Future Badger.

Our children dream of heroics on the field and in the classroom. That's why Oscar Mayer and its employees support a range of both academic and athletic programs at the University of Wisconsin. We're here to make sure that when it's time for them to become Badgers, the Badgers will be ready for them.

Badgers Close Season With Non-Conference Game Against Buffalo

The Wisconsin football team (10-1, 7-1 Big Ten) plays its final regular season game today at Camp Randall Stadium against the University of Buffalo (2-8, 1-6 MAC). Kickoff is scheduled for 11:03 a.m. and the game will be televised by ESPNU. Clay Matvick and Chris Martin will handle the commentary.

The game will also be televised on a tape-delay basis by Wisconsin Public Television. Mike Heller and former Badger Scott Nelson will handle the commentary. The game will be shown statewide beginning at 10:30 p.m.

Fans can listen to the game on the 53-station Wisconsin Radio Network. Locally in Madison the game can be heard on WIBA (1310 am/101.5 fm). Matt Lepage and Mike Lucas are on the call.

The Badgers closed the Big Ten portion of their schedule with a 24-21 win at Iowa last Saturday. Quarterback Tyler Donovan, filling in for an injured John Stocco, completed 17-of-24 passes for 228 yards and two touchdowns and also rushed for 61 yards.

With the win, UW finished 7-1 in Big Ten play for just the third time in school history. It also gave the Badgers 10 wins for the fifth time in school history.

Buffalo lost to Akron, 31-16, last week on the road. The week prior, the Bulls snapped a seven-game losing streak with a 41-14 win over Kent State. Buffalo is led by running back James Starks who has accounted for 877 total yards and six touchdowns.

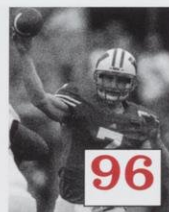

Today is Senior Day at Camp Randall Stadium as 19 Badgers will play their final home games. Those 19 players and their families will be introduced prior to the game.

Today's Game at Camp Randall

Notable, Quotable and Promotable Our top 10 items for this week ...

1 Last Saturday's win at Iowa was the seventh straight for Wisconsin. That is tied for the sixth-longest current winning streak in the country. It's the Badgers' longest winning streak since winning nine in a row to start the 2004 season.

2 Wisconsin is 10-1 this season. It marks just the fifth time in school history that the Badgers have won 10 games and it is only the second 10-win regular season in school history. Wisconsin has never won 11 regular-season games and has won 11 games in an entire season (bowl game included) just once, in 1998.

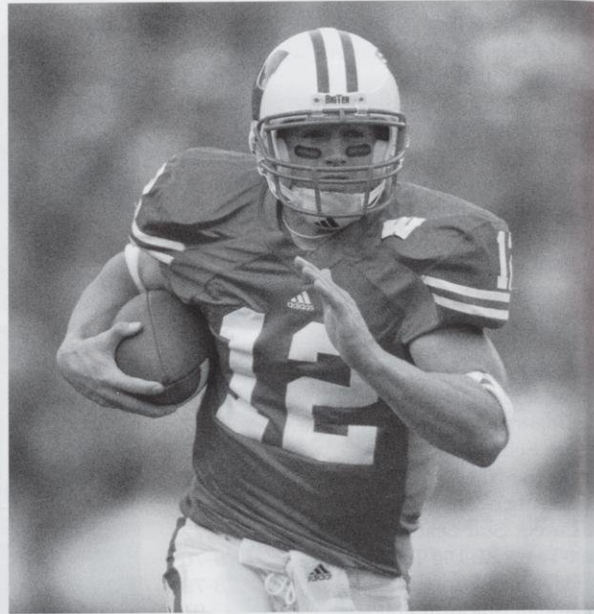

3 UW is one of just four teams in the country (along with Auburn, Texas and Boise St.) that have won at least nine games in each of the past three seasons. The only other times in school history the Badgers have accomplished that were in 1897-99 and 1998-2000.

4 UW has won 29 games over the last three years, the fifth-best total in the country over that span. The only time Wisconsin has won more games than that in a three-year span was 1998-2000 (30).

7 Wisconsin is third in the Big Ten and ranks sixth in the country in scoring defense, allowing just 12.7 points per game. The Badgers gave up just three points to Penn State, the fourth time this season UW's defense has not given up a touchdown. Wisconsin's defense has given up just 13 touchdowns this season.

Junior quarterback Tyler Donovan completed 17 of 24 passes for 228 yards and two touchdowns while also running for 61 yards in his first career start last week at Iowa.

5 The Badgers won seven Big Ten games this season for just the third time in school history. The only other times that happened were in 1998 and 1999. UW won Big Ten titles in both of those seasons.

6 UW is outscoring its opponents 81-16 this season in the third quarter. In the last seven games, Wisconsin has given up just two points in the third quarter.

8 Wisconsin, Florida, Ohio State and LSU are the only four schools in the nation with their football and men's basketball teams currently ranked in the top 10 by the coaches and/or A.P.

9 The Badgers lead the Big Ten in total offense in conference games, averaging 398.1 yards per game. They are also second in the conference in scoring during league games at 30.6 points per game. UW has converted 31 of 34 red zone opportunities in Big Ten games, best in the conference.

10 The Badgers are No. 2 in the country and second in the Big Ten in time of possession (33:46). Only Michigan has held the ball for longer than the Badgers. UW held a huge 38:48-21:12 edge in time of possession at Iowa last Saturday. That is the longest the Badgers have held the ball in a game since Nov. 6, 2004 when they held it for 44:31 in a 38-14 win over Minnesota.

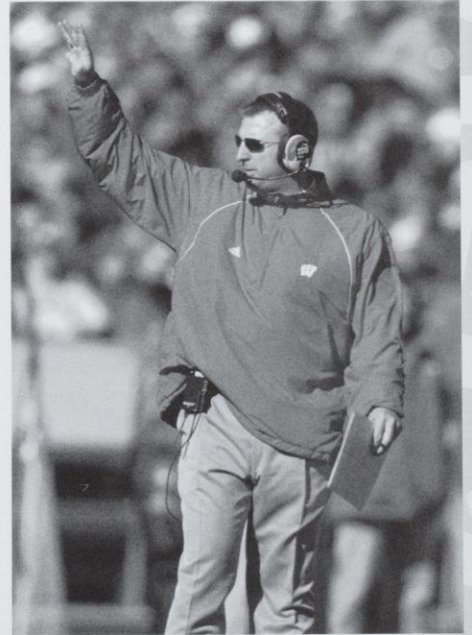

Mark Zalewski is one of four senior starters on defense (Roderick Rogers, Joe Stellmacher and Joe Monty are the others) that will be playing his final game at Camp Randall Stadium today.

Series: First meeting between the teams

Last Meeting: First meeting

Wisconsin-Buffalo Series Notes: Both Wisconsin head coach Bret Bielema and Buffalo head coach Turner Gill are in their first seasons as collegiate head coaches ... Gill spent last season as Player Development Director and Offensive Assistant with the Green Bay Packers ... Buffalo is the second team from the Mid-American Conference that the Badgers are playing this season ... UW opened the season with a 35-14 win over Bowling Green in the season-opener in Cleveland ... Buffalo lost to BGSU, 48-40, in three overtimes the following week ... the last time the Bulls played a Big Ten team was Sept. 6, 2003 when they lost at Iowa 56-7 ... the Badgers are 26-2 all-time against opponents from the Mid-American Conference ... UW's last loss to a member of the MAC was a 24-14 setback against Western Michigan on Sept. 3, 1988 (since that game, UW has won 15 straight against MAC adversaries) ... UW is 19-1 in its last 20 regular-season non-conference games.

First Impressions

Bret Bielema has set the Wisconsin record for victories by a first-year head coach with 10. The previous record was held by Phil King (7-1-1 in 1896) and William Juneau (7-0-0 in 1912).

Bielema also is the only rookie head coach in Big Ten history to win 10 games. With one more win, Bielema would join Larry Coker of Miami (12-0 in 2001), Gary Blackney of Bowling Green (11-1 in 1991), John Robinson of USC (11-1 in 1976), Bill Battle of Tennessee (11-1 in 1970) and Gregg Brandon of Bowling Green (11-3 in 2003) as the only coaches in Division I-A history to win at least 11 games in his first season. The NCAA record for wins by a first-year head coach is 12 by Coker in 2001.

Going Out on a High Note

This season's senior class will go down as one of the most successful in school history. The winningest senior class at Wisconsin was the group that was together from 1997-2000. That class put together a 38-12 record for a winning percentage of .760. The most successful senior classes at Wisconsin are:

2000 seniors: 38-12 (.760)
 1999 seniors: 37-13 (.740)
 2006 seniors: 36-13 (.734)*
 2001 seniors: 35-14 (.714)

Home Cooking

UW is 22-4 in its last 26 home games. That includes a perfect 6-0 record this year and a 17-1 mark since the start of 2004. Wisconsin is one of six teams in the country with one or no home losses over that span. Here are the best home records since the start of 2004:

Team	Record
Boise State	18-0 (1.000)
USC	16-0 (1.000)
Louisville	15-0 (1.000)
Florida	18-1 (.947)
Wisconsin	17-1 (.944)
Texas	17-1 (.944)

Moving up the Charts

Freshman running back P.J. Hill leads the Big Ten and ranks fifth in the country in rushing at 131.5 yards per game. Hill's 1,447 total rushing yards are third-best in the country. His rushing total is 11th-best among freshman runners in NCAA history and 11th-best in UW annals. UW has had a 1,000-yard rusher in 12 of the past 14 seasons.

Chancellor John D. Wiley

Chancellor John D. Wiley has more than four decades of experience with the University of Wisconsin–Madison, having been a graduate student, a professor, and an administrator during his illustrious university career. Assuming office on January 1, 2001, he is the 27th person to lead the university since its founding in 1848.

As UW–Madison's chief executive officer, Wiley is responsible for the overall vision and direction of the university. He represents the institution for a variety of constituents, including alumni groups, chambers of commerce and service clubs, the state legislature and governmental bodies, the UW System Administration, and the UW System Board of Regents. A prominent figure in higher education, he chairs both the Big Ten Council of Presidents and Chancellors and the board for the Council on Higher Education Accreditation, and is a member of the National Security Higher Education Advisory Committee. He also serves on several local and community boards, including the William T. Evjue Foundation and the Greater Madison Chamber of Commerce. He also has been deeply involved in fundraising from individual and corporate donors and charitable foundations.

From 1994–2000, Wiley served as UW–Madison's provost and vice chancellor for academic affairs. In this role as the university's chief operating officer and deputy chancellor, he worked closely with deans, faculty, academic staff, and student committees in the exercise of shared governance and the overall management of the institution. Prior to becoming provost, he was dean of the Graduate School and the university's senior research officer, and from 1986–89, he served as associate dean for research in the College of Engineering.

Wiley received his bachelor's degree in physics from Indiana University in 1964. He attended graduate school at UW–Madison as a National Science Foundation Fellow, receiving master's and doctoral degrees in physics in 1965 and 1968, respectively. He joined the technical staff of Bell Telephone Laboratories at Murray Hill, N.J., from 1968–1974, and then spent a year at the Max Planck Institute in Stuttgart, Germany as an awardee of the Alexander von Humboldt Senior U.S. Service Award for Research and Training.

Joining the UW–Madison faculty in the Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering in August 1975, Wiley began a productive career in teaching and research, focusing on topics related to semiconductors and other materials and processes important to the electronics field. He is a co-founder of several highly successful research centers, including the Center for X-ray Lithography and the Engineering Research Center for Plasma-Aided Manufacturing. From 1982–86, he chaired the Materials Science Program, a graduate-level, interdepartmental-committee program for master's and doctoral degrees.

A Letter From Chancellor Wiley:

Camp Randall Stadium has the look of a winner, with its updated fan-friendly atmosphere. The stadium is a source of Wisconsin pride, but it is our fans and their rich history of loyalty that makes any Badger sporting event a truly special occasion.

Our student-athletes are also winners—on and off the field. On the playing fields, we've had many victories and championships to celebrate. And in the classroom, 210 Badger athletes registered a grade-point average of better than 3.5; up from 186 student-athletes a year ago. Nearly one-quarter of our student-athletes were recognized as Academic All-Big Ten honorees in 2005–06.

In addition, the men's golf and women's rowing teams received the Team Community Service award for the most hours spent volunteering.

I am committed to helping ensure that our teams achieve the highest standards of excellence, not just in competition, but also in integrity, values and character.

In addition, athletics offers the university another opportunity to connect with alumni and friends.

Thanks for backing the Badgers and On Wisconsin!

John D. Wiley

Chancellor Wiley congratulated the men's hockey team on winning the NCAA Championship in 2006.

Director of Athletics Barry Alvarez

Barry Alvarez is in his third year as UW Director of Athletics, but his first without the additional title of head football coach.

For 16 years (1990-2005), Alvarez guided Wisconsin's football fortunes. He plotted the Badgers to three Big Ten Conference and Rose Bowl titles (including back-to-back in 1998-99) en route to becoming the winningest football coach in school history (118-73-4 record).

Alvarez was just the 10th coach in Big Ten history to win 100 games at one conference institution. His 8-3 (.727) record in bowl games with the Badgers is the best in college football history (among coaches with at least 11 bowl appearances). The 2004 AFCA Region 3 Coach of the Year, he also was the 1993 national coach of the year, a two-time Big Ten coach of the year and a finalist for ESPN's coach of the decade (1990s) honor.

In 2004-05, Alvarez served as athletic director and football coach and has been at the forefront of the revival of the Badger athletic program during his entire tenure in Madison.

He is a 1969 graduate of Nebraska, where he played linebacker and went on to earn his master's degree. He received a Distinguished Alumnus Award from his alma mater in 2003.

Alvarez and his wife, Cindy, are the parents of three children, Dawn (Mrs. Brad Ferguson), Stacy (Mrs. Mike Delzer) and Chad (wife Stephanie). Barry and Cindy are grandparents to Joe and Jake Ferguson, Grace and Jackson Delzer, and Scarlet Alvarez.

Head Coach Bret Bielema

Bret Bielema is in his first year as head football coach at the University of Wisconsin. The second-youngest head football coach in the Division I-A ranks, he brings a remarkably strong background to the position.

Bielema was Wisconsin's defensive coordinator in 2004 and 2005, a period in which the program produced a 19-6 record under former head coach Barry Alvarez. The 2004 Badgers were sixth nationally in scoring defense and ninth in total defense. The 2005 club, which earned Wisconsin's first shutout since 1999, finished its 10-win season with a 24-10 victory over No. 7 Auburn in the 2006 Capital One Bowl; UW limited the high-powered Tigers to just 236 yards of total offense.

During Bielema's two years guiding the Badger defense, two players (DE Erasmus James and DB Jim Leonhard) earned first-team All-America honors and two others (DT Anttaj Hawthorne and DB Scott Starks) were first-team All-Big Ten selections. While coaching the Badgers' linebackers, Bielema developed Mark Zalewski and Dontez Sanders, both of whom earned honorable mention all-conference acclaim.

Bielema was co-defensive coordinator at Kansas State under former head coach Bill Snyder from 2002-03. The Wildcats were 22-6 during Bielema's time there and finished in the top 10 nationally (in both 2002 and 2003) in scoring and total defense. The Wildcats won their first Big 12 title in 2003. Among Bielema's standout players at Kansas State were first-team All-American Josh Buhl, 2003 NFL second-round draft pick Terry Pierce and second-team All-Big 12 selection Bryan Hickman.

Prior to his years at Kansas State, Bielema spent nine seasons as an assistant coach at his alma mater, Iowa, where he worked for head coaches Hayden Fry and Kirk Ferentz. The 1997 Hawkeyes posted three shutouts and ranked No. 4 nationally in scoring defense. Bielema coached Fred Barr (first-team All-Big Ten), Vernon Rollins and Matt Hughes (both honorable mention All-Big Ten) at Iowa.

Head coaches for whom Bielema has worked—Alvarez, Snyder, Ferentz and Fry—have combined to win 547 games and guide their teams to 41 bowl games, so the first-year Badger mentor has learned from some of the best in the business.

Bielema earned four letters (1989-92) after joining the Iowa football program as a walk-on. He was a member of Iowa's 1990 Big Ten championship team. A starter as a junior in 1991, he was a team co-captain as a senior. Bielema signed a free agent contract with the Seattle Seahawks and later completed his playing career with the Milwaukee Mustangs of the Arena Football League. Bielema has participated in 10 bowl games as a player or coach.

A 1992 graduate of Iowa with a bachelor's degree in marketing, Bielema was born in Prophetstown, Ill., on Jan. 13, 1970.

WHAT THEY'RE SAYING ABOUT BRET BIELEMA

"I can say with great confidence that Bret Bielema was the perfect person for me to hand off the head-coaching duties to. Bret, above all, is enthusiastic and knowledgeable about the game of football. He's been around success his entire life. He has tremendous rapport with players and coaches. He's a tireless worker and I feel as though he's a rising star in our profession."

Barry Alvarez, Wisconsin Director of Athletics and former Badger head football coach

"Bret is an extremely well-rounded coach for his youth. I think his capabilities far exceed what some people may perceive to be his youthfulness."

Bill Snyder, Former Kansas State head coach

"Barry showed great wisdom in selecting Bret Bielema as the next head coach at Wisconsin."

Hayden Fry, Former Iowa head coach

"Coach Bielema always has something about football in front of him. His commitment is higher than any coach I have ever seen. His personal and social skills with us are tremendous. He knows what we're thinking almost as we think it."

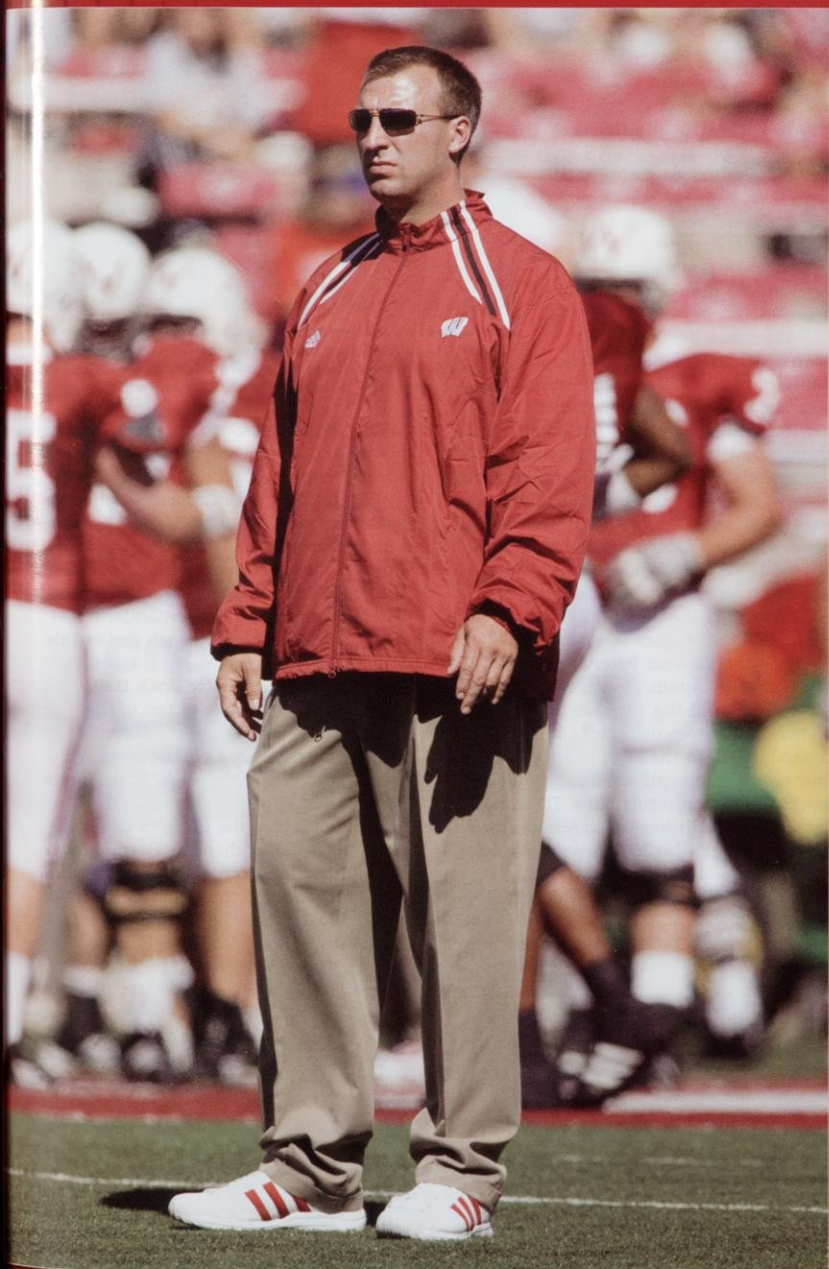

Joe Stellmacher, Current Badger starting strong safety

"We knew all along that he would be an outstanding coach. We always had a good relationship while we were both at Iowa, when he was playing and when he was coaching. I couldn't be happier for him."

Don Patterson, Western Illinois head coach

"Bret is one of the brightest young coaches in America. His experience in the Big Ten as a player, assistant and coordinator allows him to have a clear understanding of what needs to be done to win at the highest level. In addition, he has been very fortunate to work for three legendary coaches: Hayden Fry, Bill Snyder and, of course, Barry Alvarez."

Kirk Herbstreit, ESPN

Seniors Say Goodbye

Throughout the history of Wisconsin football, seniors have assumed the role of leaders on and off the field. This year's senior class is no different as they have epitomized all that it means to be a Badger.

"In coaching we often say that 'tradition' never graduates, only players do," said head coach Brett Bielema. "As a group these seniors have established a 'tradition' here at the University of Wisconsin that they all can be proud of for years to come."

In a pregame ceremony today we honor these seniors.

Captain John Stocco, who has started 35 games at quarterback, has compiled a record of 28-7 when under center for the Badgers. The Richfield, Minn., native is only two wins shy of tying the Wisconsin record for victories by a starting quarterback. Throughout his four years in Madison, Stocco has seen his name appear on a number of the school's career record lists. He is currently second in passing yards, completions, completion percentage and touchdown passes.

Lineman Joe Thomas has been a leader for the Badgers during his four years. Thomas has appeared in 46 games for the Badgers including 37 starts. The Brookfield, Wis., native has been an asset for UW both offensively and defensively. In 2003 Thomas started at defensive end vs. Auburn in the Music City Bowl. Two seasons later, against that same Auburn team, Thomas was again called upon to serve the Badgers' depleted defensive line in the Capital One Bowl. A knee injury suffered in that game did not stop Thomas from playing in his senior season. The 2005 All-Big Ten and 2006 Mid-Season All-American came back as strong as ever, making 11 starts this year as well as being named team captain. Thomas has succeeded off the field as well as he was awarded the National Football Foundation's Postgraduate Scholarship and named a finalist for the Draddy Trophy, awarded to college football's top scholar-athlete.

Wasau, Wis., native Mark Zalewski is a three-year letterwinner for the Badgers. The two-time captain has appeared in 49 games for UW, including 36 starts. For the past three seasons Zalewski has been a staple of Wisconsin's solid defense. Last season, in Wisconsin's memorable win over Michigan at Camp Randall, Zalewski led all Badgers with 11 tackles.

Joe Stellmacher is a two-year starter for the Badgers. In 2005, the Berlin, Wis., native was named honorable mention All-

Big Ten as well as earning UW's Tom Wiesner Award, which is given to a Wisconsin-born player on the team that displays loyalty, hard work, spirit and dedication. This season, Stellmacher has been a standout on Wisconsin's defense. He has started in all 11 of the Badgers games and is tied for the team lead with 76 tackles.

Four-year letterwinner Zach Hampton has played in every game for Wisconsin dating back to the start of the 2004 season. The Lancaster, Wis., native has seen action this season as UW's fifth defensive back and punt returner. Earlier this year, in a game vs. San Diego State, Hampton recorded a career-long 29-yard punt return. He is averaging 5.9 yards on 28 punt returns this season.

Defensive lineman Joe Monty joined the Badgers in January of 2003. That same season, the Ft. Collins, Colo., native earned Academic All-Big Ten honors. The three-year letterwinner has played in 48 games for the Badgers including 24 starts. Monty has recorded 79 tackles and 4.5 sacks while playing for UW. In this year's game against Western Illinois, Monty was named UW's co-defensive player of the week, the second time in his career that he has earned the honor.

Roderick Rogers is a two-year starter and four-year letterwinner for UW. The Stone Mountain, Ga., native was a second-team All-Big Ten selection in 2005 as his 1.08 passes defended per game ranked fourth in the Big Ten. Rogers has four career interceptions, including an 84-yard interception return for a TD which ranks as the fifth-longest in school history. Coming into the 2006 season Rogers earned national recognition by being named to the Lott Trophy and Thorpe Award watch lists.

Despite joining the Badgers as a walk-on, Dywon Rowan has seen action as a back-up running back this season. Rowan, a native of Erie, Pa., has played in all 11 games for UW, averaging 4.6 yards per carry and scoring two touchdowns.

Johnny White broke onto the scene in a big way for Wisconsin. In his first career start in 2004, White recorded a team-high seven tackles vs. UCF. White also had a critical interception and forced a fumble in the Badgers' upset of Before missing last week's game at Iowa, John Stocco had started 35 consecutive games at quarterback for Wisconsin. He ranks second in UW history in a number of passing categories including yards, TDs and efficiency.

Michigan last season. This year White has played in 10 games, appearing mostly on special teams.

Derek Konkol is a former defensive back who switched to wide receiver his senior season. Defensive lineman Mark Gorman has appeared in all 11 games for the Badgers this season. The three-year letterwinner from the Woodlands, Texas recorded his first career sack earlier this year against Indiana.

Barron, Wis., native Josh Balts appeared as a fullback in two of the Badgers' games this season. Nate Egholm, a native of Oconomowoc, Wis., switched from running back to defensive back while with the Badgers. Jeff Holzbauer joined the Badgers as a walk-on in 2002. Since then the Germantown, Wis., native has seen action in 11 games.

Paul Joran is a two-time Academic All-Big Ten honoree and three-year letterwinner from Apple Valley, Minn. Offensive lineman Luke Knauf is from Stratford, Wis. Madison, Wis., native Matt Brown is a tight end who joined the team as a walk-on in 2003. Mike Van Someren is an offensive lineman from Somerset, Wis. Finally, Defensive lineman Derek Yentz hails from Wauwatosa, Wis.

Wisconsin Assistant Coaches

Bob Bostad Tight Ends

Bob Bostad (pronounced BO-stad), a state of Wisconsin native who coached the offensive line at New Mexico from 1999-2005, is in his first season as an assistant football coach at Wisconsin.

Bostad coaches the Badgers' tight ends.

Bostad's 2005 offensive line featured a pair of first-team all-conference selections, including center Ryan Cook and guard Robert Turner. New Mexico averaged 200 yards per game on the ground in 2005. Cook was a second-round draft choice of the Vikings, while tackle Terrance Pennington was a seventh-round pick of the Bills.

During Bostad's tenure at New Mexico, 14 Lobo offensive linemen earned all-conference mention. Among the players Bostad coached at New Mexico were: tackle Claude Terrell, a third-team A.P. All-American and fourth-round draft choice of the St. Louis Rams (he started as a rookie for the Rams in 2005) and tackle Jason Lenzmeier, who became the first offensive lineman in conference and school history to earn MWC offensive player of the week honors in 2003.

Bostad was offensive line coach (1997-98) and offensive coordinator (1998) at San Jose State prior to his years at New Mexico.

Bostad coached the offensive line at Cal State Northridge in 1995-96 and spent three seasons (1992-94) as an offensive line graduate assistant at Minnesota under head coach Jim Wacker.

Bostad got his coaching start at his alma mater, UW-Stevens Point, where he coached the offensive line from 1990-91.

Bostad graduated from UW-Stevens Point in 1989 with a degree in physical education. He was a four-year starter as a linebacker for the Pointers and earned all-conference mention each year. Bostad earned a master's degree in kinesiology from Minnesota in 1994.

Bostad, 39, is a native of Pardeeville, Wis. He and his wife, Cara, have three daughters: Rachel, Bryn and Annika, and a son, John Robert.

Paul Chryst Off. Coordinator / QBs

Paul Chryst is in his second consecutive season at Wisconsin and his third overall as an assistant coach for the Badgers.

Chryst, UW's co-offensive coordinator and tight ends coach last season, is now the program's offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach.

Chryst, the Badgers' tight ends coach in 2002, returned to Wisconsin in 2005 and his impact on the UW offense was immediately evident. The 2005 Badgers set school records for points scored in a season (446) and for season scoring average (34.3 ppg). The Badger passing game was much improved, with QB John Stocco setting school season records for passing yards, passing TDs and pass completions.

Chryst was offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Oregon State in 2003-04. He helped the Beavers rank No. 6 nationally in passing yardage per game and 10th in total offense in 2003. The 2003 Beavers became the first team in Division I history with a 4,000-yard passer, 1,500-yard rusher and two 1,000-yard receivers.

Chryst came to Wisconsin in 2002 after serving as an assistant coach with the San Diego Chargers, where he developed Freddie Jones into one of the NFL's top tight ends.

Previously, Chryst was an assistant coach at Oregon State (1997-98), the Saskatchewan Roughriders (1996), Illinois State (1995), the Ottawa Rough Riders (1994), UW-Platteville (1993) and the World League's San Antonio Riders (1991-92). He was a graduate assistant at West Virginia (1989-90).

Chryst was a three-time football letterwinner at Wisconsin, where he earned a degree in political science in 1988. He added a master's degree in educational administration from West Virginia in 1990. Paul's late father, George, was a longtime head coach at UW-Platteville and a former Badger player and assistant coach.

Chryst and his wife, Robin, have three children: Katy, JoJo and Danny.

Kerry Cooks Defensive Backs

Kerry Cooks, defensive backs coach at the University of Minnesota last season, is in his first year as defensive backs coach at Wisconsin.

Cooks comes to Wisconsin after one year coaching the Golden Gophers' secondary. Minnesota qualified for the Music City Bowl last season, while Cooks' unit allowed opponents to complete just 56.8 percent of their passes (fourth-best in the Big Ten). That figure dropped to 55.3 percent in conference games, tied for second in the league with Penn State.

Prior to his year at Minnesota, Cooks coached defensive backs and assisted on special teams for one season (2004) at Western Illinois. Under Cooks' direction, the Leathernecks limited opponents to a Gateway Conference-best 157.2 passing yards per game; held opponents to the lowest completion percentage (45.4) in the conference; and finished second in the league with 17 interceptions.

Cooks began coaching at his high school alma mater, Nimitz High (Texas), in 2003 before joining the staff at Kansas State as a graduate assistant for the 2003 campaign. While at Kansas State, Cooks worked mostly with defensive game plan preparation and assisted with the Wildcats' secondary. Kansas State registered an 11-4 record in 2003 and won a Big 12 title with a defense that was sixth nationally in total defense.

Cooks was a four-year letterwinner and two-year starter as a strong safety at Iowa from 1994-97. He was a team captain as a senior and earned All-Big Ten honors and a spot in the East-West Shrine Game. A fifth-round draft choice of the Minnesota Vikings in 1998, Cooks also played for Green Bay, Atlanta and Jacksonville before retiring from the NFL in 2001. He also played for the Chicago Enforcers of the XFL in 2001.

Cooks has played or coached in six bowl games. A 2000 graduate of Iowa with a bachelor's degree in sociology, Cooks' wife's name is Valencia.

Wisconsin Assistant Coaches

Dave Doeren Co-Def. Coordinator / LBs / Recruiting Coordinator

Dave Doeren, who ascended to become the co-defensive coordinator at Kansas after just three seasons, is in his first season as an assistant coach at Wisconsin. Doeren serves as co-defensive coordinator, linebackers coach and recruiting coordinator for the Badgers.

Doeren has risen quickly through the college coaching ranks. Beginning in 2002 he served as the linebackers coach and recruiting coordinator at Kansas. He was promoted last summer to co-defensive coordinator. The Jayhawks, who routed Houston, 43-13, in the 2005 Fort Worth Bowl, led the Big 12 Conference and ranked No. 3 nationally in rushing defense (83.3 ypg) this past season. Kansas also was No. 2 in the Big 12 and 11th nationally in total defense (303.3 ypg). KU linebacker Nick Reid was a two-time, first-team All-Big 12 selection, a third-team A.P. All-American and was the Big 12 Defensive Player of the Year in 2005.

Doeren went to Kansas after spending two seasons as the secondary coach at Montana. The Grizzlies won the NCAA Division I-AA title in 2001. Doeren coached seven all-conference defensive backs at Montana, including two who earned All-America honors.

Prior to his time at Montana, Doeren was a two-year (1998-99) graduate assistant at Southern California and started his college coaching career as an assistant at Drake from 1995-97.

Doeren began coaching at Shawnee Mission (Kan.) Northwest High School in 1994. A graduate of Bishop Miege High School in Shawnee Mission, Doeren was a four-year letterwinner at Drake and earned academic All-America honors as a senior.

The 34-year-old Doeren, who has coached in three bowl games and two national championship contests, is a native of Shawnee Mission, Kan. He and his wife, Tara, have three sons: Jacob, Luke and Connor (born in April of 2006).

Mike Hankwitz Defensive Coordinator

Mike Hankwitz is in his first season as Wisconsin's defensive coordinator.

Hankwitz spent the past two seasons as defensive coordinator and outside linebackers coach at Colorado. He served as the program's interim head coach for the Buffaloes' 2005 Champs Sports Bowl appearance against Clemson. Hankwitz went to Colorado after serving as Arizona's defensive coordinator (and later interim head coach) in 2003.

Prior to his stint at Arizona, Hankwitz was the defensive coordinator and outside linebackers coach at Texas A&M (1997-2002) where he guided the Aggies' famed "Wrecking Crew" defense. Among Hankwitz's standout players at Texas A&M was Dat Nguyen, who won the Lombardi and Bednarik Awards, as well as being named Chevrolet Defensive Player of the Year.

Hankwitz spent two seasons (1995-96) as defensive coordinator and inside linebackers coach at Kansas after enjoying a highly successful 10-year run as defensive coordinator at Colorado from 1985-94. Colorado put together the nation's fifth-best record (58-11-4) from 1989-94, including a national title in 1990, three Big 8 titles, two appearances each in the Orange and Fiesta Bowls and six national top-20 rankings (including three top-five finishes).

Hankwitz was defensive coordinator at Western Michigan from 1982-84 and outside linebackers and punting coach at Purdue from 1977-81. Prior to his time at Purdue, Hankwitz was the outside linebackers and secondary coach at Arizona from 1973-76.

Hankwitz began his coaching career as a graduate assistant (1970-72) at his alma mater, Michigan, under head coach Bo Schembechler.

The 58-year-old Hankwitz is a native of Ludington, Mich. He was a three-year football letterwinner for the Wolverines and started on the 1969 Big Ten championship squad. Hankwitz earned a B.S. in education in 1970. He and his wife, Cathy, have a son, Jacob, 12.

Henry Mason Wide Receivers / Assistant Recruiting Coordinator

Henry Mason is in his 12th season coaching wide receivers at Wisconsin.

Under Mason's guidance, Wisconsin has consistently produced some of the nation's best pass-catchers since the mid-1990s.

Mason's most recent standouts were Brandon Williams and Jonathan Orr, both of whom were selected in the 2006 NFL Draft. Williams, a 2005 second-team All-American, finished his career ranked first in receptions (202) and second in yards (2,924) at Wisconsin. Orr is third all-time at UW with 19 touchdown catches and eighth in school history with 1,824 receiving yards.

Mason also coached Bedford, Ohio, products Lee Evans and Chris Chambers. Evans, a 2001 Biletnikoff Award finalist and first-team All-American, is UW's career leader in receiving yards (3,468) and touchdowns (27) and was a 2004 first-round draft choice of the Buffalo Bills. Chambers, a second-round draft pick of the Miami Dolphins in 2001, is fourth on the school's list for career receiving yards with 2,004.

Early in Mason's career at Wisconsin, Tony Simmons and Donald Hayes developed into standout receivers and eventual NFL draft picks.

Prior to coming to Wisconsin in 1995, Mason coached receivers at Western Michigan from 1991-94. Mason was head coach at Smith-Cotton (Mo.) High School from 1982-90. His 1988 team became the first in 13 years at the school to post a winning record. Mason also was an assistant coach at Baker University (1981) and was an assistant coach at Lexington (Mo.) High School (1979-80).

Mason, who has coached in nine bowl games with the Badgers, is a 1979 graduate of Central Missouri State, where he lettered in football and baseball. He was drafted by the Baltimore Colts and played one season with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Mason's wife's name is Debbie.

Wisconsin Assistant Coaches

Randall McCray Defensive Line

Randall McCray, who coached the defensive line and linebackers during the past three seasons at Toledo, is in his first season as Wisconsin's defensive line coach.

The 36-year-old McCray coached Toledo's defensive line last season, helping the Rockets to a 9-3 record and a 45-13 MAC Bowl win over UTEP. Toledo was 21st nationally in total defense last season and 10th in the MAC in scoring defense, total defense and pass defense efficiency.

In his first season at Toledo, McCray was faced with replacing two first-team All-MAC linebackers, from the previous season. The two players who stepped in, Anthony Jordan and Brock Dodrill, finished the 2003 season ranked fifth and sixth, respectively, in the MAC in tackles.

McCray was assistant head coach and defensive coordinator at Illinois State in 2002 after serving as defensive coordinator and inside linebackers coach for the Illinois State Redbirds from 2000-02. In 2002, McCray was named Gateway Defensive Player of the Year and earned three All-America nods and a third-place finish for the Buchanan Award (top defensive player in Division I-AA football).

McCray coached inside linebackers at Murray State (1997-99) and became the Tigers' defensive coordinator in 1999; defensive ends at Bethune-Cookman (1996); was in charge of quality control at Clemson (1995); defensive line at Tennessee-Martin (1993-94) and was a graduate assistant at South Carolina from 1991-92.

A two-year letterwinner as an outside linebacker and running back at Appalachian State, McCray was a member of the Mountaineers' 1987 Southern Conference championship team.

McCray earned a bachelor's degree in communications from Appalachian State in 1991 and a master's degree in higher education from South Carolina. A native of Monroe, N.C., McCray and his wife, Michelle, have a son, Matt (4).

Bob Palcic Offensive Line

Bob Palcic, an assistant coach in the National Football League from 1994-2005, is in his first season as Wisconsin's offensive line coach.

Palcic coached tight ends for the New Orleans Saints from 2000-05. Prior to that post he was offensive line coach for the Cleveland Browns (1999), tight ends coach for the Detroit Lions (1997-98) and offensive line coach for the Atlanta Falcons (1994-96).

Palcic went to Atlanta after spending 19 of the previous 21 seasons coaching offensive linemen at seven different universities, including Wisconsin. He coached the 1993 UCLA offensive line that matched up against the Badgers in the 1994 Rose Bowl. Palcic tutored the Southern California offensive line in 1992 and helped the Trojans to a Freedom Bowl appearance. He was offensive line coach at Ohio State from 1986-91.

Arizona's offensive line was under Palcic's direction from 1984-85 (the Wildcats played in the Sun Bowl during that time). A two-year stint (1982-83) with the Canadian Football League's Toronto Argonauts (1983 Grey Cup title) was preceded by a four-year (1978-81) stop as Wisconsin's offensive line coach under head coach Dave McClain.

Palcic was Ball State's offensive line coach in 1976-77 (he went to Wisconsin with McClain, who was Ball State's head coach) and Dayton's linebackers/offensive line coach in 1974-75. He got his college coaching start guiding Ball State's linebackers as a graduate assistant in 1973.

Palcic, 58, is a native of Gowanda, N.Y., and has a bachelor's degree in education (1971) and a master's degree in education (1974), both from Dayton. He was a linebacker for the Flyers from 1968-70. He and his wife, Theresa, have three children: Joe (currently the defensive coordinator at Indiana); Amy (an assistant in the Cleveland Browns media relations office) and Monica, who is married to Philadelphia Eagles LB Mark Simoneau.

John Settle Running Backs

John Settle is now in his first season as running backs coach at Wisconsin. Settle most recently served eight seasons as running backs coach at Fresno State, where he tutored six 1,000-yard rushers, including Wendell Mathis, who rushed for 1,313 yards and 15 touchdowns along with making 19 catches for 156 yards and a TD for the Bulldogs last season. Rodney Davis set the school rushing record with a 1,586-yard campaign in 2002. Settle also developed Derrick Ward, the 1999 team rushing leader, freshman All-American and current New York Giant. In addition, Settle coached 1998 WAC Pacific Division Offensive Player of the Year Jamie Kimbrough.

Settle went to Fresno State after a three-year stint (1995-98) as an offensive assistant with the Cleveland Browns/Baltimore Ravens franchise under head coaches Bill Belichick and Ted Marchibroda. Settle began his coaching career at his alma mater, Appalachian State, where he assisted with running backs in 1994.

Settle was a four-year letterman (1983-86) as a running back at Appalachian State. Settle finished as the school's career rushing leader with 4,409 yards (then third-most in NCAA Division I-AA history) and 43 touchdowns. He was the Southern Conference Player of the Year as a senior after rushing for 1,661 yards and 20 TDs.

Settle signed with the Atlanta Falcons as a free agent and played a total of six seasons in the NFL, four with Atlanta (1987-90) and two with the Washington Redskins. He accumulated 1,594 yards of total offense in 1988, becoming the first free agent in NFL history to rush for 1,000 yards in a season. He was named to the Pro Bowl and the All-Madden Team in 1988. He also played for the Redskins' Super Bowl championship team in 1991.

A 1989 graduate of Appalachian State with a degree in criminal justice, Settle and his wife, Karen, have three children: Jonathan, Leighton and Devynn.

Football Support Staff

Bill Nayes

Assistant AD / Football Operations

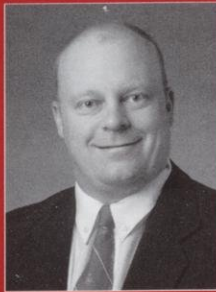

Bill Nayes, football operations coordinator / team travel with the Seattle Seahawks since February of 2000, is in his first year as assistant athletic director/director of football operations at Wisconsin.

Nayes joined the Seahawks in 1999 (he went with head coach Mike Holmgren from Green Bay to Seattle) as administrative assistant / football operations. Among his duties were the organization and operation of the team's mini-camps and training camp; assistance with the team's group travel operations; creation and implementation of team operations schedules; and administrative duties with practice organization and football operations.

Nayes was promoted to football operations coordinator / team travel in February of 2000. In that role he was responsible for all aspects of the team's group travel, including budget, team charters, hotel accommodations, meal arrangements and ground transportation.

Nayes was also an administrative assistant / football operations for the Green Bay Packers from 1997-99. A program associate for the Wisconsin football team from May of 1994 until April of 1997, Nayes assisted with advance travel, recruiting, community outreach and coaches support for the Badgers. Nayes was a student manager for the Wisconsin football team from 1989-94.

Nayes is a 1994 graduate of UW-Madison with a degree in history. He is a native of Boyd, Wis. He and his wife, Paige, have a daughter, Natalia (1).

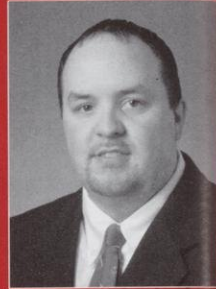

Aaron Mack

Graduate Assistant (Offense)

Aaron Mack is in his second season as a graduate assistant coach for the Badgers. Mack has primary duties with the Wisconsin offense, particularly the Badger quarterbacks.

Mack was quarterbacks coach at UW-Platteville from 2001-02. Prior to that he was a two-year starter and 2001 team MVP as a quarterback at UW-Platteville.

A native of Madison, Wis., Mack attended East High School and later graduated from UW-Platteville in 2001. Mack's father, Jeff, is the offensive coordinator at Madison East High and his uncle, Rick, is the defensive coordinator at Lodi (Wis.) High.

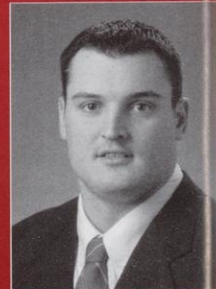

Jake Sprague

Graduate Assistant (Defense)

Former Wisconsin defensive lineman Jake Sprague is in his first season as a graduate assistant coach at his alma mater. Sprague works with the Badger defense.

Sprague, who spent some time in the NFL (Tennessee and N.Y. Giants) after his career at UW, completed work on his bachelor's degree in history in 2006. He currently is working toward a master's degree in education administration.

A native of Oak Creek, Wis., Sprague had 115 tackles in 41 games for the Badgers from 1998-2002. He earned honorable mention All-Big Ten honors in 2002 and was a member of the Badgers' Big Ten and Rose Bowl championship teams in 1998 and 1999.

in Wisconsin's heritage and we invite you to join in the traditional game day song, "If You Want to Be a Badger."

IF YOU WANT TO BE A BADGER

Lyrics by Julian Olson. Music by Charles Mills. 1919

*If you want to be a Badger,
Just come along with me,
By the bright shining light,
By the light of the moon;
If you want to be a Badger,
Just come along with me,
By the bright shining light of the moon.*

*By the light of the moon,
By the light of the moon,
By the bright shining light,
By the light of the moon;
If you want to be a Badger,
Just come along with me,
By the bright shining light of the moon.*

There's Nothing Else Like It

Sports Illustrated on Campus said last fall that Wisconsin has the best gameday atmosphere in the Big Ten Conference. That's quite a statement, but that may not go far enough. The fact is there may not be a better way to experience college football than spending a day at Wisconsin's fabled Camp Randall Stadium.

First of all, Wisconsin fans love a good time and they love to watch the Badgers win. There are plenty of both at Camp Randall. Badger backers arrive early - they are legendary tailgaters - and stay late, with thousands remaining inside the stadium to sing and dance as the UW Marching Band conducts its festive "5th Quarter" routine.

And there is nothing like the often-imitated-but-never-duplicated madness that is "Jump Around." Between the third and fourth quarters of every home game, thousands of Wisconsin fans, band members (and sometimes even players) jump to the 1990s hip-hop tune by House of Pain. The stadium rocks and rolls and shakes and bakes!

Badger fans are also loyal. Camp Randall Stadium has witnessed crowds of at least 70,000 for 81 consecutive home games and 71 of them have been sellouts. The stadium record was set at the 2005 Iowa game when 83,184 fans packed the facility for former head coach Barry Alvarez's final game.

A Wisconsin football gameday experience is a tradition that has been handed down from generation to generation of Badger fans. From the cooking of brats to the marching of the band, from the singing of "Varsity" and the "Bud Song" to the chants of "Rooooonnn Daaaynnne!", from the ghosts of Crazylegs and the Horse to more recent heroes like Alvarez, Panos and Evans, the Badger gameday experience is a happening that any fan of college football will relish.

"The thing with Wisconsin, I expected something unique, and I got that and a whole lot more when I visited. I was amazed with the excitement and all the energy from the fans. I knew right away that's where I wanted to play."

- 2006 Badger football recruit
Brandon Hoey

Over the past two seasons, Wisconsin is 11-1 in games at Camp Randall Stadium. The Badgers have outscored their opponents 380-171 in those games for an average margin of victory of 17.4 points.

Since 1992, Wisconsin has compiled a 62-23-3 (.722) record at Camp Randall Stadium. In 2004 and 2005, the Badgers put together an 11-game home winning streak, the school's longest in the modern era.

Since the expansion of Camp Randall Stadium prior to the 2004 season, UW has averaged 82,460 fans at its home games. The Badgers have ranked 13th nationally in attendance in each of the past two seasons.

Wisconsin Traditions

Badger Nickname

The nickname "Badgers" was borrowed from the state of Wisconsin, which was dubbed the "Badger State." The name didn't come from the animals in the region, but rather from an association with lead miners in the 1820s. Without shelter in the winter, the miners had to "live like Badgers" in tunnels burrowed into hillsides.

Bucky Badger

Although badgers in various forms had been the University of Wisconsin mascot for decades, the version that is currently known as Bucky, sporting a cardinal and white sweater, was first drawn in 1940 by professional illustrator Art Evans.

In 1949, a student wore a badger outfit with a papier-mâché head at the homecoming game. A pep rally was held to determine the mascot's name—Buckingham U. Badger.

On Wisconsin, On Wisconsin
Plunge right through that line,
Run the ball clear down the field, boys
Touchdown sure this time.
On Wisconsin, On Wisconsin
Fight on for her fame.
Fight fellows, Fight! Fight! Fight!
We'll win this game!

Varsity

Var-sity! Var-sity!
U-rah-rah! Wisconsin!
Praise to thee we sing
Praise to thee our alma mater
U-rah-rah, Wisconsin!

Bud Song

An integral part of any Wisconsin band performance is the playing of the Bud song. The tune is a spinoff of the song "You've said it all," a jingle with words and music originally written by Steve Karen for Budweiser beer commercials. The song has become legendary at the UW because of its polka-like rhythm.

Fifth Quarter

The Wisconsin band has become nationally famous for its post-game celebration called the Fifth Quarter. Win or lose, fans sing, dance and cheer the band as it plays traditional favorites like "On, Wisconsin" and the Bud song.

On, Wisconsin

The tune was composed in 1909 by William Purdy, with the words written by UW alumnus Carl Beck, who rewrote them in 1951. Some 2,500 schools and colleges have adopted the music and changed the words to suit their needs.

Hall of Fame

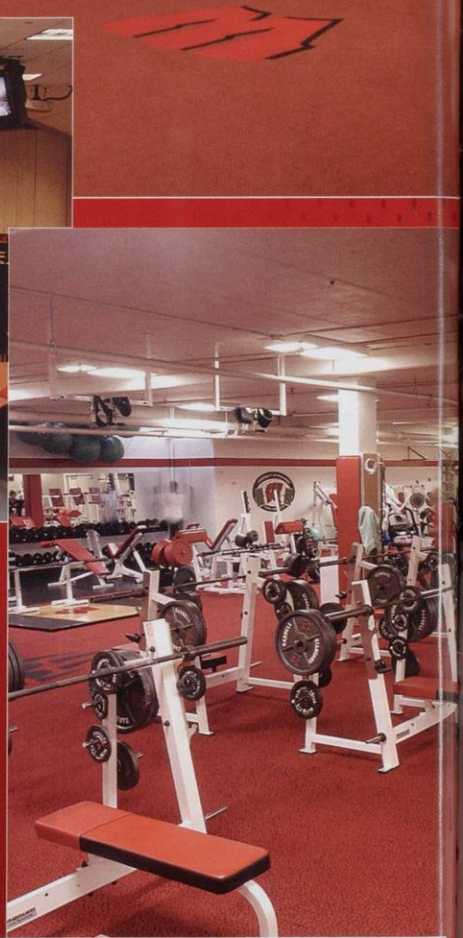

The UW Athletic Hall of Fame was established in 1991 to recognize and honor former student-athletes and staff for their exemplary athletic achievement and contributions to the University of Wisconsin Athletic Department.

Camp Randall Stadium

35 AMECHE 33 DAYNE

One of college football's finest facilities – Camp Randall Stadium – completed a four-year, $109 million renovation prior to the 2005 football season. The improvements are plentiful: new FieldTurf, new suites and club seats, new video scoreboards, new offices, increased seating capacity and better fan amenities like concession areas, restrooms and traffic flow.

The enhancements have not detracted from Camp Randall's charm but rather the stadium's character has been enhanced greatly by the improvements, ensuring that future generations of Badger fans will have a first-rate facility at which to watch the Badgers play on Saturdays.

Camp Randall was originally used as a Civil War training site. In fact, some 70,000 soldiers trained at the camp, which also included a hospital and a prison for Confederate soldiers on its grounds. Named for Alexander Randall, the state of Wisconsin's first wartime governor, Camp Randall Stadium opened in 1917 and was officially dedicated when the Badgers defeated Minnesota, 10-7, on Nov. 3.

Athletic Department Senior Staff

Senior Associate Doug Beard

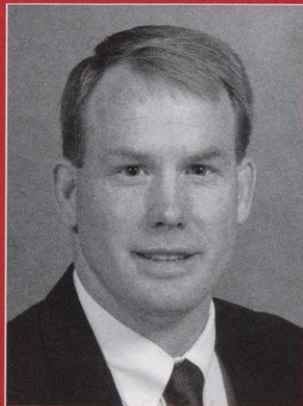

Doug Beard is in his fifth year on the UW administrative team. He was promoted to senior associate athletic director for administration on Feb. 1, 2006. Beard serves as chief of staff for all day-to-day operations of the department and directly supervises the men's and women's hockey programs, event operations, food and beverage service, business and finance, human resources and sports medicine units.

Beard joined the UW staff in 2001 as assistant athletic director for event management. He was promoted to associate athletic director in 2002. Beard was recently elected third vice president of the College Athletic Business Management Association.

Before coming to Wisconsin, Beard worked at UW-Milwaukee from 1989-2001 and UW-Stout from 1987-89. He played a critical role in helping UWM move from Division III to Division I status within the NCAA, while enhancing its operational budget from $750,000 to $5.8 million.

Beard, originally from Kennebunkport, Maine, has a bachelor's degree in business administration from New Hampshire (1985) and a master's degree in athletic administration from Kent State (1987).

Beard and his wife, Patricia, live in Sloughon, Wis.

Senior Associate Shawn M. Eichorst

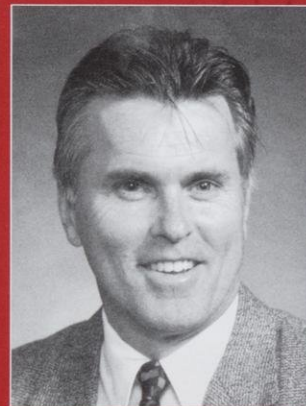

Shawn M. Eichorst is in his first year as senior associate athletic director. Eichorst's responsibilities include oversight of men's basketball, academic services, compliance, trademark and licensing, contractual matters as well as liaison with UW administration, the Athletic Board, the Big Ten Conference and state government.

Eichorst came to the UW from South Carolina where he served as the athletic department's chief administrative officer for two years as well as serving as interim athletic director in June of 2005. Eichorst previously served as the director of athletics at UW-Whitewater from June of 1999 through December of 2003. Under his leadership, UW-Whitewater developed into one of the nation's top Division III athletic programs.

He serves on the Executive Committee of the Sports Management Institute and is a past member of the NCAA Division I Student-Athlete Reinstatement Committee. Eichorst is a member of the State Bar of Wisconsin and is a past member of the State Bar of Wisconsin Board of Governors.

Eichorst was an all-conference defensive back, three-time letterwinner and 1990 team captain for the UW-Whitewater football team. He graduated magna cum laude in business from UW-Whitewater in 1990 and earned a law degree from Marquette in 1995. He also is a graduate of the Sports Management Institute.

A native of Lone Rock, Wis., Eichorst and his wife, Kristin, have three sons: Jack, Joseph and Bennett.

Senior Associate Vince Sweeney

Vince Sweeney, senior associate athletic director for external relations, has been part of the UW Athletic Department's administrative team for 16 years. He manages the marketing and promotions, ticketing, communications and web site services components of the division and is the department liaison with Badger Sports Properties and the National W Club.

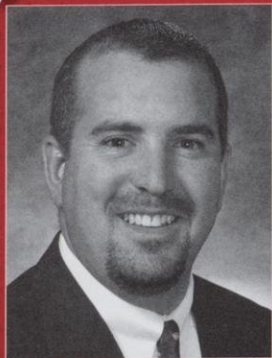

Sweeney joined the UW in 1990 as the director of trademark licensing and in 1991 was named the director of marketing and promotions. Sweeney was promoted to associate athletic director for external relations in 1994 and to senior associate athletic director in 2003. Prior to joining the UW, Sweeney worked for 13 years in sports journalism as an award-winning reporter and editor.

In addition to serving on the Board of Directors of the Greater Madison Convention and Visitors Bureau, Sweeney is a past board member for the National Association of Collegiate Marketing Administrators. He also has served as a member of the NCAA's subcommittee on Basketball Marketing and as consulting editor for Collegiate Sports Marketing. In 2005, Sweeney's first book was published - "Always A Badger: The Pat Richter Story."

Sweeney was named the 1994 "Marketer of the Year" by the Madison Chapter of the American Marketing Association, and his department earned two "Awards of Excellence" from Athletics Management magazine in 1995.

He and his wife, Sharon, have two daughters, Kelsey and Keara.

Athletic Department Senior Staff

Associate Director John Chadima

John Chadima has served as the department's associate athletic director for operations since 2003. He is in charge of managing capital projects, and supervising the facilities, maintenance, equipment and strength and conditioning staffs. He also is the department liaison with University Ridge Golf Course and has administrative oversight of the football, men's and women's golf and wrestling programs.

Chadima was previously the director of football operations (1990-1997 and 2000-03) where he was responsible for coordinating team travel, scheduling, preseason training camp, the summer jobs program and maintaining the sport's multi-million dollar budget. He was the school's director of facilities and events (1997-2000) in between assignments with the football team.

Chadima has a bachelor's degree (1988) in physical education with an emphasis in athletic administration from Iowa. He also studied in the master's programs (for athletic administration) at both Iowa and Wisconsin.

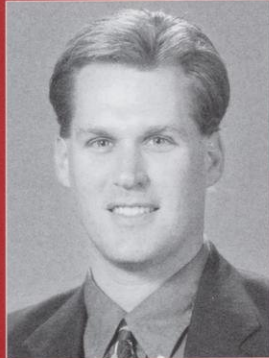

Associate Director Terry Gawlik

Terry Gawlik was promoted to associate athletic director for sports administration in 2005 after serving seven years as assistant athletic director for sports administration.

Gawlik serves as the department's senior woman administrator and oversees women's basketball, men's and women's cross country, men's and women's soccer, softball, men's and women's swimming, men's and women's track and volleyball.

Prior to becoming an athletic director, Gawlik served as an administrative assistant and event coordinator from 1994-98, supervising game-day operations, post-season tournaments and booster club events for men's and women's basketball and volleyball, as well as assisting with marketing and promotions.

A 1981 graduate of Southwestern University with a bachelor's degree in physical education and English, Gawlik earned her master's in physical education and educational administration from Texas State University in 1983. She resides in Middleton with her husband, Dan.

Associate Director John Jentz

John Jentz, who came to the UW-Madison in 2000 as a sports administrator was named the athletic department's assistant athletic director for athletic business operations in 2003. He was promoted to associate director in 2006. Jentz is in charge of the day-to-day operations of the business office while also overseeing video services, bowl and post-season travel as well as men's and women's rowing.

The Green Bay native was an assistant athletic director at Cal State Fullerton for four years prior to returning to the Badger state. At Fullerton, Jentz supervised eight sports and oversaw the athletic business office, ticket office, and championships for the Titans.

Prior to Fullerton, he was an accountant in the business office at UC-Riverside. He later managed development funds and also coordinated several athletic events, including the NCAA Division II Track and Field Championship.

Jentz began his administrative career at East Stroudsburg University where he supervised the ticket operations and event staffing while earning his master's degree (1993). A 1992 graduate of Brigham Young, John and his wife, Nancy, have five daughters: Kristy, Marin, Emma, Serena, and Lindsay.

Associate Director Marija Neubauer Pientka

Marija Neubauer Pientka, who has directed the operations of the Badger Fund since its inception, was promoted to associate athletic director for development in 2006. She joined the development staff for Intercollegiate Athletics in 1998. In addition to overseeing the department's fundraising and development activities, including the Badger Fund, she also supervises men's and women's tennis and the spirit squad and serves as the liaison with the Wisconsin Alumni Association.

Neubauer Pientka oversees all phases of the fundraising program. She also serves on the Board of Directors for the Madison Chapter of the Executive Women's Golf Association and previously served on the board of directors for the National W Club.

A graduate of the UW with a bachelor's degree in journalism, Neubauer Pientka was a Badger tennis All-American and four-time All-Big Ten selection. She earned Academic All-Big Ten honors three years and currently ranks seventh in career single wins and third in career doubles wins.

Neubauer Pientka is married to Jim Pientka and has two stepchildren, Jack (7) and Jessica (4).

Making His Parents Proud

P.J. Hill's season has surprised some people, but not those who have been around him the longest

by Betsy Golomski, UW Athletic Communications

There are a few different sides to P.J. Hill. First, there's the 19-year-old East Elmhurst, N.Y., native who, away from the football field, doesn't take himself too seriously. Just ask anyone who calls P.J.'s cell phone.

"If you ever call his cell phone he's got an answering machine saying 'they say beauty is in the eye of the beholder, that's why I look in the mirror every morning and realize how fly I am!'" P.J.'s father, Parrish Hill, Sr. said with a laugh. "He loves himself, that's the funniest thing about P.J."

Next, there's the University of Wisconsin student that's always worked hard in the classroom and already has a space reserved on his mother's wall for his college diploma. Prior to UW, Hill attended the prestigious Brooklyn Poly Prep High School and maintained a B or C average while developing a football career.

"Academically he was a good student and that's what we look for here at a school like Poly Prep," Hill's former high school coach Dino Mangiero said. "The work here is very hard so when you find a big kid that's a good football player that's also good academically, you're finding a diamond. Because there's a lot of kids, especially in New York City, that are good athletes, but academically, they're not strong."

Then of course, there's P.J. Hill—running back for the Wisconsin Badgers. After shouldering a majority of the 2006 UW offense, Hill has become a household name amongst Badger fans and in just his first season on the field, is already gaining national attention and Heisman Trophy buzz.

The long road to reach the top of the Hill started when P.J. was eight, playing in a Pop Warner football league in New York. While his mother, Pamela Moss, never remembers her son struggling on the football field, she does recall a moment during the early years where she was worried for her son's safety.

"He was playing football and all of a sudden this kid comes out of nowhere and pops him one, and he lays out," Moss said. "So I'm running and I'm thinking something's wrong because I didn't want him to play football. I'm charging across the field to get to him to see what's happened. He looks up at me and says, 'Mom, get away from me, you're embarrassing me.' So after that, I don't bother to go on the field anymore. No matter what happens, I always know he's going to be OK."

Eventually, Hill received recognition while playing Pop Warner, most notably by Mangiero who eventually offered him a scholarship to Poly Prep after being impressed with "the big kid with a big smile".

"I am amazed. I love the fact that he's doing something that he loves doing."

- Pamela Moss, P.J. Hill's mother

"I'd still end up late," he laughed. "I'd wind up at school about 8:30 a.m."

At Poly Prep, Hill did much of what he does on the field at Wisconsin - score ... a lot. In four years, Hill carried 464 times for 4,012 yards and 48 touchdowns. While some recruiters knocked Hill for not having blazing speed, Mangiero still saw him as a very advanced player.

"He was a coach's dream," Mangiero, who coached Hill for one year at Poly Prep before serving as an assistant coach at Indiana, said. "When I had him here, he did everything you asked him to do. He was just a real tough, good football player."

Hill hoped to continue his momentum last year with his first season on campus at UW, but after breaking his leg during the Badgers' summer football camp, he was forced to redshirt. For Moss, the injury didn't phase her much since she knew, ever since that Pop Warner game, that her son would be OK. For Parrish, who Moss jokingly calls the less tough one of the two, watching his son sit on the sidelines was difficult to bear.

"It was hard and I didn't like it but what can you do? I had my whole plans on coming out here last year," Parrish said. "I got my schedule cleared from work and everything, I had my crew coming with me, my brothers and friends and then I had to give them the bad news that P.J. got hurt, he's going to be out for the whole year. But you move on and he'd say the same thing. Things happen for a reason, you put that behind you."

Now that Hill is a constant fixture on the field, Parrish has his expectations set high. He claims he's never seen his son fumble the ball, in any league, and after Hill's 148-yard rushing performance against Penn State and 50 yards against Illinois before leaving early in the game with an injury this season, Dad still wanted more.

"This is the first time too since he played Pop Warner football that he hasn't scored a touchdown in two weeks," Parrish said after the Penn State game. "That's not P.J. I've got to talk to him about that. I've got to get a touchdown a game, at least one."

In just one year, Hill has done an enormous amount. He became just the third freshman in UW history to reach 1,000 yards, leads the Big Ten in rushing, scoring, and touchdowns, but most importantly, has made his parents proud.

"I am amazed," Moss said. "I love the fact that he's doing something that he loves doing. I love the fact that he wants to do this. Whatever he wants for himself, I'm going to help him out, stand by him and see that he gets what he needs."

"I'm real proud of my son," Parrish said. "I knew he had the talent playing football but I didn't think he was going to get this high this fast. He's excelling and I just wish the best for him. My dream is that he goes all the way and I told him if anything ever happened to me, God forbid I'm not here, promise me you'll make it. He says to me, 'Daddy, that's one thing I'm going to keep.' And so far he's keeping that promise."

Go Pack Go

This year's team is very close and has great chemistry ... except on Sundays. On Sundays this season there has been

I am a Packer fan and I guess you could maybe attribute that to me growing up about 15 minutes away from Lambeau Field, or maybe because the Packers are, and always will be, the greatest football team in NFL history.

a routine. We have a workout, meetings, and practice, and between all of that we watch the Packer game.

I am a Packer fan and I guess you could maybe attribute that to me growing up about 15 minutes away from Lambeau Field, or maybe because the Packers are, and always will be, the greatest football team in NFL history. I'm not really sure, but either way I am a Packer fan and growing up I was always surrounded by Packer fans.

But since I am on a team with guys from all over the country there are guys that aren't Packer fans.

There are Lions fans, Broncos fans, and there are even some bandwagon Bears fans since the Bears are doing well this year. Due to the fan diversity a funny thing happens when the Packers come on TV in the locker room. When the Packers come on everybody that is not a Packer fan becomes a fan of the team that the Packers are playing. The non-Packer fans yell and insult the Packers as much as they can while the Packer fans cheer for the greatest team and greatest quarterback of all time. I guess they are all just jealous.

Thanks Seniors

The seniors on this year's team have done great things both on and off the football field. And just because their careers at Wisconsin are coming to an end does not mean that they will stop doing great things ... like when Paul Joran will win the Tour de France or when Johnny White will take home his first World Series of Poker bracelet.

Some of this year's seniors have made their contribution on the scout team, some on special teams, and some in the starting lineup, but without each and every one of them we would not have had the success or the camaraderie that we have had to this point.

Each week during the season, junior punter Ken DeBauche will give fans an inside look at the Badger football team. DeBauche, a Ray Guy Award candidate, is in his third season as the Badgers' punter. He averaged a school-record 44.8 yards per punt last season and owns a career punting average of 42.7, just slightly behind the school record of 43.5 held by Kevin Stemke.

Along with recognizing the senior class as a whole, I would like to recognize those seniors who came onto the team as walk-ons. It is because of walk-ons like the guys in this year's senior class that make me proud to be a Wisconsin walk-on. Wisconsin has a great tradition of walk-ons and the 10 out of 19 seniors that were walk-ons in this year's senior class did not disappoint.

And finally, I would like to take this opportunity to thank all of the seniors for their hard work, commitment, leadership, and friendship, and I wish them all the best of luck in the future.

opportunity to revisit on a regular basis those classic melodies that never fail to conjure up memories of carefree days, childhood bliss and an undying nostalgia for the "good old days." The Wisconsin Band closes the home season with memories of a musical genre that is quickly fading from the scene, as we present a sampling of some "Vanishing T.V. Theme Songs."

The halftime show concludes with the UW Band's traditional final game formation "On Wisconsin" as a salute to the great Badger fans, the team and as a tribute to the seniors.

At pre-game the Wisconsin Band will salute the 2006 Badgers and welcome the team and fans from the University of Buffalo. As a special pre-game concert presentation the band features the percussion section (with special material by Patrick Coughlin) in a Buddy Rich Big Band favorite, the "Channel One Suite." Pre-game concludes with the traditional flag drill, the national anthem and the introduction of Bucky Badger to the stadium.

VANISHING T.V. THEME SONGS

During the "golden age" of television in the 60's and 70's, every network program was permanently linked to the musical theme that opened (and usually closed) the show. The theme song introduced the cast, summed up the plot and created the "mood" for the action that was to follow, whether it was to be the light-hearted activities of Dick Van Dyke or Andy Griffith, or the more dramatic adventures of Perry Mason or Mission Impossible.

In today's world of television such identifiable themes rarely exist. Instead networks and T.V. producers attempt to get to the action as quickly as possible and for the most part they eliminate the use of a "theme." Contemporary cable channels are the remaining

Illinois - 7
Camp Randall Stadium,
Madison, Wis.

In Wisconsin's 1961 home finale, the Badgers faced last-place Illinois. The fact that UW trounced the Fighting Illini 55-7 was notable for a number of reasons.

It was the most points UW had scored since putting up 60 against Marquette in the 1957 season-opener. It was also the Badgers' biggest win over a Big Ten opponent since beating Indiana 52-0 on Oct. 20, 1923.

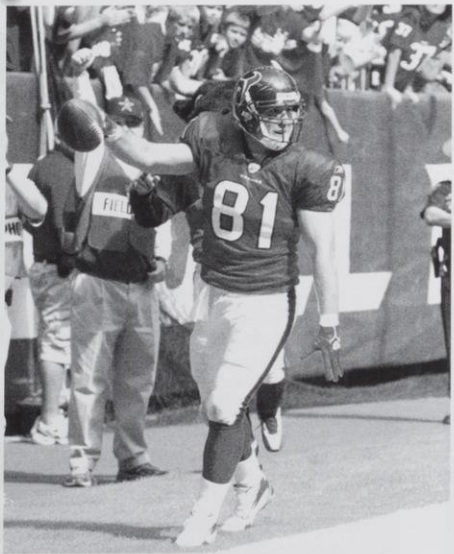

However, what made the day truly memorable was the performance of junior receiver Pat Richter. Richter went to work early, opening the scoring with a 28-yard touchdown reception just 5:50 into the game. In the second quarter he caught a pair of TD passes.

Before halftime Richter already had seven catches for 149 yards and three touchdowns. He added two catches for 21 yards after the break. His totals of nine receptions for 170 yards were both school records and his three TD catches tied the UW record set by Dave Howard in 1955 vs. Iowa.

His 170 yards stood as the single-game school record until Al Toon had 252 yards vs. Purdue in 1983. It is currently the 11th-best mark in school history. Richter is one of only five Badgers to have caught at least three touchdowns in a game (Lee Evans did so twice).

Badgers in the NFL Update

The ninth tight end chosen in the 2006 NFL Draft, Owen Daniels of the Houston Texans leads all rookie tight ends in catches, receiving yards and touchdowns.

Daniels Continues to Impress

Making his seventh start of the season for the Houston Texans, tight end Owen Daniels helped lead the Texans to a season sweep of division rival Jacksonville. On the day, Daniels hauled in a team-leading four receptions for 55 yards against the NFL's seventh-ranked pass defense in the 13-10 victory. Earlier this season, in the Texans' 27-7 victory over the Jaguars in Houston, Daniels also found success, catching two passes for 20 yards and a touchdown.

The fourth-round pick ranks among the top for rookies in nearly every major receiving category. Daniels currently ranks second in touchdowns (five), fourth in receptions (25) and fifth in yards (262). New Orleans Saints' rookie wide receiver Marques Colston leads all rookies in each category. Daniels currently leads the Texans in touchdowns and ranks third on the team in both receptions and receiving yards.

His success this season has not gone unnoticed by Houston head coach Gary Kubiak. "He's really been special in his own way," Kubiak told houstontexans.com. "He's got a lot of confidence for a young kid. He's going to have a great career. He's been a heck of a draft choice and it's very exciting to think about where he's headed."

Daniels publishes a weekly rookie diary which can be read on houstontexans.com

Calhoun's Season Comes to an End

The Detroit Lions placed running back Brian Calhoun on the injured reserve list last week, a move that effectively ends his season. Calhoun suffered a knee injury in practice last Wednesday that did not appear serious at first, but a later MRI revealed a torn ACL.

Prior to suffering the injury, the third-round draft pick had moved to the No. 2 position on the Lions' depth chart at running back. For the season, Calhoun had seven rushes for 19 yards and two receptions for 20 yards.

Bills Nearly Upset Undefeated Indianapolis

In a defensive struggle that saw Buffalo limit the Colts' offense to only 17 points, wide receiver Lee Evans and the Bills came up just short to their attempt to hand Indianapolis their first loss of the season.

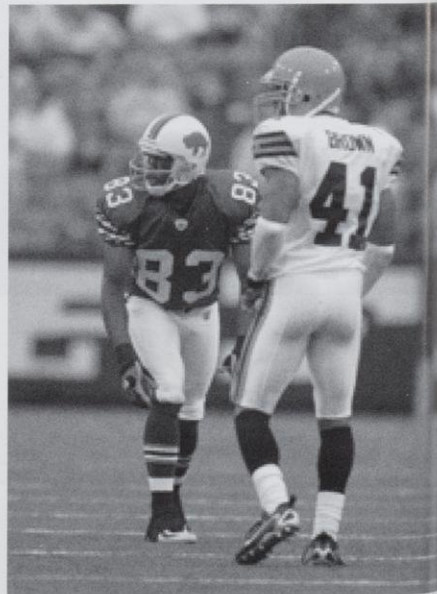

Trailing 17-16 with 6:22 to play, Bills' kicker Ryan Lindell missed a 41-yard field goal that would have given Buffalo the lead. Unfortunately for Buffalo, this would be the last time they touched the ball, as Colts quarterback Peyton Manning would conduct a 43-yard drive to run out the clock.

While the Bills were successful in slowing down Manning and the potent Colts' offense, Indianapolis did an even better job defending Buffalo, particularly through the air. Bills' quarterback J.P. Losman was limited by the Colts' secondary to only nine completions for 83 yards on the day, though Evans was on the receiving end of seven of the completions, good for 70 yards.

Weekly Roundup

Miami wide receiver Chris Chambers had one rush for two yards and three catches for 66 yards, including a 46-yard catch that set up the Dolphins' lone touchdown in a 13-10 win over Kansas City ... San Francisco 49ers wide receiver Brandon Williams had four kick-off returns for 90 yards and one punt return for two yards in a 19-13 victory over Detroit ... Jacksonville linebacker Nick Greisen had five tackles in the Jaguars' 13-10 loss to Houston ... Greisen's teammate, cornerback Scott Starks, also notched a tackle in the loss ... Oakland defensive tackle Anttaj Hawthorne had a tackle in the Raiders' 17-13 loss to Denver ... Buffalo safety Jim Leonhard had two tackles in the Bills' near upset of Indianapolis ... Leonhard's teammate, second-year defensive tackle Jason Jefferson, also had a tackle, the first of his career ... Detroit linebacker Alex Lewis had two tackles in the Lions' loss to San Francisco ... Washington safety Troy Vincent, playing in only his third game as a Redskin, notched five tackles in a 27-3 loss to Philadelphia

By Ryan Hessenthaler, UW Athletic Communications

On the season, Buffalo wide receiver Lee Evans has 46 receptions for 557 yards and two touchdowns.

Dream Beyond Today

BRIAN CALHOUN • '29 • DETROIT LIONS

"I want to thank all UW Football Badger fans for their support during last season. It was a great year and it will go down as one of the best in UW football history. I am off to the NFL Detroit Lions and hope to see you soon. Continue to keep me in your thoughts and prayers as I join many other former Badgers in the NFL. I am proud to represent UW and the state of Wisconsin in the league. Again, thanks for all your support during the 2005 season."

NFL DRAFT PICKS LAST SIX SEASONS

A look at where UW ranks among some of the top programs in the country at producing NFL Draft choices over the last six years

School	Total	1st	2nd	3rd	4th	5th	6th	7th
Miami	49	21	5	6	5	2	3	7
Ohio State	45	10	3	11	8	5	3	5
Florida State	40	9	6	7	9	4	2	3
WISCONSIN	31	5	2	4	4	4	9	3
USC	30	7	7	4	3	2	3	3
LSU	29	3	5	2	7	3	4	5
Notre Dame	29	1	4	4	3	5	10	2
Oklahoma	28	6	5	7	2	3	4	1
Michigan	25	6	5	3	3	1	2	5
Texas	22	10	2	4	2	1	1	2

Al Johnson (below left) has started the last 31 consecutive games at center for the Dallas Cowboys.

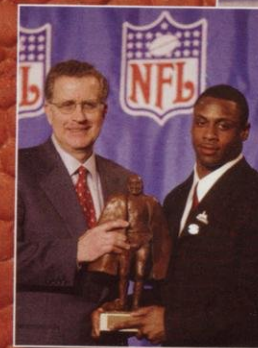

Chris Chambers (right) has led the Miami Dolphins in receiving yards in each of his five seasons and caught a touchdown pass in the 2006 Pro Bowl.

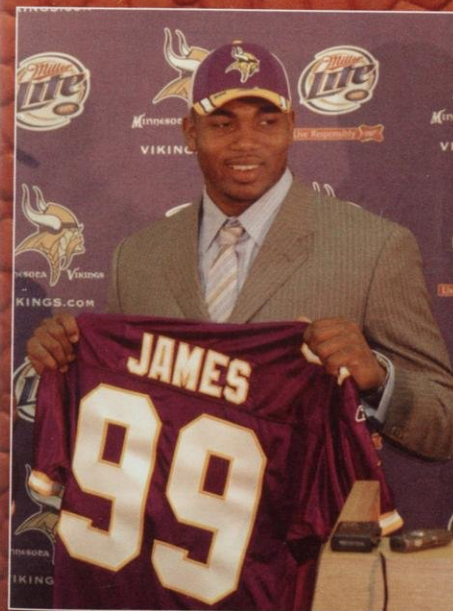

Since 1999, seven Badgers have been selected in the first round of the NFL Draft. That is tied for second-most in the Big Ten behind Ohio State.

Which team has cranked out more NFL draft weekend picks over the last six years: USC, Texas, LSU, Oklahoma, Michigan, Auburn, or Wisconsin? Yup, the Badgers lead the list with 31 players elected. That's one more than USC, two more than LSU, three more than Oklahoma, nine more than Texas, six more than Michigan ...

- collegefootballnews.com

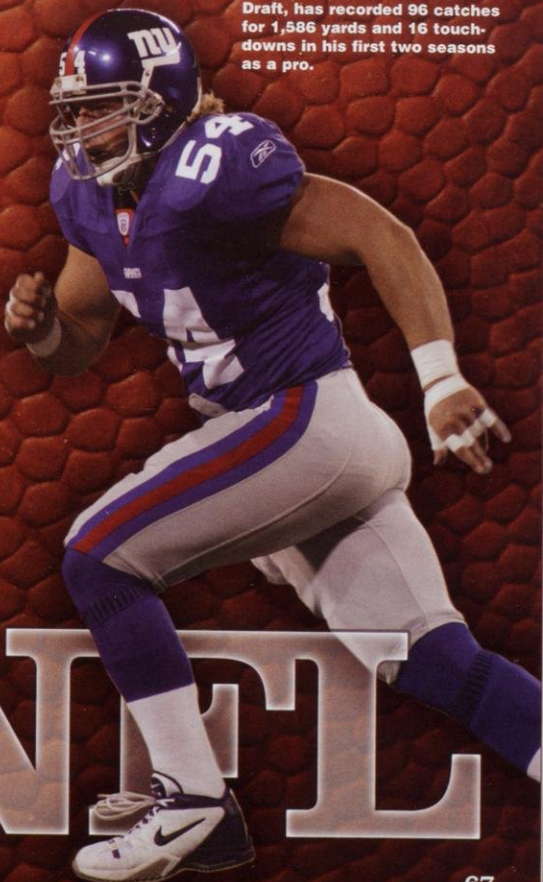

Troy Vincent (above), a 14-year veteran in the NFL and five-time Pro Bowl selection, was named the league's Walter Payton Man of the Year in 2002. The award is the only league award that recognizes a player's off-the-field community service as well as his playing excellence.

Erasmus James (left) was selected in the first round of the 2005 NFL Draft by the Minnesota Vikings.

Nick Griesen (right) signed with the Jacksonville Jaguars as a free agent this offseason after starting 12 games and recording 79 tackles as a Giant in 2005.

Lee Evans (above), the 13th pick overall in the 2004 NFL Draft, has recorded 96 catches for 1,586 yards and 16 touchdowns in his first two seasons as a pro.

Award Winners

Every great program is built on the shoulders of outstanding players. It is no different at Wisconsin. With the remarkable success of the football team in recent years has come national recognition for a number of Badger players.

The most well-known of those players is former running back Ron Dayne. The NCAA's all-time leading rusher, Dayne won the 1999 Heisman Trophy in a landslide, outdistancing runner-up Joe Hamilton of Georgia Tech by more than 1,000 points. As a senior, Dayne also won the Maxwell, Walter Camp and Doak Walker Awards.

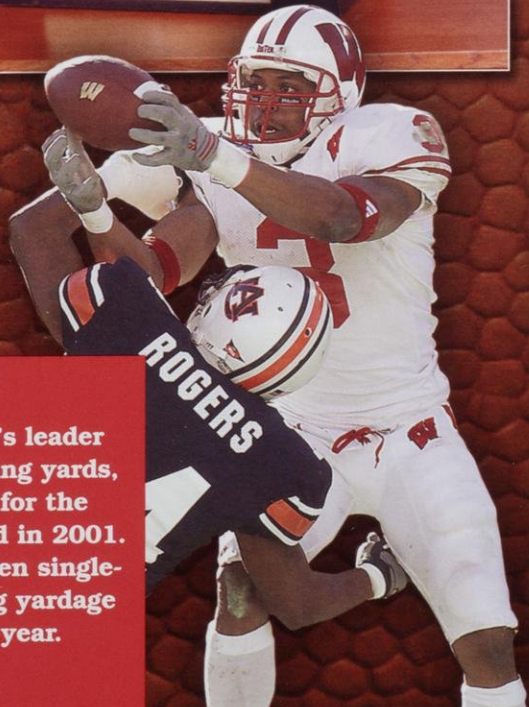

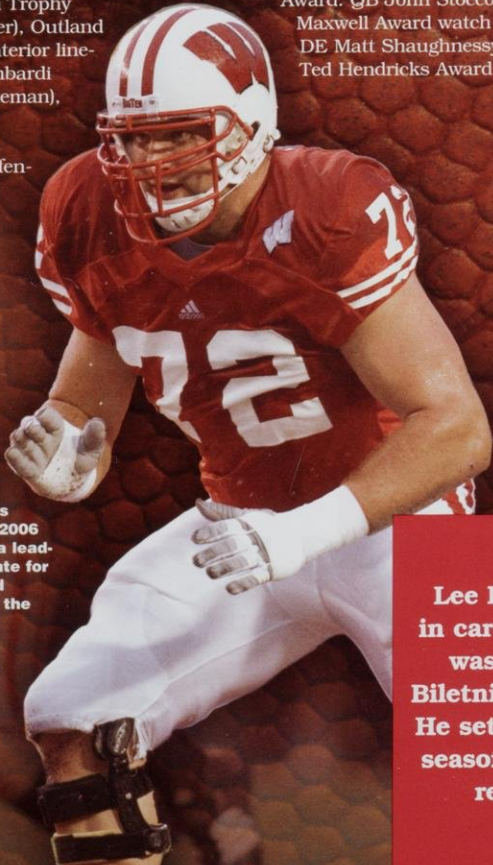

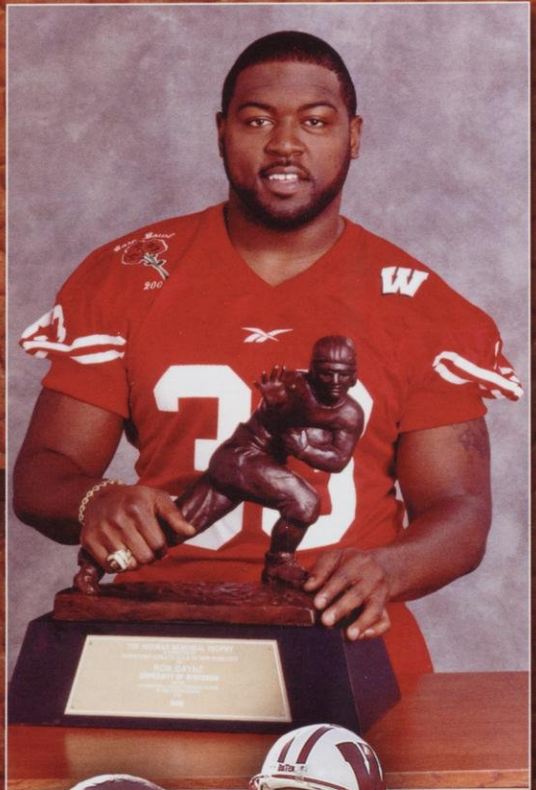

Dayne was the second Heisman Trophy winner from UW as Alan Ameche took home the award in 1954.

In recent years, Badger players have been fixtures on national award lists. UW players have been finalists for the Rimington Trophy (best center), Outland Trophy (interior lineman), Lombardi Award (lineman), Chuck Bednarick Award (defensive player), Bronko Nagurski Trophy (defensive player), Ted Hendricks Award (defensive end), Fred Biletnikoff Award (receiver), Lou Groza Award (placekicker), Mosi Tatupu Award (special teams) and Ronnie Lott Trophy (defensive player).

In addition, Badger players walked away with two major awards in 2000. Cornerback Jamar Fletcher earned the Jim Thorpe Award as the nation's best defensive back while Kevin Stemke won the inaugural Ray Guy Award, given to the nation's best collegiate punter.

This year a number of UW players are in contention for major awards. Offensive tackle Joe Thomas, a preseason Playboy All-American, can be found on both the Lombardi Award and Outland Trophy watch lists. Punter Ken DeBauche was a second-team All-American last year and is one of the top candidates for the Ray Guy Award. QB John Stocco is on the Maxwell Award watch list and DE Matt Shaughnessy is on the Ted Hendricks Award watch list.

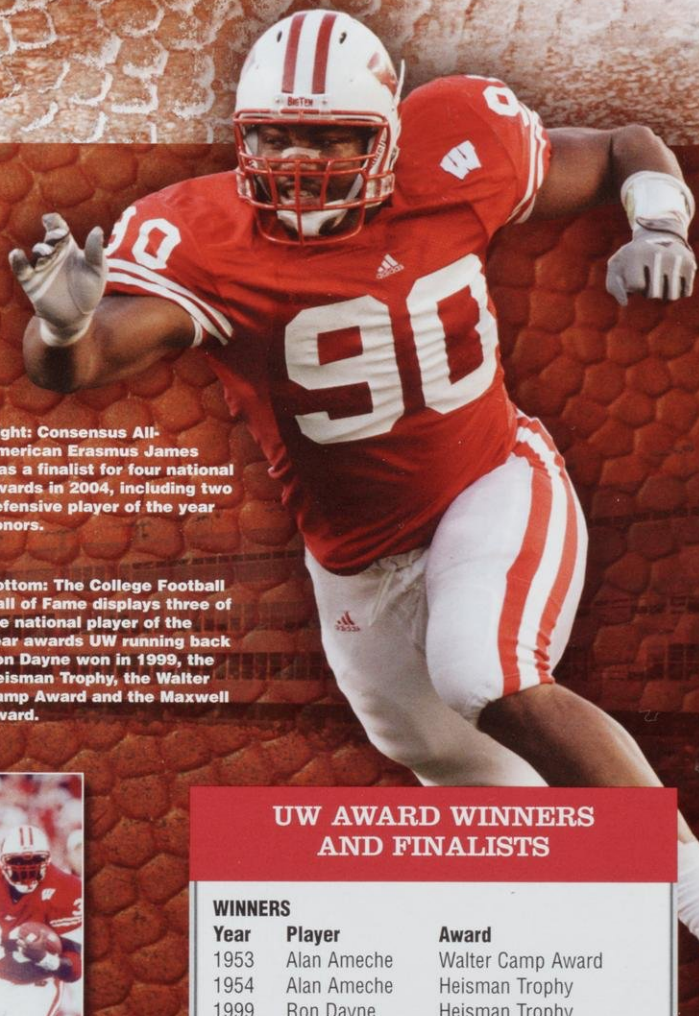

Joe Thomas enters the 2006 season as a leading candidate for the Outland Trophy and the Lombardi Award.

Lee Evans, UW's leader in career receiving yards, was a finalist for the Biletnikoff Award in 2001. He set the Big Ten single-season receiving yardage record that year.

Right: Consensus All-American Erasmus James was a finalist for four national awards in 2004, including two defensive player of the year honors.

Camp Randall Stadium Policies

Conduct Code

In order to keep Wisconsin football games as enjoyable as possible for our fans and their families, we ask that you respect others around you. If a ticket holder's conduct endangers or disrupts players, coaches, officials or other patrons, the University reserves the right to remove the ticket holder from the premises. No refund will be made in such cases. Stadium violations (body passing, throwing objects, and possession of alcohol) and object passing may result in a $181 fine.

Smoke-Free Facility

Smoking is prohibited in all state-owned buildings, including Camp Randall Stadium. Designated smoking areas are located within the stadium perimeter.

Entry / No Re-entry

Please enter the gate printed on your ticket to allow for the most efficient entry to the stadium. Gates open 90 minutes prior to kick off. Fans may not leave the stadium and then re-enter during the game. If an emergency arises, check with gate security.

Alcohol

No alcohol may be brought into the Stadium. Possession may result in police arrest and a fine of $181. The fine for first offense for underage possession/consumption of alcohol is $243.

Guest Services Center

For general game day information, visit the Guest Services Center located under Section YZ, in the south end zone concourse.

Emergencies

In the event of a medical emergency, immediately notify a security guard, usher, police officer or paramedic in your area. UW Health First Aid Stations are located in the upper deck at Section FF, in the 5th level concourse behind Section T, and under Section YZ in the south end zone concourse.

It is possible to contact a patron during a game if you know their exact seat location by calling (608) 265-8676. No announcements will be made over the stadium sound system.

Lost and Found

If you lose an article on game day, please go to the Guest Services Center located under Section YZ, in the south end zone concourse, or call (608) 265-8676. For lost-and-found inquiries on non-game days, please call or visit the Camp Randall Welcome Center in Kellner Hall (608-262-1866).

Items Not Permitted

For the safety and security of all patrons, certain items are prohibited, including, but not limited to: any food or beverage items, cans, bottles, coolers, thermoses, backpacks (gym, duffel and tote), luggage, strollers, laser pointers, banners, flags, signs, noisemakers, weapons, balloons, beach balls or umbrellas. All patrons entering Camp Randall Stadium are subject to search. Storage facilities are not available for checking prohibited items.

YOU HAVE TO WORK FOR IT

REMEMBER THAT KID? YOU KNOW, THE ONE DOWN THE BLOCK WHO MOWED ALL OF THE NEIGHBORS' LAWNS. HE MOWED ON SATURDAY. HE MOWED ON SUNDAY. HE MOWED AND MOWED AND MOWED UNTIL HE FINALLY SAVED ENOUGH FOR A SHINY NEW TEN-SPEED. AND YOU THOUGHT TO YOURSELF, "THERE'S A KID WHO UNDERSTANDS THE VALUE OF A DOLLAR AND ISN'T AFRAID TO WORK FOR IT." REMEMBER THAT KID? WE SURE DO. WE ARE THAT KID.

Buffalo Bulls

Left: First-year head coach Turner Gill was the Green Bay Packers' Player Development Director and Offensive Assistant in 2005.

Right: Through the team's first nine games, senior LB Ramon Guzman was fourth on the team in tackles with 61 despite missing two games. He also had eight TFLs and two pass breakups.

DID YOU KNOW?

Location: Buffalo, N.Y.
 Founded: 1846
 Enrollment: 27,220

- Head coach Turner Gill was part of the coaching staff of three national championship Nebraska teams.
- Buffalo began play in Division I-A in 1999, the same year in which it joined the Mid-American Conference.
- UB Stadium played host to the track and field competition and closing ceremonies of the 1993 World University Games.
- Chicken wings were first served in 1964 in Buffalo. The city also boasts five houses built by Wisconsin native Frank Lloyd Wright.

UB Stadium also is home to the soccer and track and field teams. In 1999, the stadium's capacity was increased to 31,000.

Nov. 13, 1999 - Wisconsin 41, Iowa 3

Senior Ron Dayne became college football's all-time rushing leader and the Badgers claimed their first undisputed Big Ten championship since 1962 with a 41-3 rout of Iowa before a delirious crowd in Madison. The win also gave Wisconsin a trip to the Rose Bowl.

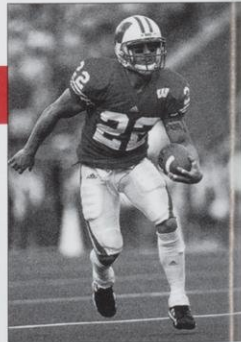

Dayne's record-breaking 31-yard carry came with 4:32 left in the opening half. Dayne, who needed just 99 yards entering the game to claim the mark, played only through the third quarter and left the game to standing ovation with 216 yards rushing.

The special day ended when head coach Barry Alvarez accepted the Big Ten championship trophy and an invitation to Pasadena. Dayne was honored when a tarp was removed from the facade at the stadium, revealing "33 Dayne" in a tribute to the tailback.

Nov. 6, 2004 - Wisconsin 38, Minnesota 14

Wisconsin scored touchdowns on its first four possessions to claim a 38-14 win over Minnesota at Camp Randall Stadium. First-year starting quarterback John Stocco got things started with a 1-yard run on the Badgers' opening possession. Stocco then threw a 17-yard touchdown pass to Jonathan Orr to go up 14-0. Anthony Davis scored twice, once at the end of the first quarter and again early in the second quarter, as UW jumped out to a 28-0 lead. The two teams played in front of 83,069 fans in Camp Randall, the second-largest crowd in the stadium's history. The win gave the Badgers an undefeated 6-0 mark at home and also improved the team's overall record to 9-0 on the year.

Nov. 21, 1998 - Wisconsin 24, Penn State 3

The 13th-ranked Badgers got on the board late in the first quarter when Nick Davis returned a Penn State punt 82 yards for the first touchdown of the game. Wisconsin went on to upend the Nittany Lions, ranked 14th in the nation, 24-3. The victory clinched a spot in the Rose Bowl for UW.

In the second quarter, Chris Chambers made it 14-0 when he caught a 26-yard pass from quarterback Mike Samuel. Just before halftime, Matt Davenport converted a 38-yard field goal to put Wisconsin up 17-0. The Badger defense was just as stingy in the second half of play, and Penn State was only able to get a field goal in the third quarter. An insurance touchdown came with just under 12 minutes to play in the final period. Samuel took it in himself with a 1-yard run to put to game out of reach.

Ron Dayne collected 95 yards on the afternoon while Samuel rushed for 89 yards of his own. On the defensive side of the football, Jason Doering tallied 13 tackles while Donnel Thompson had 12 and Chris Gidorzi recorded 10.

Nov. 23, 2002 - Wisconsin 49, Minnesota 31

Anthony Davis racked up 301 yards and a school record-tying five touchdowns on 45 carries as Wisconsin defeated Minnesota 49-31 to become bowl eligible and regain Paul Bunyan's axe.

Fellow sophomore Jim Leonhard picked off two passes late in the game to seal the victory. Leonhard's two interceptions gave him 10 for the season, which set a program record. Quarterback Brooks Bollinger, playing his last game at Camp Randall Stadium, produced his eighth career fourth-quarter comeback by leading the Badgers to three touchdowns in the final frame. Bollinger scored the eventual game-winner with 10:21 remaining on a quarterback sneak.

Wisconsin rushed for a season-high 416 yards and had 550 yards in total offense.

There are many ways to teach a child responsibility.
A goal line stand is a good place to start.

A goal line stand. It's the moment a player learns about team. It's giving your all for the sake of all. It's executing your role from start to finish. For a child, sports aren't about being a better athlete. But rather, a better person. As a company dedicated to teamwork, we're proud to support athletes of all ages. WE BELIEVE IN THE POWER OF SPORT.

Bowling with the Badgers

Over the last 13 seasons, no team in the country has won more bowl games than Wisconsin. The Badgers' eight bowl victories over that span ties them with Boston College, Nebraska and Ohio State. UW has participated in 11 bowl games over the past 13 seasons, a mark matched by only Ohio State and Michigan among Big Ten teams. During that time, the Badgers have made seven appearances in January bowl games, including three Rose Bowl wins.

Last season, Wisconsin played in its second consecutive January bowl game, trouncing seventh-ranked Auburn 24-10 to capture the Capital One Bowl. That contest marked the final game in the head coaching career of Barry Alvarez.

It was fitting that Alvarez's last game was a bowl victory since he led UW to an 8-3 (.727) record in bowl games. That is the best bowl winning percentage in NCAA history among coaches with at least 11 bowl appearances.

Bowl games with the Badgers are also a big hit with Wisconsin's renowned fans. In the past decade, thousands of fans have traveled to watch the Badgers in prime winter destinations like California, Florida, Arizona and Texas.

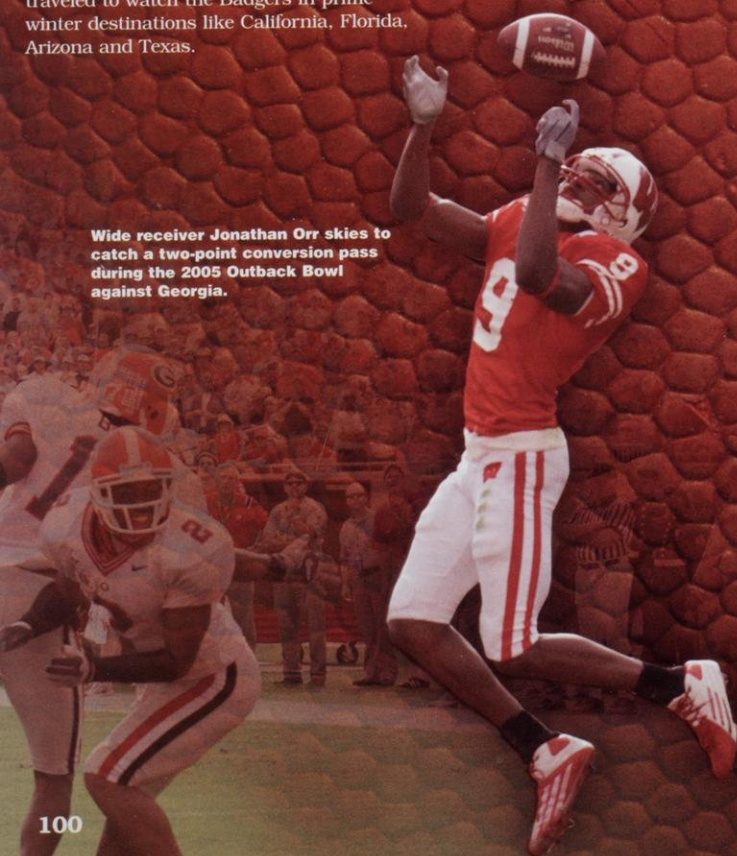

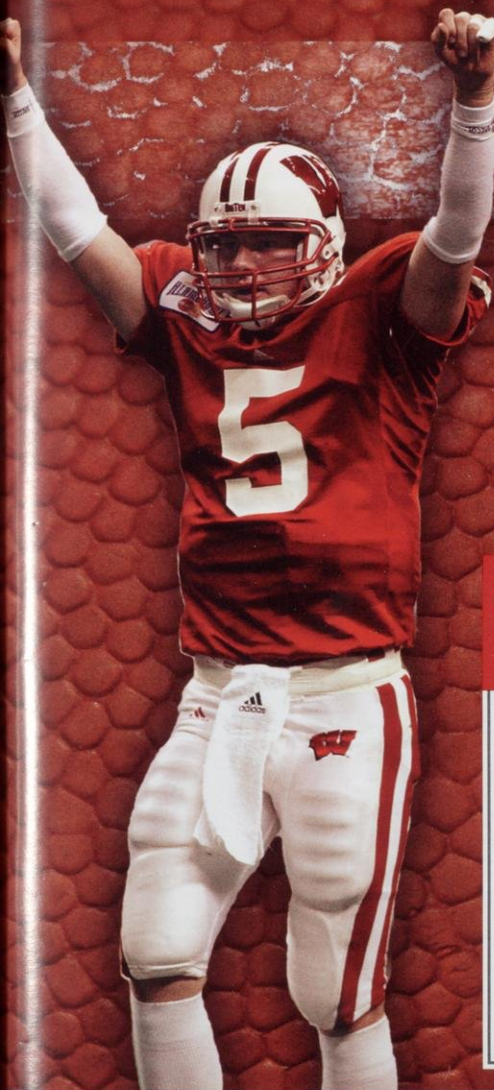

In his final game as Wisconsin head coach, Barry Alvarez led the Badgers to a 24-10 win over No. 7 Auburn in the 2006 Capital One Bowl. Running back Brian Calhoun (left) was named the game's MVP after rushing for 213 yards and a touchdown.

A World Class University

Carly Piper, a 2004 U.S. Olympic gold medalist in swimming, proudly shows off her diploma from the University of Wisconsin.

The University of Wisconsin is a world-class university, nationally and internationally recognized for its academic excellence, incredible students, inspiring faculty, exceptional value and an amazing campus and community.

The UW was founded in 1848 with the first class of 17 students enrolling on February 5, 1849. Today, Wisconsin ranks as the nation's ninth largest university with 41,169 students.

On a single campus, students can find a complete spectrum of liberal arts studies, professional programs and student activities. As one of the nation's first land-grant universities, Wisconsin maintains a strong research emphasis in agricultural and life sciences. Award-winning research spanning the academic disciplines, however, has earned Wisconsin a place among the world's elite institutions of higher education. The quality of its undergraduate, graduate and research programs is recognized around the world.

ACADEMIC PROGRAMS & RESOURCES

Undergraduate Majors—136
 Master's Degree Programs—155
 Doctoral Programs—110
 Courses Offered—8,714
 Academic Departments—185

Average Class Size—29 students
 Libraries—43; Volumes—7.2 million
 Computer Labs—108;
 Computers—More than 1000

Students can also take advantage of opportunities to study abroad, participate in honors programs, complete an internship, conduct hands-on research and take service-learning courses.

The flagship school of the state system, UW-Madison offers the only public schools of law, medicine and veterinary medicine in the state and is one of only two state-supported schools to offer doctoral degrees.

One of the most picturesque college campuses in the country, Wisconsin is located along the shore of beautiful Lake Mendota. The city of Madison and the University were designed to be linked, signifying the interrelated nature of academic and political life at Wisconsin.

Growing with the times to meet changing needs in education and research has kept the university great. With an eye to the future, the university continues to change, guaranteeing a community and environment where learning can take place.

“No better college atmosphere can be found anywhere than in Madison with so many things to do. People come just to see how much students care for and love the opportunities the campus offers.”

The Wisconsin Department of Athletics has a number of teams that regularly contribute to the city via outreach programs. The Madison community is truly supportive of the UW-Madison athletic teams and their student-athletes.

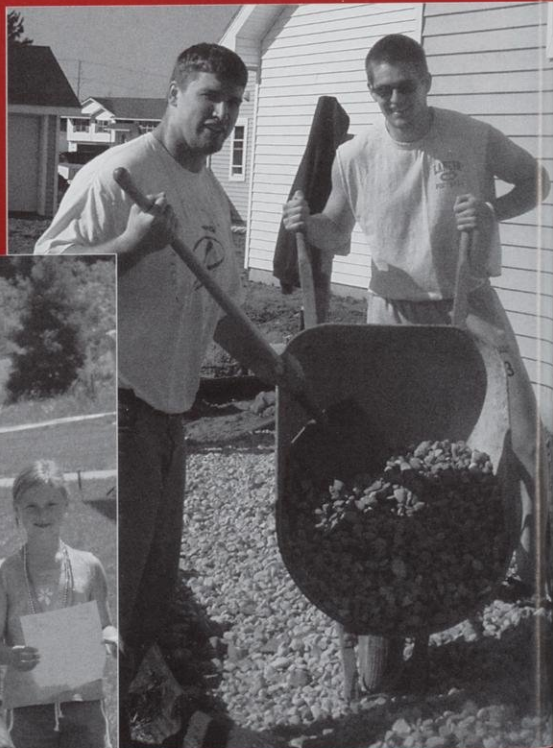

In appreciation for that support, many student-athletes volunteer frequently in community service projects. Every season, the football team works together on a community service project to give back to Madison.

Last season, seniors Jonathan Orr and Joel Nellis helped organize the "Yes, We Can" campaign. The UW football team, the Madison School District's Elementary Schools and the Community Action Coalition of South Central Wisconsin teamed up to assist the hungry in the Madison community.

From mid-September through mid-October, Madison Elementary School students were encouraged to bring canned goods or other non-perishable food items to school with them. Badger football players then visited the schools with the largest donations and, with the assistance of the Community Action Coalition For South Central Wisconsin, Inc., helped collect the food and deliver it for distribution to Dane County food pantries. The elementary schools that participated collected a combined 3,200 pounds of food, enough for approximately 2,500 meals.

Endowed Scholarships

For a student who wants to participate in intercollegiate athletics at the University of Wisconsin-Madison, one of the greatest opportunities available is an athletic scholarship. With the support of a scholarship, a student-athlete is able to take full advantage of the academic and athletic experience.

Many UW alumni and friends have chosen to contribute to the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics by establishing endowed scholarships. These funds, managed through the UW Foundation, provide annual income for scholarship support, while the principal remains in perpetuity to benefit the Division. These scholarships have a tremendous impact on the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics as they benefit today's student-athletes and also those in generations to come.

The following endowed scholarships, named for the donor or someone the donor wishes to honor, provide full or partial scholarship support for Badger student-athletes. Our student-athletes, coaches and administrators thank you for your tremendous support of Wisconsin Athletics.

CoSIDA Academic All-America All-Time Team

Four former Badger football greats were named to the Academic All-America All-Time team at the College Sports Information Directors of America convention in 1998.

Fullback Alan Ameche was a first-team choice and center Ken Bowman, defensive lineman Don Davey and defensive back Dale Hackbart were named to the second team.

All four Badgers are former Academic All-Americans. Davey, a native of Manitowoc, Wis., is the only four-time Academic All-America pick in university-division history.

ACADEMIC HALL OF FAMERS

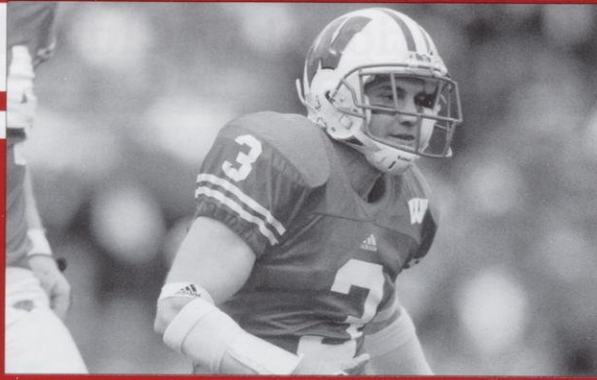

Two former Badger gridiron stars (Alan Ameche and Pat Richter) have been inducted into the CoSIDA Academic All-America Hall of Fame.

To gain admittance to the Hall, student-athletes must be former Academic All-Americans who distinguished themselves off the playing field after graduation.

Ameche, who played professionally after graduation, retired in Philadelphia after his career and became one of the city's philanthropic leaders. Richter played pro football in Washington before returning to the UW to earn his law degree. He worked at a Madison law firm and at Oscar Mayer before his appointment as Director of Athletics at the University of Wisconsin.

National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame

These seven former Badgers have received the highest honor the game of football affords. They have been inducted into the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame. They are the greats of the game and their achievements are documented at the College Football Hall of Fame in South Bend, Ind.

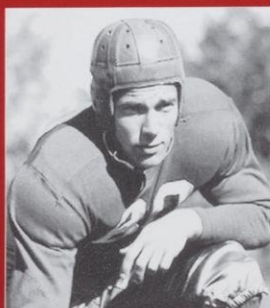

Pat O'Dea (elected in 1962), nicknamed "The Kangaroo Kicker," was a two-time All-America fullback and punter between 1896-99. He also was a two-time team captain.

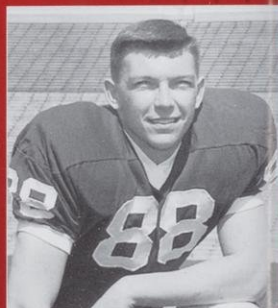

Robert Butler (elected in 1972) was a three-year letterwinner at tackle and won all-league (1912-13) and All-America (1913) laurels.

Pat Harder (elected in 1993), an All-America fullback, was the Big Ten's scoring and rushing champion in 1941.

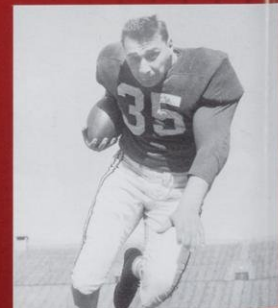

Dave Schreiner (elected in 1955), the two-time All-America end, was the Western Conference MVP in 1942.

Pat Richter (elected in 1996) was a two-time All-America end and led the nation in receiving as a junior.

Marty Below (elected in 1988), a rugged right tackle, earned All-America praise as a senior.

Alan Ameche (elected in 1975) was the 1954 Heisman Trophy winner and a multi-year All-American in the classroom and on the field.

Radio Coverage

For the 13th year in a row, exclusive radio coverage of Badger football can be heard on the 45-city Wisconsin Radio Network. The Department of Athletics and Learfield Communications / Badger Sports Properties entered into an agreement for radio broadcast rights for football and basketball in 1994.

WIBA-AM (1310 AM) and WIBA-FM (101.5 FM) are the rights holders in the Madison market, and WTMJ (620 AM) carries the games in Milwaukee.

Television Coverage

It's easy to follow Badger football through the Big Ten's comprehensive television package. Most Wisconsin games will be selected for live TV coverage on either ABC, ESPN, ESPN2 or ESPN Regional.

All Badger home games are televised on a delayed basis by Wisconsin Public Television (WHA-Madison, WPNE-Green Bay, WLEF-Park Falls, WHWC-Menomonie, WHLA-La Crosse, WHRM-Wausau and WMVT-Milwaukee). Broadcast across the state educational network, the football replays on WPT air most Saturdays at 10 p.m. WPT and Badger sports have been partners for more than 25 years.

The Bret Bielema TV Show

The "Bret Bielema Television Show," produced by Learfield Communications / Badger Sports Properties and WISC-TV, is a 30-minute program of highlights, interviews and features on Badger football.

The show airs twice on Sunday in the Madison area on WISC-TV at 10:30 a.m. and on my Madison TV channel 14 (formerly UPN14) at 10:00 p.m. The show can be seen statewide on Fox Sports Net North at 6:30 p.m. on Monday.

uwbadgers.com

The Department of Athletics has made a strong commitment to bringing its news straight to the fans. The Badgers' Web site (uwbadgers.com) produces news updates multiple times daily to keep fans up-to-speed on the happenings in the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics.

Web users can tune in for live video streaming of media news conferences, chat with coaches, staff and student-athletes, order tickets online or listen to live radio broadcasts of games.

This is the Big Ten Conference

The Big Ten Conference is an association of 11 world-class universities whose member institutions share a common mission of research, graduate, professional and undergraduate teaching and public service. Intercollegiate athletics has an important place within the mission.

Founded in 1896, the Big Ten has sustained a comprehensive set of shared practices and policies that enforce the priority of academics in student-athletes' lives and emphasize the values of integrity, fairness and competitiveness. Big Ten universities provide in excess of $89 million in athletic scholarship aid to more than 8,400 men and women student-athletes who compete for 25 championships, 12 for men and 13 for women. In 2005-06, the Big Ten distributed over $117 million in revenues to its 11 member institutions. Conference institutions sponsor broad-based athletic programs with more than 270 teams.

- Big Ten Universities are members of the nation's only conference whose constituency is entirely composed of institutions that are members of the AAU, a prestigious association of major academic and research institutions in the United States and Canada.

- Big Ten Universities have more than four million living alumni and over 300,000 undergraduate students attending Big Ten universities.

- Big Ten Universities house on their campuses nine of the nation's 30 largest academic libraries. Conference libraries hold more than 66 million book volumes and institutions freely share their materials with other league members.

- Since 1992, the Big Ten has created in excess of 2,000 new opportunities for women student-athletes and established 28 new women's teams.

- Based on the federal graduation rate average for the 1995-98 freshman classes, Big Ten student-athletes graduated at 70 percent compared to 62 percent for all Division I student-athletes. As a conference, student-athletes tend to graduate at rates consistent with the general student body (71 percent). In 2006, the NCAA also introduced a new calculation—the Graduation Success Rate (GSR) – that accounts for transfer student-athletes. The Big Ten's GSR was 81 percent compared to the Division I average of 76 percent.

- The Big Ten recognized 1,992 Academic All-Big Ten honorees during the 2005-06 academic year, the highest total in the last decade. Over the past five years, the Conference has annually acknowledged nearly 1,700 student-athletes as Academic All-Conference honorees.

- The Big Ten has claimed at least four team national championships in seven of the last nine full seasons, including six national titles during 1999-2000 alone, the most for the conference in more than a decade. Big Ten national champions in 2005-06 included Northwestern women's lacrosse and three national crowns for Wisconsin in men's cross country and men's and women's ice hockey.

- The Big Ten showcased more than 300 events that were televised nationally, regionally and locally last year, representing over 600 hours of programming.

- Big Ten Conference schools are among the national attendance leaders in football, men's and women's basketball and women's volleyball. During 2005-06, more than 8.2 million fans attended Big Ten home contests in those sports.

BIG TEN INSTANT REPLAY FACTS

Beginning with this season, all Division-I conferences and independent institutions will have the option of using a version of instant replay standardized by the NCAA – a system based upon an instant replay model created by the Big Ten Conference three years ago.

The objective of football instant replay is to allow for specific types of officiating mistakes to be immediately reviewed and corrected during games. Only specific plays are reviewable, and only those plays where the absolute standard of indisputable video evidence is met can a play be overturned. The replay system will not guarantee that all officiating mistakes are identified and corrected.

Head coaches may now utilize a timeout to request a review of a play no more than once per game. A coach initiates this challenge by taking a timeout before the ball is in play and informing the official that the ruling on the previous play is being challenged. If the ruling is overturned, the timeout will be returned to the team. If the ruling is not overturned, the team will lose that timeout. A team must have a timeout in order for the coach to challenge a play and a coach can only challenge one play per game. Head coaches may not challenge a ruling in which the game was stopped by the Technical Advisor and a decision has already been made on that specific ruling. If a head coach requests a timeout to challenge a ruling and the play is not reviewable, the team will lose that timeout. The Technical Advisor will continue to examine all reviewable plays during a game.

The Technical Advisor serving as the review official for the game can initiate reviews throughout the game. The head coach can initiate one review per game by calling a timeout. Game officials may not ask for a review.

NCAA Guidelines

What Every Badger Fan Should Know

With increasing numbers of NCAA rules governing outside intervention in recruiting, coaches cannot afford to have any extra "help" in recruiting elite student-athletes to the University of Wisconsin. The penalties are too severe.

Here are some tidbits of information concerning you and Badger athletics ... You are a "representative" of the UW's athletics interests (i.e., booster) if any of the following apply:

- a) you are an alumnus of the University of Wisconsin;
- b) you have ever made financial contributions to the athletics department, to an athletic booster organization of the UW, or to a UW athletics program;
- c) you have ever helped to arrange employment of enrolled student-athletes and/or National Letter of Intent signees;
- d) you have ever been involved in any way promoting the Badger athletic program.

Once an individual is identified as an "athletics representative/booster," the person retains that identity forever, even if that person no longer contributes to or supports the athletics program.

NCAA Bylaw 13.01.5 states: In Division I, a representative of the UW's athletics interests is prohibited from making in-person, on-or-off campus recruiting contacts, or written or telephonic communications with a prospect or the prospect's relatives or legal guardians.

A prospect is any student who has started classes for the ninth grade. In addition, any student younger than ninth grade could become a "prospect" if they receive any benefits from an institution or a booster. Student-athletes enrolled in preparatory school or two-year colleges are also considered prospective student-athletes.

What Can You Do?

If you know of a high school or junior college student-athlete who might want to attend the UW, the only permissible activity for a representative is to call the appropriate UW coach.

Extra Benefit Rule

A representative of UW athletics interests cannot provide an "extra benefit" to a prospective or enrolled student-athlete. An extra benefit is any special arrangement by an institutional employee or a booster to provide for a student-athlete or a student-athlete's friend or relative not expressly authorized by NCAA legislation. Some examples of prohibited activities are:

- a) providing gifts or reduced cost services;
- b) providing a loan, or arranging for or co-signing a loan;
- c) employing relatives or friends of a prospective student-athlete as an inducement for the enrollment of the prospect;

- d) providing use of an automobile;
- e) providing rent-free or reduced-rent housing;
- f) providing tickets to an athletic, institutional or community event;
- g) entertaining or contacting a prospective student-athlete or a prospective student-athlete's family on or off campus;
- h) promising to provide any of the above;

According to NCAA rules, the University of Wisconsin Athletic Department reserves the right to withhold any benefit or privilege associated with their athletic department (i.e., booster clubs, ticket privileges, etc.) from individuals that are involved in a violation of NCAA legislation.

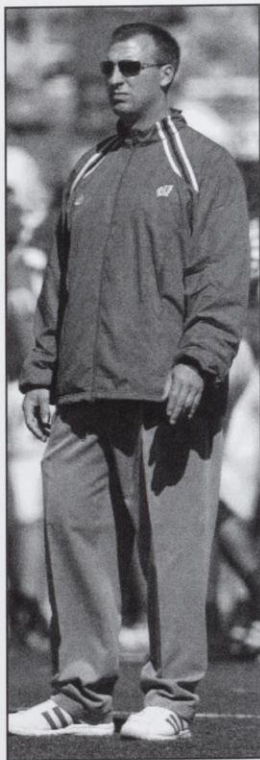

Employment

NCAA rules are such that opportunities for your interaction with student-athletes are very limited. One of the best opportunities for alumni or friends of the program to assist student-athletes financially and provide them with a valuable internship experience is through employment. A representative of athletics interests is permitted to provide employment for student-athletes under the following conditions:

- Compensation can't include any remuneration for value or utility that the student-athlete may have for the employer because of the publicity, reputation, fame or personal following that he or she has obtained because of athletics ability;
- Compensation for only work actually performed; and
- Compensation at a rate commensurate with the going rate in that locality for similar services.

With more than 700 student-athletes competing at the UW, the Department of Athletics encourages businesses to hire Badger student-athletes. Please contact Kelli Richards, UW's CHAMPS/Life Skills Coordinator at 608-265-0138 or the UW Department of Athletics if you are interested in pursuing these opportunities further.

For more information regarding rules and regulations, or for an informational brochure regarding rules for alumni and friends of Badger athletics, please contact Steve Waterfield, Assistant Athletic Director for Compliance, at 608-265-2973.

What's Happening on Campus

Tracey Hagney, a veterinary medicine student who founded a nonprofit animal rescue operation, poses with a mixed-breed dog rescued from the Red Lake Reservation in Minnesota.

UW Student Rescues Animals

In her spare time, Tracey Hagney, a fourth-year veterinary medical student at the UW-Madison School of Veterinary Medicine, rescues animals.

Although that may sound routine for someone about to enter the veterinary medical profession, Hagney takes her commitment a step further. She just attained federal nonprofit status for an animal rescue group that she established several years ago.

Hagney is the founder and executive director of Animal Rescue and Veterinary Support Services (ARVSS), an organization committed to rescuing and providing veterinary care to animals in need.

"It certainly has been a challenge starting and running a rescue while doing all that paperwork (while) being a full-time veterinary student," Hagney admits.

The nonprofit status gives ARVSS legitimacy. The organization is local, though they work with the national Petfinder online database to adopt out their available animals. Its first grant will allow the organization to treat heartworm-positive dogs in both its and other rescue organizations in the area.

ARVSS finds animals on trips with the Rural Animal Veterinary Service, a nonprofit arm of the Humane Society of the United States and the Fund for Animals that brings veterinary services to underserved rural communities. In addition, Hagney works with an online national network of people who want to find adoption options for animals that will otherwise be euthanized.

"We monitor the online notices, and when we have an open foster slot and there is an animal in need that we can help, we ask that the animal be sent to us," she says. "Then we organize transportation to Madison."

Upon arrival, the animals are spayed or neutered, fully vaccinated, checked for heartworms, placed on flea, tick and heartworm preventative, and given identification microchips.

To date, they've found permanent homes for more than 70 dogs. Rescues have ranged from puppies produced by non-neutered dogs on the Red Lake Reservation in Minnesota (where adoption rates are low due to poverty) to dogs scheduled for euthanasia in overcrowded Ohio shelters.

"It's a lot of work, but the animals seem to thrive," she says.

Hagney's work has paid off in more ways than one, earning her the Patricia Hassemen Fellowship in 2006, which provides $1,500 in tuition.

"I realize the need for affordable veterinary care for rescues and shelters and the need for practices to make money, rather than give services away," Hagney says. "I believe our federal nonprofit can act as a middleman for these services."

Famous Alums Laud Political Science

Despite different views on many issues, some leading politicians from both ends of the political spectrum have agreed on at least one thing: A UW-Madison political science degree is instrumental in their lives and public service careers.

Several well-known political science graduates, including Vice President Dick Cheney, a Republican, and Democratic U.S. Sen. Russ Feingold, contributed brief essays for the department's alumni newsletter focusing on what their UW-Madison education means to them.

"I can draw a straight line from my decision to study at the University of Wisconsin to the career in public service that I've found so deeply rewarding," wrote Cheney, who completed all but a dissertation while studying for his doctorate at UW-Madison in the 1960s.

Feingold, who has served Wisconsin in the Senate since 1993, wrote that excellent faculty has given the department its strong reputation.

"The debates and conversations I had in class more than 30 years ago still come back to me, and they still help guide my decisions as the Senate deliberates both domestic issues and foreign policy," he wrote.

Other notable UW alumni, including Roberta Draper, producer of congressional news at NBC, and Ron Bonjean, press secretary to U.S. House Speaker Dennis Hastert, offered similar perspectives.

Graham Wilson, professor of political science and department chair, says the essays point to how classroom experiences can translate to the world of public policy and life in general.

"The education we offer is valued by both liberals and conservatives, both Republicans and Democrats," Wilson says. "These essays demonstrate how students over the years have used their political science educations as a springboard to public service, and how their knowledge has transformed public policy and public dialogue in very meaningful ways."

Excerpts from "Don't Flinch"

On July 29, 2005, Barry Alvarez announced that he was stepping down as head coach at the end of the season and Bret Bielema would succeed him.

When I took the athletic director's job, I wanted to make sure I had the opportunity to name my successor.

Chancellor John Wiley agreed and said, "Nobody has invested as much in the program as you have, and you should have that right."

During the 2004 season, I watched the way Bret Bielema handled things. And I started thinking, "This is a guy who's going to be a head coach. He has an air about him."

If possible, I wanted to hire somebody from my staff.

I thought it would be easier on the players — as long as it was the right guy and I felt it was somebody who could be successful at Wisconsin.

Potentially you could protect more coaches that way, too.

This is a state and university where you have to have the right person in place. You'll have a problem if that person doesn't understand the nuances of how things work here.

You'll also have a problem if that person has a personality that doesn't fit and there isn't a chemistry or mesh with the people.

I thought Bret Bielema was the right fit.

I have always kept a short list of coaches, and I would occasionally put them in a pecking order. Every year the list would change because my hottest guys were moving on.

It never got to the point where I actually talked to somebody else.

I saw everything I needed to see in Bret Bielema.

He was a very progressive thinker. He was very passionate about what he does. He was a guy who lived it 24/7. And he knew how to win.

I have been asked if I saw myself in Bret.

Yeah, I did.

But I wasn't looking for that.

Some things are different, some things are similar.

I had some things that were important to me as I was looking for a head coach.

One of the most important was having a presence.

If you don't have that, you're vulnerable. Bret has a presence as well as an ability to look at the big picture.

Not many assistants do.

Most assistant coaches worry about their own world.

When you discuss issues and you're trying to make decisions for the program, most assistants are going to make recommendations that are self-serving because it fits them better — it fits their personnel and what they want to be doing — even if it may not be best for the overall program.

In all of Bret's recommendations, in all of the things that he brought up and talked about, he was always focused on the big picture and winning — as a program. He was also very perceptive.

I had a chance to visit with Purdue athletic director Morgan Burke at the Big Ten meetings and we discussed their transition in basketball from Gene Keady to Matt Painter.

We talked about the benefits of Painter serving one year as an assistant under Keady — to learn the ropes — before taking over the program himself. That sold me on the process.

Over a period of time, I got together with Bret and we just talked; whether it was in my office, on the field or during our noonhour walks to Picnic Point.

That gave me a feel for how he would handle certain things. I finally said, "You know what? I'm planning on stepping down as head coach. I like what you've done. I want you to be the next head coach here."

I think he was thrilled and dumbfounded.

Bret later said, "When Barry first threw that out at me, we were alone and yet we weren't — we were still in a public environment with people around us, and I didn't know whether to high five or hug him.

"There was so much emotion. It took me by surprise. I still can't remember exactly what happened. I was caught totally off-guard."

I don't ever want Bret looking over his shoulder.

This is his show.

"Go with your heart, go with what you believe," I told him, "and have a little vision and confidence in what you see.

"Don't be overwhelmed. Don't make it bigger than what it is. This job is about solving problems and breaking them down to their simplest form."

Seems to me another young coach — who was taking over a college program for the first time — got the same advice from Lou Holtz.

It seemed to work out.

Returning All-American Craig Henning led the Badgers with a 29-10 record last season.

The Wisconsin wrestling team launches its 2006-07 campaign with 16 returning letterwinners, some excellent transfers and an acclaimed group of young freshmen. If these groups can blend together, the Badgers should develop into a solid team by tournament time.

Head coach Barry Davis returns five NCAA qualifiers from a year ago, including junior All-American Craig Henning at 157 pounds. Henning led the Badgers with a 29-10 record last season.

Senior captain Tyler Turner, a two-time NCAA qualifier, returns at 149 pounds. Turner placed fourth at the Big Ten championships and was one win away from placing at the NCAAAs.

Junior transfer Danny Clum was a two-time NCAA qualifier at 157 pounds at Wyoming. He's joined by talented newcomers Trevor Brandvold and Aaron Hart.

Brandvold (River Falls, Wis.) was tabbed the No. 1 wrestler at 189 pounds by three publications. Hart (St. Paris, Ohio) was a two-time state champion and three-time Ironman Wrestling tournament champion. He's listed at 125 pounds for the Badgers.

Employ a University of Wisconsin Student-Athlete

A message to all business people in our Wisconsin community:

Employ a person who knows about responsibility, hard work, organization and being a team player, hire a Badger-student athlete.

Place our athletes in either labor jobs or internship type office positions with the opportunity for advancement after graduation. We believe that this program is mutually beneficial to our athletes as well as to employers during their heavy work times.

It is through the support of dedicated volunteers that the University's sports program is so successful. No group better represents this commitment than Bucky's Ambassadors. This group of volunteers spends hours leading tours, handing out schedules and posters at games, assembling media kits and direct mail projects, acting as hosts and crowd controllers at special events, and many other personal and group activities. Look for the Ambassadors dressed in their Bucky jackets or red Badger vests at each Badger game. Thank them for a job well done. If you're interested in joining the Ambassadors, please call 608-262-7425.

2006 GRIDIRON SERIES

Beginning this season, several classic covers from the University of Wisconsin football game day programs will be produced as posters in 'The Gridiron Series' and made available for purchase for your home or office.

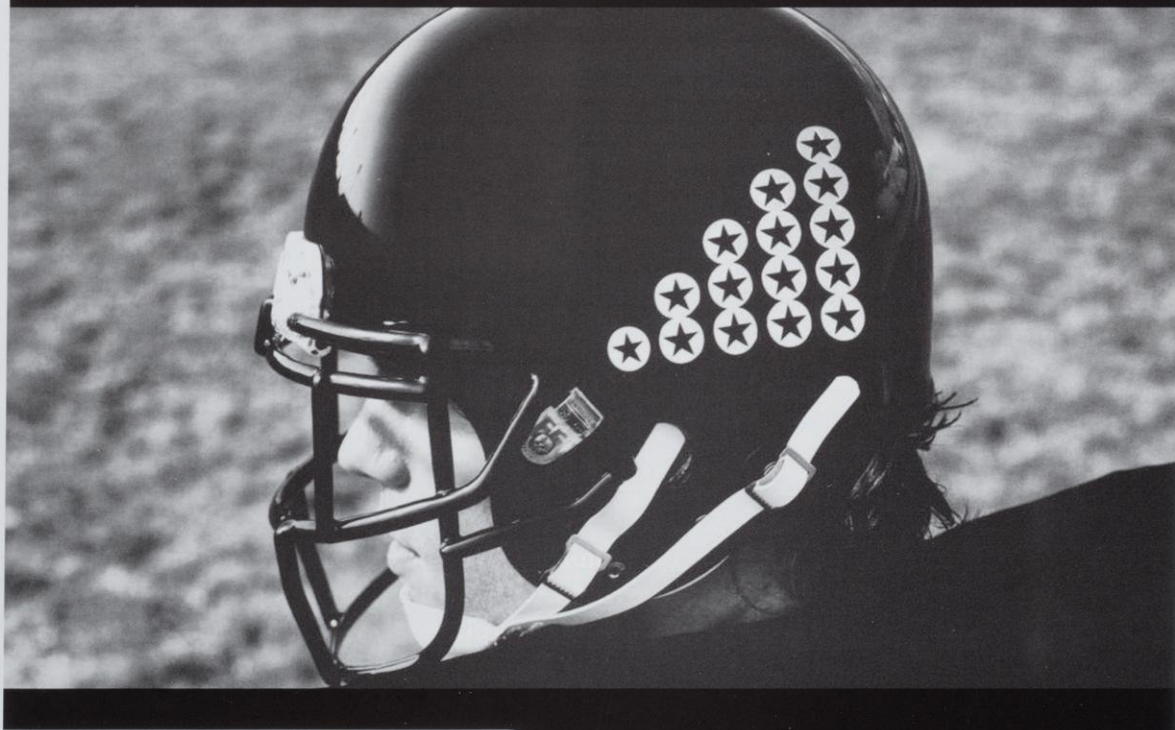

This gorgeous, limited edition artwork from the 1920s through the 1940s will be reproduced as 16x20-inch posters and note cards. The 20-item collection will be released in four stylistically different posters per season over the next five years. The images represent different decades as well as feature schools like Marquette that no longer sponsor football.

Discover Wisconsin's illustrious past and enjoy this beautiful and collectible art. The elegant note card sets include three of each of the season's four images for a total of 12 cards and envelopes. Use them as unique birthday, special event or holiday greeting cards.

The Gridiron Series posters cost $18 individually, or purchase the season's series of four for $60. The note cards are $15 per package. View the 2006 collection and order your vintage posters today at uwbadgers.com/vintage_posters.

Bring your strengths to the table

Offensive tackle and academic All-Big Ten pick Joe Thomas, left, may have size, strength and youth on his side, but Bob Curry ('50 BS L&S), right, has nearly seven decades of Badger football history to share. Both have a strong desire to win.

Bob was not quite a teenager when his father, Robert Curry Sr., first brought him to Camp Randall. In 2000, Bob established the Robert Curry Family Endowed Scholarship in remembrance of those Saturdays with his dad.

Your gifts to support an existing scholarship, or to endow a new scholarship, strengthen all Badgers sports and make a difference in the life of a talented Badger student-athlete. Through an endowment, your gift is invested to provide annual income while the principal is conserved. Thanks to you, Wisconsin's winning tradition will continue into the future.

Joe Thomas is the recipient of the Robert J. Curry Family Endowed Scholarship. He is a senior from Brookfield, Wisconsin, majoring in real estate and urban land economics in the School of Business at the University of Wisconsin-Madison.

The University of Wisconsin Foundation is the official fund-raising and gift-receiving organization for the UW-Madison. The Foundation works with the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics to offer donors a variety of gift options, including deferred gifts.
