CONVOS FRIDAY TO OPEN MEET OF EDUCATORS

Celebrate Fiftieth Birthday of Badger Academy of Sciences

Two all-university convocations Friday, one at 11 a. m. in the auditorium of the Biology building and another at 2:30 p. m. in the armory, for which classes will be dismissed, are included in the program of exercises in commemoration of the fiftieth anniversary of the Wisconsin Academy of Science, Arts and Letters.

Dr. Thomas C. Chamberlin, of the University of Chicago, formerly president of the University of Wisconsin, and one of the original incorporators of the academy, will deliver an address on "The Founding of the Wisconsin Academy of Sciences, Arts, and Letters," at the 11 o'clock session. Dr. Chamberlin was president of the academy from 1885 to 1887.

President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia university, New York City, will give the address at the afternoon convocation.

At a commemoration dinner in the evening, President E. A. Birge will present a bronze medal. Speakers will be Bishop Samuel Fallows, of the Reformed Episcopal church, Chicago; President Melvin A. Brannon, of Beloit college; Prof. William A. Trelease, University of Illinois; and Superintendent Joseph Schafer, State Historical society of Wisconsin.

An exhibit of historical documents and photographs illustrating the first 50 years of the academy has been arranged by Curator Charles E. Brown, in the north hall of the museum, fourth floor of the State Historical library.

ALL-VARSITY MIXER AT GYM SATURDAY

The first all-university mixer following the spring recess will be held Friday night at the gymnasium. The affair will be conducted by the Wisconsin chapter of the inter-collegiate Menorah.

Since it is the first large social function undertaken by Menorah the committees in charge are bending every effort to make it the best mixer that has been put on this year. Thompson's orchestra will play.

Although the Haresfoot formal performance comes on the same night it is not expected that the mixer will in any way conflict, because the Fuller is practically sold out for Friday's performance. The gym floor will be waxed for the occasion. Crowding will be eliminated by closing the doors at 10:30. Admission will be 25 cents with 8 o'clock as the starting time.

Author to Discuss Guild Socialism in Open Meet Tonight

Dr. Harry W. Laidler, of New York, noted author and lecturer, will speak on "The Challenge of Guild Socialism," under the auspices of the Wisconsin Social Science club in Music hall tonight at 8 o'clock. He will also talk on "A New World in the Making," at labor hall Thursday evening at 7 o'clock. Both meetings are open to the public, and questions and discussion will follow the address.

The Social Science club will entertain Dr. Laidler at dinner at the Capitol cafe, Thursday evening at 5:30. After his lecture at labor hall, a reception will be held in the university Y. M. C. A. parlors in his honor, celebrating the fact that the Wisconsin society having a membership of close to 115 students and members of the faculty, is the largest chapter in the Inter-collegiate Socialist society.

Dr. Laidler has addressed meetings here in 1918 and 1919, and was given a cordial reception last year, when he spoke to three meetings at the university. He has been secretary of the national society since its organization in 1905, and has written several text-books on labor and economic questions, which are used in many colleges.

All members and associate members of the club are invited to attend the reception at the university "Y" parlors Thursday evening at 8:15 o'clock.

HARESFOOT WINS BIG OVATIONS IN TOUR OF STATE

Carberry Takes Honors in Role of Mary's Lamblike Husband

(Special to The Cardinal)

FOND DU LAC, April 20—Wells Carberry, Milwaukee, a martyr to his cause, is carrying off the honors in the role of Leander Lamb, for dramatic ability and interpretation of a meek, lamblike husband, in the Haresfoot production, "Mary's Lamb," which is now making its annual tour through Wisconsin and Illinois.

He is winning favor in the part taken by Richard Carle in the original play and is presenting a comedy role of finish and authority that would do credit to years of experience.

"Mary's Lamb" played to capacity houses in Waukesha, Milwaukee, Oshkosh, and Fond du Lac, and a general consensus of opinion of these who saw the performance in these towns, is that it is by long odds the best show ever given by Haresfoot.

Catherine Pannill Mead, dramatic critic of The Milwaukee Sentinel, says, "Mary's Lamb" as put on by the Haresfoot club is a scream and sets a new record in offerings of Wisconsin players. A cast of surprising merit put over the amusing story and snappy songs, the whole thing with a truly professional smoothness and speed. The costumes were changed for every feature song and were marvels of sartorial richness. The orchestra was a show in itself and the staging all that could be asked. An audience that filled the house applauded itself into a state of exhaustion, and there was general hilarity and camaraderie."

SALE DRIVE FOR "WHO'S WHO" TO START APRIL 27

Edition of Book Limited to 1,000; Three Prizes Up in Campaign

A "whirlwind campaign" for subscriptions to "Who's Who at Wisconsin" will be started April 27 under the direction of George Crownhart, business manager. The copy for the book has been turned in to the printer and the edition will be ready for delivery about May 1.

The campus sale is limited to 1,000 copies. The campaign will not be merely to see who can sell the largest number of books, but to see who can sell the largest number within the time limit which the limited number will make necessary. Letters have been sent to the women's organizations inviting them to enter the contest.

Three prizes are being offered to the winners of the first three places. They consist of loving cups and will be engraved with the names of the winners. The cups are on display at the University pharmacy.

The management emphasizes the fact that the small number of copies will make it difficult to get the book unless it is signed for during the subscription campaign. The list of alumni subscribers is growing daily and the number of books available for general distribution is getting smaller. The arrangements with the printer provide for but one edition and no plans are being considered to have the size of the edition increased.

White Spades undertook the publication of the book as a medium to further interest in activities and to advertise the university, not as a business proposition, and it is for this reason that a larger edition and a larger campus sale have not been sought.

VARSITY OPENS 'BIG TEN' MEET WITH HOOSIERS

Diamond Squad to Indiana
Friday; Meet Purdue
Saturday

With a preliminary schedule of six games successfully disposed of, the Badger baseball team will open the conference season with two games this week-end, the first with Indiana university Friday afternoon, and the second with Purdue on Saturday. Both games will be played on enemy soil.

Of the preliminaries, the Badgers succeeded in winning all but one, the first game of a double-header played with Notre Dame last Saturday. Milton college, Campion college, Beloit college, Valparaiso university, were all defeated by close but decisive scores, but the best the Badgers could do with Notre Dame was to split even, losing the first game 2 to 1, and winning the second, 3 to 0.

Win Two on Trip

Three games were played on the spring trip to Indiana last week, one with Valparaiso on Thursday and two with Notre Dame on Saturday. The first battle was the best played game of the trip, although played on a muddy field and in the rain. Miller and Ogle did the twirling for Wisconsin, each working half time, and succeeded in holding the "Valpo" sluggers to a few scattered hits. The game was a pitchers' battle for five innings with neither side scoring, but when the Valparaiso coach changed pitchers in the sixth inning the Badgers began to drive in runs, and soon had the game on ice.

The first game with Notre Dame had been scheduled for Friday but

UNION FUND NOW $80,000; MAY GO OVER THIS WEEK

With $1,000 received by mail during the spring recess the total in the campus drive for the Memorial building is now $80,000. The faculty report has not yet been made out and will not be published until the end of the week.

The general publicity campaign is over, but solicitation will continue. Lists are being made by streets of all those who have not signed, which will be given to canvassers, who will see these students to give them an opportunity to subscribe.

'22 CLASS DANCE SET FOR APRIL 30

The annual sophomore dance will be held in Lathrop hall Friday evening, April 30, the class committee announced yesterday. Special features, kept secret by the dance chairman, Harold Selva, will eclipse those given at any class dance, it is promised.

Thompson's 8-piece special orchestra will furnish the music for the dancers and refreshments are to be served throughout the evening. The affair is in charge of Harold Selva and he has as his assistants, Marion Downing, Susan Brown, Arthur Kinnan, Philip O'Neil, and Donald Scott. The price of tickets has been set at $1.50. They can be obtained at the University pharmacy, Morgan's, Y. M. C. A., or of anyone on the dance committee.

Wednesday morning as we were making the grade from the sleeper to our 8 o'clock.....we fell into cursing the ole place and the rotten morning and all, when who should we see but Fran, and with her Peg and Catherine. Land couldn't have looked better to the famous Noah and up the hill we went singing hymns of praise for co-oducation.

About this sleeper, we were told it was called the "Whiskey Special" in the days of hairey-chested boys.....and Sam carried a stretcher then. Chorus: "Oh, bring back the old days, the old ways, etc."

AS the KING of Morgans told us, "I'm all for goin' back to good old Jersey State, and live under the rule of Gov. Edwards."

Dear Ed:

We walked back through all the mud and rain to meet the Chicago Special. One by one the people clum off the train and swept by us as if they were in a hurry for fear that the landlady had raised the rent. Well, we was just about ready to go home when along comes a likely looking fella with two suitcases and a traveling bag and we couldn't see what else he'd need all those bags for on a four day vacation—except?? He walked right up to us and asks us if we were students. We pleaded guilty and he asks us to join him in the smoking room. Well, we didn't do much slow walking, and we were feelin' pretty happy.

"Now you fellas are students and one student ought to help another in distress." That's what he said and we all agreed. "Now I got a couple of girls out here and its raining like —, and I have only 63 cents with me. Lend me a dollar, will ya?"

Now we ask ya, what'd you have done?

All we can think of is to have him arrested for going around under false pritences. Yawelkum.

Now ain't it funny how sleepy you get the minute classes start up again?

LECTURE ON EINSTEIN THEORY IS REPEATED

Prof. Max Mason again presented his lecture on the Einstein Theory and Gravitation yesterday afternoon in the Physics auditorium to a capacity audience. The talk was a repetition of that given Tuesday, April 13, when the room was crowded to overflowing, and was repeated for the benefit of those who were turned away from the first discussion.

PRINTING PLANT FOR NEW UNION IS LATEST IDEA

A printing plan to publish all university publications, to be in the new Memorial Union building, was indorsed by the Press club last night when the club passed a resolution to be presented to the building committee.

This would make it possible for the university publications, The Cardinal, Lit., Octopus, Commerce Magazine, Engineers' Magazine, and Country Magazine to be published in one plant, at a lower cost. A greater chance for experience would be given in press work to students, and closer co-operation among the publications.

The function of the Press club as the Wisconsin chapter of the Wisconsin Journalists' association was discussed at the meeting. Prof. W. G. Bleyer, chairman of the department of journalism explained the object of the association, which is to provide a professional organization for newspaper workers.

Laurence Murphy, Wisconsin representative of the association, outlined a specific plan for Press club members to further the interests of the profession of journalism by organizing chapters in the newspapers of the state on which they may later work.

ELECTION BOOKLETS DISTRIBUTED TODAY

Interest in the board elections to be held Friday was aroused anew yesterday by the appearance of the election booklets.

The booklets, which are the official voter's guides published by the elections committee of the student senate, are placed for distribution in Main hall, Agricultural hall, Engineering building, and Biology building.

The candidates for positions are entitled to five booklets each, which may be had on application to the dean of men.

"The ruling with regard to the booklets," stated Clyde Emery, chairman of the elections committee, "is that they may not be defaced in any way. That is, candidates may not so mutilate them as to leave only their own names and advertisements for campaign purposes."

There is at present a vacancy in the position of president of the Athletic board, due to the ineligibility of the only candidate who appeared. Nominations for that position will be reopened this morning at 8 o'clock and will close tonight at 5 o'clock. The conditions for filing nomination papers will be the same as before. Only "W" men are eligible for the office.

AIMING WHERE?

WITH the end of spring recess, the last lap of the university year has begun. Perhaps the brief stay in the atmosphere of home has prompted students to look at the university objectively, and try to estimate the value to them of its different features. Introspection carried to excess is morbid and unwholesome, but an occasional frank, thorough inventory of one's personal stock is a healthy and stimulating practice. An honest facing of personal assets and liabilities often excites a torpid intellect as a cold shower-bath energizes a listless body.

There is not a student, then, who will not profit by taking stock at this period of the year. "What am I working toward as my goal, and what can I do now to give myself the best possible preparation?" are questions which must be faced and answered by everyone who expects to make his or her life a success. Men and women of achievement emphasize thoughtful planning and untiring effort in the direction chosen.

The student at Wisconsin is confronted by a bewildering number of desirable avenues of activities. First, there are the subjects which are fundamental to a liberal education, and to the special vocation which he or she has selected; they unquestionably deserve a large portion of time and energy. There is the opportunity to spend golden hours in the library, among the world's masterpieces, and so absorb the best that has been thought and felt in all ages. There is the privilege of talking with professors about their special fields of study, an opportunity which is at present appreciated and utilized far too seldom.

Outside activities of all sorts offer a training of a different type, but of the highest value. Whether in class politics, dramatics, athletics, debating, or in any other activity which demands initiative and co-operation with the others in the game, the student learns invaluable lessons. The training in leadership, the ability to think in terms of the whole university, the appreciation of the necessity of teamwork, and the discipline of responsibility, are only a few of the returns.

When so many desirable alternatives present themselves, it is only common sense that a few things must be chosen, and the rest dwelt upon more lightly. Which things to emphasize is the problem of each individual. Its solution will vary with each separate case. But first these facts must be faced: that preparation for life is being made here and now; that a student's time is strictly limited; that therefore the best preparation for whatever the student plans to do requires a thoughtful survey of university life, and a choice of those things which are most essential.

This editorial is not an attempt at a sermon. All students are interested in becoming effective citizens, fitted to fill the places of leadership in their communities. But in the hurrying life of the university their sense of perspective is often lost. This is an excellent time to take stock and plan with better proportion for the rest of the college course.

THE HARESFOOT PRODUCTION

WISCONSIN students will welcome the report that "Mary's Lamb," the 1920 Haresfoot production, is meeting with unusual success on its first post-war tour. It is obviously quite imperative that an organization performing under the banner of the university and playing in all sections of the state should be representative, in addition to being worthy of Wisconsin.

This year's endeavor fills the bill. It is a musical comedy that combines the college atmosphere with a recent Broadway success. On that score it is making a strong appeal throughout the state. More than that, however, the appeal to the student body should be much stronger.

Engaging a professional coach served the purpose of eliminating the touch of the amateur that often characterizes college productions. Add to that the fact that sufficient funds were at hand to insure success. The best in costumes, scenery, cast, and orchestra has been combined to make "Mary's Lamb" a feature production.

In the phraseology of the publicity managers, it is a "most unusual musical comedy." Not unlike many of its predecessors, the play required months of tedious preparation. When we reflect that the goal has been reached in an unparalleled successful reception we are inclined to admit that it was worth the effort.

BADGER NINE ON TRIP TO INDIANA

had to be postponed on account of rain, and so a double bill was arranged for Saturday. Williams started in the box for Wisconsin and worked the entire seven innings—both games were seven inning affairs—allowing the Catholics but two hits. Both of these hits, however, following a walk and a sacrifice, scored runs. The Badgers nicked Murphy, Notre Dame pitcher for five safeties, but none of them came when hits were needed. Twice with the bases full and none out, with the head end of the batting order up, the varsity batters could not connect and both innings ended with no scoring. Failure to hit in the pinch lost this game.

One Bingle Off Ogle

The second battle was won without much trouble, with Ogle holding the Catholics to one blow. Although the Cardinal players hit safely only five times, they secured a two run lead in the first inning on errors by the Notre Dame infield, which was enough to win. There was no more scoring until the last inning, when a long hit by Falk drove in another tally.

In this battle Willigrod, first baseman, injured his ankle sliding into second base, and will be kept out of the game for a couple of weeks as a result. Just who Coach Kent will use at first base at present is a problem.

Zulfer or McKeague are the most likely candidates.

The Badgers will face some good pitching on the trip to Indiana, and if the men can get their batting eyes, they should be able to start off the conference season with two victories.

COMMUNICATIONS

ALUMNUS FAVORS CONTRACT WITH CHICAGO

To the Editor of The Cardinal:

It is with considerable gratification that the Wisconsin alumni from this locality note the five year contract with Chicago university; we feel that this move will mark an epoch in the history of athletics at Wisconsin. Many of us who may be unable to reach Madison for the "Homecoming" might be able to arrange business trips so as to be in Chicago about the time of the western football classic. People of this world are blessed with three kinds of sight; some have hind sight, some insight and some foresight; we feel that this move of Wisconsin's shows decided symptoms of the last.

Wisconsin university could not build up strong departments if the head of that department were changed every year or two; this will prove true in all departments of athletics; an athletic director or coach, on the ground continually from year to year, establishes a vocation (instead of a job) and, other qualifications being even nearly equal, will lay a foundation that will result in greater good to his university and to the larger number of students than could possibly come from spasmodic changes.

Let us hope that Wisconsin will continue to measure and judge situations, that confront her, with the broad view that illustrates caliber of greatness.

Reginald W. Garstang, Indianapolis, plays the part of a social secretary, Clyde Wetherbee, in "Mary's Lamb," the Haresfoot show which comes to the Fuller theater next Friday and Saturday, April 24 and 25. Garstang is a precise secretary who continually trails Miranda Lamb wherever she goes and in so doing keeps a complete account of her social activities. It is the desire of Mrs. Lamb to have her secretary marry her niece. But what chance when a romance is being carried on by the girl and a promising young artist?

The entire Haresfoot, including the 20-piece orchestra returns to Madison Friday morning after playing two performances in Rockford on Thursday.

Seats for Friday night formal will be on the first floor and in boxes only, and the balcony for that night will be informal. Saturday matinee and evening performances will also be informal.

CO-EDS PLAN CANOE AND WHEEL PARTIES

Outing club had planned its first canoe party for Saturday at 4:30 p. m. Any woman who wishes to go on this hour's trip on the lake will secure a canoe and a partner and appear at the university boat house at the time stated. Mary Alice Newton will lead the party.

Another bicycle trip, this time around Lake Wingra, is planned for Friday afternoon at 3:30, starting from Lathrop hall. Girls are to locate their own bicycles. The return trip will be made by dinner time.

Details for a roller-skating outing for the week-end will be published Friday. Individuals are requested to make arrangements for their own skates.

AT THE STRAND

Constance Binney has established herself as a star in the chreen firmament by her characterization of the piquant little heroine of "Erstwhile Susan," which will be shown at the Strand theater commencing today. The picture was adapted from the dramatic success of the same name in which Mrs. Fiske appeared recently and which was, in turn, based on "Barnabette," Helen E. Martin's popular Pennsylvania-Dutch novel.

"Erstwhile Susan" is a happy love story whose principal character stands for all that is best in American girlhood. Many of the scenes are laid in the drowsy Pennsylvania-Dutch colony of Reinhartz, and the story abounds in homely episodes and intimate glimpses of small town life, just as many of the subtitles are couched in the quaint dialect of

ATHENA CHOOSES SOPHOMORE TEAMS

Members of the Athenae Literary society chosen to represent it in the semi-public sophomore debates, to be held in the near future, are Melbourne Bergerman, Berney Miller, Sherwood Buckstaff, Samuel Sygmund, Chandler Osborne, and Abraham Kaufman.

This selection was made by a vote of the society after two debates were held, one on the necessity of establishing a labor party in the United States, the other on the desirability of putting the traction system of Madison under municipal ownership and operation. The decision on the first question was in favor of the negative, 4 to 3. The decision on the second question was awarded to the affirmative, by a vote of 4 to 1.

Owing to the absence of those who were scheduled to appear on the program Friday night, meeting of the society will not be held this week.

PHILOSOPHERS OF WEST IN ANNUAL GATHERING HERE

Twenty-five professors of philosophy from western universities met in Madison April 16 and 17 for the twentieth annual convention of the Western Philosophical association. Some of the members of the association traveled long distances to be present at the meeting, three coming from Nebraska, and one each from Kentucky, Texas, and California.

Two sessions were held each day at which members read papers on various philosophical topics. An interesting feature of the convention was that the majority of the papers were on social topics, those of ethical interest outnumbering the metaphysical subjects two to one.

A special dinner was held Friday evening at Lathrop hall. Prof. Norman Wilde of the University of Minnesota, president of the association, delivered an address on "The Attack on the State."

The visitors were lodged and boarded at the Beta Theta Pi lodge during their stay in Madison.

EXTENSION PLANS CITIZENS' SCHOOL

Members of the university faculty who will speak are: Prof. A. B. Hall, on "Need and Organization of Political Parties," and on "Citizens' Relation to Political Parties;" Prof. Emma Conley, on "Federal Legislation Affecting Women and Children;" Prof. Ford MacGregor, on "The General Election of 1920;" and Prof. W. A. Scott, on "Financial and Industrial Crises."

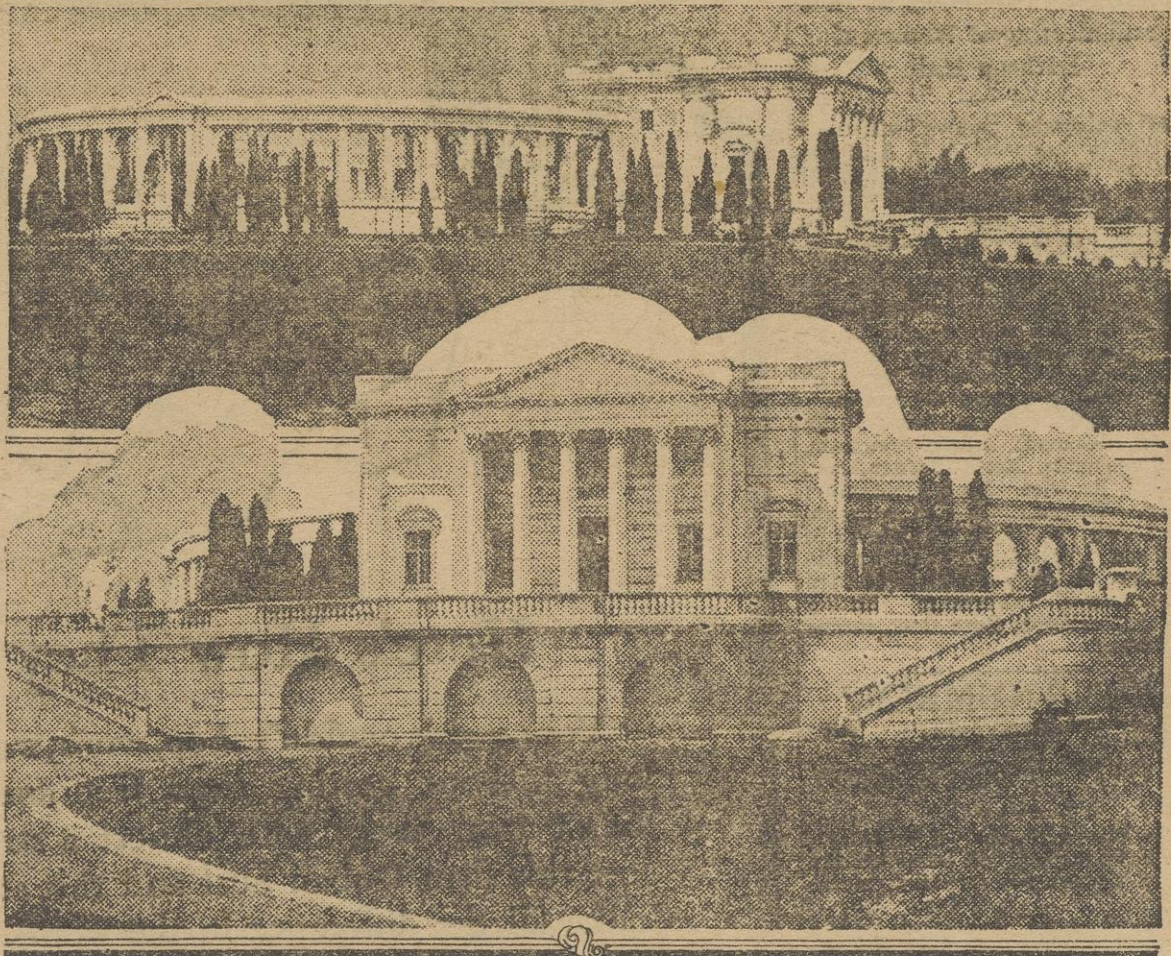

Other speakers are: Milton C. Pötter, superintendent of schools, Milwaukee; on "Federal Legislation Relating to Education;" Mrs. Lois K. M. Rosenberry, formerly dean of women at the university, on "Citizenship;" Arthur Bartelt, Milwaukee, on "Law and the Courts;" and Mrs. May Word Simons, of the Riverside high school, Milwaukee, on "Municipal Government."

HISTORICAL BODY SECURES USE OF BURROWS LEGACY

Plans for developing the work of the State Historical society are under way as the result of a supreme court decision which releases at once, most of the George H. Burrows legacy of $381,000 for the use of the society.

The late Senator George H. Burrows took a considerable interest in the society, serving as a curator. On his death, with no widow and only one son, he left several be-

Sleepy Scribes Wend Way to Windy City; Visits Various on Journalistic Jaunt

Rubbing their heavy eyes, 40 journalists assembled at 6 o'clock Thursday morning at the Northwestern station, for their excursion trip to Chicago. But it takes more than an early hour to depress press workers, and as the train neared its destination, journalistic spirits rose.

Though the party was greeted in Chicago by the kind of damp, raw day that the Windy city can offer, it was a merry crowd that straggled through the city streets toward the Western Newspaper Union plant, which was the first number on the program of the itinerary.

The offices of both the Associated Press and the City News bureau were visited during the course of the day. Many Wisconsin graduates have gone to the news bureau after leaving the university, and Prof. W. G. Bleyer had asked Walter Brown, manager of the bureau, to tell the students something of what is expected of them in that work.

"A man is sent out at 7 a. m.," said Mr. Brown, "with instructions to call the office every hour and report what he has been able to find. That develops a 'nose for news' and tells before long whether the man will sink or swim for he must work 12 hours a day. Accuracy is the keynote of all the requirements for a worker here."

At The Chicago Tribune, there was a vastness of everything that was most impressive.

"Just think!" exclaimed one journalist in a whisper, "they turn out 24 complete papers every minute."

"Yes," replied his neighbor, "and you know most newspapers think they are lucky if they have three or four linotype machines, and here, why, they have a whole floor of them."

At The Chicago Examiner and American, the evening edition of The American was being printed. The folded papers came out so fast that it kept one man busy lifting them out in armfuls and putting them in piles ready for distribution.

The Western Newspaper Union turns out the ready-prints, or patent insides for the country weekly papers, and makes column-wide stereotyped plates of news and general reading. The party also visited the Barnes-Crosby company which produces the half-tones, zinc etchings, color plates, and electrotypes which are a part of the make-up of large papers.

R. O. T. C. COMPANIES TO HOLD CONTESTS

Automatic pistols and bronze medals are the awards to be sought in the competitive drill among the military companies and rifle and pistol competition among members of the R. O. T. C. cadets which will be held early in May, by the military department.

The ten freshman companies will compete among themselves, and the four sophomore companies will act as special units, such as machine gun and trench mortar units. The competitive drill will include close order and extended order drill, manipulation of field equipment, topography, first aid work, field engineering and similar subjects.

Every man in the winning company will receive a bronze medal and the company commander will be awarded an automatic pistol by the war department. Prizes in the individual competition will be automatic pistols.

OFFICERS INSTALLED BY TWELFTH NIGHT

MASSMEET FOR S. G. A. TONIGHT

New Officers Installed at General Meeting of Women at Lathrop Hall

All university women will meet tonight in a general S. G. A. mass-meeting at Lathrop parlors at 7:30 for the inauguration of new officers.

Initial steps will be taken in working out the song contest mentioned at the last massmeeting. Songs will be led by Reba Hayden. Short talks by Dean Louise Nardin and Amy Jobse will precede the inauguration ceremony, when the present officers will retire in favor of their recently elected successors.

This year's officers are: Amy Jobse, president; Doris Simonson, vice-president; Marie Bodden, secretary; Beatrice Beal, treasurer; Hazel Wright, census chairman. They will be succeeded by Marie Bodden, president; Marguerite Croskey, vice-president; Marion Strassburger, secretary; Esther Haven, treasurer; Ruth Reid, census chairman.

'WRONG NUMBER,' 3,000 STRONG, IS OUT TOMORROW

The Wrong Number of The Octopus, 3,000 strong, will burst sunnily out on the campus tomorrow morning.

One of those marvellous covers by Fred Sperry that have become a household word throughout the United States will be merely a sample of the professional art of this issue. It takes one's breath away to think of the treat in store for art-lovers, when they look at the two full-page cuts and more than 25 smaller ones. Among the celebrities contributing are "Win" Moss, Katherine Stoppenbach, "Hub" Townsend, "Doc" Blair, and Charles Fitzsimmons. One of the artists most productive of the posters that greet one's eyes all over the campus is Katherine Winckler.

The blame for the "Contributions of Chaste Readers" is sometimes laid on "Pat" Dennis, and whether this surmise is correct or not, its quality may be guessed by the fact that it was even ascribed to the Hibernian humorist. This issue is unusually instructive, containing a "College Dictionary" and a "Primer for the Modest," besides the third of a series of "Dramas from Other Planets," and any number of risibility-raising jokes.

DRIVE FOR CHIMES TO GET NEW PUSH

The drive for the senior chimes fund reopened yesterday with increased effort on the part of the committee for, although the response to the first call was satisfactory, the money received still falls far short of the $2,000 goal. Money may be given to members of the committee in the various rooming houses, or mailed to James Lindsey, 640 North Henry street.

The senior chimes fund began four years ago with the class of 1917, which donated $2,000 toward the $10,000 fund. Since then each graduating class has raised a similar amount, and if the class of 1920 reaches the mark, the total will be raised to $8,000.

Young girls couldn't shop, work, walk the whole day long without getting tired feet and faces, if they didn't wear shoes with almost a straight inside line. Just this firm Cuban heel and this straight inside line make all the difference in the world. Do you know who are making this sensible Walk-Over oxford so fashionable? College girls and business women and society women. They just have to keep on their feet. Not for them to feel tired and look tired.

"BOOK OF PROMS" IS COMPILED AS PICTURE HISTORY

Big Album to Have Records of All Junior Dances; to be Given to Union

The entire history of the 1921 Prom and of all previous Proms is being recorded in a pictorial history that is nearly completed, and which will be presented to the Wisconsin Union.

Instead of the simple album of Prom that has been compiled in the past, a more comprehensive book is being prepared for use in the new Union building. The book is to be known as "A Pictorial History of the Wisconsin Prom." The book, with the exception of this year's Prom, is completed, and it is expected that this year's section will be the largest in the album.

The book will be 18 by 30 inches in size, with a leather cover and gold leaf embossing. All pictures of previous Proms, Prom chairmen and their partners, Prom parties, prominent students in attendance, and all pictures pertaining to Prom will be included in the album.

In addition to the pictures, there will be a complete history of the Prom as a Wisconsin institution, the names of Prom committee members, bits of news of all sorts, dating back to the first Prom. The pictures and data were obtained from old Badgers, newspapers, faculty members and alumni.

The book will be displayed at the Prom chairman's reception at the Sigma Phi house for the first time. After the pictures and news about the 1921 Prom are included in the album, it will be placed permanently in the Union rooms. The book is being made up and compiled without charge by the Photoart House, 212 State street.

PADDLING TIME'S HERE, SAYS CAP'N

Get out your little red canoe and paddle, paddle, paddle! So says Captain Isabel, veteran life-saver at the university boat house. Lake Mendota is safely over her winter sleep, and after a short intermission of yawning from April 15-19 inclusive, she has resumed her round of spring gayeties.

Captain Isabel warns everyone to carry a life-preserver with him when he goes on the lake. Any canoe under 16 feet should carry only two passengers. A fine of from $5 to $50 must be paid for violation of the rules of the city ordinance. The station also asks that canoes be in by 10 p. m.

PLAYING SAFE

A student earning his way through college is justified in playing safe. Many realize that salesmanship offers the best chance for large returns, but hesitate to take the risk of failure and the consequent loss of a smaller but apparently surer profit in some form of clerical or manual labor. Your next year at college may depend upon the result of your summer's work. Under these circumstances, you have a right and, indeed, show good judgment, in asking definite guarantees from any company seeking your services on a commission sales contract. We guarantee $7.00 per day. Write us for particulars.
