UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN, MADISON. TUESDAY, MAY 5, 1925

PRICE 5 CENTS

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES TO BE AT CAMP RANDALL

"Approximately 10,000 Can be Accommodated Under New Plan," Says Chandler

That commencement exercises will be held in Camp Randall stadium at sunset on June 22 was announced yesterday by the faculty committee on public functions, of which Prof. Julius E. Olson is chairman. Graduation took place in the agricultural pavilion from 1916 to last June, but the ever increasing size of the senior class necessitated the change to Camp Randall this year. Until 1916, commencement was held in the gymnasium.

From 8,000 to 10,000 persons can be accommodated without utilizing sections along the east and west sides to the rear of the platform was the estimate made yesterday by George A. Chandler, secretary of the committee. Definite information as to how many tickets will be allotted to each senior is not available as yet.

Work On New Plans

The art department is working out a design for a platform for faculty members and candidates for higher degrees to be erected on the north side of the gridiron. Between the platform and the closed end of the stadium the band and seniors will be seated.

Sections in the closed end of the stadium will be reserved for immediate relatives of seniors. Other sections extending down the east and west sides will be for spectators.

The time has been placed at 5 o'clock instead of at 10 o'clock as was the custom in past years, to avoid the excessive morning heat. Changes in the program, to make it

Gamma Eta Gamma, professional law fraternity, has purchased the former Alpha Xi Delta house at 434 Sterling place, which is now occupied by Coranto. The price is reported to be $26,000.

PHI BETA KAPPA PUBLISHES RULES

Regulations Governing Election of Members Given Out for First Time

In answer to the questions that arise each year concerning the method of electing students to Phi Beta Kappa, the executive committee has voted for the first time to publish the regulations as they are set forth in the constitution.

Both juniors and seniors eligible for membership must be of full rank in their respective classes and candidates for a bachelor's degree. Third-year students must have a minimum of five semesters residence at the university and seniors must have been enrolled for three semesters or two semesters and three summer sessions.

The membership committee appointed by the president presents lists of all juniors with an average of at least 91 and all seniors with 89. The names with the comments of the committee are compiled in order of numerical standing.

From the lists thus compiled, not more than 50 undergraduates can be elected of which not more than 12 can be juniors. The constitution says: "Three-fourths of all the votes cast shall constitute an election. After the second ballot names receiving less than one-fourth of the votes cast shall be stricken from the list."

Prof. Pitman B. Potter, secretary of the Wisconsin chapter, says that in spite of the fact that the same standards have always been employed, the number selected during the past two years have been smaller than in years immediately preceding.

Bequests Increase Amounts Available For Student Loans

Loan funds for use of students have been materially increased lately through the bequests of Mrs. Cora Rodermund Evans and Mrs. William F. Allen.

A trust fund from the estate of Mrs. Evans has recently been given the university by her will, to be known as the "Cora Rodermund Evans Loan Fund for Medical Students." The fund is held in trust by the Board of Regents. Since the death of Mrs. Evans the money has earned approximately $80 in interest, which is now available for loans.

A student loan fund of $2,673.80, known as the "Mrs. William A. Allen Loan Fund of the University League," has been given through the merging of the bequest of the late Mrs. Allen and the University League fund. Mrs. Allen left $2,000, which was merged with a sum raised for the same purpose by the University League. The merger was made at Mrs. Allen's request.

HOLD BLUE DRAGON BANQUET TONIGHT

Senior Women Will Discuss Plans for Commencement at Last Meeting

The annual Blue Dragon banquet will be held at 5:45 o'clock tonight in the Woman's building.

Speakers for the evening include Dean Nardin and Mrs. M. B. Rosenberry, who will be the guests of the senior women at their last gathering. Margaret Campbell will preside as toast-mistress. Les Kissel '25 will speak on the Memorial Union and John Bergstresser '25 will speak on commencement plans. Alice Corl '25 and Dorothy John '25 will also speak.

"We hope to have the building plans for the Memorial Union so that every senior woman who is interested in the building will be able to see just what it will look like when it is completed," said Margaret Meyer '25, who is general chairman of the banquet.

Tickets cost $1 and may be obtained in the W. S. G. A. office or from Marguerite Knauf '25, Catherine Bach '25, Ruth Klinger '25, and Rhoda Koch '25.

Symphony Group is Called Family of Musicians By Critics

"A happy family of musicians to whom symphony music is the very breath of life" is the apt introduction given by critics to the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra which will play in the armory Saturday afternoon and evening under the auspices of the Madison Orchestral association.

Henri Verbrugghen, conductor of the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra, began his career in Brussels, where he made his debut as a concert violinist at the age of fourteen. He was assistant director in the famous Glasgow Symphony orchestra and conductor of the London Symphony orchestra in the Beethoven Festival of 1914.

Henry Williams, harpist, is a pupil of John Thomas, former harpist to Queen Victoria and King Edward of England. Mr. Williams will play compositions by his teacher.

Marie Tiffany, soloist who appears at the evening concert, is a native of California. She made her entrance into the Metropolitan Opera company by one of those happy "accidents" which is the test of preparedness. It was during the informal audition arranged with Mr. Gatti-Casazza in 1916 that she was engaged.

ELECT OFFICERS FOR ARDEN CLUB TODAY

Arden club will have its annual election of officers at a meeting which will be held in room 360 Bascom hall at 4:30 o'clock today.

5,000 EXPECTED TO ENROLL FOR SUMMER SESSION

Staff of 300 Will Teach Students; 32 From Other Institutions

A staff of approximately 300 faculty members will take care of the 5,000 students who are expected to enroll for the university's twenty-seventh summer session. Of these faculty members, 32 will be lecturers from other institutions or from educational circles.

The regular session is for six weeks, starting on June 29 and lasting until August 7. The Law school term runs for ten weeks, starting June 22 and lasting until August 28.

Many Prominent Teachers

Some of the outstanding persons who will teach at the 1925 session are Miss Elizabeth Amery, state superintendent of home economics for the state of Delaware; Nels A. Bengston from the University of Nebraska, who will give work in geography and geology; Philo Melvin Buck, Jr., who teaches English at the University of Nebraska; Solon Justus Buck, graduate, who is now instructing in history at the University of Minnesota; Harry Caplan, connected with the speech department of Cornell university; Ralph E. Carter from the education department of the University of Indiana; Gustavus Watts Cunningham, who will come as lecturer in philosophy from Cornell university; Windsor P. Daggett, who is connected with the speech department of Brown university; Richard Owen Stoops, superintendent of schools, York, Pa., and Guy Montrose Whipple of the University of Michigan, who will instruct in education.

Expect Record Attendance

Those in charge expect that the attendance of 4,772 for 1924 will be exceeded this year. Last year more than half of the enrollment was made up of teachers. Most of them took work in the School of Education, which is one of the largest departments of the summer session.

The summer session fee, which does not vary with the number of courses taken, is $35 in the Law school and $22 in the schools and colleges and in the Graduate school. There is no matriculation fee and no non-resident fee.

INVITE INSPECTION OF NEW PLANS FOR UNION

"Students, faculty members and alumni are cordially invited to drop into the Memorial Union office at 762 Langdon street and see the new plans for the Memorial Union," said John Dollard '22, secretary of the Memorial Union executive committee.

"The new plans," said Dollard, "cannot be widely published until the regents approval has been secured, but we are more than glad to have anyone interested come in and see them. Likely he will get a better idea from the drawings which we have than he would from newspaper reprints. Comments and suggestions will also be most welcome. The plans will be 'at home' all day, and if necessary all night, if there are a considerable number who would like to see them."

Proposed Appropriation Far Less Than That of Michigan

Although the legislative finance committee has reported favorably on a $4,200,000 appropriation for the university, the sum recommended does not nearly approach the amount granted by the Michigan legislature this year for the University of Michigan as the figures published last week indicate, according to J. D. Phillips, business manager of the university.

For operating expenses, the Michigan legislature has voted $3,500,000 for its university, while the Wisconsin body is considering appropriating $2,720,000 leaving an apparent difference between the

Red Derby, Badge of Merit, Will Be Grid Fest Award

The famous red vest of Carl Russell Fish will have a traditional rival, according to plans formulated by the Sigma Delta Chi. A cardinal derby will be presented at the coming Gridiron banquet to the man student who has done the most for the university during the past year.

A list of major and minor activities will be drawn up on a point basis and the student who has taken an active part in the majority of these activities together with excellence in scholarship, will receive the honor. Sigma Delta Chi will establish this as a tradition as a feature of the annual Gridiron banquets.

It is a tradition with the Sigma Delta Chi chapters in other schools. The chapter at the University of Illinois presents a brown derby to an honor man each year who wears it on all school occasions.

The derby for this year's presentation will be donated by Peter F. Burns, the university haberdasher, who is heartily in favor of the annual gridiron affair.

PRESIDENT BIRGE INVITES MOTHERS

Invitations Will Be Sent Out to All Before May 10

Invitations to the mothers of all university students will be sent out by President E. A. Birge by May 10 asking them to attend Mother's reception the weekend of May 29, 30 and 31, according to Dorothy Strauss '26, chairman of the invitations committee.

A list of all mothers has been compiled by the committee in charge under the direction of Dorothy Strauss '26. Each fraternity, sorority, and rooming house made a separate list of the names and addresses of the mothers of members and each mother will receive an individual invitation to attend.

Many of the fraternity and sorority houses are preparing special entertainments for the enjoyment of the mothers. Some are arranging special dinners for Sunday, May 31, and others are arranging drives throughout the city. Automobile tours will be made over the university grounds and will serve to show the mothers the university and the beauties of Madison.

CANNEBERG TO SPEAK TO PROGRESSIVE CLUB

Adolf Canneberg, chairman of the Wisconsin railway commission, will speak on "Water Power Interests and Regulations," at a meeting of the Young Men's Progressive club, which will be held in the secretary of state's office in the capitol at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

PROFESSOR HADAMAND SPEAKS HERE TODAY

Prof. Jacques Hadamand of the University of Paris and a well known authority on mathematics, will deliver two lectures here this week. He speaks today on "Some Modern Views of the Function Concept" at 4:30 o'clock today in 112 Bascom hall. Prof. Hadamand will also speak tomorrow afternoon at the same place.

CURTAIN CLUB ON BOARDS TONIGHT IN "THE PIGEON"

Galsworthy Fantasy to Be Given at High School by Faculty Players

William Tannewitz and Dora Ingraham Roach, formerly prominent in undergraduate dramatics, have leading roles in "The Pigeon," which will be given by the Curtain club, university faculty dramatic society, at 8:15 o'clock tonight at Central high school. "The Pigeon" is a fantasy written by John Galsworthy.

The Cast

The cast is Wellnoyn, an English artist, William Tannewitz; Ann, his daughter, Mrs. Roach; Ferrand, a French vagabond, J. R. Caldwell; Megan, flower vender and gambler, Lawrence Powell; Mrs. Megan, Mrs. R. S. Stebbins; Canon Bertley, a clergyman, C. E. Cason; Sir Thomas Hoxton, a justice of the peace, G. A. Chandler; Prof. Calway, a sociologist, M. S. Coburn; Timson, old cabby, M. D. Bassett; a constable, J. B. Virtue, and two humpmen, Prof. C. D. Leake and P. S. Conklin.

The production and business staff is composed of A. R. Thompson, director; G. A. Chandler, business manager; Prof. W. H. Varnum, lighting, and Prof. C. D. Leake, stage manager.

Tickets on Sale

Mr. Thompson selected the cast some time ago and rehearsals have been held for the past three weeks.

A large number of tickets to the affair have been sold by mail and through the booth opened in Bascom hall yesterday, Mr. Chandler announced. Seats will be on sale in Bascom hall again today.

PROF. GUYER TO SPEAK AT KANSAS COLLEGE

Prof. M. F. Guyer, head of the zoology department, will deliver a series of lectures this week at the Kansas State Agricultural college at Manhattan. Before leaving for Kansas, Professor Guyer spoke at the annual joint meeting of Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi last week at the University of Illinois, at Champaign. His subject was "Some Biological Aspects of Democracy." He will return from Manhattan at the end of this week.

HUGGINS SPEAKS ON INDUSTRIALISM

Economist Advocates Recognition of Mutual Rights in Bascom Lecture

"No country has attained such a high state of civilization that it can get along on the golden rule alone. It must have the Commandments to back it up," declared William L. Huggins, former presiding judge of the Kansas Industrial Court, in his speech on "The Old Government and the New Industry," which he gave at 4:30 o'clock yesterday in 165 Bascom hall.

"The people must be protected against the aggressions of organized capital and the aggressions of organized labor," Mr. Huggins said. "This protection is furnished by the laws and the courts."

"The organized trust must be compelled to recognize the right of law. In the same way organized labor must be forced to recognize the equal rights of unorganized labor."

Mr. Huggins covered briefly the changes wrought on society by the industrial revolution, showing how powerful agencies in the form of the corporation and the trust grew out of it; and how the labor union gradually sprang up as a combating force toward these large corporations until today we have a most powerful trust in the form of the American Federation of Labor.

Mr. Huggins, who was brought here by the department of economics, believes that there should be developed an enlightened and well considered American policy towards industrial problems.

TENNIS PLAYERS WORK HARD FOR HAWKEYE MEET

Freshmen Play Good Games; Miller is Out With Injured Foot

In spite of the cloudy weather, Coach Masely sent his tennis men through a series of workouts yesterday in preparation for the coming contest with Iowa here this week end. Not all of the men reported for the practice but those who were present showed real determination to form a combination that would be able to win from the invading men this week.

Work With Frosh

Durand was not in the best of shape for the matches last Saturday. After a short rest it is expected that the veteran player will be in good form for a winning streak in the coming matches. Some of the men were on the courts Sunday working out with the freshmen.

The prospects for freshman tennis this year are especially bright. Both Freeborn and Woldenwick are capable of defeating most of the varsity men and will press any of them hard for a win.

Kaner Good

Kaner is showing good form this spring and ought to be a good man for next year's team. Several other freshmen are playing good tennis and show prospects of good players in the next few years.

Miller is out of the team for a time because of an injured foot. The tall player was one of the best on the varsity squad and his loss is keenly felt. His smashing, fast play was the most spectacular of any of the men and Coach Masely had counted on him for several singles victories. He may be in shape for some of the matches later in the season.

Horsemen Take Final Gallop In 39-6 Win

SOUTH BEND—The "Four Horsemen of Notre Dame" Stubldreher, Crowley, Miller and Layden, along with their 1924 varsity cohorts, have played their last game under the Notre Dame colors.

Flashing something of the brilliance which won them recognition as 1924 football champions, the "horsemen" rode to victory over the 1925 varsity, 39 to 6. The game was the windup of the Spring training season. Layden scored two touchdowns for the "Has-Beens," while Elmer Wynn, brother of the famous "Chet," snagged an intended "horseman" pass and ran twenty-five yards for the only marker made by the "Junior Horsemen."

COMMERCE STUDENTS PLAN CHICAGO TRIP

About 40 seniors in the Course in Commerce will be in Chicago May 15 and 16 on a tour of inspection. The Illinois Bell Telephone company, the Illinois Steel company and numerous other business institutions will be visited. Prof. F. H. Elwell, in charge of the trip, explained that the inspection would be similar to those conducted by the departments in the College of Engineering and by the Course in Journalism.

A dinner on Friday evening May 15 with the alumni of the Course in Commerce who are living in Chicago is an important feature of the trip. There are about 125 alumni living in Chicago. Judging from past experience, over half that number are expected to attend the dinner.

No Chicago inspection trip has been made since 1921. Previous to that year it was an annual event.

Discus Throwing Gains Favor Among Athletes

(Editor's Note—The following article on discus throwing was written for the Athletic Journal by Thomas J. Lieb, assistant coach at Notre Dame. He won the discus throw in the Western Conference and in National Collegiate Athletic association meets in 1922 and 1923 and third place in the Olympic games.)

The old time Grecian event, discus throwing, has attracted considerable attention the last few years. College athletes have taken great interest in this event and, as a result, their ability and competition in general in discus throwing has improved wonderfully. It is true we had great discus throwers ten or fifteen years ago, but they were few in number compared to the entries in the event today.

Even as late as the year 1920 there were but few good discus throwers in competition. As a proof of that, one member of the Olympic team of that year qualified with a throw of less than one hundred and thirty feet; this past year the last man to qualify, threw one hundred and forty-three feet. Furthermore, let me add that this last year, there were a dozen other athletes who threw further than one hundred and thirty feet in the tryouts.

With the competition becoming more keen each year, discus throwing has become specialized and men are giving their full time to this one event. To pick out any one man and to say that he is an ideal type for a discus thrower is a difficult and uncertain task. There are a few points, however, that may be laid down as a guide. The discus thrower must, first of all, be a man of patience. By that I mean one who is not easily discouraged, trying day after day to perfect his actions, as it is very hard to learn to throw a discus in the proper manner.

Physically he should be fairly tall of stature and well developed above the waist. A large hand, long arm and strong back muscles are essential. I think the tall man has an advantage in that he already has an elevation of possibly a foot or more for his throws. A large hand not only affords a proper grip of the discus, but also aids greatly in guiding the discus so that it starts correctly and prevents slips or bad throws. The points in favor of the long arm are easily seen.

The longer the arm, the larger the circle that the discus will travel through in making the turns before the throw, and, as a result, the greater will be the centrifugal force developed.

A strong, well-muscled back that is easily rotated at the waist is another physical necessity. I claim the discus is thrown by the body and not entirely by the arm.

GREYBEARD GRIDMEN SEE HISTORIC 1904 CONTEST

Days of Beefy Giants, Whiskers, and Line Plunging

CHICAGO, May 2.—Football days were revived for the Michigan alumni last night at the La Salle hotel, when a film of the 1904 Chicago-Michigan game that was played at Ann Arbor was shown.

Those were the days of giants of beef, whiskers, chewing tobacco and line plunging. The forward pass was not included in the line plunging schedule of the old-timers. The game was played through the line, around the line, or against the line. Each year the alumni of Michigan hold their banquet and get together at the La Salle hotel in the heart of the downtown part of Chicago.

Portugal's president has resigned, and we don't blame him since they have china money there.

Purple Breaks Even With Marquette at Tennis

CHICAGO—Northwestern university's net team Saturday divided tennis matches with Marquette university at the Purple courts. Each team won three matches, two singles and a double.

Illinois U. Golfers Win Over Purdue By 20 to 3

URBANA, Ill.—In a Big Ten conference thirty-six hole golf match yesterday the University of Illinois team defeated Purdue golfers, 20 to 3.

Marquette Grid Game Called Off

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Because of a misunderstanding over interpretation of the one year residence rule, the football game scheduled for Oct. 17 between Marquette university and Carroll college of Waukesha has been canceled.

GOPHER CHESS TEAMS COMPETE BY RADIO

For the first time in the history of the University of Minnesota the chess and checker teams will compete with Dartmouth college team by communicating the individual plays over the radio.

Professor C. M. Jansky of the radio department will direct the plays at this end and will send all communications in code.

It seems from this report that it is no longer necessary for the chess and checker teams to travel long distances to meet their competitors.

NOTRE DAME AND PENN TO MEET IN FOOTBALL

STATE COLLEGE, Pa.—Notre Dame and Penn State will meet here in one of the feature games on the football schedule next fall, it was learned today. The game is billed for Nov. 7. The tennis teams of the two colleges will also meet tomorrow afternoon.

PI BETA PHI GETS SCHOLARSHIP CUP

Award is Made by Dean Nardin at Pan-Hellenic Luncheon

To show public recognition of a high scholarship standard among Greek women on the campus was the object of the first Pan-Hellenic Scholarship luncheon held at the Loraine hotel Saturday noon.

Dean F. Louise Nardin presented the scholarship cup to Pi Beta Phi, the group with the highest sorority average. Pi Phi will be the first to have its name engraved on the award, the cup passing on at the next annual banquet to the organization with first rank. To keep the trophy permanently the same group must attain it for three consecutive years. Mary Haven '25 responded for her sorority.

Nellie Mae Bilstad '28, member of Phi Mu, received the highest individual average of any sorority girl. Her weighted numerical average for last semester was 96.6 per cent.

Miss Elizabeth Waters, university regent, attended as a guest of honor. Ruth Powers '26, Chairman of the scholarship committee, acted as toastmistress. Other members of the committee who assisted as hostesses are Margaret Firk '27, Mary Garstmann '26, Florence Nichols '26, Dorothy Strauss '26.

Two representatives of each sorority with the highest averages in their group were guests of honor at the luncheon, which will become an annual occasion for awarding the inter-sorority scholastic cup promoting the aims of the scholarship committee of Pan-Hellenic.

COACH SPAULDING WORKS PLAYERS HARD IN PRACTICE

Some New Candidates of Ability Have Reported For Workouts

MINNEAPOLIS—After spending a few days learning new plans and going through light scrimmages, Coach Spaulding plans on putting his men through a hard scrimmage tomorrow or Saturday afternoon. The work during the past week has been very pleasing and the men are progressing rapidly although there is a tendency for some of the players to skip practices too often, stated Coach Spaulding yesterday.

Gordon Out

Joe Gordon, former North high, Minneapolis star, is one of the new candidates for the backfield position. Gordon acquired the middle-weight boxing title recently and is in good shape due to his training last winter. He was a member of the frosh squad two years ago and was one of the 20 to receive their numerals. Last year he was a member of the varsity squad and has the benefit of this experience beside his work at North high.

Rengal Good

In some of the scrimmages recently, Neal Rengal has been showing up well in the passing department. He is an accurate passer and a hard line smasher. He gives promise of making a real bid for a backfield position next fall if he is eligible.

Prep Teams Prepare For Big Track Meet

CHICAGO—Though a full month intervenes between now and the national interscholastic track and field meet which will be held at the University of Chicago on June 5 and 6, prep teams through out the country are showing early aspirations for the country's crown. A number of the leading turnouts already have filed their entries with H. O. Crisler, graduate manager of the meet.

The Northeast High team of Kansas City, Mo., which showed such a lot of speed in the relay events at Drake this season, and the Westport High team, from the same city, will be in the mammoth classic.

GREENS AND BLACKS TO SCRIMMAGE

Football Practice Scheduled
For Three Days This Week

With the Red and Black battles a thing of the past, the Badger spring football candidates are priming themselves for a game between two picked teams of equal strength. The two teams will be known as the "Greens" and the "Blacks," and probably will be chosen by electing two captains, and these two men choosing up.

The Red-Black games have brought out real talent, and the game Friday with the two teams about on a par should develop into a real contest.

Three days of practice will be held this week. Today and Thursday the men will go through a regular drill under the tutelage of Coaches Little, Brader, Connell, Gerber, and Bieberstein, while on Friday the Green-Black scrimmage will be held.

All football candidates are to report today and Thursday at Camp Randall for practice.
GEORGE LITTLE

The two practice sessions will be spent in brushing up on the rudiments of the game, and in developing a fighting spirit.

Nothing more definite has been done about the game than the plans for it. The captain and teams will be selected later in the week.

THETA SIGMA PHI TO GIVE CUP AS PRIZE

The annual award given by Theta Sigma Phi, honorary journalistic sorority for the best short story published in the Wisconsin Literary Magazine this year will be a cup instead of the customary cash award, according to Mary Elizabeth Hussong '25, president of Theta Sigma Phi. It has been decided to give the cup as it constitutes a more lasting prize. The judges will consist of a committee of instructors of the English department, and the cup will be awarded soon after the last issue of the magazine, sometime in May. All stories published this year, including those in the last issue, will be considered.

JOHN HICKEY, FORMER TRAINER, NOW HOME

John Hickey, at one time University of Wisconsin athletic department trainer, who was run down by an automobile last winter, has returned to his home, 27 North Bassett street, after spending 14 weeks in the Wisconsin General hospital. Mr. Hickey suffered fractures of both legs in the crash. He is now able to move about the house with the aid of crutches.

NO RETURNS

At a late hour last night no returns had been received from Ann Arbor concerning the outcome of the Wisconsin-Michigan baseball game there.

TID BITS IN SPORTS

IOWA CITY, Iowa.—The University of Iowa will be host to all of the crack collegiate track men of the middle west at the fourth annual Western A. A. U. track and field meet June 20. Teams will be entered from most of the Big Ten and Missouri valley universities. Iowa holds six of the records that have been established since the organization of the meet in 1922.

EVANSTON, Ill.—Ralph Baker versus Ralph Baker. Such will be the case when Chicago and Northwestern face each other next fall on the gridiron. One is the star Purple halfback; the other is a prospective Maroon center. It will be amusing to read of Baker tackling Baker for a loss.

CHICAGO, Ill.—Bus Stevens of the Sigma Nu nine fanned 20 of the 21 D. U. batters that faced him in a recent Intramural ball game at Chicago. It looks as though the Maroon diamond mentor overlooked a good bet for a pitching ace when he failed to nail Stevens for the job.

EVANSTON, Ill.—Coach Tom Robinson, veteran Northwestern tank coach, is starting early to get his natators in shape for the 1926 season in water polo, the first to be held in the Big Ten. Tom had the first meeting of his prospective candidates yesterday to give them instructions in the rules of the sport.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—Now that the plunge has been abolished in Big Ten swim circles Pete Guzy of Gopher fame is despondent. All winter he has been working with his 127 pounds on the plunge and has displayed fair ability in the sport only to have such a setback. Guzy also stars on the gridiron and ball diamond.

EVANSTON, Ill.—Purple fans are advancing claims that their track captain, Royal Bouscher, has sole claims to title of indoor Big Ten champion in the pole vault since Brooker has been declared ineligible. At the meet Brooker and Bouscher tied for first honors.

Glenna Collett Scores Victory Over British Star

STOKEPOGES, Eng.—Miss Glenna Collett, former American woman golf champion, had a gala day in the men and women's tourney Saturday. She defeated Great Britain's longest hitter, Cyril Tolley, 1 up, in the afternoon, after beating Tolley and E. F. Storey 2 up in the morning. Miss Collett was teamed with Joyce Weathered in the morning foursome.

Efficiency Cup Tests to Begin at 4:30 Friday

Efficiency tests to determine the winner of the "perfect man" cup given by the physical education department will begin Friday of this week and did not begin last week as was previously announced.

Tests in group one to be given Friday, May 8, at 4:30 o'clock in the gymnasium annex include the dip and push up, forward dive and roll, and running broad jump. On Saturday, May 9, group two tests of the sit-up, fence vault, and rope climb will be held on the third floor of the gymnasium at 1 o'clock.

Friday, May 15, the 100 yard dash and running high jump of group three will be given on the lower campus, and the final events of the mile run and chinning the bar will take place in the annex on Saturday, May 16.

In order to score excellent in each test, the following results are necessary:

Fence vault, 5 feet 3 inches; rope climb, 15 seconds; forward dive and roll, 7 feet 6 inches; running high jump, 4 feet 6 inches; chinning the bar, 10 times; 100 yard dash, 11.3-5 seconds; dip and push up, 30 times; running broad jump, 15 times; one mile run, 6 minutes; and sit-up, 35 times. The man having the best all around average for these events will receive the silver cup.

EVEN LAKE MONONA GETS ROUGH AND KEEPS CREW AWAY

Yesterday afternoon was the first regular day slated for crew practice that the Badger oarsmen have been able to get on the water.

During the past few weeks when the big lake has been too rough the first eight has been transported to Lake Monona where they take the water at the foot of Broom street.

Yesterday, however, brought with it unusually bad weather, and even the old reliable, smaller lake was too rough for practice. Madison is due for a rain spell soon, Coach Vail says, but the present windy period should end in a short time. May is rather late for much wind, and soon the crew will be able to practice at will on Lake Mendota.

FRESHMEN FINISH ELIMINATIONS IN MAT TOURNAMENT

Ability of First Year Men
Shown in Series of Matches

The wrestling mats on the third floor of the gymnasium will be almost deserted from now until next fall as the freshmen tournament for class numerals has closed and intensive practice by the varsity squad is not being held.

A freshman squad that has pleased Coach Hitchcock throughout the entire season for hard work and ability has been holding elimination matches for the past two weeks, the final bout being last Saturday.

Cohen Wins

Louis Cohen, 115 pounds; Chow, 125 pounds; George Little, 135 pounds; James Myers, 145 pounds; Harold Kelley, 158 pounds; John Cole, 175 pounds; and Thomas Fortney, heavyweight survived the elimination.

Varsity Men Return

With the following varsity men back next year, one of the strongest squads in the history of Wisconsin wrestling should report for practice:

Minkow, Hanson, Elmer, and Meeuwssen, 115 pounds; Haas, and Bundy, 125 pounds; Wheeler, O'Laughlin, Sherbert and Holmes, 135 pounds; Capt. Lisle, Zedner, Harrison, 145 pounds; Chada, 158 pounds; Splees, 175 pounds; and Stipek, Muegge, heavyweight.

THE JUNIOR DANCE

Tee dance to be given May 22nd by the Junior class to make up the Prom deficit should be the best attended dance of the year. Every Junior has an obligation of honor to be there as well as a less altruistic reason, for if the dance fails, a class tax will certainly be necessary. And every other dance-inclined student of whatever class ought to regard this affair with especial favor, for, although the class of 1926 had the responsibility for the Prom, students of the other three classes enjoyed it equally. Prom was a gorgeous spectacle, well-managed, reasonably priced; it did not receive the support which it deserved.

NOW IS THE TIME

For a good many months we have been hearing about Wisconsin's acute need of greater legislative appropriations. By the president of the regents of the university, the president of the university, the president of the Alumni association, and members of the faculty the need has been proclaimed far and wide. In the Alumni handbook and in the columns of the Daily Cardinal students have been urged to write home about existing conditions and to persuade their parents and friends to induce their representatives in the legislature to pass requisite appropriations. It is hoped and believed that students have already made a serious effort to stir up action. They can easily do so, even though it is an indirect method, and it certainly has been shown to them that it was to their every interest, selfish and otherwise, to do so.

But now is the time for a concentrated drive to reinforce and cement previous efforts. The legislature is now actually considering the biennial university appropriation. And now, if ever, is the time for all good men to come to the aid of the party.

The real necessity for action has been made too apparent to need further comment. But there may be some small doubt in the minds of students as to the amount of real action they could cause. The first task would be, of course, to convince parents and friends of the necessity for immediate action and therefore of the reason for writing or, better, telegraphing to their senators and representatives. That, with the facts in hand, ought to be easy enough to do. Now would a veritable deluge of some 10,000 letters and telegrams have any effect upon the legislature? There are certain reasons why it should. First of all, the legislature is supposed to enact the will of the people, and such a mass of pleas would certainly be a convincing demonstration of the desire of Wisconsin citizens.

In the second place, legislators are, after all, human beings earning bread and butter, and their bread and butter in this case depends to some extent at least upon those very parents and friends of university students. The point is clear. Let's have some real effort in the next week. It will be worth it.

BRINGING IT HOME

No, this isn't going to be about famous bacon—although it is getting to be about time to think of bringing that home too. It is simply about a fact which is realized very little—or was up to the time that the museum robbery last week was made public.

There's a very much overworked axiom which says that "Blessings brighten as they take their flight." So it is with the Indian relics which were stolen from the historical museum. Few students realized just how valuable the collection in the fourth floor of the library is until they found that it was valuable enough to incite the concern of professional thieves whose business, quite naturally, is not the stealing of worthless articles.

Not more than half a dozen students can be seen at one time in the museum as a rule. Probably many go through four years here without even stepping inside of it. Now, however, the robbery has aroused our interest in the relics.

Madisonians scarcely notice the capitol as they walk around the square on their tours of shopping. Naturally enough store windows are more interesting. But if the building should burn down—if it could—they would stampede for photographs of it.

The loss which the museum suffered is a great one, but some consolation can be found in that it has brought home to us the realization that there is such a thing as a museum and that its relics are rather valuable.

Now we can but hope that the thieves will be apprehended if only in order that we may see what they got away with.

A TERRIBLE TOLL

17,500,000 motor vehicles caused an average of 52 killed and 1,180 injured per day in the United States in 1924. The year's total (19,000 killed, 450,000 injured) is more than twice as many as were killed and injured in the American army during the war. The dead and injured would, if gathered together, equal the population of Washington, D. C. Truly a terrible toll we pay to our desire to move faster! The only encouraging fact in the statistics recently published by the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters is that the rate of increase of deaths and accidents over 1923 was much less than the rate of increase of motor-driven vehicles. Reckless and careless driving is certainly one of the worst social problems that has to be faced today. Probably, as Jesse Phillips head of the bureau says, the only solution is in the education of the public.

The problem is a very real problem right here in Madison. One of the first things the visitor to the city is sure to observe is the fast driving and the frequent neglect of traffic regulations, especially by students. Undoubtedly one element which enters into this is the fact that the type of practically worthless flivver driven by so many makes the drivers more careless than they would be with more valuable cars. The wonder is that there are not more accidents caused by student-driven cars. It would be worth-while to educate this undergraduate community a little more deeply along these lines.

The making of summer school dates is now in order, according to various authentic reports.

The deet says that rodeo is to thrill at horse show and that better fireworks are to thrill Venetian nighters this year. Evidently it is going to be a thrilling spring in other places than the drive.

"In the spring a young man's fancy—" So it would seem from the news of the society page in the deet these last few days.

The first annual Gridiron Banquet which is soon to be staged by Sigma Delta Chi has already attracted a considerable amount of attention about the campus. The affair promises to be a big thing for the school.

Spring elections are approaching. The only way to keep campus politics all that they should be is to exercise the right of ballot judiciously and intelligently.

Finals—the semi-annual battle of blue books—are only a month off. It's time they commanded serious attention.

Plans are at last being made for holding the commencement exercises out-of-doors. With favorable weather conditions such a plan will give many a chance to attend the exercises who would not enjoy the privilege otherwise.

LITERARY NOTE

"Every Ethel M. Dell short story is an Ethel M. Dell novel in miniature." Perhaps that's what is wrong with them.

We always thought the Midwest Association of College Comics was for guys like the Haresfooters, until Octy's gang went to its convention at Ann Arbor.

Florence—Oh, is your name Min-kow?

Dave (In a kidding mood)—It used to be.

Florence—Oh, are you married?

The dumb dora who thought that an alienist was an immigration officer is * * * well, you say it.

We understand, from an indirect source, that the Society of Homely Men has decided to fine members a dime for each pun perpetrated in chapter meeting. Thank the Lord, we don't belong, or we'd be bust-eder than ever.

Dane county leads in tobacco production. From the countless numbers who try to borrow fags from us, we are led to believe that it leads in consumption, too.

According to a sosholochee instructor, it should be "Vox populi, vox mororum."

"Are you on Octy?" she asked us.

"Ah, oui," said we.

"What department?" queried she.

"Humor," we responded, to end the discussion.

"Ah, you're kidding me again."

".....announcement made by Eliot Sharp $25, chairman of the committee," the Deet.

Con says they're even putting a price on chairmen now.

After trying to dig up a date for the Spring Shuffle (oh, the flowers that bloom, etc.), we came to the conclusion that there's a boycott, and we're the boy.

The Deet says we're the one college that keeps up the serenading tradition. That may be an advantage, and then again we may go elsewhere.

According to Relay programs, it's "Robert Lewin '36." Perfect?

"When, oh when," asks the campus, "will there be another Lit?"

Don't worry, children, dear Stratford is here, and if Gawge Jawnsen slips, the Corbett will do his stuff.

All this dope about the Proletarian and Corbett, et cetera, is more or less Greekish to the newer inhabitants. We've been asked no less than seven times who this bird Corbett is, anyhow. Do thy stuff, dear heart.

Marya returned the compliment he gave her in the Proletarian by calling him "Stradford" in Sunday's Statjour.

We have a new money-making scheme. We are going to have printed some cards bearing the slogan:

"No, we don't know any word of any number of letters meaning anything."

And then we'll sell them to profs, doctors, lawyers, preachers, and editors, at a goodly price.

NEBUCHADNEZZAR.

Readers Say So

Yes, But Ain't it So?

Editor, the Daily Cardinal:

In some colleges students do not buy their texts. The library keeps a supply on hand and checks them out each semester to the students taking the various courses. But this decreases the sale of books and is not likely to happen where members of the faculty write texts.

We men allow barbers to scrape all our heads with the same brushes, regardless of how many scalp diseases there may be in the city, then wonder why men become bald and women do not.

Many a naughty act has a natural function in life. Medical students tell us that even petting is necessary to stimulate proper physiological development in most girls. And that often a married woman suffers from what amounts to horrid brutality because this side of her courtship has been neglected.

The Eng. Dept. is a bunch of dumb-bells for not giving every first-semester freshman a course in Note Taking and Note Filing. Many students go through the U without learning how to take decent notes, or file them away for future reference.

Little grains of truth may make the mighty mad.

L. L. CHAPMAN '25.

EXCLUDING CO-EDS

Editor, the Daily Cardinal:

This is a friendly complaint which will doubtless be approved by many other Wisconsin women.

Recently I have read with interest, stories about the Gridiron banquet which is to bring men students and faculty together for a secret discussion of their problems. It is a wonderful idea, but why limit it to the men?

Why could not women also be allowed to come? They are just as interested in the welfare of Wisconsin as are the men. Besides, it would give them a chance to meet up informally with some of the prominent faculty whom they rarely get to see except in the lecture room.

As an example of the lack of contact, I might mention the case of George Little. He is known by most of the men and is probably recognized on the street by a majority of them. On the other hand, I venture to say there is not one of every 10 girls on the campus who knows him or has ever met

BLAINE OBSERVES FIFTIETH BIRTHDAY

Governor Spends Anniversary at Work in Office in Capitol

Gov. J. J. Blaine

Gov. John J. Blaine has reached the half century mark. Working with vim at the desk of his executive office in the capitol, Gov. Blaine passed today his 50th birthday.

Gov. Blaine was delighted by word from Lieut. Gov. Henry Hueber, who presides at the conclaves of the senate, that adjournment of the legislature is virtually assured for June 1.

To Gov. Blaine this announcement of a vacation to come so early this year was in the nature of a real birthday present.

"Well, that's a good birthday present," was his remark when Gov. Blaine received the news.

Born on a farm near the town of Wingville, Grant county, on May 4, 1875, Gov. Blaine entered the University of Wisconsin from whose law course he graduated in 1896 and went immediately into the practice of law. He is now serving his third term as governor.

Y. M. Enrollments Expire; Campaign For Renewals on

"The object of the University Y. M. C. A. membership drive is to re-enlist former members, and to interest men in the things for which the 'Y' stands," asserts C. V. Hibbard, secretary of the University Y. M. C. A.

Under the constitution, memberships expired at the time of general elections for 'Y' officers, which took place April 1.

Edwin Prien '26 is chairman of the membership drive committee. There will be no active campaign to gain new members. Men can enroll at any time in the office of the "Y" secretary.

"All men of kindred interest can join the Y. M. C. A.," says Secretary Hibbard. "A membership here gives a member guest privileges at any 'Y' during the summer."

WORLD of SOCIETY

Frederick Bickel
Weds Leading Lady
in "The Show-off"

News from Milwaukee that is of interest to many Madison residents and university associates is that announcing the marriage of Frederick Bickel, former Haresfoot and Union Vodvil star. Mr. Bickel, who is acting under the stage name of Frederic March, was married on Saturday to Ellis Baker, leading lady in "The Show-off," playing in Milwaukee this week. Judge John C. Karel performed the ceremony and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Meyer, Chicago, were attendants.

Miss Baker, daughter of Edith Ellis Baker, playwright, has played the lead in two New York productions, in addition to extensive stock engagements.

Mr. Bickel graduated from the university in 1920. He entered the dramatic field shortly afterward, first in stock companies, and the last two years has been leading man in several New York successes. He completed an engagement in Chicago on Saturday in "The Knife in the Wall."

While in the university, Mr. Bickel played in many student productions and appeared in Union Vodvil a number of times.

Helen M. Jelmstad,
Orin Gordon Kaasa
Married on May 1

The marriage of Helen Herle Jelmstad, daughter of Mrs. Thora Jelmstad, 435 West Dayton street, to Orin Gordon Kaasa, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Kaasa, Los Angeles, Calif., formerly of Merrill, Wis., took place on Friday, May 1, at Chicago. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. Thorson at the parsonage of his church and attendants were the sister of the bride, Miss Bernice Jelmstad, and John Rutherford, Chicago.

The bride wore a tan georgette crepe ensemble suit with an orchid hat and a corsage of white roses and orchid sweet peas.

The bride studied nursing at the Chicago General hospital. Mr. Kaasa graduated from the chemical engineering course of the university with the class of 1923.

The couple left on a trip to Fox Lake and points in Wisconsin and will be at home in Whiting, Ind., after May 15.

On Other Campuses

BLOOMINGTON, Ind.—Celebration of the one-hundred-fifth anniversary of the founding of Indiana university will be observed throughout the state and country by alumni associations of the university May 6. President W. L. Bryan and Howard Wynegar will be the main speakers in Indianapolis where the celebration will be held.

LAFAYETTE, Ind.—The board of trustees of Purdue university has recently adopted a new plan by which it will take complete control of all student organizations whose annual income is more than $50, with the exception of organized fraternities and sororities and other groups occupying houses. An auditor has been appointed who will supervise purchases, expenditures, and receipts.

AUSTIN, Texas—Commencement exercises of the University of Texas will be of more than usual interest this year, because they will be held in conjunction with the inauguration ceremonies for President W. M. W. Splawn. Commencement will take place in Memorial stadium on Monday, June 8.

CHICAGO, Ill.—Thirteen men of the baseball team will take the 10,000 mile trip planned for last year and postponed on account of unsettled condition in the Island Empire. The team will leave in September for Hawaii, Japan, and the Philippines.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—Because of the fact that the only two songs on the university repertoire are "Minnesota Hail to Thee" and "The Rouser," the Minnesota Union has offered a prize of $50 for the best college song text and another for the best music. The songs are to be written by students and submitted to the judgment committee.

COLLEGIATE LEAGUE
POSTPONES MEETING

The meeting of the Collegiate League of Women Voters, which was to be held tonight, has been postponed until next Tuesday evening because of the conflict with the senior banquet tonight, according to Virginia E. Ballantyne '25, publicity chairman.

Intramural news

Interfraternity Baseball

In the interfraternity baseball games played Sunday, Delta Upsilon walked over Phi Kappa Epsilon by a 15-3 score; Chi Psi trounced Sigma Phi by a 11 to 6 score; Phi Kappa beat the Phi Deltis by a 13-8 total; Phi Sigma Kappa won over Delta Chi 6-2; and Chi Phi beat Phi Kappa Psi 7-3.

Umpires of League

Official umpires were appointed at the beginning of the season by the intramural department. These umpires are paid by that department and the officiating is free to the fraternities. All of the remaining games must be played on schedule time on the scheduled diamond. Games will be forfeited to the team that shows up for the game, if the other isn't there, and unless permission has been obtained to postpone the game by the captain of each team from George Berg. In case a game is postponed, the umpires must be so informed.

Hillel League

The Laphams defeated the B'nai Briths 9-6 in indoor baseball at Brittingham park. In the second game the Judeans were victorious over the P. B.'s 10-7. The Judeans are leading the league at present having won both games.

By the Majestic Players
By J. F. W.

Unwilling to let Hamlet have the last word on the matter of life after death, a speculation which has always fascinated humanity, Mr. Sutton Vane sat down to write a play which would disprove forever the Shakespearean fallacy of "To die—to sleep; no more." The result is "Outward Bound," which has enjoyed a very successful run in New York, and which has now become a profitable and commendable stock vehicle. This week the Majestic Players are doing a good job with it.

Ingenious in conception and masterful in execution, the play is probably the most unusual either of the local stock companies have put on this season. It is not prosy and not spooky, but interesting throughout, and funny in not a few places. Best of all, it does not seek to point a moral—at least not an obvious one. But it is exceedingly provocative of thought.

The casting has been wise, even if it means that Miss Homer has to lean on the arms of a gentleman other than Mr. Hesselberg, whose lore is probably heavy enough without the added responsibility of escorting a clinging vine into the great beyond. Mr. Roberts is hardly a tried actor, but does creditably. Miss McNair is new to the Majestic boards, and except for a tendency to talk too fast and without much regard for the dramatic significance of her lines, is a capable performer. The others are especially good in this play. By the way, Miss Homer and Mr. Hesselberg are leaving the company after this week.

"The Spaniard"
Featuring Ricardo Cortez
Presented at the Parkway
By J. F. W.

The advance press notices called this "The Sheik of 1925," which, of course, it isn't. Nor is it another "Blood and Sand." But it really isn't a bad picture and possessed of a singular virtue, which should distinguish it from others of its genre: none of the women smoke, and there isn't a single Spanish dance. But the bull-fight temptation was too much. Well, there wouldn't be much of a plot without it.

The woman in the case is Miss Dolores Annesley, played adroitly and with a charming European flare by Jetta Goudal, a proud and beautiful daughter of the best blood in England. "The Spaniard" lays siege to her haughty heart, and kidnaps her when his advances are none too warmly received. It's wild and thrilling.

Photographically and scenically, the picture has much to commend it. There are many intriguing exteriors, and the landscape, whether genuinely Spanish or not, is beautiful.

That's not all. You should see the Goudal wardrobe.

Classroom Practice

The front and editorial pages of five metropolitan newspapers are being copied by students in the editing classes of the Course in Journalism.

By editing these pages students will learn some of the elements of make-up and become acquainted with the various styles of the newspapers.

A managing editor and a composing room foreman has been selected from each class to take charge of the work. The managing editor and his assistants write the stories, the headlines, and arrange the make-up. The composing room foreman is in charge of the printing of the page.

The papers being copied are the Chicago Tribune, Indianapolis News, Milwaukee Journal, Milwaukee Sentinel and the Chicago Daily News.

The Old Soak Tries

Stock Performers

"The Old Soak"
Presented at the Orpheum
By the La Vern Players
By TED.

"The Old Soak" was picked by Burns Mantle as one of the ten best plays produced in New York during the season of 1922-23. Personally, having seen the former production of the play and having read the play itself, I went to the Orpheum Sunday evening with the opinion that Don Marquis had done a pretty good job in writing it. It is a good play, but not well done. It is not entirely bad, however. There are two good performances: that of Adele Bradford as the "Old Soak's" wife, and that of Ralph Bellamy as his son.

After Roy Hilliard's fine performance of "Lightnin'" I fully expected that he would play Clem Hawley, which he could have done as well as he did Bill Jones. The part, however, is played by Richard Allan, who neither looks nor acts it. In spite of his gray hairs, his body and actions are young, except on the occasions when he remembers to act old. And aside from his appearance, he does not even tickle the outside of Clem's character. The "Old Soak" was made up of two sides, one a gentle tenderness not unlike that of "Lightnin'," the other a sort of bar-room humor without lowness. Mr. Allan never quite reaches either side. He steers a rather colorless middle passage.

Al Jackson and Miss La Vern both have character parts in which they are good, but by no means brilliant. Rose Dean has been brought in as a new member in the short role of Ina, a cabaret dancer. In am glad the part was no longer.

The below will give you an idea of what Michigan—or one student from Michigan—thought of Haresfoot. It is rather amusing to note that he says that "The Haresfoot club is designed to resemble Mimes" (the Michigan club)—amusing in that Haresfoot was founded a decade or so before Mimes first saw the light of day.

Anyway, here you are.

"IVAN HO"

A review, by Robert Mansfield. "Ivan Ho!" probably intended as a sprightly musical comedy by its sponsors, although they hesitate to identify it as such on the program, is the twenty-seventh annual production by the Haresfoot club of the University of Wisconsin. The Haresfoot club is designed to resemble Mimes, and with this information by way of introduction, the review may begin.

From a musical viewpoint, the show possessed two good numbers. Two other numbers also had excellent lyrics, and one chorus feebly approached the standing audience crown. The book possessed little or no plot, the musical numbers were awkwardly fitted into the lines, and although the cast included many names, there were but two real actors on the stage. The orchestra, however—it should be added in all fairness—approached very near syncopated perfection.

Naturally, Sir Walter Scott would never have recognized his mutilated masterpiece, surely there was not sufficient resemblance to have caused him unrest. The central idea, it is true, had something to do with Ivan falling in love with Rowena; not that they acted out any such idea—but there was simply no other excuse in the show to serve as a plot.

The press-agented By Rivers as Rowena was as pretty as boys go, and undoubtedly he could dance—save that no opportunity was given him. Instead, they made him sing and tried to make him act: neither attempt quite met with success. The truly clever work of Ivan, however, covered practically all the sins of the performance. Tebecca also shared with Ivan the meager acting honors, and the jester, Wamba, took unto himself alone the conventional vocal laurels: he was really good.

The costumes by Lester of Chicago were in his usual sumptuous manner, and the settings, designed and executed by members of the club, were pleasing, adequate. Mr. Shuter's direction must have been something near to genius for no less a talent could have made as much from so very little; it was certainly not his fault, but rather the frankly disinterested attitude of the actors that caused the audience at the opening performance in Madison to hiss and leave the theater in maddening blocs.

American firm will build a water-works in Athens, Greece, this being a fair return for her culture.

"I Want My Man"

At the Strand

A woman's determination to win back her own husband is the strangely interesting theme of "I Want My Man." One is peculiarly conscious of how much prestige the dollar sign can exert on some women who will marry a fortune instead of its possessor. Milton Sills plays his role appreciatively but the plot is no masterpiece.

NORMALS REPORT MUSIC ENTRIES

Winners of State High School Music Preliminaries Enter Contest Here

Winners of state high school music preliminaries, who will be guests of the School of Music when they come to Madison for the finals May 14 and 15, have been reported by nine state normal schools. Returns from Dodgeville, Mineral Point, Fond du Lac, and several other districts have not yet been received by Aagot M. Borge, member of the School of Music faculty, who is in charge of the contest.

The high schools are divided into two classes, class A includes those of more than 400 students; class B, those of less than that number. La Crosse and Platteville were the only normal schools at which competitions for both classes were not held; the Platteville schools were all class B; La Crosse schools, class A.

Fifty-two soloists are already registered to compete in the Madison competitions besides those who have not yet sent in their names, and the participants in group events such as the orchestra, glee clubs, and chorus contests.

The Wisconsin high school, where many music supervision students in the School of Music are teaching, has contestants entered in five final events. The School for Blind, Janesville, has entered two soloists, soprano and contralto, and the school orchestra.

The normal schools whose returns have been received to date are Eau Claire, La Crosse, Milwaukee, Oshkosh, Platteville, River Falls, Stevens Point, Superior, and Whitewater.

AMERICAN AID TO EUROPE MAY END

Peace Necessary if Help is to Continue, Says New Ambassador

LONDON — The new American ambassador, Alanson B. Houghton, speaking tonight before a distinguished audience here which included the prime minister of Great Britain, declared in friendly but firm terms that, unless peace based on good will were re-established in Europe he feared American assistance for the reconstruction of Europe must cease.

The ambassador made it clear in the course of his address that he referred not only to moral but monetary aid.

Coming as it did from the former American ambassador to Germany following his recent visit to the U. S. and conferences with President Coolidge, the pronouncement was calculated to create a profound impression upon the statesmen and diplomats.

Because of its importance and the authoritative note which it sounded, it was assumed by those trained in diplomacy that he must undoubtedly be voicing the views of the administration at Washington.

Special significance was attached to the fact that the statement comes at a time when considerable suspicion of Germany is being voiced in various parts of Europe, particularly France, because of the election to the presidency of Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, who is asserted by some to represent those reactionary forces which are inimical to the peace and interest of at least some of the allies.

Olson Heads Committee

This change in Wisconsin's commencement program is the culmination of efforts started last fall to hold exercises in a larger place to accommodate those who wished to attend. Several sites were discussed, and Camp Randall was the most advisable location. The senior class approves of the change.

Members of the faculty committee are Prof. Julius E. Olson, chairman; Profs. C. I. Corp, G. L. Larson, F. A. Ogg, J. G. Fuller, and George A. Chandler, secretary. To assist in planning music, decorations and the program Dean F. Louise Nardin, Profs. W. H. Varnum and E. B. Gordon have been called in by the committee.

The senior class commencement committee consists of Wenzel Fabera, chairman; Irene Norman and Bert Hilberts, assistant chairmen; Margaret Meyer, Helen Baldauf, Emerson Manzer, Walter Frueck and Harlan Gilbert. This committee cooperates with the faculty committee on public functions.
