ALUMNI MAGAZINE

FIRST NUMBER WILL BE DISTRIBUTED FRIDAY.

Many Contributions of High Standard
—Editorials Strong—New Staff of Editors.

Volume two, number one of the Wisconsin Alumni Magazine is in press and, will appear during the week. "One year ago the publication was an experiment. Now, its continuance is assured. The support of the Alumni of the University has been even more cordial than those in charge of the publication ventured to hope, and in the year just opening it is expected to make the magazine a still better representative than in the past of the interests of the alumni and of the University." This the editor declares in the opening editorial:

The magazine is the official organ of the Alumni Association and its staff is composed as follows this year:

Editor-in-chief, Charles E. Allen, '99; University Editor, B. H. Meyer, '94; Alumni editors, Florence E. Baker, '91, and Stephen C. Stuntz, '99; Athletic editor, George F. Downer, '97; Literary society editor, Arthur F. Beule, '01; Business manager, Henry M. Esterly, '02 1; Ass't Business manager, Thorwald P. Abel.

From its neat cover to the last personal, the magazine holds the interest of its readers,—both alumni and undergraduates.

The table of contents indicates that this first number has been compiled with great care.

The leading article is the life of Dr. Henry Barnard who was for two years chancellor of the University and who died at his home in Hartford, Conn., on the 5th of July last at the ripe age of ninety-two years. The author of the article is Prof. J. W. Stearns.

"The Story of a Forgery," by Thomas H. Ryan, '92, is a humorous account of an incident which happened in '92.

Florence P. Robinson, '89, gives a beautiful tribute to the late Professor Hiram A. Sober, and this article is followed by one on Mrs. Harriet Dean Sterling, who died on July 11, last.

"Back" is the title of a pleasing poem by A. R. Hager, '97.

The editorial department is especially strong and thoroughly covers such questions as are of interest to the alumni.

Under the head "Progress of the University" are noted, The Summer Session, Library School, Changes in the Faculty, President Adam's Retirement and other articles of interest.

Student Publications and Athletics receive their share of attention in a special department devoted to the "Hill".

"News from the Alumni," a fine list of "Personal notes" and a record of publications in which Alumni students and faculty members have had some part, conclude a most creditable number.

—Miss Kate D. Bucknam, '94, will be in Madison this week to attend the history meetings. She will be with Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Flint, from Friday until Monday.

—James Smith, '02, has returned to the University. He has fully recovered from his recent illness.

Results of Meet.

Just before going to press the results of the following events of the sophomore-freshman field meet, which was held this afternoon, were received:

High Hurdles—first Helmholtz, '03; second Race, '04. Time, 18 2-5 sec.
Half mile—first Murphy, '03; second Hahn, '03. Time, 2:14 4-5 sec.
100 yard dash—first Hayden, '04; second Poage, '03. Time 10 3-5 sec.

UPPER IOWA SATURDAY.

Team Rounding into Good Shape for Next Game.

Hard work is the order of the day for the football squad this week. Although the pigskin warriors from the Upper Iowa University are not considered especially dangerous, Coach King is going to take no chances and will have his men in the best possible shape. The boys from the Hawkeye state are said to have one of the best teams they have had for years and will naturally strive to keep the score as low as possible. In a game with the Iowa University a week or so ago, the Upper Iowa team were not able to keep the score down any lower than 57-0. As the Wisconsinites do not play the University of Iowa this year, this game will serve as a comparison between the two teams. With the imperfect team work of the past week or so, the Badgers will have to exert themselves to the utmost in order to equal this score.

Most of the invalids are back in the game and will probably all be in Saturday's contest.

A Lecture on the Palatine Hill.

The fifth number in the series of lectures on the Topography and Monuments of Ancient Rome was delivered by Dr. Showerman yesterday at four in room 64, University Hall, the subject being the Palatine Hill. After a discussion of the Palatine of legend, a description of the hill and of the manner of its first occupation was given. The history of the hill from the founding of the city to the time of Caligula was then given with mention of famous characters who had possessed residences within its limits. The Palatine was an aristocratic quarter and finally, in the time of the Empire, was devoted almost exclusively to the palaces of rulers of Rome. The history of the hill from the time of Augustus is the history of the imperial residence. The name Palatium, which at first denoted the whole hill, and in particular the east half of it, came to be applied to the imperial residence alone, just as the name Imperial is now applied to the royal palace at Rome as well as to the hill. The growth of the palace of the Caesars is comparable to the growth of the Vatican and was the product of centuries of building, rebuilding and addition.

Dr. Showerman will conclude the history of the Palatine on Thursday and the larger part of the hour will be devoted to the study of the ruins of the hill by means of stereopticon slides.

—Phinney's U. S. Band gave an excellent concert at the Opera House last evening.

A fair sized audience of lovers of good music was in attendance and the selections were one and all well received.

—At last night's meeting of the Luther S. Dixon Club of the Law School, two new members were elected.

POPULAR COURSES

DAIRY AND AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENTS FILLED.

More Applications for Admission Received Than Can be Accommodated
—Open Nov. 8th and Dec. 13th.

The short course in agriculture opens December 8th and at this early date 269 applications have been received for admission. The attendance this year will be larger than was expected and Prof. R. A. Moore, who is in charge, says that some will have to be turned away.

Since the close of the course last March, no less than three hundred calls have been received at the office for young men who have taken that line of work.

The function of this course is to train the students for practical and scientific farming.

In the time taken up in this short course the following courses are included; feeds and feeding, breeds and breeding, veterinary science, plant life and horticulture, stock judging, dairying, bacteriology, agricultural chemistry, farm economics, agricultural physics, farm book-keeping, parliamentary practice, farm blacksmithing and carpentry.

Since this course was adopted in 1886 nine hundred and sixty-three students have received diplomas. As is not generally known, the College of Agriculture is supported jointly by the state and U. S. government.

The Dairy School opens November 13th and continues for twelve weeks.

Wisconsin has the distinction of having the first dairy school proper in America. Since 1890, when it was opened, one thousand and fifteen students have completed its course and are now found occupying important positions all over the country.

The function of the dairy school is to prepare young men to become cheese and butter makers. The instruction given may be included under the following: Theory and art of cheese and butter making, dairy accounts, management of boilers and engines, heating and ventilation of factories and dairy buildings, breeding and selecting of dairy cows, treating common diseases of dairy cattle, dairy bacteriology, and testing milk and its products.

Prof. E. H. Farrington has this course in charge and the number of applications for graduates received by him shows the practicability and importance of this branch.

BASKET BALL.

Good Prospects for a Strong Team This Year.

The prospects for a good basket ball team this year are better than ever before. Several excellent players have entered the University, including two crack players from the Milwaukee Normal School team, which was one of the best teams in the West last year. Practice has not yet been commenced, but will start within a few weeks. A good schedule of games will probably be arranged.

The ladies' basket ball team will not be organized for some time, but it is believed that a good team can be formed.

CARNIVAL PROGRAM.

Thursday, October 18th, Madison Day.

12 m.—Grand fire run.

2 p. m.—Flower and bicycle parade.

2 and 7 p. m.—Free vaudeville attractions on raised platforms at the four corners of capitol square, and Monona avenue.

7:30 p. m.—Tone picture of Civil War by Nitschke's military band, assisted by other bands, and cannon firing.

5 p. m.—Balloon ascension.

The Madison Carnival.

The Carnival and Street Fair got into full swing yesterday and was enjoyed alike by all visitors whether Madisonians, students or ruralists.

It is reasonable to suppose that the Carnival people enjoyed the visitors also for business was good for everybody from the vendor of rubber balls to exhibitor of the human gorilla who eats live reptiles while you wait.

The Carnival spirit began to manifest itself shortly after the noon hour and continually increased in vigor until evening, when it reigned supreme. Hilarity ran rife. The laughter of the crowd mingled with the shrieks of the "barkers" and the music of the bands to produce a din of noises loud enough to wake Pompeii.

The throwing of rubber balls has become a nuisance, several instances of painful injury to the eyes having been noted. On the whole, order has been maintained very well by the authorities, few arrests are made and these are mostly cases of too much conviviality.

Today is Democratic day. The local followers of Bryan are entertaining Hon. John F. Finerty of Chicago and George Fred Williams of Boston, both distinguished men and able speakers. The meeting in the armory tonight will undoubtedly draw a very large audience.

Laboratory Notes.

At its last meeting in June the Board of Regents made Assistant Professor Kahlenburg full professor.

Mr. Schlundt who studied with Prof. Ostwald at Liepsig is a fellow in chemistry. At present he is investigating the specific inductive capacities of various organic liquids.

The laboratory is full of students and there are no available places.

In the May, June and October numbers of "The Journal of Physical Chemistry," articles appeared by Professors Kahlenburg and Austin. In his article in the May number, "The electrolytic deposition of metals from non-aqueous solutions," Professor Kahlenburg describes his experiments to determine that Faraday's law holds for non-aqueous solutions. In the article in the June number, "The relation of the taste of acid-salts to their degree of dissociation," which is written by Professor Kahlenburg, and the article in the Oct. number, "The toxic action of acid sodium salts on Lupinus Albus," by Prof. Kahlenburg and Prof. Austin, the results attained was the finding that the theory of electric dissociation was an unsatisfactory explanation for these phenomena.

Democrats—Notice—Democrats.

All Democratic students of the University are urgently requested to assemble on Monona avenue, before the Avenue Hotel this evening at 7 o'clock sharp, to escort Mr. Williams to the Armory. Seats will be reserved for those who march.

Class Games.

There has been a noticeable absence of inter-class and inter-fraternity football games this fall. While these minor games are perhaps uninteresting to people not in the different classes yet they add much to University life.

Who will be the champions this fall?

College Publications on File.

An exceptional opportunity is to be given the students and townspeople to study undergraduate life as it exists at the different colleges and universities of this country, as the files of the different college papers which are received by the Cardinal will be placed in the new library each week. The characteristics of the different institutions of learning are well brought out in the college publications and the American systems of education can be studied to advantage through these channels. The college papers may be found in the periodical room and so will be open to all readers. Many students of today are very poorly informed about American universities and it is hoped that this opportunity will not be neglected. The files will be bound later and kept in the library for historical reference.

President Thwing's Report on College Finances.

Sunday's Sentinel contains a very interesting article on "College Investments." President Thwing of Western Reserve University has collected reports from over one hundred fifty universities of the country, concerning their finances and investments. His report shows that most all of the college investments are in the form of bonds and mortgages. At least twenty colleges have an income producing property of at least $1,000,000.

Mr. Thwing says concerning Wisconsin "Several state Universities are possessed of either funds or an income insured by the state representing property of at least $1,000,000.

Among the wealthiest of these Universities are those of California, Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

But though the Universities of our land are very wealthy corporations as a whole, they surpass all other corporations, even wealthier in one respect; "No other corporation is able to command so great a talent as the College Corporation." The article is very complete and should be read by every college student.

Museum Opens.

The Museum in the State Historical building was today opened to the public. The great gallery of portraits and busts is very complete. It is especially rich in the collection of famous statesmen, pioneers and public spirited citizens of Wisconsin. The collections of Indian relics, prehistoric remains and paraphernalia of war are remarkably complete. Hundreds of other curios are also to be seen and taken all in all the museum is a very interesting place to visit.

Local and Personal.

—Manager Wheeler returned today from a business trip to Milwaukee and Chicago.

—The Madison High School Football team defeated the Portage team this morning by a score of 50 to 0.

—Mrs. George W. Peckham, of Milwaukee, will be a guest of her daughter, Miss Peckham, at the Kappa Kappa Gamma house to-morrow.

—Charles E. Allen, '99, has gone to Syracuse N. Y. to attend the National convention of the Delta Upsilon fraternity.

—The Cardinal Association has been presented with space in the New Library Building and in it will be kept numbers of all exchanges received.

This will form a very interesting collection and will become valuable for reference in future years.

Met the "Boys."

Dear Father:—After bucking hard all the week I took a constitutional around the pack up town and met several of the boys at the One Minute Coffee House. One fellow ordered "Adam and Eve on a raft" and a cup of fierce coffee. We all followed suit. It proved to be poached eggs on toast and the best Mocha and Java. Send me that V which ma is saving—that "calf money."
