2001 Champions Record: 19-1

For the first time in program history, Wisconsin won back-to-back Big Ten titles. The 19-1 record tied the 1997 team for best conference record in program history. Wisconsin joined Penn State and Illinois as the only schools to win outright (not shared with another school) back-to-back conference titles since 1985 when double round-robin play was initiated.

The Badgers opened the conference season with 11 straight wins including 3-0 wins over No. 10 Penn State, No. 11 Ohio State and No. 21 Minnesota. Wisconsin began the second-half of the Big Ten season with a 3-1 win at No. 10

Ohio State before falling at No. 13 Penn State in five games. The Badgers won the remaining eight league matches to clinch their fourth Big Ten title.

2000 Champions Record: 18-2

Wisconsin won its third Big Ten Conference title in 2000 and its second outright championship. The Badgers battled Minnesota all season long for the league title with teams sharing the conference lead most of the year.

The Badgers opened the 2000 league season with a 3-0 win over defending NCAA and Big Ten champion Penn State in front of 3,549 fans in the UW Field House. Wisconsin won its next two matches by 3-0 scores before falling in five games to 19th-ranked Ohio State. The UW won its next 11 matches including a 3-0 win at No. 5 Minnesota, a 3-1 win over No. 19 Michigan State at home, a 3-1 win over No. 7 Minnesota in the Field House and avenged its earlier loss to Ohio State with a 3-1 win in Columbus. The winning streak came to an end as Wisconsin lost at 11th-ranked Penn State, 2-3.

The Badgers wrapped up the Big Ten season with four straight wins and clinched a share of the title with a win at Michigan State on Nov. 25. A loss to co-leader Minnesota at Ohio State gave Wisconsin the title outright.

The Badgers opened the season with three straight wins, all over ranked teams, before travelling to State College, Pa., for their first match-up with the Nittany Lions. Penn State, which was ranked No. 1 at the time, came out on top 3-0 to take the league lead.

Wisconsin rebounded by winning its next six matches before facing Penn State at home on Halloween night. This time it was the Badgers who came out on top 3-1 in front of 6,118 fans in the UW Field House. ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

The University of Wisconsin-Madison is one of the finest institutions of higher education in the world.

UW-Madison has long been recognized as one of America's great universities ranking among the top 10 in many areas of study since 1910. The university offers a complete spectrum of liberal arts studies, professional programs, and student activities. It is a major research university which has a breadth of courses and majors that enables students to select from a variety of curricular choices.

The UW has one of the most diverse student bodies in the country with students coming from every state. Wisconsin also ranks fourth in the nation in foreign student enrollment.

University of Wisconsin athletes have a history of academic success. Badger athletes have earned numerous academic honors including Academic All-American, NCAA Top Eight award, NCAA Post-Graduate Scholarship, Big Ten Medal of Honor, Academic All-Big Ten, and Athletic Board Scholar.

The UW volleyball team has been a major contributor to that list of honorees with two Academic All-Americans, one Big Ten Medal of Honor, and 57 Academic All-Big Ten honorees.

U.S. National Training Team

Lizzy Fitzgerald continues to train with the U.S. National Team. She joined the team in January of 2002 after completing her UW career as a two-time All-American. Fitzgerald travelled with the team to Japan, Switzerland, Russia and the World Grand Prix in China.

Sara Urbanek, who also completed her eligibility in 2001, was also selected to participate on the U.S. Training Team travelling to Japan.

Jenny Maastricht, who completed her eligibility at Wisconsin in 2000, trained with the U.S. National Team during the spring of 2001.

Sherisa Livingston was also selected to travel with the U.S. National Team to a tournament in Switzerland during the summer of 2000. She did not compete with the team but experienced the highest level of international competition.

BADGERS IN THE USPV

The United States Professional Volleyball League kicked off its inaugural season in February of 2002. In its first season, the league featured four teams—Chicago Thunder, Grand Rapids Force, Minnesota Chill and St. Louis Quest. Minnesota won the first league title with a 3-1 win over Chicago in the championship series.

Three former Badgers were members of the USPV in 2002. Kate Fitzgerald and Colleen Neels played for the Chill while Kelly Kennedy was a member of the Thunder.

The USPV will soon announce six additional expansion teams for 2003.

KATE FITZGERALD

Minnesota Chill

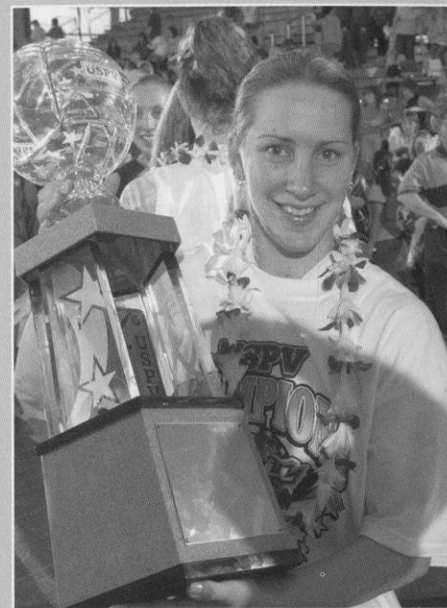

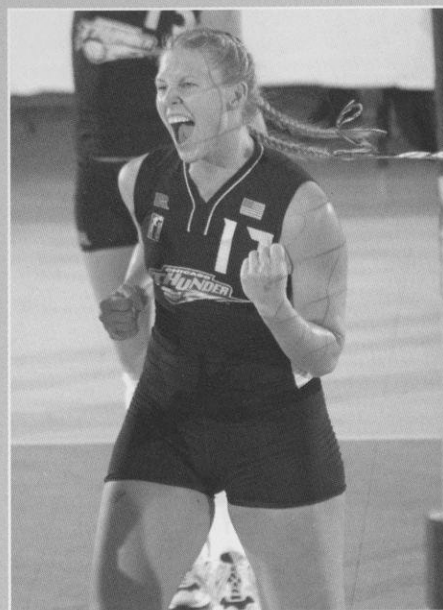

Kate Fitzgerald saw limited playing time with the league champion Minnesota Chill. The 6-0 outside hitter played in six matches and 17 games recording 31.5 points. She had 23 kills, 4.5 blocks, four aces and 33 digs. Fitzgerald had career highs of 14 kills and two aces against Chicago.

KELLY KENNEDY

Chicago Thunder

Kelly Kennedy was a member of the second-place Chicago Thunder during the 2002 season. She finished fourth in the league in hitting percentage at .318 and fifth in the league in blocks with 44.5. Kennedy also set the league record for most block solos in a match with four. The middle blocker played in 18 matches and 74 games totalling 179.5 points.

She was twice named USPV Player of the Match.

COLLEEN NEELS

Minnesota Chill

Colleen Neels, a 5-9 setter, aided the Chill to the 2002 USPV league championship. Neels played in 12 matches and 47 games during the season recording 6.5 points and 2.5 blocks. She also had 20 digs and 44 assists. Neels recorded career highs of 32 assists and nine digs versus St. Louis.

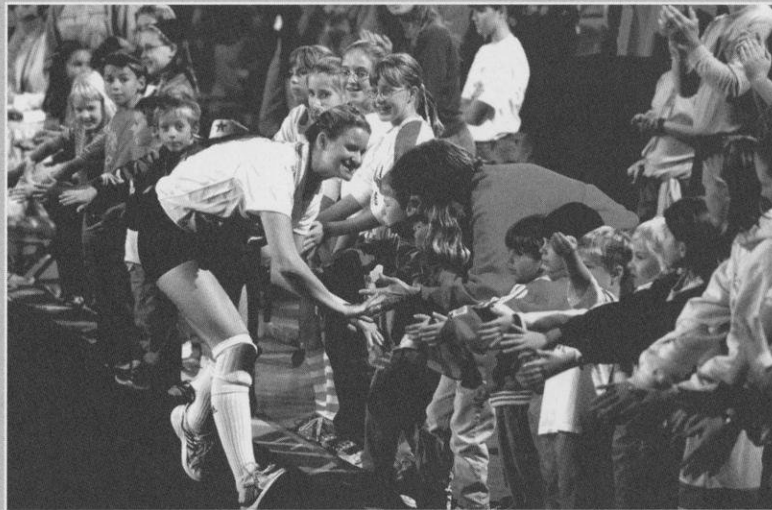

BUMPIN' BADGERS KIDS CLUB

Nowhere else are kids such an important part of a volleyball program. From giving the Badger starters a "high five" before the start of every home match, to joining in the singing of 'Varsity' after another Badger win, to participating in clinics with the UW team and coaching staff, the Bumpin' Badgers Kids Club is an integral part of Wisconsin volleyball.

Open to boys and girls up to the eighth grade, the Bumpin' Badgers have a special relationship with the UW team. All club members receive free admission to home matches, a club t-shirt and ID card. During the matches, the Bumpin' Badgers are eligible for special prize drawings. Members get to participate in two volleyball clinics with the UW coaches and team members during the season and also get a free pizza party.

For more information on the Bumpin' Badgers Kids Club, contact the UW Marketing Office, 1440 Monroe St., Madison, WI 53711 or call (608) 265-2672.

WISCONSIN FIELD HOUSE

The first time you walk into the UW Field House during a volleyball match, you feel the excitement that is Wisconsin Volleyball. The band is playing, the fans are yelling "Point Wisconsin," Bucky Badger is dancing, and the UW team is on the court winning!

Badger fans make the UW Field House one of the loudest and most intimidating venues for opposing teams in the nation. Wisconsin consistently ranks among the top five in the nation in attendance, and Badger fans are known for being very knowledgeable about the sport of volleyball.

Badgers' Home

The Wisconsin Field House has been the permanent home of the Badger volleyball team since 1986. In 1998, the volleyball team took over sole possession of the Field House adding a Sport Court and improving its locker room facilities.

The first volleyball match played in the Field House was on Oct. 23, 1977, when the U.S. Men's National Team played Cuba. The first women's match followed soon after when Wisconsin played host to the 1977 Big Ten Conference Championship on Oct. 29.

It wasn't until 1980 that the Badgers again competed in the Field House playing host to two tournaments. Wisconsin's play in the Field House was sporadic Wisconsin ranks among the top three teams in the country in attendance and has led the Big Ten Conference in attendance six times including in 2001.

until 1986 when the official move to the Field House occurred.

A Tough Place to Play

Since 1990, when the Badgers won their first Big Ten title and competed in their first NCAA tournament, the Field House has become one of the toughest places to play in the country. Wisconsin has ranked among the top 10 in national attendance for the last 12 years including third-place rankings in 1997, 2000 and 2001. In 2001, the Badgers set the Big Ten Conference regular-season record with 3,745 spectators per match. Wisconsin has led the league in attendance six years—1990, 1991, 1994, 1997, 2000 and 2001.

1993 NCAA Championship

The Field House was the site of the 1993 NCAA Division I Women's Volleyball Championship which drew then-record crowds. A total of 21,085 watched the two-day event including 11,155 for the championship match. That figure set the NCAA single-match attendance record and still ranks as the No. 5 volleyball attendance figure of all time.

The Field House was also the site of the No. 7 attendance of all time when 10,935 fans watched the Badgers defeat Illinois in the first round of the 1990 NCAA tournament.

Volleyball Specific

With the Kohl Center opening, the Badger volleyball team is the sole occupant of the Field House in the fall. One significant improvement is a permanent Sport Court for all UW home matches and practices. The Badgers also moved into new locker room facilities with a team lounge and study area separate from the team's home locker room. A complete renovation of the locker room area, including a photo display of Big Ten championship teams, is scheduled to be completed this winter.

The Field House has a total of four locker rooms for hosting tournaments as well as an athletic training room and equipment room.

Entertainment On and Off the Court

Action on the volleyball court isn't the only thing you'll find when you come to the UW Field House. Bucky Badger and the UW band lead the cheers while there are always exciting contests to entertain fans between games. Check out the All-American wall to see life-size action photos of the Badgers' best! The UW Field House is truly the home of the Badgers and nowhere else will you find such excitement and great volleyball action.

Competing on our home court is one of the best feelings in college sports.

The noise level sends chills down your spine and it raises the level of our team.

HEAD COACH PETE WAITE

Ever since Pete Waite came to Wisconsin, the Badgers have reached a new level of success. In his three years as head coach, Wisconsin has advanced to the NCAA tournament all three seasons, including a second-place finish in 2000; won two Big Ten Conference titles; and garnered two Big Ten Players of the Year.

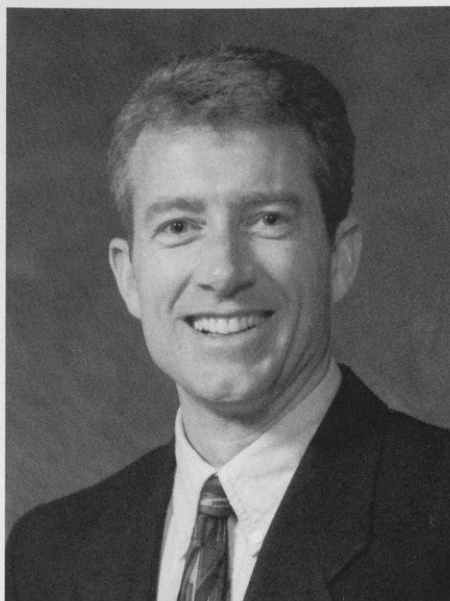

In 2001, the Badgers won the Big Ten with a 19-1 mark. Wisconsin was ranked among the top 10 teams in the nation all season, advancing to the regional semifinals and ending its season at 27-4. Waite was named the Big Ten and AVCA Midwest Regional Coach for the second consecutive year.

In 2000, Waite guided the UW to the NCAA championship match, the NCAA Midwest Regional title and the Big Ten title. Wisconsin finished the season 34-3 overall and 19-1 in the Big Ten.

In his first year at Wisconsin, he led the Badgers to a 23-9 overall mark, advancing to the second round of the NCAA tournament. Wisconsin tied for second in the Big Ten at 15-5.

Waite, 42, has coached three All-Americans, seven AVCA All-Region selections, five conference players of the year, and 24 first-team all-conference honorees. He has had six athletes on all-newcomer teams and two earned newcomer of the year recognition.

In 2001, Sherisa Livingston became the first UW player to earn consecutive first-team All-America honors, while Lizzy Fitzgerald earned her first first-team honor after receiving second-team honors in 2000. Fitzgerald was also named the Big Ten Player of the Year, following in the footsteps of Livingston who captured the award in 2000.

Waite came to Wisconsin from Northern Illinois University where he was the all-time winningest volleyball coach in program history. He had an 11-year record of 266-102 (.723 winning percentage) including nine 20-win seasons. The Huskies were 81-19 (.810) in his last three years including three consecutive NCAA tournament bids. Northern Illinois won eight regular-season conference titles and six conference tournaments under Waite. The Huskies won the 1998 Mid-American Conference regular season title and the 1997 MAC Tournament. He has earned three conference coach of the year honors including the 1997 Mid-American Coach of the Year.

Prior to being named the head coach at Northern Illinois, Waite spent two years as an assistant coach at Illinois State. In 1984 and 1985, he was the head coach at Moraine Valley Community College in Palos Hills, Ill., leading the Cyclones to the 1985 North Central Community College Conference championship. Waite was named the conference coach of the year in 1985.

Waite spent one year as the director and coach of the Chicago Power Junior Volleyball Club in Orland Park, Ill., and two years as a coach with the 2nd City Junior Volleyball Club in Chicago. He started his coaching career in 1981 at Muncie (Ind.) Northside High School and spent the next year as a junior varsity coach at his alma mater, Monona Grove (Wis.) High School. Waite also coached one year at Bremen High School in Midlothian, Ill.

Waite played volleyball and graduated from Monona Grove High School. He played volleyball at Ball State University in Muncie, Ind., from 1977-81 with a team that consistently ranked in the top 10 nationally. The 1979 Cardinal squad finished fourth in the NCAA tournament after winning the Midwest Intercollegiate Volleyball Association title with a perfect 14-0 record. Waite received all-MIVA honors his junior and senior years, and was named team co-captain and co-MVP in 1980. He received his bachelor's degree in education from Ball State in 1981.

Waite receives a confetti shower following the Badgers' second-round NCAA win over Michigan State.

“My first three seasons at Wisconsin just flew by and I’m excited about the fourth. We have a great group of players we’ll be putting on the floor this year. I’m looking forward to seeing how far this team can go.”

Q&A WITH COACH WAITE

Why should a student-athlete choose to attend the University of Wisconsin?

I've seen a lot of other schools and I think the University of Wisconsin ranks among the best in the nation. Besides having some of the best academic programs, it has two important areas that put it above many other schools. Being surrounded by two large lakes and the state capital, it's one of the most beautiful campuses anywhere. Along with that, we have a very loyal and large fan base that makes the Field House a fantastic place to play. Our program can offer a great education, a beautiful city, a well-balanced social life, and fans that other schools wish they had. I could go on and on, but the UW has the whole package.

What kind of student-athletes are you recruiting to the University of Wisconsin?

Players who are serious about their academics. People who are here to get a degree they will be proud of while playing for a team they will remember forever. I want people who love the game now and who will love it when they're done. People who are well-rounded academically, athletically and socially.

What goals have you set for the Wisconsin program and each individual player?

Some goals we set are private, between the players and the staff. That's important in order to keep everyone focused on the task. We ask each player to leave her comfort zone and grow as a person and as a member of the team.

We will always aim to be the top team in the Big Ten along with being one of the top teams in the country. We want to prepare ourselves for the opportunity to succeed.

How would you describe your coaching style?

I'm a teacher, it's always been a part of me even before I became a coach. I look for our weaknesses and do everything I can to eliminate them. I'm firm and fair, not a yeller. I expect a lot of my players, while at the same time, I'll work hard to help them enjoy their time with the program. It's a game; it should be fun. I offer them a lot of variety in practices so that time flies by. I want players to love the game, play from their hearts, and dare to dream. When they do that, the wins will come.

You chose to return to your hometown of Madison after coaching in the collegiate ranks for over 10 years. What made you want to come back and accept this position?

Part of my decision to return was for my wife Carrie and my sons, Ryan and Eric. Madison is such a great place to live that I wanted them to be able to enjoy it too. The other part was the excitement of the high level of play and the great athletes the University of Wisconsin attracts. The Big Ten is the best conference in the country, and that makes our players raise their level of play higher than they could ever imagine.

You have almost 20 years of coaching experience. What have you learned in your years of coaching that you bring to the UW program?

I've been a college coach for over 16 years, and was a full-time club coach for three years before that. I've learned that patience pays off. I enjoy seeing a player learn a new skill just as much as I enjoy the championships. I bring the philosophy that building a quality program means taking care of the players, not taking shortcuts and leaving players in your wake.

I know that developing winners is not just about me. There has to be a great staff and we have that. The players need to believe, trust, and try. I'm here to guide them and give them the freedom to blossom when they're ready to grow.

What strengths does your coaching staff bring to the University of Wisconsin program and its athletes?

We have one of the best coaching staffs in the country.

Christy brings the wisdom of a person who led her team to a national championship in college. She has an analytical eye to break down opponents and find ways for us to win.

Rod is a great addition to our staff. He has a wealth of experience as a coach and player on the national and international levels.

This is a great staff who loves what they do. The Badger players and I are lucky to be able to be in the gym everyday with these coaches. They are both winners.

The Big Ten Conference is one of the toughest leagues in the nation for women's volleyball. What does it take for athletes to compete on the Big Ten level?

Not just one of the toughest, it is the toughest! Players have to battle and fight to stay on top. That's what makes it great. You have no choice but to play your best because there are so many good players and teams. Those are the players we want to become Badgers: those who love a challenge and are ready to fight. To be the best, you have to play the best.

Wisconsin made it to the NCAA championship match in 2000. What has this done for the program? What is it going to take to remain at this level?

Earning a trip to the NCAA championship match really gave us a lot of respect nationally. As we go out on the recruiting trail now, we hear a lot of comments from people who were pulling for us. Making it to the final match showed people that we were for real, that we had really earned our way there by beating some great teams.

To stay at the elite level, we need to bring in the top recruits who can see themselves playing for the national championship in a Badger uniform. We've been getting some attention from the top players in the country already, so I'm excited about the future of the program.

What do you enjoy most about coaching at the University of Wisconsin?

The players, the staff, the support, the Field House, the Band, Bucky, the huge fan turnout, all the other great sports and coaches, the lakes, State Street, the Capital, the zoo, the Big Ten, my family nearby . . . You name it, I love this place!

The former manager of the High Performance Programs with U.S.A. Volleyball (USAV), Wilde oversaw all aspects of the USAV programs for high school athletes including the Junior and Youth National teams.

Wilde was a three-time All-American at Pepperdine University, setting the Waves to the 1978 NCAA Championship. He returned to Pepperdine as the men's head coach from 1985-87 leading the Waves to the 1986 NCAA Championship. Wilde also served as the head men's coach at UC San Diego from 1991-93 and as the head women's coach at Drake University from 1984-85.

REBUILDING THE BADGERS

"We can rebuild them. We have the technology. We can make them better than they were—better, stronger, faster."

Borrowing from the introduction of the 1970's series, "The Six Million Dollar Man," the Wisconsin volleyball team has a similar mission in 2002. The Badgers must rebuild after losing two All-Americans and three starters.

"I'd have to describe it as retooling," says fourth-year head coach Pete Waite. "We did lose three strong starters but we actually return seven players who have had starting roles in the past. The talent is still here. We just have to find out who plays best together on the court."

The Badgers don't have the advantage of bionic legs to jump higher or a bionic arm to spike harder but they do have the history of a successful program to rely on. Wisconsin is the two-time defending Big Ten Conference champion and has competed in the last six NCAA tournaments.

The UW won the 2001 Big Ten title with a 19-1 record and finished the season 27-4 overall, advancing to an NCAA regional.

"We want to win another Big Ten Championship and go after a national title," says Waite of his team's goals for 2002. "This group knows how much hard work there will be along the way to even have a shot at those goals. They've been working hard since the end of last season and I think that they're in for some battles."

Part of the battle will be replacing two-time, first-team All-American Sherisa Livingston, who is the Badgers' career leader in kills and hitting percentage, and two-time, second-team All-American Lizzy Fitzgerald, who was Wisconsin's starting setter the last two years. Waite must also find a replacement for Sara Urbanek, who was one of the team's top passers and defensive players.

That group was talented enough to earn the attention of the U.S. National Team. Fitzgerald has been training with the squad since February while Urbanek spent almost five months training with the team.

"It's always hard to fill the holes left by such talented players," says Waite. "They all made huge contributions in their separate ways and we'll certainly miss having them on the court."

"The exciting part comes when we watch our returning players step up their games and become a whole new team. I think this group will bring a different style to the court that will surprise a lot of people."

Coach Pete Waite

Without Livingston as the UW's go-to player, Waite will have to rely on several players to fill her offensive hole.

"Sherisa carried a big load for us offensively during her career. With her gone, we'll have to spread out the sets to more hitters and that will actually be tougher for our opponents to defend," says Waite. "I know that all of our hitters are excited that they'll be taking more swings at the ball."

■ OUTSIDE HITTER

Swinging the most at the ball should be senior tri-captain Erin Byrd. The 6-0 outside hitter is a three-year starter for the Badgers and improved her offensive output tremendously in 2001. Byrd ranked third on the team with 3.46 kills per game while maintaining her role as the team's defensive leader. She earned honorable mention All-Big Ten honors last season and was also recognized by the U.S. National program by being selected to the A-2 program during the summer of 2002.

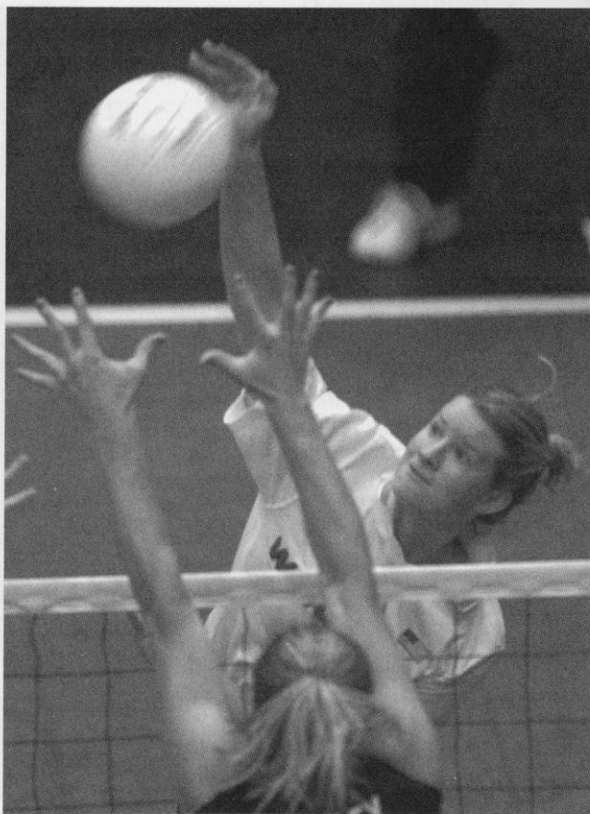

Junior Lisa Zukowski also returns after tearing the ACL in her left knee in late October. The 5-10 outside hitter had started 19 matches prior to her injury and ranked second on the team with 3.70 kills per game. She also had a team-leading 0.41 service aces per game and was averaging 2.44 digs per game.

"With Zuke's knee injury, it allowed us to see how talented Jill Odenthal was," says Waite. "Now that Zuke will be back, we'll have three starting leftsides returning and they all did a great job last season."

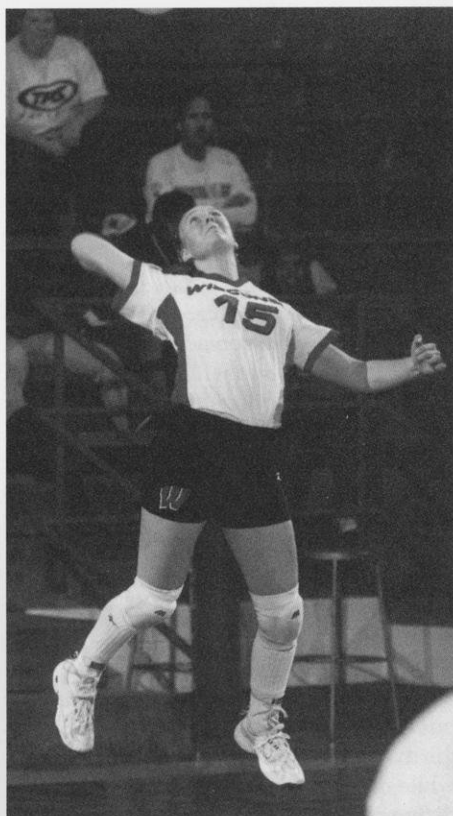

"Add to that depth, the strong play of Marian Weidner and Aubrey Meierotto and we've got a lot of outside hitters we have confidence in."

Odenhal, a 6-0 left-hander, had seen limited playing time as a back-up opposite hitter in her first year prior to Zukowski's injury. She moved to the right side and averaged 3.49 kills and 2.00 digs per game after becoming a starter. Odenthal was named to the 2001 Big Ten All-Freshman team for her play.

Weidner, a 6-2 outside hitter, also saw only limited playing time as a true freshman. Most of her action

Erin Byrd earned honorable mention All-Big Ten honors in 2001 after averaging 3.46 kills and 2.90 digs per game.

Morgan Shields, a redshirt junior, will take over the starting setter duties for the Badgers.

was in the back row serving and playing solid defense. During the 2002 spring season, Weidner saw considerable time in the front row and improved her offensive output.

Meierotto, a 6-1 outside hitter, was the Badgers' most promising freshman last year but chronic knee pain forced her to redshirt. She had improved enough during the 2002 spring season to start several matches at outside hitter.

■ SETTER

An area that the Badgers will still be strong at despite losing a two-time All-American, will be at setter where redshirt junior Morgan Shields returns.

"Redshirting was perfect for Morgan even though she was itching to play in every match. It gave her time to mature as a person and player. I think she really settled into who she is and now she's a much better player than she was," says Waite.

The 5-11 Shields started 13 matches as a true freshman and four matches as a sophomore. She averages 9.83 assists per game for her career and also has a powerful jump serve which will challenge opponents.

"Some people don't remember that Morgan had beaten Lizzy out for the starting (setter) spot in 2000. When Morgan turned her ankle in the third week, Lizzy took over and went on to become an All-American," explains Waite.

"Morgan has been patient during her redshirt year and now she's really ready to lead this team. She brings a high intensity and a focused outlook to the court.

Morgan also has a pure excitement about the sport that becomes contagious among the team. We're all excited to see her take over. I know she's going to do a great job."

Shields was slowed last spring by a broken left pinky finger but by the end of the spring season, she was able to set from the back row.

"With Morgan breaking her finger, it actually gave us an opportunity to see Jill Odenthal in the setting role," says Waite. "We were happy to see how comfortable she is in that spot and it will help us be more versatile in our play. The only thing this group needs now is time playing together in our system. I think they're just going to get stronger and stronger as each week goes by."

The Badgers will also have two freshmen who will serve as back-up setters.

Katie Lancing-Lorenzen, a native of Pagosa Springs, Colo., was named the 2001 Denver Post 3A Player of the Year. The 6-0 setter also earned all-state honors from the Denver Post and Rocky Mountain News. Lancing-Lorenzen is a two-time conference player of the year and led Pagosa Springs High School to a second-place finish in the 2001 state tournament.

Katie Kohnen is the younger sister of former Badger, Meggan Kohnen. The 5-7 setter from Dubuque, Iowa, was named the 2001 Iowa Preps National Player of the Year and is the two-time Iowa state player of the year.

"Katie Lancing-Lorenzen and Katie Kohnen really shore up our setting spot," says Waite. "It's hard to say until they step in the gym with us, but I really like what each one brings to the team."

■ MIDDLE BLOCKER

With the graduation of four-year starter Livingston, the Badgers will have a different look at middle blocker.

Waite returns 6-3 middle Amy Hultgren, who transferred from the University of Texas and earned a starting spot. Hultgren ranked second on the team with 1.10 blocks per game and also had the second-highest team hitting percentage at .312.

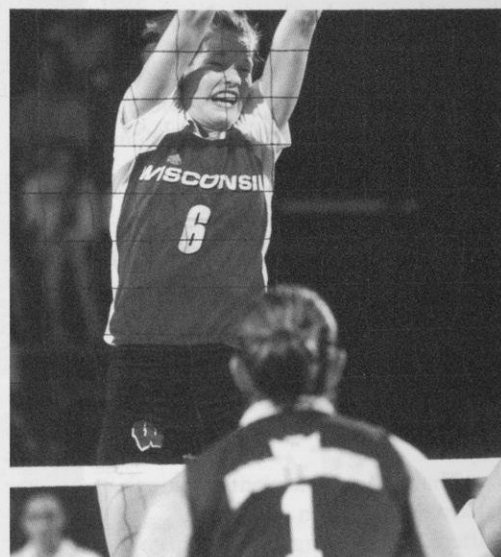

Fifth-year senior Lori Rittenhouse spent much of the 2002 spring season in the other middle spot. The 6-1 Rittenhouse spent the 2001 season as the Badgers' starting opposite hitter. She averaged 1.91 kills, 2.38 digs and 0.75 blocks per game as a junior. Rittenhouse also led the team with 38 service aces.

"That was Lori's position in high school and she has great foot speed and a quick arm," explains Waite of Rittenhouse's move to the middle. "We also have two strong freshmen middles in Sheila Shaw and Lauren Ford. They are both great athletes who have a chance to see some court time."

Shaw and Ford both earned Volleyball Fab 50 honors. The 6-1 Shaw was ranked ninth on the impact she is expected to make in college volleyball over the next four years, while the 6-2 Ford was ranked 28th.

Shaw was named the 2001-02 Gatorade High School Player of the Year for Wisconsin and is a two-time all-state player. She was twice named the best blocker at the National Junior Classic Tournament.

Ford was a member of the 2001 U.S. Youth National training team and is a two-time all-country selection.

Lisa Zukowski started 19 matches for the Badgers last season before tearing her left ACL. She averaged 3.70 kills and 2.44 digs per game.

"There's a good chance Sheila and Lauren will see some court time their first year," says Waite.

DEFENSE

The libero comes to college volleyball in 2002 which will bring a new look to the game.

"The libero will be an exciting change for the college game," says Waite. "We can keep our best defensive player on the court more often and that should help our ball control."

The libero is a designated back-row player who is allowed to replace any player in the back row without counting as a substitution. The libero wears a different color jersey from the rest of the team and is not allowed to serve, attempt to block or attack a ball.

Teams got to experiment with the libero during the 2002 spring season.

Junior Korie Gardner is the Badgers' top returning defensive player. She averaged 1.91 digs per game, including eight matches with double-figure digs.

"When you add Korie, who has been a defensive starter for us, to our starting line-up, we have a lot of experience on the court," says Waite.

Junior Jill Maier made some big strides in the spring according to Waite, and freshman Beth Haberli has the potential to step right in.

"It's going to be great to see the battle for that spot," says Waite.

With such a talented group of returnees and newcomers, Waite just needs to find the right combination of players on the court.

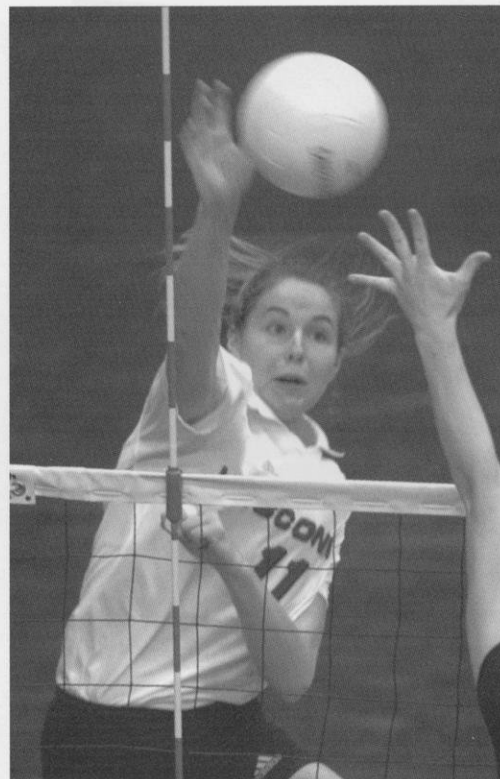

"I think our team chemistry is going to be great," says Waite. "The personalities and attitudes we're putting on the court this year are going to be a great blend. This group knows how to play hard and they'll do whatever they can to help the team win. There is an energy they have between each other and the fans. It's really great to watch."

SCHEDULE

Ten teams that competed in the 2001 NCAA Tournament, including eight teams which were ranked or received votes in the final 2001 USA Today/AVCA Top 25 Coaches Poll, highlight the 2002 Wisconsin schedule.

Among the ranked teams on the Badgers' schedule are No. 11 Texas A&M, No. 12 Ohio State, No. 17 Penn State, No. 19 Michigan State and No. 20 Illinois. Minnesota, North Carolina and UC Santa Barbara all received votes in the final poll.

All eight ranked teams participated in the 2001 NCAA Tournament and will be joined on the schedule by post-season qualifiers Duke and American. "Our schedule is strong but not quite as tough as last year," says Waite. "We'll see teams like Duke and North Carolina who are really making a move into the top echelon of the sport. UC Santa Barbara is always tough and Texas A&M knocked us out of the NCAA tournament last year."

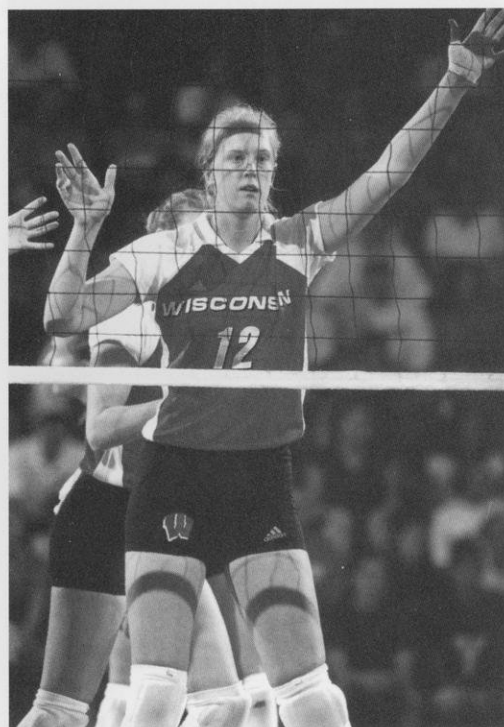

Lori Rittenhouse started all 31 matches for the Badgers last season at opposite hitter. She could see some playing time at middle blocker this year.

Wisconsin opens its 2002 season on Aug. 30-31 at the Carolina Classic against St. Johns, New Mexico State and host North Carolina. The InnTowner Invitational in the UW Field House on Sept. 6-7 will pit the Badgers against Texas A&M, Illinois State and the University of Montreal. The Badgers make another trip to the East Coast when they participate in the Duke Classic against Duke, American and UC Santa Barbara. Wisconsin returns home for the Badger Invitational against Bowling Green, Illinois-Chicago and Tulane before the conference season.

Wisconsin opens Big Ten play on the road at Purdue on Sept. 27. Wisconsin plays six of its first-half Big Ten matches on the road and ends the regular season with four out of six matches at home.

"As always, you can go down the list of all the tough Big Ten teams and we know we're going to have to fight our way to every win," says Waite.

Amy Hultgren returns as the Badgers' leading blocker with 1.10 per game. She also has the top returning hitting percentage at .312.

If I could bring one thing from my hometown, it would be: my best friend Carol

In off-season training, I worked on: keeping my butt back

The most unusual thing the average person would not know about me is: I can stick floss up my nose and bring it out my mouth.

The best thing about Madison is: the

When I run out onto the court in the Field House, I think: This is so awesome!

Advice you would give to a young volleyball player: Don't let anyone make you believe you can't do something.

STEVE LOWE MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP

When Steve Lowe unexpectedly passed away on Aug. 22, 1991, the University of Wisconsin and the Madison community lost a true friend and a winner on and off the court.

With Lowe at the helm, the Badger volleyball program burst onto the national scene. In 1989, he directed the Badgers to the inaugural National Invitational Volleyball Championship, their first post-season appearance ever.

The following year he steered Wisconsin to its first Big Ten Conference title, its first NCAA tournament appearance and first national ranking. Lowe also produced Wisconsin's first volleyball All-American with Lisa Boyd earning second-team honors.

Lowe, who had a 108-64 career record in five years at Wisconsin, earned 1990 Big Ten and AVCA Mideast Coach of the Year honors.

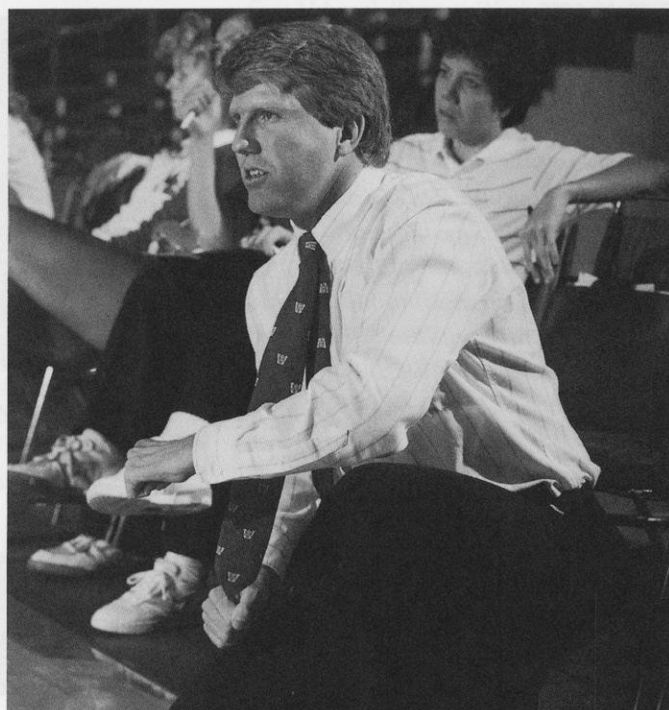

Every year Wisconsin's Big Ten home opener will be designated "Steve Lowe Night" in honor of the former coach. This year's match is Friday, Oct. 4 versus Minnesota.

In addition, a Badger volleyball player who exemplifies Steve's love of the game is named the recipient of the Steve Lowe Memorial Scholarship.

Contributions to the Steve Lowe Memorial Scholarship Fund may be made to the University of Wisconsin Foundation—Steve Lowe Scholarship Fund, 1848 University Ave., Box 8860, Madison, Wis. 53708-8860.

NCAA VOLLEYBALL CHAMPIONSHIPS

Bottom: Wisconsin first played host to the NCAA Championship in 1993 drawing a then-record crowd of 11,155 in the UW Field House.

WISCONSIN SETS ATTENDANCE RECORDS

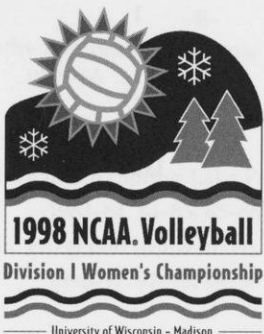

The University of Wisconsin has served as the host to the NCAA Division I Women's Volleyball Championship twice in the last seven years. Wisconsin is only the third university to play host to the championship more than once.

In 1998, the UW set the NCAA single-match attendance record when 13,194 spectators watched the finals of the championship. Wisconsin also set the NCAA semifinal attendance record of 12,327 bringing the two-day total to 25,521, which broke the championship record of 21,086 set in 1997 at the Spokane Arena.

Wisconsin first played host to the championship in 1993, drawing record crowds to the UW Field House. A then-record attendance of 21,085 watched the two-day event including 11,155 who watched Long Beach State defeat Penn State in the championship match. That figure still stands as the No. 5 volleyball attendance figure of all time.

Did You Know?

The Big Ten Conference has led the nation in total volleyball attendance eight out of the last 11 years including in 2001.

The Big Ten Conference is an association of 11 world-class universities whose member institutions share a common mission of research, graduate, professional and undergraduate teaching and public service. Intercollegiate athletics has an important place within the mission.

Founded in 1896, the Big Ten has sustained a comprehensive set of shared practices and policies that enforce the priority of academics in student-athletes' lives and emphasize the values of integrity, fairness and competitiveness. Big Ten universities provide in excess of $63 million in athletic scholarship aid to more than 7,500 men and women student-athletes who compete for 25 championships, 12 for men and 13 for women. In total, Big Ten Conference institutions sponsor more than 250 athletic programs.

Athletic programs in the Big Ten Conference:

- provide an avenue for more than 140,000 young men and women to pursue higher education while competing in sports.

- had more than 7,500 student-athletes playing on over 260 teams in 2000-01. Those student-athletes received over $63 million in direct financial aid.

- graduate at a rate of 10 percent higher than all Division I student-athletes.

- annually recognized more than 1,300 student-athletes who achieve a "B" grade point average or better on the Academic All-Conference teams.

- have won more than 185 team titles and 1,250 individual titles.

- are some of the most competitive in the country. The Big Ten has placed four schools among the top 20 in the final Sears Directors' Cup standings, which annually recognizes the nation's top athletic programs, in six of the Cup's eight years of existence.

- were all ranked among the top 29 in the country in a first-of-its-kind analysis by The Sporting News (September 1999) of all 112 Division I-A athletic programs (that play football and men's basketball).

- showcased more than 250 events that are televised nationally, regionally and locally last year, representing over 550 hours of programming.

- are among the national attendance leaders in football, men's and women's basketball, women's volleyball and wrestling.

The Big Ten sponsors championships or tournaments in the following sports: baseball, men's and women's basketball, men's and women's cross country, field hockey, football, men's and women's golf, men's and women's gymnastics, women's rowing, men's and women's soccer, men's and women's swimming & diving, softball, men's and women's tennis, men's and women's indoor and outdoor track & field, wrestling and volleyball.

The Big Ten Conference volleyball champion is determined by the match record within the conference. Teams play a double round-robin schedule facing each other at home and away, for a total of 20 matches.

The conference champion earns an automatic bid to the NCAA tournament. In 2001, the Big Ten was represented by five universities in the NCAA volleyball championship.

Members of the Big Ten Conference have competed in the NCAA Championship match 12 times including Wisconsin in 2000. Penn State won the 1999 NCAA Championship and is a six-time championship participant. Illinois and Ohio State have each made two championship appearances and Michigan State one.

For eight of the last 11 years, the Big Ten Conference has led the nation in volleyball total attendance. In 2001, the league drew a total of 227,232 spectators for the season for an average of 1,438 fans per match, which was first in the nation.

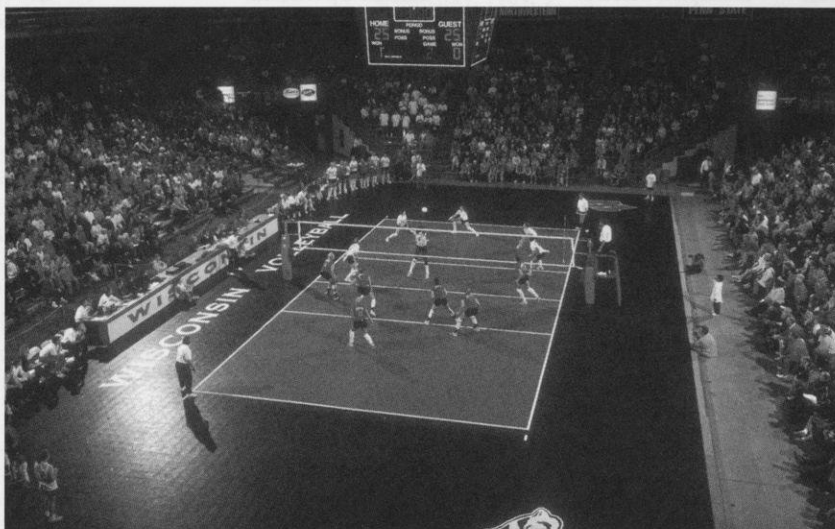

Seven schools ranked in the top 30 nationally for average attendance. Wisconsin ranked third in the nation and led the Big Ten with an average of 3,745 spectators per match, setting the conference record.

Minnesota and Penn State both ranked in the top 10 nationally with averages of 2,373 (6th) and 1,966 (9th), respectively. Illinois ranked 16th, Purdue was 22nd, Michigan State 25th and Ohio State 29th.

A WORLD-CLASS UNIVERSITY

The University of Wisconsin-Madison, one of the nation's largest and most productive institutions of higher education, is dedicated to the support of academic freedom.

Founded in 1848, the first class of 17 students enrolled February 5, 1849. Today, UW-Madison ranks as the nation's ninth largest university with 41,552 students.

On a single campus, students can find a complete spectrum of liberal arts studies, professional programs and student activities. UW-Madison's academic reputation has been rated among the top 10 in many areas since 1910.

As one of the nation's first land-grant universities, UW-Madison maintains a strong research emphasis in agricultural and life sciences. Award-winning research spanning the academic disciplines, however, has earned UW-Madison a place among the world's elite institutions of higher education.

Wisconsin consistently ranks among the top 10 public universities in the United States. The quality of its undergraduate, graduate and research programs is recognized around the world.

The flagship school of the state UW system, UW-Madison offers the only public schools of law, medicine and veterinary medicine in the state and is one of only two state-supported schools to offer doctoral degrees.

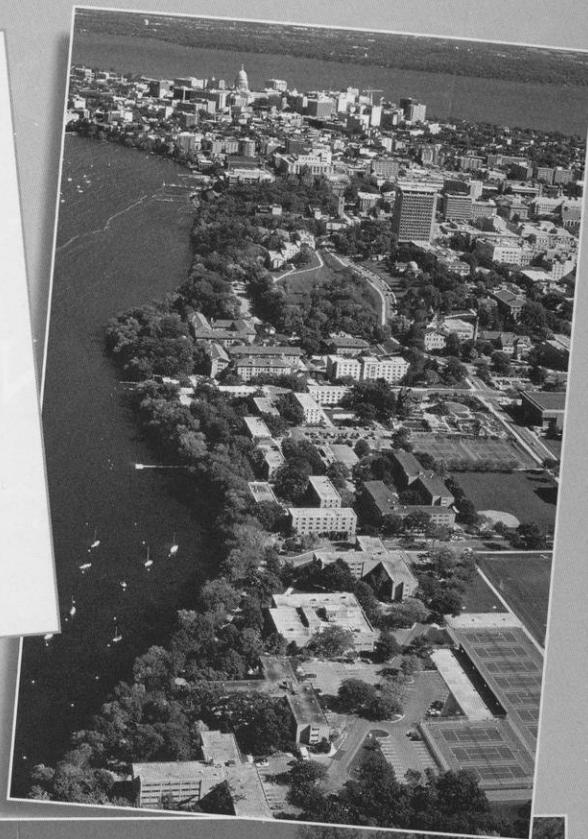

One of the most picturesque college campuses in the country, UW-Madison sits along the shore of beautiful Lake Mendota. The city of Madison and the University were designed to be linked, signifying the interrelated nature of academic and political life at Wisconsin.

Bascom Hall serves as the centerpiece of the campus. It sits atop the beautiful tree-lined Bascom Hill, which offers a magnificent view of downtown Madison.

The University of Wisconsin consistently ranks among the top 10 public institutions in the United States. The quality of Wisconsin's undergraduate, graduate and research programs is recognized worldwide. Every published survey of faculty and administrators since the early 1900s has placed UW-Madison among the top education institutions in the country. The results of this quality are tangible. Wisconsin ranks second in the number of graduates who become chief executives in Fortune 500 companies and second in the number of Peace Corps volunteers. UW graduates DO make a difference.

► U.S. News & World Report, 2001—Ranked eighth among public universities and 32nd among all universities. The UW also rated in the top five for academic reputation among public universities.

► U.S. News & World Report, 2002—Ranks Wisconsin as the eighth best public university and 32nd among all universities

► Fiske Guide to Colleges, 2003—Gives the UW-Madison its highest academic ranking. In fact, UW-Madison is one of only eight public institutions in the country to receive the five-star rating. It is also one of 43 schools selected as "Best Buys."

► Kiplinger's Personal Finance Magazine, 2000—Ranked sixth among the 100 Best Values in Public Colleges

► Princeton Review, 2002—Lists Madison as 14th among great college towns.

STUDENT LIFE

More than 41,000 students populate the UW campus with almost 29,000 undergraduates, more than 8,000 graduate students and more than 2,000 professional students in numerous fields.

The University maintains one of the nation's most diverse student bodies. Students hail from every county in the state and every state in the nation, as well as from 108 other countries. Wisconsin ranks ninth in the nation for total international student enrollment.

Student life at UW-Madison is more than books, term papers, and exams. Some of the most important lessons learned at Wisconsin occur far from any lecture hall or lab.

The hub of student life on campus is the Memorial Union and its lakeside terrace. Here students study or socialize against a backdrop of sailboats, canoes, sailboards, kayaks and swimmers, while enjoying the sunshine and breezes from Madison's largest lake, Mendota.

"The primary purpose of the University of Wisconsin-Madison is to provide a learning environment in which faculty, staff, and students can discover, examine critically, preserve and transmit the knowledge, wisdom and values that will help ensure the survival of this and future generations and improve the quality of life for all."

STUDENT HOUSING

The University Residence Halls provide you with a comfortable, smoke-free living environment and many resources to help you succeed academically at the university.

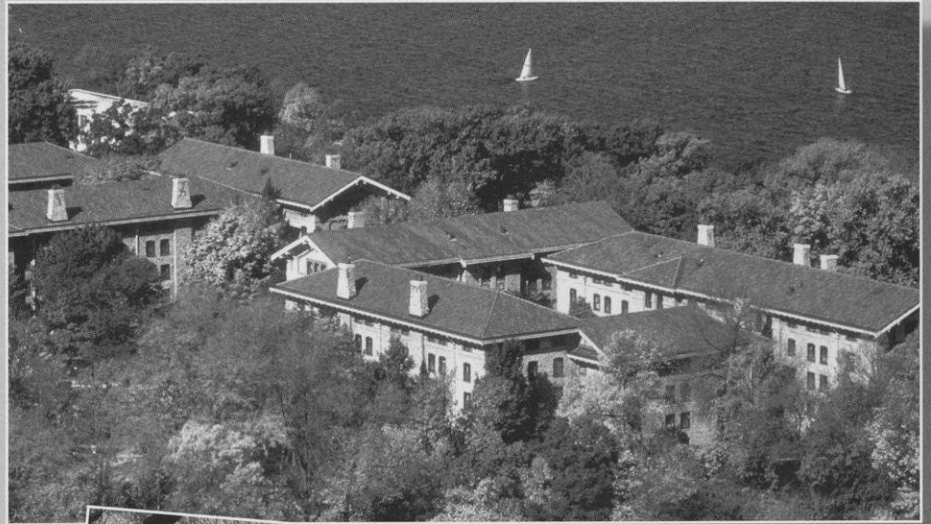

Each UW-Madison residence hall has unique qualities based on its architecture, size, and location. But much of your living experience is ultimately shaped by the residents who live there. Each hall's "personality" changes every year based on the residents' contributions to their community.

The undergraduate residence halls are divided into smaller units called "houses" where 50 to 80 residents live and form a community. The tradition of the "house" as the nucleus of the community is a unique feature of the university residence halls. Since the earliest days of on-campus housing, student peer advisors called house fellows have lived among the students, fostering a sense of community and self-government. Most students share a double room with one other student. All students share same-gender bathroom facilities conveniently located on each residence hall floor.

Special Interest Housing—such as Women in Science and Engineering, the Multicultural Learning Community and Global Village

Food Services—Dining rooms offer an à la carte arrangement of individually priced items. You select and pay for only what you want by using your student ID card.

Computers—All rooms are wired for you to connect your computer for access to email or the internet.

Wisconsin played host to the NCAA Women's Volleyball Championship in 1993 and 1998. The Badgers shattered the attendance records for the championship match and two-day event both years.

The UW was also the site of the 1998 NCAA Division I Women's Golf Championship. The event was the first national championship held at University Ridge Golf Course and the first women's championship shown live on national television.

WISCONSIN TRADITIONS

Top: Bucky Badger and the UW Marching Band—two of Wisconsin's honored traditions.

SCHOOL SONGS

On Wisconsin, On Wisconsin
Plunge right through that line,
Run the ball clear down the field, boys
Touchdown sure this time.
On Wisconsin, On Wisconsin
Fight on for her fame.
Fight fellows, Fight! Fight! Fight!
We'll win this game!

Var-sity! Var-sity!
U-rah-rah! Wisconsin!
Praise to thee we sing
Praise to thee our alma mater
U-rah-rah, Wisconsin!

BADGER NICKNAME

The nickname "Badgers," was borrowed from the state of Wisconsin, which was dubbed the "Badger State." The name didn't come from the animals in the region, but rather from an association with lead miners in the 1820s. Without shelter in the winter, the miners had to "live like Badgers" in tunnels burrowed into hillsides.

BUCKY BADGER

Although badgers in various forms had been the University of Wisconsin mascot for decades, the version that is currently known as Bucky, sporting a cardinal and white sweater, was first drawn in 1940 by professional illustrator Art Evans.

In 1949, a student wore a badger outfit with a papier-mâché head at the homecoming game. A pep rally was held to determine the mascot's name—Buckingham U. Badger.

BUD SONG

An integral part of any Wisconsin band performance is the playing of the Bud song. The tune is a spinoff of the song "You've said it all," a jingle with words and music originally written by Steve Karen for Budweiser beer commercials. The song has become legendary at the UW because of its polka-like rhythm.

FIFTH QUARTER

The Wisconsin band has become nationally famous for its post-game celebration called the Fifth Quarter. Win or lose, fans sing, dance and cheer the band as it plays traditional favorites like "On, Wisconsin" and the Bud song.

ON WISCONSIN

The tune was composed in 1909 by William Purdy, with the words written by UW alumnus Carl Beck, who rewrote them in 1951. Some 2,500 schools and colleges have adopted the music and changed the words to suit their needs.

WISCONSIN ATHLETICS MISSION STATEMENT

The Division of Intercollegiate Athletics at the University of Wisconsin-Madison dedicates itself to the mission of providing athletic opportunities to a wide range of students and an environment in which all student-athletes can achieve their academic and competitive goals. The Division strives to provide equitable opportunities for all student-athletes and staff, regardless of gender or ethnic background. To honor its academic mission and that of the university, the Division supports the educational aspirations, academic progress and general welfare of the student-athlete. In competition, the Division fosters principles of sportsmanship, respect and fair play. In all of its activities, the Division insists on integrity, ethical conduct and accountability.

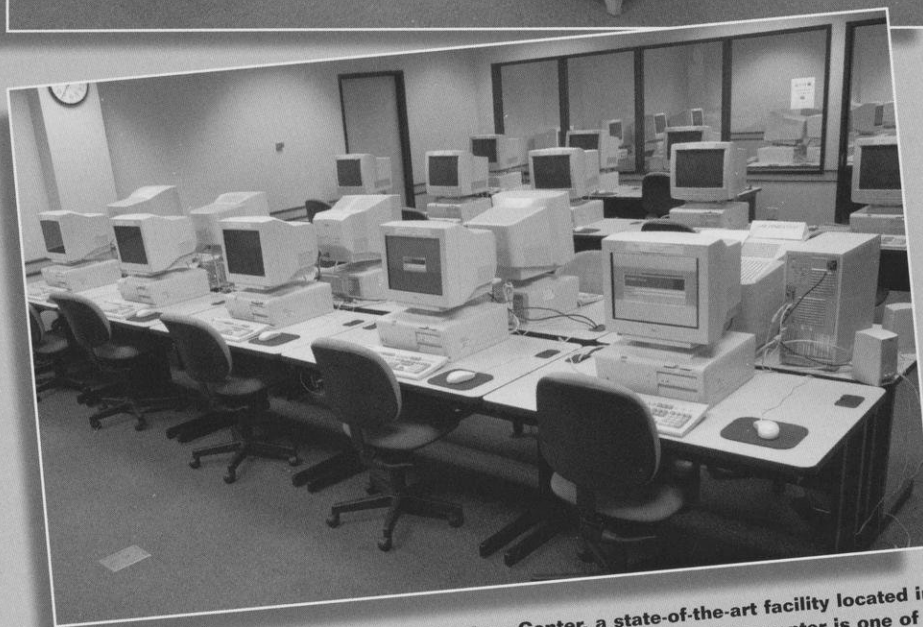

ACADEMIC & STUDENT SERVICES

The mission of the Academic Affairs Office is to provide student-athletes with the maximum opportunity for academic and athletic excellence. Wisconsin student-athletes have a history of academic success and much of the credit for that impressive record is due to the advising system.

Director David Harris supervises a staff of five advisors and three learning specialists who conduct the program offered to the nearly 750 student-athletes. The advising staff of Mary Weaver-Klees, Thomas Browne, Chris Butler, Jerry Darda and Alan Zussman along with learning specialists Doug Tiedt, Maryellen Rock and Nancy Gatyas, have a comprehensive understanding of academics at Wisconsin, and a permanent line of communication with all university departments. The staff renders quality academic and personal support to student-athletes and assists coaches in providing the best possible collegiate experience.

For those student-athletes who request assistance, advising sessions are offered on a one-to-one basis at a time appropriate for the athlete. Athletes are degree-oriented while allowing for the flexibility to explore different areas. The advising staff takes a personal approach to each athlete in determining his or her individual needs, personal or academic.

Student-athletes at Wisconsin receive recognition for outstanding academics in a number of ways. The Big Ten Conference honors scholar-athletes with Academic All-Big Ten honors while the UW Athletic Board recognizes Athletic Board Scholars for the highest grade point average in each sport. In addition, student-athletes may be nominated for Academic All-America honors through the sports information office.

The Fetzer Student Athlete Academic Services Center, a state-of-the-art facility located in the lower level of the McClain Center, opened in 1997. The $2.1 million center is one of the best in the nation and includes 11 study rooms, a computer room, and a 55-seat auditorium.

FETZER STUDENT-ATHLETE CENTER

The Fetzer Student Athlete Academic Center has been helping Wisconsin student-athletes to achieve their academic goals since 1997.

The 15,000 square-foot, state-of-the-art facility serves the needs of all men and women student-athletes. The center features an open area with carrels that can accommodate up to 30 students. There are 11 study rooms of different shapes and sizes, including a 55-seat auditorium. A computer room houses 40 PCs while the entire center is wired with voice/data jacks and power ports.

Student-athletes can drop in before practice or between classes to study or meet with the advisors and grant-in-aid staff whose offices are also located in the center.

ENDOWED ATHLETIC SCHOLARSHIPS

As more and more colleges and universities turn to innovative and effective ways of meeting the mounting financial challenges of supporting their intercollegiate athletic programs, it becomes increasingly evident that one of the most successful strategies is the establishment of endowed athletic scholarships.

At the University of Wisconsin-Madison, endowment funds to support athletic scholarships are normally created through gifts to the UW Foundation. A portion of the income from the endowed fund is used each year for scholarship support, and the remainder is reinvested in the principal.

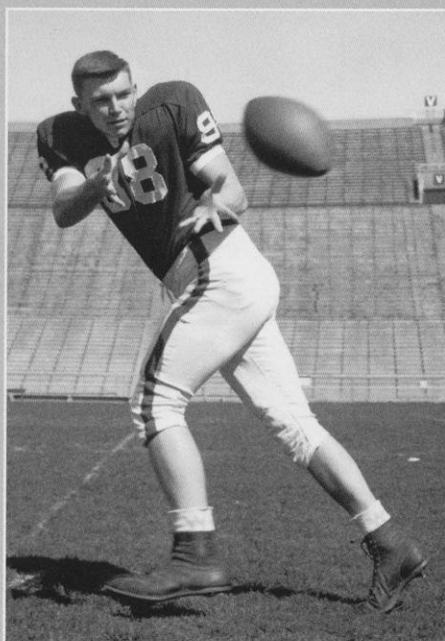

The following endowed scholarships, named for the donor or for someone the donor wishes to honor, provide full or partial grants-in-aid to Badger student-athletes. Many thanks to our generous supporters!

For information about how to create a named scholarship in men's or women's athletics or how to contribute to an established endowment, please contact Trent Jackson, Director of Development for Intercollegiate Athletics, UW Foundation, 1848 University Ave., Madison, WI 53705; Phone: (608) 262-7225; trent.jackson@uwfoundation.wisc.edu

SPORTS MEDICINE

The sports medicine staff provides all University of Wisconsin student-athletes with high quality health care. Wisconsin's Sports Medicine program features state-of-the-art facilities and the services of leading sports medicine and health care professionals.

The sports medicine staff consists of team physicians, dentists, athletic trainers, and other medical and allied health professionals. The day-to-day care, prevention, and treatment of injuries to Wisconsin athletes is supervised by a staff of 11 full-time and two graduate assistant National Athletic Trainers Association (NATA) certified and State of Wisconsin licensed athletic trainers.

Under the direction of head athletic trainer Dennis Helwig, the Sports Medicine program focuses on injury prevention. Staff members Beth Cranley, Chuck Hart, Andy Hrodey, Jan Helwig, Mike Moll, Henry Perez-Guerra, Laura Walluk, Ian Wood, and Chad Gabbard utilize functional measures, measure physiological capacity and outline programs to improve flexibility. Full-time nutritionist Jeremy Isensee provides dietary analysis and supervises training table meals to enhance the performance of the student-athletes.

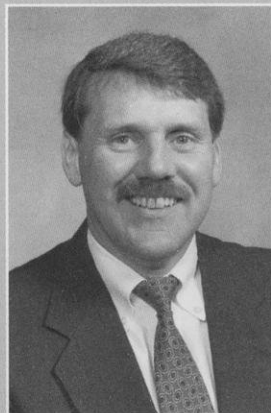

The Sports Medicine facility in the McClain Center features an extensive collection of therapeutic and rehabilitation equipment including a 50-foot, two-lane-rehabilitation pool, and an on-site x-ray facility. Considered one of the nation's finest, the McClain Sports Medicine Center offers an environment conducive to expedient care, and a healthy return to competition.

Should an injury occur, athletes are seen immediately by team physicians affiliated with the world-renowned UW Hospitals and Clinics. Medical director Dr. Ben Graf is responsible for all services provided to student-athletes. Orthopedic care is directed by team physician Dr. John Orwin while general medical care is directed by the head of primary care, Dr. Greg Landry.

In addition to the headquarters in the McClain Athletic Facility, auxiliary athletic training rooms are located in Camp Randall Stadium, Natatorium, UW Field House, and the Kohl Center. All training areas are equipped with the finest therapeutic modalities and rehabilitative apparatus.

STRENGTH & CONDITIONING

The Wisconsin strength and conditioning program is a key component of all of the Badger teams' success on the playing field. The program's goal is to increase the overall performance of each student-athlete, prevent injuries and help athletes reach their potential.

Head strength and conditioning coach John Dettmann along with assistant coaches Brian Bott, Ryan Feek, Paul Goodman, Scott Hettenbach, Kerri Ariens, and Jim Snider work with the UW coaches to develop training programs to enhance each athlete's performance.

Badger athletes work on their strength programs in weight rooms in the McClain Center, Camp Randall Stadium and Kohl Center.

The McClain Center weight room is the largest of the facilities and features more than 45,000 pounds of free weights and more than 50 weight machines. The room has seven squat racks, eight bench press stations, eight flat-to-incline benches, six Olympic lift platforms and numerous other free weight stations.

The Badger Den is comprised of purely free weight equipment. There are five power stations with each station consisting of a platform for Olympic style lifting as well as a squat rack, bench press, incline bench press, pull-up station and a station to do dips. There is also three lat-pull machines and seated row machines. The Stadium weight room has a complete set of dumbbells from five pounds to 85 pounds. There is also a set of plyometric boxes for plyometrics and for alternative leg exercises.

“The goal of the Wisconsin strength and conditioning program is to train for total athletic excellence. We profile each student-athlete upon arrival and set up specific training regimens to help athletes reach their individual potential. The plan is to build overall strength, speed, agility and stamina. Our program is comprehensive and the end result is that we are as productive on the athletic field as possible.”

A GREAT COLLEGE TOWN

A progressive, cosmopolitan city of more than 200,000, Madison is home to the world-class University of Wisconsin, the seat of state government, and an eclectic, electric atmosphere that energizes any visitor's stay.

Madison offers both small town charm and a range of cultural and recreational opportunities usually found in much larger cities. And, with four lakes and more than 200 parks, it is one of the nation's most scenic cities. A host of picturesque communities, many retaining their strong ethnic heritage, surrounds the city.

"Mad City" offers the "big city" spheres of politics, arts and entertainment, as well as the attributes of a small town. It is a family and action-oriented community that promotes participation in government, education, the arts, sports and recreational activities. With a robust economy and low crime rate, Madison has resources and opportunities that rival cities many times its size.

Madison consistently ranks as a top community in which to live, work, play and raise a family. It was named the best place to live in America in 1996 by Money magazine. Again, in 1998 Money magazine rated Madison the best mid-sized city in the Midwest. The magazine also rated Madison as one of the top 15 "great sports towns" in the country. A&E Network cited it as one of the Top 10 Cities to Have It All.

"Students love their hometown, 'a great place with so much to do. Everyone finds something.' Student life centers on State Street, which 'has many restaurants and shops to choose from and offers many job opportunities for students.' For a small Midwestern city, Madison is truly an oasis of culture."

Princeton Review, 2002
