FACTS ABOUT SHEBOYGAN COUNTY

Sheboygan County was born December 17, 1838. An act passed by the Territorial Legislature of Wisconsin was approved organizing the County of Sheboygan. Prior to 1838 Sheboygan County was a part of Brown County and remained a part of Brown County for judicial purposes until 1846.

Geographically Sheboygan County has an excellent location. It lies between Latitude 43° 33' on the south and 43° 53' on the north. On the western shore of Lake Michigan between Longitude 87° 42' and 88° 09'. Its location on the lake gives it a distinct advantage over most of the inland counties of Wisconsin and its proximity to Milwaukee and Chicago affords good marketing facilities.

The Geology of the County affords many agricultural advantages. The entire county is underlaid with Niagara Limestone varying between 500 and 800 feet thick. This offers advantages, both agricultural and Industrial. Sheboygan County has just enough rainfall for successful farming, the average annual rainfall being 23 inches. Its altitude above sea level varies from 581.3, being the elevation of the surface of Lake Michigan, to 1000 feet in the western portion of the county.

The County has an excellent road system and has many miles of improved highways. Its population in 1919 was 50,355. The area in square miles is 513.32.

The following tabulation of statistics affords interesting study as to the agriculture products of Sheboygan County. These statistics were assembled by the Sheboygan Ass'n. of Commerce and for detailed information on Sheboygan County for industrial purposes write the Secretary of the Sheboygan Ass'n. of Commerce.

It is a rich farming country of gently rolling land, not too hilly for good farming, not too flat for good drainage.

The farms are well cultivated, crop rotation is carefully practiced and immense yields are regularly harvested each year. Crop failures are unknown here.

Holstein cows and dairy farming are the mainstay and backbone of Sheboygan Falls. By way of diversification a little wheat or rye are grown each year on practically every farm as a cash crop. That is good and safe farming.

This Mill has been established on the falls of the Sheboygan River ever since white man first settled this country. The present building was erected in 1898 and is considered to be the most efficiently planned mill of its size in the state.

Wood Tire Hollow Wall Silo

Look at the right hand illustration and see one of the superior features of this silo, the HOLLOW WALL with the big air space in it. Positively the only practical insulation against heat, cold and moisture. This makes the ensilage keeping quality of this silo 100 per cent perfect.

Will Last a Lifetime

Guaranteed for 20 years against bursting from either the pressure of the silage or from decay, if properly erected and cared for. Inner wall is of redwood, the wood which longest resists decay and does not swell nor shrink. Walls solidly bolted to the concrete foundation. No guy wires needed. Will not rack, sag, twist or collapse. The strong WOOD TIRES and truss-built braces between the walls prevent this.

WOOD TIRE HOLLOW WALL SILO

WOOD TIRES are not bent wooden hoops. They are strong rigid trusses built up of four lateral layers of overlapping boards securely fastened together and then sawed to perfect circles at the factory.

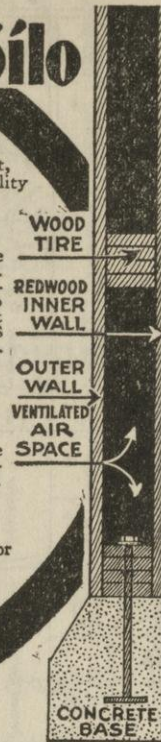

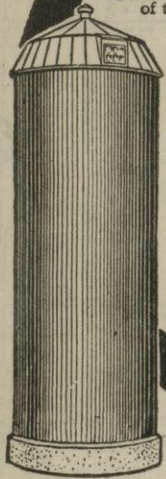

Erect This Silo Yourself

Write us today for catalog which fully describes this superior silo and tells how you can easily and quickly erect it.

Your Own Electric Power and Light!

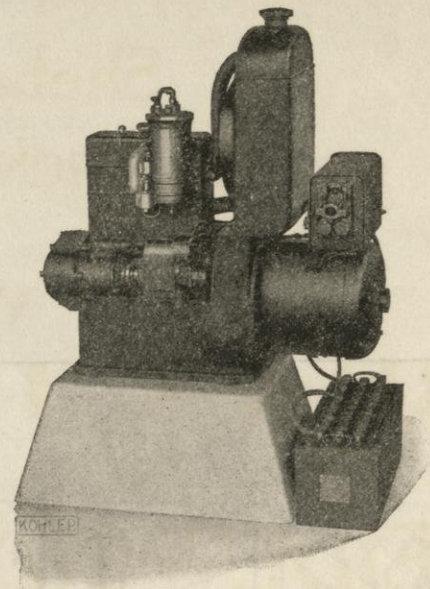

Instantly . . . Cheaply . . . Automatically

With an electric power and light plant on the farm, the kitchen, woman's workshop, can be equipped with all modern conveniences.

The electric power and light plant not only illuminates the home, barn and yard but its power drives the water pump and many other time and labor saving machines.

Send to-day for a booklet describing the Kohler Automatic Power and Light, 110 Volt D. C.

KOHLER

AUTOMATIC POWER AND LIGHT 110 VOLT D.C.

All the advantages that electric power and light bring to city homes—comfort, saving of labor, and economy—are now available to farms and other isolated communities through a new kind of power and light plant: the Kohler Automatic.

The same kind of electricity—full 110 volts—dependable, instant, cheap and automatic, may be produced with the Kohler Automatic—without storage batteries—by anyone anywhere.

The same electric lights, the same electrical household appliances as are used in cities, and all farm power appliances are automatically at your service with this scientific unit.

This complete electrical service—simple, inexpensive and reliable—is given only by the Kohler Automatic.
