VARSITY MOVIE TO BE SHOWN IN MADISON AGAIN

Wisconsin Student Film Will Be Presented By Union
Board Nov. 17

"The Varsity Movie" a film produced at the University of Wisconsin, will be shown here the week end of the Michigan game, it was announced last night by Willett Kempton '23.

The Union Board is sponsoring the film and profits obtained from the performance will be turned over to the Union Memorial fund. Lester Kissel '23 has been appointed to act as the representative of that body as business manager of the performance. Films of the Memorial Union will also be shown.

Mr. J. D. Phillips, business manager of the university, yesterday sanctioned the use of the university auditorium under the authority of the Board of Regents for the production of the film.

Produced In Madison

"The Varsity Movie" was produced in Madison two years ago by the Edwin Booth Dramatic club and under the direction of Willett Kempton. It is absolutely unique in filmdom, being the only picture ever written, directed and enacted entirely by university students.

When shown at Kempton the Parkway in the spring of 1921, this film drew the largest houses that any theater in the city has ever known, and since that time has been playing to audiences in other university centers and towns throughout the middle west.

"The world's finest student photo-drama as it was characterized," said Kempton when interviewed last night, "presents a romantic story woven about the student life of our university.

Story Shows Student Life

"The story leads our characters from the class room into a series of intrigues and adventures which can best be appreciated by students who are discovering that the university is an interesting place to live in. Football games, fire, robbery, ice-boat racing and dancing girls are among the bright lights of the production."

William J. Brady, one of the country's best known producers, declared the ice boat pictures to be the best he had ever seen.

The entire film has been gone over and revised since its last Madison showing.

WISCONSIN PLAYERS GIVE PLAY TONIGHT

The customary open meeting of the Wisconsin University Players will be held tonight at 8:15 o'clock in Lathrop concert room. The members will entertain their guests with Barrie's play, "Alice-Sit-By-the-Fire." Laura White '24 is coaching, and the various parts will be taken by Ruth Mathews, Wilfred Roberts, Helen Ollif, Jane Osborne, George Jones and Beverly Masslich. The members of the university theatrical troupe will be particularly welcome the newcomers who contemplate trying out for membership.

CHAIRMEN OF S. G. A. TO CONTINUE DRIVE

District chairman of the S. G. A. drive for the collection of dues are preparing for a second drive to begin next week, for the purpose of collecting the dues of those who have not yet paid.

About $1,660 has been taken in during the drive of the past two weeks. Dues are a dollar a year.

Senior Summaries Deadline is Set at At 6 O'Clock Today

Seniors, your summaries! Are they in?

If not, tie some store string around your little finger and let it be a reminder that six o'clock today will be the dead line. And not seniors alone, but all graduates expecting to receive advanced degrees do the same.

"No other work in the Badger can be planned until it is known how many pages the senior section, which will be at the beginning of the book, will occupy," Ellis Fulton, editor 1925 Badger, said.

Today is also the last day for those receiving degrees to have their photographs taken, although cuts may be turned in later.

Summary cards may be obtained at the Badger office.

12 AG STUDENTS GET SOPH HONORS

List Larger Than Last Year's; Separate From Letters and Science

Sophomore honors in the School of Agriculture for the year 1923-24 were announced late yesterday. This group is separate from that of the College of Letters and Science because no courses in the latter college are taken. The list is somewhat larger than that of last year and is as follows:

Sophomore High Honors

Long course—Russell Perry, Wilmette, Illinois; Earl Renard, Green Bay, Wisconsin.

Home economics—Elizabeth McCoy.

Sophomore Honors

Long course—Milton Goldman, Madison, Wisconsin; George A. Piper, Brillion, Wisconsin; Herbert C. Schaefer, Brillion, Wisconsin; Felix Woodward, Gallatin, Tennessee; William J. Zaumeyer, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Home economics—Lorraine A. Claus, Madison, Wisconsin.

Middle course—Oscar Hanke, Waterloo, Wisconsin; Allison Sievers, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Granted Sophomore Honors as of Year 1922, Long Course—Harry F. Clements, Coon Valley.

READING AND LECTURES TO BE RADIO PROGRAMS

Readings and educational lectures by university professors will feature the evening programs of station W. H. A. for the remainder of the period ending November 9.

At 7:30 o'clock on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday evenings broadcasting will start with the weather forecast sent out with a wave length of 360 meters. A lecture will follow each evening.

The program is as follows: Friday Nov. 2, Readings from Literature, by Prof. Warner Taylor, English department; Monday Nov. 5,

"College Teaching and the Advancement of Works of Mercy," by Prof. J. L. Gillin, of the sociology department; Wednesday Nov. 7, "The Place of the Inspirational in Teaching," by Prof. S. W. Gilman, of the business administration; Friday, Nov. 9, readings from literature.

Foreign Flashes

BERLIN, Oct. 31 — Chancellor Stresemann's hand has been strengthened by the decision of the United Socialists to delay their decision vote on the party's attitude toward the government in Saxony. Three socialist ministers withdrew yesterday.

LOS ANGELES, Calif.— Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks today issued a joint statement announcing that they had wired their New York attorneys ordering the immediate filing of libel suits against a certain magazine which had stated that "America's sweetheart and her famous husband had quarreled over another woman."

COMMITTEE PICKS FORTY TO ATTEND STUDENT COUNCIL

International Volunteer Move- ment Will Convene in In- dianapolis Dec. 28

The university committee to select the delegates from Wisconsin for the International Convention of the Student Volunteer movement to be held at Indianapolis from December 28 to January 1 has been selected by President Birge, it was announced yesterday by Carl Rogers '24, chairman.

The committee is composed of Prof. William H. Kieckhofer of the faculty, Dorothy Simpson '24, of the Y. W. C. A., Ruth Mink '24, of the Student Volunteer movement, Norris Wentworth '24, president Campus Religious council, and Carl Rogers '24, representing the Y. M. C. A.

40 Delegates From Here

Wisconsin will be represented by 40 students. It is expected there will be more than 7,000 students at the convention. Most of them will come from the United States and Canada, and a few hundred are expected from foreign countries.

"This undoubtedly will be the biggest student event of the year influencing the religious life of the campus. The delegates will try to single out the pagan influences both in this country and abroad and to decide what Christian measures will best eradicate them," said Chester Hartlett, state student secretary of the Y. M. C. A., yesterday.

Canadian Executive To Speak

One of the objects of the convention is to make students face the question of their life work with relation to the foreign field," said Carl Rogers, yesterday. "One of the primary motives of the meeting is to induce men to go into foreign work."

The present prime minister of Canada who was formerly secretary of labor, will be one of the principle speakers. Dr. Paul Harrison, of Arabia, will tell of his work as a medical missionary.

STEREOPTICON VIEWS ENTERTAIN BLUE SHIELD

John S. Donald, former secretary of state for Wisconsin, spoke on "Rural Development in Europe" at the meeting of Blue Shield, last night. Mr. Donald illustrated his lecture with stereopticon views of rural life in France, Germany and Belgium. Mrs. E. Donald Jones, mother of Mr. Donald, gave several selections on a dulcimer, an instrument of ancient origin. It is said that Mrs. Jones and her son are the only persons in Wisconsin who are able to play the instrument.

COMMERCE SORORITY ELECTS 3 MEMBERS

Mabel Crummey, Laura Blix, and Lois Livingston were elected yesterday to Gamma Epsilon Pi, honorary commerce sorority. The election was announced at the commerce woman's banquet held last night at Lathrop hall.

Outing Club Invites Women to Attend Open Meeting Today

Outing club will hold an open meeting for all girls interested in outdoor sports in the fifth floor lecture room, Lathrop hall, at 7:15 o'clock tonight.

Anita Haven '24, president, will explain the purpose of the club and the general organization. Several new members will be admitted and pins will be awarded members who completed the requirements for pin wearers late last spring.

"Not only members but every girl interested in the work should come," said Anita Haven.

VODVIL TRYOUTS SET FOR NOV. 7

Women's Dramatic Clubs Only May Enter Show as Organizations

Circulars announcing Union Vodvil tryouts were sent to every fraternity and men's organization on the campus by the Union Board yesterday.

The letters were signed by Gordon Wanzer, general chairman of the show, and announced that the date for try-outs is set for November 7. They will be held at 8 o'clock in Lathrop concert rooms.

Announcements were not sent to sororities and other women's organizations because of a faculty ruling which will prevent women's organizations, whose purpose is not dramatic production from entering the show as organizations. The ruling will be interpreted for organizations interested by Bill Purnell, production manager of the show.

The judging committee for acts presented will consist of members of the faculty of the speech department, and a woman student active in dramatics. Judges will not pass upon completed acts, since time is too short to prepare them entirely by next Wednesday.

Persons or organizations wishing to enter the show or to get information concerning it, are asked to call Purnell at F. 136.

LAWLER RESIGNS POST ON CARDINAL STAFF

Joseph F. Lawler '24 has resigned his position as associate editor of The Cardinal. His resignation has been accepted by the board of control. Lawler has been connected with The Cardinal editorial staff for two years and last year was given the appointment of associate editor by the board. Pressure of other duties has led to his withdrawal from the staff.

S. G. A. TO ENTERTAIN CHAD, BARNARD GIRLS

A get-acquainted tea for District No. 1 of S. G. A. will be held from 4 to 5:30 o'clock today in Barnard parlors. This district includes Barnard and Chadbourn halls and all girls are urged to come to make friends with the other girls in their district. Mildred John '26, is chairman of the district No. 1.

FIVE MEN CHOSEN FOR COMPETITION IN RHODES RACE

Scholarship Honors Will Be Awarded One Wisconsin Student in December

John Dollard, Oscar E. Kiesling, Clement P. Linder, Carleton Meyer and Gamber Tegtmeyer have been chosen as the five men to represent the University of Wisconsin in the race for the Rhodes scholarship of the state of Wisconsin. These five men were finally selected by the local committee on the Rhodes scholarship from the fifteen men who made application for the honor.

The number of candidates to which each institution is entitled depends upon the number of students enrolled. An institution with 1,000 or less is entitled to no more than two candidates; an institution with enrollment between 1,000 and 2,000 may send no more than three representatives; an institution with more than 2,000 students is permitted to send four men; and the university is allowed to send five.

Select Scholar In December

One Rhodes scholar will be selected at a meeting to be held in Madison some time in December. The committee on selection will consist of former Rhodes scholars, appointed by the central body in control of the scholarships.

The secretary of the committee of selection for Wisconsin is Arthur B. Doe, Milwaukee.

Many Candidates Try Out

There will be, from all indications, a large number of candidates from every part of the state, who will try to attain the honor of being a Rhodes scholar. These candidates may be students of other colleges of the state of they may be citizens of the state who have been educated in colleges outside the state.

CORRECTION

The dancing class of S. G. A. held for girls of the university who cannot dance, will be held Friday night between 7 and 8 o'clock instead of Saturday as previously announced by The Cardinal. The dancing classes will be conducted at Lathrop hall.

DISCORD ARISES IN OUTER GATE

Organizing Postponed After Members Split on Social, Political Ideas

Political argument disrupted the first meeting of Outer Gate, non-fraternity men's organization, held in the Green room of the Y. M. C. A., Wednesday evening.

Cyril Ballam '25, president and original organizer of the club, opened the meeting with a short talk on the aims of the organization, characterizing it as a social group intended to furnish men not affiliated with fraternities with the opportunity of securing companionship and social life.

"It will further the good feeling existing between fraternity and non-fraternity men and unite disorganized elements now on the campus," he said.

Max Cizor '25, president of the Young Men's Progressive association of Wisconsin, followed Ballam. Cizor's talk brought the first note of discord. He denied the need of a non-fraternity social organization on the campus and suggested that Outer Gate is political rather than social.

Talks by Harold Tacki '25 and John Pool '27 followed, denying this.

After some discussion it was voted to postpone the organizing of the club and the election of officers until next week.

Prof. Vinogradoff Contrasts French, English Law Systems

England and France present curious and instructive contrasts, and it seems as if both countries would profit by adopting a part of the system of the other," Sir Paul Vinogradoff said in Bascom hall yesterday in the second and last of his lectures on "The Liabilities of the State as to Compensation for Damages."

"English administrative law may be characterized as a system of self government under judicial control," the authority of law stated.

He said all the different administrative boards and commissions remained self governing when the bureaucracy became centralized, and the higher courts remained strictly jurisdictional.

"The French system," Professor Vinogradoff said, "is connected with the doctrine of separation of powers. Administrative functions are clearly distinguished and divided from the jurisdictional functions."

"No administration can exist without certain discretion," Sir Paul stated. "English courts rely on the discretion and integrity of men at the head of the different units, and so, depend upon self-government to a large extent."

Frosh and Varsity to Get Acquainted With Floor Play

This week marked the beginning of scrimmage between the freshman and varsity basketball squads. Both teams have been practicing diligently since the opening of school and although neither squad has approached any point near perfection, they will be given two or three scrimmages a week for some time, thus acquainting the men with actual floor work.

The yearling team has been cut to approximately 30 men and, with possibly one or two exceptions, this will be the final cut. Practice so far has been limited to short passes, dribbling, and catching the ball, but now that the nucleus for the team has been selected, it will be possible to divide the men into squads and begin work in real earnest.

Among the list of candidates for the first year team are several who have shown possibilities for varsity caliber. With a year's stiff grooming under the Meanwell system, these men should be capable of fitting into the varsity machine and filling the holes which will be left by graduates.

Coach Levis is devoting his efforts this week to short passes and pivoting. Considerable time must be spent on each fundamental of the game, as practically every man on the squad has been coached under different methods. It is exceedingly hard to accomplish anything with the candidates in a group until they are all trained to the same style of play.

Lively competition is promised before the final choices are made for the respective positions on the team. Among those trying out for center are four men who appear to have a slight edge on the rest of the pivot aspirants: namely, H. Brooks, A. Alexander, G. Miller, and Holz. These men are being closely pressed by several others, and final choice may see one of the latter holding down the position.

For the two forward positions Coach Levis has a dearth of material to choose from and present indications point to a real fight between the competing candidates. Most prominent among this list are Garget, F. Martell, Walsh, F. Bain, H. Stehr, R. Gridley, and C. Andrews.

The guard positions, like the other places on the team, show many promising men trying out. However, a few of the candidates, including Otis, J. Cooley, W. Watson, M. Seaman, and Skoagland, have slight advantage over the rest.

The freshman team practices every afternoon, while Coach Meanwell and his varsity candidates use the floor in the evening. The close of the football season will see several more candidates appearing for both the varsity and yearling squad.

Will Name Heads

FRESHMAN SWIMMERS
TO ENTER SPEED TRIALS

The freshman swimming squad will be cut from seventy to twenty-five members after the speed trials to be held in the men's gymnasium tomorrow night. The frosh have been practicing two nights a week, some of them under the tutelage of varsity men.

Trials will be held in the 100 yard breast stroke, 100 yard back stroke, 40 yard sprint, 100 yard swim, and 220 yard swim. Each man will swim in any three of these five events. Only those freshmen on the squad who have been practicing consistently will be allowed to compete, according to Coach Steinauer.

A practice meet will be held with the varsity team later on in the season.

The time trials will begin promptly at 7:30 p. m.

DATE IS SET FOR
FROSH-SOPH GAME

Annual Gridiron Classic Will Be Fought November 9 at Randall Stadium

The date for the frosh-soph football classic has been set. The annual struggle will take place at 3:00 o'clock Friday, November 9, at the Camp Randall stadium.

The frosh are stronger than usual, this year, and will be out to prevent the repetition of last year's score which was a 7 to 7 tie. At present the frosh have been working on Illinois plays and will present a varied attack as they have been coached on the Indiana and Minnesota plays as well.

The sophomores as usual are handicapped with a lack of material and the majority of the sophomore team will be drawn from the sophomores on the All-Americans. There has been a call issued for sophomores who wish to report for practice.

"There will be a general admission charge of fifty cents," says Frank Nickerson, purchasing agent for the university gym, "and the entire proceeds will be used to send frosh squad to Chicago with the varsity. This means that all services will be donated."

By ORIE

The town whistle blew the five-thirty hour and still the Varsity plodded on.

Ryan promised a heavy workout last night and they sure got it aplenty. The All-Americans worked against the Varsity with Illinois signals, and did good work all afternoon. Several times their backs tore through the Varsity for long gains. Two All-Americans knocked out.

The All-American back who is being used to represent Illinois' flashy halfback, Grange, fared better than the lad who was in the same position on the Northwestern Frosh team a week ago.

That the Illinois signals are good is beyond doubt now. Ryan respects the Illinois passing and end run attack, and Badger fans can rest assured he will do all in his power to perfect a defense for that sort of game.

Irish and Nelson, as well as all the other end candidates are being put through a severe workout each night, and are beginning to show more class than before. If they can get down under Taft's punts in real Conference style, they'll put that guy Grange on the incapacitated list for the rest of the season.

The boys are in earnest, and want to win this game above all. It will put respect in the minds of Wisconsin followers if they succeed, as Illinois is rated ace high this year.

Ryan bumped into a peculiar sit-

FRESHMEN ELECT
CROSS COUNTRY
CAPTAIN TODAY

First Intra-Mural Race is Scheduled For Saturday, November 10

A meeting for all freshmen interested in cross country running will be held at 5 o'clock in the annex of the men's gym this afternoon.

The purpose of the meeting will be to elect a captain of the yearling hill and dale squad and to outline plans for the three intra-mural races which will be held in the near future.

The first intra-mural race is scheduled for Saturday, November 10, at which time the various classes will compete for honors. This race will be open to all men except those who are included in coveted first ten positions on the varsity distance squad. Class numerals will be awarded to the first five men on the winning team and to the first five to finish the race. The course will be approximately 2.9 miles in length.

On the following Friday, November 16, a second intra-mural race will be held between the various colleges. With the exception of the first 10 men on the varsity squad, everyone will be eligible to take part in this race. College insignias will be awarded to the first five winners in this meet and to the first five men on the winning team. This course will be approximately two miles long.

A meeting for upperclassmen will be held in the gym annex at 5 o'clock Monday, November 5, at which time the captains for the various college teams will be elected. Freshmen may attend this meeting and participate in the elections of the captains.

Although the weather continues to be very cold, the varsity runners are working out every day in preparation for their second annual dual meet with the Maroons at Chicago Saturday. To date the Windy City harriers have not displayed any unusual talent, having emerged from their first meet of the season with Purdue last Saturday with a tie score.

The Cardinal runners defeated the Chicago team last year with ease, placing five men across the finish before the first opposing harrier was in sight. In addition to this advantage, only two men on the present Maroon squad are letter men, the remaining "C" bearers having graduated. True, the varsity team has but one letter man left in the person of Captain Finkle, but the reserves have been coming through in great shape so far and have thus lessened Coach Burke's worries to a considerable extent.

The regular members of the team have been handicapped thus far as a result of injuries and sickness and consequently they have been unable to display their true caliber as yet. Perry is still on the sick list and he is being given a complete rest. By this means it is hoped he will have recovered completely in another week, thereby enabling him to condition himself for participation in the conference meet at Ohio State.

uation with Illinois this year. Remember last year when Illinois trimmed us on Homecoming, when they were rated as the underdogs? Do you also remember when the Badgers travelled to Illinois as underdogs and whipped them on their Homecoming? Well, this year both teams are bent on winning, and it's up to Ryan to develop a bunch that will turn the trick for us.

The cripples on the squad are getting along in fine shape. Ryan is giving them a good rest at present, by using Carlson and Eagleburger in their places. Gerber is being replaced by Paige and Hendricks, until the bandages over his nose come off.

Ryan's doing his best gang stay behind him to the finish.

SORORITIES WILL START
BOWLING MATCH TODAY

Number one of the yearly series of inter-sorority bowling games will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Madison bowling alleys. The sororities will be arranged in groups of two, and each sorority will play in the alley assigned to it, as follows:

Group 1—Chi Omega, alley 1; Kappa Alpha Theta, alley 2.

Group 2—Delta Zeta, alley 3; Alpha Xi Delta, alley 4.

Group 3—Phi Omega Pi, alley 5; Pi Beta Phi, alley 6.

Group 4—Alpha Gamma Delta, alley 7; Alpha Delta Pi, alley 8.

Group 5—Kappa Delta, alley 9; Phi Mu, alley 10.

Group 6—Delta Delta Delta, alley 11; Alpha Chi Omega, alley 12.

Alpha Omicron Pi does not bowl this afternoon.

Three Backs, Impersonating Red Grange, Work Against Regulars

"Red Grange," in the persons of three of Lowman's best All-American backs, hit the Wisconsin line at Camp Randall last night in a fast scrimmage workout, and he was stopped.

For the first time since the Minnesota game, the first Badger team went into scrimmage, and they looked good. Gerber, Harris, and Schneider were on the sidelines but in uniform.

"They also serve who only stand and wait," is the feeling toward the boys which the Goeden and Kruger market holds. Tonight at Hicks' restaurants they are giving a banquet for all team members, coaches, and sport scribes.

"We feel that to give awards for the first touchdown to any one player, as is so frequently done, is unfair," says Ray Schillinger, who is taking charge of the affair in behalf of the market proprietors. The linemen and the substitutes are deserving of as much credit as those who carry the ball, and we feel that ours is the best method of expressing our gratitude to all the men for their work."

The spirit of the Goeden and Kruger market is very commendable in the eyes of sport followers.

For a half hour, Mike Stone, All-American back, acted in the role of Grange, the Illinois flash, trying to round the ends, grab passes, and to go through the line. Mike is a fast back, working much after the fashion of Grange, but his efforts went for naught during the greater part of the session.

The All-Americans failed to complete a pass during the afternoon, an encouraging feature of the practice after the failure of the Badgers to break up pass attacks in past performances. The muddy field had much to do with the loose play, however, and on a fast field, the overhead attack might have been more successful.

After Stone had worked himself out, Doyle Harmon was sent into the fray. Harmon is another back who plays much in the fashion of Grange, but misfortune followed him into the first play and he left the field with a sprained ankle. His brother relieved him at the position.

The Badger line, intact with Bentson playing in Gerber's tackle position, was going great guns.

Oscar Teckmeyer, who has made his place at center sure, could not be stopped, and All-American tries through the center of the line were fruitless. Teck, at center, and Tom Nichols playing at right guard compose an unbeatable pair.

The varsity did not take the ball during the entire scrimmage, but worked against Illinois plays continually. Evidently the strength of the Illinois attack is feared. The regulars will probably be kept on the defensive during the next few days, and will open up with their own attack later in the week.

More than a week still remains before the Illinois tilt, and by that time, each team will know definitely what the other has. Lowman, who has been scouting the Illinois games, is drilling the All-Americans, and with his inside knowledge of the Indian methods, he will have the varsity well trained against opposing plays.

While the All-American squad is beginning to suffer from injuries, the regulars are still in good condition. No new developments have appeared on the Badger "hurt" list since the Minnesota game, and minor injuries are passing away. Harris was again in uniform yesterday after having been on the sidelines in civilian clothes all week.

UNION VODVIL

not for ourselves, but for Wisconsin. It is the biggest thing of our college generation, and in after years we will want to have had a hand in its realization. We will want to have done our part to make a real "Home for Wisconsin Spirit."

UNION VODVIL

Union Vodvil is coming this year, the Union Board announces in a circular sent throughout the university today. With the announcement comes the thrill that accompanies every home-talen performance. It always means a good time for those who take part in its production and for those who do no more than witness it.

Union Board issues a call for acts at this time. The date for the tryouts has been set for Wednesday, November 7. Persons or organizations planning to enter the show have just a week left in which to plan their acts. The tryout does not mean, however, that the acts submitted for approval must be completed or even entirely planned. The judges ask that enough be ready for presentation for them to form an opinion on. One song will show them the singer's ability. A few steps of a dance will demonstrate dancing talent. The judges realize that acts cannot be in form this far in advance.

Union Vodvil undoubtedly will be the best in history this year. This is not one of those idle promises made every year, but is born out of the fact that a production manager is already on the job and will direct the entire project. This has never been done before. It is an indication that Union board is planning for the best this year.

The Vodvil is one of those activities the entire school backs. Its proceeds go into the Union Memorial fund. Its memory goes into university history as one of the truly enjoyable events of every second year. Let's back the Union and make the 1923 Vodvil show all that it is hoped it will be.

TO JO

The resignation yesterday of Joseph Lawler as associate editor of the Cardinal marks the end of more than two years of consistent and faithful service. The labor and energy involved in spending hours of time on reporting, editing, make up, and other details of newspaper organization are often not appreciated by the student body. Lawler's co-workers on the Cardinal staff regret the loss of his companionship and assistance and wish him the best of luck in all future undertakings.

IGNORANCE AND THE LAW

The old legal maxim that ignorance of the law is no excuse should be so well known that we hesitate to set it out once more. Particularly is it true in the case of offenses which are mala per se, that is to say, inherently wrong, not merely wrong because forbidden by law. For delinquencies of this kind, ignorance is not even an explanation.

The student who pleads that he was ignorant of the rule against copying during examinations is putting forward no defense at all except possibly that of feeble-mindedness. The pupil who procures his English themes from current magazines can scarcely expect the most kind hearted disciplinary committee in the world to be moved to tears by his plea of ignorance of the rule against it. The only ignorance in these cases is of the difference between honesty and dishonesty.

There may occasionally be technical rules of which a student might be ignorant. These are given ample publicity by university authorities, and there is no reason why they should not be universally known. But in the case of dishonest work, there is certainly no room at Wisconsin for those who are ignorant of the difference between right and wrong.

Editorial Quips and Facts

The man who called women "inconsiderate gabbler" must have referred to the old maid post-grads who study out loud in the library stacks.

Now that the cold wave is here the Ford radiators will radiate anything but heat.

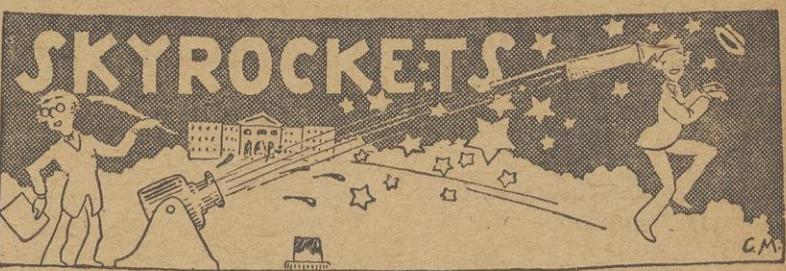

Ned Jordan's remarks of a few years ago about "Pink Tea" at Wisconsin, lately reinforced by the Cardinal, aren't sugared enough for some. Too much lemon.

"Snow use," said the Alabama student who thought Madison would be balmy all winter.

Support the Memorial Union.

The marriage of a law grad announced yesterday would make a good movie entitled "Within the Law."

A street car, according to the Cardinal, put on the dog yesterday and threw the bull.

CONTEST

This notorious column being run by the students for the students and of the students and for the express purpose of benefiting them individually and collectively, we are beginning a campaign against the persons, institutions, and conditions which may be called CAMPUS GOAT GRABBERS. The most obnoxious goat grabber submitted will be carefully run down and every trace of its influence now menacing our grand and glorious university will be forever eradicated from our campus.

HALL LAUDS DEAD BRITISH DIPLOMAT

Bonar Law An Example of Personal Sacrifice For His Country

"Bonar Law's service to Great Britain is a conspicuous example of personal sacrifice for the good of the country," said Prof. Arnold B. Hall, head of the political science department, in speaking yesterday on the death of Sir Andrew Bonar Law, former prime minister of Great Britain.

"The guidance of the British Empire through such perilous times was exceedingly difficult," said Professor Hall, "but it was especially hard on Bonar Law because of his poor health. He resigned once because of his failing health, but returned to public life, even though he knew it would ultimately mean his death.

The fact that he followed such a brilliant man as Lloyd George in office made it even more difficult for him to guide England safely through her domestic and foreign troubles. Lloyd George has a dynamic personality and tremendous ability as an orator; he was the popular hero, while Bonar Law, although perhaps more of a scholar than Lloyd George, was a more tiring man and did not fire the public imagination as did his predecessor."

Drill Total At U. W. Decreases 20 Per Cent

A total of 1,135 students have enrolled for military drill at the university this fall, under the new voluntary system provided for by a law passed by the recent legislature, according to figures just announced by Major O. L. Brunsell, commandant.

This is a decrease of about 12 per cent from the total of 1,240 students who were drilling at the end of last year under the compulsory system. The number of upperclass students enrolled voluntarily in advanced military training has, however, increased about 50 per cent.

Mussolini Gave Italy Happiness, Speaker Says

That labor needs capital was the lesson learned by Italian labor when it took over the factories of Italy prior to Mussolini's ascension to the premiership, was the statement of Prof. Angelo Lipari, of the department of romance languages at the university at luncheon of the Knights of Columbus club house this noon.

"The fascisti is the conscience of the people awakened," he said. "The fascisti took hold of the government following the crisis of the World war. Mussolini downed all parties save the Populists. Though an absolute dictator, he does not abuse his power."

Badger Ski Club Meet To Be Feb 9 or 16

The annual ski tournament on Muir knoll, under the auspices of the Badger Ski club, will be held on Feb. 9 or 16, according to the Association of Commerce. The club has written to the association to find out whether either of those dates will correspond with the dates for the annual winter carnival here, and also has written of its intentions to the National Ski association. Last year, the tournament was held in connection with the carnival.

Badgers Play Here November 10th

AS Jack Ryan prepares his Badger football squad for the Illinois game a week from next Saturday, contractors at Urbana are rushing work on the new stadium for the Suckers, which is to be dedicated Saturday when the Illini and Chicago clash.

Although work on the stadium has been held up for some time because of lack of funds, it is expected that the structure will be about completed at the close of the present football season. The stadium and its surroundings will be one of the most attractive in the country.

Triple Headline Program Offered Orpheum Patrons

For the new show starting today the Orpheum has a triple headline program.

A romantic looking Frenchman and the dainty red haired La Petite Marguerite are offering their latest arrangement of dances. They are lately from musical comedy.

Mary Haynes with her exclusive repertoires of topical songs comes next. She specializes in lyrics rather than melody. Her numbers are quite out of the ordinary and each is a humorous recital of the troubles or the affairs of types known to everyone.

Miss Marion Murray who is presenting a company in a comedy playlet claims she stepped from a church choir into vaudeville.

Miss Murray studied in the conservatory at Oberlin college for several years and is a wonderful pianist.

Irish songs, dances and real wit such as would be seen on a trip to the Emerald Isle will be exemplified in an act offered by the Kilkenney Dua.

Carter & Cornis are termed vaudevilles speediest steppers. They are colored comedians.

Some aerial maneuvers never seen before will be given by Sawyer & Eddy. They are generators of thrills.

Revive "Wild Crab" Humor Column in Country Magazine

With the rejuvenation of the old time "Wild Crab" column, the Wisconsin Country Magazine left the press yesterday afternoon. The issue is the first of the year and deals with all types of farm and country life and problems.

"We hope that this, our first issue of the year, may meet with approval both on the campus and elsewhere. The magazine promises to be a good one this year. It is our purpose this year to have it known as the Wisconsin Country Magazine in order that it may definitely be associated with the university."

The present issue has 32 pages with some very good articles, among which are those of: Edith Crowe '24, "Come Out of Your Shell"; Tracy Johnson, '24, "Wild Ducks, Cat-tails, and Corn"; Gerald Jenny, '24, "Carrying On"; W. H. Pierce, "Soils, Too May be Sick"; Arno A. Dennerlein, '24, "Bronze Monarch" and "A Challenge to the Farm Youth", by the editor, Eddie Rohrbeck.

LONGER LIVES IS PROFESSOR'S HOPE

Experiments at John Hopkins
Would Wake Period 200
Years

What plans would you conceive if proof was given you that you could count on living in a healthy body for two hundred years or more as certainly as your forefathers expected to live four score years and ten? If a series of experiments now being carried out by Professor Pearl of Johns Hopkins university, prove as successful as the experiments that preceded them, people in the near future may find it necessary to prepare for the extension of the span of life.

Scientists have compared the body to a machine. When part of a machine breaks down, the outworn part has to be replaced by an outside force. If a part of the body breaks down, the remaining parts unite in growing a new duplicate. The only drawback is the removal of the outworn cells.

"Cells themselves are potentially immortal" Dr. Pearl said in an interview with Allen L. Benson this summer. "We die because strain thrown on one group of cells breaks them down, and they in turn aid in breaking down those remaining. Wonderful discoveries by Loeb, Burrows, Carrel and others convince me that further research work will teach us much that we do not yet know about the prolongation of human life. We should live indefinitely if we could but find a way to supplant worn cells with new ones."

The pioneer in prolonging life on this basis was Leo Loeb who at the time of his epoch making discoveries was a young graduate of the University of Friburg doing research work in tumors and tissue growth. He was able to cultivate living tissues removed from a body. Harrison improved on his methods and Harrison methods were furthered by Burrows, who demonstrated that refined by a pupil of his named tissues of a chicken could be kept alive and grown as well as those from cold blooded animals.

After these men came Dr. Alexis Carrel of Rockefeller Institute who actually demonstrated that there is no known limit to the ability of cells in a favorable environment to maintain life, health, and youth. On Jan. 17, 1912, Dr. Carrel took a piece of connective tissue from the heart of a chicken and set about to maintain life in it apart from the chicken's body. That piece of chicken's heart is alive yet, apparently as strong and vigorous as ever. Every day it is washed free of waste product and placed in fresh solution. Kept clean and properly nourished, the tissue grows so rapidly that it is necessary to subdivide it very often.

Having demonstrated that cells could live outside the body indefinitely and that there was nothing in their own composition to bring about their death, scientists are now attempting to find a way to keep cells healthy and growing in a living, coordinating body. When one group of cells in the body are broken down by abuse, they tend to injure the remaining healthy cells until the body finally dies. Professor Pearl is attempting by exposing the body to X-rays to kill off the unhealthy cells thus leaving the healthy cells to reproduce. Successful experiments by Profs. Firth and Starlinger of Germany are serving as a base for his work. Prof. Pearl is using insects in his research work, as their short life span makes it possible to carry the work through many generations. He says that the experiments are so complex that no definite statement will be possible for many years. The investigation, however, are based on proved ground a prolongation of life to some extent is expected.

OFFICIALS DENY WET HOMECOMING

Police and University Authorities Fail to See Increased Drunkenness

That no unusual amount of liquor was in evidence at Homecoming was expressed yesterday in interviews with President E. A. Birge, Dean Scott H. Goodnight, Prohibition Commissioner Herman Sachtjen and Chief of Police Shaughnessy.

In commenting on a recent editorial printed in The Cardinal referring to the use of liquor, Dean Goodnight said,

"My general impression was that there was not so much student drinking during Homecoming this year as in previous years. There was, of course, a good deal of drinking by outsiders, and some by students.

"I am glad to see the student body, through the medium of The Daily Cardinal, start action against drunkenness."

Dean Goodnight declared that the students themselves could do the most in stamping out the drinking evil at the university, and cited the recent action taken at Illinois when students at a massmeeting signed resolutions promising a dry homecoming there on Nov. 3.

Pres. E. A. Birge agreed with Dean Goodnight and declared that "If the Cardinal wants to start action against drunkenness among the students, I certainly will not stand in the way."

Herman W. Sachtjen, state prohibition commissioner, and Thomas Shaughnessy, chief of police, also expressed the opinion that drunkenness was not so prevalent during homecoming this year as in previous years.

"It was far better than in any other years that I have seen Homecoming," Mr. Sachtjen stated. "There was some natural hilarity, but that was to be expected. I was out at the football grounds during the game, and around town at night, but I didn't see much drunkenness."

The city jail housed the usual number of week end drunks, according to Chief Shaughnessy, but handled no increase due to Homecoming.

"There wasn't so much drunkenness," he said, "unless the drunks were kept under cover."

HALIFAX—The Canadian schooner, Blue Nose, and the American challenger Columbia were unable to complete their second race today for the fishermen's trophy because of lack of wind. The race was called off.

Producers To Renew Demand For Increase Refused By Dealers Here

The November milk price here will be set at a meeting of distributors with members of the Madison Milk Producers' association at 7:30 Wednesday night in the Kennedy Dairy Co. plant. While the present price is $2.40 the hundred pounds, the producers' demands for an increase, which have not been granted, probably will be renewed.

A similar dispute is being waged in Milwaukee, where dealers and members of the Milwaukee Cooperative Milk producers failed to agree on a price last week. The distributors proposed to lower their purchase price from $3 to $2.85 per hundred pounds.

Bankers Must Show Will To Aid Farmers, Otis Says

Bankers must convince the farmers of a desire to be their advisors in business affairs, "without attempting to teach the farmer to farm" and "without interfering in his affairs," D. H. Otis, Madison, director of the agricultural commission of the American Banker's association, told members of the organizations at a meeting in Omaha, Neb., Monday. Burton M. Smith, Madison, chairman of the commission, presided, while Dean H. L. Russell of the college of agriculture was one of the speakers.

Teachers Pupils

Prof. Clapp Has Seminar For 33 Of Local School Staff

Madison elementary school teachers and principals are going to school now after they have finished their work of teaching during the day. A seminar in elementary education has been established by Prof. F. L. Clapp, of the university. The class, which has an enrollment of 33 teachers, meets at 4:30 on Thursday afternoons in the Central high school to study teaching methods of arithmetic and the contest of text books, and to make an investigation of why verbal problems are difficult for pupils. The class opened last Thursday and will continue throughout the school year.

U. W. Man Says Merchants Must Be Careful In Advertisements

Enthusiasm over the success of "Trade in Madison" day here yesterday was voiced by members of the Madison advertising club at a luncheon this noon in the Monona hotel.

W. A. Sumner, of the university in a discussion of "Ethics in Advertising" declared that "business and advertising men in the future must be painstaking in the material which appeared in advertisements, and must be absolutely truthful in any statements made in newspaper or direct mail advertising."

The first lecture on advertising to be given by James W. Fisk, who will be brought to Madison by The Capital Times, the Wisconsin State Journal and the Madison Advertising club, will be given in the Park hotel next Monday.
