The libraries provide public access to a wide range of material, including online exhibits, digitized collections, archival finding aids, our catalog, online articles, and a growing range of materials in many media.

When possible, we provide rights information in catalog records, finding aids, and other metadata that accompanies collections or items. However, it is always the user's obligation to evaluate copyright and rights issues in light of their own use.

My Cousin

I found my cousin's house on February 23, 1939. He was married to a white woman and there I found my aunt (the one who greets me as my mother). She is 91 years old and she's really his mother, that is this cousin of mine. She talked a lot when I visited. She also told me that she was quite amused that they play music on this word catcher (radio). They say there is always music. So that's this one.
