manner of filling the vacancy, where no provision is made for that purpose in this Constitution.

[Article XIII, as amended by addition of Section 11, by a vote of the people at the General Election, November 4, 1902.]

SECTION 11. No person, association, co-partnership or corporation, shall promise, offer, or give, for any purpose, to any political committee, or any member or employe thereof, to any candidate for, or incumbent of any office or position under the constitution or laws, or under any ordinance of any town or municipality of this state, or to any person at the request or for the advantage of all, or any of them, any free pass or frank, or any privilege withheld from any person, for the traveling accommodation or transportation of any person or property, or the transmission of any message or communication. No political committee, and no member or employe thereof, no candidate for, and no incumbent of any office or position under the constitution or laws, or under any ordinance of any town or municipality of this state, shall ask for, or accept, from any person, association, co-partnership, or corporation, or use, in any manner, or for any purpose, any free pass or frank, or any privilege withheld from any person, for the traveling accommodation or transportation of any person or property, or the transmission of any message or communication. Any violation of any of the above provisions shall be bribery and be punished as provided by law, and if any officer or any member of the legislature be guilty thereof, his office shall become vacant. No person within the purview of this act shall be privileged from testifying in relation to anything therein prohibited; and no person having so testified shall be liable to any prosecution or punishment for any offense concerning which he was required to give his testimony or produce any documentary evidence. The railroad commissioner and his deputy in the discharge of duty are excepted from the provisions of this amendment.

ARTICLE XIV.

SCHEDULE.

SECTION 1. That no inconvenience may arise by reason of a change from a Territorial to a permanent State government, it is declared, that all rights, actions, prosecutions, judgments, claims and contracts, as well of individuals, as of bodies corporate, shall continue as if no such change had taken place; and all process which may be issued under the authority of the Territory of Wisconsin previous to its admission into the Union of the United States, shall be as valid as if issued in the name of the State.

SECTION 2. All laws now in force in the Territory of Wisconsin, which are not repugnant to this Constitution, shall remain in force until they expire by their own limitation, or be altered or repealed by the Legislature.

SECTION 3. All fines, penalties, or forfeitures, accruing to the Territory of Wisconsin, shall inure to the use of the State.

SECTION 4. All recognizances heretofore taken or which may be taken before the change from Territorial to a permanent State government, shall remain valid and shall pass to and may be prosecuted in the name of the State; and all bonds executed to the Governor of the Territory, or to any other officer, or court, in his, or their official capacity, shall pass to the Governor or State authority, and their successors in office, for the uses therein respectively expressed, and may be sued for and recovered accordingly; and all the estate, or property, real, personal, or mixed, and all judgments, bonds, specialties, choses in action, and claims or debts of whatsoever description, of the Territory of Wisconsin, shall inure to and vest in the State of Wisconsin, and may be sued for and recovered in the same manner and to the same extent by the State of Wisconsin, as the same could have been by the Territory of Wisconsin. All criminal prosecutions and penal actions which may have arisen, or which may arise, before the change from a Territorial to a State government, and which shall then be pending, shall be prosecuted to judgment and execution in the name of the State. All offenses committed against the laws of the Territory of Wisconsin, before the change from a Territorial to a State government, and which shall not be prosecuted before such change may be prosecuted in the name and by the authority of the State of Wisconsin, with like effect as though such change had not taken place; and all penalties incurred, shall remain the same as if this Constitution had not been adopted. All actions at law and suits in equity, which may be pending in any of the courts of the Territory of Wisconsin, at the time of the change from a Territorial to a State government, may be continued and transferred to any court of the State, which shall have jurisdiction of the subject matter thereof.

SECTION 5. All officers, civil and military, now holding their offices under the authority of the United States, or of the Territory of Wisconsin, shall continue to hold and exercise their respective offices until they shall be superseded by the authority of the State.

SECTION 6. The first session of the Legislature of the State of Wisconsin shall commence on the first Monday in June next, and shall be held at the village of Madison, which shall be and remain the seat of government, until otherwise provided by law.

SECTION 7. All county, precinct and township officers shall continue to hold their respective offices, unless removed by the competent authority, until the Legislature shall, in conformity with the provisions of this Constitution, provide for the holding of elections to fill such offices respectively.

SECTION 8. The President of this convention shall, immediately after its adjournment, cause a fair copy of this Constitution, together with a copy of the act of the Legislature of this Territory, entitled "An act in relation to the formation of a State government in Wisconsin, and to change the time of holding the annual session of the Legislature," approved October 27th, 1847, providing for the calling of this Convention, and also a copy of so much of the last census of this Territory, as exhibits the number of its inhabitants, to be forwarded to the President of the United States, to be laid before the Congress of the United States, at its present session.

SECTION 9. This Constitution shall be submitted at an election to be held on the second Monday in March next, for ratification or rejection, to all white male persons of the age of twenty-one years or upwards, who shall then be residents of this Territory, and citizens of the United States, or shall have declared their intention to become such in conformity with the laws of Congress on the subject of naturalization, and all persons having such qualification shall be entitled to vote for, or against the adoption of this Constitution, and for all officers first elected under it. And if the Constitution be ratified by the said electors, it shall become the Constitution of the State of Wisconsin. On such of the ballots as are for the Constitution, shall be written or printed the word "yEs" and on such as are against the Constitution, the word "no." The election shall be conducted in the manner now prescribed by law, and the returns made by the clerks of the boards of supervisors or county commissioners (as the case may be), to the Governor of the Territory, at any time before the tenth day of April next. And in the event of the ratification of this Constitution, by a majority of all the votes given, it shall be the duty of the Governor of this Territory to make proclamation of the same, and to transmit a digest of the returns to the Senate and Assembly of the State, on the first day of their session. An election shall be held, for Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Treasurer, Attorney General, members of the State Legislature, and members of Congress, on the second Monday of May next; and no other or further notice of such election shall be required.

SECTION 10. Two members of Congress shall also be elected, on the second Monday of May next; and until otherwise provided by law, the counties of Milwaukee, Waukesha, Jefferson, Racine, Walworth, Rock and Green, shall constitute the first congressional district and elect one member. And the counties of Washington, Sheboygan, Manitowoc, Calumet, Brown, Winnebago, Fond du Lac, Marquette, Sauk, Portage, Columbia, Dodge, Dane, Iowa, La Fayette, Grant, Richland, Crawford, Chippewa, St. Croix, and La Pointe, shall constitute the second congressional district, and shall elect one member.

SECTION 11. The several elections, provided for in this article shall be conducted according to the existing laws of the Territory, provided that no elector shall be entitled to vote except in the town, ward or precinct where he resides. The returns of elections for Senators and Members of Assembly, shall be transmitted to the clerk of the Board of Supervisors, or County Commissioners, as the case may be; and the votes shall be canvassed and certificates of election issued as now provided by law. In the first senatorial district, the returns of the election for Senator shall be made to the proper officer in the county of Brown; in the second senatorial district, to the proper officer in the county of Columbia; in the third senatorial district, to the proper officer in the county of Crawford; in the fourth senatorial district, to the proper officer in the county of Fond du Lac; and in the fifth senatorial district, to the proper officer in the county of Iowa. The returns of election for State officers and members of Congress, shall be certified and transmitted to the Speaker of the Assembly, at the seat of government, in the same manner as the votes for delegate to Congress are required to be certified and returned by the laws of the Territory of Wisconsin, to the Secretary of said Territory; and in such time, that they may be received on the first Monday in June next; and as soon as the Legislature shall be organized, the Speaker of the Assembly, and the President of the Senate shall, in the presence of both houses, examine the returns, and declare who are duly elected to fill the several offices hereinbefore mentioned; and give to each of the persons elected, a certificate of his election.

SECTION 12. Until there shall be a new apportionment, the Senators and Members of the Assembly, shall be apportioned among the several districts, as hereinafter mentioned; and each district shall be entitled to elect one Senator, or member of the Assembly, as the case may be.

RESOLUTIONS.

Resolved.—That the Congress of the United [sic] be and is hereby requested, upon the application of Wisconsin for admission into the Union, so to alter the provisions of an act of Congress entitled “an act to grant a quantity of land to the Territory of Wisconsin, for the purpose of aiding in opening a canal to connect the waters of Lake Michigan with those of Rock river,” approved June eighteenth, eighteen hundred and thirty-eight, and so to alter the terms and conditions of the grant made therein, that the odd-numbered sections thereby granted and remaining unsold may be held and disposed of by the State of Wisconsin as part of the five hundred thousand acres of land to which said State is entitled by the provisions of an act of Congress entitled “an act to appropriate the proceeds of the sales of the public lands and to grant pre-emption rights,” approved the fourth day of September, eighteen hundred and forty-one; and further, that the even-numbered sections reserved by Congress, may be offered for sale by the United States for the same minimum price and subject to the same rights of pre-emption as other public lands of the United States.

Resolved.—That Congress be further, requested to pass an act whereby the excess price over and above one dollar and twenty-five cents per acre, which may have been paid by the purchasers of said even-numbered sections which shall have been sold by the United States, be refunded to the present owners thereof, or they be allowed to enter any of the public lands of the United States to an amount equal in value to the excess so paid.

Resolved.—That in case the said odd-numbered sections shall be ceded to the State as aforesaid, the same shall be sold by the State in the same manner as other school lands, provided that the same rights of pre-emption as are now granted by the laws of the United States, shall be secured to persons who may be actually settled upon such lands at the time of the adoption of this Constitution; and provided further, that the excess price, over and above one dollar and twenty-five cents per acre, absolutely or conditionally contracted to be paid by the purchasers of any part of said sections which shall have been sold by the Territory of Wisconsin, shall be remitted to such purchasers, their representatives or assigns.

Resolved.—That Congress be requested, upon the application of Wisconsin for admission into the Union, to pass an act whereby the grant of five hundred thousand acres of land, to which the State of Wisconsin is entitled by the provisions of an Act of Congress entitled “an act to appropriate the proceeds of the sales of the public lands, and to grant pre-emption rights,” approved the fourth day of September, eighteen hundred and forty-one, and also the five per centum of the net proceeds. . . . of the public lands lying within the State, to which it shall become entitled on its admission into the Union, by the provisions of an Act of Congress entitled “an act to enable the people of Wisconsin Territory to form a Constitution and State government, and for the admission of such State into the Union,” approved the sixth day of August, eighteen hundred and forty-six, shall be granted to the State of Wisconsin for the use of schools, instead of the purposes mentioned in the said acts of Congress respectively.

Resolved.—That the Congress of the United States be and hereby is requested, upon the admission of this State into the Union, so to alter the provisions of the Act of Congress entitled “an act to grant a certain quantity of land to aid in the improvement of the Fox and Wisconsin rivers, and to connect the same by a canal in the Territory of Wisconsin,” that the price of the lands reserved to the United States, shall be reduced to the minimum price of the public lands.

Resolved.—That the Legislature of this State shall make provision by law for the sale of the lands granted to the State in aid of said improvements, subject to the same rights of pre-emption to the settlers thereon, as are now allowed by law to settlers on the public lands,

Resolved.—That the foregoing resolutions be appended to, and signed with the Constitution of Wisconsin, and submitted therewith to the people of this Territory, and to the Congress of the United States.

We, the undersigned, members of the Convention to form a Constitution for the State of Wisconsin, to be submitted to the people thereof for their ratification or rejection do hereby certify that the foregoing is the Constitution adopted by the Convention.

In testimony whereof, we have hereunto set our hands, at Madison, the first day of February A. D. eighteen hundred and forty-eight.

Chapter VIII, W. S., 1898.

SECTION 90. Senators in Congress shall hereafter be elected as provided by the statutes of the United States. The meeting of the Senate and Assembly in joint convention shall be held in the hall of the Assembly. Each member shall vote viva voce upon a call of the roll, and such vote shall be entered upon the journal of the convention. The President of the Senate and the Speaker of the Assembly shall cause a statement in duplicate of the result of such election to be made under their hands, certifying who has been chosen such Senator; one of which statements they shall deliver to the Governor, to be filed and recorded in the executive office, and the other they shall deliver to the Secretary of State, who shall file and record the same in his office. In case the President of the Senate and Speaker of the Assembly, or either of them, shall neglect or refuse to execute and deliver such statement, the Chief Clerk of the Senate or of the Assembly, respectively, shall make and deliver, as aforesaid, such statement in duplicate, setting forth the whole number of votes given on the final ballot and the number thereof received by each person then voted for.

SECTION 91. Immediately thereafter, the Governor shall certify the election of such Senator under the Great Seal to the President of the Senate of the United States, and the Secretary of State shall countersign such certificate.

Sec. 1, Chap. 131, Laws of 1899.

SECTION 1. In any legislative caucus for the nomination of a candidate for United States senator, each member shall vote viva voce upon a call of the roll and such votes shall be entered upon the minutes of the caucus. The person receiving the number of votes required by the usages of the party holding the caucus shall be declared the nominee of such party.

STATUTES OF THE UNITED STATES RELATIVE TO ELECTION OF SENATORS.

(Title II, Chapter 1, Rev. Stat. U. S.)

SECTION 14. The Legislature of each State which is chosen next preceding the expiration of the time for which any Senator was elected to represent such State in Congress shall, on the second Tuesday after the meeting and organization thereof, proceed to elect a Senator in Congress.

SECTION 15. Such election shall be conducted in the following manner: Each House shall openly, by a viva voce vote of each member present, name one person for Senator in Congress from such State, and the name of the person so voted for, who receives a majority of the whole number of votes cast in each House, shall be entered on the journal of that House by the Clerk or Secretary thereof; or if either House fails to give such majority to any person on that day, the fact shall be entered on the journal. At twelve o'clock meridian of the day following that on which proceedings are required to take place as aforesaid, the members of the two Houses shall convene in joint assembly, and the journal of each House shall then be read, and if the same person has received a majority of all the votes in each House, he shall be declared duly elected Senator. But if the same person has not received a majority of the votes in each House, or if either House has failed to take proceedings as required by this section, the joint assembly shall then proceed to choose, by a viva voce vote of each member present, a person for Senator, and the person who receives a majority of all the votes of the joint assembly, a majority of all the members elected to both Houses being present and voting, shall be declared duly elected. If no person receive such majority on the first day, the joint assembly shall meet at twelve o'clock meridian of each succeeding day during the session of the Legislature, and shall take at least one vote, until a Senator is elected.

SECTION 16. Whenever, on the meeting of the Legislature of any State, a vacancy exists in the representation of such State in the Senate, the Legislature shall proceed, on the second Tuesday after meeting and organization, to elect a person to fill such vacancy, in the manner prescribed in the preceding section for the election of a Senator for a full term.

SECTION 17. Whenever, during the session of the Legislature of any State, a vacancy occurs in the representation of such State in the Senate, similar proceedings to fill such vacancy shall be had on the second Tuesday after the Legislature is organized and has notice of such vacancy.

SECTION 18. It shall be the duty of the Executive of the State from which any Senator has been chosen, to certify his election, under the seal of the State, to the President of the Senate of the United States.

SECTION 19. The certificate mentioned in the preceding section shall be countersigned by the Secretary of State of the state.

MEETING OF THE LEGISLATURE.

CHAPTER 10.

Regular Sessions. SECTION 99. The regular session of the legislature shall commence at twelve o'clock M. on the second Wednesday of January of the year 1899, and biennially thereafter upon the same day and month.

STATEMENT OF NET DISBURSEMENTS.

The detailed fund statements appearing in Appendix A of this report of necessity show the total of all warrants drawn by the Secretary of State on the several funds from which state disbursements are made. In consequence, four classes of items are included which must be deducted in determining the net amount of disbursements—(1) transfers, (2) paper transfers, (3) agency transactions, and (4) refunds.

1. Transfers. Transfers are occasioned by appropriations being made from one fund to another, thus appearing twice as disbursements. For example, large amounts are appropriated biennially from the General Fund for University purposes; and as the bills of that institution are paid from the University Fund Income, transfers must first be made from the General Fund to the University Fund Income, and the money finally disbursed from the latter fund. In one instance, transfers must be deducted twice in order to show the true disbursements. The statute authorizes the Secretary of State, with the consent of the Governor, to transfer temporarily from the General Fund to the University Fund Income sums not exceeding $150,000, to be returned to the General Fund when the tax levied for University purposes is collected. It will be seen that when this transfer is made from the General Fund to the University Fund Income, it appears as a disbursement; when the money is expended by the University it also appears as a disbursement; and when the University returns the borrowed money, it appears for a third time as a disbursement; therefore it is necessary to eliminate the amount twice.

2. Paper transfers. In the case of departments and institutions that are maintained by limited appropriations, it is necessary to charge accounts with paper and waste used in printing, in addition to the bill of the State Printer. As this paper has already been paid for by the state, it becomes necessary to transfer the amount of each paper bill from the appropriation set apart for the maintenance of the department or institution to the credit of the General Fund. It is, of course, necessary to deduct the amount so transferred.

3. Agency transactions. In three instances the state, acting solely as agent, is now collecting money and returning it almost immediately. These are known as agency transactions. The amount collected from counties as a special charge for the care of their own chronic insane is returned to the county institutions together with additional moneys; 85% of the street railway tax collected is at once returned to the localities through which the lines run; and fire department dues are distributed in full to localities upon the certification of the Commissioner of Insurance. Not one of these items is a state disbursement.

The item of refunds needs no explanation.

The following statements show that the net disbursements of the state for the fiscal year 1911 amounted to $9,698,340.01, and to $10,664,538.52 in 1912:

The Delinquent Tax Fund is not included in the foregoing statement of net disbursements, for the reason that it is purely an agency fund. Delinquent taxes are collected by the state and returned intact to the counties. The University Trust Funds Income also is not included for the reason that the state has no practical control over its disbursements. The money must be disbursed in the manner stipulated by the donors upon the certification of the Board of University Regents.

The School, University, Agricultural College, Normal School, and University Trust funds are all invested and cannot be disbursed.

The balances in the Allotment, Calumet and Manitowoc Counties Indemnity, Deposit, Redemption, and Wisconsin Railroad Farm Mortgage Land Company funds, were merely transferred to the General Fund under chapter 37, laws of 1911, which makes properly established claims against any of these funds payable from the General Fund.

STATE DEBT.

The bonded debt of the State, created in 1861-63 for the purpose of carrying on the war for the maintenance of the Union, has now all been paid or converted into certificates of indebtedness to the trust funds, except one thousand dollars, which was paid from the General Fund, August 13, 1888.

Distribution of the debt on June 30, 1912, was as follows:

Certificates of indebtedness, School Fund	$1,563,700 00
Certificates of indebtedness, Normal School Fund	515,700 00
Certificates of indebtedness, University Fund	111,000 00

STATE INSTITUTIONS.

Wisconsin, with an area of 56,000 square miles of forest and prairie land, became an organized territory in 1836, with a population of 11,000. It was admitted as a state May 29, 1848, with a population approximating 250,000. Her growth since her admission into the Union, has been steady and rapid. The lead and zinc mines in the southwest part of the state, attracted a considerable population of miners while Wisconsin was a territory. The surface mines were quite generally worked out in 1863, or '64. Until recently mining in that section has been carried on by but few individuals, and in no regular way. Recently, however, several very valuable mines have been opened and owing to the general disappearance of the water that in the earlier days proved a serious obstacle, lower leads have been uncovered and large deposits of zinc ore, as well as galena, are now being mined. The development of iron mining in the northern part of the state has brought a large amount of additional wealth. The pine forests have generally disappeared, but in their place are to-day found large sections of valuable agricultural land, and perhaps no state in the Union at the present time offers greater inducements to settlers than does northern and central Wisconsin.

In the matter of state institutions for the improvement of the condition of those physically and mentally unfortunate, and for reformatory purposes Wisconsin stands second to no state in the Union, population and resources considered. These institutions are under the general direction of a state board of control, comprised of able men and women who have within the last few years, succeeded in bringing about a system in the general management and conduct of these institutions that has attracted the attention of nearly every other state in the Union. In the matter of strictly educational institutions the state has made wonderful advancement. There are to-day 7,769 public school buildings, 292 free high schools, and 12 independent high schools; 243 of these are on the accredited list of the state university—that is, pupils who graduated from these schools are admitted to the university upon the reputation of the school, and without any further examination—eight state normal schools, a score or more of colleges, seminaries, and academies, a state university among the foremost in the entire country in domination of education in the higher branches, and an agricultural college giving an exceptionally attractive and valuable four year course in the science of agriculture. For several years past short courses in agriculture, dairying, horticulture, and domestic science, have been a regular part of the university work. The students in these schools are almost without exception boys directly from the farm, and vitally interested in gaining agricultural knowledge. The course extends through two years of fourteen weeks each year. A full two-year course has just been added to agricultural college work. It may quite properly be called "The Practical Farmers' Course."

Statistics relating to the state university and to the normal schools will be found in their appropriate places. The number of students catalogued in the university for the year ending June 30, 1905 was 3,342; 1906, 3,571; 1907, 3,659; 1908, 4,013; 1909, 4,521; 1910, 4,947.

Those interested in reports relating to the reformatory, charitable and penal institutions will find them under appropriate headings. They contain much valuable information and should prove interesting reading to the citizens of this state.

THE STATE CAPITOL.

(By REUBEN GOLD THWAITES, Superintendent of State Historical Society of Wisconsin.)

Wisconsin Territory, previously a part of Michigan Territory, was organized at Mineral Point, July 4, 1836. The first legislature met at Old Belmont (now Leslie, Lafayette County) October 25, in a two-story building for which the timber had been brought from Pittsburg. The structure is now used as a cattle barn. A long struggle took place over the location of the permanent seat of government. There were seventeen applicants (Belleville, Belmont, Cassville, Dubuque, Fond du Lac, Green Bay, Helena, Koshkonong, Madison, Milwaukee, Mineral Point, Peru, Portage, Platteville, Racine, Wisconsinapolis, and Wisconsin City). Several of these existed only on maps issued by real estate "boomers." Madison, which was one of this class, was finally chosen through the influence of James Duane Doty, who had been federal circuit judge for that portion of Michigan Territory lying west of Lake Michigan. Just previous to the contest, Doty, together with Stevens T. Mason, governor of Michigan Territory, purchased from the United States government about 1,000 acres in sections 13, 14, 23, and 24, in township 7, range 9 east. Capitol Park, which is upon the common corners of these sections, was formally deeded to the Territory January 6, 1839, by the owners, in a document which is still preserved in the State archives. The prospective town received its name in honor of the fourth president of the United States. The first dwelling, a log boarding house for the accommodation of workmen on the proposed capitol, was built in Madison in the spring of 1837. The following June work was commenced on a capitol building whose corner stone was laid with appropriate ceremonies on July 4.

The legislature met for the first time at Madison, November 26, 1838. The capitol was not then in a suitable condition for the sessions, which were thereupon held in the basement of the American House, where Gov. Henry Dodge delivered his first annual message. Here the legislature met and adjourned from day to day, until temporary arrangements could be made for the reception of members in the Assembly Hall. During 1836 and 1837, the federal government appropriated $40,000 for the Capitol, Dane county $4,000, and the Territorial legislature about $16,000, thus making the cost of the old capitol $60,000. The building was a substantial structure, which in architectural design and convenience of arrangements compared favorably with contemporary capitols of adjacent and older states.

After twenty years, this capitol proved inadequate to the growing wants of the State, and the legislature of 1857 provided for its enlargement. The commissioners of school and university lands were directed to sell the ten sections of land appropriated by congress "for the completion of public buildings," and to apply the proceeds toward enlarging and improving the capitol. The State also appropriated $30,000 for the same object, and $50,000 was given by the city of Madison. The work began in the fall of 1857, and continued from year to year until 1869, when the dome (the most satisfactory portion of the structure) was finally completed.

The legislature of 1882 appropriated $200,000 for the construction of two transverse wings, on the north and south sides, of the original building. These wings were to provide additional space for the State Historical Society, the Supreme Court, the State Library, and the increasing staffs of the State officers. November 8, 1883, the south wing fell while in process of construction and eight workmen were killed. The total appropriations for these enlargements and for the improvement of the park, up to 1904, aggregated about $900,000.

Early in the morning of February 27, 1904, a large part of the interior of the capitol was, with its contents, destroyed by fire; the central portion and the west wing particularly suffered. The department receiving the greatest injury was the Wisconsin Free Library Commission, which lost a considerable library of expensive books, numerous traveling libraries, and all of its records.

At the time of the fire, a building commission, appointed by the legislature of 1903, was taking into consideration the construction of a new and larger Capitol. After the disaster, the matter was taken up with vigor. Plans for a new building were submitted to the legislature of 1905, which somewhat reconstructed the composition of the commission of 1903, and extended its powers and duties. A further act of 1907 restricted the cost of the new capitol to $6,000,000, including a heating plant and warehouse located about a half mile to the east of the park. This latter building and the capitol are connected by tunnel. The new capitol was designed by George W. Post & Son of New York City, and is now being built in sections—the west and east wings have been completed, and the south wing and central rotunda are well under way. When completed, the capitol will occupy the site of the old structure, but will be much larger.

The capitol park is seven hundred and ninety-two feet square, cornering on the cardinal points of the compass. It contains fourteen and four-tenths acres, and is handsomely situated on an elevation commanding a view of Lakes Monona and Mendota and the surrounding Four Lakes country. The capitol stands diagonally in the center of this square, its wings extending toward the corners. Owing to errors of survey, previous buildings have not been set quite true, either as to the centre of the park or as to the compass; but this fault has been corrected in the one now under construction. An extension of the capitol park is much to be desired.

INDEPENDENT HIGH SCHOOLS.

There are 12 schools of this class; 4 in Milwaukee, 2 in Superior, 1 each in Fond du Lac, La Crosse, Madison, Menomonie, Oshkosh and Racine. These schools have strong courses of study and strong teaching forces. The average salary to principals for the year ending June 30, 1912, is $2,333.33. The number of teachers employed, 353, of which 126 were men and 227 women. The number of pupils enrolled 8,467, the average daily attendance for each school was 612. The schools were in session on an average 194 days. The largest number enrolled in any school was 1,213 with an average daily attendance of 997. The smallest number enrolled in any one school was 132, with an average daily attendance of 115. The number of graduates for 1912 was 494 boys, 542 girls. There were 394 nonresident pupils. The average rate of tuition was $3.89 per month, and the whole amount received for tuition $9,304.50. The average yearly salary of the assistants $941.78. The total amount paid for teachers' wages $341,163.80. There were 3,192 pupils enrolled in the first or freshman year, 2,310 in the second year, 1,593 in the third, and 1,333 in the fourth or senior year. Instruction in manual training and domestic science is given in connection with these schools.

DISTRICT FREE HIGH SCHOOLS.

The legislature of 1875 provided for the establishment of district free high schools in Wisconsin. A year or so later, town free high schools were provided for. A number of cities in the state at that time had secured graded schools of several departments and in a number of cities there were private schools, commonly known as academies. The inducements offered for the organization of free high schools led to their immediate adoption in many places. The number in operation at the present time is 303, of which 238 are in counties under the jurisdiction of county superintendents and 65 are in cities and villages. The number of town and union free high schools is 45. The statute providing for union free high schools went into effect in 1909. It differs somewhat in the form of government from the plan adopted for town free high schools and permits any territory containing thirty-six square miles, whether all in one town or not, to be organized as a union free high school district. The amount of state aid to the schools of the latter class is one-half of the amount expended for instruction, limited, however, to the sum of $900 in cases where there are two teachers in the high school, $1,200 where there are three employed and not to exceed $1,500 in any high school each year. The teachers in all free high schools must hold some form of a state certificate higher in grade than what is known as the "county superintendent's certificate" in order to be legally qualified for the different positions. The number of teachers employed for the year ending June 30, 1912, was, men 652, women 1,009. The number of pupils enrolled, 30,062. The average salary of the principals was $1,220.37; the average salary of the assistants $616.81 and the total amount $1,129,375.15. The number of pupils studying English branches only 17,420; the number studying German in addition 7,887; and Latin 3,677. The average age of pupils on entering the high school is 14.5 years. The number of graduates for the year ending June 30, 1912, was 1,828 boys and 2,582 girls. The number of nonresident pupils attending 8,227. The total amount received by the high school district because of the tuition paid by the towns from which these nonresident pupils came was $140,115.98. About 26 per cent of the graduates took up teaching immediately after leaving the high school. The number of pupils enrolled in the freshman or first year 10,687; in the second or sophomore year 7,736; in the third year 6,367; in the fourth or senior year 4,929. From this it will be seen that about one-half of the persons entering the high school completed the four years' work.

The statute provides that high schools may establish manual training, domestic science and agricultural departments. The provision for agriculture is an act of the legislature of 1911. The number of high schools receiving state aid for manual training and domestic science for the year ending June 30, 1912, was 56. The legislature of 1911 provides that a high school giving manual training course in the high school only may receive $250 each year in addition to the regular high school apportionment. If the course is offered to the three upper grades below the high school $350 may be apportioned. What is true of manual training is also true with reference to domestic science and agricultural departments. It is now possible for a high school by teaching these three courses to receive $1,050 in addition to the usual state aid. The amount available for apportionment to the district high schools at the present time is $100,000, and the amount to the town and union free high schools is $50,000. All but 70 of these high schools are accredited to the state university.

STATE GRADED SCHOOLS.

Chapter 439, laws of 1901, provides for a classification of graded schools in this state into first and second classes. $120,000 may be used annually as special aid for schools of this class complying with the general provisions of the law. A state graded school of the first class must have at least three separate departments, must be maintained for at least nine months during the year, with an average daily attendance of not less than fifteen in each of the two departments in the case of a school of the second class, in at least three of the departments in schools of the first class. The principal of a school of the first class must have some form of a state certificate. One assistant may hold a third grade certificate providing such assistant has had at least one year of successful experience as a public school teacher in Wisconsin. One teacher may be qualified by a second grade certificate, and all other assistants must hold first grade certificates or certificates of a higher grade. The principal of a state graded school of the second class must hold at least a first grade county certificate and shall have had at least one year of successful experience as a teacher in the public schools or he may be legally qualified if he holds a second grade certificate and has had not less than two years successful experience as a teacher. The assistant in the second grade schools may be legally qualified under any grade of certificate but if the third grade only is held the holder must have at least one year of successful experience. The school buildings, grounds, and accessories must be free from unsanitary features and the equipment in the matter of seats, furniture and apparatus must be good, and sufficient to meet the demands and conveniences of the pupils enrolled. Two graded school inspectors appointed by the state superintendent are provided for by the statutes and it is the duty of these officers to visit these schools at least once each year for the purpose of advising with the teachers and members of the school board with reference to such conditions. They are also empowered to recommend such things in the way of equipment, etc., as may be deemed necessary to bring the school up to the required standard of equipment and efficiency and these recommendations must be complied with by the electors and officers. Refusal to do so may forfeit the right to share in the special aid of $300 to which well conducted graded schools of the first class are entitled and $200 to which properly conducted schools of the second class are entitled. There are 182 schools of the first class, employing more than 500 teachers, and 319 of the second class, employing 644 teachers. The enrollment in the first class schools is 18,918, the average daily attendance 12,714. There were paid for teachers' wages, $272,381.10; for all other purposes $280,794.41. The enrollment in the second class schools was 22,337, the average daily attendance 14,443. The amount paid for teachers' wages $291,344.36; for all other purposes $189,146.37.

GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC.

The objects of this order are (1) to keep green the memory of the events and associations of the Civil War; (2) to aid unfortunate comrades, and (3) to keep alive and active the spirit of patriotism. The first post was organized April 6, 1866, at Decatur, Ill. The first National Encampment was held November 20, 1866, at Indianapolis.

THE WISCONSIN DEPARTMENT.

The Department of Wisconsin was organized June 7, 1866, and the first Wisconsin Post was chartered at Madison, June 10, 1866. This post, now known as Lucius Fairchild, No. 11, is still active and has 145 members. Post No. 4, of Berlin, was chartered Sept. 8, 1866, and has maintained ever since an unbroken organization. It is said to be the oldest Post in existence with an unbroken record.

General James K. Proudfit was the leading spirit in the organization of the Grand Army of the Republic in Wisconsin and became the first Department Commander. He is now the oldest Past Department Commander living. The following is the list of all Department Commanders up to the present:

The Department reached its largest membership in 1889, when it was 13,944. December 31, 1910, there were 210 Posts, with 6,150 members.

The legislature of 1901 established in the capitol a permanent G. A. R. memorial hall for the preservation of relics and books commemorative of the war, pictures of war scenes, and portraits of men and women who did good service in war times. This hall was to be maintained by the state. It was made the headquarters of the Department of Wisconsin and was well equipped by the state for that purpose. It was the finest department headquarters in the United States. When, Feb. 27, 1904, fire broke out in the capitol, this hall with all it contained, was completely destroyed; but in the new capitol there will be elegant rooms, well equipped. H. W. Rood, Company E, 12th Wisconsin, is custodian of the Memorial Hall. At present the Department headquarters are in a hall rented by the state at 118 Monona Ave. Wisconsin is generous in her attitude toward the old soldiers.

At the last encampment, Antigo, June 11-12, 1912, the following named officers were elected: George W. Spratt, Sheboygan, Department Commander; J. A. Watrous, Milwaukee, Assistant Adjutant General; F. A. Bird, Madison, Assistant Quartermaster General; S. C. Carr, Antigo, Senior Vice Commander; William Handeyside, Depere, Junior Vice Commander; Dr. H. R. Bird, Madison, Medical Director; Rev. W. R. Brown, Waupaca, Chaplain; Harry J. Goddard, Chippewa Falls, Chief of Staff; W. A. Wyse, Reedsburg, Chief Mustering Officer; James S. Anderson, Manitowoc, Judge Advocate; J. W. Cochrane, Grand Rapids, Inspector; Hosea W. Rood, Madison, Patriotic Instructor; W. H. Starkweather, Milwaukee, Master of Transportation; Wm. DeTeese, Fond du Lac, Asst. Master of Transportation; O. A. Britton, Superior, W. H. Bennett, Madison and W. H. Blyton, Sparta, Visiting Committee to Veterans' Home.

The next department encampment will be held at Neenah, the second Tuesday in June, 1913.

Vicksburg Monument Commission—A. G. Weissert, Milwaukee; O. J. Burnham, Richland Center; Hosea W. Rood, Madison.

Camp Randall Memorial Park Commission—Colonel J. A. Watrous, Milwaukee; Colonel C. E. Warner, Windsor; W. J. McKay, Madison.

LADIES OF THE GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC.

This society of loyal and patriotic women is said to have had its origin in Portland, Maine, in 1867, under the name of the Loyal Ladies' League. The first organized Department was that of New Jersey, 1881, with eight subordinate Leagues. Mrs. Carrie M. Burge, of Vineland, was the first Department President. The following were the stated objects of the order:

"To unite with loyalty, love for one another; to practice precepts of true fraternity of feeling toward all the sisters of our order, thus emulating the spirit that unites our fathers, husbands and brothers; to honor the memory of our fallen heroes; to perpetuate and keep forever sacred Memorial Day; to assist the Grand Army of the Republic in its high and holy mission—aid, encourage and sympathize with them in their noble work of charity; to extend needful aid to members in time of sickness and distress; to aid sick soldiers, sailors and marines, and do all in our power to alleviate suffering."

Eligibility to membership required an applicant to be of good moral character, and the mother or wife, sister or daughter of an honorably discharged soldier, sailor or marine who served in the Union Army during the Civil War of 1861-65. These requirements differed from those of the Woman's Relief Corps, which organization decided at its national convention in Denver, in 1883, to admit to membership any loyal woman of worthy character.

The department of Wisconsin was organized in 1893. The names of the present department officers are as follows: Department President, Frances R. White, Wisconsin Veterans' Home; Department Secretary, Martha Leonard, Wisconsin Veterans' Home; Department Senior Vice President, Mrs. Olive Lyons, Antigo; Department Junior Vice President, Mrs. Olga Schaffer, Fond du Lac; Department Counselor, Mrs. Ethel Irish, 157 Gillet street, Fond du Lac; Department Chaplain, Hannah Frisbee, Durand; Council of Administration, Mrs. Hannah Barnes, Milwaukee; Mrs. Jennie Delaport, Green Bay; Mrs. Stella Thompson, Green Bay; Department Inspector, Mrs. Lucy Brothers, Milwaukee; Department Patriotic Instructor, Mrs. Martin, 608 W. Dayton St., Madison; Assistant Instructor, Cora Carpenter, Eau Claire; Corresponding Secretary, Laura Kreuger, Milwaukee; Department Librarian, Dora Frees, Oshkosh; Press Correspondents, Millie Koener, Milwaukee; Grace Carter, Omro; Mrs. Margaret Graff, Sheboygan; Mary Brett, Milwaukee; Jenette Brown, Neenah.

WOMAN'S RELIEF CORPS.

In 1881 the Society received the official recognition of the G. A. R., and they then took the full title, "Woman's Relief Corps, Auxiliary to the Grand Army of the Republic." The first national gathering was at Denver, Col., July 25, 1883. It was there decided that all loyal women, whether of kin to soldiers of the war or not, should be eligible to membership. Those positively in favor of admitting only women of the families of soldiers withdrew and organized the "Ladies' Loyal League," now "Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic."

The plan of organization is much like that of the G. A. R. Local societies are called corps; state associations, departments; and the annual meetings, conventions. Department and national conventions are held at the same times and places with encampments of the G. A. R.

The objects of the society are: "To specially aid and assist the Grand Army of the Republic and to perpetuate the memory of their heroic dead. To assist such union veterans as need our help and protection, and to extend needful aid to their widows and orphans. To find them homes and employment, and assure them of sympathy and friends. To cherish and emulate the deeds of our army nurses and of all loyal women who rendered loving service to their country in her hour of peril. To inculcate lessons of patriotism and love of country among our children, and in the communities in which we live. To maintain true allegiance to the United States of America. To discountenance whatever tends to weaken loyalty, and to encourage the spread of universal liberty and equal rights to all men."

Amount expended in Wisconsin for relief work for the year ending June 30, 1912, $14,266.59.

The Department of Wisconsin was organized at La Crosse, June 26, 1884. Seven local corps were there represented, and, if the records are correct, there were eleven voting members present. The order has grown steadily since then, and now has 145 corps in Wisconsin, with 7,672 members.

The present department officers, July 1, 1912, are as follows:

President, Laura E. Maloney, Fond du Lac; Senior Vice President, Belle Rodgers, Antigo; Junior Vice President, Lydia R. West, Monroe; Secretary, Amanda C. Wheeler, Fond du Lac; Treasurer, Jennie B. Wright, Kilbourn; Chaplain, Kate Walker, Oshkosh; Counselor, Sophia N. Strathearn, S. Kaukauna; Inspector, Henrietta Barney, Mayville; Instituting and Installing Officer, Mary Heronimus, Sheboygan; Patriotic Instructor, Luella M. Simpson, Shullsburg; Press Correspondent, Annie E. Noyes, Madison; Senior Aide and Chief of Staff, Emma E. Grinnell, Beloit.

The next department convention for Wisconsin will be held at Neenah on the second Tuesday in June, 1913.

THE SONS OF VETERANS.

One of the most active organizations auxiliary to the Grand Army of the Republic is The Sons of Veterans of the United States of America. The order was established November 12, 1881, at Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, and it has grown rapidly. It is based upon the following:

Principles.—(1) A firm belief and trust in Almighty God, and a realization that under His beneficent guidance the free institutions of our land, consecrated by the services and blood of our fathers, have been preserved, and the integrity and life of the nation maintained.

(2) True allegiance to the government of the United States, based upon a respect for, and devotion and fidelity to, its constitution and laws, manifested by discountenancing anything that may tend to weaken loyalty, incite to insurrection, treason or rebellion, or in any way impair the efficiency and permanency of our national union.

Objects.—To keep green the memories of our fathers and their sacrifices for the maintenance of the Union; to aid the members of the Grand Army of the Republic in caring for disabled and helpless veterans; to extend aid and protection to their widows and orphans; to perpetuate the memory and history of their heroic dead, and maintain the proper observance of Memorial Day; to aid and assist worthy and needy members of our order; to inculcate patriotism and love of country, not alone among our members, but among all people of our land; and to spread and sustain the doctrine of equal rights, universal liberty and justice to all.

Membership.—Members must be at least eighteen years old, and the sons of deceased or honorably discharged Union soldiers. The sons of members of the order are eligible to membership on becoming twenty-one years of age.

The present officers, July 1, 1912, of the Wisconsin division are as follows:

Officers.—H. S. Siggelko, Commander, Madison; Otto Berner, Sr. Vice Commander, Antigo; B. F. Hales, Jr. Vice Commander, Hancock; C. H. Hudson, Secretary-Treasurer, Madison.

Staff.—Voyta Wrabetz, Patriotic Instructor, Madison; Rev. Ernest C. Henke, Chaplain, Baraboo; Geo. B. Parkhill, Counselor, Thorp; J. W. T. Ames, Organizer, River Falls; L. W. McComb, Assistant Organizer, Stoughton; Fred B. Fox, Color Bearer, Plover.

The first camp of the Division was organized at Waukesha in 1883, the first annual encampment was held in Oshkosh in 1884, and the first Division Commander was Dr. John Finney, Clintonville. June 30, 1912 there were 27 camps and 1,030 members.

The annual encampments of the Sons of Veterans are held at the same time and place with those of the Grand Army of the Republic. The next division meeting will be held at Neenah, the second Tuesday in June, 1913.

STATE PENSION AGENCY.

The state of Wisconsin has by law constituted the adjutant-general—at present Charles R. Boardman—state agent for pensions. He will, upon application, supply free necessary blanks for applications and evidence in all classes of pensions; will give advice and all possible assistance in procuring evidence; will file copies of testimony and perform all the various offices of pension attorney for all soldiers or their heirs residing in Wisconsin free of charge, regardless of the branch of service or organization to which the applicant was attached.

Since this free state pension agency was established in 1889, 15,222 claims have been filed with the adjutant general, over 13,823 of which have been adjudicated and more than 80 per cent successfully prosecuted.

The large number of claims still pending is owing to the passing of the act of May 11, 1912, which benefited probably 90 per cent of the soldiers now living, and approximately 450,000 claims have been filed in the pension bureau under that act.

OUTLINE HISTORY OF WISCONSIN.

I. Spanish Dominion—1512-1634

Because of early discoveries by her navigators and inland explorers Spain made a general but undefined claim to the greater part of North America, to which was given the name Florida. Within this vast territory, however, no Spaniards approached nearer Wisconsin than the coast of Texas and the lower reaches of the Mississippi. The kings of Spain who laid general claim to nebulous Wisconsin, were Ferdinand V, 1512-16; Charles I, 1516-56; Phillip II, 1556-98; Phillip III, 1598-1621; and Phillip IV, 1621-65.

II. French Dominion—1634-1763

In 1604 French settlers established themselves in Nova Scotia, and in 1608 founded Quebec as the capital of New France. Penetrating the continent by way of the St. Lawrence and Ottawa rivers and the Great Lakes, they claimed our great inland water system on the ground of discovery by their fur traders and missionaries. They did not, however, reach Wisconsin soil until 1634.

The French kings during this period were Louis XIII, 1610-43; Louis XIV, 1643-1715; and Louis XV, 1715-74. All white persons and nominally all Indians within our borders, were subjects of these monarchs.

The governors of New France were as follows: Samuel de Champlain, 1608-35; Marc Antoine de Brasdefer de Chasteaufort, ad interim, 1635-36; Charles Huault de Montmagny, 1636-48; Louis d'Ailleboust de Coulonge, 1648-51; Jean de Lauson, 1651-56; Charles de Lauson de Charny, ad interim, 1656-57; Louis d'Ailleboust de Coulonge, ad interim, 1657-58; Pierre de Voyer, vicomte d'Argenson, 1658-61; Pierre du Bois, baron d'Avaugour, 1661-63; Augustin de Saffray, chevalier de Mézy, 1663-65; Jacques le Neuf de la Poterie, ad interim, 1665; Daniel de Rémy de Courcelles, 1665-72; Louis de Baude, comte de Frontenac, 1672-82; Antoine Lefebvre de la Barre, 1682-85; Jacques René de Brisay, marquis Denonville, 1685-89; Louis de Baude, comte de Frontenac, 1689-98; Louis Hector de Caillères, 1698-1763; Philippe de Rigaud, marquis de Vaudreuil, 1703-25; Charles le Moyne, first baron de Longueuil, 1725-26; Charles de la Boische, marquis de Beauharnois, 1726-47; Michel Rolland Barin, comte de la Galissonnière, 1747-49; Pierre Jacques de Taffanel, marquis de la Jonquière, 1749-52; Charles le Moyne, second baron de Longueuil, ad interim, 1752; Ange du Quesne, sieur de Menneville, 1752-55; Pierre Rigaud de Cavagnial, marquis de Vaudreuil, 1755-60.

1634.—The first governor of New France, Samuel de Champlain, was much interested in Western exploration. In 1634 he dispatched Jean Nicolet, an official interpreter, who had lived some time among the Huron Indians, to visit and report upon the Northwest. Proceeding by way of Ottawa River and Lakes Huron and Michigan, he landed on what is now Wisconsin soil, somewhere on the shores of Green Bay. Clad in a gayly figured silken robe, he advanced into a village of the Winnebago, and discharged pistols which he held in each hand.

The Indians welcomed him as the God of lightning and thunder, and in his honor made a great feast, at which a hundred and twenty beavers were eaten. After negotiating treaties with the tribes of the region, Nicolet made some further explorations—to what extent, however, is not known. Having returned to the Huron Indians, he later made his way to Canada and reported his discovery to Champlain.

1654-56.—For twenty years no more was heard of the Northwest until Pierre Esprit Radisson and Médard Chouart des Groseilliers, roving fur traders, in the autumn of 1654 came with tribesmen who were returning from a trading visit to Montreal, and wintered among the Potawatomi around Green Bay. In the spring of 1655 they ascended Fox River, and at the site of the present city of Portage crossed over to the Wisconsin, spending four months on the trip. The following year was spent in exploring the shores of Lake Superior and beyond, the return to Quebec occurring in August, 1656.

1659-60.—The same two adventurers, with six other fur traders and a band of Huron Indians, skirted the south shore of Lake Superior in their canoes, learned of mines of copper in the neighborhood, and late in the autumn entered Chequamegon Bay. Somewhere between the Ashland and Washburn of our day, they built a crude waterside fort. Later caching their stores, to hide them from the Indians, they visited a Huron village in the interior, and wandered as far west as the Mille Lac region in Minnesota, there wintering among the Sioux. In the spring they returned to Chequamegon Bay, built another fortified trading hut, and during the following summer descended to Canada, never again to visit the Northwest.

1660-61.—The Jesuit missions to the Huron Indians, in Ontario near Georgian Bay, having been destroyed by a war raid of the Iroquois, the Huron fled to Northwest Wisconsin. Thither Father René Ménard followed them in the autumn of 1660. After a winter of great hardship among the Indians at Keeweenaw Bay, he and a white companion started to visit the Huron villages on the Chippewa and Black rivers. After many difficulties and much suffering, they reached Wisconsin River, which they descended for a considerable distance. In portaging Bill Cross Rapids, Father Ménard lost the obscure trail, and was never again seen. He probably died from exposure.

1665.—Father Claude Allouez, another Jesuit missionary, was sent by his superior to reopen the mission among the Huron. On Chequamegon Bay, he chose for his hut a site on the southwest shore, which he named "La Pointe du Saint Esprit." Remaining here four years, he instructed roving bands of Huron, Ottawa, and other Indians, who had fled from the fury of the Iroquois. In 1669 Allouez was relieved by Father Jacques Marquette.

1666.—Nicolas Perrot, an adventurous fur trader, visited the Winnebago, Potawatomi, Fox, Sauk, and Mascoutin villages near Green Bay, and persuaded the Potawatomi to send a delegation to trade and treat with the governor of New France at Montreal.

1669.—Father Allouez visited the region of Green Bay, where he ministered to the several tribes clustered around its shores. He wintered in a small cabin whose location is not now known.

1670-71.—After visiting the Fox village on Wolf River, and that of the Mascoutin on the upper Fox (near the present Berlin), Father Allouez returned to Sault Ste. Marie (May 20, 1670). In the autumn, accompanied by Father Claude Dablon, he was again in Wisconsin, when the mission of St. François was begun for the Menominee and the Potawatomi, that of St. Marc for the Foxes, and that of St. Jacques for the Mascoutin.

1671.—Simon François Daumont, sieur de St. Lussou, was sent to Sault Ste. Marie, and there (June 14), in the presence of Allouez and other Jesuits with Perrot acting as interpreter, took official possession of the Northwest in the name of the French king.

1672.—Father Allouez, reinforced by Father Louis André, enlarged the Wisconsin missions, building at De Pere (abbreviated from Rapides des Peres, the "Fathers' Rapids") a chapel and mission house, to which was given the name of St. François Xavier. This became the centre of Jesuit missionary work in Wisconsin.

1673.—Louis Jolliet and Father Jacques Marquette set out in May from St. Ignace mission, at the Straits of Mackinac, and entering Green Bay and Fox River reached the Mascoutin village on June 7. Portaging into Wisconsin River, they descended the latter to its mouth, at which they arrived June 17. Thence they descended the Mississippi as far as the mouth of the Arkansas, passing on their way villages of the Illinois and other Southern tribes. Satisfied that the great river made its way to the Gulf of Mexico, and warned of danger if they advanced, they planted a cross at the limit of their discovery and on July began the return voyage. Ascending Mississippi and Illinois rivers they portaged at Chicago to Lake Michigan, and by the close of September were again at the mission at De Pere.

1674-75.—In October, Marquette started with two assistants to establish a mission among the Illinois Indians. Proceeding along the east coast of Green Bay, where is now the Sturgeon Bay ship canal, they portaged to Lake Michigan and paddled up that lake to the mouth of Chicago River, where they wintered on a sand dune near the shore. In the spring they pushed on to the Illinois villages near Peoria. But a mortal illness was on the intrepid Marquette and he turned back to Mackinac, hoping to live to reach that station. He died on the journey (May 19), and was buried at the mouth of Père Marquette River in Michigan. Later, Indians removed his bones to St. Ignace.

1673-76.—Father Allouez, aided by Fathers André and Antoine Silvy, continued his work among the tribes around Green Bay. Crosses were erected in the important villages, and baptisms conferred. The number of Indian refugees in these villages, fleeing from the raiding Iroquois, increased more rapidly than the converts.

1677.—Father Charles Albanel came as superior of the Green Bay missions, and a substantial chapel was built at De Pere. Allouez voyaged by way of Lake Michigan to the Illinois, finding bitumen just north of Milwaukee.

1680.—Father Louis Hennepin, a Recollect frair of La Salle's party, with two of the latter's subordinates, Michel Accau and Antoine Auguel, left the mouth of Illinois River (March 12) to explore the upper Mississippi. On their way they passed the site of Prairie du Chien. Below Lake Pepin the party were taken prisoners by the Sioux, who carried them to the present site of St. Paul, thence to the Mille Laes. After wandering some months with roving bands of Sioux, Hennepin and his companions were rescued by Duluth, and crossing by the Wisconsin-Fox river route proceeded to De Pere and Mackinac.

1683.—At De Pere, in May, Duluth defended the mission against an Iroquois attack. Subsequent disorder and confusion occurred in the Green Bay region, and Perrot, acting under the orders of the commandant at Mackinac, reestablished peace. About this time, Duluth, having punished Indian murderers of the French at Sault Ste. Marie, rendered Lake Superior safe for French traders and explorers.

1684.—Wisconsin tribesmen, led by Perrot, joined La Barre's abortive expedition against the Iroquois.

1685.—Perrot was appointed "commandant of the West." With a small squad of twenty soldiers, he passed over the Fox-Wisconsin route and wintered on the east bank of the Mississippi, about a mile above the present village of Trempealeau. Afterwards he established several trading posts on the Missisissippi River, among them Fort Nicolas, near the site of Prairie du Chien, and Fort St. Antoine on Lake Pepin.

1686.—Perrot presented a silver ostensorium to the De Pere mission, a relic still preserved in the State Historical Society's museum at Madison.

1687.—Wisconsin tribesmen, under Perrot's leadership, joined Denonville, on Lake Ontario, for an expedition against the New York Iroquois. During their absence the mission house at De Pere, with all the furs stored therein, was burned with a loss of over 40,000 livres.

1689.—Perrot, commandant among the Sioux, took possession at Fort St. Antoine, in the name of the French king, of the St. Croix, St. Peter, and upper Mississippi valleys.

1690-92.—Perrot discovered and began operations in the lead mines of Iowa and Wisconsin, where he built temporary forts. He also adjusted peace between the Sioux and the Foxes together with their allies.

1693.—Continued wars between the Sioux and the Wisconsin tribesmen rendered the Fox-Wisconsin route unsafe for French traders. Count Frontenac thereupon sent Pierre Charles le Sueur to command at Chequamegon and keep open a route from Lake Superior to the Mississippi. He built a stockaded fort at La Pointe, on Chequamegon Bay, and another on an island in the Mississippi near Red Wing, Minnesota.

1696.—Licenses for fur trading were revoked, all western commandants being recalled and the posts evacuated and abandoned.

1698.—Father Jean François Buisson de St. Cosme, a Sulpician missionary en route for the Mississippi, coasted from Mackinac along the west shore of Lake Michigan. Finding the Fox-Wisconsin route closed by the hostility of the Fox Indians, his party was obliged to seek the Chicago-Illinois portage. October 4 they camped at a Potawatomi village on the site, it is supposed, of Sheboygan. Three days later they reached Milwaukee, where was found a large Indian town of mixed tribes. The next stop was on the site of Racine; but they found the water too low to portage over to the Pistakee (or Fox River of the Illinois), so after a five day's rest they continued on to Chicago.

1700.—Having secured permission from France, Le Sueur brought with him thirty experienced miners imported from the motherland, and voyaged up the Mississippi from its mouth to some mines that he claimed to have discovered in the Sioux country. En route he examined lead deposits at or near the sites of Dubuque and Galena, and at "Snake Diggings," near Potosi, Wisconsin.

1701.—Peace was made at Montreal between the Iroquois and all North-western tribes, Wisconsin Indians being present at the council in large numbers. A post at Detroit having been built by Antoine la Mothe, sieur de Cadillac, Wisconsin Indians were invited to this new settlement to trade and dwell in the vicinity. Most of the Potawatomi thereupon removed to St. Joseph River.

1702.—Juchereau de St. Denis paid a thousand crowns' worth of goods to Fox Indians to allow his fleet of trading canoes to pass to the Mississippi over the Fox-Wisconsin route. Le Sueur's fort in Minnesota was plundered and destroyed by Foxes and their allies.

1710.—A large party of Foxes, with their allies, yielded to French solicitations and removed to the neighborhood of Detroit.

1712-16.—The Foxes, with their friends the Sauk and Mascoutin, were attacked and defeated at Detroit by a body of French-allied Indians. The remnant of the tribe at Green Bay immediately took up arms and harassed the French traders and their allies. This rendered unsafe the most important trade routes between the Great Lakes and the Mississippi.

1716.—Louis de la Porte, sieur de Louvigny, was chosen to conduct a campaign against the hostile tribesmen. With a detachment of eight hundred men, he went to Green Bay and up Fox River to a large Fox village near Little Lake Butte des Morts. There, peace was granted by the French, the Indians having bought off the invading army and given hostages. These latter were carried in triumph to Montreal.

1717.—A fort was built at Green Bay (probably on the site of the modern Fort Howard), whose first commandant was Etienne Roebert, sieur de la Morandière.

1718.—A post was founded at Chequamegon by Paul le Gardeur, sieur de St. Pierre, with Godefroy de Linctot second in command. A settlement of French traders was this year reported as existing at Green Bay.

1719.—Three Fox chiefs, with a Kickapoo and a Mascoutin, visited Montreal to excuse themselves for continuing the war against the Illinois, claiming to have acted in self-defense.

1721.—Father Pierre Francois Xavier de Charlevoix, Jesuit historian, visited Wisconsin, accompanied by Jacques Testard, sieur de Montigny, who superseded the Sieur de la Morandière in command of the post of La Baye. Charlevoix reported the continued enmity of the Foxes, and that Father Chardon, a Jesuit, maintained the mission at De Pere.

1722-23.—The Foxes continued their war upon the Illinois, defeating the latter on Illinois River, at the site known as "Le Rocher."

1724-26.—Several attempts were made by Marchand de Lignery, commandant at Mackinac, and Francois d'Amarilton, commandant at Green Bay, in concert with Jesuit missionaries, to make peace among the warring tribes. In 1726 a truce was secured, permitting the building of a post among the Sioux.

1727.—In order to detach the Sioux from the Fox alliance, also to furnish a basis for westward exploration, Fort Beauharnois was built on Lake Pepin, with René Boucher, sieur de la Perrière, in command.

1728.—Lignery, with an expedition composed of 450 French and 1,200 savages, left Mackinac early in August, and advanced up Fox River only to find that the Foxes had fled from their villages. These he destroyed, as well as large crops of maize. On his return he demolished the French fort at La Baye and sent messengers to warn the garrison at Fort Beauharnois. October 3 the garrison evacuated the latter, and on their descent of the Mississippi were captured and retained as hostages by roving Mascoutin and Kickapoo.

1729.—The captive French detached the Mascoutin and Kickapoo from the Fox alliance and made peace between them and the Illinois. Reports of copper mines on Lake Superior were made to the French government by the commandant at Chequamegon.

1730.—Pierre Paul Marin, in charge of Menominee Indians, aided the Winnebago in an attack upon a Fox fort on Little Lake Butte des Morts. The Foxes, discouraged by reverses, attempted to seek asylum with the Iroquois. Somewhere in the prairies of Indiana, not far from the southern end of Lake Michigan, the migrating tribes encountered and were badly defeated by French forces hastily gathered from Forts St. Joseph, Chartres, and Ouatatonon, under command of Sieur de Villiers. Nearly a thousand of the tribesmen were killed or captured.

1731.—The remnant of the Foxes, hiding in western Wisconsin, were attacked by a band of mission Indians from Canada. Cowed by this series of misfortunes, Kiala, the principal Fox chief, gave himself up as a hostage to the commandant at Green Bay and was transported to the island of Martinique. The destruction or dispersion of the remainder of the tribe was thereupon decreed by the Canadian authorities, but this was never wholly effected.

1732.—The post of Green Bay was rebuilt under command of Nicolas Antoine Coulon de Villiers. René Godefroy, sieur de Linctot, with a company of fur traders, rebuilt the Lake Pepin post.

1733.—A remnant of Foxes refuged at Green Bay among the Sauk, who defended them. Commandant De Villiers and his son were killed at the Sauk village. Thereupon a severe battle ensued at the gates, being renewed the next day farther up the river. The result was the amalgamation of the Sauk and Fox tribes, and their retreat to the lead mine region.

1737.—Trade and travel being still insecure in the West, St. Pierre was forced to abandon his fort on Lake Pepin.

1738.—Louis Denis, sieur de la Ronde, in command at Chequamegon, secured a permit to work the Lake Superior copper mines, and expert miners were sent from Germany to examine the lodes. Marin, being chosen commandant for the Sauk and Foxes, built a fort on the Mississippi near Rock River, and induced a Fox chief to visit Montreal and secure grace for his tribe.

1739-43.—Marin pacified all the Wisconsin Indians, and ended the Fox wars. The Winnebago returned to their old home in Fox River Valley; the Sauk and Foxes built villages on the Wisconsin; Milwaukee became the resort of vagrant tribesmen and unlicensed traders. Lead mining was undertaken in southwestern Wisconsin.

1743.—The license system was revoked, and the post at Green Bay auctioned to the highest bidder. The conduct of the lessees caused much dissatisfaction both among the Indians and the officers of the post.

1750.—Marin reestablished a post among the Sioux. He was in partnership with the governor, Marquis de la Jonquière, to exploit the upper country, and obtained from the Wisconsin fur trade a net profit of 150,000 livres per year.

1752.—Joseph Marin relieved his father at the Sioux post. The latter was recalled to serve on the Ohio frontier, where he died in 1753.

1753.—Grant of the post of La Baye to François Rigaud, brother of the Marquis de Vaudreuil, last governor of New France. Peace was made by Marin and St. Pierre between the Sioux, Cree, and Chippewa, insuring quiet among the Wisconsin tribesmen.

1756.—Sioux post abandoned by Joseph Marin.

1757.—Hubert Couterot was last French commandant at La Baye, and Pierre Joseph Hertel, sieur de Beaubassin, at Chequamegon.

Wisconsin Indians took part in the siege and massacre of Fort William Henry, on Lake George (August 3-9).

1758.—A Menominee insurrection resulted in the death of several Frenchmen and the pillage of a storehouse at La Baye. To expiate the crime, seven tribesmen were sent to Montreal, where three of them were publicly shot.

1759.—Wisconsin Indians participated in the defense of Quebec, both at the Falls of Montmorency and on the Plains of Abraham.

1760.—Wisconsin Indians went to aid in the defense of Montreal, but retired before its capitulation. News of the surrender being forwarded to Mackinac, the last French commandant, Louis Liénard de Beaujeu-Villemonde, evacuated the fort, retiring with his garrison to the Mississippi. In passing through Wisconsin, en route to Rock River, where he wintered, he probably took with him the garrison at La Baye, leaving that post unoccupied.

III. British Dominion—1763-1783

Upon the surrender of New France to the British, Wisconsin became English colonial territory, being governed from Mackinac and Quebec. Previous to 1774 Wisconsin was under military authority, but the "Quebec Act" of that year made it a part of the Province of Quebec, and thus it remained until the close of the Revolutionary War, when it was ceded to the United States.

The governors of Canada during the time Wisconsin was under British dominion, were: Sir Jeffrey Amherst (commander-in-chief, 1760-63; Gen. Thomas Gage (commander-in-chief, 1763-64; Gen. James Murray (first governor-general), 1764-66; Lt.-Col. Aemilius Paulus Irving (president of council), 1766; Sir Guy Carlton (lieutenant-governor and commander-in-chief, 1766-78; Hector Theophilus Cramahé (acting lieutenant-governor while Carlton was in England), 1770-74; Gen. Sir Frederick Haldimand (governor-general), 1778-84.

While the Northwest nominally became United States territory by the treaty of 1783, Great Britain still held the military posts on the upper lakes till 1796, among them Mackinac, of which Wisconsin was a dependency. Henry Hamilton (lieutenant-governor of Canada) succeeded Haldimand, 1784-85; Gen. Henry Hope (president of council), 1785-86; Lord Dorchester, formerly Sir Guy Carl-ton (governor-general), 1786-96; and John Graves Simcoe (lieutenant-governor of the Upper Province of Canada), 1792-96.

1760-61.—Immediately after the evacuation of Montreal a detachment was sent under Maj. Robert Rogers to occupy the Western posts. Detroit was surrendered Nov. 29, 1760, but the attempt to occupy Mackinac was defeated by the ice in the lakes. No further move was made until after Sir William Johnson made treaties at Detroit, in the summer of 1761, with all the Northwestern tribes. Then Capt. Henry Balfour, of the Eightieth British infantry, was dispatched from Detroit to occupy the Western posts. He arrived at Green Bay October 12, and took possession of the old French stockade, renaming it Fort Edward Augustus. He left here in garrison Ensign James Gorrell of the Sixtieth (Royal American) regiment, with a sergeant, corporal, and fifteen privates. Sometime that autumn, British traders began to arrive from Albany and followed the tribesmen to their wintering grounds.

1762.—Gorrell made treaties with the Menominee, Winnebago; Ottawa, Sauk, Foxes, and Iowa, and assisted in a treaty between the Chippewa and Menominee. In June, Ensign Thomas Hutchins, afterwards a famous geographer, visited the fort with orders and instructions for Gorrell. Several English traders were scattered throughout the territory, two of whom were killed by their employees.

1763.—The territories of New France, including Wisconsin, were formally ceded by the French to the British. Gorrell made a treaty with the Sioux. Pontiac's conspiracy led to a confederation of most of the Western Indians formerly allied with the French. They attacked the English posts on the upper Great Lakes, eight of which were captured. Divided counsels existed among Wisconsin Indians, however, and by skillful diplomacy Gorrell maintained himself at the Green Bay post, until after the massacre of a large part of the garrison at Mackinac. Then he received orders from his Mackinac superior to evacuate his fort (June 21). The friendly Menominee escorted Gorrell and his party to l'Arbre Croche (on the east shore of Lake Michigan), where were quartered the remnants of the Mackinac garrison, who were finally ransomed and sent down to Montreal, chiefly under the protection of Wisconsin Indians. Fort Edward Augustus was never again garrisoned by British troops.

1765.—Alexander Henry and Jean Baptiste Cadotte founded a fur-trading post on Chequamegon Bay, which region had been abandoned by whites since 1758.

1766.—Jonathan Carver, a colonial officer in the French and Indian War, visited Wisconsin. In his published narrative he described the settlement at Green Bay, the old Indian town on Doty's island, the Fox and Wisconsin rivers, and the trading mart at Prairie du Chien.

1773-75.—Peter Pond, a Connecticut fur trader, visited Wisconsin and Minnesota, and wrote a detailed description of the Indian and French inhabitants of this region. He found a French ex-soldier named Pinnashon permanently established at the Fox-Wisconsin portage, transporting boats and cargoes. Pond assisted in escorting Sioux chiefs to Mackinac, where an advantageous peace was concluded with the Chippewa.

1774.—Civil government was established over the Northwest and Canada by the "Quebec Act," under which Wisconsin became a part of the British Province of Quebec.

1776-78.—Wisconsin Indians under Charles Langlade and Charles Gautier de Verville assisted the British during the Revolutionary War, and were concerned with the defense of Canada and the expedition of Burgoyne.

1778-79.—Langlade and Gautier rallied the Indians to the aid of the British Lieut.-Gov. Henry Hamilton of Detroit. After the latter's capture at Vincennes (February 24, 1779), they opposed the projects of Col. George Rogers

Clark's enterprising agent, Godefroy Linetot, Indian trader at Prairie du Chien, who detached many Wisconsin Indians from the British alliance. The Indian village at Milwaukee was largely in the American interest. In the autumn, Capt. Samuel Robertson of the British sloop "Felicity" made a voyage of reconnaissance around Lake Michigan, inducing traders and Indians to support the British cause.

1780.—An expedition of Canadians and Indians from Wisconsin advanced by way of Prairie du Chien, with a supporting column under Langlade on the Illinois River, against the Spaniards at St. Louis and the Americans in Illinois. They were repulsed and driven back (May 26), after having killed and captured several whites and negroes. The Americans sent a retaliatory expedition to Rock River, one division of which penetrated southwestern Wisconsin. The British merchants of Mackinac sent a party to secure their furs stored at Prairie du Chien. Those that could not be carried away by them were burned, to prevent their falling into the hands of Americans.

1781.—The Spanish organized an attack upon Fort St. Joseph, near the southeast corner of Lake Michigan, in which Milwaukee Indians participated. This is the traditional date of the settlement of Prairie du Chien by Basil Giard, Augustin Ange, and Pierre Antaya, although French traders had long dwelt upon the site.

1783.—The treaty of Paris was concluded by which British territory east of the Mississippi was ceded to the United States. Joseph Calvé was sent from Mackinac to notify the Indians along the upper Mississippi of the cessation of hostilities.

IV. American Dominion—1783—date

Although the territory embracing Wisconsin was ceded to the United States in 1783, the British refused to evacuate the Northwestern military posts until 1796, and Wisconsin remained a de facto dependency of Mackinac and the British military government at that place. Practically it was controlled by British fur traders, who had combined in great fur trading companies, chief of which were the North West and Mackinac companies, to which most Wisconsin traders belonged. The jurisdiction and boundaries during these early years were as follows:

Wisconsin a part of Northwest Territory.—Owing to the vague and undefined westward bounds assured to the early English colonies in their respective charters, Massachusetts, Connecticut, and Virginia claimed territory within the present limits of Wisconsin. They ceded their Western claims (Virginia in 1784, Massachusetts in 1785, and Connecticut in 1786) to the federal government, to form a national domain, from which to create new states. The country "northwest of the River Ohio," of which Wisconsin was a part, was by the congressional Ordinance of 1787 erected into the Northwest Territory, whose governor was Gen. Arthur St. Clair (1789-1802).

A part of Indiana Territory.—May 7, 1800, the Northwest territory was divided into two territories by a north and south line beginning on Ohio River opposite the mouth of Kentucky River, running thence to Fort Recovery (near the present Greenville, Ohio), and thence north to the international boundary; all east of that line became Ohio, and west of it Indiana Territory. Wisconsin became a part of the latter, whose governor was Gen. William Henry Harrison (1800-11). He appointed justices of the peace at Green Bay and Prairie du Chien (1802-03).

A part of Illinois Territory.—February 3, 1809, Indiana Territory was reduced to the limits of the state of that name, the western and northern remainder being set off as Illinois Territory, the latter including what is now Wisconsin. Its governor was Ninian Edwards (1809-18).

A part of Michigan Territory.—April 18, 1818, the state of Illinois was created, with its existing boundaries; and all north of that state and west of Lake Michigan to Mississippi River was added to Michigan Territory. This territory was further aggrandized (June 28, 1834) by annexing for administrative purposes, all trans-Mississippi country north of Missouri and east of Missouri and White Earth rivers. The governors of Michigan Territory while Wisconsin was a part of it, were: Lewis Cass, 1813-31; George B. Porter, 1831-34; Stevens T. Mason, 1834-35; and John Scott Horner, 1835-36 (secretary and acting governor).

Wisconsin Territory.—April 20, 1836, Wisconsin Territory was erected. It embraced all of what is now Wisconsin, and extended westward to Missouri River, thus including the present Minnesota and Iowa, and much of the two Dakotas.

June 12, 1838, the Territory of Iowa was erected out of that portion of Wisconsin lying west of Mississippi River. When Wisconsin was admitted into the Union (May 29, 1848), the portion lying between St. Croix river and the Mississippi was detached and given to the new Territory of Minnesota. In this manner Wisconsin was restricted to its present boundaries.

1784.—North West and Mackinac fur companies formed at Montreal for trading in the region of the upper Great Lakes.

1785.—Julien Dubuqué first visited Prairie du Chien, and explored the lead mines of Wisconsin and Iowa.

1790.—Pierre Grignon of Green Bay outfitted Pierre Antaya of Prairie du Chien for trading on the upper Mississippi.

1791.—Jacques Porlier came to Green Bay, and acted as tutor for Grignon's children.

1792-93.—Charles Reaume wintered on St. Croix River; Porlier on the upper Mississippi.

1793.—Laurent Barth built a cabin at the portage of the Fox and Wisconsin rivers and transported boats and cargoes between these divergent waterways.

1794.—Wisconsin Indians, chiefly Chippewa, Winnebago, and Potawatomi, participated in the Indian war against American frontier settlements, and were in the battles of Fort Recovery and Fallen Timbers.

1795.—Death of Pierre Grignon senior at Green Bay.

Jacques Vieau, agent of the North West Company, established posts at Kewaunee, Sheboygan, Manitowoc, and Milwaukee. He selected the last mentioned place as headquarters, and found there a Potawatomi village, with Sauk, Foxes, and Winnebago intermingled.

1796.—The British evacuated the Western posts. Mackinac was occupied by an American garrison commanded by Maj. Henry Burbeck. A British garrison and fur-trade headquarters were established on St. Joseph Island in Lake Huron.

1797.—The Spanish incited the Sauk and Foxes to pillage British traders at Prairie du Chien; the latter's goods were saved by friendly Sioux. A Sioux-Chippewa war was waged in northern Wisconsin.

1798-99.—Foxes and Sauk visited the British post at Amherstburg, and made treaties with the officers of that government.

1799.—The X Y Company was organized to compete with the North West and Mackinac companies.

John Lawe arrived in Green Bay as clerk for Jacob Franks.

1801.—Death of Charles Langlade at Green Bay.

1802.—John Campbell appointed American Indian agent at Prairie du Chien. Governor Harrison of Indiana Territory granted commissions as justices of the peace to John Campbell and Robert Dickson, also of Prairie du Chien; and organized the militia with Henry Monroe Fisher as captain, Basil Giard as lieutenant, and Michel Labat as ensign.

1803.—Charles Reaume was commissioned justice of the peace at Green Bay, and Henry Monroe Fisher at Prairie du Chien.

1804.—Harrison made a treaty with the Sauk and Foxes at St. Louis, by which their title to lands in the southern portion of Wisconsin, including the lead region, was extinguished.

North West and X Y companies were amalgamated.

1804-07.—François Victor Malhiot, clerk for the North West Company, built a new fort and traded at Lac du Flambeau. Posts of the same company existed on the site of Superior, at Madelaine Island, and on Lac Court Oreilles.

1805-06.—Lieut. Zebulon M. Pike was dispatched up the Missouri from St. Louis, to inform Indians and traders of the purchase of Louisiana, and of American arrangements for posts and trading. In the ascent, he spent several days at Prairie du Chien, where he found a few American settlers among the French-Canadian inhabitants. After wintering near the Leech Lake source of the Mississippi, he returned to St. Louis in the spring, holding a conference with the Winnebago and Sioux at Prairie du Chien.

1806.—The secretary of war at Washington appointed Nicolas Boilvin assistant Indian agent for the Sauk and Fox Indians.

1808.—John Campbell was killed in a duel; Boilvin removed to Prairie du Chien as Indian agent and American magistrate.

A fur-trade factory was established at Mackinac.

1810.—John Jacob Astor purchased the Mackinac Company, and organized the South West Fur Company.

1811.—The Astorian party under Wilson P. Hunt and Ramsay Crooks passed through Wisconsin, en route for Pacific Ocean.

1812.—Wisconsin traders participated in the British capture of Mackinac (July 17). Some Wisconsin Indians aided in the massacre of Fort Dearborn (Aug. 15).

1813.—Lieut. Joseph Perkins was sent from St. Louis to fortify Prairie du Chien, where he built Fort Shelby, the first American post in Wisconsin. Robert Dickson, adhering to the British, collected Indians to attack this post, and wintered on Garlic Island in Lake Winnebago.

1814.—Maj. William McKay organized an expedition at Mackinac for the capture of Fort Shelby. He started June 28, in six days reaching Green Bay, where he was joined by thirty habitants and about 100 Indians; Dickson with his forces met them at Portage. July 17 they landed at the mouth of the Wisconsin and summoned Lieutenant Perkins to surrender, which the superior numbers of British forces compelled him to do. McKay with difficulty saved the prisoners from massacre by his Indian allies. The name of the fort was changed from Shelby to McKay.

Wisconsin traders and Indians aided in the British defense of Mackinac (Aug. 4) against the attack of the Americans.

1815.—After the treaty of Ghent with Great Britain, Capt. Alfred Bulger, the British commandant, abandoned Fort McKay (May 24) and retired to Mackinac. American jurisdiction was resumed by Nicolas Boilvin as Indian agent and justice of the peace.

1816.—A series of treaties with Indians was held at St. Louis, in which the tribesmen renewed their allegiance to the United States. Fort Crawford at Prairie du Chien was erected by Gen. Thomas A. Smith; Fort Howard at Green Bay was begun by Col. John Miller. Col. John Bowyer was sent to the latter place as Indian agent.

By act of Congress the fur-trade was restricted to American citizens, and Astor's American Fur Company began operating in Wisconsin. Government fur trade factories were established both at Green Bay and Prairie du Chien, with Matthew Irwin and John W. Johnson as their respective factors.

1817.—The fur trade of Wisconsin settlers was disarranged by the new law. Peltries were seized at Mackinac, and traders arrested on the Mississippi.

First school in Wisconsin opened at Green Bay.

1818.—Brown, Crawford, and Michillimackinac counties were organized, embracing the whole of the present Wisconsin, as well as parts of Minnesota, and the upper peninsula of Michigan.

Solomon Juneau arrived in Milwaukee, and soon thereafter bought out the trading-post of his father-in-law, Jacques Vieau.

1820.—Isaac Lee, United States commissioner, adjusted the land claims of the early French settlers at Prairie du Chien and Green Bay. The first Protestant sermon preached in Wisconsin was delivered July 9 at Fort Howard by Rev. Jedediah Morse, father of the inventor of the telegraph.

1821.—The first steamer on the upper lakes, "Walk-in-the-Water," navigated Lake Michigan, bringing a delegation of New York Indians to arrange for their transfer to Wisconsin.

The code of Michigan Territory was made the basis of law; but no courts were organized except those of justices of the peace.

1822.—Government fur trade factory system abolished. The New York Indians (Oneida, Stockbridge, Munsee, and Brothertown) purchased lands of the Menominee and began their removal to Wisconsin.

Government decided to lease lands in southwestern Wisconsin for mining purposes. Col. James Johnson, having secured a lease of part of the present Galena, began mining on a large scale. There followed an inrush of speculators and prospectors into southwest Wisconsin.

1823.—First steamboat, the "Virginia," ascended the Mississippi as far as Fort Snelling.

Lake Superior was surveyed by Lieut. Henry W. Bayfield of the British Navy.

First session of Crawford County court was held (May 12) at Prairie du Chien. United States circuit court held first session at the same place (October 17), James D. Doty presiding judge.

1824.—First session of Brown County court opened (July 12) at Green Bay. Jacques Porlier as chief justice. Judge Doty held the first United States circuit court (October 4) at the same place.

1825.—A treaty was concluded at Prairie du Chien in August by William Clark and Lewis Cass, government commissioners, between the Indians of Illinois, Minnesota, and Wisconsin, establishing tribal boundaries and making peace between the tribes.

An Episcopal mission was established at Green Bay by Rev. Norman Nash.

1826.—Fort Crawford was abandoned, and the troops sent to Fort Snelling, near St. Paul.

1827.—The Winnebago murdered several half-breeds, and attacked two keel-boats on the Mississippi. These outrages produced great alarm. Settlers fled to Prairie du Chien, and there organized and manned the abandoned fort. Troops were, however, sent from St. Louis and Fort Snelling. Col. Henry Dodge raised a hundred mounted volunteers in the lead mines. Maj. William Whistler, in command at Fort Howard, moved up the Fox to Portage, and the troops on the Wisconsin, under Gen. Henry Atkinson, pursued the fleeing Winnebago. They were overtaken near Portage and gave up the murderers, one of whom (Red Bird) soon died in prison. His associates were tried and sentenced, but afterwards pardoned on condition that the Winnebago cede their mining lands to the United States.

1828.—Fort Winnebago was begun at the Portage in September by Maj. David E. Twiggs.

1829.—In July, the Chippewa, Ottawa, and Potawatomi attended a treaty at Green Bay, and ceded their claims to lands between Rock and Wisconsin rivers. Thousands of miners settled in the lead region, where speculation increased.

A Methodist mission was established at Green Bay.

1830.—A Protestant mission was founded on Madelaine Island by Frederick Ayer. Rev. Cutting Marsh opened a Presbyterian mission to the Stockbridge Indians at Statesburg (South Kaukauna).

1832.—Black Hawk, a Sauk headman, resented the intrusion of the American settlers, and in April, crossing from Iowa, passed up Rock River to Prophetstown, there intending to raise a crop. This "invasion" aroused general alarm in Illinois and what is now Wisconsin. Settlers fled the country or gathered into log forts. Gen. Henry Atkinson, with an army of volunteers and regulars, marched from Fort Armstrong against Black Hawk, who sent a defiant message and retreated up Rock River to the neighborhood of Lake Koshkonong. Thence he descended into Illinois, and with Potawatomi and Winnebago help, attacked the frontier settlements. Some two hundred whites and as many Indians lost their lives in the ensuing skirmishes. Meanwhile, forts had been thrown up in the lead region and a company of mounted militia recruited among Wisconsin miners and farmers. Gen. Henry Atkinson with a force of nearly four thousand federal regulars and Illinois militia pursued the hostile tribesmen, who retreated by way of the present site of Madison. At the crossing of Wisconsin River a mile below Prairie du Sac, a skirmish occurred (July 21). The final battle was at the mouth of the Bad Axe (August 2), where the savages attempted to recross the Mississippi into Sioux territory. Black Hawk surrendered to some Winnebago and was brought to Prairie du Chien, whence he was sent to Jefferson Barracks at St. Louis. Of the thousand Indians who crossed the Mississippi with him in the spring, not over a hundred and fifty survived. This outbreak greatly advertised Wisconsin throughout the country, and stimulated settlement. In the autumn, treaties were negotiated with the Menominee, Sauk, and Winnebago, voiding the title to all their lands south and east of Fox and Wisconsin rivers.

The first newspaper in Wisconsin, the Green Bay Intelligencer, was established.

1834.—Land offices were established at Mineral Point and Green Bay. The first public land sale was held at Mineral Point.

The first public road was laid out. American settlers began to arrive at Milwaukee.

1835.—The first steamboat landed at Milwaukee, June 17.

A large influx of settlers secured lands in the southern and eastern portions of Wisconsin.

The first bank was opened at Astor, now a part of Green Bay.

Bishop Baraga founded a Catholic mission on Madeline Island.

1836.—The Territory of Wisconsin was organized April 20, by act of Congress. Henry Dodge was appointed governor, and on July 4 territorial organization was completed with John S. Horner of Virginia as secretary. The new officers were sworn in at Mineral Point, then the largest town in the Territory. The supreme court was constituted by the appointment of Charles Dunn, David Irvin, and William C. Frazier as justices. The first territorial assembly met at Old Belmont (now Leslie), October 25. On November 24 Madison, then merely a town on paper, was, against many competitors, chosen the capital through the influence of Judge Doty, owner of the site. George W. Jones was elected by this legislature the first territorial delegate to Congress.

July 14, the Milwaukee Advertiser commenced publication. A land office was opened at this place, and the first school begun.

1837.—Financial depression checked immigration, and the four banks in the Territory failed.

A treaty was made by Governor Dodge with the Menominee, by which they ceded to the United States about four million acres of land in Michigan and Wisconsin. After refusing to treat with Dodge, the Winnebago chiefs were invited to Washington, where they signed a treaty ceding all their Wisconsin lands and agreeing to remove from the Territory.

The town site of Madison was surveyed and platted, and the first capitol begun.

1838.—Congress appropriated land to endow the University of the Territory of Wisconsin.

Eighty post offices were established, and thirty-five mail routes. The Milwaukee and Rock River Canal Company was chartered.

The second territorial assembly met at Madison in November; but lack of accommodation caused it to adjourn until the following year.

1839.—The adjourned session of the second territorial assembly met at Madison. The Wisconsin Marine and Fire Insurance Company (Mitchell's Bank) was chartered, and the first school taxes were levied.

The first Baptist services were held in the Territory.

1840.—The United States census showed a population of 30,945 whites.

1841.—James D. Doty was appointed governor, to succeed Henry Dodge.

1842.—C. C. P. Arndt, a member of the legislative council, was shot and killed in the council chamber by James R. Vineyard, who was expelled from the council, but acquitted of the charge of manslaughter.

1843.—A cooperative industrial community, chiefly composed of English under the leadership of Thomas Hunt, settled at North Prairie, Waukesha County.

1844.—The Wisconsin Phalanx, a communistic organization promoted at Kenosha by Warren Chase, settled at Ceresco, now Ripon.

Doty was removed from the governorship of the Territory, and Nathaniel P. Talmadge appointed his successor.

The first episcopal diocese of the Catholic church was erected at Milwaukee.

1845.—Talmadge was removed from the governorship, and Henry Dodge reappointed.

A large Swiss colony was planted at New Glarus, Green County. A Mormon colony was organized by James Jesse Strang at Voree, near Burlington, Racine County.

1846.—The people voted in favor of a State government. Congress passed the enabling act, and the first constitutional convention opened at Madison, October 15.

1847.—A special census showed a population of 219,456. April 5, the first constitution was rejected by popular vote. The second constitutional convention opened at Madison, December 15.

1848.—The second constitution was adopted by popular vote March 13. Wisconsin was admitted into the Union under act of Congress approved May 23. Nelson Dewey was elected first State governor. The first legislature convened June 5, and two days later the State officers were sworn in. Henry Dodge and Isaac P. Walker were elected United States senators, and Andrew G. Miller appointed judge of United States district court. A free school system was established by law. A land grant for a university was made by Congress, and the State University was incorporated.

A large German immigration settled in Milwaukee and the eastern counties.

A partially successful attempt was made to remove the Wisconsin Winnebago to Long Prairie, Minnesota. The Menominee ceded a large tract east of the Wisconsin and north of Fox River, and removed to a reservation in Waushara County.

1849.—The construction of a railroad from Milwaukee westward was begun. In January the first telegram was received in Milwaukee.

Cholera was epidemic throughout the State.

"Gold fever" caused a great exodus to California.

The State Historical Society was organized by members of the first State legislature, January 30.

1850.—The federal census reported the population of Wisconsin to be 305,391.

1851.—The first railroad train in the State was run from Milwaukee to Waukesha.

1852.—Numerous railroad enterprises were started in the southern part of the State.

1853.—Charges were filed for the impeachment of Levi Hubbell, judge of the second judicial circuit. After a protracted trial by the senate he was acquitted.

1854.—A meeting was held at Ripon, February 28, to organize a new political party, which was subsequently named Republican. A convention held July 13 in the capitol park in Madison, organized the Republican party in Wisconsin.

Joshua Glover, a fugitive slave arrested at Racine on March 10, was on the following day rescued from the Milwaukee jail by a mob of anti-slavery men. Sherman M. Booth was arrested May 23, for aiding in this affair, and committed to jail. The State supreme court decided that the federal fugitive slave law of 1850 was void, and discharged the prisoner. This decision was afterwards (1859) reversed by the supreme court of the United States.

The first class was graduated from the State University.

The State Historical Society was reorganized, and Lyman C. Draper chosen secretary.

1856.—Gov. Willaim A. Barstow, Democratic nominee for governor, having been certified by the state board of canvassers as reelected, took possession of the office. Coles Bashford, the Republican candidate, brought an information in the nature of quo warranto to oust Barstow and establish his own claim to the election, on the charge of incorrect returns, the result of fraud. The proceedings terminated in favor of Bashford, who took office March 25.

September 24, the steamer "Niagara" was burned off Port Washington, when John B. Macy, a pioneer member of Congress from Wisconsin, perished.

1857.—Milwaukee & Mississippi railway was completed to Prairie du Chien. The monetary panic of this year was severely felt.

The legislature passed a law against kidnaping within the State, to neutralize the effect of the federal fugitive slave law.

1858.—An excursion train celebrating the opening of the Chicago & Fond du Lac Railway (now Chicago & Northwestern) was wrecked (November 1) at Johnson's Creek, Jefferson County; fourteen persons were killed and seven wounded.

A legislative investigation exposed the bribery of prominent officials by the railroads, and the improper use of United States railway land grants.

1860.—The federal census showed a population of 775,881.

The Sherman M. Booth case was again in the courts; the prisoner escaped from federal jurisdiction, but was rearrested, October 8, after which he was pardoned by President Buchanan.

The steamer "Lady Elgin," with six hundred excursionists aboard, sank September 8 in a collision off Racine, and two hundred and twenty-five persons, mostly from Milwaukee, were drowned.

1861.—Gov. Alexander W. Randall issued a proclamation calling for volunteers. Thirty-six companies tendered their services within one week. Sixteen regiments were mustered during the year. George C. Drake of Company A, First infantry, was the first Wisconsin soldier to be killed in the War of Secession; he died July 2 at Falling Waters, Va.

A bank riot at Milwaukee caused an attack on Mitchell's bank.

1862.—April 19, Gov. Louis P. Harvey, while on a visit to the South to care for Wisconsin soldiers wounded at Shiloh, was drowned in Tennessee River.

In April, about seven hundred Confederate prisoners were received at Camp Randall, Madison.

In May, the President called for 75,000 more troops, of which Wisconsin's quota was about 3,000. In August 300,000 additional troops were called out; the Wisconsin quota was about 12,000. November 10, a draft was resorted to for the troops required, which occasioned riots in the Lake Michigan counties. Wisconsin auxiliaries of the Sanitary Commission were formed.

The Democratic State convention held at Milwaukee September 3, issued the Ryan address, criticising the federal administration. This document was repudiated by War Democrats.

An Indian outbreak in Minnesota caused alarm in the northwestern part of Wisconsin, but prompt measures by the governor overawed the restive tribesmen.

1863.—A soldiers' hospital, named in honor of Governor Harvey, was opened in Madison, through the efforts of Mrs. Louis P. Harvey.

War Democrats held a convention in Janesville, at which they passed resolutions of loyalty and repudiated the Ryan address.

1864.—February 1, the president called for 300,000 more volunteers; in March 200,000; in July 500,000; and in December 300,000. Wisconsin's quota in these various calls aggregated 53,483, and 5,784 Wisconsin veterans re-enlisted. Military hospitals were opened in Milwaukee and Prairie du Chien. The Wisconsin Christian Commission was organized at Milwaukee.

November 2, ex-Gov. N. P. Talmadge died.

1865.—Several additional regiments were sent to the field to complete the State's quotas. Recruiting in Wisconsin ceased April 13. The whole number of troops furnished by the State during the war was 91,379, with losses by death of 10,752. Most Wisconsin troops were mustered out of service during the summer and autumn.

June 28, Viroqua, in Vernon County, was wrecked by a cyclone that killed fourteen and injured over a hundred persons.

July 13, ex-Gov. James D. Doty died; December 13, ex-Gov. William A. Barstow.

1866.—James R. Doolittle, United States senator, was requested to resign because of his support of President Johnson's reconstruction policy.

There was a noticeable increase in farm area and acreage under cultivation, with a general extension of agriculture to our northern and western counties, caused in part by disbanded soldiers returning to agricultural life.

1867.—June 19, ex-Gov. Henry Dodge died.

1868.—April 8, the "Sea-Bird" burned on Lake Michigan, all on board being lost save two.

The contest over railway regulation continued; cities, towns, and villages were authorized to issue bonds in aid of new railways.

The continued presence of Winnebago Indians causing alarm, Congress was petitioned to remove the remnant of that tribe from the State.

1871.—October 8-10, great fires occurred in Door, Oconto, Shawano, Kewaunee, Brown, and Manitowoc counties; one thousand or more persons perished and three thousand were rendered destitute. Peshtigo was nearly destroyed. Large contributions came from all parts of the United States, Great Britain, Canada, France, and Germany, relieving the sufferers and providing them with comfortable homes, food, implements, and clothing.

1872.—Congress made an appropriation for the removal of the Winnebago.

July 26, ex-Gov. Alexander W. Randall, the first war governor, died.

1873.—The financial panic of this year caused distress in manufacturing and commerce.

The Democrats, on the issue of railway regulation, raised by the "Grangers," elected a State ticket for the first time since the War of Secession.

The Wisconsin Winnebago were forcibly removed to their Nebraska reservation—but many of them returned to the State.

July 4, a great hurricane occurred on Green Lake, in the county of that name, wherein ten persons were drowned; much property was also injured in Fond du Lac and Sheboygan counties.

1874.—The "Potter Law," placing a limit on railroad freight and passenger charges, was enacted as a result of the "Granger" movement. Action being brought in the State supreme court to enjoin the companies from violations thereof, the law was upheld. Justice Ryan's opinion is still cited in support of state regulation of public utility corporations.

1875.—The Republicans elected a State ticket in opposition to the "Potter Law" and "Grangerism."

The manufacture of cotton cloth was commenced in Janesville—the first in the State.

Women were first made eligible to school offices.

April 28, much of Oshkosh was destroyed by fire.

1876.—The "Potter Law" was repealed.

March 10, Hazel Green, Grant County, was wrecked by a cyclone.

1877.—July 7, a destructive cyclone visited the shores of Green Bay, six persons being killed and many injured, while the property loss amounted to $200,000; the town of Pensaukee, in Oconto County, was wrecked.

1878.—An Indian scare in Burnett County was caused by religious dances among the Chippewa, hundreds of settlers left their homes, but were induced to return by military officials sent to investigate the disturbances.

May 23, a cyclone swept through Grant, Iowa, Dane, Jefferson, and the counties eastward thereof; twelve or fifteen persons were killed, and there was large destruction of property. Furious storms also occurred in northern Wisconsin, particularly on the Flambeau River.

- April 25, ex-Gov. Coles Bashford died.
- 1880.—The federal census showed a population of 1,315,497.
A patent was granted to John Stevens of Neenah for the first roller flour mill, which has revolutionized the milling processes of the world.
- October 19, Chief Justice Edward G. Ryan died.
- 1881.—The first serious labor disturbance occurred in September, at Eau Claire, when sawmill operatives demanded a reduction of hours. Rioting and injury of property ensued, when eight companies of the National Guard were called out to keep the peace.
- February 24, Senator Matt H. Carpenter died.
- 1882.—The State constitution was amended so as to provide for biennial legislative sessions. They had previously been annual.
- May 19, a cyclone occurred on the northern and western outskirts of Racine, in which five were killed and eighty-five wounded.
- May 14, ex-Gov. Cadwallader C. Washburn died.
- 1883.—January 10, the Newhall House in Milwaukee was burned; seventy persons perished. November 8, the south wing of the capitol extension at Madison fell, killing seven workmen.
- February 23, ex-Gov. William E. Smith died. March 25, former U. S. Senator Timothy O. Howe died at Racine.
- 1884.—December 1, Science Hall, State University was destroyed by fire.
- 1885.—High-grade iron ore was discovered in the Gogebic range; a "boom" for the region began, and new towns sprang up.
- 1886.—May 1-5, workmen in Milwaukee struck to secure an eight-hour day. Becoming riotous and refusing to obey the authorities, they were fired upon by the National Guard, several being killed or wounded.
- In October, the limited express on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway was wrecked and burned at East Rio, Columbia County; from eleven to fifteen persons were killed.
- 1887.—A "boom" in Gogebic iron stocks was followed by a crash, in which small investors lost heavily.
- June 27, Marshfield was almost destroyed by fire, 1,500 persons being rendered homeless. The property loss was between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000.
- 1889.—The "Bennett Law," for compulsory education in the English language, was passed by the legislature. It contained regulations obnoxious to the foreign-speaking population and other supporters of parochial schools.

WISCONSIN CIRCUIT COURTS.

Statement Showing the Names and Post-office Addresses of the Circuit Judges and Times and Places of holding Circuit Courts in the several Counties in Wisconsin.

Salary of circuit judges, $4,600 per annum and $400 for expenses. Sec. 170, W. S. 1898, as amended by Ch. 138, L. 1901 and Ch. 230, L. 1905.

The judge of any circuit may, by an order entered and recorded in the clerk's office, appoint not to exceed two extra terms of court, to be held in any county in his circuit, when he shall deem it necessary during any one year, and may or may not, in his discretion, cause jurors therefor to be drawn and summoned as for other terms. At such extra terms the same business may be transacted as at a regular term for such county.—Sec. 2426, W. S.

Every term in any county shall be a special term for the whole circuit, unless the court, by order filed in the clerk's office at least twelve days before any such term, shall otherwise order as to such county.—Sec. 2424, W. S.

PLATFORM OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY.

Adopted at Chicago, Ill., June 18, 1912.

The Republican party, assembled by its representatives in national convention, declares its unchanging faith in government of the people, by the people, for the people; we renew our allegiance to the principles of the Republican party and our devotion to the cause of Republican institutions established by the fathers. It is appropriate that we should now recall with a sense of veneration and gratitude the name of our first great leader, who was nominated in this city, and whose lofty principles and superb devotion to his country are an inspiration to the party he honored—Abraham Lincoln. In the present state of public affairs we should be inspired by his broad statesmanship and by his tolerant spirit toward men.

The Republican party looks back upon its record with pride and satisfaction, and forward to its new responsibilities with hope and confidence. Its achievements in government constitute the most luminous pages in our history. Our greatest national advance has been made during the years of its ascendancy in public affairs. It has been genuinely and always a party of progress; it has never been either stationary or reactionary. It has gone from the fulfillment of one great pledge to the fulfillment of another in response to the public need and to the popular will. We believe in our self-controlled representative democracy which is a government of laws, not of men, and in which order is the prerequisite of progress.

The principles of the constitutional government, which make provision for orderly and effective expression of the popular will, for the protection of civil liberty and the rights of men, and for the interpretation of the law by an untrammelled and independent judiciary, have proved themselves capable of sustaining the structure of a government which, after more than a century of development, embraces one hundred millions of people, scattered over a wide and diverse territory, but bound by common purposes, common ideals, and common affection to the constitution of the United States. Under the constitution and the principles asserted and vitalized by it, the United States has grown to be one of the great civilized and civilizing powers of the earth. It offers a home and an opportunity to the ambitious and industrious from other lands. Resting upon the broad basis of a people's confidence and a people's support, and managed by the people themselves, the government of the United States will meet the problems of the future as satisfactorily as it has solved those of the past.

The Republican party is now, as always, a party of advanced and constructive statesmanship. It is prepared to go forward with the solution of those new questions, which social, economic and political development have brought into the forefront of the nation's interest. It will strive, not only in the nation, but in the several states, to enact the necessary legislation to safeguard the public health; to limit effectively the labor of women and children, to protect wage-earners engaged in dangerous occupations; to enact comprehensive and generous workman's compensation laws in place of the present wasteful and unjust system of employers' liability; and in all possible ways to satisfy the just demand of the people for the study and solution of the complex and constantly changing problems of social welfare.

In dealing with these questions it is important that the rights of every individual to the freest possible development of his own power and resources and to the control of his own justly acquired property, so far as those are compatible with the rights of others, shall not be interfered with or destroyed. The social and political structure of the United States rests upon the civil liberty of the individual; and for the protection of that liberty the people have wisely, in the national and state constitutions, put definite limitations upon themselves and upon their governmental officers and agencies. To enforce these limitations, to secure the orderly and coherent exercise of governmental powers, and to protect the rights of even the humblest and least favored individual are the functions of independent courts of justice.

The Republican party reaffirms its intention to uphold at all times the authority and integrity of the courts, both state and federal and it will ever insist that their powers to enforce their process and to protect life, liberty and property shall be preserved inviolate. An orderly method is provided under our system of government by which the people may, when they choose, alter or amend the constitutional provisions which underlie that government. Until these constitutional provisions are so altered or amended, in orderly fashion, it is the duty of the courts to see to it that when challenged they are enforced.

That the courts, both federal and state, may bear the heavy burden laid upon them to the complete satisfaction of public opinion we favor legislation to prevent long delays and the tedious and costly appeals which have so often amounted to a denial of justice in civil cases and to a failure to protect the public at large in criminal cases.

Since the responsibility of the judiciary is so great, the standards of judicial action must be always and everywhere above suspicion and reproach. While we regard the recall of judges as unnecessary and unwise, we favor such action as may be necessary to simplify the process by which any judge found to be derelict in his duty may be removed from office.

Together with peaceful and orderly development at home, the Republican party earnestly favors all measures for the establishment and protection of the peace of the world and for the development of closer relations between the various nations of the earth. It believes most earnestly in the peaceful settlement of international disputes and in the reference of all justifiable controversies between nations to an international court of justice.

The Republican party is opposed to special privilege and to monopoly. It placed upon the statute book the interstate commerce act of 1887, and the important amendments thereto, and the anti-trust act of 1890, and it has consistently and successfully enforced the provisions of these laws. It will take no backward step to permit the reestablishment in any degree of conditions which were intolerable.

Experience makes it plain that the business of the country may be carried on without fear or without disturbance and at the same time without resort to practices which are abhorrent to the common sense of justice. The Republican party favors the enactment of legislation supplementary to the existing anti-trust act which will define as criminal offense those specific acts that uniformly mark attempts to restrain and to monopolize trade, to the end that those who honestly intend to obey the law may have a guide for their action and that those who aim to violate the law may the more surely be punished.

The same certainly should be given to the law prohibiting combinations and monopolies that characterize other provisions of commercial law in order that no part of the field of business opportunity may be restricted by monopoly or combination that business success honorably achieved may not be converted into crime and that the right of every man to acquire commodities, and particularly the necessaries of life, in an open market uninfluenced by the manipulation of trust or combination may be preserved.

In the enforcement and administration of federal laws governing interstate commerce and enterprises impressed with a public use engaged therein, there is much that may be committed to a federal trade commission, thus placing in the hands of an administrative board many of the functions now necessarily exercised by the courts. This will promote promptness in the administration of the law and avoid delay and technicalities incident to court procedure.

We reaffirm our belief in a protective tariff. The Republican tariff policy has been of the greatest benefit to the country, developing our resources, diversifying our industries, and protecting our workmen against competition with cheaper labor abroad, thus establishing for our wage earners the American standard of living. The protective tariff is so woven into the fabric of our industrial and agricultural life that to substitute for it a tariff for revenue only would destroy many industries and throw millions of our people out of employment. The products of the farm and of the mine should receive the same measure of protection as other products of American labor.

We hold that the import duties should be high enough while yielding a sufficient revenue to protect adequately American industries and wages. Some of the existing import duties are too high, and should be reduced. Readjustments should be made from time to time to conform to changed conditions and to reduce excessive rates, but without injury to American industry. To accomplish this correct information is indispensable. This information can best be obtained by an expert commission, as the large volume of useful facts contained in the recent reports of the tariff board has demonstrated.

The pronounced feature of modern industrial life is its enormous diversification. To apply tariff rates justly to these changing conditions requires closer study and more scientific methods than ever before.

The Republican party has shown by its creation of a tariff board, its recognition of this situation and its determination to be equal to it. We condemn the Democratic party for its failure either to provide funds for the continuance of this board or to make some other provision for securing the information requisite for intelligent tariff legislation. We protest against the Democratic method of legislating on these vitally important subjects without careful investigation.

We condemn the Democratic tariff bills passed by the house of representatives of the Sixty-second congress, as sectional, as injurious to the public credit, and as destructive of business enterprise.

The steadily increasing cost of living has become a matter not only of national but of world wide concern. The fact that it is not due to the protective tariff system is evidenced by the existence of similar conditions in countries which have a tariff policy different from our own, as well as by the fact that the cost of living has increased while rates of duty have remained stationary or been reduced.

The Republican party will support a prompt scientific inquiry into the causes which are operative, both in the United States and elsewhere, to increase the cost of living. When the exact facts are known, it will take the necessary steps to remove abuses that may be found to exist, in order that the cost of the food, clothing and shelter of the people may in no way be unduly or artificially increased.

The Republican party has always stood for a sound currency and for safe banking methods. It is responsible for the resumption of specie payments, and for the establishment of the gold standard. It is committed to the progressive development of our banking and currency system. Our banking arrangements to-day need further revision to meet the requirements of current conditions. We need measures which will prevent the recurrence of money panics and financial disturbances and which will promote the prosperity of the business and the welfare of labor by producing constant employment.

We need better currency facilities for the movement of crops in the west and south. We need banking arrangements under American auspices for the encouragement and better conduct of our foreign trade. In attaining these ends, the independence of individual banks, whether organized under national or state charters, must be carefully protected and our banking and currency system must be safeguarded from any possibility of domination by sectional, financial or political interests.

It is of great importance to the social and economic welfare of this country that its farmers have facilities for borrowing easily and cheaply the money they need to increase the productivity of their land. It is as important that financial machinery be provided to supply the demand of farmers for credit as it is that the banking and currency systems be reformed in the interest of general business. Therefore, we recommend and urge an authoritative investigation of agricultural credit societies and corporations in other countries, and the passage of state and federal laws for the establishment and capable supervision of organization having for their purpose the loaning of funds to farmers.

We reaffirm our adherence to the principle of appointment to public office based on proved fitness, and tenure during good behavior and efficiency. The Republican party stands committed to the maintenance, extension and enforcement of the civil service law, and it favors the passage of legislation empowering the president to extend the competitive service so far as practicable. We favor legislation to make possible the equitable retirement of disabled and superannuated members of the civil service, in order that a higher standard of efficiency may be maintained.

We favor the amendment of the federal employers' liability law so as to extend its provision to all government employes as well as to provide more liberal scale of compensation for injury and death.

We favor such additional legislation as may be necessary more effectually to prohibit corporations from contributing funds, directly or indirectly, to campaigns for the nomination or election of the president, the vice president, senators and representatives in congress.

We heartily approve the recent act of congress requiring the fullest publicity in regard to all campaign contributions, whether made in connection with primaries, conventions or elections.

We rejoice in the success of the distinctive Republican policy of the conservation of our national resources, for their use by the people, without waste and without monopoly. We pledge ourselves to a continuance of such a policy.

We favor such fair and reasonable rules and regulations as will not discourage or interfere with actual bona fide homeseekers, prospectors and miners in the acquisition of public lands under existing laws.

In the interest of the general public, and particularly of the agricultural or rural communities we favor legislation looking to the establishment under proper regulations of a parcel post, the postal rates to be graduated under a zone similar in proportion to the length of carriage.

We approve the action taken by the president and the congress to secure with Russia, as with other countries, a treaty that will recognize the absolute right of expatriation, and that will prevent all discrimination of whatever kind between American citizens, whether native born or alien and regardless of race, reigion or previous political allegiance. The right of asylum is a precious possession of the people of the United States and it is to be neither surrendered nor restricted.

We believe in the maintenance of an adequate navy for the national defense, and we condemn the action of the Democratic house of representatives in refusing to authorize the construction of additional ships.

We believe that one of the country's most urgent needs is a revived merchant marine. There should be American ships, and plenty of them, to make use of the great American interoceanic canal, now nearing completion.

The Mississippi river is the nation's drainage ditch, its flood waters, gathered from thirty-one states and the Dominion of Canada, constitute an overpowering force which breaks the levees and pours its torrents over many million acres of the richest land in the union, stopping mails, impeding commerce, and causing great loss of life and property. These floods are national in scope and the disasters they produce seriously affect the general welfare. The state unaided cannot cope with this giant problem; hence, we believe the federal government should assume a fair proportion of the burden of its control so as to prevent the disasters from recurring floods.

We favor the continuance of the policy of the government with regard to the reclamation of arid lands; and for the encouragement of the speedy settlement and improvement of such lands we favor an amendment to the law, that will reasonably extend the time within which the cost of any reclamation project may be repaid by the land owners under it.

We favor a liberal and systematic policy for the improvements of our rivers and harbors. Such improvements should be made upon expert information and after a careful comparison of cost and prospective benefits.

We favor a liberal policy towards Alaska to promote the development of the great resources of that district, with such safeguards as will prevent waste and monopoly.

We favor the opening of the coal lands to development through a law leasing the lands on such terms as will invite development and provide fuel for the navy and the commerce of the Pacific ocean, while retaining title in the United States to prevent monopoly.

We ratify in all its particulars the platform of 1908 respecting citizenship for the people of Porto Rico.

The Philippine policy of the Republican party has been and is inspired by the belief that our duty toward the Philippine people is a national obligation which should remain entirely free from partisan politics.

We pledge the Republican party to the enactment of appropriate laws to give relief from the constantly growing evil of induced or undesirable immigration which is inimical to the progress and welfare of the people of the United States.

We favor the speedy enactment of laws to provide that seamen shall not be compelled to endure involuntary servitude and that life and property at sea shall be safeguarded by the ample equipment of vessels with life-saving appliances and with full complements of skilled, able-bodied seamen to operate them.

The approaching completion of the Panama canal, the establishment of a bureau of mines, the institution of postal savings banks, the increased provision made in 1912 for the aged and infirm soldiers and sailors of the republic and for their widows, and the vigorous administration of the law relating to pure food and drugs, all mark the successful progress of Republican administration, and are additional evidence of its effectiveness.

We commend the earnest effort of the Republican administration to secure greater economy and increased efficiency in the conduct of government business, extravagant appropriations and the creation of unnecessary offices are an injustice to the taxpayer and a bad example to the citizen.

We call upon the people to quicken their interest in public affairs to condemn and punish lynchings and other forms of lawlessness, and the strengthening in all possible ways a respect for law and the observance of it. Indifferent citizenship is an evil from which the law affords no adequate protection and for which legislation can provide no remedy.

We congratulate the people in Arizona and New Mexico upon the admission of those states, thus merging in the union in final and enduring form the last remaining portion of our continental territory.

We challenge successful criticism of the sixteen years of Republican administration under Presidents McKinley, Roosevelt and Taft. We heartily reaffirm the indorsement of President McKinley contained in the platform of 1900 and of 1904, and that of President Roosevelt contained in the platform of 1904 and 1908.

We invite the intelligent judgment of the American people upon the administration of William H. Taft. The country has prospered and been at peace under his presidency. During the years in which he had the cooperation of a Republican congress an unexampled amount of constructive legislation was framed and passed in the interest of the people and in obedience to their wish. That legislation is a record on which any administration might appeal with confidence to the favorable judgment of history.

We appeal to the American electorate upon the record of the Republican party, and upon this declaration of its principles and purposes. We are confident that under the leadership of the candidates here to be nominated our appeal will not be in vain; that the Republican party will meet every just expectation of the people whose servant it is; that under its administration and its laws our nation will continue to advance; that peace and prosperity will abide with the people and that new glory will be added to the great republic.

REPUBLICAN STATE PLATFORM.

The republican party, in convention assembled, responding to the state motto—"Forward"—renews its pledges to maintain fundamental democracy and serve the cause of human betterment. The nation and most of the states now feel the impulse of the great onward movement in which Wisconsin has been the pioneer, through the leadership of our foremost public man, Senator Robert M. La Follette. The principles for which he contended and established here have now become the fundamental guarantee of representative government in all progressive states of the union. The attention of the country is directed to Wisconsin. Its position was never more important than now. Its leadership will help to shape the progress of states and of the nation in the way of making government represent the will of the people.

Nor has the party in this state failed in its duty. Its present record for faithful performance of platform promises has fully justified the confidence reposed in it. With a past record far in advance of any other state, no greater progress has ever been made in any commonwealth in the same time than during the administration of Governor Francis E. McGovern for improvement in the governmental machinery, for the enactment of popular will into law and for social and economic advancement.

In scope, originality, practicability courage, and broad, progressive humanitarianism, the republican state platform of 1910 was without a precedent. In it the fundamental problems of the time were frankly recognized and a definite program was adopted for political and social improvement. When the legislature of 1911 adjourned every pledge was redeemed, every promise was performed and every proposal was enacted into law.

Among the important laws and resolutions passed are the following:

A stringent corrupt practices act that has already curbed the demoralizing use of money in elections.

A presidential primary.

A proposal to amend the constitution to authorize the initiative, the referendum and the recall.

Proposed amendment of the constitution to permit home rule for cities.

A joint resolution designed to make it easier to amend the constitution.

A workmen's compensation act that insures prompt, fair and certain relief in every case of industrial accident. No more important labor law was ever enacted.

An industrial commission law that provides a common sense tribunal for the trial of labor disputes, assist workingmen to secure steady employment and assures them safe and sanitary places to work. This is a pioneer measure of vital significance to the cause of labor.

Comprehensive child labor laws.

A law limiting the hours of labor for women.

With the passage of these and other similar laws Wisconsin now leads her sister state in labor legislation.

The creation of a board of industrial education to promote agricultural, industrial and vocational training.

A law granting state aid for the improvement of highways.

Acts for the conservation of our natural resources, including forests, soil, fish, game and water powers.

A law for the formation of coöperative associations.

An effective weights and measure law.

Establishment of a system of life insurance to be administered at cost by the state.

A law creating the board of public affairs, consisting of seven members all of whom serve without pay. It is the function of this board to make exhaustive investigations of public questions of vital and immediate importance with the view of securing information upon which to base legislative action.

OUR SCHOOLS.

1. No great progressive movement can long continue unless our future citizens are thoroughly prepared to carry it on as citizens and workers. This means the practical education of all our children. In the progressive educational movement, the rural schools have lagged behind. In a great agricultural state like Wisconsin, continued advance is not possible unless the rural schools are preparing men and women of trained intelligence, of human feeling, and of progressive spirit, to take up the work so well begun. The Republican party therefore in this its first and most important plank pledges itself to secure for the rural school better buildings, better sanitation, better equipment, better supervision, and better teaching.

2. In order that Wisconsin shall be the leader in the movement for rural betterment as she has been a leader in other great progressive movements, we pledge specifically the following legislation for rural schools.

RURAL SCHOOLS.

- a. Common sense teaching of practical agriculture.
 - b. Adequate preparation of farmers' daughters in domestic science.
 - c. The gradual introduction of traveling agricultural teachers in every county of the state.
 - d. Extension work under the supervision of county schools of agriculture and a wider application of this work now done by the university.
 - e. Extension to the rural schools of the proven beneficial results that state aid under proper supervision has accomplished in graded schools.
3. We pledge ourselves to a reorganization of the administration of the common schools and the establishment in the department of public instruction of supervisors of agricultural teaching.
4. We pledge ourselves to a thorough investigation of all forces making for rural betterment and for the formulation of a constructive program including:
- a. Making the teaching in the high schools conform to the practical needs of the communities.
 - b. Use of the schools as social centers.
 - c. The gradual establishment of a state system of county agricultural schools.
 - d. Liberal state aid for the consolidation of rural schools.

INCOME TAX.

The income tax law enacted by the last legislature is a progressive measure based upon the sound, economic principle that taxes shall be levied according to ability to pay and that net income is a better measure of such ability than the mere possession of property. Its enactment at this time was prompted by the utter failure and injustice of personal property taxation.

In 1903, in 1905, and again in 1907, the legislature almost unanimously voted in favor of a constitutional amendment to authorize a graduated income tax. In 1908 the people ratified this amendment by a vote of almost three to one and by a majority of more than 50,000. The action of the legislature of 1909 in referring the question to a committee to report to the following legislature resulted in an emphatic demand in the next state platform of every political party for the immediate enactment of such a law. The present law was enacted in 1911 in compliance with this demand.

It was the result of more than two years of work of committees of two legislatures, with the fullest possible discussion, and with the best and most experienced aid obtainable. No better measure could have been prepared in advance of actual trial. The law has already demonstrated its effectiveness to equalize the burdens of taxation. For the first time in the history of the country it has proved a complete success as a revenue producer, yielding over $3,000,000 the first year, ninety per cent of which will go to support local government. It relieves real estate in part from taxation. It thereby encourages the home builder. It attracts new industries by deferring the tax until profits are actually earned. The wage earner and the farmer participate in its benefits, while it imposes no burden on their income for the support of the family.

We denounce as reactionary and as favoring special interests any suggestion to repeal this law upon the misrepresentations of those who have under former statutes succeeded in evading their just share of the public burden.

It is not an additional tax and was not intended to increase revenues, but is designated to replace the personal property tax, as soon as its efficiency as a revenue producing measure shall be fully demonstrated.

Exposures of the private affairs of individuals and corporations are zealously guarded against as they should be, limiting publicity to the assessment and tax rolls which are and always have been public records.

The law and its administration should be simplified to the end that the citizen may not be put to unnecessary trouble and expense. Other amendments may be necessary to perfect it and fully carry out its purpose of placing the tax burden equitably where it should be borne but the law is right in principle and should be given a fair trial.

Last year the people of the state of Wisconsin paid in general property taxes $32,610,975.44. Of this sum $31,459,835 or 96½ per cent was levied for local purposes to carry on county, city, town, village, and school district government. Only $1,151,140 or 3½ per cent of all such taxes were levied for state purposes, not one penny of which however, was spent for the maintenance of the state government. It all went to support the university and the normal schools. The state government derives its support from taxes on corporations and inheritances, and from fees and licenses. In ten years the annual tax derived from railway companies alone has increased over $2,000,000. During the calendar year 1911 over $1,000,000 were collected in inheritance taxes, largely from non-residents. Because of these new sources of revenue, taxes aggregating $940,000 were remitted this year, although in addition to the large appropriations of the last legislature for education, forest reserves, and good roads, a new state capitol is being built at an expense of $1,000,000 a year. Unlike many of its neighbors the state of Wisconsin pays as it goes and has no bonded debt. On the contrary, it now has a balance of over $2,000,000 in the general fund, all of it drawing interest.

This policy of economy, efficiency and sound financial management, we pledge ourselves to continue.

LABOR LEGISLATION.

The laws enacted two years ago dealing with labor conditions, such as the workmen's compensation law, the child labor law, the law regulating women's labor have been worked out in a satisfactory manner under the able administration of the industrial commission. These laws may need to be strengthened, and it may become safe to render them more elastic.

We advocate for immediate enactment effective legislation to establish minimum wage standards for women in the industries in which female labor predominates.

Occupational diseases should be investigated with a view to the ultimate establishment of an equitable system of compensation for such diseases.

THE HOME.

Firmly believing in the integrity of the home we deplore as a social danger the unnecessary separation of dependent children from destitute mothers, and we favor such legislation as shall ensure the preservation of family life and especially favor provisions by which mothers duly adjudged worthy by competent courts may receive aid from public funds now devoted to maintaining children in institutions where they are deprived of their mother's care when most they need it.

PRISON ADMINISTRATION.

To the end that the state prison may be made self supporting and that prisoners may be employed at labor which shall make it possible to secure profitable employment when they are released, we pledge the abolition of the system of prison contract labor, and the substitution therefor of a system of prison production for state and municipal consumption, the employment of convicts on highways and at such other employment in diversified industries as shall not injuriously conflict with the free labor, and finally the application of a part of the prisoners' earnings to the support of their families.

STOCK PROMOTION.

The enormous sale of worthless corporate stock in recent years has not alone been a heavy drain upon investors but a check to legitimate business enterprises in the discouragement and want of confidence it produces with regard to financial investments. The principle of the law enacted by the last legislature regulating the promotion of insurance companies now in full effect should be extended to cover every form of corporate organization and promotion for the protection of innocent investors against the purchase of fraudulent and worthless stock.

WATER POWER.

The development of our state as well as the protection of our citizens makes imperative the immediate passage of a water power bill which shall conserve our natural resources and compel their use and development for the welfare of all citizens under careful, scientific, administrative control. We therefore pledge ourselves to secure such an enlightened policy of conservation by statute, if possible, and by constitutional amendment if necessary. We pledge ourselves specifically to the regulation by competent authority of dam construction and the fixing of responsibility for loss of life and property due to the breaking of improperly constructed dams.

UNFAIR TRADE.

We pledge legislation which will prevent the practice of selling commodities at a lower rate or buying them at a higher rate in one section of the state than is charged or paid for the same commodities in another section for the purpose of destroying the business of a competitor.

HOME RULE FOR CITIES.

We pledge the passage of the amendment to the constitution passed by the last session of the legislature, granting to the cities of the state the right to home rule.

INITIATIVE, REFERENDUM, RECALL.

We pledge the passage of the initiative, referendum and recall constitutional amendments passed by the last session of the legislature.

THE LA FOLLETTE PLATFORM.

We endorse the platform presented by the La Follette republicans to the last national republican convention.

AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES.

We endorse the resolution introduced into the United States senate by Senator La Follette to provide for an easier way of amending the constitution of the United States.

APPEALS FROM STATE COURTS.

We endorse the bill now before congress providing for appeals from state courts to the supreme court of the United States where state courts have declared state laws unconstitutional upon the ground that they violate the federal constitution.

NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.

Adopted at Baltimore, Md., on July 2, 1912.

The following is the platform adopted by the Democratic National Convention: We, the representatives of the Democratic party of the United States, in National Convention assembled, reaffirm our devotion to the principles of Democratic government formulated by Thomas Jefferson and enforced by a long and illustrious line of Democratic Presidents.

We declare it to be a fundamental principle of the Democratic party that the Federal Government under the Constitution has no right or power to impose or collect tariff duties, except for the purpose of revenue, and we demand that the collection of such taxes shall be limited to the necessities of government honestly and economically administered.

The high Republican tariff is the principal cause of the unequal distribution of wealth; it is a system of taxation which makes the rich richer and the poor poorer; under its operations the American farmer and laboring man are the chief sufferers; it raises the cost of the necessities of life to them but does not protect their product or wages. The farmer sells largely in free markets and buys almost entirely in the protected markets. In the most highly protected industries, such as cotton and wool, steel and iron, the wages of the laborers are the lowest paid in any of our industries. We denounce the Republican pretense on that subject and assert that American wages are established by competitive conditions and not by the tariff.

We favor the immediate downward revision of the existing high and in many cases prohibitive tariff duties, insisting that material reductions be speedily made upon the necessaries of life. Articles entering into competition with trust-controlled products and articles of American manufacture which are sold abroad more cheaply than at home should be put upon the free list.

We recognize that our system of tariff taxation is intimately connected with the business of the country and we favor the ultimate attainment of the principles we advocate by legislation that will not injure or destroy legitimate industry.

We denounce the action of President Taft in vetoing the bills to reduce the tariff in the cotton, woollen, metals, and chemical schedules and the Farmers' Free List bill, all of which were designed to give immediate relief to the masses from the exactions of the trusts.

The Republican party, while promising tariff revision, has shown by its tariff legislation that such revision is not to be in the people's interest; and having been faithless to its pledges of 1908, it should no longer enjoy the confidence of the nation. We appeal to the American people to support us in our demand for a tariff for revenue only.

The high cost of living is a serious problem in every American home. The Republican party, in its platform, attempts to escape from responsibility for present conditions by denying that they are due to a protective tariff. We take issue with them on this subject and charge that excessive prices result in a large measure from the high tariff laws enacted and maintained by the Republican party and from trusts and commercial conspiracies fostered and encouraged by such laws, and we assert that no substantial relief can be secured for the people until import duties on the necessaries of life are materially reduced and these criminal conspiracies broken up.

A private monopoly is indefensible and intolerable. We therefore favor the vigorous enforcement of the criminal as well as the civil law against trusts and trust officials, and demand the enactment of such additional legislation as may be necessary to make it impossible for a private monopoly to exist in the United States.

We favor the declaration by law of the conditions upon which corporations shall be permitted to engage in interstate trade, including, among others, the prevention of holding companies, of interlocking directors, of stock watering, of discrimination in price, and the control by any one corporation of so large a proportion of any industry as to make it a menace to competitive conditions.

We condemn the action of the Republican Administration in compromising with the Standard Oil Company and the Tobacco Trust, and its failure to invoke the criminal provisions of the Anti-Trust law against the officers of those corporations after the court had declared that from the undisputed facts in the record they had violated the criminal provisions of the law.

We regret that the Sherman Anti-Trust law has received a judicial construction depriving it of much of its efficacy, and we favor the enactment of legislation which will restore to the statute the strength of which it has been deprived by such interpretation.

We believe in the preservation and maintenance in their full strength and integrity of the three coordinate branches of the Federal Government—the Executive, the Legislative and the Judicial—each keeping within its own bounds, and not encroaching upon the just powers of either of the others.

Believing that the most efficient results under our system of government are to be attained by the full exercise by the States of their reserved sovereign powers, we denounce as usurpation the efforts of our opponents to deprive the States of any of the rights reserved to them, and to enlarge and magnify by indirection the powers of the Federal Government.

We insist upon the full exercise of all the powers of the Government, both State and National, to protect the people from injustice at the hands of those who seek to make the Government a private asset in business. There is no twilight zone between the Nation and the State in which exploiting interests can take refuge from both. It is as necessary that the Federal Government shall exercise the powers reserved to them, but we insist that Federal remedies for the regulation of interstate commerce and for the prevention of private monopoly shall be added to and not substituted for state remedies.

We congratulate the country upon the triumph of two important reforms demanded in the last national platform, namely, the amendment of the Federal Constitution authorizing an income tax and the amendment providing for the popular election of senators, and we call upon the people of all the states to rally to the support of the pending proposition and secure their ratification.

We note with gratification the unanimous sentiment in favor of publicity, before the election, of campaign contributions, a measure demanded in our national platform of 1908, and at the time opposed by the Republican party, and we commend the Democratic House of Representatives for extending the doctrine of publicity to recommendations, verbal and written, upon which presidential appointments are made, to the ownership and control of newspapers and to the expenditures made by and in behalf of those who aspire to presidential nominations, and we point for additional justification for this legislation to the enormous expenditures of money in behalf of the president and his predecessor in the recent contest for the Republican nomination for president.

The movement toward more popular government should be promoted through legislation in each state which will permit the expression of the preference of the electors for national candidates at presidential primaries.

We direct that the national committee incorporate in the call for the next nominating convention a requirement that all expressions of preference for presidential candidates shall be given and the selection of delegates and alternates be made through a primary election conducted by the party organization in each state where such expression and election are not provided for by state law. Committeemen who are hereafter to constitute the membership of the Democratic National Committee and whose elections is not provided for by law shall be chosen in each state at such primary elections, and the service and authority of committeemen, however chosen, shall begin immediately upon the receipt of their credentials respectively.

We pledge the democratic party to the enactment of a law prohibiting any corporation from contributing to a campaign fund and any individual from contributing any amount above a reasonable maximum.

We favor a single presidential term, and to that end the adoption of an amendment to the constitution making the president of the United States ineligible for reelection, and we pledge the candidate of this convention to this principle.

At this time, when the republican party, after a generation of unlimited power in its control of the federal government, is rent into factions, it is opportune to point to the record of accomplishment of the democratic house of representatives in the sixty-second congress. We indorse its action and we challenge comparison of its record with that of any congress which has been controlled by our opponents.

We call the attention of the patriotic citizens of our country to its record of efficiency economy and constructive legislation.

It has, among other achievements, revised the rules of the house of representatives so as to give to the representatives of the American people freedom of speech and of action in advocating, proposing and perfecting remedial legislation.

It has passed bills for the relief of the people and the development of our country; it has endeavored to revise the tariff taxes downward in the interest of the consuming masses, and thus reduce the high cost of living.

It has proposed an amendment to the Federal Constitution, providing for the election of United States senators by the direct vote of the people.

It has secured the admission of Arizona and New Mexico as two sovereign states.

It has required the publicity of campaign expenses both before and after election and fixed a limit upon the election expenses of United States senators and representatives.

It has also passed a bill to prevent the abuse of the writ of injunction.

It has passed a law establishing an eight-hour day for workmen on all national public work.

It has passed a resolution which forced the president to take immediate steps to abrogate the Russian treaty.

And it has passed the great supply bills which lessen waste and extravagance and which reduce the annual expenses of the government by many millions of dollars.

We approve the measure reported by the democratic leaders in the house of representatives for the creation of a Council of National Defense which will determine a definite naval program with a view to increased efficiency and economy. The party that proclaimed and has always enforced the Monroe Doctrine and was sponsor for the new navy will continue faithfully to observe the constitutional requirements to provide and maintain an adequate and well proportioned navy sufficient to defend American policies, protect our citizens and uphold the honor and dignity of the nation.

We denounce the profligate waste of the money wrung from the people by oppressive taxation through the lavish appropriations of recent republican congresses, which have kept taxes high and reduced the purchasing power of the people's toil. We demand a return to that simplicity and economy which befits a democratic government and a reduction in the number of useless offices, the salaries of which drain the substance of the people.

We favor the efficient supervision and rate regulation of railroads, express companies, telegraph and telephone lines engaged in interstate commerce. To this end we recommend the valuation of railroads, express companies, telegraph and telephone lines by the Interstate Commerce Commission, such valuation to take into consideration the physical value of the property, the original cost, the cost of reproduction, and any element of value that will render the valuation fair and just.

We favor such legislation as will effectually prohibit the railroads, express, telegraph and telephone companies from engaging in business which brings them into competition with their shippers or patrons; also legislation preventing the overissue of stocks and bonds by interstate railroads, express companies, telegraph and telephone lines and legislation which will assure such reduction in transportation rates as conditions will permit, care being taken to avoid reduction that would compel a reduction of wages prevent adequate service, or do injustice to legitimate investments.

We oppose the so-called Aldrich bill or the establishment of a central bank, and we believe the people of the country will be largely freed from panics and consequent unemployment and business depression by such a systematic revision of our banking laws as will render temporary relief in localities where such relief is needed, with protection from control or dominion by what is known as the Money Trust.

Banks exist for the accommodation of the public and not for the control of business. All legislation on the subject of banking and currency should have for its purpose the securing of these accommodations on terms of absolute security to the public and of complete protection from the misuse of the power that wealth gives to those who possess it.

We condemn the present methods of depositing government funds in a few favored banks, largely situated in or controlled by Wall street, in return for political favors, and we pledge our party to provide by law for their deposit by competitive bidding in the banking institutions of the country, national and state, without discrimination as to locality, upon approved securities and subject to call by the government.

Of equal importance with the question of currency reform is the question of rural credits or agricultural finance. Therefore we recommend that an investigation of agricultural credit societies in foreign countries be made, so that it may be ascertained whether a system of rural credits may be devised suitable to conditions in the United States; and we also favor legislation permitting national banks to loan a reasonable proportion of their funds on real estate security.

We recognize the value of vocational education and urge federal appropriations for such training and extension teaching in agriculture in cooperation with the several states.

We renew the declaration in our last platform relating to the conservation of our natural resources and the development of our waterways. The present devastation of the lower Mississippi Valley accentuates the movement for the regulation of river flow by additional bank and levee protection below, and the diversion, storage and control of the flood waters above, and their utilization for beneficial purposes in the reclamation of arid and swamp lands and the development of water power, instead of permitting the floods to continue, as heretofore, agents of destruction.

We hold that the control of the Mississippi river is a national problem. The preservation of the depth of its water for the purpose of navigation, the building of levees to maintain the integrity of its channel and the prevention of the overflow of the land and its consequent devastation, resulting in the interruption of interstate commerce, the disorganization of the mail service and the enormous loss of life and property, impose an obligation which alone can be discharged by the general government.

To maintain an adequate depth of water the entire year and thereby encourage water transportation, is a consummation worthy of legislative attention and presents an issue national in its character. It calls for prompt action on the part of Congress, and the Democratic party pledges itself to the enactment of legislation leading to that end.

We favor the cooperation of the United States and the respective states in plans for the comprehensive treatment of all waterways with a view of coordinating plans for channel improvement with plans of drainage of swamp and overflowed lands, and to this end we favor the appropriation by the federal government of sufficient funds to make surveys of such lands, to develop plans for draining of the same and to supervise the work of construction.

We favor the adoption of a liberal and comprehensive plan for the development and improvement of our inland waterways with economy and efficiency, so as to permit their navigation by vessels of standard draught.

We favor national aid to state and local authorities in the construction and maintenance of post roads.

We repeat our declarations of the platform of 1908 as follows:

"The courts of justice are the bulwarks of our liberties and we yield to none in our purpose to maintain their dignity. Our party has given to the bench a long line of distinguished justices who have added to the respect and confidence in which this department must be jealously maintained. We resent the attempt of the Republican party to raise a false issue respecting the judiciary. It is an unjust reflection upon a great body of our citizens to assume that they lack respect for the courts.

"It is the function of the courts to interpret the laws which the people enact, and if the laws appear to work economic, social or political injustice, it is our duty to change them. The only basis upon which the integrity of our courts can stand is that of unswerving justice and protection of life, personal liberty and property. As judicial processes may be abused, we should guard them against abuse.

"Experience has proved the necessity of a modification of the present law relating to injunction, and reiterate the pledges of our platforms of 1896 and 1904 in favor of a measure which passed the United States senate in 1896, relating to contempt in federal courts and providing for trial by jury in cases of indirect contempt.

"Questions of judicial practice have arisen, especially in connection with industrial disputes. We believe that the parties to all judicial proceedings should be treated with rigid impartiality, and that injunctions should not be issued in any case in which an injunction would not issue if no industrial dispute were involved.

"The expanding organization of industry makes it essential that there should be no abridgment of the right of the wage-earners and producers to organize for the protection of wages and the improvement of labor conditions, to the end that such labor organizations and their members should not be regarded as illegal combinations in restraint of trade.

"We pledge the Democratic party to the enactment of a law creating a department of labor represented separately in the president's cabinet, in which department shall be included the subject of mines and mining."

We pledge the Democratic party, so far as the federal jurisdiction extends, to an employee's compensation law providing adequate indemnity for injury to body or loss of life.

We believe in the conservation and the development, for the use of all the people, of the natural resources of the country. Our forests, our sources of water supply, our arable and our mineral lands, our navigable streams and all the other material resources with which our country has been so lavishly endowed, constitute the foundation of our national wealth. Such additional legislation as may be necessary to prevent their being wasted or absorbed by special or privileged interests should be enacted and the policy of their conservation should be rigidly adhered to.

The public domain should be administered and disposed of with due regard to the general welfare. Reservations should be limited to the purposes which they purport to serve and not extended to include land wholly unsuited therefor. The unnecessary withdrawal from sale and settlement of enormous tracts of public land, upon which tree growth never existed and cannot be promoted, tends only to retard development, create discontent and bring reproach upon the policy of conservation.

The public land laws should be administered in a spirit of the broadest liberality towards the settler exhibiting a bona fide purpose to comply therewith, to the end that the invitation of this government to the landless should be as attractive as possible; and the plain provisions of the Forest Reserve act, permitting homestead entries to be made within the national forests, should not be nullified by administrative regulations which amount to a withdrawal of great areas of the same from settlement.

Immediate action should be taken by congress to make available the vast and valuable coal deposits of Alaska under conditions that will be a perfect guaranty against their falling into the hands of monopolizing corporations, associations, or interests.

We rejoice in the inheritance of mineral resources unequalled in extent, variety or value, and in the development of a mining industry unequalled in its magnitude and importance. We honor the men who, in their hazardous toil underground, daily risk their lives in extracting and preparing for our use the products of the mine, so essential to the industries, the commerce and the comfort of the people of this country. And we pledge ourselves to the extension of the work of the Bureau of Mines in every way appropriate for national legislation, with a view of safeguarding the lives of the miners, lessening the waste of essential resources and promoting the economic development of mining, which, along with agriculture, must in the future, even more than in the past, serve as the very foundation of our national prosperity and welfare and our international commerce.

We believe in encouraging the development of a modern system of agriculture and a systematic effort to improve the conditions of trade in farm products so as to benefit both the consumers and producers. And as an efficient means to this end we favor the enactment by congress of legislation that will suppress the pernicious practice of gambling in agricultural products by organized exchanges or others.

We believe in fostering, by constitutional regulation of commerce, the growth of a merchant marine which shall develop and strengthen the commercial ties which bind us to our sister republics of the south, but without imposing additional burdens upon the people and without bounties or subsidies from the public treasury.

We urge upon congress the speedy enactment of laws for the greater security of life and property at sea, and we favor the repeal of all laws, and the abrogation of so much of our treaties with other nations, as provide for the arrest and imprisonment of seamen charged with desertion, or with violation of their contract of service.

Such laws and treaties are un-American and violate the spirit, if not the letter of the Constitution of the United States.

We favor the exemption from tolls of American ships engaged in coast-wise trade passing through the Panama canal.

We also favor legislation forbidding the use of the Panama canal by ships owned or controlled by railroad carriers engaged in transportation competitive with the canal.

We reaffirm our previous declarations advocating the union and strengthening of the various governmental agencies relating to pure foods, quarantine, vital statistics and human health. Thus united and administered without partiality to or discrimination against any school of medicine or system of healing, they would constitute a single health service, not subordinated to any commercial or financial interests, but devoted exclusively to the conservation of human life and efficiency. Moreover, this health service should cooperate with the health agencies of our various states and cities, without interference with their prerogatives or with the freedom of individuals to employ such medical or hygienic aid as they may see fit.

The law pertaining to the civil service should be honestly and rigidly enforced, to the end that merit and ability should be the standard of appointment and promotion rather than service rendered to a political party; and we favor a reorganization of the civil service, with adequate compensation, commensurate with the class of work performed, for all officers and employes; we also favor the extension to all classes of civil service employes of the benefits of the provisions of the Employers' Liability law; we also recognize the right of direct petition to congress by employes for the redress of grievances.

We recognize the urgent need of reform in the administration of civil and criminal law in the United States, and we recommend the enactment of such legislation and the promotion of such measures as will rid the present legal system of the delays, expense and uncertainties incident to the system as now administered.

We reaffirm the position thrice announced by the Democracy in national convention assembled against a policy of imperialism and colonial exploitation in the Philippines, or elsewhere. We condemn the experiment in imperialism as an inexcusable blunder which has involved us in enormous expense, brought us weakness instead of strength and laid our nation open to the charge of abandonment of the fundamental doctrine of self-government. We favor an immediate declaration of the nation's purpose to recognize the independence of the Philippine Islands as soon as a stable government can be established, such independence to be guaranteed by us until the neutralization of the islands can be secured by treaty with other powers. In recognizing the independence of the Philippines, our government should retain such land as may be necessary for coaling stations and naval bases.

We welcome Arizona and New Mexico to the sisterhood of states and heartily congratulate them upon their auspicious beginning of great and glorious careers.

We demand for the people of Alaska the full enjoyment of the rights and privileges of a territorial form of government and we believe that the officials appointed to administer the government of all our territories and the District of Columbia should be qualified by previous bona fide residence.

We commend the patriotism of the Democratic members of the senate and house of representatives which compelled the termination of the Russian treaty of 1832, and we pledge ourselves anew to preserve the sacred rights of American citizenship at home and abroad. No treaty should receive the sanction of our government which does not recognize that equality of all of our citizens, irrespective of race or creed, and which does not expressly guarantee the fundamental right of expatriation.

The constitutional rights of American citizens should protect them on our borders and go with them throughout the world, and every American citizen residing or having property in any foreign country is entitled to and must be given the full protection of the United States government, both for himself and his property.

We favor the establishment of a parcel post or postal express and also the extension of the rural delivery system as rapidly as practicable.

We hereby express our deep interest in the great Panama Canal Exposition to be held in San Francisco in 1915, and favor such encouragement as can be properly given.

We commend to the several states the adoption of a law making it an offense for the proprietors of places of public amusement and entertainment to discriminate against the uniform of the United States, similar to the law passed by congress applicable to the District of Columbia and the Territories, in 1911.

We renew the declaraton of our last platform relating to a generous pension policy.

We call attention to the fact that the Democratic party demand for a return to the rule of the people, expressed in the national platform four years ago, has now become the accepted doctrine of a large majority of the electors. We again remind the country that only by a larger exercise of the reserved power of the people can they protect themselves from the misuse of delegated power and the usurpation of governmental instrumentalities by special interests. For this reason, the national convention insisted on the overthrow of Cannonism and the inauguration of a system by which United States senators could be elected by direct vote.

The Democratic party offers itself to the country as an agency through which the complete overthrow and extirpation of corruption, fraud and machine rule in American politics can be effected.

Our platform is one of principles which we believe to be essential to our national welfare. Our pledges are made to be kept when in office as well as relied upon during the campaign, and we invite the coöperation of all citizens, regardless of party, who believe in maintaining unimpaired the institutions and traditions of our country.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE OF WISCONSIN.

Chairman, Paul Hemmy, Juneau; Dist. 1, Andrew J. Stahl, Kenosha; A. J. Jenson, Edgerton; Dist. 2, H. G. Fischer, Jefferson; William Joachim, Ozaukee; Dist. 3, A. G. Rothe, Fennimore; A. G. Schmedeman, Madison; Dist. 4, Vincent G. Hennessy, Milwaukee; Peter Brzonkala, Milwaukee; Dist. 5, John Callahan, Milwaukee; George Herman, Milwaukee; Dist. 6, E. W. Clark, Fond du Lac; John McMullen, Calumet County; Dist. 7, John C. Rice, Sparta; John C. Burns, La Crosse; Dist. 8, Henry E. Fitch, Ne-koosa; Chas. McDonald, Wittenberg; Dist. 9, Joseph Martin, Green Bay; P. A. Badour, Oconto; Dist. 10, A. C. Smith, Durand; Carl Cunningham, Chippewa Falls; Dist. 11, Fred A. Russell, Superior; T. H. Ryan, Merrill.

WISCONSIN DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.

Adopted at Madison, Wisconsin, September 17, 1912.

(1) We hereby ratify and affirm the platform adopted by the Democratic National convention held at the city of Baltimore and pledge to the principles therein enunciated and to the candidates nominated at the convention, Hon. Woodrow Wilson for President and Hon. Thos. R. Marshall for Vice President, our hearty and unqualified support. We again affirm our confidence in that great Democratic leader, W. J. Bryan, and commend him for his ceaseless efforts in behalf of the party.

(2) We condemn the unnecessarily extravagant use of public funds by the Republican state administration, and point to the conclusive evidence of such extravagance in the fact that during the past ten years, the costs of our state government have increased from three million to thirteen million dollars annually, an annual increase during said period of ten million dollars, which increase is equal to the annual earnings of twenty thousand laboring men at $500 each per annum.

We denounce this reckless and unjustifiable expenditure of public moneys by the Republican state administration, and we oppose the Republican practice of creating unnecessary commissions and offices, for the purpose of supplying political positions and salaries for political henchmen, whose chief occupation is that of keeping the Republican party in power at the expense of the taxpayers.

We demand that the expenses of state government be radically diminished, by reducing the large army of unnecessary office holders and employes, and by limiting the expenses to the necessary and strictly public purposes of state government, administered according to business methods, instead of wasting the same for the benefits of administration favorites.

If entrusted with power, we will cause to be investigated and examined, the books and records of the state, for the purpose of ascertaining if the public funds have been lawfully expended and appropriated for the use of the state, and will cause to be instituted proper proceedings for the recovery of any and all moneys that may have been unlawfully expended and wasted.

We favor the presentation to the governor, before each biennial session of the legislature, of a budget showing in detail the expenses for the preceding year and the financial needs of the several institutions and departments of the state government, to the end that the legislature may be fully advised in relation to the proper appropriations therefor.

(3) We reaffirm the declaration made in the state platform of 1910 in favor of municipal home rule.

(4) We favor the passage of a general law which will encourage the development of the undeveloped water power in the state, and which will adequately and fully protect every public interest of the state in the navigable waters of the state and which will vest in the Railroad Commission, or other competent body, authority to regulate and control the development of such water power and to regulate and control water power now developed and that may hereafter be developed to the extent necessary fully to protect and promote every public interest and the general welfare.

(5) We pledge our support to the constitutional amendment passed by the last legislature providing for the adoption of the initiative, referendum, and recall.

(6) We declare in favor of the principle of the guarantee of bank deposits and we commend the efforts being made by the bankers of Wisconsin to establish a satisfactory and efficient plan for insurance of deposits.

(7) We favor a national income tax as proposed in the platform of the National Democratic party adopted at Baltimore.

We are opposed to the present state income tax law, foisted upon the people of the state by the Republican party at the last session of the legislature. It is admittedly defective, unjust, unfair and inquisitorial and discriminating against the interest of the entire people of this state. It works out to the interest of the tax dodger and not to the interest of the taxpayer. Its ratification by the people was refused by the party in power. We promise its immediate repeal.

We pledge ourselves to submit to the people of this state at the time of holding the spring elections in April, 1913, the question whether or not it is their desire that a state income tax law be enacted, thus giving the people an opportunity, after a full year's trial of the law, to express themselves upon this subject directly and disconnected with any other question. We pledge ourselves, if such question is decided affirmatively, to prepare and to vote for as fair and equitable state income tax law as possible before the adjournment of that same session of the legislature.

(8) We favor the repeal of the Mary Ann second choice election law.

(9) No special interests of any kind should find political refuge in the Democratic party. We particularly approve of the action of the Baltimore convention in excluding from the control of the party all those who undertake to use it for their private gain. We believe the party within the state of Wisconsin to be free from such control, and never more so than at the present time. We congratulate the Democratic voters on the fact that they have not nominated any candidate for state or legislative office whose record or whose backing is such as to encourage the use of the Democratic party for personal and selfish ends, or whose nomination and support by the Democratic party would detract from the high standing which the party has attained.

PROGRESSIVE PARTY.

PROGRESSIVE NATIONAL PLATFORM,

Adopted at Chicago, Ill., August 7, 1912.

The conscience of the people, in a time of grave national problems, has called into being a new party, born of the nation's awakened sense of justice.

We of the Progressive party here dedicate ourselves to the fulfillment of the duty laid upon us by our fathers to maintain that government of the people, by the people, and for the people whose foundations they laid.

We hold with Thomas Jefferson and Abraham Lincoln that the people are the masters of their constitution to fulfill its purposes and to safeguard it from those who, by perversion of its intent, would convert it into an instrument of injustice. In accordance with the needs of each generation the people must use their sovereign powers to establish and maintain equal opportunity and industrial justice, to secure which this government was founded and without which no republic can endure.

This country belongs to the people who inhabit it. Its resources, its business, its institutions, and its laws should be utilized, maintained, or altered in whatever manner will best promote the general interest. It is time to set the public welfare in the first place.

THE OLD PARTIES.

Political parties exist to secure responsible government and to execute the will of the people. From these great tasks both of the old parties have turned aside. Instead of instruments to promote the general welfare they have become the tools of corrupt interests which use them impartially to serve their selfish purposes.

Behind the ostensible government sits enthroned an invisible government, owing no allegiance and acknowledging no responsibility to the people. To destroy this invisible government, to dissolve the unholy alliance between corrupt business and corrupt politics, is the first task of the statesmanship of the day.

The deliberate betrayal of its trust by the Republican party and the fatal incapacity of the Democratic party to deal with the new issues of the new time have compelled the people to forge a new instrument of government through which to give effect to their will in laws and institutions. Unhampered by tradition, uncorrupted by power, undismayed by the magnitude of the task, the new party offers itself as the instrument of the people to sweep away old abuses, to build a new and nobler commonwealth.

This declaration is our covenant with the people, and we hereby bind the party and its candidates in state and nation to the pledges made herein.

THE RULE OF THE PEOPLE.

The National Progressive party, committed to the principle of government by a self-controlled democracy expressing its will through representatives of the people, pledges itself to secure such alterations in the fundamental law of the several states and of the United States as shall insure the representative character of the government.

In particular the party declares for direct primaries for the nomination of state and national officers, for nation wide preferential primaries for candidates for the presidency, for the direct election of United States senators by the people, and we urge on the states the policy of the short ballot with responsibility to the people secured by the initiative, referendum, and recall.

AMENDMENT OF CONSTITUTION.

The Progressive party, believing that a free people should have the power from time to time to amend their fundamental law so as to adapt it progressively to the changing needs of the people, pledges itself to provide a more easy and expeditious method of amending the federal constitution.

NATION AND STATE.

Up to the limit of the constitution and later by amendment of the constitution if found necessary we advocate bringing under effective national jurisdiction those problems which have expanded beyond reach of the individual states.

It is as grotesque as it is intolerable that the several states should by unequal laws in matters of common concern become competing commercial agencies, barter the lives of their children, the health of their women, and the safety and well being of their working people for the profit of their financial interests.

The extreme insistence on state's rights by the Democratic party in the Baltimore platform demonstrates anew its inability to understand the world into which it has survived or to administer the affairs of a union of states which have in all essential respects become one people.

EQUAL SUFFRAGE.

The Progressive party, believing that no people can justly claim to be a true democracy which denies political rights on account of sex, pledges itself to the task of securing equal suffrage to men and women alike.

CORRUPT PRACTICES.

We pledge our party to legislation that will compel strict limitation of all campaign contributions and expenditures, and detailed publicity of both before as well as after primaries and elections.

We pledge our party to legislation compelling the registration of lobbyists; publicity of committee hearings except on foreign affairs and recording of all votes in committee; and forbidding federal appointees from holding office in state or national political organizations or taking part as officers or delegates in political conventions for the nomination of elective state or national officials.

THE COURTS.

The Progressive party demands such restriction of the power of the courts as shall leave to the people the ultimate authority to determine fundamental questions of social welfare and public policy. To secure this end it pledges itself to provide:

(1) That when an act, passed under the police power of the state, is held unconstitutional under the state constitution by the courts the people, after an ample interval for deliberation, shall have an opportunity to vote on the question whether they desire the act to become law notwithstanding such decision.

(2) That every decision of the highest appellate court of a state declaring an act of the legislature unconstitutional on the ground of its violation of the federal constitution shall be subject to the same review by the Supreme court of the United States as is now accorded to decisions sustaining such legislation.

ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE.

The Progressive party, in order to secure to the people a better administration of justice and by that means to bring about a more general respect for the law and the courts, pledges itself to work unceasingly for the reform of legal procedure and judicial methods.

We believe that the issuance of injunctions in cases arising out of labor disputes should be prohibited when such injunctions would not apply when no labor disputes existed.

We also believe that a person cited for contempt in labor disputes, except when such contempt was committed in the actual presence of the court or so near thereto as to interfere with the proper administration of justice, should have a right to trial by jury.

SOCIAL AND INDUSTRIAL JUSTICE.

The supreme duty of the nation is the conservation of human resources through an enlarged measure of social and industrial justice. We pledge ourselves to work unceasingly in state and nation for:

Effective legislation looking to the prevention of industrial accidents, occupational diseases, overwork, involuntary unemployment, and other injurious effects incident to modern industry.

The fixing of minimum safety and health standards for the various occupations and the exercise of the public authority of state and nation, including the federal control over interstate commerce and the taxing power, to maintain such standards.

The prohibition of child labor.

Minimum wage standards for working women, to provide a "living wage" in all industrial occupations.

The general prohibition of night work for women and the establishment of an eight hour day for women and young persons.

The eight hour day in continuous twenty-four hour industries.

The abolition of the convict contract labor system, substituting a system of prison production for governmental consumption only, and the application of prisoners' earnings to the support of their dependent families.

Publicity as to wages, hours, and conditions of labor; full reports upon industrial accidents and diseases and the opening to public inspection of all tallies, weights, measures, and check systems on labor products.

Standards of compensation for death by industrial accident and injury and trade disease which will transfer the burden of lost earnings from the families of working people to the industry and thus to the community.

The protection of home life against the hazards of sickness, irregular employment and old age through the adoption of a system of social insurance adapted to American use.

The development of the creative labor power of America by lifting the last load of illiteracy from American youth and establishing continuation schools for industrial education under public control and encouraging agricultural education and demonstration in rural schools.

The establishment of industrial research laboratories to put the methods and discoveries of science at the service of American producers.

We favor the organization of the workers, men and women, as a means of protecting their interests and of promoting their progress.

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR.

We pledge the party to establish a department of labor with a seat in the cabinet and with wide jurisdiction over matters affecting the conditions of labor and living.

COUNTRY LIFE.

The development and prosperity of country life are as important to the people who live in the cities as they are to the farmers. Increase of prosperity on the farm will favorably affect the cost of living and promote the interests of all who dwell in the country and all who depend upon its products for clothing, shelter and food.

We pledge our party to foster the development of agricultural credit and co-operation, the teaching of agriculture in schools, agricultural college extension, the use of mechanical power on the farm, and to reestablish the country life commission, thus directly promoting the welfare of the farmers and bringing the benefits of better farming, better business, and better living within their reach.

HIGH COST OF LIVING.

The high cost of living is due partly to world wide and partly to local causes; partly to natural and partly to artificial causes. The measures proposed in this platform on various subjects, such as the tariff, the trusts, and conservation, will of themselves remove the artificial causes. There will remain other elements, such as the tendency to leave the country for the city, waste, extravagance, bad system of taxation, poor methods of raising crops, and bad business methods in marketing crops. To remedy these conditions requires the fullest information and, based on this information, effective government supervision and control to remove all the artificial causes. We pledge ourselves to such full and immediate inquiry and to immediate action to deal with every need such inquiry discloses.

HEALTH.

We favor the union of all the existing agencies of the federal government dealing with the public health into a single national health service without discrimination against or for any one set of therapeutic methods, school of medicine, or school of healing with such additional powers as may be necessary to enable it to perform efficiently such duties in the protection of the public from preventable disease as may be properly undertaken by the federal authorities, including the execution of existing laws regarding pure food, quarantine, and cognate subjects; the promotion of vital statistics and the extension of the registration area of such statistics, and coöperation with the health activities of the various states and cities of the nation.

BUSINESS.

We believe that true popular government, justice, and prosperity go hand in hand, and, so believing, it is our purpose to secure that large measure of general prosperity which is the fruit of legitimate and honest business, fostered by equal justice and by sound progressive laws.

We demand that the test of true prosperity shall be the benefits conferred thereby on all the citizens, not confined to individuals or classes, and that the test of corporate efficiency shall be the ability better to serve the public; that those who profit by the control of business affairs shall justify that profit and that control by sharing with the public the fruits thereof.

We therefore demand a strong national regulation of interstate corporations. The corporation is an essential part of modern business. The concentration of modern business in some degree is both inevitable and necessary for national and international business efficiency. But the existing concentration of vast wealth under a corporate system, unguarded and uncontrolled by the nation, has placed in the hands of a few men enormous, secret, irresponsible power over the daily life of the citizen—a power insufferable in a free government and certain of abuse.

This power has been abused in monopoly of national resources, in stock watering, in unfair competition and unfair privileges, and finally in sinister influences on the public agencies of state and nation. We do not fear commercial power, but we insist that it shall be exercised openly, under publicity, supervision, and regulation of the most efficient sort, which will preserve its good while eradicating and preventing its evils.

To that end we urge the establishment of a strong federal administrative commission of high standing, which shall maintain permanent active supervision over industrial corporations engaged in interstate commerce, or such of them as are of public importance, doing for them what the government now does for the national banks and what is now done for the railroads by the interstate commerce commission. Such a commission must enforce the complete publicity of those corporate transactions which are of public interest; must attack unfair competition, false capitalization, and special privilege, and by continuous trained watchfulness guard and keep open equally to all the highways of American commerce.

Thus the business man will have certain knowledge of the law and will be able to conduct his business easily in conformity therewith, the investor will find security for his capital, dividends will be rendered more certain, and the savings of the people will be drawn naturally and safely into the channels of trade.

Under such a system of constructive regulation legitimate business, freed from confusion, uncertainty, and fruitless litigation, will develop normally in response to the energy and enterprise of the American business man.

We favor strengthening the Sherman law by prohibiting agreements to divide territory or limit output, refusing to sell to customers who buy from business rivals, to sell below cost in certain areas while maintaining higher prices in other places, using the power of transportation to aid or injure special business concerns, and other unfair trade practices.

PATENTS.

We pledge ourselves to the enactment of a patent law which will make it impossible for patents to be suppressed or used against the public welfare in the interests of injurious monopolies.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION.

We pledge our party to secure to the interstate commerce commission the power to value the physical property of railroads. In order that the power of the commission to protect the people may not be impaired or destroyed, we demand the abolition of the commerce court.

CURRENCY.

We believe there exists imperative need for prompt legislation for the improvement of our national currency system. We believe the present method of issuing notes through private agencies is harmful and unscientific. The issue of currency is fundamentally a government function and the system should have as basic principles soundness and elasticity. The control should be lodged with the government and should be protected from domination or manipulation by Wall street or any special interests.

We are opposed to the so-called Aldrich currency bill because its provisions should place our currency and credit system in private banks, not subject to effective public control.

COMMERCIAL DEVELOPMENT.

The time has come when the federal government should cooperate with manufacturers and producers in extending our foreign commerce. To this end we demand adequate appropriations by congress and the appointment of diplomatic and consular officers solely with a view to their special fitness and worth and not in consideration of political expediency.

It is imperative to the welfare of our people that we enlarge and extend our foreign commerce. We are preëminently fitted to do this because as a people we have developed high skill in the art of manufacturing; our business men are strong executives, strong organizers. In every way possible our federal government should cooperate in this important matter. Anyone who has had opportunity to study and observe first-hand Germany's course in this respect must realize that their policy of cooperation between government and business has in comparatively few years made them a leading competitor for the commerce of the world. It should be remembered that they are doing this on a national scale and with large units of business, while the democrats would have us believe that we should do it with small units of business, which would be controlled not by the national government but by forty-nine conflicting sovereignties. Such a policy is utterly out of keeping with the progress of the times and gives our great commercial rivals in Europe—hungry for international markets—golden opportunities of which they are rapidly taking advantage.

CONSERVATION.

The natural resources of the nation must be promptly developed and generously used to supply the people's needs, but we cannot safely allow them to be wasted, exploited, monopolized, or controlled against the general good. We heartily favor the policy of conservation, and we pledge our party to protect the national forests without hindering their legitimate use for the benefit of all the people. Agricultural lands in the national forests are and should remain open to the genuine settler. Conservation will not retard legitimate development. The honest settler must receive his patent promptly without hindrance, rules or delays.

We believe that the remaining forests, coal and oil lands, water powers, and other natural resources still in state or national control (except agricultural lands) are more likely to be wisely conserved and utilized for the general welfare if held in the public hands. In order that consumers and producers, managers and workmen, now and hereafter, need not pay toll to private monopolies of power and raw material, we demand that such resources shall be retained by the state or nation and opened to immediate use under laws which will encourage development and make to the people a moderate return for benefits conferred.

In particular we pledge our party to require reasonable compensation to the public for water power rights hereafter granted by the public. We pledge legislation to lease to the public grazing lands under equitable provisions now pending which will increase the production of food for the people and thoroughly safeguard the rights of the actual homemaker. Natural resources whose conservation is necessary for the national welfare should be owned or controlled by the nation.

GOOD ROADS.

We recognize the vital importance of good roads, and we pledge our party to foster their extension in every proper way, and we favor the early construction of national highways. We also favor the extension of the rural free delivery service.

ALASKA.

The coal and other natural resources of Alaska should be opened to development at once. They are owned by the people of the United States, and are safe from monopoly, waste, or destruction only while so owned. We demand that they shall neither be sold nor given away except under the homestead law, but while held in government ownership shall be opened to use promptly upon liberal terms requiring immediate development.

Thus the benefit of cheap fuel will accrue to the government of the United States and to the people of Alaska and the Pacific coast; the settlement of extensive agricultural lands will be hastened; the extermination of the salmon will be prevented, and the just and wise development of Alaskan resources will take the place of private extortion or monopoly. We demand also that extortion or monopoly in transportation shall be prevented by the prompt acquisition, construction, or improvement by the government of such railroads, harbor, and other facilities for transportation as the welfare of the people may demand.

We promise the people of the territory of Alaska the same measure of local self-government that was given to other American territories, and that federal officials appointed there shall be qualified by previous bona fide residence in the territory.

WATERWAYS.

The rivers of the United States are the natural arteries of this continent. We demand that they shall be opened to traffic as indispensable parts of a great nation wide system of transportation, in which the Panama canal will be the central link, thus enabling the whole interior of the United States to share with the Atlantic and Pacific seaboard in the benefit derived from the canal. It is a national obligation to develop our rivers, and especially the Mississippi and its tributaries, without delay, under a comprehensive general plan governing each river system from its source to its mouth, designed to secure its highest usefulness for navigation, irrigation, domestic supply, water power, and the prevention of floods.

We pledge our party to the immediate preparation of such a plan which should be made and carried out in close and friendly cooperation between the nation, the states and the cities affected. Under such a plan, the destructive floods of the Mississippi and other streams which represent a vast and needless loss to the nation, would be controlled by forest conservation and water storage at the headquarters, and by levees below, land sufficient to support millions of people would be reclaimed from the deserts and the swamps, water power enough to transform the industrial standings of whole states would be developed, adequate water terminals would be provided, transportation by river would revive, and the railroads would be compelled to cooperate as freely with the boat lines as with each other.

The equipment, organization, and experience acquired in constructing the Panama canal soon will be available for the lakes to the gulf deep waterway and other portions of this great work, and should be utilized by the nation in cooperation with the various states, at the lowest net cost to the people.

PANAMA CANAL.

The Panama canal, built and paid for by the American people, must be used primarily for their benefit. We demand that the canal shall be so operated as to break the transportation monopoly now held and misused by the trans-continental railroads by maintaining sea competition with them; that ships directly or indirectly owned or controlled by American railroad corporations shall not be permitted to use the canal, and that American ships engaged in coastwise trade shall pay no tolls.

The Progressive party will favor legislation having for its aim the development of friendship and commerce between the United States and Latin American nations.

TARIFF.

We believe in a protective tariff which shall equalize conditions of competition between the United States and foreign countries, both for the farmer and the manufacturer, and which shall maintain for labor an adequate standard of living. Primarily the benefit of any tariff should be disclosed in the pay envelope of the laborer. We declare that no industry deserves protection which is unfair to labor or which is operating in violation of federal law. We believe that the presumption is always in favor of the consuming public.

We demand tariff revision because the present tariff is unjust to the people of the United States. Fair dealing toward the people requires an immediate downward revision of those schedules wherein duties are shown to be unjust or excessive.

We pledge ourselves to the establishment of a nonpartisan scientific tariff commission, reporting both to the president and to either branch of congress, which shall report, first, as to the costs of production, efficiency of labor, capitalization, industrial organization and efficiency, and the general competitive position in this country and abroad of industries seeking protection from congress; second, as to the revenue producing power of the tariff and its relation to the resources of government; and, thirdly, as to the effect of the tariff on prices, operations of middlemen, and on the purchasing power of the consumer. We believe that this commission should have plenary power to elicit information, and for this purpose to prescribe a uniform system of accounting for the great protected industries. The work of the commission should not prevent the immediate adoption of acts reducing those schedules generally recognized as excessive.

We condemn the Payne-Aldrich bill as unjust to the people. The Republican organization is in the hands of those who have broken, and cannot again be trusted to keep, the promise of necessary downward revision. The Democratic party is committed to the destruction of the protective system through a tariff for revenue only—a policy which would inevitably produce widespread industrial and commercial disaster. We demand the immediate repeal of the Canadian reciprocity act.

INHERITANCE AND INCOME TAX.

We believe in a graduated inheritance tax as a national means of equalizing the obligations of holders of property to government, and we hereby pledge our party to enact such a federal law as will tax large inheritances, returning to the states an equitable percentage of all amounts collected. We favor the ratification of the pending amendment to the constitution giving the government power to levy an income tax.

PEACE AND NATIONAL DEFENSE.

The Progressive party deplors the survival in our civilization of the barbaric system of warfare among nations, with its enormous waste of resources even in time of peace, and the consequent impoverishment of the life of the toiling masses. We pledge the party to use its best endeavors to substitute judicial and other peaceful means of settling international differences.

We favor an international agreement for the limitation of naval forces. Pending such an agreement, and as the best means of preserving peace, we pledge ourselves to maintain for the present the policy of building two battleships a year.

We pledge our party to protect the rights of American citizenship at home and abroad. No treaty should receive the sanction of our government which discriminates between American citizens because of birthplace, race or religion, or that does not recognize the absolute right of expatriation.

THE IMMIGRANT.

Through the establishment of industrial standards we propose to secure to the able-bodied immigrant and to his native fellow workers a larger share of American opportunity.

We denounce the fatal policy of indifference and neglect which has left our enormous immigrant population to become the prey of chance and cupidity. We favor governmental action to encourage the distribution of immigrants away from the congested cities, rigidly to supervise all private agencies dealing with them, and to promote their assimilation, education, and advancement.

PENSIONS.

We pledge ourselves to a wise and just policy of pensioning American soldiers and sailors and their widows and children by the federal government.

And we approve the policy of the southern states in granting pensions to the ex-confederate soldiers and sailors and their widows and children.

PARCEL POST.

We pledge our party to the immediate creation of a parcel post, with rates proportionate to distance and service.

CIVIL SERVICE.

We condemn the violations of the civil service law under the present administration, including the coercion and assessment of subordinate employes and the president's refusal to punish such violation after a finding of guilty by his own commission; his distribution of patronage among subservient congressmen, while withholding it from those who refuse support of administration measures; his withdrawal of nominations from the senate until political support for himself was secured, and his open use of the offices to reward those who voted for his renomination.

To eradicate these abuses, we demand not only the enforcement of the civil service act in letter and spirit, but also legislation which will bring under the competitive system postmasters, collectors, marshals, and all other nonpolitical officers, as well as the enactment, of an equitable retirement law, and we also insist upon continuous service during good behavior and efficiency.

We pledge our party to readjustment of the business methods of the national government and a proper coördination of the federal bureaus, which will increase the economy and efficiency of the government service, prevent duplications, and secure better results to the taxpayers for every dollar expended.

U. S. SUPERVISION OVER INVESTMENTS.

The people of the United States are swindled out of many millions of dollars every year, through worthless investments. The plain people, the wage earner and the men and women with small savings, have no way of knowing the merit of concerns sending out highly colored prospectuses offering stock for sale, prospectuses that make big returns seem certain and fortunes easily within grasp.

We hold it to be the duty of the government to protect its people from this kind of piracy. We, therefore, demand wise, carefully thought out legislation that will give us such governmental supervision over this matter as will furnish to the people of the United States this much needed protection, and we pledge ourselves thereto.

CONCLUSION.

On these principles and on the recognized desirability of uniting the progressive forces of the nation into an organization which shall unequivocally represent the progressive spirit and policy, we appeal for the support of all American citizens, without regard to previous political affiliations.

PROHIBITION PARTY.

National Executive Committee.—Virgil G. Hinshaw, No. 106 N. La Salle St., Chicago, Ill., chairman; J. B. Lewis, Boston, Mass., vice-chairman; Mrs. Frances E. Beauchamp, Lexington, Ky., secretary; H. P. Faris, Clinton, Mo., treasurer; Finley C. Hendrickson, Cumberland, Md.; W. G. Calderwood, Minneapolis, Minn.; Robert H. Patton, Springfield, Ill.; F. W. Emerson, San Francisco, Cal.; Frank J. Sibley, Tucson, Ariz.

PLATFORM OF THE PROHIBITION PARTY.

Adopted at Atlantic City, N. J., on July 11, 1912.

The Prohibition party, in National Convention at Atlantic City, N. J., July 10, 11 and 12, 1912, recognizing God as the source of all governmental authority, makes the following declarations of principles and policies:

1. The alcoholic drink traffic is wrong, is the most serious drain on the wealth and resources of the nation, is detrimental to the general welfare and destructive of the inalienable rights of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. All laws taxing or licensing a traffic which produces crime, poverty and political corruption and spreads disease and death should be repealed. To destroy such a traffic there must be elected to power a political party which will administer the government from the standpoint that the alcoholic drink traffic is a crime and not a business, and we pledge that the manufacture, importation, exportation, transportation and sale of alcoholic beverages shall be prohibited. We favor:

2. The election of United States senators by direct vote of the people.
3. A uniform marriage and divorce law, the extermination of polygamy and the complete suppression of the traffic in girls.
4. Absolute protection of the rights of labor, without impairment of the rights of capital.
5. The settlement of all international disputes by arbitration.

6. The abolition of child labor in mines, workshops and factories, with the rigid enforcement of the laws, now flagrantly violated.
7. Suffrage for women on the same terms as for men.
8. A presidential term of six years, and one term only.
9. Court review of post office and other department decisions and orders, that extension of the postal savings bank system and of rural delivery, and the establishment of an efficient parcel post.
10. The initiative, referendum and recall.
11. As the tariff is a commercial question, it should be fixed on scientific basis of accurate knowledge, secured by means of a permanent, omnipartisan tariff commission, with ample powers.
12. Equitable graduated income and inheritance taxes.
13. Conservation of our forest and mineral reserves and the reclamation of waste lands. All mineral and timber lands and water powers now owned by the government should be held perpetually and leased for revenue purposes.
14. Clearly defined laws for the regulation and control of corporations transacting an interstate business.
15. Efficiency and economy in governmental administration.
16. Protection of one day in seven as a day of rest.

To these fundamental principles the national Prohibitionist party renews its long allegiance, and on these issues invites the coöperation of all good citizens, to the end that the true object of government may be attained—namely, equal and exact justice for all.

PROHIBITION STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE OF WISCONSIN.

State Chairman, J. B. Smith, Madison; 1st district, H. H. Tubbs, Elkhorn; F. R. Derrick, Brodhead; 2nd district, Will E. Mack, Ft. Atkinson; G. A. Paddock, Beaver Dam; 3rd district, H. S. Siggelko, Madison; Samuel Iseley, Monroe; 4th district, J. E. Clayton, Milwaukee; C. M. Mott, Milwaukee; 5th district, L. A. Willice, Milwaukee; G. M. Pelton, Milwaukee; 6th district, B. E. Van Keuren, Oshkosh; F. A. Collins, Fond du Lac; 7th district, Martin Larson, Sparta; Oliver Needham, Midway; 8th district, A. R. Bucknam, Norrie; T. W. North, Stevens Point; 9th district, Alex. McEathron, De Pere; J. L. Sizer, Sturgeon Bay; 10th district, John Waldal, Chetek; Beverly White, Maiden Rock; 11th district, John Page, Washburn; Edwin Kerswill, Park Falls.

WISCONSIN STATE PROHIBITION PARTY PLATFORM.

Adopted at Madison, Wis., Sept. 17, 1912.

The Prohibition party of Wisconsin, in convention assembled at Madison, this 11th and 12th days of June, 1912, expressing gratitude to God for guidance in the past, and seeking His direction in the more strenuous campaigns before us, makes the following declaration of principles:

1. In accordance with the broad platform utterances of the party in the past, we declare for,
 - a. The election of president, vice president and United States senators by direct vote of the people.
 - b. The initiative and referendum in legislation and the recall for all public officials.
 - c. Court review of post office decisions and orders.
 - d. Suffrage to women upon the same terms as to men.

e. A primary election law that will enable the people to nominate by direct action at the ballot box, without petitions or other obstructions.

f. The establishment of postal banks upon such a basis as to furnish the people a sound banking system sufficient for all business purposes.

g. A parcel post adequate for all express purposes, and government ownership of the telegraph.

h. Such an administration of laws and government as will effectually suppress the social evil, and abolish the infamous traffic in women.

2. Concerning the beverage liquor traffic, we declare:

a. That it is the greatest of all moral, social and political evils, and its destruction the greatest reform ever undertaken.

b. That the traffic is a crime and not a business, and is illegal at common law. All laws taxing, licensing or sanctioning it are unconstitutional and must be held void or repealed.

c. To destroy such traffic, a political party must be elected to power that will interpret the laws and constitutions and administer the government, in accord with the above unanswerable propositions.

d. Every effort by "progressive" legislation to lessen poverty to secure successful and pure municipal state and national government, or to control predatory wealth that is to-day, next to the liquor traffic, our greatest menace, must prove a failure until that traffic is destroyed.

e. Adopting the above as the fundamental principles and the high policy of our party, we pledge ourselves hereafter to devote our united efforts only to the building of such party, the establishment of such policy, and the destruction of such traffic.

Without fusion or surrender of its great principles, and standing against the license, optional and "half way" measures of nonpartisan theorists and compromisers, and against the gigantic liquor traffic, government partnership, subsidized press, selfish business and social customs, the party has cried aloud and contended for forty years. As never before, we call upon all good citizens and patriots to rally to the standard of such party, and make 1912 the "Fremont campaign" in the war on the legalized liquor traffic.

PLATFORM OF THE SOCIALIST PARTY.

Adopted at Indianapolis, Ind., May 10, 1912.

The representatives of the Socialist party, in national convention at Indianapolis, declare that the capitalist system has outgrown its historical function, and has become utterly incapable of meeting the problems now confronting society. We denounce this outgrown system as incompetent and corrupt and the source of unspeakable misery and suffering to the whole working class.

Under this system the industrial equipment of the nation has passed into the absolute control of plutocracy, which exacts an annual tribute of hundreds of millions of dollars from the producers. Unafraid of any organized resistance, it stretches out its greedy hands over the still undeveloped resources of the nation—the land, the mines, the forests and the water powers of every state in the Union.

In spite of the multiplication of labor saving machines and improved methods in industry, which cheapen the cost of production, the share of the producers grows ever less, and the prices of all the necessities of life steadily increase. The boasted prosperity of this nation is for the owning class alone. To the rest it means only greater hardship and misery. The high cost of living is felt in every home. Millions of wage workers have seen the purchasing power of their wages decrease until life has become a desperate battle for mere existence.

Multitudes of unemployed walk the streets of our cities or trudge from state to state awaiting the will of the masters to move the wheels of industry.

The farmers in every state are plundered by the increasing prices exacted for tools and machinery and by extortionate rent, freight rates and storage charges.

Capitalist concentration is mercilessly crushing the class of small business men and driving its members into the ranks of property-less wageworkers. The overwhelming majority of the people of America are being forced under a yoke of bondage by this soulless industrial despotism.

It is this capitalist system that is responsible for the increasing burden of armaments, the poverty, slums, child labor, most of the insanity, crime and prostitution, and much of the disease that afflicts mankind.

Under this system the working class is exposed to poisonous conditions, to frightful and needless perils to life and limb; is walled around with court decisions, injunctions and unjust laws, and is preyed upon incessantly for the benefit of the controlling oligarchy of wealth. Under it also, the children of the working class are doomed to ignorance, drudging toil and darkened lives.

GROWTH OF PLUTOCRACY.

In the face of these evils, so manifest that all thoughtful observers are appalled at them, the legislative representatives of the Republican and Democratic parties remain the faithful servants of the oppressors. Measures designed to secure to the wage earners of this nation as humane and just treatment as is already enjoyed by the wage earners of all other civilized nations have been smothered in committee without debate and laws ostensibly designed to bring relief to the farmers and general consumers are juggled and transformed into instruments for the exaction of further tribute. The growing unrest under oppression has driven these two old parties to the enactment of a variety of regulative measures, none of which has limited in any appreciable degree the power of the plutocracy, and some of which have been perverted into means for increasing that power. Anti-trust laws, railroad restrictions and regulations, with the prosecutions, indictments and investigations based upon such legislation, have proved to be utterly futile and ridiculous.

Nor has this plutocracy been seriously restrained or even threatened by any Republican or Democratic executive. It has continued to grow in power and insolence alike under the administrations of Cleveland, McKinley, Roosevelt and Taft.

In addition to this legislative juggling and this executive connivance, the courts of America have sanctioned and strengthened the hold of this plutocracy as the Dred Scott and other decisions strengthened the slave power before the civil war. They have been used as instruments for the oppression of the working class and for the suppression of free speech and free assembly.

ONLY RELIEF SOCIALISM.

We declare, therefore, that the longer sufferance of these conditions is impossible, and we purpose to end them all. We declare them to be the product of the present system in which industry is carried on for private greed instead of for the welfare of society. We declare, furthermore, that for these evils there will be and can be no remedy and no substantial relief except through Socialism, under which industry will be carried on for the common good and every worker receive the full social value of the wealth he creates.

Society is divided into warring groups and classes, based upon material interests. Fundamentally this struggle is a conflict between the two main classes, one of which—the capitalist class—owns the means of production, and the other—the working class—must use these means of production on terms dictated by the owners.

The capitalist class, though few in numbers, absolutely controls the government—legislative, executive and judicial. This class owns the machinery of gathering and disseminating news through its organized press. It subsidizes seats of learning—the colleges and schools—and even religious and moral agencies. It has also the added prestige which established customs give to any order of society, right or wrong.

The working class, which includes all those who are forced to work for a living, whether by hand or brain, in shop, mine or on the soil, vastly outnumber the capitalist class. Lacking effective organization and class solidarity, this class is unable to enforce its will. Given such class solidarity and effective organization, the workers will have the power to make all laws and control all industry in their own interest.

All political parties are the expression of economic class interests. All other parties than the Socialist party represent one or another group of the ruling capitalist class. Their political conflicts reflect merely superficial rivalries between competing capitalist groups. However they result, these conflicts have no issue of real value to the workers. Whether the Democrats or Republicans win politically, it is the capitalist class that is victorious economically.

REPRESENTATIVE OF WORKERS' INTERESTS.

The Socialist party is the political expression of the economic interests of the workers. Its defeats have been their defeats and its victories their victories. It is a party founded on the science and laws of social development. It proposes that, since all social necessities are to-day socially produced, the means of their production and distribution shall be socially owned and democratically controlled.

In the face of the economic and political aggressions of the capitalist class the only reliance left the workers is that of their economic organizations and their political power. By the intelligent and class-conscious use of these, they may resist successfully the capitalist class, break the fetters of wage slavery, and fit themselves for the future society which is to displace the capitalist system. The Socialist party appreciates the full significance of class organization and urges the wage earners, the working farmers and all other useful workers everywhere to organize for economic and political action, and we pledge ourselves to support the toilers of the fields as well as those in the shops, factories and mines of the nation in their struggles for economic justice.

In the defeat or victory of the working class party in this new struggle for freedom lies the defeat or triumph of the common people of all economic groups, as well as the failure or the triumph of popular government. Thus the Socialist party is the party of the present day revolution, which marks the transition from economic individualism to Socialism, from wage slavery to free coöperation, from capitalist oligarchy to industrial democracy.

THE SOCIALIST WORKING PROGRAM.

As measures calculated to strengthen the working class in its fight for the realization of its ultimate aim, the coöperative commonwealth, and to increase its power of resistance against capitalist oppression we advocate and pledge ourselves and our elected officers to the following program:

COLLECTIVE OWNERSHIP.

1. The collective ownership and democratic management of railroads, wire and wireless telegraphs and telephones, express services, steamboat lines and all other social means of transportation and communication and of all large-scale industries. 2. The immediate acquirement by the municipalities, the states or the federal government of all grain elevators, stockyards, storage warehouses and other distributing agencies, in order to reduce the present extortionate cost of living. 3. The extension of the public domain to include mines, quarries, oil wells, forests and water power. 4. The further conservation and development of natural resources for the use and benefit of all the people: (a) By scientific forestation and timber protection; (b) by the reclamation of arid and swamp tracts; (c) by the storage of flood waters and the utilization of water power; (d) by the stoppage of the present extravagant waste of the soil and of the products of mines and oil wells; (e) by the development of highway and waterway systems. 5. The collective ownership of land wherever practicable, and, in cases where such ownership is impracticable, the appropriation by taxation of the annual rental value of all land held for speculation or exploitation. 6. The collective ownership and democratic management of the banking and currency system.

UNEMPLOYMENT.

The immediate government relief of the unemployed by the extension of all useful public works. All persons employed on such works to be engaged directly by the government under a workday of not more than eight hours and at not less than the prevailing union wages. The government also to establish employment bureaus; to lend money to states and municipalities without interest for the purpose of carrying on public works, and to take such other measures within its power as will lessen the widespread misery of the workers caused by the misrule of the capitalist class.

INDUSTRIAL DEMANDS.

The conservation of human resources, particularly of the lives and well-being of the workers and their families: 1. By shortening the workday in keeping with the increased productiveness of machinery. 2. By securing to every worker a rest period of not less than a day and a half in each week. 3. By securing a more effective inspection of workshops, factories and mines. 4. By forbidding the employment of children under sixteen years of age. 5. By the coöperative organization of the industries in the federal penitentiaries for the benefit of the convicts and their dependents. 6. By forbidding the interstate transportation of the products of child labor, of convict labor and of all un-inspected factories and mines. 7. By abolishing the profit system in government work, and substituting either the direct hire of labor or the awarding of contracts to coöperative groups of workers. 8. By establishing minimum wage scales. 9. By abolishing official charity and substituting a non-contributory system of old-age pensions, a general system of insurance by the state of all its members against unemployment and invalidism and a system of compulsory insurance by employers of their workers, without cost to the latter, against industrial diseases, accidents and death.

POLITICAL DEMANDS.

1. The absolute freedom of press, speech and assemblage. 2. The adoption of a graduated income tax, the increase of the rates of the present corporation tax and the extension of inheritance taxes, graduated in proportion to the value of the estate and to nearness of kin—the proceeds of these taxes to be employed in the socialization of industry. 3. The abolition of the monopoly ownership of patents and the substitution of collective ownership, with direct rewards to inventors by premiums or royalties. 4. Unrestricted and equal suffrage for men and women. 5. The adoption of the initiative, referendum and recall and of proportional representation, nationally as well as locally. 6. The abolition of the senate and of the veto power of the president. 7. The election of the president and the vice president by direct vote of the people. 8. The abolition of the power usurped by the supreme court of the United States to pass upon the constitutionality of the legislation enacted by congress. National laws to be repealed only by act of congress or by referendum vote of the whole people. 9. The abolition of the present restrictions upon the amendment of the constitution, so that that instrument may be made amendable by a majority of the voters in the country. 10. The granting of the right of suffrage in the District of Columbia, with representation in congress and a democratic form of municipal government for purely local affairs. 11. The extension of democratic government to all United States territory. 12. The enactment of further measures for general education and particularly for vocational education in useful pursuits. The bureau of education to be made a department. 13. The enactment of further measures for the conservation of health. The creation of an independent bureau of health, with such restrictions as will secure full liberty to all schools of practice. 14. The separation of the present bureau of labor from the Department of Commerce and Labor and its elevation to the rank of a department. 15. Abolition of all federal district courts and the United States Circuit Court of Appeals. State courts to have jurisdiction in all cases arising between citizens of the several states and foreign corporations. The election of all judges for short terms. 16. The immediate curbing of the power of the courts to issue injunctions. 17. The free administration of the law. 18. The calling of a convention for the revision of the Constitution of the United States. Such measures of relief as we may be able to force from capitalism are but a preparation of the workers to seize the whole powers of government, in order that they may thereby lay hold of the whole system of socialized industry and thus come to their rightful inheritance.

SOCIAL-DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM

September 17, 1912.

The Social-Democratic party is the American political expression of the international movement of the modern working class for better food, better houses, sufficient sleep, more leisure, more education and more culture.

Under the present system society is rapidly dividing into two classes—the rich and the poor, the capitalist class and the proletariat. The one toils without enjoying, the other enjoys without toiling.

The wage earners of the cities and the farmers are the principal producers of this country. Under our present economic system both are exploited for the benefit of the capitalist class, the laborer on the sale of his labor power and the farmer on the sale of his products. Both are exploited in the purchase of practically all the necessities of life.

The final aim of the Social-Democratic party is the emancipation of the producers and the abolition of the capitalist system. For that purpose we organize the producing classes in city and country into a political party to take control of the powers of government.

The most characteristic expression of the present economic system is the trust and the monopoly.

Electricity, steam and modern invention have struck a death blow at production on a small scale. Competition has wiped out competition. Manufacture on a large scale makes monopoly an inevitable condition. The trust and the monopoly are here whether we wish it or not. The only question is, shall they be public or private monopolies?

MONOPOLIES—WHAT KIND?

Private monopoly is a curse to the nation. It has forced the cost of living to a point where it has become unbearable. Thus we see the coal trust making untold millions out of the suffering of the poor; the oil trust piling up the greatest fortune the world has ever seen upon the ruin of innumerable small dealers, and in defiance of all law and courts of justice; the meat trust sending thousands of unsuspecting human beings to an early grave by selling diseased meat, simply to make dividends and heap up millions. Similar statements proven against all the other trusts.

MASTERS OF OUR BREAD.

The trusts have proven that nowadays a small group of capitalists have it in their power to decide how much meat and how much bread we shall eat; how much we shall spend for coal and how much we shall spend for oil; how nicely or how poorly we shall be clothed and housed; what kind of furniture we are permitted to use; and in what kind of a coffin we are to be buried. They can do this by fixing the price of everything. In short, the trusts decide how well or how ill, how long or how short a time we shall live.

The proposition of the old parties to solve the trust question by regulation is hypocritical in the extreme. It has been a miserable failure in every country where tried, and has been abandoned for government ownership. The trusts dominate congress, the legislatures, the courts and the executive officers to a degree that makes so-called governmental control a farce. The only solution is collective ownership and democratic control.

The inability of the present economic system to keep all willing workers employed at all times is its greatest curse. This fact condemns it as unfit to meet the demands of a modern civilization. The fear of a recurring industrial crisis hangs like a cloud over the industrial world. It is constantly threatening the business interests of the nation as well as the workers with destruction. Thus we witness the cruel and grotesque spectacle of millions of men, women and children suffering for the necessaries of life—in a country with boundless resources.

Therefore, the Social-Democratic party demands that the production of this country shall be taken away from the control of a small number of irresponsible men, whose only aim is to exploit us to the last limit of our endurance, without regard to human life or welfare.

SHAM OF THE OLD PARTIES.

We denounce the hypocrisy of the old political parties, who still pretend that they differ in principle. They have begun to wipe out all legal distinctions between themselves in city governments, have practically united in many counties and legislative districts, and will soon unite in state and national campaigns against the Social-Democratic party. They have degenerated, even in their public conventions, into a mad scramble for public office and plutocratic favors. They have no claim upon the confidence of the workers, whom they both have shamefully betrayed, here and everywhere.

With these things in view, the Social-Democratic party of the state of Wisconsin reaffirms its allegiance to the principles of international Socialism, and its adherence to the declared principles and platform of the Socialist Party of America, demands suffrage for all citizens without respect to race or sex, and proposes at this time the following program for political action:

That the governor, the state legislature and the representatives of Wisconsin in congress shall take such action as may be best calculated to bring about.

A. THE NATIONAL PROGRAM.

1. That the national and state constitutions shall be made amendable by direct majority vote of the people, without preliminary action by the legislatures.
2. The immediate national ownership of railroad, steamboat, telegraph and telephone systems and express companies; and of the trusts, especially of those trusts which deal in the common necessities of life.
3. The provision for an old age pension.
4. The provision for the unemployed.
5. The abolition of the United States and state senates, substituting therefore the initiative and referendum.
6. The election by the people of all federal judges for stated terms.
7. The prevention of all importation of coolie labor.
8. The establishment of a national insurance bureau for life, fire, sick benefit and unemployment insurance.
9. That all public officials, judges included, be made subject to the imperative mandate and the recall.
10. That the control of the currency be placed in the hands of the people directly, and not delivered over to the Rothschild, Morgan or Rockefeller interests.

STATE MUNICIPAL PROGRAM.

B. HOME RULE.

1. We demand the enactment of a constitutional amendment providing for the largest possible measure of municipal home rule, and the immediate enactment of laws giving the cities power to do all things necessary for the transaction of their municipal business. We condemn the hypocrisy of the so-called progressives, in pretending to grant to cities the power to legislate changes in their own charters, while refusing to give them the power to do things proper for them to do as municipalities, such as to establish public slaughterhouses, stockyards, cold storage plants, elevators, coal and wood yards and ice houses, and to manufacture commodities and sell them to the people at cost.

REGULATION A FAILURE.

2. We denounce the present policy of the regulation of public utilities, especially as applied to cities. It destroys municipal home rule. It guarantees profits on investments to the capitalist class, while preventing the people from owning the utilities which they must use.

We demand the repeal of the regulation policy of Wisconsin, and in its place urge laws which shall promote municipal ownership.

3. Cities and villages shall be brought within the state banking law, to enable them to place their bonds on deposit with the state treasurer as collateral security, against which the city or village treasury may receive savings deposits, as is now customary with savings banks. This obviates the necessity of issuing municipal bonds of small denominations.

4. We demand a new system of taxation for the state, which shall include among other things:

(a) Taxation of agricultural land held by absentee landlords at full rental value.

(b) Assessment on rental value of land throughout the state, rather than on improvements.

(c) Increased inheritance tax on large inheritances.

(d) An income tax based on unearned incomes only, graduated so as to increase the return to the state from the large incomes. We condemn the present form of the income tax law, because it was intended to place a heavier burden directly upon the workers. The representatives of the Social-Democratic party did not propose to be held responsible for the defeat of income tax legislation in the last legislature; but they are not responsible for all the provisions of the present law.

(e) More home rule in taxation.

In general we demand the shifting of taxes of all kinds onto the wealth produced by social and industrial conditions, rather than onto the product of individual labor of any kind.

5. We demand a constitutional provision for the popular initiative and referendum, permitting the people to propose laws as well as to pass judgment upon the acts of the legislature. We condemn as dishonest the constitutional amendment proposed by the old parties, which purports to be the initiative and referendum, but which does not provide for any initiative by the people directly.

RECALL OF JUDGES.

6. We condemn the attempt of the old parties to exempt the judiciary from the recall, and regard as ridiculous the assumed sanctity and superior wisdom of persons who may happen to hold the office of judge.

7. We demand: (a) That no more franchises be granted for the development of water powers by private enterprises, and the immediate repeal of all water power franchises subject to repeal, and that they be placed under the full control of the state.

(b) The ownership and development of all natural resources, including water powers, head water reservoirs and ore deposits, by the state directly, to the end that the energy and products thereof may bring the largest possible returns to the people as a whole.

(c) That all mineral rights reserved in title deeds be acquired by the state, exercising the right of eminent domain.

STATE TO KEEP ITS LAND.

(d) That no land belonging to the state shall be sold; and that all land sold for taxes shall be bought by the state.

(e) The extension of the forest reserve; the erection and operation of state mills for handling the timber product, to the end that the cost of lumber to actual settlers and home owners may be reduced to the cost of production.

8. We demand a reconstruction of the educational system of the state, so that there may be education for all which shall combine culture with social efficiency. We denounce conditions under which one-half the children never pass beyond the fifth grade. As a first step we demand that the state shall provide for free textbooks and school utensils for all pupils in the public schools, and that the state shall edit and publish the textbooks.

9. We demand adequate pay for members of the legislature.

10. We hold that intemperance in the use of liquor is the result of the present enervating economic conditions. With the growth of a people strong in physique, intellect and popular morals, intemperance will gradually disappear and temperate habits in all things prevail. We condemn the attempts at sumptuary laws as inimical to the cause of economic and personal liberty. Until the profit system has been abolished and a more harmonious economic order has been established, the attempts of well-meaning people to introduce temperate habits by law will prove only an evasion of the real issue.

STATE INSURANCE.

11. We demand that pending the establishment of a national system of insurance, the state shall establish and conduct a state insurance department for life, fire, accident and tornado insurance.

12. We support the proposition to be submitted to the voters of Wisconsin in 1912, giving equal suffrage regardless of sex.

13. We recognize that capitalism is the cause of white slavery and prostitution. The only complete remedy, therefore, is to abolish the capitalist system. Nevertheless we support every measure tending to lessen this evil. We pledge our local officials to the fullest possible carrying out of the existing laws against the exploiters of this traffic.

We demand laws which shall,

C. THE INDUSTRIAL PROGRAM.

1. Limit the working hours of youths under 21 years of age, and of all women employed in Wisconsin to eight hours per day;
2. Remove the principle of contributory negligence from our statutes;
3. Guarantee the payment of compensation for industrial accidents;
4. Secure payment of wages in lawful money, not less often than once a week;
5. Safeguard the right of the worker, especially in lumber and mining camps, to spend his wages as he sees fit, and abolish company stores;
6. Meet the necessities of the unemployed;
7. Make wages and labor conditions—including the right of the workers to organize—a paramount consideration in the present regulation policy for railroads and all public utilities while that policy continues; and to improve the conditions of railway employes, especially of the train service, and the miserably paid right-of-way employes.
8. Prohibit the importation of strike-breakers; or the use of the militia, hired detectives, or the issuing of injunctions without notice, in case of strikes.

D. AGRICULTURAL PROGRAM.

We demand the following measures for the aid of those who toil on the land as producers:

1. The erection by the state at convenient points of elevators and warehouses for the storage of grain, potatoes and other farm products; and connected with these provisions for municipal markets wherever the people of the community desire. We call attention to the fact that constitutional amendments providing for these measures were killed by the old parties in the last legislature.
2. Establishments by the state of one or more plants for the manufacture of farm machinery and binder twine.
3. State or county loans on mortgages and warehouse receipts, the interest charges to cover the cost only.
4. State insurance against destruction of animals and crops.
5. The extension of the agricultural school system as rapidly as possible; the development of experiment stations in connection with these; provision for collective agriculture wherever the people are ready to undertake it; and the increasing use of state land for all these purposes.

THE PEOPLE TO OWN.

The Social-Democratic party also stands for every radical change that will bring more wealth, more culture and more security to the masses of the people. But we call attention to the fact that the measures we urge are not a cure for all the existing evils, nor are they all Socialistic measures. They are to be viewed rather as mere palliatives, capable of being carried out even under the present conditions. Under no circumstances should the people rest content with palliatives of this kind. The people should move onward to the conquest of all public powers, to an entire change of the present system for one which will secure to the people collectively the ownership of the means of production and distribution and thereby the blessings of our modern inventions, and a standard of civilization and culture hitherto unknown in history.

This is the program of the Social-Democratic party in Wisconsin. We call upon every intelligent voter of this state, regardless of race, nationality or religion, to join the Social-Democratic party, vote its ticket, build up its organization and stand shoulder to shoulder for a better order and a higher civilization. And especially to the economically oppressed we call, in the words of the immortal Karl Marx:

"Proletarians of all countries, unite! You have nothing to lose but your chains and a world to gain."

 PLATFORM OF THE SOCIALIST LABOR PARTY.

Adopted in New York, N. Y. April 10, 1912.

Social conditions, as illustrated by the events that crowded into the last four years, have ripened so fast that each and all the principles hitherto proclaimed by the Socialist Labor Party, and all and each of the methods that the Socialist Labor Party has hitherto advocated, stand to-day most conspicuously demonstrated.

The capitalist social system has wrought its own destruction. Its leading exponents, the present incumbent in the Presidential Chair and his "illustrious predecessor," however seemingly at war with each other on principles, cannot conceal the identity of their political views. The oligarchy proclaimed by the tenets of the one, the monarchy proclaimed by the tenets of the other, jointly proclaim the conviction of the foremost men in the Ruling Class that the Republic of Capital is at the end of its tether.

True to the economic laws from which Socialism proceeds, dominant wealth has to such an extent concentrated into the hands of a select few, the Plutocracy, that the lower layers of the Capitalist Class feel driven to the ragged edge, while the large majority of the people, the Working Class, are being submerged.

True to the sociologic laws by the light of which Socialism reads its forecasts, the Plutocracy is breaking through its republic-democratic shell and is stretching out its hands toward absolutism in government; the property-holding layers below it are turning at bay; the proletariat is awakening to its consciousness of class, and thereby to the preception of its historic mission.

In the midst of this hurly, all the colors of the rainbow are being projected upon the social mists from the prevalent confusion of thought. From the lower layers of the Capitalist Class the bolder yet foolhardy, portion bluntly demands that "the Trust be smashed."

THE TRUST A NECESSITY.

Even if the trust could, it should not be smashed; even if it should it cannot. The law of social progress pushes toward a system of production that shall crown the efforts of man, without arduous toil, with an abundance of the necessities for material existence, to the end of allowing leisure for mental and spiritual expansion. The trust is a mechanical contrivance wherewith to solve the problem. To smash the contrivance were to re-introduce the days of small-fry competition and set back the hands on the dial of Time. The mere thought is foolhardy. He who undertakes the feat might as well brace himself against the cascade of Niagara. The cascade of Social Evolution would overwhelm him.

The less bold among the smaller property-holding element proposes to "curb" the Trust with a variety of schemes. The very forces of social evolution that propel the development of the Trust stamp the "curbing" schemes, whether political or economic, as childish. They are attempts to hold back a runaway horse by the tail. The laws by which the attempt has been tried strew the path of the runaway. They are splintered to pieces with its kicks, and serve only to furnish a livelihood for the Corporation and the Anti-Corporation lawyer.

From the lower layers of the Capitalist Class the bolder, yet foolhardy, portion have sniffed the breath of Socialism and imagine themselves Socialists, comes the iridescent theory of capturing the Trust for the people by the ballot only. The "capture of the Trust for the people" implies the Social Revolution. To imply the Social Revolution with the ballot only, without the means to enforce the ballot's fiat, in case of Reaction's attempt to override it, is to fire blank cartridges at a foe. It is worse. It is to threaten his existence without the means to carry out the threat. Threats of revolution, without provisions to carry them out, result in one of two things only—either the leaders are bought out or the revolutionary class, to which the leaders appeal and which they succeed in drawing after themselves, are led like cattle to the shambles. The Commune disaster of France stands a monumental warning against the blunder.

An equally iridescent hue of the rainbow is projected from a still lower layer, a layer that lies almost wholly within the submerged class—the theory of capturing the Trust for the Working Class with the fist only. The capture of the Trust for the people implies something else besides revolution. It implies revolution carried on by the masses. For reasons parallel to those that decree the day of small-fry competition gone by, mass-revolutionary conspiracy is, to-day, an impossibility. The Trust-holding Plutocracy may successfully put through a conspiracy of physical force. The smallness of its numbers makes a successful conspiracy possible on its part. The hugeness of the numbers requisite for a revolution against the Trust-holding Plutocracy excludes Conspiracy from the arsenal of the Revolution. The idea of capturing the Trust with physical force only is a wild chimera.

SOCIALISM VERSUS PLUTOCRACY.

Only two programmes—the programme of the Plutocracy and the programme of the Socialist Labor Party—grasp the situation. The Political State, another name for the Class State, is worn out in this, the leading capitalist nation of the world, most prominently. The Industrial or Socialist State is throbbing for birth. The Political State, being a Class State, is government separate and apart from the productive energies of the people; it is government mainly for holding the ruled class in subjection. The Industrial or Socialist State, being the denial of the Class State, is government that is part and parcel of the productive energies of the people.

As their functions are different, so are the structures of the two States different.

The structure of the Political State contemplates territorial "representation" only; the structure of the Industrial State contemplates representation of industries, or useful occupations only.

The economic or industrial evolution has reached that point where the Political State no longer can maintain itself under the forms of democracy. While the Plutocracy has relatively shrunk, the enemies it has raised against itself have become too numerous to be dallied with. What is still worse, obedient to the law of its own existence the Political State has been forced not merely to multiply enemies against itself; it has been forced to recruit and group the bulk of these enemies, the revolutionary bulk, at that.

The Working Class of the land, the historically revolutionary element, is grouped by the leading occupations, agricultural as well as industrial, in such manner that the "autonomous craft union," one time the palladium of the workers, has become a harmless scare-crow upon which the capitalist birds roost at ease, while the Industrial Unions cast ahead of them the constituencies of the government of the future, and, jointly, point to the Industrial State.

Nor yet is this all. Not only has the Political State raised its own enemies; not only has itself multiplied them; not only has itself recruited and drilled them; not only has itself grouped them into shape and form to succeed it; it is, furthermore, driven by its inherent necessities, prodding on the Revolutionary Class by digging ever more fiercely into its flanks the harpoon of exploitation.

With the purchasing power of wages sinking to ever lower depths; with certainty of work hanging on ever slenderer threads; with an ever more gigantically swelling army of the unemployed; with the need of profits pressing the Plutocracy harder and harder recklessly to squander the workers' limbs and life; what with all this and the parallel process of merging the workers of all industries into one inter-dependent solid mass, the final break-up is rendered inevitable, and at hand.

No wild schemes and no rainbow-chasing will stead in the approaching emergency. The Plutocracy knows this—and so does the Socialist Labor Party—and logical is the programme of each.

The programme of the Plutocracy is feudal Autocracy, translated into Capitalism. Where a Social Revolution is pending, and, for whatever reason, is not enforced, reaction is the alternative.

REVOLUTION THE PARTY'S PROGRAMME.

The programme of the Socialist Labor Party is revolution—the Industrial or Socialist Republic, the Social Order where the Political State is overthrown; where the Congress of the land consists of the representatives of the useful occupations of the land; where, accordingly, a government is an essential factor in production; where the blessings to man that the Trust is instinct with are freed from the trammels of the private ownership that now turn the potential blessings into a curse; where, accordingly, abundance can be the patrimony of all who work; and the shackles of wage slavery are no more.

In keeping with the goals of the different programmes are the means of their execution.

The means in contemplation by reaction is the bayonet. To this end reaction is seeking, by means of the police spy and other agencies, to lash the proletariat into acts of violence that may give a color to the resort to the bayonet. By its manoeuvres, it is egging the Working Class on to deeds of fury. The capitalist press echoes the policy, while the pure and simple political Socialist party press, generally, is snared into the trap.

On the contrary, the means firmly adhered to by the Socialist Labor Party is the constitutional method of political action, backed by the industrially and class-consciously organized proletariat, to the exclusion of Anarchy, and all that thereby hangs.

At such a critical period in the nation's existence the Socialist Labor Party calls upon the Working Class of America, more deliberately serious than ever before, to rally at the polls under the Party's banner. And the Party also calls upon all intelligent citizens to place themselves squarely upon the ground of Working Class interests, and join us in this mighty and noble work of human emancipation, so that we may put summary end to the existing barbarous class conflict by placing the land and all the means of production, transportation and distribution into the hands of the people as a collective body, and substituting for the present state of planless production, industrial war and social disorder, the Socialist or Industrial Commonwealth—a commonwealth in which every worker shall have the free exercise and full benefit of his faculties, multiplied by all the modern factors of civilization.

QUALIFICATIONS FOR VOTING IN EACH STATE OF THE UNION.

In all the states except Colorado, Idaho, Utah, Wyoming and Washington, the right to vote at general elections is restricted to males of 21 years of age and upward. Women are entitled to vote at school elections in several states. They are entitled by law to full suffrage in the states of Colorado, Idaho, Utah and Wyoming.

In Virginia.—Voting qualifications. All persons who six months before the election have paid their State poll-taxes for the three preceding years. Also any person who served in time of war in the army or navy of the United States, of the Confederate States, or of any State of the United States or of the Confederate States.

Residents of the District of Columbia never had the right to vote therein for national officers, or on other matters of national concern, after the Territory embraced in it was ceded to the United States and became the seat of the general government.

THE INCOME TAX AMENDMENT.

The Sixty-first Congress at its first session submitted to the states an amendment to the Federal Constitution enlarging the scope of the power of the national government to levy taxes on incomes. The Senate passed the joint resolution of submission on July 5, 1909, by a unanimous vote. The House of Representatives passed it on July 12 by a vote of 317 to 14. The proposed new article reads as follows:

"Article XVI.—The Congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes on incomes, from whatever source derived, without apportionment among the states, and without regard to any census or enumeration."

Action on the amendment has been taken by the various states as follows:

STATES RATIFYING—34.

Alabama.—The House of Representatives passed unanimously on August 2, 1909, a resolution ratifying the income tax amendment to the Federal Constitution. In the Senate the resolution passed on August 9, 1909, by a unanimous vote.

Arizona.—Both houses of the Arizona Legislature approved a ratification resolution on April 3, 1912, the vote in each branch being unanimous.

Arkansas.—The House of Representatives passed a resolution of ratification on January 24, 1911, by a vote of 80 to 3. The Senate on March 7, 1911, defeated the House resolution by a vote of 24 to 3. On April 17, 1911, the Senate, by a vote of 24 to 6, adopted a ratification resolution of its own, which was concurred in by the House of Representatives on April 22 by a vote of 64 to 7. Governor Donaghey "vetoed" the resolution.

California.—The Senate passed a ratification resolution on January 23, 1911, and the House of Representatives concurred on January 31, 1911. Both votes were unanimous.

Colorado.—The Senate passed a ratification resolution on February 9, 1911, by a vote of 30 to 3. The House concurred in the Senate resolution on February 15, 1911, by a vote of 63 to 0.

Georgia.—The House of Representatives at the session of 1909, adopted a ratification resolution, but the Senate, on August 5, by a vote of 37 to 2, postponed action until the next session of the Legislature. The Senate on July 11, 1910, passed a ratification resolution by a vote of 23 to 18. The House of Representatives passed the same resolution on July 12 by a vote of 125 to 45.

Idaho.—The Senate of Idaho on January 19, 1911, passed a resolution ratifying the amendment which was passed by the House of Representatives on January 20. There was no roll call in either house.

Illinois.—The Senate early in the extra session of 1910 passed a ratification resolution and the House of Representatives approved the Senate resolution on March 1, 1910, by a vote of 78 to 8.

Indiana.—The Senate passed a resolution of ratification on January 17, 1911, by a vote of 48 to 1. The House concurred on January 30, 1911, by a vote of 93 to 0.

Iowa.—The House of Representatives passed a ratification resolution on January 30, 1911, by a vote of 80 to 0. The Senate concurred on February 22, 1911, by a vote of 45 to 3.

Kansas.—The Senate on January 19, 1911, adopted, by a vote of 25 to 14, a resolution ratifying the amendment. The House of Representatives on February 18, 1911, concurred in the resolution after amending it. There was no roll call. On March 2, 1911, the Senate accepted the amendment of the House of Representatives.

Kentucky.—The Legislature of Kentucky at the regular session of 1910 passed two resolutions ratifying the income tax amendment. The sufficiency of the form in which the first resolution was drawn was questioned by Governor Wilson, who also criticised the form of the second resolution, but decided finally to transmit it to the Secretary of State.

Louisiana.—On June 2, 1910, the House of Representatives passed, by a vote of 77 to 31, a resolution ratifying the income tax amendment to the Federal Constitution. The Senate on June 8, by a vote of 28 to 9, amended the resolution by providing that the question of approving or rejecting the income tax amendment be submitted to the voters of the state at the election of 1912. The Senate had previously passed a resolution similar in effect. The House of Representatives on June 9, by a vote of 93 to 16, refused to accept the Senate substitute and in conference between the two branches no agreement was reached before the adjournment of the Legislature, on July 7. Early in the regular session of 1912 the House of Representatives again passed a ratification resolution, which was concurred in by the Senate on June 28, 1912, by a vote of 29 to 9.

Maine.—The Maine House of Representatives on March 28, 1911, defeated a resolution of ratification by a vote of 82 to 53, and the Senate on March 30, defeated a similar resolution. The same day the Senate reconsidered its vote and ratified, the House also concurring in that action. There was no roll call in either branch.

Maryland.—The House of Delegates at the regular session of the Legislature passed a ratification resolution. The Senate on April 4, 1910, adopted the House resolution by a vote of 17 to 9.

Michigan.—The House of Representatives passed a ratification resolution on January 24, 1911, by a vote of 92 to 1. The Senate concurred on February 23, 1911, by a vote of 23 to 1.

Minnesota.—The House of Representatives passed a ratification resolution on March 28, 1911, by a vote of 95 to 0. No action on the resolution was taken in the Senate at that session. At an extra session in 1912 the Senate concurred—on June 11, 1912—by a vote of 49 to 5.

Mississippi.—The House of Representatives passed a resolution of ratification on March 29, 1910, and the Senate adopted the same resolution on the same day.

Missouri.—The Senate ratified the amendment on March 7, 1911, and the House of Representatives concurred in that action on March 16, 1911. There was no roll call in either branch.

Montana.—The House of Representatives ratified on January 14, 1911, and the Senate concurred in that action on January 27, 1911. There was no roll call in either house.

Nebraska.—Both Houses of the Legislature adopted ratification resolutions at the session of 1911.

Nevada.—The Assembly passed a resolution of ratification on January 24, 1911, by a vote of 45 to 0. The Senate concurred on January 31, 1911, by a vote of 18 to 0.

New York.—The Assembly on April 20, 1910, voted on a resolution of ratification introduced in the form of a bill. It received 74 votes to 66 in opposition, but was declared to have failed of passage for lack of the constitutional majority (a majority of all the members elected to the body) required in New York State to pass a bill. On May 3, 1910, a motion to reconsider the vote of April 20 failed by a vote of 75 in favor to 67 against. The Senate on May 17, 1910, adopted a resolution of ratification by a vote of 26 to 20. The Senate resolution went to the Assembly and a motion to suspend the rules and take it up for consideration was defeated on May 25, 1910, by a vote of 75 for and 64 against, 75 votes being one less than a constitutional majority.

The Senate on April 19, 1911, adopted a resolution of ratification in the form of a bill by a vote of 35 to 16. The Assembly on July 12, 1911, concurred in the Senate resolution by a vote of 91 to 42. On March 13, 1912, the Assembly passed, by a vote of 85 to 58, a resolution rescinding the ratification of 1911. No action on that resolution was taken in the Senate.

North Carolina.—The Senate passed a ratification resolution on January 24, 1911, by a vote of 42 to 1, and the lower House concurred unanimously.

North Dakota.—The Senate on February 16, 1911, passed a House ratification resolution, after amending it, the vote on passage being 45 to 1. The House of Representatives on February 17, 1911, accepted the Senate amendments by a vote of 92 to 0.

Ohio.—The Senate on January 15, 1911, adopted by a vote of 31 to 1 a resolution ratifying the amendment. The House of Representatives concurred on January 19, by a vote of 100 to 3.

Oklahoma.—The Senate on March 3, 1910, at an extra session of the Legislature, passed a ratification resolution and the House of Representatives on March 4, 1910, adopted the same resolution.

Oregon.—The Senate of Oregon passed a ratification resolution on January 18, 1911. The House of Representatives concurred on January 23, 1911.

South Carolina.—The House of Representatives passed a ratification resolution on February 15, 1910, by a vote of 100 to 3. The Senate approved the House resolution on February 19, 1910.

South Dakota.—The Senate on January 17, 1911, passed a ratification resolution by a vote of 41 to 4. The House of Representatives concurred on February 1, 1911, by a vote of 100 to 0.

Tennessee.—The House of Representatives on March 27, 1911, passed a ratification resolution without a roll call. On April 6, 1911, the Senate passed a different resolution by a vote of 20 to 4, and on April 7, 1911, the House of Representatives concurred in the Senate resolution by a vote of 83 to 3.

Texas.—The House of Representatives on August 4, 1910, ratified the amendment by a vote of 28 to 1. The House of Representatives concurred in the Senate's action on August 16, 1910, by a vote of 101 to 1.

Washington.—The Senate of Washington on January 26, 1911, ratified the amendment by a vote of 32 to 5, and the House of Representatives concurred on the same day by a vote of 80 to 0.

Wisconsin.—The Assembly passed a resolution of ratification on February 14 by a vote of 92 to 0. The Senate concurred on May 16 by a vote of 21 to 0.

STATES FAILING TO RATIFY—14.

Connecticut.—The Senate on June 28, 1911, rejected a ratification resolution by a vote of 20 to 8. The House of Representatives on July 12, 1911, rejected a similar resolution by a vote of 89 to 74.

Delaware.—Neither branch of the Legislature took action at the session of 1911.

Florida.—The House of Representatives passed a ratification resolution on April 17, 1911, by a vote of 61 to 4. The Senate took no action.

Massachusetts.—The House of Representatives on May 4, 1910, defeated a ratification resolution by 126 to 101. The Senate on May 19, 1910, defeated a similar resolution by a vote of 23 to 11. The House of Representatives on April 17, 1911, passed a ratification resolution by a vote of 130 to 69. On April 20, 1911, the former vote having been reconsidered in order to permit further debate, the House adopted the same resolution by 140 to 84. The Senate on May 3, 1911, defeated the House resolution by a vote of 11 to 10. On May 4, 1911, a motion to reconsider the vote of May 3 was defeated by 18 to 17.

On April 16, 1912, the House of Representatives passed a ratification resolution by a vote of 116 to 94. On April 25, 1912, the Senate refused to concur in the House resolution by a vote of 17 to 14.

New Hampshire. The House of Representatives of New Hampshire in February, 1911, adopted a resolution of ratification by a viva voce vote. The Senate on March 2, 1911, defeated the House resolution by a vote of 14 to 9. The House again on March 22, 1911, passed a ratification resolution by a vote of 249 to 6. The Senate on March 23, 1911, defeated that resolution by a vote of 14 to 9.

New Jersey.—The Senate on March 20, 1911, defeated a resolution of ratification by a vote of 12 to 8. The Assembly on March 29, 1911, unanimously adopted a ratification resolution.

New Mexico.—The Legislature of New Mexico at its first session in 1912 took no action on the income tax amendment.

Pennsylvania.—The House of Representatives of Pennsylvania passed a ratification resolution on May 10, 1911, by a vote of 139 to 4. The Senate took no action.

Rhode Island.—The Senate of Rhode Island on April 29 unanimously rejected a ratification resolution. The House of Representatives on the same day defeated a similar resolution.

Utah.—The Senate on February 17, 1911, passed a ratification resolution by a vote of 16 to 2. The House of Representatives on March 9, 1911, defeated the Senate resolution by a vote of 30 to 10.

Vermont.—The Senate of Vermont voted by 14 to 10 on January 17, 1911, to reject a resolution of ratification. The House of Representatives on the same day rejected a similar resolution by a vote of 143 to 45.

Virginia.—The House of Delegates on March 7, 1910, defeated a resolution of ratification by a vote of 54 to 37. The Senate on March 9, 1910, passed a resolution of ratification by a vote of 19 to 5. At the session of 1912 the House of Delegates, on March 6, refused, by a vote of 54 to 20, to take up out of its order a resolution of ratification.

West Virginia.—The House of Representatives passed a ratification resolution on February 4, 1911, by a vote of 70 to 2. The Senate on February 16, 1911, defeated the House resolution by a vote of 17 to 13.

Wyoming.—Neither branch of the Legislature took action at the session of 1911.

POPULAR ELECTION OF U. S. SENATORS.

At the second session of the Sixty-second Congress a constitutional amendment providing for the direct election of United States senators was submitted to the legislatures of the states. The resolution of submission, which became effective on May 13, 1912, read as follows:

"The Senate of the United States shall be composed of two Senators from each state, elected by the people thereof for six years, and each Senator shall have one vote. The electors in each state shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the state legislatures.

"When vacancies happen in the representation of any state in the Senate the executive authority of such state shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies; provided, that the legislature of any state may empower the executive thereof to make temporary appointments until the people fill the vacancies by election as the legislature may direct.

"This amendment shall not be so construed as to affect the election or term of any Senator chosen before it becomes valid as part of the Constitution."

The House of Representatives, on April 13, 1911, approved a constitutional amendment providing for the direct election of senators but vesting entire control of such elections in the states; the vote standing 297 to 15, after an amendment continuing the federal power of supervision had been defeated by 190 yeas to 122 nays. The Senate, on June 12, 1911, passed the House resolution by a vote of 64 to 24, after amending it by a vote of 45 to 44, so as to restore the status quo as to federal supervision. Conference, on the part of the two houses were unable to reach an agreement and on May 13, 1912, the House of Representatives yielded to the Senate by a vote of 237 to 39.

Massachusetts and Montana have ratified the direct elections amendment.

The movement to substitute popular election of senators for indirect election through the legislatures had made much progress before Congress voted to submit a constitutional amendment changing the present method. In many states the action of the legislatures was controlled in advance by primary choice, and in some senators were designated by the direct vote of the people.

The extent of the system of popular nomination and election is shown in the following summary:

States in which nominations are made by voluntary party regulation—Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Kentucky, South Carolina and Virginia—6.

States in which nominations are made in a legalized primary—Arizona, Colorado, Florida, Idaho, Illinois, Iowa, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Michigan, Mississippi, Missouri, New Jersey, North Dakota, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Texas, Washington and Wisconsin—19.

States in which Senators are voted for in regular elections—California, Kansas, Minnesota, Nevada, Nebraska, Ohio and Oregon—7.

Tennessee formally nominated candidates for senator in a primary, but the act of 1908 providing for direct nominations was held by the Supreme Court of the state to be invalid on technical grounds.

INITIATIVE AND REFERENDUM.

Sixteen states of the Union have adopted the initiative and referendum as a method of supplementing legislation through the legislatures. By the initiative a proposed law may be submitted to the people directly on petition from a certain number of voters. Under the referendum a law passed by the legislature may be suspended on the petition of a certain number of voters until it can receive popular approval. The States which have adopted the referendum and initiative are Arkansas, Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Illinois, Maine, Michigan, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, New Mexico, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Dakota and Utah. Nevada has adopted the referendum only. See also "Addenda and Errata."

WOMAN SUFFRAGE IN THE UNITED STATES.

In the United States women enjoy suffrage on equal terms with men at all elections in nine states: Wyoming, established in 1869; Colorado, in 1893; Utah, in 1896; Idaho, in 1896; Washington, in 1910; California, in 1911; Arizona, Kansas, Michigan and Oregon, in 1912. Wisconsin, Michigan and Ohio defeated suffrage amendments in 1912.

School board suffrage prevails in some form in Arizona, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Michigan, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Mississippi, Montana, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Ohio, South Dakota, Utah, Vermont and Wisconsin. Women taxpayers have been invested with the right to vote on questions affecting taxation by Montana in 1887, Louisiana in 1898, and by Michigan in 1908. Suffrage on bond questions was given to women in Iowa in 1894, and the New York Legislature passed, in 1901, a law providing that a woman who possesses the qualification to vote for village or town officers, except the qualification of sex, who is the owner of property in the village assessed upon the last assessment roll, shall be entitled to vote upon a proposition to raise money by tax assessments.

Females of Voting Age in Suffrage States.

A census bulletin, issued August 26, 1912, gave the number of females of voting age in the states granting the suffrage to women as follows:

POLITICAL DISTRICT APPORTIONMENTS, 1911.

CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICTS.

In accordance with provisions of the Sixty-second congress providing for eleven congressmen from Wisconsin, the legislature of 1911 reapportioned the state into eleven congressional districts. The total population of the state is 2,333,860, and the average population per congressional district is 212,169 and 1-11 persons, practically 212,169. By the new apportionment there are four districts with population below the normal, the Second, Seventh, Eighth and Ninth. The population of the other seven districts is above normal. The Eighth district has the least population, 200,134, or 12,035 below normal. The Ninth has the largest population, 225,389, or 13,220 above normal, a total difference of 25,255 between the lowest and highest in point of population. In point of population the First district is closest to the normal figures, being but 436 above. The apportionment into congressional districts follows: [See map, back of book.]

District.	Counties or parts of Counties.	Population.
FIRST	Racine, Kenosha, Walworth, Rock and Waukesha counties..	212,605

SENATORIAL DISTRICTS.

The apportionment of the state, by the legislature, into thirty-three senatorial districts, following each federal and state census of population, is in accordance with constitutional provision. By the census of 1910 the total population of the state is 2,333,860. Hence the unit, or normal for senatorial districts is 70,723 and 1-33 or practically 70,723. In the following table the districts as numbered in the apportionment act, and the actual population of each is given, also the excess of population above the normal figure in those districts having an excess, and the deficiency, or number under the normal, in those below the normal figure. The basis for this figuring is 70,723 even, not taking into account the fraction of one thirty-third of a person to each district. This prohibits an exact balancing of the totals in the excess and efficiency columns by 1, the total of one thirty-third of a person to each district.

The table shows a total of sixteen districts, each having an excess above the normal, and seventeen each below the normal. The greatest difference in population of any two districts is between the Third, Racine and Kenosha, with 90,353, an excess of 19,630, and the Twenty-first, Waushara, Adams, Juneau and Marquette with a total population of 57,800, or 12,923 below normal, a total difference between them of 32,553. The table shows the excess or deficiency in each district, the list of districts, as constituted, following the table:

ASSEMBLY DISTRICTS.

The apportionment of the state into 100 assembly districts on a basis of the population of the state, as ascertained by the Federal census of 1910, is in accordance with constitutional provisions. The total population as a basis is 2,333,860, hence the normal average of population per district is 23,338 6-10 persons. The assembly districts, numbered as to population, follow :

In the apportionment adopted there are forty-seven districts, each with a population above the normal and fifty-three each with population below normal. The forty-seven above normal have a total population of 1,326,080, a total of 159,150 above normal. Their average population is 28,214 22-47 each, or an average of 4,876 each above normal. The other fifty-three districts have a total of 1,007,780 population. Their average population per district is 19,015, an average of 4,323 each below normal. Under this apportionment forty-seven members of the assembly will represent 56 82-100 per cent of the people and fifty-three members will represent 43 18-100 per cent of the people of the state. The district with the highest excess above normal is that constituted by Marinette county with an excess of 10,474. The one least above is the second district of Dane county, with an excess of only 128. The second district of Manitowoc county is 302 below normal, while Taylor county is 9,697 below normal. There are fifteen districts practically within 1,000 of the normal figure numbers 38 to 52, inclusive, and nineteen are within 1,500 of the normal figure. A complete list of the assembly districts as constituted by the apportionment of 1910 is as follows:

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCHES.

MEMBERS OF THE SIXTY-THIRD CONGRESS.

ROBERT MARION LA FOLLETTE (Rep.) was born at Primrose, Dane county, Wisconsin, June 14th, 1855; graduated from the state university of Wisconsin June, 1879, admitted to the bar February, 1880; elected district attorney of Dane county November, 1880; reelected in 1882; elected a member of the forty-ninth congress 1884; reelected in 1886; reelected in 1888; defeated for reelection in 1890; elected a district delegate to the national Republican convention June, 1896; elected a delegate-at-large to the Republican national convention June, 1904; elected governor of Wisconsin 1900; reelected 1902; reelected 1904; elected to the United States senate to succeed Joseph V. Quarles January 25, 1905. Took his seat as United States senator January 4th, 1906. Reelected 1911. His term of service will expire March 4, 1917.

ISAAC STEPHENSON (Rep.), was born in York county near Fredericton, New Brunswick, June 18, 1829. His early life was spent in assisting his father who was a farmer and a lumberman. A short time was spent at public schools but most of his education is the result of observation and experience. At the age of fourteen years he moved to Bangor, Me., but shortly thereafter came west, locating at Milwaukee. After a few years spent in unsuccessful farming, he transferred his operations to lumbering in the northern peninsula of Michigan. His earliest work in the field was contracting for putting in logs in the winter, while during the summer, he carried freight to Chicago and Milwaukee by boat. When the first land office was opened in northern Michigan in 1848 Mr. Stephenson and his associates purchased large tracts of timber lands on the Escanaba, Ford and Sturgeon rivers and on Big Bay de Noquet. In 1857 he discontinued contracting logs and engaged in the manufacture of lumber. Since that date his business operations have grown rapidly until to-day he is one of the most extensive lumber manufacturers in the United States. In addition to its manufacture, he maintains large yards for the wholesale and retail distribution of lumber and is also heavily interested in the manufacture of paper. Mr. Stephenson is also a banker and owns a model dairy and stock farm. His business interests are centered at Chicago, Milwaukee and at his home city, Marinette. Politically he has been a Republican since the organization of that party. He was a member of the assembly in 1866 and reelected in 1868. In 1882 he was elected to congress and served three terms, when his business affairs required his declining a renomination. In 1880 and 1892 he was a delegate to the Republican national convention. In 1900 he was delegate-at-large to the Republican national convention at Philadelphia; elected delegate-at-large to Chicago convention in 1904 and was chairman of the delegation. In 1908 was elected delegate-at-large at the primary election to the national convention at Chicago. In May, 1907, Mr. Stephenson was elected to the United States senate to serve for the unexpired term of Hon. John C. Spooner, resigned. His term of office expired March 4, 1909. He was reelected March 4, 1909. His term of office will expire March 4, 1915.

CHARLES D. ROSA was born on a farm in Center, Rock county, Wisconsin, September 15, 1870. He attended country school, worked on the farm until eighteen and two years on the railroad section. He then attended Evansville seminary, Beloit academy and Beloit college, graduating from the last named institution in 1898 as salutatorian of his class. Was principal of the Edgerton public schools for three years and two years later graduated from the law school of the University of Wisconsin. After graduation he began the practice of law at Beloit with H. W. Adams. In 1906 he was elected municipal judge, carrying Rock county against J. W. Bates by a vote of 3,834 to 2,190. He held this office six years, declined reelection and returned to the practice of law as senior member of the firm of Rosa & Ritland. He was induced to become a candidate for the assembly in July, 1912 and won the nomination by a vote of 907 to 483 for former Assemblyman Simon Smith and 536 for Simon G. Strong. During all his life Mr. Rosa has been interested in farming and in breeding of pure bred stock and grain, and has held many offices in live stock and other agricultural organizations. For the past ten years he has devoted a portion of his time to the breeding, on his farm near Beloit, of a pure bred type of corn which bears his name. For four years past he has been a member of the faculty of Beloit college as lecturer on commercial law. Was elected member of assembly 1912, receiving 2,875 votes, against 1,440 for Chas. Oliver, (Dem.).
