BADGERS BEAT WOLVERINES IN A CLOSE GAME

One Run Keeps Michigan From Big Ten Title

One run cost Michigan the Big Ten baseball championship when with the score tied, Farrington counted the tally which enabled Wisconsin to defeat the Wolverines by a 7 to 6 score at Camp Randall yesterday. The winning run crossed the plate in the seventh inning of a nip and tuck battle which was not won until Paddock struck out the last Michigan player in the ninth inning, with two Wolverines waiting on bases to bring in the winning counters.

Paddock Pitches Well

Although Michigan hit two home runs, Paddock pitched a masterful game, holding the 1920 champions to five hits collected in the only innings in which they scored. Wisconsin swatters amassed a total of 13 safe knocks, three of which went for extra bases. The Badger wrecking machine sent Liverance, Michigan hurler, to the showers in the third inning after two runs had given Wisconsin a lead. Dixon who finished the game for the Wolverines was no more effective and allowed nine hits.

Williams Hits Homer

Two hits and a stolen base in the first inning sent the losers into a two run lead. Wisconsin counted one in the second and took a one run margin in the third inning. Four more scores were chased across the plate in the third and fourth frames, giving Wisconsin a substantial lead. Aided by a walk, an error, and two hits, one of them a home run, the Michigan nine collected four runs in the sixth. A home run by "Rollie" Williams tied the score at six all, and Capt. Elliott's triple sent Farrington across the rubber in the lucky seventh for what proved to be the winning tally.

Michigan proved dangerous to the last. Genebach led off in the ninth with a grounder which Farrington missed. Vick sacrificed him to second with a vicious knock that Paddock injured his hand in stopping. The Badger twirler resumed play after a short rest and walked pinch hitter Roman. With two men on the paths, Paddock tightened up and whiffed Uteritz and Van Boven for the last outs of the game.

Six errors were chalked up against the Michigan aggregation, while the Wisconsin squad committed three mistakes. Two of the Badgers' errors aided Michigan to take a lead in the first inning and tie up the score in the sixth. Michigan erred three times in the third and with the help of two hits and a stolen base, Wisconsin managed to mark up two runs in this inning.

Every Wisconsin player connected for at least one safe hit. Farrington had a field day at bat, gathering three safeties. He singled in the third, fifth, and seventh innings, and drove in one run besides scoring one himself. "Rollie" and Jack Williams both collected two hits. Williams drove in two buttons in the fourth by tripling to right with two men on bases, and he slammed a home run through center field for the tying run in the sixth inning with two men out. For

Body of Engler Recovered From Bottom of Lake

The body of Melvin B. Engler '23, who was drowned in Lake Mendota on May 29, was recovered from the lake at 5:30 Sunday afternoon from a depth of 60 feet. It was shipped to New Glarus from the Schroeder funeral parlors Monday morning for burial. The funeral will be held this afternoon.

Engler's body was found within 100 feet of the marker which had been placed where it was thought the body had gone down. The recovery was made by a party consisting of Capt. Thomas Isabell, John Niebuhr, J. B. Stubely, A. K. Willett '23, Robert Heese '24, and a party of Theta Delta Chi fraternity brothers.

The body was found after an all day search. It was imbedded in the mud at the bottom of the lake, and the spot had been dragged repeatedly since the drowning more than a week ago.

Captain Boutin of the Milwaukee life-saving station, who had been employed to assist in the search for the body, left Friday morning, asserting that he believed the body was on its way to the surface and that further dragging was useless.

Members of the Theta Delta Chi fraternity, of which Engler was a member, will attend the funeral services at New Glarus this afternoon in a body.

HONORARY DANCE SOCIETY FORMED

Membership Now Limited to Those Getting Dance Honors

The students of Miss Helen H'Doubler's dancing classes last night announced the formation of "Orchesus," honorary dancing society. The aim of the organization is to bring into active play all phases of dancing, costuming, writing, and composing. At first the intention is to limit the membership to girls who have shown marked ability in dancing technique and interpretations. As Orchesus gains a footing, an attempt will be made to find a place for all those vitally interested in dancing, but whose ability leans toward staging and composing, rather than the actual execution of the dance.

Bertha Ochsner '19 has been elected president in appreciation of her many contributions of both dance and music. "Orchesus" has been chosen from the Greek word meaning "to dance" and thirteen seniors and two juniors have been selected as the charter members. The active members have not yet been chosen, but the selection will soon take place. The role of charter members includes:

Honorary Members
Helen H'Doubler, Mary Eyre Trumpp.

Agnes Samuels '21, Julia Hanks '21, Eleanor Riley '21, Frances Ellen Tucker '21, Mary Parkinson '21, Lillian Stupp '21, Janet Epstein '21, Bertha Ochsner '19, Katherine Maier '22, Elizabeth Sehon '22, Elizabeth Waterman '21, Charlotte MacEwan '21, Esther Graham '21, Dorothy Schaper '21, Lee Bacon '21, Helen Harper '21.

SENATE TAKES DRASIC ACTION AGAINST THE GREEN CAP, RUSH AND ALL CAP NIGHT TRADITIONS

Twenty Students Called to Testify in an Investigation of Saturday's Class Fight Gotten Underway Today

Green caps, the class rush, and Cap night have been abolished.

Meeting on Sunday afternoon to consider the freshman-sophomore Cap night fight of Saturday, the student senate voted to "abolish from the university of Wisconsin the wearing of

SENATE ANNOUNCEMENT

The student senate wants it distinctly understood that the senate is not acting as a court in this matter, but is merely conducting an investigation of the facts prior to making a report to the faculty, according to Senator David Lacey '21. Yesterday's meeting was public, and because of this fact proved unsatisfactory, for it was impossible to obtain proper testimony in the presence of so many spectators.

Today at 4:30 there will be a private investigation conducted by the senate, at which officers of both lower classes, injured men, and men who have been pointed out as "ring leaders" will be questioned. The senate wishes to especially emphasize the fact that the investigation is in no way a trial.

REEVE IS RUNNING FOR A. C. F. BOARD

Edwin A. Reeve '23 has announced his candidacy for one of the two positions as student representative on the A. C. F. board to be filled at the elections today.

Reeve is a member of Saddle and Sirloin club and was an exhibitor in the 1921 Little International. He was also a member of the beef cattle committee for the university exposition.

ATHLETIC FRAT TO HOLD 10 MILE WALK

The 10 mile walk requirement for Sigma Delta Psi, national honorary athletic fraternity, will be held this afternoon at 3:30. The walk will begin in front of the gymnasium and lead around the lake shore course. The second test to be held today will be the 100 yard swim which will take place at 5:30 in the gymnasium tank.

Up to this time, only one man, Heuer has successfully passed all of the tests during the 1921 trials.

950 '22 BADGERS NOT CALLED FOR

Nine hundred and fifty students have as yet not called for their 1922 Badgers. It is essential that the books be disposed of before the end of the scholastic year. By presenting their stubs, students may secure their Badgers at the Co-op, the University pharmacy, the Menges pharmacies, or the Badger pharmacies where the books are on open sale.

green caps by freshmen and all class fights, including the class rush and Cap night." Other traditions were not changed.

Investigation Begins

Nothing else was done at the meeting on Sunday, but an investigation involving the questioning of witnesses was begun yesterday afternoon at a meeting in the Green room of the Y. M. C. A.

Of the score of witnesses present only 10 could be examined in the limited time and the hearing will be resumed this afternoon at 4:30.

Those examined included the students hurt and burned, class officers, and others involved in the affair.

Ten Testify

Those who testified were John Hurley '24, freshman class president; Ingwald Viste '24 and Rudolf Noer '24, freshmen who were burned with phosphorus; Courtland Conlee '24, Willet Kempton '23, Gordon Huseby '23, Howard Willett '23, Vilas Hanks '23, sophomore sergeant-at-arms, Maynard Brown '23, sophomore treasurer, and William Dorward '23, of the sophomore traditions committee.

Little was learned from any of the witnesses except Willett and Kempton. None of the sophomore class officers had been at the rush. They said that they knew of no plans either to start the fight or prevent it.

Viste, with head and hands bandaged, told how the phosphorus had splashed over the pile on him; and Noer, who was burned on one hand and forehead, could give no other information.

The witnesses were examined under oath and the examination was conducted by Senator Melbourne Bergerman '22, other members occasionally asking questions. No charges were brought against any of the witnesses, though Kempton was informed, after several minutes of questioning, that there were charges against him. When he asked what they were, the senators refused to tell him.

Willett First to Testify

Howard Willett gave the most striking testimony. Appearing with his head bandaged as a result of Saturday's fray, he admitted having thrown the bottle said to have contained phosphorous. His testimony concerning his own injury and the phosphorus incident was given in a straightforward, clear-cut manner. The testimony is as follows:

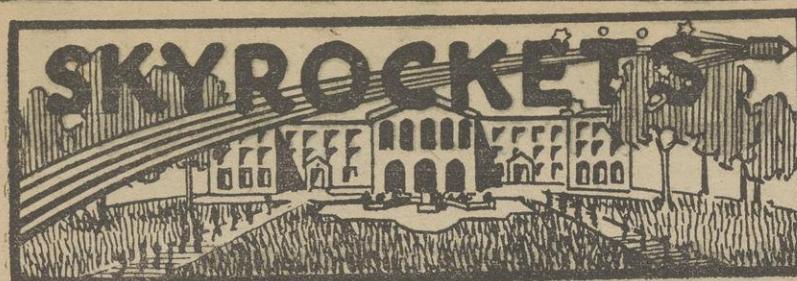

Q.—Did you see the man who struck you?

A.—No.

Q.—Were there many using clubs in the fight?

A.—I don't know how many used clubs, but all the frosh I saw had them.

THERE are lots of good reasons why there should be no col. today. The most important being the lack of contributors. At any rate, there aren't many more days "for to tote the weary load," and before ten days are run we'll be back at the grocery store in Sauk City.

NOT all of us are quite sure of graduating. Marge Heins went to the registrar's office yesterday to check over her credits, and they told her she was two shy.

NOW we don't think Marg is TOO shy.

WE'RE sorry that we feel so much like running, but we can't resist the temptation to repeat one of the bright sayings of the roommate, who remarked that the plot of "The Yellow Jacket" was a regular hornet's nest of trouble.

BY the abolition of the green cap, the Student Senate doesn't make such an awfully bad mistake. In view of the fact that traditions under stringent regulation and suppression cannot thrive, it is much better to abolish them utterly.

TRADITION - LESS conditions next fall will give the "Way-Back-Whennars" the best opportunity of years.

THEY WON'T STAY PARKED (Clipped from the Cleveland Plain-Dealer)

The University of Wisconsin now has so many students that traffic rules have had to be established in the corridors of the college buildings. A fellow who parks his co-ed for more than an hour in one place will no doubt find her tagged when he returns.

AN example of what a newspaper can do with things.

YELLOW JACKET COSTUMES GOOD

Senior Play to Make Use of Original Chinese Effects

Gorgeous mandarin coats and gay silke robes from China have been obtained by Francis Ryan '21 for "The Yellow Jacket," senior play which will be presented on June 20 and 21 in the open air theater.

Wu Hsün Yin, the Emperor, will wear a priest's robe from a Buddhist temple in Thibet. This garment has sleeves cut in the shape of a horse's hoof, for this robe was once worn by attendants at a temple dedicated to the sacred horse.

All the conventions of the Chinese stage will be observed in this production. The property man, a very convenient and conspicuous person on the Oriental stage, will appear in sombre black. The Chorus, the man who keeps the audience informed about the progress of the play, will be dressed in red and black. Only the dignitaries will wear flowing robes. They can also be distinguished by their long finger nails, for in China an official never works. The Emperor himself has one gold finger nail and one of green.

The audience easily identify Dafodil, who attempts to usurp the throne, for on the Chinese stage the villain's face is always painted with green, red and orange so that his vile purposes will be invisible behind a mask of color.

Wu Hoo Git, the beautiful hero, will wear the yellow jacket, the insignia of royalty, when he defeats the villain and secures the throne which is rightfully him. Lum Blossom, his bride, wears the Chinese trousers and jacket, until she dons the royal robes.

Chinese students at the university have loaned costumes and Oriental musical instruments. The committee is also indebted to Mrs. William H. Page, Mrs. Eugene A. Gilmore, Mrs. Warner and Miss

THE Lit is out. We like it. Margery Latimer has a story, and there's an editorial on W. Jennings Bryan. What more?

Divvy Up With Him

Dear Ed:

There is a robin that sits quietly outside my window all night, and when I attempt to creep stealthily in with the dawn, he awakens my room mate with his noisome tweeting. How can I legally persuade him to cease this incriminating practice?

LITTLE BEN.

THEY tell us that the porter at the station greets Mabel Drew's homecomings with the solicitation, "Carry your bags, boss? Never broke a bottle yet."

IN view of the auto accident on the Delta Gamma Death Corner last Sunday, we must ask the girls to attempt to be less distracting. We might even go so far as to run a boxed head on the column, setting forth the column's reconstruction plan for the safety of Langdon street, for man, beast, and Psi U. The chief plank in this reformation scheme would be the removal of the front porch, and a strict policing of all approaches. We might suggest that the Pi Phis establish a crossing station, with a watch tower, etc. Jack thinks this would be perfectly safe, for, says he, who stops to gaze at the Pi Phi house?

WOMEN ATHLETES BANQUET TONIGHT

W. A. A. Awards Will be Made to All Winners of Past Year

W. A. A. will hold its annual banquet this evening at 6 o'clock in the Woman's building. Physical education faculty members will be guests of the organization.

"This is the biggest event of the year for W. A. A." said Romayne Berryman '23, who is in charge of the banquet. "We are to decide about changing the present point system in women's athletics and all business of the year is to be brought to a close."

Emblems and pins, consisting of the W. A. A. pin, the big "W," the little "W," the final emblem, and the archery cup, will be awarded to the winners.

Mabel Winters '21, president of W. A. A., will be toastmistress, and toasts will be given by Marguerite Shepard '21, Marion Strassburger '22, Josephine Doring '23, and Nina Faris '24. Dean Louise Nardin, Dr. Rosenberry, and Miss B. Trilling, head of the physical educational department, will be speakers for the occasion.

Cardinal and white decorations will be used. A Maypole will decorate the table for the guests of honor. Small fields, representing various sports, will be displayed in the center of each table.

Tickets are on sale at Lathrop under the direction of Irene Clayton '23.

G. Brock, 1820 Maple st., won the Oakland touring car given away Saturday night at the American Legion carnival. The number was 854.

Oehler. Prof. Daniel Mead, who has been in China with several engineering parties, has loaned a Manchu coat of the Ming dynasty.

The cast of "The Yellow Jacket" will be made up for the play by students who are studying dramatic art under Miss Gertrude Johnson.

JUNIOR ADVISORS MEET IN LATHROP

All women who are to act as junior advisors for next year will meet in Lathrop room, Wednesday, June 8, at 7:15 p. m. Miss Lela F. Douthart, assistant to the dean of women, will speak, definite plans for organization will be discussed, and an impersonation of an advisor and an advisee will be given by Alma Fenn '23 and Elizabeth Kirk '23.

Every girl who will act as an advisor is urged to attend the meeting and sign for a freshman, or she may sign at any time with one of the committee. The junior advisory committee consists of Cleo Parsley, chairman, Mildred Rieck, Blanche Field, Gretchen Kronke, Frances Wright, Margaret Brabant, Merle Shaw, Annieta Schroeder, and Mary Nee.

The junior advisory system, which has up till now failed to accomplish what was expected of it, will be on trial for the last time next year, so every girl, whether or not she has received a notification card, is asked to help in making the organization a success and keeping it on the campus.

The films for the motion picture Sunlit Norway, which will be shown at Christ Presbyterian church Tuesday night, have arrived. There is 11,000 feet of film, which gives more than two hours of entertainment.

BIG SUMMER ENROLLMENT IS EXPECTED

Student Registration May Exceed That of Pre-War University

With an enrollment in 1920 of 3,578, the summer session of the university this summer from June 27 to August 5 is expected to break all records, according to indications which are being received at the office of Prof. S. H. Goodnight, director of the summer session.

"The enrollments in the session have been increasing annually with a regular growth that will soon rival the pre-war registration of the university," Dean Goodnight stated yesterday. "More and more the session is growing in popularity with regular students who find it convenient to make-up credits or to graduate in less time than four years."

A majority of the heads of the departments in the university will remain here for the summer session. In past years instructors from other schools have been procured to assist and give some of the courses. This summer, however, a larger number than formerly have arranged to remain. Courses will be given in all five colleges.

Along with the features of the lake, outdoor sports of tennis, fishing, bathing, and other summer attractions, an extensive program of recreation and entertainment has been arranged. The first hour of Monday evenings will be devoted to a "Play Hour" to be held at the gymnasium under the direction of Dr. J. C. Elsom. Games of every kind will be played at this time.

Lectures will be given throughout the week, the speakers to be announced in printed weekly programs given out at the registrar's office. Departments are planning special lectures to the summer session students during the six weeks.

General entertainment programs will be given every Friday evening under the auspices of the university in the Outdoor theater. The Devereux Players will give four plays of modern drama on July 14, 15, and 16. Community singing, led by Prof. P. W. Dykema, School of Music, will be held every Tuesday evening.

Excursions by launch to visit the many Indian mounds and village sites and other points of interest on the shores of the Madison lakes will be conducted by C. E. Brown, curator of the Historical museum. Trips to the Dells of the Wisconsin, Devil's lake, Blue Mound, and other places near Madison will be conducted frequently on Saturdays by Professors Whitbeck, Finch, and Blanchard of the department of geology.

Outdoor life will be offered to those who care to join the tent colony on Lake Mendota. The colony is operated at a low cost by the university in connection with a local tent manufacturing company. Launch, mail and grocery service will be provided for daily.

For the convenience of the present students who are planning to remain for the summer session, the professors of the faculty will be in their offices all day June 27 for advice and consultation. Registration will be held June 25-27.

RIFLE TEAM WINS IN TWO MATCHES

The cadet corps rifle team ended the season with two victories, a win over Northwestern in a dual meet, and a win over Cornell and Wyoming in a triangular meet, according to the official results of these meets which have just been received.

In the dual meet, the Wisconsin team scored 1,260 points to 1,156 scored by Northwestern, and in the triangular competition, the Badgers placed first with 858 points, Wyoming was second with 855, and Cornell third, with 846.

BADGERS TROUNCE WOLVERINES 7 TO 6

the Wolverines, Shackelford got the most hits, with a home run which accounted for two tallies in the first inning and a single sent in another in the sixth. Shackelford scored two runs.

Michigan jumped into a two run lead in the first frame. With one down, Van Boven sent a Texas leaguer over short stop. Perrin flied out to Elliott, and Van Boven stole second. Shackelford crashed the ball for a home run into left, but he was almost caught at the plate by a speedy return from R. Williams. In the Badger half, Lyman walked after Williams had lofted to Perrin. Nothing came of this opening, for Perrin made a sparkling shoe string catch of Farrington's low fly, and Elliott lofted to Uteritz.

Michigan went out in one, two, three order in the third. For Wisconsin, Paddock got a life on a bad throw to first by Karpus. R. Williams sacrificed Paddock to third and Lyman's single to left field sent him over for the tying run. Farrington connected for safety, and was cornered between first and second. While Shackelford and Uteritz were occupied with Farrington, Lyman uncovered some heady base running and was safe at home. Farrington eluded the two Wolverines and got back to the first sack. Elliott was safe on an error by Van Boven who tried to force Farrington at second. The Badger shortstop was caught off second base, and J. Williams ended the agony by striking out.

Wisconsin counted two more in the next inning. Snow and Paddock singled to right with two gone, and R. Williams slammed a triple to right field for two runs. Michigan took the lead in the sixth. Van Boven walked and Perrin was safe on J. Williams' wild throw to second base. Shackelford poked a hit through second base that scored Van Boven and Karpus wallop out a four baser for three more runs. Wisconsin evened it up in its half on R. Williams' home run. The winning counter crossed the plate in the seventh on Farrington's third single of the day and Elliott's triple. The Badger leader was caught at home trying to stretch his hit into a home run. In the eighth, Paddock set the Wolverines down in order, breezing Shackelford, Karpus, and Klem. He cinched the contest for Wisconsin in the last frame by setting Uteritz and Van Boven down on strikes with two men on bases.

NIGHT EDITOR—

A PLAIN OBLIGATION

THE 1922 Badger, the "Year Book with a Mission," has completed its mission.

The makers of the book have kept the faith; they have given Wisconsin a pictorial review of the activities of the past year that is marvelously executed.

This stupendous work has cost thousands of dollars, weeks and months of time, to produce. It would be a catastrophe if such an enterprise as the Badger should incur a great financial loss.

This is exactly what will happen unless hundreds of students who have subscribed to the Badger will make their final payments and call for their volumes.

Due to the overly-enthusiastic subscription campaign and the splendid response given by the student body last fall, perhaps more books were ordered from the engraver than the market would accommodate.

It was rightly presumed by the business manager of the Badger that if a student paid down $1.00 toward a copy, he could certainly be counted upon to call for his book after the great expense of procuring the book had been incurred.

The fact that so many have thus far neglected to call for the book they have ordered brings about a critical state of affairs.

There is only one way out of this difficulty. Call for the book you ordered printed for you! Do not shift this responsibility.

THE SENATE'S ACTION

THE student senate has made a splendid start in the action that it has taken in regard to the freshman-sophomore riots of last Saturday.

The system which has made possible such riots has been remedied. The inter-class fights and the wearing of green caps have been abolished. This action was one of the most constructive and effective steps yet taken by our student government to better the interests of the university.

The lateness of the year and the numerous duties of most students at the present time will make a thorough probe of the situation and the conviction of the guilty individuals extremely difficult. Likewise, the absence of a definite accusation and of definite information will increase the difficulty of the senate's action. The senate has to be investigator, prosecuting witness, and sentencing body. The senate must not, however, back-water. The men who are responsible for the phosphorus incident and for the promiscuous use of fire-brands and clubs must be brought to justice. The task will be difficult, but it should be carried unflinchingly as far as the senate can take it.

The guilty individuals in the case should be punished not for mere vindictive reasons, but to furnish a deterrent for future outbreaks. Wisconsin cannot tolerate a reoccurrence of last Saturday's events.

The senate is to be commended on its action thus far, and it is to be encouraged in the fulfilment of its remaining duty.

SENIORS' FAMILIES TO BE CARED FOR

"Dad" Wolf is making an effort to find accommodations for the families and friends of seniors at Commencement time. All seniors are asked to notify the Y. M. C. A. as soon as possible as to the number of people they are expecting, for what length of time they intend to be in Madison, and their age and gender. Landladies who wish to rent extra rooms at this time are requested to notify Frederick E. Wolf, university Y. M. C. A. C. A.

FINAL OFFICIAL NOTICE TO BONUS STUDENTS

The last bonus payment for this school year will be made on June 15, 16, and 17 from Bonus Headquarters, 151 Bascom Hall; this will include $30 for May and $17 for June. Seniors and others who will receive degrees at Commencement will be given their June drafts of $22 on June 21 at 151 Bascom Hall. Positively no drafts will be given out before June 15, sent to banks, or mailed to home address. In calling for drafts, bonus students must be prepared to identify themselves by means of bonus number or fee card.

Approval cards for the summer session and for next fall should be held until the appropriate registration days. Full instructions for the summer session will be found in the time-table soon to be issued.

AT THE GRAND

Press dispatches yesterday told of the tragic death of Miss Laura Bromwell, woman flyer, holder of the loop the loop record for women, and one of the best known pilots in the world. Her plane fell 1,000 feet when something went wrong with the controlling mechanism. In "Trumpet Island," the super-thrill picture now showing at the Grand, there is shown an aeroplane accident in which a plane, containing the heroine and villain, collapses hundreds of feet in the air. The villain falls with a detached wing of the wrecked plane and plunges into the sea. The machine itself dives into the foliage of the dense forests of Trumpet Island, and there the girl, stunned by her experience, regains consciousness, but with the mind of a child. Those who view this spectacular event in the picture will wonder how the actress and actor escaped without serious injury or death.

The Grand commencing tomorrow will show the first independently produced Marguerite Clark production. It is a comedy, typically Clark, and called "Scrambled Wives."

WHERE NEGROES ARE GUARDED IN TULSA, AND GOVERNOR

Convention hall in Tulsa, Okla., and Gov. J. B. A. Robertson.

One of the first moves made by Tulsa and national guard officials in halting the race riots which recently broke out in that city was to take into custody all the negroes found in the streets and place them in the convention hall, ball park and other places under guard to protect them and prevent further trouble in the negro quarter. Despite this precaution, the rioting and gun fire continued. Gov. J. B. A. Robertson of Oklahoma declared martial law in the Tulsa district when the rioting grew serious and placed Adj. Gen. C. F. Barrett in charge of the situation.

MAJOR WOOD LAUDS PRESIDENT'S GUARD

Was Organized as a Tangible
Representation of R. O.
T. C. Spirit

Commandant John S. Wood, major, field artillery (D. O. L.), in a recently posted announcement, has expressed his appreciation for the invaluable work done throughout the year by the President's guard of the university cadet corps.

The guard was organized in December, 1920, as a "crack" company, mainly for exhibition purposes, "to present to the university at large a more tangible representation of the spirit of the R. O. T. C. and to outwardly manifest the honor and high esteem in which the members of the university cadet corps hold President E. A. Birge."

Throughout the past year the guard has held regular weekly drills under Cadet Majors C. M. Russell '21, and Evrard C. Caluwaert '22, and Cadet Captain Robert L. Luening '23. The guard has also taken part in a number of all-university demonstrations, including the 1921 Military ball, the University exposition, and the President's review.

The announcement in full follows: "I am very sorry that circumstances have rendered it impossible for me to speak to you at the close of this year in order to thank for the invaluable work done by the guard since its organization. The spirit of readiness and willingness to serve in every way has made its impression on the corps of cadets and will continue to exert an even greater influence in the future.

"There is no question that the guard is the most valuable agent in the corps today for the development of the spirit of service upon which depends the safety and the glory of our country and such an organization should never be allowed to die out in the university.

"I again wish to express my thanks for and my appreciation of your efforts throughout the year and wish to congratulate you on your excellent showing in the recent inspection."

FOR GREEN CAPS

We speak of abolishing the green cap and the rush, as well as cap night with as much ease as though we thought that such a task would be the easiest thing in the world to accomplish. Can we so lightly throw away a tradition that has been handed down to us through the years? Can we put aside without very serious thought, a tradition that has helped more than anything else to make Wisconsin spirit great; a tradition that has made so many loyal Wisconsin men and women? President Birge, Dean Goodnight, and the student senate may say that it must go; but the question is: Does the student body want to see our great tradition go as the result of one outbreak?

Which one of us does not look back on his "green lid days" with a smile on his face? How we would miss the cry "Button, Frosh!" in the early fall days, and the snake dance at the first football game! Yes, we all realize what the green cap has meant to us; yet we can not but see the truth in the arguments of those who wish to see it abolished.

They say that the student senate's control of hazing has failed,—that our only choice now is between unrestrained hazing and the abolition of our traditions. I am convinced that hazing has not been handled in the right way. The senate has tried to suppress all hazing, with the consequence that the "Frosh" have all become "cocky." They painted up the sidewalks and buildings, they ducked some sophomores, they held a meeting and did not wear their caps. The senate did not chastise them, so the sophomores had to.

There is a great significance in fact that all such outrages as last Saturday's occur in the spring. In the fall the Frosh are green, though they do not realize it; they possess all the feelings of superiority characteristic of high school seniors, and they need hazing. However, they lack confidence in themselves; they are easily intimidated, and are therefore easily managed. That is the time to haze them. In the spring the caps are on a different bunch of men. During the winter they have enjoyed many of the privileges of the upperclassman; they have become accustomed to university life; they have gained confidence in themselves. They have found out that the sophomores are not so terrible as they seemed; now they will not obediently jump off the Park street pier—they fight. When the fighting starts the trouble begins, especially if the Frosh use clubs. As long as they are timid and offer no resistance, no harm is done. Everyone remembers how '23 hazed '24 last fall, and we all agree that that sort of thing is perfectly harmless, and even more effective than ducking. Show me the Frosh who would not rather be thrown in the lake than be forced to double time up the campus with his coat wrong side out, trousers rolled up, shoes off and cap wrong side out! This is a far better cure for "cockiness" than any lake party.

Since the situation is so intolerable, something must be done. I do not want to see the green cap go; but for the reasons I have given, I think that the wearing of the green in the spring should be abolished. Let us get through hazing in the fall when the Frosh need to be hazed, and when it is easiest to haze them. Let us have a fair rush, a rush giving both sides a fair chance; a rush that will take the place of riotous "Cap Night."

LYLE KINGSTON '23.

WANTS A REFERENDUM FOR GREEN CAPS

A small group of men, most of them only very indirectly responsible to the student body, have taken the most drastic action in many years of university life. Whether or not the green cap should be abolished, the student senate is not the body to take such action. This matter should not be acted upon except by the student body as a whole, and then only after due deliberation.

The student senate are also to be criticized for failure to provide student cops for cap night. They knew what most of the other men in the university knew, that there was bound to be trouble, yet did not take the steps which every one admits would have prevented the deplorable incidents.

If the green cap is to be abolished

Not for Women Only

To millions it is bringing whiter teeth

This new way of teeth-cleaning appeals to women. It brings them prettier teeth. But men also enjoy it, and children must use it to properly clean their teeth.

Millions now use it, largely by dental advice. The glistening teeth you see everywhere now show the results of its use.

Everyone needs it, as this simple test will show. See the results it brings in ten days and decide that for yourself.

You must fight film

Your teeth are coated with a viscous film. You can feel it with your tongue. It clings to teeth, gets between the teeth and stays.

The ordinary tooth paste does not effectively combat it. Your tooth brush has left much of it intact. And that clinging film may do a ceaseless damage.

Film absorbs stains, making the teeth look dingy. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Also of other serious troubles, local and internal.

Thus film causes most tooth troubles. And, despite the tooth brush, all those troubles have been constantly increasing. Some have become so common as to be alarming.

Now ways to combat it

Dental science has for years sought ways to combat that film. The ways have now been found. Able authorities have amply proved their efficiency. Leading dentists everywhere now advise their daily use.

The methods are embodied in a scientific tooth paste. The name is Pepsodent. Its use is fast spreading the world over.

To let all know it quickly, a 10-Day Tube is being presented to anyone who asks. Thus thousands of new people daily are learning its delights.

Combines five effects

But Pepsodent does more than fight film. It fights the acid which is a great tooth destroyer.

Each use of Pepsodent multiplies the salivary flow. That is Nature's great tooth-protecting agent. It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is to digest the starch deposits which may otherwise remain and form acid.

It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is Nature's neutralizer of the acids which attack the teeth.

It combats the film wherever it adheres. It leaves the teeth so highly polished that film cannot easily cling. Pepsin is also included.

See and feel it act

The results are not uncertain. You can see and feel them. Some are almost instant. A ten-day test is most convincing.

Present the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear. Watch the other good effects.

To millions this test has proved a revelation. It has shown them the way to prettier teeth, to cleaner, safer teeth. One does not return to the old ways when he sees what this new way does.

The delightful results

One conspicuous effect is to beautify the teeth. Another is a feeling of cleanliness. Men who smoke will see great changes. It is film that absorbs tobacco stains.

But it is most essential to the children. Young teeth are most subject to film and starch attacks. Dentists advise that children use Pepsodent daily from the time the first tooth appears. Under old methods, very few children escape some tooth destruction.

To all this test is important. Cut out the coupon so you don't forget to make it. Present it at your store.

Q.—What have you to say to the rumor that you threw phosphorus?

A.—I threw a little bottle wrapped in newspaper. Someone in the crowd gave it to me. I did not know him and would not recognize him if I saw him.

Q.—What was the nature of the bottle?

A.—It was a small bottle about an inch in diameter.

Q.—Did you understand that there was some kind of chemical in the bottle?

A.—Yes. I assumed that it would start the fire. There was no one on the pile at the time, at the time or saw the bottle given to him.

Conlee Questioned

The questioning of Kempton and Conlee revealed that Conlee had been walking home to change his clothes with a small piece of brass pipe in his hand. He was stopped by some sophomores at Lake and State streets and when asked his class, denied that he was a freshman. Kempton saw the pipe and snatched it away from him after some struggle, and the other sophomores carried him to the lake and threw him in. Conlee denied that he had used the pipe in fighting or that he had any intentions of using it and Kempton declared that Conlee did not try to fight with the pipe.

Kempton Objects

Kempton objected, when called to the stand, to testifying under oath without a stenographer present to take notes. Notes on the proceedings were taken by Senators Hook and Stolley. After some argument, he consented to testify.

"I was on the campus part of the time during the fight," said Kempton. "I left to get my car out of the way so it wouldn't be hurt in the scrap that was coming. I drove the car up Langdon street and left it at Carroll."

"Was your car one of those used?" he was asked.

"No," he answered.

"You were instrumental in organizing the attack on the pile?"

Kempton said the question was out of order and refused to answer. On motion of Senator Coxon the question was waived.

"I was not actually engaged in the fight," said Kempton when questioned further. "I was out on the edge all the time except at one time when I was on the field arguing with Mr. Coxon on the matter of clubs. I took the stand that the freshmen should be made to throw away their clubs as well as the sophomores."

"What did you see thrown?"

"I saw cans of kerosene which were thrown on the pile unlighted. I also saw stones thrown, at least I imagine they were, around which rags had been wrapped, the rags being afire," said Kempton. He also said that he saw the cans being filled with kerosene from a small sprinkler can.

"Do you know anything about the phosphorus?"

"Except by hearsay I know nothing. I didn't believe at first that such chemicals had been used. I heard the chemicals mentioned first by a junior down by the lake."

"Who was the junior?"

Kempton refused to answer and Senator Coxon volunteered the information that he had mentioned carbon disulphide to Kempton but no other chemical.

"The only time the phosphorus could have been thrown, to my knowledge," said Kempton, "was when I was talking to Mr. Coxon at the Beta house. When the sophomores were throwing waste on the fire they cried 'Look out! this is phosphorus!' to keep the freshmen from picking it up."

When questioned as to who filled the cans with kerosene, he said that he remembered no one definitely.

Q.—Where did the cans come from?

A.—They were there when I arrived.

Q.—Where did the kerosene come from?

A.—One of the stores on University avenue, I think.

Q.—How did it get there?

A.—Carried, I suppose.

Q.—How?

A.—Either by auto or by hand.

Q.—Did you carry it?

A.—No.

Q.—Do you know who did carry it?

A.—I don't think that question is in order.

"The man who carried the can was with me all afternoon and he was not a leader. Every loyal sophomore had some part. I understand that this is merely to find the ring leaders and who threw the phosphorus and there is no need to bring his name into it."

Several of the senators urged Kempton to give the name and Senator Sterling Tracy said that there was no "crime" in merely bringing the kerosene, Kempton said, "Well, Tom Wood was the man who had the can, but his part in the affair was very small."

Q.—What part did you play in the rush?

A.—I was not engaged in the rush. I was just on the side-lines.

Q.—What did you do over there? Kempton declined to testify against himself.

Senator Bergerman then declared that the student court had been abolished on account of just such technicalities and that Kempton should answer.

Senator Borman said that no man could be made to testify against himself. It was he that told Kempton that there were charges against him. When Kempton asked what the charges were he was told that the senate was questioning him and not he the senate.

The chair recalled the question. Question—Did you have a gun? Answer—I had a small starter's gun.

Q.—Did you use it?

A.—I got out of my car and fired it twice and got back into the car.

Q.—Was it used for starting the rush?

A.—It may have been used for that.

When asked concerning the truck which carried the sophomores with the firebrands to the pile, he said, "I don't know anything about the truck."

Q.—Do you know who was on the truck?

A.—No. The truck had evidently been hired by the freshmen.

Kempton told how the truck had first been driven rapidly through a crowd of sophomores to carry to the fire. "I saw it driven through the sophomores and heard cries of 'Get that guy.' The sophomores rushed it as it drove up Langdon street.

"The next I saw of it it was driving toward the fire and seemed to be all blazing. The freshmen threw sticks and stones at it. The sophomores threw fire on the pile."

Kempton said that he was then distracted by a man with his clothes afire and that after they had put that fire out he looked and saw the pile blazing.

Huseby testified that he was watching the fight around the hose when he heard someone shout "Swing on 'em big and little." He turned and was struck on the head. Two stitches were taken in the wound.

Q.—You are pretty sure it was a frost that hit you?

A.—Pretty sure.
