OGG LECTURES ON RECENT ADVANCES IN GOVERNMENT

Gives Lecture on Political Science Under Auspices of Phi Kappa Phi

Tracing the development of the study of politics, Prof. Frederick A. Ogg in his lecture on "Recent Advances in Government," delivered at Bascom hall last evening, under the auspices of Phi Kappa Phi, showed how this study is now treated as a science.

"In reality at the present, political science is not a science but merely a study of the history of politics. Hume suggested in the 18th century that politics would one day be a science. We have not yet dispensed of making it a science." Professor Ogg explained the relation between biology and politics, claiming that a knowledge of man's relation to his environment was necessary in order to understand politics. "Political science is a study of the relation of men in their civic life," said Professor Ogg in defining the term political science.

Women Puzzle Politicians

Summarizing the position now taken by the voters in the country, Professor Ogg told of the uncertainty which the different political leaders feel about the effect of women's voting franchise. "It is difficult to prove whether this has had either a good effect or a bad one, but women voters are a sad disappointment for they vote just as the men voters."

"The voter of today is fast becoming more informed than was the voter formerly. Twenty-one states have adopted educational tests for the voters. Aliens are no longer able to vote in any state except Texas and Arkansas," explained Professor Ogg in defining the new laws affecting voting franchises.

FRESHMAN Y. W. CLUB TO HOLD HOUSE PARTY

The freshman Y. W. clubs are having a house party at their cottage on Lake Mendota this weekend, May 1, 2, and 3. The program committee consists of Martha Ashbrook '28, Josephine Barker '28, and Barbara Howells '28. Dorothy Hills '28, and Ruth Ligon '28 are in charge of food, and Winifred Siljan '28 is chairman of the arrangements committee. A pageant depicting the various departments of the organization will be given at the cottage Friday evening; business meetings of the three clubs will be held Saturday afternoon; and Saturday evening there will be a discussion led by upper classmen.

MORE ROOM NEEDED TO LODGE ATHLETES

With the date of the arrival of the athletes for the Mid-West Relays only 10 hours away, only nine fraternities have volunteered to care for over 300 athletes.

Serata Italiana is Excellent Musical and Dramatic Program

By G. L.

"Serata Italiana," an Italian fete held last night at Lathrop concert room under the auspices of Il Circolo Ausonia, carried an excellent and most interesting musical and dramatic program. A large audience made up of faculty members, students, and native Italians residing in Madison filled the house to capacity.

William Ross, tenor, accompanied by Miss Frances Landon, opened the program with Scuderi's "Dormi Pure" which was followed with "Ave Maria" by Duzzi and Caro. "Mie Ben by Giordani." Mr. Ross swept through "Dormi Pure" with a flood of glorious tones which brought his disten-ders, after the rendition, into prolonged applause.

The trio, consisting of Miss Ruth Persson, violinist, Miss Barbara Hildreth, cellist, and Miss Frances Landon, pianist, proved that they were by no means amateurs. They presented a finely studied performance with clear cut lines of melody.

Sigma Alpha Iota Annual Concert is Scheduled Tonight

The members of Sigma Alpha Iota will present their annual spring concert this evening at 8 o'clock in Music hall. Two numbers on the program will be given by the Glee club and three groups of piano numbers will be played by Grace Plumlee '25, Alice Winston '27, and Adelaide Wagner '28. Two songs by Schumann will be sung by Eleanor Wooster '27, and Viola Sachse '27. The concert is open to the public.

FRATERNITY RIDING NEW SHOW EVENT

Two Fine Cups Offered By Regents and Rexford and Kelder

The first inter-fraternity riding event ever held at Wisconsin will be one of the big features of the horse show which is to be held Saturday afternoon, May 9, on the lower campus, according to George Tyler '26, general chairman. About ten entries have already been made, and it is expected that about 25 or 30 will complete the list.

The first prize to be offered will be the biggest of the 20 cups which are to be presented at the event. This large loving cup is of silver, lined with gold, and engraved. It is 26 inches in height, and valued at $50. It is the gift of the board of regents. The second prize will be a cup 15 inches high, presented by the Rexford-Kelder company, clothiers, of Chicago. Both of these cups will be on display in the University pharmacy window after their arrival Monday.

Any number of men from any fraternity or organized group may enter this riding event. Tomorrow is the deadline for entries which are to be made with Horace Fries '25, 150 Langdon street, F. 1840 or 1841. The entry fee is $3.

This will be the eleventh event of the afternoon, and will start about 4:30. It is the hope of the committee in charge that this one will set a precedent for men's riding events at future horse shows.

"Although this is the first men's riding contest of its kind held in any show, the number of entries already shows that it will be one of the best represented contests of the show," said George Tyler, general chairman. "I hope that all men interested will turn out and make this one of the best events of the day. It is by no means restricted to R. O. T. C. men, but all men are eligible for entry. The contest will be judged on the basis of gaits, paces, and general riding ability."

Miss Carol Wheeler, soprano, was third on the program. Although lacking in experience, she held her voice true to intonations and rendered Tosti's "Ideale" and Verdi's "Morir in an enjoyable manner.

Last but not least on the list of entertainment was a one act play, "Lumie Di Sicilia," by Luigi Pirandello. The play deals with a middle class Sicilian, Mieuccio, who with difficulty has financed the musical career of Sina Marnis. When he visits her after she has become a famous opera star, she ignores him. Finally he realizes that she has changed, is beyond him, will never be his wife, and rushes away in disgust.

The entire cast, from the stalking butler to the mother of Sina Marnis, played their parts with perfect ease and naturalness. Mieuccio, acted by Prof. J. L. Russo, was splendid. Miss Katherine Ehrgott, as Sina's mother, deserves no little part of the praise.

The remainder of the day will be given over to the senior class play and the pipe of peace ceremony.

Annual Initiation Uncovers New Dancing Talent in Sorority Alley

By E. M. M.

Well we saw it—the last Haresfoot performance this year. That is, we saw Russell Winnie's head bobbing around in the crowd and heard Gordy Brine's voice directing the stunts, aided, of course, by Tom Morony. Tom is so used to having the center of the stage now that he just couldn't realize that this wasn't his show. I'm sure all the girls appreciated his efforts, though, because we'll admit his smile isn't at all bad.

Snakes, turtles, horses, sheep, and other strange animals did their stuff to the admiring oh's and ah's of the Kappa's, Gamma Phi's, and Alpha Phi's. And when one of the bolder boys led the brewery horse up on the Gamma Phi porch, weren't the sisters frightened! Fact is, they attracted so much attention, that Tom Morony got mad and wanted to know whose show it was, anyway.

The fiddle de fees were quite in their element and made their presence known by shouts of "get off the grass." That was a good joke too because, of course, there wasn't any grass.

The fat lady in the white night gown put on a dance that got more applause than the famous Tebecca.

Luis Firpo got a big kick out the whole affair. He got right up and showed the alley how a he-man fights.

Then the players strolled on to Barnard, carrying the turtles by their tails and did the whole thing over for the Barnard girls.

Well, we were very well amused, and as we were saying, the last Haresfoot performance for this year is over.

PROGRAM OF NEXT CLASS DAY IS CUT

All But Essential Ceremonies Eliminated, Plan Sing and Picnic Supper

In an endeavor to make the class day exercises to be held June 19 in connection with the commencement more interesting so that a greater number of people will be attracted to them, the class day committee has made a radical change in the form of the exercises. It has done away with all but the essential stunts and ceremonies, substituting for them a class sing and picnic supper, according to an announcement made by Eliot Sharp, $25, chairman of the committee.

The planting of the ivy and the pipe of peace ceremony are the only two traditional features of class day which are being retained this year. All but the essential speeches, the presentation and acceptance of the class memorial, the address of welcome by the president of the class and the awarding of the conference athletic medal, will be discarded.

The members of the class will gather at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon and march to Bascom hall for the planting of the ivy, on which occasion Alice Corl '25, will give the Ivy Ode.

They will then return to the plot of ground behind the Union building for a sing which will be followed by the presentation of the class memorial and the athletic medal.

The sing will be followed by a picnic supper. It will be possible for students to purchase tickets for this picnic at the Kamera Kraft shop when they secure their invitations. Seniors are warned that only a limited number of tickets will be available and that they must all be bought before June 10 so that it will be possible for the committee to place an order for the picnic suppers.

The remainder of the day will be given over to the senior class play and the pipe of peace ceremony.

Curtain Club Gives Galsworthy Farce on Tuesday Night

The Curtain club, faculty dramatic society, will present its sixth annual production next Tuesday in the auditorium of Central high school. The play to be presented is "The Pigeon," a fantasy in three acts written by John Galsworthy.

Prof. J. F. A. Pyre of the department of English characterizes the play when he states that "The Pigeon" with all its underlying seriousness, is written in Galsworthy's lightest vein and is filled with witty lines and farcical scenes.

The main action of the farce centers about Wellwyn, the artist, which part is played by Mr. William Tannevitz of the department of speech.

Mr. A. R. Thompson of the department of English is directing the production. The business manager is Prof. G. R. Chandler. Tickets may be secured in the rotunda of Bascom hall on May 1, 4, 5, at prices ranging from 50 cents to $1.

SPRING SHUFFLE SLATED TONIGHT

Ted Moore's Orchestra to Furnish Music For Sophomore Dance

Tonight the members of the class of 1927 will be hosts to the university at the Spring Shuffle that they are giving at Lathrop gymnasium and Concert room. Ted Moore's ten-piece orchestra of Chicago will arrive today to furnish the music for the event. Special programs, dancing features, decorations, and lighting effects have been planned.

Coach and Mrs. George Little, Dean and Mrs. Scott Goodnight, and Mr. and Mrs. George Berg have consented to chaperon. Dancing will continue until 1 o'clock, and reduced rates will be made for those attending after the Union board dance.

Emerson E. Hawley, president of the sophomore class, issued the following proclamation in behalf of the class:

Members of the class of 1927—

The sophomore class has but one social function to carry out—giving an informal dance in the spring. The degree of success or failure of that dance is the degree that class spirit, unity, and cooperation have attained, or the negligibility into which that class spirit has deteriorated. Heretofore, the sophomore dance has been purely a sophomore party and narrow in that sense. This year the committee on dance broadened that party so that it would include the entire university. The Spring Shuffle has consequently been planned for tonight. In this action the committee believed that the broader scope would only be commensurate with the wealth of class spirit as shown last year in the class rush and in the general class unity throughout.

It is my sincere hope that every loyal sophomore will become conscious of his and her obligation and be at the Spring Shuffle tonight to aid in putting on our party for Wisconsin.

Emerson Hawley.

May Will Be Ushered in With Whirlwind of Campus Activities

By L. G. B.

When you and I were very young, May 1 was a special day in our lives. We called it May Basket day. Remember how you used to run up to Janie's house, deposit a tiny basket of spring flowers and then hide yourself away under cover of the early evening darkness?

Next you visited friend Billy's house with the same anxious intent, for this day was never meant to be celebrated by little girls alone.

We know these festivities are gone from our lives, for last night no basket-laden scholars scurried along Langdon street, over to Gilman street and then back to Sterling court. The ushering in of the month of May will bring with it activities of students very different from these.

'26 PROM DEFICIT AMOUNTS TO $702, STATEMENT SHOWS

Poor Attendance Sole Cause of Loss; Junior Class to Assume Debt

Since there has been considerable misunderstanding and much inaccuracy concerning the actual financial status of the 1926 Prom, the student financial advisor, Alfred W. Peterson, has prepared a statement for publication in which he includes the actual status of affairs and a comparative statement of the Proms of 1925 and 1926. The deficit this year was $702.23, the statement shows.

Mr. Peterson's statement is as follows:

"The Madison daily papers made considerable comment regarding Prom finances immediately following the 1926 Prom and it has, therefore, been deemed necessary to publish a complete statement of the facts at this time.

Class Assumes Responsibility "The accompanying statements show comparison between the 1925 and 1926 Proms, and it also shows the total income and expense for each. The loss on the 1926 Prom is $702.23. This deficit will be assumed by the class of 1926, inasmuch as the junior class is responsible for the annual function.

"A comparison of the total expenditures for each of the two years shows that the total expense of the 1926 Prom was $673.53 less than the expense of the 1925 Prom. The budget for this year's Prom was compiled from figures showing the

University Grows Under Leadership of Former Badger

President Ralph Dorn Hetzel of the University of New Hampshire is winning much praise as being responsible for the growth and development of that university.

President Hetzel graduated from the University of Wisconsin with a B. A. degree in 1906 and received an LL.B. degree in 1908. He was born in Wisconsin.

At Oregon State college he rose from instructor in English, to professor of English and political science, and director of the extension division during the period 1908 to 1917.

President Hetzel received the degree of doctor of laws from Dartmouth in 1918 and the same degree from the University of Maine sometime later.

In 1917 he was called to the presidency of the New Hampshire College of Agriculture and Mechanics Arts which is now the University of New Hampshire.

He was admitted to the Wisconsin bar in 1908 and Oregon bar in 1910 and is a member of Delta Upsilon, Phi Delta Phi, Gamma Sigma Delta, and Phi Kappa Phi, and the executive committee of the Association of Land Grant Colleges.

May Will Be Ushered in With Whirlwind of Campus Activities

By L. G. B.

There is the impending graduation of the seniors, programs to be sent, caps and gowns to be ordered, and the presentation of the senior play. There are frenzied efforts to complete troublesome theses and finish final bits of work.

The Badger will appear one week early this year and will consequently grace the month of May. Faculty members of the university are receiving constant demands to speak at high schools throughout the state.

Social events for the month will include numberless spring formals. On the evening of May 23, the annual festival, Venetian night, will take place. The final days of the month will be devoted to Mother's week-end.

ATHLETES TO BE LISTED BY NUMBER IN RELAY PROGRAM

Will Contain Written Welcome and Stories of Spring
Athletics

The names and numbers of the high school athletes who will participate in the second annual Mid-West relays to be held at Camp Randall Saturday will be one of the many features of the program of events being made by the program committee headed by Kenneth Butler '25.

"Each athlete entered in the meet will be given a number," Butler stated. "Together with the names of the trackmen, these numbers will appear in the programs. Thus the spectator can easily identify each runner." This new feature will help the spectators enjoy the meet. It is something that has been lacking in the programs of the past."

Entries in the various events will be listed in three ways: by states, by high schools, and by events. The officials of the meet will also be listed.

Special Articles

Beside these regular program features, there will be articles welcoming the high school tracksters written by George Dennis '27, general chairman of the relay meet, George Little, director of athletics, and by Tom Jones, head track coach.

The program will contain articles and pictures of the Wisconsin track team's California and Western meets. There will also be brief discussions on Badger baseball and tennis teams. Pictures of the coaches of these sports will appear.

The committees in charge of the relays will be listed in the program, and pictures of the chairmen will be printed. The program is to be sold at the field by members of the freshman class.

The committee in charge of publishing the program consists of Kenneth Butler '25, chairman, Stanley Kalish '27, manager, Robert Kolb '27, William Reeves '28, Clarence Schlauer '27, Robert Pease '28, and Ward McFadden '27.

PYTHIA DEBATE TEAM MEETS ROCKFORD TODAY

The Pythia debating team leaves at noon today to meet Rockford college. Prof. John Barnes of the speech department, will drive down with the women, who plan to spend the weekend in Rockford.

A dinner will be given in honor of the members of the team, Eileen Blackley '25, Grace Goldsmith '25, and Elizabeth Rabinoff '27.

The question will be, "Resolved, any law or portion of a law declared unconstitutional by the supreme court, should be valid law if reinstated by a two-thirds vote of the next succeeding congress." The outcome of the debate will be determined by the audience as it is an open forum.

U. of Washington Crew Works For Big Regatta

SEATTLE, Wash.—Turning out for the first time since the California race, the University of Washington crew Wednesday resumed practice for the Poughkeepsie regatta. The Huskies started training yesterday for a four mile course, as the intercollegiate championship race on the Hudson this year will be that distance instead of the usual three miles.

The men worked out in the same positions as they rowed in the California race. Coaches "Rusty" Calow and Bob Butler are to concentrate on the varsity and junior varsity boats.

Candied Novelties

Attract Our Co-eds to Chocolate Shop

"Gee, but aren't those things cute," is the usual exclamation uttered by students upon entering The Chocolate Shop as the chocolate men, candy flowers, little golf kits, big-oh, most any of the dozens of novelties displayed, greet the eye.

Many of them are so "cute" that even when some of our co-eds haven't the purchasing power, the temptation aroused causes them to quickly duck a sample into a coat pocket.

Of course, it only happens when no one is watching.

During the past year several letters have been received at this student rendezvous with enclosed funds as payments for articles taken. One of them follows:

"To the manager of the Choc.

Shoppe:

Dear Sir:

"Please enclosed find 10 cents for a Harmonica I took from your store. I took it in sport, nevertheless, it worries me.

Very truly yours,

An honest person."

This particular letter was the cause of much merriment among the employees as the price of the harmonica was listed at 25 cents. No! there was no sale on harmonicas at the time.

TEAMS ARRIVE TODAY FOR RELAY MEET

VARSITY STARS IN TRACK WILL GIVE MANY EXHIBITIONS

Dennis Names Officials For Carnival; To Put on Classy
Meet

The first o the 375 high school track athletes from 30 high schools coming to Madison for the second annual Mid-West Relay carnival, will arrive today. Arrangements have been completed with the fraternities so that all of the men will be taken care of by the various houses on the campus. The remainder of the entries will arrive tomorrow morning.

Promptly at 1:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon the relay classic is scheduled to start. Six relay events are on the program for the afternoon. They are the quarter mile, the half mile, the mile, two mile, sprint medley and distance medley relays. Under the heading of special events come seven classes including the 100 yard dash, 120 yard high hurdles, running high jump, running broad jump, 12 pound shot put, discus and javelin throws.

Schwarze Exhibits

Aspirants for high school honors in the shot-put and the discus throw will have a chance to see Herbert Schwarze put on a special exhibition. University students will also get a chance to see the big man who twice this year has astounded the intercollegiate sport world with his long record heaves both in the shot put and the discus throw.

Besides this, Harry McAndrews will run a special dash and Charles McGinnis will feature in a high jump exhibition. McGinnis in spite of a sprained ankle placed fourth in his event at the Drake relays which McAndrews could not enter because of injuries.

Officials Announced

A freshman relay team under the direction of Mead Burke, composed of Elleson, Chapman, Stowe, and another frosh runner, will engage in a two mile relay race against some of the varsity runners who featured in the relays at California, Kansas and Drake.

Officials for the relays were announced last night by George Dennis, general manager of the relay carnival. They will be dressed in white trousers and black coats with official ribbons so that there will be nothing lacking in the way o class for the affair tomorrow afternoon.

The officials are:

Referee—T. E. Jones.

Starter—Mead Burke.

Judges of finish—Professor Miller, L. T. Harvey, Director of Athletics at the Michigan School of Mines, Gordon Nightingale, Coach Sundt, Captain Vallely and George Berg.

Timers—Professor Taylor, Robert Duncan, Coach J. J. Steinauer and Major Lampert.

Clerk of course—David Taub.

Assistants for track events—La Verne Muzzy, Carl Klath.

Assistants for field events—Charles McGinnis, Elmer Krieger.

Judges of jumps—Coach Utteritz, George Martin, Frank Leitz.

Judges of weights—Coach Brauder, Herbert Schwarze, Willis Tres-

Penn State In Dual Meet With Syracuse

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. — Penn State's great showing in the Penn Relay carnival at Philadelphia last Friday and Saturday has encouraged blue and white supporters to hope for a victory in the important dual meet with Syracuse at Syracuse, on Saturday of this week.

Despite the loss of Alan Heffrich and Schuyler Enck, stars of last year's team, Coach Nate Cartmell seems to have developed a well balanced team of spiked shoe artists. Penn State took two firsts, five seconds, and one fourth place at the Penn games, a record that will top that of any other institution. Capt. Charley Moore won the 120-yard hurdles from a classy field, while the Nittany freshman one-mile team ran away with that championship relay.

Torrence, unheralded sprinter, took second honors to Hill of Penn in the 220-yard dash and defeated Porritt, the Australian champion, among others.

COACHES' LUNCHEON PLANNED BY BOSCH

Programs, Numbers to Be Given Out; Plans
Discussed

An informal luncheon tomorrow noon at 12 o'clock for the coaches of the prep teams has been planned by Henry Bosch '27, chairman of the entertainment committee for the second annual Mid-West Relay Carnival to be held in Randall stadium tomorrow afternoon.

According to Bosch there will be no speeches, nor formality of any sort. The luncheon is to be strictly a "get-together" affair for the purpose of drawing up final plans for the meet and to further acquaintances among high school sport leaders.

Programs and numbers for the athletes will be given out at this time and numbers for lanes will be run. Final rules and regulations will be discussed so that there will be no confusion as to the standards that have been set for the running of the meet.

Chairman Bosch has secured the Central and East Side high school bands to play at the Relays so that both spectator and runner will have plenty of music.

"We have had an enthusiastic response to all our letters inviting coaches to the luncheon so that we are quite sure that the occasion will be a success," Bosch said yesterday.

NEWARK, N. J.—Pinkey Mitchell, Milwaukee, welterweight, and Willie Harmon of New York, fought a close 12 round bout in which newspapers disagreed on the verdict.

Beloit Meets Coe On Cinderpath Saturday

BELOIT, Wis. — The Beloit college track team invades Cedar Rapids, Ia., this week-end for the first midwest dual encounter of the year. Osgood has been striving to develop hurdlers and distance men to strengthen his weak outfit, but none have been showing much ability. The Beloit schedule follows:

May 2, Coe at Cedar Rapids; May 9, Cornell at Beloit; May 16, Millekin at Decatur; May 30, Midwest meet at St. Paul.

Christy Mathewson Is Again Fighting Cold

SARANAC LAKE, N. Y.—Christy Mathewson, president of the Boston National league baseball club, is recovering from a cold at his home here. The former pitching ace of baseball, who won a valiant fight against tuberculosis here prior to his return to the game as an executive of the Boston club, is in good health and his condition cannot be considered serious or in any way alarming, his physician said yesterday.

Programs and numbers for the athletes will be given out at this time and numbers for lanes will be run. Final rules and regulations will be discussed so that there will be no confusion as to the standards that have been set for the running of the meet.

Chairman Bosch has secured the Central and East Side high school bands to play at the Relays so that both spectator and runner will have plenty of music.

"We have had an enthusiastic response to all our letters inviting coaches to the luncheon so that we are quite sure that the occasion will be a success," Bosch said yesterday.

NEWARK, N. J.—Pinkey Mitchell, Milwaukee, welterweight, and Willie Harmon of New York, fought a close 12 round bout in which newspapers disagreed on the verdict.

According to Bosch there will be no speeches, nor formality of any sort. The luncheon is to be strictly a "get-together" affair for the purpose of drawing up final plans for the meet and to further acquaintances among high school sport leaders.

Programs and numbers for the athletes will be given out at this time and numbers for lanes will be run. Final rules and regulations will be discussed so that there will be no confusion as to the standards that have been set for the running of the meet.

Chairman Bosch has secured the Central and East Side high school bands to play at the Relays so that both spectator and runner will have plenty of music.

MICHIGAN, OHIO FOES OF BADGERS ON BASEBALL TRIP

Take the Road With Even Break in Two Conference
Games

The Badger baseball team with an even break in two conference games will leave tonight for its hardest road trip of the conference year. Tomorrow the team will face the veteran Ohio team, and Monday Michigan will be met at Ann Arbor.

These two teams were tied at the end of last year for the title and both have veteran aggregations this season, so it is season nine that the Cardinals will bump against.

All this past week, Coach Lowman has been putting his men through a series of strenuous work-outs, and except for two injuries the team is in excellent condition. Tangen has been laid up all week with an injured hand, but will be ready to start tomorrow. Steen last night sprained an ankle, and Coach Lowman will not be able to tell whether or not he will be able to accompany the team.

Barnum at Catch
It is probable that Barnum will function behind the bat. His throw to second base has greatly improved and due to this asset he will probably get the call in the game tomorrow.

Who will pitch has not been announced. It will be either Clausen, Stoll, Shrenk, or Lustig, with Clausen getting the preference.

PRACTICAL EDUCATION

Criticism has not been lacking in recent years from a certain class of people in this country to the effect that our present education system is becoming altogether too much commercialized. They pointed to the dropping away of students from courses in the classics and the increase of enrollment in the professional courses, such as engineering, journalism, commerce, and chemistry. They charged that our modern education was teaching men how to make a living, not how to live, which they maintained was its fundamental purpose.

There is no gainsaying the fact that professional courses did for a time within the last decade or so show enormous increases in enrollment, that students in such courses did even at that time the few, as they termed useless courses, that they had to take. They condemned the authorities for making them take subjects which they volubly explained would never be of any use to them after they got out into the world.

Whatever the tendency may be at other institutions, it nevertheless seems to have taken an almost about face turn at this university. The falling off in enrollment of the College of Engineering, and of other of the technical courses while in part due to the fact that lack of appropriations lessened their efficiency is in much larger part, we hazard, due to the fact that people are again gaining some interest in the business of learning how to live. The commercialistic wave which swept the country was in part due to the after-effects of war. And right now people come to the university, their minds still in a plastic condition, and undecided as to what they want to do, end up by taking a general course instead of some technical one. That is as it should be. It is folly for anyone to take up one of these technical courses, put all his time and effort on it unless he is really convinced that the particular profession is really what he wants to follow.

In spite of the fact that specialists are in great demand in this country at the present, there is also the apparent paradox that a man must have more than a complete knowledge of only his own field; he must know about a hundred and one other things that will affect his own particular trade. And it is perhaps the realization of that fact that is the cause for more people enrolling in the College of Letters and Science in proportion to the whole university enrollment than before; it is perhaps the cause of the fact that we hear less grumbling about those courses that one cannot see any good in; and the cause of increased enrollment in those courses which of necessity must be considered as purely cultural studies.

RIDE 'EM, COW BOY

The spirit of the horse show this year is a breezy one that has been well expressed in the byword "Ride 'em, Cowboy!" At a time when a number of traditions of the campus are on the wane and when much of the prestige and glory attached to old campus institutions is being lost the horse show presents itself as an expression of a healthy student spirit, that has been rather derided recently.

Originally formed as an activity of minor importance under the supervision of the military department, the horse show has this year been taken over by the Caisson club and developed into an activity that is rivaling many older activities vying for spring popularity. In developing along broader lines, the horse show is proving to be of distinct service to the university. It is an event that attracts the interests of horsemen throughout the state and even neighboring states. Horses from Illinois and Wisconsin stables will ride with cardinal colors.

With all its natural advantages, it is gratifying to see that Wisconsin is assuming the leadership in sponsoring this aristocratic "sport of kings" among the colleges of the country.

WHO KNOWS

What goes to make a state university great? Does a well-rounded curricula, a faculty of prominent professors, and a large cosmopolitan student body make one's alma mater dear to him? What is remembered most in after-years, the hours spent in the classroom, the worries of furthering a large campus activity, the nights of study? (Perhaps, from the standpoint of rarity the latter may be uppermost.) But are these things, after all, the ones that give a school a certain distinction, often called "school spirit"? Rarely has that trite expression been given adequate explanation. It is doubtful if it can ever be defined, but there is no question that it is often the old traditions, the quaint characteristics of a university that go to make up "school spirit"—the bond that keeps loyal alumni united for years to come.

Wisconsin has a wealth of such traditions. The famous "On Wisconsin" is one of these. This characteristically Badger sentiment had gained a considerable measure of fame before the track team left for the Pacific coast. The West wanted to hear the song. It did hear it in an ideal setting, the Ax Rally of California University, and "On Wisconsin" is still ringing in the hearts of the westerners.

Another tradition that is peculiar to Wisconsin among the universities of the Big Ten is the midnight serenade. At no other school is the night air of a spring evening enriched with the muted strains of a banjo or the low moan of a saxophone with its accompanying song. At Wisconsin, the ghost of the old "rusty hinge" quartet still walks, and spring serenades are dear to co-ed memories, despite the curses of the men when the peace of the night is broken by the wail of a wandering Romeo.

The most recent example of Wisconsin tradition was the demonstration of last night, the annual Haresfoot initiation, an event that is looked forward to each year by the students in the Latin quarter. It is a moment of play, of burlesque, and kid-spirit in a routine of school work that otherwise goes on uninterrupted throughout the year. Is it worthwhile? After all, does it make Wisconsin any greater? Is there a logical reason for its existence? Who knows, who can tell? Only we know that it is most often these little moments that are carried away from Wisconsin to be treasured as memories. And isn't that reason enough?

For the second time Wisconsin is entertaining the athletes of the Midwest high schools who are coming here to take part in the annual relay carnival. It behoves every member of the university to make their stay a pleasant one. Thus far a very few of the fraternities have taken advantage of this opportunity to entertain these young men. Those who have not already signified their intention of taking some of them for the week end, should do so at once. Some fine men are coming to Madison today and tomorrow, and much of the success of the week-end depends upon the reception they receive. Everyone must do his share.

White caps on Mendota replaced white shirts in canoes yesterday. We can wait a little while yet for the official drive.

Haresfoot will vie with the engineers for placarded foolishness tonight. Eggs of the "Ivan Ho!" vintage have been locked in refrigerators for safekeeping at the request of the men who are ladies.

A group of seniors went over the Memorial Union plans in detail Tuesday night. It seems certain that the acorn is at last about to sprout.

Shuffle along to the Sophomore Shuffle.

Yes, it's us. Don't crowd, please. We thank you, one and all, for this wonderful reception.

Friend Touchstone tells one about a large black bear who was pursuing a small, scared Chinaman. The bear would stop to sniff the trail occasionally. The Chinaman looked back and saw this. Then he gasped, "You like my tracks? Well, good, then I make some more."

But you said I could kiss you? Yes, and who said anything about a massage?

Ya can't hang a man with a broken arm?

Naw, ya gotta use a rope.

Our dear Whycuz was spreading her stuff over the phone last night. Among other things she told us that she was getting literary, and that she had contributed to True Stories and the Wisconsin Literary Mag. "Yes," I comes back, "but when we went to Europe last summer I was seasick, and I contributed to the Atlantic." The dear girl crashed the receiver on us!

The other night we had a date, and when at 10:40 we staggered up the stairs, there was a note on the door. "Dear Stew—If I'm studying when you come in, wake me up.

Th R. M."

Seriously, we just had to get back to writing Rockets. All our wise cracks we handed in to poor Jawn, for Octy, and we nearly joked him to death. Glug, glug.

My girl just ran off with the ice-man. Hell, no more ice.

I don't use tooth paste because none of my teeth are loose.

Doctor: I took out Jimmie's appendix yesterday.

Student: Did you show her a good time?

Never again will we drag out to Esther Beach. The floor was so crowded the other night that we found we'd been dancing with the wrong blonde for half an hour. And twice we blew our handkerchief on somebody's else nose!!! The only way we could tell which one of the Fords outside was Phewie's was to look in all the door pockets. The ones without a bottle in them belonged to our bus.

Vanus said she felt a bit chilly, so I made her a coat of arms.

Clothes don't make the girl, if she makes the clothes.

"I wanna go swimmin' an' there ain't no water."

"Then do the sun stroke."

Do Indians wear water moccasins when in bathing?

A lady asked us the other day if we cared for animals. We told her no, that we waited on table.

Mother: When I was your age, young lady, a nice girl would never think of holding a young man's hand.

Daughter: But mother, nowadays a nice girl has to hold a young man's hand.

We have a date Sunday night with a girl so red-headed that she uses rouge for an eyebrow pencil.

Did you hear that the Deltas couldn't get up an orchestra because no one would play second fiddle?

We will now sing a little song entitled: "I'd love to be a street cleaner and get all the latest dirt."

We seriously intend to commit second-degree murder on the first boob who reminds us that exams are only five weeks away.

Dear Rockets:

I want a canoe date for one of these wonderful nights and none of the girls I know will date me because I have the rep of being a cynic. —What to do?

The Dauber.

Answer: You can do nothing. The water is too cold to be cynic in a canoe.

Famous Last Words: Sure it's all right, I made it myself.

Now pass quietly out, without any crowding, and next week I'll tell you the story about the big bad Kappa Sig and the poor little Kappa Delt.

As ever,

STEW.

ment of education will speak on the "Past and Future."

Library School to Hold May Day Fete Tomorrow Morning

The annual May Day Fete of the Wisconsin Library school, which has been a tradition of the school since its founding, will be held tomorrow. The fete this year will be the eighteenth to be given by the school.

For this year the fete, instead of being a public affair as in former years, is being privately observed by a breakfast to be given by the members of the class of 1925 for the faculty members. The breakfast will be at 9 o'clock Saturday morning at the Hotel Lorraine, and will be followed by a program of toasts, stunts and college songs.

The committee making arrangements for the breakfast is Mary L. Spalding, Ruth M. Bird, Emily Klueter, Clara H. Hinton, Florence G. Poppenhagen, Augusta Nielson and Berdine Thornton.

NATION OFFERS PRIZE FOR PRACTICAL STUDY

To encourage American college men and women to see Capitol and Labor in practical life, the Nation is offering three prizes to university students who spend the summer of 1925 at work in some industrial or agricultural occupation. A prize of $125 will be given for the best account of experiences in the field of labor and interpretation of the industrial situation involved, $75 for the second prize, and $25 for the third prize.

The contest is open to graduate and undergraduate students, who are enrolled in a college in the spring of 1925. Contestants must work for at least two months in the summer of 1925.

Each manuscript should be the record of the experiences of the contestant and should be not more than 4,000 words in length. The name of a member of the faculty who vouches for the contestant's eligibility, must be handed in. Manuscripts must be submitted not later than Oct. 15, 1925.

ATHENAE

There will be a regular meeting of the Athenae Literary society tonight at 7:30 o'clock on the fourth floor of Bascom hall. Students interested in forensics are invited. All members are especially urged to be present as several important matters will be brought up for discussion.

ST. FRANCIS BASEBALL

Episcopal students who wish to play on the St. Francis baseball team, should call William Ihland at F. 363 this week.

Extend Your Wardrobe With Slacks and Knickers

An economical way to add variety and extend your wardrobe is to get a pair of slacks and knickers. Slacks worn with a dark coat give you a complete outfit for informal wear, while a pair of knickers and coat or slip over sweater provide you with sports attire.

Both of these are less expensive than a suit and they relieve the monotony of every day wearing apparel. Slacks are either plain grey or faintly striped. Knickers come in solid shades of grey, and tan, or are patterned with checks or stripes.

Knickers $7.50 to $12.50

Slacks $9 to $12.50

Theaters Announce Promising Features For Coming Week

By H. E. R.

Another good list of shows is the result of another week's round of the theaters. It is hard to say which will be the main attraction, for they should all be of good worth.

The Strand will offer its usual three good shows a week, starting Sunday with "I Want My Girl," in which Milton Sills plays blind man for a time, and marries Doris Kenyon, with whom he falls in love all over again when his sight is regained. On Wednesday Reginald Denny, latest aspirant to Wallace Reid's crown, will appear on the tinsel screen in "The Reckless Age," in which he is an insurance "trouble-shooter," who is supposed to guard a girl against not marrying a certain wealthy person. You can guess the theme already. Friday and Saturday of next week will feature Blanche Sweet, Ronald Colman, and Lew Cody in "The Sporting Venus," a tale of a rich young lady who falls in love with a poor young man, who has too much pride.

All probabilities point to the holding over of "Charlie's Aunt" at the Madison for at least another four or five days. If you haven't seen it, by all means do, for it is a good comedy, and good comedies are hard to find. "The Boomerang" is being held for the showing for the last half of the week, and it stars Anita Stewart and Bert Lytell. Lytell plays the part of a love doctor, who falls in love himself. The theme sounds good, and the characters are well chosen to put it across.

Ricardo Cortez, Rudy's rival, is appearing at the Parkway the first four days of the week in "The Spaniard," a melodrama of sunny Spain. Jetta Goudal is "the" woman. As an added attraction the Williamson Brothers, radio performers, who play the banjo, mandolin, and guitar, are also booked for the same period. Then for the last half of the week, in keeping with the horse show, the Parkway is going to show "Gold Heels," a famous old race-track picture, with one of the customary exciting horse races. The play was adapted from "Checkers," one of the famous melodramas of twenty years ago.

The Dorothy LaVern players will be busy continuing their productions of comedies with "The Old Soak," the play in which Raymond Hitchcock made his debut to Madisonians and many of the students last fall. No need to say that it is good, and the production should be, too.

Over at the Majestic we will see the last of Melvyn Hesselberg and Irene Homer for some time. Both of these stars are leaving for Eu-

By CHATTY

Quite a Ringling Bros., Barnum & Bailey show they put on last night. The whole menagerie and side shows were present with Tom Morony, Gordie "Fred" Brine, Bob Talley and Sid Thorson acting as ring-masters.

The "morning-after-the-night-before" neglected to bring his famous sword. But all the animals were on hand from snakes and sheep to horses and cows.

The feature of this week in things theatrical is "Foot-Loose," Margaret Anglin and William Faversham should make a good pair. The report is that the two houses are pretty well sold out. This will probably be a much finer production than "Abie's Irish Rose," but because the latter was vaudeville in legitimate, it ran three times as long as this one will.

Freddie Bickel, whose stage name is Frederic March and who graduated from Wisconsin in 1918, is now playing in Chicago in "The Knife in the Wall."

A Chicago critic says that "he takes the role of Bruno so admirably that it is too bad that he (Bruno) turns out to be a weakling in the end. Fred was an Edwin Booth player here and appeared in Union Vodvil with Charlie Carpenter twice."

One of the hardest blows which has come this way in some time is the announcement that Melvyn Hesselberg and Irene Homer are going to play their last week in Madison stock next week. It is too bad to lose such a fine couple of actors.

But their last play will be a good one. "Outward Bound," which played a long run in New York and created quite a furor with the critics, is one of last year's best plays and has more to it than the average run.

Boost the second annual Midwest Relay Carnival to be held Saturday at Camp Randall.

rope on much needed rests, and they will perform for their last time in "Outward Bound." "Outward Bound" is a queer play, you will adapt after seeing it. The theme is concerned with a group of people on a boat who are really dead and living in an after life, but who fail to realize it. A rather novel idea, isn't it? Those who like the unusual will probably see it, ourselves included.

A melodramatic tale, inspired by the publicized amours of the famous New York Stillmans, but enhanced and elaborated to satisfy the most rabid taste for scandal and connubial intrigue. The wholesome feature of the production is the scenes in the Canadian woods, some of which are very beautiful.

SWISS PROFESSOR TO GIVE LECTURE TODAY

Prof. Peter Debye, of the Zurich Zurich university, will give two lectures here under the auspices of the physics department. This afternoon at 4 o'clock in Room 111 Sterling hall, he will talk on "Theories of Electrolytes." At 11 o'clock Saturday, at the same place, his subject will be "The Scattering of X-rays." Professor Debye is an able and active writer in the field of theoretical physics, and the subjects of the two lectures are ones in which he has done extensive work during the past few years.

FINANCIAL REPORT OF PROM SHOWS DEFICIT

expenditures made in previous years, and the actual expenditures did not exceed the budget.

Paid Admission Decrease

The number of paid admissions was less than last year, and there was a decrease in the number of boxes sold. The latter may be accounted for by the fact that last year each organization was charged a fee of $15 even though two or more organizations occupied the same box. This year a flat rate of $15 per box was assessed regardless of the number of organizations using each box.

The accounts of the finance chairman were well handled and no irregularities were found during the audit. The ticket chairman accounted for all tickets issued to him, and the general chairman accounted for all tickets in his possession.

Prom Well Managed

The auditors believe that the 1926 Prom was as well managed as proms have been in previous years. The only reason for the deficit appears to be that the attendance was not as large as had been hoped for or as large as it had been in previous years."

The one charm men expect of every girl

—make sure of it

A girl may lack beauty, style and wit and still be popular. But there is one lack which a man will not tolerate—

Underarm odor and moisture are a hopeless social handicap. The danger is that you may offend and not know it. And soap and water are powerless to control it.

The underarm must have special, regular care, just as the teeth and hair. 3,000,000 people now find their one perfect safeguard in Odorono, a delightful antiseptic toilet water formulated by a physician.

Use Odorono just twice a week and enjoy perfect freedom from all unsightly moisture and repellent odor. No stains or taint to ruin clothing; no hot, rubbery dress shields; fewer dry cleaning bills—a little bottle of Odorono saves so much!
