

LIBRARIES

UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN-MADISON

The Wisconsin alumni magazine. Volume 25, Number 7 May 1924

[s.l.]: General Alumni Association of University of Wisconsin, May 1924

<https://digital.library.wisc.edu/1711.dl/QGZB5COYM65WR83>

This material may be protected by copyright law (e.g., Title 17, US Code).

For information on re-use, see

<http://digital.library.wisc.edu/1711.dl/Copyright>

The libraries provide public access to a wide range of material, including online exhibits, digitized collections, archival finding aids, our catalog, online articles, and a growing range of materials in many media.

When possible, we provide rights information in catalog records, finding aids, and other metadata that accompanies collections or items. However, it is always the user's obligation to evaluate copyright and rights issues in light of their own use.

The WISCONSIN ALUMNI MAGAZINE

Volume XXV

May, 1924

Number 7

A TUNEFUL, musical comedy production in which the music, the lyrics, the book, the acting, the dancing, and the managing were all results of student effort was "Twinkle Twinkle" which was presented to thousands of new and old Haresfoot friends this spring in the leading cities of the Middle West.

"All our girls are men, yet everyone's a lady."

Published by GENERAL ALUMNI ASSOCIATION of University of Wisconsin

Get a certificate when you purchase your R. R. ticket to Commencement!

DWIGHT P. ROBINSON & COMPANY
INCORPORATED
ENGINEERS AND CONSTRUCTORS

Design and Construct
Industrial Plants
Power Developments
Railroad Shops

Construct
Office and Apartment
Buildings

125 EAST 46TH STREET
NEW YORK CITY

CHICAGO PHILADELPHIA YOUNGSTOWN
LOS ANGELES MONTREAL RIO DE JANEIRO

Nearly 50% of the Insurance

Issued in 1922 by

The Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company

Was Bought by Men
Previously Insured in the Company

Why don't YOU investigate the opportunity to represent a Company that has so large a number of "Repeat Orders"?

$60 In A Day

STUDENTS

Chamberlain earned this; you can do the same selling.

JIFFY EMERGENCY MUD CHAINS—during your vacation.

Every automobile owner is a prospect.

You don't have to jack or pry your car to put them on. A woman or child can do it.

THEY ARE NEW AND SELL ON SIGHT.

Sample chain and sales kit $1.30. Write

JIFFY AUTO CHAIN CORP.

Manufacturers
Woolworth Building
Watertown New York

Ziegler's Chocolates

For the man beyond the campus

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO Joseph French Johnson, who was, and is, Dean of the School of Commerce, Accounts and Finance of New York University, found himself faced with a problem to which there was no satisfactory answer.

He was constantly in receipt of letters from business men, many of them occupying places of executive responsibility. The letters asked such questions as these:

"What books shall I read?"

"Can you lay out for me a course in business economics?"

"How can I broaden my knowledge of salesmanship, or accounting, or factory management, advertising or corporation finance?"

Those were pioneer days in the teaching of Business. Dean Johnson, wishing to help, yet feeling keenly the lack of suitable facilities, conceived the plan of a faculty including both college teachers and business men, and a Course so arranged that any man might master it in his own home.

Thus began the Alexander Hamilton Institute. Dean Johnson has continued as its President; its Advisory Council includes these men:

DEXTER S. KIMBALL, Dean of the Engineering Colleges, Cornell University; JOSEPH FRENCH JOHNSON, Dean of the New York University School of Commerce; GENERAL COLEMAN DU PONT, the well-known business executive; PERCY H. JOHNSTON, President of the Chemical National Bank of New York; JOHN HAYS HAMMOND, the eminent engineer; FREDERICK H. HURDMAN, Certified Public Accountant; JEREMIAH W. JENKS, the statistician and economist.

To young men of college age, the Institute says: "Matriculate at a college or university if you possibly can; there is no substitute for the teacher." To older men, the universities and colleges, in turn, are constantly recommending the Modern Business Course of the Institute.

It is a Course for the man beyond the campus; the man who is already in business and cannot leave, the man who wants to supplement his college education. If you are such a man, may we send you, without obligation, a copy of "A Definite Plan for Your Business Progress"? It tells how 200,000 men have profited by a business training founded upon university principles, and conducted in accordance with university ideals.

Alexander Hamilton Institute

In Canada:
C.P.R. Building, Toronto

In Australia:
42 Hunter St., Sydney

THESE COLLEGES and universities, and 80 others, have used parts of the Alexander Hamilton Institute Course in their classroom work.

Amherst College
Boston University
Brown University
Bucknell University
College of the City of New York
Columbia University
Cornell University
Dartmouth College
Georgetown University
Georgia School of Technology
Lafayette College
Massachusetts Institute of Technology
New York University
Northwestern University
Ohio State University
Pennsylvania State College
Syracuse University
University of Alabama
University of California
University of Chicago
University of Indiana
University of Michigan
University of Pittsburgh
University of Texas
Vanderbilt University
Williams College
Yale University

Alexander Hamilton Institute 83 Astor Place New York City

Send me the booklet, "A Definite Plan for Your Business Progress," which I may keep without obligation.

Name

Please write plainly

Business Address

Business Position

THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION OF THE UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN

Alumni Headquarters, 821 State Street, Madison
Robert S. Crawford, '03, Executive Secretary

ALUMNI BOARD

ROBERT N. McMYNN, L'94, Pres.
MRS. T. E. BRITTINGHAM, '89, V. Pres.
A. R. JANECKY, '07, Rec. Sec'y
F. H. ELWELL, '08, Treas.
G. I. HAIGHT, '99

L. F. VAN HAGAN, '04
VICTOR FALK, '11
STUART REID, '15
MILTON FINDORFF, '17
THEODORE KRONSHAGE, '91

MEMBER OF THE ALUMNI MAGAZINES ASSOCIATED

The Wisconsin Alumni Magazine

ROBERT S. CRAWFORD, EDITOR

"A Magazine Aiming to Preserve and Strengthen the Bond of Interest and Reverence of the Wisconsin Graduate for His Alma Mater."

THE WISCONSIN ALUMNI MAGAZINE is published monthly during the School Year (November to August, inclusive) by the General Alumni Association and entered at the P. O. Madison, Wisconsin, as second class matter. ALUMNI DUES—Incl. $1.25 subscription to The Alumni Magazine—$2.00 a year, "payable on or before July 1 of each year for the fiscal year beginning May 1 next preceding." SUBSCRIPTION to The Wisconsin Alumni Magazine alone, without the privileges of membership, $2.50 a year; foreign postage 50 cents extra. CHANGE OF ADDRESS should be reported before the 21st of the month. REMITTANCES should be made payable to the Wisconsin Alumni Association and may be by check, draft, express or postal money order. All mail should be addressed to
THE WISCONSIN ALUMNI ASSOCIATION, 821 State Street, MADISON

ALUMNI PROFESSIONAL DIRECTORY

A Reliable Guide to and for Wisconsin Graduates

LAWYERS

California—WILLIAM F. ADAMS, '00, L '03, 1109 Title Ins. Bldg., Los Angeles.
PAUL W. BOEHM, '01 (MAYWOOD & BOEHM), First Nat'l Bank Bldg., San Diego.
Colorado—CYRUS W. DOLPH, '96, 311 Bennett Bldg., Colorado Springs.
JOHN H. GABRIEL, '87, L '89, 712-13 Kittredge Bldg., Denver.
Georgia—FRANK E. RADENSLEBEN, '99, 1221-26 Atlanta Trust Co. Bldg., Atlanta.
Illinois—FRED D. SILBER, '94 (McGOORTY, SILBER ISAACS & WOLEY), Corporation and Commercial Practice, 614 Home Ins. Bldg., Chicago.
GEORGE I. HAIGHT, '99, W. H. HAIGHT, '03 (HAIGHT, ADCOCK, HAIGHT & HARRIS), General and Patent Law, 1041 The Rookery, Chicago.
GLEN E. SMITH, '09, L '13, McCormick Building, 332 S. Michigan Ave., Chicago.
PHILIP E. SIGGERS, ex '16 (LL.B., MP.L.), Patent Causes, 10 S. La Salle St., Chicago.
Indiana—ELMER L. GOLDSMITH, E '15 (Lockwood & Lockwood), Patent and Trademark Law, Fletcher Trust Bldg., Indianapolis.
Minnesota—EUGENE C. NOYES, '82, 822 Security Bldg., Minneapolis.
CLARK R. FLETCHER, '11 (ALLEN & FLETCHER), 631-39 Metropolitan Bank Bldg., Minneapolis.

North Dakota—G. S. WOOLEGGE, '04 (GREENLEAF & WOOLEGGE), Minot.

Ohio—JOE G. FOGG, '04 (CALFEE, FOGG & WHITE), 1607-12 Williamson Bldg., Cleveland.

Washington—ARTHUR REMINGTON, '87, 1012-1014 Rust Bldg., Tacoma.

Wisconsin—EDWARD H. RYAN, '74, Pheobus Blk., Janesville.

E. J. B. SCHUBRING, '01, First Central Bldg., Madison.

M. B. OLBRICH, '04, TIMOTHY BROWN, '11, LEE L. SIEBECKER, '15 (OLBRICH, BROWN & SIEBECKER), Madison.

RICHARD B. RUNKE, '00, Stange Bldg., Merrill.
R. G. HARVEY, '03 (THOMPSON & HARVEY), Os-good Bldg., Racine.

J. W. COLLINS, '97, W. B. COLLINS, '01, L '09 (COLLINS & COLLINS), York Bldg., Sheboygan.

REALTORS

Idaho—HARVEY HOLMES, '00, Pres. Real Estate Board and Dairy Farm Special. Pocatello.

Ohio—ANNE H. MAC NEIL JOHNSON, '03, Ph. M. '04 (JOHNSON & CLYDE), Realtors, Mercantile Library Bldg., Cincinnati.

“What a whale of a difference just a few cents make!”

—all the difference between just an ordinary cigarette and—FATIMA, the most skillful blend in cigarette history.

A Growing List

of loyal Life Members of the General Alumni Association bespeaks increasing interest in our co-operative work for Wisconsin.

Among additions to the Life Membership roll since last issue are the following:

Name	Year	Residence
Elsey Bristol	'86	Greece
R. E. Baus	'00	Detroit, Mich.
Florence Griswold Buckstaff	'86	Oshkosh
Elizabeth Comstock	'97	Arcadia
H. L. Ekern	'94	Madison
R. T. Herdegen	'05	Detroit, Mich.
B. W. Jones	'70	Madison
Katharine MacDonald Jones	'86	Madison
H. C. Johnson	'03	Chicago, Ill.
Dr. A. J. Ochsner	'84	" "
O. W. Ray	'78	" "
Margaret Eberle Rosencranz	'13	Evansville, Ind.
R. F. Schuchardt	'97	Chicago, Ill.
Fred Silber	'94	" "
Dr. G. F. Thompson	'96	" "

CUT ALONG THIS LINE

CUT ALONG THIS

Mail to General Alumni Headquarters
821 State St., Madison, Wis.

This check will serve as a receipt and membership card

Life Membership

_____ 1924
Name of city and state here Date

Pay to the order of The Wisconsin Alumni Association

Fifty Dollars ($50.00)

For Life Membership in the General Alumni Association

To _____ Name

_____ Address of bank here Address

The Wisconsin Alumni Magazine

"And so the University can count its seventy-five years of usefulness and of progress. It has advanced the commonwealth materially and spiritually. It has minted the coin of citizenship."

Volume XXV

Madison, Wis., May, 1924

Number 7

PRESIDENT R. N. McMynn, '94, announces the appointment of the following Committee on Nominations for members of the Alumni Board: Catherine Cleveland, '94, 4807 Greenwood Ave., Chicago, Ill.; Dr. C. H. Bardeen (faculty), 23 Mendota Ct., Madison; H. L. Ruschell, '88, University Farm, Madison; Mrs. Mary C. Brown Morton, '93, 675 Maryland Ave., Milwaukee; Hugo Nominating Committee Rusch, '23, 119 W. Gorham St., Madison, Wisconsin.

N. B. This committee has the responsibility for nominating three members of the Alumni Board for consideration by the Annual Meeting of the General Alumni Association, following the Alumni Dinner on Saturday, June 21.

One of the nominees must be a graduate of the College of Agriculture, one of the College of Engineering, and one of the Medical School. The present incumbents are Stuart Reid, '15, Oconomowoc; L. F. Van Hagan, '04, Madison, and Dr. Victor Falk, '11, Stoughton. They are all eligible for re-election.

Suggestions on the matter of these three nominations are solicited. Such suggestions may be mailed to Miss Cleveland or to any member of her committee.

In December, 1923, Dean F. Louise Nardin was appointed as a member of the faculty for a period of two years "to form connection between the American Association of University women and the college."

The A. A. of U. W. The purposes of the A. A. of U. W. are "of uniting the alumnae of different institutions for practical educational work, the collection and publication of statistical and other information concerning education, and in general for the maintenance of higher standards of education."

The purchase of the Headquarters and Club House at 1634 Eye Street N. W., Washington, D. C., has been undertaken. The campaign is being carried forward among the 19,000 members of the A. A. of U. W. in their 272 branches. Patrons will be contributors of $5,000 or more, Benefactors, $1,000 to $5,000, Donors, $500 to $1,000, Contributors, $100 to $500. Mrs. Annie Dinsdale Swenson, '80, makes the following announcement: "I have subscription blanks and shall be glad to send them to any Wisconsin alumnae who wish to subscribe to the National Club House."

How to increase membership naturally challenges the attention of officers and directors who feel far from satisfied with present membership figures which are less than eight per cent of the quarter of a million college women eligible for membership in the United States. In compliance with special request "that one of the ten voting delegates representing the University of Wisconsin at the 39th general meeting be appointed for the special purpose of co-operating with national officers on the problem of membership," Anna Birge, '06, has been designated as such special representative.

The Wisconsin delegates to this convention, chosen by Mrs. Swenson and her committee were: Laura Osborne Austin, '97; Anna Birge, '06;

Anne Esch, ex '23; Louise Evans, ex '09; Elizabeth Fox, '07; Hildred Moser Hawkins, '08; Anne Scribner Hard, '98; Jessie Hutchinson, '89; Katherine Lenroot, '12; Emma Lundberg, '07. We hope to be furnished in time for publication in the June issue with the names of other Wisconsin alumnae who attended this third annual convention which was held at Washington, D. C., April 21-25.

Organized 1919, includes the principal news publications of exclusive interest to college graduates and their families. Here is incomparable reader interest for substantial men—average age 34—who subscribe year after year (75-95% renewals) and Alumni Magazines Associated read because they want news of their friends, acquaintances, fellow alumni, and their college. Two sizes of type page—7"x10" and 5½"x8"; 2 master plates necessary. More than 150,000 circulation in over 40 small units, over 50% of each circulation within 500 miles of the college. Executive Committee of alumni business managers, and an annual meeting of publication members. With this group are affiliated the magazines for graduates of women's colleges. Wisconsin alumni advertisers can secure additional information from Alumni Headquarters, 821 State Street, Madison, Wisconsin.

CONRAD HOFFMAN, '06, HEADS EUROPEAN STUDENT RELIEF

NEWs comes from across the water of the remarkable success of Conrad Hoffman, '06, in his work for the relief of poor and needy students in the war-torn countries of Central Europe. Conrad Hoffman will be remembered as the brilliant young bacteriologist who left the staff of the College of Agriculture in 1913 to go, first into Y. M. C. A. work at the University of Kansas, and later when the war began, as a worker in German prison camps among Allied and American soldiers.

Our strong interest in his life begins with his graduation from the University in 1906. There followed a year of graduate study in Germany where, it is fair to suppose, he made his acquaintance with the German students and their "New Youth Movement" which took him back there following the war and aroused his interest in social work. He came back to the College of Agriculture in 1908 as an instructor in agriculture, with every assurance of a remarkable scientific career before him. After three years' work at Wisconsin, the call to social service became so strong that he gave up his career in science, and devoted himself whole-heartedly to Y. M. C. A. work.

After two years' work as Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at the University of Kansas, he was called abroad, supposedly for two or three months, with a flying squadron of Americans. In England he was asked, because of his knowledge of the German people, and because of his then American neutrality, to go to Germany to work among English prisoners of war in Germany. He went, and stayed in Germany until America entered the war. The Germans then paid him the unusual compliment of allowing him to remain at large in Germany, providing food, books, musical instruments, and entertainment for the American prisoners of war in Germany.

After the war he performed signal service in the release of American prisoners of war quartered in Germany, and also helped German prisoners to get their releases from France and Russia.

Then a flying visit to the United States, a few short months with his family, and he was called again, this time to take charge of student relief work in Central Europe. In this work he has been engaged for the past five years, and he now is in charge of every dollar that is sent from America for the relief of needy students. His work takes him through Europe constantly.

His sister, Mrs. L. P. Hanson, who lives in Madison, says, "Conrad has on his face the marks of the great suffering which he has seen. He has aged perceptibly. He writes that there is no great spirit for peace in Europe, and sees hope only in the splendid attitude of the students of the new generation. In them lies Europe's hope of peace and a common understanding. Europe is improving economically but not spiritually. The great want in central Europe, especially among university students, has given the leaders of the coming generation among students a new understanding and sympathy with the laboring man. Europe's salvation lies in the application of the Christian method to her problems."

Friends and classmates of Conrad Hoffman, or those who have sympathy with his work, may aid the University students who are putting on a "Friendship Drive" for the benefit of needy European students, by inviting correspondence from those friends, classmates, and sympathizers of Conrad Hoffman and his work who care to contribute to this undertaking for the benefit of needy European students. Such correspondence should be addressed to The Student Friendship Drive Committee, care U. W. Student Union Board, 752 Langdon St., Madison, Wisconsin.

THE GLEE CLUB TOUR

INTERPRETING the Wisconsin Spirit in song, the Wisconsin Glee club spent the entire spring vacation on a concert tour of Wisconsin, northern Illinois, and Iowa. The cities on the itinerary included Beloit, Rockford, Ill., Davenport, Ia., La Crosse, Sparta, Wisconsin Rapids, Marshfield and Stevens Point. Twenty-two men went on the trip.

As on its previous trips, the club was enthusiastically received everywhere. For the first time in the history of the organization so many were unable to crowd in Music Hall to hear the recent home concert that an overflow concert had to be given the next day.

After six years of steady growth under the leadership of Prof. E. E. Swinney, director, the club has reached new levels of achievement. Although the Wisconsin singers did not win first place in the Inter-collegiate Glee Clubs contest as they did last year, Professor Swinney is of the opinion that the club is even superior to last year's organization. "The Wisconsin Glee Club this year is the finest group of university singers that I have ever directed," he said upon his return from a series of short week-end trips. "University glee club music has at last reached a high standard after years of striving for improvement. The cheap and meaningless ditties which constituted the programs of college singing clubs several years ago are no longer sung. To present good music so well that it cannot fail to be popular is our motto."

An auxiliary organization similar to the second band was formed at the beginning of the second semester, to enable the ranks of graduating members to be filled by the new men who will have had a full semester's training. The new plan will enable the club to present programs at any time during the first semester. It was previously impossible to give concerts the first semester because at the beginning of the year there were not enough experienced men left to make a complete organization. Members of the second organization are now rehearsing with the first club and will be ready to become active members at the beginning of the first semester next year.

HOME COMING CHAIRMAN APPOINTED

BERT HILBERTS, '25, president of the Junior class and one of the most popular athletes in the University, has been appointed chairman of the 1924 Homecoming scheduled for November 15, with the big Iowa football game as the special attraction, and when the Alumni will return to Madison by the thousands.

Hilberts is an ideal athlete. In the first place, he is an excellent student about whom there is never a question as to his eligibility to compete. He is tall, slender, with plenty of spring in his muscles, and a heart which knows no defeat. He made a name for himself in his sophomore year when he took third place in the Conference meet in the half mile, which was won by Valley, his team-mate and pal, in 1:55:1.

But Hilberts is not only an exceptional half-miler; he runs a fast quarter and also the mile. In fact, he is above the average in any run from 100 yards to the mile and is a most valued member of both the one- and the two-mile relay. He is a member of the University "W" Club and of the Athletic Board.

ATHLETICS

By PAUL HUNTER

WISCONSIN athletes are ready for outdoor spring athletics, after the strenuous indoor work in their cramped quarters.

Coach G. S. Lowman started on the Southern training trip during the spring vacation, before his baseball team had been able to get out of doors a single time. All preliminary work had been done in the small Annex, and although the players left Madison on April 4 in good physical condition, it was impossible to tell what they could really do in a game, because they had not been on the diamond. Those taken on the Southern trip were: Catchers—Capt. Aschenbrenner and Lamboley; pitchers—Johnson, Christianson, Luther, Porter, and Ritchie; first base—Steen and Radke; second base—Ellingson; third base—Goss and Tangen; short stop—Skaife; outfielders—Dugan, Emanuel, and Servatius.

Nine games were to be played in Indiana, Mississippi, and Alabama before opening the season with Chicago in Chicago on April 15.

JONES

has so frequently brought them in ahead of the individual stars of their opponents. Wisconsin teams will run in the one- and four-mile relays at Kansas and in the quarter, one-two- and four-mile relays at Drake.

The University has this year established a new track event, which gives promise of becoming one of the biggest and most important meets for high school athletes in the country. It is the First Annual U. of

Coach Jones had his track athletes working out at Camp Randall before all the snow and ice had disappeared inside the stadium. It was necessary to get as early a start as possible because of the Kansas Relay meet on April 19 and the Drake Relays on April 26, where the Badger runners are again expected to prove important factors. Although he has no individual stars in any of the events, Coach Jones has, as usual, developed some well-balanced teams with the Badger fighting spirit which

W. Interscholastic Relay Carnival to be held at Camp Randall on May 3. Invitations have been sent to nine hundred high schools in a dozen Mid-Western states, and the entries already received guarantee the success of the meet, which will be the first relay meet ever held in the Middle West for high school athletes exclusively. Four weeks later, on May 31, the thirtieth Annual Wisconsin Interscholastic Track and Field meet will be held at Camp Randall.

Coach Ryan has issued a call for the spring practice for all candidates for the Varsity football team and is expected to have nearly 100 men report to him on April 21 at Camp Randall. During the winter, weekly meetings have been held by the candidates in groups, the candidates for back-field positions meeting at one time, those for ends at another, and those for the line at still another time. The rules and various problems have been studied at these sessions, and now the men are anxious to get out in their suits and put into practice what they have been studying during the winter.

But the most impatient athletes in the University are the twenty-four big fellows who are candidates for the Varsity crew. They all want to go to the big regatta at Poughkeepsie in June and have been given to understand that the crew will be sent East when, in the opinion of Coach "Dad" Vail, it can maintain the reputation of Wisconsin on the water.

Coach Vail is not ready to express his opinion. He has twenty-four likely-looking young men, who have been working on the rowing machines in the Annex all winter, but what they can do on the water remains to be seen, and Lake Mendota is still covered with two feet of ice, although it is honey-combed and likely to break up at almost any time.

Word has been received that the new shell, ordered last October from George Pocock, the famous Seattle boat builder, will be shipped within a few days, and we hope to have it here for the intensive training as soon as the Varsity Eight is selected. And with the prospect of going to Poughkeepsie, the members of the crew will train harder than ever.

COACH VAIL

U. W. CLUBS

"Sit together, listen together, sing together, eat together, and you'll work together"

TO STRENGTHEN A LOCAL U. W. CLUB

"Make the first requirement of membership in a local U. W. Club membership in the General Alumni Association.

"The alumni, through their local organizations, can and should do things. The central association can not infuse life into local branches by some hypodermic method or other. Rather, it is the central organization which thrives only when alumni everywhere are alert for their opportunity for service."

"But whatever is done, emphasize that fact that the Wisconsin Alumni Association comes first, the local organization second. Why not put such provisions into the constitution?"—E. C. M., '01.

CHICAGO ALUMNAE AND ALUMNI

MARIE BODDEN, '21

WISCONSIN'S birthday party this year had more than its annual thrill for Wisconsin alumni. To commemorate the 75th anniversary of the founding of our University, over 300 men and women, representing all classes from the first of the late fifties to last June's, met on February 9 in the Grand Ballroom of the Hotel La Salle.

Touches of the cardinal everywhere about the tables made you know at once upon entering that it was surely a Wisconsin party. Following the luncheon, interspersed with old songs and not a few reminiscences, Toastmaster E. C. Austin, '12, president of the U. W. Club of Chicago, introduced the speaker of the day, Professor Stephen Gilman, '99. His was a long and keenly anticipated visit most completely realized in his loving appreciation of Wisconsin's story and growth as interpreted by him in terms of the men and women associated with this growth during the seventy-five years just completed.

PROFESSOR GILMAN

Mrs. David B. Frankenburger, widow of Professor Frankenburger, '69, who was connected with the University from 1869 to 1906, was a guest of honor at the party. Mrs. Frankenburger's interest in the University has been manifest by her membership in the General Alumni Association ever since Professor Frankenburger's death.

The program was followed by an afternoon of dancing. 3-17-'24.

CHICAGO ALUMNAE

"The Land Where Hate Expires" was visualized with new hope and definiteness for the thirty or more members of the Wisconsin Alumnae Club of Chicago at their March meeting held on Saturday, the twenty-ninth, at the Palmer House.

Dr. A. J. McCartney, '00, was the guest of honor and the speaker of the day. Details of the Haresfoot play to come April 14 were discussed, ticket plans announced, and parties formed. Announcement of the election of officers was accompanied by the naming of the nominating committee with Margaret Smith Young '92, chairman. An invitation was extended to members of the club to have tea at Mrs. Young's home at Hotel Windermere, Saturday, April 12.—4-12-'24.

CHICAGO ALUMNI

H. C. MARKS, '13

N. B. Friday luncheons are now held at Mandel Brothers.

Two big attractions on Chicago's calendar for April were: The Haresfoot Club in "Twinkle Twinkle" on April 14, and on the following Monday, April 21, the second Annual Athletic Dinner, held at the University Club at 6:30 p. m., with the championship basketball team as the guest of honor.

The Chicago Club is extremely proud of the team's record this season, especially so in view of being handicapped by Spooner's injury early in the race. Dr. Meanwell was therefore confronted with the colossal task of rebuilding the team around only one veteran in the person of Captain Gibson. With the other teams tying for the championship this year being represented by four veterans and one new man, Wisconsin's showing, playing with four new men the greater part of the season, becomes an outstanding achievement in Big Ten athletics.

At one of the weekly luncheons during March, the Club acted as host to the Northwestern University alumni of Chicago. Closer relationship between alumni bodies of various universities of the Middle West is very desirable and it is our intention to have joint luncheons with other alumni from time to time.

Beginning Friday, April 18, the regular weekly luncheons will be held at Mandel Bros. Grill in the private dining room. For the benefit of alumni not residing in Chicago, the Grill is located on the ninth floor, and from the Wabash Avenue entrance just north of Madison Street; express elevator service direct to the dining room is available. The new location will give us accommodations for more than 150 people and we want every Wisconsin alumnus to take advantage of the opportunity to renew old friendships while in Chicago. The hour is 12:30. Ask Professor Gardner about our luncheons. He knows.—4-11-'24.

N. B. Friday luncheons are now held at Mandel Brothers.

TREASURER'S REPORT

For the period September 1, 1923, to December, 31, 1923.

Receipts

Received from former Treasurer, including two dues paid in advance	$10.00
	$	14.66
Dues from 429 members at $5.00 each		2,145.00
Dues from one member at $3.00		3.00
Sale of Banquet tickets:
At door	$206.00
At Madison	15.00	221.00
Wisconsin-Illinois Smoker, net returns		45.35
Total receipts to December 31, 1923		$2,429.01

Disbursements

Bills prior to September 1, 1923	$129.88
Exchange		.74
Stationery, printing, etc.	236.56
Mailing post card notices, etc.	221.68
Stenographic and clerical assistance	12.50
Banquet—total Expense	928.02
Miscellaneous—luncheons for speakers, tips, U. W. Band railroad fares to Chicago game, etc.	68.48	$1,597.86
Balance—Cash in bank		$831.15

Respectfully submitted.

SAMUEL S. HICKOX
Secretary-Treasurer.

Certificate

We have examined the records of Samuel S. Hickox, Treasurer of the University of Wisconsin Club of Chicago for the period September 1, 1923, to December 31, 1923, and hereby certify, that, in our opinion the receipts and disbursements are correctly stated above, that all receipts have been properly accounted for, and that all disbursements have been proper disbursements for the club purposes.

FRAZER AND TORBET

Certified Public Accountants.
Chicago, Illinois,
March 3, 1924.

"The time has come," the Walrus said,
 "To tell of many things,"
 Of teams and bands and income tax
 And inter-college sings,
 Of tea-pot domes and home-made gin
 Of stocks and bonds and "moon"—
 You'll hear 'em at the Friday lunch,
 The Wisconsin Club—at noon,
Chicago Chapter.

The club is to be congratulated on the neat pocket-edition of its constitution, including directory of officers and committees, and date book for the current year. The folder, a gift to the Club, comes with "compliments of Low's Letter Service."

DETROIT ALUMNAE

ELEANORE BOGAN, '20

The card party planned at our February meeting was held on Saturday, March 1, and was very successful, both as a financial enterprise to raise money for the Memorial Union pledge and as a social gathering. Isabelle Gamble Winchester, '15, was chairman. She was ably assisted by Harriet Hutson Crocker, '08, and Ellen Egan, '17. Erma Mueller Danhoff, '07, generously invited the club to use her home for the party.

The monthly luncheon was held at the College Club, on March 29. Twelve members attended. Owing to the absence of our president, Edna Confer De Boos, ex '09, Mrs. Danhoff presided. As our pledge to the Union fund had just been paid, and we all agreed that we could give money to no worthier cause, nor to none dearer to us all, we pledged an additional sum to be paid within the next two years.

We were all glad to greet a new member, Helen Rice Haake, '18. She was welcomed especially by two members of her class, Marjorie Sexton Howell, '19, and Grace Andersen Brownrigg, '19.

Julia Outhouse, '19, who is doing research work at the Merrill Palmer School, is also a recent and welcome addition to our number. The membership now totals twenty-seven.—4-14-'24.

DETROIT

Intercollegiate bowling scores for April 2:

	W	L	%	Averages
Wisconsin.....	20	4	833	M. A. C. 826
M. A. C.....	16	8	667	Wisconsin 809
Cornell.....	14	10	583	Cornell..... 801
Purdue.....	14	10	583	Purdue..... 788
Ohio State.....	4	17	190	M. I. T..... 736
M. I. T.....	4	20	167	Ohio State 707

U. W. high scores: Louis Kreuz, '17, 171; R. T. Herdegen, '05, 169; H. W. Mandel, '17, 166; A. P. Haake, '14, 159; Karel Melaas, '20, 156; Mitchell, 150.

NEW ENGLAND

L. B. SLICHTER, '17

We can't expect to have a much better sort of meeting than we enjoyed last time, on Foundation Day. However, we do hope to have more like it, and to have an ever increasing membership to enjoy them and to exchange and renew Wisconsin associations.

Despite distance, New England is quite a focus for Badgers. In addition to the alumni in the professions and in business, there are present fully fifty studying in the Harvard graduate schools alone. One nucleus of Wisconsin men is to be found in the Harvard Economics Service, which broadcasts the pulse and symptoms of the nation's business. Prof. C. J. Bullock, the chairman of the Harvard Committee on Economic Research, received his Ph.D. from Wisconsin in 1895. Prof. Allyn Young, Ph.D. '02, is a contributing editor to the quarterly magazine which presents in greatest detail the work of the committee staff. Prof. Warren Persons, B.S. '99, Ph.D. '16, edits this quarterly. Dr. J. B. Hubbard, B.A. '12, M.A. '13, edits the weekly bulletin, which presents summaries of current conclusions and gives latest forecasts on business conditions.

This certainly shows that the good old Wisconsin influence doesn't weaken much with distance.—4-15-'24.

NEW YORK

H. E. BILKEY, '12

It is safe to say that March 7 marked the high spot in the affairs of the U. W. Club of New York.

The dinner was a combination of the annual dinner and election of officers and the celebration of the 75th birthday of the University. With over 140 Badgers grouped at small tables, each seating ten, enthusiasm was the order of the day. Each and everyone was carried back in memory to days spent on the campus at Wisconsin.

This party was under the direction of Karl Mann, '11, general chairman, and Karl outdid himself. Associated with him there was a committee as follows: Harry Benedict, '16; C. O. Bickelhaupt, '11; H. E. Bilkey, '12; Raymond Bill, '17; Theodora Briggs, '13; Bernice Stewart Campbell, '16; Edwin Kohl, '13; J. K. Livingston, '13; Paul Morris, '10; Kathryn Parkinson, '14; Helen Snyder, '20; A. R. Taylor, '14; J. S. Thompson, '10; Lucy Wallrich, '19.

Among the guests of the evening was Richard Washburn Child, who has just resigned as American Ambassador to Italy; he gave a short talk on the needs for individual conscience and individual responsibility in working out the problems which now face the world, taking the position that only through individual responsibility can collective reason be fostered.

It was particularly fitting to have him as one of the speakers as Mrs. Child was a student at the University and, as Mr. Child put it, his talk was to be a short one by deliberate intention, and he also had a particular right to be present at a Wisconsin banquet—and that that was also by deliberate intention.

We were also fortunate in having with us Walter Camp. To those of us in the Middle West Walter Camp has always meant the big athletic East, and to have Camp with us and talk to us as one of us was a real inspiration. He gave a talk on "Keeping Fit." Not only were his stories and illustrations timely and to the point and full of humor, but his demonstrations of some of the Daily Dozen exercises and the effect of lack of exercise upon men growing old aroused much mirth and rounds of applause. It is indicative of the enthusiasm and the campus spirit which were everywhere in existence that Camp, although he stated he was tired, stayed long after the formal activities were over, and made the remark that of all the banquets of the various universities he has attended, he had never seen a finer looking group of women than that at our banquet. Incidentally, we noticed that he also was "keeping fit," as on several occasions he was spied tripping the light fantastic with those women he had praised so highly. Of course, this praise was to be expected for those who have been co-eds at Wisconsin, but Camp meant what he said and knows whereof he speaks—and proved it by his actions. More than that, we all agreed with him.

In addition to these two speakers, H. J. Thorkelson, '98, former business manager of the University, gave a talk on his experiences while in Madison, and Toastmaster A. H. Melville, '12, in his opening remarks told something of the seventy-five years' history of the University.

The Toastmaster called for two extemporaneous speeches from Berton Braley, '05, the celebrated poet, and Paul Norgord, '06, the latter coming all the way from Albany to be present at the Annual Dinner.

We were fortunate in having with us the Metropolitan Opera Company Soprano, Miss Nannette Guilford, who rendered several solos which met with instantaneous applause.

Between the courses and following the formal program there was dancing—music being furnished by the Redpath Orchestra. To gaze over that ballroom would carry any old Grad back to the days of the Chocolate Shop, the Palace of Sweets, or the Woman's Building on Friday and Saturday nights.

Quite aside from the formal program, the menu which Karl and his committee arranged for was of surpassing excellence.

The reception committee was headed by Theodora Briggs, '13, assisted by Kathryn Parkinson, '14, and Grace Burgard

Holcomb, '14. If anyone present did not meet everyone else, it certainly was not the fault of the committee.

At each place there was a program, contributed and arranged for by Harry Benedict, '16, song sheets, and the first directory of the U. W. Club of New York, compiled by the secretary. While this directory may be incomplete, it is the first effort in this direction and should be of great assistance in welding the organization more closely together.

The dinner started at 7:30 with the "Varsity Toast." Shortly following this the telephone rang and President Birge sent a message to the New York alumni which was repeated to those present by the Toastmaster. "Prexy's" message is a good one for all alumni to read and we are therefore including it:

"It is a pleasure to send a greeting to our alumni in the far East and to feel that this occasion is a symbol of the relation between Wisconsin and you who love her, a relation not affected by distance. Although I am here on the campus and you are nearly one thousand miles away, I venture to believe that your mental picture of the hill, the lake, and the familiar buildings is as vivid as my own. There are memories and experiences which do not die, and among these are your memories of Wisconsin days.

"Yours is one of the latest in the series of Founders' Day meetings which have been held in so many cities this year and with so much success. I trust that the accumulated energy of the whole series will be with you. I hope that this celebration of the 75th anniversary of the commencement of teaching in the University may not only renew your interest in Alma Mater and your affection for her, but that it may also turn your thoughts toward our great work—and great tasks—of teaching.

"For other news you may look back to your memories of the hill in March—underfoot, alternate slop and slip; on the lake, iceboats; in the gym, basketball. The prom is past and lost sleep made up; the military hop is coming, but not yet imminent. And through all and behind all the steady operation of classroom and laboratory, which figures so little in the Cardinal and so much in the after life of the alumnus.

"And so I leave you to the exchange of stories, the refreshment of memories, and the renewal of youth and of the happiness of college days at Wisconsin."

Following the formal program there was a short business meeting at which the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, C. O. Bickelhaupt, '11; secretary, John Bickel, '16; vice-president, Ray Palmer, '01, E. W. Underwood, '00, E. F. Gruhl, '08, Lucy Wallrich, '19, Carl Reed, '05. Executive Committee, H. Edw. Bilkey, '12, J. K. Livingston, '13, Theodora Briggs, '13, Karl Mann, '11.

Dancing was then the order of the day—or rather the night—the party breaking up in the wee small hours.

The attendance was over 85% larger than last year and augers well for the future success of the club. We are looking forward to big things during the coming year under the direction of President Bickelhaupt. Next year we want the attendance to reach over 300. Those present will long remember the Annual Dinner and the 75th Birthday of Alma Mater and the celebration of that birthday at the Commodore, March 7, 1924.

A beautifully printed Directory of Wisconsin people residing in New York came from the press in commemoration of the 75th anniversary of the founding of the University, sponsored by the U. W. Club in that city. The title page features a greeting from President Birge, which reads: "Alma Mater sends greetings to the New York alumni with the message that her seventy-fifth birthday finds her actively engaged in bringing up her numerous family of the present day with the same care that she gave to you when you were still under her charge."

PHILADELPHIA

WM. STERICKER, '17

A luncheon was held at the City Club on March 25. Wm. J. Bollenbeck, '08, gave us the latest dope on the University and Madison. Then Dr. J. G. Cummings of Michigan explained the plans for an alumni federation of Mid-Western universities in Philadelphia. It is felt that such an organization will strengthen all the participating alumni clubs. In addition to the speakers the following were present: H. E. Ferry, ex '02, E. O. Lange, '15, Wm. Stericker, '17, Armand Quick, '18, Earl Mylecraine, ex '19, W. A. Clark, '20, and R. B. Meyers, '20.—4-9-'24.

FREE CAMP GROUND

Returning graduates are reminded of the fine, free public Camp Ground at Olin Park (recently renamed in honor of J. M. Olin, '79; you knew it as Monona Park).

The Association of Commerce offers to make arrangements to set aside such part of the park as may be requested in advance by returning graduates. Furthermore, the Association of Commerce will, upon application, send detailed information including best auto routes, etc. For this free service write direct to The Madison Association of Commerce, 121 S. Pinckney St., Madison, Wis.

BOOK NOTES

Tar and Feathers (Dorrance and Co., Philadelphia, Pa. $2), by Victor Rubin, '14. The plot grows around a friendship formed "over there," where the risking of one's life to save one's buddy was a mere commonplace. Such a friendship—a Protestant for the three comrades to whom he owes his very existence—a Catholic, a Jew, and a Negro—is put to the test on their return to America and to a community where the Ku Klux Klan is a controlling power.

The author accomplishes his aim "boldly to expose the forces of intolerance and racial prejudice now rampant in America" through a good love story that holds the reader to the last.

From among reviews appearing in metropolitan newspapers we quote the following from the Philadelphia Record: "A cogent appeal for liberality of view, for a realization that all humanity is intrinsically similar, that the great teachers of mankind all breathed love and unity . . . a book that any man concerned with the interesting presentment of truth would do well to read."

President Harding (Reprinted from the American Journal of International Law, Vol. XVII, No. 4, October, 1923), by Charles Noble Gregory, '71. This is not a biographical sketch of our late President, since that form of memorial has been fully erected through the newspaper and magazine press. Dr. Gregory aims briefly to review Mr. Harding's course and attitude as to our international affairs. His review leads to the following conclusions: "The new steps in international relations taken by Mr. Harding's administration cannot be regarded as approved and permanent benefactions until tested by both time and serious trial, but they have all men's hopes and good wishes, including, it is believed, those of Mr. Coolidge. If they stand the test and meet the trials, Mr. Harding's administration will have written a great and noble chapter in the history of international affairs and will take a far higher place than a cautious and honest pen can as yet more than tentatively suggest for it."

PHOTOART FINISHING

SPECIAL MAIL SERVICE—We bring Photoart developing and printing to your door. It costs no more than does the ordinary kind.

Stick a 1c stamp on your next exposed roll and drop it in the nearest mail box.

THE PHOTOART HOUSE,
WM. J. MEUER, '10, Pres. Madison, Wis.

CONKLIN & SONS COMPANY (Established 1854)
Coal, Wood, Mendota Lake Ice, Cement,
Stucco, White Lime, Hair and Sewer Pipe,
MAIN OFFICES: 24 E. MIFFLIN ST., MADISON

ALUMNI NEWS

Alumni please keep in touch with the MAGAZINE and with your class Secretary

ENGAGEMENTS

- 1907 Louise French, New York, to Reeves COLBURN, Rancaugua, Chili. The wedding will take place the latter part of June.
- 1916 Winifred Krebs, Johnstown, Pa., to Louis PRADT, Jr., Wausau.
- 1916 Evelyn Monteith, Boston, Mass., to Ralph MACGILVRA, St. Paul, Minn.
- 1917 Mary Farrior, bursar, University of Chattanooga, to Maxwell SMITH, head of the French department, University of Chattanooga. The wedding is to take place in June.
- ex'19 Viola MILLER, Long Beach, Calif., to 1923 George MASON, Verona. Mr. Mason is employed with the National Cash Register Company, Brooklyn, N. Y.
- 1920 Eva MELBY, Anglo-American College, Foochow, China, to Francis Brewster of the American Banking Corporation of Shanghai. The wedding will take place in June.
- ex'20 Elizabeth Eschweiler to Ralph FRIED- 1923 MANN, both of Milwaukee.
- 1921 Viola Poebling to Joseph LISKOVEC, both of LaCrosse.
- ex'21 Cathryn CARPENTER, Racine, to Harry 1922 Birt, Chicago.
- 1922 Leah Burnstead, Chetek, to George HORTON, instructor in physics at the University.
- 1923 Elizabeth WEAVER, Indianapolis, Ind., to 1921 Fred Turner.
- 1923 Elizabeth CORDELL, Dixon, Ill., to Ray- 1921 mond SCHMIDT. Mr. Schmidt is connected with the Mutual Life Insurance Company, Davenport, Iowa.
- 1924 Rachel Goodman, Madison, to Edgar 1924 LILJA, Rockford, Ill.
- 1924 Sara PRATT, Kansas City, Mo., to John- 1924 son BENNETT, Chicago, Ill. Miss Pratt was an L.&S. scholar in 1922-24.
- 1924 Janet LOCKHART, Milbank, S. D., to 1924 Clinton ANDREWS, Bloomer.
- 1924 Margaret CALLEN, Chicago, Ill., to El- 1923 don RUSSELL, Madison.
- 1927 Marjorie SCHULTZ to Marshall Mc- 1924 MURRAN, since graduation in February associated with the Utah Power and Light Company, Salt Lake City.

MARRIAGES

- 1915 Gretchen Clements to Overton WOOD- 1915 WARD, both of Richmond, Va., March 29. They reside at 301 North Boulevard.
- 1915 Ethel GARBUTT, Milwaukee, to Paul 1915 DODGE, April 9. They will be at home, after July 1, at the Belmont, Sheridan Road at Belmont Ave., Chicago, Ill.
- 1916 Eleanor Cromwell, New York, to F. A. 1916 CHANDLER, February 9. They are living at 438 Surf St., Chicago, Ill., where Dr. Chandler is engaged in the practice of orthopaedic surgery.
- 1917 Rose Nottleman, Berlin, formerly of 1917 Oshkosh, to Ernest ZWICKEL, Anderson Ind., of the American Legation, Vienna, Austria, February 9.
- 1917 Marion CONOVER, Madison, to Lloyd 1917 Brown, San Jose, Calif., March 8.
- ex'17 Helen REYNOLDS, Hollywood, Calif., to 1917 Dr. B. O. Myra. They reside in Holly- wood.
- ex'18 Lullie LEE, Stoughton, to Cecil Ewan, 1918 Davenport, Iowa.
- ex'18 Dolores Riddle, St. Louis, Mo., to Dr. 1918 S. J. MCCARTHY, March 4. They are living in St. Louis, where Dr. McCarthy is with the Veterans' Bureau.
- 1918 Gertrude FITZGERALD, West Newton, 1918 Mass., to Roger Siddall, November 22. They are living in New York at 2500 Webb Ave., Apt. 4 C.
- 1918 Muriel Kay, Morocco, Ind., to W. C. 1918 BABCOCK, Jr., September 20. Mr. Bab- cock is manager of the Babcock Con- struction Co., Rensselaer, Ind.
- 1919 Clara MUELLER to W. R. TANNER, both 1919 ex'16 of Milwaukee. They reside at 763 Mur- ray Avenue.
- ex'19 Claire WHITE, Madison, to Elver OSCAR, 1914 ex'14 Stoughton, February 21.
- 1920 Helen PERKINS to Raymond Cutsler, 1920 February 3. They are at home in Evans- ton, Ill.
- ex'20 Ruth Bartels to Stewart Fox, March 29. 1921
- 1921 Rosalind Parker to Wellington BROTH- 1921 ERS, both of Evanston, Ill., October 18. They reside at 631 Sherman Avenue.
- ex'21 Laurette HEBB to William PETERMAN, 1921 ex'21 Jr., both of Merrill, February 14. They are at home at 810½ East Main St.
- 1921 Adele Hoover, Madison, to George GAR- 1921 LAND, Rapid City, S. D., April 10. Mr. Garland is a druggist with the Collier Pharmacy, Madison.
- 1922 Dorothy SUMNER, Madison, to Albert 1922 Brittingham, March 15. They are living in Waukegan, Ill.
- 1922 Alice Lull to Charles RICHTER, both of 1922 Milwaukee, April 12.
- 1922 Helen GRAVES, Viroqua, to Ralph FIED- 1922 1922 LER, Milwaukee, March 15. They will be at home in Milwaukee after the school year, when Mrs. Fiedler closes her teaching contract in the Ft. Atkinson high school.
- 1922 Margaret THOMAS, Wauwatosa, to Har- 1922 old Koch, Milwaukee, September 12. They reside at 622½ 53rd St.
- ex'23 Faythe BROSIUS, Appleton, to Dr. John 1920 HUSTON, February 16. Dr. Huston is intern in the Boston City Hospital, Mass.
- 1923 Helen KASBER, Normal, Ill., to Dudley 1921 MEEK, Toledo, Ohio, December 22. They are at home at 7258 Bennett Ave., Chicago.
- ex'23 Edith ZIMMERMAN, Milwaukee, to James 1923 CARTER, Linchburg, Va., March 15. Mr. Carter, who took graduate work at the University, 1919-20, is connected with the Madrid branch of the National City Bank of New York. They sailed on April 15 for a European trip before taking up their residence in Spain.
- ex'23 Annette Pfister, Sheboygan, to Arthur 1923 LAUN, Elkhart Lake, March 4. Mr. Laun is employed by the Kiel Furniture Com- pany, Milwaukee.
- ex'23 Evelyn TOUSLEY, Cleveland, Ohio, to 1923 Curtis Smith.
- 1923 Josephine WALTERS to Philip O'NEIL, 1922 ex'22 March 1.
- ex'23 Evelyn Espy, Lowell, Ind., to Donald 1923 POTTER, Madison, February 12. They are living at 41 Roby Road.
- ex'23 Dora Nelson, Milwaukee, to Albert 1923 Pfeiffer, Sheboygan, February 9. They are living in Madison, where Mr. Pfeiffer is manager of the Campus Restaurant.
- 1923 June MILES, Evansville, to Douglas 1923 Wallace, Worden, Mont., March 28.
- 1923 Merle SHAW to Murray McGOWAN, both 1923 ex'16 of Madison, April 9. Mr. McGowan is associated with the McGowan Auto Sup- ply Co., Madison.
- 1923 Catherine WOODMAN, Wilmington, Del., 1921 to Philip GATES, Belvidere, Ill., February 23. They are living at Quincy Place, N. W., Washington, D. C.

- ex'25 Inez ERICKSON, Madison, to Perry Wiltgen, branch manager of the Holland Furnace Co., Eau Claire, March 22.

BIRTHS

- 1904 To Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Potter, Cleveland, Ohio, a daughter, Jean Durham, December 11.
- 1912 To Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Lacy, Futsing, Fukien, China, a daughter, Dorothy, February 19.
- ex'13 To Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Stone (Maude Rose), Highland Arms, E. State St., Rockford, Ill., a son Marshall G., Jr., November 13.
- 1913 To Assistant Attorney General and Mrs. Alvin Reis, Madison, a son, Alvin Carl, Jr.
- 1914 To Mr. and Mrs. Ross Taylor (Carol Hill), Woodstock, Ill., a son, Noble Dana, January 18.
- 1915 To Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Gillet, 1348 1/2 Estes Ave., Chicago, Ill., a son, Morrison Monroe, Jr., February, 3.
- 1916 To Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth King (Helen Golder), 414 Clinton Place, River Forest, Ill., a daughter, Dorothy Isabel, April 4.
- 1917 To Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Williams (Ingeborg Iverson), Youngstown, Ohio, a daughter, Mary Iverson, February 17.
- 1917 To Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Newman, 4005 Chambers, Milwaukee, a daughter, Jean Louise, November, 2, 1923.
- ex'19 To Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Witter (Catherine Maurer), San Francisco, Calif., a daughter, Nancy, February 5.
- ex'19 To Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Collins (Jeanette Knudson), 5454 Fulton St., Chicago, Ill., a son, Carl Harold, Jr., March 19.
- 1921 To Dr. and Mrs. O. M. Delaney (Ella Schulz) Dover, N. J., a son, Robert, the latter part of March.
- 1921 To Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Keyes (Laura Sullivan), 556 Frederick Ave., Milwaukee, a son, Donald Orton, February 16.
- 1922 To Mr. and Mrs. Allen Corriveau, 335 21st Ave., Milwaukee, a son, Neil Joseph, October 31.
- 1922 To Prof. and Mrs. James Wallin, Marysville, Mo., a daughter, Florence Jean. Professor Wallin is head of commercial economics at the University of Missouri.
- ex'24 To Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Fiedler, a son, John Alban, March 27.

DEATHS

SAMUEL CONNELL, '86, a member of the General Alumni Association for the past seventeen years, died at Chicago, Ill., on March 28.

Attorney Connell was born at South German-town on June 27, 1861. Four years after taking his B.S. degree at the University he took his LL.B. and was admitted to the bar. For some years he practiced at Waupaca; in 1901 he removed to Milwaukee, and a year later formed a partnership with Adolph Weidner, '98, under the name of Connell and Weidner, with which firm he was associated at the time of his death.

Mr. Connell is survived by his widow.

Born September 13, 1839

MRS. W. F. ALLEN

Died March 23, 1924

It is doubtful if anyone, not a student or officer, has been so closely identified with, or so useful to, the University of Wisconsin, as Margaret Loring Andrews. She came here in 1868 as wife of the dearly loved Professor William F. Allen. Bringing with her the choicest fruits of New England culture, she adopted at once the institution and the community. As wife of a professor, and mother of four students, one of whom, Katharine, '87, became in turn a professor, her connection lasted for fifty-six years.

In all the growth of this period the University never passed beyond her mothering instinct. Until within a few years of her death she maintained her habit of calling on all newly-arrived faculty wives, and to the very end she kept up her contact through her Sunday afternoons at home, and through attendance at the University League of Women, which she did much to found. To her, more than to any other one person, is due that spirit of friendly neighborliness among the members of the University, and between town and gown, which constitutes so much of the charm of Wisconsin, and which is fully appreciated by Wisconsin people only when they migrate to other institutions.—C. R. F.

A. G. DUNNING, ex'94, died on January 28 at Indianapolis, Ind.

GUSTAV W. GEHRAND, '03, a member of the General Alumni Association since 1912, died on March 28 at Frederick, where he was taken with a paralytic stroke just previous to the delivery of an address. Burial was at Madison.

"In the death of Gustav W. Gehrand not only our city of Madison, but the state loses a man of sterling worth. His life was one of service. Until the war, Mr. Gehrand was a teacher. Preparing himself by working his way through school, he graduated from Whitewater Normal and later from the University. He was superintendent of schools in Jefferson, Boscobel, and Baraboo, Wis., and Marquette, Mich., which positions occupied nearly twenty of the 55 years of his life. He took graduate work at the University and taught for three years in the Minnesota school of agriculture. Through the war he was secretary of the Dane County Council of Defense. For the last four years he has been supervisor of agricultural education in Wisconsin high schools under the Smith-Hughes law.

Mr. Gehrand was an indefatigable worker, unacquainted with moderation in effort. Though a jovial friend, life to him was always a thing of stern reality. He hated pretense and gave himself with unreserved sacrifice to the things he counted most worth while. A man of the highest ideals and of dominant personality, his influence among his friends—especially young people—has accomplished great things in the moulding of manhood.—J. E. S. '94

GERTRUDE GOLLA LAMB, ex'17, died at Mercy Hospital, Chicago, Ill., on April 1.

MARCUS McCLAIN, who attended the University during the Summer Session of 1921, died on February 21. Mr. McClaine was agricultural agent for Sawyer County and resided at Hayward.

ARNOLD VOIGHT, ex'22, met death on February 8, when his car was struck by a train. Mr. Voight was associated with the Milwaukee Journal.

JOHN GIVAN DAVIS MACK, Born Terre Haute Ind., 1867. Died February 24, 1924. A member of the University Faculty from 1893 to 1915, when he was appointed State Chief Engineer.

Professor Mack was a most successful teacher and administrator. To capable men he gave the utmost encouragement and credit, and by his fine tact and good judgment he created a state engineering department hardly equalled else where in the country in its scope and efficiency. By his death the state has lost a most valuable servant and the faculty and students of the University a great friend.—F. E. T.

Notices to be printed in the Alumni News Section should reach the office before the tenth of each month to insure early publication.

CLASS NEWS

Fritz Kunz '12, says: "I see by the January MAGAZINE that a certain Miss Janet Kelman has been telling you people that among the three vital experiments in India one is 'the coming into contact of Hinduism with Christianity.' I fear the contact is not good enough to convey any current. The ancient and philosophical religion of Hinduism will absorb our Jesus as it did Gautama the Buddha, but small results will appear. People look upon the Hindus as heathen, idolators, and the like. They don't get the essential fact that Hinduism is the greatest stream of religion in the world today for depth and life, save only, perhaps, Buddhism. Why doesn't it make the Hindus great? It does, for one thing. For another, what is greatness? Battleships, poison gas, and submarines, and 30,000,000 dead in the war fought by Christians in the name of God? You should hear the Hindus on this! I fear our missionary friends (noble people personally, so often) are a bit wide the mark. Their funny old ideas of Heaven and Hell and the rest of it are obsolete and do injustice to their great Prince of Love. I must give some more lectures and enlighten the Universe!"

1860

Sec'y—J. B. PARKINSON, Madison
516 Wisconsin Ave.

Vice President J. B. PARKINSON, our oldest living alumnus, was at home to his friends on April 11, his 90th birthday. An excerpt from the editorial columns of the Wisconsin State Journal notes the event as follows:

"Wherever there is an alumnus of the University of Wisconsin, the name of John Barber Parkinson, the vice president emeritus of the University, is remembered with affection and love.

"No man has ever been connected with the University who has been more universally loved than Prof. Parkinson. Prof. Parkinson was in the University in a day when its enrollment had not become so large as to preclude an intimate acquaintanceship between teacher and student. 'Volume production' had not yet hit our universities. The professor had an opportunity to know his students and call them by their first names.

"Under such conditions, a man of Prof. Parkinson's character and personality quickly won the freindship of the students. In those days their love went to the extent of affectionately calling him 'Parky.'

"Prof. Parkinson is still a resident of Madison. He is held in the same veneration and respect by townspeople that has been accorded him at the University."

1861

Sec'y—W. W. CHURCH, California
Soldier's Home, Los Angeles Co.

1863

Sec'y—FRANK WATERMAN, Omaha, Nebr.
1726 S. 28th St.

1865

Sec'y—ANNIE CHAMBERLAIN
Lake Geneva, 832 Geneva St.

1866

Sec'y—MARGARET SPEARS GILL
La Grange, Ill., 37 N. 5th Ave.

1867

Sec'y—EMMA PHILLIPS VROMAN, Madison
443 W. Gilman

1868

Sec'y—J. G. TAYLOR
Arlington, Mass.

The following letter to Mrs. Allen, wife of Prof. W. F. Allen, a member of the faculty from 1869 to 1889, was written by the Reverend Mr. Taylor after reading the account of her article in the The Wisconsin Magazine of History for September 1923, entitled, "The University of Wisconsin Soon After the Civil War."

Arlington, Mass.
Dec. 18, 1923

MRS. WM. F. ALLEN:

One of the old boys of the Class of '68 has just laughed aloud at your recall of the good, or wicked, old times in the University. Nearly all those attempts to reform the University were known to me, and in most of them I lent both hands. The Chapel sprawl I remember very well, and I spent two or more fatiguing hours lugging those old settees into the attic and carefully covering them with boards.

Do you know anything about the bell, stolen from the south dormitory and rung for prayers, and bedtime for the girls, according to University rules? Before you came to Madison, I think, the meager club diet was supplemented by boiled rooster.

You are quite right about getting into the life of the town, but in my day the University was a bit of barbarism beyond the pale of Madisonians.

Your husband led me through a part of Tacitus, especially the Introduction, with fear and trembling more than 55 years after. Who Prof. Allen from Harvard was I didn't know, long, long ago—but came to appreciate him very highly and affectionately.

The University has grown, and changed doubtless for the better, but the Devil has been driven from the Hill—which may or may not be a gain.

Let me laugh with you.

JOHN G. TAYLOR, '68 and '69.
Merry Christmas!

1869

Sec'y—JANE NAGEL HENDERSON,
R. F. D. 2, N. Yakima, Wash.

Reune in June!

1870

Sec'y—B. W. JONES, Madison
17 Langdon St.

Ellen CHYNOWETH Lyon writes from San Jose, Calif.: "One's own name stands out distinctively above all else on any printed page, so my eye caught my name in the notes in your March number on 1867. It is there stated that the custom of graduating the girls on Tuesday afternoon preceding the Wednesday morning graduation of the men 'was continued until 1870 when there was only girl, Ellen Chynoweth. The president of the University allowed her to graduate with the boys, but she was not allowed to go onto the platform with them to receive her diploma.' While the accuracy or inaccuracy of this statement is of small moment in the world's affairs, it unwittingly does an injustice to the then president of the University, Paul Ansel Chadbourn.

"Although President Chadbourn was averse to co-education, he was an exceedingly just man and dealt fairly by the women to whom the state granted the privilege of equal educational advantages with the men. In fact, had it not been for President Chadbourn's interest in me, I doubt if I should now have the honor of calling the University of Wisconsin my Alma Mater. I enjoyed class work and, on the side, the social activities incident to college life even in those long ago days. I had completed the course and was taking such studies as appealed to me with no ambition to graduate, when President Chadbourn suggested that it might be of advantage to me in the future to have my diploma. He consulted me about the manner of my graduation, suggesting that I sit with the men on graduation morning and thus be identified with the class. This I did. It was because of my preference expressed to him that I did not go onto the rostrum to receive the diploma from his hand. What difference did it make, since, as I knew, no one received his own sheepskin, but was obliged to get it afterwards as best he might from whomsoever might have received it

"When the girls were first admitted to the University in '65 they were not counted students of the University proper, but were students of the Normal Department. As I have narrated before in your columns, up to 1870 the women held their graduating exercises in the old Congregational Chapel on the Tuesday afternoon preceding the Wednesday morning exercises of the men, held in the Assembly Chamber of the State Capitol.

"I write this explanation to be just to President Chadbourn's memory and in the interest of accurate history which is almost unknown in the record of the world's events.

"Next year, '25, is the 55th anniversary of our class graduation. I earnestly hope that at that time Burr JONES, Will HUNTINGTON, and I, and in fact all our class may join our 'Praise to thee our Alma Mater' with yours on Julius Olson's gala night."

1872

Sec'y—H. W. HOYT, Pasadena, Cal.
965 New York Ave.

1873

Sec'y—M. S. FRAWLEY, Eau Claire
326 4th St.

1874

Sec'y—A. D. CONOVER, Madison
421 N. Murray St.

Reune in June!

Mary DWIGHT Akers resides at 1541
West Minnehaha St., St. Paul, Minn.

1875

Sec'y—CLARA MOORE HARPER, Madison,
227 Langdon St.

1876

Sec'y—F. W. HALL, Madison
842 Prospect Place.

1877

Sec'y—A. C. PRESCOTT, Sheboygan

1878

Sec'y—F. E. NOYES, Marinette
644 Marinette Ave.

1879

Sec'y—J. B. SIMPSON, Shullsburg

Reune in June!

1880

Sec'y—ANNIE DINSDALE SWENSON
Mendota Beach, Madison.

A printed list of the writings of Humphrey DESMOND, Milwaukee attorney, compiled by one of his publishers, shows over a score of books to his credit as an author, published through such firms as McClurg, Callaghan (Chicago), Crowell, Devin-Adair Co., McBride (N. Y.). The list also includes articles contributed during past years by Mr. Desmond to leading periodicals including the North American Review, Central Law Journal, Forum, Century Magazine, Case & Comment, etc. A new book by Mr. Desmond, to be published in September, is entitled, Curious Chapters on American History.

1881

Sec'y—F. S. WHITE, Chicago, Ill.
5308 Hyde Park Blvd.

FELLOW CLASSMATES:

You were doubtless all disappointed and chagrined—as I was—to see how utterly our existence was ignored in the last issue of the ALUMNI MAGAZINE! Just because we did not have an extended article, they failed even to insert our class date, or secretary's name—a favor extended to all other classes of much less pretention than ours! I actually did mail an article on Florida, containing complementary allusion to our old friend, Mark Waldo, '84, but it either never reached the editor, or he was tired of inserting so many personals, and thus ignored our communication. Crawford is not a bad fellow. So let's attribute its absence to loss in transit.

While I am just back from the South, where I luxuriated in its tropical loveliness—and occasionally nearly froze—I still have the wanderlust in me, and the Madame and I are leaving for Europe, sailing on Majestic April 26th, returning on Berengaria August 2. France, Italy, Switzerland, Belgium, and England is our itinerary. We hope to encounter some of you over there. Please drop me a line in care of the American Express Co., Paris. It will always reach me.

Before I go, I want to tell you how pleased I am to receive help in editing this column. The article below is from our classmate, W. H. GOODALL, Leaf, Mississippi. The article is filled with reminiscence of our college era and is gratefully accepted.—Very truly, FRED S. WHITE.

A reference in the ALUMNI MAGAZINE brings to mind a stormy night in '79 in old Athena and Hesperia de-debates. The dormitories had turned out a full force and in Athena the question was that of "Feudalism." Chas. Sterling, '80, was in the chair. Alfred Patek, '80, was a bit sore that he had been defeated in the struggle and brought indictments to the effect that we had been absorbing altogether too heavily from Guizot's History of France. Van Hise, '79, was going strong, but not for the prosecution. Things were warming up, and La Follette, '79, took a hand for the defense. The President ordered him to take his seat, but "Bob" went right on (That's one of "Bob's" ways). The order was repeated, but instead of sitting down he climbed onto the big table and proceeded to skin the prosecutors. The Chair shouted: "Mr. La Follette, be seated, Sir." The gavel came down with a bang. "Bob" just waived his saucy pompadour at the grave little chairman and exclaimed as he shook his fist: "I'll take my seat, Sir, if you're stronger than I!" "Bob" was fined a dollar, and everything about the verdict was forgotten in the excitement. "Bob" was so popular with us underdogs and preps that the fine was removed at the close of the session. This was a case in which the real culprit went clear.

debates. The dormitories had turned out a full force and in Athena the question was that of "Feudalism." Chas. Sterling, '80, was in the chair. Alfred Patek, '80, was a bit sore that he had been defeated in the struggle and brought indictments to the effect that we had been absorbing altogether too heavily from Guizot's History of France. Van Hise, '79, was going strong, but not for the prosecution. Things were warming up, and La Follette, '79, took a hand for the defense. The President ordered him to take his seat, but "Bob" went right on (That's one of "Bob's" ways). The order was repeated, but instead of sitting down he climbed onto the big table and proceeded to skin the prosecutors. The Chair shouted: "Mr. La Follette, be seated, Sir." The gavel came down with a bang. "Bob" just waived his saucy pompadour at the grave little chairman and exclaimed as he shook his fist: "I'll take my seat, Sir, if you're stronger than I!" "Bob" was fined a dollar, and everything about the verdict was forgotten in the excitement. "Bob" was so popular with us underdogs and preps that the fine was removed at the close of the session. This was a case in which the real culprit went clear.

In those days oratorical contests were at the acme. These contests are just now being revived in the South for the first time since the movies have swept the legitimate off the stage. This matter of absorption was widely considered at that time. Although our dear Professors

PROFESSOR FRANKENBURGER

Frankenburg, '69, and Olin, '79, were never severe with us, still many indictments were brought. The very worst was instituted by "Billy" (E. W) KEYES, and Charles WARREN. In this case several of us were classically posted up as keystones in the University arch: Pons Assinorum. This was the limit, but we have long since forgiven Billy, and if he can read Latin as well to day as he did then, we will herewith hand him our picture. The photographer is Horace.

H. SMITH

C. N. BROWN, who is accompanied by Mrs. Brown (Nellie Williams, '76) writes from Marseilles: "Have just left Carcassonne, which is one of the great show places of the world. We spent about a month in Spain, taking in the carnival at Seville. Made a short excursion into Morocco. Weather generally fine. Roses in bloom in Seville. Having a fine trip."

"Me pinguem et nitidum bene curata cute vives, cum ridere voles Epicuri de grege porcum."

Howard SMITH or H. J. Desmond, '80, will translate it for you, Billy. If not ask Professor Parkin-son, '60.—W. H. G.

Get a R. R. Certificate

1882

Sec'y—DR. L. R. HEAD, Madison
416 Wisconsin Ave.

1883

Sec'y—A. C. UMBREIT, Milwaukee
912 Shepard Ave.

Announcement is made of a gift to Northwestern University of $100,000 by Dr. and Mrs. Archibald Church for the endowment and maintenance of a medical library. Dr. CHURCH was a freshman in the University of Wisconsin in 1879-80 and a special in 1880-81; then he transferred to the College of Physicians and Surgeons, Chicago. He played baseball some as a student and acted as official scorer and that sort of thing, but his particular distinction was the introduction of the conchshell as a means of making more din than any other method known to his fellow students. First he roomed in North dormitory, later at the Davidson house, famous of old, at the corner of State and Lake Streets, now a pharmacy; and it was his custom to throw up a window just when the Latin quarter was ready for sleep and give a blast heard on a quiet night for miles round about. Answering blaes came at once from all over the west end, and finally President Bascom was forced to issue stern interdiction. Even after that, he once caught Church red-handed, blowing his stentorian conch on the street in front of the Davidson house. A quiet session in the president's room on the hill subsequently had its proper effect, and the conch disappeared as an auxiliary branch of higher intellectual effort at this University. Now Church is one of the best-known neurologists in the country and has been a member of the staff of the Northwestern Medical School for thirty-two years. Dr. Church has informed the trustees that his plan is "not to build up with this fund a great permanent medical library, but one that will adequately and correctly reflect the opinions of the best medical authorities of the day upon all important medical questions."

Archibald Church came to the University from Fond du Lac and was a Phi Kappa Psi. For a short time after graduation he was associated with an Illinois state insane hospital, but since has been a Chicago specialist.—O. D. B. ex '85.

Dr. David KENNEDY, senior editor of The Presbyterian, is a leader in the struggle to reaffirm the historic doctrines of the Church against the Modernists.

1884

Sec'y—W. H. Miner, Menasha
330 Park St.

Reune in June!

O. D. BRANDENBURG, ex '85, contributes a two-column article to the Madison State Journal, relating to United States Senator T. J. WALSH, distinguished in the oil investigation, and to his activities as a law student in the University. Walsh, it seems, during his single year at the University, 1883-4, attained distinction as a debater in the E. G. Ryan society, gaining special honor by winning an anti-protection contest. At the "closing evening" of the society, June 7, 1884, he gave the prophecy. Walsh roomed at 605 State Street, and the two-story white-brick building is still standing. The law school in 1883-4 was over a saloon at 17 West Main Street, but the next year had quarters in the capitol. Walsh pitched for the law school ball nine and represented his class as an editor of The Badger. He had read law to some extent at home in Manitowoc County, and finished the two-year course at the University in a single year. One of his teachers was Col. William F. VILAS, '58, the most generous alumnus our Alma Mater has produced.

Change of address: W. C. BRUMDER,
Milwaukee, to 900 Marietta Ave.

1885

Sec'y—O. D. BRANDENBURG, Madison
114 S. Carroll St.

1886

Sec'y—EMMA NUNNS PEASE
Wauwatosa

1887

Sec'y—KATHARINE ALLEN, Madison
28 Langdon St.

Robert S. KOLLINER has been appointed by Gov. J. A. O. Preus, of Minnesota to the bench of the district court in Minneapolis. That court corresponds to a circuit judgeship in Wisconsin. Judge Kolliner is a son of Samuel Kolliner, who over fifty years ago owned a general store in Baraboo; he is the youngest of a considerable family.

Robert, now a judge, was born at Baraboo in 1868; upon his graduation from the University he spent a year in Europe, taking his law diploma in 1890 at the Minnesota University. Boy playmates at Baraboo were the young Ringlings, later famous in circusdom. Six years after finishing his law studies, Mr. Kolliner became an instructor in the Minnesota law school, lecturing on sales, personal property, and torts. A few years ago Gov. Preus offered Mr. Kolliner a judgeship, but the tender was declined. The governor was a law student under Professor Kolliner and during his senior year a clerk in Kolliner's office. A deep friendship naturally subsists between them.

Mr. Kolliner is a student not only of law but of political science, sociology, and philosophy. His mind is keen; he is possessed of detached deliberation and judgment; his knowledge of the law is profound. He is credited with the judicial temperament in highest degree. He is devoted to Jewry, past president of B'nai B'rith at Minneapolis, and in all ways is an outstanding figure in Jewish affairs. Judge Kolliner is a 33rd degree Mason, and married.—O. D. B. ex '85.

1888

Sec'y—SOPHIE LEWIS BRIGGS, Madison,
137 W. Gilman St.

1889

Sec'y—ERNEST WARNER, Madison
109 W. Main St.

Reune in June!

Returns from '89's letters coming in fine. Some of the outlying provinces still unheard from, but reports expected hourly. Among those who have declared their intentions of being present are: John Stevens, M. P. Richardson, J. H. Douney, E. E. Ware, Edward Lawton, L. M. Hanks, Lillian Baker Warner, Edgar Nethercut, E. C. Meland, Sue Tullis, E. H. Rogers, J. B. Kerr, E. B. Hutchinson, E. N. Warner, Dr. C. A. Harper. Arthur Parsons again promises to be back.

1890

Sec'y—W. N. PARKER, Madison
1908 Jefferson St.

Change of address: Frank DRAKE, M. D., 425 Sterling Court, Madison.

1891

Sec'y—ELSBETH VEERHUSEN KIND
Chicago, Ill.
The Pattington, Apt. A., 700 Irving Park Blvd.

W. A. JACKSON, district attorney for Rock County for the past ten years, has been appointed vice president of the Milwaukee E. R. R. and L. Co.

1892

Sec'y—MARILLA ANDREWS BUCHWALTER, 805 E. High St., Springfield, O.

Commenting on the scholastic mortality of University freshmen, Marilla ANDREWS Buchwalter, who prior to her marriage was a successful teacher in this state, writes: "Oh, how infinitely wiser to use our present equipment for junior, senior, and postgraduate work, and leave the boys and girls of Wisconsin at home or in the neighboring normal, or seminary, or academy for two more years! They do not know how to go it alone and are sent home by the hundreds to heart-broken parents. I just now have in mind two such pathetic cases."

1893

Sec'y—JULIA MURPHY, Madison
635 Howard Place

1894

Sec'y—CAROLINE YOUNG, Madison
103 E. Wilson St.

Reune in June!

CLASSMATES OF 1894:

By this time you have become fully aware of the reunion in June, and you know that it is to take place on Friday (Class Day) and Saturday (Alumni Day), so that you busy business men of Chicago and Milwaukee can run up for the week-end and have the best kind of a time without worrying about the affairs at home. Bring all the affairs with you, if that means the wife and children; leave them at home alone for one week-end if it means business.

Even before that, we want your help. We take it for granted that you will be with us if possible, but what about those who are not members of the Alumni Association? Won't you make it your duty to see that they hear of the reunion too? We don't want them to miss the good time, and it will be a better time for all of us if they are there.

Help us, too, in our effort to introduce each other to each other as mature men and women; send in a news item now and then, and when you are writing give us some of your ideas as to how to make a successful reunion.

By the way, this is only the thirtieth reunion and we are not ready to step off yet; still I see no notice of Life Members from the Class of '94. The next class has some. Where are our patriots?

HEAR YE!—HEAR YE! LAW CLASS OF '94

In June, 1894, the University of Wisconsin conferred the degree of LL.B. on 81 embryonic barristers, who afterwards developed into geo-politicians, preachers, bankers, politicians, statesmen, prohibitionists, and a few lawyers and judges.

Listen, one and all, whether you have lived up to your degree and kept the faith, or whether you have wandered afar into other fields of activity—you are summoned back to your Alma Mater, June 20, 1924, to render an account of your wanderings for the past thirty years.

The following letter issued by the President under date of March 19, 1924, has reached nearly every member of the class, and a large number have responded and assured us that they will be there.

It is going to be some time! If you can't come—COME.

At the 25th reunion of the Law Class of '94, held at Madison in June, 1919, I was elected president of the class, and it was decided to have another celebration on our 30th anniversary, which occurs in June of this year.

I have been somewhat slow in getting started, owing to the fact that I have been unable to get the post office addresses of the boys. I am at last on the way, with all cylinders working.

What I want you to do as soon as you receive this letter is to answer, stating that you will be in Madison in June to attend this reunion.

Commencement is June 20-23. You will be advised of the exact time and place of our meeting. If you have any suggestions as to what should be done on this occasion, send them along as we need help. This reunion will depend upon what you have to say—so say it quick that we may get going. Yours truly, L. A. WILLIAMS, First Fond du Lac Nat'l Bank Bldg., Fond du Lac, Wis.

Catherine CLEVELAND has been spending the winter at The Raymond in Pasadena. She writes that she will be here for the reunion—Robert McMYNN and his wife (Elizabeth Palmer, ex'02), will attend the session of the Bar Association, which meets this year in London, England.—Harry KELLOGG and his wife (Grace HOPKINS) will be members of the same party and later tour with their daughter on the Continent.—Charles O'CONNOR, who is growing oranges and lemons in Monrovia, Calif., resides at 432 N. Primrose Ave.

Ask your R. R. ticket agent for a Certificate.

1895

Sec'y—ANNA GRIFFITHS, Madison
131 West Gilman

"If students from Waukesha could make records in University athletics in the days of Frame and Holt, why can't our students who go there these days do it?" asks the Waukesha Freeman of March 28, in an article recalling the records of Robert HOLT and Harvey FRAME, '98. "Robert Holt held records in pole-vaulting and high jump—10 feet and 5 feet, eight inches, respectively—that stood as the best for a good many years. He also won places in pole-vault, high jump, and hundred yard dash in the Western Conference meet held in Chicago at that time, when the Conference was in its infancy. Harvey Frame held a broad jump record that stood unbroken for a good many years—21 feet, 6 inches, quite a feat in those days, but comparatively small to the record of 25 feet and some inches held by a Harvard track star. Mr. Frame also won a gold medal for being the best track man on the team of '98. He also held records in other events".—Zona GALE is named on the organization committee of the Women's Committee for Political Action, the first political program ever drawn up by women, which was launched recently at Washington, D. C.

1896

Sec'y—G. F. THOMPSON, Chicago, Ill.
4100 W. Madison St.

Former Coach John RICHARDS is president of the new Los Angeles U. W. Club.

1897

Sec'y—HELEN PRAY SHELDON, Madison
102 Spooner St.

1898

Sec'y—MAY CHURCH JOHN, Milwaukee
635 Shepard Ave.

For news item on Harvey FRAME, see 1895 class news.

Change of address: Thomas CHITTENDEN, from Ripon to 1100 Humboldt St., Denver, Colo.

1899

Sec'y—MINNIE WESTOVER CHASE,
Madison, 1050 Woodrow St.

There is one point not to be overlooked. Of course, we shall be anxious to see the campus, to wander about the buildings, to step into the once-familiar classrooms, and to be again in the surroundings that can charm us still. Of course, we shall be eager to see "Bugs" and "Sonny" and "Schlick" and all the rest who are now there. Of course, we shall be interested in visiting the spots about which romance still clings for us. Of course, we shall be mightily pleased to see one another, to talk over the old days and the "remember whens." But don't overlook the fact that we are going to have a corking good time—the kind of a time worth while if we were meeting as strangers in a strange place. Add to this the associations. Add the consideration that we are old friends. You may then be sure that Profs Dowling and Slichter can wear short a whole box of four-H pencils in figuring out just how good a time is in store. There is no theory of probabilities involved. It is a certainty that a series of gay parties will be had. Bring the family. Don't forget the children. Let them see you as you really were, because that is as you really are.

This is the seventh announcement.

"There's a good time coming." You must be there at Madison—in June.

GEORGE I. HAIGHT, President,
1041 The Rookery,
Chicago.

To date over fifty brief biographical sketches have come in in answer to the questionnaire sent out within the previous fortnight. Some of these may be of interest to the class:

S. W. Gilman is professor at the University and will be with us next June; Arthur Griddle is a retail druggist in Oregon, (Wis.); Frank Gugel is practicing law in Milwaukee; Eldreth Allen is assistant principal of the Cass Technical High School in Detroit, Mich.; Alfred Curtis is in the real estate, law, and loan business in Merrill; Irvin Brandel is with the Basic Chemical Mfg. Corp., Alton, Ill.; J. O. Miller is practicing law in Marinette; Wilfrid Chase is proprietor of the Chase Teacher's Agency, Madison; F. H. Clausen is with the Van Brunt Mfg. Co., at Horicon, Wisconsin; Joseph Shaw is practicing law in Geneseo, Ill.; Wm. Dietrich is the county agent, Charles City, Ia.; W. S. Cate is practicing law in Ashland; Nathan Curtis is manager of the Deal Curtis Lumber Co., at Coal Fire, Ala.; Warren Jones is district superintendent of the Northwest Side District Chicago Anti-Saloon League; Lulu Fiske is a teacher in the high school at Beaumont, Riverside County, Calif.; C. E. Allen is professor of botany at the University; Henry Rehm is teacher at Colorado College, Colorado Springs, Colo.; C. G. Davis is a physician in Blue Island, Ill.; Alva Eighmy is in the real estate and insurance business in Madison; J. J. Jeffrey is practicing law in Wisconsin Rapids; T. R. Running is professor of mathematics at the University of Michigan; Myra Kimball is superintendent of nurses at La Crosse Hospital, LaCrosse; Wm. O. Rickfort is physician and surgeon in Chicago, Ill.; Harry Seymour is vice president of the First Wisconsin National Bank at Milwaukee. Arthur KNUTSON resides at 4155 N. Paulina St., Chicago, Ill.—Maude BLODGETT of Delavan recently joined the Alumni Association.—C. M. Fox, M. D., has offices in the Electric Bldg., San Diego, Calif.

1900

Sec'y—J. N. KOFFEND, Jr., Appleton
864 Prospect Ave.

An interesting resume of three of Wisconsin's greatest victories—the contest with Michigan in 1899 and those with Nebraska and Minnesota in 1901—is given by Robert BURDICK, of Madison, who has been watching Wisconsin grid-iron teams in action for some thirty years, in the Madison Wisconsin State Journal for March 9.

Change of address: Grace GODDARD Greverus, Atlanta, Ga., to 237 E. 6th Street.

1901

Sec'y—CLARA STILLMAN HARTMAN
Milwaukee, 4001 Highland Blvd.

1902

Sec'y—JANE SHERRILL, Madison
City Y. W. C. A.

Walter HOPKINS may be addressed temporarily at the State Y. M. C. A. Headquarters, Odd Fellows Bldg., St. Louis, Mo.

Change of address: Max STREHLOW, Green Bay attorney, 112 N. Madison St.

1903

Sec'y—W. H. HEIN, St. Louis Mo.
788 Euclid Ave.

Change of address: C. T. MADSEN, 137 N. Scoville Ave., Oak Park, Ill.; J. E. BROBST, Schenectady, N. Y., to 222 Wright Ave.; Rawson PICKARD, M. D., Clinical Laboratory, 712 Watts Bldg., San Diego, Calif.

1904

Sec'y—FLORENCE MOFFAT BENNETT
Madison, 322 S. Hamilton St.

Reune in June!

At a meeting of the chairmen who are arranging the Reunion, it was suggested that as some of the returning graduates will want to come back and camp here, mention be made in the ALUMNI MAGAZINE that we have a fine camp ground at Olin Park.* The Association of Commerce upon receipt of advance request will arrange to have a spot in the camp ground set aside for returning grads.

*Formerly Monona Park, recently named Olin Park in honor of J. M. Olin, '79.

G. S. WOOLEGE, Minot, N. D., was the leader of a Democratic faction which recently went on record as indorsing W. G. McAdoo for president.

Change of address: Gustave KAHN, general contractor of Milwaukee, to Goldsmith Bldg., 141 Wisconsin Street.

1905

Sec'y—LILLIAN TAYLOR JERRARD
Winnetka, Ill.

Anne McGoorty Partlin will be located at 1219 Jarvis Ave., Chicago, Ill., until the first of July.—Robert HERDEGEN, general manager of the Dominion Forge and Stamping Company, Detroit, Mich., and family left for Miami, Fla., in March, for a month's vacation.—Edward ERICKSON is director of vocational education for North Dakota and also director of civilian rehabilitation for the same state; his office is located at Grand Forks.—Daniel HOAN, mayor of Milwaukee for eight years, was re-elected at the Spring election. "Since his rise to the mayoralty," says the Milwaukee Sentinel for April 2, "he has been the Socialist leader here in the sense that he has been one of their best vote-getters, although he has been subject to the same rule of party direction as any other Socialist."

1906

Sec'y—L. W. BRIDGMAN, Madison
1910 Kendall Ave.

Don MOWRY, secretary, Madison A. C., has been invited to speak on railroad co-operation in community advertising at the London meeting of the International Association of Advertising Clubs of the World in July. Mr. Mowry has discussed community advertising in a number of the larger American cities and is considered an authority on the subject.—A. B. MELZNER former football star, whose dropkick in the second half of the '05 Minnesota game gave Wisconsin the victory with a score of 16 to 12, was appointed assistant to Senator Wheeler of Montana in the open hearings of the Daugherty investigation. After graduation, Mr. Melzner entered into a law partnership in Butte with Louis Donovan, who is at present located in Shelby.—Prof. E. J. DELWICHE, in charge of the Ashland, Spooner, and Northern Peninsular experiment stations, is slowly recovering from an operation in which he suffered the amputation of a finger. Professor Delwiche was hurt in an accident at Ashland about a month ago.—Lily Ross TAYLOR, professor of Latin at Vassar college, is the author of an article on "Italy" in the March issue of the Atlantic Monthly.

Change of address: Meda STEVENS Condie, 138 Wildwood Ave., Piedmont, Calif.; W. M. CONWAY, from Los Angeles to 2105 Jefferson St., Madison, C. P. NORGORD, 396 Quail St., Albany N. Y.; Helen ROSENstengel has recently acquired a new home, Black Lantern Cottage, on Walnut St., East Aurora, N. Y.

1907

Sec'y—RALPH GUGLER, Milwaukee
694 Broadway

Dr. and Mrs. Francis H'DOUBLER (Alice Bemis, '18) have moved to 1030 Cherry St., Springfield, Mo., where Dr. H'Doubler is interested in a medical clinic.—M. R. MUNSON is postmaster of Prairie du Chien.—Dr. Oliver NELSON has moved to Madison and will continue his medical practice with offices in the Washington Bldg.—"It is very noticeable in the birth, marriage, and death chronicle in the alumni news, that very few of the Class of 1907 or below are in the marriage

A R. R. Certificate will save you money!

list. One never knows which heading is to be his," writes Reeves COLBURN from Raucagua, Chili, announcing his engagement. (See Alumni News Section.) I am happy to be running on schedule in spite of being a decade or two late. I was in the States last July and August, after making a short tour of Western Europe. After being fed up on Saints, ruins, and dirt in Italy, it was refreshing to get into Switzerland and thrilling to try one's luck at Monte Carlo. Paris properly shocked my Anglo-Saxon nature, while the air flight from Paris to London prepared me for the restfulness of England. How is the Wisconsin Union coming on? I hope to see it an accomplished fact when I next visit Madison."

Change of address: W. K. WINKLER, 677 Hackett Ave., Milwaukee.

1908
Sec'y—F. H. ELWELL, Madison
2025 Chadbourne Ave.

ANNUAL PILGRIMAGE

All members of the class are invited to make the annual pilgrimage to Madison this June. Come and join the Live Wires! There will be no assessment and no elaborate entertainment such as we have at Reunion. We are simply visiting our Alma Mater once a year to learn in what manner we can serve her and to bind closer the bonds of friendship among ourselves. Always yours for Wisconsin, ERNEST F. RICE, President.

Jean MILLS Cowles is head of the mathematics department and dean of girls at Madison Central H. S.—Col. Ralph HESS, recently returned from the Continent where he has been on a special commission for the Secretary of War since 1917, spoke in Music Hall on the situation in Europe, where he says political conditions are worse but economical conditions are getting better. "There will be no permanent change for the better until two definite actions have been taken," he said. First, a temporary moratorium must be granted Germany in order to help her maintain her industries and regain her foreign trade so she can pay reparations to France. Second, a refunding agreement among the United States, France, and Great Britain must be made regarding international loans. I do not mean a cancellation, by any means, but after reparations has been paid to some extent, the allied countries could start repaying the United States."—Marion COOPER had an article in the December General Electric Review on the subject of "Standardization of Lamp Voltages."

Change of address: Mr. and Mrs. E. R. WIGGINS (Sarah Gamble, '09), from Racine to 1020 Palmer Place, Waukegan, Ill.; Orville BEATH, Laramie, Wyo., to 815 University Ave.; Edna WEHAUSEN, Passaic N. J., to 110 Lincoln St.

1909
Sec'y—CORNELIA ANDERSON LINDSTROM, Ames, Iowa
Reune in June!

Prof. T. H. SCHOENWETTER, for several years head of the commercial department of the Santa Monica, Calif., high school and secretary of the board of education of that city, was recently elected president of the Association of Secretaries of School Boards of Southern California.—Glen SMITH is a member of the firm of Rector Hibben, Davis, and Macauley, whose law offices are located at 332 S. Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill.—E. E. WITTE, chief of the state legislative reference library, has prepared a report on "Salaries of Legislators," which is available to any citizen of the state through a mimeographed bulletin prepared by the Extension Division's department of debating and public discussion. The bulletin explains why an amendment is proposed at this time and gives the facts on other state legislatures and other considerations. "No other state pays the members of its legislature at so low a rate as Wisconsin," says Dr. Witte.

Change of address: Genkwan SHIBATA, 82 Kyo-Machi, Kobe, Japan; Max KING, farming, Alden, N. J., Box 234;

1910
Sec'y—W. J. MEUER, Madison
2314 Rugby Row

And here it's almost May, and it's more fun to be alive than anything else. Besides that, I received several communications from several Nynteenteners and that felt good. The only sad spot in the firmament is that our good friend and classmate Car HOOKSTADT has passed on. He was chiel statistician in the bureau of statistics, Department of Labor. He died on March 10 at St. Paul while on a business trip. His original home was at Harvard, Ill. He was considered an authority on compensation insurance and was rated one of the leading golfers of Washington. Irving HEWITT, 2122 N. St. N. W., Washington, D. C., sent this information.

Ethel Rose TAYLOR, 2815 Channing Way, Berkeley, Cal., communes thus, "I am always delighted to hear from Wisconsin and especially 1910." Ethel, we are delighted to hear from you, too, so please write about once a month. During her spare time she is teaching French in a private school in Berkeley, and best of all, she is president of the Northern California U. W. Club.—Fanny CARTER Edson attended the Founders' Day celebration at San Francisco. She and her little daughter are at Palo Alto, Stanford, where Fanny is working for a doctor's degree.—Maurice NEEDHAM is associated with the David C. Thomas advertising agency, 28 East Jackson Blvd., Chicago, Ill.—Frank SHERBURN, Milwaukee, has moved to 444 Kenmore Place, Shorewood.

HOLMAN, who is city editor of the Antigo Daily Journal, was married last November to Inez Hall of Antigo. We knew you'd do it, Earle, sooner or later—best of good wishes from all of the class.—Howard NEWELL and friend wife took part in the Burlington, Ia., birthday celebration and Prof. A. E. KOENIG and wife attended the celebration at Butte, Mont.—Archie McCOMB was elected vice president of the Green Bay U. W. Club, at the Founders' Day banquet, and Dr. R. H. CARR was made president of the La Fayette, Ind., organization.

Albert LOBB is comptroller of the university and secretary to the board of regents of the University of Minnesota.—Mary REID is assistant plant pathologist in the Thompson Institute for Plant Research at Yonkers, N. Y.—Mr. and Mrs. Mark JONES (Roxie Sheperd, '11) have been in California about a year and a half, where Mr. Jones is practicing law at 909 Hibernian Bldg., Los Angeles. "We surely would be pleased to see any Wisconsin friends who come this way," writes Mrs. Jones. "You know that is one of California's attractions, seeing old friends. They all come this way sooner or later."—Hazel STRAIGHT Stafford is a regular contributor of children's stories to the Junior Home Magazine.—John WILCE, Columbus, Ohio, has moved to 2030 Fremont, Road.—David HANCHETT is now assistant to the president of Antioch college and promises to send us in the near future a brief account of the outstanding distinctive features of that institution that has been attracting more than ordinary attention.

1911

Sec'y—E. D. STEINHAGEN, Milwaukee
721 51st St.

Dr. Elida DEGELER, who has been studying at the University of Madrid the past year, has returned to Spain to resume her studies after a two months' holiday trip through Syria, Palestine, and Egypt. She may be addressed in care of the American Consul, Madrid, Spain.—Helen SCHRAM Martin, Fond du Lac, has been elected to the board of education of that city.—Teresa RYAN of Kansas State Teachers' College is the new president of the Kansas division of A. A. U. W.—

Alice NELSON writes from 330 South St., Oconomowoc: "I thoroughly enjoy the MAGAZINE so will you please see that a record is made of my renewal."

1912

Sec'y—LAURA JOHNSON, Madison
111 E. Gorham

"Nineteen-Twelve news has been a bit scanty of late, it has seemed to me. Maybe the members of this noble class are passing through a dull period, or possibly they are merely conserving energy for a grand outburst of activity later on" writes C. R. CLEVELAND, of the department of entomology at Purdue Agricultural Experiment Station. He says also that he has succumbed to the irresistible lure and has signed up to coach the freshmen in track in addition to his regular work on the faculty.—Fritz KUNZ has been giving a series of Sunday evening lectures in the Church of St. Alban, Australia, "dealing with the imminent return to our world, in physical form, of the Teacher called by the Hindus, Shri Krishna, by the Buddhists, Maitreya, by us, the Christ"; a second series treats of "The Triplicity in Man—love as mind, feeling, and action."

S. G. KAMMLADE is operating a dairy plant in Danville, Ill.; his address is 408 W. Fairchild St.—Marianne TSCHUDY Paddock of Yenping, China, is at present living at 28 Cornelia Ave., Mill Valley, Calif. Owing to ill health in the family, the Paddocks' return to the mission field is indefinitely postponed.—J. J. McDONALD, Madison attorney, has announced his candidacy for nomination for the Assembly on the Republican ticket at the September primaries. The local press bases his platform on clean politics and common sense legislation.—Raymond BILL had charge of the publicity and finance for the Stag Dinner, the second annual banquet of the New York Association of Western Conference Universities, held at the Hotel Astor on March 21.—Minnie TALBOT writes from 578 Madison St., Gary, Ind.: "I'm still teaching mathematics in the Emerson School here and enjoy the gleanings from the ALUMNI MAGAZINE."

Change of address: Josephine ALLEN Trumbower resides at 4127 Harrison St.

Help others as well as yourself by securing a R. R. Certificate.

N. W., Washington D. C., where Professor Trumbower is an economist with the Bureau of Public Roads; J. E. WILD, coal dealer, 725 W. Granite St., Butte, Mont.; Leo GEORGE, lawyer, 5947 Hayes Ave., Los Angeles, Calif.

1913

Sec'y—ALVIN REIS, Madison
Assistant Attorney General

Mary Cook Merritt of Tientsin, China, who has been spending several months in this country with her parents at Somerset, Pa., plans to return to China this spring. Mr. Merritt is connected with the American Trading Company.—“The SECRETARY hereby announces that Alvin Carl Reis, Jr., of the class of 1945, is now in Madison,—weight, seven pounds; eyes, still blue; hair, scant; complexion, ruddy.”

Change of address: W. H. FREIBURGER, 553 N. Lake St., Aurora, Ill.; BESSIE LAKE, from Janesville to Brodhead; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford BETTS, (Edna CANTRIL) 1731 Araphoe St., Denver; Sterling BEATH, importing Oriental goods, Evansville; Homer DAVIS, care, Mech. Sales, B. F. Goodrich Rubber Co., Akron, Ohio; Gladys WILLIAMS, research assistant, Stanford University, Box 975, Calif.; Eugene MARTINEAU, 320 State St., Marinette.

THE CLASS OF 1913 LOAN FUND

Ten years ago, when the Memorial Committee of the Class of 1913 was discussing how best to commemorate its stay at the University, the plan of building up a Loan Fund over a period of years was chosen as a practical and substantial way of expressing the gratitude of the class for the advantages the University had given them. As a means of providing for the regular and efficient collection of the annual installments from the class members subscribing to the Fund, it was decided to take out life insurance policies.

The Wisconsin State Life Fund had just been started by the state, so the committee appealed to Herman Ekern, '94, then Insurance Commissioner, and his experts in the Insurance Department. With their assistance, a plan of taking out twenty-year policies was worked out. The law creating the Life Fund did not provide for policies of less than a thousand dollars, making it necessary to ask the legislature to pass a special amendment authorizing policies of One Hundred Dollars for our class.

Although the time remaining before Commencement was short, policies were issued to about seventy-five Thirteeners, and we figured that a fund of some Five Thousand Dollars, including dividends and interest, would be available at the end of twenty years, when the policies were surrendered and their cash value turned over to the University.

The Class of 1913 Loan Fund was duly incorporated, and we turned over to Mr.

McCaffrey, Secretary of the Board of Regents, the entire balance in the class treasury, as a “nest egg.” This amounted to some $400, which was principally derived from the Senior Class Play.

At the time of the Ten-year Reunion, last June, Mr. McCaffrey and the Insurance Department were called on for reports on the progress of our venture. We were astonished to find that, if all policies were cashed in at once and added to the fund now in Mr. McCaffrey's hands, the total would be $2845.58, well over halfway toward the goal we expected to reach at the end of twenty years.

A summary of the figures is given below:

Amount turned over by class treasurer in June 1913.....	$ 396.48
Received from Mrs. Amy Winship, in lieu of insurance.....	100.00
Received from Commissioner of Insurance.....
Death loss J. C. VanRiper, Jr.....	90.79
Dividends and accumulations on policies.....	472.09
Interest earnings on funds invested by the University.....	357.55
Total held by M. E. McCaffrey as trustee.....	$1,416.91
Cash value of insurance policies in force.....	1,428.67
Total value of present Fund and policies.....	$2,845.58

The Commissioner of Insurance also reports that a number of the 1913 policyholders have elected to make a lump sum payment, instead of paying the annual premiums as they fall due. He suggests that other members of the class might desire to adopt the same plan if they knew of this possibility. On most of the policies a payment of about $20.00 now will take care of all the remaining premiums. The Commissioner of Insurance will be glad to advise you of the exact amount.

After the report on the Loan Fund was made at our Reunion, some members of the class who had not felt that they were in a position to subscribe to the original plan in 1913, asked whether it would be possible to subscribe now. The answer is “Yes.” Either of the two following plans is available:

1. Take out a policy in the State Life Fund on a ten-payment basis. Such policies should be for $100. However, these policies are issued to residents of Wisconsin only, and a physical examination is required. Hence the second plan may be more convenient in many cases.

2. Write to M. E. McCaffrey, Secretary of the Board of Regents, Madison, sending him your check for $60, or your agreement to pay that amount in annual installments during the next ten years. This will make your contribution to the Class of 1913 Loan Fund approximately the same as that of the original subscribers.

It is a pleasure to report such satisfactory progress in building up the memorial of the Class of 1913, and it is felt that, with the added accumulations and new contributions during the next ten years, we will have a Fund that will assist many young men and women toward acquiring the much-coveted University education.

TRUSTEES, 1913 LOAN FUND
By J. K. LIVINGSTON

1914

Sec'y—N. D. BASSETT, Madison
114 S. Carroll St.

They're coming back! There will be so many of the old Class of '14 on the Campus that it will look as if someone had turned the hands of Music Hall clock back ten years.

John Jirgal, Ben Brindley, Helen Calhoun Woolson, and Carol Cotton Hyde of Chicago are searching the big city for more than fifty of their classmates. With their families (for we are all going to bring our families) they will have to charter a train. Walter Berger, Ralph Hammond, and Louise Schoenloeber will have the forty-five Milwaukee '14ers eager to go. They haven't decided as yet whether to arrange for a special train or to have an automobile parade to Madison.

Irvin White, our track team star, promises to bring out every classmate in the northern woods on a cross-country run from Madison.

Marjorie Taylor Stavrum will bring a goodly number from Superior and Duluth. We are hoping she will also bring her lovely children. Marshall Graff reports that he has the Wausau District on its toes and that they will report 100%. District Attorney Alfred Godfrey writes that Elkhorn and thereabouts will turn out with flying colors—perhaps they will have a band; Al always pulls a good one. Then, too, from his section of the state come Winifred Goodrich Gevaast and Gertrude Taylor with all the other Delavan '14ers. Al's sister, Margaret Godfrey Lange, has the neighborhood of Waupaca making plans for plenty of pep and fun.

Carolyn Allen has come all the way from Japan. Walt Powell and Gene Van Gent will be back, we are told, even though they may have to walk from Georgia and California. An aeroplane may bring the New York crowd, and the radio will keep the rest of the class in touch with us at the reunion. Of course, Madison bunch will be there—Catherine Head Coleman, Dorothy Hubbard, Emilie Boelsing, Almond Gasser, Norman Bassett, Arthur Altmeier, and about fifty more. They are arranging the stunts for the alumni banquet, planning our picnics, and promising for '14 the liveliest headquarters.

You see everyone is coming back—all our old pals to play with again! Come one—come all! Don't miss the grand, good time! Watch for future announcements and save June 20-23 for Madison and the Reunion.

Yours for a Peppy Reunion!

C. J. OTJEN, Class President.

C. A. FOURNESS writes from Neenah: "I shall certainly try to be down to the Ask your R. R. ticket agent for a Certificate when you buy your ticket to Madison for Commencement.

Ten-year Anniversary this year."—Ralph HAMMOND is sales manager for the Campfire Company, 446 Clinton St., Milwaukee.

—The experiments of Dr. J. C. WALKER, formerly of the agricultural faculty, in seed selection, whereby millions of dollars have been saved to the States through the control of cabbage disease, is written up in the March number of The Field.—Victor RUBIN, whose novel, Tar and Feathers, is attracting wide attention, writes as follows from 5131 Kenmore Ave., Chicago, Ill.: "Since my graduation from the University I have been an interested reader of THE WISCONSIN ALUMNI MAGAZINE, especially of Alumni and Class News. The betrothal or marriage of an old friend, the coming of a new life into the world, the passing of one who has preceded me up the hill and across the larger campus of life—all fill me with the sense of the eternal flux—of the unceasing sweep of the life stream from the peaks of youth, through the plains of middle age, to the waiting sea. THE ALUMNI MAGAZINE is something like a log to the voyager and a bridge across the flying years."—M. E. SKINNER, who has been associated with the Duquesne Light Company, Pittsburgh, Pa., for the past two years, has been named commercial manager to head the newly established commercial department of the company, which embraces the power sales, contract illuminating and street lighting, domestic service, and public relations departments. Since graduation Mr. Skinner has taken an active part in A. I. E. E., work, serving at present as chairman of the National Membership Committee and secretary of the Pittsburgh section. He has contributed a number of articles to the Technical Press, including several papers presented before the A. I. E. E. on transformer design.—Maud NEPRUD Otjen is the new president of the Milwaukee County League of Women Voters.

Change of address: Carl WILLE, farmer, Lake Katrine, N. Y.; Lloyd OSBORNE, real estate, 1339 S. 34th St., Omaha, Nebr.; Ruth MINTURN, 410 Fremont St., Marshalltown, Iowa; Pearl SMITH, clinical pathologist, Stanford University medical school, San Francisco, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur JORGENSEN (Lona Bergh, '09), 347 Madison Ave., N. Y. C.; Hugh REBER, C. P. A., industrial engineer, 60 E. Walton Place, Chicago, Ill.; Byron ROBINSON, Children's Hospital, Iowa City, Iowa.

1915

Sec'y—N. P. BIART, Madison
652 Knickerbocker St.

Capt. Joseph BOLLENBECK, executive officer of the organized reserves at St. Louis, Mo., broadcasted a talk on "The Citizens' Military Training Camps on April 9, from station WCK.—Mary McMAHON, 241 E. 22nd St., N. Y. C., has recently taken membership in the General Alumni Association.—Florence WATSON

Olesen resides at 2309 Mound St., Norwood, Ohio, where Dr. Olesen is making a Federal survey of goiter cases in the Ohio River Valley States.—L. A. HENRY is an agent with the Civilian Vocational Rehabilitation work of the U. S. government; his address is Federal Board of Vocational Education, Washington, D. C.—Dr. Sylvia STUESSY, Madison, of the staff of the bureau of child welfare of the state board of health, conducted a mother and baby conference in Neenah in April. The local press says of Dr. Stuessy's qualifications: "Dr. Stuessy is regarded as one of the best prepared physicians for this work in the state. Her medical training has been supplemented by special work in nutrition, in which she majored at the University. She has conducted child clinics at Madison, has been on the staff of the children's hospital at San Francisco, and has done special maternity work at the women's and children's hospital at Chicago, besides conducting state clinics in Michigan."

Change of address: Byron BIRD, formerly professor of structural engineering at A. and M. C., College Station, Texas, to 1602 Second Ave. N., Fort Dodge, Iowa; Frankie TRAINOR, registrar, Lindenwood College, St. Charles, Mo.; Harvey HEIDER, secretary-treasurer, Luce Cane Harvester Corp., 8 E. 45th St., N. Y. C.; Harry HERSH, 775 54th St., Milwaukee; Lucile HATCH MacNeish, 1737 E. 67th St., Chicago, Ill.; Edward SIPP, electrical engineer, U. S. Air Service, 1043 Superior Ave., Dayton, Ohio; W. H. LOERPABEL, mining engineer, Apartado 85, Parral, Chihuahua, Mex.; H. C. ANDERTON, care Anderton and Anderton, Insurance Co., City Nat'l Bank Bldg., Dayton, Ohio; Clifford HAUMERSON, merchant, Ft. Atkinson; W. G. KAMMLADE, instructor, U. of Illinois; Frank PARDEE, mining engineer, Dept. of Conservation, Lansing, Mich.; Guy Eaglesfield, Box 1532, Bisbee, Ariz.; Harry Kiefaber, fruit grower, 58 Central Ave., Dayton, Ohio; Warren CLARK, salesman, J. H. Rhodes and Co., 692 Stowell Ave., Milwaukee; Helene LAITEM, 1446 Lincoln Ave., Lakewood, Ohio; Margaret HAYES Carew, 445 W. Gilman St., Madison; P. J. CRANDALL, state manager, American Life Ins. Co., Sioux Falls, S. D.

1916

Sec'y—JESSIE BOSSHARD MAURER, Madison
1119 Sherman Ave.

Marion CASTERLINE Sperry resides in Berwyn, Ill., where Mr. Sperry is in business with Russell Carpenter. —14—Albert NELSON is a prominent Kiwanian of Auburn, Nebr.—Henry CASSELY, one of Madison's best authorities on sporting events, has joined the staff of the Capital Times as editor of "Hank Casserly's Column."

Change of address: James SAZAMA, instructor, Harrison Technical H. S., Chicago, Ill.; Richard ZIMMER, commerce counsel, 3500 Nebraska St., Sioux City, Iowa; W. R. TEETERS, chairman, dept. of chemistry, Soldan H. S., St. Louis, Mo.; S. A. BRANT, Jr., Chateau Apt., No. 8, McKinley Park, Dayton, Ohio; E. M. PITTENGER, owner, Pyle Letter Machine Co., 202 S. Clark St., Chicago, Ill.; W. B. GOLDIE, bond salesman, Second Ward Securities Co., Second Ward Savings Bank Bldg., Milwaukee; O. T. SADLER, 15 S. Granada Ave., Alhambra, Calif.; Lillian LAWSON, 327 Naymut St., Menasha; Glenn McHUGH, 107 Senate Office Bldg., Washington, D. C.; Ruth CRUGER, Elmhurst Press, Elmhurst, Ill.; Dr. Ralph SPROULE, suite 309, Goldsmith Bldg., Milwaukee; W. A. LEUKEL, graduate student, U. W.; Ralph EVANS, salesman, Y. M. C. A., Butte, Mont.; Lillie SPIERING, 647½ Cramer St., Milwaukee; C. B. Dunn, Madison, to 480 N. Baldwin St.; H. W. TABOR, Big Creek, Calif., to Camp 63; Kathleen VAN HECKE Regan, 1726 North Shore Ave., Apt. 2A, Chicago, Ill.

1917

Sec'y—MARGUERITE JENISON, Urbana, Ill.
412 Lincoln Hall

DR. Harold OLSEN has been appointed assistant professor of physical education at Ohio State.—Esther THOMPSON, Washington, D. C., sailed for France the latter part of March on her way to Rome to visit her sister, Lila, '22, assistant to Asher Hobson, U. S. delegate to the International Institute of Agriculture. After spending a month or two abroad they will return to Washington.—H. E. BILKEY was Wisconsin's representative on the Attendance Committee at the Stag Dinner, the second annual banquet of the New York Association of Western Conference Universities held at the Hotel Astor on March 21.

Change of address: Charles POE, telephone engineer, Room 926, 195 Broadway, N. Y. C.; E. W. VORLOP, engineer, Electric Star Battery Co., Kansas City, Mo.; J. L. REICHERT, M. D., 5600 Ridge Ave., Chicago, Ill.; A. J. PINNEY, engineer, Nat'l Lamp Works, 1495 Fillmore Ave., Buffalo, N. Y.; Wilfred EVANS, salesman, Continental Paper and Bag Mills Corp., Kansas City, Mo.; Capt. A. W. GOWER, from Fort Bliss, Tex., to Fort Eustis, Va., 52nd Artillery (Ry.); C. M. SLAGG, director, Conn. Tobacco Station, Windsor, Conn.; Elizabeth RUNGE Rees, 5630 Pershing Ave., St. Louis, Mo.; Hazel KETCHAM, 239 Travis St., Grand Rapids, Mich.; J. C. MARQUARDT, from Los Angeles Calif., to Geneva, N. Y., Box 299; Harlin GEISSE, engineer in charge of U. S. Navy, 3432 Connecticut Ave., Md.; Rolland ETTER, Akron, Ohio, 63 Rose Blvd.

1918

Sec'y—HOWARD HANCOCK, Oshkosh
State Normal

S. P. WILD, for the past three years financial and market editor of Drovers

Journal, has been advanced to telegraph editor.—Otto MYRLAND, senior-in-law at the U. of Arizona, is one of the three debaters of that school to take part in a series of contests on the coast.—Everett EDWARDS, formerly in the oil business at Tab, Mexico, has changed his residence to 800 Besser Ave., Ashland.—Leita BYRUM is teaching a country school at Onida, S. Dak.—William DURST was recently elected vice president of the Los Angeles U. W. Club.—Esther PETERSON writes from 811 Santa Barbara, Berkeley, Calif., that THE MAGAZINE brings her back with a thrill to old Wisconsin.

Change of address: James RICHARDSON, buyer, Nat'l Cloak and Suit Co., Kansas City, Mo.; E. S. ELDER, investment banking, 522 Security Bldg., St. Louis, Mo.; Grace ANDERSON Brownrigg, 49 Highland Ave., Highland Park, Detroit, Mich.; T. L. SHEPHERD, architect, 1715 Ramona Ave., S. Pasadena, Calif.; Anne FULLERTON, government clerk, 1330 Mass. Ave. N. W., Washington, D. C., Apt. 34; Dr. Wm. McCOLL, 4143 University Ave., San Diego, Calif.

1919

Sec'y—VELMA REID CONNORS, Hurley

"Snappiest, Classiest, Happiest Reunion Ever"

Waupun, Wis.
March 25, 1924

Dear Classmates:

Let nothing short of plague, pestilence, famine, battle, murder, or sudden death keep you from Madison on June 20.

If thorough plans and live committees can make a reunion a happy one, ours ought to be a knock-out. Costumes, boat rides, easy chairs, a fine victrola, picnics, musical instruments, buzz horns, freak signs, lotteries, songs, yells, novelty stunts, etc., are among the things on the committee's lists. Everything will be set to make this the "snappiest, classiest, happiest Reunion ever."

If there is any loyalty in an alumnus, he will show it by coming back to his old Alma Mater at least at the first reunion of his class. Our group has scattered to every state in the union. But all roads lead to Madison on June 20.

The Class of 1918 broke all records in the number of "grads" returning for the fifth reunion. We are out to beat that record. Will you help? If so, step into the post office today and mail us a card to tell us how many from your family are coming. We will want to plan a costume for you. And if you would like to help the reunion further, write a letter to the ALUMNI MAGAZINE, telling them your plans for June. But at any rate and whether you are coming or not, let us hear from you.

By the way, do you belong to the Alumni Association? The best way to keep in touch with the school is through that organization. What a fine showing it would make if every single Nineteener could be at Madison on June 20 and everyone a member of the Association!

The old campus will be extremely beautiful in June. The Lake will ripple in the moonlight with just as much enchantment and romance as it used to. If there ever was a chance to combine a pleasant trip, a happy outing, a congenial reunion, and a genuine service to your class and school—this is your chance. Lay your plans now.—Very cordially yours, HAROLD M. GROVES.

"Please change my address to American Consulate General, Valparaiso, Chile, S. A., where my husband is in the consular service and where we find life extremely interesting and colorful, with California weather the year round," writes Loretta CONKLIN Mosier, "We are having autumn just now which makes it rather confusing, for in the Northern Hemisphere we should be looking forward to Spring. I am very sorry not to be present at my first reunion this June, but my thoughts are with you all."

"It did my heart good to receive the peppy 'reunion' letter," writes Esther NEPRUD. "All year I have been anticipating the return to Madison for June 20. And nothing except a sudden death will keep me from being there. We must convince all other alumni that we are still a 'live' outfit, and we can do it."—"The 1919 announcement came this morning and I have read it carefully—didn't need it, really, for the SPENGLERS will be there as follows: Billy, age 15 months, and Margaret and Silas. We have planned that for years. We want to see the BAKERS and the NOERS, etc., etc. Looks to me like a big time in the old town. I'll be there early with a car I expect to borrow."—"I will be on hand," writes King WOODWARD, Rockford, Ill., physician. "I am looking forward to seeing all the members of 1919 again and feel sure that we can have one of the finest reunions ever held. Put me down for one costume, please."

Change of address: Willard CHIPMAN, M. D., 2532 University Ave., N. Y. C. Walter GREEN, M. D., 5300 Burlingame, Detroit, Mich.; Helen BAKER, 519 Orange St., Hot Springs, Ark.; R. M. SUTTON, M. D., 917 Peoria Life Bldg., Peoria, Ill.; Maurice CLEARY, vice president and treasurer, United Artists Corp., 729 7th Ave., N. Y. C.; H. M. KICKHEFER, manufacturer, Kickhefer Container Co., Delair, N. J.; Virginia TENNER Butterfield, 3034 10th Ave., West Vancouver, B. C., Canada; Kenneth CURTIS, Chicago, Ill., to 235 W. Jackson Blvd.; Edith BURKE, N. Y. C., to 520 W. 114th St.

1920

Sec'y—PHYLLIS B. HAMILTON,
Detroit, Mich. 4922 Linsdale

Charles DREWRY has resigned as professor of agriculture at the County Normal School at Marinette, to accept the position of agricultural agent for Marinette County. Bruce CARTTER, who has been managing a large farm in Pennsylvania, succeeds Mr. Drewry.—Elizabeth McCOLLISTER Miller accompanies remittance of her membership dues with the remark; "I surely would be loathe to miss even a single number of the MAGAZINE."—Mr. and Mrs. Charles GILL (Elsie GLUCK) reside at 311 W. 24th St., N. Y. C., where Mr. Gill is doing labor and economic research.—Madge RYAN, Madison is teaching mathematics and English at Wisconsin Rapids H. S.—Esther HEISE, Madison, is an instructor in home economics at Belmont H. S.—Lawrence HALL, Madison attorney, was reelected justice of the peace for seventh ward at the April election.—Carl PETERSON was elected mayor of Menomonie by a majority of 394 votes in the spring election.—Charles CULBERTSON, son of Clarence Culbertson, '94, sailed the latter part of April for a three-year stay in China, where he will act as resident manager for the Eastman Kodak Co., with headquarters at Shanghai; Dr. Maud HAMILTON Mendenhall has been elected to the Fond du Lac board of education.

Change of address: Raymond EDWARDS, of Edwards and Edwards, accountants and auditors, Philadelphia, Pa., to 1015 Chestnut St.; Marian KIMBALL Wheelock, 617 E. Green St., Champaign, Ill.; Carl BEHNKE, Appleton, to 805 College Ave.; Marguerite NUZUM Grubb, 314 Cambridge Ave., Milwaukee; Paul SIMONDS, 428 Transportation Bldg., Chicago, Ill.; Eleanor GAIK Green, 5300 Burlingame, Detroit, Mich.; Gertrude VROOMAN Scott, 126 Herman St., Germantown, Philadelphia, Pa.; Norma CHURCHILL, English teacher, Barron H. S.; Eleanor STANCHFIELD Maurer, 66 Selden St., Galesburg, Ill.; Vernon STEINLE, professor of chemistry, Marquette U.

1921

Sec'y—MARY PARKINSON, Milwaukee
54 Prospect Ave.

"My only criticism of the MAGAZINE is that it doesn't come often enough," writes Curtis BESTE, 1009 S. 11th St., Manitowoc.—ARTHUR NELSON, University agent for the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company, recently called at Alumni Headquarters.—"I read the MAGAZINE with great interest," writes Katherine LEES, who is located at the Milwaukee Infants Hospital, 447 Bradford Ave.—Lawrence MURPHY, head of the department of journalism at the U. of North Dakota, recently issued the first volume of The Journalism Bulletin, a quarterly published in the interests of the American Association of Teachers of Journalism.—W. B. KOEHLER, 516 S. 10th St., Laramie, Wyo., is working toward his M. S. at the U. of Wyoming.—"I have been intending to write about my change of address to 631 Sherman Avenue, Evanston, Ill., ever since it took place when I was married on October 18," writes Wellington BROTHERS, associate editor of Automotive Electrical Engineer and also The Welding Engineer, trade papers. "I married an Evanston girl, Miss Rosalind Parker, who was a frequent visitor to Madison as my guest for Prom and Homecoming, when I was in school. The Magazine is always very welcome and very much enjoyed.

LAWRENCE MURPHY

Change of address: Chester MILLER, 1400 E. 53rd St., Chicago, Ill.; Linton STEVENS, instructor in English, U. W.; B. F. ZAFFKE, traveling salesman, James Mfg. Co., Ft. Atkinson; Henry ISAACS, bond department, Liberty Central Trust Co., St. Louis, Mo.; F. W. MADISON, medical student, 431 W. 121st St., N. Y. C.; Arthur LADE, care Tacoma Hotel, Tacoma, Wash.; Joseph PLECK, attorney, 5538 Cornell Ave., Chicago, Ill.; Jean ROLFE, instructor in psychology and education, La Crosse State Normal; Raymond SCHMIDT, special agent, Conn. Mut. Life Ins. Co., Davenport Iowa; Samuel WRIGHT, Security, Trust and Savings Bank, Hollywood, Calif.; Ruth ENCKHAUSEN Felton, Fairmount, Ind.; Joseph LISKOVEC, 726 West Ave. S., La Crosse; Mildred SMITH Sell, Nakoma, Madison; Bertha SCHWENN, accounting department, State Board of Control, Madison; W. J. SEDER, 39 Hawthorne Ave., Crafton, Pa.

1922

Sec'y—NORMA KIECKHOFER GODFREY
Wauwatosa, 284 First Ave.

Stuart HAMILTON has resigned as city editor of the Hilo Tribune Herald and sailed for Yokohama, Japan, where he expects to do newspaper work before continuing his voyage to China and around the world wherever adventure may lead him. Readers of the MAGAZINE may look forward to occasional notes covering the matters of interest on his travels. Mr. Hamilton expects to return to America early in 1925.—Arthur KNUDSEN, intern in the Columbia hospital, Milwaukee, has passed his examination before the state board and is now a licensed M. D.—C. E. HULTON, for the past two years superintendent of the Superior city schools, has accepted a similar position at Marinette, his duties to begin at the close of the school year.—Louis MELCHER is director of the glee club of the University of the South, Seawanee, Tenn.—Alyah ("Rowdy") ELLIOTT, who is teaching in Racine, has been appointed coach of the high school baseball team for 1924.—Newton BOWERS is associated with Charles Preston, certified public accountants, Plymouth Bldg., Minneapolis, Minn.—"THE MAGAZINE does a great deal toward perpetuating old friendships—a really worth-while mission" writes Hobart KLETZIEN, Kohler Co., Kohler.—Helen DICKINSON writes from 410 Reserve St., Boise, Idaho: "There are very few Wisconsin graduates out here, and I do enjoy the ALUMNI MAGAZINE in keeping in touch with school activities and friends. The U. W. ranks very high in the minds of most of the people here in the West, as well as in Wisconsin. I am supervising music work in the schools here and enjoy it immensely, but will be glad to see everyone at Commencement in Madison."—George JONES writes from Warren, Ind.: "Couldn't live without the MAGAZINE. Accept my two dollars with sincerest appreciation."

Change of address: Jessie McKELLAR, teacher of physical education, Marinette; R. M. NASH, cost accountant, from Madison to Ontario, Can., suite 11, Hobson Bldg., 92 King St. W.; E. E. SMITH, cashier and bookkeeper, 709 Monroe St., Evanston Ill.; Selma Hofsoos Work, 211 N. 11th St., Richmond, Ind.; C. B. MINSHALL, real estate, 100 Highland St., Hammond, Ind.; Caddy GEORGE Herrick, Oak Park, Ill., to 521 Forest Ave.; Gladys WILSON Miller, 352 Kenilworth Ave., Dayton, Ohio; Gertrude MORRIS, teacher, Beaver Dam H. S.; P. E. O'NEIL, wholesale lumberman, P. E. O'Neil Lumber Co., 624 S. Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill.; M. K. DREWRY, test engineer of power plants, Milwaukee T. M. E. R. and L. Co.; Laura HEIM Colahan, head of commercial department, Community H. S., Woodstock, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph FIEDLER (Helen GRAVES), 809 Hackett Ave., Milwaukee; Lester GRIEM, C. P. A., with Ernst and Ernst, Detroit, Mich.; Mildred HILL, English teacher, Reno, Nev., H. S.; Rodney WELSH, lawyer, 509 Bellin Bldg., Green Bay; James WOODS, assistant research director, L. S. Ayres and Co., Indianapolis, Ind.

1923

Sec'y—ISABEL CAPPS, California
Box 1003 Stanford University

C. H. COATES, who received his appointment in November as vice consul to Australia, arrived in Melbourne to take up his new duties the first of the year.—

"Will you please send our MAGAZINE hereafter to 7258 Bennett Avenue, Chicago, Ill." writes Helen KASBEER Meek. "I cannot tell you how very much we enjoy it. We look forward to receiving each new issue—it's a breath of real Wisconsin.—Ralph SCHEINPFLUG, known on the stage as "Macbane," recently left New York where he has been continuing his work and study along dramatic lines, to accept a position with a Louisville, Ky., stock company; his headquarters are at the Brown Hotel.—Lucile SIMPSON Ashley is travelling in the States while her husband, Ensign C. L. Ashley, U. S. N., is with the flagship California on a Pacific cruise.—John SULLIVAN writes from Schenectady, N. Y., where he is employed by the General Electric Company that he and his roommate, Archie Bowers, "enjoy the MAGAZINE very much." Mr. and Mrs. L. W. McClure (Bertha BURKHARDT) reside at Tipton, Ind.; Mr. McClure is city editor of the Tipton Times.—E. J. MORHOFF is president of the Motor Club, a new automobile service corporation recently organized in Madison.—Ralph AMMON is the new farm editor of the Madison Wisconsin State Journal.—Gustav TEBELL, former all-round University athlete, at present located at Liberty, N. Y., will coach basketball and baseball and serve as assistant football coach at the U. of North Carolina next year.—James BRADER is secretary and treasurer of the U. W. Club in Los Angeles, Calif.—Alfred RADKE, Dane County distributor for Mason cord tires, has opened his place of business, known as The Mason Tire and Supply Co., in the Bank of Commonwealth Bldg., 458 W. Gilman St., Madison.—W. H. WENZEL, assistant salesman for Wilson Bros., 528 S. Wells St., Chicago, Ill., writes: "The MAGAZINE has lots of good news in it and is always welcome."—Wayne MORSE, instructor in the speech department of the University, has been appointed debating coach at the U. of Minnesota and will leave for his new position in the fall.—Halbert HOARD' s address is 1041 N. New Hampshire Ave., Hollywood, Calif. Last summer Mr. Hoard worked on the Yellowstone Tourist, motoring from there to California, where he is now selling real estate for a large concern in Los Angeles.—Filip FORSBECK writes, "I receive the ALUMNI MAGAZINE regularly, and take much enjoyment in same. Will you please send the MAGAZINE to 709 S. Ashland Blvd., Chicago, Ill., for the time being?"—John BUMBALEK writes, "Please forward the ALUMNI MAGAZINE to my new address, 1307 State St., Menominee, Mich. I am at present an agricultural instructor and principal at the Menominee School of Agriculture."

H. K. MEEK

R. SCHEINPFLUG

Change of address: Carl STEIGER, care Deltox Grass Rug Co., Oshkosh; Wilma JOHNSON, teacher, grammar department, Argyle public schools; Lester PETERSON, chemist, The Solvay Press Co. Solvay, N. Y.; W. H. CONINE, care The Standard Corp., advertising, Chicago, Ill.; H. B. PARMELE, graduate student, U. W.; Horace MARTIN, charge of office, Nat'l Cash Register Co., El Paso, Tex.; Elizabeth MORRISON, teacher, Rochester; Edith HESS librarian, 487 Jefferson St., Burlington; Sandy DUKET, cadet engineer, Northern Indiana G. and E. Co., Hammond; Ann MENDENHALL, 460 Grand Ave., Dayton, Ohio; Felix ZUELOW, 308 Summit Ave., Schenectady, N. Y.; Oliver JOHNSON, Nat'l Cash Register Co., Newark, N. J.; Sidney BOYDEN, wholesale lumber, 1004 Pleasant St., Oak Park, Ill.; Josephine WALTERS O'Neil, 1010 Pleasant St., Oak Park, Ill.; E. A. ABRAMOVSKY, purchasing agent, American Low Paper Co., Milwaukee; Florence KELLOGG, teacher, Readstown, H. S.; Lawrence DUNN, lawyer, 555 Meade St., Appleton; John SARLES, printer, 215 Bradley St., Schenectady N. Y.; E. O. KOERNER, electrical engineer, 1321 Maryland Ave., Sheboygan; Helen McDonald, teacher, Bowman, N. D.—Edgar AUERSWALD, principal, Marinette H. S.; Lucile LINDAHL Grismer, 3365 DeSota Ave. Cleveland Heights, Ohio; Elizabeth Marshall, art student, 139 Gilman St., Madison; Elizabeth KIRK, U. of Pennsylvania medical school; Mary HEDLEY, teacher, 1064 Sheridan Road, Menominee, Mich.; Helen ZUELKE, instructor, Wisconsin Telephone Co., Milwaukee; Mr. and Mrs. Langley SMART (Mildred Brink, '22), 2225 Philadelphia St. W., Detroit, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. C. D. ROHR (Dorothy HAHN) 565 State St., Burlington; Myrtle WIK, law student, University Station, Grand Forks, N. D.; Allan HALLINE, 367 Lincoln Place, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Arthur KRUEGER, from Milwaukee to 267 Brown St., Akron, Ohio.

1924

Sec'y—ESTHER BILSTAD, Madison
514 North Lake St.

At the meeting of the class held in Bascom Hall on April 2 we voted, for our memorial to the University, to follow the example of all classes since 1916 and contribute to the Chimes Fund. The Fund now amounts to $15,000, but must reach double that sum before it can be used to purchase our gift to Alma Mater in appreciation of the many benefits we have received from her. We also voted to follow the precedent set since 1921 and join the General Alumni Association as a class, and thereby be able to keep in touch with the University through the channel of the ALUMNI MAGAZINE, which goes free of charge to all members. At the same time we shall be assisting the Association in carrying on its work of promoting the welfare of our Alma Mater.

Professor E. H. Gardner has been chosen by the class to direct the Memorial Union campaign among the members of the class this spring.

The personnel of our class officers is as follows: President, Walter Fraut-schi; vice president, Marion Metcalf, secretary, Esther Bilstad; treasurer, George Finkle; sergeant-at-arms, Hugo Czerwonky.

Martin BELOW, for two years chosen unanimously for the mythical all-Conference and all-Western teams at tackle and placed by many experts on the all-American team, will assist Coach Ryan in the fall; he will handle the tackles in addition to acting in advisory capacity in the development of the entire team. Upon finishing his work in February, Mr. Below became associated with a Chicago business concern with the understanding that he is to take leave of absence during the football season.—Thomas REYNOLDS, recently graduated from the Law School, will practice in California.—Royce TRUMBOWER, who took his B.S. in February, has been appointed farm manager of the Eau Claire County Asylum.—Elroy LUEDTKE, who received his C.E. degree at the end of the first semester, has been tendered a position with the U.S. War Department office in Milwaukee, as harbor commissioner.—Mary KEISTER Talbot, whose M.A. already voted, will be conferred in June, is temporarily located at 610 Cornelia Ave., Chicago, Ill.—Dorothy JONES, Barneveld, has been awarded a scholarship from the French government for a year at the Ecole Normale de St. Germain en Laye. The award is made to graduates of American Colleges on the basis of excellence in scholastic work.

Change of address: Mildred BLACKLIDGE, private secretary, 909 West Drive, Woodruff Place, Indianapolis, Ind.; Albert ROBINOVITZ, 1540 Willis Ave., Omaha, Neb.; Ambrose NUTT, attorney, 608 Cherry St., Milwaukee; Fred SEYBOLD, Fuller Brush salesman, Forest Junction; Elmore WEHMHOF, draftsman, Universal Can Co., Inc., Burlington; Kenneth DAMON, theater manager, 811 Greene Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.; Edward BORGELT, Milwaukee attorney, 342 12th Street; Edgar BELLEW, sulphite mill apprentice, Spruce Falls Co., Kapuskasing, Ont., Can.

FACULTY NEWS

Signe Holst, a new member on the Music faculty, graduated from the Royal Conservatory at Copenhagen, Denmark. During her study abroad she gave contralto concerts in Copenhagen, Aarhus, and other Danish cities, and in Jutland. She has given recitals in New York, New Jersey, and in several of the Middle Western states, recently appearing in a joint contralto and piano recital with Miss Lockwood, accompanied by Professor Coon, at the University. She has instructed in music at Cedar Falls, Iowa, at Central College, Conway, Arkansas, and at Grandview College and Des Moines University, Des Moines, Iowa. She studied for three years at the Iowa State Teachers College.

SIGNE HOLST

An interesting article appears in The Field for March, telling of the work of Prof. L. R. JONES in producing disease-resistant cabbage seeds whereby an industry worth millions of dollars has been brought back to Wisconsin, alone, besides other millions to other states.

Woodrow Wilson has been placed in the gallery of fame as the third greatest president of the United States by Prof. C. R. FISH who has contributed an article on our war president for the April number of the Wisconsin Literary Magazine. "He lacked the tolerance of Washington," says Professor Fish of Wilson in his article. "He lacks, too, the infinite variety of approach of Lincoln. In definite accomplishments, however, he stands next to them among our presidents."

Professor and Mrs. VAN VLECK sailed in April for Europe. In May they will be joined by their son, Hasbrook, '20, of the University of Minnesota faculty, returning to America in September.

Prof. P. W. DYKEMA of the School of Music has been granted a leave of absence for one year, to accept a position as director of the music school of Teachers College, Columbia University.

An experiment in graduate engineering research conducted by men employed in industrial plants is being carried on under the direction of Prof. R. S. McCaffery, chairman of the department of mining and metallurgy. A group of Milwaukee engineers, all graduates of leading engineering colleges, are to conduct the research in the plants in which they are working. These Milwaukee engineers are working for the degree of master of science in engineering. They all hold responsible positions, and through their positions can carry on research that will be offered as theses.

PROF. McCAFFERY

Refuting the claim that the Bolsheviks are aiding education in Russia, as advanced by Raymond Bassett, '25, in a series of articles written for the Cardinal, recently, Professor Rostovtseff says: "The Bolsheviks are suppressing all free thought. Lenin did not teach the Russians to long for education. They have always longed for education. The new system of education makes it impossible for everyone to enter schools. Now it is the class privilege of the proletariat. The rest must pay a fee and private schools are forbidden. Figures from the budget of the Bolshevik regime show that little more than one and one-half per cent is devoted to education, while under the old Czarist regime, bad as it was, 10 per cent of the money was given to education."

"Rome rose to her greatness partly because she had the finest system of laws among the ancient nations and fell when her law-makers stopped basing laws on justice," said Prof. A. B. HALL, recently, to his classes in elementary law. "When citizens lost all respect for laws and morals, all ancient nations were conquered, and no modern nation can survive, not even our America, after respect for law has been lost. Law evasion is now fashionable in certain quarters of America."

CAMPUS NOTES

Six names selected by President Birge as representative of the significant ideals of Wisconsin, to appear in relief on the cover of the 1925 Badger are: James Whitford Bashford, '73, John Bradley Winslow, '75, Charles Richard Van Hise, '79, Samuel Fallows, '59, William Freeman Vilas, '58, and John Bascom, LL.D. '05.

A College of Education, to operate on the same basis with colleges of agriculture, engineering, and other professional schools, is being advocated by the Board of Visitors.

The English House, for English majors, has voted to admit two freshmen next fall who have had the highest scholastic standing for four years in any high school in the state.

Michigan won in the annual mid-West contest held in Music Hall on March 21, arguing the negative on "Resolved that the drainage project of the Chicago sanitary district, in so far as it involves the divergence from Lake Michigan of sufficient water to provide adequate sanitation for the city of Chicago, should be permanently guaranteed." The defeat eliminated Wisconsin from the race for the triangle. The same subject, debated on the same date at Urbana, Ill., was won by Wisconsin's affirmative team.

St. Patrick's parade, in which the brunt of the Engineers' humor was born by the Lawyers as usual and by the library, was far superior to the parades of former years according to a Cardinal editorial. Floats depicting the Madison Fire Department, Music Hall, and the English Department attracted special attention. After the parade St. Patrick made his annual address from the steps of the library, following which the Blarney Stone was kissed by all the Engineers.

The Babson prize fund "to stimulate a keener interest in statistical economics, business forecasting, and the stabilization of our economic life" offers a prize of $600 for the best essay submitted by either a graduate or an undergraduate student at any American university; and a prize of $400 for the best essay by an undergraduate student at any American university. The essays must be submitted to Ray B. Westerfield, secretary of the American Economic Association, Yale station, New Haven, Connecticut, on or before October 1924.

H. S. musicians, numbering more than 700 possible future students of the University, will attend the first All-Wisconsin High School Music Contest to be given in Madison under the auspices of the School of Music on May 8 and 9. The contest has been inaugurated for the purpose of arousing a deeper interest in music among high school students. It is an extension of the plan of interscholastic meets for high school students which have been carried on by the University for several years. Musical societies have donated silver loving cups and gold and silver pins which will be presented to competitors winning in each of the events. Fraternities and sororities will lodge some of the visitors during their stay.

"Education in the Philippine Islands is not a question of compulsion, but of providing facilities for the millions of children denied school privileges," said Prof. E. A. Gilmore, vice-governor of the Philippines, formerly of the University law faculty, who is on a six weeks' visit to the States in the interest of improved educational facilities for the islands and to obtain teachers for the various branches of the bureau of education. "There are 450 American teachers in our schools, and we want about 60 more who can teach English in the high schools. The majority of the Americans are in executive positions or supervisory offices, directing the work of about 25,000 native teachers. The salary is $1,500 per year, with transportation to the islands."

"Ore Magmas" was the subject of a series of three lectures given by Dr. J. K. Spurr of the Engineering and Mining Journal-Press of New York before the Geology department, March 5-7; during the week a conference on Lake Superior geology was held in Madison, attended by representatives of the Michigan and Minnesota geological surveys, the U. W. Geology Department, and mining geologists from various parts of Lake Superior.

Short Course exercises on March 14 were addressed by Pres. W. M. Jardine of Kansas State Agricultural College. In conferring the 51 diplomas President Birge said: "Education like all other things may reach a point of maximum returns. You are at a period to realize the maximum from the education which you have been getting. Unless you keep up with the trend of science you may find a declining return in a few years, but that is not necessary. You can keep up with your education by keeping in touch with your college and other agricultural institutions."

The 32nd birthday of the Daily Cardinal occasioned the following comment by Professor Bleyer, '96, whose interest in the paper dates back to his own college days:

"Parents, foster parents, teachers, and friends gather on each birthday of the Cardinal, and the Cardinal must listen while each tells the inevitable stories of its childhood and its boyhood. And all the stories begin 'When I was on the Cardinal' and end with 'But the University has grown since those days.' And then someone adds, 'And so has the Cardinal!'"

DR. BLEYER

Students dropped from school at the end of the first semester totaled five per cent of the enrollment. The following comment is Dean Sellery's: "Why are these students so unsuccessful as to be dropped? That is the question that deeply concerns all of us teachers throughout the state," he declared. The natural answer from the high schools is that the University ought to teach them better; the natural answer from the University is that the high schools ought to prepare them better. Both these answers have a degree of truth, no doubt. A broader view inclines some of us to think that the cause lies in the increase in the number of those who 'want to go to college' without really wanting an education.

"Resolved, That the railroads of the United States be compelled to consolidate into regional sections as prescribed by the Interstate Commerce Commission," was debated successfully by the Agricultural Literary Society against Philomathia recently. This gives the Agriculturists their third successive victory over an L. and S. team.

That China had not remained entirely secluded from the western world during all the centuries before modern times, was shown by Prof. Paul Pelliot of the College de France in his lecture on "The Early Spread of Christianity," given in Room 165 on March 6.

"Evidence that Christianity existed early in the seventh century is shown in a stone monument discovered in 1625 at Chiang-Fu," said Professor Pelliot. "The history of the earliest known Christian community in China is inscribed on the monument. For 150 years Christianity prospered and waned in that region."

A $115,000 four-story addition to the University Club, replacing the section which was the former home of Vice President Parkinson, '60, is now under way.

Gold charms are now awarded by the Daily Cardinal board of control to the managing and business editors each year; on recommendation of these editors, silver charms are awarded for two years of continuous service and bronze for one year.

The Deutsches Haus, with accommodations for 20 women, will be re-established for the first time since the war this fall and will be located at 508 N. Frances Street.

H. CRANEFIELD would not have made a sacrifice commensurable to that of France."

At the N. O. L. contest, held at Michigan on May 2, Harold Cranefield, '25, will represent Wisconsin. In his tryout oration, "Our Debt to France," he said: "We are so indebted to France that we can never repay her. If not one of the four million troops that were sent to Europe had returned, we

NEW YORK

RAYMOND BILL, '17

On Friday, March 21, the Second Annual Banquet of the New York Association of Western Conference Universities was held at The Astor, one of the leading hostelrys of New York.

Among the speakers were: J. R. Angell, toastmaster, now president of Yale, a graduate of the University of Michigan; Alonzo Stagg, the nationally famous athletic director of the University of Chicago; W. A. Jessup, LL.D., '22, president of Iowa; and Glen Frank, editor of Century and a former Northwestern man.

There was also special entertainment provided in the nature of violin selections by Gilbert Ross the distinguished violinist, of Wisconsin; the Castle Club orchestra, led by J. M. Friedlander of Iowa, made up mostly of Iowa men; Manton Marble, a distinguished tenor, formerly of Michigan, and other novelties.

The new officers elected for the ensuing year are: President, G. O. Hays, Purdue; vice-presidents, F. D. Nichols, Chicago, Raymond Bill, '17, Wisconsin, and G. L. Sawyer, Illinois; secretary and treasurer, Arle Wilson, Iowa.—2-25-'24.

A Crowd Gathered

about the fire engines. One of the spectators, after edging his way out and walking half-way home, missed his "bank roll." Accidental loss or theft—he never has discovered which.

Today he carries a check book instead of a roll of bills.

BANK OF WISCONSIN
MADISON, WIS.