MAROONS HERE IN TWO MEETS WITH BADGERS

Sport Program Saturday of Wrestling, Boxing, Gymnastics

A big program consisting of gymnastic, fencing, and wrestling meets with Chicago and the finals of the all-university boxing tournament, will close the season in these sports Saturday afternoon. The contests will be held on the third floor of the gym starting promptly at 2:30.

The meets are to be conducted in a manner resembling a three-ringed circus with fencing, acrobatic stunts, and boxing or wrestling going on at the same time. The boxing and wrestling bouts will be held alternately.

Much is expected of the varsity grapplers in the way of a comeback after their defeat at the hands of the Minnesota mat men two weeks ago. Coach Joe Steinauer has been putting his men through stiff workouts since then.

Weeks to Compete

For the first time this season, "Herb" Weeks, champion varsity heavyweight wrestler, will be seen in action against a man his own weight. He received a slight injury during workout Tuesday but it is believed that he will be in condition to go to the mat Saturday.

The gymnastic meet will probably be one of the hardest that Coach F. E. Schlatter's men have had to compete in this year. Chicago has one of the most formidable squads of acrobats in the "Big Ten" and recently defeated the Illinois gymnasts in a dual meet. Two varsity regulars, Hagen and Golley, will not be able to compete because of injuries.

In the foils Aaneson of Wisconsin will meet Wood of Chicago and Myrland will represent Wisconsin against Munger, Chicago, in a broad-swords contest.

Boxers Fight Finals

The fistic bouts will be the finals of the all-university boxing tournament being held this week, the semifinals of which will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 in the boxing

MEMORIAL FUND REACHES $55,339

Yesterday's subscriptions to the Memorial drive netted $3,089, bringing the total to date to $55,339.54.

The list of new contributions includes Barnard hall with $725, Chadbourne hall with $1,162, and Phi Psi with $48. Among the sororities, Kappa Alpha Theta pledged $656, Alpha Phi $854, and Gamma Phi Beta $1,146.

At last night's meeting of the drive workers which was attended by one woman from each sorority, the girls pledged themselves to encourage the drive in their respective chapters for those who have not already subscribed.

Letters are being sent out today to all those who have not subscribed, urging them to support the campaign.

The committee in charge is making plans for the furthering the drive next week. It is planned to have a special day for each college. Monday will be Engineer's day, Tuesday for the College of Agriculture, Wednesday for the Law school, Thursday for Commerce and Letters and Science students, while Friday will be All-University day.

Her Charms Win Harold's Heart— in Vodvil Scene

BERTHA BLAUL

Bertha Blaup is the star who helps make the Delta Gamma act one of the headliners on the Union Vodvil program. "My Dear" is the name of the skit and Bertha as Dorothy May is the little dear whose charms won Harold's heart back in the days when "they used to go buggy riding in Stoughton."

A peppy beauty chorus supports Miss Blaup in an unusually clever song and dance act, featuring the fads and foibles of Wisconsin co-eds.

Miss Blaup is a junior in the College of Letters and Science. She was a member of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet last year and is a member of the Prom committee this year.

On a Day Like This, Don't the Majority Have Their Inning?

All ye fools and wits step forward. Today is your one chance to act natural when there can't be any come-back at all. By process of elimination the sheep will be separated from the goats, and the "Who's Who" chairman will have more work on his hands.

Too bad the green lids don't go on today. That would have saved a great deal of work. Two years ago, April 7, the green spots and Easter all fell on the same day. But 'tis not so well arranged every year. This year it will be Monday, April 5, that the green lids make their appearance and Easter bonnet will be sent home for safe keeping.

If an instructor tries to put a "poser" over on you today, you have All-Fools' day license to come back in the accepted fashion: "I'll bite. Can this be thus?"

THREE FRESHMEN MUST DON GREEN HEADGEAR TODAY

Senate Rules on Violations of Traditions in Special Meeting

Three green caps will appear on the campus today as a result of the penalties inflicted on violators of traditions by the student senate last night at a special meeting. The freshmen who were convicted and who will don their green caps today are William House, John Senneff, and Nathan P. Breslauer.

House and Senneff were convicted on the charge of smoking on the campus, and Breslauer on the charge of impertinence and disrespect to upperclassmen.

Unless these men obey this order, the senate will add from three to five university credits to the required number for graduation.

Two freshman who were tried by the senate were found not guilty of the charges of disrespect and impertinence. The freshmen acquitted are Robert Reynolds and Thomas M. Niles. Two other cases were brought up before the senate but were postponed until sufficient evidence could be obtained.

CO-ED DEBATERS CLASH IN PUBLIC CONTEST TONIGHT

Castalia and Pythia Teams to Compete for Silver Cup Award

Two former Madison high school debating stars will be pitted against each other tonight in the Pythia-Castalia joint debate to be held at 8 o'clock in Music hall.

Mabel Gregg, junior in the College of Letters and Science, closes the negative for Castalia, and Alice Outhouse, freshman in Letters and Science, is the first speaker for Pythia and the affirmative. Both were prominent as debaters in Madison high school. Other members of the teams are Benita Berg and Frances Sawyer for Castalia, and Dorothea Levi and Kathryn Mykel for Pythia.

The question for debate is: "Resolved, that the industries of the United States be organized on the plan of the Whitley report."

The victory will be hotly contested by both sides, since Castalia is eager to win a two-years' supremacy away from her rival, and Pythia is quite as determined to keep it. A silver cup will be awarded the winning team.

The public will be admitted to the annual event for the first time this year, and for this reason a large audience is expected.

DEANS ENLISTED IN HOOVER CLUB

Dean S. H. Goodnight and Dean H. L. Russell, with G. W. Fuller, were appointed as an executive committee for the Madison Hoover club organized last night at a meeting of business and professional men of the city and university students at the city Y. M. C. A. The club will boost for Herbert Hoover's nomination to the presidency.

Frank K. Jenks, Madison attorney, was named acting chairman and Robert S. Allen acting secretary of the club. It was decided to hold a public massmeeting in the near future.

Membership in the club is open to all men and women of voting age. Application for membership may be made to Mr. Jenks at 441 Gay building.

RUSH STARTS IN FILING FOR BOARD JOBS

Ten New Candidates Bring Total in Field to Nineteen

Ten new candidates yesterday entered the race for the various board positions to be filled at the spring election April 23. A total of 19 candidates are now in the running for the 24 offices that are open. All petitions must be filed at the office of Dean S. H. Goodnight by 5 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Union board, which has three positions vacant, has drawn three candidates in Walter Schwinn, '22; William Florea, '21; and Vernon Sell, '22.

Schwinn is a member of The Cardinal staff, Glee club, Press club, 1920 Badger staff, and of the Haresfoot chorus. He was editor of the freshman edition of The Cardinal, and was on the Union Vodvil and Homecoming committees last year.

Florea was a member of The Cardinal staff in 1917-18, Badger staff in 1918-19, and is associate business manager of The 1920 Badger. He is chairman of the finance committees for the junior class and for Prom.

Sell is a member of The Badger advertising staff, associate advertising manager of The Commerce Magazine, member of Prom committee and of the Commerce club. He is on the Memorial Union drive committee.

Athletic Board Needs 10
"Mike" Knapp, '21, and Clarence Wille, '22, have announced their candidacies for positions on the Athletic board, making a total of seven candidates for ten vacancies.

Knapp, "W" basketball man for two years and captain of the team this year, is running for basketball representative of the board. This is the only position so far

S. G. A. TO ELECT NEW OFFICERS IN VOTE TOMORROW

S. G. A. will hold its annual election of officers Friday from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. in Lathrop hall. Comparatively few women voted in the primaries, but a large turnout of voters is expected in the regular election today.

The candidates as decided by the primary election are:

For president—Marie Bodden, Hazel Wright.

For vice president—Virginia Conklin, Marguerite Croskey, Hilda deGarde Wipperman.

For treasurer—Rachel Commons, Esther Haven.

For secretary—Marien Strassburger, Gladys Haskins.

For census chairman—Cleo Parsley, Ruth Reid.

SEVEN FRESHMEN IN FINAL 'DEC' CONTEST

The final contest for freshman oratorical honors will be held this afternoon at 4:30 in 165 Main hall.

Besides the four speakers who were successful in the open preliminary contest, Herbert Hentzen, Karl Karel, Oscar Kiesling, and L. Francis Lamb, each literary society will enter a man. These are: Hesperia, Ralph E. Axley; Philomathia, John Boeffel, and Athenae, Anthony Nerad.

Gold medals, signifying that the possessor is the champion of the university in his weight, are to be awarded the winners of the final encounters. Several pugilists have been winners and runners up in the inter-college and inter-class matches are entered in this competition and are putting up some scrappy bouts in the fight for fistic honors.

Some of the favorites are Barnes, Hill, Koons, Murdock, Sutton and Dawson. Barnes has been out of the game since the early part of the season because of a broken bone in his hand. The hardest fight will probably be between Koons and Murdock. Koons recently defeated the latter in a sizzling scrap in the inter-college finals.

The complete lineup of the teams competing Saturday follows:

WORLD PEACE IN HANDS OF ENGLISH RACE

—PROFESSOR FISH

“Britain and America Must Keep on Friendly
Terms”

That the peace of the world is dependent upon the maintenance of amicable relations between Great Britain and the United States was the keynote of Prof. Carl Russell Fish's lecture on Anglo-American relations given in 165 University Hall yesterday afternoon.

“If countries can't keep peace with their nearest neighbors, what hope is there for the maintenance of peace between remoter neighbors?” asked Professor Fish. “We are bound by ties of common language and are the only countries which have had long experience in self-government.

English Are Misjudged

“The mere fact that we have a language in common seems sometimes to be responsible for differences. We expect the same customs and conventions from an Englishman not allowing for certain fundamental differences which have developed in the American from his different environment. In a Frenchman, for instance, we pardon his differences because we somewhat expected them.

“Sending over violent, exciting news seems to be the spirit of the newspapers of today, it being much easier to get excited for the American temperament than to keep cool. What is exciting to the American is chaotic and appalling to the Englishman. The same words bear a different sense and interpretation.”

The intangible reasons why the English dislike the Americans, as stated by Professor Fish were numerous and amusing. “Our voices are rasping and irritating to their ears and it takes a great deal of good fellowship and understanding to overcome that.

Dislike Dry Reform

“The Englishman looks rather askance at our national prohibition. He is jealous of any infringement on his personal liberty and afraid prohibition will work in America so that he will have to try it in England.

“Because effusiveness in an Englishman usually is a cloak for insincerity he looks somewhat doubtfully at the American hail-fellow-well-met attitude. We feel that they are cold and superior. In reality their reserve is shyness.

“Because it is an almost universal custom for Englishwomen to smoke the American is inclined to look suspiciously at their morals. That is merely an American custom that is inherent in us. We feel that it is unwomanly to smoke though there is no logical reason why they shouldn't.”

The definite reasons which Professor Fish gave for the distrust between the two countries were history, trade competition, and the Irish question.

Several ways in which a better understanding could be established would be for both countries to read more of each other's literature, more co-operation, and the exertion of a little energy to find the good points which exist in both nationalities.

BIERMAN QUILTS AS COACH OF MONTANA

HELENA, Mont.—Bernie Bierman, former Minnesota football luminary, and captain of the 1915 Gophers, will not return to the University of Montana as football coach next season. He gave no reason for his decision when the announcement was made last week. Bierman made a good showing at Montana with rather weak material and was reported to have high standing with the student body.

TENNIS PROGRAM INCLUDES FIVE COLLEGE MEETS

The tennis schedule for the 1920 season, which was announced yesterday by Coach G. E. Linden, tennis coach, follows:

May 7—Chicago at Chicago.
May 10—Oklahoma at Madison.
May 15—Michigan at Madison.
May 22—Northwestern at Madison.

June 5—Conference meet at Chicago.

A call has been issued by Coach Linden for all men who play tennis and wish to try out for this sport to meet him in his office in the gymnasium Friday at 4:30.

As soon as the courts are in shape work will begin and an all-university tournament will be held to aid the coach in getting a line on the material from which to choose the squad. A prize of a gold medal will be awarded the winner if present plans are carried through.

EIGHT-WEEK CLUBS TO BE ORGANIZED

“Why don't the girls in small towns know how to enjoy hikes and picnics like our university girls?” This is the question asked by Miss Ethel Troy of Chicago who spoke

Tuesday night to a group of university women in Lathrop Hall. Miss Troy is Cook county chairman of the Central Field committee of the Y. W. C. A. and is organizing college women who expect to return to their home towns this summer to act as leaders of Eight Week clubs or counselors in summer camps.

Eight Week clubs are composed of girls of high school age, whether in school or industry, with college women as leaders, and aim to promote service, study, and recreation during the summer months.

A training class of university women who wish to act as leaders this summer in Eight Week clubs and summer camps will be organized here immediately after spring vacation. Any women who desire to sign up for this work may leave their names with Miss Anderson, university secretary of Y. W. C. A., at the association office in Lathrop Hall.

NEBRASKA SENIORS NOT TO WEAR MORTARBOARDS

LINCOLN, Neb.—Such is the dis-taste for the traditional mortar-board caps, that the senior girls have decided to wear them only during the last two weeks, or perhaps, just on announcement day. The old custom of wearing them from Phi Beta Kappa day till the end of the term is abandoned.

HOOVER WINS IN STRAW VOTE
TAKEN AT BROWN

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—A straw vote taken at Brown on presidential candidates gave Hoover the majority. Following him came Wood who received more than all the Democratic candidates together. Six hundred men voted, 360 for Hoover, 254 for Wood. Among the Democrats, McAdoo led, but he polled only 87.

VARIETIES OF TURNOVER

LABOR turnover, its cause and cure, has in late years come to monopolize considerable of the time of the country's great economists. A world war with its crying need for maximum production and minimum labor turnover was a force in bringing the problem forcibly home.

The larger student interest in the economic situation warrants our assuming that students are well aware of the gravity of the problem. It may be that the need of attention to labor turnover has prevented our delving into other varieties of the same thing in our own midst. How about breaking the ice on the question of student turnover?

In one sense students are—or at least should be—workers. That being the case some of the causes of turnover can readily be considered here. But note some essential differences in application: where the modern machine process makes the worker's job monotonous, the diversions of college life are safeguards against monotony on the campus.

Another great stimulus to increased labor turnover is the method of giving foremen the right to hire and fire indiscriminately. The student, however, "hires himself out" to any course he may desire. He is "fired" only after every chance has been given him to make the most of his elections. Why, then, such a large student turnover within a given semester or school year? Again, unlike the case of the laborer, the fault in this instance lies entirely with the student. He is warned before and upon entering to guard against the pitfalls that result in increased student turnover.

Let's analyze this problem of student turnover by putting our own houses in order. Individual resolutions are needed. Student turnover should be reduced.

THE FOR-PRESIDENT CLUBS

FEW subjects of more than campus significance can claim as much attention from the student body as the presidential campaign. The contest this year will be fully as warm and exciting as that of 1916; certainly it promises to be many-sided. But student interest is not now at the high pitch reached four years ago.

At many universities the personal appearance of some of the candidates has served to heighten student interest, and the formation of various "for-president" clubs has resulted. The state fight over the election of delegates to the Republican convention seems to have made the presidential candidates shy of Wisconsin for the time being.

University men and women ought to be leaders in stirring the interest of voters in the issues at stake in a national election of vital importance. Political clubs are practical mediums through which students may acquaint themselves with the policies and qualifications of candidates. One for-president club has been formed on the campus, but standing alone it cannot create the interest in the campaign that a group of competing clubs will arouse.

"When other systems and programs fail or fall short the program of the church still is constructive and comprehensive enough to fulfill the needs of all the world," said the Rev. Charles H. Feaz, Milwaukee, addressing 150 students at the second semester banquet of the Congregational Students' association. His subject was "The Place of the Church in the Modern World."

Whatever widened socialized programs the church may adopt, its essential aim will continue to be the highest development through religion of individual character, Dr. Beale asserted.

After a tasty banquet served by the First Congregational guild, musical numbers were given, including whistling solos by Reba Hayden, a violin solo by Martha Buel, and vocal solos by Kathryn Tenney.

Student committee chairman for the event included Helen Ramsey, arrangement; Mabel Winter, program; John Pinney, tickets; Adela Eoise, publicity; Loring Hammond, reception.

4-YEAR MEDICAL COURSE NEED OF VARSITY, DECLARES PHILIPP

Governor Favors Building of Large Hospital in Madison

"The University of Wisconsin must abandon its medical course of two years, or else establish a full four year course, in a full fledged, completely equipped, medical college. I favor the latter policy."

said Gov. E. L. Philipp in an address which marked the opening session on Wednesday of the State Conference of Public Health Nurses.

Philipp pointed out that the plan of giving medical students two years of instruction here and then sending them to some medical college elsewhere to finish their course is impracticable on account of the crowded condition of medical schools.

said he believed that medical education should be under the control of the state, and he said we must establish a successful medical school without a large hospital. The governor, he favors the plan in Madison of a large hospital, one whose particular province will be to take care of the defective persons, and particularly defective children, whom the public health service find in their work. Medical care to these persons should be furnished free by the faculty of the medical college. Those who can afford it should pay, but every defective child, rich or poor, should receive the best care and treatment medical skill can give. No one could grow up and go through life with deformities or defects which once can remedy. This is a service which the state owes to humanity.

Furthermore there should be established in connection with the hospital and university a school for nurses. We need more nurses. We have reached a point where no poor person can afford to be sick. The price of a room and for a nurse, at a hospital is far beyond the ability of a poor man to pay. Yet all the afflicted are entitled to the best aid of medical science to aid recovery.

The governor further said that he should in the near future start "a campaign" for a medical college, a hospital and a nurses' school in connection with Wisconsin university. And before another year goes by he said he hoped to see the work started.

Gov. Philipp praised the work of the county nurses, and said it was gaining in popularity and public appreciation.

The governor was introduced by Mrs. Mary P. Morgan, director of the state health bureau.

"The time to combat epidemics is before they appear. We are trying to teach children and parents to keep clean and establish sanitary conditions to prevent epidemics and all illness." So said Miss Palma H. Grahn, nurse of Sauk county. She said that in her county she frequently made use of the deputy state health officer, and the university extension department. Obsolete theories on communicable diseases must be abandoned and combatted. Our health laws are the most important of all laws and should be rigidly enforced. Miss Grahn told of her efforts to obtain nurses during the late epidemic. Twenty five telephone calls failed to get one nurse.

Miss Genevieve Russell of Laona township, Forest county told her experience during the epidemic. She obtained publication in the local newspaper of the influenza symptoms. She found one scholar in her school with a temperature of 104.

How Wisconsin educates her deaf mutes was described in a talk by A. B. Cook.

Other speakers at the meeting were Dr. Elizabeth L. Woods on mental defectives; Miss Anna Thompson on supplies for county nurses, and Miss Ernestine Kendall who discussed the latter address.

WASHINGTON STUDENTS EAT PIES EVERY DAY

SEATTLE, Wash.—Who doesn't love pies? Nevertheless, don't try to dispute the title of pie-loving with students from the University of Washington. They eat 118 a day, keeping one woman busy from morn till night baking pies. What is more, the craving for pies is making embryo thievery, for many luscious pastries have disappeared from the university pantries.

SEES CHANGE TO FOUR TERMS FOR FARM COLLEGES

COLUMBUS, O.—"Adoption by agricultural colleges of the plan of dividing the school year into four quarters and extending it to 12 months in the year, will be a move made some time in the future," is the opinion of Dean Alfred Vivian of the College of Agriculture of Ohio State university.

"This will enable the farm boys and girls to take a four-year course during the winter months only. They would finish in six years, or the regular four-year course could be chosen. Those who were anxious to complete the work in a short time could go the entire year and be graduated by finishing the 12 quarters in three years," he explained.

He further predicted, "The time is coming when every county in the state will have a county agent, home-demonstration agent and a boys' and girls' club leader." An attempt is being made at present to accomplish this.

Dean Vivian was the builder of the first silo in Wisconsin, with the exception of the ones erected by the Agricultural Experiment station of the University of Wisconsin.

SURVEY EDITOR TO LECTURE ON SOCIAL REFORM

Problems of social and industrial unrest will be analysed by Edward T. Devine, associate editor of The Survey, at the Social Science club meeting tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in 165 Main hall. The lecture is open to the public.

Social problems of other countries have been included in Dr. Devine's study. As special lecturer at Oxford and as assistant to the American embassy at Petrograd he became familiar with conditions in England and in Russia. The American Red Cross placed him at the head of its relief work in the devastated area of France in 1917.

"No student in sociology can afford to miss this address," said Prof. E. A. Ross. Dr. Devine will meet students at the University Y. M. C. A. immediately after his address.

SEE SPECIAL SESSION HERE

Governor Philipp May Ask for Legislation Against Rent Profiteers

A special session of the legislature to enact legislation prohibiting rent profiteering appeared possible Wednesday with announcement by Gov. Philipp that he is making an inquiry into the question. It is believed that the call will be issued after next Tuesday's election.

Questions to come before the legislature will be rent profiteering, the four year medic course, increased salaries at the university and increased salaries for members of the legislature.

Within a day or two, the governor said, he will announce his course of action. He is considering, he said, the appointment of a citizens committee to inquire into the situation, both as to housing generally, and rent profiteering, particularly.

"If I find that conditions are as they have been represented" said the governor, "I shall consider the practicability of calling a special session of the Wisconsin legislature to enact laws to care for the situation."

STATE HERDS PASS COW TEST

Total of 2,357 Cattle Show Negative Tuberculosis Examination

More than 100 Wisconsin herds of cattle, totaling 2,357 head, have passed the first negative test for tuberculosis.

According to Dr. J. S. Healey, representative of the federal government in tuberculosis eradication in Wisconsin, Holstein herds lead the list with 49, the Guernseys are second with 42 herds, Jerseys with eight, and Shorthorn with three.

"To accredit a herd means to officially certify that the owner has complied with certain requirements," says Dr. Healey. "The requirements are based on sanitation and control of disease, and are simply for the protection of the owner who wishes to maintain a tuberculosis free herd. The accredited herd plan gives the breeder credit for his efforts in eradicating tuberculosis and gives him the most favorable publicity obtainable."

Of the counties on the February list, Marathon leads with nine herds; Sauk follows with seven; Chippewa, Sheboygan, Barron and Oconto have six each; and Winnebago and Portage have five each.

County agents and officials of the local breed associations are aiding the state and federal officials in carrying on the work.

FLOOD CLAIMS FIRST VICTIM

LA CROSSE — The first drowning during the flood occurred at Fountain City, where Fritz Goede disappeared when he fell off a government barge.

With water creeping into the cellars of jobbing warehouses along Front street, miles of sidetracks connecting factories with main lines submerged, and all trains under slow orders, the flood situation became more serious in La Crosse Wednesday.

The water rose a half foot in twenty-four hours, the stage this morning being 13.8 within two inches of the high mark of 1888. La Crosse is practically cut off from communication with the surrounding country except by main line of railroads. Water is lapping the ties on Main lines in several places.

AT THE STRAND NOW

SUFFRAGE ON EVE OF VICTORY

JACKSON, Miss.—With Governor Russell appearing personally before the house to urge that body to concur in the action of the senate Tuesday in voting to ratify the federal constitutional suffrage amendment, supporters of that measure Wednesday were optimistic and predictions were freely made that Mississippi would be the 36th state to act favorably on the amendment. The senate vote 23 to 22 showed a shift of 10 members from opponents to supporters since the February vote and suffrage leaders felt confident that a reflection of this change would be found in the house which last month also voted against ratification.

Tuesday night and Wednesday morning hurry calls were sent to friends of the cause who had left the capitol in the belief that the session of the legislature was about to adjourn and it was believed an early vote would be taken.

Anti-suffrage leaders however, while admitting that there probably might be a slight change in the number of members who would vote for the amendment, said they were confident that the overwhelming majority by which the resolution was defeated last month could not be overcome even if there was an agreement to again take up the question for a vote. The vote last

GRADS 'TALK UP' JUNE REUNIONS

Alumni of 5-year Classes
Plan Commencement
Gatherings

Alumni from all parts of the world will meet in Madison next June for commencement reunions, which will bring together members of classes whose numerals end in "naught" or "five".

Two surviving members of the class of 1860, W. P. Powers of Los Angeles and Prof. J. B. Parkinson, will answer the class roll call on June 22.

The class of 1890 expects to hold a reunion at which many members of the "Mighty '90" will be present. The secretary has sent an "Official Harangue" to all grads urging them to return to their Alma Mater.

Former members of the University band are planning to have a grand reunion. The secretary is attempting to reach every man who played with this organization.

A baseball game with Chicago is scheduled as part of the commencement program. An Alumni dinner and a ball are also planned to attract the former students.

Special effort is being made to bring back the men who graduated in a "naught" or a "five" class. All graduates are urged to return to Wisconsin to renew old friendships and to visit again the familiar scenes of college days.

Since December, 1916 superior and juvenile Court Reporter M. B. Allison has taken down something over 10,000,000 words, about one quarter of which he has transcribed on the typewriter.

OCTOPUS IN CALL FOR HUMOR COPY

Now that the Wrong Number of The Octopus will appear on the campus immediately after spring vacation instead of the day before, the editors have extended the deadline for contributions to the end of this week.

The greatest need just at present is for short, original jokes. The book has been enlarged to 40 pages and the supply of "first run" material had been planned to fill only 32 pages.

The competition for the two places on the Board of Editors, which is based upon the amount of material submitted and accepted, is still open and these places will probably be filled immediately after the issuing of the current number.

Contributions may be sent or brought direct to the office in the Union building or dropped in the boxes in Main hall, P. P. E., Engineering, or Union buildings.
