LEGISLATORS TO WITNESS GOPHER GAME TONIGHT

Outcome is Crucial For Badgers

GAMES TONIGHT
Indiana at Northwestern
Chicago at Purdue
Iowa at Michigan
Minnesota at Wisconsin

Eighty-two state legislators will get an idea of Big Ten basketball when they witness the Minnesota-Wisconsin game as guests of the athletic department tonight. The contest begins at 7:30 in the armory.

A Minnesota team, fighting an uphill battle with "everything to win and nothing to lose," will clash with the title-chasing Badgers. A defeat for Wisconsin will put the Meanwell five out of the running for a championship. Victory will put it closer to Iowa which undergoes a crucial test with Michigan at Ann Arbor.

Gophers Are Strong

If the Hawkeyes lower their colors before the Michigan attack, Wisconsin will be practically tied for first place—if the Badgers succeed in beating Minnesota. Although the Gophers have been a disappointment to their followers and have lost 10 consecutive contests, they are no easy team to beat. Chicago was forced overtime to wring a 24 to 21 win from them. Iowa narrowly beat them, 29 to 24.

Experts say that any basketball team has one good game in it, and the Gophers may get rid of theirs tonight. They have been doing a Prof. Coue and are at the top of their form. Ecklund, playing guard, is scoring more points than the forwards and is holding opposing offenses to low scores. Pesek, in his first semester as a Varsity center, is stacking up with veterans, and Severinson is back at his forward job after being ineligible during the first semester.

Team On Last Lap

The Wisconsin team is rounding into the last lap of its schedule. After the Minnesota contest, the team plays Northwestern on Monday night and Chicago on the following Saturday. With the season nearly over, some members of the squad may get stale and it will be necessary for Dr. Meanwell to keep close guard over his charges. One loose game may mean dislodgement from the runner-up position.

In his last year as Varsity forward, Les Gage is setting a fast pace and is hitting the net more regularly than his teammates. If he manages to get away from Gopher guards, Les will probably leap farther into the charmed circle of high scorers. Dwight Spooner, fighting sophomore, is expected to connect for several of his thrillers. Spooner sends the sphere through the air for long distances without apparent effort. He has an accurate eye for the basket.

DROP MORE IN L. & S. THAN IN OTHER COLLEGES

A total of 233 students of all classes were dropped from the College of Letters and Science of the university at the end of the first semester this year, according to figures announced today by Dean G. C. Sellery, after the handling of all cases had been completed.

This total represents about five per cent of the 4,544 students enrolled in the college during the semester.

Dean Sellery did not have official figures of the number dropped in other colleges of the university—engineering, agriculture, law, medicine, etc.—but said that not more than 25 students had been dropped by all the other colleges combined. The total number dropped by the entire university does not exceed 260, or about three per cent of the 7,368 students enrolled, he declared.

"The number dropped in the other colleges on the campus is necessarily very much smaller than in Letters and Science, since students in the other colleges generally come with definite goals and preparation. The students who go to the college without any definite plans naturally enter the College of Letters and Science," Dean Sellery stated.

In the College of Letters and Science out of a total of 1,976 juni-

CURIOUS THROGS GATHER ON HILL TO WATCH MOON ECLIPSE

All nature lovers who were abroad last night from 8:28 to 10:36 o'clock observed a partial eclipse of the moon.

According to observations by Professor Voel Stebbins and his astronomy students at Washburn observatory the eclipse began approximately at 8:28. At 9:32 o'clock five-eighths of the moon's surface was obscured. The eclipse was over at 10:36 o'clock.

The eclipse was visible to the entire western hemisphere. In 18 years, 11 days and eight hours this event will be repeated and may be seen in the south-west.

An eclipse occurs because our moon is passing through the shadow of the earth. As seen through the telescope of the observatory the left corner of the moon was blotted over with a cloudy shadow with a filmy outer edge and dark inner edge.

It is the inner edge which the astronomer especially watches. It is this disc-shaped shadow which proves that the earth is a globe, as first expounded by Christopher

CALL CARDINAL FOR RESULTS OF GAMES TONIGHT

Were you among the lucky few who secured pasteboards for tonight's basketball battle? If not, you would be interested perhaps in learning the score as soon after the game as possible.

Even if you do possess one of those coveted tickets, it might be that you would like to hear the outcome of the crucial Iowa-Michigan game directly after the encounter.

At all events—and here lieth the moral of this story—you may learn both scores, and those of the two other Conference games as well, by telephoning The Cardinal, Badger 1137, tonight.

The Conference editor of the Michigan Daily, student newspaper at the University of Michigan, will wire to The Cardinal an exclusive report of what is probably the season's most important game—the Wolverine-Hawkeye tilt.

The Wisconsin-Minnesota game will end at about 8:30 o'clock. It is expected the report from Ann Arbor, and those also from Purdue and Indiana, will be received shortly after 9:30 o'clock.

Remember—call The Cardinal for the scores.

6,975 ENROLLED THIS SEMESTER

Slight Increase Over Last Year; L. and S. Gains

A total of 6,975 students enrolled in the University of Wisconsin for the second semester this year, as compared with 6,968 for the second semester last year. The registrar has just announced these figures after waiting to check all withdrawals, graduations and other changes during the opening weeks of the semester.

The difference between the enrollments of the two semesters is almost the same this year as it was last. This year 7,368 enrolled in September, and 6,975 in February. Last year 7,344 enrolled in September and 6,968 in February. Because of the mid-year graduation of seniors, withdrawals, and other reasons, second semester enrollment is always smaller than fall enrollment.

The College of Letters and Science enrolled this semester 4,648 as compared with 4,555 last February. The College of Engineering now has 1,087 as compared with 1,164 last February. The College of Agriculture now has 804 as compared with 796 last February.

The Medical school has 139 students, as compared with 156 last February. The School of Music has 107 as compared with 111 last year. The Law school has enrolled 190 this semester.

STUDENTS CROWD LATHROP TO HEAR JOHN R. MOTT OPEN ANNUAL RELIGIOUS MEETINGS

INTERESTING FACTS ON THE CONFERENCE

Dr. John R. Mott, conference speaker, is politically as well as religiously recognized for his international standing. He was offered the American minister's post to China by President Wilson, but he declined.

The Fiske university singers will sing at all of the meetings. Their negro "spirituals" show the queer philosophy of the old plantation darkies, but have a sincerity and beauty which makes them last.

The convocation yesterday afternoon was the first all-university convocation of the year for which classes were dismissed.

Prof. E. B. Gordon will lead the singing at all the meetings.

Coach "Jack" Wilce of Ohio came to Madison just to attend the conference. Mott was last here in 1910 when Wilce was president of the Y. M. C. A.

"Morning Watches" are being held every morning this weekend by both the men and women.

Will Speak Tonight at 8:15

The important part that students of all countries now are playing in the great awakening in faith and matters pertaining to life of the last decade was the keynote of Dr. John R. Mott's speech last night in Lathrop hall.

"My travels in all countries have shown me a remarkable change in the students in their faith and therefore in their lives during the last decade, which has taken form in many countries in movements analogous to the 'New Youth' movement in Germany," Mott said.

"University students are the most alert intellectually of any group now found in the world. This generation of students is inquisitive, even ultra-critical, in their questioning of all practices and all customs no matter how sacred.

"Students are demanding reality in speech—they are demanding that men say what they know and withhold what they do not know as fact. They are also insistent upon reality in faith and in the practices of faith," Dr. Mott continued.

"Let us have a new thought movement. Let it not be said that any student is so engrossed in curricular and extra-curricular activities that he is digging his own spiritual grave," Dr. Mott concluded.

Many Attend Convocation

A resume of the alarming world outlook today and remedial measures by which the American universities have the opportunity to assist in restoring nations to relations free of suspicion and animosity, were offered by Dr. John R. Mott, international Y. M. C. A. secretary, at the all-university convocation, yesterday afternoon.

Lathrop gymnasium was packed to capacity by students, instructors and Madison citizens, to hear Dr. Mott speak on "The Present World Situation and Its Demand of the American University."

"I never was so alarmed regarding the world outlook as I am today," Dr. Mott declared in opening his address. "I am not an alarmist nor a pessimist, but the conditions merit doubt. The world is in a state of suspicion and irritation, and lacks the fundamentals of unity. One nation is arrayed against another, and inflamed with hatred and distrust.

"My alarm is not so much at impending failure across the sea, but that the United States will miss the second coming of opportunity," the speaker said.

"American universities are the strategic battleground of the United States to bring about better conditions. If we can win out there the rest will be easy. We must seek to master and take the lead in propagating the principles of the life of Jesus Christ. 'I am not my brother's keeper' must be changed to 'I am my brother's brother', if we are to bring about a spirit of forgiveness and repentance among nations.

"The program of the American universities should do everything

CURB CRIME BY HELPING YOUTH TO VOCATIONS

By INTERVIEWER

How can crime be prevented?

This question which has perplexed criminologists and sociologists, as well as professional "Sherlock Holmes" of police fame, was commented upon yesterday by Prof. J. L. Gillin of the sociology department as follows:

"If preventative measures are taken with the children, many of the feeble minded, the potential criminals, will learn useful occupations and become self supporting.

"Fewer delinquencies would occur among this group, and those who still tended toward criminality could be prevented from becoming confirmed criminals by the proper supervision of probation officers in the home communities."

The way to cure criminals is to prevent them from becoming criminals, Professor Gillin states. The answer sounds easy, but the amplification involves many important factors, as Professor Gillin explained:

"The average man who is sent to prison for the first time has become a criminal by accident because he is mentally incompetent to resist inducements to do wrong.

"Two bills are before the legislature at present which are direct steps towards bettering existing conditions in the state. One bill provides for adding enough members to the staff of the state psychologist in order that the school children of the state may be given mental tests to determine their mental capacities. The second proposed bill provides for a state subsidy of $100 for each subnormal pupil enrolled in a special class for backward pupils in any district.

EUTHENICS CLUB TO REACH FARM WOMEN

The question of how the Agriculture club could best co-operate with the Euthenic club was the subject discussed at the Euthenic club meeting held Thursday night at 7:15 in Lathrop parlors.

The great need of reaching the women on the farms was shown when Mr. Perkins of the Ag. Triangle club declared that 85 per cent of the women and girls on the farms, over 14 years of age were not in contact with any school.

The purpose of this co-operation is not only to enable us to gain leadership, and to "furnish entertainment, but to help the farmers with their problems and carry some of the scientific facts learned here to the people with whom we come in contact," declared Mr. Perkins.

to promote international spirit, goodwill and help—but more than that, we need the international heart. We must learn to sympathize with others in their struggles. I urge a program, launching an educational campaign for a league of nations or something tantamount to it. We must get on the inside of men to change their outlook, spirit and motives. We must rejuvenate them," Dr. Mott concluded.

Conference Program Today

A luncheon of the Campus Religious council will be given this noon in the parlors of the Y. M. C. A. Dr. Mott will speak and at the close will confer with the pastors of the churches.

"The great factor in determining the output of the student's life" will be the subject of Dr. Mott's third address at 8:15 o'clock tonight in Lathrop hall immediately after the basketball game.

Following the evening address there will be a reception for Dr. Mott and all students from foreign countries and their friends and of the "Wisconsin in China" committees, both men and women, in Lathrop parlors.

Tomorrow meetings will be held in Lathrop hall in the afternoon and in the evening.

PROF. HERTZLER PUBLISHES HIS NEWEST BOOK

A book, "The History of Utopian Thought," by Prof. J. O. Hertzler of the Economics department recently has been published.

An analysis of representative utopias and the agencies through which perfection was sought has been made by Professor Hertzler. In the first part of the book a portion is devoted to the utopian ideas of the Hebrew prophets of the Bible, the Kingdom of Jesus, and the City of God as visualized by Augustine. "The predictions and conceptions of a utopian state of perfection as found in the Bible may be interpreted as an attempt made by certain ancients with utopian ideals to alleviate the miserable social condition of their people by visualizing imaginary havens where the current tribulations did not exist," asserted Professor Hertzler in commenting on his book yesterday afternoon.

"Modern utopians however, do not portray some distant, visionary land of ideal conditions but aim to remedy present evils through gradual evolution.

"Most of the outstanding utopians have advocated co-education," continued Professor Hertzler. Among those who stressed it are Moore, Bacon and especially Plato who believed in absolute equality between the sexes.

The subject of the debate is "Resolved that the constitution should be so amended as to permit the passage of child welfare legislation." Mrs. E. C. Hoebel, Madison, will preside at the debate.

Committee chairmen for the banquet are Martha Kohl '24, banquet arrangements; Lois Palmer '25, decorations; Jennie Gregg '24, invitations and Kathryn Brady '23, program.

PHYSICISTS SPORT WITH ELECTRONS

Ever try speaking up on an electron unaware, and get a good look at one? The students in the physics department come quite close to that.

A stream of electrons is forced through a small opening onto a plate. A bright spot is seen where the stream strikes the plate. The electrons are subjected to a known magnetic force which deflects the stream, and the spot on the plate moves.

From the deflection of the stream and the length of the path the radius of the path of the electron is computed. The velocity with which the electron moves is found to be about 11,600 miles per second. The ratio of the charge of electricity on the electron to its mass is also found from the conditions of the experiment.

CINDER SQUAD ENTERS INDIAN RELAY TONIGHT

Team Left Yesterday Morning

The ability of Wisconsin on the cinder path will be pitted against the cream of track athletes in a large field this evening in the annual relay carnival conducted at Champaign by the University of Illinois athletic department.

Coaches Tom Jones and Mead Burke left yesterday morning with a squad of picked runners and field event men in order to arrive at their destination in ample time for a good rest before the calling of events. The wearers of the Cardinal should be at their best early season form tonight.

Relay Teams Not Announced

Although the exact combinations to compete in the relays were not definitely announced by athletic heads here, it seems probable that the Badger coach will place considerable strength into winning a place in the four-mile relay composed of four-milers.

Time trials brought out good talent in this event during the past week. Vally can be depended upon to run fast time in either the half or the mile, and the same holds with Wayne Ramsey. Earl Schneider and Tschudy are also proven men in the distance.

The majority of close followers of indoor track give Michigan the best chance to last premier honors in this relay, however. Illinois is without her powerful four-mile team which was claimed last spring by graduation.

Spetz Entered in Dashes

Another probable combination for the Badgers consists of Rosmeissel, Sherman, Ramsey, and Vally in the two-mile relay, each man carrying the baton one half a mile.

Captain Ralph Spetz is slated to compete in the special dashes and to hold down one leg of the medley relay, should Wisconsin coaches decide to enter. Due to preliminary trials which were scheduled to be held today, definite arrangement could not be made as to selection of events.

Although opposition will carry with it the usual keen edge that is proverbial for Illinois track meetings, the Wisconsin men stand well to the fore and should make a strong showing. Last week's defeat at Iowa is not demonstrative of Wisconsin's real strength, for the sophomore element, which forms a large part of this year's Varsity, was in outside competition for the first time and could not be expected to do as well as with more experience.

Fast Time Trials

Time made in the trials Tuesday night are as fast in several events proportionately as can be expected this evening on the big track in the armory at Illinois, which in circumference is almost twice the distance of the cinder path in the annex here.

Besides representation in the relays and special dashes, Wisconsin will strive for honors in the shot put, pole vault, and high jump. "Pete" Platten, with a previous indoor record of 6 feet 5 inches, stands an excellent chance of taking first honors in his events for the Cardinal and breaking the Illinois indoor record of 6 feet 1 inch.

Team to Return Tomorrow

Hamann will do the pole vaulting for the Badgers, and is also a strong contender to score. Van Ellis, the big sophomore weight heaver, with a heave of 42 feet as a standard of his ability, looks like a scorer.

Following the completion of their respective events this evening, the Wisconsin men will en-train for Chicago and make connections for Madison, getting back tomorrow evening. Resumption of practice sessions in preparation for the invasion of Notre Dame next week-end is scheduled for Monday.

BLUE BANDITS

Blue Bandits will hold rehearsal of chorus at 7 o'clock and the cast at 8 Saturday evening in Music hall.

GOPHERS HERE FOR GYM MEET

Coch Says All Men Are in Prime Condition For Contest

The Badger gymnasts are all set to take on the Gophers in the meet scheduled for 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. Coach Frank Leitz reports all the men in prime condition for the contests.

This is the third meet for the Badgers and they will extend every effort to keep their record clear. Last year Wisconsin won from Minnesota in the Gopher's den but were pushed in every event. Iowa was recently defeated by Minnesota so they are evidently strong and in the running.

Lineup Will be Same

Minnesota lost one of its best men from last year's team, but the rest of the line-up is practically the same, with several additions.

"I think we will win, but we won't have any points to spare," said Coach Frank Leitz.

The coach has put the men through the hardest week of training they have had, and as a result they are in top form.

The meet will be held on the third floor of the gymnasium. The entries are:

Horizontal bar—Wisconsin: Kubosch, Schmidt, Bumer, Pfeleger; Minnesota: Carlson, Perl, Monsen, Sewell.

Side horse—Wisconsin: Hansen, Stevens, Koch; Minnesota: Perl, Miller, Sewell.

Flying rings—Wisconsin: Porth, Schmidt, Bumer, Hoelz; Minnesota: Carlson, Sewell, M. Mueller, Skurdalsvold.

Parallel bars—Wisconsin: Porth, Kubosch, Porth Koch; Minnesota: Perl, Skurdalsvold, Carlson, Miller.

Tumbling—Wisconsin: Capt. chen, Kubosch, Bumer, Stevens; Minnesota: Carlson, Skurdalsvold, Weyer, Sewell.

Club swinging—Wisconsin: Porth; Minnesota: Weyer.

Judges J. D. Hoffen, Chicago Y. M. C. A., Henry Appel, Milwaukee Y. M. C. A., Hans Goetz, Milwaukee public school.

Williams Will Address

Agric Triangle Meeting

"The Relation of the Agric triangle to the Social Welfare Agencies of the State" is the subject of an address by Aubrey Williams, secretary of the Wisconsin conference of social welfare workers, at the meeting of Agric Triangle in the S. G. A. rooms of Lathrop hall, at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. Mr. Williams has had opportunity to study the relationship of the welfare societies in the state to each other. Some of these observations will be given in his address.

Notre Dame Drops Close

Game to Michigan Aggies

After leading 14 to 10 at the end of the first half, Notre Dame lost in the last minute of play Wednesday to the Michigan Aggies in a 22 to 21 game. The Aggies kept Notre Dame from scoring in the final minutes of play, and at the same time made the seven points necessary for a victory. The absence of their free-thrower, Kien, who was in the hospital, weakened the Notre Dame team. Enright and Nuttala starred.

Agric Triangle will hold its regular meeting in the S. G. A. room at Lathrop, 9 o'clock Sunday morning.

MATMEN TO MEET

MAROONS TONIGHT

Eight men left with Coach George Hitchcock this morning for Chicago where they will take on the Maroon grapplers tonight.

The Maroons have a strong team, and there is some small chance that they will take the Badgers into camp by a good score according to a statement made by the coach yesterday.

The Maroons took the Purple matmen into camp by a 16-11 score, and since that time they have been steadily improving. The Badger mat stars only defeated the Evans-ton men with a 19-6 score.

On top of the chance for improvement that the Maroons have had, and the fact that they defeated us last year throws some doubt over the mind of the coach as to the possibility of a victory for the Badger grapplers.

The eight men who make the trip with the coach are Captain Templin, Phelps, Holmes, Hembre, Heuer, Grogger, and Benbow.

AGRICULTURAL LITERARY SOCIETY

The Agricultural Literary society will meet at 7:30 o'clock tonight in Agricultural hall.

BADGERS TIED BY MARQUETTE IN LONG GAME

Marquette pucksters held Wisconsin to 1-1 tie which two overtime periods failed to break in the game played last night in the Ice Palace at Milwaukee.

The first score was made early in the second period when Carle drove the puck home after receiving a pass from Van Hollen.

Combacker scored for Wisconsin in the last few minutes of play in the third period.

The game was fast and the two overtime periods failed to break the tie.

This noon the Marquette players will entertain the Badgers at the Milwaukee Athletic club. The last game of the series will be played tonight at the Ice Palace.

PURPLE CHOOSE MEN FOR ILLINOIS RELAYS

Coach Hill selected eight Northwestern university track men Wednesday to represent the Purple at the Illinois relays Saturday. All the men, however, are entered in special events as the Purple will not send a relay team to the meet.

Telford, and Captain Crippen are expected to win the points for the Purple in the distance runs, while Hilding Hagen is likely to win in the short dashes.

Harker, Worlien, Schick, Bouschor and Canning are the other members of the team sent to Illinois.

BADGERS LOSE TANK MEET TO PURPLE, 44-24

Conference Relay Record Broken

Northwestern swimmers submerged the Wisconsin tank squad, 44 to 24, and handed the Badgers their second defeat of the season here last night. It was Wisconsin's third meet, Coach Steinauer's men having defeated Indiana and lost to Minnesota.

Northwestern took a five-point lead when it captured the 160-yard relay, first event, in record time and the Purple natators were never headed. A quartet composed of Ortlepp, Capt. Paver, Winslow, and Breyer won the 160 yards in one minute 19 8-10 seconds.

Break Conference Record

The Conference record of 1 minute 29 3-5 seconds was made by a Wisconsin team of Davies, Bennett, Lambole, and Gilbreath last year. Because Northwestern did not make the record in the annual Big Ten competition, it will not be recognized as a new mark.

Richard Breyer, Purple ace, was individual high point scorer of the meet. He counted 13 points, taking first places in the 220-yard free style and the 100-yard dash and a second in the 40-yard sprint.

Bennett and Breyer Rivals

Johnny Bennett, Wisconsin leader, was second with a total of 9 points. Johnny won the 40-yard dash, finished second in the 220, and took a third in the 100-yard swim.

Rivalry between Breyer and Bennett was the chief feature of the meet. Breyer bested his Badger opponent twice and Bennett took a first place over Breyer in the 40-yard dash.

PLEASE, MR. MARCH—A LITTLE MORE LAMB

If the lake hadn't been quite so solid last night, we would have been out in our canoe paying homage to a night of exotic, balmy splendor, and these editorials wouldn't have been written.

"Glorious silver moons," "azure skies," "rippling water," "balmy breezes" decorated our thoughts and we stared away from ugly commonplaces like typewriters in intoxicated bliss.

There was supposed to have been an eclipse of the moon last night, but if anything was eclipsed, it was a lot of blue ribbon June moons we remember. And last night's spectacle did the eclipsing. Spring!

Serenaders began their first pilgrimages to sorority houses and kitchens and made the air fragrant to the ear with strains of banjos and bass voices. Spring!

The Laws and Engineers in the morning opened up their season of verbally congratulating each other on their respective professions from their respective buildings. Spring!

The hill bubbled with fashion talk, melting snow, and mud. Spring!

Topics and tests were tossed a thousand days away in spring-fevered reveries. Professorial frowns on inactivity and non-attention blossomed in myriad campus nooks, shaming violets in number and beauty. Spring!

Hats—and coats—went off to greet the royal queen—Spring!

Mr. March's meal for the month started off with a generous slice of lamb. We swallowed it whole and now we're feeling the effects of over-indulgence. We're no earthly good to the world or the people therein. But we like it.

Perhaps we should have had the regular order—appetizer in the way of lion before, and heavy portion of lamb after.

But the deed is done.

We can only plead for the weather man to hide the breezy lion skins he seems to have ready for Mr. March. We can't afford to be tantalized by a little lamb and then a little lion. We've got business to do,—editorials to write—and the sooner we get over our spring fever spree, the better for our scholastic—and our editorial—necks. Besides, lions are rough on the digestive system anyway.

So please, Mr. March, may we have another helping of lamb?

82 LEGISLATORS WENT TO MARKET—

The athletic department took a splendid step yesterday toward the ultimate end of bringing the legislature and the university together when it invited the lawmakers to witness the Wisconsin-Minnesota game tonight. Eighty-two legislators responded and will be giving skyrockets for the team tonight.

Eighty-two legislators will walk up the decrepit wooden steps of a decrepit wooden structure. They will be squeezed into a poorly lighted, inadequately ventilated hall.

They will sit for one hour with feet cramped, legs twisted, spine dug by other knees. They will forget all their troubles watching a Wisconsin team display genuine basketball technique. They will see 2,000 students ignoring the same troubles in the excitement of the battle. If they are imaginative, they will see 4,000 more students glumly wishing they had even the chance to ignore inconveniences.

After rooting for the team and the great sport of basketball, eighty-two legislators will go back to the capitol rooting for a new gymnasium.

That's good advertising. At least eighty-two legislators will have after tonight an insight into that mysterious force, college sport, and will be in a position to appreciate the need for housing it.

Perhaps the method employed by the athletic department is a solution to the university-legislature get-together problem. It proves certainly that legislators will come to the university when specially invited.

Other departments could follow the precedent and invite the legis-

IN COUE'S WAKE (Michigan Daily)

Now that the "little pharmacost from Nancy" has returned to his own shores and left those Americans who so enthusiastically welcomed him to this country to think over his great contribution to humanity, we already find ourselves tormented by a number of fake mental healers. Opening the eyes of the public to the already accepted fact that much illness can be cured by the imagination, he has through his "every day" formula given a new stimulus to the professional faker who so frequently molests the ignorant in our large cities.

Undoubtedly M. Coue did accomplish some good through his tour of this country by virtue of the fact that he, at least, talked some people into using their imagination who never knew the real meaning of that term before. However, the supposition that motion pictures, such as the ridiculous one which was presented before local audiences this week, can be effective in the promotion of Coueism, as it should be understood, is nonsensical. This coupled with the natural inclination to term Coue a healer has led to a general misunderstanding of his mission which has in turn resulted in a revival of quackery under such ingenious names as "suggestive therapeutics" and the like.

The attendant evils of the little Frenchman's visit are apparent, and the cause as well. He did not purport to be a healer, but a thinker. We conceived in him the idea of a healer, and for this reason are partially responsible for the quackery which has followed in his wake.

Miss George to Be Guest of Y. W. C. A. This Week

Miss Katy Boyd George, national secretary of the committee for friendly relations with foreign students, will be the guest of Y. W. C. A. on Monday and for the rest of the week.

John R. Mott, went to the religious conference in Peking last April where she acted as leader of the women delegates.

While in Madison Miss George will stay with Miss Mary Anderson, Gilman street. Members of Y. W. C. A. cabinet will entertain at a supper Tuesday night and the freshman commission on Wednesday night in honor of Miss George at Miss Anderson's apartment.

lature to inspect their particular work. Their exhibitions could be made as interesting as a basketball game.

Nevertheless such a haphazard method could not be productive of the best results. Centralization and singleness of purpose is needed in the movement. It is hoped that administrative inaction on the proposal is not final. It should not be. Definite consideration should be made in future general faculty meetings or sessions of the regents.

A PRAYER

Wisconsin has an uncanny knack of winning second place. Probably no university can beat its second place sport record. The record is high,—but not high enough. It's human nature to want to be first. Sometimes it seems the fates have had an excessive share in preventing titles for Wisconsin.

Tonight at Ann Arbor a game between Michigan and Iowa will place the Badgers in the running for the 1823 basketball championship or virtually spike that opportunity for all time. If Iowa loses, Wisconsin has an even chance.

Wisconsin prays.

If the day be dreary, Dr. John R. Mott can bring rays of brightness. If the day be bright, Dr. Mott can add to its beauty and inspiration. World problems—world remedies. Personal problems—personal remedies. He speaks at 8:15 o'clock in Lathrop hall. An all-university affair.

HE-MAN SKEPTICISM

(From Nebraska)

Editor, The Cardinal:

I have just perused the daily resume of Nebraska campus gossip and learn among other unimportant things that the masculine sect at your university have formed a "union" to deny Wisconsin co-eds the "privilege" of becoming wives of the Badger men.

What an infinite relief such an action must be for the fair femininity at Wisconsin! But we wonder—why the necessity of forming a society? It would seem that most any co-ed would be only too glad to extend to the members of the organization, individually or collectively, her assistance so that he might the more easily refrain from the hazards of matrimony with her or her sisters.

What joy to know that no longer she need be bored with some youngster, newly initiated into the occult mysteries of the Greek fraternity, reiterating his request that she take his pin which has reposed on his manly bosom for at least a week.

Gone are her fears of dating too steadily with some good-looking student, for she knows now that he will never assume a serious role and thus endanger the fulfillment of her aspirations to become a dignified pedagogue or a globe trotter. She is safe from the entangling meshes of the affections of amorous and soulful-eyed youths. What freedom!

What bliss to contemplate a husband well established in business and with a few brains to call his own. What a relief to be able to talk "sense" and not have to limit her verbal utterances to teardrops, the latest Orpheum and the next formal.

But there is a platitude which mentions something about "in the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love" and methinks that when the balmy days of May cast their bright skies over our heads and the Wisconsin campus, the usual number of masculine fraternity pins will be peacefully resting over the palpitating hearts of the denounced and repulsed co-eds.

A NEBRASKA CO-ED.

BIG FACTOR IN SUMMER SCHOOL

"Teachers and flunkers are not a growing element in the summer session at the University of Wisconsin", S. H. Goodnight, director of the summer session, declared yesterday.

"The summer session is naturally the place where extreme types of students meet. The flunker gets the chance here to re-instate himself in time to enter the regular session in the fall. The most competent student in the university who is completing his course in less than four years, is also in attendance during the summer. Teachers, numbering 2653, made up more than one-half of the total enrollment of 4724.

"The summer session has always been planned especially for teachers. The first session in 1898 gave only review courses for teachers in the college of letters and science," Goodnight continued.

During the last session, that of 1922, the education department gave 3736 credits, more than twice the number of credits given in the next most popular department, economics, which granted 1998 credits. The teaching staff for the 1923 session will be about double that of the present year.

Regular session undergraduates of this university enrolled in the summer session in 1922 numbered 1487, those from other institutions totaled 1780. Some of these students were "flunkers", but they do not typify the group.

Graduate students registered in the graduate school reached the total of 318 Wisconsin graduates, and 401 from other schools. The number of graduates not registered in the graduate school was 161 for Wisconsin and 498 from other institutions.

The total number of teachers enrolled consisted of 314 university, college and normal school teachers, 151 superintendents and principals, 1324 high school teachers and 864 other teachers. Of this number 956 were teachers in Wisconsin schools.

Legislature Gets Request For U. W. Building

Last spring a sum of $6,000 was appropriated by the board of regents of the university for the erection of a building at Devil's Lake.

Devil's Lake is visited annually by hundreds of professors and students of the university for geological study.

The visitors usually live in tents and rude shacks during their stay, and the need for a building in which they can live and find recreation is felt keenly. The proposed building would supply this need.

The appropriation must be sanctioned by the legislature before any plans for the construction of the building may be made. The proposal comes before the legislature Thursday, March 15.

Pupils and faculty of the vocational school will entertain about 135 members of the Kiwanis club at the Vocational school Monday evening from 5.30 to 9 o'clock.

TRUST COMPANY OFFERS PRIZES FOR FEATURES

The Chicago Trust company is offering two sets of prizes for the best contributions on any subject relating to business development and the modern trust company. The purpose of the contest is to bring to light latent talent along these lines and to stimulate interest in research of this nature.

An award of $2,500 for the best detailed treatise on this subject will be made in the year 1925 and every three years thereafter. This phase of the competition is open to all persons interested without restriction.

For briefer studies by undergraduate students of economics, business, finance, or law prizes of $300 will be given annually beginning in the summer of 1923. The chairman of the committee of award is Prof. Ralph E. Heilman, Dean of the School of Commerce, Northwestern university.

Among some of the suggested topics for discussion are the advisory relations of trust companies and other banks with their customers, the reduction of litigation relating to wills, trust companies as fiscal agents for corporations, and the history of British investment trusts.

Other questions that bear only indirectly on the operations of trust companies are also suggested as possible topics. These include the financing of small corporations, the recent failures of brokerage houses, the use of no-par value stock and the blue sky legislation in the United States.

Copies of the circular of announcement giving complete information regarding the rules and regulations of the contest may be secured at the office of the secretary of the faculty, room 151 Bascom hall.

Czerwonky Wins Breast Stroke
Hugo Czerwonky won the 200-yard breast stroke for Wisconsin by a remarkable exhibition of consistent speed. He took a lead on the first lap. Eiseley and Wells trailed Czerwonky, with Pope, second Wisconsin swimmer, far behind. At the finish, the Badger star was about one-half lap ahead of his opponents.

Norman Koch won the fancy diving events for Wisconsin. Ellicott defeated Agnew for second place in the back stroke race, and Gilbreath managed to finish third behind Breyer in the 40-yard swim.

Purple Wins Basketball

Irving Salstein, Wisconsin plunger, picked up a point by placing third in the plunge for distance. He was bested by R. Dickson and J. Dickson, Northwestern plungers. The former floated the 60 feet in 37 2-5 seconds.

In the waterbasketball contest which followed the swim meet, Northwestern walloped the Badgers, 5 to 0. Thompson made most of the Purple's points. At the end of the first half, the Methodists had swung into a 3 to 0 lead by the virtue of a free throw and basket which Thompson made.

"The chief cause of failure among these students is lack of application. Administrative officials have facilities for making a careful study of the reasons for failure and they find that, in the great majority of cases, the student who must be dropped got himself into that condition by failure to attend classes regularly or to do the routine work required in his courses. They are not necessarily dull students nor badly prepared students. For these ill-equipped students are likely to work very hard and to receive a great deal of attention from their instructors.

"Some of those who fail, of course, have not been well prepared in high schools; more often the difficulty is that they have not learned to study and to apply themselves. Others fail because they have never learned to read intelligently, to think or to get the gist of lectures or readings. Many have no aim and just drift along. But the majority who fail do so because they refuse, in spite of continuous prodding, to attend even to the routine work of their courses."
