ANNOUNCE LYMAN WILL HEAD 1925 MILITARY BALL

Plan to Hold Cadet Social Event in Capitol; Expect More Than 500

April 4 is the date set for the twelfth annual Military ball, according to an announcement made yesterday by Cadet Colonel Howard B. Lyman '24 who was appointed to lead the cadets' social event by Major O. L. Bunzell, commandant of the cadet corps.

No definite plans regarding the holding of the Military ball in the state capitol could be arranged up to last night, but members of the committee in charge hope to make the final arrangements today.

Expect 500 to Attend

As the gynasium does not afford facilities adequate to accommodate so large a crowd as is expected to attend the ball this year, every effort will be made to hold the ball in the capitol building, committee members assert.

Plans are now under way to organize the various groups in the university which intend to attend the ball. Approximately 500 persons are expected to attend the cadets' annual social event, committee members assert.

To Announce Workers

Various military organizations on the campus and other clubs in the cadet corps have signified their intentions of attending the ball this year, committee members report.

Announcement of committee chairmen and workers who will aid the chairmen with plans for the ball will be made later in the week, Lyman said yesterday regarding the committees.

PUBLISH DEBATE BY JASTROW IN "FORUM"

A debate between Prof. Joseph Jastrow, of the department of philosophy, and Walter F. Prince, principal research officer of the American Society for Psychical Research, appears in the February issue of The Forum, a magazine of discussion. The subject of the debate is "Can We Communicate with the Other World?"

SHOWERMAN TO SPEAK ON ARTS AND CRAFTS

Prof. Grant M. Showerman of the fine arts department will lecture at 7:15 tonight in Bascom hall on "Ancient Arts and Crafts". This lecture is being given under the auspices of the Arts and Crafts club, made up of students in the industrial arts department, and those interested in the work.

SECOND GLEE CLUB TO HOLD TRYOUTS

Freshmen Eligible to Come to Meeting at 7 O'Clock This Evening

Tryouts for the Wisconsin Glee club second organization will be held at 7 o'clock tonight in Professor Swinney's studio.

Underclassmen and freshmen, especially, are wanted to try out for the second club.

Formerly freshmen were not eligible to sing with the club and since at least a semester's training is necessary before a public appearance, one could not take part in programs usually before his junior year. In the future, one may sing with the club the first semester of his sophomore year, if he has been a member of the second organization.

To take a larger part in campus activities is the purpose of the organization of the auxiliary club. Previously it has been impossible to give concerts during the second semester, because few trained men have left from graduation the year before.

The home concert this season will be presented on March 14 instead of on March 27 as was previously announced.

HOWARD B. LYMAN
—Badger Studio.

Cadet Colonel Howard B. Lyman '24 will lead the twelfth annual Military ball which will be held on April 4, it was officially announced yesterday by Major O. L. Bunzell, commandant of the cadet corps who made the appointment. Plans are being made to hold the ball in the state capitol this year.

EDDY TO DELIVER SPECIAL SPEECHES

Talks Planned So That Students May Meet Religious Leader

Faculty and students will have a special opportunity to hear Dr. G. Sherwood Eddy, speaker for the annual all-university Religious conference to be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Luncheons will be held Friday and Saturday noons and Saturday night.

More than 500 letters are being sent out to faculty members inviting them to attend a luncheon to be addressed by Dr. Eddy Friday noon. The luncheon will be held in Lathrop hall.

"We hope at this time to have the faculty vitally interested in the Religious conference. We expect at least 200 faculty members to be at the luncheon on Friday," Ernestine Blatz '25, co-chairman on the arrangements committee, said yesterday.

Saturday noon Dr. Eddy will address the members of the Campus Religious council at a luncheon to be held in the fellowship room of the Y. M. C. A. The foreign students will be entertained at a banquet Saturday evening to listen to the conference speaker. Dr. Eddy will give a special message to these students from other countries at this time. This meeting will be held in the parlors of the university association.

To arouse interest and to explain the conference and Dr. Eddy a meeting is to be held under the auspices of the Junior council Thursday night. One representative from each of the fraternities on the campus is to be invited to attend this meeting where the conference work will be explained by juniors on the council and where Dr. Eddy's place in religious work will be defined by Chet Hartlett college secretary for the state of Wisconsin.

SOPHOMORE WOMEN WILL MEET TODAY

The first get-together luncheon for sophomore women will be held in the S. G. A. room in Lathrop hall this noon.

The purpose of these luncheons is to create a better spirit, make for wider acquaintanceship among the women of the class of '26 and to bring more women into activities," one of the leaders in the scheme said yesterday.

It is planned to have the women bring their trays up to the S. G. A. room every Wednesday noon and have luncheon together. On these occasions various speakers will give brief talks and there will be a short social period. In the spring will be picnics and other informal affairs, according to present plans.

SEATS FOR "THE CHASTENING" ARE SELLING RAPIDLY

Ticket Sale For Charles Rann Kennedy Play is Heavy, Ludden Says

More than half the seats for the Charles Rann Kennedy performance of "The Chastening" to be given at 8 o'clock tomorrow night in Music hall under the auspices of National Collegiate Players have been sold, according to Alfred Ludden '24, in charge of ticket sales.

"Tickets have been placed on sale at the A. E. Smith music store and at the Cardinal pharmacy, and they report that seats have been selling fast. No more than 800 can be seated in Music hall," Ludden declared.

Had Eight Week's Run

While in Madison Kennedy and his wife, Edith Wynn Matthison and Margaret Gage will be entertained at various social functions. A tea has been planned by the Delta Delta Delta sorority for Thursday afternoon and the National Collegiate players will entertain them at a dinner at the University club Wednesday evening.

Charles Rann Kennedy is best known as a dramatist and playwright. His "Servant in the House" played for several years in this country and was given in Madison three years ago. "The Chastening" is a modern morality like "The Servant in the House" but according to Eastern critics is Kennedy's most perfect play. It ran for eight weeks at the 48th street theater in New York.

Is Five Act Play

Edith Wynn Matthison is one of the foremost actresses of this country. Prof. J. F. A. Pyre of the English department declared yesterday that her "Viola" when she was playing "Twelfth Night" with the Ben Greet Players was by far the best he had ever seen. Miss Matthison has appeared with the foremost actors on the American stage and is heralded by critics both for her reading and her acting. She is secretary of the Equity Players.

"The Chastening" was written by Kennedy especially for the cast of three which will present it here. Two other plays are now being written by Kennedy to supplement "The Chastening". The play is in five acts.

AUST WILL LECTURE ON ART TOMORROW

Foreign Flashes

WASHINGTON—President Coolidge is represented by those in his confidence as still without definite decision regarding the demands for Attorney General Daugherty's resignation. The senate assembled to consider a resolution calling for a sweeping inquiry into Mr. Daugherty's administration of the department of justice.

WASHINGTON.—Senator Lenoore, presiding chairman of the public lands committee is about to be charged with divulging information as to the moves of the committee and being in other ways involved in efforts to protect Secretaries Fall and Denby.

WASHINGTON.—Another political career is to be wrecked by the oil investigations it is reported. While visiting McLean at Palm Beach Secretary Fall knew every thought and action of the investigating committee which was sitting in Washington. Investigation into telegrams indicates that a new and important member is to be added to the official intrigue surrounding the lease of the oil lands.

Thetas and Alpha Gamma Delta Buy New House Sites

Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, now located at 823 Irving Place, has purchased from the Lake Lawn Realty company a lot on Lake Lawn Place just off the lake and south of the property owned by Phi Gamma Sigma fraternity. The same sorority also purchased from Sigma Kappa sorority at 234 Langdon street, the corner lot adjoining. Both sales were made by the Stanley C. Hanks company at a reported price of $12,000.

No announcement has as yet been made as to future building plans.

Just previous to this sale, Alpha Gamma Delta sorority, 418 North Frances street, purchased from Stanley C. Hanks the two lots south of the Psi Upsilon house and adjacent to those bought by Kappa Alpha Theta on Lake Lawn Place.

The Stanley C. Hanks company represented the owner and C. H. Sanderson and company the purchaser. The reported price was $10,000. It is expected that the new house will be started in the very near future.

Grid-graph Greatest Source of Revenue; Balance is $380.50

Total receipts of $1,971.25 with expenditures amount to $1,590.75, leaving a balance of $380.50 is the financial statement of the Inter-Class fund, dated January 29, 1924, according to an announcement made last night by T. E. Jones, director of the department of athletics.

"The proceeds from the Inter-Class fund are the only funds obtainable with which to purchase the necessary items for the various activities of the athletic department such as numerales, medals and sweaters," Director Jones said last night.

Homecoming Not Included

"The proceeds from all major athletic events of the university can not be spent except for material things which will benefit the university as a whole as in the form of the stadium or the ski jump because of legislative enactment. In order to procure the needed extra money the proceeds from the grid-graph, inter-class and inter mural sports are used," Professor Jones declared.

All the expenditures made by the Inter-Class fund are authorized by the Athletic board. Homecoming

Poem By Leonard
To Feature Next
Issue of The Lit

A poem, "Foreword," by Prof. William Ellery Leonard, written for a volume of verse, is one of the feature poems in the next number of the Lit which will appear on the campus soon. The piece is a poetic characterization of modern radio and its powers.

"Immolation," a powerful poem of blighted mother love, is another of the poetic contents of the magazine. It was written by Lina Laundry.

Oscar Riegel, associate editor and popular contributor to the magazine has a poem called "Retreat" in the number.

"The Marriage Song," by Marya Zaturenska is another piece written in her best style yet vaguely different in both theme and treatment. "Marie Bashkirtsoff" is another piece in the issue contributed by Miss Zaturenska.

S. G. A. CHANGES DATE
FOR FIRST "COZY"

Due to the coming religious conference, the first S. G. A. "cozy" has been postponed until next week. The "cozy" is the newest attempt of S. G. Plans have been made to have entertainment by the Wisconsin Players and informal discussion. All women of the university are invited to attend.

Government's German Trophies May Be Dumped in Sea

Captured German guns and helmets resting at the arsenal at Port Newark, N. J.

War trophies of every description, now rusting at Port Newark, N. J., may be sunk in the ocean like German warships because congress has made no provision for their distribution.

When the late war ended the government thought that some of the American people would like reminders of the great conflict. It proposed to send captured German guns to various towns. Museums were to get collections of German equipment. Loads of the captured material were brought over and stored at Port Newark, N. J. A bill was put up in congress, and is still there, to get funds to distribute the stuff. Congress is against the expenditure of money for such a purpose now, and the arsenal needs the space.

Dean Roe Answers Student Question, "Why Am I Here?"

Answering the student's question, "Why Am I Here?" Frederick W. Roe, junior dean of the College of Letters and Science, said yesterday, "The two-fold reason that most students are in the university is that they want to know more and to be able to make a living when they leave school."

That most students want, as Arnold said, "to know the best that has been thought and said in the world" was the opinion expressed by the dean. It is their intellectual curiosity to learn that brings them here, he said.

The dean, quoting an English writer, declared, "the greatest thing in the world is man; the greatest thing in man is mind."

"The average student is studying his profession or trade so that he may live better economically. Scholars are apt to place intellectual advancement before the economic. It is the student without a purpose who generally fails in his studies," the junior dean said.

"The state universities are doing more to advise, help, and encourage their students than under the older system of a generation ago. Today there is more good feeling and fellowship between the faculty and the student body than existed at any time in the past.

Speaking of the past semester the dean told of the enormous amount of time that was taken from the studies by the activities that featured college life not connected with the classroom. He said that only the stiff-minded students were able to resist the appeals of these activities.

PROF. ROSS PRAISES SOROKINS' LECTURES

"This is the first time in all history that a sociologist has made a comparative study of social revolution with a view to discovering common tendencies which they exhibit," Prof. E. A. Ross declared in speaking of Professor Sorokin, former professor of sociology in the University of Petrograd, who has been lecturing here on "The Sociology of Revolution." He spoke yesterday afternoon and no change

ACCIDENTS CAUSE OF MUCH DAMAGE

Professor Commons Says Accident Prevention is of Great Importance

Accidents cause $800,000,000 worth of damage annually in the United States, and in the last century have claimed three times as many deaths as occurred in all the wars of this period. Of every twenty deaths one is caused by accident, according to Prof. J. R. Commons of the department of Economics.

Accident prevention, Professor Commons said, is considered of such importance by the government, that it employs two men continuously to survey the problem.

"Compensation insurance has been an important factor in the decline of industrial accidents," he stated. It is interesting to note that, although employers resisted the adoption of this type of insurance, forty-two states now have compensation laws and employees of the national government are also compensated for accident.

"Inexperience, illiteracy and inability to understand English, are to blame for a large proportion of industrial accidents. The accident rate among foreign born workers is about double that of the native born," Professor Commons concluded.

Funeral of Prof Mack, Engineer, Held Yesterday

The funeral of Prof. J. G. D. Mack, state chief engineer who died Sunday morning, was held yesterday afternoon at Christ Presbyterian church.

Professor Mack had been a professor of engineering for 12 years and held the office of state engineer for nine years. He is survived by his widow and two sons.

Hundreds of high state officials, department heads, stenographers and clerks at the capitol as well as university alumni and professors honored the dead engineer. The funeral was in charge of Madison Lodge, No. 5, F. and A. M.

CARDINAL SPORTS

ATHLETICS IN THE
COLLEGIATE WORLDSIX TEAMS MEET
IN BIG TEN FRAYS
THIS SATURDAY

Basketball Team Engages Purple; Track Team Gets Test in Relays

Six varsity athletic teams will again this week-end engage in conference competition, five of them away from home. It will be a heavy week and each contest marks a crucial point for the teams in their season's schedule.

The only home contest comes Saturday night when Coach Meanwell's basketball team, after a hard-luck trip to Columbus and Urbana, take on Northwestern in the gym in the last game at home this season.

Trackmen in Relays

Northwestern is at the bottom of the Big Ten list, with no games won and eight lost. The Purple quintet has been playing in hard luck all season. In each game they gave their opponents a hard game, but never could emerge victorious.

Following the victory in the quadrangular meet and in the Iowa matches, Coaches Jones and Burke will take their track team to Champaign Saturday for the annual Illinois relays.

After defeating Minnesota and Michigan in succession, Coach Hitchcock's wrestlers will meet the crack Iowa team at Iowa City Saturday.

Swim Team to Indiana

Coach Steinauer's swimming team though left bereft of all except a few stars, will go to take on Indiana Saturday. Indiana has only a mediocre team of tankers this year and Steinauer figures he will have an even chance.

Coach Blodgett's ice hockey team winds up its schedule this week. Friday and Saturday they meet up with Minnesota, beaten only by Michigan.

The gym and fencing team also meet the Gophers in Minneapolis Saturday.

PIRATES AND CLOVERS
OPEN LEAGUE TONIGHT

The first games of the Independent Intramural basketball league will be played tonight when the Pirates go into action against the Four Leaf Clovers and the All Stars meet the Simon Pures. The Pirate-Four Leaf Clover game will be played at 6:00 o'clock while the All Star-Simon Pure game will begin at 7:00 o'clock. Games will take place on the middle court.

A meeting of block representatives of the Wisconsin Intramural Basketball league will be held at 12:30 o'clock today in George Berg's office at the gymnasium. Schedules for the games will be drawn up at this meeting. Play will commence this week.

CHICAGO, Feb. 26.—Kefneth Hiser, former western junior golf champion, will be eligible to compete for the University of Chicago golf team this spring. He is expected to make a determined bid for the conference championship.

$25,000 OFFERED FOR ANOTHER PEACE PLAN

CHICAGO—A $25,000 peace plan competition for the "best educational plan to provide world peace and international justice, was announced today by Augustus O. Thomas, president of the World Federation of Educational Associations, which will make the award.

The prize was contributed by "An interested patron of world peace who wishes his name withheld," Dr. Thomas said. Decision of the fifteen judges who constitute the committee of award will be final.

MATMEN PREPARE FOR IOWA CONTEST

The wrestlers, after a victory over Michigan last Saturday, are working hard in preparation for the Iowa meet at Iowa this Saturday.

Several changes may be made before Saturday's meet. Hanson, 115 pounder, has not been going good lately and Helland may be used. Captain Benbow will probably be fit to enter the 125 pound division. Bieberstein heavyweight, in the infirmary with water on the elbow, may not be able to work in the coming meet.

Harold Holmes, football star, may be used in the 175 pound class. He has had plenty of experience, a member of last year's team.

The Cardinal team now has to its credit victories over Michigan and Minnesota, and has lost to Chicago by a close margin. The Hawks also have a good team this year.

They have six of last year's men back, several of whom are conference champs. This season they have defeated Northwestern, Michigan, Minnesota and Nebraska.

ANNOUNCE FINAL
DOLPHIN TRYOUTSTomorrow Night is Last
Chance to Try For Swim
Club

The last opportunity for Wisconsin co-eds to be transformed into "dolphins" will be at the final tryout tomorrow night at eight o'clock in the Lathrop pool.

The requirements for membership include swimming 12 lengths of the pool with any stroke or any number of strokes, swimming two lengths in perfect form, doing three standard dives with an average of 90, swimming one of the following strokes two lengths in the maximum time: crawl, 36 seconds; trudgeon, 37 seconds; breast, 40; side, 38; or back stroke one length of the tank in 19 seconds.

The purpose of the Dolphin club is to stimulate an interest in swimming as a sport. Meetings are held every Thursday night at which time all members are expected to practice strokes for speed or form and perfect their diving.

Enthusiasm is displayed throughout the year not only through this weekly water sport but also in anticipation of the big bi-annual exhibitions put on exclusively by the Dolphin members for the faculty and entire student body.

LAST CHANCE FOR
TICKETS SATURDAYIowa and Northwestern Games on Card For the Last Series

The last chance to procure tickets for any conference basketball game this season will be offered at 9 o'clock Saturday morning. About 150 tickets for the Northwestern and Iowa games will be placed on sale at the gymnasium.

All tickets for the Ohio and Chicago games have already been sold, according to Paul F. Hunter, director of ticket sales, and it is expected those for the Northwestern and Iowa series will be sold before noon Saturday.

Purdue and Chicago still have a game, so that one of them is certain to lose and if the other loses one of its remaining games, which is not improbable, the season may end in a tie between Wisconsin, Purdue and Chicago, or between any two of them.

Never in the history of the Big Ten has the race for the title in basketball been so close and uncertain and every game is of the utmost importance. Iowa, the only team which Wisconsin has yet to meet in two games, is the only team in the Conference which has defeated both Chicago and Purdue this season.

As there are only about 150 tickets left for the Northwestern-Iowa series, series C, these will be no single admissions to any of the remaining games, according to present indications.

CZERWONKY OUT
TO BREAK RECORD
IN INDOOR MEETBadger Captain Will Try to Beat Record of Minnesota Star

Hugo Czerwonky, captain of the swimming team and national inter-collegiate breaststroke champion, will try to break the conference record in the breaststroke event when he meets Indiana's crack men in the dual meet to be held Saturday at Bloomington.

Faricy, former Gopher star, holds the record in this event with time of 2:38 4-5. Although Czerwonky was twice beaten in the event in dual meets in 1922 and 1923, he was only a few strokes behind Faricy. Czerwonky has been training steadily and has made unofficial time that nearly equals Faricy's mark.

Fat Boys Wanted

While Coach Steinauer is grooming the rest of his men nine swimmers in all, he has issued a call for fat boys to come to see him in the tank room and try out for the plunge event. Ineligibility of three good plunger leaves him with only Winchell, who is much too light to make good in the distance plunge.

Steinauer says that there are excellent opportunities for new men to make the team and go to Indiana if they can plunge.

Count on Stars

Czerwonky, Gerber, Bell, Frazier, Crane, Flueck, Simpkins, Koch and Kuehl are proven men and Steinauer counts on them for the bulk of points in the meet with the Suckers.

By careful diving and attention to details, Simpkins and Koch were able in the last meet to beat out Bird, the Gopher diver who took the championship in conference dives last year. These two, with Gerber, make a trio in the dives that are nearly unbeatable.

Hitting the High
Spots with Ken

Maybe our gym is old and antiquated, but approximately 3,500 different men used its facilities last year.

The enrollment of Joe Steinauer's swimming classes last semester totaled 250. Only 12 of them failed to learn how to swim, and they are still at it.

De Pauw handed Marquette a heavy defeat the other night on the basketball court. Score, 29 to 20.

Kei Elsom failed to score in the Illinois game. Somebody must have been watching him closely.

Coach Steinauer is holding time trials for his swimming squad Thursday to determine who will go to the Indiana meet.

An easy game to referee is water basketball. Everything seems to go but slugging.

Probably the biggest question in basketball today is whether to stall or not to stall when the score is close and the game almost over. There have been so many varying opinions on this question that this column would like to hear from anybody who has something to say about it.

Well, anyway, these false scores we hear once in a while give us a big kick for the time being if they are in our favor.

The bleachers at the hockey rink are gone. The hockey team played its last home game two weeks ago.

If it weren't for the state building code prohibiting it, 3,000 spectators could be admitted to basketball games, which is 650 more than are allowed at present. But who would want to be there then during one of those exciting finishes.

JONES WATCHING
FINAL WORKOUTS
FOR RELAY MENBadgers Will Enter in Nearly
All Events at Relay
Carnival

Final tryouts to determine which cinder path men will represent Wisconsin in the Illinois relay carnival, at Urbana, on Saturday, will be completed this afternoon in the gymnasium annex.

The first selections were made yesterday afternoon, after time trials had been held in several of the track events.

Between fifteen and twenty men will make the trip to Urbana, and the Badgers will participate in practically every event, including the four relay races and the all-around individual championships.

Record Last Year

In 1923, Captain Hammann won second place in the all-around events, while Donohue tied for second in the high jump, and Spetz finished fourth in the 75-yard dash.

Although the Cardinals did not win any of the relay races last year, they took second place in the two-mile relay, and finished third in the four-mile relay run.

While Illinois has a strong four-mile relay team, and Michigan has several runners of ability entered in the two-mile run, it is expected that either the Badger four-mile or medley team will make the best showing against the competition of other Big Ten universities. Iowa and Northwestern, however, have made good records in the one-mile relay race.

Wisconsin Faces Handicap

Wisconsin's tracksters will be handicapped again by the absence of several stars in the Illinois indoor games. N. V. Smith, sprinter, and Schmidt, pole vaulter, will be unable to make the trip to Urbana.

Hill, who injured his foot in the Iowa meet last Saturday, will not be in condition to participate. Tuhtar, high jumper and hurdler, is also ill and may be forced to remain out of the meet.

Although the final selections will not be made before Friday or Saturday morning, Coach T. E. Jones has entered the following men in the 14 events:

75 yard dash—McAndrews, McGivern, Stone, Hill.

75 yard low hurdles—McGivern, Stone, Muzzy.

75 yard high hurdles—Muzzy, Tuhtar, Classman.

High jump—Donohue, Tuhtar, Brown.

Broad jump—Muzzy, McGivern, McAndrews, Hammann.

Shot put—Limberg, Leo Harmon.

Pole Vault—Hammann, Jones, Schmidt.

300 yard run—McAndrews, Hill, 1,000 yard run—Valley, Hilberts, Schneider, Cassidy.

1500 meter run—Valley, Schneider, Bergstresser.

AN OPPORTUNITY

Much has been said about the independent being shut-out in the matter of sports and athletics. The superior advantages of the fraternity man over the other in obtaining training by belonging to the house team and taking part in inter-fraternity contests has given him an advantage over a non-fraternity man. Hence, unless the independent has the exceptional ability necessary to make the varsity squad, the chances are against him in competition. Up to the present time, the independent has been more or less of a longing onlooker upon student athletic sports.

This has been the case in the past, but it need not be the case any more. The independents have their opportunity to enter sports on a par with fraternity men and to have their inter-student contests. Under the guidance of George Berg, Director of Intra-Mural Athletics, basketball teams are being organized according to districts. This is a splendid idea and worthy of commendation and co-operation. This idea will serve as a nucleus for the formation of basketball teams and also for the formation of baseball and bowling teams. There is no need for the independent to be a longing onlooker any more. His opportunity has come to be an active participant and it is to be hoped that he will avail himself of it.

THE AGE OF JAZZ

In this "Age of Jazz," the older generation sits sadly at home and dolefully wonders what is to become of the younger generation. It reads endless accounts of young men and young women engaged in immoral practices, taking part in illicit liquor traffic, and law violations; it finds the newspapers filled with accounts of juvenile delinquency and juvenile crime in which children of the best families take part; it learns from good authority that the criminal of today is no longer an old, hardened, calloused man of the world, but the youth in his early twenties and that the prisons are becoming filled with such youths.

Then, when it has learned all this, the older generation bows its head in sorrow, sighs and groans dismally, and then in self-righteous indignation declares, "It was not so in my youth." But this is all that it does, and that is the reason why this "Age of Jazz" exists. That is why the judges of the juvenile courts declare, as did a certain judge in Madison the other day, "I simply do not know what is to be done about this ever-increasing number of juvenile criminals."

The fault lies not in youth itself, for the youth of today is neither better nor worse than the youth of yesterday or the day before. Youth is and always has been young, thoughtless, and irresponsible, without foresight for the future and judgment for today. The fault lies, instead, with the older generation which is shirking its duty toward its children. Parents who know that the children of the neighborhood are forming lawless gangs let their children run around the street at night with never a thought of their real duty. Mothers humor their daughters and yield to their whims when they should be testing the efficacy of a

Speaking of the average, children will be what they bad habits and the qualities of worthlessness and laziness in their sons through passive negligence in the applying of a good cedar shingle in the woodshed. If the older folks would utilize on-half of the energy that they spend bewailing the tendencies of modern youth in correcting their own children, there would be no cause for sighs and groans and doleful predictions.

Speaking of the average, children will be what they are reared to be, and if the youth of today has gone astray, the fact is a sad commentary upon the older generation. But even so, it does not mean that all is lost and that there is no need of doing anything about it. Quite on the other hand, a mere acceptance of individual responsibility is all that is needed to rectify matters.

THE PROBLEM SOLVED

A Harvard professor of English, in a recent examination given his class, permitted his students to bring all the textbooks and notes they desired for use during examination. The teacher stated that his examinations would be to determine the ability of his students to find things, to pass on their judgment, taste and power of selection.

From all reports, the casualties from that examination, in which students were allowed to "use the whole library" if they so desired, were as great as in the regular examination. But it may that the Harvard professor has solved both the examination question and the honor system controversy. The using of books, an unlimited number of books, during examinations would certainly be a great consolation to students, regardless of the benefit derived from these sources of information, and there could be no violations of the honor system. It sounds good, to say the least, and might be tried out on the conscientious objectors to examinations.—Daily Texan.

Higher Education in America
(By Recoil)

At last it was the coach's turn to speak. With a glance of disdain at the group of instructors in a back row, he advanced to the center of the stage. One of those instructors had reported the best man on his team for being drunk and abusive. Damn instructors, anyway, why couldn't they be reasonable about these matters. His best man!

"Ladies and gentlemen," he began. The words were lost. Oh, yes, they were still cheering him. Well, he had turned out a good team—certainly he had accomplished more for the school than one of those white-livered profs. The thought put him in good humor again. Smiling, he waved for silence. The audience leaned forward expectantly.

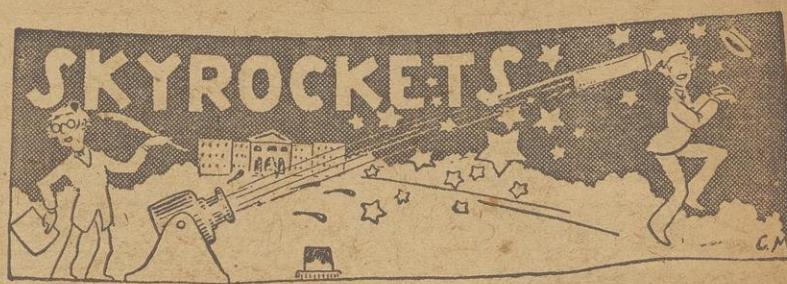

Once again he began—slowly, emphatically—"Ladies and gentlemen, they have asked me to talk about our plans for the future. I want to say right now that in all the schools I've been at, I never enjoyed working for one more than this one here. (Applause) Our team has defeated almost every school of importance on the schedule, and as gate receipts we have taken in more than $65,000. (Applause) But we must not be content to rest on our laurels. 'Forward' must be our motto. For this we ask your earnest co-operation. If any of you know of a really good athlete graduating from high school, no matter where the school is, let us know concerning him and we'll try to get him here. (Cheers).

"Try to do this before some other university grabs him off. At least give us a fighting chance to explain the advantages WE have to offer. What's more, we want boys that will stick. None of these human dialects floating around from school to school. So, you residents here drop the names of worthy boys in the boxes we have scattered about the campus, and you visiting alumni of our glorious Alma Mater, invite such boys home for dinner, talk up this school, and mail us the dope on 'em. It would also be a great idea to form clubs for this purpose; and chip in a little, and pay for scouts to search around the prep schools.

"In conclusion, ladies and gentlemen, I want to add that our team has meant a whole lot for this institution. It has kept the alumni interested; it has made us known in the newspapers; and it will mean bringing more good athletes to our glorious school. I thank you."

The cheering and applause lasted for so long that the presiding officer had difficulty in making the next speaker known. Finally he managed to be heard. "Friends," he said, "let me now introduce to you Prof. Nuday, who, to those who know him best, is an inspiration both out of class and in, and who after working fifteen years in our own laboratories has at last produced a cure for"—but the words were lost in the shuffle of those going out.

MILK TROUBLE IN MADISON ENDED

Differential Scale is Adopted as Warring Factions Agree

Madison's milk war will come to an end, for a year at least, Saturday afternoon.

On this day Madison milk distributors and members of the Madison Milk Producers' Association will sign contracts placing the wholesaling of the farmers' product on a butter fat basis. The contract is now being drawn up by Alvin C. Reis of the department of markets.

Settlement of the trouble between distributor and producer came at a meeting of the two factions in the department of markets Monday afternoon when it was decided to change the differential basis from a permanent figure of 75 cents per hundred pounds to a different figure every month.

By varying the differential each month in accordance with production, it is expected that the surplus problem which has long confronted the distributor will have been solved and that the farmer who has long complained of unfair prices during the lean production months will have been given fair compensation for his product.

A definite differential scale was decided upon by the milkmen.

It follows:

January	70c
February	70c
March	65c
April	60c
May	55c
June	55c
July	70c
August	85c
September	95c
October	95c
November	95c
December	85c

During the months of September, October, November and December, when production is very low, farmers have been unable to get a price which would compensate them for their efforts, officers of the producers' association declare. Under the new plan the differential will increase during these months, and accordingly during the heavy production months of May and June, the differential will be decreased.

Department of market officials, who with Prof. B. H. Hibbard, and Prof. Theodore Macklin, met with the distributors and farmers' representatives Monday afternoon, declared that under the new plan both the farmer and distributor, as well as the consuming public will be protected for at least another year, the length of the contract.

In purchasing milk from farmers as provided in their terms of the new contract, the distributor will take the current Chicago butter prices as a starting point. Distributors and farmers have agreed that it shall be taken for granted that each hundred pounds of raw milk sold by the farmers contain three and a half pounds of butterfat. If the Chicago market gives a butter quotation of 50 cents a pound, the farmer will be paid three and a half times 50 cents, or $1.75, plus the differential of that month. If the differential figure for that month is 95 cents as it is in November, the farmer will receive a total price of $2.60 for each hundred pounds of milk.

"Lady Admiral of the Fleet" Who Commands 300 Sailorettes

The modern ocean liner is a wonder ship, a combination of a home, sweet home and the most luxurious club in the world, with hundreds of sailors and sailorettes to minister to the traveler's comfort. While the captain, staff captain and other officers are the most important personages, the sailors of the gentler sex are much in evidence and very useful. Mrs. Ethel Andrews, now on a cruise to the Mediterranean on the Empress of Scotland, is not only social director of that big ship but is in command of the 300 women who serve in various capacities on the Canadian Pacific Railway's Atlantic ships. She is young and pretty with a fresh Scotch complexion and golden hair, two curls of which cluster about her ears. She selects and supervises all of the 300 women and even designed the attractive uniforms they wear, some with brass buttons on their waists and all with neat lettering on their shoulders stating that they are conductresses, stenographers, stewards, bookstall attendants, etc.

They look very smart in their distinctive uniforms and Mrs. Andrews is proud of them. A conductress, for example, looks after and safeguards unattended women and children on all of the company ships. A bookstall attendant wears a blue uniform with brass buttons on the waist. When the Empress of Canada left New York recently on a voyage around the world, she was the first Canadian vessel to commence such a trip with a regular book store and experienced attendants as part of her equipment. She carried, also, a well equipped free library and the globe girders have 1,000 volumes, many of them on travel, at their service so that they can become well posted concerning a country before the ship reaches it. The books on travel were selected from an interesting list compiled by Fanny Butcher, literary editor of the Chicago Tribune. This list has been published by the Canadian Pacific in a brochure entitled "Ports of a Thousand Romances." Canadian authors have been given due prominence in this floating library and the world's "best sellers," modern and ancient, are touring that world on its shelves.

Miss Myra, herself, is delightful and a pretty dancer—the only artist on the stage today who can execute a very happily arranged acrobatic dance and play the violin simultaneously. She remained off the stage an entire year practicing for this one act. She is a New York girl and at the conclusion of her present engagement will appear in a New Wayburn New York production. LeRoy Smeek, banjoist, who is appearing with the act is recording for the Vocalion records.

DEAN REPORTS ON HOUSE INSPECTION

Thirty-five Fraternities and Sororities Given Grade of A

With twenty-one fraternities and fourteen sororities receiving a grade of A, the inspection of houses carried on by a committee was pronounced most successful by S. H. Goodnight, dean of men.

"Twenty-eight fraternities and eight sororities were put in class B not because they were not well taken care of, but rather because they were handicapped in not having a comparatively new house built for fraternity or sorority use," Dean Goodnight said.

"Two fraternities were put under the classification of C mainly because of the general disorder and poor housekeeping. The kitchens of these two houses were declared to be orderly."

By a vote of the university regents, the Dean of Men's office is required to make an annual inspection of the fraternity and sorority houses of the university and to report the findings. The inspection and the form of the report have varied somewhat from year to year in order to emphasize different phases of the problem.

This year, the inspection took into consideration cleanliness, orderliness, state of repair of house and furniture, and general conditions affecting health and comfort.

Train Crew Gets Jungle Thrill as Lions Break Out

PORTAGE—Milwaukee road railway employees on train No. 54 experienced the thrills of an East India Lion hunt here one day last week. The train was taking three young lions from the West to the municipal zoo in St. Louis.

When the train stopped here commotion in the car in which the lions were caged led trainmen to investigate. They found that the lions had broken out of their cage and were roaming around the express car.

Attempts to put the animals back into the cage proved fruitless and the men scurried out of the car and locked the doors. No express was unloaded from the car until the train reached Milwaukee and the animals were forced into their cage again.

20 STUDENTS FORM LA FOLLETTE CLUB

Comings and Platt Speak to New Organization; Two Faculty Members

Twenty university students, with a sprinkling from the faculty, met at the offices of Lieut.-Gov. Comings last night to take preliminary steps to form a La Follette-Comings Club.

Chester C. Platt gave a short talk on the various new party movements, reviewing the activities of the committee of Forty-Eight, the Farmer-Labor party of 1920, which nominated Parley P. Christensen, the Farmer-Labor party of Minnesota, which has elected two United States senators, and the Conference for Progressive Political Action, which met recently at St. Louis.

The lieutenant governor spoke on progressive political movements of the past, recounting the organization of the Republican party, which had its beginnings in Wisconsin.

R. E. Axley spoke on the need for a new party as indicated by the fact that in both Republican and Democratic parties we find extreme conservatives and also radicals. Other speakers were William Blake, Herbert Helble and S. A. Garlin.

A dinner will be held at Lathrop hall on Tuesday evening, Mar. 11, at which the organization of the club will be completed. Harold Tacki was made chairman of the committee on plan of organization, and George Oliver was made chairman of the committee to nominate officers.
