LAMBDA CHI ALPHA BUYS NEW PROPERTY

Interlaken Inn to be Future Home; Other Organizations Plan Changes

The Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity, 10 Langdon, has purchased the Interlaken Inn, 148 W. Gilman. The house, which is larger than the one they occupied on Langdon st., will accommodate 25 men. The consideration was about $25,000. The Interlaken Inn which has been under the direction of Mrs. G. M. Pierce for a number of years, has been used as an apartment and boarding house.

Several other fraternities and sororities are planning to move into new quarters at the beginning of the fall term. Pi Kappa Alpha, formerly located at 630 Langdon, will move to the Winslow home, which they recently purchased. The Theta Chis and Tri Deltas have recently acquired property in the 100 block on Langdon. Wisconsin is to be well represented at the Olympic Meet when the contests start at Antwerp, Belgium. Four men, three placed on the swimming team, and one entered in the 1500 meter and the 3000 meter race, will have berths with the American Olympics.

24 TO REPRESENT U. W. AT ANNUAL Y. W. CONFERENCE

Only 24 young women will represent the University of Wisconsin at the annual Y. W. C. A. conference to be held at Lake Geneva from Aug. 17 to 27, although 30 or 40 women signified their intention of going. Preference will be given to those who have never attended the conference before.

The total number is limited this year to 700 so that the conference may be smaller and more effective. The conference is attended by young women from colleges all over the Middle West and South, who take part in Bible classes, religious meetings, and recreation of various forms. A loving cup will be presented to the college delegation which composes the best original song concerning Geneva.

SENIOR ACTORS CLEAR BIG FUND

Holcombe Reports Profit of $219 on "The Jesters;" Sets New Record

The Senior class play, "The Jesters," cleared $219.22; the largest sum raised by any class play of which there are records in the Dean's office. The money goes into the Senior Chimes fund and raises it to over $1600.00. The report on the play has just been submitted by Ray Holcombe, production manager.

It rained both nights, so Monday's play was given Tuesday afternoon, and the entertainment scheduled for Tuesday afternoon was given Tuesday evening after the rain had subsided.

In spite of the fact that no tickets were sold on the day of the play, the net receipts are over 2½ times the amount made by last year's play and far more than any previous Senior production.

The large profit was due to the re-arrangement of the budget. A saving was made in staging and twice as much was spent in advertising as formerly. The Senior Bulletin, which was got out by the production staff as an advertising venture, devoted six pages to the play.

STAFF MEETING

Representatives of all University of Wisconsin publications will meet in the Union building Friday at 1 p. m.

Eight Cups Are Awards for First Place; Fire-works at 8:30

The biggest Water Fete in the history of the University is scheduled for Friday when the Water Carnival and Venetian Night will be combined for the first time. The arrangements are practically completed, and Joe Steinhauer, who is in charge of arrangements promises not only the biggest but also the best Venetian Night and Carnival ever staged here. Both events will occur at the Boat House and at the rear of the Y. M. C. A., where several scows have been placed for the starting and finishing of the various races. Entries for the Carnival events will be received at the Boat House today and tomorrow.

Events

Eight cups are to be awarded as first prizes, and as the second and third, merchandise is to be given. Following are the swimming events in the Carnival which starts at 3:30 p. m.; a 50 yard race for boys under 16 years; a 50 yard race for girls under 16 years; an open novice race of 50 yards for women, in which a cup will be given; a 100 yard swim for men, with a cup as first prize; a canoe race (mixed doubles), in which two cups will be awarded; a hurry-scurry canoe race with a cup as first prize; a 50 yard swim for men, with a cup as first prize; a half-mile canoe race (open), in which a cup will be awarded; a follow-the-leader fancy diving event will take place; and other special events are a Canoe tilt, a Canoe boxing match, a Water base ball game and a diving contest for women.

Night Celebration

The Venetian Night will begin at 8:30 p. m., and will be closed with a huge fire-works demonstration. The feature of the evening will be a decorated canoe parade in which a large cup will be awarded for the best decorated canoe. Movies are to be taken at both the afternoon and evening events, and music will be furnished during the evening by a fifteen piece orchestra on a large scow in the rear of the "Y." A much larger crowd than usual is expected because all of the visitors to the Forest Products Laboratory Decennial Celebration will be there.

The Forest Products Laboratory has been cooperating with the University to make this year's program the largest and best ever given here.

DO YOU KNOW

By J. G. Crownhart, '21

That the first Dairy School in America was conducted at the University in 1890.

That there are sixty-seven different departments and colleges in the University.

The Alumni Association, with close to 6,000 members, is the second largest in the United States.

The University has but fifteen tennis courts for men.

The New York Post says The Daily Cardinal is the world's greatest college newspaper.

There were 1,639 teachers at last year's summer session.

OH CRUEL, CRUEL WORLD!
We went down where the salt waves roll,
And found much to bewail.
We found that sailors shovel coal,
And never see a sail.

We went out to a farm, but we Found farm life was a fake;
No milkmaid danced around, ah me!
The milkmaid's name was JAKE.

And later all our hopes were cooked,
We view the wild west lands;
And found the cowboys dressed and looked Like livery stable hands.

Then we went way down east to josh
The natives lank and green;
But not one native said: "By Gosh!" And they were all shaved and clean.

We thot down in the college town
To paint our soul with red; Cruel fate! The students studied an' around Ten-thirty went to bed!

FRENCH HOUSES AID LANGUAGE STUDENTS

Fluency in speaking French is being secured by 60 summer students at the University of Wisconsin by boarding at the conversation tables in two French Houses that are maintained by the department of Romance Languages this summer.
Six instructors and 26 students room in the houses.

Only one French House was maintained in former years but, so great was the demand for practical training in conversational French, that two French houses are now needed.
After summer session closes in August, private French classes will be conducted in the houses throughout the rest of the summer.

The native French women who act as instructors include; a resident of Vitre, France, who has studied at Rennes, Brittany, and at Sheffield, England; a graduate of the University of Bordeaux; a student from the University of Loures, a graduate of the College of Tel-ance, France; a graduate of the normal school at Chalons sur Marne; and a student from the University of Clermont.

The first French House at the university was started during the summer session of 1918 and was given a permanent home in the fall of 1919. The money for its equipment, amounting to about $2,700, was raised by subscription from friends of French culture and alumnae of the university, secured largely through the efforts of Miss Frances G. Perkins, member of the Board of Regents.

The house has received many gifts, among the most recent of which are 50 French books from a large publishing house in France and six reproductions of famous pictures from a Parisian company. Although the equipment was contributed for the original French house, both places are now self-supporting.

BIG PAGEANT STAGED HERE BY STUDENTS

Light and Song Spectacle With 1,000 People to be Presented

BY ADRIAN SCOLTEN

The greatest pageant and the most unusual song festival ever attempted at the university will be given the night of Aug. 2, last Monday of the six weeks' summer session. In the combination program there will be 1,000 persons taking part and because it is the only building which can accommodate the immense crowd expected, the affair will be held in the stock pavilion.

The pageant and festival is an outgrowth of a group of community leadership courses given this summer at the university in order to develop men and women who can lead great community enterprises. The students in these courses will stage the pageant, which will culminate with a great community concert in which there will be beautiful combinations of song and light. The appeal of a thousand voices to be increased and reinforced by effects with colored lights.

The program will be called the Living Circle and will be a radiant pageant of community life with a grand climax in the song and light episode.

Professor E. B. Gordon's classes in pageantry, in co-operation with classes in Americanization, social service, labor problems, recreation, poverty and relief, folk dancing and interpretative dancing, will unite in the strictly pageant part of the program. Professor P. W. Dykema's class in community music, aided by the chorus of a thousand voices that has been attending the Monday night sings, by a chorus of children and by singing by everybody in the audience, will arrange the effects in music and light. Professor W. H. Varnum of the art department will have charge of the lights. Professor Dykema will conduct the singing. Professor Gordon is general chairman of the entire program. The members of the executive committee include Helen Harper, Richard Mead, Frances Searles, and Gertrude Kinga.

ISSUE WARNING ON CHILD LABOR

Many reports have been recently received by the Industrial Commission showing injuries to permit children while working at prohibited employments. The commission today issued a letter cautioning employers to be sure to carefully read their permits. Under state laws there are many employments which are prohibited to children even if they have permits. Children in such prohibited employment if injured may recover treble compensation and the employer is in all cases liable to the penalty for violation of the child labor law.

GROUP OF PLAYS WINS AUDIENCE

Helen Graves and Fay Cornwall
Lead; Florence Baskerville
Praised by Critic

BY CELESTE PLANK

Helen B. Graves as Cathleen and Fay Cornwall as Maurya in "Riders to the Sea," the third of the series of four one-act plays which were presented in Lathrop hall, Tuesday afternoon, scored a decided hit. Florence Baskerville as Cornelia Milk in The Feast of the Holy Innocents, achieved distinction by her clever interpretation of an elderly maiden lady. The program was very well staged.

The casts for the plays follow:

"The Hour Glass"

By William Butler Yeats

A Wise Man Emma C. Dunke
A Fool Mary Fay Brown
An Angel Velma Fay White
Bridget Erma J. Bagenile
Pupils—Era I. Murley, Hedwig
"Riders to the Sea," the third
"Overtones" By Alice Enterberg
Hettie June Woodward
Harriette July A. Shea

Maggie Helen Lonesbury
Margaret Willamella Coleman presented them to the world.

"Riders to the Sea" By J. Synge
Cathleen Helen B. Graves
Nora Ruth Casterton
Maurya Fay Cornwall
Bartley Sumner Cobb

"Feast of the Holy Innocents"
By Marshall Isley
Cornelia Milk

..... Florence K. Baskerville
Electa Milk Mrs. Maud Nichols
Mrs. Oberly Nell K. Gleason
Jennie Oberly Florence Holbrooke
Mrs. Oman Margaret George

The first play presented, "The Hour Glass," dealt with the conversation of an atheistic wise man. Miss Emma Dunke as the Wise Man and Miss Mary Fay Brown as the Fool had the leading parts.

The next production, "Overtones," was a clever Washington Square play. The personification of two women's inner selves brought out the contrasting and subtle overtones of the personalities as they play, was the best of the group. This play, as Miss Babcock stated in her preliminary announcement, is considered the best of the modern plays of its type. A peasant's cottage, on the Arian Islands off the coast of Ireland, forms the dreary setting for the mournful tragedy—a mother's loss of six sons, a husband and a father—all gulped down by the sea. The costuming and stage setting, combined with the able acting of the entire cast, produced a most effective atmosphere of grief and sorrow.

The last production, a comedy entitled "The Feast of the Holy Innocents," provided a chance for some clever acting by Miss Florence Baskerville, and Mrs. Maud Nichols as the two Milk sisters—elderly maiden ladies who use the celebration of the Feast of the Holy Innocents as an excuse to go to the city where they wish to see Bernhardt play "Camille."

These plays complete the series of eight plays originally planned. The first group was given Monday afternoon at Lathrop hall.

"Women are the supreme purveyors to the eye by virtue of their superior grace, beauty and interest in line and color."

—ARNOLD BENNETT

WE try to avoid the commonplace in apparel.

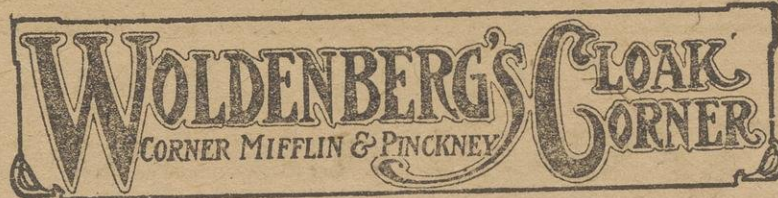

WE do not have dozens of one style.

WE do not feature a frock simply because it is cheap, if price is its only virtue.

WE endeavor to provide only fashions that are smart, exclusive, correct.

AND what is probably more important—we price our garments so that women of limited income may dress attractively and in good taste.

"PUCK" ON THE VARSITY CAMPUSMARGARET SEIDEL

Miss Margaret Seidel, who plays "Puck" in "Midsummer Night's Dream" has had dramatic experience in two other Shakespearean plays, having been the Girl in "King Lear" and Gertrude in "Hamlet."

U. W. EXTENSION
ORGANIZES CITY
STUDY GROUPS

Study groups in various cities for students of such courses as Feeding Children for Health and Growth, Disease Prevention and Home Care of the Sick, Home Furnishing and Decoration, Child Nature and Training, Voting Methods and Elections are now a regular part of the work of the University of Wisconsin Extension division.

The organization of such study-discussion groups as a means of giving greater impetus to correspondence study than can be gained by individual work is a project recently initiated by the division in such courses as lend themselves to this method. Through these meetings of students the group becomes a clearing house for the expression of opinions and experience under the direction of a leader.

Additional service for a study-discussion group includes, in the course on Voting Methods and Elections for instance, suggestions for conducting the group, supplementary material, such as ballots and tally sheets for a mock election, and practical problems.

U. W. LAB SENDS EXPERTS TO INDIA

The forest service of the Indian government has just taken two experts in kiln drying from the United States Forest Products laboratory, Madison, to aid in its forestry work. They have resigned after nearly two and a half years of service in the laboratory.

C. V. Sweet, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin in 1915, will have his headquarters at Dehra Dun, India, in the foothills of the Himalaya mountains. L. V. Teesdale will go to Rangoon, Burma, which is situated in the low lands bordering the Sea of Bengal.

Both men will be engaged in the investigation of commercial methods of seasoning timber. Their work will differ only as geographical conditions affect the character and availability of the timber and will involve travel and exploration into all accessible parts of the provinces as well as laboratory research at the institutions already established. In the art of silviculture and its development the East leads the West, but in commercial processes of utilization of the woods products the East has much to learn from Western countries, especially America.
