The libraries provide public access to a wide range of material, including online exhibits, digitized collections, archival finding aids, our catalog, online articles, and a growing range of materials in many media.

When possible, we provide rights information in catalog records, finding aids, and other metadata that accompanies collections or items. However, it is always the user's obligation to evaluate copyright and rights issues in light of their own use.

Accompanying I find you some juiced-potatoe-seeds - As soon as you receive them cover <sup>them</sup> up with some rich dirt in your Garden - - In a week or two plant them - as follows - Make holes about 3 ft apart about as you would plant common potatoe - Put them holes thro' a shovel of Manure - Then scatter a little manure around the hole - say as much more - Then raise a hill with the Manure and soil about 6 or 8 in - a foot or more at the bottom & nearly that at the Top - leaving the Top a little dishing - in the centre put a potatoe at an angle of 45 degrees facing the south
