VARSITY SENDS 23 MEN TO BIG 10 TRACK MEET

Preliminary Trials in Nine
Events Will be Held Today

Twenty-three members of the Wisconsin track and field squad left at 7:50 this morning for Chicago where they will participate in the twenty-first annual Big Ten track meet today and tomorrow. Preliminary trials in nine events will be held this afternoon and survivors of the preliminaries will compete for the conference track title tomorrow afternoon.

Coach Thomas E. Jones selected the following men for the Badger squad: Capt. Clyde Nash '21, H. W. Armstrong '23, George H. Finkle '23, E. W. Johnson '23, Paul D. Kayser '21, Albert J. Knollin '22, Joe J. Liskovec '21, Leslie W. McClure '23, Dale Merrick '22, Basil Mobley '22, Mark H. Wall '21, Peter Platten '23, Wallis Reget '23, George B. Stolley '21, Guy M. Sundt '22, Hans E. Gude '22, W. Wade '23, I. Wade '23, Clarence W. Wille '22, Lloyd L. Wilder '21, Wellington Brothers '21, R. O. Blodgett '23, and G. D. Nichols '22.

Every man on the Wisconsin squad is in fine condition with the exception of Paul D. Kayser. Although Kayser will run in the relay race, he will not be started in his regular event, the quarter mile. Wisconsin hopes for a championship will rest upon the second and third places taken by the Badgers in the various events. It is generally conceded that Illinois will place the strongest track team in the west on the track at Stagg field, but if Notre Dame and other outside institutions cut in on the

DANCE DRAMA TO BE GIVEN TONIGHT

Theme of Production is Based on Old Grecian
Myth

"Pan and the Hamadryads" is the name of one of the interpretive dances to be given at the Dance Drama tonight at 8:30, in the open air theater. The theme of the dance is based on an old Greek Myth.

Pan is the god of music and of the forest. With his magic piping he calls forth the tree spirits to dance with him. Their play causes them to forget the care of their trees until the ringing stroke of an ax resounds through the forest.

Madly they rush back—all but one, whom Pan has begged to stay. Again the woodchopper's ax breaks in upon their dancing, but alas, the dryad has tarried too long. With the crash of her tree, she falls; for it is so ordained that trees and their guardian spirits must die together.

The program of the drama will include several classical numbers, a group of "Les Petites Etudes," and some solo scarf dances. "The Fairy Thorn" is an old Ulster story, suggested by Sir Samuel Ferguson's ballad of the same name.

The orchestra for the evening is under the leadership of Frances Beecher '22, and consists of Mrs. Mary Trumpf, piano; Frances Beecher and Martha Buell '22, violins; Isabella Bugbee '21, cello; Dorothea Levi '22, flute.

TRACK TROPHY WON BY C. ROSSMEISSEL

The traveling trophy given annually to the winner of the non-varsity cross country race was awarded yesterday afternoon to Carl Rossmeissel '23, who finished first in the 2 1-2 mile course in 12:20 minutes. The course was along the lake front.

Closely following the winner, Carl O. Nelson '23 won second place. He finished only 10 yards behind Rossmeissel. Karl V. Hohlfeld '23 made third place.

The trophy has been offered each year by the champion cross country squad of 1913. T. D. Jones '22 won the honor last year.

POSSIBILITY OF RETAIL STORE IS GIVEN BY GARST

Graduate of '15 Addresses Commerce Vocational Conference

That the possibilities of a retail store are not limited by the locality in which it is situated, was clearly shown by Warren Garst '15 at the Commerce vocational conference yesterday afternoon. Mr. Garst showed how the retail store in which he is a partner through efficient advertising and good marketing has increased its business from a town 10,000 inhabitants, to an area covering approximately four counties.

His first suggestion to men going into retailing, is to reorganize the credit and collection system to a point of maximum efficiency. The most important problem next is to get what your customers want, and sell it to them the way they want it.

"Another important factor which the small town-merchant generally neglects is to keep an accurate and systematic inventory of all of the goods which he has bought, in order to accurately determine the amount and quality of his future purchases," Mr. Garst declared.

The speaker concluded his talk by distributing the novel booklet which is being published through his efforts in an attempt to stimulate interest in the Garst store. He presented in an interesting and pleasing manner many of the facts underlying the business and financial slump which business in general took since the war.

DISCUSS PLANS OF '22 COMMERCE MAG

Plans for the Commerce magazine next year were discussed at a meeting of all interested students yesterday noon. Staff assistants will be chosen from the names of students that were submitted.

EATS TO BE SOLD AT CAMP RANDALL

Jolly white-capped "bakers" will sell special box lunches tomorrow at the Field day exercises at Camp Randall, after the afternoon events, so that the visitors may have their suppers at the field and remain for the evening program.

W. A. A. girls will prepare the lunches, which will cost 35 cents, and they promise all sorts of picnic goodies.

Ice-cold pop, sandwiches, ice cream, and pie will be sold at booths during the afternoon and evening, and "pie and sandwich girls," dressed in costume, will peddle their wares on the field.

Helen Zuehlke '23 is chairman of the refreshment committee.

GRAFTERS HAVE BIG TIME ON HIKE FOR MUSHROOMS

The Grafters' club, a student and faculty organization of the horticulture department, held a mushroom hike and banquet last Wednesday night. The grafters assembled at the Horticulture building at 5 o'clock, and under the guidance of Mr. Brown, curator, hiked out to gather mushrooms. The place they went is to be a secret carefully held in trust by the persons who participated, but the many baskets and bags they carried were well filled when they returned.

The hikers returned to the Horticulture building and about 8 o'clock the real time began. This was probably one of the few occasions known in history when "too many cooks did not spoil the broth." Everybody cooked. They fried and boiled wieners, fried mushrooms in butter, made toast, sandwiches, and coffee, and when all was ready served the feed in regular banquet style. There is still some argument as to who is the best cook, but all agree that the banquet was one of the most novel and one of the most enjoyable they have ever attended.

The hypholomia incertum, commonly called uncertain hypholomia or lawn mushroom, and the Butterfly Collybia were the leading species found, but a few others, especially the broad leaved collybia, were also counted among the spoils. When served on well browned toast, they furnish a delicacy which to many of us has never been surpassed.

After the banquet was over and the dishes washed, a short business session was held. A committee was appointed to consider the matter of organization for another year and to push the apple show and pie sale which will be held early in the fall.

VARSITY DOES NOT SUPPLY ANY HOODS

A report has been circulated around the campus that the university furnishes hoods for the candidates for Ph.D. degrees.

This is of course not true. Candidates for this degree rent cap, gown, and hood at the Co-op, but leave the hood at the Co-op. The Co-op will deliver all of the hoods at the exercises on Commencement morning when they will be placed upon recipients of the degree by a committee appointed for that purpose. These hoods and gowns are to be rented, or purchased if the student so desires.

The university does, however, furnish hoods for the recipients of honorary degrees. This is probably the source of the rumor. Prof. Julius E. Olson, chairman of the committee on public functions, has issued this information in order that the students will not be under the impression that the university orders the hoods.

SENIOR VESPER SERVICE JUNE 5

The senior vesper service, which is a traditional part of each year's graduation exercises, will be held on Muir knoll Sunday, June 5, at 4:30 p. m. Seniors will wear cap and gown for the service; the others will dress in white.

The plan is for each underclass woman to invite a senior for the vespers. Each Y. W. C. A. member is asked to sign at Lathrop hall for the senior whom she has invited.

Special violin music, a talk by Miss Abby Marlatt of the school of home economics, and shorter talks by the presidents of the senior societies, will make up the program. The service is open to every university woman.

FAREWELL FOR SENIOR WOMEN AT SWING-OUT

Elections to Mortar Board to Be Announced at Annual Event

Senior Swingout, the annual celebration to bid farewell to the senior women, will take place at 6:15 o'clock this evening on the upper campus. To make this tradition a success all women are urged to participate and every university man is invited to spectate the affair.

Directions for the procession are as follows: All women must be dressed in white; senior women must wear caps and gowns; the seniors and freshmen will meet behind South hall, the seniors and sophomore behind North hall, and the juniors at the south entrance to Bascom hall. Everyone is to follow the designated leader.

The decorated gateway on the brow of the campus will be the center of attraction for the procession. Dean Louise Nardin and Mortar board, honorary senior organization, will lead the line of march.

The juniors led by Ellen Correll, president of S. G. A. and Dorothy Ware, president of Yellow Tassel, marching from Bascom hall, will make a chain in the center of the campus.

The Seniors with their leaders, Margaret Croskey, president of Mortar board, and Elizabeth Chandler, president of Blue Dragon, followed by the sophomores, and freshmen, will march from their starting places, down the hill to the bottom, then up through the chain and arch, keeping time to "Le Capitan," played by the university band. OSHKOSH MAY WIN IN NORMAL MEET

Sawdust City Institution Has Made Great Progress
in Track

The Oshkosh Normal track team is reputed to be the "dark horse" of the sixth annual inter-normal track meet to be held at Camp Randall on Saturday afternoon. The Sawdust city institution has only recently made track a major sport, but progress has been rapid enough in the sport that Oshkosh has forged to the front in Wisconsin track.

Although they were defeated by Stevens Point normal, 1920 champions, in a close meet last Saturday, Oshkosh displayed winning form in several events. Captain McAndrews won three first places in the two dash events and the broad jump. He was easily the star of the Stevens Point-Oshkosh meet and is the entrant upon whom Oshkosh is pinning its hopes for victory. Braisher, quarter-miler, Edich and Schmiedich, half-milers, and Solbraa, hurdler, are other consistent point winners. In the field events, Below puts the shot 40 feet, and Koutrich, pole vaulter, is practically assured of placing. Doucette has proven to be a find in the discus throw.

Milwaukee normal has one of the strongest squads in the Normal conference. Coach George F. Downer will bring 12 to 18 men to Mad-

IT happened at the little fracas that the lower classmen staged the other evening. Dean Goodnight walked up to a group that was grappling with another group (you get us, we hope?) and spake wisely, thus: "Here boys, what's this going on?" And some quick-witted young bird, who was already wet, so he didn't care what happened to him, said, meanwhile shaking his finger in the dean's face, "Lookit here, you been around here about as long as I have. You oughta know what's goin' on."

AFTER which pause, the festivities recommenced.

EVERY LITTLE BIT HELPS
THIS really isn't a true story, but it sounds good, anyway. A man was having his hair cut, and noticed that the barber's dog lay quietly on the floor beside the chair, with his eyes fixed on the barber. "A nice dog you have," the customer remarked.

"He is, yes sir."
"He seems very fond of watching you cut hair."

BALL SLUGGERS TO PLAY NOTRE DAME SATURDAY

Inhlement weather again prevent ed members of the Badger baseball squad from being given the usual mid-week workout yesterday afternoon. The men are still recovering from the strain of the recent trip, but should be in good shape for the game Saturday with Notre Dame.

The Badgers are second in the conference only to Illinois, and the Indiana champions will undoubtedly base their claims to the Western championship on the outcome of Saturday's game. Notre Dame already claims the championship of Indiana by virtue of defeats over Purdue and Indiana. Before the Badger conference season began, Notre Dame held Wisconsin to a 4 to 4 tie in eleven innnings.

Wisconsin, on the other hand, was an inexperienced team at that time, and have since shown great improvement. Their defeat at the hands of Indiana, and Notre Dame's subsequent victory over the Hoosiers, goes to show, however, that the game will probably be as hard fought as that played against the Suckers here a few weeks ago.

Coach Lowman's nine have another hard game on Monday, when the Wolverines come to Madison to play a return battle against the Badgers. Although the outcome of last week's affair has not yet been decided, it is needless to say that Lowman's men will, in the last game of the season, make a mighty attempt to clearly demonstrate their superiority over the Ann Arborites.

At a recent meeting of Madison wholesalers a resolution to close Saturdays at 1 o'clock during the months of June and July was adopt ed by the Hoffman Feed Co., Moehl man Produce Co., Alex Sinaiko and Sinaiko Bros.

"It isn't that. You see, I sometimes make a mistake and snip off a bit of a customer's ear."

THE NOSY NEWSIE

Today's question: Which is your favorite month?

John Murphy: Oh, December is THE month. Sometimes I have dragged down a pretty fair bunch of Christmas presents, but, of course, the real fun is wondering what you are going to pull down.

Dorothy Dietz: June has its possibilities, that's why I rather prefer it to any other. My hopes are always up when this month comes around. Of course, I'm not thinking of exams.

Les Gage: I usually am able to get more sleep in during July and August, therefore I have a decided leaning toward those two.

Alice Ligare: I'm looking forward to October. You see, I'll be seventeen then, and I just can't wait.

Earl Hirsheimer: Well, September has its attractions for me. Just before I leave home for school, my father always takes me down and has my hair cut, and that always pleases me.

YOU all know him, this guy that buys old clothes, or tries to. He is always standing on the corner of Lake and State, probably hoping to tempt some of those Kappa Sigs. Well, yesterday he was all dressed up in some of his recent purchases and we figured something was up, so we followed him. And do you know, he went right over to Grady's and who do you suppose gave him the glad hand and invited him in? That's right, it was Polly Schlossman. But what bothers us is what in the world Polly has to sell him. We didn't know it would pay him to buy feminine articles of wear.

"You're just too dear for words," she said, as she turned on her heel, and left the clerk aghast.

YELLOW TASSEL HAS CAFETERIA MEETING

Nominations for Officers of Blue Dragon Were Made

Nominations for officers of Blue Dragon, the senior class organization, were made at the Yellow Tassel cafeteria supper last night. Julie Watson and Ima Winchell were nominated by the committee and Charlotte Vorhees and Frances Beecher from the floor as candidates for the presidency.

Esther Haven, Mildred Gerlach, and Louise Fritchie were nominated for vice-president; Catherine Wheeler, Natilda Keenan, and Miriam Doane for secretary; and Katherine Bartholff, Margaret Duckett, Katherine Rosenberry, and Martha Whitlock for treasurer.

Elections are to be held Tuesday, and pictures of each of the candidates will be displayed at the election booth.

Preceding the nominations, the Yellow Tassel and S. G. A. songs were practiced for Swing-out and toasts were given by Ima Winchell and Marion Strassburger, wherein the spirit and success of the junior class was brought out.

Instructions for swing-out were given by Esther Haven. The juniors are to meet at 6:15 tonight at the south entrance of Main hall. Dorothy Ware and Ellen Correll will lead the two lines which will bear the daisy chains.

The meeting ended with a farewell speech by Dorothy Ware, president of Yellow Tassel.

RICE LAKE, Wis.—Officers of a recently organized $1,200,000 furnace heating company announced that a large furnace factory will be erected here. The plant will be the largest heating system factory in the country, they said.

JUNIOR WOMEN WIN
IN TENNIS GAMES

With the defeat of the senior team in doubles yesterday, the junior women's tennis team gained the lead in the matches which are being played off. Frances Beecher and Charlotte Voorhees won over the senior team composed of Doris Wyatt and Margaret Fischer in two swift games, 64 and 6-3.

A sophomore team composed of Vera Carlisle and Dorothy Shafer beat the freshmen, Sarah Phillipson and Lois Jacobs. The standing of the teams in point is:

Juniors	5
Seniors	3

The finals in the tennis match will be played off Saturday at Field day. At this time Frances Beecher and Doris Wyatt will probably play for the singles championship.

He put the shot 40 feet 4 1-2 inches, and leaped 21 feet in the broad jump for two of his best records this season. Jones and Mayer are two normalites who will represent Milwaukee in the dashes.

Stevens Point normal has finished the dual meet season with a clean record. Five veterans have made the Point squad the most formidable in Wisconsin. Dolloway, Prescourt, Elliott, Zorn, and Leinhardt scored 28 points for Stevens Point in the 1920 meet at Madison.

CADET MEMBERS MAY TAKE EXAMS FOR U. S. SERVICE

Application Must be Made to Major Orlando
Ward

Members of the University of Wisconsin R. O. T. C. are eligible to take an examination for appointment as officers in the regular army, according to a war department bulletin issued on May 27. All candidates for commissions in the army can file applications with Major Orlando Ward, and after undergoing a preliminary examination, take the final for appointment as a first or second lieutenant on August 22, 1921.

Since the selection of the successful candidates who took the examination on April 25 for appointment in the regular army, there still remains more than 3,000 vacancies in the commissioned personnel. These vacancies exist in the following branches of the service: Infantry, cavalry, field artillery, coast artillery, engineers, air service, chemical warfare service, Philippine scouts.

In addition to members of the university R. O. T. C., the national guardsmen, graduates of technical institutions approved by the secretary of war, and men with two years' previous service in the regular army are eligible for appointment. The age limits have been fixed between 20 and 30 years by the war department. Candidates who make the highest mark will be promoted to first lieutenant with a salary of $2,000 in addition to prescribed allowances, and others will receive the grade of second lieutenant with $1,700 and allowances.

The preliminary examination will consist of an inquiry into the physical, moral, and mental qualifications of an applicant to determine whether or not he has the requisite qualifications for a regular army officer. The final examination embraces subjects of history, grammar, geography, arithmetic, algebra, geometry, trigonometry, and physics. The advanced part of the quiz consists of mathematics, languages, literature, electricity, chemistry, law, and minor tactics. Of these advanced subjects, only three need be passed by the candidates. Exemptions from examinations in various subjects are offered according to education, training, and experience of the candidate.

FIELD DAY EVENTS FOR CO-EDS WILL BE HELD SATURDAY

Final preparations for Field day tomorrow at Camp Randall have been completed under the direction of Marjorie Severance '23, who is in charge of the program.

Championship games in baseball and tennis, and final contests in track, archery and quoits are scheduled for the afternoon. The evening program will consist of a Maypole dance and folk dancing.

Committees assisting Miss Severance in the Field day plans are:

Arrangements — Alice Quare, Pearl Anderberg, Mary Roach. Advisory — Hazel Wright, Margaret Swift, Mabel Winters, Auta Lyman, Mary Maxwell. Dance Drama — Edith Ewald. Folk dancing — Margaret Henry, Marjorie Fish, Peggy Ream. Food — Helen Zuehlke, Hazel Fish, Jo Doring, Willie Trost, Heyltje Stewart, Frederica Crane, Doris Rall. Finance — Alice Tucker, Isabelle Capps. Publicity and programs — Ima Winchell, Rosemary Lyons, Ellen Harris, Mary White, Marion Strassburger, Katherine Lloyd, Blanche Field, and Marjorie Ruff.

The faculty advisors are Miss Cynthia Wesson, Miss Margaret H'Doubler, and Miss Emily Elmore.

Cleff Club Plans To Give Light Opera

A light opera production to begin early in the fall is planned by members of Cleff club, a musical organization of the university. At a meeting held in music hall Wednesday night, Reba Hayden, president, called for suggestions. McDowell's Witch's Dance was played by Doris Wyatt.

points expected to be won by the Illini, Wisconsin and Michigan will have an outside chance to take the championship.

Both Wisconsin and the Wolverines have been badly defeated by Illinois in dual track competitions, and critics are unanimous in their opinion that Illinois should emerge victor from the track and field games. The Suckers are counted upon to gather a majority of their points in the field events. Weiss, shot putter, Brede, javelin thrower, Alberts and Osborne in the high jump are almost sure to score heavily in their events. If Guy Sundt, Wisconsin; Stipe, Michigan, and Shaw, Notre Dame, show enough class to defeat Weiss in his two events, the shot put and the discus, Illinois' chances for a victory will be materially lessened. Alberts and Osborne will find no Big Ten competition in the high jump, but "Johnny" Murphy, Notre Dame leaper, has a record which equals that of Alberts in the high jump.

Capt. Clyde Nash will meet some stiff competition in the 880 yard run. To win the event he will be forced to defeat such men as Yates, Brown, Illinois; Butler, Burkholder, Michigan; Sweitzer, Minnesota, and Kasper, Notre Dame. In the Wisconsin-Illinois meet, Nash took a third place behind Pates and Brown.

Merrick and Wilder will probably have an easy time in the pole vault. Merrick won the American intercollegiate championship by taking first in the vault at the Penn relays. Wilder won a third in the same meet, and by defeating some of the best eastern vaulters, the two Badgers showed that they are supreme in this event. Mark Wall and Clarence Wille are slated to meet a strong field in the mile run. McGinnis, Patterson, Wells, Illinois; Burkholder, Michigan, Farnas, Purdue, and Graham, Ames have all hung up good records in the mile race. Wall was nosed out in the closest sort of a finish by the three Illinois runners in the recent dual meet. McGinnis was forced to travel the distance in 4 minutes 24.25 seconds to finish in front.

In the two mile event, George H. Finkle has displayed good form in dual meets. Finkle ran second to Wharton, Illinois. He will race several other strong distance men in Farnas, Purdue; Sweitzer, Minnesota; Allman, Dusenberry, Illinois.

Knollin is the peer of the majority of hurdlers in the Big Ten. He defeated a classy field in the indoor high hurdles race and has placed high in every dual meet this season. Wright, Nebraska, and Desch, Notre Dame, may cut a big hole in Wisconsin's chances for a high rating if they win the hurdles events from the Badger champion.

In the weight events, Guy Sundt will enter the shot put, javelin throw, and discus throw. He will also compete in the broad jump. Sundt was second to Carl Johnson, Michigan star, in the broad jump last year, and he may be able to repeat the second place this year.

Weaker teams will profit by the new Big Ten scoring system which places the first five men to finish instead of the first four as in previous years. The new method gives to the five winners, five, four, three, two, and one points. Well-balanced squads which are without individual

COMMENCEMENT NOT FOR SUMMER GRADS

There has been some misunderstanding as to what part those students who do not finish until the close of summer school may take in the graduating exercises. These students are not graduates and cannot march in the Commencement procession or sit with the graduating class on Commencement morning.

There is no objection, however, to their taking part and sitting with the class on Baccalaureate Sunday and taking part in the class exercises. Some students have an idea that the university passes out "dummy" diplomas to those who expect to finish at the close of the summer session, but this is not true.

All candidates for degrees are expected to appear Commencement morning, June 22, in proper academic apparel.

stars may finish up in the fore of conference ratings by taking second and third places in several events.

ATHENAE FRESHMEN APPEAR IN DEBATE

Freshman members of Athenae will debate problems of state-wide importance at a meeting of the society tonight. Other literary societies have held final meetings for the semester.

A cafeteria exclusively for students and operated by the University of Wisconsin at cost will be advocated by the affirmative in the first debate. Speakers on the affirmative will be Abraham Sygman, closer, Edgar B. Kapp, and Ted H. Field, and negative speakers will be N. Perstein, closer, Edgar J. Smith, and Herbert Morst.

That Wisconsin cities over ten thousand be granted "home rule" will be the affirmative contention in a second debate. Oscar J. Schmiege will close for the affirmative, and his team mates will be John B. Kohl, and U. S. Schwartz. Speakers favoring the negative will be Eugene G. Williams, closer, John T. Bonner, and Max W. Mallin.

"My Home Town" will be the subject of a discussion by August J. Sherr, and Samuel Becker will explain what the Irish want.

EDITORIALS WITH TEETH

THE complaint is often lodged against editorials in college dailies to the effect that they lack the necessary punch to make them interesting to busy students; that they deal largely with subjects of trivial importance; and that they fail to take an adequate definite stand on questions of a debatable nature.

Although Cardinal editorials are offered for perusal by a body politic of over 7,000 students—something of a community in itself—we must consider in this instance the uncommonly diverse makeup of the student personnel.

When an editorial on "Women's Dress" appears it becomes the talk of the campus. People who never before heard or saw a Cardinal editorial (those who read only the Skyrockets or society notes), clamor for a chance to read the one they claim had teeth, when, as a matter of fact, it was nothing but an array of opinions.

The things in need of comment in the Cardinal, as well as in college dailies throughout the country, are those things which go to make for better American university life. "Teeth" should be supplied whenever they are needed, but the concentration should be on such "trivial matters" as support for everything worthwhile in our universities, athletics, forensics, dramatics, and the like.

Regardless of the circumstances or condition, if at any time, any irregularity occurs in student life it should be remembered that the editorial column of the Cardinal is the only place where the halt can be called, and those responsible for the conduct of this column do not propose to misuse the trust bestowed in them.

No two men will hold exactly the same opinion on any given question. While it is true that every element in the student body is striving to achieve the same ideal, it is also true that these self-same elements have different methods of attaining it. Consequently, we have a desired difference of opinion.

The bond of relationship between a student and his alma mater can never be knit as closely as possible until students know all there is to be known about their university in both a curricular and an extra-curricular way. The serious business of study, interspersed only rarely by concurrent pleasures, does not permit of our going too far afield.

We have had, and we propose to continue having, editorials with "teeth." However, the fact remains that they have not bitten and they will not bite. We have constantly tried to strike a true sense of values.

There will be a Lutheran Brotherhood picnic at Monona park Saturday afternoon, June 4. Tickets will be 35 cents and can be obtained from Christian Burkhardt, 415 N. Park street, or Elmer Stahlkopt, 412 N. Lake. All Lutheran men and women are invited.

LUTHER LEAGUE CONVENTION

Any members who would like to attend the Luther League convention at Racine on June 27, 28 and 29, call Water Baum, B. 1793.

A. C. F. ELECTION

An election will be held on Tuesday, June 7, to elect members from the student body to the A. C. F. board. The polling booth will be in Dean James' office in Agricultural hall.

RIFLE MATCHES

The inter-fraternity rifle match closes on June 4. All matches must be fired on or before that date. Telephone or see Sgt. Shire at once.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT PROPERTY

All property of the military department loaned to students must be turned in at the Armory (Signal Corps property to 214 E. E. Lab.) on or before Tuesday, June 7, or value of same will be deducted from student's deposit and an incomplete will be given in drill.

By Order of the Commandant.

SIGMA DELTA CHI

The members of Sigma Delta Chi, honorary journalistic fraternity, will meet Friday noon at 12:45 at the Union building for the election of officers.

SENIOR SWINGOUT

All women are asked to take part in Senior Swingout and to meet at the following places at 6:15 this evening: The seniors and freshmen behind South hall; the juniors at the south entrance to Bascom hall, and the seniors and sophomores behind North hall.

RULES FOR CO-EDS ARE APPROVED BY S. G. A. AND KEYSTONE

A code of conduct for Wisconsin women has been drawn up by a joint S. G. A. and Keystone committee and approved by representatives and presidents of 60 organized houses on the campus. Copies will be sent to high school girls who are planning to enter the university.

The code will constitute the standard for all Wisconsin women in their conduct, and it is intended as an expression of the sentiment that the representative Wisconsin woman would make relative to all her campus actions and activities.

The code reads as follows:

The Wisconsin woman is thoughtful of her obligations to help establish and maintain high social and moral standards. To this end:

(1) She is loyal to herself, she is loyal to others; she is thoughtful of their happiness. She is careful of her word in all her obligations.

(2) She is scrupulously honest in scholarship, both in every day work and in examinations.

(3) She dances in such a way as to offend neither herself nor anyone within our community.

(4) She refuses to associate with men who have been drinking.

(5) She conducts herself in such a way so that she can be honestly willing to have every girl in the community adopt her standards.

WIND MAY POLE ON FIELD DAY

The quaint old English custom of a Maypole dance "on the village green" will be carried out as part of the Field day program Saturday evening, June 4, at Camp Randall. Twenty-two girls in white frocks will twine the Maypole ribbons and dance about the Maypole to the tune of sprightly music.

Three folk dances are also included in the evening's entertainment. "Little Bo-peep," "Row well, ye Mariners," and "The Danish Hatter" will be presented by 64 dancers in fancy costume.

Margaret Henry '23 is in charge of the evening program, and assisting her are Marjorie Fish '22, and Peggy Ream '23. The Maypole dance is under the direction of Dorothy Sumption '22.

Communication

ON THE UNIVERSITY LANDSCAPE

To the Students and Faculty: Newspaper reports inform us that the city of Madison is about to secure the services of a city planning expert. Why not be in style and have the University of Wisconsin secure a landscape architect? Theoretically we have one, but if the students who are interested in the beauty of the campus will take notice of the landscape architectural monstrosity which confronts us every time we pass Lathrop hall, they will readily agree with me that something should be done to remedy this blemish on the campus.

Apparently the designer has not grasped the significance of the seal of the University of Wisconsin. The most appropriate place on the campus for the seal is that which is usurped by the above mentioned piece of gardening.

University avenue constitutes a part of many trunk highways used by hundreds of tourists annually. The seal of the university should be conspicuously displayed as an advertising medium for a great institution.

Are there not enough students and faculty members who have the welfare of the university and the beauty of the campus at heart to join in a protest at this miserable attempt of landscape architectural design?

GEO. C. MORRIS.

BAND CONCERT IS HELD ON CAMPUS

The First Regiment band, Major E. W. Morphy, conductor, gave another of its series of open air concerts on the upper campus between 6:30 and 7:30 last night.

A large crowd gathered to hear the concert. Following is the program rendered:

March, "Under the Double Eagle,"

March, "Under the Double Eagle"—Wagner.

Ballet, "Ballet Egyptian"—Lugine.

Popular Melody, "Over the Hill"—Allen.

Second Movement of Fifth Symphony—Beethoven.

March, "Bombasto"—Farrar.

March, "Slave"—Tschaikowsky.

"The Star Spangled Banner."

The final concert of the year will be given next Thursday evening.

GYM FIELD DAY TO BE SHOWN IN MOVIE

One of the features of the State Journal-Strand weekly, the first issue of which will be released Sunday, will be scenes of the first annual gymnastic class field day held on the lower campus Thursday afternoon.

INSTALL OFFICERS AT TUESDAY MEET

The newly elected officers of the Commerce advisory commission were installed Tuesday evening, May 31, with John A. Dollard '22 as president. At the meeting President Dollard outlined plans for next year in connection with the incoming freshmen in the Commerce course.

Plans are now complete to place each Commerce freshman under an upperclass advisor, as an attempt to decrease the yearly exodus of freshmen from the university.

W. A. Devine In Postoffice For 35 Years June 1

Postmaster William A. Devine on Wednesday celebrated his 35th year in the service of the postoffice department. Way back in the year 1886, Mr. Devine went to the postoffice on the morning of June 1 and applied for a job. He was put to work along with twelve others, for at that time a dozen helpers comprised the force of the office.

It was not long after that he was promoted to superintendent of mails. A picture was taken of the force a year or two later showing Mr. Devine in his working clothes. Mr. Devine has the picture in his office. Ten years ago Mr. Devine became postmaster.

STUDENTS HIT COOLIDGE VIEW

Vice-President's Charge of Radicalism Arouses Much Protest

Much comment has been aroused on the campus by the publication in Wednesday's Capital Times of extracts from an article by Vice President Calvin Coolidge, entitled, Enemies of the Republic, which appeared in the June number of the Delineator, and which flays the radicalism of the American college woman, and of the co-ed at Wisconsin in particular. Here are a few of the comments:

Howard O. Eaton, fellow in the college of letters and science: "To take Mr. Coolidge seriously when he says that the human race owes more to the initiative than to the inventive powers of men would be to Chinify the country, as Roosevelt once remarked. As far as America being the country where thought and speech is the freest, this is an exaggeration which can be corrected by remembering Palmer and Lusk."

August J. Fehrenbach, editorial writer for the Daily Cardinal: "It is a sorry commentary on American political life that a man of the intellectual status of Coolidge, who won his fame as an opportunistic strike breaker, should now spend his time analyzing the intellectual proclivities of women students. The cobbler should stick to the bench. I think Coolidge should let women's magazines alone and stick to the gravel, thus keeping the administration from becoming ridiculous in the eyes of the American people. His statements sound to me like the wailings of a century old fossil, who lives in the days of puritanism and hypocrisy. Apparently he has nothing better to do."

Miss Sonya Forthal, secretary-treasurer of the Wisconsin Social Science club: "I think Mr. Coolidge is taking a very reactionary point of view. The Intercollegiate Socialist Society, as far as I can make out, has never had a definite program but has welcomed to its ranks all those interested in the study of social conditions. It seems to me that the important thing is to get people to think about the issues, whether they turn out to be conservatives or liberals. Mr. Coolidge's stand is as bad as that of the rabid radical who can find nothing good in society."

Walter E. Daniels, sophomore in journalism: "I am a strong supporter of Coolidge's ideas with regard to the rights of private property and the protections of American institutions, such as the home, the church, and so on, but I would just as soon let the university students express their opinions on socialism or any other foolish man-made thing like that. I approve of free discussion and think it is a happy sign when people look into American conditions, for I think it will lead them to believe American institutions are the best there are."

Fund Shortage Delays New Memorial Building

Almost half a million dollars have been raised by pledges and subscriptions to the Memorial Union building fund, and subscriptions promised will raise the total above the half million mark, according to a report from the executive committee.

A total of $484,000 has been promised already, and when the half million has been raised, all pledges will be binding. Most subscribers have waived the $500,000 provisions, however. The campaign is to be continued with the view of increasing the fund to $1,000,000. Another campaign will be conducted early in the fall. Actual construction work will not be held up until the entire amount is obtained. Plans are now being prepared which permit of the erection of the building by units.

NEW YORK—Col. Roosevelt's River of Doubt is to be explored to its source, according to announcement made recently by the Mulford Biological Expedition, the members of which will sail soon. The party will consist of six scientists and a crack rifle shot and motion picture and camera men will go along. Arrangements have been made for a stay of two years.

Dr. Henry H. Rusby of the School of Pharmacy, Columbia University, will be in charge. Dr. Frederick L. Hoffman, statistician and vice-president of the Prudential Insurance Co., will make an intensive study of longevity, acclimatization and sanitary conditions as affecting white men in the tropics. Dr. William M. Mann, assistant in the federal bureau of entomology, will make studies for the government. Scientific data will be obtained concerning the flora, fauna and the inhabitants of the unknown headwaters of the Amazon, and collections will be made of the reptiles, insects, birds and mammals of the region.

Dr. Everett Pearson of the University of Indiana will conduct the ichthyological investigations. Harvard will be represented by Dr. Orman E. White of the Brooklyn Botanical Gardens. George S. McCarthy of Woodbury, N. J., will act as rifleman and taxidermist. The pictorial record will be directed by Gordon McCrae, and Owen Cattell will take photographs. SOPH WOMEN TRIM
UPPERCLASS TEAM

Isabelle Capps made a home run that won the game for the sophomore women in the Sophomore-Upperclass game at Camp Randall yesterday afternoon. The close score, 4 to 3, was due largely to the excellent work of the two pitchers, Isabelle Capps and Mary Roach.

The lineups were as follows:

Sophomore	Upperclass
I. Capps	P. Mary Roach
B. Knights	C. R. Hayes
D. Williams	F. B. D. Cremer
B. Elver	S. B. P. Watson
W. Trost	T. B. A. Barton
R. Berryman	S. S. A. Tucker
H. Kasbeer	R. F. D. Raall
P. Tatman	C. F. M. Nieberger
I. Clayton	L. F. V. Werner

The final game will be played between the freshmen and the sophomores, who have both beaten the upperclass team, on Saturday, as a part of the Field day program. After the game Varsity will be announced.

U. S. CO-EDS PLAY AT BEING SPARTANS

Photo shows the start of a race at Cincinnati University, an event in a series of Greek games which the girls played in Greek costumes.

Shades of Atalanta, look what our modern young college thing is doing. These are University of Cincinnati girls who are cavorting about the college campus in Greek costumes to help raise funds for the university's athletic treasury. They are staging a race in a series of Greek games which they played in Greek costumes. The Spartan women and even the most Grecian of all Greeks, Isadora Duncan, could find no fault with the "atmosphere."

FAREWELL TONIGHT FOR SENIOR WOMEN

beth Thorkelson, president of Red Gauntlet, and Belle Knight, vice-president of Red Gauntlet will lead the sophomores, and the freshman will be led by Lila Eckern, president of Green Button and Frances Wright, vice-president of Green Button.

The Maypole dance will be next on the program. Twenty-eight of the university's dancers will dance to the accompaniment of six violins. The procession will then move down the campus and form in line for the passing of the torch.

A new torch will be handed from the president of Blue Dragon to the president of Yellow Tassel, a symbol of light from the seniors to the juniors to show them the "path of brightness."

After the torch has been received, Mortar board, as is customary each year, will announce the elections for the organization. They are based on scholarship, service and womanliness.

Gathering around the Lincoln statue, each class will sing songs to the departing seniors. Many of the campus organizations will also sing their original songs. Community singing, led by Prof. P. Dykema, will be enjoyed by all, and will complete the Swingout program.

The affair this year is the fourth annual celebration of its kind. Each year the celebration has been important, and last year through the co-operation of the university men, great success was achieved. The help of everyone is needed today to give the Senior women a fitting farewell.

Those in charge of Senior Swingout this year are: Esther Haven '22, general manager; Zirian Blish '22, assistant general manager; Reba Hayden '22, chairman of music; Mildred Gerlach '22, chairman of decorations; Elizabeth Sehon '22, chairman for arrangements, and Marion Strassburger '22, publicity chairman.

May Building in Madison Totals $87,172

Building activities represented a total of $87,172 during May, according to Building Commissioner Dean. June started out with a bang running up to $3,550 the first day. Ralph Jackman was granted a permit to erect a tile garage costing $1,000 and to make $1,000 repairs on his home, 802 E. Gorham st. The French Battery & Carbon Co. will make repairs costing $800. John L. Lendberg will build a two story residence on Jame st. to cost $4,500.

News Notes From Movieland

Colleen More, who is appearing in Marshall Neilan productions, is at present in New York in the leading feminine role of "The Lotus Eaters," starring John Barrymore. While there she says she has discovered:

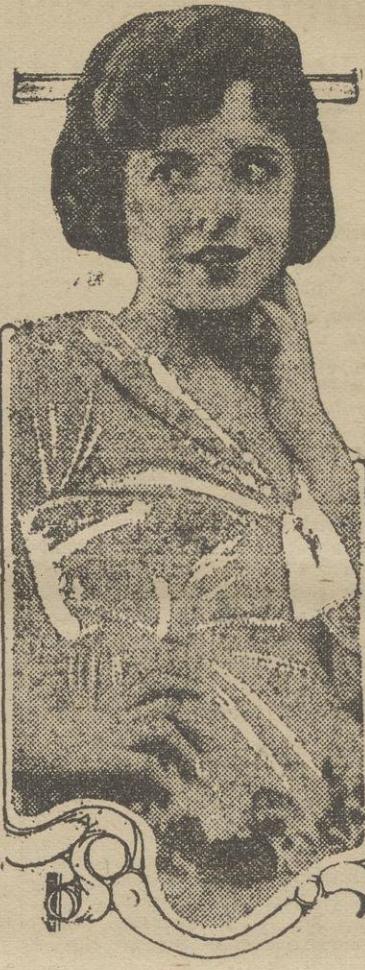

"The G. O. P. (meaning Good Old Public and not Grand Old Party) likes beauty on the screen. It may be very appreciative of good acting, but that there must be one or two beautiful girls in the picture to really please the fans.

"The G. O. P. likes the close-up and that it sighs deep, adoring, heart-felt sighs when the heroine or hero appears in a close-up with a good strong back light for a halo. While it may criticize too many close-ups, a picture without one or two is as much of a failure as a Sunday breakfast without coffee.

"The story — oh, my goodness, here the dear public doesn't seem to know what it wants at all. It likes this and doesn't like that and is bored to tears with the other; but one thing it must have, and that is a love story.

"The public must be in love all the time, for it just pines for sentiment and romance. It seems to be always wanting more and more of the love theme and a play without it simply languishes and dies."

Miss Moore declares she has made the above observations from a chair in a picture show and that she knows what she knows, absolutely.

STATE MARKET BILL IS PASSED

House Adopts Measure Increasing Board's Power

Without serious opposition the state marketing bill passed the house Thursday morning by 67 to 5. This measure increases the powers of the market commission and gives that board the right to investigate cost of manufactured articles and the cost of producing farm products. The bill had the endorsement of the leading farm organizations of the state.

The Young bill for the building of an east wing to the main building of the Whitewater normal school passed the house 37 to 33.

The agriculture committee bill requiring the treatment of by-products of creamery and cheese factories to prevent the spread of contagious diseases passed 37 to 33.

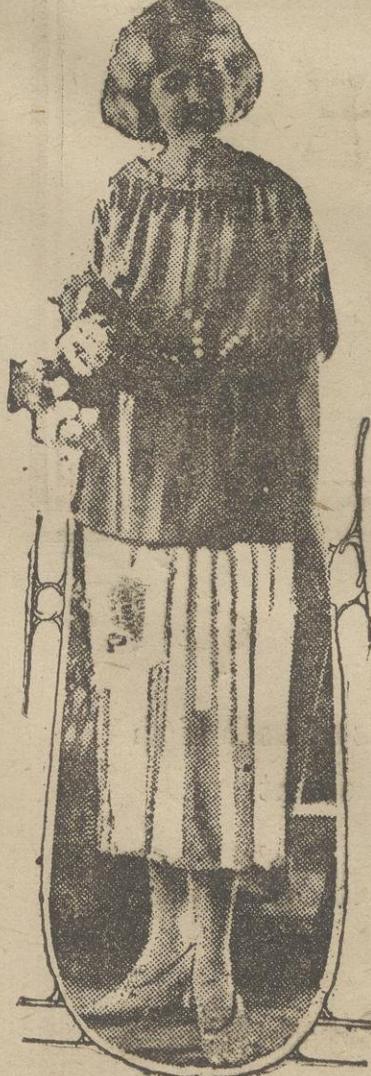

Seventy-six votes were registered in favor of a bill providing for a transfer of funds from the service recognition fund for the purpose of completing the state hospital for crippled children. There were no votes in opposition.

The Olson bill to abolish the state board of education was laid on the table. The C. E. Hanson bill to appropriate money for an agricultural fair in connection with the River Falls normal school was killed.

DID YOU KNOW THAT

William and Neal Hart are no relation whatever? It is rather a coincidence that these two players of the same name should both win fame in the movies through their portrayal of western and cowboy parts and still more unusual is the fact that both of them were born in New York state. Bill was born in Newburg, N. Y., and Neal in Richmond.

At The Theaters

AT THE STRAND

"Partners of the Tide," a picture adapted from the novel by Joseph G. Lincoln, is now being shown at the Strand theater. Bradley Nickerson, adopted by the Misses Allen, becomes a firm friend of Gussie Baker, the little girl next door. Fifteen years pass. Bradley is first mate of the Thomas Doane, owned by Granny Baker. Her business manager advises that the old ship be sunk for the insurance money. A Swede seaman discovers the plot and prevents the disaster. Bradley buys an interest in another ship, The Diving Bell. Later the Thomas Doane is intentionally sunk and Bradley and his rival for the hand of Gussie dive to investigate the sunken ship. Many thrilling experiences follow below the surface of the ocean.

There will also be shown a comic cartoon, a Pathé Review, and pictures of Madison events.

AT THE FULLER

"Reputation," the Universal superfeature in which Priscilla Dean was seen last night at the Fuller theater and which will be shown today, tomorrow, and Sunday, will go down in the memory of playgoers as one of the most dramatic stories ever told on the screen.

The star ascends to dramatic heights and sounds the depths of pathos in this picture. Her spectators were keenly thrilled.

The story was filmed at Universal City by Stuart Paton. It is based upon "False Colors," Edwina Levin's novel and the screen adaptation by Lucien Hubbard and Doris Schroeder.

Playing a dual role, that of mother and daughter, Miss Dean interprets the parts with such sincerity that many doubted that one individual could so completely assume such widely opposed characteristics. Laura Figlan, the dominant figure in the story, is the reigning beauty on the European stage. She is about to sail for New York to star on Broadway when a party, more dissolute than others which have preceded it, leaves her a wretched, dissipated shadow of her former self. Stripped of money, her nerves shattered by drugs, a wanderer on the Limehouse streets, she realizes that she must in some way get to America and try to resume her place of power in the theater. She arrives in New York for the opening of the performance and there on the stage she sees a girl who is the counterpart of what she was before sin seared her soul. The girl is her daughter, though neither knows the other. Then follows a climax that for explosive thrill-power has never been equalled on the screen.

AT THE GRAND

In "A Child for Sale," now showing at the Grand, every angle of the social problem, not sex, is outlined with unerring precision in the various situations, with the result that, rarely is there to be found a picture which unreels with such perfect sequence.

The one outstanding feature of the picture is the clever work of Creighton Hale. This young man heretofore essayed juvenile roles, invariably a young lover, but this time he is in a serious role that calls for an entirely different kind of screen acting. He is not only superb but shows capability of taking care of any big, serious role that might be assigned to him. Master Bobby Connelly does some bully work, while Gladys Leslie, Julia Swayne Gordon and Anna Lehr render very pleasing support.

ORPH OFFERS FAIR WEEK-END PROGRAM

Piquant, lively, adorable Janet of France and her partner, Charles W. Hamp, formed the attraction of the Orpheum bill last night, in their clever playlet, "Song Shopping." Janet was really "Frenchy," and had an extremely vivid personality, while Charles Hamp was proficient at the piano, and attractively natural.

Nick Hufford, in "One Loose Page From a Book of Fun," succeeded in making a very funny fool out of himself, and amused even the most serious in the audience with jokes on subjects such as flivvers, small towns, and mothers-in-law.

Juggling with an unusual and original set of properties was presented by Frear, Baggott, and Frear, as well as regular vaudeville lines.

La Fleur and Portia, who had apparently super-human development of the teeth, did remarkable acrobatic stunts.

"Much Ado About Nothing," featuring Dunlay and Merrill, was quite what the title indicates. Rather disjointed dialogue, and a lack of originality made this act somewhat mediocre.

Gertrude Moody's voice, and some gorgeous gowns were the compensating features in the "Opera and Jazz, Inc.," an act from which a great deal might have been omitted.

STUDENT AID OUTLINED FOR 'Y' NEXT YEAR

Questionnaires Planned to Assist Members in Life Work

"The university Y. M. C. A. plans next year to look after the personal wants of every man who becomes a member of the association, to have an interview with each one, and to help him find his life's work," Leo Kohl, president, stated yesterday in announcing the program of next semester's activities.

"In the department of vocational guidance, we hope to formulate a questionnaire which will help a man to analyze himself and to come to a realization of his unused talents. It will be an inventory of his ability and will show him the work for which he is best suited. Professors and businessmen will act as advisers to the students and help them solve their problems. The writer's pre-requisites will be taken into consideration and the decision will be based on the man's self-analysis as well as the adviser's judgment."

Ray E. Baber, grad., who has been in China several years and understands the mind of the Orient, has charge of the foreign students. He will look after their wants and arrange meetings for them in professors' homes so that they will become familiar with the home life of America. He aims to give them Christian ideals.

"We shall have classes for freshmen in the fall to acquaint them with conditions and requirements of the university," Kohl further said. "Discussional groups will study the Bible and social problems. Fellowship meetings at the first of each month will be devoted to work along vocational training lines. Men at the head of their professions will present their particular phase of work. The greatest feature, however, will be developing personal friendship and getting the men acquainted with one another. We will try to reach the man who does not stand out ordinarily and who is apt to be neglected."

Among the other things planned,

WELLS-FARGO STAGE COACH DAYS ARE BROUGHT BACK BY ARMED POSTAL GUARDS

Armed guard watching loading of mail car at Boston.

Postoffice employes in most of the larger cities of the country have been supplied with shotguns and small arms by the department to protect the mail from bandits. The presence of these men with shotguns where mail is loaded into trucks, wagons and trains recalls the "old days" when guarding of the Wells-Fargo chests on the mail coaches furnished thrilling chapters in the country's history.

CHEM CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS FOR '22

Election of officers for the Chemistry club was held at the Chemistry building Wednesday night. The annual spring picnic of the club had been planned for that evening, but on account of the rainy weather was abandoned. About 30 members and guests were present.

The new officers are as follows: Frank J. Drobka '22, chief chemist; Elizabeth Pickering '22, assistant chemist; Genevieve Palmer '22, recorder of data; Edwin Glomstead '22, storeroom keeper; B. H. Nissen '22, and Katherine Rowland '23, catalytic agents.

Short talks were made at the business meeting following the picnic lunch, by Prof. J. H. Mathews, Prof. R. Fischer, and Dr. H. A. Schette. Much merriment prevailed when Professor Mathews demonstrated to the club how weenies should be roasted over a gas burner.

The Y. M. C. A. will carry its usual work of cashing checks for students and aiding them in finding employment. Men will also visit the infirmary daily and indicate the wants of each patient on a chart so that he will receive a little outside care and attention. The work of the Badger club will be continued as usual and some tremendously worth-while speakers have been engaged for next year.

"Deputation teams will talk to high school boys throughout the state and uphold Wisconsin ideals," Kohl added. "Boys want a hero, so we try to send out men who will be examples of the highest type of manhood. These men, by their example, will make the boys realize that strong and virile men are wanted at Wisconsin."

One of the outstanding improvements which has been arranged for is an office in the main lobby of the Y. M. C. A. for the Cabinet council, Sophomore commission, and the Inner Circle. Special office hours for cabinet members will be arranged.

The Sophomore commission next September will meet incoming trains and help freshmen to find rooms and to get registered. They will also haul hand baggage free of charge and help the new students find employment, if help along that line is needed. During the summer, letters will be sent to about 500 men who are coming here in the fall so that many of their wants can be provided before they reach Madison. When they arrive, they will be given the "Y" handbook.

DELT'S BEAT PSI U. IN CLOSE CONTEST

In one of the best games played thus far in the tournament, the Delt's eliminated the Psi U from further competition by administering them a 7 to 6 defeat. The game went scoreless for four extra innings, the score being knotted 6 to 6 at the end of the fifth. In the tenth inning, however, Mitchell stole home with the bases full and two men out, giving the Delt's the game and a chance to meet the Phi Kappa in order to determine which team will enter in the final.

The score by innings is as follows:
Delt's 220 020 000—1
Psi U 001 410 000—0
Batteries — Delt's, Faletti and Gnagi. Psi U, Bauman and Gould. Three base hits—Miller, Bauman. Two base hits—Gates 2, Weston. Umpire—Schmidt.
