BLUE LAWS TO BE SATIRIZED BY HARESFOOT

Gangelin and Sholtz Write Play
For the 24th Annual Production of the Club

"Jerusalem Junction," by Paul V. Gangelin '23 and Theodor Scholtz '20, is the name of the play selected by the Haresfoot Dramatic club as their twenty-fourth annual production, which will tour Wisconsin and Illinois in the spring of 1922. The play was chosen by the play committee of the club, headed by Wells Carberry '22, from a field of seventeen scenarios. Seven plays were seriously considered in the final judging, and the decision was reached after a careful consideration of the qualifications necessary for Haresfoot show.

"Jerusalem Junction," is a satirical play, according to Gangelin, basing its satire on the blue laws, and cities ruled by a fanatical religious cult. There is a large opportunity for humor, and there will be several intrigues about which to wind a plot of the best sort.

Music Not Chosen

The music for "Jerusalem Junction" has not as yet been selected, and any person desiring to write music for the play should apply at once to Carl E. Bronson '22, manager of the club.

Start Work Now

In selecting "Jerusalem Junction" as its twenty-fourth annual production, the Haresfoot club opens its active work in preparation for the spring production. According to William H. Purnell '22, president of the club, the Haresfoot show will be one of the best in recent years. Early in the semester, tryouts for all parts in the show, the chorus, the publicity and the production staff will be held, and the orchestra will be picked at the same time.

The production is coached by a professional, and after five weeks drill, goes on the road for a trip of ten days before its appearance in Madison just after spring vacation. The entire production staff goes on the trip, and the show usually carries about 60 men.

Any one interested in Haresfoot work of any kind, whether in writing music or in the show itself, should apply to Carl Bronson at B975. Office hours at the Union building will be announced later.

ARTUS INITIATES IN STATE CAPITOL

Artus, honorary economics fraternity, held its initiation ceremonies in the Senate Chambers of the State Capitol last night for its recently elected members. The initiates were William F. Collip '22, Abraham Kaufman '22, Professor John G. McKay, Chandler Osborne '22, and Worth E. Shoults '23.

The seventeenth semi-annual initiation banquet then took place at the Woman's building. Besides the initiates there were present at the banquet Prof. John R. Commons, Prof. William H. Kieckhofer, Prof. Selig Perlman, Prof. Sydney L. Miller, Robert B. Stewart, Arthur J. Mertzke, Jacob Perlman, A. J. Altmeyer, Dean P. Kimball, Joseph H. Pleck, Melbourne Bergerman, and Oscar Christianson.

IRON CROSS ELECTIONS

Iron Cross, honorary Senior society, announces the election of the following men: Donald M. Bailey, Melbourne Bergerman, Thomas T. Coxon, Carl V. Englehardt, William M. Sale, and Warren A. Taylor.

Pre-Prom Play Cast Is Chosen by Judges

Performances Will Open Junior Prom Functions on February 2

The committee in charge of tryouts for the Pre-Prom play announced cast selections yesterday. Because of the large number of dramatic club people who tried out there was considerable competition for the parts, making it necessary to hold several tryouts before the definite cast was chosen. The cast follows:

Mr. Fessenden, Roy L. French '23; Dorothy Fessenden, Merle Shaw '23; Mrs. Fessenden, Beatrice Humiston, grad.; Pansy Capron, Roberta Loudon '24; Oliver, Richard McCaffery '24; "Steve," Horace Wetmore '24; Richie, William Tannewitz '23; Mrs. Richie, Dixie Davis '23; Mr. Capron, Henry Scott Rubel '23.

The Pre-Prom play will be presented Thursday, Feb. 2, with a matinee and evening performance, the evening performance being the first event of the Prom festivities. This is the second year that the three dramatic clubs, Edwin Booth, Red Domino, and Twelfth Night are offering their joint production as the Pre-Prom play.

The play is now in concentrated rehearsal, Miss Gertrude Johnson of the department of speech, is directing the play, and Henry Rubel '23 is acting as production manager. The members of the tryout committee were Marjorie Boesch '22, Miriam Doan '22, and Henry Rubel.

GOWDY PRAISES WORK OF CHILDS

President of Anglo-Chinese College Lauds Wisconsin Man in the Orient

Jack Childs' work as representative of Wisconsin in Peking, is appreciated not only by those who are directly benefited by his work but also by those who view his work as an outsider. He has been called Peking's best known man.

The following is a letter received by Prof. E. A. Ross from John Gowdy, president of the Anglo-Chinese College:

My dear Professor Ross:
I am in Shanghai attending the annual meeting of the Continuation committee, and have just had an experience that I think might interest you.

One of the subjects up for discussion was "The Chinese Renaissance," and four papers were presented, two by Chinese and two by Americans. I was very greatly interested in all of them, but I was especially pleased with that presented by a young missionary. It showed such insight and such sympathetic appreciation of the Chinese point of view that I quite envied him having attained it so early in his career. Moreover, in some of the ideas expressed he broke through certain long cherished conventions so that I admired (Continued on Page 11)

Octopus Deadline Set For January 3

Contributors to the Prom Octopus have been asked to have their copy prepared before the holidays and turned in to the Octopus office. January 3 has been set as the copy deadline and January 6 the limit for art contributions.

JUNIOR PROM TICKETS WILL SELL FOR $7

Tickets This Year Will Be Exempt From War Tax; Will Go on Sale January 10

The price of Prom tickets has been set at $7 this year, according to an announcement by James L. Brader '23, Prom chairman, yesterday. Five hundred tickets will be sold at this price, which includes the supper, while 400 will be sold at $6, which will not include the supper check. Spectator seats will be sold at $1.

The tickets will be exempt from war tax this year, which will save $280 on the sale of $7 tickets, alone. The exemption was secured from the federal authorities through Ralph Balliet, chairman of the finance committee on the grounds that all proceeds will be given to the Union Memorial fund.

Sale Opens January 10

The sale of tickets will open January 10, and is in charge of Lucius Chasse '23, chairman of the ticket committee. The sale will be conducted by telephone from 7 to 9 every evening, and in ordering tickets, Prom-goers will designate the hour they wish for the Prom supper.

No orders for tickets will be taken before January 10, to avoid partiality, and those phoning early after this date, will be given preference as to their supper hours. Supper will be served at the Capitol cafe and the Garden grill in three different shifts, 11:30, 12:30, and 2:30.

Professors Attend Historical Meeting

A number of professors of the history department of the university are planning to attend the meeting of the American Historical association at St. Louis, Mo., on December 27, 28, and 29.

According to Professor Paxson, chairman of the history department, the following members will be present at the meeting: Professors C. R. Fish, W. C. Chase, W. T. Root, M. I. Rostovtzeff, F. L. Paxson, and Miss M. L. Edwards.

ANDERSON DIES OF APPENDICITIS

Louis Anderson of Sheboygan, a student in the short course, died at St. Mary's hospital yesterday after an operation for appendicitis.

Anderson left a ranch in the west to come to the university to further his education, and intended to buy an almond farm in California next spring.

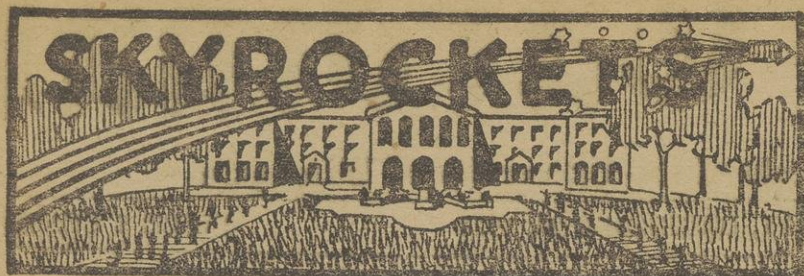

He is a brother of Victor M. Anderson '24, a student in the Agricultural school.

Burial will be in Sheboygan.

Davies Will Address Agric Triangle Today

G. W. Davies, secretary of the Wisconsin Live Stock Breeders' association, will address the Agric Triangle on the subject, "How to Organize a Rural Community," this evening at 7:30 o'clock in Agricultural hall.

The Agric Triangle is making a study of rural community organization. Mr. Davies has had a wide experience in organizing rural communities both as a county agent and in his present office.

THE proper Yule spirit is shown among certain of the faculty, who believe that it is more blessed to give than to receive. So they are handing out written quizzes and exams this coming Wednesday and Thursday. The poor unfortunate students are not planning on disillusioning the profs, either, for they probably won't receive anything in return.

ONE of the state newspapers calls George Bunge a superman, because in the 21 games of football he has played in, here at school, never has a substitute been sent in to relieve him. Chan Osborne says that's nothing, because he's never had a substitute sent in for him, either.

MISFORTUNE to our enemy is the spice of life. Therefore let us revel in the fact that Butler college, which beat us at basketball last Friday night, also, cleaned up Chicago on Saturday night.

DRAW your own conclusions as to who made the mistake, when we tell you confidently that there were 12 Pi Phi's at the Sigma Nu dance Saturday. Then again, of course, the interest shown may be mutual.

THE Deltas have been having a long and protracted argument over a certain action of some of the Betas which took place recently in the former's backyard. Seems that some of the Deltas claim that the Betas were shooting squirrels, but the rest claim they were shooting pledges. Things were finally quieted down when Bill Gnagi walked into the Delt house, and after finding out what the rumpus was about, explained to his brothers that both sides were right, as squirrels and pledges are interchangeable when applied to Beta freshmen.

UNPAID LIBRARY FINES WITHHOLD COURSE CREDIT

Carelessness in Returning of Reserve Shelf Books is Given as Cause

No credit for university work will be given to students who accumulate library fines until these accounts are clear, according to W. M. Smith, librarian. Carelessness in returning books and unbusiness-like methods of payment have made it necessary for the library to enforce its rules by having credits withheld.

Library books that are used in class assignments upon the hill are reserved at the desk for use in the reading room. An hour before the reading room closes these books may be drawn out. They must be returned, however, by 8:15 the next morning for the use of others in the same class. When a student fails to return a reserved book he incurs a fine of $1 for the first hour or fraction of an hour, and 25 cents for each succeeding 60 minutes. He also forfeits the privilege of drawing out reserved books for one month.

These fines are not established to secure revenue for the library, but to impress upon the minds of borrowers that books must be returned early in the morning for other people to use. In the rush for breakfast and 8 o'clock classes it is an easy matter to postpone returning library books until later in the day; and it is still easier to neglect to make arrangements about paying the fine.

Withholding university credit until library accounts are clear was made necessary by those people who choose the easiest way of doing things regardless of who suffers. The same method is used to prevent these people from taking out books charged upon reading room slips.

Senator La Follette Will Visit Madison

Senator Robert M. La Follette, accompanied by his son, is expected in Madison during the Christmas recess of Congress. At that time he will visit his brother-in-law, Justice R. G. Siebeck, who is ill. It is expected that Senator La Follette will confer with the Progressive leaders regarding the coming campaign during the holidays.

LORENZ AWARDED COVETED HONOR

The distinguished service medal for the display of good judgment in caring for wounded was awarded to William F. Lorenz, formerly a major in the Medical corps and now in charge of Mendota hospital, at the armory at 11 o'clock, yesterday morning. Major Orlando Ward, who is in commend of the cadet corps during the absence of Major Wood, presented the medal.

Major Lorenz enlisted at the outbreak of the war, going over seas with the Thirty-second division, and remained in charge of a hospital until the end of the fighting. After his return, he resumed his duties at Mendota hospital.

The medal was awarded with the following citation: For exceptionally meritorious and distinguished services as commanding officer of Field Hospital No. 27, and while in personal charge of the Triage (sorting section for wounded), of the Thirty-second division during the combat activities of that division on the Marne, Oise-Aisne, and in the Meuse-Argonne, he so displayed indefatigable zeal and exceptionally good judgment in sorting, caring for and evacuating thousands of wounded, as to directly result in the saving of many lives."

VARSITY TANK TEAM DEFEATS FROSH HANDILY

Natators Make Fast Time in Breast Stroke

Opposing the freshmen in the second of a series of trial meets, Coach Steinauer's varsity tankmen worked last night to determine the best possible combination with which to face the Milwaukee Athletic club when the Badger swimmers journey to that city for their first meet of the season on December 22.

In the events in which the freshmen swimmers worked against the varsity regulars the first year men were unable to more than furnish fair competition. In the 200 yard breast stroke Wilson and Krupp of the yearlings trailed Rudy Pabst, varsity swimmer, over the distance for second and third respectively. In the 100 yard crawl, which was the only other event in which the freshmen and the regulars were opposed, Williamson, varsity, easily defeated Steiver of the freshmen squad.

Relay Combination Undecided

The work of the evening centered on the relay, the breast stroke, and 100 yard dash. In the relay many combinations of swimmers were matched in an effort to determine the speediest and smoothest working quartet in that event.

The first two teams to take the water, were: Gibson, Davies, Lambole, and Bennett against Sollitt, Storey, Ewald, and Gilbreath. The outfit headed by Gibson with Bennett finishing easily took the race in the fast time of 1:26 2-5.

In a race against time, the freshman relay composed of Yeomans, Porter, Johnson, and Hipple covered the eight lengths of the tank in 1:26 4-5.

After the frosh event the varsity teams again lined up in the following order: Galbreath, Ewald, Lambole, and Bennett; Davies, Sollitt, Gibson, and Storey. The first quartet clipped off the distance in the fastest time of the evening, Bennett finishing the course for a team time of 1:23 2-5. Later in the meet the same two combinations worked out in a 220 yard relay to accustom themselves to the longer tank in which they will work at Milwaukee. The time for this increased distance was 2:16 1-5.

Pabst Wins Breast Stroke

In the 200 yard breast stroke event Rudy Pabst was easily the class of the entrants. He plunged along over the ten lap of the tank and finished in 3:06 1-5. The two yearlings who finished next made the distance in 3:12 2-5, and 3:15 2-5 respectively.

In a 150 yard backstroke race between two men of the first year squad, Ruggles finished first in 2:31 1-5 and Potter second in 2:32 3-5. At the same time several of the frosh squad were started in a 150 yard breast stroke race. Chesebro won in 2:31 2-5.

The plunge was the last event on the list. In this event Lahmann, Heubeuner, and Morley worked out with only mediocre success. None of the men reached the 60 foot mark in the allotted time.

The final tryout for the team which will oppose the Milwaukee clubmen will be held this afternoon at 4:30. All men of the varsity squad are required to be present at that time for the last work before the holidays.

Athletes usually star in more than sport. Witness Gus Tebell, Williams, Sundt, Elliott, and Brumm.

Bill Chandler, now coaching the Ames basketball team, was one of the best centers ever developed at Wisconsin.

WALTER CAMP CHOOSES SIX WESTERN STARS FOR ALL-AMERICAN SQUAD

Although six Wisconsin football men were given honorable mention, not one was chosen on any of the first three All-American elevens selected by Walter Camp in the current issue of Collier's Weekly.

Five gridders who come out of the Middle West were placed on the first team.

Of these five, three were Big Ten conference men, one each from Chicago, Iowa, and Michigan.

Sundt and Williams Chosen

Capt. Guy Sundt, fullback, Captain-elect "Rollie" Williams, and "Rowdy" Elliott, halfbacks, Gould and Tebell, ends, and Brader, tackle, were Wisconsin's representatives on the gridiron honor roll.

The conference players who rated first team honors, in Camp's estimation, were Aubrey Devine, Iowa quarterback, "Chuck" McGuire, Maroon tackle, and Vick, Michigan pivot man. Muller, heavy California end, and Roberts, Centre college wing man, were the other two westerners to close their football careers in the blaze of glory which follows in the wake of Walter Camp's selections.

McGuire Praised by Camp

Of McGuire, the football expert says: "He was a great factor in the work of Chicago. McGuire is a big, powerful man with a tremendous charge and splendid ability to diagnose the opponents' play. He is also a man who could run or could use his backs to run, sure at all times of their following a man who would always be moving forward rather than forced back. He is quick as a cat, can watch an end and check him if he is starting down on a forward pass, and still be ready for a shift or running play. He is most adept at moving out or in, and this makes a world of trouble for his opponents."

Camp says, "Vick gets the center position, as he is about the only man who has throughout the season added great power and aggressiveness to steadiness and consistency of work. Too many centers this year have failed in steadiness, even though stars in other respects."

Devine in Quadruple Threat

"Devine can run, kick, forward-pass, catch, and in fact, he is a threat in all four ways to opponents," is Camp's opinion of the Iowa flash. "Besides that, he has been a model of consistency throughout the season on a team which has gone undefeated."

The All-American first team selected follows: Muller, California, and Roberts, Centre, ends; Stein, W. & J., McGuire Chicago, tackles; Schwab, Lafayette, Brown, Harvard, guards; Vick, Michigan, center; A. Devine, Iowa, quarterback; Killinger, Penn State, and Aldrich, Yale, halves; Kaw, Cornell, fullback.

Six Westerners on Second Team

Here is the second eleven: Swanson, Nebraska, Kiley, Notre Dame, ends; Slater, Iowa, Keck, Princeton, tackles; Trott, Ohio State and Bedenk, Penn State, guards; Larson, Annapolis, center; McMillin, Centre, quarter; Owen, Harvard, and Davies, Pittsburgh, halves; Mohardt, Notre Dame, fullback.

Two Colleges Claim Origin of Basketball

Rival claims as originators of basketball were put forth some time ago by McGill University of Toronto, Canada, and Mount Union College, Alliance, Ohio.

Mount Union points with pride to a tablet in their gymnasium with an inscription to the effect that the first basketball game was played there in 1892. The "Dynamo," student publication, says, "We know of no college in the United States which can establish the claim that basketball was played previous to this date."

At first nine men were used. The number was reduced to seven and later to five as the skill of the men developed.

Baseball Squad Takes Extensive Conditioning Trip

Many offers of baseball games for the spring training trip of the Badger nine have been received by Coach Guy S. Lowman.

Several northern universities will also send their baseball teams on a southern trip this coming year.

Wisconsin has received offers to play the University of Alabama, and Union university at Jackson, Tenn., on April 10 and 11. Of the two offers, it is likely that Coach Lowman will accept the games with Alabama.

Games are definitely scheduled with Mississippi A. & M., at Starksville, Miss., on April 12 and 13. On the 14 and 15 of the month, Mississippi university at Oxford, Miss., will be met. Offers for games with Tennessee, Kentucky, and Vanderbilt have been declined because of the short time allowed for the trip.

Returning from the southern trip, the Wisconsin team will meet Notre Dame on April 17. It will play its first conference game with Northwestern on April 18.

Practice for the batteries begins January 5, and the rest of the squad will be called out on February 6. "Jack" Williams, the regular first basemen, will be back in school next semester, and will be eligible to play on the team again. The loss of Davey behind the bat seems to make quite a noticeable difference,

Gophers Begin Hard Schedule With Only Two Veterans Back

Coach Cooke Must Fill Vacancies Left by Oss and Arnston

With only two veterans back this year, Dr. L. J. Cooke of the University of Minnesota basketball team is having a difficult time finding conference material to represent the Maroon and Gold on Big Ten floors this season.

Captain Kearney and Hutkrans, both guards, are the only two veterans back this year. From a squad of about forty men, Dr. Cooke and assistant coach, Arnold Oss, have picked Swanson and Severson for forwards, Hanson for center, with the "M" men as guards.

The Gophers so far have played four practice games and will end their pre-season basketball with the University of Kansas at Minneapolis on January 2.

The Gophers lost three good men through the graduation last spring of Captain Arnold Oss and Neil Arnston, both forwards, and Fred Enke, stationary guard. Other men who will get into Big Ten games this winter will be Cyril Olson, Fogelberg, Anderson at forward, Sinclair and Grimes at center, and Gross and Sullivan at guards.

Butler College Squad Defeats Maroon Five

In its second game with a Big Ten team, the Butler college quintet defeated Chicago university, 16 to 13, last Saturday night. The Indiana lads came back strong after their victory over Wisconsin and holds the distinction of beating two conference teams in succession.

Coach "Pat" Page, whose ability is mainly responsible for the Butler excellency in basketball, formerly led Chicago to a high place in Big Ten standings.

Paddock and Kirksey of America won first and second places in the 100 meters run at the Olympic games, Antwerp, 1920.

VARSITY QUINT BATTLES KNOX SQUAD TONIGHT

Badgers Play Last Preliminary Game Before Holidays

PROBABLE LINTUPS

Wisconsin	Knox
Ceaser (capt.)	R. F. Albro
Taylor	L. F. Magley
Gibson	C. Campbell
Williams	L. G. Ludwick
Tebell	R. G. Crabbe (capt)

The Badgers will play their third preliminary game within a week tonight when they take on Sam Barry's Knox college five. This will be the last home game before they disband for the holidays.

Strength Unknown

Not much is known of the Knox team, except that Illinois administered a 32 to 24 beating to them last Saturday night. Their lineup includes four of the men who played against the Badgers last year, so they will know what style of game to play against Ceaser and his cohorts. Campbell and Albro played star games during the last half a year ago, and sent a number of spectacular shots in the basket from the middle of the floor.

Sam Barry and Mark Kessenick are two former Madison high school stars. Barry is coaching the Illinois collegians, after a number of years of successful coaching at various schools in Wisconsin and Illinois. Kessenick played on the freshman football team last fall, and starred on the Knox grid team during the past season.

Badgers Should Improve

It is to be hoped that Meanwell's men will show improvement over their recent performances, as they are to invade foreign territory later in the week. Ceaser is the only man who is playing real conference ball, as even the rest of the veterans have fallen into kind of a slump. The offense must improve both in accurate passing and shooting, and the whole team will have to get into the habit of charging the ball rather than the man.

On the whole, the team is the poorest bunch of shots that have played under Doctor Meanwell in years. All that the coach can do is to perfect the teamplay, and the shooting lies solely up to the men. Thus far, the new men, Gibson and Johnson, have appeared to have better eyes than have the so-called veterans.

Michigan Football Is Well Attended

Reports of the attendance at the football games in which the University of Michigan participated this season show that the Maize and Blue eleven played before a total of 143,500 people.

The receipts of the games played on Ferry Field amount to $170,000, according to an estimate obtained from the Board in Control of Athletics, and are the largest in the history of the university.

Non-Fraternity Prom Goers Meet Tonight

To make arrangements for non-fraternity men who expect to attend the 1923 Junior Promenade, a meeting will be held in the University Y. M. C. A. parlors at 7 o'clock tonight.

All men who are not affiliated with fraternities are invited to attend. Prom Chairman James L. Brader will address the meeting and will announce early plans of the committee in charge of the arrangements. A faculty representative will also talk to the men.

Otto Eggebrech, Varsity football player last year, is a coach at Riven Falls normal.

Doc Baker Heads Good Program of Acts at the Orph

By WILLETT KEMPTON

The much advertised Doc Baker in his "Flashes" as the headliner at the Orpheum for the first part of the week, is an exceptionally pleasing little musical revue. It is a well rounded out "girl and music" act. The girls are good looking even from first row seats. A variety of new costumes and appropriate sets combined with really good acting from start to finish more than made up for a certain lack of originality in structure.

West and Van Sieten

A combination of musical instruments that offered a bit of variety to the bill. Their cornet duet in imitation of the w. k. bagpipe was their best offering.

Frank and Gertie Fay

A black faced gent with an equally black faced girl in a little skit of the usual nothing that got by immensely with the audience. Frank Fay did some good clog dancing and was well supported by Gert.

Buddy Walker

We can't yet figure out why this boy was captioned "Juvenile" unless it be that juveniles have a tendency to act like monkeys. Mr. Walker astonished the assemblage by some remarkable work with his feet. When he started shooting, holding a gun between his toes, we all sat tight.

Doc Baker in "Flashes"

The Doctor was the feature of this act and established a time record for quick changes in Madison. He would make a good basketball man. Polly Walaker is a cold knock out, and we most heartily recommend a look at her should one be suffering from the blues. The two dancing red caps were very pleasing.

Badger Features Have New Contribution Box

A cardinal and white box labeled "Feature Section, 1923 Badger," has been placed on the porch of the Union building in order that students having any snap shots suitable for the feature or student life section of the Badger may contribute them.

Photographs of the informal life of students such as picnics, swimming, tennis, horseback riding, and similar occupations, snap-shots of university events, favorite haunts of students, or anything which portrays student life or features is acceptable.

Everyone with a camera is urged to secure photographs around the university and to keep his eyes open for unusual and novel events or situations. All photographs must be clear and distinct.

Union Vodvil Acts Aid Orph Benefit

The second annual benefit performance—a combination of three Union Vodvil acts, Madison and professional talent—to aid the Empty Stomach club Christmas fund will be given at the Orpheum this afternoon at 2:15.

The Butts brothers and "Doc" Cramer, "Heinz" Rubel and "Les" Cace in their "Toll of the Desert," and the Alpha Gamma Rho "Medicine Show" are the acts from Union Vodvil.

"Doc" Baker, the star of this week's feature act at the Orpheum, "Flashes," will announce the numbers and furnish comedy between acts. Madison musicians, dancers, and dialogue artists have prepared stunts for the production, and Railroad Jack will be on hand to answer questions.

Al Thompson's orchestra and "Doc" J. Skelton's Orpheum orchestra have promised to furnish music.

The price of the tickets will be $1, with no war tax. The club plans to raise $1,500. The amount so far is less than $250. The Grand and the Majestic theaters have each offered to give a benefit performance.

Fire Destroys Roof of East Side Store

Considerable damage was done late this afternoon to the roof of a business building at 1216 Williamson st., where a fire, believed to have been caused by sparks from a chimney, broke out. The building is owned by M. A. Karls, and is partly occupied by a meat shop run by Heiser.

Says One Professor Urges Students to Read Marx and Get Both Sides of Questions

Social Science Club Has Discussion Following Address by Dr. A. E. Haydon; Speaker Discounts Value of Force

"There is a marked difference between speech which is an incitement to a violation of law and speech which aims to incite sentiment for the change of law," said Dr. A. E. Haydon, speaking yesterday afternoon at Lathrop hall before the Social Science club. Dr. Haydon pointed out, however, that George Washington and the other founders of the republic all argued in favor of the right to overthrow a government by force.

However, he said we have been too much fed up on force as a method of bringing about better conditions, and have learned that it brings in its wake such hatreds and resentment as often nullifies the ends sought.

In the discussion following the address, one of the students said that Prof. Kiekhof of the economics department had urged his students to read Karl Marx and other socialist writers in order to understand both sides of disputed economic theories. He said he also recommended the students to hear Scott Nearing.

Dr. C. F. Rodolf said:

"This is a pleasing bit of information, and directly opposite to the sentiments recently expressed by Pres. Birge, who in effect said that he thought he knew what the parents of the students wanted them to hear, and what they wanted them not to hear."

One student pointed out that President Wilson had been an advocate of the overthrow of government by force, seeking to encourage revolution in Germany.

L. P. Gabbard asked if the club would be willing to have a joint committee of students and representatives of the faculty pass on what speakers should be given the use of university halls, and what speakers should be excluded.

He was told that this would leave matters about as they are at present, and that what the club objected to was any censorship of its speakers, and that what it wanted for its speakers was only what the constitution of the state gives to all citizens, the right of legal free speech.

It was said that the club can always find a free platform for its speakers, either at the high school or in the assembly chamber, and that the use of the latter had been tendered the club for its meetings.

The club objects to the censorship of its speakers more on account of its violation of Wisconsin spirit and traditions than because it hampers the club in carrying on its work.

mous prediction with skepticism, extra precautions were taken. The warning letter said that the stock exchange and everything in a radius of five miles would be blown up by a bomb on Dec. 19.

Madison Will Put Many Pin Men In Field

Bowlers Pledge 400 Teams From City at Booster Meeting

"Prospects look fine for the completion of our quota of 400 teams to enter in the state bowling tournament to be held here beginning Jan. 26," said Chairman F. G. Oetking, president of the Madison Bowling association, at the second tournament meeting of Madison bowlers in the Association of Commerce rooms yesterday afternoon.

Plans have been laid to have every organization in the city represented by a team of bowlers. Committees representing each of these organizations will solicit teams this week on a competitive basis, and the names of the teams entered will be published daily to show the progress made. The teams in the inter-fraternity bowling league, as well as students not officially in any organization, may enter along with teams of the Madison business men.

"Committees for the establishment of information booths and the planning of entertainment for the outside guests will be appointed soon, and by the time of the tournament, we will have the best organized bowling meet ever held in the country," Chairman Oetking said. "Ceremonies to formally open the tournament will be held. Mayor Kittleson and aldermen of the city of Madison will roll the first balls."

To get the views of Madison bowlers, Chairman Oetking called on several officers and members of the association to give three minute talks on the subject. The consensus of opinion was that despite the fact that the meet was quite a large undertaking, Madison would work hard to make it the biggest tournament ever held and to wipe out the black mark they received in 1914.

Enthusiasm ran high at the meeting. More than 75 bowling fans pledged their united efforts. Mayor Kittleson volunteered the services of the city government and spoke on behalf of the city council in accepting the plan to have them open the tournament by rolling the first balls. Harold Smith, first president of the association, made suggestions in the line of entertainment, and told of the work of the American Bowling Congress.

Mayor I. Milo Kittleson pledges the co-operation of the common council and representatives of many civic and fraternal organizations promised full co-operation. The bowling alley keepers are on pins, ready to boost to the last hour on Jan. 15 when the entries close. It is important to have a large entry from Madison.

President Oetking yesterday announced the appointment of committees to work on the general committees, as follows: Hotels and reservations, John St. John, chairman; W. A. Devine, Arthur Pugh; schedules, working in connection with the state secretary—Walter Schaar, chairman; Matt. Zwank, Ralph Sizer; team schedules for booster teams—Hy. Smith, chairman; Tony Schwoegler, George Fitch, William Veerhusen, George Paltz and John Melaas; other committees, including entertainment, will be appointed later.

Cong. Nelson Introduces Bill; Seek Building Later

A bill to provide $350,000 for a site for a new postoffice and federal building in Madison was introduced in the house of representatives at Washington by Cong. John M. Nelson, according to word received by the Association of Commerce today. The house has not yet taken action upon it.

It is hoped to get this bill through Congress in order that options held on property in this city, which has been selected as the site for the new postoffice, may be closed and the property purchased. Money for ago but on condition that the appropriation be withheld until money was obtained for the building. Much pressure has been brought to bear upon Congress, however, by local officials, who believe that unless the desired property is taken soon, the government will lose one of the finest locations in the city.

Students Here Send Wire to Arms Meeting

Chinese Voice Protest Against 21 Demands Made by Japan

The Chinese Students of the university have sent the following telegram to the Disarmament Conference voicing their view with regard to the Twenty-one Demands.

"The central point in the Far Eastern questions is the Twenty-one Demands imposed upon China by Japan under duress. The Chinese people have never recognized them. We were looking forward to an international tribunal ever since 1915 to give China justice with regard to this unlawful act of Japan. It is this Conference on which we pin our faith and hope.

"Certainly the powers would not like to see the five great provinces of China, namely the three provinces in Manchuria, Shantung and Fukien virtually controlled, the important railroads and mines in China monopolized and hence whole China as a result thereof held in submission by another country. This is what the Twenty-one Demands are after in letter and spirit.

"Should the Conference not take measures to abrogate the treaties embodied in the Twenty-one Demands, the Far Eastern questions were then not even approached in the right way to say nothing of their solution, the practices of international robbery were tolerated by the high tribunal of nations sitting here to do justice and secure peace, the greatest wrong in mankind was not righted, and the conference would be a failure in so far as justice and real peace is concerned."

IRON CROSS ELECTIONS

OUT of a maze of honorary societies on the campus one stands supreme, a giant in the midst of a few lesser giants and a myriad of pigmies, Iron Cross. Iron Cross holds the undisputed position of being the most worth-while honorary organization at Wisconsin both in point of tradition and of what it represents.

Iron Cross stands for the embodiment of the Wisconsin Spirit. It represents the best in the life of the campus. It has kept alive for years the principle that success is measured by the achievements one has made that add lasting honor to his Alma Mater. In short, Iron Cross is based upon bigness of achievement, upon broadness of purpose, upon leadership.

Each year a few men are elected to Iron Cross. By the very nature of it they are men who have done things, men who have stood out as leaders in the school, men who have unselfishly given time and effort to make Wisconsin a greater and a better university. In electing them Iron Cross gives honor where honor is due and gives recognition to qualities of character that are outstanding.

This year Iron Cross added six new names to its roll of men who have done things for Wisconsin. It was a high honor, the highest honor the school can give. The university extends its sincerest congratulations to the society in its choice and to the new members in their election.

BRAIN FAG AND LAKE MENDOTA

MOTHER NATURE will have a big Christmas present for her votaries when they come back to school after the holiday recess. Lake Mendota will certainly be frozen over, and then for the days of real sport. No more will there be a gnashing of teeth over hikes ruined by cold and dreary rains, no more will winter hungry students have to despondently watch a few lonesome snow falls melt into slopy mud puddles. Winter is here, and by January it will be so firmly entrenched that once more students can begin majoring in ice-boating and skating.

By the time that the semester crawls to an end and exams loom formidable every one begins to get a little weary and more less tired. It is a time for exercise. The best way to prepare for exams is not to worry and cram, but to keep fresh and awake, and that is where Mother Nature comes in. Here is a school built right on the shore of a lake that was made expressly for winter sports, and winter sports come at the time when sports are needed most, when the year is half over. This is an advantage that should not be overlooked. Skating and ice-boating are both recreations that are unequalled, clearing the brain fog from a worried mind.

Bring back the skates that are lying in the attic and get ready to keep fit for the long job ahead. School work only becomes a grind when the brain is stuffy from lack of fresh air and exercise. There is no reason whatsoever for brain fog when all a person has to do is to walk a few block to the lake that offers the best kind of pep giving exhilarating sport. Horace's old adage of a sound mind in a sound body is just as true today as it was a few thousand years ago, and this university gives everybody a chance to practice it.

ECONOMICS AND LIFE

WITHIN the past few decades the study of economics has become an inextricate factor in our national life. More and more is being recognized the influence on society of the ways men live and gain their living. In our universities and within the circle of statesmanship most questions of controversy have their economic setting. From the breadth of international relationships even to the provincialism of the small community the actions of men as individuals and groups are eminently influenced by their economic life and status.

The leaders of the future will be those who can best adapt themselves to the inherent economic phase of the present civilization. In industry, politics, law, and journalism this economic element will become more and more the subject of contention and will challenge the best minds of the world. An understanding of this ever present force is vital to those who would be leaders.

However, along with this mastery of economic law there must be other understandings, other knowledge. There must be the knowledge of history that gives an understandable background by which to interpret the present. There must be a knowledge of the arts, of literature and all of the treasures of the ages, to give to the leader that something that makes life worth living. But most important of all, there must be a knowledge and an understanding of men, because outside of economic influence, man is influenced by forces that only human sympathy can understand and work with.

"KNOW YOUR COLLEGE"

IN various universities throughout the country there has been considerable agitation recently for a greater and more thorough knowledge of the schools, from the various standpoints of history, organization, outstanding characteristics, and traditions, as well as from the purely economic and social backgrounds. Particularly has this movement taken root in the University of California, where it has been agitated by the student paper there.

The idea in the schools agitating the matter, and particularly in California, is to establish a class for the avowed purpose of "knowing your university. It is suggested that undergraduates meet to discuss the problems that confront them in their college life. The one requirement of the course would be attendance.—Grinnell Daily.

Regimental Band Plays Difficult Repertoire Well

By WALTER K. SCHWINN

It was a difficult program that the First Regimental band played at the gymnasium Sunday afternoon; each number was one of musical distinction, and the manner of the band in its performance was extremely satisfying. Under the direction of Major E. W. Morphy, the band has acquired a brilliant, lively tone and a pleasing blend of all the choirs makes for harmonious unity.

The familiar "Reinzi" overture, by Wagner, was one of the best numbers. In this there was a good balance between all the sections, and a colorful tone in the handling of the slower passages. The Prologue from Leoncavallo's "Pagliacci" was well-done, and showed an understanding of the dramatic effect of opera score. The Prologue was the best handled selection given; Major Morphy exercises good control over his men, and there is at all times complete co-operation between the director and his men.

The selections from Gounod's "Faust" was given with much brilliance, and perfect rhythm, especially noticed in the waltz movement. Mr. Jaquish handled the solo, "All Hail, Thou Dwelling," in the same number with a clear, even tone from his cornet. The program closed with a sparkling performance of the "William Tell" overture.

About 1,200 people heard the concert. The next in the series will be given in January.

Deputation Teams to Visit State Centers

Plans are being made for the deputation teams from the university Y. M. C. A. to make a tour of all the larger centers in Wisconsin and many of the smaller towns.

The deputation teams make week end trips between Christmas and Easter. The program usually includes three days.

It is the aim of the team to arrive in the town for assembly in the high school on Friday afternoon. A father and son banquet is planned for Friday evening. An athletic program is carried out for Saturday with an open meeting on the same evening. On Sunday, the last day of the program, the men on the teams help in the churches. A meeting for the boys only, is held on Sunday afternoon with an open meeting in the evening.

Birney Miller '22 is in charge of the teams for this year. The other men will be chosen after the holidays.

Invitations have been received from Culver Military academy and Pittsburgh, Pa., but because of the distance, it is impossible for men attending school to make the trip. A letter was received recently from authorities at Yale University, asking for information as to how the deputation committees' work is carried on.

Lake Monona closed over Sunday and a sheet of ice covers the lake today except for a few small spots. Ice formed along the shore of Mendota.

Four Madison Men In Wilson Tribute Plan

Foundation for Former President is Supported in This City

Four residents of Madison are on the state committee which will endeavor to raise $15,000 in Wisconsin as the state's quota in the $1,000,000 Woodrow Wilson foundation fund.

This fund will be named after the former president as a tribute to his efforts while president "to enable the world to live more amply, with greater vision, with a finer spirit of hope and achievement." The income from the fund will be used as an American Nobel prize fund to reward distinguished public service. The Madison members are Pres. E. A. Birge, A. G. Schmedeman, John Callahan, and Justice Burr W. Jones.

The idea to perpetuate Woodrow Wilson's name was formulated shortly before his retirement from the presidency. Since that time a national organization has been formed with state chairmen and state committees. The counties have been formed into collection units in a free will offering that is hoped will produce 1c for each man, woman and child for the fund. The state quota is smaller than this average, but it is believed that more than this stipulated amount will be raised. Karl Mathie of Wausau is the state chairman. Other members of the Wisconsin organization are Mrs. Clinton M. Barr, Rev. Charles H. Beale and Fred S. Hunt of Milwaukee, Mrs. Helen Wright Crosby, Rhinelander, W. A. Hume, Chilton, Dr. John Faville, Lake Mills, Thos. M. Kearney, Racine, Judge Martin Lueck, Beaver Dam, Col. Robert B. McCoy, Sparta, Hon. H. A. Moehlenpach, Clinton, Willis V. Silverthorn, Hayward, F. J. Smith, Merrill, J. M. Hays, Milwaukee, treasurer, and Mrs. D. O. Kinsman.

Judge Owen Heads State Game Association

Officers and directors were elected at the meeting of delegates to the Wisconsin Game Protective association held in the capitol were: Judge Asa Owen, Phillips, Wis. president; Dr. A. S. Heggen, Madison, vice president; N. A. Schwab, Appleton, secretary and treasurer.

The directors elected for the next year are: Grant Phillips, Appleton; Carl Rudquist, Ashland; Thos. MacNeil, Sheboygan; Frank A. Grove, La Crosse; and Dr. G. H. Ripley, Kenosha.

Youth Should Prepare For Great Work Ahead

"Reconstruction is the watch word of the day," said Rabbi Felix Levy of Chicago Sunday night at a meeting of the Jewish Students association at the Woman's building. "Reconstruction, not only of the depleted finances and devastated regions of the world, but also of the moral structure of our life."

Rabbi Levy spoke on "Youth." It is to Youth that the world looks for the real reconstruction that is to come, he said. In view of this then, he said, Youth must make preparation for the great task.

New Church Founded By Presbyterians

At the Sunday morning service of the Presbyterian Student headquarters, corner State and Murray streets, a new student church was organized which will be known as the University Presbyterian church. It is expected that within a short time the present Presbyterian student building will be replaced by a university church and social hall adequate in every sense to meet the church needs of the thousand Presbyterian students who are annually in attendance at the university.

The Presbyterian student headquarters is always open for the use of students as a club house and for social gatherings and is being used by over 1,300 students every month. Groups of students are using the building on an average of three nights a week for social gatherings, and the Sunday services reach a considerable number of students each week.

Among the activities of Presbyterian students is the recreational work at Bradley Memorial hospital and the assuming of $1,200 as their share of the purchase price of the property.

The charter members of the new church are Charles Rawson, Myrtle Jobse, Roland Baker, Alfred Willett, Walter Seymour, Mrs. R. G. Riemann, Elizabeth Nelson, Florence Erbes, Walter Schulke, Mabel Jobse, James Watson, Thomas Dartnell, Helen McLandress, Herman Hoffman, Wallace Rice, Eleanor Flynn, Marion Hosack, Edward Johnson, Clyde Gleason, Fred Handberg, Marion Robertson, Earl Wheeler, Ruth Fletcher, R. C. French, Kenneth Hunt, R. W. Webb, C. W. Brusewitz, Ralph Spence, Charles Rathert, Kenneth Wicker, Harold Wicker, Marion Whiting, Alfreda Busenbark, Wayne Bacon, Harold Lee, Elizabeth Johnson, Dorothy Simpson, Lenore Williams, Marion Duncan, Helen Bell, Lucille Simpson, Edward Wright, Inez Flood, Julia Ross, J. M. McCoy, Lillian Hays, Charlotte Cummings, Sarah Cummings, Ted H. Field, Elizabeth Kirk, Adrian Scollen, Martha Whitlock.

At the service Sunday morning the articles of organization were subscribed to by the members and the following elders chosen: Ralph Spence, Charles A. Rawson, and Wallace Rice.

Badger Club Holds Novel Kiddies Party

"The kid party ran away with us," said "Dad" Wolf in speaking of the party arranged for the poor children of Madison by the Badger club last Sunday.

University men and women planned to entertain 125 kids at the Y. M. C. A. but it proved impossible to count the hordes of children who began to arrive as early as 5:30, although the entertainment had not been arranged for until 7 o'clock.

During the afternoon several of the men and women of the club went down to the district from which the kids were imported to review the houses in order that they might know the place when it was time to call for their guests.

"Do you know where Jimmy lives," asked one man addressing a little ruffian on the street corner.

"You bet; how much will you give me," the boy replied.

"Well do you know where Tommy Smith lives too," again asked the man.

"Say, I know where they all live. Tell you what I'll do,—make it 2 for 5."

The regular Badger club committees were in charge of the affair.

Pythia Society Holds Oratorical Contest

An oratorical contest was held at the regular meeting of the Pythia Literary society Friday evening in the music room in Lathrop hall.

Twelve women talked on various subjects. The contest was sponsored by a member of Philomathia to create interest among the women for oratorical discussion.

Muriel Edwards won the first prize, Grace Nickols took second place, and Alice Outhouse was third. Each of the prize-winners added their awards to the amount pledged by Pythia Literary society

Christmas Parties

Many women's organizations and rooming houses are celebrating Christmas before leaving for their vacation. Christmas tree celebrations and informal house entertainments were given by several houses last evening, and others will entertain tonight and tomorrow night.

Alpha Chi Party

Alpha Chi Omega sorority gave a Christmas party last evening at their chapter house. A Christmas tree celebration was the feature of the party. Everyone in the chapter exchanged "slam gifts."

Chi Omega Entertains

A Christmas tree celebration and costume party were combined at the Chi Omega house last night when members of that sorority celebrated their Christmas. Slam presents were exchanged by everyone.

Gamma Phi Beta

Members of Gamma Phi entertained at an informal Christmas banquet last night at 6 o'clock at their chapter house. Slam presents accompanied by original verses were exchanged by the members, and the tables were decorated in holly and green.

Chadbourne Hall

Girls living at Chadbourne will have their Christmas celebration tonight at dinner. The dining rooms will be decorated in evergreens, and the tables will each have small Christmas trees. Each girl received a humorous gift of some sort.

Cadets Plan Orpheum Party For Tonight

Ticket sale for the Orpheum party to be given by members of the cadet corps this evening will be continued during the drill hours today, according to Evard Caluwaert '22, who is in charge of the affair. Those not having money for the tickets at drill this morning may obtain them during the afternoon.

The entire first floor of the Orpheum has been engaged for the

Barnard Party

Instead of exchanging slam presents the Barnard girls will give the money to the Friendship fund, and will make their Christmas celebration an informal dinner party on Wednesday evening with Christmas decorations in the dining rooms and at all the tables. After the dinner, they will sing Christmas songs.

Acacia Initiates

Acacia fraternity announces the initiation of Arthur L. Anderson, George A. Ballam, Louis E. Nelson, Howard M. Zoerb, and Truman G. Glenn.

Members of Acacia will give a stag Christmas party Wednesday evening at their chapter house.

Milwaukee Barnard Club To Give Tea

The Barnard club of Milwaukee will give its annual holiday tea on Saturday, Dec. 31, at the College club, 236 Oneida street, Milwaukee. It will be held from 3 until 5 o'clock. Invitations were issued to all girls who live or have lived at Barnard hall.

Mrs. Langley Will Be In Superior for Christmas

Mrs. Lilly Langley, Kappa Delta chaperon, left Sunday night for Superior, to spend Christmas vacation with her son, Thorpe Langley.

Pi Phi Will Have Christmas Party

Each member of the chapter will receive some comic take-off gift at the Pi Phi Christmas party tonight. They will have a Christmas tree, and the house will be decorated in Christmas green and candles.

party and if necessary seats in the balcony will also be reserved for members of the corps. Cadets will attend in uniform.

CASTALIA HOLDS CHRISTMAS PARTY

Castalia Literary society held a Christmas party in conjunction with its meeting in Lathrop hall on Friday evening. Each of the members brought a present for someone else, and the gifts were distributed by a real Santa Claus.

6,021 Out of 7,000 'Varsity Students Adhere to Religion, Says Campus Council Report

Charge That University is Irreligious is Unfounded, Claim; Catholics Lead With 1300 Members; Methodists Second With 1,050

In spite of charges that the University of Wisconsin is advancing theories which undermine the faith of the students, the Campus Religious council's estimates of students, active in the work of the churches, show that the number has not decreased.

Out of about 7,000 students, 6,021 signified their religious preference upon matriculation.

The Roman Catholics lead with 1,300 members, an increase of about 100 over last year, as estimated by the Rev. H. C. Hengell of the Catholic church.

The Methodists lead the Protestant denominations with 1,050 or about 100 less than last year. The Congregationalists rank third with 875. The Presbyterian figures are the same as last semester, 850. The Lutherans and Episcopalians tie with 600 members each.

Last year the Episcopalians had but 459.

Of the Baptists, there are 275; Hebrews 135; Disciples 100; Reformed 75; Unitarians and Evangelicals, 50 each. In addition to these there are 215 others not classified under any of these heads.

No Holy Rollers or Holy Jumpers have been discovered but nearly every other denomination claims sheep among the vast fold of students.

The Campus Religious council is an interdenominational organization. It embraces several faiths.

For the past five years this council has been working on the campus. The religious workers of the university are 21 in number, one-half of these being ordained clergymen.

The sum used annually in maintaining religious work at the university is $50,000.

Gowdy Lauds Work of Childs in China

his courage, but I admired still more the fine spirit in which he did it, a spirit that was sure to disarm criticism. I was pleased that, though I had never met him, I went up to him after the meeting and thanked him and told him I agreed exactly with his point of view.

Last evening I was out to dinner and met him again. It was a small home party so we had opportunity for personal conversation, and in a very short time it developed that he is Jack Childs, about whom you told me so much. I was, of course more than pleased, and I felt I must congratulate you on the kind of man who represents you here. He is sure to be a leader, but better still, he is sure to do a very great work among a high type of Chinese who will have great influence in the shaping of government policies. Do hold up his hand in every way you can, for you will be doing a greater work than you could have any idea of.

With cordial good wishes to you and Mrs. Ross.

Yours very sincerely,
JOHN GOWDY.

Rev. Worcester Stresses Real Christmas Spirit

What is meant by Christmas? Goodies, gifts, a goose dinner, a visit from a school chum, parties, and everything joyous and merry. Is there anything worth more? Nineteen hundred years ago it did not mean so much but today there could be nothing more superb than a day with Christ. At this glorious Christmastime let us find a little time to listen.
