BADGERS SHUT OUT MAROONS ON DIAMOND

Chicago Only Gets One Hit in 12 to 0 Ball Game

The Maroon nine went down to defeat before Wisconsin for the second time this season when the Badger pitchers, aided by consistent and timely hitting, shut out Chicago yesterday, 12 to 0, allowing only one hit. For seven innings Chicago batters were mowed down in almost one-two-three order, and not until the eighth were they able to line out a hit. In the meantime Wisconsin had amassed a ten run lead and never was in danger.

F. Williams started the game for the Badgers, and during his stay in the box pitched superb ball. Only three Chicagoans were able to reach first, two on errors and the other via the free ticket route. After the first inning not a man reached second. In the seventh Williams was relieved by Hoffman, who blanked the Maroons for the remainder of the contest, the lone Chicago hit being made off his delivery in the eighth.

Heavy Hitting

"Jack" Williams and Captain Elliott led with the stick, the former getting two singles, a triple and a sacrifice hit in four attempts, while Elliott crashed out two triples in three trips to the plate. Elliott was robbed of a home run only by the necessary ground rules, his line drive into left field rolling into the crowd in the sixth frame with the bases filled. In the field Farrington handled four hard drives in fine style. After the game had been safely tucked away Coach Lowman sent in his second string men at several positions.

The Badgers started on the road to victory in the first inning. After "Rollie" Williams and Lyman had retired, Farrington tripled to right

CINDER SQUAD BEATS PURPLE

Badgers Romp Away From Northwestern With 104-31 Score

The Wisconsin track squad romped away from Northwestern with a 104 to 31 score in a one-sided track meet at Camp Randall yesterday. The Purple got off to a flying start in the last dual competition of the season, but they were soon headed and Badger track and field men annexed an easy victory.

Wisconsin took 13 first places, Northwestern winning firsts in only the 100 yard dash and the hammer throw. Blackwood captured first position in the hammer throw, and Poliak finished in front in the 100 yard dash for the other Purple win. Poliak negotiated the century in 10 seconds flat, separated from his team mate, Grausnick, by a narrow margin.

Wisconsin scored slams in five events, the mile run, two mile run, half-mile, pole vault, and the running broad jump. Of the first places won by the Badgers, seven were counted in the track events and the other six in the field.

Guy M. Sundt '22 took individual high point honors of the meet with 60 markers. He won first place in the shot put and the broad jump. A half-inch separated the throws made by Sundt and Townley, Northwestern, in the shot put. The Badger put the ball 40 feet 9 inches while Townley hung up a mark of 39 feet 8 1-2 inches. In his other win, Sundt defeated Reget in the broad jump, leaping 22 feet 9 1-2 inches.

Blackwood, Northwestern field man, followed Sundt in points scored by chalking up nine. The Purple athlete placed first in the hammer throw, second in the discus, and third in the shot put. Albert Knollin '22 was nosed out for second honors by one point. Knollin scored eight points in the only two events which he entered. He ran first in the 120 yard high hurdles and second in the low hurdles.

Varsity Eight Will Row First Race in Years

With the first varsity crew race since the abandonment of rowing as a varsity sport in 1915, and with a program of water sports culminating in the annual Venetian night celebration, Lake Mendota will be the scene of varied aquatic activities from early this morning until late tonight.

Canoe races will open the morning's events at 9:30; inter-college shell races will be rowed at 10:30; and at 11 o'clock Coach "Dad" Vail's varsity and second varsity crews will meet the Lincoln Park Boat club and St. John's Military academy eights, respectively.

The shell races will be one and a quarter miles long and will start near Tenny park. The finish line will be at Park street.

Boats Provided

Boats will be at the foot of Park street at 10 o'clock to take 150 of the visiting high school track men along the race course in order that they may best see the canoe tournament and crew races.

Water sports will be discontinued during the afternoon while the interscholastic track meet is in progress.

A concert by the University band at 8 o'clock on the lake shore platform back of the gymnasium will open the Venetian night entertainment this evening. The Venetian parade of 15 electrically lighted and brilliantly decorated floats, which will follow the lake shore from the hydraulics laboratory to the city boat house and return, will take place at 8:30.

Storage batteries will be used to light the floats rather than a generator as announced, because of the impossibility of securing a barge large enough to float a generator.

Have Diving and Fireworks

Fancy diving and an exhibition on a floating platform by the University gym team follow the parade, and at 9:15 the fireworks display begins out on the lake off the foot of Lake street. With the last skyrocket Venetian night on the lake will end.

The celebration will continue at the Street Carnival on Park street until 12 o'clock. Booths and side shows which open at 8 o'clock will line the street. Dancing on the pavement at ten cents a dance will take place from 9 to 12.

OCTOPUS TO BE ON SALE TODAY

To enable the athletes from the Wisconsin high schools to secure copies of the Octopus, the university humor magazine, 300 copies of the Senior number have been placed on sale this morning.

They may be secured in the University pharmacy, Sumner and Cramton, Menges' pharmacy, and the Chicago and Northwestern station news stand.

NO MORE PARTIES IS EDICT OF DEAN

That no more student parties can be held this year is the final verdict from Dean S. H. Goodnight's office. It was formally announced that no parties could be held the week end of June 10 and 11. Added to this is the decision that no parties can be held June 8 and 4.

No excuses will be accepted. All functions must be canceled.

The purpose is to give the students more time for study and rest before examinations. The ruling applies to both student and social activities.

PREP RUNNERS MEET TODAY AT RANDALL

High School Teams Come From All Parts of State

The arrival of high school teams from all sections of the state has insured keen competition at the 27th Annual Interscholastic track and field meet to be held at Camp Randall this afternoon. The meet will get under way at 1:30 p. m. when the teams will compete for honors in the shot put and pole vault.

The running high jump, 220-yard dash, and 440-yard dash are scheduled for 2:30 and will be followed at 3 o'clock by the discus, broad jump, 220 hurdles, and half mile. The javelin throw is due at 3:30, while the relay race will be run off at 3:45, completing the events.

Two Classes

The high schools sending teams to meet have been divided into class A and class B, those having an enrollment exceeding 800 students being placed in the first class. All schools with an enrollment of less than 800 are placed in the latter class. It is hoped in this way to provide keener competition in all of the events.

Milwaukee will be well represented with teams from six high schools and is the only city outside Madison having more than one team on the field. Both Madison high and Wisconsin high have entered the meet.

Many From North

The northern part of the state will be well represented with teams from Superior, Antigo, Merrill, Chippewa Falls, Rice Lake, Spooner, and Marshfield. Dodgeville, Lake Geneva, La Crosse, Kenosha, Oshkosh, Lancaster, and West Allis will have teams on the field to uphold southern honors.

The teams have been distributed among the various fraternity houses during their stay in Madison.

HELP! HELP! HELP!

You may recall that he is the man who refuses to say anything humorous unless he has first put it into the column. When he made his announcement some wit in the crowd asked him if he knew any more good jokes.

Seems kind of silly, doesn't it?

He was a promising young man when we went to high school with him. He'd promise anything and never bat an eye. His idea of a good joke in those days was to put asafetida in the heating plant of the high school.

"Why, Barnum and Bailey."

Another good gag to pull on someone like Clyde, say Bill Higbie, is the old one that goes like this:

"Great day for the race isn't it?"

"What race?"

"Why, the Human race," or better still, "The race you just missed belonging to, the Human race." The last retort is more humiliating than the first thus, it demonstrates your superiority at once.

That cleans up the list of campus favorites in the goak line. Note the spelling of "goak" is the Duke's, not mine.

That's the seed he gave me over the telephone when he asked me to write the column. He expected the column to grow from that remark. That in itself is a good

"goak" only a little too practical.

"Great oaks from little acorns grow." But "goaks" must be extracted like teeth, and since all

OFFICER LAUDS CADETS' WORK AT INSPECTION

Colonel Chitty Practically Assures Distinguished Rating

Declaring that the co-operation between the University of Wisconsin and the military department was better than at any other institution which he had inspected, Col. W. D. Chitty, Fort Sheridan, who conducted the annual inspection of 1,200 students in the R. O. T. C. held yesterday afternoon on the lower campus, practically assured the local unit of retaining the 1920 "distinguished" rating.

"Upon the training corps in our higher institutions rests America's hope for military defense in a future war," Colonel Chitty declared at a noon luncheon given by Scabard and Blade at the city Y. M. C. A. "Our army has been demoralized by the recent cutting of the service. It is to the college R. O. T. C. units that we must place our hope for necessary officers in an emergency."

Inspection Completed

The inspection which began Thursday was completed yesterday afternoon at the annual parade and review, and the competition drill held immediately later.

With all the precision and confidence of drill that would do credit to any military organization, the student corps of 1,200 men lined up into line at 8:30 o'clock. The First Regimental band played martial music the corps marched in review past Colonel Chitty. A large crowd watched the review.

The formal mount of the President's guard which was conducted preceding the review was paid a high compliment by Colonel Chitty. "The ceremony was conducted with as much exactness and training as a regular army unit," he declared afterward to officials of the department.

Rating Announced in July

The official bulletin from the War department announcing the rating which will be made upon the university will be issued about July 15. Fifteen institutions in the country received the "distinguished" rating in 1920.

Sciences of military art as taught to cadets in the corps includes road sketching, work by the battery commander's detail, bayonet drill, auto rifle, field equipment, battery gun drill, pistol firing, blackboard firing, field engineering, topography, and signal corps work.

All companies and batteries were inspected during the two days by Colonel Chitty in the different subjects of training. Exhibition by the signal battalion was held Friday afternoon following the review. Semaphore, wigwag, radio work, telephone installation and operation, and close order drill were the subjects in which the units were inspected.

The guests at the Scabard and Blade luncheon included Pres. E. A. Birge, Dean B. L. Russell, Dean G. C. Sellery, and Dean S. H. Goodnight.

Frosh Wins Compet

First place in the individual competition was won by F. L. Gunderson. Gunderson is a freshman in the College of Agriculture, and has been drilling during the year as a sergeant in the President's guard.

W. N. Wentworth '24, who took second place, is also a member of the President's guard. Third place was taken by R. F. Pfeiffer '24. As a reward for winning the competition Gunderson will be given a brand new army .45 automatic at the President's review next Friday.

and jogged home when Elliott drove the ball over the center fielders head for three bases. J. Williams counted the Badger captain when he beat out a hit to short.

Williams Bunts

Two passes followed by a perfect bunt by "Jack" Williams, and an infield out brought in a single run in the third inning.

Two more runs were scored in the fourth on walks to Snow and "Bill" Williams, R. Williams' out, and a double to center by Ed Farrington. In the fifth frame "Jack" Williams singled, went to second on a passed ball, and scored on "Pat" Snow's safety.

In the sixth eight aBdgers went to bat and before the inning was over four runs had counted. F. Williams opened with a double to center. J. Williams hit to Barnes and both runners were safe when the throw to third arrived too late. Lyman grounded out but Farrington was safe when Dixon dropped Crisler's wide throw. With the bases full, Elliott tripled to deep left and three counters crossed. He scored a moment later on a three base hit by "Jack" Williams. The Badger first baseman was then nailed at the plate on Davey's tip to Barnes.

The last two counters came in the eighth round. After Farrington had fled out to Curtiss, Christianson, who had relieved Elliott, drew a pass. Pigott fled out, but Barry came through with a triple to center, scoring Christianson. Ruediger's single to left then brought Barry home.

The team left last night for Lafayette, Ind., where it will meet Purdue. Christianson will probably be Coach Lowman's selection for mound duty. After a day's rest the team will depart for the Michigan game against the Wolverines.

Here are "Dad" Vail's Huskies

Hanly, cox., Prehn, Fauerbach, Klossendorf, Platten, Okerstrom, Capt. Samp, Puestow, Toepffer.

The 1921 Varsity crew marks an epoch in the history of rowing at the University of Wisconsin. Its materialization stands for a victory in the fight to reinstate rowing as a major sport.

Probably no one interested in athletics at Wisconsin has given more of his life to the development of this sport than has Coach "Dad" Vail. From an early age he has been famous in Canada and the United States for his surpassing skill at rowing. After a long career at coaching in eastern clubs and at Harvard, he came to Wisconsin to coach rowing, ranked as one of the best coaches in this sport in the country.

Old Crews Good

The crews that "Dad" took in the years that followed to the intercollegiate regattas at Poughkeepsie were an evidence of his ability. Perhaps his greatest success was the crew of 1912 which took second there. This crew, captained by Charles Pollock, was conceded to be one of the best that had ever pulled out over Poughkeepsie's waters. However, an unfortunate start kept them from taking a first.

In the other years that Cardinal crews were sent to the regatta on the Hudson, a place has been won every time, with one exception. This exceptional year was 1914. It indeed spelled doom for rowing as a major sport at Wisconsin. The varsity failed to place at Poughkeepsie. The demoralizing effect created by that sad instance coupled with the decision of the clinic that rowing the 4 mile course was injurious to the contestant's heart, caused the athletic authorities to rule out rowing as a major sport.

Vail Holds Interest

In spite of this blow Coach Vail

set about to keep interest alive in the sport in hopes that some day it would regain its former position as a leading sport at Wisconsin. By laying great stress on the development of intra-mural rowing, "Dad" kept before the public eye the manifold possibilities of rowing as an exceptional builder of physiques.

The season of 1921 now marks the successful climax of his efforts. With the decision of the athletic board to reinstate rowing as a major sport and to award W's to the eight men on the first crew, a new era is marked.

Too much cannot be expected of these men. They who comprise this year's varsity crew are wholly inexperienced in the game. They are green, untried and a wee bit uncertain as to their prowess. But the significant fact is that Wisconsin has a varsity crew again. With this start the future of the sport is assured. In a year or two a Wisconsin crew will row at Poughkeepsie.

First Big Race

The race today is their first big event. With the eight of the Lincoln Park Boat club as competitors, a good chance to prove their mettle is assured. Other contests of importance are the pending races with the crews of Leland Stanford and University of Washington, which may stop here on their way east to the Poughkeepsie regatta, if negotiations terminate successfully.

The season will close with the Mid Western Regatta at Duluth on June 27. This is the classic of the middle west and will furnish excellent competition for the Cardinal representatives.

Other crew events for today are the inter-college race and the junior varsity's race with the eight from St. John's Military academy. The winner of the inter-college race will help its college materially in annexing points on the Nelson trophy.

The line-up for the races today is as follows:

Lincoln Park—E. T. Crozier, L. Lineau, A. Rehberger, Judd Culver, N. M. Olsen, M. Klinger, L. Scherer, Geo. Kohler.

Varsity—F. C. Prehn, G. O. Toepfer, C. B. Puestow, G. C. Turner, P. J. Okerstrom, A. Platten, R. C. Klossendorf, K. H. Fauerbach, Ed Hanly, coxswain.

St. Johns—C. E. Nelson, H. F. Hagemeister, E. O. Scheuneman, J. C. Baenoch, F. J. St. Amoor, R. O. Richards, A. S. Barn, O. J. Frechman, M. A. Pollard.

Wisconsin Junior Crew—W. L. Huff, John Mokrejs, R. H. Heidebreder, C. B. Christensen, A. J. Dornbush, A. H. Laun, L. H. Kingston, E. R. Gesteland, R. S. Smith.

L. E. Wheeler, Capt. L. & S. E. N. Otis, Capt. Engineers. John Mokrejs, Capt. Commerce. B. W. Allen, Capt. Agries.

The majority of entries in the inter-scholastic tennis tournament, which is being held in conjunction with the state high school track meet, are from the two Madison high schools.

A meeting will be held at the gymnasium at 1:30 today, at which the drawing will be done. The meets will commence at 2:30, and will be played on the varsity courts. The two final rounds will be played tomorrow afternoon.

Coach Endres of the Madison High has a large number of men out, and has been drilling them for several days. His men are in good shape and present indications are that they will make a strong bid for honors in the finals.

HOAN ASKS AID IN TAX FIGHTUrges Mayor Kittleson to Fight Passage of Auto Bill

A letter, urging him to use his influence to prevent the passage of the new automobile tax bill, now before the legislature, which will take away from Wisconsin cities revenues heretofore collected in the form of tax on auto owners and use it for state highway improvement, was received Friday morning by Mayor I. M. Kittleson from Mayor Daniel W. Hoan of Milwaukee. Mayor Hoan says "the entire proposition is an outrage," and declares that the city of Milwaukee will lose $250,000 to $300,000 a year and that "half of the cities of the state are in the same boat."

City and state officials in Madison, however, say that Mayor Hoan does not fully understand the provisions of the bill. Every city in the state will benefit by it, they say. At a conference at the mayor's office Friday noon, City Treasurer Carl Moe pointed out that despite the fact that the city will lose approximately $45,000 in auto taxes, this amount will be partly offset by an increase in income taxes and partly by the provisions of the bill which says that cities will not be obliged to contribute to the upkeep of state highways, except through their county appropriations.

The city will benefit to the extent of about six tenths of a mill, equivalent to about $48,000, by being exempted from paying a direct state tax for highways. In addition to this, City Treasurer Moe estimates roughly that the city will realize about $15,000 more in additional income taxes, a total benefit of about $63,000. About $45,000, the amount lost through personal property taxes on automobiles, results in Madison realizing a net benefit of about $8,000. This is from the standpoint of city government.

The taxpayer, on the other hand, will also benefit, except in a few cases where he is the owner of an expensive automobile, and also has a large income. In this case, he will pay an automobile tax to the state, based on the valuation of his car, and will also lose the right to have his automobile tax offset his income tax. He will lose to some extent, and it was the intention of the bill that he should pay the greater share of the money used for highway improvement. The owner of the cheaper car is generally a man without a large income and he gains little or nothing by the offset privilege now, and by merit of the city gaining six tenths of a mill revenue, his taxes will on the long run, be lower.

Local criticism of Mayor Hoan is that he is seeking legislation for the city of Milwaukee and not for the taxpayers of that city. His letter follows:

DELAY ACTION ON BREAD LAWCommittee Hears Plea of Bakers; To Probe Further

Action on the proposed bread ordinance, which would require a standard loaf and permit only a limited amount of variation in weight after baking, was postponed by the ordinance committee Thursday night, after discussing the question from the bakers' viewpoints for more than an hour. Eight Madison bakers were present to protest to any rigid requirements on the baking industry, which Charles G. McGlashan of the Occident Baking Co., characterized as "one of the biggest in the city, representing an investment of more than a half million dollars."

The ordinance, fathered by Ald. J. H. Behrend and prepared by City Atty. Ryan and H. L. Thompson,

"WISCONSIN, WHERE THEY ROW"

WISCONSIN'S crew comes back today. For the first time since 1915 Wisconsin men will fight for the university on the water as well as on the diamond, the gridiron, and the track. Rowing is one of the influences that have made Wisconsin's name great. While other teams were competing with universities in the Middle West, the crew was meeting the great universities of the East at Poughkeepsie.

Though not the best, Wisconsin was always among the leaders on the Hudson, and freshman crews often won first place. Wisconsin was known throughout the country as "Wisconsin where they row." Her's was a reputation rivaled by no Western university.

Today the eight meets the Lincoln Park boat club of Chicago; within a year or two it will row again on the Hudson. With the men whose efforts have brought crew back, with Coach Vail and his hard-working oarsmen, the Cardinal rejoices.

THE INTERSCHOLASTIC TRACK MEET

THE twenty-seventh annual interscholastic track meet among the high schools of the entire state will take place at 1:30 this afternoon at Camp Randall. This event means much to the contestants, but it means much more to the university.

Wisconsin's future athletes will be gleaned from these men who hail from every nook and cranny of our state. We should therefore give them a hearty reception and make them feel that if any university would be their home that university should be Wisconsin.

Every student, man or woman, who has Wisconsin's glory at heart, should appear at Camp Randall this afternoon and by cheers and smiles kindle a love for Wisconsin in the hearts of these young athletes.

Let us prove to them that Wisconsin is back of every one of them and let us wish them lots of good luck in their athletic aspirations.

Let us appear at the stadium strong and with a virile Wisconsin pep!

THE LECTURE SYSTEM

THE uncompromising weather brings to the fore a vital question in education, namely, the efficiency of the lecture system. The over-disciplined student who clings desperately to his seat while listening to a well-modulated and thought-laden lecture sometimes feels rather bored and more than once shrivels away until he and the lecturer are as distant as Mars from Jupiter.

Thoughtful educators, particularly of the social sciences, have awakened to the inadequacy of the lecture method and have supplied their students with well constructed syllabi. A next proper step would be to expand the syllabi into detailed substance outlines and dispense with the lecture method entirely, especially in the so-called cultural subjects.

Some presumably enlightened people are alarmed at the "ignorance of the educated." It is needless to say that their alarm is not wholly unjustified. The lecture system with its flagrant defects give substantial foundation to their fears. As Professor Moore, formerly of Harvard, indicated in his book on "What is Education? the student becomes a mere copyist, generally a poor one, with no sufficient chance for reflection and inquiry.

Referring to the lecture system, Professor Moore declares very definitely that "this method of instructing came into vogue in the medieval universities because books were scarce then and there was no other way in which the students might be put into possession of them so easily as by the teacher dictating their contents to them." The distinguished educator goes on to quote Professor Osborn, who describes the system as "an afferent or inflowing medieval and oriental kind of instruction in which the student is rarely if ever forced to do his own thinking."

Professor George Boas of the University of California, writing in the Atlantic Monthly for May under the title "What Do Teachers Know?" says: "anyone at all accustomed to American university life knows that half of these lectures are a waste of time and money and are given merely to afford a professor a chance to lecture on his specialty."

"The freshmen are wonderful, eager, and hungry. The seniors are disillusioned, cynical, and fed up. They have been through it all, and their young hearts know that there is nothing in it."

This may be rather strong, but it comes from the pen of a man bred in a scholastic entourage, one who knows the soul of the students. We believe that the lecture system has been extended quite beyond its legitimate bounds at the University of Wisconsin. We hope that our esteemed faculty will take cognizance of the situation and begin to curtail the out-worn and vicious lecture system.

One prominent playwright is going to take a desperate chance. He is going to write a play without a bedroom scene in it.

PROFESSOR MEAD LEAVES TO SURVEY MANCHURIAN IRON

Wisconsin Geologist Will Be Gone Until Next Fall

Prof. Warren J. Mead of the geology department left last night for Manchuria where he will be one of a party of six which will make a geological and engineering survey of the iron ore and coal deposits along the South Manchuria railway.

The party will sail from Seattle on the Kashima Maru, and Professor Mead expects to be gone until the beginning of the school session next fall.

He will work particularly on the iron ore. The deposits found in the section which the railroad is having surveyed by the American commission is very similar to that found in the iron regions near Lake Superior, with which he has had a great deal of experience.

"This is what we call a 'white collar' expedition," said Professor Mead. "We will work right along the railroad, and we will be very well taken care of; so it is in no sense an exploring trip. I shall return straight home and will not have time for any pleasure trips, although I have never been in that part of the world before."

The six mining experts who make up the commission are: W. R. Appleby, dean of the School of Mines of the University of Minnesota; W. R. Emmons, state geologist of Minnesota; L. D. Davenport, Boston; W. H. Craig and Frank Hutchinson, Duluth, and Professor Mead.

Kittleson Names Body To Study City Finance

Ald. John Stock was appointed by Mayor Kittleson on Friday as chairman of the special committee to study city finances, asked at the last council meeting by Mr. Stock. Other members are Ald. G. H. Mason and D. C. Sullivan, and George M. Nelson and Milo C. Hagan.

Summer Senior Suggestions

We want you to enjoy the alluring, brisk openness of the golf course, climbing over the hills with steady progress toward the precise velvetness of the green. You all know the thrill of an afternoon on the links and this is possible for you right now. The Sporting Goods Shop run by H. H. Petrie '20, at 414 State street, has a complete line of excellently made golf clubs of every type so that you can make your selection immediately.

A broken racket has kept many from the tennis courts! But when you are just aching to play, take your racquet into the Sport shop. There restringing is an art, and is done so quickly that you won't have to stay away any longer.

Fishing tackle, canoe paddles, and everything that is dear to the heart of the sportsman is in stock at this new and adequately equipped shop run by college men for college students.

Worried about an appropriate graduation gift? Well, you don't have to worry any more. The Kamera Kraft shop has some of the daintiest gifts imaginable. An engraved fountain pen and eversharp to match in a dear little leather case is just the thing for that prospective young business man, and the loveliest iridescent pearl necklace in the richest velvet case—she will just adore it.

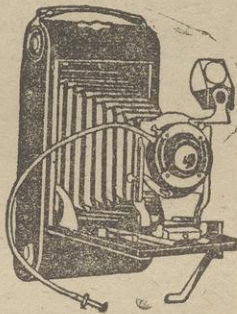

There's heaps of other unusual things for both the co-ed and her dignified and statly brother—unusual vanity cases, distinctly original in form, playing-card cases, poker chips, and—well, just go in and look them over, you'll surely find the exact thing you want!

Make the most of these last few weeks of balmy weather before school closes. Every day is just perfect for swimming. No use waiting until summer to get that new bathing suit, there's over a month which could be put to advantage and Schmedeman's, 27 S. Pinckney street, have some of the best looking ones, they're so reasonable you'd be surprised, and you'll find the very one you had in mind.

Of course, girls, you will need bright colored attractive caps, the kind that really keep your hair dry. And here you find every new kind of bathing hose, regular socks that are easy to keep up, bathing shoes and all kinds of accessories which will make you just ache to get in the water or sit and sun yourself on the pier.

In a few weeks our seniors will be gone! They have labored to make Wisconsin bigger and better. They have so appreciated the active co-operation of Madison merchants in all their various activities that for them the Madison stores have selected an unusual array of gifts so that their every memory will be a delightful one.

All those wonderful times, those never to be forgotten friends with whom you have spent four glorious years, with whom you have labored through topics and exams and danced and canoed with on those marvellous spring days—you're leaving them regretfully.

But—why not take them with you? The next best thing to having their actual personality is to have the memory of it in a tangible form. If you haven't a kodak, you should have. At the Photoart are a complete line of them. If you have one, buy a bunch of films and take just as many pictures as you can right now. The Photoart takes extraordinary care and precision in developing and printing.

Last impressions are lasting ones and the petite senior could desire nothing daintier and sweeter than the adorable little organdie frocks that Lucile makes for college girls!

The Charm of Youth expresses itself in fascinating gowns that are individual and exclusive. The reopened shop of Lucile in the Vroman Bldg. yields to the whims and fancies of only the coed and she gives her magic touch to the dancing gown complete, smart sports costumes or other models so loved by all girls everywhere.

Hot, sticky, tried everything from ice water to plunging into the lake every few minutes to cool off and still roasting? Control your temper, walk down State street, continue to feel as though you are about to melt and when you come to the Chocolate shop, walk in. Sigh with relief, put away the handkerchief you've been mopping your brow with, and sit down to enjoy the almost unbelievable coolness. Your appetite has returned and you have renewed energy.

An enticing luncheon, topped by a light airy desert, luscious fruit salad, and you come out having enjoyed a delightful repast and thoroughly cooled off.

On those soft, warm, moonlit nights when you paddle lazily over the glassy surface of Lake Mendota while the strains from banjos strumming on the piers are wafted through the stillness, don't you often wish with all your heart that you could own the canoe you are in? Or when you feel like taking a trip down through the lakes and then feel the keen pang of disappointment when you are unable to get a canoe at the boathouse?

Did you know that the Co-op can furnish that canoe you desire, and most reasonably too? And you'll get a boat of which you can well be proud.

Just like in all of its sports goods, tennis racquets and nets, swimming accessories and everything else, they maintain a standard of quality which will give you plenty of cause for your exultancy over the ownership of any article that you find at the Co-op.

There is an ever increasing need for fresh, cool blouses, that will be suitable for all occasions. Seniors, this is your last month. You will be given every opportunity to make or break your reputation. Fresh cleanliness is to be desired above all things. At the Rainbow Shop, on State St., are crisp, school waists with starched stiff collars and cuffs, that are just the thing to wear with sweaters. Here also are the more fluffy, feminine models that lend such an attractive air to white silk dress skirts.

The Rainbow Shop has a wide selection of organdie flower corsages. These give a finished, Parisian appearance to the simplest of organdie dresses.

Something different, something just a little daintier, softer and newer in lingerie is the ever constant cry of the college girls. At the Staber shop, N. Carroll St., are the loveliest models imaginable. They are so exquisitely wrought that one fears to handle them lest they vanish at the touch of mortal hands.

One sheer white georgette "teddy" spells bridal in its fairy loveliness. It is trimmed with fine black lace and is irresistible to all women who desire "le dernier mot" in underthings.

Fascinating nightgowns fashioned in georgette, silk and satin are adorned by tiny bows of boudoir ribbon and bewitching inserts to real lace.

The Staber shop has other charming graduation gifts suitable for all occasions, fresh collar and cuff sets and the newest line of sport and dress sweaters.

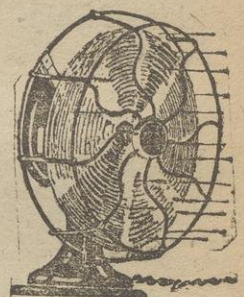

Say it with flowers! This slogan expresses in a few words one of the most delightful ways to remember your friends. Commencement is a time that brings an ache to many a heart and this is softened by a thoughtful gift of flowers. It is always appropriate and says many of the things our blundering tongues can not speak. The fragrance only given by fresh flowers greets you as you enter Rentschler's to place the order that will bring a smile to her eyes and a grateful thanks to her heart—so, say it with flowers.

It is hard for seniors to bid farewell to Madison merchants who have shown them all kindness and courtesy. Another evidence of the constant efforts of the retail men has just occurred. Mr. Netherwood of the Netherwood Printing company wishes all Senior Farewell

Parties to be pleasant remembrances so has just received a new shipment of party favors, placecards and decorations.

He has also sent a special agent to Milwaukee to take lessons in decorating and flower making who will in turn gladly give the students a helping hand for all their final dances.

Sad to relate, some careless ones find now near the close of school that the need to study is upon them and the oppressing heat robs them of the faculty of concentration. But they can be oblivious to heat and can be cool when all the rest are melting hot. At the Black Hawk Electrical store, 301-305 State St. are electric fans of all sizes, shapes and description. These provide a cooling breeze to the fevered brow of the distracted senior who gratefully seizes each moment and thankfully studies in the cooling breeze of an electric fan.

If you want to buy a graduation gift that will have the additional charm of quaintness and are wondering just where you can find something out of the ordinary to take home to Mother, just go into the Unique Shop, corner of Dayton and State streets. The atmosphere of this tiny gift store is rare, sweet and old-fashioned. Here are found real Japanese cups and saucers that would give any tea table an air of taste and culture.

Unusual candlesticks are the latest fad, the Unique shop has a variety and choice that cannot fail to please even the most fastidious.

Seniors will want something unusual by which they can remember Madison and this desire can be gratified here.

SOCIETY NEWS

With the decree coming from the dean's office that no dances shall be held after this week end, many dances scheduled for June 3 and 4 will have to be cancelled, and this week end marks the close of social activities in student circles for this year. Because of Venetian night entertainments few dances are being given tonight, and the abrupt ending of the dancing season will be greeted with dismay by those who had planned to entertain next week end.

McAnanny-Schubert Wedding

Invitations have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. F. W. McAnanny, 257 Langdon street for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Dorothy, to Harold Schubert, on Wednesday, June 1, 1921, at the Grace Episcopal church, at 2:30 in the afternoon. Miss McAnanny attended the university for two years, and is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority. Mr. Schubert graduated with the class of '17, and is connected with the Schubert Candy company here. A reception will be held at the Tri Delt house on Wednesday afternoon after the wedding.

D. E. K. Formal Dinner Dance

A formal dinner dance will be given tonight at the Park hotel by members of Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity. It will be held in the Elizabethan room and the decorations will be of vines and flowers, twined about the room, and on the tables. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hinters have been invited from Chicago to chaperon with Prof. and Mrs. C. Stephenson. Alumni guests at the dance will be Anthony Zulfer,

George Van Hagen, and William Flogaus.

Phi Kaps Give Dance

An informal dancing party will be given at the Phi Kappa Sigma house tonight by members of that fraternity. Mr. and Mrs. George Rhodes are to be chaperons of the party.

D. U. Costume Party

Following their formal dinner dance which was held last evening, members of Delta Upsilon fraternity will give an informal costume dance tonight, at the chapter house, 644 N. Frances street. Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Powers who chaperoned the formal dance will also chaperon tonight.

Tri Delt Shower

Active members of Delta Delta Delta entertained with a miscellaneous shower on Thursday afternoon in compliment to Miss Flora Filtzer, engaged to Dr. Joyce Hertzler, Miss Freda Umbreit, fiancée of William Elliot, Miss Pauline Bodenstein, engaged to Terrell Maxfield, and Miss Dorothy McAnanny, whose marriage to Harold Schubert will be an event of June 1.

Personal

Miss Evelyn McFarland left Friday to spend the week end and Memorial day in Chicago.

Miss Grace Meyers is visiting at her home in Belvidere, Ill., this week end.

Miss Catherine Bud '20 is a guest at the Pi Phi house.

Mrs. N. W. Fox was a dinner guest of Pi Beta Phi sorority Thursday evening.

CO-EDS PROTEST

A recent article published in the Pennsylvanian, which urged a separate college for women, failed to meet the approval of the Penn women students. One junior stated that the granting of the franchise to the women of the country raised them to an equal plane with the men. "To distinguish us from the male student by the term 'co' is insulting. I think that a nation-wide campaign should be conducted by all co-educational institutions to abolish the word."

mathia's expounders were Phillip G. Deicher, closer, Charles A. Rawson, and Edgard L. Erickson.

ATHENAE WIN SEMI-PUBLICS

Hesperia Defeats Philo on Question of Ship- ping

Athenae won two debates in the sophomore semi-public triangular contests held by literary societies last night, defeating Hesperia and Philomathia. Hesperia won her negative plea against Philomathia. The question was: Resolved, "that the United States aid its shipping by a system of ship subsidy."

The Athenae affirmative defeated Philomathia's negative by a 2 to 1 decision. Athenae contended that ships are lying idle because wages are so low as to defy operation, and that government subsidy is necessary. The negative said that government subsidies have failed to benefit merchant marines in all countries, including the United States.

The winning team was composed of Samuel M. Soref, closer, Eugene P. Meyer, and Ernest S. Watson, and Philomathia's team was Francis Lamb, closer, Oscar E. Kiessling, and John H. Searles.

The Athenae negative, affirming that the Merchant Marine act of 1920 has all the remedies and conditions for a successful merchant marine, won over Hesperia's affirmative by a 2 to 1 decision. Hesperia claimed that during 1920 the United States carried 52 per cent of her shipping and under the Marine act of 1920 shipping decreased to 36 per cent being carried in American vessels.

William Haber, closer, Samson Sirges, and Bernard Monfied were Athenae's negative speakers, and the affirmative team Hesperia selected Ralph E. Axley, closer, Elmer Hollensteiner, and Herbert Hentzen.

Philomathia was defeated by Hesperia's negative team in a close contest. Philomathia's affirmative proposed the ship subsidy as a remedy for existing evils in shipping, and Hesperia recommended revision of our navigation laws to control these evils.

Members of Hesperia's team were Wayne L. Morse, closer, K. Francis Karel, and Cyril Ballam, and Philonered the three places in the mile run. At the finish of the race, Wille and Brothers were tied for first and second places. One of the closest events of the meet was the 220 yard dash which E. W. Johnson '23 captured from Leslie McClure '23. The two Badger sprinters ran neck and neck for the greater part of the distance, but Johnson pulled away from his mate a few yards from the finish and won handily.

Knollin, Armstrong, and Stolley ran one, two, three in the 120 yard high hurdles, but Stolley was disqualified for knocking over four hurdles and his point went to Ferrin, Northwestern. A strong finish by Paul D. Kayser '21 gave the quarter-mile run to Wisconsin. Young, Northwestern, took the lead and held it for three-quarters of the distance, when Kayser overtook him on the straightaway and won. I. Wade '23 ran a pretty race for third place in this event. Peter Platten '23 cleared the bar at 6 feet in the high jump which he won from Basil Mobley '22 and Young, Northwestern.

Badger track men exerted themselves as little as possible to win their races. The Wisconsin speedsters are tapering off in their preparations for the Big Ten track meet next Saturday, and light workouts will keep them in condition for the annual conference competition at Chicago.

SENIORS WIN IN TENNIS MATCHES

Both the inter-college and the freshmen tennis tournaments are being run off daily under the direction of Coach Linden, assisted by George Hazen '28.

In view of the fact that so few matches in the freshmen tennis tournament have been played to date, the following regulations have been made necessary. First round matches must be completed by Monday night, second round matches by Wednesday night, third round matches by Thursday night, and fourth round matches by Friday night. The finals will be played on the Varsity courts on June 4. The only excuse for delinquency is inclement weather. Entrants may get the names and telephone numbers of opponents by calling L. Hastings at B. 4613.

The semi-finals and finals in the inter-college tournament must be completed by Wednesday night, June 1. Entries for the all-university tournament may be listed by calling G. Hazen, B. 171, or L. Hastings, B. 4613, or by signing up at the university gymnasium before Wednesday night, June 1.

TEACHERS BILL TO THE SENATE

Retirement Measure Passes Assembly by Vote of 59 to 8

The assembly passed the teachers' retirement fund bill by a vote of 59 to 8 after a motion to kill the bill was defeated 52 to 12. Atty. Gen. Morgan has been asked for an opinion as to the legality of the Dahl sur-tax amendment that was attached to the bill in the house. This opinion will be given Tuesday. If the amendment is legal the bill then goes back to the senate for concurrence in the surtax amendment.

By 34 to 33 the lower house killed the Werden bill to authorize the Chippewa and Flambeau improvement company to operate a water reservoir at the headwaters of the Chippewa and Flambeau rivers.

By the same vote the house tabled the Fowler resolution for a final adjournment of the legislature June 10th.

"LOCATION" IS NEW NOVELTY ACT AT ORPHEUM THEATRE

Intimate Views of Movie Studios
Are Revealed in Feature Act

"Location," now at the Orpheum, is the newest in novelty acts whereby the more intimate views of the movie studios are shown to us. The three principals are Helen Page as the star, Leon Kimberly as a director and Lee Robinson as the hero. There is much fooling by these three competent comedians during the "shooting" of a farce film on melodramatic scenes. Lorraine Evon possesses a canary which she has trained to follow her songs and violin solos in addition to imitating the calls and noises of other feathered mates. Miss Evon's efforts are characteristic of good entertainment. Hampton and Blake with a chatty dialogue had several new smart sayings which they touched off with an easy going duet. Bennington and Scott are the dancing experts on the program. The young lady is a high kicker until her partner annexes her honors by tapping a cardboard held nine feet off the stage. Willie Hale and his brother are adept jugglers of hats, lamps and other furnishings in the first act.

AT THE FULLER

Tom Mix and his cowboys were swapping stories during lunch time on location while the star was making scenes for "A Ridin' Romeo," his latest William Fox picture being shown at the Fuller today for the last times. The talk turned to outlaws and Tom told this story about one of the cowboys in this particular picture.

"Some times I think men go mad like fruit. Some turn bad over night, others begin getting bad gradually, but if you get them at the right time you can get some good out of them. There's that sandy-haired fellow over there. I met him out in Oklahoma when I was a deputy sheriff. He was quite a kid. There was something about him that made me believe he was going wrong. I walked over to him and said:

"Nice gun you have there. I'll swap mine and five dollars for it."

"He handed it over and I gave him the five, but not my gun. A bad look came into his eyes.

"You were with that gang in that train hold-up last Tuesday," I said, showing my badge. He denied it, but I could tell he had been in some bad business. He didn't want to argue. He tried to get away. But I kept asking questions and I told him he would get into jail very soon. I said I could get him a good job if he would be on the level. He took the job.

"I never knew until years afterward that Sandy had come from the east only a month before I met him, and had been in a big train robbery only a week before I encountered him. Sandy certainly kept straight after my talk with him. I believe that train hold-up incident is one of the sorriest points in his life. He seldom mentions it, even to me."

The Hallroom Boys comedy completes the program.

Sessue Hayakawa Starting Sunday
Sessue Hayakawa in "Black Roses" will be shown at the Fuller Sunday and Monday.

AT THE STRAND

Marion Davies in "The Restless Sex" is being shown at the Strand theater for the last times today. John Cleland, millionaire, adopts a pretty little girl, Stephanie (Marion Davies), and she grows up with Cleland's son, Jim, whom she learns to love. Jim still regards her as a child. He goes abroad to study, and Stephanie, craving excitement, plunges into New York's gay society life. Cleland's money affairs are in the hands of Chilsmer Grismer, a lawyer. Grismer's son, Oswald, is also a friend of Stephanie. John Cleland dies, leaving funds for Stephanie in charge of Oswald's father, who takes the money to satisfy his son's ambitions to be a sculptor.

An automobile in which Stephanie and Oswald are riding overturns a hundred miles from New York. They are unhurt, but are compelled to spend the night together in a questionable hotel. The place is raided, and to avoid scandal and arrest they are married.

When Jim in Paris hears of the marriage, he realizes that he loves Stephanie and comes home at once. Complications follow which end in Oswald's death, and Stephanie and Jim are married.

William S. Hart in "The Testing Block" is coming to the Strand for three days starting Sunday.

AT THE ORPHEUM

The present bill at the Orpheum contains several acts new to Madison theater goers, Leon Kimberly, Helen Page and company in a satire on the movies called "Location" offer a most laughable and entertaining skit of songs, situations and patter, while Earl Hampton and Dorothy Blake, possessing good looks and personality put over their material to the delight of all. For a novelty act, The Golden Bird, with Miss Lorraine Evon, violinist and singer is hard to beat and the Five Avalons, offering bits of versatility; Bennington and Scott novelty entertainers; Willie Hale and Brother and Pathe News reel completes the bill. There will be three performances today and tomorrow, matinees starting at 3 o'clock and evening shows at 7:15 and 9.
