TWO FRATERNITY ROBBERIES COST OCCUPANTS $243

Mrs. Montgomery at A. T. O. House Frightens Prowler With Slipper and Pistol

Two robberies and one attempted robbery have been added to the crime annals of the campus the first part of this week when property valued at $200 was taken Sunday night from the Alpha Chi Rho house at 524 N. Henry street, $43 in cash was taken Monday night from the Phi Kappa Alpha house at 131 Langdon street, and the Alpha Tau Omega house at 225 Lake Lawn place was entered Monday night by a prowler.

$75 Taken in Cash

The first robbery occurred some time after 1:30 o'clock and the thieves ransacked every room without leaving the slightest clue. While the boys were sleeping on the porch and in the dormitory, the burglars went through their clothing and dresser drawers.

Llewellyn Cole and Donald Lee lost their watches and between $70 and $75 had been taken from the clothes belonging to Gil Thompson, Joe Beadle, Hawley Cahill, Richard Finch, V. E. Vaile and R. E. Galaz. Detective Jesse Smith has been assigned to the case, but as yet has discovered no way to apprehend the robbers.

Overlook Jewelry

Only three students were losers in the second robbery which took place after 1 o'clock Monday night. They are Carl Fritzsche, who lost $30; Wallace Farente, who lost $7; and Russell Coffey, who lost $6. Jewelry lying in plain sight of the robbers was overlooked and no personal apparel was taken.

It is suspected that it was the same thieves who found that ran. (Continued on page 7)

STUDENT FUNDS MAKE 450 LOANS PAST YEAR

That 450 loans were made to students during the last year from the various student loan funds was made known recently by Mr. M. E. McCaffrey, secretary of the Board of Regents.

These loan funds are open to any student of the university, and may be secured by applying to Mr. McCaffrey. The interest rate is 5 per cent. The loans average about $200 to each student who obtained one.

There are 18 straight loan funds both the principal and interest of which are loanable to students. They now aggregate almost $25,000.

During the last year 22 loans were made from the Johnson fund amounting to $1,065, three from the secretary's fund amounting to $77.87. A $50 limit is placed on these funds.

PROFESSOR MILLS TO GIVE FINAL RECITAL

The second and last of the summer organ recitals will be given by Dr. Charles H. Mills, director of the School of Music, at 2:30 o'clock next Wednesday afternoon in the Luther Memorial church. Professor Mills will be assisted by Mrs. Leon Littis, contralto.

JAMES APPOINTED TO BOARD BY COOLIDGE

Albert Earl James, university graduate, received a recent appointment to the new board of tax appeals by President Coolidge. For a number of years James was employed as tax expert by the state tax commission. He is a former resident of Madison.

Feminine Screams In Cardinal Office Caused by Wee Bat

Some one might well accuse The Cardinal office of having bats in the belfry. Three feminine screams indicated that something was wrong and when an investigation was made it was found that such was the difficulty.

A wee, black, infant of a bat crept blindly across the floor of the editorial office yesterday afternoon and, for so small a being, caused quite a riot.

A murderer entered the scene, intent on putting an end to the girls' screams and wrigglings of fear; a Cardinal file was produced to serve as evidence; the law of gravity next entered and took the heavy volume with a plump onto the bat. The screams were ended with the life of the animal, and the murderer took his departure.

PLAYERS ARRIVE HERE TOMORROW

Shakespearian Actors Left Ann Arbor This Morning For Madison

The Shakespeare Players will arrive in Madison tomorrow to present "Hamlet" at 8 o'clock in the University Open Air theatre. They left Ann Arbor this morning.

"Since the Great War, prose and verse have brought to light the sufferings of just such sensitive souls as Hamlet, who shrank from and abhorred bloodshed not because they were cowards but because they had absorbed the spirit of an advanced Christianity and were only fitted for a more enlightened day. Hamlet is generally thought of as a man whose tragedy lies in being too weak for the task that confronts him. That is the view of the older critics, but since the war we may admit the possibility of a new angle. The view may not be immediately convincing, but it has added a new interest to the staging of a familiar play," an eminent critic said recently.

"Hamlet" will be followed on Friday night by "If I Were King." The matinee "The Pigeon" will be given Saturday afternoon in Music hall, and "The Doll's House" on Saturday evening in the Open Air Theatre.

RODOLFO ALMOST DROWNS OFF Y. M. PIER LAST NIGHT

Philippine Student Goes Under Two Times Before He Is Noticed

Augustin Rodolfo, from San Antonio, Zambales, Philippine Islands, was reported to be in a serious condition at the Madison General hospital this morning as a result of a near drowning in Lake Mendota at 6:30 o'clock last night.

Under Three Times

Rodolfo, an agricultural student, was bathing off the Y. M. C. A. pier when he was suddenly seized with cramps and went under. He called for help but the fun-making among the other bathers drowned his voice and it was not until he was going down a third time that a young man whose name was said to be A. Peterson, heard his cries and went to his assistance.

Word was also sent a short distance away to Thomas "Cap" Isabell of the university life saving station.

Rodolfo was unconscious when taken from the lake. Isabell said he had been under water fully three minutes.

Taken to Hospital

The police ambulance was summoned and meanwhile Capt. Isabell and John Niebuhr, assistant at the boathouse, attempted to restore respiration by artificial methods. When the ambulance arrived Rodolfo was still unconscious but there was evidence that he was still alive.

He was taken to the General hospital where Dr. Lawrence Littig took over the case and restored the young man to consciousness.

DIXIE CLUB MEMBERS GO ON PICNIC TONIGHT

Members of the Dixie club and their friends are invited to a picnic roast which is to be held at Sunset Point tonight.

The group will meet at 5 o'clock this afternoon in front of Lathrop hall. From there, they will hike to Sunset Point, where the time will be spent in games and contests of various kinds. Noah Bess, of the Farmhouse fraternity, who is in charge, promises some entertainment.

About fifty persons are expected to attend, she said.

Dartmouth Men Rise In Arms Against Taunts of Engineers

It is reported from an unofficial source that the call of "Fore! Fore!" directed by the hardy engineers at those innocents who parade by, clad in knickers and golf socks, that this call has become a war cry.

For several years now, the regular cry has gone unheeded and the challenge unanswered. The engineers have sat complacently on the steps of their building confident in the power of their bearing, sure that no one would dare attack such a powerful set of sons of Saint Pat.

But now, to reiterate, it is reported that plans are being formulated to answer this challenge.

Each summer the many students who are originally from Dartmouth but who are spending the summer here for various and sundry reasons get together in a meeting to talk things over. This meeting, secret service men have found, is to take place either tonight or tomorrow morning.

Its chief object is a discussion of the outrages committed upon them by the said sons of Saint Pat. Dartmouth likes knickers. the plumbers do not, and according to one Irisher who smoked reflectively on the steps of the engineering building, a clash is expected to come out of the meeting.

Lake parties were mentioned.

But, to tell the truth, inside information leads to an indication that the Dartmouth men are doing nothing more or less than seeking an adequate come-back at these Wisconsin men. They want to wear their knickers and they don't want to be razed so unceremoniously about it.

Probably the upshot of it all will be that the Dartmouth men will walk up the hill tomorrow morning clad in their knickers and when the plumbers call forth their "Fore! Grow up, there. Take off the short pants!" the challenged men will break forth with some slight remark about their challengers, the nature of which you may have to use your imagination on.

Glicksman to Give Readings Tomorrow From Shakespeare

Dean Harry Glicksman will give eight readings from Shakespeare at 4:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the lecture room of the Law building. Dean Glicksman has chosen his readings from the most well known and best liked of Shakespeare's works, it was said.

Following are the selections that he will read: A passage from "King Henry V", describing the death of Falstaff; the patriotic speech of John of Gaunt from "King Richard II"; "The Seven Ages" speech from "As You Like It"; Mercutio's "Queen Mab" speech from "Romeo and Juliet"; The love dialogue between Pardita and Florizel, from the "Winters Tale"; part of the grave digger's scene from "Hamlet"; a quarrel dialogue between Beatrice and Benedick in "Much Ado About Nothing" and a dialogue between Portia and Brutus from "Julius Caesar."

This is the first year that Dean Glicksman has given this group of readings. Next week he will give a lecture on "The Spirit of Poetry."

W. A. A. TO HOLD DANCING CLASS

Will Charge 25 Cents To Women Who Want To Learn Steps

How to be able to trip the light fantastic—to step to the latest jazz tunes will be the purpose of the dancing class for women which will be held at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening in Lathrop parlors. This class will be under the supervision of the summer session members of the Women's Athletic association.

All women in the university interested in attending the class should sign up in the W. A. A. office in Lathrop hall as soon as possible. Tickets will be on sale in the office and at the door of the parlors. The price of admission is 25 cents.

A special committee of W. A. A. girls will give instructions to those who are learning how to dance. Dorothy Harkins '25, Florence Allen '27, Marian Rhode '27, Ernestine Troemel '25, Evelyn Tough '27, and Mabel Rugen '25 are acting on the committee.

Music will be furnished by a three-piece orchestra under the direction of Mabel Rugen '25. Light refreshments will be served during the evening. This is the second of the series of three social evenings which the Women's Athletic association is conducting for women students of the summer session.

ZETA PSI NEGOTIATES PURCHASE OF HOUSE

Preliminary negotiations are now being made by members of Zeta Psi fraternity for the purchase of the Alex P. Jordan home, 120 Summit avenue. The deal will possibly be closed shortly after the opening of the fall term, according to the opinion expressed by members attending the summer session.

WEATHER: SHOWERS

There are some indications of showers tonight for Madison and the vicinity, followed by generally fair weather the remaining part of the week; cooler tonight and Thursday with moderate temperature thereafter.

ASSIGN 20 TO LEADING ROLES IN "THE PIPER"

Mrs. Ottlie Seybold As Piper Will Take Chief Part.

The leading roles for the first amateur production which will be staged during the summer session, "The Piper" by Josephine Preston Peabody, have been assigned to 20 persons connected with the dramatic production courses and the chief character will be played by Mrs. Ottlie Seybold.

The cast will probably be the largest ever assembled at the university for a single production.

Ritchie Takes Part

The play will be given the nights of August 1 and 2 in the open air theater, and according to Miss Carol McMillan, who has charge of it, work is progressing rapidly.

The dramatis personae is as follows:

Strolling Players — Piper, Mrs. Ottlie Seybold; Michael the Sword Eater, Gorton Richie; Cheat the Devil, Armand C. Quick; Jacobs, Howard C. Morgan; Kurt the Magistrate, F. Lincoln D. Holmes; Axel the Smith, Oswald L. Keller; Peter The Cobbler, W. A. Moran; Hans the Butcher, Louis A. Mallory; Auselm, the Priest, Earl C. Bryan; Peter Sacristan, Richard Williamson; Town Crier, F. A. Buerk.

Settings by Thorsen

Veronica, Agatha Mc Caffrey; wife of Axel, Auralia Goehring; Wife of Hans, Elsie Hess; Wife of Peter, Matilda Geil; Jan, Mary Ellen L'Hommedieu, Ilfi, Barbara Leonard; Wansel, Will Hadley; Rudi, Morgan Annalies; Acolyte, Donald Williamson; Burglars; Nuns; Priests; Children.

Sidney Thorson is in charge of stage settings; F. A. Buerk is in charge of properties and James Lacey is business manager.

Announcements of the ticket sale will be made later.

LIFE OF CHRIST IN ART SUBJECT OF TALK

"The Life of Christ in Art" is the subject of a lecture to be given by Miss Eudo, a Bishop of the applied arts department at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow in the auditorium of the Engineering building. By the aid of lantern slides Miss Bishop will tell the story of Christ's life, beginning with the prophecy of His birth and taking up the various scenes throughout His life, as they are painted by the world's greatest artists.

LATHROP MIXER HAS LIMITED TICKET SALE

The W. C. A. will sponsor a mixer at Lathrop hall on Friday night, July 25. The tickets are to be sold for fifty cents and are now on sale at the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. offices. The number for sale is to be limited, in order to insure against congestion. The dance is in charge of Dorothy Haskins, assisted by Mabel Rugen, Isabelle Winterbotham, Kay Shattuck and Leonore Luenzen.

FRENCH CLUB PLANS EARLY MEET TOMORROW

The Cercle Francais will meet at seven o'clock instead of the usual time tomorrow night in order to permit those who wish to attend "Hamlet" to do so. The program will be short. Miss Landon, of the Music school, will play some numbers by French composers; a reading by Mlle. Tavernier will follow. A short scene from Moliere will end the program.

R. O. T. C. Displays Guards In Attack For Visitor's Day

Dean S. H. Goodnight has returned from Camp Custer recently, after witnessing the demonstrations of R. O. T. C. men and regulars as a part of the entertainment for the annual Visitor's Day program.

The R. O. T. C. infantry demonstrated a company in attack, which was in reality a sham battle. Engineering units spent the morning in solving tactical problems, while the cavalry finished their work at pistol marksmanship. The signal corps practised in the field.

In the afternoon the regulars gave a huge "all arms" demonstration. The cavalry in attack, automatic rifles in action, the machine gun used as an anti-aircraft gun, the famous French 75 in bombardment were all demonstrated. The exhibition wound up with a spectacular maneuver of three armored tanks which attacked a strong-point, which was surrounded by pits and ditches.

A reception by Col. T. L. Sherbourne, camp commandant, in honor of the relatives and parents of the students, was held later in the afternoon in the assembly tent. In the evening many of the guests attended the last R. O. T. C. dance in the Hostess house.

It is a musical gem," said Professor Swinney. "The Ringer's" is a rather humorous English ballad. Prof. E. B. Gordon and his summer school orchestra of about thirty-five pieces played the accompaniment to "Lovely Appear" from Redemption by Gounod, "Estudiantina" by La come, and "A Hope Carol" by Smith.

FIDDERAN INSTALLED AS LUTHERAN PASTOR

Rev. Nels K. Fedderan '21, was installed as pastor of the English Lutheran church of Marshfield last Sunday, by Rev. Soldan of the Madison Luther Memorial church.

Rev. Nels K. Fedderan was active in campus activities while he was in school. He was president of the Luther Memorial Student association.

This June Rev. Fedderan graduated from the Northwest Theological seminary, Minnesota, and was ordained this year at the Conference of Synod of the Northwest held at Luther Memorial church.

On June 21, 1924, he was married to Anna Christenson '21.

Recital By Hilger Trio Given Under Auspices Sinfonia

The Hilger Sisters' chamber music trio, consisting of a cellist, violinist, and pianist, who have made many successful European tours and have played in most of the important cities of this country, will give a recital under the auspices of Sinfonia, men's honorary music fraternity, at 8:15 o'clock, July 31, in Music hall.

They are a trio of recognized ability and international reputation, according to Prof. Leland A. Coon, of the School of Music, in charge of arrangements.

"In bringing the Hilger sisters to the university our chief interest is to provide summer school students with concerts by the best musicians that are available," Professor Coon said. "The Hilger sisters are highly recognized among audiences and the musical profession."

Tickets at 50 cents, 75 cents and $1 will be placed on sale Monday morning at Hook brothers, and at Forbes-Meagher music stores, and at the University pharmacy.

LANGDONS TRIM LUTHERANS, 1-11

Game A Comedy Of Errors;
Radke Strikes Out
Twelve

BY F. E. ELWYN

The Lutherans entered the baseball race late, but judging from their initial performance on the lower campus Tuesday afternoon, they are not a dark horse. With a porous infield, an infield like a sieve, and a battery which resembled the Spaniards at Manila Bay, they went down to an inglorious 11-1 defeat at the hands of Orcutt's men. Orcutt seems to have succeeded Radke as manager of the Langdon street outfit.

The Lutherans garnered two hits off Radke in the five frames played, while the Langdons aided by lucky hops and holes in the fences, collected nine hits—one of them a fluke home run by Clark.

Meyland Gentleman Twirler

Mr. Meyland and his teammates were very kind to the Langdons, allowing them to score in every inning. Meyland twirled as a true gentleman should, putting out his thumb as a signal for his curve ball, and then laying it over the middle of the platter.

The lone marker of the Lutherans was made in the fourth inning. Meyland drew a free ticket from Radke, and went around the bases while Giles and Lacy were endeavoring to get the ball back into the infield.

If there were any bright spots in the game, they were Clark's hitting and Schilke's catch in center field. Clark smacked a home run, a double and a single in three trips to the plate, while Schilke made a nice catch of Jenison's fly in the fourth inning.

On Thursday the Coaching school and Langdon street will play again. The lead is at stake.

Versus

VERSUS

We're all of the opinion that outside of a few minor mishaps and miscues the water carnival Saturday was a "swimming" success. Everyone had at least one genuine thrill (yes, even the girls from Smith) when Corbet, the flashy Northwestern diver broke the board on the high dive during one of his preliminary trials and sprawled flat into the drink from that dizzy height.

Max Simpkins also had some bad luck on that board. Max spoiled his chances for a first place in this event when he slipped on the wet planks on his fourth dive and had to be content with hitting the water without breaking his back.

Someone has suggested to the writer that Prof. John R. Common be appointed the noted arbitrator, to make a redistribution of the prizes given Saturday. We have it absolutely straight that the man who won the golf socks doesn't wear knickers, the man who won the bathing suit already has five good ones, and the girl that copped the curling iron doesn't employ such instruments to enhance her feminine charms.

That tilting battle reminded us of one of those jousts indulged in by the knights of old. The six man canoe race was also a thriller; two out of the three canoes entered spilled their contents into the water.

The sunny South was well represented in the meet by the announcer, Spencer, who gave the audience an abbreviated course in southern "brogue". (Yes, that's the truth; he wasn't drunk). We were disappointed, however, when some of the Southern girl entries withdrew because of the coldness of the water.

Oh say, I almost forgot to mention that the boys that were running the meet are very anxious to let you know that the meet was unavoidably delayed and they really couldn't help it. You see, Irv Gerber, who was to referee and judge the dives got stuck in the sand over at Indianola. Believe me?

We all take off our hats to Conover, Bardeen, and Miss Wells. They were certainly the three shining stars of the day and make a great trio of performers.

If you all got any kicks or bouquets to pass out to this column they will be lovingly received by

DOUBLES MATCHES START IN TOURNEY

Third Round Singles Matches Feature Week's Play

Several exceedingly interesting matches resulted over the week end in the summer session tennis tournament. Up to Saturday, tennis fans were wondering what the highly touted William Worth Bean, III, could do against the university singles champion, Mr. Proctor Wright. Strange as it may seem, "Proc" literally walked all over "William Worth" by not even allowing him a single game in the two sets played in the match. A score of 6-0, 6-0 decided the match.

In the doubles tournament, several good matches were recorded. The combination of "Proc" Wright and Orie Wernecke won a hard fought match from the oriental Louie brothers, after the match had gone to the third set. The first set went to the victors in easy fashion, and after they had been within one point of taking the second set several times, the Louie brothers displayed unusual fighting spirit and stamina, and won out. The third set was easily taken by Wright and Wernecke.

Royce and Guettler also had an interesting match with Mowry and Porter. Royce and Guettler had a hard time winning the first set 7-5, but their display of strokes was too much for the other combination, so they copped in good style, 3.

The third round of the singles, and the second round of the doubles tournament will be over by the middle of the week, it is hoped, and fans can well afford to visit the varsity courts to see some "hot" tennis going on.

POLITICS OF DANTE IS LIPARI'S THIRD TALK

"Farinata", the title of the third lecture of the series which is being given by Professor A. Lipari on Dante, deals with politics. Dante and Farinata were of different political parties and this canto vividly depicts the situation as Dante saw it. "It is the political canto par excellance", said Professor Lipari.

"Cap" Knows Lake Moods; Predicts Decrease in Risks

"Yeah, it looked like a burning cottage across the lake," commented Captain Isabell on the launch catastrophe of the night before.

Thus "Cap" adds another to hundreds of thrilling reminiscences. It is just an everyday occurrence to the life-saving captain who rescues perhaps sixty persons from Lake Mendota each year.

If Captain Isabell wanted to, he could tell you more adventurous stories than are found in many books. Fierce storms and sudden squalls have risen suddenly, and half drowned boaters have clung desperately to overturned canoes, when it seemed that each driving wave would end the exhausting struggle. Then Captain Isabell would come to the rescue at the critical moment.

Each change of mood in the lake, the land-marks along the shore, and the little dots which are distant canoeists, are significant to the captain and his cronies, who lounge on the bench on the pier. No incident passes the notice of their distance trained eyes.

It's hard to tell accidents in the distance," says Captain Isabell, as he squints out over the dazzling waves. "The weather has been bad this year, but everything is all right so far. This is the height of the season, but the risks will be less from now on."

BLANTON WILL DIRECT CHILD GUIDANCE SCOOOL

With the announcement that Prof. Smiley Blanton of the speech department will leave the university at the end of the summer session, comes another announcement to the effect that William Tannevitz '23, joins the same department here. Professor Blanton will be director of the Minneapolis Child Guidance school. Tannevitz has been active in dramatic work ever since he entered the university and a one-act play, "A Matter of Choice" which he wrote several years ago, has been produced on the campus several times.

WHY?

The following communication was addressed to The Proletarian—and since it came to the office of The Cardinal, it might as well be run in the columns of The Cardinal. To The Editor:

Why is it the library lowers the windows only a few inches at night, making reading a most uncomfortable task?

Why don't the instructors dismiss their classes on time? Why hold a class five minutes after the bell rings?

Why do the professors and pseudo professors assign the next lesson after the bell rings for dismissal?

CURIOS.

And why, we ask in turn, why did you send this to The Proletarian? And why, since it was addressed to that paper, why, oh why, did it come to this office?

STEALING THE HORSE

Now that the horse has been stolen, it is high time to lock the doors.

It seems almost impossible to get through a school term without having some fraternity house entered in the dead of night by thieves and despoiled of many of its valuables. It happened last summer, it happened last semester, it has happened this summer. A casual observer might deservedly have as little respect for the men in the various fraternity houses as he has for the thieves. For, so long as the students persist in leaving their front doors wide open to the night, just so long will they fail to be immune from robbery.

It would not be a difficult thing for some one in the dead of night to enter any fraternity house on the campus and move out everything but the paper on the wall. I get away with it literally and figuratively speaking. It would be a simple task for him to move out the grand piano, the tables, the chairs and the rugs, and pack them all off in a truck while the boys slept peacefully upstairs, and those few who might be awake would think that any possible noise was made by some late home-comers raising Cain.

Until the men in the fraternity houses see fit to lock their doors at a certain hour and leave the key in some designated place, there will be similar robberies on the campus. Many houses, to be sure, have no keys, but it is a simple matter to have them made.

TRY IT ONCE

"Oh, I have a topic on Ibsen to write, and I don't know what the prof wants. It's just my luck to say something that he doesn't agree with at all," she complained.

Well the best we can do for you little girl, is to advise you to go up to the library and get a critical work on Ibsen by some unknown authority, and paraphrase his stuff. It would never do to take a popular critic, because the instructor is liable to have read him, and would catch you right off. You're safe with a more obscure man, though; the staff doesn't know any more about him than you do.

Fine advise this to give a student. Truth is that way down in our mirthful souls we are clowning. That is not the way to get a topic at all. To do less clowning:

There is scarcely a professor on the hill that has not pleaded with his students to say what they think—not what they have read. What he wants is the individual reactions and observations. They are the only things that count anyway.

He wants the students to think. That is the big word. For those who have never heard it before, we will explain that it is spelled t-h-i-n-k. Try doing it sometime, fellow students. If you do it once a day, it will help; and then later you may come to do it without trying.

To be explicit, for your next topic get together little or no material and write what you think, and if the instructor says it is wrong, tell him that that was what you thought and if he doesn't like it he can. . . .

He'll like it!

To Present Names Chosen Here at State A. C. Meet

Candidates for directors of the state association of commerce to be formed at a meeting in Appleton early next month, selected at a meeting of secretaries of associations of the fourth district here, will be submitted to the general state committee charged with selecting officers. The committee will meet this week. Among those attending the meeting here were Don E. Mowry, secretary of the Madison Association of Commerce; J. A. Craig, Janesville, chairman of the committee to select officers for the state organization; R. W. Holcombe, La Crosse, and Oscar Nelson, Janesville.

Coupe Damaged On West Side In Car Collision

The Presbyterian synod of Wisconsin will be held at Camp Cleg-horn, near Waupaca, this week. The Rev. George E. Hunt, pastor of Christ Presbyterian church, will attend. It is expected that the proposed merger of the Congregational and Presbyterian churches will come up for discussion.

CAMP DOUGLAS SCENE OF NATL GUARD MEET

Plans for the annual state National Guard field and track meet have been completed by Athletic director Earl "Keg" Driver, former varsity freshman football coach at the university. The meet will be held at Camp Douglas, Wisconsin, on Friday, July 25th, and hundreds of motorists from all corners of the state will journey to the camp with great expectations.

Badger Stars Feature

Several former and present Wisconsin varsity track men will compete in the field meet, among whom are "Mac" McAndrews, star Badger 100-yd dash man and broad jumper, and "Army" Armstrong, former Wisconsin hurdler and high jumper. Armstrong has won the individual point honors for several years, but this year McAndrews should give him a close run.

Keen rivalry exists among the companies which aggregate a total of more than 3500 men. The entire camp is in readiness to put over one of the best meets in the history of the camp.

Coach T. E. Jones, director of the Athletic department of the university, and Coach "Jack" Ryan will officiate at the games.

Memorial Fountain to Be Placed This Season

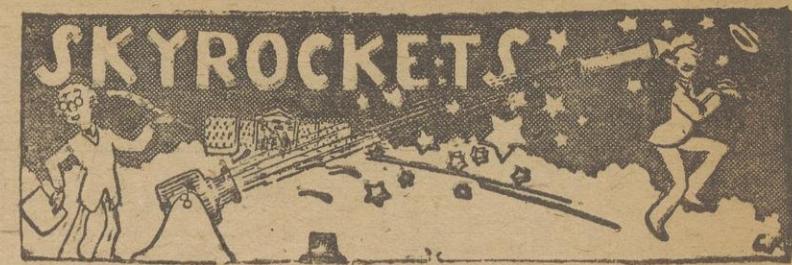

The Annie C. Stewart Memorial fountain will be completed and placed in Henry Vilas park before the end of the present season, E. N. Warner, president of the Madison Park and Pleasure Drive association, announced Friday.

Frederick C. Clasgård, Cincinnati, O., in charge of the sculpturing is here awaiting the arrival of the center piece.

The bowl has been built and is protected by a building erected over it at the park. The fountain is to be at the end of Erin st.

Funds for the fountain were furnished by Mrs. Mary C. Stewart who left $2,000 of her estate to be used to erect the memorial to her daughter.

No program to commemorate the memorial fountain is being planned, Mr. Warner said.

ON WISCONSIN

The ever alert Wisconsin co-eds are instigators of many fashions. The latest lunch etiquette is to eat ice cream by using the old family toothbrush.

P. S. Our co-eds in their honest endeavors may they always be right, but our co-eds right or wrong.

The co-eds who have given you the cold shoulder this summer will be looking for a Coleman next winter.

OUR IDEA

Of a time-killer, is the fellow who starts to tell his instructor what he doesn't know about a foreign language—

Of a brave young man, is the fellow who will wear one of those black and red stripe coats in the spring and summer. The stripes run up and down—

Of a dumb room-mate, is the fellow who sits down once a week to fill out his diary and asks us what he has done. How inhe do we know.

Book and Book Mark

BY NIT WIT

And now the Harper short-story contest is ended. And the winner of the best one is Alice Brown, a well-known writer from Boston. Miss Brown's story, which will be printed in the August Harper's, is called "The Girl In The Tree." The prize certainly came from the hand of illustrious judges—Zona Gale, Meredith Nicholson, and Bliss Perry.

Rose Macaulay, whose book "Potterism" made her famous about four years ago, has written another novel which far outshines the former. Like the first, this new book "Told By An Idiot" is satirical, and not very delicately so either. It is a story of the last three generations which Miss Macaulay labeled midvictorians, Edwardians, and Georgians for our own period.

And Joseph Hergesheimer that exponent of garbage and ash alley realistic fiction, has just finished his autobiography which he parts with at the price of ten dollars. To most folks Joseph comes rather high at that figure. He calls his overcharged for book, "The Presbyterian Child." The book of course deals with Joseph's pious youth and throws keen little spot lights on his pious elders.

But oh, the names of the modern novel! What infamies are created in the name of a title! Listen to this, "Pink Sugar." The George Doran publishing company has just put it out. Yes, it's an old-fashioned love story but not so cloyingly sweet as the title would imply.

And where does your favorite author get his inspiration? Henry Meade Williams, author of "Tides," says he gets his copy while hiking over the whole U. S. equipped with a pack, a canteen, and a trusty pipe.

"So Bill" still holds its place as the best novel of the season. Indeed it is so big that most people predict Edna Ferber is just getting started. Her first novels which she wrote at the age of twenty-four, and which were really wonderful for one so young, had nothing in them to forecast this book which is as good as some of the best Russian books of the last decade.

East Side Homes Deserted As All Go to Park Frolic

Madison's East Side was the modern "Deserted Village" after 10 o'clock Wednesday morning for all the good housewives had folded the breakfast cloth for the day, packed the baskets with picnic goodies, locked the doors, stepped into the front seat with "hubby", packed the children into the back seat and joined the annual East Side picnic where the annual East Side picnic was on in full force all day and evening.

The East Side Business Men's band headed the procession of cars which wended its way up First st. to E. Washington ave. to Blount st., up Blount st. to E. Main st. to the capitol square, down Pinckney st. to E. Mifflin st., down Mifflin st. to N. Carroll st., up Carroll st. to W. Washington ave., down W. Washington ave., to S. Park st. out Park st. to Lakeside st. and then to Olin park.

Contests for the young and the old, the fats and lean, the middle aged, the dangerous aged, the lazy and the industrious, the storekeepers, the customers, the clerks, the stenographers, the brides and the grooms and the plain ordinary citizens, had been arranged by the games committees until there was no need of anyone parking under a tree to acquire an appetite.

Members of the band will furnish the music for the dance to be held in the auditorium Wednesday night. The boys declare that they are all ready to provide some of the best strains that one-and two-steppers, waltzers, syncopation fans and circle two-steppers ever launched forth on a polished floor.

Illinois Group On Dells Trip Saturday

Reservations for the Illinois club trip to the Dells have exceeded expectations, according to Rice Miller, president of the organization, since more than 40 students have signified their intentions of making the excursion next Saturday.

Any one driving up in his own car can make arrangements to join the Illinois party and to secure lunch.

The United Women's club and their friends will hold a picnic Thursday afternoon at the Breckheimer cottage on Lake Monona.

"Badger Fat" Is A Real Product

"Something new every day," quoth Don Mowry, executive secretary of the Madison Association of Commerce, as he passed a letter across the desk to a reporter Monday. "What I would like to know is, what is it all about?"

The letter, from J. Brunsting, Kalamazoo, Mich., voiced a request for "badger fat" with the statement that the Badger state ought to know something about it.

"What do you suppose badger fat is for?" the executive secretary asked.

The scribe not being able to help him out, and as reference was made in the letter to the fact that Michigan druggists had been unable to help the applicant, Mr. Mowry called the Madison Drug Co.

"Sure, we got it," was the word from the drug company. "It is used as a base for ointments."

sacking a girls' rooming house was altogether different from robbing a fraternity house when the A. T. O. house was entered at 1 o'clock Monday night. Mrs. Montgomery first became aware of the presence of a male in her domain when she heard heavy footsteps outside her door at the top of the stairs on the second floor.

Woman Gives Chase

At first she thought it was one of the girls, but heyness of the tread convinced her that it was a man. Armed with a small pistol in her right hand and in her left a slipper which bore a high French heel, she issued forth from her room, only to find that the man had disappeared. A call was immediately put in at the Alpha Delt house next door, but when the men arrived, no trace could be found of the intruder except a coat and cap which are believed to belong to him.

Coat is Only Clue

Matches scattered all over the floor at the back door of the house indicated that the man entered there and, finding no light, used his matches to see whether there were any valuables about. For the benefit of future prowlers, it is announced that the back door will be locked in the future.

The intruder turned out every light in the house as he proceeded through it, according to the report.

The coat and cap are the only clues thus far obtained in the three robberies that have been perpetrated this summer.

that the knowledge and thoughts of the French people of the Middle Ages were expressed in stone and stained glass. Their thoughts and ideas were presented by artists whose work has not been rivaled in this line. Theology, poetry, science, natural history, and philosophy were expressed in symbolic language. Many people who visit these immense cathedrals are impressed only by the massiveness of the building and the coloring of the glass, little realizing that the ideas expressed are historical, Biblically or nationally, and are carried out through symbolism.

Episcopalians Plan Pageant and Lunch for Sunday Night

A pageant, entitled "The Vision All Hollow Ede," will be given Sunday on the lawn behind the Saint Francis house following the regular cost supper. "All Episcopal students and their friends are cordially invited to attend," Miss Louis Sharp, secretary of the Saint Francis house, said.

"A trip to the Dells on August 2 will be the climax of the summer school social schedule. The party is limited to 25 so all desiring to go are urged to register and purchase tickets at Saint Francis house before July 29. A special Grayhound bus will be chartered," Miss Sharp said.

Confraternity of the Blessed Sacrament will be administered every Thursday at 8:15 o'clock in the chapel.

DOLLARD NAMED CHIEF RECORDER

Butts Is Made Assistant In New Office To Keep Records

The organization of the new university office of recorder, recently established by the board of regents, has been completed and the staff in charge will commence this week to perform its first task of securing in a permanent file current data and information concerning every student who has ever registered at the University of Wisconsin.

A stenographical force directed by John Dollard '22 who has been appointed recorder by the regents, and Porter F. Butts '24, who has been named assistant recorder, will begin immediately to transcribe the records of Wisconsin's 17,000 graduates now kept by the Alumni association. This work will be followed by an attempt to compile a record of all of the 20,000 non-graduates, with present addresses and occupations.

This information has not heretofore been available in complete form.

Eventually the office will expect to supply to university departments any information that they may desire concerning the whereabouts and activities of graduates and non-graduates, all of whom will be catalogued alphabetically, geographically, and by classes. formerly have

Dollard

These records have been kept by the Alumni association for the university, but never in a complete and up-to-date form because the Alumni office has been handicapped through lack of funds and time. The regents, therefore, anxious to have at all times complete information concerning Wisconsin's graduates and non-graduates, have established a separate and distinct office of recorder and have granted adequate funds for the efficient conduct of its work.

The office of recorder, while an innovation here, has precedents in many other colleges and universities, notably at the University of Michigan where the University Catalogue office keeps minutely accurate and detailed records of all Michigan graduates and ex-students and publishes at frequent intervals a directory of such information.

To supply adequate work room and filing space for the Recorder's office, the Memorial Union headquarters and the Alumni headquarters, which occupy the building at 821 State street, an addition to the building is planned. Construction probably will be completed this summer.
