PROGRAMS READY FOR DISTRIBUTION AT REGISTRAR'S

Students to See Advisor From January 12-17 to Avoid Confusion

Students who will be here next semester will procure a new time table at rooms 101, 151, or 158 Bascom hall. From these time tables next semester programs are to be made. After making out the election cards students are to report to their advisor whose office hours are posted in his office, and are on file at the registrar's office. Both election card are to be left with advisors.

Students who are not expecting to be here next semester must report that fact to their advisors. The dates for seeing advisors are from January 12 to 17 and failure to do so during this time will cause great complications in registration.

Letters and Science students, including those in commerce, journalism, and other special courses, whose last names begin with the letters from A-G inclusive report to Lathrop gymnasium Thursday, January 29, during the hours from 9 o'clock to 12 o'clock and from 1 o'clock to 5 o'clock, those from H-O inclusive, Friday, January 30, from 9 o'clock to 12 o'clock and from 1 o'clock to 5 o'clock, and those from P-Z inclusive, Monday, February 2, from 9 o'clock to 12 o'clock and 1 o'clock to 5 o'clock.

As soon as students have completed the registration they are to pay their fees at the Bursar's office, which is open from 8:30 o'clock to 12:30 o'clock and from 2 o'clock to 4 o'clock. Three dollars extra are charged for fees paid the first day after Friday, February 6, and 25 cents for every day after.

Great Opportunity For the Greeks in Intellectual Field —HIBBARD

"The Greeks have a great capacity for intellectual development, and there is great opportunity for development of the country," D. O. Hibbard said, who has just returned from a five year stay in Athens, in an address before the International club in the cabinet room of the Y. M. C. A. at 8 o'clock last night.

"Commercialism is the breath of life to Greece, and an upset government defeats commerce; therefore the people of Greece are tired of revolutions," he said. "America has a fair complex of the Balkans, but I can see a federation of the Balkan states as soon as they settle down to their work, as Greece has already done. The Greeks are like a handful of sand grains, press them together and they are solid, but release the pressure and they drop apart. Because they are an extreme people it is hard for Bolshevism to get a start."

Augustin Rodolfo '26, reported on the national convention of the Association of Cosmopolitan clubs, which was held at Ames, Iowa, in December. He remarked that the Wisconsin club, organized in 1903, is the oldest in the country, and for that reason is permitted to be called International club rather than Cosmopolitan.

Forest Products Man Joins Faculty of U. of Michigan

Mr. E. V. Jotter, who for three years had charge of the public relations work of the Forest Products laboratory, is now assistant professor of forest management at Michigan, his alma mater.

Prof. Jotter graduated from the University of Michigan in 1904. He was then superintendent of one of the United States forest districts in California for 15 years.

His work at the laboratory brought him in contact with men engaged in forest work throughout the world as well as in touch with many of the large and small power governments.

INJURED DOG WAITS FOR MASTER TO COME

"Oh, where, Oh where has my little dog gone. Oh where, Oh where can he be?"

Who said that? You will find your little brown dog at the office of Dr. C. A. Deadman, 311 East Main street, in a wooden box where he is lying with a broken leg that the doctor is treating. His big brown eyes appeal for the master who has failed to find him.

The dog which was run over Wednesday by a taxi cab and was picked up by some members of Delta Zeta sorority, is small and brown and wore a black padlocked collar. The owner may communicate with the Delta Zeta house or with Dr. Deadman's office.

DEBATERS MEET FOR ORGANIZATION

Four Regular Teams and Alternates to Be Selected From 16

Tentative plans for the organization of the university debate teams will be made at a meeting at 1 o'clock January 13 in 401 Bascom hall, according to an announcement made yesterday by Prof. J. M. O'Neill of the speech department. Four regular teams and a group of alternates will be selected from the 16 debaters who were successful in the final contest on Thursday.

Wisconsin will enter an affirmative and a negative team in both the Mid-West and the Triangular league contests. On March 12 an affirmative team will meet Northwestern in Madison, while a negative team will go to Minneapolis.

The proposition for this debate is "Resolved, that the constitution of the United States should be so amended that any law or portion of a law declared unconstitutional by the supreme court of the United States should be valid law if re-enacted by both houses of the next succeeding congress and either signed by the president or passes over his veto."

The Michigan Illinois debate held on March 20 will be waged on the question, "Resolved, that the proposed child labor amendment to the national constitution should be ratified by the several states."

U. W. Money Aids Needy Students at Athens University

"Part of the money raised here at the university during the student Friendship campaign last year was spent under the supervision of J. F. Machotka '15 for work among refugee students at the University of Athens, Greece," said D. O. Hibbard, general director of the Y. M. C. A. in Athens, who is visiting his brother, C. V. Hibbard, general secretary of the university association.

"The money raised for the Student Friendship fund was used as a lever to obtain certain privileges for the refugee students attending the University of Athens. Fees were remitted to the refugees which amounted to 350,000 drachmae in Greek money or more than $6,500. Through the ministry of relief, buildings were obtained for quartering the refugees," said Mr. Hibbard.

Mr. Machotka obtained the aid of the Red Cross for the refugee students, some of whom were without funds, sufficient clothing or food. It was only the Student Friendship fund that saved them.

PHARMACY DEPARTMENT STUDIES 175 PLANTS

Approximately 175 different plants and herbs are now rooted in the 10 acres devoted to drug culture in the experimental drug garden of the department of pharmacy of the university, according to Prof. W. O. Richtman, pharmacognosist. The garden lies just west of the agricultural buildings and is used to raise roots and herbs for medicinal purposes and also to experiment with the production of new or foreign plants. Investigations have been carried on there for ten years.

Flea Hoppers Just One More Time To Enjoy Terpsichorean Delights

Get busy, all you campus sheiks! Remember that tonight is the last night that you can keep her out until 12:30. All the dancing that you would like to do in the next three weeks will have to be done tonight or at Prom. If you do not take advantage of this last night, terpsichorean delights will have to be postponed until after examinations.

Eleven o'clock is so early to leave a dance but it will have to be that hour until all the examinations are over. Then have a good time at Prom and forget the dark and dreary days that will have just passed.

The only way in which you may entertain your lady friend will be to take her to a show. The Madison theaters seem to realize this for they are showing some good pictures.

This will have to be the last dance before examinations. The threatening cloud of exams is beginning to darken the skies but the sun may shine for just this last time of freedom. The cloud may be black but the thought of Prom can become the silver lining.

Y. M. Prepared to Offer Scholastic Help to Freshmen

Scholastic help for freshmen is now available at the Y. M. C. A. office, according to Carl Kasper '26, president of the junior council, which has charge of assisting the new students.

Lists of all the freshmen subjects giving the teacher's name, room and office hours have been prepared by members of the council. At a meeting of members of the junior class and faculty representatives, it was decided that the free tutoring system that had been in practice for the past few years was an expense that did not bring results equal to the expenditures.

"If the men have tried to get assistance from their instructors and have failed, the university association will take up the cases and see what other arrangements can be made for the students."

EXPECT 400 TO TAKE CON EXAMS NEXT WEEK

Applications for condition exams must be in the secretary of the faculty's office in 151 Bascom hall by noon today. From these applications schedules for the examinations will be made and posted in all the buildings on the campus.

The examination will be given for two hours on the afternoon of January 17. Questions for each person who has made application will be given.

If the examination is failed the course for the semester is failed, while if a good grade is made the grade is the semester mark, but no grade points are given with it. It is expected that there will be about 400 taking the exam.

POST GRADUATE WORK OFFERED TO SENIORS

All seniors within six credits of graduation can elect work from the graduate school second semester, according to Prof. Charles S. Schlichter, dean of the Graduate school. This gives them the opportunity of taking some post-grad work and of getting some credits toward a M. A. degree.

RADIO SPEECH BY SHARP, ON PEACE

Discuss Proposals of the Protocol Framed By League in Geneva

"The most significant as well as comprehensive project yet undertaken by the League of Nations is the proposed Peace Protocol that was framed by the Fifth Assembly meeting at Geneva last September," said Prof. Walter R. Sharp of the political science department, in a talk last night from university radio station WHA. "Until last year the League had done little on the disarmament question but to study some of the technical problems involved."

"Unlike the European nations, who have been insistent since 1919 that some satisfactory arrangement for their security must precede any reduction of land armaments, the American idea was that disarmament could come before national security," continued Professor Sharp.

Its unique feature is the attempt not only to outlaw aggressive war, but to define aggression concretely as the refusal to accept a judicial settlement by World Court or otherwise of a dispute if it is legal in nature, or to accept arbitration as the Council of the League shall direct if the controversy is political.

According to the Protocol, the Council may invoke joint police measures or sanctions against any state declared an aggressor. These sanctions are progressive in character, beginning with the severance of trade and financial relations, followed by the prohibition of all intercourse, and finally, if need be, by the contribution of military and naval contingents by the members of the League to put down the aggression. But no state belonging to the League is required to furnish troops or ships against its own wish.

Episcopal Rector Resigns as Head of Student Work

The resignation of the Rev. S. M. Cleveland, head of the St. Francis Club house for Episcopal students and rector of the student Episcopal church, which was announced on December 19, will go into effect February 1. His resignation was necessitated by ill health and was, consequently, unexpected.

Although a permanent successor has not yet been chosen by the Commission of the Episcopal Church in Wisconsin, the work will be carried on temporarily by the Rev. Norman Kimball, who was formerly rector of St. Andrew's church, Wingra Park.

The principal duties of the student pastor are to supervise the work of the Episcopal church among the students and to hold Sunday services in the Episcopal chapel on University avenue.

MOLD COLLECTION IS RECEIVED BY BOTANISTS

The botany department of the university has received a large collection of slime molds made by the late Dr. F. W. McNair, president of the Michigan College of Mines at Houghton, Michigan, until his death last summer.

FOX-TROT WON BY GRABIN FEATURES PRE-PROM DANCE

Union Vodvil Banjo Trio to Introduce New Musical Number

"Flower of My Dreams," is the new Prom fox-trot, written by Nathan Grabin '25, which will be featured for the first time tonight at the pre-Prom dance in Lathrop gymnasium. The number will be introduced by the Union Vodvil banjo trio, Nathan Grabin '25, Gordon Roberts '26, and Harold Rieger '26. Grabin will receive the $50 prize offered by the Hook Music company and the University Music company for the winning song. The contest was very close, the decision resting between three numbers submitted.

The finishing touches are being added to decorations, floor preparations, music arrangements and specialty acts to make this dance the best party of the year, according to Carl Klath, chairman of the pre-Prom dance committee.

Specialty numbers from Union—De Longe Photo Emanuel's ten-piece orchestra will furnish the feature attraction of the dance. Party-goers will again have an opportunity to see Topsy and Eva in stunts quite new and original. Katherine Reid '26 and William Koss grad will also entertain the crowd with some song selections.

Tickets for the dance may be purchased for $1.75 at the University pharmacy, Lawrence's cafeteria, and at Morgan's. Tickets sold at the door of the gym will be $2.00.

Louise Mautz '26 received the $5 poster prize which was offered for the best poster advertising the Prom fox-trot. The other two fox-trots which ran in close competition to the winning number were "Loved One," by Owen Lyons '27, and "I'd Love to Call You Sweetheart," by Gordon Roberts '25.

DOCTOR FREEHOF TO TALK AT OPEN FORUM

"Why are Jews different?" will be the subject of Dr. S. B. Freehof's talk in the open forum of the Hillel Foundation, at 7:45 o'clock Sunday in the foundation headquarters over the Co-op.

Doctor Freehof, associate rabbi of K. A. M. Temple of Chicago, is a graduate of the University of Cincinnati and of the Hebrew Union college where he was for nine years professor of liturgy and assistant professor of Rabbis.

After the talk by Doctor Freehof the regular open forum will be held.

McCullum, Vitamine Discoverer, Former "U" Prof, to Speak

Prof. E. B. McCullum of the Johns Hopkins university will speak in the Biology building January 12 on "Our Present Knowledge of Vitamines." This speech is given under the auspices of the Medical school and is one of a series which Professor McCullum is giving at a number of Mid-west universities.

Professor McCullum was formerly in Madison and went from here to Johns Hopkins where he did extensive work on vitamins. Through his discoveries and observations vitamins became a known quantity.

The Medical school is giving a dinner for Mr. McCullum at the Madison club prior to his speech in the Biology building. From here the professor will continue on his way to the Mayo Brothers at Rochester where he is again to give his speech.

DAILY REPORTS OF
ALL BADGER TEAMS

CARDINAL SPORTS

ATHLETICS IN THE
COLLEGIATE WORLDBADGERS, GOPHERS READY FOR
TILT AT MINNEAPOLIS TONIGHTIs First Big Ten Engagement
For Meanwell's Squad;
Same Lineup to Start

The varsity cage squad was sent through its last workout before leaving on the long trip to Minneapolis Thursday night. All of the men were in the best of condition except Wackman who was still hindered with his injured nose. The team left at 10 o'clock Friday night with 11 players, manager, trainer, and Coach W. E. Meanwell.

The team showed much improvement in the many practice sessions, and hopes are that it will win its initial conference game. The passing of the offense was fast and certain with but few fumbles marring the game. The shooting was accurate, and if the forwards are able to work the ball through the Minnesota defense they will make a high percentage of their shots. The defense was the usual tight guarding that Diebold and Barwig have been showing all season.

Wackman Still Hindered

The five that will take the floor for Wisconsin at the start of the game is the same as that used for the starting lineup against the DePauw team. Wackman and Varney who worked so well at the forward positions in the last game will open the offense in the game tonight. Brooks, the tall sophomore center, is booked to open at the center position.

Barwig will hold down one of the guard positions with Captain Diebold at the other. Barnum and Martell may see some of the game before the final whistle blows. Martell is a good shot and fast, and if Wackman is hindered too much by his nose the red headed boy is likely to get into the fray.

13 Make Trip

The men from the north are looked upon as one of the strong teams in the conference, and may push the Cardinal team hard for a victory. They have two veterans and several good basket shooters on their team. They pushed the Iowa five hard for the entire game, and Iowa is one of the most formidable contenders for the cage title.

The men who will make the trip are Diebold, Barwig, Wackman, Varney, Merkel, Brooks, Martell, Barnum, Hargis, Younge, Vain, Manager Gordon, Walker, Trainer Woods and Coach Walter E. Meanwell.

Cage Jottings

Predictions for the games tonight give Wisconsin a win over Minnesota, Michigan a victory from Northwestern, Chicago will lose to Illinois, and Ohio will squeeze a win from Indiana.

Michigan with the flashy Captain Haggerty at forward should run up a big score against the weak Northwestern team. Since Graham was declared ineligible, the Purple have been downcast and don't predict much for the season.

Chicago with Alvea ineligible and a green team will no doubt be easy picking for Illinois. The Orange and Blue have shown power this season, having played a close game with DePauw and decisively defeating the University of Kentucky.

The Ohio-Indiana melee should be the real game of the evening. Ohio has the same team back that played last year, and a capable number of veteran substitutes. Indiana has a nearly veteran team, and expect to show real class this winter. The game should be close.

The Navy did what the Army did in 1863. It defeated Gettysburg Monday night. This time it was Gettysburg college, and the score was 58 to 19. Also, it was the Navy's seventh straight win.

Passaic high school still seems to be the class of eastern interscholastic basketball. The New Jersey school just won its one hundred fifty-first straight game.

So It Seems

Minnesota tonight. After the game tonight Badger followers will know something about the strength of the team. On paper the Gophers seem to have the edge. But Meanwell teams can always be figured better in action than on paper . . . so the game ought to be close, and certainly exciting.

Too bad Wackman has to wear the mask. He has a good eye for the basket, but the leather appendage interferes with his passing and shooting and general floor work. But the season is long and broken noses heal and —

Minnesota seems all set for victory tonight. Press reports from Minneapolis indicate that the Gophers really expect to take the Badgers into camp. Maybe so.

It's this Ohio contest next Tuesday night we're getting excited about. Didja' get one in series C? If you did you're all set for a real bang-up game of basketball. Ohio is doped as the best in the conference, you know.

We're all for our new coach, Kay Iverson. He's taking hold of the hockey squad in real shape and if the Badgers don't reverse the tide on some of these teams that defeated us last year then Wisconsin just isn't the cold, shivery country it is supposed to be.

Remember the stories last fall about "Master and Pupil" when Iowa was about to play Illinois in football? You'll hear it again, only in different form, along in February when Kay Iverson's hockey team journeys to Minneapolis to meet Emil Iverson's team. They're brothers.

Coach Iverson, hampered now with a sore ankle caused by stopping a "puck" in front of the goal in a recent game, is planning on showing us some fancy skating soon. Ray!

In addition to the Big Ten meets scheduled, Coach Iverson has arranged meets with Carleton, St. Thomas, Janesville, and several other hockey teams.

Strings of lights have been put up over the hockey rink on the lower campus to aid the squad in practicing in the evening. Looks like a Jap bazaar now.

The two-by-four rink at the side of the rink on the lower campus is well patronized. Lots 'o liddo Hansels and Gretchels perambulating around on their silver skates.

Minnesota Quintet Out For Victory After Iowa Defeat
Monday Night

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Jan. 9.—Determined to avenge the defeat received at the hands of Iowa last Monday night, Minnesota intends to make the Wisconsin Badger's visit for the basketball game tonight an unpleasant one. A revamped team will face Meanwell's men this evening, built around Captain Dunder at guard and Rasey at forward.

Lidberg on Team

Harold Taylor, Gopher coach, has been driving his men hard, and with the appearance of Carl Lidberg of football fame in basketball togs, the chances of a strong team have increased. He will probably start at running guard as late to Captain Dunder. With these two men at the guard positions, the Gophers feel that the Badgers will be held to a low score.

On the offensive, the trio which worked against Iowa will no doubt start. The flashy Rasey, star of the Hawkeye tilt, will play at forward, while Wheeler will play as his running mate. Gillen will probably start at the pivot position.

Badger Grads to Root

Wisconsin rooters made up of alumni of the Badger school will occupy a block of seats in the armory at the game. These old grads hope to lend their cheering to help the Badgers score a victory over Minnesota.

INDOOR POLO TEAMS

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—An indoor polo league composed of six teams including the university team and a team made up of the instructors in the military science department has been formed at Harvard university. The university poloists will play five games in this league prior to the intercollegiate tournament.

CO-EDS MUST SWIM
TEST BY JUNIOR YEAR

Co-eds who finish their sophomore year at the close of this semester will not receive gym credit unless they have passed the required swimming test. This failure unless made up will make graduation impossible. The test is swimming around the Lathrop tank once in good form with any stroke. Those wishing to take the test can do so during the class time of either Mrs. Smith or Miss Burnell.

SKATING CLASS WILL

The quota of 70 members of the skating class conducted by George Martin, has been reached. The members of the class are those who wished to transfer from indoor work. Practice will be held on the rink in front of the gym.

ATHLETICS IN THE
COLLEGIATE WORLDWISCONSIN WRESTLERS
TAKE HARD CONTEST
FROM MAROONS, 11-9Zoatner, Splees Chada Win on Decisions; Walter Muegge
Takes Fall

(Special to the Daily Cardinal)
CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 9.—By taking three matches by decisions and one by a fall gained by Walter Muegge, heavyweight wrestler, the Badger matmen won over the Maroons here tonight by the close margin of two points, the final count being 11-9.

The meet was closely contested throughout and the outcome was in doubt until the Wisconsin heavyweight threw Joe Pondelik, all-American Maroon football guard. If he had failed to come through the meet would have been lost.

Heavyweights Win

Capt. Lyle Zoatner, William Spies, and Harvey Chada battled their men to a referee's decision. It seemed as if the luck was on the side of the heavy men as the four heaviest wrestlers on the Cardinal team annexed points for Wisconsin.

The three Maroon men, H. Takaki, Capt. Herbert Ball, and George Graham, whose grappling made Chicago's nine points possible, are all experienced men. This being the third year of competition for each.

Hawaiian Takes Match

Chicago succeeded in taking two decision matches and one fall when Takaki, a Hawaiian, succeeded in throwing David Minkow, the bantamweight on Coach Hitchcock's squad. Minkow was considerably handicapped in his match because of a sprained thumb.

Coach George Hitchcock is well pleased with the results of this first meet as he had feared the experienced Chicago squad. Prospects for victories in the coming meets appear much brighter to him.

With the victory tonight the Badgers evened up for last year when the Maroons were victorious by two points also, the result then being 10-12.

MANAGING POSITIONS
OPEN TO FRESHMEN

Freshman intramural managers are wanted by the intramural department. Three places are now open to those who wish to apply for the positions and work up into responsible jobs in the sophomore year. Applications should be made to either Director George Berg or Student Manager Jack Taylor at the intramural office in the gym between 12:45 and 1:20 o'clock daily.

Science of Skiing
Will Be Taught
By George Martin

No longer will students remain in the dark as to the intricate secrets of how to conduct oneself while strapped to a pair of seemingly unwieldy skis. Many students come to this university from southern states and are hopelessly in the dark as to the rudiments of skiing. However, through the kindness of George Martin, winter sports king, the darkness of ignorance will be turned into the lightness of intelligence as far as skiing is concerned.

Any student wishing to learn some of the fundamentals about general skiing will receive instruction every Sunday afternoon beginning this Sunday. It is not necessary that one know anything about the sport to join this class which is open to men and women students and faculty members.

The class will meet at the university pumping station at the foot of Park street at 2:30 o'clock and proceed to suitable ground in the vicinity. Those joining the classes are urged to be on time to avoid delay.

This class will be conducted for the balance of the winter season. There is no fee connected with it, the object being to promote the ski sport for everyone and to create more interest in outdoor sports at Wisconsin.

BADGER ENTRIES

MEET SENT INTo Go Into Two-Mile Relay;
60-Yard Dash, 300-Yard
Dash, and Shot Put

Another step forward in having Wisconsin represented at the Illinois Athletic club meet to be held January 16 was made today when Coach Jones sent in the probable Badger entries to Charles Dean, manager of the I. A. C. A. team was entered in the two-mile college relay, the definite members to be named later. McAndrews was entered in the handicap 60-yard dash, Harry Hill in the 300-yard dash and Herb Schwarze in the shot put. Earl Ellison, Badger freshman, entered the mile run unattached. Before anything definite can be done these entries must be approved by the athletic council.

Two-Mile Teams Strong

Just who will be on the Badger two-mile team is not known. Time trials in the 880 will be held this afternoon to select four men from about 20 candidates. Besides Captain Vallely and the regular half milers the members of the cross country team milers and quarter milers will try out.

The competition in this event will be stiff as good teams will be entered from Chicago, Northwestern, Michigan and Ames universities. The Ames and Chicago teams are rated as especially strong and will force the Badgers to go at their best in order to break the tape ahead of the field.

McAndrews May Win

In the special events McAndrews has the best chance of any of the Badgers to cop a place. Last year at the Ohio relays the Wisconsin speed merchant tore off the 100 in 9.9 seconds. If he can get in condition he will give the best of the speedsters a race.

Herb Schwarze has not had his hands on a shot since last August and is considerably out of form. The big boy has been known to toss it out around 45 feet which will place in most any meet. Last year Schwarze won the event at the I. A. C. games.

Army Officer On Trial

An entrance fee of $1 is being charged to raise a fund for first place cup.

BASKET LEAGUEUniversity Instructors Enter Competition; Should Be Entered Soon

A call has been issued by the intramural department for teams for the Independent basketball league which will soon start play for the 1925 season. This league is open to any group of men on the campus who wish to form a team. No restriction whatsoever is placed on entries, for professors as well as students may engage in the play.

Thus far two teams from the University club have entered and also one representing the De Molay chapter. With some of the instructors from the University club in the game, the students at last have a chance to get back at their teachers. "Beat 'em in basketball," is the word.

The intramural department asks that teams be registered as soon as possible as it is desired that play be begun shortly. Teams may be signed up in the intramural office daily between 12:45 and 1:20 o'clock.

Colorado Klan Dragon
Held In Kidnaping

DENVER, Colo.—Dr. John Galen Locke, grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan, realm of Colorado, was arrested shortly after noon today on a warrant issued by juvenile Judge Ben Lindsay, charging him with conspiracy and kidnaping in connection with the alleged forced marriage of Keith Boehme, 19, to Miss May Nash, in his office last Tuesday night.

STEINAUER HAS
COMPLETE TEAM
FOR IOWA SWIMIneligibility Not Likely to Prevent Future Games, Says
Coach

To what extent the ranks of the Badger swimming squad have been thinned by ineligibility is not yet known. At any rate Coach Joe Steinauer expects to have practically a complete team for the conference meet with Iowa January 17. A meet with the Milwaukee Athletic club at Milwaukee on January 24 is being considered at the present time.

Expect Close Meet

The Wisconsin tankmen are looking for a hard meet with Iowa. Last year this same meet was very closely contested. Iowa finished the season in the middle of the conference ratings. They have a very fast man this year in Stuart who swims the hundred well below 20 seconds, and is reported to have done it unofficially in under 19 seconds. The record for this distance is 19.1.

Coach Steinauer has just looked up the standings of his plungers, and out of eight men on the squad in this event there is only one who will be eligible for this important meet. A call has been issued for all fat men who can float, as this ineligibility leaves several squad positions open.

Derelicts Get Notoriety

Steinauer has always emphasized the importance of scholarship to athletes, and for the furtherance of this, he is now making up a novel cross-word puzzle which will soon be published in the sport pages of the Daily Cardinal. It will consist of the names of the squad members, and when the answer is printed the list of the ineligible men will also be published, giving the "mental derelicts a little notoriety," as Steinauer puts it.

THEY'RE OFF

The conference basketball season starts tonight. The gang is off, with all the hopes, good wishes, admonitions and what you will of thousands of interested spectators, outside the antiquated gym as well as inside.

Last year the team tied for first place despite the fact that one of the regulars was put out of the running near the outset of the conference season. This year again the team suffers the same loss. The coach says that he expects the team to place about fifth this year. The fans look for it to place first, as they always do of a Wisconsin aggregation at the beginning of a season.

But both coach and fans know full well that the basketball team will fight from beginning to end, that it will play stellar basketball and that whatever losses the personnel may suffer, Wisconsin will do nobly on the basketball court.

PUT AWAY THE CREPE

The inter-fraternity council held its first meeting of the current year Wednesday night and showed such signs of activity that those who previously have wagged their heads and prepared to get out the crepe and hold a wake over the body of the organization perked up their ears and found that perhaps there is some hope—indeed a good deal of hope—for its continued life and even for its doing some amount of good.

Although the assertion of one or two of the delegates that they had "never heard such a bull-session before" may to some extent be true, it is certain that the inter-fraternity council got under way to a good start Wednesday night.

Carrying out his policy of presenting to the students an intended measure before executing that measure, Dean Goodnight spoke on two proposed plans: one, that of doing away with the sole remaining rule which prohibits the rushing or pledging of a man before he is enrolled in the university and doing away with that because it was an unenforceable regulation; the other, that of establishing some system whereby it would be necessary for a fraternity to maintain a decent scholastic average in order to maintain its various privileges, some such system as has been set up and found to work to advantage at several other conference universities. These two plans were to be taken to the various chapters for consideration.

The discussion which followed pertaining to the first proposition was encouraging in that it indicated that the majority of those present felt personally that it would be unwise to do away with the present regulation. They feared that such action would only mean the injury of fraternity and sub-freshmen as a result of a more extended rushing season, and felt that the rule should hold if only because it did tend to limit the rushing season to a certain extent. Fine! A number even seemed in favor of establishing a deferred rushing season, and since this matter was not under formal discussion, it appears that it is not unlikely that such a season may be sponsored and upheld by the fraternities themselves.

The other proposition, although it did not meet with exceptional favor, at least was not turned down point-blank. It would seem strange if fraternities were willing to admit that they could not make a decent average, and it is unlikely, if this system should be established, that any fraternity would reach the point where it suffered materially. It is more probable that fraternities would see to it that they maintained the required average.

But the encouraging thing about the whole meeting is that it was well attended and by men who seemed interested in the issues, well conducted and, on the whole, indicated that the inter-fraternity council, instead of being dead timber as it was last year, has come to life.

Beyond Our Campus

By B. A. G.

Hoboken, New Jersey, is the seat of our week's big news. Here an old butcher, having reached the age of 105, was asked by a reporter to relate his secret for longevity. He replied that there was no secret. At last we have found a wise man. May long-life formulas be now and forever taboo!

A Dictator with a large "D" is this Benito Mussolini. Round after round of applause was showered upon him in the Italian chamber of deputies as he thundered away at his political enemies, pounding the minister's bench with his fist, to emphasize his remarks. Trouble has been brewing for a long while, ever since the murder of Socialist Deputy Matteotti; and rioting between Fascisti and the opposition has become more prevalent throughout Italy during the last few weeks. Several "plots" were discovered last Sunday, and Mussolini called out his Fascist militia to overawe his foes by a show of force. With the recent resignation of the cabinet and its replacement by a complete Fascist membership, conservatives are well satisfied that they have things in hand.

Much gnashing of teeth in the musica land theatrical world as a result of the radio broadcasting from station WEAH, New York City, of a concert program in which John McCormack and Lucrezia Bori, internationally known operatic stars, took part! New York theaters report a distinct falling off in attendance on January 2, the night of the concert.

Only one Democrat voted to support the presidential veto of the bill increasing postal salaries, but that was sufficient to prevent its re-passage by the necessary two-thirds. Twenty-one out of fifty Republican senators opposed President Coolidge's veto.

The name of Harlan Fiske Stone, attorney general of the United States, was forwarded by President Coolidge to the senate as the administration's nomination for associate justice of the United States Supreme court. A vacancy was created on this body by the retirement on Tuesday of associate justice Joseph McKenna, aged 81.

Some scientists declare that there is a possibility that future developments of the radio will perfect an instrument so delicate and sensitive that it will be able to "listen in" on the conversation and speeches of men who lived in ages of long ago, picking up their still vibrating ether waves out in space among the other worlds. When that day comes, Sunday school teachers will no longer have to warn their scholars that their bad words live after them, for it will be an only too well proven fact. And what scandal will be aroused when it is discovered what some of the saints were capable of saying in their off moments!

The significant improvements and advances in a great school of learning may sometimes be made during vacation periods. Example: the elimination of the squeak from Bascom hall stairs, accomplished by several more or less academic carpenters.

Thank you, one and all, for this wonderful reception. We are as glad to be back as you seem to be to have us. Did Santa bring you the knitted orange-pink ties and the Barreled Hell Wright novels?

Thursday's Cardinal said that the next Octy would contain humor from other publications. Why the NEXT?

The Readers' Say-So

"I'D WALK A MILE FOR A SKATE"

Editor, the Daily Cardinal:
Is the university going to stop because the athletic department has temporarily lost its head? Is the desire to obtain the thanks and respect and money of the student body insufficient incentive for the athletic chiefs to provide proper amusement for us or must the dread of shame also stir them to action? It would seem that the answer is yes.

According to an article in the Daily Cardinal Thursday, as long as there is no responsible head of the athletic department nothing adequate will be done to provide skating. And this in spite of the fact that the pump provided could flood a large portion of the lake in a few hours, and because of the fact (according to the above article) that good, scrapable ice is one-half mile out on the lake. Let's have that portion scraped. Of course, the department makes the error of supposing that the students are too lazy to walk the intervening distance.

DAVID SINCLAIR, GRAD.

MORE ABOUT SKATING

Editor, the Daily Cardinal:
We like to boast about our wonderful lakes and the fine sports that they afford. The lakes, with all that they offer, constitute a good drawing card for many out-of-state students, and yet, when the time comes to make the best of our opportunities we fail to do it. We are going to skate on city lots, if we skate at all, just because of some imaginary obstacle. According to Capt. Isabel the entire surface of the lake could be flooded in a few hours. If that is true, it surely would be cheaper to do that than to have two or three men constantly at work flooding lots that are inadequate anyway. But why flood the entire lake? One team and a few men could make a snowbank extending from the armory to the pump house in one afternoon and the flooding could be finished in a very short time, according to Capt. STANDINGS FOR 10 YEARS COMPARED

Dean Compiles Scholastic Averages Chart For Greek Groups

A comparison of fraternity and sorority scholastic standings over a period of ten years has been made by Dean S. H. Goodnight.

During the past ten years, Chi Phi has maintained its place as first among the fraternities in existence in 1914, although last semester it was twelfth in the ranking of all. Acacia and Sigma Phi followed Chi Phi in order.

In the professional group Alpha Chi Sigma which ranked third in the entire group last year has maintained its place as first since 1914. Triangle which is now social followed Alpha Chi Sigma in second place.

Pi Beta Phi which ranked first last semester is also first among the 11 sororities which were in existence in 1914. Kappa Alpha Theta and Gamma Phi Beta followed the Pi Phis in second and third places.

For the ten year period, exclusive of the three semesters during the war, when no statistics were compiled, fraternity averages were higher than the average of the non-fraternity men only five times. In the professional group the averages of non-fraternity men beat those of the professional fraternities only in the first semester of 1914 and the second semester of 1919-1920. The sororities have a still higher record having been beaten by the averages of non-sorority women only in the second semester of 1919-1920.

Since 1920 statistics have been compiled on the point system basis. Prior to that time numerical averages were used as the basis. There is little change shown in the averages over the ten year period. On the whole what improvement there is seems to be in a gradual trend upward of fraternity, sorority, and non-fraternity averages using last semester's grades in comparison with those in 1914.

Three Three Musketeers have appeared in South America. They are Harry Faville, Gilbert Comstock and Bill Dunlop—all members of Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity and graduates from the College of Agriculture of the class of 1924. The trio are all over six feet in height—and broke. They arrived in Buenos Aires on January 6, and can't match a five dollar bill with the money collected from their numerous pockets. They will not return till they have made their fortunes, though they now have no jobs in sight. As preparation for this adventure they all learned the bricklayers trade in case South America does not want their agricultural knowledge. Mr. Faville was sport editor on the Daily Cardinal last year.

Frances E. Minch McFarland '12 will be in Tokyo for the next two years with her husband, who is representing the Western Electric company of Chicago.

Maxwell A. Smith '17, who is head of the French department of the University of Chattanooga, Tenn., has recently had his book entitled "Short History of French Literature" published. It is being used as a textbook in the third year college courses of French Survey in the Universities of Wisconsin, Michigan and Ohio State.

Walter E. Griem will be the acting head of the division of feed and fertilizer inspector of the state board of agriculture, to succeed B. H. W. H. Strowd. Mr. Griem received the B. S. degree in Agriculture in 1922 and the M. S. degree in 1924.

American Preference Still Against Smoking Says Nardin

That the American preference is still against women smoking, especially around class rooms and in the home, is the opinion of F. Louise Nardin, dean of women.

"Smoking does not fit harmoniously into the picture of a busy woman's life," said Miss Nardin. "The opinion of people in general is one of disapproval."

In regard to women of the university smoking, she said, "We do not wish to dictate the conduct of anyone away from the university, but when they are here they should regard the wishes of those who make the university possible—the tax-payers. The majority of these do not like the women to smoke."

Dean Nardin was emphatic in her discussion of smoking at the university. "No woman need come to the university if she cannot be happy without cigarettes. The time for choice is before coming to college."

"Aside from the physical harm that physicians and scientists agree arises from the practice, there is a moral harm. It is inconsistent to smoke, not to say dishonorable, when the greater part of those affected disapprove."

"There has been no rule made because the subject was believed to be covered by the students' honor and consideration."

"It is not a question of personal judgment," concluded Miss Nardin, "but we are beneficiaries of an institution and should consider the desire of those who make that institution possible."

NEW CURLING PROCESS REPLACES FIXED WAVE

To replace the modern permanent wave and the bothersome curling-iron process, a new system of curling the hair on paper so that the wave remains for two or three weeks has been discovered by Mrs. Irene Maidens Endres, proprietor of the Maiden Beauty shop. A section of the hair is sprayed with a curling fluid to give it body, then it is rolled on a curling stick of wood, the wood is next slipped out while the coil is held firmly, then a piece of paper is folded over the coil, twisted tightly to hold it in place, and lastly a special pinching iron is applied with ordinary heat.

Noted Curator Lectures January 12, 13 and 14 on Man's History

The early history of man will be the subject of three lectures to be given at 4:30 o'clock next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons in the auditorium of the Biology building by Ales Hrdlicka, curator of the United States national museum of anthropology.

In his first lecture Monday afternoon Mr. Hrdlicka will discuss the general question of man's evolution. "The Present Material Evidence of Man's Evolution" will be the subject of the lecture Tuesday. The concluding lecture Wednesday will be on "The Why, When, Where and How of Man's Evolution" with certain remarks as to the future.

Mr. Hrdlicka, who was born in Bohemia and received his academic education there, is a widely known authority on the subject of anthropology and a member or officer of a large number of scientific societies. Since 1910 he has been curator of the museum of anthropology and in that capacity, has headed numerous expeditions to Mexico, Egypt, the Balkans, South

Pavlova Discovers New Ballet While on Tour in Egypt

Strange as it may sound, Anna Pavlova had to go to Egypt to discover the subject for a new Russian ballet dealing with a period which has never before been treated in the history of Russian dancing. While in Cairo, upon her recent globe-circling tour, Pavlova encountered a countryman of hers, a well known artist, Ivan Bilbine, who had fled the Russia of the Bolsheviks.

With Bilbine's assistance she was able to design for her augmented repertoire, a new Russian ballet—new in the sense that it dealt with the Old, or Holy Russia of the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries for the first time; old in the sense of the period treated.

The coming of Pavlova to this city, bringing her entire London and Paris organization—the Ballet Russe and Symphony Orchestra, is an event rich in promise for music-lovers and admirers of the dance. The date is Friday, January 16th, at the Parkway theater, for one performance only, starting at 8:15 in the evening.

MEMBERS OF BAR DISCUSS COURTS

"Gentleman's Agreement" Between Legislature and Lawyers Under Fire

Whether the Dane County Bar association will vote to live up to the "gentlemen's agreement" made between its special committee and a special committee of the 1919 legislature to the effect that it would sanction the abolishment of the junior superior court judgeship when the legislature created a new circuit court in Madison, brought forth a lively discussion among the bar members at their annual meeting at the Madison club last night.

A large contingent of the association voiced itself last night in favor of disregarding the "agreement." They claimed they were not a party to the "agreement" and therefore should not be called upon to give their support to it. Other members of the association expressed themselves as duty-bound to agree to the abolishment of the junior superior court if the legislature approves of the proposed new circuit court for the ninth judicial circuit.

After a heated discussion, the association passed a resolution instructing its president to appoint a committee of five attorneys to act with a committee of five from the Sauk County Bar association in drafting a bill to be presented to the next legislature.

Bar Passes Resolution

Whether this bill will favor the abolishment of the Madison junior superior court will be decided at the next meeting of the Dane county association the evening of Jan. 17, to which members of the Sauk county association have been invited.

The resolution adopted follows:

"Resolved that the president of the Dane County Bar association appoint a committee of five to work in cooperation with a similar committee of five from the Sauk County Bar association for the purpose of preparing and presenting to the legislature a bill for an additional circuit court for the ninth judicial circuit.

"Be it further resolved that a decision respecting the second superior court judge be incorporated in the bill and that the committee complete the bill by Jan. 17, the date of the next meeting of the association in the Dane county circuit court."

The decision of the bar associations will be inserted into the bill at the next meeting.

Names Committee

The committee appointed from Dane county for this purpose consisted of: Chauncey Blake, A. T. Rogers, William Ryan, W. R. Bagley, and E. T. Reynolds. The Sauk county committee is to be appointed later.

Rufus B. Smith, dean of Dane county attorneys, was re-elected, president of the association, and William Ryan, former city attorney, was re-elected secretary.

Judge E. Ray Stevens in his talk explained the "gentlemen's agreement" of the bar association with the legislature in 1919 in which upon referendum it was agreed to establish a second circuit court here contingent upon the abolition of the junior superior court judgeship.

Judge Stevens recommended the carrying out of the gentlemen's agreement and suggested that a bill be presented to the legislature before Milwaukee county sends in its request for two additional circuit court judges.

E. C. F. Meier, attorney of Baraboo, arose and asked of the gathering:

"Can not the Dane County probate court handle mother pensions and juvenile matters? We've been at the tail end of the circuit and we are interested in procuring a judge in whose election we will have a voice. In Sauk county our probate judge handles all probate matters. We want a circuit judge who will relieve ours of the avalanche of probate matters."

Motion is Postponed

C. E. Buell in his discussion claimed that the abolition of the second superior court will cause greater congestion rather than relieve it and declared that it was necessary to retain both the second superior and organize a new circuit court. S. B. Schein declared that it was doubtful whether the term of the junior superior court judge could be cut short.

Judge Hoppmann expressed the opinion that with the abolition of the junior judge all criminal cases

$130,000 Fee Split Among Attorneys of Leopold Case

CHICAGO—A fee of $130,000 for the attorneys who defended Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold, jr., kidnapers-murderers of Robert Franks have been approved by the Chicago Bar association.

Clarence Darrow, nationally known criminal lawyer, Benjamin C. Bachrach and Walter, his brother, the attorneys, divided the sum. Although no announcement was made as to the share of each, unofficially it was said that Mr. Darrow and Benjamin Bachrach each received $50,000 and Walter Bachrach $30,000.

The Chicago Bar association was named to pass to the amount before the youths were taken before Judge John R. Caverly, when their families announced that they did not propose to spend a fortune and did not ask that the boys be not punished. The association announced that the attorneys had agreed with their clients on the amount of the fee subject to the association's approval.

LEO KORDTZ DIES WHILE IN PRISON

Master Swindler Served Month Out of His 10 Year Term

STATEVILLE, Ills.—Leo Koretz, whose phantom Panama Oil project took more than $2,000,000 dollars from relatives and intimate friends, died last night in the state penitentiary which he entered Dec. 5, to serve from one to ten years.

He was suffering from diabetes when found after a year's search in Halifax, N. S., last December and his condition rapidly grew worse after he entered the prison. Insulin treatments were resorted to ineffectively.

Early yesterday he lapsed into unconsciousness from which he never rallied. His three brothers and his son, Mentor, were with him when he died and his wife, whom he did not see after being returned to Chicago, arrived at the prison shortly afterward. Prison officials expected to turn the body over to the family today.

The death occurred just a trifle more than a year after the flight of Koretz from Chicago in December, 1923, was followed by the disclosure that the Bayano River Oil scheme he had promoted for upwards of fifteen years was a myth. With him on his flight he took nearly $2,000,000 in money and securities.

While a frenzied hunt was made for the promoter the story of the oil bubble was told by a committee of business men who had gone to Panama to investigate the rich oil and timber lands Koretz claimed to own, and who found he did not even own the worthless land.

Almost a year to the day that he left Chicago, Koretz, known as Lou Keyte, was found in Halifax where he had purchased a large estate and lived as a retired business man. His real identity was revealed through information furnished by a bank clerk and a tailor who found his name in a suit of clothes.

After he pleaded guilty to three indictments charging operation of a confidence game, Koretz was given sentences of from one to ten

CITY CAN'T BUY WIRKA BOATHOUSE

Resolution Asking Estimate of Cost Will Probably Be Withdrawn

Proposed purchase of the Wirka boat landing on Lake Monona will not be brought before the common council at its meeting Friday night by the city property committee, according to decision reached at a committee meeting held Thursday night.

Members of the committee did not favor the purchase of the landing due to the number of railroad tracks which would have to be crossed by persons using the landing and due to the financial conditions of the city this year. In addition to the tracks members of the commit-

The resolution asking the council to secure an estimate of the cost and provide funds for the purchase will probably be withdrawn before it is brought to the council Friday night, it was indicated by Ald. W. L. Woodward, sponsor of the resolution.

Harry C. Buser, city clerk, was authorized to have plans and specifications prepared for a new East Side fire station and advertise for bids. An ordinance asking the passage of a $30,000 bond issue for construction of the building will also be presented to the council.

A list of all vacant property owned by the city will be prepared by Mr. Buser and submitted to the committee with the purpose of selling portions of this land which is not in use at the present time. Bids for the sale of nine acres of land at the old sewage disposal plant site on E. Washington ave. will also be advertised.

SHOWERMAN TO ACT AS ELECTOR

Professor Will Help Select Names For Hall of Fame

Dr. Grant Showerman, professor of classics, has been chosen by the senate of the New York university to act as one of the electors in the 1925 selection of names to be added to the roster of the university's Hall of Fame.

Every state in the Union, or group of states having 1,000,000 inhabitants, is represented by an elector. Dr. Showerman was chosen to represent Wisconsin.

Names of persons to be voted on for a place in the Hall of Fame can be submitted by the public to the New York university. These names are then placed before the senate of the university and when approved by two members are put on the list of nominations. The choice of new names for inscription in the Hall of Fame requires a vote of three-fifths of the 100 persons comprising the jury of electors.

The list of new electors includes John W. Davis, David Jayne Hill, and Brand Whitlock, former American ambassadors; Dr. James R. Angell, president of Yale; Dr. Marion L. Burton, president of the University of Michigan; Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard; Prof. William L. Phelps of Yale; Dr. K. C. M. Sills, president of Bowdoin college; Dr. Henry K. Warren of Yankton college; Dr. Kendrick C. Babcock, provost of the University of Illinois; Dr. Lewis Perry, principal of Phillips Exeter academy, and Dr. Frederick Tupper of the University of Vermont.

MAY ASK ARREST OF U. W. STUDENTS

Allege Associations With 16
Year Old Central High
Girls

Warrants for the arrest of two University of Wisconsin students may be asked within the next few days as a result of their alleged associations with two Central high school girls, both of whom are 16 years old, and one of whom was committed yesterday to a girls' renal institution.

Names of the girls are being withheld because of their age.

An investigation of the relations between the girls and the men was started sometime ago when the mother of one of them complained to Mrs. Pearl Phillips, assistant county probation officer.

With the aid of high school officials Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Katherine Soderberg, police matron, trailed the couples from the Central high school building to a State st. apartment where the university students live.

After waiting a few minutes, Mrs. Soderberg entered the rooms and discovered the girls. The police matron took the girls into custody. At request of the mother, one of the girls was committed yesterday to a girls' home by Judge O. A. Stolen who acted on the case at his home where he is confined with eye trouble.

The other girl, whom Volney G. Barnes, Central high school principal declares to be a victim of circumstances, has been allowed to return to school.

School Limits

May Abolish Tuition Fees For Rural Pupils Living
Near Madison

Boundaries for the Madison public schools probably will be extended in the near future to permit pupils from without the municipal boundaries to attend school without the payment of tuition, according to Prof. E. B. Skinner, president of the board of education.

At present, all pupils not residents of the city must pay tuition. The town boards pay this in districts where no school is provided.

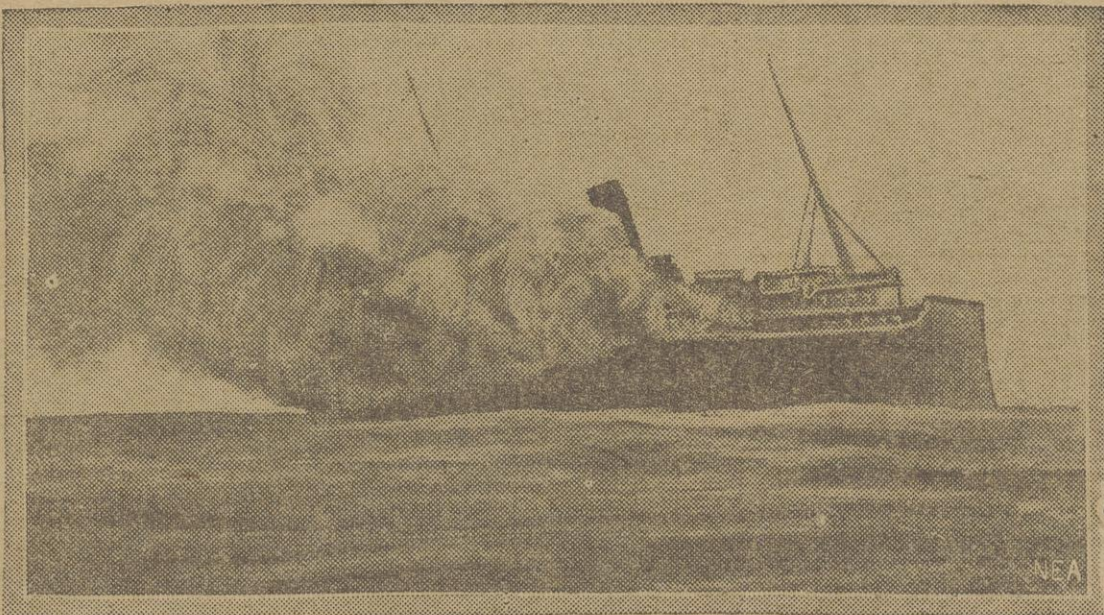

"I believe the school boundaries will have to be extended beyond the city limits within a very short time," Mr. Skinner said. "People living very near the city are practically a part of the community. They do their trading in the city and frequently engage in other enterprises here."

Underwood Private Operation Bill is Passed in Senate

WASHINGTON—Having accepted the Underwood private operation bill as a substitute for the Norris government-operation plan, the senate drove forward today in a final effort to get the long pending question of the disposition of Muscle Shoals into conference with the house.

The Underwood measure was approved over the Norris plan by a vote of 48 to 37, but with several substitutes for it now pending, leaders on both sides of the chamber had some doubt that this bill would constitute the final expression of the senate on the subject.

Sen. Norris, Rep., Neb., charged before the vote was taken that the administration was using the Underwood bill solely as a vehicle for the defeat of his own government operation plan and intended to drop it "like a hot brick" once his bill was defeated.

On the vote, 30 Republicans, including most of the administration leaders, supported the Underwood substitute, and 20 Democrats opposed it.

Immediately after the vote a new substitute was put forward by Senator Wadsworth, Rep., N. Y., proposing a presidential commission to determine what should be done with Muscle Shoals, its decision to be final subject to presidential approval.

Another pending substitute by Sen. Jones, Rep., Wash., would refer the question to a presidential commission to present recommendations to the new congress.

Whatever measure is finally passed by the senate—and leaders expect final action this week or early next week, it will have to go to conference for consideration along with the house bill accepting Henry Ford's offer which since the house action has been withdrawn.

Seek to Stop Rum Flow By Issuances of Drink Licenses

The city council tonight will be asked to approve 125 soft drink parlor licenses issued by City Clerk Harry C. Buser last summer in a hasty effort to stop up a "loophole" through which proprietors of these places arrested for prohibition law offenses are escaping punishment.

This announcement was made today by Mr. Buser after Frank Yarney, colored, had been freed in superior court Thursday when his attorney, Theodore G. Lewis, showed Judge Hoppmann that Yarney's place was illegally searched. The case brought out a technicality in the law which has not been heeded by Madison city officials. The technicality is this:

The law provides that a license for soft drink parlor must be issued by the city clerk and approved by the city council. Mr. Buser today declared that he has never presented these licenses to the council for its okay.

Attorney Lewis, in defending Yarney, contended that inasmuch as these licenses have never been approved, Yarney's place was not a licensed soft drink parlor, and consequently was not subject to search. Yarney was dismissed.

Mr. Buser took steps today to correct this error. He has gathered the licenses together for presentation to the council tonight.

"Since prohibition I have never presented soft drink parlor licenses to the council for approval," Mr. Buser stated. "I have always done so with saloon licenses and licenses for near-beer places. The other has been purely an oversight."

Man Attempts Suicide Here Second Time

Christ Luraas Gets Pen Knife In Jail; Stabs Himself

Because he claimed he could not remove from his mind thoughts of his brother's sweetheart in Ironwood, Mich., Christ Luraas, 38, Madison painter, attempted to commit suicide in the Dane county jail late Friday morning with the aid of a small pen knife. Sheriff Joseph Daggett is at a loss to know where the man obtained the knife. He did not possess it when admitted.

Luraas was being held at the jail for a mental examination by order of Police Chief Thomas Shaughnessy after police had arrested him for a similar attempt early Thursday morning.

He is at the General hospital where he was taken immediately by Dr. J. C. Sommers. He is not seriously injured.

While prisoners at the jail were mopping up the place under the direction of Deputy Sheriff William Forrest, that officer found Luraas lying prostrate on the floor.

Republicans In Assembly Hold Caucus

Chairman La Follette Calls Meeting for Next Tuesday Night

Caucus of all republican members of the Wisconsin assembly will be held here next Tuesday night, preceding the legislative session opening Wednesday, according to an announcement today by E. J. Onstad, vice chairman of the republican state central committee, who said he had been authorized to issue the call by Robert M. La Follette Jr., chairman of the committee.

Mr. La Follette, who is in Washington, is expected to be in Madison at that time and call the meeting to order in the assembly chamber at 8 p. m.

Organization of the assembly probably will be the only matter discussed in the meeting, according to Herman W. Sachtjen, assemblyman from Dane county and candidate for speaker. The meeting was called, it was understood, after an agreement had been reached among the various candidates for speaker to hold an open caucus, without secret ballots.

Canadian Engineers Lining the Great Connaught Tunnel

MT. MACDONALD THROUGH WHICH CONNAUGHT TUNNEL PASSES 5 MILES.

In lining the largest double-track railway tunnel on this continent, the Connaught, in the Selkirk Range, a subsidiary chain of the Rockies, Canadian engineers are now completing another great triumph. This immense tunnel on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway, is named after the Duke of Connaught, a former Governor-General of Canada. It pierces Mount Macdonald from a point 78 miles west of Field, B. C., for five straight miles to its western portal near Glacier, B. C., and cost over $6,500,000 to build and over $2,500,000 to line. It is 24 feet high and 29 feet wide. Cement amounting to 500,000 sacks was required for the steel reinforced concrete jacket, the object of which is to preserve the tunnel from the effects of crumbling, which occurs to some degree even when the shaft is driven through solid rock.

The building of the Connaught Tunnel abolished many very serious difficulties in connection with operation on that portion of the line lying in the mountains, and effected numerous improvements. By going through, instead of around, Mount Macdonald, the main line mileage was reduced 4.3 miles and the summit elevation by 552 feet, while 2,600 degrees of curvature were eliminated, and nearly 5 miles of snow-sheds, required to protect the track from avalanches, with an army of pusher engines, snow-ploughs and equipment shops, became unnecessary.

Many construction innovations were used in tunneling under the mountain. Two borings were in progress at once, one from the east and one from the west, to plans so accurate, that the two boring gangs came together almost on the identical spot designated as their meeting place. A pioneer bore, running for the greater part about 45 feet from the center of the main bore, paralleled the latter, and cross-cuts from one bore to the other, facilitated the tunneling of the main one by allowing work to be done from the heading of each cross-cut simultaneously.

Fresh air is provided for passenger and workmen by two steel fans at the west portal, revolving at the rate of 225 revolutions per minute and supplying 700,000 cubic feet of air per minute. Automatic signals control the traffic in the tunnel.

Bori And McCormack Thrill Unseen Millions, Paving Way For New Era In Radio Music

John McCormack and Lucrezia Bori sang to their greatest audiences on New Year's night. Millions heard their golden voices over the radio, inaugurating the first step in an extensive plan to give radio fans an opportunity of hearing the musical notables of the world.

The voices of McCormack and Bori came as a 1924 New Year greeting to a vast multitude as the result of the desire of E. R. Johnson, president of the Victor Talking Machine Company, to improve the standard of radio programs and to stimulate a taste for better music via the ether. Their voices were transmitted simultaneously from eight broadcasting stations in the United States.

Shortly before the old year died Mr. Johnson was able to announce that 1925 would find noted artists of the Victor Talking Machine Company participating in radio concerts. He arranged a plan with the American Telephone and Telegraph Company whereby America's and Europe's best artists, represented in the Victor ranks, were to appear in person before the microphone of the radio studio. As a result of this experiment which had its initial test with the New Year's night concert by McCormack and Bori, the major musical artists will be heard this year—that is, if Mr. Johnson finds that the experiment is successful, if the air audience wants something more than a jazz diet.

Mr. Johnson found the artists sympathetic in his campaign for a higher standard in radio entertainment.

The noted Victor artists will be heard over the radio at regular intervals this winter unless it is found there is no demand for better caliber music.

CRUMMEY COMING

J. C. Crummev of Chicago will be in Madison Sunday, for the fourth date in the series of monthly lectures under the auspices of the Madison lodges of the Theosophical Society.

A dangerous condition of the Northwestern road bridge over the Wisconsin river at Merrimac, 32 miles north of Madison, has been called to the attention of officials of the railroad here, it was learned today, and work has been started to repair pier No. 17, midway across the river.

The contract has been awarded to Bates and Rogers, Chicago contractors, according to an announcement from the division engineer's office here.

During the work, that section of the bridge is supported by a false pier. The new pier will be built of concrete.

Since the condition of the pier, which it is said was near to "floating," was discovered, trains have moved slowly and cautiously across the bridge.

Railroad officials today, however, declared there is no danger in crossing the trestle.

Claims amounting to $59,658.39 were audited by the council claims committee at a meeting Wednesday night.

CITY EMPLOYEES MUST PAY U. S. TAX

New Ruling of Internal Revenue Department Affects 40 Men Here

Employees of Madison's city water department may have to pay federal income tax for a period of the last six years, according to a new ruling of the internal revenue department, it was learned today.

This will affect about 40 men in the employ of the water department and one other city official.

The ruling made by Solicitor Nelson T. Harston is still somewhat indefinite in its application in individual cases, but word from A. H. Wilkinson, Milwaukee, collector for Wisconsin, is to the effect that it undoubtedly will apply to employees of the water department in Madison.

According to the ruling all employees of municipally owned institutions acting in a proprietary capacity rather than serving governmental purposes, such as water, light, heat and street railway companies, are subject to a tax on their incomes. This ruling is retroactive to and including the year 1918.

Hinges On Two Points

Application of the new ruling seems to hinge on two major conditions to be applied in each individual case. The application is left in the hands of the collectors.

First, incomes are taxable in cases where the institution or utility is in competition with a privately owned utility.

Second, incomes are taxable where the utility is not in direct competition with others, but where salaries and wages are paid from a special fund.

In Madison the first case does not obtain, but here salaries and wages are paid from a special water department fund set up by the city auditor and comptroller, appropriated by direct city taxes.

There may be some technicality in the law which will release Madison water department employees from the tax, but Collector Wilkinson does not believe so. This technicality it is said would rest upon the fact that the special water department fund is raised through direct taxes.

Cafeteria People Pay

In addition Solicitor Harston ruled that managers and employees of cafeterias conducted in connection with the public schools or a university or by a school board or other governmental adjunct must pay a tax on their incomes.

This, it would appear, would af-

Gus Edwards Wants Folk Songs

"What America needs most, musically," says Gus Edwards, producer of the annual song revue which keeps the musical comedy stage plentifully supplied with stars, "is a more genuine type of original, national folk songs. We have too few of these, and they are not justly appreciated."

Gus Edwards, besides having annually produced such attractive song revues, as that which he is presenting at the Orpheum theater

Sunday, is also a well known composer of such hits as "School-Days," "Sunbonnet Sue," "Mamie," and "Good-by, Little Girl, Good-by."

Mr. Edwards spent many of his boyhood days on the Bowery. He was a poor little lad working in a cigar factory on the East Side when he first conceived the idea of writing songs. Strange tunes used to flit through his mind, and he decided to turn the haunting strains into money.

fact managers and employees of the East Side high school cafeteria, the Vocational high school cafeteria and the cafeteria conducted in Lathrop hall.

Many Are Affected

In the water department about 40 men will be affected, including Leon A. Smith, superintendent of the department, and City Engineer E. E. Parker, who draws a salary of $600 per annum from the water department in the capacity as constructional engineer.

Supt. Smith, if the new ruling applies here, would be forced to remit approximately $500 in taxes for the years 1918 to 1924, inclusive. Other employees would pay according to the amount of their incomes.
