WOMEN STUDENTS' VOCATIONAL WEEK BEGINS MARCH 3

Conferences Are Mainly For Underclass Women Without Definite Aims

"Vocational week", which will be held here, March 3-7, for women students is mainly for the benefit of the underclass women, according to Louise Tobey '24, chairman of the S. G. A. vocational committee. "Nearly every upperclass woman has chosen her profession, but the women who have not decided upon a vocation will have a chance at the conference, to meet and receive expert advice from women who have specialized in various vocations," said Miss Tobey.

Hold Five Conferences

Meetings will be held in Lathrop parlors from 4:30 to 5:30 o'clock every afternoon during the five days of the conference, except on Wednesday, March 5, when the lecture will start at 3:30.

The programs will include addresses by people prominent in the different professions and vocations, among them Miss Florence Jackson, Boston, Mass., who will open the conference on Monday. Other speakers will be Miss Eliza Butler, national personnel Y. W. C. A. secretary, J. H. Mathews, director of the course in chemistry and Prof. W. G. Bleyer of the Course in Journalism.

Vocational Service for Women

The conference is a part of the plan of S. G. A. to maintain a vocational service in the university for the women students. A vocational committee of five carries on the work during the year, aided by C. B. Flett, of the office of the dean of women and also by 15 technical advisors in different departments of the university. This committee investigates the fields of women's vocations and compiles information of opportunities for women in the business world.

RECOGNIZE UNION ASSISTING STAFF

Board Will Publish Names of Auxiliary Workers Next Week

Announcement of the members of the Union board assisting staff which was arranged for early in January will be made within a week or ten days according to John C. Dawson '24, president of the board. The men will be chosen from among those who have been working for recommendation of the board in the spring elections.

This staff was formed to give recognition to men who are carrying on work of the board while not actually members. Publication in the form of a Badger page also may be made.

Men who work on the coming Heifetz concert will be eligible for the staff provided they do the minimum required work. Freshmen, sophomores, or juniors who wish to work on this concert may apply to Lester Kissel '25, at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the Union building.

Caisson to Hear Horse Specialist

Professor John J. Yoke, formerly of the University of Illinois, will address the members of the Caisson club at 7 o'clock tonight in the Y. M. C. A. A short business meeting will precede the talk and refreshments will be served afterwards.

ANNUAL PRICE $4 ON 'BADGER DAY'

Wisconsin Has Edge on Illinois in Maplesden Cup Race

The price of the Badger will remain at $4 during the sale on "Badger day", Thursday, March 6, instead of being raised to $4.50, as was the case last year, Willis Sullivan '25, business manager of the 1925 Badger announced last night. "Although we had considered raising the price to $4.50 after the fall sales as usual," Sullivan said. "We discovered that many persons had not been solicited so we decided to keep the price at $4 for the sale next week."

Reductions in the price of organization pages are also contemplated if the sales on "Badger day" mount up to expectations of the staff. More advertising has been secured than last year, and if 800 Badgers can be sold next Thursday, it will be possible to reduce the price of organization pages to $35, according to Ellis G. Fulton '25, editor.

The Maplesden trophy, to be awarded to the Badger or to the Illio, the Illinois annual, may be won by Wisconsin if the "Badger day" campaign is successful. The Badger has the larger percentage of sales thus far and as the trophy is to be awarded to the school selling annuals to the highest percentage of enrolled students.

CLEF CLUB HEARS THIRTEEN WOMEN

Successful Candidates Will Be Announced Soon; Entire Club Judges

Thirteen women tried out for membership in Clef club last night at Music hall. Tryouts were limited to five minutes and consisted of one musical number and a sight-reading test. Seven of the applicants gave vocal selections and six piano. The successful candidates will be announced within the next day or two, according to Erma Duncan '24, who had charge of tryouts.

The program at the regular meeting of Clef club to be held tonight will be on the subject, "Eight Women Pianists." It will include a paper on the lives and work of these women musicians and selections from music they have composed. Elizabeth Mason '25 and Helen Brodd '25 have charge of the program.

Clef club is planning an open program to be held at Music hall in the latter part of March, at which all its various lines of activity will be presented.

RELIGIOUS MEET OPENS TOMORROW WITH EDDY TALK

Interviewer of Britain's New Premier Will Give Series of Five Addresses

Interviewing Ramsay MacDonald, premier of Great Britain, was part of the recent world tour of Dr. G. Sherwood Eddy, principal speaker at the opening meeting of the all-university religious conference, to be held in Lathrop hall tomorrow, Saturday night, and Sunday.

Dr. Eddy was in England studying conditions and had a conference with the leader of the Labor party. Since that time, the Labor party has gained a majority and is in control of the government.

Has Traveled Widely

Telling of the opinions of MacDonald and other political and industrial leaders, Dr. Eddy will give five talks and hold special discussions after the meetings. The speaker has been in 22 countries and in all of them has interviewed the leaders, political, industrial and religious.

"This opportunity to hear firsthand information from a man who has seen and studied conditions in these countries should not be neglected by the students of the university," said Gamber F. Tegtmeyer, general chairman.

Spoke at Indianapolis

At the Student Volunteer conference held in Indianapolis during the past Christmas vacation, Dr. Eddy was the main speaker. The Wisconsin delegation was unanimous in its expression of approval of the leader of the religious conference.

A meeting for representatives of all the fraternities will be held in the fellowship room of the Y. M. C. A. tonight. The men will be the guests of the Junior council. Chet Hartlett, student secretary of Wisconsin, will speak to the men on Dr. Eddy and the religious conference.

Second Glee Club Almost Assured as Fifty Test Voices

The establishment of a second glee club at the university was fully assured last evening when tryouts were held for about 35 men in Prof. E. Swinney's office. With the number of men who tried out previously and those who have appointments for later tryouts, the total will approximate 50. Nearly all of those who tried out will be given a chance to practice with the second club.

"Many promising voices have been discovered," Professor Swinney said concerning the club, "and by spring we hope to have developed a fine nucleus to choose from for the first club in the fall."

The first rehearsal of the second club will be held next week, it is announced, and once a week after that until the end of the semester.

DEBATERS SELECTED AT MENORAH TRYOUTS

Herman Moser, Law 4, Morton Steinberg '24, and Jack Lipman '24, were selected last night at the debating tryouts held by the Menorah society in the S. G. A. rooms to represent the Menorah society in the forthcoming Wisconsin-Northwestern Menorah debate. The selection was made by a member of the speech department who acted as judge during the tryouts. The question debated last night was "Resolved that Zionism as represented by the World Zionist congress is the most potential solution to the Jewish problem."

WESTERN S. G. A. CONVO TO START APRIL 23

Announcement of the Western sectional convention of Women's Self-Government associations which will be held at Columbia, Missouri, April 23 to 26, was made at the S. G. A. board meeting in Lathrop parlors last night.

Marketing is Big Problem, Says Park

"The problem of cooperative marketing is the biggest problem facing the business man today," said Sam R. Park of the Cray brokerage company, Waukesha, at a meeting of the Advertising club held last night in the Y. W. C. A.

"There is an increasing lack of interest between the farmer and the city broker. Co-operatives cannot make money today because their conception of business is wrong. A move for intelligent co-operative marketing must be made in Wisconsin in the next year and a half," Mr. Park said.

MILITARY BALL TO BE IN STATEHOUSE

Permission Granted to Hold Annual Dance in Capitol Building

Permission has been obtained to hold the twelfth annual Military ball in the state capitol building on April 4.

Gov. John J. Blaine has suggested that the Cadet corps of the university take charge of this annual military social function which will commemorate Wisconsin's record for all the wars in which this state has taken part.

"Governor Blaine extended an invitation to the cooperating military organizations of the state to give a Military ball in commemoration of Wisconsin's soldiers living and dead," said Cadet Colonel Howard B. Lyman, who was appointed Tuesday to lead the ball.

The affair is placed under the direct management of the cadet corps because it is thought that this body is in a better position to sponsor such a function than other organizations not so closely organized.

"Military organizations included in the governor's invitation, and expected to cooperate in the effort to have the ball properly commemorate the state's war record are the American Legion, the Reserve Officers corps, the Spanish War Veterans and the Gun and Blade club," Lyman said.

REVOLUTION LEADS TO ECONOMIC RUIN

—SOROKINE

Russians Divert Energy From Private to State Enterprises

"Revolution leads to the destruction of the economic life of the revolutionary society," said Professor Pitirim Sorokine, of the University of Petrograd, in his lecture yesterday afternoon, on "The Sociology of Revolution."

Professor Sorokine gave graphic illustrations of what, in his mind, is the failure of revolution in his own country, Russia. There the economic situation is vastly changed, he declared.

"Equalization of economic conditions is one of the most important results of a revolution. The difference between rich and poor, which has always been so distinct has almost entirely disappeared.

"There is no definite event that can be classed as the result of the revolution. The most noticeable thing is the change in the human beings composing the revolutionary society. Their energy is diverted from private enterprises to state functioning," concluded Professor Sorokine.

NO LATHROP DANCES HELD THIS WEEKEND

Union board dances will not be held this weekend either Friday or Saturday because of the all-university religious convocation which will be held in Lathrop hall on those evenings, according to Sam Thompson '24, who has charge of the dances. The regular dances will be held again next week-end.

KENNEDY PLAYERS ENTERTAINED AT N. C. P. BANQUET

Actors Will Appear in "The Chastening" Tonight at Music Hall

That the basis of dramatic talent is inborn but can be developed and increased by instruction and practice is the belief of Charles Rant Kennedy, noted dramatist and playwright who last night commented upon collegiate dramatic courses, at a banquet given him and his company by National Collegiate players.

The Kennedy Players will present "The Chastening," their newest play, at 8 o'clock this evening at Music hall, under the auspices of National Collegiate players.

Played in New York

"The Chastening" was given last year at the 48th street theater in New York and ran for eight weeks there. It was considered by critics to be one of the best plays of the season.

In addition to Kennedy there are Edith Wynne Matthison, wife of the actor, and Margaret Gage in the company. "The Chastening," a modern morality discussing the question of children, was written especially for this cast. All three actors are members of the Actor's Equity association and have taken an active part in its promotion. They expressed themselves last night in believing that the managers would come to terms with the association by spring time in the present theatrical controversy in New York.

Praised by Post

When the play which will be presented tomorrow night was opened on Broadway, the New York Evening Post wrote:

"This, in more senses of the word than one, is an extraordinary work. It is uncommon in its nature, its originality, its inspiring sincerity, and considering its lack of external action, its remarkable dramatic effectiveness, it is a most notable and most moving work, noble in intent and admirable in execution, whether measured by canons of literary or dramatic criticism. From any point of view it is an honor to the stage. And it is almost perfectly acted, with all the finish that comes of technical skill combined with intellectual comprehension and the utmost sincerity. Scholar, actor, and skilful playwright, Mr. Kennedy, is one of the few writers who believe that the stage is a potential engine for didactic and spiritual purposes and has the courage to abide by his convictions."

Some tickets for the performance this evening are left and will be on sale at the door, according to managers. The price of seats is $1.50 and $1.

PYRAMIDS SUBJECT OF ART LECTURE

Professor Showerman Gives Talk on Ancient Crafts in Egypt

That the pyramids in Egypt are as big as the capital park was the statement made by Prof. Grant M. Showerman of the Fine Arts department in a lecture on "Ancient Arts and Crafts" last night before the Arts and Crafts club in 112 Bascom hall.

The average height of these pyramids is 600 feet and enough building material is used in each one to build a city of 120,000 inhabitants. About 3,000,000 blocks of stone, weighing two and a half tons each, are required for a single pyramid.

Professor Showerman illustrated his talk with slides most of which were taken on his trip to Egypt two years ago.

100,000 Feet of Film Made By
This Year

Approximately 100,000 feet of film have been made this year by the university photographic laboratory, on the fourth floor of the old soil's building.

Here there are large workrooms under the supervision of Dr. Diemer in which everything is made that can be handled by photography; motion pictures, lantern slides and photographs, large and microscopic.

The films are manufactured and reproduced and all the technical work done in the laboratory, but the movies are distributed through the department of visual instruction, under Prof. W. H. Dudley.

"Whenever there is a call for motion pictures of campus activities or the like, we take them," said Professor Diemer. Among some of the films made this year are those of fall football games, the latest film being that of Wisconsin's seventy-fifth birthday cake in the process of its making. "Many of the films of campus activities are shown at local theaters," said Professor Diemer, but it is a film has particular instructional value it is distributed through the Extension division to many other places.

Besides the film making which is a very interesting feature of the work the department is responsible for many other kinds of photographic work. The laboratory co-operates with every department in the university, where any form of photography is necessary, especially in the agricultural and science departments, where so many photographs are needed to illustrate facts. In the medical field, X-rays are taken; in the agricultural field photos of different kinds of soils and plants. The laboratory is even a sort of a detective agency, helping to arrive at certain solutions by taking enlarged photographs of finger prints and following other clues.

Photographs of campus buildings and scenes are also made in the laboratory, many of them being used to illustrate university pamphlets and books; Pictures are also made for personal orders.

AUTHOR WILL LECTURE ON WOMEN PROBLEM

"The Girl of Today and Woman of Tomorrow" will be the topic on which Mrs. Beatrice Forbes-Robertson Hale, one of the stage's former artists and an author and lecturer, who will speak at the Civics club at a luncheon meeting, Saturday. TEACHING POSITIONS OPEN TO GRADUATES

The American council of education has sent blank forms to the dean of the Graduate school, for graduate students, who are seeking teaching positions next fall, to fill out. Schumann-Heink Gives Concert at Parkway Tonight

Madame Schumann-Heink, regarded as the world's finest contralto, will appear at the Parkway tonight.

Since her debut at the Metropolitan opera house in 1898, she has had roles in light and grand opera, but in 1906 she returned to the concert stage.

She has endeared herself to all America through her service during the world war. Since then she has continued her work, traveling half way across the continent at her own expense to sing at a veteran's convention, or at a navy or army hospital, or one of the navy convalescent or rehabilitation institutions.

Madame Schumann-Heink has won a place as "mother" in the hearts of the dough-boys as well as in the affections of her seven children. The maturity of 62 years is said to have enriched and mellowed the voice music-lovers have ever deemed it a privilege to hear.

Shooter For Badgers in First Competition

Wisconsin co-ed rifle shooters triumphed in their first inter-collegiate meet by defeating the rifle team of Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical college by a score of 471 to 469. Considering that the team is newly organized and that many of the members had never fired a shot before this winter, this success against Oklahoma may be considered great, according to Major L. L. Lampert.

Badgers Consistent

Although the highest individual score for Oklahoma was 100 and for Wisconsin only 94, Wisconsin's lowest scores of the first five and of the entire ten were above those of its rival. In fact, the drop in the latter's scoring was severe, while the Wisconsin team showed more steadiness and uniformity.

All of the ten members of the two teams fired, but only the scores of the first five highest figured in the grand total.

Winston High Badger Scorer

Members and their individual scores for Wisconsin are as follows: Marie Wells '27, 96; Gertrude Graham '27, 94; Bargar Bacon '27, 94; Alice Winston '25, 94; Helen Brodd '25, 93; Florence Allen '27, 90; Jessie Groesbeck '25, 90; Ferne Fortnum '25, 90; Katherine White '26, 89; Eloise Blakslee '26, 87.

The scores for Oklahoma ran 100, 94, 93, 99, 91, 90, 88, 81, 79.

WASHINGTON — The numerous bills pending in congress calling for large appropriations are regarded by President Coolidge as disturbing to the prosperity and welfare of the country.

Triangle and Phi Sigma Kappa are still tied for first place in the interfraternity bowling league after winning two games each in the fourth round of the finals Tuesday night.

The complete results for the fourth round of the finals are: Phi Sigma Kappa 2, Sigma Phi Epsilon 1; Triangle 2, Alpha Chi Sigma 1; Zeta Psi 2, Phi Gamma Delta 1; Delta Tau Delta 2, Beta Theta Pi 1.

DO NOT SKATE ON
SOFT ICE—MARTIN

Students are asked to keep off the ice during the day. "The ice is too soft to skate on during the afternoon due to the warm noon sun," George Martin, director of winter sports, says. "The rink freezes at night and is fine for skating since it has been flooded. As long as it freezes after dark the toboggan slide can also be used."

READY FOR HAWKSWire Meet Tomorrow Gives Promise of Being Close Contest

Wisconsin's freshman track team will participate in its first telegraphic meet of the 1924 season, when it competes against the Iowa first year men tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

This will be the fifth time the freshmen of these two schools have entered telegraphic competition. Wisconsin defeated the Hawkeyes in the previous meets, but unless the Badger first year men make a better showing than they have in the intra-mural meets, the string of victories may be broken.

All freshmen and track athletes who are not eligible for varsity competition because of the one-year residence rule will be able to compete Friday.

"Because the marks made by the first three men will be sent to Iowa in this telegraphic meet, I urge every freshman who has participated in any track activity to enter," Coach Mead Burke declared. "I would like to have at least six in each event."

Although there will be no relay race, ten events will compose the indoor games. The events are the 40-yard dash, 40-yard high hurdles, 440-yard dash, 880-yard dash, one mile run, two-mile run, high jump, broad jump, pole vault, and shot put.

U. S. Must Adopt
Immigration Plan,
Says Lescohier

To decide whether the number of immigrants to the United States is so large that it lowers the standard of American living, and whether the immigrants are coming into this country too rapidly to be assimilated with American stock, are the problems of American citizens, in the opinion of Prof. D. Lescohier, university economist, who spoke before the Lions club Tuesday at the Park hotel.

"America is convinced today that it must decide on an immigration policy," said Prof. Lescohier. "Present proposals point toward restriction of immigration as numbers."

Herbert Brockhausen also spoke, and Dr. C. H. Mills and L. J. Padjem were introduced as new members.

Bowling is Most Popular in Co-ed
Gym Registration

With approximately 360 registered in the bowling classes, report of the Women's gym registration at Lathrop hall yesterday shows that this sport is taking the lead in the various sports activities.

Dancing follows as a close second to bowling with a registration of about 350. Basketball and swimming vie closely for third place, the former showing a registration of nearly 280, and the latter 268. Figures for baseball come to about 150 rifle practice 60, skating 52, and golf about 40.

Considering the large number of students registered, interest in the various activities seems to be steadily increasing.

BOXING TOURNEY WILL START AT
GYM TOMORROWNumeral Winners Barred From Competition in Class
Fistic Matches

The opening bout in the interclass boxing tournament will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the boxing tower of the gym, Coach Ray Moore announced last night.

"Boxers who won their numerals in the tournament last year are not allowed to enter this year's competition. Entries have been made for most of the major classes," Moore said.

Eight Fights Scheduled

The schedule now includes eight matches. The boxers range from featherweights to middleweights. No entries have yet been made in the lightweight and heavyweight divisions.

"Judging from the workouts real class will be displayed in these fights. We have a larger and better group of men in training this year than last," Moore said of the entries.

Tournament in March

"We aim to get a line on our men for the all-university tournament which will be held during the middle of March."

The boxing schedule is as follows, McFadden '27, Behling '26, bantamweight; Vogel '26, Todd '27, featherweight; Quilty '25, Springberg '27, lightweight; Derzavitz '27, Aitken '26, lightweight; Wetzel '26, Gregerson '27, welterweight; Bauer '27, Megeath '26, welterweight; Church '27, Hendrickson '26, bantamweights; Wenniger '26, Albreach, middleweights.

Hitting the High
Spots with Ken

Feeling that there must be some high spots in Wisconsin's history, we solicit contributions with apologies to the Wake. Now, "Remember Way Back When—"

To reach this column communications should be addressed to Ken Cook and left at the Cardinal office, in the Cardinal box on the porch of the Union building, or mailed.

Howard Combacker, last year's baseball captain, is now freshman baseball coach by appointment of the athletic council. Combacker played shortstop on the varsity for three years and was also captain of the hockey team last year.

When the Badger swimmers go to Indiana they will swim in a tank 75 feet long and 35 feet wide. Our tank is 60 feet long and 20 feet wide. The difference in the size of the Indiana tank will work hardship on the water basketball team.

Dear Ken: Stalling in a basketball game is unsportsmanlike. It isn't giving the other team a chance to win if they have the goods to do so.

BILL JAY.

Joe Steinauer is desperately searching for plungers for his varsity team. Monday and Tuesday he worked his swimming classes on the plunge. Yesterday there was a sign by the tank. "Fat men float." Moral: if you have avoirdupois try plunging, you'll be a success.

The athletic department has hung 34 large blue print illustrations in the annex, each one depicting a man doing some track event such as running, jumping or hurdling. The prints illustrate perfect form.

OHIO HALTS PURDUE
BY 39 TO 26 SCORE

COLUMBUS, Ohio.—Ohio State, by uncanny basket shooting in the second half tonight won from Purdue 39 to 26, before the record crowd of the Western Conference for all time, 10,613 people witnessing the sixth straight victory of the Buckeyes which sets a Big Ten straight win record.

The score at the end of the half was 17 to 17 but after Purdue held a four point advantage shortly after the second period started the Ohioans pulled to the front and were never headed. Purdue also held an advantage in the first period but not for long.

Spradling and Miner each scored 13 points for their teams and were the stars of the game for their respective quintets.

HOCKEYMEN LEAVE
FOR GOPHER TILTSFritz Teich Elected Captain of Frosh Team; Nine Men
Entrain

The Wisconsin hockey team left last night for the Twin Cities where they will meet Carleton college from Northfield, Minnesota, Thursday night and the Gopher puck chasers Friday and Saturday. These games will conclude the season.

While Minnesota seems to have the Big Ten hockey title cinched the Badgers are playing in their best form and may take a game from the Gophers. Minnesota won both games when they played Wisconsin here by scores of 4 to 1 and 5 to 1.

The outcomes of the games this weekend can only make a difference in the conference standings in case Wisconsin wins both of them, which event will tie the title between Michigan and Minnesota.

Coach Blodgett will take nine men with him, including Gross, Fiske, Harris, Moran, Johnson, McLean, Ritchie, Sarles and Moulding, manager.

The frosh team has elected Fritz Teich captain. The first-year team has played good hockey this fall and furnished the varsity good competition.

DOLPHIN EXHIBITION AND TRYOUTS SET

In conjunction with the announcements of the final tryouts for the Dolphin club at 8 o'clock tonight in Lathrop pool, the date for the annual spring swimming exhibition of the club has been set for May 2 and 3.

The exhibition will feature speed contests, diving, various strokes, stunts, and perhaps water-ball.

Training will start immediately after tryouts are complete, a regular speed course will be undertaken by means of which the organization hopes to break some of the present records.

The chairman and subchairman will be elected at the next meeting, February 28. New members will also be admitted.

If any applicants are unable to be present at the last tryouts of the Dolphin club, special provision will be made for them if they will call Lois Barry B. 7402.

Kronos Invites
Varsity "Samsons"
To Vie With Him

Letters have been received by Coaches Jones and Hitchcock asking for university strong men to compete with Kronos, coming to the Orpheum Sunday, heralded as the "Samson of the Age."

Kronos's strength does not take form in the lifting of dumb-bells and weights. He can twist an iron bar into a design that it would take a force hours to make.

Kronos has been in vaudeville in this country only a few weeks. For several years he has been the sensation of Europe, reclining on a mat of nails with a heavy anvil on his chest. He invites members of the audience to hit the anvil with a sledge hammer.

at Urbana

Final selection of the cinder path men who will represent Wisconsin in the seventh annual Illinois relay carnival at Urbana on Saturday, March 1, was made yesterday afternoon.

Fifteen tracksters and Coaches T. E. Jones and Mead Burke will make the trip and the squad will leave either this afternoon or Friday afternoon at 5:40 o'clock over the Northwestern road.

Although it is difficult to predict just where the Badgers will finish in the Illinois indoor games, the Cardinals have given indications of their strength by victories over Chicago, Northwestern and Ohio, in a quadrangular meet and by a win over the Iowa track meet last Saturday.

Olympic Prospects

In the Iowa meet McAndrews, sprinter, tied the Wisconsin annex record in the 40-yard dash by running the event in 4 2-5 seconds. He defeated Brookins, Hawkeye captain and outlier, who are considered as possible candidates for the Olympic team.

Michigan and Illinois have well-balanced squads, with several outstanding stars. The Suckers appear to be strong in the relay events, while Hattendorf, Reinke, Bowen and Hubbard are almost sure point winners for the Wolverines.

Piper May Go

The men who were chosen to represent Wisconsin in the Illinois relay carnival are aptain Hammann, pole vault and broad jump; McAndrews, sprints; McGiveran, sprints and broad jump; Donohue, high jump; Jones, pole vault; Harmon, shot put; Schneider, Bergstresser, Cassidy, 1000-yard run; Vallely, Hilberts, Kennedy, Menke and Flucke, relays; and Muzzy, high hurdles.

It is probable that either Hill, Griffin, Piper or Lewis will make the trip also.

EUGENE, Oregon.—Eighteen scrub players of the University of Oregon have formed a society for those who sat on the bench throughout the entire season.

HAVE YOU AN ALIBI?

Mid-year examinations have come and gone and with them have passed the post mortems. The dean's offices, after spending two weeks in deciding the thin line of demarcation between those who are to be on probation and those who are to leave school, have again settled into the regular routine of affairs of a new semester. But we are still beset with students who are sure that they were flunked in courses not through any fault of their own and who are unfortunately not aware that their failures are the ultimate result of their own folly.

This, the beginning of a new semester, is the time when we forget our so recent experiences as bad dreams, and we set out to live a university life as we should like to have it totally irrespective of how it should be done. The same people who regard a low grade as a personal insult from the professor to their individual type of intelligence, or those who feel that they have been sadly taken advantage of because the examination was not at all what they thought it was going to be, are now philosophizing that the world, and particularly the university, is full of injustice.

As a result of such modern ideas the faculty is compelled to subject themselves as placidly and as calmly as they can to a certain group of either highly indignant, or martyr-like students. Such a situation as this is created by people who seem to think it impossible that they could fail and who immediately suspect the professor of some personal prejudice because he did not pass them.

It would be indeed pleasant if one could go through life always accounting for his failures as the result of some-one else's meanness or unfairness. But a lack of success in what one undertakes is indicative of just one of three things—laziness, sickness or inability. This classification will at least include the large majority. When one fails he had best diagnose his own trouble and prove himself strong enough to remedy it rather than be so weak as to attempt to relieve himself of personal responsibility by complaining that he was failed.

PENDING TROUBLE

Something less than a year ago Dean Goodnight called a meeting of fraternity men in the Engineering building at which he pointed out that the scholastics in the fraternities tended to become lower during the second semester than they were during the first semester. His explanation of this situation was that fraternity initiations took up so much of the pledge's time that the pledge was unable to keep his work on as high a level as he had there-to-fore.

Eligibility lists will undoubtedly be complete very soon, and the fraternities will begin in one form or another their preparations for initiations. With their advent it would be discreet on the part of the various organizations to take precautionary measures to guard against the initiation interfering in too marked a degree with the pledge's opportunities to do his university work.

The life of every fraternal organization on the campus, apart from being primarily dependent upon its men for its existence, is subject to the whims and fancies of our state law-making bodies. Can fraternity men only have a better standing than the University average, it is ample reason for their existence, and conversely, can they not, it may be considered a justification for removing them.

Rough initiation is at best not conducive to the best study conditions though it be indulged in only moderately. Too severe tactics not only deter the student from his work for a week, but for even longer; for such a space of time that his semester's grades are distinctly damaged. A very good remedy would be stricter supervision by the fraternity and a keener regard for its own as well as the pledge's interests. It would make the fraternity more secure, would create a better feeling between the university and the Greek letter societies, and would in no way alter the regard of underclassmen for their seniors.

MAKING THE MOST OF OPPORTUNITIES

Of course, it was a Saturday. And how many students will go to a lecture on that one glorious day which is free from the usual routine of studying and climbing the hill to weary afternoon classes? Mighty few. Nevertheless, how many students are there here who would jump at the opportunity to hear one of the greatest English newspaper men (which means one of the world's greatest newspaper men), a man who knows British politics from A to Z and who knows the Ramsay MacDonald labor administration even better, if possible? Quite a few.

The man is Samuel K. Ratcliffe, who spoke here last Saturday before the Madison Civic club. Those who heard his talk know him for what he is, a master of the English language such as is seldom found in careless America; a fluent, informal speaker the like of which we have a few but not many; and, as was said above, one who is thoroughly familiar with almost every phase of modern British politics and who leaves with his audience as much of that knowledge as he can give out during the course of his address.

At Grinnell college, whence he came to Madison, he talked eight times. Of course, he was here on Saturday and not Friday, which fact makes a difference. Nevertheless, he talked here to students only once and then on the spur of the moment at an afternoon tea and to an exceedingly small audience. Soon he will leave the country never to return.

He is the sort of man students should be able to hear at every opportunity.

FIRE ESCAPES

It is the university district which is chiefly implicated in the charges made Thursday before a group of Twin City officials by John Gamber, state fire marshal, to the effect that the fire regulations of the state are being grossly violated by the rooming houses in Campaign and Urbana. And so it must be the university community which applies the remedy.

Both city governments are going to inspect houses, but even before inspectors arrive, common sense should tell fraternities and landlords that conditions which force occupants of a dormitory to scramble over several beds in order to reach their own are almost bound to result in disaster in case of fire. Such flagrant violations should be corrected at once. The reports of city inspectors should bring about corrections of other evils, less apparent but still threatening to life.

The Twin Cities have suffered no loss of life due to fire in some time. If they wish to continue their record, they must wipe out conditions which make fire-traps of so many student dwelling houses. Rents are high in the university district, and the tendency is for both fraternities and landlords to crowd as many students as possible into as little space as possible.

If the landlords and fraternities cannot use discretion and see when they have reached the limit, they must be held down by some outside force.—Daily Illini.

Helping the Stude Writer

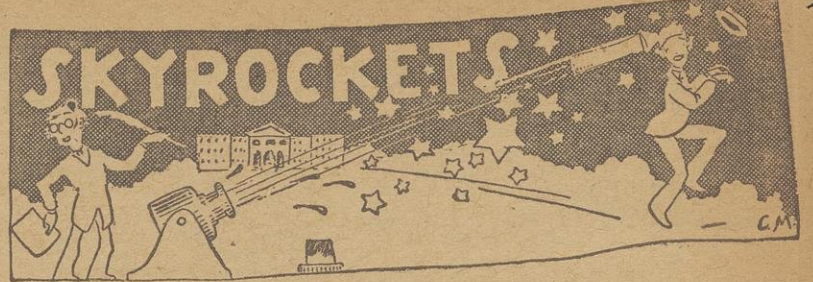

(By Recoil)

"For next time and the next—one scheduled length of beauty, and one cess-pool," quoth the English Comp. prof. solemnly.

"But there is that in me which begs to express the irony of life," cried a talented stude.

"Quiet thy huge mouth, oh fool," he stormed angrily, "we allow no such leeway here. Either mould thou rigidly into mine requirements—or get out."

The student laughed aloud, "God of a pig, what irony there! They told me that college meant development . . . that English profs inspired."

We suggest to those people who find difficulty in deciding upon a major to purchase a roll of adhesive tape. This is a guaranteed remedy for co-eds who are unable to stick to their "Onlys" also.

Close The Door As You GO OUT

The trustees at Gettysburg college have decided to abolish co-education. They were greatly influenced by the sentiment around the campus that the college should be a man's institution.

GUESS WHO

The light glimmers and dashes
And shimmers and flashes
As it slips through her wonderful hair;
The scent of it maddens
And sorrows and gladdens;
Was ever incense so rare?

Oh the wonderful shimmer—the beautiful glimmer—
The flashing of chestnut hair!

It flashes and glints
In soft brownish tints—
I wonder my dear if I dare?
It brushes my face like old Spanish lace
As I bury my lips in her hair.

Oh that wonderful scent — that beautiful scent—
The perfume of chestnut hair!

OVERSIGHT OR NEGLECT

It was a sleepy sort of day, the class was about half the usual size, and the professor was calling the roll in a half-absent manner. To each name someone had answered "here" until the name Smith was called. Silence reigned supreme for a moment, only to be broken by the professor's voice.

"My word! Hasn't Mr. Smith any friends here?"

"It's news to me," said both of them. "There's no such course offered to my knowledge."

PACIFIC ALUMNI OBSERVE BIRTHDAY

Northern California Branch Holds Diamond Jubilee Celebration

Exactly 75 names were registered at the Diamond Jubilee, celebrated by Wisconsin alumni of Northern California, at the Whitcomb hotel, San Francisco, February 16th. A great white table was strewn with cardinal carnations and tiny candy hearts and the birthday cake, with 75 candles was brought in as the seventy-fifth guest arrived. The bearer of the prize entered to the strains of Mendelssohn's "Here Comes the Cake."

D. L. Hennessey, retiring president, was toastmaster, and Justice Louis W. Myers, law '85, of the Supreme court, responded to the toast "Founders Day" in a way that gave the setting to what was voted the most successful of the 21 re-unions ever held by the Northern California branch.

Dr. R. T. Birge '09, gave a picture of the university as near as a son of the president could possibly have done even though he is a nephew; Prof. Graham H. Stuart, now at Stanford, also spok. "Varsity Toast", "On Wisconsin" and "Hot Time" were the favorite tunes in the singing.

Visitors from outside the bay cities were Grace A. Wright '98, Sacramento, E. B. Copeland '95, Chico, with Saidee Stark '13, Mar-

AMERICAN MEN WORK HARD AND DIE YOUNG

CHICAGO—American women are the loneliest women in the world although they are charming, intelligent, hospitable, dress faultlessly and never are too fat or too thin, according to Madame Marie Jonescu, sister-in-law of the former premier of Roumania and art emissary of Queen Marie. She concluded that American women are the loneliest because they have not learned that happiness comes first their husbands wearing themselves out to provide luxuries for their women, and consequently die young.

"American men are too good, they are angels," she declared.

"In my country the women are satisfied with one dress, or two, and with a modest little house and a simple menu. In America your little shop girl has the wardrobe of a great lady."

Journalists Will Write Stories on State Commissions

The various commissions of the state capitol will furnish material for the class in special feature articles, according to Prof. W. G. Bleyer, who is conducting the class.

Various other local organizations, such as the vocational school, the Associated charities, and employment agencies, will also be taken up, though most members of the class will work on the capitol.

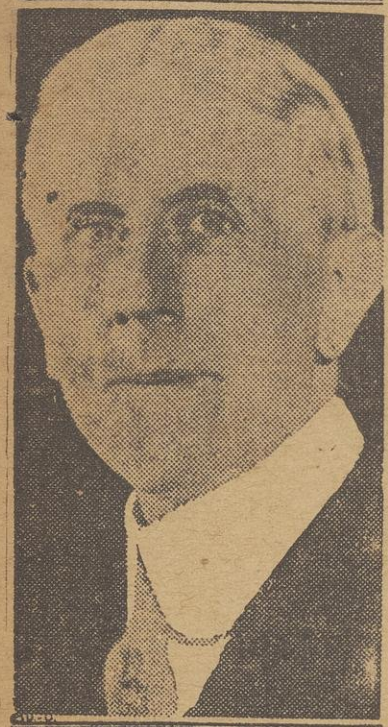

Some of the commissions that will be written up are the food and dairy commission, the railway commission, the marketing commission, the board of vocational education, the immigration bureau, and the new real estate bureau.

DRESDEN TURNS DOWN PENNSYLVANIA OFFER

Prof. Arnold Dresden of the mathematics department has turned down the offer of the University of Western Pennsylvania to take charge of the mathematics department of that school. He also denied that he might consider accepting the position later in the year.

The students of the short course in the College of Agriculture recently organized a literary and debating society which meets each week. The officers elected at the first meeting are George Steinfeld Green Bay, president, and Roy Segebrecht, Mazomanie, secretary.

Pastor Claims He Conversed With God

The Rev. A. Edwin Keigwin.

In the "modern, materialistic, skeptical" city of New York there is a man who says he has literally talked with God—even as Saul on the Damascus Road—no fewer than six times. He, the Rev. A. Edwin Keigwin, pastor of West End Presbyterian Church, avers that each time the voice was as clear as if any human were speaking. The pastor does not believe himself specially selected for Heavenly messages but avows that "God is ready to reveal Himself to every man just as He has revealed Himself to me."

Appears at Music Hall

Edith Wynne Matthison and Margaret Gage take the part of the mother and her son, respectively, in the play, "The Chastening" which will be given at Music hall this evening. Miss Matthison has worked with the leading actors of today and is heralded both for her reading and acting ability. Miss Gage is a former pupil of the Kennedys.

ATTEMPT TO ABATE SMOKE NUISANCE

Educational Movement Will Be Launched at Mass Meet- ing Monday

An educational campaign in Madison for the abatement of the smoke evil is to be undertaken by the university extension department of the university. The university extension class in fuels and combustion will offer courses in instruction on methods of burning coal to save fuel and avoid objectionable smoke.

A mass meeting will be held at the city library auditorium next Monday night at 8:00 to launch the plan for Madison. Following the meeting classes will be established for those who have charge of furnaces in Madison.

The meeting Monday night has been planned with two purposes in view. First, to afford Madison citizens an opportunity to receive authoritative first-hand information on various aspects of the smoke abatement problem from engineering experts. Second, to give the citizens themselves a chance to show their attitude toward the new smoke abatement ordinance.

Prof. G. L. Larson of the university school of engineering will preside. There will be brief talks by Mayor I. Milo Kittleson, W. I. Woodward, father of the smoke ordinance, and Dean Louis E. Reber of the university extension division.

Following these there will be a practical discussion of smoke abatement and fuel economy as an engineering problem by John C. White who will speak on the "Smoke Ordinance"; C. Z. Wise, on "Some Practical Aspects of the Smoke Problem," and W. E. Wines, on "Smoke Prevention and Fuel Economy through Cooperation and Education."

After these talks by experts, representatives of prominent Madison organizations will give brief addresses in which they will express the attitude of the citizens of Madison on the question of smoke abatement. The following will speak: Don E. Mowry, secretary, Madison Association of Commerce; Mrs. F. Baillie, president, Catholic Women's club; Mrs. Volney Barnes, president, Madison Women's club.

Five of the Dane County League of voters.

Members of the smoke abatement committee of the Civics club, Miss Mary E. Hazeltine, Mrs. Eugene H. Byrne, Mrs. Stanley Hanks, Mrs. W. H. Kiehofer, and Miss Janet Van Hise, will be present.

There will be two separate classes, one for firemen and engineers in the larger plants equipped with mechanical stokers, and another for janitors and others interested in hand fired furnaces.
