NO GAME WITH MINNESOTA

DIRECTORS OF THE ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION MEET.

MATTERS IN REGARD TO THE BOAT HOUSE.

Minnesota Refuses to Play Except on the Home Grounds.

At the meeting of the board of directors of the Athletic association, held last evening at the Beta Theta Pi lodge, final action was taken in regard to the football game with Minnesota. Minnesota has refused to play the game this year at Madison, although only one of the series of games played with Minnesota has been played here. Wisconsin's team is anxious for a game with Minnesota, but it was not thought best to yield so much in regard to the matter. So it was decided that there would be no more athletic relations with Minnesota until more regard for fairness in athletic matters is shown.

The University Boathouse company offered to transfer the floating dock and the gigs to the Athletic association if the latter would pay the company fifty dollars annual rental for the boats. It is also suggested that the gigs could be taken as part of the gymnasium apparatus by the students. No definite action was taken on the proposition of the company, but the matter will probably be decided at the next meeting.

LECTURE ON FOOTBALL.

Next Thursday evening the management of the football team have secured Thomas Cochran, Jr., Yale '94, to deliver a lecture on Football at Yale. The lecture will first treat of the subject historically, showing the development of the sport in the college where it first started and where it reached almost its highest development. Then the lecturer will describe one of the days of practice of the football team. The system of practice and coaching at the athletic field will be described by one who for four years was a participant in the hard work of the Yale football team. During Mr. Cochran's four years at Yale he trained with the football team and so knows thoroughly whereof he speaks. The lecture will also be illustrated by stereopticon views by W. W. Lounsburg, Yale '94. Pictures of all the famous players will be given and many of the plays pictured out on the screen.

This will be an excellent opportunity for those who know little about the game and wish to become acquainted with some of the finer points which go to make up a great game of football. A person will be much better able to understand what the men are doing when they watch the practice on the campus.

No risk is taken by Mr. Cochran on this venture but he is paid a certain sum by the Athletic association and all over that goes toward the expenses of the football team this fall. On this account, if on no other, there should be a good audience next Thursday night. A large audience will leave a good surplus in the treasury and will perhaps enable the team to come out ahead financially.

The following letter will be of interest in regard to this lecture:

"Mr. Cochran's lecture is a capital one and although he speaks from the accurate knowledge of the player he appeals especially to those who wish to know why this sport attracts audiences of thirty and forty thousand. The lecture is sure to arouse a strong interest in the game wherever it is delivered."

DELTA UPSILON PARTY.

They Dance to Lueder's Orchestra Amid Flowers and Ferns.

The local chapter of Delta Upsilon gave a pleasant dancing party at their chapter lodge last evening. The halls and stairways were banked with palms and ferns, and the fire places were screened by picturesque groups of the same plants. The mantels and windows were artistically wreathed with festoons of smilax, while roses and carnations in profusion added color to the beauty of the scene. Light refreshments were served during the evening from buffets on the second floor. Dancing was indulged in until a late hour, Lueder's orchestra furnishing the music. The party was chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Polleys of Madison, and following is a list of those present: Misses Elizabeth Mills, Fay Parkinson, Mabel McCoy, Charlotte Freeman, Amelia Flintington, Martie Pound, Jessie Hand, Agnes Bassett, Chrissie Wright, Anna Flint, Carrie Thomas, Edith Robinson, Daisy Sames, Helen Brown, Laura Osborne; Messrs. Fred Warner, Theodore P. Schuman, Shirley B. Tarrant, Ernest True, Fred C. Bell of Milwaukee, Edwin Cassels, Ray Willets, Joseph Alexander, Clyde Warren, Will Schuman, Philip Bertrand, Dwight Sanborn, Will F. Hase, Alford Smith, Eugene Joannes and Harry Tower.

SCIENCE AGAINST NATURE.

A Test on Some Worthless Land Belonging to the State Farm.

Out on the shore of Lake Mendota, northwest of the university grounds, Prof. Henry has a force of eight men at work on an experiment, testing a way of reclaiming land for which there is no natural drainage. The land on which Prof. Henry is operating is under water the greater part of the year.

He has had a dike constructed so as to keep out the back water of the lake and close up to the dike has excavated a large reservoir whose bottom is about five feet below the level of the marsh. The tile drains, which are being laid empty into this reservoir and then the water is pumped over the dike into the slough on the other side by means of a windmill.

If the outcome of the experiment proves that such draining is practicable there will be thousands of acres of valuable land reclaimed in the same manner. The result of the experiment should be watched closely by students who are interested in farm matters.

BUCKLEY RULES THE SENIORS

ELECTED PRESIDENT AT THE MEETING TODAY.

DEFICIT ON BADGERS TO BE MADE UP.

Will the Regents Help Them?—Committees on Cane and Cap and Gown.

There was a small attendance at the senior class meeting in Main hall this morning, but the amount of business transacted was in inverse ratio of the number present. President Burgess called the meeting to order and, in the absence of the secretary, appointed Victor Marshall to act in her place.

As the meeting held by a part of the class last Saturday was illegal, a motion prevailed declaring the proceedings of that meeting void. Under reports of officers and committees Treasurer Hanson submitted his report. Amount received from class party, etc., was $13.90; sum expended for this year's Badger, $13.55; balance, 35 cts. After the adoption of the report, the following officers were elected for the term:

President, E. R. Buckley; vice president, Miss Steenberg; secretary, Miss Chynoweth; treasurer, C. R. Frazier; sergeant at arms, W. C. Hanson; historian, Miss Baker.

Miscellaneous business was next in order and Mr. Burgess made a report on the financial condition of last year's Badger board. He said that $1978 had been paid out and, after subtracting $75 due the board, there was still a deficit of nearly $300. This was due to the hard times prevalent last year, and which reduced the amount usually received for advertising, by one-half. It was also due to the lack of support on the part of the regents of the university, who had not contributed a cent on account of the fault they found in the book, whose whole contents had gone through the hands of an examining committee made up of members of the faculty. He said that there were 200 books still unsold.

A motion was carried that a committee of three be appointed to see President Adams and the board of regents and urge them to reconsider their action, and to give the same aid to '95's Badger as had been given to those of former classes.

Mr. Graves moved that a committee of three be appointed to arrange for senior representation in the class games played this fall. The motion was carried and Messrs. Kummel, Gregerson and Ernest were appointed as such committee.

Motions were made and carried providing for the appointment of a committee of three persons to investigate further the cap and gown question, and for a similar committee to select a light and handsome cane as a substitute for the burdensome log now carried.

Quite a discussion was raised on the senior party question, and a motion was finally passed providing for the selection of the usual committee of three to get the temper of the faculty on the advisability of holding assembly reception this fall. The meeting then adjourned.

The names of the members of the several committees will be posted on the bulletin boards next Monday morning, and they will be urged to complete their reports as soon as possible so that a class meeting may be called early to act on them.

GOV. M'KINLEY TO SPEAK.

The Great Republican Will Talk Here on October 9.

Governor Wm. McKinley of Ohio will speak in this city under the auspices of the University Republican club on Tuesday afternoon, October 9. All arrangements have not yet been completed but he will probably deliver his address in the assembly chamber or if the weather permits in the capitol park. A full announcement will be made in a few days.

LIBRARY TALK.

Librarian Smith gave the third of his popular library talks last evening. He briefly mentioned the great advantages to be derived from libraries in connection with college work and then devoted himself to an explanation of the new card catalogue which is being made of the university library. The work on this catalogue was commenced a year ago and it may already be consulted in regard to the greater part of the books in the library. The catalogue is a dictionary in form and entries are arranged in an alphabetical series of the authors, titles and subjects. Those wishing to become further acquainted with its use at present, will do well to consult "Cutter's Expansion Classification" and the type-written table which may be found on the card-catalogue stand. In the near future a complete account of the use and arrangement of the card-table will be given in the Cardinal by Mr. Smith.

Next week the lectures will be on the use of general reference books, as dictionaries, encyclopedias, etc. These subjects are important ones and all students should attend.

FOOTBALL NOTES.

—Sheldon will be seen again soon in the football practice.

—Comstock is doing good work at center.

Silverwood has been transferred from center to tackle.

—All the boys are doing well and there is no reason why we should not have a strong team this year.

—A section of the locker room in the gymnasium has been partitioned off and will be used by the Varsity football men for a rubbing down room.

—Dutcher had the cartilage of his nose torn yesterday in the football practice, but will be out again Monday.

—Mr. Bertrand H. Doyon is spending Saturday and Sunday in Chicago with his mother, Mrs. M. R. Doyon.

The Madison High School defeated the University second eleven this afternoon by a score of 6 to 4.

The first results of the cataloguing of the university library have appeared in the way of a classified card index which includes a considerable portion of the books in the library. As soon as the students become familiar with the system under which the cataloguing has been carried out, it will be found to be of great convenience.

At most universities there are in existence organizations composed of graduates from various large academies and preparatory schools or of students coming from the same city. These clubs, called "locality clubs," fill an important mission by bringing together students from the same locality and in creating interest in the university among the students in the schools or academies from which they come. Their object seems to be a most laudable one and it might be of great benefit to have some such organizations in the university. They could act in conjunction with alumni associations and furnish their schools with annuals and other publications. These clubs could be easily formed by students from Milwaukee, Chicago, or any cities having large delegations at the university and there is no reason why, if such organizations were formed they would not be valuable additions to our many organizations.

The manager of the football team has been unable to arrange games with either Minnesota or Michigan. Wisconsin is naturally more anxious for a game with the former as we have conquered Michigan and rest on our laurels as far as she is concerned. But we regret the severing of the athletic relations between both those universities.

The action of Michigan in refusing to play under any conditions is perfectly consistent with her actions last year. In athletics Michigan has fallen out of the first-class among the western universities. In order to conceal this she is attempting to consider herself an eastern university, considering that there is more honor in being at the bottom of eastern athletics than of western. The sending of the nine east, with its splendid record of nine straight defeats, was to keep up this delusion. Probably the worst defeat of the Michigan nine was that of 17 to 0 by a team soon afterwards defeated by Wisconsin. Only one man in Michigan's "Mott Haven team" was able to score in the western field games at Chicago.

Minnesota's action, although very unfair, is far better than Michigan's. But Minnesota's refusal to play a game on our grounds is not in accordance with any ideas of college justice. It was Minnesota's turn to come here and we could play under no other conditions. While we do not wish to charge cowardice against Minnesota yet that is the inference which many will draw from her action.

COMMUNICATION.

Editor Cardinal:—Of late there has been a good deal of objection made to the idea of an inter-class field day, on the ground that the freshmen will not compete against the juniors and seniors because they are afraid they will not get first or second place in whatever they enter. Now, I want to protest against that objection. It seems to me it is not a valid one.

In the first place, what has been the object of the freshman-sophomore field day in the past? Was it to see which class could win the greater number of points? Primarily, no. The object was to get new men out, see what they could do, and develop them for future field days. The idea of winning the most points was only a secondary object and the class rivalry was only a stimulus to good work. This rivalry is still retained in the inter-class field day and in a stronger form. A number of the athletes among the upper classmen cannot enter the sports this fall and so the freshman class, with its larger numbers and athletes somewhat developed in the high schools, have a very good show for first place. The freshmen this year need not be at all afraid of defeat because, to the writer's knowledge, it has at least four of the best athletes who ever entered the university.

Now, I want to say a word about what the writer considers to be of the greatest importance—the experience gained in such a contest as the coming one. Two of the old athletes, and by the way, members of last year's track team, told the writer that the experience obtained in such a contest was worth more than all the prizes the contestant could win. Even if a freshman thinks he cannot win anything now, that is no reason why he should hesitate about entering. If he will look ahead, he will see that in a year or two the upper classmen, who can beat him now, will not be in the university, and with the experience he will gain in contesting against them, will be able to take his share of the prizes in the future. It seems to me this is the view every freshman should take now and should cultivate. If that had been done before by a number of the old athletes the result of the field day at Chicago last June would have been different.

Now, let the freshmen come out and do what they can this fall and even if they fail in getting a point, stick to it till they succeed. "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again."

"One of Them."

VIGOROUS DEBATING.

Societies All Did Good Work Last Night—New Members.

Work in the literary societies is now fairly under way as was shown by the attendance and interest throughout last evening.

Athenae's program consisted of two debates, one upon the question of Immigration and the other as to whether or not McClellan was justifiable in his actions during the Peninsular campaign. The Immigration question was led on the affirmative by F. V. Cornish, on the negative Oscar Rohm. The jury rendered its decision in favor of the affirmative. The affirmative were also winners in the debate upon Mc-Clellan, J. T. Healy leading the negative against M. W. Kalaher on the affirmative. Unusual interest was manifested in both questions and the debates were as a whole, as good as any Athenae has listened to for a long time.

A large audience was present at Philomathia hall last evening and listened to an excellent program. A large number of freshmen were initiated and an exceptionally large class is looked forward to. The first debate, "Is the cabinet system of government preferable to the system in vogue in the United States today?" was won by Butt, '97, on the negative over Hagerman, '97, on the affirmative.
The second debate on the question,
"Resolved, that the present tariff is preferable to the McKinley tariff," was championed on the affirmative by Maloney, '96, and on the negative by Githens, '95. The jury decided in favor of the affirmative.

The meeting the the Hesperian society last night had many of the features of an old settlers' meeting.
Messrs. Doherty and C. B. Rogers, '93, and Mr. A. J. Olsen, '89, were present and made most happy speeches in honor of Old Hesperia and its members.

The first debate on the program,
"Resolved, that the senators should be elected by direct vote of the people," was championed on the affirmative by C. J. Luby, and on the negative by McNab. It was decided two to one in favor of the affirmative. After recess the second question, "Resolved, that the Wilson bill is preferable to the McKinley bill," was debated under the leadership of J. B. Amazeen and C.
Dolph. The debate was spirited and several excellent volunteer speeches were made. The jury decided 2 to 1 in favor of the Wilson bill. After the debates five new members were initiated. They were Smith, Moore, Oliver, Ochsner and Wigdale.

The second meeting of the Columbian Law society last evening was one full of oratory and discussion on the fascinating question: "Resolved, that the right of suffrage be granted to the women of the United States." The question was argued on the affirmative by Messrs. Walker, Rogers, Feeney, Fugina; on the negative by Messrs. Hartwell, Case, Emmons and Karel.

Special mention should be made of the able arguments made by the two leaders, Walker and Hartwell. The jury decided the question in favor of woman suffrage. Messrs. Ohnstadt and Baker volunteered with able and interesting words on the above subject.

The five minute impromptu addresses were most ably handled by Messrs.
Nohl and Shinunok. After listening to some valuable advice offered by Mr.
Fontaine, critic for the evening, the society went into secret session. The visitors who were plentiful are always welcome to the Columbian.

—The Madison City Library is to be catalogued in the near future.

—F. Kull is to be out of town over Sunday.

THE MUSICAL CLUBS.

Final Test of Voices Today—Applications Numerous.

This afternoon at library hall Prof.
F. A. Parker and Mr. W. G. Sired, assisted by several of the members of last year's glee club, will conduct the final trial for voices for this year's club.
Some fifty candidates have applied and have had their voices tested.
About half of this number are to be given a second trial today and a choice of members will be made. The applicants are unusually numerous and promising and the indications are that all the parts will be well filled. Among the old members of the club who are still in the university and who are expected to enter the club this year are
H. G. Greenbank, C. F. McClure, J. H. Bacon, Grant Showerman and J. M. Bunn. The prospects for a good glee club are remarkably flattering.

The banjo and mandolin clubs are also re-organizing and have each held rehearsals. Mr. S. C. Hanks, who led the mandolin club last year and Mr. F. A. Vaughn, leader of last year's banjo club, are personally superintending the reorganization of their respective clubs and report an unusually large number of capable and desirable candidates. The mandolin club is contemplating the addition of a zither and a viola to its instrumentation. The banjo club has already commenced work upon the two new compositions of the leader, Mr.
Vaughn, The College Two-Step and the Ethelyn Two-Step. A meeting of the three clubs will probably be called soon to elect a manager for the season.

It is proposed that the glee club, and possibly the other clubs, adopt a rule by which membership in the club ceases at the end of each year, thus forcing old members to renew their candidacies each fall. A committee of "hold overs" will be appointed each spring to superintend the reorganization the following fall. In this manner it is hoped to do away with the embarrassment of dismissing old members who have come to regard themselves as fixtures, when it is deemed desirable to make changes in the personnel of the club.

—Guy S. Ford, ex-'95, will not return to the university until next year.

—G. Melvin Dahl, law '96, left for a short visit at Stoughton yesterday.

—Alfred C. Bell, '94, of Milwaukee, is spending a few days at the Delta Upsilon lodge.

—Prof. C. R. Van Hise has returned from Europe where he spent an enjoyable vacation.

—Theo. Royce, '98, and Edward Meltzer, '97, will spend Sunday at their homes in Fort Atkinson.

—The regular meeting of the Aegis board was held today in the law building. Winter Everett, law '96, was elected assistant editor-in-chief.

—Mr. E. P. Worden, superintendent of the A. J. Lindemann-Hoverson Hardware company, of Milwaukee, formerly a student in the university class of '92, is visiting friends in the city.

—Dick Anns, '94, was in town recently visiting his university friends. He has now gone to Springfield, Ohio, where he has accepted a position in an electrical plant. U. W. will have to look for a new second baseman next spring.

—The freshmen are turning out some good material for a boat crew. There are about thirty men trying for the places. On Thursday there were four crews out for trial. They will meet every day for practice until the men are chosen.

—Mr. R. M. Arms, who was graduated with the class of '94 at the university, has been spending a few days with friends in the city and university. He has recently accepted an excellent position at Springfield, Ohio, and left Thursday to take up his occupation in that city.
