PROM FESTIVITIES

MANY ELABORATE FUNCTIONS WILL BE GIVEN.

Out-of-Town Guests Arriving—Decorations About Completed—Lists of Visitors at Fraternities.

Everything is now almost in readiness for the Junior Prom, the biggest social event of the year. Every indication is that this year's Prom will far surpass any previously given at Wisconsin. The attendance will be unusually large. Already people from out of town are beginning to pour in and by tomorrow night the hill portion of the city will be filled with fair guests from Milwaukee and various cities in this and neighboring states.

The hall will be decorated with the class colors, purple and white and is already beginning to assume a very attractive appearance. The girders have been covered with white bunting with rows of incandescent lights along the arches. At the further end of the hall is a very elaborately decorated reception box, slightly raised above the level of the floor. The other boxes are arranged around the sides of the hall. On the east side of the gymnasium suspended from the ceiling is the orchestra stand.

The music will be furnished by Goldsmith's orchestra of Chicago, and a very attractive program has been arranged. The faculty has given permission to dance out the entire program. Before the dancing begins there will be a concert lasting from eight to nine o'clock. The programs will be very neat and are engraved by Bunde and Upmeyer of Milwaukee.

Refreshments will be served in the baseball cage on the third floor. They are to be furnished by Mr. Keeley of the Palace of Sweets. The supper dances will be the tenth, twelfth, fourteenth and sixteenth.

The locker room will be used as a ladies' dressing room, while the men will remove their wraps in the bowling alley room as at former proms.

ORATORICAL AFFAIRS

FORENSIC SEASON TO OPEN NEXT WEEK.

Open Contests Will be Well Filled—Junior-Ex About March 1st.—Final Two Weeks Later.

The season for oratorical exhibitions is now fast approaching. The Sophomore open may come off next Monday although this is doubtful; if it does the Junior open will follow on the succeeding Friday and the Senior open on the following Monday. The Junior-Ex will probably take place about March 1st. Those in charge are trying to have the contests take place about these dates but the work is somewhat backward as usual. The final contest will occur about the middle of March.

The prizes for the two best contestants in the final contest are as follows:

The Capital City prize of $100 and the Lewis prize of $18. The new constitution adopted by the Oratorical Association this winter changes the order and time of contests somewhat and will have them produced next year on definite dates. The constitution does not change the system of former years. There will still be seven contestants in the final contest. Four of these qualify in the Senior open one in the Junior-Ex and one each in the Sophomore and Junior open contests. Any member of the respective classes may take part in the open contests.

There will likely be between thirty-five and forty contestants in the various oratorical exhibitions this year. The proportion of law students is considerably larger than in former years. The contests likewise appear to be much closer than formerly. All these facts indicate that the final contest will be exceedingly close, representing all departments of the University.

Local and Personal.

—Miss Mabel Isham of La Crosse has entered the University.

—Miss Louise Hinkley, '00, of Green Bay is a visitor at the Alpha Phi house.

—Miss Harriet Mason, '04, left for her home in Fond du Lac for a brief visit.

—Dr. Russell has just returned from a six weeks tour of the east where he has been inspecting bacteriological laboratories.

—The Phi Chi fraternity gave a dance at Kehl's last evening. Mrs. Wentworth and Mrs. Simmons acted as chaperones.

—The University library has received as a gift from Mr. R. E. Neil Dodge a set of Marcella, by Mrs. Humphry Ward.

—Professor Alexander Kerr has presented to the University library a copy of the American Journal of Archaeology for 1899.

—Professor O'Shea is in Iowa for the purpose of addressing a State Educational Convention, and also the Twentieth Century Club and the Woman's Club of Marshalltown.

—Between thirty and forty former University students gave a rousing reception to the "Colonial Girl" given at Green Bay last evening. They attended the play in a body and greeted the "Haresfooters" with the 'Varsity yell and continuous applause.

REMARKABLE CONCERT.

Choral Union Scores Another Triumph.

The choral union scored another triumph last evening in its initial concert of the season in library hall in which it was very materially assisted by the excellence of the soloists who fully came up to the expectations of the quite large and appreciative audience that filled the auditorium and gave a liberal sprinkling to the gallery. The program was carried through with remarkable precision and the chorus of 125 voices showed the result of careful training by the director, Prof. F. A. Parker.

The chorus entered thoroughly into the spirit of the work and was able to bring out the beautiful effects of the various musical compositions.

Mrs. Genevieve Wilson of Chicago the talented soprano solist has lost none of her popularity since she was here two years ago. Although this was the first appearance of Edward Taylor before a Madison audience he was given a very cordial reception. Mrs. Francis Richards Hiestand remains as much of a favorite as ever and was evinced by the cordiality manifested on her appearance. The rich, powerful voice of Elias R. Williams was brought out in the high baritone solo, So Once Our Prayer, in the Jubilee cantata. The success of the whole concert was largely supplemented by the very effective work of Professor Nitschke's orchestra of 35 pieces.

SUCCESSFUL TRIP.

"Haresfooters" Play at Green Bay, Appleton and Fond du Lac.

The Haresfoot players returned this morning after a successful trip. They were cordially received by the citizens and press of all the towns in which "A Colonial Girl" was presented.

The "Haresfooters" played to good houses at Fond du Lac on Saturday evening and at Oshkosh on Monday evening. They were entertained at a musical by their Oshkosh friends. A number of alumni came down from Appleton to see the play at Oshkosh, and urged the company to give the play at Appleton on Tuesday evening, which they did to a good sized audience on twelve hours notice. At Green Bay where they appeared last evening the players were entertained at an informal party.

The Haresfoot Club are well pleased with the undertaking and netted a small surplus after paying all expenses.

Automatic Telephone Exchange.

During the last week the State Historical Society has had installed in the new Library an automatic telephone exchange. No "central" is necessary to run the exchange; any one of the thirty-eight offices can make connections with any other in about half the time required with the usual exchange system. The exchange can be increased "ad infinitum" and still retain its present efficiency. The exchange is located on the upper floor, in the long middle corridor of the museum. The automatic connecting requires the power of but thirteen storage batteries of two volts each. Two more batteries are necessary for the telephoning.

To-morrow's Convocation.

Professor H. L. Smith of the Law School will address the Convocation to-morrow on the Significance of John Marshall.

—Miss Francis Staver, '00, is visiting at the Alpha Phi house.

Excellent Concert.

The concert last night was a great success and amply demonstrated what an amount of good such an organization can do. Although the Choral Union has been obliged to give up its more ambitious concerts on account of lack of support, still its persistence in keeping up its musical work under difficulties is to be highly commended. The Union can be assured that so long as it gives concerts of the quality of that presented last night it will receive the support it deserves to have.

Oratorical Contests.

Attention is called to the fact that the oratorical contests are rapidly approaching. Those who expect to participate in them ought to be getting their orations into shape. The larger the number of entries in the preliminaries the greater is the chance of Wisconsin's ultimately turning out a winner for the inter-collegiate contest. It would be a pity to have any abatement in the enthusiasm along forensic lines that was manifested in the University last year. From present indications it does not seem that this is to be the case and a goodly number are already preparing for the preliminaries. There is considerable time still remaining and no one should hesitate to get into the contests.

The Weather.

Cloudy to-night and Friday. Warmer in the northwest.

The memory of Lawar, Princeton's famous football player is to be preserved by a $20,000 golf club house promised to the University by the class of 1886. It will be modeled, as far as possible, after Montpelier the home of President Madison of the class of 1771.

Yale's gross receipts for the last football season were $44,428.66 and the net receipts, $22,356.

College Presidents to Meet.

Fourteen college presidents, representing as many of the largest universities in the United States, will come to Chicago soon to attend the preliminary sessions of the second annual meeting of the Association of American Universities, which will be held at the University of Chicago in the Fine Arts building, Feb. 26 to 28. Eminent professors will deliver addresses on subjects of interest relating to college work and the results of university higher education.

The universities which will be represented and which are members of the association are: Leland Stanford, Johns Hopkins, Yale, Harvard, Michigan, California, Columbia, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, Catholic University of America, Clarke University, Cornell, Princeton and University of Chicago.

Among the speakers at the preliminary sessions will be Prof. Ira Remsen, the noted chemist; Prof. W. F. Magie, of Princeton; Head Professor Harry Pratt Judson, of the University of Chicago, and Prof. W. R. Newbold, of the University of Pennsylvania.

President Harper, of the University of Chicago, is secretary of the association, and will entertain the visiting college presidents and professors at the university.

Yale defeated Harvard in a recent game of basketball by the score of 41 to 164. It was the first basketball game ever played between Yale and Harvard.
