WILLIAMS BAY'S SUPT. OF SCHOOLS RESIGNS

Volmer H. Sorensen, superintendent of the Williams Bay Schools for the past ten years tendered his resignation to the local school board last Friday, July 28, to become effective immediately. Mr. Sorensen's new position will be in the Administration Department of the University of Wisconsin Extension School. He began his new work on Tuesday, August 1.

Mr. Sorensen is well known as one of the young educators in Wisconsin, and is especially known for his "progressive system" of pedagogy, so much so that teachers and representatives from schools throughout the country have very often visited the class-rooms of the Williams Bay schools to become acquainted with the system. He has done much to bring about the high standard and rank of the school since coming to the office of superintendent.

Mr. Sorensen is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, receiving the degrees of M.A. in the School of Education of the University and LL.B., and is now studying for his PH.D. degree.

He owns a home in Oakwood Estates, Wms Bay, and has two children, Virginia and Charles. Mr. and Mrs. Sorensen and the children have been in Madison for the summer while he has been attending the summer school of the university. They will move to Madison to make their home some time in September and will be greatly missed from the community.

We congratulate him on his splendid promotion and wish him much success in his new position.

Mrs. Martin E. Nelson, Oakwood Estates had as her guest recently, Mrs. Thomas L. MacKintosh and Mrs. William Weil of Flint, Michigan.

Mr. George Yanke was low bidder for the interior decorating to be done in the Wms Bay school rooms.

In the olden time, a coverlet represented the result of many months labor. It was an expression of the period in which it was woven. Many of the coverlets recorded in the Guild Records are the work of men and women whose achievements have contributed much to the history of our country.

A memorial library of reference books on weaving and American antiques has also been established and now includes eighty-six volumes. Coverlets owned by the Guild and by its members comprise the largest collection of early American weaving in the country.

GRANDSTAND ATTRACTIONS AT WALWORTH COUNTY FAIR

Two headline attractions have been signed by officials for the grandstand show at the Walworth County Fair, which opens at Elkhorn on Friday, Sept. 1, and closes after the night show Labor Day.

Charlyss, the Lake Placid Ice Queen, will head a cast of colorful skaters in the ice revue, "A Night at Lake Placid". The second headliner will be the musical revue, "Goin' Places", presenting a large company of dancers, comedians and singers with their own 10-piece band.

The ice revue will be given on a solid surface of synthetic ice, which is prepared a short time in advance of each show. It has the appearance of real ice and produces a surface suitable for all types of trick and fancy skating.

In addition to Charlyss, the cast includes Joe Dvorchak, the speed king, in high speed spins and tricks; "Sparky" clown of the ice; Lois Lee, Lake Placid Nightengale; Gerry Mundorff, skater's waltz, Larry Tobler, Ace of Rythm, and Gerry and Joe in "Ferdinand the Bull."

The musical revue will be presented before a background of modern scenery with novel lighting effects featuring character dancers, dancing comedians, an ensemble of 16 pretty girls and their own orchestra.

"Goin' Places", is presented in five ensembles: "Today", "Main and Man", "Blue Danube Ballet", "Dance Craze of the Day", and "On Parade".

Other stage attractions will be a hillbilly quartet attired in costumes presented to them by President Roosevelt when they played for him at Hyde Park; two men and a girl in a roller skating act; musical quintet of vocalists and instrumentalists; "The Great George & Co.", in tricks of magic; Ada and her Wonder Dogs; "Monroe and Grant, the bounding bed comics."

Secretary F.M. Porter states that several other acts will be engaged for the afternoon and night attraction platform and that fireworks displays will be given as the finale to the night shows on Fri-Sat

The editor of Bay Leaves had the pleasure of meeting the editor or rather editors of "The Daily Star" published at "Sinnissippi Farm", Oregon, Ill., by Nancy and Lowden Madlener, children of A.F. Madlener. The circulation does not exceed thirty copies, but is published as a daily on a hectograph. It was started early in June, but its publication has been suspended while the editors are at Lake Geneva. It seems that they find so many things to occupy their time while at "The Lindens" with grandfather Madlener.

Some of the Headlines are - Sidelines, Jokes, Local News, Poetry, Editorial, Stories, Clippings.

Nancy who is twelve and Lowden, eight, are grandchildren of former Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois.

W.F. TRINKE WINS SUIT FOR TITLE TO LAKE GENEVA MANOR.

Judge Alfred L. Drury, Circuit Judge granted default judgment in favor of William F. Trinke, in an action brought to quiet title Lake Geneva Manor properties bought from Walworth County in May for $10,000. "Linden Lodge" the former home of Levi Z. Leiter which was a part of Mr. Trinke's purchase will be razed very soon. Henry Youell of Lake Geneva has purchased the spacious dwelling and out of the material salvaged will erect a home for E.M. King of Oak Park and two model homes on two lots that they have purchased in the Manor.

Mr. Trinke has recently sold lots to G.F. Nyland, A.J. Granger, George Paskie, Martin Stauffer, T.W. The new hospital will have a normal 76 bed capacity, it is stated and will be able to handle up to 100 patients in an emergency. There are 26 private rooms, 15 two-bed wards and 5 four-bed wards. In addition there will be nursery bassinets with a capacity for 25 infants.

The new building is located directly west of the present group of buildings of the county farm. It is in the shape of a "T" with the main portion running north and south and a wing extending to the east.

It is a four story building, with plenty of storage space and latest in heating, ventilating, etc.

The committee headed by Dr. T.J. Crew of the County Board is working hard to get everything in readiness for the opening.

The Taxpayers of the County should avail themselves of the opportunity to view the building and the furnishings. Many of you helped to raise money for the latter, or gave toward the funds.

BAY FIREMEN RESPOND TO FIRE CALL DURING NIGHT LAST FRIDAY.

During the electrical storm last Friday night lightning struck the house in which Harry Billings lives at the A.W. Harris estate. It caused a blaze in the roof. The son, Elmer came to the Bay to give the alarm. It was put out without much damage. The electricity was off so long that 125 tiny pheasants
in an incubator died.

Eighty -five ladies were at the
the party given for raising funds for new equipment at St. Anne's ) School on Monday. The tables were arranged in the Music Room,
Grand Ball Room and the Great Hall.

In the Great Hall was a table laden with prizes from beautiful jewelry to lard. In the center of the table was a mamoth bouquet of zinnias sent over by Story Book Farm.

In the center of each card table
was a Cactus Plant in a Jardiniere which was the individual table prize.

At intervals the Russian Sleigh bells used to call the children to classes rang and all stopped while numbers were drawn for the many prizes on the big table which were given as door prizes.

A partial list of those who were fortunate in receiving prizes were:
Mesdames George Neuman of the Birches; Earl E. Brigham; J.R. Appleton and Mrs. L. Gums of Lake Geneva;
Mrs. Keith Wild Daley, Glenwood Sprg;
Miss Florence Bean, Chicago; Mrs.
C.B. Armstrong, Edgewater Beach, Chi-

GROUP FROM ELKHORN LEARN TO SWIM AT BAY BEACH

The recreation department of Elkhorn under the direction of Edward S. Jacharski has been conducting a "Learn to Swim" campaign for the children of the city. Classes are held every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon at Williams Bay, where beginning swimmers are given instruction in overcoming fear of water as well as to master finer points of swimming.

A bus has been chartered by the city through the cooperation of the American Red Cross to transport all youngsters interested in swimming. Over one hundred children have already taken advantage of the opportunity.

THE ALL GENEVA LAKE SWIM

Mr. H.C. Paterson, director of the Geneva Lake Water Safety Patrol announces the date for the ALL GENEVA LAKE SWIM will be on Friday, August 18, and will be held at Lake Geneva again this year. It was Williams' Days' turn to have it but their time was relinquished so as to have it hold in the Bay next season when the new beach will be ready and will be dedicated.

Professional swimmers and divers will give exhibition swimming and there will be the usual number of fine trophies awarded the winners. Complete details will be given later.

JESSIE BURRALL EUBANK
LEADING DAILY SEMINAR

ROLLAND SCHLOERB, HYDE PARK
PASTOR, SUNDAY PREACHER

"Creative Living" serves as the title for a two-week seminar now being conducted among College Camp guests and employees by Mrs. Jessie Burrall Eubank of Cincinnati, Ohio, and likewise as a description of the manner in which this sparkling personality spends her time. Life to Mrs. Eubank is no dull burden to be patiently borne through dreary years. It is a constantly stimulating, joyous adventure changing from day to day, ever-challenging, always new, presenting unending opportunities for incalculable pleasures and rich satisfaction.

The secrets (Mrs. Eubank would probably call them techniques) by which "Creative Living" may be achieved by anyone who is ready to attempt it form the body of Mrs. Eubank's daily presentations. Seminar sessions are being held each week day evening at seven o'clock. Information regarding this unusual series of meetings may be secured by calling or writing Larry Cadwell, program director at College Camp.

YERKES DIRECTOR SCHEDULED FOR COLLEGE CAMP APPEARANCE

"Mysteries of the Sky" will be unraveled at College Camp at 8:00 P.M., August 4, when Dr. Otto Struve, director of the Yerkes and McDonald Observatories, appears as guest speaker for the Friday evening lecture series. This opportunity to hear Dr. Struve is open to the public and Camp guests without charge. The event will be presented as part of the regular informal educational program of George Williams College Camp.

Late Friday afternoon, Dr. and Mrs. Struve, Dr. and Mrs. Van Diesbroeck, and others of the Observatory staff and members of their families will be feted by College Camp guests at a reception and tea to be held in the Mabel Cratty building. Wallace Bruce Amsbary, Chicago poet, humorist and noted lecturer on English literature will entertain with a recital of some of his original verse.

As pastor, philosopher, teacher and counsellor of youth and adults alike Dr. Rolland W. Schloerb of the Hyde Park Baptist Church, Chicago, Ill., has long been recognized as a strong exponent of "Thoughtful Religion". The announcement of this subject for his sermon at College Camp next Sunday morning, August 6, is in complete accord with all that Lake Geneva people know about Dr. Schloerb.

Called upon often as a leader for Y.M.C.A. and other conferences, Dr. Schloerb has become a familiar personality to College Camp guests and neighbors. It will be with great satisfaction that his many Geneva friends welcome him at the 10:45 Service of Worship on Sunday.

Dr. Schloerb is the author of a fine book, "God in Our Lives" and several hymns. His book and verses reflect the searching, intelligent attitude of the modern scholar. In all, he presents religion as a vital force by which contemporary men and women may hope to resolve their most urgent personal and social problems. It is not stretching the truth to refer to Dr. Schloerb as one of the real religious prophets of our day.

"CLEOPATRA" TO RE-LIVE AND DIE
ON COLLEGE CAMP SCREEN

Claudette Colbert's impersonation of the ill-fated Egyptian queen, Cleopatra, ranks high among the best artistry of moviedom. This picture, done with the typically DeMille touch will be featured at College Camp on Wednesday evening, August 9.

"The dramatic events of the 'Ides of March' and Mark Antony's expedition to Egypt are presented with considerable historical authenticity and elaborate detail of costume and architecture. The assassination of Caesar by the Senators in Rome is followed by the conquest of Antony by Cleopatra". It is a stirring spectacle which has been rated as entertainment with an exceptionally high educational value.

USUAL CROWD WELCOMES NEW BELFRY
PLAY

A capacity audience, no longer a novelty with the Belfry Players, lustily applauded the latest effort of the players. Last night when "CALL IT A DAY" opened for a five-night run. Scene after scene greeted the eyes of the spectators as the actors in tip-top shape after three strenuous weeks of rehearsing under the capable direction of Eli Popa, moved rapidly thru the nine scenes of the play. The new method of staging, an innovation in the Belfry productions, was most effective as each suggested setting was swept away by the capable stage hands under the supervision of Bob Seymour Belfry stage manager and electrician. First nighters laughed heartily at the merry antics of the Hilton Family, smitten with spring fever and romance.

First honors last night went to Esther Hotton, managing director of the Belfry Players, who presented a smooth performance as Dorothy Hilton, mother of the Hilton Family. Sharing honors with Mrs. Hotton was Rodney Dexter in the role of the husband, Roger. However, the entire cast of players, sixteen, from supporting players to the very smallest character, carried themselves with the ease and fineness of experienced actors.

"CALL IT A DAY" will be presented again tonight, Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The fifth play on the summer's schedule will be Kane Campbell's hilarious comedy "THE ENCHANTED APRIL", directed by Hez Diefanthaler and has the following cast- Louise Callaway, Lynn Kiplinger, Lavon Shunk, Carole Keplinger, Jack Castino, Rudy Lange, Malcolm Lund, Marta Ibsen, Edith James, Aldis Darre.

There was dancing and singing aboard until the LUPUS reached Geneva where everyone went into town for refreshments, after waiting around for about half an hour everyone was aboard again, and the dancing and singing was resumed.
