EXERCISES TO BEGIN JUNE 16 WITH CONCERT

Watson, Slaker, and Higson to Represent Colleges on Program

The regular exercises of Commencement week will begin on Friday, June 16, with the annual commencement concert of the School of Music and will close with Commencement day exercises on Wednesday, June 23. The following speakers have been chosen to deliver addresses for the various colleges at the closing exercises: Goodwin B. Watson, Letters and Science; Don Slaker, College of Engineering; and Francis D. Higson, Law School.

The degrees will be conferred by President E. A. Birge, who will also deliver the Baccalaureate address at the exercises on Sunday, June 20. The subject of the address on Sunday will be "The State Universities at the Opening of the Twentieth Century." Madison pastors will assist at the Baccalaureate and the music will be under the direction of the School of Music.

Name Bascom Hall

A special feature of Commencement week will be the dedication of Bascom hall on Alumni Day, Tuesday, June 22. At this time the name Bascom hall will be officially conferred upon University hall. Dr. Charles H. Vilas, president of the regents, will conduct the ceremony. The rest of Alumni Day will be given over to alumni meeting, parades, the baseball game, the luncheon and the reception and ball.

Exercises for Class Day, Monday, June 22, will be held at 3 p. m. on Muir Knoll. The class play, "The Jesters," to be given in the open air theater Monday evening, will be followed by the Pipe of Peace ceremony. The play will be repeated Tuesday evening.

Program

The complete program for the week is as follows:

Friday, June 18

Commencement concert, Music hall, 8 p. m.

Sunday, June 20

Baccalaureate exercises, gymnasium, 4 p. m. Candidates for degrees will meet in the gym annex at 3:15.

Monday, June 21

Class Day exercises, Muir Knoll, 3 p. m.

Address of welcome—Fred M. Eickel, president of class.

Class history—H. Kenneth Harvey and Phyllis B. Hamilton.

Class Day oration—Joseph B. Beach.

Farewell to underclassmen—Harlow Pease.

Junior response—Lothrop F. Follett.

FOUR MEN MAKE SIGMA DELTA PSI

Four men have completed the requirements for Sigma Delta Psi, the honorary athletic fraternity. Those who qualified are Guy Sundt, Gordon Crump, Paul Keyser, and Clyde Nash. About 25 men tried out for the athletic honors but were unable to meet the requirements in one event or another.

TAU DELTA PHI GIVEN CHARTER

Delta Sigma Phi to Install Chapter Here After Exam Period

Tau Delta Phi has been granted a charter by the Delta Sigma Phi fraternity and will be installed June 21 and 22. It will be the thirtieth chapter of the Delta Sigma Phi.

Installation will be in charge of Walter C. Toepelman, national vice-president, and former University of Wisconsin student, assisted by members of the Universities of Chicago and Illinois chapters.

Delta Sigma Phi was founded in 1899 at the College of the City of New York. Chapters are located at the Universities of Chicago, Illinois, Michigan, College of the City of New York, New York university, University of Texas, University of Pennsylvania, St. Louis university, University of Pittsburgh, Pulaire university, University of California.

Those who will be installed as charter members are the following: Prof. C. M. Mueller, James M. Haden, Francis P. Mayo, Kenneth McConnell, Fred W. Vassell, Robert C. McCoy, Lloyd A. Farr, James T. Dawson, Ferdinand A. Kojis, Han W. Lawrence, W. E. Hart, C. M. Dawson, John T. Aikens, Robert Erickson, J. F. Strommen, F. F. Govingdon, Elmer Knutson, John E. Gray, S. E. Owen T. Lane Ward, C. N. Neupert, N. H. Holt, Christopher Hendra, Patrick M. Gahagan, Arthur W. Douglas, Alex M. Gibbon, Lloyd L. Wilder, Gordon Krump, Gordon A. Huseby, H. Eugene Alleman, John P. Sercatus, Sidney M. Greiling, Ruluf Arthur Chase, Freeman H. Brown, J. Dewey Malvin, F. J. Sonday, Allen Millard, Maynard Brown.

BADGER SALES ENDED AT NOON

"All Badger distribution ends this afternoon," said Frank Kuehl, business manager, in reply to many inquiries about the delivery of the books. "The distribution re-opens at 7:30 this morning and will continue until all books are gone. All those who have reserved Badgers must call for them before 11 o'clock, with or without stubs. After 11, they will be placed on open sale."

"In spite of the large number of books ordered there will be a considerable shortage, on account of the great number of late requests which are coming in," said Kuehl. "The Badger workers cannot be expected to give many more hours at this critical time just before examinations. I am assuming that, in view of the circumstances no subscribers will object to having the 10-day limit waived, which the stub provided for."

SUMMER CARDINAL

Students who will be here during the summer session and who wish to tryout for positions on the staff of The Daily Cardinal are asked to report at the Cardinal office in the Union building at 1 p. m. today or to get in touch with Lawrence W. Murphy or V. Irwin Maier.

WHO'S WHO IS ON SALE TODAY

Books to be Distributed at Music Hall; Staff is Announced

Who's Who at Wisconsin is out. Distribution of the first university Who's Who on record will begin this morning at 7:30 in Music hall and will continue until 5 p. m. The campus supply which was limited to 1,000 copies has been entirely sold out and there are less than 25 books still available from the 500 copies reserved for the faculty and alumni.

Edward Deuss, '19, former managing editor of the Daily Cardinal, first proposed the idea of publishing a Who's Who. The project was undertaken by White Spades, during the winter of 1919-20. Since that time the work has been carried on by the organization and it is only after a full year of preparation that the book is ready.

The original plan of covering the alumni field was abandoned when the difficulty of communicating with former students became so great that it was impossible to make material complete. The present volume includes only those al-

SENIORS TO PASS PIPE TO JUNIORS

Traditional Ceremony is Part of Commencement Week Activities

The Pipe of Peace ceremony, which will be held on the lower campus Monday evening, June 12, immediately after the class play, is one of the most interesting and symbolic of the traditions of Commencement week. It represents the ancient Indian ceremony of the presentation of the calumet or great pipe to the stranger whom the tribe wished to honor. The symbolism of the ancient custom has been incorporated into the commencement ceremonies as the time when the graduating class hands down to the incoming senior class the traditions and duties of seniority.

For several years very little emphasis has been placed upon this service in the commencement week activities, but the present committee in charge is making an effort to reinstate it as one of the important parts of Wisconsin tradition. The speakers chosen to represent the senior and junior classes are Leonard Erickson, '20, and Clyde B. Emory, '21.

The ceremony is very beautiful and impressive. Senior and junior men and women will take part in the Indian songs and dances. The costumes are carefully chosen to represent the Wisconsin Indian tribes, and the typically Indian music of the tom-toms, combined with the firelight of the monstrous Indian campfire, will carry the spectators back to the time of Black Hawk and his warriors.

The hour set for the ceremony is 11:30, but it is probable that the service will begin as soon as possible after the close of the senior play. The Pipe of Peace ceremony is open to the public and a cordial invitation is extended to students, alumni, and friends of the university.

875 DEGREES CONFERRED IN LAST PROGRAM

Graduates Will March to Pavilion for Final Exercises

Degrees will be conferred upon 875 candidates at the Commencement exercises, Wednesday, June 23. This number includes academic and higher degrees in all of the colleges. President E. A. Birge will confer the degrees and deliver a short address. Bishop Samuel Fallows, '59, will act as chaplain. Exercises will be held in Agricultural pavilion at 9:30 a. m.

Members of the graduating class will gather at the Lincoln monument at 8:30 when the class panoramic picture will be taken. Graduates and all candidates for degrees will appear in cap and gown.

No automobiles will be permitted on University hill or Observatory hill during the commencement procession from 8:30 to 9:30.

The University Procession 8:45 A. M.

Candidates for degrees and other participants in the procession will meet on the upper campus at the following places:

1. Candidates from the Law School, in front of University hall, headed for the walk to the Observatory.
2. Candidates from the College of Agriculture, on the walk in front of North hall, grouped according to course, and headed up the hill:
  - a. Graduates in Agriculture;
  - b. Bachelors of Science in Agriculture;
  - c. Home Economics.
3. Candidates from the College of Engineering, on the walk in front of the Engineering building, grouped according to course, and headed up the hill:
  - a. Graduates, Mining Engineering;
  - b. Chemical Engineering;
  - c. Electrical Engineering;
  - d. Mechanical Engineering;
  - e. Civil Engineering.
4. Candidates from the School of Music, in front of the Engineering building, headed up the hill.
5. Candidates from the College of Letters and Science, on the walk between the Engineering building and Park street, grouped as

OPEN SALE FOR SENIOR PLAY TO START JUNE 16

Open seat sale for the senior play, "The Jesters," to be given Monday and Tuesday, June 21 and 22, will open at 8 a. m. Wednesday, June 16.

Booths will be placed near Music hall, from which tickets may be secured for 50 and 75 cents for either performance.

The mail order sale will be continued until June 16 and orders may be sent to Lyman Jackson at 415 W. Gilman street.

NEXT YEAR'S BADGER

All students interested in positions on the 1922 Badger staff are requested to attend a meeting called by Tom Coxon, editor, to be held at the Badger office in the Union building today at 12:45.

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE JUNIOR CLASS

The 1921 Badger books have been audited up to date by Dean Goodnight's office. A detailed report of the finances and operations will be ready for the class in the fall.

While expenses run higher than estimated, it appears now that the 1921 Badger has paid for itself, and may yield a small profit.

FRANK W. KUEHL, Business Manager.

In winter-time, with ice and snow,
From off the lake the cold winds blow
And freeze us stiff from head to toe,
We shiver and curse in accents low:
"Oh, damn the lake!"

But in the summer when it's hot,
And there isn't any place where it's not,
We hasten to that grand old spot,
And fall in gladly, like a shot,
You grand old lake!

dear Ring:

Well Ring of all the experience which a guy like me gets here in college i aint never had none be4 like what i run into a couple a nights back and I put some of this here brandoline on my hair which is same as the bear oil your pa used to have for Sundays and I borrowed a $2 and 75c neck tie from a guy and Dok Nelson is a sucker for buying them things and i bet i made this here Shelly Steinwender look pretty sad and prompt at the strok of 9:45 p. m., as they say in the books i climbed over to Barnard's hall to call for a girl which I was fussing and you know Ring fussing means taking out a girl here and i holds the door open while 14 girls came out and i thought they were having fire again only i didn't see no hair brushes or shoe trees being saved so I squeezed into the place and dodged some more girls and one stepped onto my foot which has the corn on it and here comes a lady with a white apron up to me so I says right up How's things Missus Barnard and you know I always like to get a stand-in right away Ring and you know me Ring and she smiled like she was pleased and says who did I want to see and after 11 more girls had went by i vouchsawed the young lady's name (i learnt something how to use the Queen's English hey Ring) and she says she would call her and would I step to the Library but i knew she was just kidding me because the Library was over on State st so I winked at her and looked for a place to park my new $3 and 50c hat dodging 18 more girls at the same time and i run into one room and here was a fellow and a girl setting there and the less said the better Ring and I hope they was rehearsing some play Ring and I drove out quick and tried the next room and here was 7 more girls talking about a fancy dress party i guess because I hear one of the say something about some fellow being a awful funny looking bird and they all stopped when I triped in and give me a good up and down and your little friend blushes meekly and herded out double time nearly tramping 7 more girls to death in the rush and finally I found a room where they was five or six fellows setting around looking like they was next on the electric chair so I climb in and here was Mike Rudy and Bill Matchette prominent on the sofa and then I knew what all the girls was excited about and Mike says what and the hell are you doing here and i says well you got the crust alright and I says is that so and we blabbed back and forth for a while only they was always some girls going past just as somebody cussed a little to loud so the conversation run down and we set there some more counting the girls that stuck their head in the door and says pardon me and we was just fixing up a little penny aunty game with Grandpa and he's Mr. Barnards father I guess when here comes the girl which i was calling for so I untangled my feet and whilst the rest of them sighs I herded out through a flock of approximately 22 more girls and we went down to the Majestic and believe me Ring if you get hold of the four-eyed bird that says there is more men in the world than wimmin tell him to call me up and i can show him where he pulled a Brodie and I will write soon Yrs just escaped

CARDINAL LINKS GRAD TO VARSITY

Seniors Urged to Keep in Touch With School Through Paper

Now is the time for seniors to send in their subscriptions for next year's Cardinal, their best means of keeping in touch with the university, next year. If there is ever a time when your varsity paper looks mighty good to you, it's when everybody else is going back to school, and you are out for good, perhaps a thousand miles away.

Coupons for subscriptions for both the Summer Session Cardinal, at 75 cents, and for next year's Cardinal, at 3.50, to be found in today's Cardinal, should be sent in to the Cardinal office.

The summer Cardinal will be published three times a week as an afternoon paper, coming out about 6 o'clock in the afternoon. Lawrence W. Murphy will be managing editor, Irwin Maier business manager, Donald Bailey, advertising manager, and Corrington Gill, circulation manager. It will be sent to any address in the United States or Europe.

Next semester the first edition of the Cardinal will come out on September 20, the first registration day, nearly a week earlier than last year.

OLGA ANDERSON HEADS DOLPHINS

The last meeting of the dolphin club was held last night and officers were elected for next year. Olga Anderson was made president, Patsy Watson secretary and treasurer, Dorothy Westendorph publicity manager, and Betty Waterman chairman of the arrangements and exhibition committee.

It was decided to make the tests for membership more difficult next year, and to limit the members only to those girls who take a strong interest in water sports. The club aims to foster women's swimming and plans to put on exhibitions of swimming and diving which will surpass those of this year.

SPECIAL SETTINGS CREATED FOR PLAY

One of the most gorgeous effects to be secured in "The Jesters" which will be given June 21 and 22 in the open air theater, will be the creation of the appearance of height, by means of mammoth archways and lighting effects. The dilapidated old castle owned by the baron will be displayed in detail, showing the effects of negligence on the part of unpaid and dissatisfied servants.

Miss Johnson, coach of the play, will go to Chicago next week to select the costumes for the characters. It is planned to have gorgeous costumes to suit the place and the times. Bright colors of the age will prevail and all will unite with the scenic effects to portray the atmosphere of mediaeval knighthood.

The lighting system for the play has been worked out in the model theater of the Public Speaking department, so that the best results will be secured for the performances.

What the College Editors Say

THE SHIFTERS

Restlessness becomes a mania among a certain class of students every year with the advent of finals. Some want to make a complete change of college, while others merely want to drop one course or add another. Nor is this dissatisfaction always due to failure in work. Its underlying cause is the same as that causing most "flunks"—pure shiftlessness—and eventually it leads to failures.

This type of being has often been compared to the shifting sand, of which poets write at length. The comparison is still as vivid a one as could be desired. Those students who are constantly changing from place to place or from course to course, follow each the seemingly attractive influence and allow themselves to be easily persuaded that some other lot is much better than theirs, just as the sand is moved by each breath of wind or every drop of water.

It is the rock that resists longest and it is the rock on which permanent structures are built. When constructing skyscrapers, the contractor sinks the foundation far below the clay and sand until he strikes bed rock. Then he knows he has assurance of stability.

In choosing a college or a college course, the seeker of an education should look for bed rock. Much dissatisfaction arises from carelessness at the time of making the initial choice. But after that choice is made, the student should regard that as a stable foundation, and build upon it permanently. When looking for men or women to fill responsible and important positions, the heads of businesses will pick those who have shown firmness, and not those who have been swayed as are the shifting sands.—Ohio State Lantern.

Los Angeles Gains—A census announcement showed Los Angeles to have passed San Francisco in size and likely to become the country's ninth largest city.

AGRIC NINE WINS COLLEGE HONORS

The Agric nine established a claim to championship of the university by taking a six to four win in the game with the Commerce team Wednesday afternoon. More than 200 Agrics were on the side lines cheering for their team during the game.

The winners started piling up a lead in the fifth inning when the Commerce pitcher allowed five hits.

This is the sixth straight game won by the Agrics. The Law School is the only one that has beat them this year. Eleven men won their college insignia during the season. They are: Lonsdorf, manager, Pfang, Vanderhoof, Anborn, Hardell, Skaife, Ruff, Prinz, Julian, Mills, Jacka.

WHO'S WHO TO BE DELIVERED TODAY

umni who are entered in Who's Who in America and those who came within the qualifications imposed by the society for entry. This list includes about 400 graduates from 1916 to 1920. The seniors and juniors were qualified under the same rules as the alumni and for this reason the junior list is incomplete. The names will be checked again next year and those who qualify during the year will be included.

The faculty section and the What's What section have been prepared with new students in mind as well as to serve the present student body. The first section was prepared with the idea of acquainting the students with the specialists and leaders in various lines who are on the faculty. In the preface the editor points out that instruction from such men cannot be obtained in a small college and that their presence is one of the distinctive things about the university, and should prove a source of interest to prospective students.

The What's What section covers the field of the university in general, and the activities of student life. The activities are grouped under administrative, athletic, dramatic, forensic, journalistic, scholastic, and social heads. Woman's activities are run in a separate grouping.

The Staff

The purpose of the book is explained in the conclusion of the preface. "The society has not attempted to prove anything in regard to the position which students who lead in college affairs may take in the world after graduation, but rather to develop a greater interest in activities for the sake of the training they may give and the opportunities they offer for service to Wisconsin. The staff under which Who's Who at Wisconsin was compiled follows:

FORMER CREW MAN ASKS FOR ACTION

The feeling that rowing must be re-established as a major sport has met with a strong and earnest response among the alumni and former students. The proposition will come up for action on June 16, and old crew men and enthusiasts who followed the Badger oarsmen are advocating re-establishment at this time.

R. A. Peterson, member of the crews that rowed at Poughkeepsie in 1912 and 1913 expresses the attitude of many of the alumni in a letter to the Cardinal. Here is the way he summarizes the situation: "A mid-west regatta? And why not? We've got the lakes—with courses up to four miles. We have the coach—and you've got to go some to beat Dad Vail as an authority on water sports. We have the shells, the coaching launch, the boat house, and we have the men. And throw that challenge to the world—where can you find better men? They have the size, the strength, the grit, the sportsmanship, and the Wisconsin spirit. How's that for a combination? Isn't that enough to bring about favorable action?"

FAREWELL

WITH this issue The Daily Cardinal for the year 1919-20 goes out of existence. Volume XXX is now completed.

The Cardinal has striven to make a faithful record of a great year at Wisconsin. Its staff has worked hard to give the student body a newspaper worthy of Wisconsin and to represent the best in student opinion. If errors have occurred they have been errors of judgment and not of malicious intent. Above all, The Cardinal has been sincere in its efforts to support those things which it considered were for the best interests of the university as a whole. We have tried to interpret the Wisconsin that has been; we have tried to further new movements that have reflected the true spirit of the campus.

It is not without feelings of regret that we write "finis" on this last number of Volume XXX. Service on The Cardinal staff makes many friendships; and the greatest of these is the affection that grows upon one for the office and the newspaper field.

A loyal staff has built The Cardinal this year. It has met with success because of the co-operation of students who were willing to work that an essential activity might be maintained at a high standard.

Wisconsin has a great past and a greater future. One hope that we hold out for the future is that some day very near at hand will see The Daily Cardinal printed in a plant of its own on the campus, or in a plant operated by the university. Not until then can any material improvement be made in the physical appearance of The Cardinal. The Cardinal embodies the spirit of the university, but mechanical limitations can shackle it in its efforts to give expression to that spirit.

Parting words are apt to be tinged with the melancholy if too long continued. And so it is with a feeling of sadness that we close our desk for the last time and bid the old office goodbye. There are memories to cherish, and with them we take away a Wisconsin creed that begins and ends with belief in its ideals and its glory—for we believe in Wisconsin.

SETTLE YOUR BANK ACCOUNT

STUDENTS usually wait until an hour before train time to settle their bank accounts. If it is convenient, they rush to the bank, where the perspiring bookkeeper is expected to balance the account and hand over the pass book in a couple of minutes. Another practice is to ask Dad Morgan or Park Hinkson or some other patient friend of the students to cash a final check. No objection could be raised to the latter plan if the student knew his exact financial status, but statistics (talk to Dad Morgan) show that most students are over-optimistic, and forget the amount which remains after the year's steady drain.

The moral fairly sticks out: settle your bank account at once. Don't wait until the last day, and expect to get quick service at the bank; and spare the merchants, who have been so accommodating all year, the inconvenience and loss which follows when students overdraw their accounts.

WHO'S WHO AT WISCONSIN

UNIVERSITY publications are rounding out a banner year with two record accomplishments. The sale of 5,000 Badgers sets a new mark for college annuals; now comes "Who's Who at Wisconsin" as the first publication of its kind. Two world's records in one year furnish another substantial talking point in boosting Wisconsin.

To White Spades, honorary junior-senior society, belongs the credit for the idea. The project has at no time been viewed as a money-making proposition; it was believed that such a survey of Wisconsin men and women and of university life would perform a service amply worth the labor involved.

In selecting the names to be included in the publication, the most rigid impartiality was exercised. The personal equation was entirely eliminated; decisions were based on a uniform standard of measuring the services to Wisconsin which individuals had performed. It should be remarked that several juniors whose names do not appear in the book have qualified since it went to press; their records will be published next year.

The book is an enduring testimonial to the thorough, consistent work of its staff. To prospective students it will serve as a guide, and an initiation into the spirit which can grow only from a knowledge of the branches of student activity. By its recognition of the part which outside activities play in the life of the university, and of the students who are participating, "Who's Who" will stir a larger number to invest part of their time in extra-curricular work. Such a stimulus will bring valuable returns in training students for service to Wisconsin and for success in handling the problems of later life.

The BULLETIN BOARD

INTERCOLLEGiate FORENSICS

All seniors or graduate students who have represented Wisconsin in one or more inter-collegiate forensic contests are asked to submit their names in full with a list of all contests in which they have participated to Prof. O'Neill or Arnold Perstein on or before Friday. This information is desired for the official "W" certificate to be awarded at commencement.

GUN AND BLADE

Special meeting of Gun and Blade will be held Friday noon at 12:45 in the Engineering auditorium. Plans for picnic will be discussed. Meeting will be over by 1 p. m., and everybody is requested to be out.

OFFICIAL NOTICE TO BONUS STUDENTS

May and June bonus drafts will be distributed on June 15-16 from the bursar's office and to the various banks. No drafts for these two months will be mailed.

Bonus students who expect to be in attendance during the academic year 1920-21 must file renewal blanks at bonus headquarters, 151 University hall, before the close of this semester.

Prospective summer session bonus students must file renewal blanks not later than June 19.

New assignment cards received from the State Board of Education will be retained by the student until he registers either for summer session or for next year. The process of enrollment for the bonus at any session will follow the practice of the current semester, that is, the student must regularly register and pay his incidental fee before enrollment can be effected. The received fee card and the assignment card will be presented in person at bonus headquarters. Pay for the summer session will commence on June 28 for all students who have enrolled before 5 o'clock of that day.

M. H. HAERTEL,
Secretary of the Faculty.

AMERICAN LEGION

Members of the University Post of the American Legion are requested to pay dues at 151 Main hall before the close of the semester, in order that the post may send its delegate to the state convention at Green Bay. Legion buttons will not be available until fall. Members who pay now will receive The American Legion Weekly during the summer months.

WHO'S WHO AT WISCONSIN
Who's Who will be distributed Friday from 7:30 a. m. to 5 p. m. at Music hall. All those who have lost their stubs will appear also at this time so that their subscriptions may be checked and books issued.

Y.M.C.A. PLANS PROGRAM FOR COMING YEAR

Regular Service Continues
Through Summer Term;
Cabinet Named

Extensive preparations for handling the personal wants of Wisconsin students and those expecting to enter next fall have been made by the university "Y." The office of the "Y" will be continuously open during the summer school and also between that time and the opening of the fall session. The service will be at the disposal of all students.

Room lists will be kept on file and employment will also be listed. Other general information which students may need will be cared for. One student last year made use of this service to obtain a cottage on Lake Mendota for his parents and it has proven of value in many other lines. One thing which the "Y" regrets is that it cannot grant this same accommodation to women and wishes to inform those desiring it to address themselves to Dean Nardin.

During the summer the sophomore commission will write to all prospective freshmen as soon as their names are secured. When the men begin to arrive in the fall the group will meet all trains, checking their baggage free of charge, and sending it to the university "Y." Preparations are being made for the handling of the rooming house situation by the same commission. Special telephone lines will be installed for this branch of the work to facilitate the location of rooms, and the men will be accompanied by members of the commission who will help them locate and choose the rooms.

  - a. Doctors of Philosophy;
  - b. Engineers;
  - c. Masters:
    - (1) Engineers;
    - (2) Masters of Science;
    - (3) Masters of Arts.
7. The members of the instructional force will meet on the walk in front of the Law building, and will form in procession, headed up the hill, and start to march across the walk between North and South halls.
8. The President, the Regents, the Deans, Assistant Deans, and Directors, the Chaplain, the Board of Visitors, and Candidates for Honorary Degrees, with escorts, will meet in front of the west entrance of Music hall, and will form in procession on the walk, headed up the hill with the President of the University and the President of the Regents at the rear.

When the bugle is sounded, the groups on the north walk will march toward the Observatory, and join the procession headed by the candidates from the Law School, in position in front of Bascom hall (University hall). Thence, led by the band the procession will proceed to the walk running along the north side of University hall, thence past the Observatory to the Agricultural pavilion, where the procession will halt, reverse order, and enter the pavilion at the east entrance.

The procession will be formed by Professor Kowalke and assistants.

In case of rain, candidates for degrees will go directly to the Agricultural pavilion, center entrance, whence they will be ushered to their proper seats. The president, the regents, deans, and directors, faculty and invited guests will go directly to the west entrance where they will be escorted to the stage.

Beta Pi; Three Teams

Playing the first final game of the inter-fraternity series, Sigma Nu nosed out the Alpha Sigma Phi team 3 to 2 in a closely contested 9 inning game.

The game was a pitchers' battle between the two freshman, Roy Richter of Sigma Nu and Forrest G. Paddock of Alpha Sig. Both men have worked under Coach Morrie Kent and both show conference talent.

"Doc" Nelson scored for Sigma Nu in the third half of the first inning, the score standing 1 to 0 until the fourth inning when "Cully" Albrecht tied the score for Alpha Sig. In the fifth "Mec" McCartney scored for Sigma Nu, leaving them in the lead until the first half of the last inning when Paddock brought in the tally that again tied the score.

Playing was even for two extra innings when Richter won his game by scoring the winning run. Interest in the final inter-fraternity games is being aroused, as it evidenced by the fact that over 200 spectators witnessed the game.

The Phi Sigma Kappas eliminated the Phi Beta Pis in a close game with a score of 9 to 8, in another final game at Camp Randall yesterday afternoon. In a previous game the Psi Us won over the D Us by a score of 2 to 1. This leaves the Psi U, Phi Sigma Kappa, and Sigma Nu teams to fight for the first three places in the league.

Silko Jersey Suits

$15.00

A Sensation in Value Giving

To see these remarkable Suits is in itself a convincing argument which explains why many women buy them in twos and threes. They have the appearance of Suits worth much more, in fact, their great popularity encouraged the manufacturer to advance them 20%, but an enormous purchase brings them here again at the original low price of $15.00.

Utility and genuine good looks combine to make Eilko Jersey Suits popular. They may be worn as a sport suit, the coat may be worn as a light wrap, the skirt when topped by a tailored blouse results in a winsome two-piece costume. The suit when adorned by a dainty vestee proclaims one attired in a handsome summer dress.

Silko Jersey Suits are cleverly styled—the coat is a sweater-like design with fancy knit shall collar extending down the front, small side pockets and knitted tie sash with tassel ends. The skirt is plain with side pockets. The colors are purple, grey, brown, turquoise and Alice blue, American beauty, peach and Palm Beach; beautiful two-tone effects in copen and gold, black and gold, copen and American beauty, rose and green, Nile and peach, purple and white, black and American beauty, navy and white. Sizes 16 to 46.

No need to urge immediate selection. If you have a Silko Jersey in mind, by all means come tomorrow. The high favor in which these suits are held by every woman who owns one assures the ready sale of our entire purchase. There will be no more Silko Jersey Suits at $15.

PROGRAM SENT TO 15,000 BY ALUMNI G. H. Q.

Association Asks Members to Attend Final Exercises

The Wisconsin Alumni association is sending letters to all the 15,000 living alumni, enclosing a commencement program, and giving them a chance to reserve a place at the alumni banquet. The letters to the 5,000 members of the association were sent off in one afternoon. The others, to the 10,000 who had left no records of themselves with the university, have taken several weeks' labor on the part of the association.

The university band will stay for commencement, and, through the association, fifty former members are to have a reunion at that time.

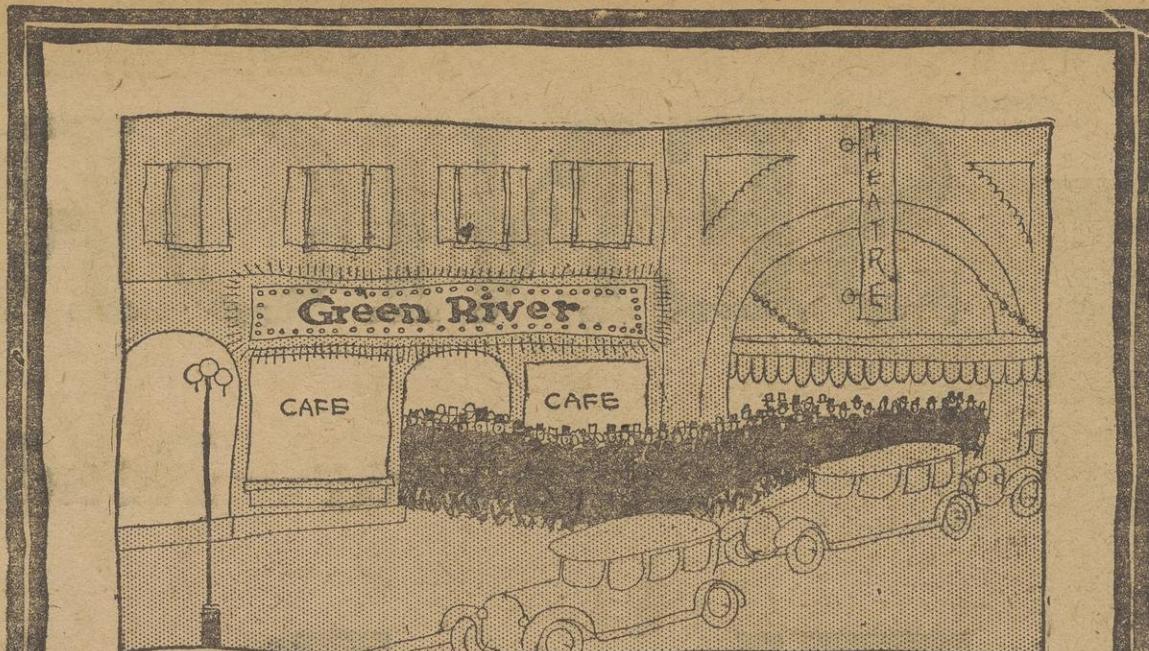

Bishop Samuel Fallows, who graduated sixty years ago, is to pronounce the invocation at the Baccalaureate service.

And the moral of all this is, say those in charge of the membership drive among the seniors, that seniors had better join the association as soon as possible, so that they will not be out of things when they graduate. If they fill out the subscription blanks which have been sent to them, and send or take them to 821 State street, next to the bursar's office, before July 1, they will be kept in touch with Wisconsin activities.

Only 220 seniors have joined the association so far, but many more are expected and are urged to join in the free time between examinations and commencement.

HOME ECONOMICS STUDENTS EXHIBIT ARTISTIC DESIGNS

An exhibition of work done in the course of Home Economics will be shown Friday afternoon, June 11 from 1:30 to 4:30 in 405-6 of the Home Economics building. The exhibit will consist of work in art design, weaving of textiles, and house decorations. Block printing, batik, needle tapestry, darned embroidery, tied and dyed weaving, lamp shades, painted and hand decorated furniture will be displayed.

DOROTHY DENNETT

Dorothy Dennett as Solange in "The Jesters" will be the lady about whom the whole plot centers. She it is who turns the heads of Chicot and Narcissus, the two noble lovers. She it is for whom the tournament of wit is held to choose a jester to entertain and amuse.

Miss Dennett is a member of Red Domino, Clef club, Girls' Glee club, and has served on both the junior and senior play committees. She is a senior in the School of Music and an accomplished musicia. Miss Dennett also took part in the 1919 Union Vodvil.

The Baron de Mautpre, Solange's proud father, will be played by Clarence Schubert. He is a member of Edwin Booth and Pi Epsilon Delta, honorary dramatic fraternity. Schubert has taken prominent parts in various university productions, winning second prize in the 1920 vodvil.

Found in Treasures of Art Gallery

By PENNELL CROSBY

I'd hoped that they would be nice pictures, because I was so hot, and I felt so blue and discouraged and worried about exams that I knew that if I didn't like them, I'd just lie down and die right there in the museum. And maybe be put in a glass case as an "interesting specimen."

But, you see that didn't happen, because the minute I came in the door and say the pictures, I loved them.

They're so wonderfully cool.

The pictures are the collection by Martha Walter which have just been hung in the art museum of the Historical museum in the university library.

There are nice chubby smiling babies—Indian babies, Italian babies, and the white American variety. They're all so nice and happy and comfortable! There are lots of children, too, not in their starchy Sunday-best, but in their play-clothes—they look as though they were having an awfully good time.

Several portraits are also included in the group. There was one in particular that I liked, that of the distinguished looking old gentleman. This is beautifully worked out on a very dark background.

But what I thought were the nicest of all were the beach pictures. The breeze just blows off from those pictures—they're so marvellously cool. Honestly, I didn't get really hot for an hour after I saw them. You can imagine how I felt when I had to leave the dear things and go to a class.

The "White Group on the Beach" and "Late Afternoon at Coney Island" remind me just a little of Whistler. One of the nicest ones is the "Windy Day on the Beach"—you instinctively hold onto your hat for fear it will blow away.

There is very little warm color used in these paintings. The color that is used most is blue—almost all the backgrounds are blue or blue-green. The glare of full sunlight is never seen. There are always clouds and shadows. That is the charm of them. Much toned white is used in the beach pictures.

The technique is mildly impressionistic—much more conservative than even the last exhibit. If you get too close, you will think that the painting is smeary; but at a little distance you realize that the effect is really clear cut.

They're so nice and soothing and comfortable. There are lots of people in these pictures, and they all seem to be having a good time. Some paintings tear you to pieces; but these just make you feel good. They're a lovely exhibit for just now.

CHIMES TO BRING NEW MEANING TO ALUMNI REUNIONS

You, seniors, are the dramatic personae of this sketch. The time is five years hence. The place is the University of Wisconsin.

You are wandering over the old campus again, strolling on the drive, thinking of "ye good olde days." Perhaps you stroll alone, and wonder what has become of the girl who strolled with you five years since. Or perhaps the girl is still strolling with you.

It's the same old sun setting over the lake. It's the same old wind that blows through the trees. But hark—it's a new sound that the wind brings to you—a low, sweet, musical sound of bells, that you have never heard before.

What are the bells? They speak for men who left the university in pursuit of their duty, never to return. And the class of '20 helped make them possible.

Will you then be strolling happily, glad that you remembered to contribute to the fund that made these bells possible? There is still time for you before commencement, if you have not already done so, to pledge your $4 for the Memorial chimes. Do it today.

Scribes Call Time and Take to Open

Wheoooooeeeeee!

With the last issue of the Cardinal off the press, and examinations looming up, the Cardinal staff is going to call time out tomorrow afternoon, and skip away to Monona park far away from telephone calls and the ticking of typewriters.

According to all the advance dope, it's going to be the biggest picnic ever held in Monona park. Ted Handy has guaranteed enough lunch for the hungry, while Bert Zilmer has promised many interesting stunts to keep the tear drops rolling down the cheeks. Unless the thermometer registers 50-40 in the shade, the co-ed scribes will challenge the males to a game of baseball, the winner to receive a precious hair from Bud Murphy's upper lip. It is rumored that I. Arnold—will deliver the address of welcome. Walt Schwinn will close the program in the evening by sending up the last skyrocket of the year. The picnic will start at 5:30.

UNFILLED STEEL ORDERS GROWING

NEW YORK—Unfilled orders of the U. S. Steel corporation for the month ending May 31, were 10,947,466 tons, it was announced today. This is an increase of 587,719 tons from the previous month when the figures were 10,359,747.
