ILLINI SWAMP TRACK SQUAD; SCORE: 99-36

Wisconsin Takes All Three Places in Pole Vault

(Special to the Cardinal)
CHAMPAIGN, Ill.—Coach T. E. Jones' track team was overwhelmed, 99 to 36, by Illinois yesterday afternoon following the defeat of the varsity baseball team. Taking first place in all but one event, the pole vault, the Illini completely outclassed the Badgers.

In the pole vault, however, Wisconsin took all three places. Merrick was first with 12 feet 6 inches, Wilder was second and McClure third.

In the running high jump and the 220 yard low hurdles Illinois established new conference records. Alberts jumped 6 feet 5 1-8 inches, and Wallace ran the hurdles in 24 4-5 seconds.

Knollin Scores

Knollin, Badger hurdler, scored a third of his team's points by placing second in the two dashes and two hurdle events, losing both hurdle races to Wallace, the new record holder. Sundt scored six points for Wisconsin, taking second in the javelin, tying for second in the broad jump, and placing third in the shot put. Merrick, with five points, was the third highest scorer for the Badgers.

EQUALITY

Co-ed Chemists Should be Admitted to Men's Societies, Says Kahlenberg

"There is no reason why women should not belong to the same professional organizations as men," said Prof. Louis Kahlenberg, of the chemistry department, with reference to a proposed special women's chemistry organization.

The statement was made in connection with the information that two women's organizations in chemistry have recently been formed at Missouri university. One of these is Phi Delta Nu, honorary women's chemical fraternity, which is to correspond to the men's fraternity of Alpha Chi Sigma. The members of this society are chosen from a larger club called "The Retort," which is composed of all women interested in chemistry who have finished or are finishing 10 hours of work in the department.

Professor Kahlenberg said that he believed it would be a good thing to admit any women who could qualify to honorary societies such as Phi Lambda Upsilon, a chemical fraternity of purely honorary character which has a chapter here. At present the only chemistry organization to which women may belong is the Chemistry club.

"Since prohibition has become a law," continued Professor Kahlenberg, "there is not much reason for the men to want to be by themselves—unless it is on account of the smoking. And perhaps," he added with a twinkle in his eye, "we might fix up some long strong pipes which would blow smoke only outwards. Then the girls could fill the room with a cloud of smoke and give the men a chance to see how they liked it."

BIRGE HONORED BY MILITARY SOCIETY

Scabbard and Blade Also Elects Eleven Cadet
Officers

President E. A. Birge was elected to honorary membership to the Wisconsin chapter, A Company, of Scabbard and Blade, national honorary military fraternity, at a recent meeting of the fraternity. The honor was awarded in recognition of his position as ex-officio commander-in-chief of the Wisconsin Cadet corps.

The following cadet officers were elected at the same time: Major Charles T. Schrage '21, Captain Robert A. Harris '22, Lieutenants Ray F. Hanson '22, L. K. Arnold '23, Leonard M. Johnson '22, Edward W. Johnson '23, John W. Richards '23, Henry J. Katz '22, Ralph B. Spence '22, Edward A. Ewing '23, and Montrose K. Drewry '22.

SILVER CUPS TO BE PRIZES FOR VENETIAN NIGHT

Entries for Annual Water Fete
Are Open Until
May 25

Prizes for the annual Venetian night to be held Saturday, May 28, at 8:30 p. m., consist of a large silver cup for the best float, and a silver cup for the best canoe, as well as for the best pier. The cup for the float is a traveling one, and will be made permanent if the same organization wins it twice in succession. All the other cups are permanent.

Entries in the Venetian night parade may be made with Arthur Kinnan '22, chairman, until May 25. Every effort to make the parade successful in lighting and decorating effects will be made by the committee. Electricity for lighting every float and canoe entered in the parade will be supplied from a large power boat carrying a dynamo.

Kinnan urges every group and organization to enter a float or canoe in the parade. "Venetian night is typically Wisconsin," he said yesterday, "and can be put on at no other university than Wisconsin with such a degree of success. Every organization and individual on the campus should enter."

Venetian night is the feature entertainment of the Inter-scholastic Track meet to be held May 28, when more than 150 high school students from all over the state will be in Madison to compete in the twenty-seventh annual Inter-scholastic meet. "Venetian night will be the most impressive thing these young men can see," said Meade Burke, manager of Inter-scholastic, yesterday. "It will give them an idea of Wisconsin that will stick with them, and make them want to come back again, perhaps to stay."

NET MEN PLAY CHICAGO TODAY

New Double Combination to Meet Conference
Champions

With a rearrangement of the doubles combinations the Badger tennis team will meet Chicago in the third conference match of the season this afternoon at 2:30 on the Breese terrace courts.

Captain Roy Godfredson '21 and Thomas Tredwell '23 will meet Seigel and Voorhes of Chicago, who captured the conference title in doubles last year. William Pickard '21 and Nicholas Aageson '23 will play in the other doubles event. Each man will play a match of singles.

Though hindered by rainy weather in the early part of the week, Coach Linden's racquet men are in fine shape and are expected to play a tight game. The Maroon team, however, should be strong with two such stars as Seigel and Voorhes. Who will fill the other two places is not known.

After Wisconsin's brilliant victory at Evanston and overwhelming defeat at Ann Arbor last week end no predictions on today's match are safe. In these matches Godfredson and Pickard and Tredwell and Aageson were paired in doubles.

SUCKERSTAKE SECOND GAME FROM BADGERS

Superior Hitting Gives Illinois Big End of 5-0
Score

(Special to the Cardinal)
CHAMPAIGN, Ill.—Failure to hit the ball for the first time this season cost the Badger baseball team a 5 to 0 defeat at the hands of Illinois yesterday afternoon.

Three safe singles were all the Wisconsin men could amass from the offerings of Jackson, Illini sophomore. Reudiger contributed two of these, a single and a double; and Farrington garnered the other.

The Suckers, on the other hand, touched Paddock for nine safe hits, two of which were clean home runs by Vogel and Hellstrom.

The weather was intensely hot, an unusual situation for a Wisconsin nine to face, and seemed to affect the Badgers' hitting eyes. Their fielding was perfect.

Farrington was the only Badger to reach third base, while only five men were safe at first.

Three hits, an error, and a sacrifice gave Illinois two runs in the fourth inning. Vogel's home run added another in the sixth and Hillstrom's four clout in the eighth with McCurdy on second contributed the last two.

The score:
Wisconsin000 000 000-0-3-1
Illinois000 201 02x-5-9-2
Batteries—Paddock and Davey; Jackson and Dougherty. Home runs—Vogel, Hellstrom. Two base hits—Reudiger. Struck out by Paddock 4; Jackson 5. Stolen bases—McCurdy. Sacrifice hits—Elliott, Dougherty.

PHI BETA KAPPA IS TO INITIATE THIS AFTERNOON

Dean Sellery Will Make Annual Address at Dinner

Initiation of the 56 students recently elected to Phi Beta Kappa will be held at 5 o'clock this afternoon in Lathrop parlors. The initiation will be followed by a dinner at 6:30, at which time the annual address will be given by Dean G. C. Sellery.

Phi Beta Kappa, the oldest of the Greek letter fraternities, was organized by a group of students at William and Mary college, Dec. 5, 1776. It was a secret society, and the members met monthly to declare upon subjects of interest, both literary and political. Occasionally "the night was spent in jollity and mirth" at the famous Raleigh tavern.

The anti-Masonic and anti-secret agitation in the early '30's caused the chapters to abolish secrecy and mystery. Scholarship and character, from the first a qualification of membership, then became the primary requisite for election.

According to the officers of the society, "Phi Beta Kappa, as an honor society, recognizes primarily those students who have conspicuously profited by their undergraduate course and so give promise of having fairly begun a liberal education."

Carleton Has No-hit No-run Frosh Pitcher

NORTHFIELD, MINN. — J. "Lefty" Woock, a freshman at Carleton college, is the latest collegian to bid for no-hit, no-run fame. In a game against Macalester, Woock turned the opposing batsmen back without a hit or a run, passed three and struck out 12 batsmen. In the game against St. Olaf he struck out 14 and passed two, allowing only three hits. Woock is 22 years old.

He played but little baseball, but Coach Claude Hunt, believes he is a "comer." Woock was a member of the football and basketball squads.

JUNIOR "HONORARY" AGAIN

FOLLOWING the publication of last year's Badger, the Cardinal called attention to a spurious classification of an organization in the Badger. The organization in question is Ku Klux Klan society, which was listed as "junior honorary" and the objection raised last year was expressed editorially in the Cardinal as follows:

"No doubt this society (Ku Klux Klan) is junior and it may be honorary; but to call it an honorary junior society is to imply that all men in the junior class are eligible to membership, which is not the case.

"Any student acquainted with the situation knows that only one society on the campus elects from all men in the junior class—White Spades. The membership of Ku Klux Klan is restricted to a portion of the fraternity men of the class.

"In justice to the one junior society on the campus, White Spades, the Cardinal believes an error of this nature should be corrected before the impression given by it becomes widespread."

It appears now that last year's editor of the Badger was given the benefit of a doubt, and the classification of this group was considered a mistake. The matter was taken up by White Spades with the authorities, and assurance was given that the mistake would not be repeated.

It is obvious now that the "mistake" was not unwittingly repeated, but this time the misrepresentation was deliberate and wilful. If this thing keeps up, if the Student Senate, the Dean of Men, and the Badger censor, cannot see that this sort of thing is not perpetuated again, then why not flood the campus with a few more choice groups to rival, by propaganda, Mortar Board, Iron Cross, White Spades, Phi Beta Kappa, and the like. We may as well go all the way if we are to go this far.

The Cardinal feels it is indeed regrettable that a year-book of such caliber as the 1922 Badger should be made the means for furthering publicity of an erroneous nature for any society in school.

THE PRESIDENT'S GUARD

THE undergraduate who goes out of his way to do just a little more than the minimum that is required in order to "get by" in his class work and in extra-curricular activities stands out head and shoulder above the dull mob that slides along through college.

Carrying the burden of the work in which there is mighty little glory and praise, such as the work of the President's Guard, requires men of real calibre.

Cadets must compete for the honor of being a member of President's Guard. Character, manliness, bearing, mental attitude, promptness, and reliability are the considerations upon which the personnel of guard is chosen. Members of the President's Guard are required to drill for several hours one evening each week throughout the school year in addition to their regular drill periods. The guard stands ready to officiate at public functions of the university.

The formal guard mount staged on the lower campus by the President's guard with Major Morphy's crack regimental band presented a spectacle that rivals similar maneuvers at West Point.

The President's Guard is trained by seasoned officers, a number of whom have won their spurs by distinguished service overseas. The personnel of the guard, representing the cream of the university cadet corps, is to be commended for the splendid efficiency and whole-hearted esprit de corps they have achieved.

* * *

THAT'S THE SYSTEM!

SOME of our system-burdened red-tape artists who reign supreme on the campus about registration time might hold a consultation with the circulation manager of the Badger and get a few pointers on how to do things!

One of the perennial nuisances on the campus is to be obliged at certain times of the year to stand in line for an hour or so while the bursar makes change or the registrar's staff gets things underway. It has even been a tradition to stand in line on Badger day to get the year-book.

That sort of thing went by the boards yesterday, and some real system was devised by which 3,500 books were distributed without the customary long waiting lines.

Sticklers for red-tape might well take note of how this job was done yesterday. Perhaps the cafeteria director of the university commons might make some discovery that would give the students quicker service.

Those in charge of the distribution of the year-book are to be congratulated for the very efficient way they did their work.

GRAND

That Splendid
Double Bill
Shirley Mason
in her new
Toonerville
Comedy.

Will be shown for the last times today.

AT THE GRAND

"Girl of My Heart," in which Shirley Mason has been pleasing her admirers at the Grand, will end its engagement tonight. The story is a most interesting one and Miss Mason, as Joan the orphanage girl, is a delight. It is the sort of a character in which this dainty little star shines her brightest. Tonight will also mark the close of that clever Toonerville comedy, "The Skipper's Treasure Garden." These comedies are winning a host of admirers, and a pity it is there are not more like them.

AT THE STRAND

"Conrad in Quest of His Youth," starring Thomas Meighan, is now being shown at the Strand theater. This is a charming picture based on Leonard Merrick's famous novel of the same name. Conrad Warrener is an army officer who finds himself old in middle life and who goes in search of his youth with interesting results. How he makes the discovery that the man who loves never is old, makes a capital story. Margaret Loomis is the leading woman. A Prizma colored picture, a comedy cartoon, and a Paramount magazine will be the added attractions. Dorothy Gish in "Flying Pat" and Buster Keaton in "Hard Luck" will be shown at the Strand Sunday to Tuesday.

AT THE ORPHEUM

A dandy variety of vaudeville is offered at the Orpheum for the last of this week, including the three performances today and tomorrow, featuring Owen McGivney in "Bill Sikes," Murray Kissen in "A Hungarian Rhapsody," The Six Kirk-Smith Sisters, Brandt and Walton, Gertrude Newman, Tuscano Brothers and Pathe News reel. There will be matinee performances today and tomorrow starting at 3 o'clock, with the usual two performances each evening at 7:15 and 9 p. m. Lillian Walker Coming to Orpheum Unusual interest is being shown in the announced engagement that Lillian Walker, well-known movie star, is coming to the Orpheum in person for the first three days of next week. Miss Walker will headline the bill, offering a monologue regarding the movies and stars of the silver sheet. Other features on this bill will be Bert Baker and company in one of the best laugh-producing skits called "Prevarication" the stage has to offer.

BOHEMIAN MUSICIAN IS LEADER OF PHILHARMONIC ORCHESTRA

Josef Stransky, conductor of the New York Philharmonic orchestra which is to appear at the university armory Monday, May 23, has been conductor of that organization since 1911. Mr. Stransky is a Bohemian, having been born in Deutschbood of that country.

When Stransky was a young man he planned not to make music his vocation but rather his avocation, for he studied medicine at Prague and passed the state examinations in that profession. After the completion of his course in medicine he turned his attention to music. His life from this time on was that of a director and a composer.

Has European Reputation

Stransky, before coming to the United States, conducted symphony concerts in Prague and there established his reputation as a Wagner conductor. In Berlin, as well as in various cities of England and Holland he directed concerts and operatic performances. As a result he was well known before he made his appearance in the United States.

Henry Hadley, associate conductor of the orchestra, is an American, born in Massachusetts. He studied in Vienna, and at the age of 20 made his debut as a composer. Mr. Hadley is particularly well-known for his tone-poems, the first of which, "Salome," he presented in many of the cities of Europe such as Berlin, Warsaw and Wiesbaden.

When Mr. Hadley composed the tone-poem "The Culpit Fay," one of the selections which is to be given in Madison, he won the $1,000 prize offered by National Federation of Musical clubs. He was in Europe at the time but returned to America in time to give the first performance of the rhapsody in this country.

Play Fantasia

"The Culpit Fay" is a symphonic fantasia intended as a musical interpretation of the poem "The Culpit Fay," written by Joseph R. Drake (1795-1820). The poem is the whimsical story of the gathering of the fairies at midnight to pass judgment upon one of their members who has fallen in love with a mortal.

The monarch of the fairies sentences the guilty fay to brave the water spirits and catch the glistening drop from the sturgeon as he leaps from the deep; he must mount the skies and catch the spark from the falling star.

The culprit fay undergoes many hardships but at last, cleansed of his dishonor is once more welcomed back by the fairies. This beautiful, and whole fantastic poem has furnished the inspiration for perhaps Mr. Hadley's best known competition.

Curie, eminent Polish scientist, as a token of the nation's appreciation of her accomplishments and as an expression of American interest in the advancement of science and humanitarianism.

Formal presentation of the gift was made at the White House.

Publicity is Urged by Hoover On Coal Industry

NEW YORK—Stabilization of the coal industry by publicity rather than by extension of existing anti-trust laws was urged by Secty. of Commerce Hoover in a telegram read Thursday before the convention of the National Coal association. "It is my belief that the coal operator and the public will be better protected by regular, prompt and monthly publication of fundamental facts relating to the coal industry than by extension of legal regulations beyond existing anti-trust acts," read the message.
