THE GYMNASIUM APPARATUS.

VERY FINE AND COMPLETE OUT-FIT.

TROPHY ROOM TO BE FITTED UP.

New Room for the Athletic Association.

Yesterday was the first day that the gymnasium was regularly open for use, and now that it is opened and students can use it regularly many will be interested in learning a little about the equipment. Several previous articles in the Cardinal have given the history of the appropriations, the architectural features of the building, its size, cost, etc., but no description of the apparatus has been given.

This was all made by the Schumaker company, of Akron, Ohio, and is by far the finest ever put up by that excellent company. Many improvements, small in themselves, but of incalculable value in a gymnasium, are put on this apparatus and on no other. Much of it was built specially for this contract, and the finish is extra fine. The mode of adjusting the horizontal bars is new and found on no others, the hanging apparatus is all fastened so as to be absolutely noiseless and the striking bag, which are in the southwest turret room off the gymnasium are ingeniously adjusted so as to be easily raised or lowered and prevent wearing off the rope. All of the heavy floor apparatus such as horses, parallel bars, etc., can be thrown upon small rollers by a hand lever in the base and rolled to any desired position, thus permitting quickly clearing the floor. The heavy apparatus consists of:

2 horizontal bars.
2 prs parallel bars.
2 vaulting horses, (one straight and one curved neck).
2 suspended horizontal bars.
1 pr hand spring parallels.
2 prs. flying rings.
1 pr. high jump stands.
1 pr. pole vaulting stands.
2 hitch and kick stands
12 traveling rings.
Horizontal and inclined ladders, suspended parallels.

Climbing ropes, poles and rope ladders.

Spring boards.

Breast bars.

Ball and wire.

2 striking bags and drums.

Medicine balls, vaulting poles, covered shots, Indian clubs, bar bells and dumb bells.

The wall machines are numerous and well selected and the following comprise the list:

Chest weights, intercostal and giant machines, quarter circle, abdominal stool, wrist machines, wrist roll, traveling parales, paddle machines, nautical wheel, wrestling machine, head, leg and back machine, neck machine, sculling machines.

All the heavy apparatus is provided with the best of mats, besides which there is a fine tumbling mat, very large and a fifteen foot wrestling mat. In the northeast corner is the large grand piano and in the northwest corner stairs lead to the cage and track above and to the bowling alleys below, four in number. As has been said before the striking bags and drums will be in the room on the second floor in the southwest turret. Here also all the sparring will be done. In the southeast turret a room has been put in for Mr. Everett. On the same floor as the gallery is a toilet room and a large room in the turret. This latter room will be the Athletic association room and its headquarters. Here its meetings will be held, elections take place, etc. In the southeast turret on the third floor will be the trophy room, an institution which the university as long felt the need of. Not that we have won so many championships but we need such a place to keep those which we already have and those we hope to win, and more particularly pictures of teams, of which there should be complete sets, if possible.

The main third floor will contain but little apparatus and will be devoted almost entirely to the training of teams. At present, outside the cage and running track the only apparatus there is the set of Kerns rowing machines. Later a base sliding outfit for the ball nine and tackling bag will be added and perhaps some hand ball courts.

The ground floor has already been described several times in other articles. It contains the locker room, shower baths, tub baths, tank, toilet room, bowling alleys, squad room and physical and military directors offices. The lockers are ventilated by artificial draught.

From now on the doors of the gymnasium opening onto the main staircase landing will be closed and visitors will be obliged to watch the work from the gallery. No one will be allowed on the floor except in proper exercising suit of some sort.

DELTA AND KAPPAS MEET.

A very pleasant reception was given last evening by Mrs. Maria Sexton to the members of the local chapters of Kappa Kappa Gamma and Delta Tau Delta. The affair was a complete success and Mrs. Maria Sexton added to her reputation as a most charming hostess. The house was tastily decorated with the light and dark blue of the Kappas and the purple, gold and white of the Deltas. After the young people had gotten well acquainted, refreshments and dancing were indulged in up to a late hour. Those present were: Mrs. Scribner, Mrs. C. I. King, the Misses Agnes Butler, Juliet Thorp, Anna and Flora Moseley, Hattie Remington, Flora Mears, Jessie Griffiths, Helen Jones, of St. Louis, Edith Locke, Agnes Bowen, Pitman, Bessie Palmer, Mary Thorp, Edna Chynoweth, Helen Palmer, Anna Flint, Maud Thorp, Agnes Bassett, Georgie McFetridge, Daisy Sames, Mabel McCoy, Grace Merrill, Meta Schuman, Griswold, Huntington, Edith Robinson, and Annie Scribner, of Chicago; and Gray Montgomery, Charles Montgomery, George Chittenden, Buckholz, Henning, Sutherland, Rumsey, Sidney Kennedy, Dwight Sanborn, Andrew Sexton, Rogers, Leo Sexton, Clark Knight, Percy Lamoreaux, Royce, Higby, S. T. Walker, Kingsley, Nash, Porter Peck, Charles Riley, George Riley, John Donovan and Jefferson.

FACULTY MEETING YESTERDAY.

ATHLETIC COUNCIL FOR THIS TERM.

THE NEW ATHLETIC RULE LAID OVER.

Transfer of Students and Other Business.

The faculty met as usual yesterday. Considerable routine business was transacted, such as the transferring of students from one course to another. The new athletic rule recommended by the athletic committee did not come up but will probably be acted on by the newly appointed athletic council. The athletic council as elected at yesterday's meeting consists of the following members:

Prof. Elsom, chairman; Lieut. Chynoweth, Prof. Barnes, Prof. Slichter, Prof. Van Hise.

A great deal of the business transacted goes before the meeting of the board of regents this afternoon.

FOOTBALL NOTES.

The fall opens with bright prospects for the success of the Beloit college team in football. The new coach, J. M. Hollister, is one of the best halfbacks in the west and having had experience in both eastern and western teams, is among the first coaches. He was captain of Williams college team in 1893, and coach for the same team last year. Last year's aggregation is for the most part playing this year, and with Atkinson still captaining the team, the experience of last season will count for much. The new candidates are stocky and spry, and will fill well what vacancies there are. Atkinson will still play full-back, while Keith and Hollister will probably play halves. Hinckley is still at center, but the guards will be new men, and there are several good candidates in Atkinson's eye. Pitkin holds right tackle still, and a new man will be put in at left tackle. Wood and Briggs will be likely to be ends, but several good men are pushing for those positions. Of the several candidates for quarter-backs Smith has the best show. Manager Ruger has made the following dates: September 22, Ripon, at Beloit; September 29, Delafield, at Delafield; October 13, Chicago university, at Chicago; October 20, Northwestern university, at Rockford; October 27, Wisconsin university, at Beloit; November 10, Northwestern university, at Evans-ton; November 17, or Thanksgiving day, Lake Forest university at Beloit.

The Northwestern's football prospects are extremely dark for the coming season. To tell the truth, there is no captain, no business manager, no coach, no money, no enthusiasm, and no team. Culver, who was elected captain last fall, is going to play with the Chicago athletics and not only will not captain the university team, but will not even play with it. C. D. Reimers was elected business manager last fall and made several dates for the team, but he will not be in college this term and that leaves the team, or what there is of it, without a business head. But one or two men of the last year's team are back in college.—Evening Wisconsin.

FOUND AT SOUTH HALL.

A few days ago Richard Davis, a retired carpenter who came to Madison more than fifty years ago, while looking over the south dormitory of the state university, where repairing was going on, discovered packed away in one of the partitions a copy of the Wisconsin Democrat, dated Madison, February 8, 1851, published by Beriah Brown in a building where now stands Sidney P. Rundell's store and the F. F. F. laundry.

The paper contains the proceedings of the legislature then in session. In committee of the whole, in the assembly, with Col. A. A. Bird, one of the first settlers in Madison, and father of Col. George W. Bird, in the chair, a bill came up in the general file "to change the name of the four lakes and Catfish river as follows: First lake, Lake Genena; Second lake, Lake Osceoda; Third lake, Lake Monona; Fourth lake, Lake Mendota; Catfish river, Osceoda creek."

On motion of Mr. Bird the bill was laid on the table, the gentleman explaining that "these were not the original Indian names for those beautiful sheets of water. Their real Indian names, he said, were synonymous in signification with those at present given. The name of the four lakes collectively, is How-in-i-ker Ne-shani-ger. The name of the Catfish river was Tha Cha-pa-ra; Fourth lake, Zunk Ere; Third lake, Nump; Second lake, Ton; First lake, Chope."

Mr. Davis worked on all of the original university buildings, and feels an interest in several relics saved during the overhauling of the dormitory mentioned.

REPORT OF THE ELY COMMITTEE

The committee of university regents which heard the evidence in the Dr. Ely investigation met last night and completed its report, which will be submitted to the board at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The members of the committee had decided the main points embodied in the report at a recent meeting held at John Johnston's residence in Milwaukee. Some minor details of the document were not fully agreed upon at the Milwaukee meeting and these occupied the attention of the conference last night.

The report will be brief, containing probably about 1,500 words. The members of the committee are exceedingly reticent and refuse to give out the least intimation of what their report will be.

FOOTBALL CANDIDATES AT MINNESOTA.

The following are the candidates for positions on this year's eleven: Centers—Harris and Finlayson; Guards—Scanlan, Larson, Harding, Reynolds and Francis; Tackles—Walker, J. S. Dalrymple, Bissell and Condit; Ends—Dalrymple, Savage, Slusser; Quarter—Van Campen, Stout and Folwell; Halves—Adams, Southworth, Matthews and Chouinard; Full-Back—Cutler and Spicer—Minnesota Ariel.

There is every prospect that the fall campaign will be an interesting one in the university and active work has already been begun. The republicans have made the earliest start and their meeting the other night was a very enthusiastic one. They have already received calls for a number of speakers for the fall campaign and it looks as though the next month would see a dozen or so university men stumping the state for Upham.

All candidates for the eleven are urged to be present at the gymnasium tonight where the new football rules will be explained. While this talk is meant for old men as well as the new ones the rules having been quite radically changed yet it is especially important that the new ones be present. Any other students who wish to better understand the game but who are not candidates are also invited to be present.

A mistake quite general among the students is that of calling the building which adorns the top of the hill "Main Hall" when the correct name is University Hall. The last catalogue recognizes no such building as Main Hall and then even without its authority how much more majestic and pleasant it is to hear one speak of University Hall. It hardly takes four years to change the name of anything here and why can not the class of '98 learn the correct name of this building to begin with?

We clip the following self-explanatory note from the Ariel of the University of Minnesota. "Mr. Harding has received a scholarship in the Botany department." We wish Mr. Harding unbounded success in his work and most sincerely hope that he will not allow any such unimportant work as foot ball and kindred studies to take his attention from his botanical work.

The following pathetic little incident occurred lately at the University of Minnesota. The "Ariel" narrates it as follows:

"The Chi Psi's and Dekes are having a private war. Each has been rushing a certain freshman, and claims to have pledged him. Both parties make accusations of underhand dealing. On Thursday they agreed to leave him until the next morning and let him decide. Yesterday morning he informed them that he was pledged to Delta Tau."

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE NOTES

—Mr. Fred E. Baker, of Whitehall, Ill., was a visitor on his way to Lancaster, Grant county, to judge live stock at the fair there. He was the winner of the Ogilvie gold medal last year.

—Six or eight of the agricultural students are acting as judges at the various county fairs in our state this year.

—The Experiment Station this year gives a sack of the Mandscheuri barley as a prize for the best exhibit of cereals at each of the county fairs held in the state. The winner at the state fair is given three sacks. This variety of barley, the Mandscheuri, comes from the mountainous district north of Corea, the present site of war troubles between Japan and China. From that country it was taken to Russia, thence to the Canadian Experiment Station, and on to ours. Tests of this barley show it to be a valuable addition to our list of cereals.

—Already 70 applications have been received and registered for places in the dairy school next winter. This is more than twice as many as last year at this time. The standard of admission has been raised so that now no one can enter the school who has not worked at least four months in a factory before coming. Many of the students will be old factory operators. There are indications of a good attendance also in the short course in agriculture.

—J. A. Craig, professor of animal husbandry, left last evening for the east. He will spend a day or two at our state fair and then go to Prince Edward's Island, where he acts as judge of live stock at the provincial fair.

GYMNASIUM NOTES.

—The first class in physical culture was called yesterday at 4 o'clock. About seventy-five freshmen turned out for work. Some of them, however, were not dressed for practice and after a short address by Prof. Elsom they withdrew from the line. Prof. Elsom in his talk gave the class some good advice as to how they should make the best use of the gymnasium and the instruction that is given them. He then turned the class over to Mr. Everett, who gave the class a few light exercises, after which they were dismissed. All the students who are compelled to take gymnastics should get their suits as soon as possible. The freshmen will meet again tomorrow. The sophomores will meet today and again on Thursday.

—Prof. Elsom will take charge of the classes in the gymnasium as soon as they are organized, and Mr. Everett will take charge of the men in the outdoor sports. He will aid Lyman in the football work and will help in arranging the athletic sports at Randall Field for the fall meet. Mr. Everett is an old football player and will make an excellent coach for U. W. and bring the men up to the condition where they can turn the table with Minnesota this year. It is expected that the training table will be arranged for this week and the men will get down to business very soon.

—Several students are passing a subscription paper requesting Prof. Comstock to give a lecture course in astronomy.

MENDOTA HEIGHTS' DRIVE.

The following communication published in this morning's Democrat gives a very good idea of some of the beautiful drives for which Madison is famous:

To the Editor:—Madison is justly celebrated for the beauty of its many and varied drives. The university drive is a constant source of pleasure to our citizens and a revelation to the strangers who visit us, and they never tire of speaking of its beauty, and since, through the noble generosity of Mr. Raymer, the magnificent drive bearing his name has been opened up to the public, one can ride mile after mile over excellent roads amid scenery which is as fair and varied and changing as can be found in the state. What a peaceful, sunlit, grand view one has from Eagle Heights, and how picturesque and cool and refreshing are the scenes and air in that miniature grotto which has recently been made accessible for carriages! Above this lovely spot for which nature has done so much Mr. Raymer has contrived a very pretty and novel design, consisting of a network of wires over which are being trained vines that will in time make a leafy canopy shutting out the sun's rays, thus forming a retreat which for coolness, beauty and quiet cannot be excelled. The Raymer drive has recently been extended to Merrill springs, from which one can pass into the Middleton road, which is not of itself especially beautiful, but is an avenue which leads to delightful places.

About two miles further on a road ascends a steep hill to the left on the summit of which a towering windmill spreads its wings to the breeze. This can be seen for miles around and marks the fine summer home of Prof. Owen, which for situation, coolness, comfort and picturesqueness is a revelation to those who have seen it. It is entirely unlike any other place about here, and one cannot but feel as tho' he were in a foreign country as the view from the observatory surmounting the beautiful cottage fills the soul. In whichever direction one turns loveliness greets the eye. Yonder lies the sunlit expanse of lake Mendota—tree shadows reflected in its ample bosom while white winged boats and more sturdy steamers speed through its liquid loveliness. Beyond among the green trees the insane asylum buildings are seen and nearer are patches of golden grain, cornfields, houses and jutting ledges of stone, while Blue Mounds, thirty miles away, can be seen on a clear day. The foundation of the house, which is built on the highest elevation in this vicinity, is made of stones, red, bluish, brown and cream which were found on the place and the cottage itself contains all modern conveniences. Prof. Owen discovered this grand location while riding horseback across the fields.

Regretfully we leave this charming home and enter again upon the Middleton road on our way around Lake Mendota. A short distance beyond Pheasant Branch we pass the entrance to Morris park, and skirt the shores of the lake, catching only occasional glimpses of the blue water through the foliage. The land lies very prettily along here and many comfortable, thrifty farm houses with their outbuildings are seen. After passing the asylum the houses nestle closer together, the road becomes more stony and we meet many farm wagons on their return from the city. This drive of twenty miles around Lake Mendota, including the university and Raymer's drive, is one whose beauty and variety of scenery can never be forgotten. Later on we will mention several more of our attractive drives.

PHI DELTA THETA PARTY.

The members of the local chapter of the Phi Delta Theta gave a very pleasant dancing party at Prof. Kehl's dancing hall last evening. Prof. Lueders' orchestra furnished delightful music. Light refreshments were served during the evening.

The chaperons were Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Hobbins. Those present were Mrs. James E. Ball, of Marquette, Mich.; Misses Pingree, Jessie Hand, Mae Pendleton, Maud Thorpe, Amy Young, Maude Rodgers, Alma Taylor, Ina Judge, Alice Taylor, Etta Doyon, Carleton, Nelle Wheelihan, Shirley Fuller, Martie Pound, Ella Geron, Caryl Fairchild, Georgie Virgin; Messrs. Alex. A. Curtis.

METHODIST SOCIAL.

A very pleasant reception was held at the M. E. church last evening for old and new students of the university and friends of the church in general. The attendance was large, well filling the lecture room of the church. The room was tastefully decorated with flowers. Dainty refreshments were served in the dining room. An unusually interesting program was informally presented, consisting of musical numbers by Prof. Boyd, Mrs. and Miss Fuller, Miss Lillian Conover and others, and a recitation by Miss Florence Vernon.

BUT IT WAS DARK.

Night softly stole across the land
And trailed her garments free;
She crossed the sand-buried campus and—

Upheid them to her knee.

—Ariel.

NOTICE.

If the gentleman who took the wrong hat at the synoptical lecture at 4 p. m. yesterday in the law building will call at 17 N. Broom street, he will obtain his own. The hat left is a black stiff hat with white silk lining on which the following was written in black ink: "J. A. Woldsted, '94."
