CROWDS GREET FIRST ADDRESS OF ZONA GALE

Fiction Writer Tells Purpose of Novel While Many Stand

REPLIES TO SINCLAIR

Crowding the doors of the auditorium at Bascom hall, members of the faculty, students, and townspeople, attempted to get within hearing distance of Miss Zona Gale who gave the first of her three addresses on "The Novel" yesterday afternoon.

In an informal conventional way, Miss Gale, who has made such a pronounced success in fiction writing, spoke of her conception of the purpose of the novel, of the people to whom it should, and those to whom it does, make an appeal, of the opportunity for adding to the world's wealth by the giving of one's self through the medium of the printed page.

Novel Not a Luxury

"Is it true that novels belong to luxuries, like Angora cats?" asked the speaker. "If it were true, then pictures would belong there, and music, and sculpture, and poetry. A symphony orchestra would be a group of poor musicians subsidized by the rich of a community. An art gallery would be a kind of auction block where enslaved oils and marbles of poor parties are sold to the rich bidders. The absurdity of such a summary is obvious, because such a summary does not exhaust its subject. To plastic art and to music and to the novel there remains unbought and unsold and never paid for, the most precious part, namely, the intangible.

"What is the intangible? It is the breath of art as it is breath of life, of an experience, of a conversation, of the presence of a child, of the sky, of stars, of personality. That which holds us captive is always the intangible. And so the highest power of the novel is to offer the intangible, to allow the reader to experience aspects of his own life and the lives of others."

Hamilton is Lead In French Comedy

J. Stuart Hamilton '22 has the leading role in "Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme," the French comedy to be presented at Lathrop hall Thursday and Friday, April 27 and 28. The bourgeois, whose part is taken by Hamilton, is the pivotal character in the farce, and the role, as well as the entire play, is an ambitious one for a student production.

Hamilton has had French training abroad, and is said to speak French unusually well for an American. He has played leading roles in the former productions "Le Medecin Malgre Ludi," "Franches Lippes," and "La Grammaire." He is a member of Edwin Booth dramatic society, and is president of the university French club, which he recently represented at Chicago at the international meeting of "L'Alliance Francaise." This will be Hamilton's last undergraduate appearance.

FOUR MORE OUT FOR BOARD JOBS

Elsom, Cannon, Callen, and Merrill Announce Candidacies

Four more students have declared themselves candidates for various board positions to be filled next Friday in the annual spring elections. Those running for offices are Kendall Elsom '24 for sophomore non-"W" member of the Athletic board, Earl Cannon '24 for member of the Badger board, and Carroll Callen '24 and Robert Merrill '25 for the two-year members of the Cardinal Board of Control.

Elsom was a member of the freshman basketball squad last year, and this year he served on the Varsity. He was chosen as representative of the sophomore class on the All-University Traditions commission, and also aided in the Memorial Union Drive and the 1921 Homecoming. Elsom is a member of Inner Gate and the Chi Psi fraternities.

Cannon announces his candidacy for a position as sophomore representative on the Badger board. During his freshman year he worked on the Freshman Inner circle, University Exposition committee, Cap Night, and was a member of the freshman baseball squad. During his sophomore year he worked on the Sophomore commission, Sophomore Traditions committee, and Sophomore Dance committee. He has been associated with the business staff of the Badger and is a member of Theta Chi fraternity.

Callen is a candidate for one of the two-year positions on the Cardinal Board of Control. He has had wide experience in publication work. While in high school he was one of the editors of the weekly paper and was on the year book staff. He is at present special correspondent for the Chicago Daily News, and is a sophomore assistant on the '23 Badger.

Callen has charge of finances for the sophomore dance to be held May 13. He was chairman of the floor committee for last year's freshman dance, and is now on the (Continued on Page 8)

U. M. Librarian to Talk on Book Fads

Prof. William W. Bishop, librarian of the University of Michigan, will speak on "Fashions in Books," at the May day festival for librarians at 10 a. m. on Saturday in the auditorium of the city library.

A reception and exhibition will be held following the talk at which Mrs. C. D. Bittmer will exhibit a collection of books, pictures, and craftsmanship which she has recently brought back from China. Poster bulletins will also be displayed.

No admission will be charged and everybody is invited to attend.

St. Olaf Band Here In Recital Thursday

The St. Olaf College Concert band from Northfield, Minn., will appear in a recital at the gymnasium, Thursday night, May 4.

The band, which is now playing its thirty-first season, has, for the last seventeen years, made annual tours through the middle-western states. It has traveled more extensively than any musical organization in Minnesota.

FRESHMEN URGED BY CAMPUS LEADERS TO TURN OUT FOR VOTE ON CARDINAL FRIDAY

Carl Fischer to Sing at Largest Faculty Banquet

Noted Opera Tenor to Appear
Here May 2; Issue 1,000
Invitations

Mr. Carl Fischer, leading tenor of the Vienna Opera and formerly a student at the School of Music here, will sing at the faculty banquet, to be held at Lathrop hall on Tuesday, May 2, at 6 o'clock.

Fischer has recently returned from Europe after an absence of ten years for a visit with his parents. He graduated from the local high school and studied music under Prof. Eugene Luening, who prevailed upon him to continue his studies at Munich.

Since 1914 Mr. Fischer has been playing leading roles in opera in France, Germany, and Austria, and for the past three seasons has been connected with the Royal Opera in Vienna.

A thousand invitations have been sent out for the dinner which will be the largest gathering of university faculty and regents ever attempted. A complete and ingenious program is being completed by Prof. J. E. Olson, chairman of arrangements. The Carl Sandburg lecture which was to have been held Tuesday has been postponed until Wednesday, May 3 for the convenience of faculty members.

Declares U. S. Wood Test Work Superior

Gustaf Winberg, of Stockholm, Sweden, who arrived at the Forest Products laboratory here last week to study for two weeks the methods followed by the laboratory in testing building materials, declared yesterday that the methods of scientific research used in connection with building materials represent a decided advance over those of European countries.

The problems connected with the testing of building materials and especially of structural timbers are handled in a more practical way in this country than elsewhere, according to Mr. Winberg. Mr. Winberg is secretary of the building material board of the Royal Swedish Academy of Scientific Research.

Rain Halts Badger Tilt With Stagmen

A steady rain which fell Monday night and Tuesday morning caused a postponement of the Wisconsin-Chicago baseball game scheduled to be played at Stagg field, Chicago, yesterday. The teams will meet later in the season.

"We were sorry to put off the game," said Coach Guy S. Lowman last night. "The team is going great and we expected to 'take' the Maroons. Our victory over Notre Dame showed that the nine is playing good enough baseball to rank with topnotchers in the conference

All Frosh Eligible to Ballot On Proposed Amend- ment

NEED 3,500 IN FAVOR

A summons for all freshmen to vote for the amendment to be added to The Daily Cardinal constitution was made by Ralph E. Ballietto '23, president of the Cardinal Board of Control last night. There are a surprising number of freshmen, he said, who do not know that they are eligible to vote, and whose vote is much needed to pass the amendment.

"I cannot urge too strongly the necessity for every student to get out and vote 'yes' for the amendment to the Cardinal constitution. We need at least half the Varsity vote. This is not asking very much, and we feel that if you have the welfare of the Cardinal at heart, you will not only vote, but bring at least a couple offriends with you. We are counting on your vote."

Another call for freshmen to get out and vote was made by Sterling Tracy '22, a leader in campus activities. Tracy said "All freshmen are eligible to vote for the amendment to the Cardinal constitution, and I strongly urge every frosh to cast a ballot Friday."

"Freshmen have three more years in school, and should be even more interested in seeing the Cardinal prosper than seniors who are leaving school this year."

"A quorum of students, 3,500, is too large at present, and freshmen should not consider the election a novelty, but should feel that it is their duty to get out and vote 'yes' for the amendment" Tracy added.

Election Workers Meet

An important meeting of all persons working at polling places or otherwise engaged in the elections will be held in 1 Law building at 7 p. m. Thursday. It is imperative that all be there.

Girls who are working on the elections are doing all work gratis, and any girl who would like to help should call Alta Yeoman '22, at B 5621, who is representing S. G. A. in the election.

Zona Likes Badger Touch of "Red Bird"

"I am always interested in a book or play in which Wisconsin scenery or Wisconsin towns are used as a background," said Miss Zona Gale, well known novelist and playwright in an interview after her talk on the novel at Bascom hall yesterday afternoon.

"In 'Red Bird' Mr. Leonard does this especially well," she continued. I am particularly interested in it because Red Bird's surrender took place where Portage is today, just at the end of Cook street."

Miss Gale, who is the author of "Miss Lulu Bett," "Friendship Village" and other equally well known works, lives in Portage, Wisconsin. She attended the university, graduating with the class of '95. While in school she was active in literary circles and a member of the Wisconsin Literary Magazine staff.

NEEDED, 3,500 VOTES!

THE general campus election is now but two days off. Important changes in the articles of organization of The Daily Cardinal will be submitted to the entire student body for approval. Those articles should be made easier of amendment. At present half the students must vote on any question changing any provision in the articles. This requirement stands in the way of progress. It must be changed.

Every man and woman enrolled in the university is entitled to a vote. This includes freshmen, who are all stockholders in The Daily Cardinal corporation.

Vote Friday on the amendment!

LEAVE IT TO THE "UMP!"

WISCONSIN baseball fans can again be proud of a nine which will be a strong contender for the Big Ten Conference diamond championship. Somewhat disappointed when football and basketball squads were forced to follow another leader in each sport, they undergo a new era of hope upon seeing Coach Guy S. Lowman and his ball players emerge victorious in two conference games, defeat Notre Dame, one of the strongest teams in the Middle West, and return successfully from a southern trip during which they won four contests.

"All the world loves a winner," is an old saying, but it never loses force. The almost-human race which populates this vast globe glories in combat and almost invariably sides with the victor. Wisconsin baseball "bugs," those who sincerely enjoy the crack of the bat and the slide to base, are in nowise different. They want to see a Badger team win. They want another title.

But, perhaps they are too effervescent in their enthusiasm. Students who attended the Minnesota-Wisconsin game last Saturday displayed as poor a spirit as has ever been seen in a college baseball crowd. They took delight in jerring the players during pre-game practice. They mocked a successful coach as he tried to correct the mistakes made by his players. They hooted the decision of an official umpire.

A college crowd is not a professional crowd. There is no money at stake. There is the honor of victory and the joy in an honest win. Definite Big Ten rules request respect to players, who are but fellow students, to a coach who should be respected, and to the umpire, who is the acknowledged, experienced judge.

Lest they show that they are not sportsmen, Wisconsin students should inhibit themselves from thoughtless remarks which only go to make the victory more difficult. They should support the team even in error and abide by the decree of a coach.

Eight thousand students attended the Michigan-Illinois ball game last Saturday. Not that many Wisconsin men and women are interested in the game. But those who do attend, and they are numerous, should go resolved to fight with the team, but surely not to criticize its work nor the judgment of its coach.

A SPLENDID RECEPTION

THE reception accorded Miss Zona Gale yesterday was highly gratifying. Her visit to the university is significant. She is native to the soil of Wisconsin and is an alumna of this university. She is a commanding figure in present day American literature. She talks intelligently about the art of letters.

It is a pity that scores were turned away from 165 Bascom hall yesterday afternoon when Miss Gale delivered the first of her series of addresses. Our growing pains were felt acutely. Perhaps the Memorial Union will solve the problem.

Miss Gale will speak on two other occasions this week. Come early.

* * *

THE Curtain club offers an unusual play at the Parkway Thursday afternoon and evening. "The Red Bird" is one of the latest works of Prof. William Ellery Leonard. It deals with the clash of two civilizations in the early history of Wisconsin. Both the theme and the author should appeal to a Wisconsin audience. Professor Leonard is an English teacher who can write. His associates say that his poetry is unsurpassed by that of any living American writer, and some of his associates know what they are talking about. A play from the pen of such a man cannot but be worth while.

The players are drawn largely from the faculty members together with some students. It may sound surprising that the cast is one of more than ordinary talent. The play will be a revelation to those who look askance at professors outside the class room.

See "The Red Bird."

THE FROSH FROLIC

THE Frosh Frolic, to be held at Lathrop hall Saturday night, April 29, will be the one big social event of the year for the freshmen as a class. Freshman men can be recognized on the campus only when the green cap appears and freshman women by no distinguishing mark. The class ceases to be a unit as soon as the hasty election of officers is over early in the fall. The dance Saturday night will be a timely effort to acquaint the members of '25 with one another, and should succeed in changing the scattered state of class organization which is apt to exist in a large school.

Those in charge of the dance have secured music and stunts as good as could be found at any of the Saturday night haunts; and more—have offered to class members a chance to become acquainted for the remainder of their college careers.

Once more, '25 out.

Summer Salesmen Wanted!

THE WEAR-EVER ALUMINUM COMPANY HAS A FEW WISCONSIN ASSIGNMENTS LEFT FOR STUDENT SALESMEN

We prefer to place Wisconsin University men in these assignments because of the location. Most of the Wisconsin territory has already been assigned to Wisconsin University men. Ask the following men what they think of the proposition: Wes. W. Dunlap, W. H. Rice, Stephen Gyland, Robt. Hilbrandt, A. J. Hunsader, R. F. Wilkin, F. A. Bardeen, K. L. Muir, H. C. Morton, E. W. Miller, A. E. Strong, J. C. Cullen, G. P. Hof, and others.

Do not fail to look into this if you are interested in making some money this summer to take care of next year's college expenses. The work is pleasant, honorable, fine business experience, and pays better than anything else you could do without experience. In this, experience is not necessary. All men are carefully trained before they go out to the field.

If you are interested, call up Mr. Burnham, now at the Belmont Hotel, F. 1047, and get full information at once; or send in the coupon below, and full information will be sent to you.

NEWS OF CONFERENCE SPORTS

MERRICK AND KNOLLIN OFF TO PENN MEET

All Eyes Turn to Eastern Relays; Badger Also at Drake

Dale Merrick, Mid-Western pole vault champion, leaves this afternoon with Capt. Albert J. Knollin, Big Ten hurdles titleholder, for Philadelphia where the two will represent Wisconsin in the annual Penn relays to be held there this week-end.

The pair of Badger stars will arrive at their destination on Thursday night, enabling them to get a short rest before the two days' carnival of track and field sports begin.

Merrick vs. Landowski

Merrick will engage in a pole vault with John Landowski, Milwaukee lad who is his strongest rival for the position of premier vaulter. Landowski will compete for the University of Michigan. In two western classics, the Illinois relays and the Annual Indoor Conference track meet, he has tied Merrick for first place. Both times the Badger entrant won the toss and the medal for first position.

The eyes of the whole Mid-Western athletic world will be turned eastward in expectation of a great combat to decide supremacy between the two men.

Captain Knollin will meet some of the best hurdlers in the country at Penn. Although handicapped because unfavorable weather has prevented him from getting into the best of condition, the Badger leader will make his competitors step over the sticks in lively fashion to beat him to the tape.

Badgers Enter Drake Relays

Coach Thomas E. Jones has entered men in five special events and five relay races at the Drake college, Iowa, relays which will also be held this week-end. It is improbable that more than three of the relays will be run however.

Entries are: Sundt, weight events; Hammann, pole vault; Stolley, hurdles; Platten, high jump; Spetz, 100-yard dash. In the quarter and half mile relays, Spetz, Johnson, Ellingson, and McClure are listed. Johnson, Spetz, Stolley, and either McClure, Wade, or Ramsey will carry the baton in the mile relay. Ramsey, Wall, Hohlfeld, and Wade are slated to enter the two mile, Hohlfeld, Rossmessl, Ramsey, and Wall are four-mile relay runners.

Citizen's Duty to Consider Foreign Topics, Says Potter

Why should an individual take an interest in American foreign policy and how can he make his opinion register where it will count are the questions answered by Prof. P. B. Potter, of the political science department in an informal address before the Collegiate League of Women Voters Monday night.

"An American citizen should take an interest in foreign policies because if he does not, somebody else will, and that somebody is pretty likely to be the one with an axe to grind; and further he ought to keep interested because, from the point of view of the state department, officials need the backing of a well informed public opinion," said Prof. Potter.

Talk Foreign Policy

"The best ways an individual can help form public opinion is to read, think, and talk about American foreign policies, and he can best make his opinions count by writing and wiring his congressman and by joining the American Foreign Policy Association whose headquarters are in New York and whose purpose is to support a representative lobby in Washington. This organization publishes a bulletin of information to its patrons."

Washington State Crew May Row Here For First Time Since 1909

The possibility of a crew race between Badger oarsmen and the University of Washington eight was made known here yesterday when a letter inviting the western squad to stop off here on its way to the Poughkeepsie regatta was sent by Athletic Director Tom Jones to Coach Meisnest of Seattle.

The Washington State crew looms up as one of the strongest in the country this season. In their annual race with the University of California last Saturday they easily pulled away from the Golden Gate squadron. At the big eastern regatta last June California placed second.

Duluth Sends Bid

A race with a crew of this calibre would be a strong boost to rowing at Wisconsin, and a victory for the Badgers might mean a trip Poughkeepsie. The race would be scheduled about June 10. Wisconsin last raced Washington in the spring of 1909 when the Badgers won the long pull over the Lake Mendota course.

An invitation to meet the Duluth boat club again this season has been received by Coach Jones. The race would be held at Duluth on June 17. Duluth has one of the strongest eights in the West. The Duluth club is coached by one of the famous Teneyke brothers, one of whom "Dad" Veil succeeded as coach at Wisconsin.

First Race May '27

For their first real trial of the season Coach Vail's oarsmen will meet the University of Manitoba here on May 27. The squad is working in the shells daily in preparation for that and the inter-college meets which will be run off before them.

Veterans who have been working this week in the Varsity shell are Captain George Toepfer, Don Newcomb, Puestow, Turner, Johnson, Schuetz, and Crozier.

Brassie Wielders Hold Elimination Tryout Saturday

Elimination tryouts for the Wisconsin Varsity golf team will be held Saturday morning and Sunday afternoon when 15 candidates for the squad are scheduled to play 36 holes each on the Maple Bluff course.

An informal association of Badger golf players secured the course for practice and dual meets. Followers of the brassie and mid-iron game will meet in the gymnasium this noon.

A four-man team will be picked to compete in the five scheduled meets after the tryouts this week-end. Some of the veteran players who will tee off Saturday are: Henry W. Capen, Morton Frost, Joe Hook, "Buster" Bach, Henry Pope, Stegeman, and Bauer.

Cap. McGuire and his University of Chicago golf team will meet Wisconsin in the first Conference matches of the season here on Saturday, May 6. The Maroons will be represented by a strong team composed of veterans. Two meets are slated with a quartet from Beloit college, and Northwestern university will send a foursome to stack up against the Badgers at a date to be selected later.

With the dual meets out of the way, Wisconsin is carded to enter the Big Ten golf meet at Chicago on June 19 and 20. The Scotch game has taken a strong hold at several Mid-Western universities and one or two them have laid out courses for the teams.

H M C (?)

More Mystery Handbills Cover Campus—One Co-ed Divines Meaning

The "H M C" handbills of yesterday morning recalled the recent Maltese Cross scare, and many are wondering if Octy is at it again.

The bills stared at curious students from bulletin boards, the backs of chairs, and even on the Haresfoot scenery of the "Advertising" number, now standing in the Union building. No one seems to know what the whole thing is about, and only a few even dare speculate what the letters may signify.

At any rate "H M C" is with us, and we have only to bide our time. It is hoped that none of us will miss our meals because of the excitement. It would be far better to do as did the economic co-ed who collected all the bills she could find this morning and wrote her history notes on them. She interprets the letters as "His Majesty Comes," or otherwise, "His Manly Caress."

MILTON RACQUET MEN WILL OPEN HERE ON FRIDAY

Rainy Season Hard On Badgers; Meet Purple Saturday

Although handicapped by a long rainy season, the Wisconsin tennis team is fast whipping itself into condition for one of the most strenuous tennis schedules ever attempted. With the opening of the season but two days away, Coach G. E. Linden is putting his men through intensive workouts every afternoon to prepare them for the peppy Milton college team which comes to Madison Friday afternoon for the first matches of the season.

The first conference match of the season will be played Saturday when the Badgers stack up against Northwestern. Unless Northwestern is running as a dark horse, Wisconsin should bring home the bacon with a decisive triumph over the Purple.

California Here Next Week

With the Northwestern matches over, the Badgers will have but three days of practice before they meet one of the strongest college tennis teams of the country, the University of California. The Trojans have just begun a tour of the United States which will take them practically the entire summer to complete. They will meet the best teams in the country.

"Tommy Tredwell and Rotdfredson are the foundation on which Coach Linden is building the 1922 Varsity team. Both men are veterans, Gotdfredson having played two years on conference tennis and Tredwell one. This pair composed the doubles team the latter part of the 1921 season.

"Art" Moulding, last year's freshman and intercollegiate champion, is showing up especially well and is fast making a berth for himself on the varsity. George Parker, although inexperienced in conference tennis, played exceptionally good tennis last fall in the all-university tournament, and will probably land a place for himself in the varsity.

The tennis schedule follows:

April 28—Milton College at Madison.

April 29—Northwestern at Madison.

May 4—U. S. C. at Madison.

May 6—Minnesota at Minneapolis.

May 20—Chicago at Chicago.

May 27-29—Conference meet at Chicago.

May 30—Michigan at Madison.

CIVILS TO HEAR BLAINE

Gov. John J. Blaine will speak at the Engineering auditorium tonight at 7:15 under the auspices of the American Society of Civil Engineers on the subject "The Engineer as a Citizen." The meeting is open to everyone.

STADIUM WORK ON SOUTH END TO START NOW

Council Adopts Big Ten Rules and Confirms Letter Awards

Decision to start work on the southeastern portion of the Camp Randall stadium, adoption of four changes in Big Ten athletic rules, and confirmation of Varsity letter awards, comprised the business of the Athletic council which met yesterday.

Although the general plan of the stadium did not contemplate seats on either end, the council voted to recommend to the Board of Regents that the south end of the horseshoe stands be left open while the north end is to be enclosed. Workmen will start to add to the stadium at once.

Want North End Closed

That the crowd and players will be protected from the north wind and that spring practice will be given a two weeks' earlier start were contentions of the board when it made its recommendation to close the north end. If the south end were closed, it would interfere with the new Varsity ball field. Entrance to the stadium will be through 28 rear openings.

Four rules adopted at the Big Ten meeting on April 1 were sanctioned by the board and will be enforced at Wisconsin. They are:

1. No amateur can engage in a baseball game at which admission is charged.

2. Men leaving school because of ineligibility must reside at Wisconsin for two years before being permitted to enter athletics here.

3. Wisconsin will not meet institutions which do not have the freshman rule, requiring one year residence before playing on any team.

4. Strict interpretation of the amateur rule.

Award Varsity Letters

Athletic board recommendations for letters to members of the hockey team were put on the table by the council.

The following awards were made:

Gymnastic "W"—H. Dean Kitchen, Walter Porth, Elmer Kletzien, Edison Boerke, Merrill Hansen, Frank Leitz.

Gymnastic "gWt"—Theodore Stevens, Norman Koch, A. Thompson.

Basketball "W"—Carl F. Caesar, Warren Taylor, Douglass Gibson, Roland Williams, Gustav Tebell, Leslie Gage, Russell Irish, George Davis, manager.

Basketball "aWa"—John Williams.

Swimming—major sport "W"—Johnson Bennett, H. Czerwony, Lamboley, Gilbreath, Davies.

Minor sport "W"—W. K. Collins, E. N. Peterson, manager.

Swimming "sWt"—Norman Koch, Bernard Huebner, H. Copeland.

Track "W"—Ralph Spetz, A. J. Knollin, G. M. Sundt, Dale Merrick, P. M. Platten.

Wrestling "W"—Peterman, Tempelin, Phelps.

Wrestling "wWt"—Heuer.

Fraternity Track Meet Entries Due

Entries for the annual fraternity outdoor track meet are now being received at the gymnasium office of Coach Mead E. Burke. Greek letter teams will compete on the Camp Randall cinderpath at 2 o'clock next Saturday afternoon.

Pi Kappa Alpha, winner of the annual indoor meet, appears to be one of the strongest teams entered. The Pi Kaps will find stiff competition in the Sigma Nu outfit which finished second in the indoor track competition. Theta Chi, Theta Delta Chi, and Theta Xi are a trio of teams which are sure to offer trouble to the favorites.

Four More Announce Board Candidacies

He was in this year's Haresfoot production, and is a member of Theta Xi fraternity.

Merrill, who is the second candidate for a two year position on the Cardinal Board of Control, graduated from the Sparta high school in 1902. For six years after his graduation he was owner and editor of the Herald-Advertiser, which was first a daily, but was later published weekly. In 1908 he entered the post-office service.

During the war he served in France as a major. When he returned to the States he reentered the postal service but resigned on account of his health and again entered the newspaper field, this time managing and editing the Sparta Herald, the oldest weekly newspaper in Wisconsin. He continued in this capacity until February 1921, when he enrolled in the Engineering College of the University. He is a member of the Gun and Blade Club and an associate member of the University Post of the American Legion.

During his service in the post-office he acted as special correspondent for the Associated Press, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Chicago papers covering in detail the military activities as they occurred on the U. S. Military Reservation near Sparta.

Crowds Greet Zona Gale's First Talk

California when the latter made the remark, "The novelist is one of those who exist for the pleasure of the privileged class. The novelist lives by providing amusement for those who cannot afford to buy and have the leisure to enjoy his product. In society he is merely one of those who minister to the tastes of the rich."

"I recall an earlier talk which bore the same import," went on Miss Gale. "This was with Edmund Clarence Stedman, that fine being, poet, critic, and essayist whose genius was deflected by banking. His outlook was from another horizon than that of Mr. Sinclair. Mr. Stedman's tradition was aristocratic. His sharpest criticism was to refer to another as of the 'third estate.' He had met Walt Whitman and revered his art, but I once heard Mr. Stedman say: 'Whitman was not a man whom you could invite to dinner,' words which now have a curiously old-fashioned sound, like the rustle of a long, full flowered skirt."

Miss Gale's Answer

"So long as a novel carries the intangible aspects of reality, it ministers not to the amusement of any class but to the soul of men," is Miss Gale's contention and reply to those who differ with her.
