CHARITY DRIVE TO BE STARTED IN UNIVERSITY

Combining Effect of Community Drive is Explained

Letters from the Community union drive committee were received yesterday by various university organizations urging them to contribute to Madison's biggest charitable undertaking.

Realizing that university students always take an interest in Madison's civic enterprises, the letter states, the committee believes that the students will not fail to give as much as they are able to this worthy cause.

While no regular campaign has been planned for the university as a unit, the canvassers will call on students in their rooms, fraternities and sororities.

May Specify

One feature of the drive is that if a subscriber does not want to give his money to the general fund, he may specify which organization he does wish to aid, and that money will be turned over to that particular charity.

Edward D. Lynde, executive secretary of the Union, last night made an especial appeal to students to support the movement.

"Instead of asking students to contribute to this and that charity no matter how worthy, we simply ask them to do what they can toward raising $87,000 the goal set by the committee. The budget for the coming year has been cut down from $150,000 and a great deal of duplication will be eliminated."

The 14 organizations which will share in the money raised comprise virtually all of the civic charities and social agencies. Several of the organizations have done work that has directly benefitted university students. Others are ready at all times to serve those who need their help.

Many Organizations

The Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. in particular bend their efforts toward serving students in every way possible. Both of these organizations give invaluable aid at registration time in caring for the influx of students.

Other societies which will share in the funds are: Girls club, Salvation Army, St. Mary's hospital, Boy Scouts of America, Attie Angel association, Madison hospital, Methodist Episcopal hospital, Anti-Tuberculosis association, Dane County Humane society, Madison Public Welfare association, Wisconsin children's Home Finding society, Dane county chapter of the American Red Cross.

Intercollegiate Club to Hold Reception Saturday

More than 200 invitations have been issued to transfer upperclassmen girls, for a reception and banquet to be given by the Intercollegiate club at 5:30 Saturday evening in Lathrop parlors. In the receiving line will be Dean F. Louise Nardin; Miss Mary Anderson, Y. W. secretary; and Helen Heck, club president.

Tickets may be obtained in the Y. W. office until Thursday noon, for 50 cents. Anita Haven and Lillian Jennings are in charge of the banquet.

Electrical Engineers To Hear Address by Rood

"The advantages of membership in the American Institute of Electrical Engineers" will be the subject of an address given before the student branch of that organization by Prof. J. T. Rood in room 204 of the Electrical Engineering laboratory tomorrow night.

WEATHER: FAIR

Fair, with slowly rising temperature Tuesday. Wednesday fair and warmer.

Subscription Drive For Badger Launched Oct. 9

The subscription drive for the 1924 Badger will start Monday, October 9, instead of Monday, October 2, as was previously announced in The Daily Cardinal.

Howard Lyman '24, business manager of Wisconsin's year book, and Willard Kirchner '24 are arranging the personnel of soliciting teams which will canvass fraternities, sororities, and rooming houses when the drive opens.

Persons desiring to work on the canvassing teams are asked by Lyman to apply at the Badger office in the Union building during the coming week.

LATHROP TO BE CHIEF SPEAKER AT SOCIAL MEET

Many Prominent Speakers to Address Convo of Social Workers

Miss Julia Lathrop, former chief of the National Children's bureau and president of the National Conference of Social work, will be the principal speaker at the annual State Conference of Social Workers to be held in Madison, Oct. 11 to 13. Miss Lathrop who was brought here by the university will speak in Music hall, Oct. 2, at 4:30 o'clock.

Among the university professors who will speak in the evenings at the Madison high school are: E. A. Ross, J. L. Gillin, J. R. Commons, E. B. Gordon, W. F. Lorenz, and W. H. Lighty.

The object of the conference is to exchange and spread information gained through research and experience in order to meet the social needs of the state. The lectures are for everyone, especially for students. 200 attended the last conference, held in Oshkosh.

The out-of-town social workers who are to address the conference meetings are: Owen Lovejoy, head of the National Child Labor committee, New York; Rev. Father Gordon, Indian priest; Col. C. C. Pierce, assistant surgeon of the United States Public Health service; John Kingsbury head of the public charities of New York city; Miss Harriet Bittum from the Northwestern settlement and Miss Ethel Bird, of the national board of the Y. W. C. A., of Chicago.

Mrs. Charles S. Land, Madison, is general chairman of the conference. Judge A. C. Hoppmann is the other chairman.

New Library Attracts Many to S. G. A. Rooms

Although yesterday was the first day that the new S. G. A. library was open many people availed themselves of the new supply of accessible fiction to be found on the new shelves.

The books are to be checked on a regular system of cards and will be rented out at the small fee of 2c a day for the first four days after which they must be either renewed or paid for with an additional cent fine for every day over time.

Ima Winchell '22, part time secretary of the S. G. A., is in charge of these books during the regular hours. People wishing new books may leave the names with person in charge and they will be considered at the next meeting of the library board.

Start Shooting Seniors For Year-Book Photos

Senior men and women are already being "shot" by the six official photographers selected for the 1924 Badger. Pictures and summaries are due at the Badger office not later than Nov. 1, according to those in charge of the senior section.

Reason for the selection of accredited photographers was announced yesterday when it was said that a Chicago photographer had temporarily opened a studio here for the purpose of taking senior pictures. The Badger will refuse to accept photos from any but the following studios: Badger, De Longe, Bell, Hone and McKillop, Thomas, and Snider.

'PROFESSIONALS' ANNOUNCE LIST OF NEW PLEDGES

Only Half of Organizations Have Completed Rushing

Five of the 10 professional fraternities announce the pledging of 311 students as a result of the fall rushing. Delta Pi Delta, journalism fraternity, heads the list in the number of fall pledges, with nine students.

Some of the fraternities have not completed their rushing and others will not pledge any new members until later in the year. Professional fraternities pledge only sophomores or students who have made a marked success in a certain field. For this reason the fall rushing is not as complete as with the social organizations. The pledges follow:

Alpha Chi Sigma, chemical fraternity—Gilbert Hoffman, Milwaukee; Edward Manns, Oconomowoc; Fred Mooney, Oconto; and Edgar Tilford, Indianapolis, Ind.

Alpha Kappa Kappa, medical fraternity (formerly Gamma Tau Beta)—Harold Bennett, Ft. Atkinson, Ray Goedecke, Merrimac; Myron Junkins, Wauwatosa; Richard S. Lee, Waupaca; and Rexford Stearns, Omro.

Delta Pi Delta, journalism fraternity—Chester Bailey, Grand Rapids, Mich.; B. B. Borchers, Madison; Robert Hazard, Milwaukee; Thomas Hood, Baraboo; Joseph Lawler, Milwaukee; Dan Mich, Minneapolis, Minn.; Charles Mueller, Sheboygan; Oscar Riegall, Neenah; and Ralph Timmons, Monroe.

Kappa Psi, medical and pharmaceutical fraternity—Marshall O. Boudry, Fond du Lac; Marcus A. Hansen, Marshfield; Glenn Schief, Medford; Neal Phillips, Chicago, Ill.; Leonard McCarthy, Beloit; and Lowell McCarthy, Beloit.

Phi Beta Pi, medical fraternity—Reynold Bassauer, Sheboygan Falls; Harold Beglinger, Oshkosh; Harold Donkle, Plymouth, Ill.; Hugh Folsom, Fond du Lac; Magnus Smedal, McFarland; Linton Weed, Phelps; and R. G. Whitmer, Madison.

State to Receive Tower Hill For Park Grounds

A gift to the state of Wisconsin, consisting of Tower Hill and fifty-five acres of land on the Wisconsin river near Spring Green, will be presented by Mrs. Jenkins Lloyd Jones and accepted by Gov. John J. Blaine at Tower Hill on October 1.

Tower Hill and the remains of the old shot tower are relics of the village of Helene which flourished between 1830 and 1860 in territorial lumber days. The manufacture of shot was an important industry to the community. The Hill is interesting historically and possesses many scenic attractions. This land will be a valuable addition to the park system of the state.

Zona Gale will speak at the dedication on the wide influence of Jenkins Lloyd Jones and Prof. Joseph Schafer of the State Historical society will give a sketch of the historical background of Tower Hill.

Freshmen Entertained By St. Francis Society

Freshmen and new students crowded the St. Francis Club house to the limit Sunday evening at the first of the suppers and entertainments given by members of that society. This is the second year of the society's activities in the new location and the Sunday evening entertainments are a feature of the work of the Episcopal organization.

Following the supper Henry Rubel, '23, entertained with a short repertoire and some selections from last year's Haresfoot production.

Northwestern Professor Will Speak at Y. M. C. A.

Dr. Ernest F. Tittle, of Northwestern university, will address the initial fellowship meeting to be held at the university Y. M. C. A. this evening from 7 to 8 o'clock. The subject of his talk will be, "The Christianity That Failed and the Christianity That is Needed Today."

Doctor Tittle was one of the principal speakers at the Geneva conference this year. He is the author of the book called "What the Church Must Do to Be Saved," which caused more comment among the churches than any other book that has been written on religion.

Elmer Gesteland '23, secretary of the university Y, urges all new men who have joined the Y this year to be present at this meeting as he will present them with their membership cards.

New Isabel Has First Call For Official Work

The good ship Isabel performed her first life-saving duties Sunday at 11:30 o'clock when two occupants of an overturned sailing canoe were rescued just off Picnic Point by "Cap" Israel. "There won't be so many calls from now on because canoe season is almost over; but we have to be on the spot because the water's getting chilly."

Earlier in the morning the Isabel pulled a launch owned by Roger Crabtree off a sandbar just off the foot of Park street. The names of the two capsized are unknown.

METHODISTS OFFER RELIGIOUS COURSES

The University Methodist church is offering a variety of courses in religious training for university students, not only in Sunday school study groups but also in week day study groups. These courses embrace subjects designed to meet the needs and interest of all classes and groups of students.

The classes will meet once a week on Tuesday and Thursday evenings—seven to eight—at Wesley hall on the corner of University avenue and Charter street and will extend throughout the entire school year. The instructors are H. Hare, E. Tetreau, Mr. Hall, and Dr. E. W. Blakeman.

Besides these study groups a series of lectures are scheduled for each Sunday evening at seven thirty. During the October series Dean G. C. Sellery, Dean F. Louise Nardin, Dr. John R. Denyes, and President Birge will speak.

The Sunday study groups are arranged according to university classification. Two groups of freshmen will meet at nine thirty and will be instructed by Dr. Blakeman in "Campus Christianity" and by Mrs. E. T. Kelly in "The Manhood of the Master." A third freshman group will meet at twelve o'clock to study "Student Standards of Action" given by Miss Florence Nicholson. The sophomore group at twelve for the class in "Christianizing Community Life" by Mr. Hare. The juniors and seniors will be taught by Mr. Hall and graduates by Dr. Blakeman at twelve o'clock. Chinese students meet at nine thirty for "Christian Principles" by Professor Louis Kahlenberg.

Bunting Says Nothing On Hammer Examination

No statement has been made by Dr. C. H. Bunting, pathologist of the university, in regard to the results of the examination the hammer brought to him by M. L. Shearer, investigator for the attorney general's department in the Balzer murder case.

The hammer was found by Mr. Shearer on the farm of a neighbor of the Balzer's. The farmer had previously been committed to Mendota after a cross examination at Baraboo. On the hammer were stains, whether of blood or of rust is not known.

When the origin of the stains has been ascertained, a long step will have been taken toward the solution of the Sauk City mystery. In case the stains are blood, it is expected that a John Doe proceeding will be held to determine whether the man in Mendota hospital is connected with the killing.

VARSDITY SCORES IN HARD GAME WITH RESERVES

Holds Savage Scrimmage With Formidable Second Team

In the most savage scrimmage of its early practice season, the Varsity football eleven ran wild and scored two touchdowns against a powerful reserve squad at Camp Randall yesterday afternoon. The struggle was short and swift and it showed Coach John R. Richards wherein his strength lay while it also pointed out the weak spots that will have to be bolstered up.

The scrimmage, which was the first organized set-to of the year, put Capt. "Rollie" Williams' outfit on its mettle and with a large crowd of football bugs looking on, the two teams went at it nip and tuck.

Taft Plays Full

Varsity scored its touchdowns on line drives and a forward pass, Barr to Tebell. The initial kickoff went behind the reserves' goal line and was brought out to their 20-yard line. Four tries at the first team netted only a few yards and Varsity took the oval.

Gibson hit the line for several yards, and Williams found a hole for first down. Taft, who played fullback on the first team, also gained through the forward wall and Gibson carried the pigskin over for the first counter.

For the first time this year, the men put into practice the new try-for-point rule. With the alternative of place or drop-kicking, running with the ball, or passing it, quarter-back Barr called for a place-kick and "Gus" Tebell booted the ball over the crossbars for an extra point. The pigskin hit the goal post and caromed in and over the bar.

Varsity received the second kickoff and Capt. Williams returned several yards. Straight football carried the ball to mid-field and a pass from chubby Barr to Tebell put "Gus" in position to run the ball around left end for the second touchdown.

Reserves Formidable

The second squad was given the ball on its 20-yard line, but was unable to pierce the Varsity defense, center Nichols proving a Rock of Gibraltar on line plunges. "Rollie's" regulars worked the ball down the field again, but a pass was grounded when it struck the goal posts.

Masons to Be Guests At Welcoming Smoker

The Wisconsin square's annual official welcome to new Masonic students will be given tomorrow night in the Y parlors. Prominent Masons of the university and city will speak, and refreshments will be served.

Octopus to Make Bow With 'Knockout' Number

The opening number of the Octopus, the West's greatest humor magazine, will be ready for sale on the hill Wednesday, October 18, it was decided yesterday at a meeting of the staff.

It is going to be a knockout book in every respect," declared Hub Townsend, managing editor. "Last year at the National Convention held at Toronto, Canada we were judged the cleanest of all humorous magazines; this year we aim to make it best in every way."

Anyone wishing to do art work for this number may call Charles Mueller, art editor. All contributions must be in by October 5.

SKYROCKETS

Students desiring to try out for the position as Skyrockets editor of The Daily Cardinal will report at the editorial office in the Union building, 752 Langdon street, at 4:00 o'clock this afternoon.

Moslems Wait Word to Start World Revolt

Ready For Action at First Fire From British Gun

PARIS—With British warships paving the Dardanelles and dozens of transports loaded, with British regular troops steaming under forced draft toward Chanak, the whole Islamic world is ready to spring to the standard of revolt at the signal of Mustapha Kemal, leader of Muslims.

Hundreds of messages are pouring into the Turkish headquarters at Smyrna from far quarters of the British empire pledging allegiance to the nationalist leader.

Dispatches through diplomatic sources from Egypt and India indicate elaborate preparations have been completed by which the first British gun fired against the Turks will be the signal for revolt.

With this ominous situation confronting him, Lloyd George today is hesitating in pursuing his plan to make the Dardanelles another Suez. At the same time the British withdrawal from Chanak, which would be interpreted as a sign of weakening, is not contemplated. Instead, all efforts of diplomats are concentrated in an effort to persuade Kemal to hold his victorious armies in check until the peace congress can be held.

Movie Shows Work of Fourteen Charities

"Actions speak louder than words" is the title that might be given to the "movie" that is running from Monday to Thursday, in the window of the Wolff, Kubly & Hirsig Hardware Co. Over a dozen leading merchants have cooperated with the Community Union drive this week by donating the use of their show windows for displaying the work carried on by the 14 organizations in the drive.

The window of the Wolff, Kubly & Hirsig Co., has been trimmed and decorated by the Young Woman's Christian association, and depicts a stage on which living models during certain hours of the day show how the association carried on its seven kinds of activities. The hours when models are in the window are 12 to 1 noon, and five to six p. m.

Coeds Cut Down Dates To Boost Purple Athletics

CHICAGO — Northwestern University co-eds have agreed to have no social engagements with university men Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays during the coming year according to an announcement by Miss Helen Badenoch, president of the women's self government association at the institution.

"This pledge is taken because we girls believe that too many dates interfere with a college man's athletics and the school will suffer if the athletes do not have the proper time for training," explained Miss Badenoch.

Karberg Will Head Madison Scout Troop

William Karberg was elected president of Troop 2, Boy Scouts, at a recent meeting in which plans were also made for a membership campaign to increase the troop from 16 to 32. Other officers elected were Edgar McEachron, secretary; Rolland Fritz, treasurer; Rodney Newberg, reporter.

Make Maps to Show School Situation Here

Maps of the city which will show the school situation as it is now and as it could be made with least expense, are now being prepared by local experts. The maps will be used with the resolution asking for expert advice on the school situation which may be introduced to the city council at its next meeting.

Old Sauk City Bridge Sold to Madison Men

The Sauk City bridge, one of the earliest pieces of pioneer engineering in this section of the state, and in the early days the only structure across the Wisconsin for hundreds of miles, is to be junked.

The relic is about to be replaced by a new steel bridge, now nearing completion. The old bridge has been sold to Sinaiko Bros. of Madison for junk. A price of $14 a ton was paid. Razing of the old bridge will begin in another month when the new bridge is completed.

Lillian Garner Will Aid in Budget Work

Lillian M. Garner, Jefferson st., has been retained as assistant to E. F. Bunn, city auditor, to help in budget work which has been started by this department. Miss Garner is experienced in this work having assisted with last year's budget. She resigned her position with the city last January to go to California as accountant for the Hughes Ice Cream Co. # NEWS OF CONFERENCE SPORTS

EASTERN TEAMS SHOW POWER IN INITIAL GAMES

Centre Promises to Repeat Former Gridiron Honors

Judging from the number of points amassed last Saturday by Centre, Yale, Penn State, and U. of Georgia, against their weaker opponents, all of these teams are developing powerful scoring machines for the 1922 gridiron season.

The two southern teams mentioned appear to head the list, as Centre turned in a score of 72 to 0 against Carson-Newman, and the U. of Georgia romped away from Newberry College to the tune of 82 to 13. The fact that Newberry pushed across two touchdowns on Georgia, however, indicates sad weaknesses in the defensive department of that game. Nation-wide attention was attracted last year to Centre's close victory over Harvard, and the crushing offensive displayed Saturday by the "Praying Colonels" serves to brighten the hopes of "Red" Roberts and his fighting mates to repeat their performance when they meet the Crimson on October 21 for their third contest. Each team has annexed one game, and this year's deciding game is bound to be a bitter conflict.

In the east Penn State opened up with a crushing attack that piled up a 54 count against St. Bonaventure. The Yale Bulldog also proved his might by whitewashing Bates 48 to 0.

Syracuse and Washington and Jefferson encountered unexpected difficulty in defeating their opponents. Hobart held Syracuse to a 28 to 7 score; while W. and J. was held scoreless for three quarters by Geneva, but pushed over a counter on a fluke and then earned another near the end of the last period.

An outstanding feature in all of Saturday's games was that most teams scoring touchdowns tried to annex the extra point by the field goal. This may serve as an indication of what will be done all season.

Although a great number of teams will play opening games next Saturday most of the large western institutions including the members of the Big Ten will not get under way until Oct. 7. The one notable exception is the Notre Dame-Kalamazoo contest on the former's gridiron.

Conference teams are gradually building up smoothly running combinations and should be prepared to put on good exhibitions on Oct. 7 with the exception of Illinois. The Sucker mentor, Robert Zuppke, has very few veterans and much green material to work with. Illinois, however, does not open up the season until Oct. 14, and may develop some peppe ue qum uuei suois e of drill.

ENTHUSIASM SHOWN FOR CO-EDS' HOCKEY

Although the regular sport registration has not yet taken place, great enthusiasm is already being shown in hockey. The preliminary games which have been held every afternoon at 4:30 o'clock under the energetic coaching of Cynthia Wesson have had good attendance and the games have been marked by surprising snap and skill, and predict that the hockey season this year will be made up of unusually hotly contested encounters.

Monday will mark the official opening of the season and all indications now point toward a record breaking registration. Cynthia Wesson, regular hockey coach is to be assisted this year by Miss Ingales, who has been a member of the Scotch international hockey team for several years.

Two elections for hockey managers have been made; Phyllis Tatman '23 has been elected by the seniors and Margaret Henry '24 by the juniors. The freshmen and sophomores will make their elections soon.

"We want this to be the biggest year for hockey that there has ever been, and all indications point towards it," said Belle Knights '23 manager of hockey on the W. A. A. board.

VARSITY IN SAVAGE TILT WITH SCRUBS

Only one change was made in the first team line-up for scrimmage. Russel Irish replaced Pulaski at left end, Williams and Gibson held down halfback positions, with Barr directing the play and Merrill Taft at fullback. In the line, Tebell and Irish were at the flanks, Murray and Below at tackles, with Christianson and Hohlheid helping Nichols in the center of the line.

A formidable aggregation made up the reserve eleven. Millman called signals with "Bob". Whitten, Varsity sub, Saari, and Radke in the backfield positions. Radke's punts were notable, all ranging around the 40-yard mark. "Steve" Pulaski, Bieberstein, Teckmeyer, and Bentson were some of the scrub forwards. Crozier, Varsity back last year, was in with the second team for a short while. He has been out in a suit for only a few days. Jack Harris was in uniform, but was not permitted to get into scrimmage.

"Hootie" Back. Temporary additions to the coaching staff were made yesterday when Frank Laurence "Hootie" "Re d" Weston made his season's debut in a Varsity uniform. Weston is here for a week. "Jimmie" Woods, regular half and end last year, was also out and watched some of his former mates crash into each other.

Smith, husky-looking linesman, reported to Coach Richards. He was running mate to "Marty" Below a few seasons back, and may give the guards a hard fight for their jobs.

Indianapolis Alumni Wire Sympathy to Old Coach

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—The Indianapolis Alumni association at its first formal meeting of the fall months, held yesterday in the Chamber of Commerce building, drafted the following resolution which was wired to Coach E. O. Stiehman at the Mayo Brothers hospital, Rochester, Minn.:

"Coach E. O. Stiehman, Mayo Bros. Hospital, Rochester, Minn.

"At the first formal meeting of the Indianapolis Alumni association held today it was unanimously and enthusiastically voted that we extend to you our sincere sympathy in your present illness. With our best wishes we hope for your early recovery.

"Signed—Mark P. Helm, Pres. "C. W. Weathers, Secy."

Co-eds to Register For Gym Classes This Week

Registration days for the women's physical education work will be this week on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday when schedules will be assigned in the Lathrop gymnasium from 2-5. Fees must be paid in the office on the fourth floor before registering.

Sports will start on Monday, Oct. 2 and every woman enrolled in any class must be present on the first day.

Campus Photos to Be Displayed in Sentinel

The Badger Studio has signed a contract with the Milwaukee Sentinel to photograph twenty leading women in the Department of Journalism at the university, to be run in connection with a feature article in an early Sunday edition. Contracts have also been signed to supply photographers of the team and the Milwaukee fraternity pledges.

In speaking of the Journalism feature story, Mr. Hassal T. Sullivan, Managing Editor of the Sentinel, said: "As a profession, journalism is making great strides. The University of Wisconsin offers one of the leading schools in the country for the study of this course. We are particularly anxious to feature young women who have decided on the newspaper game as a career."

Hawkeye Football Star Admits Professionalism

IOWA, CITY, Ia.—Admitting that he received money for participating in a number of baseball games during the summer, Roscoe A. Helm, prominent Iowa football star, has been declared ineligible for competition in Big Ten athletics. A number of other Conference athletes are also involved in professionalism, it is said.—Indiana Daily Student.

HERRON LEAVES PITTSBURGH TO COACH INDIANA

Leaves to Take Stiehman's Place at Hoosier State

He succeeds "Jumbo Stiehman" who is on leave of absence for six months because of ill health. Though intensely loyal to his alma mater, he felt that he must accept the offer and with the approval of Coach Warner and the athletic officials of the university he wired acceptance.

It is freely predicted here that Herron will make good as head coach. He was an end on the Panther team of 1913, 1914, 1915, and 1916. He came to the university from Monessen high school, where he made little reputation as a football player, having been developed first as a player on the Panther freshman team.

With "Red" Carlson as a running mate, he held down a regular terminal position on the powerful Pitt elevens of 1914, '15 and '16 without missing a single game of importance. In his last two years he was given a place on Walter Camp's second All-American team and drew from Pop Warner the statement that he was the "most thoroughly developed and best-rounded end Pitt ever had."

In his last year in a Panther uniform, the net "gain" around his wing by Pitt opponents was a loss of 12 yards. The longest single advance made by enemy runners through Herron was one of five yards.

"Pat" is of the quiet type, but there is a lot of force behind his reticence, and he should make good. He made a great record as a flier overseas during the world war. He received his ground training at Ithaca, N. Y., and then went to France, where he was successful in bringing down several enemy planes.

As a student in the college and law school at Pitt, Herron was an honor man. He comes from a Pitt family, several of his brothers being graduates of the university. "Pat" is a Pittsburgh attorney, and is very popular here.—Indiana Daily Student.

Rockne's Irish Eleven Has Bright Prospects

SOUTH BEND, Ind.—Although only four veterans of last year's "wonder eleven" are available for the 1922 football squad, prospects for Knute Rockne's Notre Dame eleven are bright, according to followers of the Irish.

Castner, a backfield man, Carbury Cotten and Lieb are the only veterans to return, but Cartier Field swarms daily with an enormous squad of more than 80 husky aspirants, divided into four squads, which allows each man to have a greater opportunity to develop and learn the game.

A new string of dazzling plays, including an improvement on the famous Notre Dame shift, which is now legitimate, according to the rules of the committee, will be uncoiled at intervals in the Irish grid season, but they are being carefully concealed at present.—Indiana Daily Student.

Meyers Retains Title In Bout With Demetral

Johnny Meyers, undisputed middleweight wrestling champion of the world, retained his title at Monona Park auditorium Sunday afternoon when his challenger for the title, Jimmie Demetral, Madison, was forced to quit after 56 minutes of wrestling. Demetral suffered a broken ankle in one of the mix-ups with the champ.

The bout was fast all the way with both men on the verge of getting falls and then losing their opportunity. Meyers had a slight edge on the Madison Greek because of his superior strength, but Demetral's defensive work was superb.

YOUNG YALE MAN HEADS GOLF GAME

The brilliant play of Gene Sarazen in the national open golf tourney at the Skokie club a few weeks past was still the topic of devotees of the Scotch game when the amateurs checked in at the Brookline club for the national amateur event the other day. And then, this young lad of twenty, over a stretch of four days, wrote such a volume of golf history that Sarazen's feat, still ranking as a brilliant achievement, was forgotten temporarily.

This young lad, Jesse Sweetser, took four of America's most brilliant golf players in order and set them down.

Fraternities Compete In Water Basketball

An inter-fraternity water basketball tournament a new feature in the university schedule of athletic recreation, is being instituted here this fall under the direction of Joe Steinauer, swimming coach, and Albert Lahman '23, captain of last year's varsity water basketball team.

All social and professional fraternities are eligible to enter teams in the tourney, and those desiring to do so are asked to call Lahman, B. 5177, by the end of the week. Three silver cups will be awarded the winners.

The pool in the gymnasium will be completed this week and practice by the fraternity teams will be begun immediately. The teams will consist of six men. All games will be played in the evening.

Coach Steinauer will watch all games, and men showing up well in the fraternity tilts will be considered for the Varsity squad, which will begin practice immediately following the close of the tourney.

Tennis Tryouts Delayed Until Candidates Report

Owing to the fact that only a few candidates have signed up, supervised tennis tryouts did not start yesterday as had been planned. It is thought that many more aspirants for places on the squad will report than have already signed up at the gym, so the list will be left open for another day before play will begin.

Weather is ideal for tennis at the present time, and Coach Linden is very anxious for play to under way before the usual fall rainy weather sets in.

DRIVER PUSHES FRESHMEN FOR VARSITY HELP

First Scrimmage Last Night Brings Out Material

With the first scrimmage participated in last night, Coach Keg Driver is fast whipping his freshman football proteges into condition for their first contact with the Varsity. Until last night passing, punting and blocking had been in vogue.

Coach Driver is cutting the Frosh squad rapidly and expects to be able to pick the regulars by the end of the week. Although more than 100 men signed up for the sport, the elimination process has already cut the squad to 75. This is practically the same size as the Frosh squad of last year.

As yet no shining star has been sighted, due no doubt to the fact that the Frosh have been out but four days. Ed. Williams of Sioux City, Iowa, seems to be the only real find to date. He has an ability to kick that is seldom found in first year men. He should be of value to the Varsity next season because of the lack of an adequate booter. His ability to pass the pigskin is by no means limited.

Walsh, who gained fame with the Madison high school team last fall, has failed to show up. The reason for his absence is not known.

According to Coach Driver the Frosh will probably scrimmage with the Varsity for the first time one week from to-day. Following is a list of the men who are out for the freshman team:

Alton, O. L.; Baldwin, J.; Blackman, T. M.; Bradshaw, M.; Breslauer, C.; Clasman, J. W.; Coleman, R. B.; Cramer, H. J.; Cummins, D.; Cupps, W. S.; Farber, M.; Galle, F. L.; Cass, W.; Gibbs, H. ### BIG TEN MAGAZINE IDEA IS DROPPED

The Big Ten magazine, which was to have been published this year for all Conference schools, has been abandoned, because of the failure of one of the schools to approve of the idea, according to Frank Elliott, University publicity director. The magazine was to have been issued weekly and was to have given an equal amount of space to gridiron activities of all Big Ten schools. It was to contain special articles by such sport writers as Walter Eckersall and by different writers from each of the respective Big Ten universities.

The idea was sponsored originally by Northwestern university under the supervision of Thomas A. Gonsler, Mr. Gonsler visited Bloomington this summer to complete arrangements with Indiana university, under an arrangement made then, Elliott was to have contributed the articles from this school with the assistance of William J. Hill '23. Nine schools approved the plans for the magazine, but for some unknown reason the tenth school refused to sanction it. Recent communications with Gonsler did not reveal what school was responsible for the failure of the plan.—Indiana Daily Student.

STUDENT MIGRATION

WITH an increase of total enrollment, figures show that every division of the university except the College of Letters and Science has decreased in numbers. This decrease includes the Course in Commerce.

Three years ago students stampeded to the practical courses in the university, especially to Commerce. It was taken for granted, if nothing definite were said, that a freshman was in Commerce.

In the last two years the junior classes in the practical courses have experienced a marked exodus to L. and S.

Is it possible that these new figures show a general reaction from ultra-modern ideas of practical education?

The philosophy of education for education's sake has been largely replaced in recent years by that of education for the dollar's sake.

Students have come to the university "to learn how to make a living." They have expected immediate returns on their academic investments.

Does the L. and S. indicate that people are beginning to realize that graduates of Princeton and Amherst have not been entirely overlooked in indowments of worldly goods?

Practical education for some students is a good thing, but the blind worship of practical education has caused much grief.

Each semester scores of upper-classmen realize that they are misfits in the practical courses they have chosen and hasten to transfer into L. and S. before it is too late. The migration is swelled by "pipe" seekers, but it is largely made up of earnest students.

Most of these have been tricked by the "get rich quick" mania in education. "When in doubt take commerce or engineering," they have been told.

Practical education is good for some; classical education is good for some.

But stampedes into particular courses, like the recent Commerce stampede can do no good. Fads in education should be discouraged, or at least not encouraged by too much publicity.

SOME day, perhaps, intelligence tests and character analysis will be perfected so that students may be told what courses they are fitted for.

That would be real efficiency. Fewer students would spend years in the study of subjects which for them are valueless.

Unrest is found among the students of many institutions of learning.

Student editors at Amherst, Princeton, Yale, and Boston university have protested against curricula. But their demands have no unity.

The Princeton man wants more emphasis on the humanities. Yale "protests against the growth of economics and similar studies." Boston university wants a curriculum "more closely adapted to the practical needs of life." Amherst wants to face the "social, political and economic problems of reconstruction which our generation must solve."

Are not these writers "shooting at the moon?"

What is sauce for goose is not necessarily sauce for the spring chicken. What is needed in universities, as well as in the active world, is to put men and women at the work for which they are fitted.

The university recognizes individual differences by providing a variety of courses, but it has devised no way to get the right individuals to take those courses.

Keats and Shelley would have had no business in an engineering school. Henry Ford would probably have had difficulty with Horace and Ovid. We can't imagine Charlie Schwab writing a thesis on Shakespeare.

Yet we know a man who graduated from the College of Agriculture and is now trying to make a living by writing fiction and poetry. Doubtless there are many graduates from the English departments who wish they knew accounting.

What is needed, at Wisconsin, at least, is some way to get students to register in the right course.

THE SENIOR R. O. T. C.

THE military department is asking for upper classmen to enroll in the advanced course of the R. O. T. C. Here is an opportunity for a man interested in military training and with a sense of the duty of national service to satisfy that interest and to fulfill the military obligations which traditionally and constitutionally rest upon every able bodied male citizen.

Two years training in the advanced course, which carries with it academic credit and financial compensation, entitles a man to a reserves commission in the United States army. In case of national emergency the holder of such a commission may immediately assume the position of an officer without delay.

It is the opinion of military authorities that men who have completed two years advanced training in college are much better fitted to serve as commissioned officers than those with three months training school experience. With this realization, the General Staff is placing considerable emphasis upon the senior R. O. T. C.

It may be asked why it is necessary to pay so much attention to a potential officer personnel. The answer, in the light of recent Congressional action, is obvious with the drastic cut in the army, the military situation is not a happy one. A skeleton army with a mere handful of officers may hardly be considered a powerful fighting machine.

With the regular army as a nucleus and with a large body of men trained to become officers at a moment's notice, a national crisis will not find this country so poorly prepared as it has been in the past.

Under the reserve system there will not be the expenditure of time and energy on training schools that there was five years ago, with the result that everything can be concentrated upon the training of troops.

It is the duty of every citizen to offer his services when they are needed. That is the foundation of our military system. Is it not better to be able to serve at one's maximum capacity as a trained leader than as one of the rank and file? A man capable of holding a commission cannot be of most service to his country as a private.

The senior R. O. T. C. provides this requisite training. The war department is spending much money and time to make this auxiliary to the national defense as effective as possible, and its success is measured in proportion to the number entering the corps.

Average Orpheum Bill Proves Bright In Spots For Critic

By R. L. R. AND L. F. L.

"Another Orph bill" about expresses the current show at the Orpheum. Some of it is not so bad, and some of it is ordinary. There are really no objectionable spots this time, but an apathetic audience responded only occasionally last night. The Pathe pictures contain their usual amount of interesting information. The rest of the show strikes the writers about as follows:

Michon Brothers, handbalancing act that is very short. A couple of "different" things.

Daly and Burch. "See slide announcements" brought Daly and Burch. Lots of cracks and—the world just twill laugh at a fat man.

Zech and Randolph, in "Grooming the Groom". There is one joke you will remember. Count the dummies on the stage.

Lloyd and Goode. "Two Gentlemen from Dixie". The Mason and Dixon line should have been a Chinese wall.

Skelley and Heit Revue. Four girls and the original goober. Honestly, he's worth while, and has the audience on the edges of the seats throughout the act. Oh Cupid! Where is thy sting? Three hot encores and they kept on clapping!

George and Mae LaFevre close the bill with a pretty dancing act. Pleasing, but doesn't get much of a hand.

Honest, we didn't want to, but Jake finished up his career on the old col last Sunday, and the buck was passed all over the staff until it lit on us. This col is not conducted by Harvey T. but the Help! Help! sign flies over the first door to the left on the second floor of 752 Langdon, and we'll be glad to meet all comers there at 4 o'clock this p. m. no holds barred, catch as catch can, jiu jitsu, savat, or whatever. This is not a joke.

L' ALLEGRO.

The Turk is brewin' trouble near the shores of old Stamboul. The stills are brewin' moonshine by Mendota's waters cool. The stars are shinin' brightly and I'm feelin' like a fool, Because the Deans relented and my girl is back in school.

Six low hoodlums ran their ford into sorority allie last Saturday to see the sites and got boxed in. They picked the big powerful machine up and turned it around and every one was so mortified. Their names are known.

Scottie Goodnight asked a frosh just yesterday to read the German word 'Heisen'. The frosh pondered and then came out with 'heifer'. And Scottie remarked that that was "quite a bull".

MY MUSE has come upon me
AND I must sing.
SING. Sing.
HOW doth the little
WAVELET on
LAKE ripple, ripple. My
LAST letter home
CAN'T be
THERE yet and already
I AM broke.
BROKE.
BUT I can still sing.
IT costs me
NOTHING.

We dug up a swell cut to run in the col from the Badger office, about an oriental dancer or something, as near as we could tell, but it took up three columns and the editor wouldn't cut out the masthead and the edits to get it.

To set example for us folks,
Now Willet's gone?

Alas! Alack! We never know

Y. W. C. A. Will Entertain Freshmen Women Sunday

The Y. W. C. A. will hold the first Sunday evening open house, Oct. 1, at the apartment of the secretary, Miss Mary Anderson, 109 Gilman street.

The evening will be a welcome for the new girls of the university, into Y. W. activities. From 6 to 10 the guests are to gather, and the invitation is extended to upperclassmen who are transfers.

The hostess committee will be in charge of the Sunday evening groups at the apartment, after Oct. 8. The committee will hold its first organization meeting Tuesday afternoon in the S. G. A. room at 3:30. Marjorie Capron is chairman, and Ada Gilbert graduate adviser with the following committee: Genevieve Hardy, Lillian Jennings, Vesta Ritter, Louise Tobey, Ida Gray, Janet Cummings, Alice Gilbert, Harriet Jaeger, Esther Schofield, and Persis Talcott.

These informal Sunday gatherings will continue through the year. They will follow the Sunday afternoon vesper services that are held in Lathrop parlors.

League of Women Voters Will Check Legislation

The Collegiate League of Women Voters held the first regular meeting of the year, yesterday in Lathrop hall, Dorothy Whipple, president, in charge.

"Our effort is to harmonize our program with that of the national League, of which we are a part, and adapting their aims to our collegiate needs, so that at the end of the year we can feel that we have actually accomplished a thorough working knowledge of political issues at stake," said Miss Whipple in giving the keynote of the year's program.

The club will follow the actual hearings of legislature during the winter session at the Capitol, checking up actions taken on bills of special interest to women.

Asks $9,000,000 To Dry Up U. S.

WASHINGTON — Prohibition Commissioner Haynes will seek an appropriation of $9,125,000 for the enforcement of the federal dry laws during the next fiscal year, 1924, it was said at the treasury.

Mr. Haynes takes the view that while a larger sum could be utilized in suppressing the liquor traffic, the equivalent of the amount now being expended would enable the prohibition unit to carry on all the activities now in force. The dry navy is to be expanded to take advantage of the tariff act of 1922 permitting search of vessels within twelve miles from shore.

Stocks Resume Upward Move On Wide List

NEW YORK—The upward movement of prices was resumed at the opening of today's stock market. Gulf States Steel was pushed up over 3 points to a new high record for the year, some of the recent buying being attributed to a group of Birmingham bankers. St. Joseph led and Owens Bottle also advanced more than a point to new high prices. While the buying extended over most of the list, high grade rails, oils, chemicals, equipments and public utilities shares were most in demand. Atchison led the advance in rails with a gain of 2 points and material improvement was noted in Southern Pacific and C. & O. Standard of New Jersey resumed leadership of the oil group, mounting nearly 2 points while Royal Dutch advanced 1 and gains of substantial fractions were recorded by Mexican Petroleum and Pan-American. Consolidated and People's Gas shares each climbed a point and were followed into higher ground by Davison, Allied and American Agricultural Chemical. Other individual strong spots included Crucible, American Woolen and Famous Players, each up a point or more.

The Kaiser's Story of the War

Is Now Running in

THE CHICAGO DAILY NEWS

It is an absorbing narrative not only of the kaiser's remarkable personal career, but it also covers German history, politics, diplomacy, and, finally, her military operations in the world war. All this is discussed by the former kaiser with a wealth of detail, embellished by intimate anecdotes of contemporary rulers, ministers, confidantes, friends and foes.

Forty years of history as interpreted by the former German emperor.

Secret diplomacy as it was practiced in Berlin, Paris, London, St. Petersburg and Tokyo.

Cross-currents of international politics, from Bismarck's day to the German collapse in 1918.

Causes of war; military and naval rivalries; part played by America in the final struggle.

William Hohenzollern, writing in his place of exile—

Attacks Woodrow Wilson and charges violation of promises made in the Fourteen Points.

Voices his belief in the old canard about a secret treaty between the United States, Great Britain and France against Germany and Austria, dating from 1897.

Tells of German efforts, at various times, to form defensive alliances with Great Britain and Russia.

Recalls many episodes showing the personal relations of European rulers and ministers in past forty years.

Admits mistakes in diplomacy and politics, and represents himself as too often receptive of bad advice from his chancellors.

Blames his advisers for the Kruger dispatch, the Tangier visit and other indiscretions.

Defends Germany's motives and assails leaders of all allied nations.

Says he was prevented from committing suicide in 1918 by his "Christian convictions."

532,500 Books In State Library Here

A person would have to live 1,450 years to read every book in the state historical library, if he were to read on the average of one book a day. There are 532,500 books in the library. He would have to live 75 years longer if he were to read every pamphlet, reading at the rate of 10 a day, for there are some 54,000 there.

State Operators Able to Supply All Coal Needs

Fuel Committee Says There Will Be No Shortage

Leave the distribution of Wisconsin coal to operators and dealers of this state, and the machinery needed to obtain fuel to the Northwest governor's committee and there will be no cause for complaint this winter, the Wisconsin fuel committee says today in a statement.

"If the whole coal distribution problem is left in the hands of the operators in Wisconsin, they themselves will see to it that there is a just and equitable distribution of coal as it is received, without setting up any distributing machinery," the committee statement said.

"Outside interference only tends to 'gum up' the machinery it added, referring to the effort of certain cities to bring about the establishment of local coal distributing committees. The creation of additional machinery was discouraged last week by Gov. J. J. Blaine in a letter to the Milwaukee Association of Commerce.

In a review of the whole fuel situation as it confronts this state the committee today said that "Wisconsin can feel greatly relieved as to the bituminous situation," and declared that an intensive loading program for anthracite has been mapped out to begin this week.

"This would indicate that the state can expect first cargoes of hard coal shortly after October 1, and better still, we are reliably informed that the price will not be in excess of last year," the statement added.

"It seems but fitting, to state," the committee said, "that Wisconsin is deeply indebted for the work accomplished by Mr. D. D. Conn, chairman of the Northwest Governors' coal committee, ably assisted by J. D. Morrissey, representing Wisconsin and Mr. Murphy and Mr. Leich, and the untiring efforts of Mr. Reiss of Sheboygan and Mr. Uhrig of Milwaukee in seeing to it that Wisconsin was properly taken care of in its allotments and to those gentlemen only should the credit be given."

Receipts based on clearings since September 15, indicate that there will be moved into the Northwest territory pretty close to 200,000 tons of coal a day, the report said. Assuming that there are 80 days of the shipping season left, it added, the states would receive 16,000,000 tons of coal before navigation closes.

Of this amount 4,502,000 would be apportioned to Lake Michigan parts with about 60 per cent or 2,400,000 tons remaining in Wisconsin for home consumption. Of the tonnage going to Lake Superior ports Wisconsin should receive 504,000 tons, which with that shipped during the early summer would give the state 4,000,000 tons of soft coal this year.

"With the appointment of Conard E. Spens, as federal fuel director, and C. P. White, assistant to be stationed at St. Paul, the northwest is assured of being well represented throughout the period of regulation and any outside interference only tends to 'gum up' the machinery," the Committee said.

ALL UNIVERSITY
MEN INVITED

It will pay you to listen to this music

ALL over the country the whistle is blowing for the kick-off, the start of that great game—another college year.

Be on your toes when the whistle blows. A good start will carry you well on toward your goal.

Let the football candidate start by working away till his muscles ache from bucking the line.

Let the aspirant for manager put in careful study of his team's needs, always eager to help—arranging a trip or carrying a pail of water.

Let the publications man be alert for news and tireless in learning the details of editorial work.

Whatever activity you come out for, crowd a lot of energy into these early Fall days.

And if a good start helps win campus honors, it helps win class room honors, too. The sure way to be up in your work is to aim now for regularity at lectures, up-to-date note-books and particular attention to the early chapters of text-books, thus getting a grip on the basics.

This is best in the long run, and—selfishly—it is easiest in the long run. That is, if life after college is made easier by the things a bigger income can buy.

GLENZ TO HEAD ARTS WORK IN MUSIC SCHOOL

Former University Student Adds New Features to Department

Emma L. Glenz, graduate of the Academy of Fine arts in Chicago, has been engaged as the head instructor of the Arts and Crafts department of the Wisconsin School of Music. Miss Glenz was a scholarship student of the famous C. Raymond Johnson, Chicago artist, whose oil paintings were exhibited at the university library during the summer school session. Miss Glenz received her M. A. at the University here.

A novel workshop has been devised by the new department head. All the work and study under direction will be carried on in the attractive, colorful room done in gray, gold, and black, on the fourth floor of the music school. Batik wall hangings, carved desk sets, decorated fans, and dozens of other things are being planned for this year's work.

Work on Display

From Wednesday to Saturday of this week, samples of Miss Glenz's handiwork done at the academy will be on display at Menges' drug store. A beautiful Japanese lacquered panel, an ivory desk set decorated with amethysts, boxes and a plaque in Gesso relief, parchment flowers, and a cut and hand turned desk set in tin are some of the articles to be shown.

Beginning the first week in October classes will be held by Miss Glenz during the days and in the evenings for children and adults. "Problems in Decorated Sanatos" will be the subject for October. "Decorated Wood in Metal" will be worked on during November, and "Batik wall hangings" is scheduled for December.

Parker is Picked As Victim of Old Confidence Ruse

An old confidence game was brought to the attention of Madisonians again today when E. E. Parker, city engineer, received a letter from Barcelona, Spain, asking his assistance in procuring the freedom of the writer who has been imprisoned for bankruptcy.

The writer, who signs himself R. de L. claims he has a sum of $260,000 in a secret compartment of his portmanteau which has been seized in this country. In return for Mr. Parker's assistance the writer offers him one third of this amount which is in two checks payable to the bearer.

He asks that he be notified through his confidant Carlos Olive, Barcelona, Spain, as he cannot receive letters while in prison. Specific instructions are given in a postscript that the answer be by cable and not letter.

Dudgeon Will Preside at Library Session

Edna Ferber, Wisconsin novelist, will be the principal speaker at the annual meeting of the Wisconsin Library association which will be held at Milwaukee Oct. 9. M. S. Dudgeon, formerly of Madison, president of the association, will preside at the convention.

Forsberg, U. W. Grad, Teaching at Milwaukee

A. B. Forsberg, U. W. graduate, is among the teachers at the Y. M. C. A. night school at Milwaukee. He will have charge of the courses in accounting and commercial law. The school is one of the most advanced in the state.

Begin Campaign To Better Mail Delivery

A campaign is being carried on to have mail receptacles placed on every house in the city through the carriers of the postoffice. Each carrier reports the name and number of each house on his route without a receptacle to Postmaster W. A. Devine and notice is sent direct asking that a receptacle be installed immediately. Using of a hall or vestibule as a receptacle is not permissible as the doors may be locked at times and cause confusion in mail being returned to the office.

Wisconsin Baptists Open Annual Meeting

OSHKOSH, Wis.—There will be between 400 and 500 delegates here for four days, beginning Oct. 9, to attend the Wisconsin state Baptist convention. An elaborate program is being prepared. Several speakers of note will take part. At the same time the women's state missionary society will have its meeting.

Piper Bros. Plan Mifflin St. Arcade

The former Giles flat building, E. Mifflin st., has been sold to Piper Bros. for a reported price of $30,000. It is understood that Piper Bros. will replace the building with an arcade, similar to the one being erected by the Madison Realty Co. on W. Mifflin st. Pipers are now in possession of three of the most important downtown corners.

Devine Warns Against Spanish Swindle Scheme

Madisonians are warned by Postmaster W. A. Devine not to "fall" for the "Spanish Swindle" which has been resumed since the war. During the past month more than a dozen letters have been received by Madison business men in which they are asked to aid a man now imprisoned in Spain. A tempting reward is offered for the prospective victims.
