HARESFOOT FOLLIES VARIES DANCING WITH VAUDEVILLE

Multi-colored Spot-lights Play Upon Capacity Throng in Lathrop

"Bill" Purnell in 10 minutes of very entertaining nonsense, and Thompson's best, headed by Willard Sumner '24 and Cecil Brodt '23, were the features of the Haresfoot Follies, which filled Lathrop gym and concert room to capacity last night.

Against a background of silver icicles, gleaming and flashing in the multi-colored spot-lights that wandered about the hall, the ten-piece orchestra slipped from one rhythm to another, while some hundreds of couples glided and whirled in the spectral blues and vivid reds of the flood-lights.

Special Acts Given

In the intermission, between 10:30 and 11:00, three distinctive acts were given.

Tom Moroney '25 and John McCausland '26 demonstrated, in the "Make-up Box," the change from a man to a maid, while the trio of jazz artists from the orchestra kept the audience's feet tapping in time.

Following this, came Bill Purnell, with a "Joe Cook" monologue listed on the program as "Just Falling In," and having to do with the story of an imitation of four Hawaiians, although nobody guessed it.

Awkward Squad Entertains

"Jack" Cornelius sang an appealing little melody—"A Song for Sale"—and 20 of the so-called "Awkward Squad" from the Haresfoot recruits, attired in tuxes, derbies and lawyers' canes, went through intricate manuevers in a highly creditable manner and with a superfluity of pep.

Favorite Haresfoot numbers of past years were featured by the orchestra. "Promises," by Rubel, Sumner and Brodt, was the big number of the evening.

WISCONSIN LUNCHEON HELD AT PALMER HOUSE

The Wisconsin luncheon was held at 12:30 o'clock yesterday on the parlor floor of the Palmer House, Chicago. The usual football post-mortem and general get-together were held. A proposition for an intercollegiate club was presented for discussion.

BOARD FAILS TO AGREE ON EMERGENCY FUNDS

The state emergency board failed to agree on the question of emergency appropriation for state educational institutions Wednesday night. Investigation into the funds requested will be made. It is probable that court action will be made over the controversy.

CAMPUS ATTRACTS CONVO DELEGATES

Prep School Visitors Tour University Grounds Before Convention

"Oh-h-h-h, what a big yard they've got around their school!" excitedly cried a high school Miss attending the C. I. P. A. convention as she caught her first glimpse of the campus yesterday.

Big boys and little boys, timid girls and dark eyed vamps, some from the land of the tall trees and others from the haunts of tall buildings—all trailedd up and down State street and around the "big yard" on a tour of inspection before the convention opened.

The Union building was filled to twice its reasonable capacity all morning as new delegates arrived and applied for entertainment.

Fraternities and sororities last night bore the burden of entertaining most of the delegates.

Helen Kuetzer '26, Elizabeth McMillan '25 and Eleanor Ehrt '25 will help in the arrangements.

The streets included in this district are North and South Mills, Charter, Bowen Court, Morris and Brooks. This is one of the 17 districts into which the women's rooming houses and sororities have been divided.

"No definite date has been set for the judging of the music but we are planning to have it done about the middle of January. A committee of musicians and musical critics will judge the entries. We are expecting a great many students to write music for the contest," said Clara Hertzberg.

Words and music must be submitted together, although they need not be written by the same person. All entries must be sent to Clara Hertzberg, 819 Irving court.

750 HIGH SCHOOL WRITERS MEET TO STUDY PAPERS AND MIX IN SOCIAL WHIRL

Youthful Journalists Forget Work For Banquet, Dance and Movie

An evening of entertainment followed the first day's activities of the Central Interscholastic Press association's convention here Friday. A banquet followed by special vaudeville, moving pictures, a carnival ball, and a mixer were the main forms of entertainment.

Vaudeville acts composed entirely of student talent entertained a capacity audience at Music hall.

Haresfoot Gives Acts

The program included a Haresfoot dancing act by John McCausland and Tom Niles; a banjo trio including Nathan Grabin, Horace Taggart, and T. G. Roberts; a chatter sketch by Bill Purnell former Haresfoot star, and a whistling act by Wayne Limberg.

A Vitagraph picture, "A Front Page Story," followed the vaudeville. It depicted the trials of a reporter covering a sensational story for the city daily.

Mixer at Lathrop

Margaret Patch, secretary of C. I. P. A. at the piano and Ralph Timmons, drummer furnished the music for the movie.

A mixer at Lathrop parlors featuring games and singing under the management of Ralph Timmons shared the latter part of the evening with the Carnival Ball at the Woman's building.

The ball was attended by approximately 400 persons. Balloons and flowers carried by the dancers lent the carnival air to the affair.

PENALTY FOR BOOZE DEBATED BY ATHENA

"That any student of the university found in possession of intoxicating liquor be indefinitely suspended" was the subject of a debate in the Athena debating society last night.

The affirmative was upheld by H. Williams and Joseph P. Brazy, the negative by August Scherr and H. H. Kriegbaum.

After the debate a talk was given by Harry A. Kavenock on what is the matter with the American press.

New officers installed were A. H. Nicolaus, president; G. H. Bell, vice-president; and Otto Messner, secretary.

Foreign Flashes

BERLIN—Dr. Marx, fifth chancellor to rise in Germany this week has chosen former chancellor Stressemann as foreign minister in the latest cabinet. Should the present combination fall the richstag will no doubt be dissolved.

WASHINGTON—President Coolidge has directed an investigation into the alleged conspiracy in the State of South Dakota to destroy local coal mining by prohibitive freight rates.

LONDON—The Times to-day published stories discounting persistent rumors of extensive military preparation in Berlin, aimed at France. It is pointed out that the German military machine has been deprived of nearly all its artillery, thus making any effort in this direction fruitless.

CEDARHURST, N. J.—Efforts of the Ku Klux Klan to place a wreath on a monument being dedicated to fallen service men were frustrated by members of the local Legion post when a gold star mother, one of the dedication participants, objected.

BERLIN—Night robberies have become so frequent during the past few months in Germany that night railway traffic is suffering a marked decrease due to the travelling public's fear of "dark hour" thugs.

Representatives Here From 18 States Attending Fourth Annual Convention

The world's greatest interscholastic press convention which has been in progress on the campus since Friday morning includes 750 delegates from 18 states. That number of delegates had been registered at a late hour yesterday, and more are expected.

Much comment is heard among the delegates testifying to a satisfaction in the program and the number of new ideas and useful information that is being obtained.

Governor Blaine, President Birge, and Professor Bleyer addressed the delegates at the welcoming convocation Friday morning.

The feature of the Friday afternoon program was the convocation address by Dr. John G. Fowlkes, of the department of education on the subject of "The Place of High School Publications in the Life of the School."

Dr. Fowlkes introduced some entirely new conceptions of the relationship of the high school and the publication. He said that the three things essential to a successful school publication are, a definite budget plan, a joint advisory system, and a management plan.

Hold Sectional Meetings

Sectional meetings for the purpose of discussing various problems of publication were presided over by authorities on the subjects. All types of scholastic publications were discussed.

Some of the typical subjects were circulation building, the value of knowing type, news writing, planning a magazine, service programs in school publications, literary standards, and organizing state conventions.

He said that markets are now flooded with poor grades of paper but that it is false economy to buy it.

NORWAY'S FUTURE IS NOT HOPELESS

—KNAPLAND

War and National Disturbances Cause Industrial Depression

"Despite the difficulties of the present situation and the drain through emigration, I do not despair of Norway's future," said Prof. Paul Knapland in an address Thursday night to the Young People's society of the Trinity Lutheran church.

"After spending two months in Norway last summer," he says, "Norway in common with the rest of Europe, suffers greatly from the effects of the war. Nearly all her industries are depressed and emotional disturbances, caused or intensified by the war, may be clearly noticed among the people."

Disturbances of an emotional nature are to blame for the present European depression.

DICK RUDY'S DEAD SHOTS BEAT PHI KAPS

The Chi Phi quintet defeated the Phi Kappa cagers 24 to 0 in the third game of the inter-fraternity basketball tournament last night at the men's gymnasium.

The game was featured by Dick Rudy's deadly shooting, and was much faster than the score indicates.

The Phi Kappas had a wonderful pair of guards but Rudy's great eye was too much for them.

FROSH WOMEN CONVO PLANNED FOR DEC. 13

An all freshmen women vocational convocation has been planned for December 13 to be held in the concert room at Lathrop hall. Dean Nardin will address the freshmen women and will hand out vocational questionnaires.

This vocational convocation precedes the all university women's conference which will be held February 25 to 29.

English Musicians

For the second time this year the popular London String Quartet will entertain Madison audiences with a concert under the auspices of the university school of music. This concert will take place on the evening of Wednesday, December 12, in the auditorium of Music hall.

The London String quartet is made up of Englishmen, each one an artist in his own right. They form a balanced musical group, with a distinct personality and style.

The four players in the quartet are James Levey, first violin; Thomas W. Petre, second violin; H. Waldo Warner, viola; and C. Warwick-Evans, violincello. Mr. Levey who was unable to play with the quartet when they gave their spring concert here, is now filling his customary place in the quartet.

Tickets for this concert are being sold at the university school of music.

H. Waldo Warner, viola player, is composer of a type of fanciful, effective music which has found popularity in the United States as well as in England and on the continent. The quartet presented one of his newer compositions, a fairy suite entitled "The Pixy Ring," in their last concert here, and the fantastic, unusual melody was one of the high spots of the evening's program.

The London String Quartet came to America about one year ago. After a series of concerts in Aeolian Hall, New York, and a tour of the middle west, the quartet toured through parts of South America. They are now upon another tour of the United States.

More than 165 vocations for women are suggested in Filene's "Career for Women", one of the five books on vocational training which the S. G. A. library has added to its cases. The other four books are, "The Private Secretary" by Kilduff, "Women Professional Workers" by Adams, "Vocations for the Training of Women" by Perkins, and "Women in Work" by Helen Bennett who addressed the vocational conferences held here for the university women last year.

These books may be obtained from the S. G. A. library at the regular rent of 2 cents per day.

Music Accompanies Pictures Presented In Barnard Program

A pictorial presentation accompanied by music of the "People Who Have Made Thanksgiving What It Is," formed the Thanksgiving program of Barnard Hall given by the freshmen at 2:30 o'clock, Thanksgiving afternoon.

The first framed picture presented the Indians and was accompanied by the song of a pilgrim man and his wife. Their song was, "America the Beautiful."

Grandmother was the subject of the third picture. She was typically attired in a little white cap, a big apron, and was just putting the finishing touches on a very real looking pie. Her song was "Over the Woods and Far Away to Grandmother's House We Go." "Every Evening Mercies New" was the fourth song, sung while the picture framed two little children kneeling, saying their prayers.

Mildred Anderson '27, had charge of the program under the guidance of Margaret Meyer '25. A quartette composed of Mildred Anderson, Edith Knudson, Aurelia Grether,

NEWSPAPERS ON DISPLAY AT LIBE

Publication of 18th Century Compared With Those of Today

Delegates to the C. I. P. A. convention this week-end here have an opportunity of seeing a vivid comparison between old and modern newspapers in an exhibit of many ancient papers prepared in the historical museum.

Many of the news sheets date back to the beginning of the 18th century. They are yellow and moth-eaten, and the edges are ragged, but the print is still clear and the few old-fashioned cuts that are used are still distinguishable.

A copy of the New York Sun, still in existence today after many changes, for the year 1804 is very interesting in the light of a comparison between it and the same paper as it is published today. There is a copy of the New England Weekly Journal for the year 1727, one of the earliest dated newspapers on exhibition.

High school delegates may go to the fourth floor of the libe, see these ancient papers, and then take the elevator down to the periodical room on the first floor, and see the modern papers in the racks.

BADGER NETMEN
RANK THIRD IN
PRE-SEASON DOPEIowa, Michigan, Wisconsin,
Purdue Contenders For Big Ten Title

Four teams, Iowa, Michigan, Wisconsin, and Purdue, appear as the logical preseason contenders for the conference basketball title and according to all indications rank about in the order named.

Iowa, with its championship quintet intact, should lead its opponents in a merry chase unless serious losses via ineligibility and injury are encountered. Coach Sam Barry will not have to spend much time teaching fundamentals to his squad and can put most of his effort on the finer points of the game.

In Janse, Funk, and Hicks Iowa has three of the best men in the Big Ten. Janse was conceded to be by far the most accurate and reliable forward in the game last year and garnered thirty-six field goals in twelve games. Funk was second high point man in the conference and was death on free throws but under the new ruling that the man fouled must shoot his free throw his accuracy will not be of much use.

The Maize and Blue are going to make a strong bid for honors if the dope runs true to form. Haggerty, playing as a sophomore, was the most feared forward in the conference but was forced out of play for several games by illness.

Ely, all-conference center, and Miller, forward are expected to show their heels to any guard that tries to cover them and this combination will prove a difficult one to stop.

Prospects at Wisconsin are running true to form by appearing only too gloomy at the start of the season. The presence of Coach Meanwell adds at least fifty per cent to the Badgers' chances and he can perform wonders with what seems to be mediocre material at the start of the season.

Captain Gibson, Spooner, and Elsom are the regulars from last year's team, while Diebold, Barwig, Harris, and others all played in one or more games.

Purdue may not be as strong as last year but basketball seems to be the Boilermakers' forte and they usually succeed in putting a formidable team on the floor.

The high point of the conference, Barnes, may lead Chicago to a top berth in the final rating but his place is liable to be snatched from him by Janse or Nyikos of Indiana. The latter is playing his second season and should make a marked advancement over last year.

The college of agriculture at Ohio State has 363 women enrolled, the college of Law 10, four in dentistry, and nine in the medical course. Ten expect to be engineers and seventeen pharmacists.

White shirts and red bows were worn by Stanford rooters in addition to the rooter's "lids" at the Stanford-California game Saturday, to present a uniform appearance in the rooting section.

Sport Shots

Colored students at Northwestern university honored Sam Taylor, colored end, who played for three years on the Northwestern football team, by presenting him with a gold football watch charm at a banquet in his honor held at the close of the football season.

University of Chicago freshmen and sophomores will hold their annual football battle Saturday at Stagg field. The two teams will be composed of frosh who have won their numrals this fall and second year men who are on the varsity squad.

Martineau, Grange, and Thomas, make up the backfield of the all-conference football team chosen by The Daily Iowan, official student newspaper at the University of Iowa. Following is the selected:

CROSS COUNTRY
AT BIG BANQUETWinners of Turkey Race Do-

Y. M. C. A.

The first banquet to end a cross-country season at Wisconsin was given last night at 6 o'clock in the university Y. M. C. A. It was made possible by the winners of the turkey race donating their prizes toward the fed.

Coach Mead Burke as toastmaster called for speeches from Walter Butz, Captain George H. Finkle '24, Manager Robert W. Black '24, the winners in the turkey race, the varsity men leaving next year, and the track captain.

"I am not disappointed in the team," Coach Burke said.

"Next year we will start early and work harder."

"I do not think it is necessary to say more than a few words about the merits of individuals. The personal satisfaction of each man who is working hard for his school takes in his work is the greatest reward he has."

"We will have several good runners left next year from this year's varsity, as well as many freshmen and others now taking cross-country for the first time. The other conference teams will lose more men by graduation than we will. I am hoping next year to win the conference championship."

"During the sixteen years that cross-country has been a major sport, Wisconsin has won five championships," Captain Finkle said. "At no time during those years has she dropped below fifth place in the meets. We have a record that many schools envy."

Those present at the dinner were: Burke, Finkle, Vally, Butz, Schneidir, Petaja, Piper, Swingle, Black, Kalish, Esterline, Perry, Millard, Hammann, Rasmussen, Kubly, Merrill, Schutt, Gaudynski, Shafer, Hochbeg, Taub, Jackman, Lewis, Bookhout, Lister, Read, Peard, Schwenger, and Hardy.

Six DePauw university co-eds were recently selected as sponsors for the R. O. T. C. organizations of the University unit. They dress in white on parade days and march at the head of their organization.

ATHLETIC STAFF
AT BIG TEN MEET
IN WINDY CITY

Wisconsin Coaches at Conference; Schedules, Eligibility Will Be Decided

Almost the entire staff of the University of Wisconsin athletic department is in Chicago today for the opening sessions of the annual Big Ten conference, which is to decide on football schedules for next year, changes in rules, eligibility, and various other matters of importance.

Aside from the Badgers' schedule for next year, which is almost entirely decided, the question of the eligibility of E. C. "Ivy" Gerber, tackle who was declared a professional during the recent season, is of the greatest importance to Wisconsin fans. It was reported this morning that the Big Ten officials are taking up Gerber's case, and the player himself said that he had every reason to believe that he would be reinstated.

At the sessions at the Auditorium hotel this morning, T. E. Jones, director of athletics, and Prof. J. F. A. Pyre, faculty representative, represented Wisconsin. Coach Jack Ryan will be the football representative, Dr. W. E. Meanwell will represent the Cardinal in basketball, Guy Lowman in baseball, Joe Steinauer in swimming, T. E. Jones in track, George Hitchcock in wrestling, and Fred Schlatter in gymnastics.

The general talk among the coaches is that Illinois and Michigan will meet each other on the gridiron next fall, if such a game can be arranged at the present meeting. Wisconsin will be scheduled to meet the same teams as in 1923, unless Ohio State can be substituted for Indiana, which is improbable. There is a possibility that Northwestern will get on the Badger books, also.

JEFFERSON—A tax budget of $492,924 was approved by the Jefferson county board. This is about $50,000 more than last year.

All Midwest Team
Gives Honors to Kohawk Football

CEDAR RAPIDS, Nov. (Special)—Five Kohawks, three Carleton gridders, two from Beloit and one from Knox, are placed on the All-Midwest conference team selected by the Coe College Cosmos. Beloit leads the second team selections with five positions.

With Captain Wernimont of Coe and Sims of Carleton, all-conference ends last year, at the wing positions, the line is a Coe-Carleton affair. Adams of Knox takes the center position, but both guards are Carleton men, and both tackles go to Coe.

Rick, Coe, at tackle, and Adams at center were all-conference selections last year. Middleman, Carleton captain, is an all-Minnesota lineman this year while Brown of Carleton was placed on the second all-Minnesota team. Gillespie of Coe is a strong candidate for a position on the all-Iowa team.

In the backfield, Beloit captain, and Strong of Coe are all-conference selections of last year who are honored again this season. The newcomers are Pence of Coe and Nelson of Beloit at the halfbacks.

Pence, with a 59 yard drop kick, two of 40 yards and one of 30 yards this season, established himself as the greatest long-distance kicker in football annals, while responsible for many of Beloit's gains on the offense.

McAuliffe, halfback on the star team last year, is placed at quarter this year while Strong regains his 1922 position as all-conference fullback.

FISH PLAN TO PLAY
VERY WET BASKETBALL

About twenty teams are already entered in the water basketball tournament which will get underway with in the next two weeks.

A great deal of interest is being displayed in the game this year and a successful season is expected by those in charge of the tournament.

Most of the games will be played in the afternoon in order that there may be no conflicts with the fraternity basketball games.

VARSITY SMASH
FRESHMAN TEAM
AT FIRST GAMERegular Floor Men Rush First Year Men Off the Floor

Badger basketball fans had their first opportunity of witnessing Coach Meanwell's 1923 protégés this afternoon, when the varsity squad gave the frosh a severe drubbing in the first of a series of open practice games.

The score, a decisive one of 49-7 in the regulars favor is indicative of the excellent kind of ball that the Cardinals played throughout the entire period. Starting with a rush that put the ball through the freshman team's hoop, with-in the first minute and a half of play, the varsity continued at top speed for both periods, only taking time out for Coach Meanwell to change players.

Although the Varsity's work has not as yet reached perfection, it is excellent considering the length of time they have been practicing. Spooner stood out as the star of the afternoon's performance, for besides his speed and grace, his accuracy at shooting baskets was uncanny. He was closely pressed for honors by Elsme and by Gibson, who although they did not score as many points, made many of Spooner's possible by the consistency with which they worked the ball up the floor.

Frosh Lack Full Crew

Handicapped as he was by the fact that he could not gather a complete team for practice and that some of his best men failed to turn up because of a misunderstanding as to the date of the first scrimmage, Coach Levis' freshman did not make the showing that they are capable of. Several men stood out as prospective stars, notably Brooks, the rangy center, and Martel, all state forward from Two Rivers, who scored the yearlings lone field goal.

The Varsity lined up with Gibson, center, Elsme and Spooner at forwards and Diebold and Barwig at guard. Soon after the position of the men was changed, and Varnay was put in forward in Elsme's place, and Elsme put back at guard.

The freshman line up was changed throughout the game, and many men were given tryouts for positions. When the final whistle blew, Brooks was at center, with Martel and Walsh on either side, and Dopp and Cramer at guards.

WELCOME

Wisconsin likes to play the part of host. It enjoys the frequent visits of its alumni; it extends the hand of fellowship to collegiate teams and students of other universities; it invites the presence of exchange professors, of fathers, of critics, of radicals—of everybody.

But most of all Wisconsin delights in its high school visitors. Twice each year they come in large numbers, in the fall to C. I. P. A. convention and in the spring to the Interscholastic track meet.

Thus far there have been six hundred and forty high school students who have registered for the C. I. P. A. convention. Many of these students have traveled through three or four states to come. That they expect a value from this meeting is evident.

Wisconsin is the pioneer in this matter of entertaining embryonic journalists. The C. I. P. A. had its inception here three years ago at Wisconsin's Varsity exposition. Now this school has come to have the reputation of being foremost in journalism activities and to be the mecca for all high school scribes.

But it is not the technical benefits of a journalistic nature which especially interests the school. It is granted that attendance at the convention is in many ways the finest sort of preliminary training for the high school boy or girl. Yet Wisconsin's real interest is in a great measure selfish.

To show its charms, its advantages, and its democracy—Wisconsin is frank to say that those are its aims.

There is nothing to conceal; nothing to hide. Wisconsin invites criticism, but above all it invites observation.

So, welcome C. I. P. A. delegates. Make yourselves at home; learn something; see what you think of Wisconsin.

THE LEAGUE AND THE STUDENT

It is not expected that the average student could have the time or the inclinations to delve very deeply into the intricacies of taxation problems, labor insurance, immigration, or other national and international problems.

That everyone who is a citizen and most of all a student who makes a study of some of these things should become familiar with the outlines and more prominent problems is, however, quite evident.

Perhaps the most important problem which faces the world today is the question of the League of Nations. Many are the expressions that the League has no support or strength, but yet the press dispatches of a few days ago indicate that Jougo-Slovakia has the greatest of confidence and will wait upon the conference for a decision of the Fiume matter.

But perhaps the most interesting aspect of the League and one which should interest all the students especially those over twenty-one, is the fact that it is taking a preeminent part in the presidential possibility discussions now rumbling on every hand.

Latest information indicates that President Coolidge has as yet done nothing about the Court question as advocated by the late President Harding but that pressure is getting rather strong on the matter and sooner or later he will have to express himself.

What the feelings of Hiram Johnson are, even the most casual student reader knows. What the general sentiment of the entire republican party is is a matter of conjecture but will undoubtedly be a deciding question in the convention.

With all this discussion and feeling on this important problem just now it is peculiarly apropos that the traditional joint debate between the literary societies which will be held December 7 will discuss just this question. So often debates are liable to be on some technical or dry subject; here is a most interesting one.

Here is an opportunity and an easy way for every student to become acquainted with perhaps the most vital topic of the day.

Other Editors Say—

OUR FRIEND, MR. ECKERSALL

There seems to be a feeling prevalent on the campus, undoubtedly caused by incorrect newspaper reports, that Wisconsin students mobbed Walter Eckersall, referee of the Badger-Michigan game, following the contest at Madison last Saturday.

In justice to Wisconsin, we herewith reprint a news story from the Daily Cardinal, student publication, on the occurrence: "Walter Eckersall, referee of yesterday's game, was struck on the jaw by someone in the wrangling crowd of townspeople and visitors that surged from the public stands to the gate where the teams left the field. The man's name is not known. Quick action by the Wisconsin team members in surrounding Eckersall and marching with him to the locker-room saved him from further molestation."

The article further describes how Wisconsin students and officials spirited the referee from the city in an auto to prevent further violence at the hands of town roughnecks, not students.

As to the feeling towards Eckersall, the Cardinal prints an excellent editorial on the subject. Part of it has been torn from our copy of the paper, but we reprint the last two paragraphs:

"While Wisconsin today maintains the friendliest of relationships with Michigan, things might have been otherwise, and so, Mr. Eckersall, you're not wanted at Wisconsin in an official capacity during future athletic contests.

"Director Tom Jones has said that Wisconsin will not tolerate Eckersall at Wisconsin again. Student sentiment will not tolerate his appearance. It is not likely that violence will ever be done to him by students such as was begun by a few rash town persons Saturday, but university men and women will be very frank in their expressions that he is not wanted."—Ohio State Lantern.

Editorial Quips and Facts

Nearly 700,000 people a day attend theaters and movies in New York city. We are a pleasure loving nation. The movie has taken the place of the corner saloon. It chloroforms our thinking, makes us forget our troubles, in the hours when otherwise we might be solving these troubles. Entertainment is a form of dope.

SHE'S DIFFRINT

I know a girl who doesn't rouge, Or dab her lips with paint; Do you think she's some Cake-Eater's Doll?

Well, she aint!

She doesn't pull her eyebrows, Or pencil arches faint; A lot of girls may be built that way,

But she aint!

She wouldn't carry a tiny flask, Or cigarette holder quaint. Do you think she's the kind that rolls her own?

Well, she aint!

She doesn't use slang or powder her nose,

She's free from the slightest taint;

And when others are listening to naughty jokes,

Well, she aint!

And all the men admire her so, They say she's a perfect saint. But when everyone's out for a wonderful time—

Well, SHE AINT!

ODE TO A NOTEBOOK

In this same book, day after day, I've put the things my teachers say.

I listened to the word let fall
And then forgot them one and all.
Next week we have a stiff exam
And I'm afraid I'll have to cram;
But for one thing I'm going to pray

That far away my teachers stay
Then may God bless this little book
For into it I'll often look.

Though I uphold the honor plan
I use my notes when'er I can
Not often does my conscience yelp
For God helps him who helps himself.

TONY.

YE TIMES CHANGETH

When father was a man quite young,
He fell in love, oh blessed curse!
He fell so hard he lost his tongue
And had to write his love in verse.

"I love you alabaster brow,
I love your eyes as blue.
If I could only tell you how
I love you, with a love so true,
Sweetheart of mine, whose sweetest kiss
You'd understand, I know you would,
Makes me but realize how good,
God was to send me so much bliss."

But now its different,
Son is grown,
And he writes verse,
In a way of his own
With neither reason, rhyme, nor any of the other requisites of poetry.

It goes like this:
Hot devil!
I think you're keen,
Sweet mamma of mine.
I just can't resist
Those come hither eyes.
Oh boy—oh buoy—keep me up—
I'm sinking
Into the zippiest zoop of ectacy.
Lawd a massy, it's sebon foh me
Ca'se,
I'm runnin' wild
With joy—oh, juoy.
And all because, oh boy,
You said,
"I'm not hungry tonight,
Let's go right home."

C. I. P. A. Delegates Meet Here In Fourth Annual Convention

"Numen Lumen" Is Translated From English Coat of Arms

"Numen Lumen." What do they mean, those cryptic words on the University of Wisconsin seal? What is their significance? Whence came they?

It is a far cry from the nobility of medieval England to the very modern University of Wisconsin; yet the words did come from the coat of arms of an English noble.

The words, meaning Divinity and Light, are a most unusual Latin combination, meaningless without some connecting thought, but there is no record of what the original draughtsman intended them to mean when he made the seal 69 years ago.

In 1912 F. C. Thwaites, former regent of the university, offered two prizes for the best interpretation of the motto. The solution by Kenneth F. Burgess was so good that he received both prizes. The paper embodying the results of his investigations is in the July, 1912, issue of the Alumni Magazine.

On January 15, 1850, the regents of the university, of whom J. H. Lathrop was president, adopted as a seal the eagle side of the American dollar until a permanent corporate seal should be provided.

The executive committee was told on January 22, 1852, to procure an official seal and on February 11, 1854, Chancellor Lathrop handed in the following report embodying the present university seal:

"The chancellor reports that in pursuance of a resolution of the board at a previous meeting he has designed and caused to be engraved a corporate seal for the use of the university, an impression of which is presented with his report, the device of which is an up-turned eye, surmounted by converging rays with the motto 'Numen Lumen,' surrounded by the legend, Universitatis Wisconsinensis Sigillum—."

James D. Butler, who died in 1905, after nearly 50 years' service to the university, hit on the only logical interpretation which has been discovered. Mr. Burgess quotes him:

Dr. Butler thought that Professor Lathrop might have originated the combination, but that in all likelihood he chanced, as did Dr. Butler himself, on the closing clause of the verbal cognizance of the Earl of Balcarres, of England, "Astra Cas- tra, Numan Lumen," meaning "Stars My Camp (or Goal), God or Divinity My Light."

Lathrop's reasons for choosing the motto of this family, according to Dr. Butler, was that the meaning, "Divinity My Light" was in accord with the intense religious feeling of the time, and that because of the story connected with the earl it represents a subtle sense of American honor and national patriotism, a reproach to the betrayer of one's country.

OSHKOSH MAN IS HURT NEAR PORTAGE

PORTAGE, Wis. — Charles Carver, president of the Carver Ice Cream Co., Oshkosh, was seriously injured at noon yesterday when the car in which he was driving with his wife and 15-year-old son, was forced off highway 33, between Portage and Parderville, and hurtled into a telephone post.

The wife and child escaped without injury.

Carver was hurried to this city in the Murison ambulance and taken to the offices of Dr. A. J. Batty. An x-ray was taken of the injured man and he was later transferred to the St. Mary's hospital. According to hospital bulletins Carver is said to have a severe scalp wound, a fractured shoulder bone, and possible internal injuries. He is in a semi-conscious condition. Physicians believe he will recover.

KLONDIKE HEARS UNIVERSITY RADIO

Isolated Region of North Canada Listens to Local Concerts

A letter telling of the radio concerts broadcasted from here to the Klondike, came to the university radio station this week from an English woman living in one of the most isolated regions of northwestern Canada.

The letter tells of the appreciation of the people of the Klondike for the musical programs which come frequently from the United States to the wireless stations of the region, and some received lately late from the University of Wisconsin, 5,000 miles away.

"Improved transmission because of less static disturbance at this time of the year probably accounts for the fact that our programs have reached the Klondike, although such feats are not nearly so unusual as they were a few years ago," said Prof. E. M. Terry of the department of physics yesterday.

"We have reached Honolulu several times by radio, and Europe a few times lately," said Professor Terry. "It is difficult, however, to reach distances of over 1000 miles except at night when there is less atmospheric electricity."

A three credit course in "Radio Telegraphy and Telephony" will be given in the department of physics the second semester, with a course in physics as the only pre-requisite.

CALIFORNIA GRID HERO CHOSEN '24 CAPTAIN

University of California, Nov. 26

—Edwin "Babe" Horrell was unanimously elected captain of the 1924 California Varsity at the banquet held for the team Saturday night at the Clift Hotel.

In the game with Stanford on Saturday, Horrell played a wonderful game at center. He blocked and recovered Nevers' punt that gave the Bruin team the only touchdown of the game.

In his freshman days he was captain of the 1925 team, and last year made the Varsity squad. He keeps cool headed at the keystone position when on the offense, and is a great man to back up the line on the defense.

The freshman flour fight, heretofore an annual event at Princeton has been abolished by the senior council. Use of injurious chemicals rendered serious physical injuries and this year's affair was distinctly unfavorable.

MAIL REGISTRATION IS NOT PRACTICAL

Registrar Says Conditions Here
Are Unsuitable For This System

"Registration by mail would be highly impractical for this university," W. D. Hiestand, registrar, declared with finality when questioned on the subject yesterday.

"Several universities have tried the system and failed. Minnesota was the last to give it up. Yale does all her registering by mail now, but her conditions are quite different from ours.

"Here we have the resident and non-resident fees which are not as simply worked out as it might seem to the casual thinker. It is complicated by such factors as the separation of parents, separations of student and parents, and the emancipation of minors, all of which would be difficult to decide by mail.

"The matter of the arrangement of programs is also a difficult one involving loss of credits in the transfer from one university to another, change of courses, flunks and the necessary approving of programs.

There would be a great waste of time and materials if all this were to be attempted by mail.

"Our system as we have it worked out now is a smoothly running machine, every cog in perfect running order. There is no confusion and practically no long lines waiting to register. The agricultural and engineering students go to their own buildings, graduate students men and women, undergraduates and upper classmen all have their own rooms in which to register.

"The advisory system, which Yale does not have, simplifies the making out and approving of programs. Any change would radically upset the entire machine."

"GIVE ME SILK HOSE OR GIVE ME DEATH"

The wearing of silk stockings in cold weather is responsible for nine-tenths of women's illnesses, Dr. Foveau de Commelles, French hygienist, says.

Irritated pharynx, dry and swollen throats, coughs, chattering teeth, gooseflesh, headache, loss of appetite, excessive thirst, rheumatism, phlebitis, and varicose ulcers are all blamed on cobwebby hose by the doctor.

"Cover up the legs and feet warmly by wearing woolen stockings and stout shoes," the doctor advises, but he admits that nine out of ten women reply,

"I prefer to get sick and die, doctor."

CHICAGO PRELATE MAY BE CARDINAL

Archbishop George William Mundelein.

That Pope Pius XI will create Archbishop George William Mundelein of Chicago a cardinal at the secret consistory in Rome Dec. 20, is the report emanating from the Italian city. Archbishop Mundelein has been mentioned frequently for the red hat in rumors that a new American cardinal is to be created.

Wisconsin Students Able To Participate In Peace Award

Wisconsin students will have an opportunity to participate in the nation-wide "referendum" to be conducted in January upon the winning plan for the American Peace award. The Cardinal in conjunction with other newspapers of the country will publish the digest of the winning plan and will print a ballot which will contain space for a statement as to whether or not the voter approves the plan in substance.

The peace award, created by Edward W. Bok, offers $100,000 for the "best practicable plan by which the United States may cooperate with other nations looking toward the prevention of war." The jury hopes to make its selection by January when the plan will be brought to the widest possible publicity for popular vote.

Prof. F. A. Ogg of the department of political science as secretary of the American Political Science association has announced that the plan and ballot for the "referendum" will be printed in the American Political Science Reviews, in accordance with his decision.

Professor Ogg says of the plan, "It will be of great educational value. Before we can have a definite foreign policy the people of the country must be educated to the idea. The main good of the plan and especially the referendum will be the public sentiment it creates. The peace award offers itself as an important work. It may appear as somewhat fantastical, but there is nothing dubious about it. There are people like Mr. Root and other important persons back of it.

Prof. E. A. Ross of the department of social science was of the same opinion of Professor Ogg that the plan itself would not change the opinions of American statesman and politicians, but that the consensus created by the referendum would give them a gauge of public feeling.

W. B. PATTON, MASONIC LEADER, DIES IN DULUTH

DULUTH, Minn.—William B. Patton, one of the leading Masons in the world, president of the Duluth Engineering Co., died at 11 o'clock Thursday night. Mr. Patton was one of the four charter members of the King Solomon temple of England. The other three charter members include the names of the late Theodore Roosevelt, former President Taft and Gen. Shryock of Maryland.

Torchlight parades from the University of Nebraska greeted the Notre Dame varsity when they arrived for the big game. A big spotlight pointed out the opposing team to the Husker rooters.

Thirty members of the Nakoma Country Club held a "turkey shoot" on the golf course yesterday. The first pairs were off at 8:30 and the last finished just after noon. Prof. Fred Krauskoff, a comparatively recent player, bore away the leading prize, large turkey, with a score of 65 for 18 holes.

A. B. Cook, Sam T. Walker, L. W. Waldorf, and Tom C. Bowden were close behind him. Dr. S. H. Chas. E. Rogers, G. A. Gillies, F. M. Signe, C. A. Sakrison, C. G. Anderson and O. T. Miner were also among the prize winners. The numerous participants consisted of turkeys, geese, chickens and other dainties of the holiday. Many players were on the course during the afternoon and several private matches were played. Capt. F. M. Lassig brought in the best individual score for the day.

Track men at Columbia university are planning to organize a new honorary society which will be known as the "Spiked Shoe."

GREEN CAPS FADE AS WINTER COMES

Better Showing Made Last Week After Appeal From Frosh President

With the fading of the green on the trees and grass about the campus this fall the freshman class has gradually made a similar change from brilliant headgear to more staid and sombre winter hats and caps.

A week ago very little of the earling color was in evidence, and although there was a slight revival last Tuesday and Wednesday when the frosh president appealed for a strong finish in cap wearing, the last remnant of green disappeared with the Thanksgiving snow storm.

Winter is here, and although ardent naturalists will report periodically that a robin has been seen, or perhaps others even may see some optimistic freshman venture forth with his verdant cap once more, spring is far away. Nature is asleep, and the caps are resting quietly in the bottom drawer.

Life and color will revive next spring and our blooming freshmen will blossom forth in happy profusion of green and red again.
