PHILLIPS WILL OPEN BIDS ON UNION FRIDAY

Estimate of Successful Contractor to be Sent to Regents

Friday evening, September 24, at three o'clock, Business Manager J. D. Phillips sits down to a pleasant task of opening bids from contractors for the construction of two units, commons and Union units, of the new Memorial Union building. Sixty sets of plans and specifications for the building have been in the hands of contractors for the past four weeks, and Friday's bids will come in as a result of their figuring.

On Tuesday, September 23, the regents' Executive committee will meet to consider the bid which Mr. Phillips will present as that of the lowest bidder for the job, and the regents will consider the authorization of a contract.

Regents' Approval Required

Between Friday and Tuesday, State Architect Peabody will be asked to check the bid of the winning contractor to make sure that it meets contract specifications. Following this the regents will be asked to approve the contract.

Immediately thereafter, Union officials say, the contractor will move onto the site and construction on these two units, three quarters of the total building, will begin. It is estimated that the contractor will arrive shortly after October 1, and that construction operations will continue throughout the fall and winter. This is necessitated by the fact that only 18 months is allowed in the bid for the completion of the entire contract by the general contractor. This will mean that the Union will be opened and in operation in the fall of 1928, as the last six months will be needed to furnish the building.

Work Started Nov. 11

Construction on the Memorial Union has been under way since last November 11, when President Glenn Frank turned the first shovel of dirt at a great public demonstration. The last of the work on the foundations, now to be seen on Langdon street, was completed by a sub-contractor late in August. For the coming two years construction on the Union site will be continuous.

CARDINAL DRIVE TO BE CONTINUED

Subscription Solicitors Will Cover Campus for One More Week

Subscriptions for the Daily Cardinal will be taken by solicitors in the principal buildings of the campus the rest of this week, it was announced yesterday by Robert W. Eschmeyer, '27 business manager of the paper.

Subscriptions are $3 for route deliveries, and $3.50 for copies which are to be sent by mail. This is the same price as has been charged for several years. Seven copies may be obtained for the price of six if they are all delivered at the same address, the business office announced.

Today's issue marks the first circulation to the regular paid subscription list. Yesterday's Cardinal was circulated without charge, but the regular routes began with this morning's issue. Mr. Eschmeyer announced yesterday that paid subscriptions had gone over 2,100 mark, which is considered an unusual total for this early in the year.

Positions for all students except entering freshmen are available in the editorial and business offices of the Cardinal in the Union building, 772 Langdon Street.

GRAMMAR NEW FOOD AT OLD RESTAURANT

No longer will students imbibe mere nourishing food at 701 Langdon street, for the university this summer bought the corner building for a place in which to serve sub-freshman English, according to G. A. Chandler, assistant secretary of the faculty, who yesterday divulged the fact that the nectar of intellectual learning will in future be served on the site of the former restaurant.

The sub-freshman students cannot find a place in Bascom hall for the increase in enrollment makes conditions so crowded that many Letters and Science students will find themselves scheduled to classes in Agricultural hall and the Engineering building.

The new headquarters for sub-freshman English will house not only the classes but also the teachers and officers of the department.

BASCOM ADDITION CAUSES CHANGES

Old Building Being Remodeled; Offices and Class-rooms Taken Out

The opening of the new school year this morning finds a great number of important changes in class regulations on the campus, caused by the steady headway being made on the new Bascom hall addition. The removal of several class rooms, of offices of the English and Speech departments, and of the large center staircase has added more congestion to the already crowded conditions in the building, according to George Chandler, secretary of the faculty, making many alterations necessary.

Among the required changes was the necessity of finding new quarters for holding classes which formerly met in these rooms. This the university is taking care of by remodeling the buildings on the southwest corner of Langdon and Lake streets so that classes may be held there. All sub-freshman English sections and quiz sections of Prof. Fish's course in History 4 will meet in these buildings, said M. Chandler.

While this remodeling work is taking place to remove crowded class conditions, it is easily noticeable that work on the new addition in Bascom hall are moving rapidly. The staircase which was removed will be replaced by a new fireproof steel case terrazzo stairs as soon as the new material arrives from St. Paul where it is being contracted. ## KAPPA DELTA SORORITY FIRST IN SCHOLARSHIP

Miss Annie B. Kirch, university statistician reports that an error was made in the average of the Kappa Delta sorority scholastic average reported in yesterday's edition of the Daily Cardinal. The correct average of the sorority for the past semester is 1.940. The change in figures places the sorority in first place among the social group.

NEW DORMITORIES INITIATED BY FIRST FROSH RIOT YESTERDAY

An all night jubilee of a group of freshmen in the men's dormitories early yesterday morning wound up in a water fight between two groups of the hilarious frosh. The principal damage was the loss of a good night's rest for practically every man in the dormitory.

A group of men in Adams hall, whose youthful spirits had been confined to the sedate decorum of university registration for four days, decided about midnight to stage a noise party. The initial song rendered by lusty male voices and accompanied by the drone of two saxophones, a clarinet and several other noise-making instruments brought forth yells of protest from

DEFINITE TICKET RULES ANNOUNCED BY GEORGE LEVIS

Manager Enumerates Conditions to Clear Up All Misunderstandings

In order to clear up misunderstandings which still exist concerning the method of application for football tickets this fall, George Levis, manager of ticket sales, yesterday issued the following rules:

1. There will be no mail order for the first game with Cornell. Tickets will be on sale at the ticket office at 711 Langdon street, beginning Monday, September 27, up till 11 o'clock Saturday morning. After that time no student rates will be allowed and all seats purchased at Camp Randall will be at the one open sale price—$1.00.

2. Mail orders for the remaining games will close ten days before each game.

3. All orders received from now until the first mail September 23 will be filed as of Sept. 23 in the order with which they are drawn from the pile.

4. Mail orders may be made for one or any number of games at one time.

5. Students may purchase one ticket at 50 cents and one additional at $2.50 for conference games or one additional at $2.00 for the Kansas game. Single purchasers of student tickets will give the holder a seat in the student section. A purchase of two tickets will place the student in the student plus section.

6. Any number of games may be ordered on one application blank.

7. Fee cards must accompany all orders.

8. Enclose a self addressed envelope. (Continued on page ten)

HOLD W. S. G. A. PAGEANT FOR INCOMING WOMEN

The W. S. G. A. Pageant will be given at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening in Lathrop concert room. All new women students are cordially invited.

Octy Out Oct. 6 With Customary Short Features

The initial issue of the Octopus, the Wisconsin humor magazine, will appear on the campus on October 6, according to Bertram Dolan '27, business manager. Following the custom of last year, the Octopus material will be uniformly short in length, two and three line jokes and light verse being especially featured.

The cover is by John Allcott and Irv Tressler, and depicts a Reel College Man, evidently an undergraduate at Klieg University at Hollywood, California. Another feature will be an article, "Around the Round Table," a good-knight story for children.

New writers and artists are needed by the magazine, said Don Trenary, L2, editor, and will be welcomed at the new Octopus office on the third floor of the Union building any afternoon after 3:30.

Homes of Six Greek Letter Societies Nearing Completion

BASCOM DISCARDS AGED ENTRANCE STEP

Steps that have been worn down by the tread of thousands and thousands of students since 1857, will no more submit to the grinding of the heels and soles of countless students, for a brand new stoop has placed at the entrance to Bascom hall. Not only has a new step been put there, but new doors have found their way to the entrance.

At the instigation of G. A. Chandler, assistant secretary of the faculty, the old double action doors with a proclivity to hitting students as they went in and out of the building, have been replaced by new grained oak doors that pull out, not in.

The new doors give a 60 per cent greater entrance space than did the old ones, and eliminate the possibility of accidents.

KOEHRING HEADS DAD'S DAY WORK

Students Are Asked to Send Invitations to Fathers Now

Announcement has been made by President Glenn Frank of the appointment of Calvin Koehring '27 as chairman of Fathers' Day. Koehring is a member of Theta Chi fraternity and has been active in campus affairs for the past three years. The date for Fathers' day, Oct. 30, was announced last spring by Dr. H. C. Bradley, faculty chairman.

Other members of the committee appointed yesterday by the president include Prof. O. L. Kowalke, Prof. T. L. Jones, D. L. Halverson, and A. F. Gallistel for the faculty, and Vernon Carrier '27, Arthur Wegner '27, Charles McGinnis '27, Joseph McCartney '27, Harry McAndrews L3, and Porter Butts for the students.

A meeting of the committee will be held in the near future, according to Dr. Bradley, at which time preliminary plans will be discussed. According to present indications, a similar program to that of last year will be planned.

As Fathers' day is little more than a month away, Koehring has asked that students write to their fathers at once inviting them to visit Madison for the week end of Oct. 30. "President Frank is preparing an invitation to the fathers which will be sent out in a short while," Koehring said, "but we hope that each student also will invite his or her father."

A special treat is in store for the fathers this year in the fact that Wisconsin is to play her old rival, Minnesota, on Saturday of the fathers' week end, Koehring stated.

Carl Russell Fish to Head Speakers at Frosh Banquet

Professor Carl Russell Fish, who has made himself well known to the students of the university because of his contagious humor, green vest, and ready wit, will enliven the proceedings at the freshman banquet which will be held tonight at 6 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A.

Walter Rogers '29, president of the sophomore commission, has arranged a program which will include musical offerings and speeches by prominent upperclassmen. Jeff Burrus '27, will greet the newcomers on behalf of the upperclassmen and advise them in regard to their university careers. The Y. M. C. A. will be represented by its president John Gillin '27, David MacPherson '27, will provide the music for the affair, which is the first event of the season for the members of the class of '30.

Many Chapters at New Addresses as Result of Wholesale Moving

Six new homes of Greek letter societies, costing an aggregate of $360,000, are still in various stages of completion at the opening of the fall semester. Five of the new homes are being built for sororities, and all of them are clustered in upper Langdon street, virtually forming a new sorority center.

In addition to the building projects undertaken, there has been a wholesale shifting of addresses among the Greeks. Theta Phi Alpha sorority has taken up headquarters at 523 N. Carroll street, eta Kappa fraternity has moved from its old chapter house to 138 Gilman street to the house at 135 Langdon street, which is being remodelled by them. Beta Phi Alpha sorority is now occupying the old Delta Pi Delta house at 519 N. Henry Street, the old chapter house being at 210 Princeton avenue.

Alpha Chi Omega's Finished

The Alpha Chi Omega house, the only one now finished, was occupied last week. It was started in the spring by C. B. Fritz company and was completed but a short time ago. The old Alpha Chi Omega home was moved to the rear of that sorority's lot where it was bought and remodelled by the Beta Sigma Omicron sorority.

Two other houses being built by the same construction company in the new sorority rendezvous are the Phi Mu and the Kappa Delta house at 222 and 252 Langdon street respectively. Both of these houses are expected to be ready by the beginning of the second semester. The Phi Mu house, English in architecture, was designed by the firm Law, Law, and Potter; the plans of the new Elizabethan home of the Kappa Deltas were drawn by Myron Pugh.

The second semester is also the time set for the completion of the (Continued on page eleven)

TO DEDICATE NEW LUTHERAN CHURCH

$100,000 Structure Will be Officially Opened Sunday, Sept. 26

The new $100,000 Calvary Lutheran University church across from the lower campus will be dedicated next Sunday, September 26, according to Rev. Ad. Haentzschel. Except for small details the new building will be completed by that date. The dedicatory program consisting of three services and including a recital on the Wangerin organ will be announced later.

Built in the 14th century style of Tudor Gothic architecture from Madison sandstone, the new church seats 350 people. A wing contains the parsonage, the student council office, and a lounging and reading room. Located close to the university, it will be possible for students to lounge in the attractive reading room with its timbered ceiling and large stone fireplace, at any time of the day or evening, Rev. Haentzschel declared yesterday.

The castle-like construction has made the new chapel particularly attractive and many observers have declared that the 70 foot tower designed by Hugo Hauser, Milwaukee architect, is the most striking piece of church architecture in Madison.

The Wisconsin and Missouri Lutheran Synods have contributed jointly towards the construction of the church for Lutheran students attending the university. Since the founding of the local organization under Rev. Haentzschel six years ago, services have been held in the hall above the old Co-op building and in the Esther Vilas hall of the Y. W. C. A.

PRINCESS PAT BAND HERE ON GOOD-WILL TOUR

Every Member a War Hero
Decorated at Least Four Times

"The crack band of Canada," has been given permission by the Canadian government to make a short good-will tour in America. Madison is one of the cities that has been included in its itinerary. The band appears here tonight at Madison Central high school.

As Madison is a city known throughout Wisconsin for its interest in things musical and as the band program has always drawn the largest houses it is expected that the band of Princess Patricia will not be playing to any empty seats tonight. According to Capt. McBlaine of the band, other cities are giving it receptions which are heart warming. Duluth gave it an audience of 5,000 people. At St. Paul many people were unable to gain admittance. At Chicago, where the band will play next Sunday, the house is now sold out.

Capt. McBlaine is the official representative of the Canadian government and is keeping a detailed report of the band's visit to the States. This will be included in the regimental history of the Princess Pat.

Every member of the Princess Pat band has been awarded for bravery not less than four times. There is perhaps no group of 33 men who have seen more of the horrors of war and been thru thicker fighting than this group which will spend a day in Madison. The history of the Princess Pat regiment is a history known throughout the world. Practically annihilated twice

38 JUNIORS ENROLL IN LIBRARY SCHOOL

Thirty-eight members of the class of '27, representing twelve different states, have enrolled in the university library school this semester. Eighteen of the students are residents of Wisconsin. Some members of the class are from such distant states as California, Colorado, and North Carolina.

it was repleted the third time from the University of Canada. Only there could it find men who were willing to enlist in a regiment that had twice been reduced to less than 300 and which was serving as shock troops for the allied forces. It was composed originally of the picked men of Canada, all said to be six feet tall and perfect specimens of entertainments, and the Devereaux players giving a number of plays physical manhood. The British Empire states recognize it as filled with some of the greatest heroes of all times.

In its program tonight the band has included The Bells of St. Malo and other numbers requiring chimes. In these numbers it will use a set of English chimes made especially for them and given to it by King George.

At the British Empire exposition held in London recently the band was given the place of honor in the Central pavilion. It was chosen by Prince of Wales for the grand closing exercises of the Exposition. The band is dressed in British red coats patterned after those worn years ago but faced with sky-blue of the French. The French government has given permission for the use of this color which is used by the French National band and is worn by the Canadians as a tribute to the heroic fighting of the French during the war.

Tickets to the concert of Princess Pat band are on sale at Hook Bros. until 5:30. At 7 p. m. they will be on sale at the Auditorium door of the high school.

Keep Cool, Young and Verdant Frosh

The phenomenal growth of fraternities and sororities at Wisconsin, which means now houses and increased memberships, has added to the rushing season an intensity and zealotry such as has never before characterized the annual pledging grabfest. Some fraternities, with new houses which resemble medieval castles, are faced with the prospect of getting as many as 25 pledges, and they have already been in Madison for one or two weeks, getting their rushing machinery in action. One fraternity quit rushing a couple of days ago, having already achieved its quota of 21 pledges.

This fierce competition for new material among the Greek letter societies does one thing to the incoming freshmen which is not right. It makes heroes out of them. Some freshmen haven't had to pay for a meal check or theater ticket since they came here a week ago. They have been feted, solicited, and made to feel like little gods mounted on pedestals. They have had paraded before their eyes splendid fraternity mansions and fireplace mantel boards lined with cups, and they have smoked enough cigarettes and drunk enough orange punch to make them woozy. It is little wonder that then, that after the sixth or seventh flattering fraternity bid, some of these flustered rushees, fresh from their high school activities, should feel that they were made of something other than the common clay.

All of which is a rather disillusioning introduction to the real college life, for the real life is starting this morning. The "rush" is a period of undignified confusion and a breeder of much ill feeling between organizations. Freshmen would do well to forget about fraternity bids as much as possible for the next few days in an effort to get themselves started off in the scholastic year on the right foot. They must get themselves in a different state of mind, and must be prepared to receive a few criticisms instead of sugared flatteries.

English instructors are going to slash freshmen theses unmercifully, regardless of how many fraternities have been after the writers of them. Instructors are paid to disseminate knowledge, and fraternity rushing doesn't bother them. Therefore, you elated freshmen who are wearing the pledge pins of "rating" fraternities must not feel put out when some heartless pedagogue tells you your grammar is bad, or that your knowledge of mathematics is inadequate. You will find that the faculty will give you a square deal and that it will co-operate with you in giving you an education. Remember one thing—your parents sent you down here to get an education, and attention to the regular curricular activity is paramount in importance above all else.

We are glad to have you with us, and we want you to enter into your scholastic work with the really serious minded intention to get the wonderful things which this school has to offer. Some of you have been looking forward to the opportunity to get an education. The opportunity is at hand (and we want you to feel as one of us when you climb the hill this morning and resume the climb toward knowledge which was interrupted three months ago by summer vacation.

Dormitories and Wisconsin Spirit

The new men's dormitories which were just completed are destined to play an important part in the development of the true Wisconsin spirit, and the freshmen who are quartered there are indeed fortunate. Up until this time, the fraternity houses have been the most important factor in the housing situation here, but now 500 men can get their introduction to Wisconsin life through the dormitories.

There is no antagonism between fraternities and dormitories, but rather a connection which will in the long run improve the fraternities and the Wisconsin spirit in general. Every freshman who enters Wisconsin owes his first allegiance to his school, and many fraternities, realizing the justice of this, have inserted the following motto in their rituals: Alma Mater First and Fraternity Second. This motto is idealistic and under the present rushing and pledging system at Wisconsin it is rarely put into practise. Freshmen are rushed into the mad whirl of fraternity and sorority life, and they are given to understand that allegiance to their particular group is important above all else.

But that is not the right spirit. From the viewpoint of those who desire an outstanding college spirit, it is essential that loyalty to the university should come first. In aiding the development of this spirit, the dormitories will be of inestimable service. They will carry a large part of the freshmen through their impressionable first year. The newcomers will be basked in the spirit of Wisconsin. They must live in the dormitories and eat in the Commons for at least the first year. This insures good results. It enforces a wider acquaintance than would otherwise exist, and gives the student a chance to get his bearings amongst his fellows, before he is swallowed up by the demands of a fraternity organization. The dormitory system will give the freshmen an opportunity to adjust themselves before the separation of the sheep from the goats takes place. The dormitories will serve as a training school in the development of Wisconsin spirit. Freshmen who live in the dormitories this year will make better fraternity sophomores next year as a result of this training under able group leaders.

The dormitory is an all-university institution. In one year, the freshman can lay a broad foundation for associations which will last him throughout his college career. Even if he goes into a fraternity his sophomore year, he will have his contacts outside of the fraternity which will insure him a wide circle of friends. This is a good thing, because if the student is allowed up in the fraternity life at the very start, he is given very little opportunity to make lasting association outside of his own group, except through the medium of outside activities.

Sororities and fraternities because of the very nature of their organizations, are sufficient unto themselves and it is hard for them not to be selfish. They have their own ends to gain—their new house, a social "rating" on the campus, and the ambitions of their own members. All of this tends to develop a group consciousness which is detrimental to the normal development of Wisconsin spirit.

It is not our intention to place a stigma on fraternities and sororities, because we believe they have an important place in university life, and we look forward to an enlightened fraternity life on this campus in the future. In justice to the fraternities we must say that as national organizations they have fine ideals. They stand for high scholarship and true manhood and womanliness. They give scholarships to both women and men, they support campus activities, and furnish superior talent to man these activities. They give generously to all good causes, both in time and money. There is nothing wrong with their ideals. But somewhere, there has been a slip. Either the ideal is not inclusive enough, or there is some dread hiatus between the ideal and its realization by the various chapters. Perhaps it is an ideal which, when reserved for the few, tends to selfishness and snobbery. In the past it certainly has not tended toward the solidifying and developing of the college as a whole or toward the creating of that intangible virtue of academic life—college spirit.

But now we feel that that condition is a thing of the past, and we hail the coming of the men's dormitories with great joy and optimism. We think that the dormitories, by feeding the fraternities with men steeped in the spirit of Wisconsin, will aid the Greek letter houses in actually putting in practise the motto, "Alma Mater First, and Fraternity Second."

Anent Sorority Rushing

Usually all comment on Wisconsin women is reserved for use during the Spring months, when young men's fancies turn to the proverbial thoughts of love, but we cannot restrain ourselves from making some mention of the new women even before school has started.

It is impossible to walk up Langdon without encountering some sorority rushee being walked home from a tea drinking bout. Even the men have been caught up in the rush. Two of D. Z.'s most susceptible waiters are reported to have swooned while serving a "Hotel Dinner" to guests last evening.

Society note: A Daily Cardinal statistician reports that eighty per cent of the rushees are wearing charming black dresses this year, and that dark reds and blues are popular among the women of '30 (not age).

DEEPLY AND DARKLY I HAD DISCUSSED COEDUCATION WITH THE DEAR OLD LADY. AT LAST SHE SAID, "NOW TELL ME, WHICH ARE REALLY THE WORST—THE MEN OR THE WOMEN?"

"OH," SAYS I, SPITTING A SAVAGE CUD, "IT SEEMS TO BE NECK AND NECK."

At this psychological moment, I wish to make a few suggestions as to these entrance examinations. If the suggestions are belated, at least they may serve for next year.

IT WOULD WEED OUT A FEW MORE UNDESIRABLES SHOULD A FEW QUESTIONS SUCH AS THE FOLLOWING BE USED:

MATHEMATICS

1. If your roommate has a Ford roadster and you meet two coeds, what arrangement is necessary to avoid having garters or knees show?

2. If your roommate has new ties, what are the chances in favor of your wearing them without his knowledge, assuming that he sees you for 1-2 hours daily?

ENGLISH

1. Find the error in this sentence: 'Coeds do not smoke.'

2. Conjugate the verb to pet in all moods and tenses.

3. What is meant by "alky," "I A," "pipe," and "rushee"?

HISTORY

1. Give time of last three dates.

2. At what college did the habit of going without garters originate?

3. Who started the Charleston movement?

4. Did Christopher Columbus say "Land, Land," when he discovered America? What was his inflection?

5. What is meant by the Swiss movement?

And for today it's au revoir, but not goodbye.

SUMMER STUDENTS HAD MANY OPPORTUNITIES FOR WORK, PLAY

With an estimated enrollment of 5,040, a slight increase over that of last year, the annual university summer session reigned on the campus during the months of June, July and August.

A number of different courses were open to those who sought summer education, varying in length from Coach Little's short-term coaching course to the ten week term of the Law school. Subject matter ranged from rural technology to special instruction for factory workers.

Diversion from the more serious things of college was not lacking—who was it that dubbed the Wisconsin summer school a glorified country club? The principle amusements were aquatic, swimming, canoeing and yachting vying with each other for popularity. Picnicking, tennis, and trips to the Wisconsin dells were much in favor also.

The only all-university function held during the summer was the the Daily Cardinal Water Carnival which was staged at the university pier on July 24. "Al" Bearder '27, sports editor of the summer Daily Cardinal, was chairman of the event, and had as his assistants, Russel Peteron '28, Arthur Doble '27, Frederick Young '27, Clayton Braatz '28, Ray Bartlett '28, Carol Biba '27, and Jo H. McCartney '27. Dick Ratcliff '27, was high point of the meet, and "Chuck" McGinnis '27, was second.

The session was marred by a bus accident in which about 15 students were injured. The 15 were members of a student excursion to the dells, returning via the bus to Madison, when the bus went down an embankment near Baraboo.

A number of lectures vied with the classrooms in dispensing knowledge, there being approximately a dozen a week. The summer session had its share of dramatics, the Outdoor theatre presenting four en- in the open air theatre.

Tells Health Secrets Over WIBA Radio

Mrs. Blair Gives Recipe For Her Vitality Cocktail

Mrs. Margaret Josephine Blair, health and beauty expert, who gave the first of a series of two talks at the Parkway theater this morning under the auspices of The Capital Times, outlined the program of her talks in a short address over the radio from WIBA, The Capital Times and Strand theater station, last night, and gave to her listeners her vitality "cocktail."

"Take just the yolk of one egg," Mrs. Blair, a dancing grandmother of 65 said, "the juice of one or two oranges, the juice of half a lemon, and a teaspoon full of honey. Beat these ingredients together and drink it every morning. And never eat cooked eggs, for eggs contain sulphur, and sulphur foods, when cooked, cause indigestion.

"I was ill for many years," she declared, "and was told that I would never become well. But I commenced correct exercises and right foods after I was 55, and today at 65 I am 100 per cent in health.

"Wednesday I will give a beauty lecture, how to care for the body from the feet to the head, how to remove wrinkles, and how to become a beautiful, wholesome woman, for when we are well we radiate happiness. At that time I will also give some more of my cocktails, one for the complexion, one for courage, and one for rest and sleep.

"We all love health," Mrs. Blair concluded, "which brings beauty and happiness, and in these lectures I will tell you how to attain all those things."

Police Driver Who Was Wounded Back On Duty

Police Chauffeur Patrick J. Burke, who was shot on the night of Aug. 20 by T. J. "Tom" Rogers, Madison bond salesman whom he was taking to the county jail, returned to his work at the police station today.

Only a slight trace, a faint red mark, remains to show where the two bullets from Roger's small calibre revolver entered the side of Mr. Burke's head. Rogers has been committed to the state hospital for the criminal insane.

The Fall Style for the Campus

The style most college men have decided to wear for Fall—a 3 button coat with high lapels, good width to the shoulders; full lines throughout. It's as easy to wear as any suit you've ever gotten into. And it's absolutely correct—it has the Society Brand cut.

TOP-NOTCH STAFF TO COACH BADGER BASKETBALL TEAM

Add "Doc" Spooner to Staff;
Three Will Assist
Meanwell

Bolstered by the addition of Dwight "Doc" Spooner, forward on the Badger quintette in 1922-23-24, the Wisconsin hardwood trampers this season should make a strong bid for Western Conference honors under the tutelage of Dr. Walter E. Meanwell and a staff of three assistants.

Comes from Iowa
"Doc" has returned to Madison to continue in the Medical school. Spooner, whose home is at Luverne, Ia., will assist with the freshmen squad and spend some time with Meanwell on the varsity.

Staff Ranks High
The appointment of Spooner brings the number of the basketball coaching staff up to four, which is without doubt the most capable group in the Big Ten. The Cardinal cage staff now includes Dr. W. E. Meanwell, basketball's leading mentor, Leg Gage, Guy Sundt, and Dwight Spooner.

FROSH BASKETEERS GATHER TOMORROW

All Freshmen interested in basketball to meet tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock and Friday evening at 7:30 in the Men's gym, it was again announced by Coach Les Gage, who stressed the importance of the meet. Yearling basketeers are urged to heed the notice.

COUNTRY EYES BIG PHILADELPHIA TILT

Dempsey Favored Over Tunney
in Wall Street
Wagers

PHILADELPHIA—Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, will step into the ring here tomorrow night with wagers much in his favor when he defends his crown against Gene Tunney.

Wall street wagers that he would emerge from the battle still champion ran as high as 13 to 5 yesterday.

Both Await Gding
Both pugilists assert that they are in the proverbial "pink of condition" and appear anxious to respond to the gong.

Their intense efforts of Jack Kearns, Dempsey's former manager, to balk the country-eyed event, seems to effect the champion very little. Kearns wants $333,333.33.

Promotion of this $2,000,000 show, about which legal suits simmer, has put a few wrinkles on the brow of Tex Rickard.

As a guarantee against "attachment or anything else" the famous promoter has taken out $1,000,000 worth of insurance to see the fight is staged tomorrow.

N. W. PLAYS IN NEW STADIUM OCTOBER 2
Evanston—Followers of the Purple football warriors will have access to 25,000 seats in the new Northwestern university stadium on October 2, when the "Wildcats" clash with South Dakota. By October 23, when Notre Dame comes here, another 12,000 seats will have been added. On completion of the Purple athletic plant the seating capacity will run into the 80,000 figure, giving Northwestern one of the finest and largest stadiums in the country.

LITTLE IS PLEASED WITH SCRIMMAGE

4 GRIDDERS FACING EXAMS, ELIGIBILITY

Barnum, Rose, Kurth and Kasiska Included in List

Four candidates of the Wisconsin football team must write examinations before their eligibility to compete is determined, according to information received.

Those included on the list are, Rolfe Barnum, star back; Gene Rose, sophomore half-back from Racine; J. J. Kurth, Madison line-man of great promise and Bob Kasiska, guard on last year's eleven.

Determination on the part of these four candidates to earn a berth on the Cardinal football wagon leads one to believe that their hopes for success will materialize.

Pennants Appear to be Cinched by Yanks and Cards

Although defeated yesterday by Brooklyn, 4 to 3, the St. Louis Cardinals retained their lead of two games over Cincinnati, as the Reds received their third successive drubbing from the lowly Braves and their second straight shutout, 4 to 0.

With only four games remaining to be played by both St. Louis and Cincinnati, it looks more and more as if the Cardinals can consider the championship theirs for the first time since way back in the '80's, for, should the Reds win all four of their remaining games, the Cards need but two of four to ensure a tie, and three to win. In that event the final standing would be:

|------------|----|----|------|
| St. Louis  | 90 | 64 | .578 |
| Cincinnati | 89 | 65 | .571 |

In the American league, the Yanks swamped Eddie Collins' White Sox, 14 to 0, while Cleveland defeated Boston, 6 to 1. The Indians made a gallant fight in the last two weeks, and if the schedule were long enough might overtake New York, but with only five games remaining, and with the handicap of being three games behind, they, like Cincinnati, seem definitely "out."

However, should Cleveland win its remaining five, it is only necessary that the Yanks win three of theirs to cinch matters, making the final result:

|           |    |    |      |
|-----------|----|----|------|
| New York  | 92 | 62 | .597 |
| Cleveland | 91 | 63 | .591 |

FIRST YEAR GRIDDERS WILL GET EQUIPMENT

Glenn Holmes, new Freshman football coach, has announced the first practice sessions for the yearlings as Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Coach Holmes has asked all freshmen interested in working in football to call on him and receive an equipment order. Equipment will be issued at Camp Randall tomorrow and Friday.

Mammoth Gate And Crowd For Fight

PHILADELPHIA—If the Dempsey-Tunney heavyweight battle Thursday night is a "sell-out"—and it was almost that today—the paid admissions will exceed by approximately $46,000 the highest previous attendance record for boxing. Tex Rickard figures that he will have 127,000 paying customers in the Sesqui Centennial stadium. The greatest number of paid admissions at any previous battle he said was 81,000 for the Firpo-Willard bout at Boyle's Thirty Acres, Jersey City in 1923.

Allowing for 5,000 employees, policemen, firemen, newspapermen and others who will not pay to go through the turnstiles, Rickard figures that 132,000 all told will see the 1926 fistic spectacle.

Few devices are so important to the housewife's comfort as the kitchen note book, hung with its pencil where she can note things to be ordered, as she thinks of them.

Faults Seen But Sprakling Attack Shown By Teams

Wisconsin's first and second football teams got together in a full-length, life-size, big league scrimmage yesterday afternoon at Camp Randall. Which was which, nobody seemed to know, but the team led by Captain Doyle Harmon triumphed over the one led by the slender sensation, Shaw, by a score of 9-7.

Harmon himself supplied the margin of victory by a place kick from the field after he had muffed a chance to tie the score on point after touchdown.

Blues Show Power
Though it boasted such worthies as Captain Harmon, Barnum, Hall, Burrus, and Cameron, the yellow-jerseyed eleven was pushed about pretty freely by its blue-clad opponents during the first half.

Rose and Shaw, both of whom may be suspected of coveting a cardinal jersey and a place in the line-up, furnished plenty of fireworks early in the battle. Both these men appeared in blue jerseys yesterday. They were aided by a scrappy line and a pair of powerful ends, Kelly and Welch by name.

Yellows Rip Through
In the second half, the yellow team turned the tables somewhat, ripping the lighter blue line for numerous short gains and varying the business with an occasional completed pass. It was in the second half that the yellows won the game for they had failed to score in the first two periods and were facing a 7-0 defeat at the half-time.

After they had received the initial kick-off the blues made short work of the 60 or 70 yards that separated them from the yellow goal line. A couple of well-executed passes, Rose to Welch, took care of nearly 50 of them.

Barnum is Injured
Then almost before the yellows had fully opened their eyes, Shaw corralled a long pass from Rose within a few yards of the line and went across for the first touchdown. Rose kicked goal.

The nucleus of a sparkling attack was evident in both teams throughout the game, but the men still need plenty of drilling on plays. Linemen on both sides got through frequently for tackles behind the lines, and it was a tough day for end-runners.

Little Seems Pleased
Though Head Coach George Little saw plenty of faults in the scrimmage, he was apparently pleased by the flashes of scoring power shown by both elevens.

All the men appeared far better on tackling than they were on blocking. When Hall or Kresky tried to go through what was supposed to be a hole in the enemy line, they usually found four or five blues waiting to greet them with open arms. It was the same or worse when Shaw called for a plunge.

Ends Do Best Work
Probably the best work of the day was done by the four ends, Burrus and Cameron, yellow, and Welch and Kelly, blue. All of them played wide-awake football throughout the fray, and everyone got into at least one sensational play. Kelly proved himself some reflection to the Rock of Gibraltar on defense, not permitting a single gain anywhere within five yards of his position.

Crofoot, last year's varsity quarterback, and Mansfield, sophomore full-back, did not play yesterday. Both are temporarily laid up with injuries, but their return to uniforms will strengthen the Badger front appreciably.

ISSUE CALL FOR FROSH BASKETBALL MANAGERS

First year students who would like to act as Freshmen basketball managers are requested to see Leg Gage, basketball coach and athletic publicity director in the Ticket Office building, 711 Langdon street, room 5.

HARRIERS PRACTICE FOR CHICAGO MEET

Calibre of Frosh Squad, Numbering 35, is Unknown

So far only 28 men have reported to Coach T. E. Jones for work on the varsity cross country squad, though close to 60 men or more were expected.

However, the smallness of the group has not caused the Coach to let down the slightest bit on the work, and though the men have been at it less than a week, the practices are daily becoming longer and harder.

Practice in Groups
Coach Jones is still anticipating the reporting of several new men, and is dividing the squad into several sections in order to allow the new men to go through the usual early light work.

There will be no time trials on hand for the men for several weeks yet, Coach Jones has until October 23 to condition his men for their first meet, which is with Chicago at Chicago.

Intramurals for Frosh
Freshmen are being issued lockers daily and it is expected that a squad of about 35 men will run in the numerous intramural meets during the fall. As yet, nothing is known definitely of the calibre of the 1923 men.

The following men have reported for varsity work:

Captain George Schultz, Victor John Petaja, McKee, Schwenger, Dubinsky, Buechner, Bullamore, Butz, Clarkson, Francke, Johannes, Minestrina, Neill, Payne, Ryden, Shafer, Stewart, Walter, Weiland, Wetzel, Williams, Williamson, Stanley Zola, and Hickisch.

Big Ten Machines Thrown Into Gear Within a Fortnight

Western Conference football coaches will shift the gears of their 1926 Big Ten gridiron machines into first on October 2, and will be traveling in high by October 16. The games scheduled for a week from next Saturday, like those on October 9, will be "survey" encounters. Western Conference fireworks start on October 16. Initial clashes of Big Ten schools, on October 2, follow:

Wisconsin vs. Cornell.
Michigan vs. Oklahoma A. and M.
Minnesota vs. North Dakota.
Iowa vs. Colorado State Teachers.
Ohio vs. Wittenberg.
Illinois vs. Coe.
Chicago vs. Florida.
Indiana vs. De Pauw.
Purdue vs. Navy.
All of the foregoing games will be played in Big Ten stadiums, except the Purdue-Navy game, which will take place at Annapolis.

Dempsey Now 13-5 Favorite Over Gene

NEW YORK—Jack Dempsey became a more pronounced favorite in Wall street for his title match with Gene Tunney, Wagers placed at odds of 13 to 5 on the heavyweight champion presented the longest yet registered. Several freak bets were recorded, one of them a wager of $1,500 to $9,000, or at odds of 1 to 6, that Tunney could not answer the bell for the third round. Another of $1,400 against $1,000 was made that the bout would not go the limit.

GREAT LIST OF PREP ATHLETES ENTERING SCHOOL

Men With Competitive Experience Start University Work at Wisconsin

According to university officials more than 800 freshmen with high school records will enroll in the university this fall, and that of this number 300 boys have had outstanding prep careers.

Among the most prominent of these include:

John Cavosie, of Ironwood, Mich. who last fall recorded a 55-yard drop kick, the longest of the year, and one of the greatest on record. He also is a punter who can average 60 yards and is a capable ball totter.

Arkansas Athlete

Herman McKaskle, the Arkansas ice man, who is not only an athlete but an exceptional student is another who has entered. McKaskle is a football, basketball and track man, and graduated with high honors. He worked his way through high school and expects to do so while in attendance at the university. McKaskle will work for a Ph. D. and a M. A., after finishing his undergraduate work.

Among the outstanding prep football stars who will enter are Steven Czrnecki, of Chicago, who stands five feet five inches in height and 180 pounds, William Nofsker, of DuBois, Pa., a 6 feet 4 inch lineman who tips the scales at 247 pounds; Dorr, Kyr, and Hanson, who were all-city men at Cleveland, Ohio; Nick Focareto, of Ashtabula, Ohio, who also shines at basketball, track and baseball; Larry Shoemaker, of Herrin, Ill., who was considered one of the best prep men ever turned out in southern Illinois; David Mack, a colored lad, who was one of the greatest Ohio athletes, his home is at Youngstown and Tom Davis, of Marion, Ind., is another star who will enter Wisconsin. Glenn Warner, famous coach of Stanford university, made an effort to get Davis to attend the western school.

Coach's Brother Here

Tom Lieb, new Badger assistant coach, has a brother, Phil, of Fari bault, Minn., who will begin school. Pat Mohardt, of Gary, Ind., a younger brother of the famous Johnny, of Notre Dame, comes to the university with an enviable high school record. From Georgetown university at Washington, Cuisinier, who made a great record in Chicago schools, and Mike Gentile, who attended Wisconsin for a year, will transfer. Robert Hartner, is another Chicagoan who will play freshman football. He is a 240 pound tackle.

Dr. W. E. Meanwell is getting a number of likely looking men for his future basketball fives. Haas and O'Conner, of Fargo, N. D., are two men who leave great careers behind them. O'Conner was selected as a member of the all-American high school team at Chicago last year, while Haas made the second five Two men who made the all-state quint here last year. Fishery, of Stevens Point, and Babler, of Monticello, will also enroll.

Track Men

The freshmen track team should loom powerful. Cooksey and Fromm are two star quarter-milers from Childers, Texas, while Moosehart, Ill., sends Vaughn and Hayes, two of their stars.

Two potential crew men who appear to be far above the average are Fisher, of New York, and Shannon, of Chicago. A third man, if he passes his entrance examinations, will be Baroussa, of Wyndot, Mich., who was a member of the crew which defeated Canada for the famous Ned Hanlon trophy.

Potential Athletes

Oppose Sale of City Lot on Lake Edge

Thornton Ave. Property Placed On Market By Council

Sale of the city-owned lot on the Lake Monona end of Thornton ave., adjacent to the park lands at the mouth of the Yahara river, will be opposed by members of the common council when it meets Friday night.

City Clerk Winckler has been authorized to advertise for bids. Alderman L. A. Clarke presented the resolution stating that an offer of $2,000 had been made by William Busse.

Members of the council are opposed to the sale of the lot on the grounds that it is a direct violation of the city's policy to acquire as much lake shore property as possible.

City officials have long been considering the appropriation of funds for the purpose of improving lake shore street ends which would give the city a series of small parks for the use of the public.

Tell Lions Club Of International Meet

Details of the convention of International Lion's clubs held recently in San Francisco were given by George E. Spohn and August J. Buenzli, members of the Madison Lions club who attended at the regular luncheon of the club at the Park hotel this noon.

Mr. Spohn found that the Madison club and its activities, particularly the Americanization work, was highly praised and that other clubs throughout the country were amazed at the remarkable record of the local club.

Both Mr. Spohn and Mr. Buenzli praised the order and operation of the convention, declaring that a large part of its success was due to President Ben Jones.

Miss Mary L. Gunter, Assistant Dean, Introduced Monday

Miss Mary Lee Gunter who has recently arrived in Madison to assume the former position of Dean Alice F. Miller was introduced to university students for the first time at the meeting for all sorority rushees held in the Biology building auditorium last Monday afternoon.

Panhellenic association sponsored the meeting with Mable Butler '27, presiding.

Dean F. Louis Nardin addressed the group and expressed the wish that all university women held the right attitude concerning sorority affiliations. She said "Sororities are homes for groups of congenial girls, and, as many believe, do not favor all that is undemocratic."

Marcella Eirman '28, Panhellenic chairman of hushing activities, explained carefully all of the rules which govern rushing functions.

Charlotte Wollaeger '28 extended a plea for "scholarship first" in preference to the temptation to expend much energy in social activities.

Each of the large group of rushees attending signed cards which will be filed and which can be referred to in case individual misunderstanding of rules occurs. This is a new system which the Panhellenic association has installed.

Reception and Tea Given by W. S. G. A. Honors Freshmen

The freshman woman has been the greatly honored guest in campus society recently. Last Sunday afternoon her junior adviser accompanied her to the tea sponsored by the Women's Self Government association and held from 3 to 6 o'clock in Lathrop parlors.

Those in the receiving line to greet her were Alice Brown '27, president of W. S. G. A., Dean F. Louise Nardin, Mrs. Clara Flett, Miss Susan Davis, and Miss Corilla Brodnax, new Y. W. C. A. secretary.

This was the first of a series of interesting functions which W. S. G. A. sponsors yearly to aid new students in meeting others. ### Smuggle Only Tunes Into U. S.

Thirty-three young men dressed in scarlet uniforms excited the interest and suspicion of the U. S. federal agents who have been on the jump lately to dam the flow of liquor into the United States.

The men were traveling via special train and were carrying mysteriously large cases. Upon opening the first, the federal agent found nothing more base than a drum; the next to his intense disappointment was a French horn which the owner swore had nothing in it but a tune. The officer could not even find that.

The troop was the Princess Pat band which plays in Central High school, and upon learning that it was the famous national band of Canada, formed from the heroic Princess Pat regiment picked from the Universities of Canada whose heroic daring made history in the late war, the officer declared that out of courtesy to this honored organization of our sister country, no further examination of baggage would be made.

The officer accepted the word of who has come to be one of my dearest college friends."

Urge Seniors to Fill Out Badger Cards Immediately

Although senior summary cards were given out during registration, many seniors and graduates have failed to get one. These blanks which are to be filled out and brought or mailed to the Badger office, 722 Langdon street, are the only record of your undergraduate activities and your graduate work. If you intend to have your summary and picture in the 1928 Badger, it is imperative that this record be filled out and mailed immediately.

Seniors are urged to make early appointments for their pictures with either the Badger or the De Longe studios. The receipt from the photographer together with $1.50 to cover cost of printing should be in the Badger office by October 25 to insure the printing of the pictures.

Work on the new yearbook is progressing nicely according to Harry Thoma '27, editor. The art work for the book has been completed and plans for a scenic section even surpassing the one produced last year are under way.

Kessenich's

With Smart Fashion
On Park Avenue, New York.

Reported and Sketched by Kessenich's Exclusive
"Breath of the Avenue" Fashion Service

Pearls are much in vogue this season, and sketched is a new and attractive way of wearing them. At the better night clubs, at the theater and at dinner, the most smartly dressed women are wearing the long chains of pearls.

The Flecked, Checked and Patterned Tweed Coat Scores An Added Fashion Point

The tweed coat with a shawl collar of long-haired fur covers the newest and smartest sports costumes as they alight from fashionable motor cars at the Meadowbrook club. The sketch in the margin gives a composite picture of all of these coats. The general line is straight with greater width at the shoulders and armholes. The majority of collars are of long-haired furs of the shawl type although the half, shoulder-length shawl collar is also seen.

The combination of color is the newest note about these tweed coats. A particularly smart tweed with a nasturtium background has small decks of bright mauve-blue dotting its surface. The wearer chooses a bright mauve-blue velvet hat and a matching silk crepe sports frock to wear with it. The coat is collared and cuffed in Australian opossum.

Sketched are three new sleeve types much featured in the smart shops, and seen in afternoon frocks. Especially favored is the middle one, with the exaggerated puff.

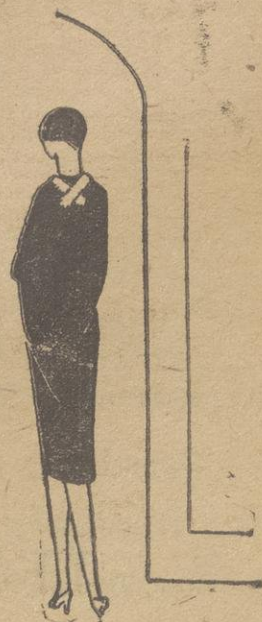

Color contrast is one of the most important notes in the autumn mode and new and unusual color contrasts claim a large share of attention. These specific color combinations prove how smart extremely unexpected contrasts can be if rightly handled.

Nasturtium and wine red are allied in a jersey and wool crepe frock. The nasturtium tan is a light orange-yellow that is surprisingly pleasing with a deep wine red.

Nasturtium and Autumn Rose is another combination introduced. The Autumn Rose is a deep rose shade with a yellow cast.

Eggplant is trimmed with bois de rose. A few of the deep purple or eggplant purple dresses are brightened with pipings, trimmings, or vestees of a light shade of bois de rose.

Very smart is the negligee sketched. Its gay trimmings contrast delightfully with a sombre black.

Commission Authorizes Turtle Lake Bridge

Construction of an overhead highway crossing in the village of Turtle Lake, has been authorized by the Wisconsin railroad commission.

The commission ordered the state highway commission and the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha Railway company to build the crossing at a point approximately one-fourth of a mile north of the existing grade crossing in the village.

Maintenance of a proposed dam across Whitewater creek in the town of Whitewater, Walworth county, will not materially obstruct navigation or violate other property rights, and will not endanger life, health or property, the commission found. The dam is planned for improvement of the shore line and navigability of lakes in the vicinity.

The commission announced its calendar as follows:

Sept. 21, River Falls—Application Wisconsin Telephone company to increase rates at River Falls.

Sept. 22, Madison—Application Westby Municipal Electric Utility to increase its rates.

FASHION SHOW IN STRAND MOVIE

Manchester Store Display on Stage to Feature "Miss Madison"

One of the snappiest and smartest of fashion shows comes to the screen in First National's latest photoplay, "Subway Sadie," which will be shown at the Strand theater for three days starting today, with Dorothy Mackaill, Jack Mulhall and Charles Murray in the featured roles.

Something unusual in the line of settings for this show was designed by Art Director Milton Menasco of First National's Eastern units following suggestions by Director Alfred A. Santell and Producer Al Rockett.

The show is given in what is called "that hatbox." This is a set, designed and constructed exactly like the interior of a hat box. It was done in black and silver, with a circular stairway running up through the center over which the models parade.

Gilbert Clarke of Milgrim's fashionable New York shop, designed the gowns for the show. Then to complete the effect Milgrim's own models were used in the scene. For smartness and sheer beauty this episode is far ahead of anything of its kind seen on the screen according to Mr. Clarke, the designer. It should have tremendous appeal to women, for all the styles shown are decidedly "advance."

On the stage the Strand will present in conjunction with Harry S. Manchester store the most elaborate style shown ever put on in Madison. The feature attraction of this show will be Dorothy Seiler, "Miss Madison," displaying a $5,000 fur coat. There will also be 10 beautiful models who will display the newest fall and winter fashions. Flindt's Strand orchestra will provide music for the show and a special feature program will also be presented.

Delta Gamma and Chi Omega houses. The Delta Gamma house is early American style and is being built of Madison sandstone. At present the Delta Gammas are living at 5 Langdon street.

Chi Omega Waiting
Pending the opening of their new house, the Chi Omega chapter is living at the old French house on University avenue. The John S. Main company was the agent, Frederickson Brothers, the contractors, and Frank Riley, the architect for both the Chi Omega and Delta Gamma houses.

The old Chi Omega house at 615 N. Henry street was purchased by the Phi Kappa Tau fraternity through Porter Butt '24, of the John S. Main company in the biggest deal in fraternity real estate turned over last year. The former Phi Kappa Tau house at 615 N. Lake street was taken over by the Zeta Beta Tau fraternity which in the past lived at 640 N. Francis street. Sigma Chi Move in Feb.

After the rush of fraternity building last year in which Beta Theta Pi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Phi Kappa Alpha, Theta Chi, and Alpha Sigma Phi finished new houses, Sigma Chi alone is engaged in building activity. The new house at 302 N. Lake street was made necessary by a fire last spring; it is expected to be ready by February.

Two embryonic building programs which have not progressed beyond the first stages are those of Gamma Phi Beta and Sigma Upsilon. The Gamma Phis have seized the last plot left available by the Langdon rush and have bought the Mason property at Langdon and Francis streets. The plans for the new Sigma Phi Epsilon house, to be erected just below the Theta Chi house, are now being drawn by Law, Law and Potter.

UNION BOARD'S CONCERT OFFERING LAUDED BY MAJOR E. W. MORPHY

The Wisconsin Union board has succeeded in arranging for this year one of the best concert series it has ever been able to offer. The extensive patronage received in the past years has enabled the Union board to procure what musical critics consider a series ideal in quality and quantity. In an interview, Major E. W. Morphy, director of the university orchestra and band, stated, "If we fail to support a refined movement of this magnitude we can no longer boast of our musical culture. Personally I cannot see how the course can be made stronger or more attractive and I feel that we are indebted to the Union board for offering this wonderful series."

The series will consist of the Ukrainian Chorus, booked for November sixteenth; Louis Graveure, December fifth; Harold Bauer, and Paul Casals, January eleventh; Sergei Rachmaninoff, February fourteenth; Fritz Kreisler, March fourth; Sigrid Onegrin, March thirty-first.

The advance ticket sale at the booth on State and Lake streets will end Tuesday when private solicitation will begin.

On October first, season tickets will be on sale at Hook's music store at the price of $7.00, $8.75, and $9.95, a saving of over fifty per cent on tickets bought before each performance rush seats will be from fifty cents to one dollar.

To Broadcast Programs for Country Folks

Ag Department Plans
Winter Radio
Use

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Long winter days and evenings on the farm are to be brightened by almost continuous radio programs to be broadcast by the United States department of agriculture.

More than 100 radio stations, located in all parts of the country, are to co-operate with the department in furnishing entertainment and instruction to those engaged in agriculture.

Interspersed with music and a wide variety of information which is expected to be helpful to farmers, the department plans to bombard them with suggestions on ways to improve their methods and to more efficiently handle their crops.

The fall and winter broadcasting schedule of the radio service, which will be inaugurated on Oct. 4, will include twenty special program features each week, covering the full range of interests reached by all bureaus of the department. It is proposed to inform the farmers of what the government is doing in their behalf and to create a sympathetic bond between agriculture and its representatives in the federal government.

Broadcasting stations at Stevens Point, Wis.; Chicago, Des Moines, and Cedar Rapids, Ia., have been named as participants in this nation-wide movement.

School Board Will Consider Bond Issues

Education Budget Will Be Discussed
Tomorrow

Bond issues for school work in 1927 to be included in the board of education budget will be considered by the board at its meeting tonight.

The total required for next year is estimated at about $275,000. The major portion of the issues will consist of $200,000 for construction of the addition to the Lowell school on the East Side and completion of the Richard B. Dudgeon school on the West Side. The remainder of the issues will be used for the purpose of additional school lands.

The most important land purchase considered by the board at this time is the proposed addition to the Lincoln school site on E. Gorham st. The cost of this land to the east of the school will be about $55,000. It is the plan of board members to enlarge the school to take care of the Brayton school district and part of the Lapham school territory.

Reports of school attendance and appointments of teachers will also be considered.

Clinic For Disabled Proclaimed Success

The first county survey and clinic sponsored by the Wisconsin Association for the Disabled is described by the organization as a success. It was held at Antigo last month.

Fifty-seven cases were examined. "The fact that 72 per cent of the cases were disabled before the age of six years emphasizes the need for early diagnosis and treatment," the association stated today. "That 50 per cent of the cases examined were over 14 years old makes this fact all the more significant."

Recommendations as a result of the clinic included operations for twenty muscle training for sixteen, special shoes for four, braces for five, no treatment for ten and further examination for two.

Radio Operator And Mechanic Die, Trapped In Closed Cabin

WESTBURY, N. Y.—Two men lost their lives this morning when the trans-Atlantic airplane of Capt. Rene Fonck crashed in flames in an attempt to take-off on a 3,600 mile non-stop flight to Paris.

They were Charles Clavier, French radio operator, and Jacob Islamoff, Russian mechanic. They were trapped in the closed cabin of the huge three powered biplane.

Capt. Fonck, the French ace in command of the flight, and Lieut. Laurence W. Curtin, U. S. N., American alternate pilot, leaped to safety before the plane burst into flames.

Igor Sikorski, Russian designer and builder, could not be located immediately after the tragedy. He was reported to have begged in tears last night that the flight be postponed because of a cross wind that endangered the take-off.

An attempt was made to take off last Thursday but had to be postponed because of a gasoline leakage discovered at the last minute. Afterward Parisian friends of Capt. Fonck urged him to make the flight for the honor of France, even at the risk of death.

Igor Sikorski, builder of the plane, overcome by the tragedy, left the field soon after the crash and sought the seclusion of his home at Mineola.

The bodies, badly charred, were removed from the debris three hours after the crash following a visit by the coroner.

Caused by Bucking of Wheel.

The crash was caused by the bucking of a wheel on an extra landing gear that was to have been dropped into the ocean as soon as the plane got under way.

"I knew the wheel had crashed," said Fonck, "but could neither stop nor rise."

Lieut. Curtin said: "The plane was driven at full power, accelerated slowly, reaching a ground speed of 65 miles. Three-quarters of the length of the runway it seemed that the outboard auxiliary wheel collapsed, carrying away the left lower rudder."

"The plane veered to the left, but it was impossible to head it again on a straight course and the plane went over the brink at the end of the runway at a speed of about 60 miles. When passing over the brink Capt. Fonck pulled back the controls to effect a normal landing, at the same time throttling down his motors."

Madison Taxpayers Pay $120 Yearly For Education

Practically a fifth of the population of Madison is in attendance at its public schools, it is shown by a statement just issued by the department of the interior through the bureau of education at Washington, D. C.

The report is an analysis of the operation of the city's school system during the term 1923-24, but the bureau of education declares that the percentage of children who attend the daily sessions has remained fairly constant over a long period of years and that the showing for the term surveyed is applicable to the present term with slight modification for a normal growth of population.

Taxpayers of Madison are paying about $120 a year for the education of every child enrolled in the public school classes there. The average per capita cost of 35 representative cities with which that city is bracketed for comparison is said to be $87 thus indicating that Madison's expenditure per pupil are somewhat above that of other cities of like size.

The per capita cost increased about 15 per cent over the cost of the preceding term and preliminary figures gathered by the bureau of education are said to disclose that this upward trend still obtains generally throughout the country.

BASCOM HALL ADDITION CAUSES MANY CHANGES

New recitation rooms, offices, and lavatories will be placed on each of the floors on which rooms have been torn out, said Mr. Chandler. One of the most important changes in the old building is the alteration of room 401 into three separate laboratories for the Speech department, formerly located in the basement.

An awkward situation in the building which was found impossible to change, however, is the fact that Prof. Otto of the philosophy department will, because of lack of other available space, continue to use his old office. Two windows have been removed from it, and other remodeling is also being done.

In the work on the addition, Mr. Chandler said that the southwest wing has been practically completed, and is now ready for the erection of the roof. This wing is three stories high, the upper one being level with the first floor of Bascom hall. No connection exists between this wing and the main building except through the basement.

Part of the floor of the new theater directly behind Bascom hall is partially ready, but Mr. Chandler states that it will not be completed until some time in the spring of 1927.

Edgerton Expects

Good Grid Eleven

EDGERTON—Although it will be necessary to develop a new quarterback, a new fullback and a center the Edgerton high school football team should be quite a bit more finished this season than last year. Material is not more experienced and Coach Hans Larsen, going into his second year has hopes of a better season than in 1925.

Practice in fundamentals, tackling and blocking, has been held this week with 37 candidates reporting. The first scrimmage of the season was held Friday, and from now on real work will commence.

Richard Kerr is helping coach the seconds. Twelve new uniforms have been purchased.

The schedule:

Oct. 2—At Janesville.
Oct. 9—At Whitewater City.
Oct. 15—Milton Union, here.
Oct. 23—At Stoughton.
Nov. 4—University high, here.

Y.M.C.A. Offers Boys a Safety-Zone in City's Whirling Life Currents

When a boy strikes out for himself, especially if he comes to the city from a distance, what is it his parents wish for him more than anything else? A sure place to which to go, for his leisure and his problems; a spot where the environment is the right one for his needs; a safety-zone in the city's whirling currents of activity and interests.

This is what the Young Men's Christian association means to many parents and what it has become to hundreds of youths. Boys from the country and the city find within its doors a place all their own, a group of friendly men with their interests at heart, a real home where companionship, amusement, education and friendship are to be had for the asking.

"A country boy, adrift in the city for the first time headed straight for us," said Mr. Leiser, secretary of the Madison Y. M. C. A. "We understood his situation, were able to help him, and his parents will always feel that we are the boy's friend, next to his home."

"The complete cooperation of the parents of the boys is one of our greatest satisfactions," the director of the boy's department testifies. "One man feels that it has made his son over, from an 'educated bum' as the lad dubbed himself, into a splendid upstanding young man. This father is constantly finding ways to express his interest in our work by gifts, suggestion, and personal concern."

"The mothers are with us too. They like to have their boys busy here. They know they are safe, occupied. When they come home from camp, they find a change in them. Their rooms are picked up; they are 'speeded up'; less careless; and cleaner."

The boys' department is a department quite by itself, and has its own section set aside in the building. One enters it on Fairchild st., and finds the desk facing the door, as one enters. At the right is a spacious lounge, or reading room, with big tables covered with magazines and papers. It is big and light and inviting.

At the left are billiard tables and not far away lockers, gymnasium, showers and the offices of the boys' director, F. P. Cockrell. The whole place looks like a spot where boys love to congregate, amuse themselves, find recreation and exercise.

About 500 boys are paid-members of the Association, but some come in groups, using the building and its equipment by the payment of a small group fee. In this way 50 other boys, non-members are constant users of the building, so that each week, day in and day out, the boys' headquarters, out of school hours, are filled with hundreds of youngsters, coming and going, playing games, reading, swimming, holding meetings, engaging in contests; happy, occupied, learning, growing.

The Community Union drive is scheduled for October. The Y. M. C. A. is one of its agencies and the active boys' department is ending a decade of work. Are you interested in the boys in Madison? In what they do and what they will be? In the future of the city, in terms of our own boys?

Then dig deep! Three cheers for the boys of Madison!! They need our help and they shall have it.

Improvement is Sought for High Schools

Callahan Formulates Program For Financial Support

Improvement of the high schools of Wisconsin is the aim of John Callahan, state superintendent of public instruction, in formulating a program for supervision and for financial support.

"Wisconsin high schools are passing through the most critical period of their existence," Mr. Callahan declared. For the first time in the history of our state, taxpayers are seriously contemplating some restriction of educational opportunity for those children who do not live in the larger villages and cities.

Three possible sources of financial relief for high schools were listed by Mr. Callahan. They are: A state wide property tax, the state income tax, or a tax on cigarets and cosmetics.

The chief causes of the financial distress of our high schools, he said, are: The 95 per cent increase in enrollment during the last decade.

The doubling of building costs during the same period.

Cessation of building activities during the World war.

Increased instructional costs.

Increased interest rates on bond issues.

Decreased state aids.

Difference between tuition revenues and costs of instruction.

Small taxing units for high schools.

Low property valuation back of each pupil enrolled.

Small enrollments in many schools resulting in low pupil teacher ratios.

The low ratio of high school area to total area of the state. (19.62%).

It has been pointed out repeatedly in this study that only a radical change in state fiscal policy for high schools will remedy permanently this acute situation. The high schools of Wisconsin serve the entire state, but at the present time their support is almost entirely local.

The typical Wisconsin high school is a small school enrolling 78 pupils, employing five teachers and having a real valuation of $1,900,000. The expenses of instruction for such a school are $8,612 annually. The per capita cost based on average daily attendance is approximately $100. There is a wider range of per capita costs. The chief causes of high per pupil costs appear to be: low enrollments, low pupil-teacher ratios, special courses in small schools, poor organization of high school, losses due to cost of instructing non-resident pupils, small high school areas, small valuation of taxing unit.

We need a more definite program of supervision of instruction in Wisconsin high schools, he said.

He proposes a series of conferences by counties or small groups. Principals, superintendents and high school training teachers will be expected to attend. They will discuss the following programs:

Problems, the solution of which is necessary in order to increase the efficiency of teaching.

Sources of waste in present classroom procedure and means for their elimination.

Criteria for judging the merit of class activities.

A stage program of supervision should serve to shorten the experimental stage and to conserve by means of trial and success those elements which prove to be of value, the superintendent said.

Plan Special Naturalization Courses Here

Night School Work Is Outlined For Foreigners

The Madison Vocational evening school is laying plans for another big year in its Americanization work. During the past few years the school has carried on an active program of Americanization in cooperation with the Lions' club, the Daughters of the American Revolution, and the Public Welfare board.

The success of the work has prompted the board of industrial education to broaden its activity for the coming year. During the past years, citizenship classes have been maintained at the Vocational school, Emerson school, Marquette school, and the Neighborhood House. Plans are now under way to enlarge this Americanization service to the city by establishing one or two more centers where the citizenship classes may carry on their work.

Two years of citizenship training will be offered the coming school term. The first-year course, "English and Citizenship" will acquaint beginners with the every day language of our country. For those who have completed this first year of work, there will be offered a second year of "English and Citizenship." An emphasis is placed on typical American books, magazines, and newspapers. The latter part of the second-year course consists of a survey of our country's institutions, history, resources, and form of government.

Last year the board of industrial education began the practice of granting certificates to foreign-born residents who have completed the first year of work in any of the classes listed above. They also grant diplomas to all second year students who complete satisfactorily, the work outlined in the second-year course in English and Citizenship. The first-year certificate grants the student permission to enroll in any advanced citizenship courses offered by the board of industrial education, and in any of the trade courses offered by the Madison Vocational school. The second year diploma recommends the student to the attention of the naturalization officer, certifying that the student has completed a sufficient amount of work in civic education, to entitle him to citizenship.

Both the first-year and second-year courses will be offered at the following places: Vocational school, Emerson school, Marquette school, Neighborhood House and Franklin school. There will be a representative from the Vocational school at each of these places on Oct. 4, to enroll all students who report for instruction at any of these schools. Students are requested to enroll at whatever school they plan to attend.

Callahan-Cady Row Splits Democrats; Schwalbach is Named State Chairman

Harmony of Platform Convention Goes Crashing

The far-famed and far-heralded tranquility and harmony of the Democratic platform convention went crashing at noon today in the senate chamber of the state capitol about one minute after the convention had been called to order by John M. Callahan, temporary chairman.

The bombshell dropped out of clear sky when Virgil H. Cady, Baraboo, the party's nominee for governor, offered the name of John A. Schwalbach, South Germantown, candidate for the state senate from the 13th district, as permanent chairman of the convention to replace Mr. Callahan.

Following Cady's nomination, Callahan was on his feet in an instant with a vehement protestation of Schwalbach's nomination. Mr. Callahan was angry and for a moment it looked as if the Democratic convention would break up in a quarrel between the two leaders.

Woman In the Case

Facing Cady, Callahan stated that he had sensed the opposition of Cady for the last few weeks.

"I resent that nomination as being aimed directly at me. It is only a common courtesy to have the convention name me as its chairman. I have been a Democrat all my life and have been working night and day for the last few weeks.

"You have been against me ever since 'that woman' talked to you in Milwaukee. There has been too much whispering going on here."

Following Callahan's reply to Cady's resolution, Schwalbach was seated as chairman of the convention by one vote, that of Mr. Cady. The delegates were evidently dumfounded by the squabble, as none of them voted either for or against the motion to seat Schwalbach, with the exception of Mr. Cady.

The differences between Cady and Callahan are said to arise over the Democratic platform. It is rumored that Cady is against the repeal of the personal property offset tax as outlined in the platform, but wants a measure similar to the former homestead exemption act embodied.

Immediately following the adjournment of the convention, Callahan and Cady renewed their fight at Mr. Cady's seat.

Following a short verbal squabble it looked for a moment as if the two men would come to blows, but they were hurried away by friends to other parts of the hall.

Cady was selected as the democratic candidate for governor following the death of Judge Martin Lueck, Beaver Dam, some months ago. His selection was made by Mr. Callahan after conferring with Thomas M. Kearney, Racine, candidate for the U. S. senate, and the Democratic state central committee.

There were only six accredited delegates at the convention this morning. W. D. Carroll, Prairie du Chien, was named secretary of the convention.

The resolutions committee named this morning consisted of Virgil H. Cady, Baraboo; Thomas M. Kearney, Racine; John A. Schwalbach, South Germantown; W. D. Carroll, Prairie du Chien; Charles B. Doyle, Milwaukee; and Harold Kuypers, De Pere.

Miss Rose Horwitz, Milwaukee, candidate for Congress from the fifth district, was a spectator at the party convention this morning.

Socialists to Challenge Vote in 2 Counties

Dodge, Jefferson Precinct Action Demanded Here

[The Socialist state platform is printed on page 5 of this edition.]

An investigation into suspected fraud in the counting of Socialist ballots in certain precincts of Dodge and Jefferson counties was voted by the members of the Socialist platform convention in the state capitol this noon.

Decision to make such an investigation came after several of the Socialist candidates charged that ballot officials in several districts of the two counties recorded no votes for Emil Freinwald, Horicon, Socialist candidate for senator from Dodge county, though proof was available that Mr. Freinwald did receive a number of votes.

The vote for an inquiry followed the reelection of Assemblyman Frank J. Weber as chairman of the state central committee and Assemblyman William Coleman, secretary. Delegates elected to the state central committee were:

First district—Leland Birchard, Kenosha, and L. P. Christensen, Racine.

Second district—C. Emil Freinwald, Horicon, and John Bauernfind, Sheboygan Falls.

Third district—Walter P. Melchior, Madison, and F. S. Collins, Juda.

Fourth district—Mrs. Mabel Gauer, Milwaukee, and R. Kleist, South Milwaukee.

Fifth district—Victor L. Berger, and Daniel W. Hoan, Milwaukee.

Sixth district—I. J. Noll, Fond du Lac, and Martin Georgenson, Manitowoc.

Seventh district—C. A. Noetzelman, La Crosse, and Leonard N. Doud, Black River Falls.

Eighth district—Herman Marth, Wausau, and Henry Siebenhaar, Pittsville.

Ninth district—Albert Hoffman, Green Bay, and W. A. Mautz, Antigo.

Tenth district—C. H. Olson, Hudson, and Frank Harmon, Durand.

Eleventh district—Dr. Karl L.

De Smobre, Medford, and Charles H. Kingston, Spooner.

Mrs. Ada Burrow, Horicon, Socialist nominee for state treasurer; Joseph Josselson, nominee for assembly from the second district, and Herman Kent, candidate for governor, demanded that the Socialists receive justice in the counting of Mr. Freinwald's votes.
