V.-ORGANIZATION.

The Assembly convenes at $120^{\circ}$ clock, M., on the second Wednesday in January in each year.

Custom, so prevalent and so ancient as to have the force of law, has made it the duty of the Chief Clerk of the previous Assembly to call to order, and to conduct the proceedings generally, until a Speaker is chosen, unless it happens that the Clerk is politically opposed to the majority of the Assembly, when, sometimes, a Speaker pro tempore, is selected, in which case the Clerk acts only as Clerk until his successor is elected.
The Secretary of State furnishes to the Clerk a certified statement of the names of the members elect, which is read. The members then advance to the Clerk's desk, generally, the delegation of each county by itself, and subscribe the oath of office.

It often happens, that, by neglect of the proper county officer, the election of members is not certified to the Secretary of State. In such case, the certificate held by the member himself, should be produced to the Clerk. This answers every purpose, and should always be secured by members elect, from the Clerk of their County.

The oath of office is then administered to the members elect. It may be administered by the Speaker, the President of the Senate, the Governor, Secretary of State, Attorney General, or any of the Judges of the Supreme Court. It has been administered in this State, usually, by one of the Judges. Members coming in after the first day of the session are sworn in by the Speaker.
After all are sworn, the roll is called, when, if a quorum is found present, the Clerk declares the House to be qualified and competent to proceed to business.
If the parties in the Assembly have determined their choice for officers, the election proceeds forthwith; if not, an adjournment is had until the next day.
The election for Speaker, Clerk, and Sergeant-at-Arms, is required to be by viva voce, and these are the only offices which the Assembly can fill.
The roll is called. and each member announces audibly the name of the candidate of his choice.
The Cierk amnounces the result, and names a committee to conduct the Speaker elect to the chair; he acknowledges the honor in a short speech; and the other elections proceed in the same manner, except that when the result is announced by the Speaker, the officer elect advances to the Clerk's desk and is sworn in by the Speaker.
A committee is then appointed to wait on the Senate, and inform them that the Assembly is organized ; or the Clerk is directed, by resolution, to inform them of that fact.
A Joint Committee of both Houses is then appointed to convey a like message to the Governor, and inform him that the Houses are in readiness to receive any communication from him.
The Senate and Assembly have usu:llly assembled in Joint Convention, in the Assembly Chamber, upon some day and hour suggested by the Governor, during the first week of the session, to hear his annual message.
The message has been read sometimes by the Governor himself, sometimes by his Private Secretary, and sometimes by the Clerk of one of the Houses.

At the first opportunity after the hearing of the message, it is considered in Committee of the Whole, and the various recommendations therein contained, are referred to appropriate Standing Committees, or to Select Committees.

Standing Committees are appointed by the Speaker at as early a day in the session as is possible. They consist of five members to each committee, except that on Railroads, which consists of nine members, and the Joint Standing Committee on Printing, which consists of three, and the Joint Standing Committee for Investigation, which consists of two members.

VI.-DRAWING OF SEATS.

The drawing for seats by lot, has been observed since the Assembly first took possession of the new Assembly Chamber.

The method heretofore pursued is as follows:

The members leave their seats, and take places in the open area behind the seats.

The Clerk having placed in a box slips of paper containing the names of members respectively, a page or messenger draws them therefrom.
The Clerk announces each name as it is drawn, and the member named selects his seat, and occupies it until the drawing is completed.

It is suggested, that it would be better if the members would withdraw to the lobby, instead of the area, and if members were compelled to occupy the seats chosen by them, until the drawing is completed.

VII.-COMPENSATION.

"Each member of the Legislature shall receive for his services, two dollars and fifty cents for each day's attendance during the session, and ten cents for every mile he shall travel in going to and returning from the place of the meeting of the Legislature, on the most usual route."-Con., Art. 4, Sec. 21
"The Speaker of the Assembly shall be entitled to receive for every day's attendance during the session of the Assembly, two dollars and fifty cents in addition to his per diem as a member of the Assembly." $-R, S$., Page 120, Sec. 10.

It is customary to pay the mileage of members both ways, at the commencement of the session, upon the certificate of the Speaker and Clerk, as to the proper sum to which each member is entitled.

During the sessions of 1858 and 1859 , members received their per diem certificates from the Clerk, every ten days. Whis course was found preferable, on many accounts, to the former method of drawing certificates only when demanded by members, and it is recommended for future observance.

During the sessions of 1854,1855 and 1856, the compensation of the Chief Clerk was $$ 1,600$, out of which he was required to pay the entire clerical force, and index the journals.

Since that time the Clerks have received a per diem as follows :

| Clerks. | 1857. | 1858. | 1859. |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
| Chief Clerk, .. | $600 | $6 00 | $5 0) |
| Ass't Clerk, . | 500 | 500 | 400 |
| Other Clerks,.. | 400 | 400 | 300 |

In addition to duties during the session, the Chief Clerk is required to perform various duties after the adjournment, and previous to the commencement of Assembly, for the first of which $$ 200$ to $$ 300$ Las, of late years, been the usual appropriation, and for the other duties, $$ 50$ or $$ 75$ has been the customary allowance.

The following Table will show the Officers employed in the Department of the Sergeant-at-Arms, and their rates of compensation per diem, for the last five years:

Extra compensation is sometimes granted by the Legislature to such officers as have periformed unusually arduous duties.

The compensation for officers of the session of 1860, has not yet been determined.

VIII.-DCTIES OF OFFICERS.

Chitef Clerif.-This officer, before entering upon his duties, must take the usual oath of office, and execute a bond, running to the Treasurer of the State of Wisconsin, in the penal sum of ten thousand dollars, with two sureties, who 3 shall severally testify that they are worth the sum of five thousand dollars, over and above all debts and liabilities; and conditioned that he shall honestly and fiithfully perform all the duties required by Chapter 110 of the Session Laws of 18厄3, or any other law of the State relating to said office, without fraud or delay.

The bond must be approved by the Speaker, and filed in the office of the Secretary of State.

It is his duty to prepare and furnish to the Public Printer, an accurate record of each day's proceedings, and a copy of every bill, report and other thing ordered to be printed, " on the same day such orders are made"; to officiate in person at the reading desk; to keep the pay accounts of members and officers, and issue his certificates of per diem to them ; to deliver the messages of the Assembly to the Senate ; to sign subpœenas; he can "permit no records nor papers belonging to the Assembly to be taken out of his custody, otherwise than in the regular course of business;" and "shall report any missing papers to the notice of the Speaker ;" and generally, under the supervision of the Speaker, manage the internal machinery of the Assembly.

It is his duty to prepare an index to the Journal at the close of the session, and to be present at the opening of the next session, and attend to such preliminary business as may be necessary, and conduct the proceedings therein until a Speaker is elected, and perform the duties of Clerk thereof until his successor is chosen and qualified.

It is his duty within ten days after the close of each session, to furnish to the State Printer a correct copy of the Journal of the Assembly, together with a copy of all reports made to the Assembly.

He is by law responsible for the conduct of his subordinates, for the safe keeping of all bills and other documents in possession of the Assembly, and for the proper registry of all proceedings; and is required, at the close of the session, to deposit all papers in his possession as Chief Clerk, properly classified and labelled, with the Secretary of State.

He must systematize the labor of his department, and carefully arrange and classify the business of the House.

The Assistant Clerk-Is the Deputy of the Chief Clerk, performing his duties when absent from illness or any other cause, and usually charged specially with the keeping of the books, or the making up of the Journal.

The Transcribing Clerk.-Copies the record of the proceedings of the Assembly into a book prepared for that purpose.

The Engrossing Clerk.-Copies all bills of the Assembly which are passed to a third reading. This rule, however, is not always strictly adhered to. The object of engrossment is mainly to ensure the proper placing and security of amendments adopted on the second reading. In cases, therefore, where a bill is legibly written, and passes to a third reading without amendment, it is unnecessary to have it engrossed.

The Enrolling Clerk.-Is charged with the duty of making clear, legible copies of all Assembly bills which are concurred in by the Senate. The enrolling is done upon paper procured for that purpose, of uniform size and appearance, and with sufficient margin to allow of binding for preservation.

In addition to these duties, the several clerks are to make themselves useful in any branch of the clerical department, under direction of the Chief Clerk, whenever it becomes necessary, and they are in all cases to notify him of any interference by members or others with their duties, and of all improper approaches or requests to them by any person. They are not to exhibit to any person any bill or other document in their official possession, without leave of the Chief Clerk. They are to maintain a courteous and gentlemanly demeanor to all, and are not, under any circumstances, to interfere with legislation.

Sergeant-at-Arms.-This officer is the executive officer of the House. He has charge of the post office and other appurtenant conveniences of the Assembly. He receives and receipts for all printed matter ordered by the Assembly. He controls the police regulations, attends to the warming of the chamber, serves the subpenas and warrants of the As. sembly, announces messages from the Governor and from the Senate, receives from the Superintendent of Public Property all public documents ordered, or coming in due course, and distributes the same through the post office or otherwise, to members and officers entitled thereto. He is to organize his department with such system, that each of his subordinates shall know his precise duties, and he is to see that each performs his duty promptly, thoroughly and courteously. He is required to keep the Assembly open from 8 o'clock, A. M., to 10 ${ }^{0}$ 'clock, P. M.

He should have the printed bills and other documents in his possession so classified and arranged that he can at once answer any call upon him for them. His assistant assists him generally in the discharge of his duties, and takes his place when he is absent.

The Postmaster. - Attends to the receipt and delivery of all mail matter coming to members and officers of the Assembly Each member has a box in the Assembly post office, in which his mail matter is deposited; and the Postmaster must, by himself or assistant, be at his post from 8 o'clock, A. M., until 10 o' clock, P. M., and until the adjournment of the Assembly for the day. He receives and forwards all mail matter deposited in his office by members or officers, in time to be mailed from the Madison post office. He is to prominently post in the Cloak and Hat room (which is the members' side of the post office) a notice of the hours of closing the Assembly mails. He is entitled to the exclusive use of the post office, and no one ought to be admitted thereto except the Sergeant-at-Arms and the Speaker.

The Assistant Postmaster.Brings the mail to and from the Madison post office, and assists the Postmaster generally in his duties.

The Doorkeeper.-Attends at the door: opens and closes it for the entry or exit of all persons ; maintains order in the loriby and vestibule; sees that visitors are seated, and that the regulations of the House, in his department, are strictly enforced. For the proper discharge of this office, both patience, courtesy and firmness are required.

The Assistant Doorkeepers.Each at their respective stations, are to discharge the same duties as the principal Doorkeeper.

They must be in attendance as well during the recesses as the sessions of the Assembly, to keep out intruders, and maintain order.

The Firemen. - Attend to the warming and ventilation of the Assembly Chamber, and, under direction of the Sergeant-at-Arms, make themselres generally useful.
The Postmasters, Doorkeepers and Firemen are appointed by the Ser-geant-at-Arms, and are responsible to him. He is to see that they perform their duties faithfully.

The Messengers.-Are appointted by the Speaker. They must be present during every session, and two of them, in rotation, must be in attendance from 8 o'clock, A. M., until 10 o' clock, P. M. every day, whether the Assembly is in session or not. They have a certain number of members each, whose wants they are to attend to. They receive the Journal and printed bills from the Sergeant-at-Arms, and arrange them in order on the file of each member. They are not at liberty to leave the Assembly Chamber during the morning hour, except upon leave of the Speaker or Clerk. They.
will bring all bills, resolutions, &c., from the several members to the Clerk, when presented; they will fold newspapers, run on errands, and make themselves generally useful.

IX.-STATIONERY.

The Superintendent of Public Property furnishes to each member of the Assembly, and to the Chief Clerk and Sergeant-at-Arms, an uniform outfit of stationery, comprising foolscap, letter and note paper, envelopes, a gold pen and case, a pocket pencil, a good pen holder, and several pen-holders, a box of steel pens, an inkstand, a mucilage bottle, an eraser, a pocket knife, a ruler, &c., &c., for which a receipt must be given.

Whatever else a member or officer desires, must be ordered, in writing, of the Superintendent, who charges the order to the person making it and reports the same, when required, either to the Governor or Legislature. But, under the law of 1859, no member can order more stationery than will amount to $$ 15$.

X.-NEWSPAPERS.

Each Assembly provides newspapers in such quantity as is deemed desirable. They are ordered by resolution. At the Sessions of 1858 and 1859, newspapers were ordered for members and principal officers, at the rate of seven dailies or fortynine weeklies, for each one. The order of each member was filed with the clerk in the following form:

"To the Clerk of the Assembly:

"I have ordered the following newspapers: Madison State Journal, Daily, one copy,.. 7 Milwaukee Sentinel,......do...two..do.... 14 Argus & Democrat,.......do...one copy,.. 7 Patriot,....................do....do..do.... 7 New York Tribune, Tri-Weekly,do..do ... 3 Washington Union,..Weekly, .do..do.... 1

Newspapers published out of the state are obtained of the news-dealers in Madison, who, as well as publishers in the state, present their accounts to the Secretary of State, who audits them, under a law authorizing such auditing, which is always passed when newspapers are so ordered by the Assembly.

XI.-PUBLIC.D0CUMENTS.

The Superintendent distributes |by the State, to each member and through the Assembly Postmaster, two or three copies of all reports and other public documents printed officer. If any member desires more copies, they can be had by application to the Superintendent.

XII.-POST OFFICE ARRANGETIENTS.

The Assembly post office is in charge of a Postmaster appointed by the Sergeant-at-Arms. Each member has a separate box; and all mail matter deposited with the postmaster is sent to the Madison Post Office by the Post Office Messenger, at regular hours, corresponding with the hours of closing the mails at the Madison office.
It is the custom for members to prepay all their mail matter, with postage stamps, which the Assembly orders, from time to time, by resolution, from the Superintendent.

XIII.-PROCESS OF PASSING BILLS.

Some diversity of practice exists herein, but the ordinary method in the Assembly is as follows:

A member having prepared a bill and endorsed the title thereof, together with his name, upon the back of it, rises to his feet, at such time as the introduction of bills is in order, and says:
"Mr. Speaker:"
If recognized, the Speaker responds:
"The gentlemar from _-"

The member announces :
"I ask leave to introduce a bill."

The bill is then sent to the Chief Clerk by a messenger. The Clerk then reads the title of the bill, and the Speaker announces:
"First reading of the bill."
If no obiection is made, the Clerk reads the bill at length, if it is a bill appropriating money; if not, by its title only; when the Speaker announces:
"Second reading of the bill."
And refers the same to some standing committec, suggested by the member, or, if desired, to a select committee. or to the general file; or, as is usual, the Speaker, of his own motion, makes the reference to such committee as seems to him appropriate.
The bill is, in due course, reported back to the Assembly, by the committee, when it is placed in what is called the general file.

Bills in the general file are considered in committee of the whole in the exact order in which they are placed upon the file. Proceedings in committee of the whole will be elsewhere considered.

After the committee of the whole has completed its action upon any bill, and reported the same back to the assembly, and any recommendations made by the committee passed upon, it is taken up in its order, when the Speaker puts the following question:
"Shall this bill be engrossed, and read a third time?"
If decided affirmatively, the bill is sent by the Chief Clerk to the Engrossing Clerk, for engrossment.Upon its return, engrossed, the original and engrossed bills are placed in the hands of the committee on engrossed bills, who compare them, and correct any errors which they may find. When fcund correct, or made so, the committee report them to the House, as correctly engrossed, when the original is filed by the Chief Clerk, and the engrossed bill goes into the order of "Bills ready for a third reading.:"

When under that order of business, the bill is reached, the bill (unless it appropriates money) is read by its title, when the Speaker says as follows:

> "This bill having been read three several times, the question is, shall the bill pass?"

If the bill passes, it is taken to the Senate, with a message announcing its passage by the Assembly, and desiring the concurrence of the Senate therein.

Going through with a similar process in the Senate, it is returned with a message announcing, their action upon it.

If the Senate concurs, the bill is sent to the Enrolling Clerk, who makes a fair cony thereof, as is elsewhere described. When enrolled, it goes to the Committee on Enrolled Bills, who compare it with the engrossed bill; when found or made correct, they report both to the Assembly as correctly enrolled; the engrossed bill is filed by the Chief Clerk; the enrolled bill is then endorsed by the Chief Clerk as having originated in the Assembly, (for the information of the Governor, in case he vetoes it,) then it is signed by the Speaker, and taken with a message to the Senate, desiring the signature of the President of the Senate thereto. The committees on enrolled bills of the two houses, acting jointly, then present the bill, duly signed, to the Governor, for his approval, and report that fact to the House. The Governor, if he approves the bill, informs the House in which it originated, of that fact, and that he has deposited it with the Secretary of State.

This is the ordinary process of a bill through all its stages, until it becomes a law. A bill of great interest or importance, or one which is warmly contested, may, by reason of majority and minority reports, special orders, re-commitments, amendments, substitutes, committees of conference, and various other parliamentary appliances, pass through a vast variety of stages not before enumerated.
Senate bills, coming into the Assembly after passing the Senate, are read twice, by title, (unless they appropriate money, when they must be read at length,) and go at once into the general file.

After consideration in Committee of the Whole, the recommendation of the Committee is acted upon in the Assembly-the question being, after recommendations are disposed of,
"Shall this bill be ordered to a third reading"
If this is decided affirmatively, th bill passes into the order of "Bills on third reading;" and when reached in that order, the question is,

"Shall this bill be concurred in?"

If concurred in, the bill is returned to the Serate, with a message, informing it of that fact.

If it is desired to hasten the passage of the bill, it is done by motion, as follows:
"I move to suspend all rules which will interfere with the immediate passage of Bill No. ——, Assembly, entitled "A bill for an Act to ———"
If this motion prevails, which requires an affirmative vote of twothirds of the members present, the member who desires the immediate passage of the bill may at once move that the bill do pass; and if passed, it may go at once to the Senate.

XIV.-COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE.

The Committee of the Whole is an expedient to simplify the business of the Assembly. No record is made of its proceedings, and it has no officers, except of its own creation for temporary purposes. It is liable to instant dissolution in case of disorder, when the Speaker takes the chair to suppress it,-in case of lack of a quorum - when the Speaker takes the chair for a call of the house or an adjournment-and in case of a message from the Senate or Governor, when the Speaker takes the chair to reccive it.

The House may resolre itself into a Committee of the Whole, upon some particular bill, resolution or subject, or it may go into Committee of the Whole upon the Gencral File of bills. In the first case, the motion is,
"That the Assembly do now resolve itself into a Committee of the Whole upon [Bill No. -, A., a bill for an act -_] or, [Joint Resolution No, -, A., providing ——, 心c., ] or, [upon all bills relating to ———] as the case may be."

In the second case it is,
"That the Assembly do now resolve itself into a Committee of the Whole upon the General File of bills."

Bills, resolutions, and general matters which hare been once considered in Committee of the Whole, and in which progress has been made and leare granted for further consideration, have the preference. The motion for the Committee of the Whole for their further consideration must be made under the head of "Bills in which the Committee of the Whole has made progress and obtained leave to sit again."

The motion for the Committee of the Whole upon the General File, must be made under the order of "Bills not yet considered in Committee of the Whole.ir

When the Assembly resolves itself into a Commitiee of the Whole, the Speaker selects a Chairman, as follows:
"The gentioman from ——, Mr. will take the Char."

The appointed Chairman adrances to the Speaker's Desk, and having taken the chair, receives from the Cler'k the papers indicated by the motion for the committee, when the Chairman announces,
"Gentlemen :-The committee have under consideration Bill No. -, A., entitled -, (reading the title from the back of the bull.) Or, in case of consideration of the General File, (The committee have under consideration the General File of bills: the first in ortior is Bill No. -, A., entitled ( Tl .)
"The first section is as follows :

The Chairman then reads the first section, and asks-
"Are there any amendments proposed to the first section?"

If none are offered, the Chairman says:
" No amendments being offered to the first section, the second section will be read."

This process is continued through the whole bill, when, at close of the reading, the Chairman says:
"The -th section and the whole bill have now been read, and are open to amendment."

At this point, after the friends of the bill have perfected it, it is customary for the opponents of the bill to open their attack.

After the discussion of the bill, to such an extent as may be desiredthe final vote is generally upon a motion
"That the bill be reported back to the House, with a recommendation that it do pass."

If any other bills are before the Committee they are proceeded with in the same manner. If it is desired to have further consideration of any matter before the committee, or if the General File has not been gone through with, the motion is,
"That the committee rise, report progress, and ask leave to sit again."

If the committee has completed its duties, the motion is,
"That the committee rise, and report."
Which, being analagous to a motion to adjourn, is not debateable.

The Chairman states the motion as follows:
"It is moved that the committee do now rise and report [or otherwise, as the case may be."]
"Is the committee ready for the question?
"Gentlemen:-Those who are of opinion that this committee do now [rise and report,] say Aye; those of a contrary opinion, say No."

In case of doubt, a division must be hal, as the ayes and noes cannot be called in Committee of the Whole.

When the committee rises, the Speaker resumes his seat, and the Chairman, in his place on the floor, reports as follows:
"Mr. Speaker."
The Speaker answers,
"Mr, Chairman."
Who reports-
"The Committee of the Whole have had under consideration Bill No. -, A,, entitled ——, and have instructed me to report the same to the House, with the recommendation that it do pass, [or, as the case may be.]

When the General File has been under consideration, the report is as follows:
"The Committee of the Whole have had under consideration the General File of bills, and gone through the same, and have directed me to report to the House the bills contained therein, with sundry amendments and recommendations, as follows, to wit:" [Here follow the titles of bills considered, with the action taken upon them.]

In case the File has been left unfinished, the report is-
"The Committee of the Whole have had under consideration the General File of bills, and have made some progress therein. I am directed to report back the following bills, with the amendments and recommendations hereinafter specified, and ask leave for the committee to sit again." [Here follows the report of amendments, &c., as above.]

On the latter report, the question is-
"Shall leave be granted?"
When, upon a count, it is ascertained that a quorum is not present, the report is,
"The Committee of the Whole have had under consideration $\longrightarrow$, and after some progress therein, find that there is no quorum present : that fact I herewith report to you."

In case of confusion or disorder, the Speaker, of his own accord, resumes the chair temporarily, and without any formality, for the purpose of suppressing it. When order is restored, the Chairman resumes the chair and the business proceeds.

Upon the coming in of a report, the recommendations are at once acted on by the Assembly.

When, in Committee of the Whole, any member desires to offer an amendment, it must be reduced to writing and sent to the Chairman, who reads it, and asks-
"Is the committee ready for the question upon the amendment?"

And, if no further amendment or debate offer, he puts the question in the usual manner.

After a section is once passed. with an unsuccessful effort to amend it, no further amendments are in order. The strictness of this rule is, however, not always adhered to-an amendment once made, may, however, be reconsidered. Such motion is-"That the amendment offered by the gentleman from ,_, to the -th section, be reconsidered;"

And is stated as follows:
"The gentleman from ___ mores that the amendment of the gentleman from to the -th section, be reconsidered.
"Is the committee ready for the question?
"Those who are of opinion that said amendment be reconsidered, say Aye ; those of a contrary opinion, say No."

In case the amendment is reconsidered, the Speaker says:
"The motion is carried. The amendment is reconsidered. The question now recurs upon the adoption of the amendment. Is the committee ready for the question:" $&$ c.

XVI.-INVESTIGATIONS.

When an investigation is required into any matter, the person most interested in having the inquiry made, should move the appointment of a committee to take the subject in charge. This is done by resorution. The resolution should be so drawn as to state the precise suhject to be investigated, and to give the committee all the power which the mover may deem necessary to a thorough examination into the subject matter to be laid before them; this should be done to prevent any misapprehension as to the intention and extent of the inquiry to be made. In case of the adoption of the resolution, the mover, together with other members, will be appointed a committee. They have power to send for persons and papers. The form of a subpoena is as follews:

A resolution declaring the defaulter to be in contempt, is the next proceeding.

The following form for such resolution was used at the session of 1858:

> "Resolved, That the neglect or failure of committee, composed of Messrs. ## XXV.-RULES AND ORDERS OF ASSENIBLY.

1. The Assembly shall choose, viva voce, one of their own number to occupy the chair. He shall be styled Speaker of Assembly. He shall hold his office during one session of the Assembly. He shall take the chair at the hour to which the House is adjourned, and call the members to order ; and if a quorum be present, he shall direct the minutes of the preceding day to be read, and mistakes, if any, corrected. He shall preserve order and decorum, and shall decide questions of order, subject to an appeal to the House. In committee of the whole, he shall call some member to the chair, and may debate any question before the committee; in the House he may also call a member to the chair ; but such a substitution shall not extend beyond an adjournment. He shall, unless otherwise directed by the House, appoint all committees. He shall vote on a call of yeas and nays. In the absence of the Speaker, the House shall elect a Speaker pro tem., whose office shall cease on the return of the Speaker.
2. Any fifteen members may make a call of the House, and require absent members to be sent for; but a call of the House cannot be made after the voting has commenced; and the call of the House being ordered, and the absentees noted, the doors shall be closed, and no member permitted to leave the room, until the report of the Sergeant-at-Arms be received and acted upon, or further proceedings in the call dispensed with by a majority of the members elect.
3. All questions shall be put in this form: "Those who are of opinion (as the case may be,) say aye. Those of contrary opinion, say no.". And in doubtful cases, any member may call for a division.
4. When the motion is made, it shall be stated by the Speaker, or read by the Clerk, previous to debate. If any member require it, all motions (except to adjourn, postpone, or commit, ) shall be reduced to writing. Any motion may be withdrawn, by consent of the House, before division or amendment.
5. Every member present, when a question is put, or when his name is called, shall vote, unless the House shall, for special cause, excuse him; but it shall not be in order for a member to be excused after the House has commenced voting.
6. A motion to adjourn shall always be in order, except when the House is voting. A motion to adjourn, to lie on the table, and a call for the previous question, shall be decided without debate.
7. When any member is about to speak in debate, or deliver any matter to the House, he shall arise from his, seat, and respectfully address himself to "Mr. Speaker," and shall confine himself to the question under debate, and avoid personality.
8. When any two or more members shall arise at the same time, the Speaker shall name the member who is first to speak.
9. While the Speaker is addressing the House, or putting a question, no member shall cross the floor, or leave the House; nor while a member is speaking, walk between him and the chair.
10. No member shall speak except in his place, or more than twice on any question, except on leave of the House.
11. When a question is under debate, no motion shall be received, unless to adjourn; to lie on the table; for the previous question; to postpone to a day certain; to commit ; to amend, or to postpone indefinitely; and these several motions shall have precedence in the order in which they stand arranged. A motion to postpone to a day certain, to commit, or to postpone indefinitely, being decided, shall not be again allowed on the same day, and at the same stage of the bill or proposition. A motion to strike out the enacting words of a bill, shall have precedence of a motion to amend, and, if carried, shall be equivalent to the rejection of the bill.
12. The previous question shall be in this form: "Shall the main question be now put?" It shall only be admitted when demanded by a majority of the members present, and its effect shall be to put an end to all debate, and bring the House to a direct vote upon the pending amendments, and then upon the main question. On a motion for the previous question, and prior to the seconding of the same, one call of the House shall be in order ; but after proceedings under such call has been once dispensed with, or after a majority shall have seconded such motion, no call shall be in order prior to a decision of the main question.
13. Any member may call for a division of the main question, when the same will admit thereof.
14. No committee shall absent themselves by reason of their appointment, during the sitting of the House, without especial leave, except a committee of conference.
15. Every bill shall be introduced by motion for leave, or by order of the House on a report of the committee.
16. Every bill shall receive three several readings previous to its passage, but no bill shall reccive its second and third readings on the same day.
17. The first reading of the bill shall be for information, and if objections be made to it, the question shall be, "Shall the bill be rejected ?" If no objections be made, or the question to reject be lost, the bill shall go to its second reading without further question.
18. All bills, resolutions, memorials, &c., requiring the approval of the Governor, shall, after the second reading, be considered by the House in committee of the whole, before they shall be taken up and considered by the Assembly. The final question upon the second reading of every bill or other paper originating in the Assembly, and requiring three readings previous to being passed, shall be, " Shall it be engrossed and read the third time ?" and upon every such bill or paper originating in the Senate, "Shall it be read a third time ?" No bill or resolution that requires three readings, shall be committed or amended until it shall be twice read ; and all joint resolutions which will require the signature of the Governor, shall take the same course as to their reading, as in the case of bills, unless otherwise ordered by the House. And every bill and resolution ordered to be engrossed and read a third time, shall be re-written in a plain hand, with all amendments, before being read a third time, except as is provided for in Rule 48.
19. Amendments made in the committee of the whole, shall not be read by the Speaker on his resuming the chair, unless required by one or more of the members.
20. On the third reading of a bill or resolution, no amendment, except to fill blanks, shall be received, except by the unanimous consent of the members present.
21. A bill or a resolution may be re-committed at any time previous to its passage; if any amendment be reported upon such commitment, the question shall be upon concurring in the amendment, and the question for its engrossment and third reading may then be put.
22. In filling blanks, the largest sum and longest time shall first be put; and when the House is equally divided, in such case, the question shall be lost.
23. On Fridays and Saturdays of each week, bills and resolutions which do not elicit debate, shall be considered in their order on the calendar of business in preference to all other business, and this rule shall govern the order of business when the House is in committee of the whole.
24. When a motion or question has been once made and carried, in the affirmative or negative, it shall always be in order for any member of the majority, or where the House is equally divided, for any member who voted in the negative; to move for a re-consideration thereof, on the same or succeeding day. A motion to re-consider being put and lost, shall not be renewed.
25. All acts, addresses and resolutions, shall be signed by the Speaker ; and all writs, warrants and subpoenas issued by order cf the House, shall be under his hand and seal, and attested by the Clerk.
26. Petitions, memorials, communications, and other papers, addressed to the Assembly, shall be presented by a member in his place ; a brief statement of the contents thereof shall be made verbally, and endorsed thereon, together with his name, by the member introducing the same. They shall not be debated, decided, or spread upon the journal on the day of their being first read, unless where the House shall direct otherwise ; but shall lie on the table, (to be taken up in the order they were read), or referred, on motion, to a committee.
27. It shall be in order for the committee on enrolled

31．It shall be competent for one－sixth of the members present，when a question is taken，to call for the yeas and nay，which shall be recorded by the Clerk．

32．No standing rule，or order of the House，shall be rescinded or changed without one day＇s notice being given of the motion therefor．Nor shall any rule be suspended， except by a vote of at least two－thirds of the members present．Nor shall the order of business，as established by the rules of the House，be postponed or changed，except by a vote of at least two－thirds of the members present．

33．All bills and resolutions brought into the House by any member or committee，shall be endorsed by the mem－ ber or committee bringing in the same．

34．When a member is called to order，he shall sit down， and shall not speak，except in explanation，until the Speaker shall have determined whether he is in order or not；and every question of order shall be decided by the Speaker， subject to appeal to the House by any member；and if a member be called to order for words spoken，the exception－ able words shall be taken down in writing，that the Speaker and the House may be better able to judge．

35．The standing committees of the Assembly shall con－ sist of five members each，except the committee on Rail－ roads，which shall consist of nine members，and the com－ mitte on Public Printing，which shall consist of three
