Richards Works With Squad of 50 Men

GOOD NUCLEUS OF VETERANS IS REPORTING

Earl Driver and Cub Buck
Added to Coaching Staff

With an average of 50 men reporting daily for football practice Coach John R. Richards, aided by a capable staff is rapidly whipping his Badger athletes into shape.

The first practice, held last Wednesday, brought out about 20 men for limbering up exercises and passing the pig skin. This was expected to be the program for the remainder of the week, but with the first game less than two weeks away Coach Richards is not wasting any time, and the first light scrimmage was held Friday afternoon only two days after the season opening.

Richards Has Able Staff

The four coaches assisting Richards form as reliable a staff as can be found anywhere. They are Coach T. E. Jones, director of athletics; Trainer Berg, formerly with Milwaukee Normal school; Earl Driver, a stellar fullback of '03, '04, and '05; and Cub Buck, all-American tackle in '15.

Much is expected of the varsity huskies this year and prospects look good for squaring scores of last season and pushing to the top of the conference standing. There is a wealth of material to choose from the squad of 1919, foremost of whom is Captain "Red" Weston, and a formidable crew of new men.

Stragglers All Here

The last stragglers arrived Sunday, the last to report being Scott, Sundt, Brumm, and Williams. From last year's squad Davey, Elliott, Stark, Gould, Bunge, Brader, Barr, Rankin, and McMurray are among those who showed up last week.

Among the new men Nelson, Hipke, Barnes, Holmes, Tebell and Knapp look the most promising. It is from the last three that the coach is trying to get a right end to play opposite Captain Weston in the place left vacant by the loss of Paul Meyers. This is Knapp's first year at varsity football.

COMMERCE MIXER FIRST OF SEASON

Starting the year with a bang, the commerce course is giving its first All Commerce mixer on Friday night, Oct. 1, the first on the campus. Tickets are being sold by members of the commerce advisory commission and although many students in the commerce course will not be reached, they are all invited to be present.

This mixer will be different from the usual get together in that it will commence at 6:30 p. m., and instead of dancing there will be singing, music by the band, addresses by Prof. W. A. Scott, director of the course in commerce; Professors S. W. Gilman, F. H. Elwell, E. H. Gardner, and others.

GET YOUR "W"

A "W" tag for every Wisconsin student, signifying 100 per cent enrollment in Cardinal subscription ranks, is the watchword of the campus this morning. It is the one chance to get away right to a flying start for a banner Wisconsin year—by signing up, shelling out three and one-half iron men, getting your tag, and wearing it.

With this issue the Daily Cardinal starts its twenty-ninth annual pilgrimage as the student newspaper of the University of Wisconsin. It is the spokesman for all the students; it is the center around which revolves all varsity activity; it is the medium through which college life at Wisconsin takes a more definite stand, it augments and strengthens the greatest asset of an education here, that indomitable Wisconsin spirit.

Distribution will be free until Thursday to show students how thoroughly their paper "covers" the campus as they will all come to know it before many moons have passed. Now is the time. A solicitor will greet you on every corner surrounding the university grounds. You owe it to your school, your paper, and yourself to sign up.

NEW HOMES ARE THROWN OPEN TO STUDENT SEEKERS

No Scarcity for Men or Women; Little Increase in

Because many homes have been opened to students that were never before available, there will be no scarcity in rooms for students this fall. According to the latest reports from the offices of the dean of women and the dean of men, there is little danger that either men or women will find themselves without a place to sleep.

It is the opinion of the women's authorities that the university women are especially fortunate in having many delightful homes opened to them.

"University women are going into homes this year where rooms have never before been rented," said Miss Douthett, dean of sophomore women, "and the future of the rooming situation so far as women of the university are concerned, depends upon the attitude the women take and the consideration they show in these homes."

The supply of men's rooms is also increased, and like the women's rooms, most of them have been inspected by university authorities. Men's rooms are listed in the office of the dean of men and at the Y. M. C. A. Women's rooms are listed in the office of the dean of women.

Any attempts at profiteering by ambitious landladies will be discouraged by the university, but very few cases of exorbitant rates have occurred so far, and women's rooms on the dean's lists place a maximum rate of about $10 to $12 for double rooms and $4 to $6 for singles. Men's rooms - rent at slightly lower rates.

During The Daily Cardinal's circulation campaign subscriptions will be taken at the University Pharmacy, State and Lake streets; Hinkson's; and Morgan's. One year for $3.50, or one semester for $2.00.

GREET FROSH OUT-OF-DOORS

Lincoln Terrace to Be Scene of Annual Welcome to
New Students

The biggest freshman class in the history of the university will be introduced to college life in a most fitting manner at 11 o'clock Friday morning when the entire university turns out for the annual Varsity Welcome. This occasion has long been the first important event of the year for incoming freshmen; but this year it will be of unusual importance, as it will be the first time in 40 years that all the students and all the faculty have come together in one meeting.

In the past it has been customary to hold the big mass meeting in the armory, and, as the seating capacity of the building is only 2,000, few besides freshmen could be present. But this year, at the suggestion of upperclassmen, it was decided to hold the welcome on Lincoln terrace, and make it possible for the whole university to take part. "Varsity out to Welcome the Freshmen!" has been made the slogan.

The faculty committee on public functions, headed by Prof. Julius Olson and with the unqualified backing of the Council of 40 and Mortar Board, is making elaborate preparations for the Pageant of the Classes, which will precede the usual program of speeches. Detailed plans for the pageant, which promises to be most spectacular and imposing, will be announced later.

A brief program of songs and speeches will be given at the Lincoln monument after the pageant. President Birge, a dean, a professor and an upperclassman will do the

OPENING DAY IS BUSY ONE FOR STUDENTS

Official Figures Unavailable;
Certain to Pass
Those of Last Year

Registration machinery was officially put in motion yesterday morning at an early hour, and operating smoothly during the course of the day enabled at last as many, if not more than the usual number of first-day applicants to go through the manifold operations of matriculation.

At 5 o'clock last night the lines were still moving in and out of the various buildings turned over to enrollment activities, but no statement could be secured from officials as to the possible number of entrants. Estimates from unofficial sources place the figures for the day near the 2,200 mark. These are exclusive of the 2,500 registrants entered before yesterday morning.

Registration Earlier Than Usual
With registration days the earliest in many years history of the university, the prospect of completing the work within the allotted time was bright yesterday when long lines of both upper-classmen and freshmen formed on the campus. Not only has the anticipated crowd of yearlings put in an appearance, but old students have returned in larger numbers than in years previous.

The first day's enrollment usually sets a standard from which the total figure can be estimated, and this year with an increased summer session registration for a background, the mark is set at 8,000 as a limit. In coming trains late yesterday afternoon and evening gave evidence that the second day's arrivals will hold up the pace.

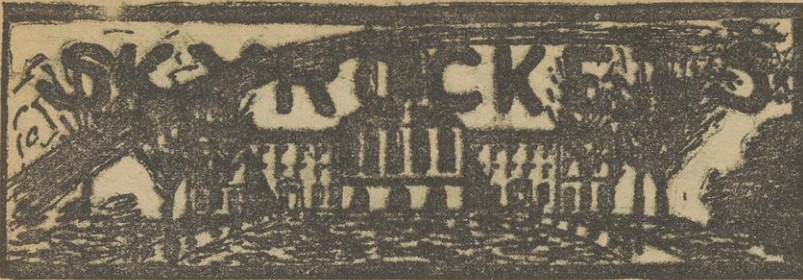

Homes Opened to Students
Despite the high number, generally conceded as a possibility by those in authority, there promises to be no shortage of rooms. Lists at the various offices show the rooming situation well in hand. A large number of homes have been opened that previously let no rooms to students. Authorities say that these possess particular advantages, especially for women.

The appeal of educational opportunities is being felt in colleges and universities all over the country. In many cases steps have been taken to limit entrance applications and thus avoid possibilities of excessive enrollments. The average

"Y" OFFERS FUND FOR SERVICE MEN

According to an announcement in the Y. M. C. A. "News-Sheet," the National War Work council has placed a sum of $3,750 with the General Secretary of the university Y. M. C. A. for the assignment of scholarships to ex-service men. This fund is to be available to all men who were in any branches, and also to S. A. T. C. and Canadian service men who are now residents of Wisconsin. The rewards are to be made on a basis of actual need of such assistance.

COMING back to this place is exhilarating. For instance, we have nowhere found such entertainers as the A. O. Pis. One of the hot nights last week, one of the bunch in coming in late, turned on the porch light by mistake and disclosed most of the chapter enjoying the lake breezes a la Japanese.

WHICH brings to mind Ashton Stevens' story concerning the big show in Chicago. You walk in and say to me, "Hello, have you seen Aphrodite yet?" And I turn and say to you, "For eleven dollars, when I get a mirror in my own bawth ruh?"

WE'RE conducting this column kinda like Raymond Hitchcock runs his revues, the finales first. Properly spiking, the col should begin with poetry, but since C. L. Fernberg hasn't issued us our 1821 license yet, we'll forgo that pleasure until a later time.

THIS year's crop of freshmen seems to be unusually low. Frex., there ain't been anyone yet who knows Mr. Fernberg. But they shall see, ah, they shall see.

THE COMPLETE MORTICIAN Just as we got that bit pounded off, Monona, dear old Monona, made her entrance. Wading 'twixt shoe-box and trunk, bedstead and hat-box, she finally arrived at us, and thrust a letter head at us. "Monona," says us, "What's this?" Silently pointing, she pinned our gaze to the top of the sheet where we read,

F. J. BLACK

Furniture, Undertaking, Musical Instruments

Somehow we knew there was a catch in it, so we turns around hopefully and hopes, "Yes?" Monona smiles wicked, and sneaks this whisper across, "That guy even furnishes the harp."

Campus Locals For New Arrivals Peg Pope is in school. Fred Beckman isn't. Among the missing—the mustaches of Boz Whitney and Bud Murphy.

Ellen Gould is clinically ill again—this time at home.

WE HATE THESE RIDDLES

Dear Ed: We just had the awfulest time this summer, you never can realize how perturbed we all were. The family was never so puset. You see we had two plum trees just loaded with fruit. Mother made them all up into preserves, of which father was very fond. In fact he ate so much he became quite ill, and worried us greatly.

Now here's what disturbed us. None of us could decide whether Dad was jam full of plum, or plum full of jam. What do you think?

DORIS.

THE rushing chairman just drops in to tell us that on the list are Messrs. Spring, Summer, and Winter. "Now with a couple of fall guys—"

STOP! We've only told it once before.

WISCONSIN MAY TEACH R. O. T. C. COMMANDANTS

In accordance with its proposed plan to establish normal courses for officers who are to be detailed on R. O. T. C. duty, the war department at Washington has just written to the military department of the University of Wisconsin, among other universities having an R. O. T. C., asking for recommendations as to the length and nature of such a course, according to Major John S. Wood, commandant.

That the Badger university is being considered by the war department as a possible location of such a normal course is regarded as a tribute to the work of the military department. The University of Wisconsin was one of the few universities in the country to be awarded high honors this spring in the annual inspection by the war department.

FORMER TEACHER RETURNS TO ENGINEERING STAFF

O. A. Haugen, formerly an instructor at the university, is returning to the University of Wisconsin this fall as assistant professor of chemical engineering. He is a present connected with the Carborundum company at Niagara Falls.

Professor Haugen received the degree of bachelor of science at the University of Washington, Seattle, in 1915. He spent the following year with the American Smelting and Refining company and then entered the University of Wisconsin as a fellow in chemical engineering, becoming an instructor the next year. In May, 1918, he entered the Chemical Warfare service and during his period of service was stationed at Saltville, W. Va.

Two recent Wisconsin graduates have just been appointed instructors in the chemical engineering department. They are Ralph E. Ramsay, '17, who has been taking graduate work during the past year, and B. A. Ragatz, '20.

COTTAGES TO HOUSE
ILLINOIS STUDENTS

Solution of the housing problem for more than 7,500 students at the University of Illinois by construction of temporary cottages on the campus was authorized recently at a meeting of the board of trustees. The movement also is aimed at profiteering landlords. It provides that the temporary student quarters be rented at moderate prices.

Funds for the cottages are to be provided by citizens of Urbana and Champaign, it was explained. The trustees are given the right to remove the buildings from the campus at any time. It was provided that the cottages be removed at the end of ten years, when the present emergency will have been eliminated.

SOCIETY NEWS

Welcome Freshmen Women

The three major women's organizations on the campus have planned a series of parties and teas for the opening week, at which functions freshmen women will be welcomed by the upperclass-women. The Self-Government association, the Y. W. C. A., and the Women's Athletic association are the organizations which will aid freshmen women in becoming acquainted. At the first affair, an S. G. A. party in Lathrop gymnasium, dancing was the principle entertainment feature, but there were novel mixing stunts that enabled women to meet each other. Junior advisors took charge of their freshman advisees and a large number of freshman women were formally introduced to the university.

This afternoon from two to six a tea will be given by the Y. W. C. A. at the home of President E. A. Birge, 772 Langdon street. All university women will be guests of the association, and junior advisors will call for their advisees and take them to the tea. Dean F. Louise Nardin, Miss Anderson, Miss Birge, Mrs. F. W. Roe, Mrs. D. H. Otis, Mildred Rogers, Marie Bodden, Marguerite Swift and members of the cabinet will receive the guests. Sada Buckmaster has charge of the arrangements, and Dorothy Dwight has planned the musical program.

W. A. A. Party

W. A. A. will entertain this evening with a party at Lathrop gymnasium, at 7:30, for all university women at which all W. A. A. girls dressed in middie suits will act as hostesses. The program of entertainment besides "getting acquainted" stunts will include a musical comedy under the direction of Frances Ellen Tucker, who has arranged a series of "take-offs" on women's sports, and mass singing led by Consuelo Burwell. Margaret Swift as head of the organization will introduce the heads of the various sports and Miss B. M. Trilling, associate professor of physical education.

Miss A. C. Anderson, formerly assistant to the dean of women, now holds the office of Dean of Women at the University of South Dakota.

Many Faculty Changes

Prof. P. W. Boutwell, of the department of agricultural chemistry, has accepted a position as associate professor of chemistry at Beloit college.

Prof. W. E. Alderman, instructor in English, will join the English department at Beloit college.

Prof. J. G. Gallan, of the department of steam and gas engineering, who has been on leave of absence during the present academic year, has recently resigned to become professor of mechanical engineering in Harvard university. He will teach factory administration and will also act as consulting mechanical engineer for an eastern manufacturing company.

ADVISORY SYSTEM AGAIN TO ASSIST FRESHMAN WOMEN

Aims to Help New Girls Get Acquainted and Start Right

The junior advisory system, with headquarters in the lobby of Lathrop hall, is under the direction of Yellow Tassel, the junior girls' organization. The system arranges for the appointment of junior advisors for freshmen girls.

The junior women have the responsibility of introducing the new women to the university, taking them to the opening parties of the year and helping them to get settled. Any advisor who has not been assigned an advisee is urged to get in touch with the committee and secure the name of her advisee.

The system of junior advisors has been in force for several years and has done a great deal toward establishing the new women in school and in helping both in their social and in their scholastic relations.

The committee in charge of the system this year consists of Ima Winchell, Auta Lyman, Mabel Winter, Gladys Haskins, Caroline Kay, Consuelo Burwell. Any criticisms or suggestions will be welcomed by the committee which is working hard to make the system really helpful to new women.

In explaining the advisory system, Miss Katherine Ely, chairman in charge, says: "The girls of the junior class form a society called Yellow Tassel. One girl is elected to take charge of the Junior Advisory system. It is through the efforts of this chairman and her committees that each freshman and new junior and sophomore has a junior girl appointed to her as her advisor. These appointments will be made this summer to those who register during the summer and during registration days to those who register at that time."

"During Monday and Tuesday of registration week, several of the larger organizations give parties, the sole purpose of which is to have the new girls get acquainted both with the old girls, and the purposes and functions of the organizations. We want all new girls to come! If the advisor has for some reason been unable to reach her advisee, it is the duty of the new girl to get in touch with her advisor and make arrangements to go. We want the new girls to think of their advisors as sisters who are ever willing to answer questions and advise whenever possible."

"The aim of the system is twofold:

- (1) To learn to know each other and be good friends.
- (2) To have the juniors, as advisors, help the new girls get started with the right balance between their studies and outside activities."

L'HOMMEDIU EXPLAINS $5 BANK CHARGE

Money to Be Refunded if Balance Remains

In a letter to The Cardinal, B. R. L'Hommiedieu, cashier of the Branch Bank of Wisconsin, explains the action taken by Madison banks in charging $5.00 for the privilege of carrying accounts with them during the coming year.

Because of the carelessness of students in handling their accounts, local banks have gone to great expense to carry them, and many times have been forced to add clerks to the number of five or six to take care of the accounts overdrawn each day, according to Mr. L'Hommiedieu. Last year the Branch Bank alone was the victim of over $700 worth of forged checks. The $5.00 fee decided upon solely as a measure to protect the banks against loss, and will be refunded in the spring to every student who does not permit his account to fall below $50.

The letter follows:

"During the scholastic year 1919-20, the Branch Bank of Wisconsin handled in excess of 2,500 student accounts and after refunding to the student the original fee charged, in cases where the account remained above $50.00, the net proceeds to the bank amounted to less than $3,000. During this time, statistics showed us that upon 2,200 student accounts, the average balance amounted to less than $21.00. These accounts were considerable more active than the ordinary commercial account, and some of the students used more than fifty checks per month, the average ranging above thirty-five.

In order to handle this character of business, it has been necessary for us to employ six additional clerks, who would not have been necessary if we did not have the student accounts. Two additional posting machines and other paraphernalia connected with this work are required, and entailed an additional investment in excess of $2,500. The cost of stationery, ledger sheets, statements, pass books, checks, deposit tickets, etc., has more than doubled in the past three years. This item of expense alone would more than absorb sixty per cent of the amount of revenue we received from the charge made last season.

"We find, after discussing the matter with the members of the Clearing House association, that while we are favored with more than half the student business, the other banks in the city also feel that the charges made in the past years have been insufficient to cover the additional cost of handling these items. The Clearing House, at a meeting some time ago, discussed the matter fully, and it was decided that a charge of $5.00 would enable the banks to break even on handling this character of business. There were two plans submitted which would possibly correct the situation:

"1. A charge of $5.00, to be made at the time of opening the account, a refund of which would be made to the student provided his account at no time during the scholastic year, fell below $50.00.

"2. To make a charge of fifty cents per month flat, throughout the scholastic year.

"It was decided that the first plan would be more favorable to the student and would cause less annoyance to him. This would also cause less work for the bank, it being necessary to go through the books each month and make charges against each account for the sum mentioned. The second plan would not only cause additional work, but would have the tendency to confuse the student as to what his correct balance might be.

"The branch of the Bank of Wisconsin was established solely for the convenience of the university professors and the university students, and, in so doing, it was understood that no source of profit would come from this business. The Bank of Wisconsin appreciates the work of the university, and the work being done by the students, and is willing, at all times, to aid in every way possible the growth, and maintaining its high standard of education.

"We regret exceedingly the thought that has possibly been called to your attention, that the banks in this city are using this increase in fee to cover losses sustained

UNIVERSITY FACULTY SALARIES SHOW INCREASE OF 50 PER CENT

Instructors Share Equally With Professors in Income Raise

Salaries at the University of Wisconsin have been raised from $1,724,297 in 1918-19 to $2,955,517 for the coming school year 1920-21. The salaries have recently been voted by the board of regents and the approved university budget for 1920-21 has been filed with the state board of education.

It is pointed out by university authorities that since the year 1918-19 there has been a 40 per cent increase in the enrollment at the university.

In an adjoining column is printed some of the salary increases that have been voted to some of the well known men identified with the university.

President E. A. Birge now receives a salary of $10,000. President Van Hise received $7,500 a year. Dean Russell receives $7,500 a year, together with a house furnished by the university which is held equivalent to $1,000 a year.

University officials maintain that the instructors at the university, the lowest paid members of the faculty, have been treated with the same generosity, proportionately, as have the professors and associate professors. It is said that since the year 1915-16 the deans and professors have been raised 44½ per cent while the instructors have been raised 39 per cent.

The figures from which these percentages are obtained are as follows: In 1915-16 there were 88 professors and deans who received on an average of $3,559.12. In 1920-21 88 professors and deans will receive an average of $5,142.67. In 1915 194 instructors received an average salary of $1,307.20. For the year 1920-21 204 instructors will receive an average salary of $1,819.07.

The following is an analysis of the university payroll for the coming year. It shows the deans, professors, associate professors and instructors and the number that are receiving the salaries indicated:

In explaining the salary increases that have been voted to heads of departments, in some cases amounting to 50 per cent, university officials contend that they have been compelled to raise the salaries to meet the offers that local faculty men are receiving from other educational institutions.

The following table represents some of the increases for the year 1920-21. The figures show the salaries paid during the year 1918-19 and the new salaries which have been voted by the board of regents:

MEANWELL NEW MEDIC ADVISOR

Basketball Coach Will Act as Doctor to University Athletic Teams

Dr. W. E. Meanwell, former Wisconsin basketball coach with championship records, has renewed his relations with the Badger athletic staff in an enlarged capacity. In addition to his duties as basketball coach he will act as medical advisor of all university athletic teams.

The return of Doctor Meanwell to Wisconsin was coincident with the resignation of Maurice Kent as baseball coach and the shifting of Coach Guy S. Lowman's activities from basketball to baseball.

Coach Kent is leaving Wisconsin to become coach of basketball and baseball at Iowa State Agricultural college at Ames, Iowa. Doctor Meanwell is resigning the directorship of the department of physical education at the University of Missouri to return to Wisconsin.

While coaching the varsity five during the period of five years extending from 1912 to 1916, Dr. Meanwell turned out four championship teams and lost but six games throughout the entire time. Three of the teams pulled down records of 1,000 per cent for the season.

RECORD ATTENDANCE FOR SUMMER SCHOOL

U. W. Ranks Third in Size of 26 Schools Conducting Sessions

Of the 26 schools which make up the association of colleges conducting summer sessions, Wisconsin had the third largest attendance, according to figures received from Dean Scott H. Goodnight, director of the summer session. Columbia university ranked first with a total of 9,685, while California was second. Michigan, Cornell and Minnesota followed with much lower registration figures.

The last summer session at Wisconsin set a new record. In recent years Wisconsin's highest attendance was 3,144, in the summer of 1916. During the two following years the figures slumped considerably, but started on the upward climb in 1919.

Dean Scott H. Goodnight was elected president of the association, which consists of universities which offer graduate work during the summer, at the last meeting held at Columbia university. The next meeting of the directors will be at Northwestern university in the spring.

1,134 SERVICE MEN FILE APPLICATION FOR STATE BONUS

Monday Date for Beginning of Pay—First Checks
October 15

The last report from the State Board of Education shows that 1,134 students attending the University of Wisconsin have applied for the state bonus; but the report also shows that there are many students who have not returned the cards sent out to them making the total up to date lower than statistics show that it should be.

In the spring of 1920 many requests for the educational bonus given to ex-service men by the state of Wisconsin were filed and cards mailed to the men. In many cases the cards did not reach their destination, either being lost in transit or destroyed. All students who last spring applied for the bonus for the coming year and did not receive a reply or card showing that their bonus was approved of should immediately report to the office of the State Board of Education in the capitol building and have the matter attended to. The first checks for the coming year will be given out October 15 for the month of September. The bonus pay started Monday, September 20, for all students who had filed their cards on that day.

The amount of money each student will receive October 15 will depend upon the date of filing the cards of approval with G. H. Chandler, assistant secretary of the faculty. Every day of delay in filing after September 20, will mean that much reduction in the size of the check.

Bonus students are reminded that all assignments for the past school year expired in June, 1920, and in order to obtain the money this year a request for reassignment must be made and new numbers assigned. More students are expected to apply for the educational bonus than there were last year.

All bonus students who have not filed their cards of approval with Mr. Chandler or his assistants at the university are again urgently requested to do so at once. All men who requested the bonus last spring for the ensuing year and who did not receive the card stating that their request had been approved are also requested to report the matter immediately to the State Board of Education in the capitol and upon doing so will receive duplicate copies of their approval.

Three New Fox Trots and a Waltz on New Victor Records

"So Long Oo-Long"—Fox Trot
by Van Eps Quartet

"Lovely Summertime"—Waltz
by Joseph C. Smith's Orchestra

Two dance numbers that are perfect triumphs. The banjo effects in the former seem powerful enough for a whole community fox trot. The latter is a languorous waltz number, very appropriately named.

"Wond'ring"—Fox Trot

A new pair of fox trots that will be great favorites with live dancers. In the first, the saxophone, accordion and piano try to outdo one another in their hilarious fantasies. The second is also a vigorous dance number but depends upon its musical interest rather than grotesque effects.

The Council of Forty will meet at 4:30 p. m. this afternoon in the office of Prof. Julius Olson, 62 Bascom hall.

WELCOME, FRESHMEN!

TO the Thousands of newcomers who throng the campus the Daily Cardinal extends greetings and a hearty welcome. Your career at Wisconsin is beginning under favorable auspices. The size of the university's enrollment, evidently the greatest in its history, sets a precedent for a year of big things. In every field of university activity the year 1920-21 promises to establish a worthy and enduring record.

Your part in the university this year will not consist in standing on the outside looking in. As members of the student body you are expected to get into the game. Many opportunities are presented to every Freshman to serve Wisconsin.

First of all, every freshman can strengthen the university by hard, thorough work in the classroom. There the foundation must be laid. Without a high scholastic standard, Wisconsin could not maintain its place in the front rank of American universities. The continuance of such a standard depends upon conscientious study on the part of each individual student.

In this connection, one of the greatest departures from the practices of high schools will quickly be noticed. Professors in the university never coerce a student in the matter of study. They realize that freshmen are mature enough to shoulder their own responsibilities. Solid scholastic work depends, therefore, upon the determination and persistence of the individual student.

Other branches of university life present opportunities of scarcely less significance. Freshmen are needed in every branch of sport. The successful first-year men will form the nucleus around which next year's team will be built. The literary societies offer a practice forum for men and women who wish to represent Wisconsin on the platform.

An outstanding service which every freshman can render is to give active support to university events. Fill and overflow the rooting sections when the Cardinal eleven tramples our opponents. Turn out to class meetings and all-university gatherings. Catch the Wisconsin spirit of getting into the game of university life and hitting the line hard. Those who put most into the life of the campus receive invariable the richest dividends.

THE GREATEST THING AT WISCONSIN

WHAT is the greatest thing in this university of ours? The magnificent and awe-inspiring buildings, the spacious campus lined with sentinel elms, the bewitching beauty of the natural scenery—these things are the first to impress the incoming freshman. He is apt to ask himself if anything else here can make a stronger appeal. Wisconsin is famous, justly famous, for the beauty of its situation. Few universities in the country equal it and none surpass it in this regard. But the charm of site and the impressiveness of classic old buildings are by no means the greatest things at Wisconsin.

When the team breaks through the Minnesota line to the chorus of 30,000 cheering voices the enthusiastic football fan can be excused for exclaiming in his ecstasy that, after all, the one greatest thing at Wisconsin is athletics. There is every reason why athletics should be a source of the highest pride to Wisconsin men and women. Not a lot or tittle of the glory should be taken away. But athletics are a means and not an end. Therefore, it cannot be called the greatest thing at Wisconsin.

The professors tell us that scholastic achievement is the "summum bonum" of university life. A string of "Ex's," in their opinion, is complete evidence that a student has reaped the richest reward of his four years on the campus. Undoubtedly, scholarship lies at the foundation of every university. Take scholarship away and any institution of higher learning will cease to have a reason for existence. But, bold as it may appear, scholarship attainment is not the greatest thing at Wisconsin.

Then what is?

Wisconsin spirit!

Everybody has heard about it. Everybody that comes to Madison feels it. Everybody that stays long on the campus absorbs this intangible something until it becomes part and parcel of his very nature.

It cannot be defined. It must be experienced. It cannot be inculcated by arbitrary rules. It must be acquired by opening the heart and receiving the flood of this spirit which flows freely to all who are willing to receive.

Wisconsin spirit is the one thing that makes the university beloved by its children and respected by the entire world. It is this spirit that is the motive power behind every team that plunges to victory. It is this spirit that impels the student to aspire for good scholarship.

Catch hold of this spirit. If you once get it you will never lose it and you will have found the greatest thing at Wisconsin.

WARNING—DRIVE SLOWLY

THE scores of auto arrests made in the city of Madison during the summer vacation months should serve as a warning to university men and women who are driving their own cars. The police have launched a noiseless, speedless crusade in Madison, and student drivers will profit both in money and trouble saved by driving slowly, and noiselessly, and by being sure that their lights comply with the city lighting ordinance.

BULLETIN BOARD

LITERARY MAGAZINE STAFF

A meeting of the business staff of the Wisconsin Literary magazine will be held this afternoon at 5:00 o'clock at the "Lit" office, Union building, third floor. Students interested in the positions of advertising manager, circulation manager, and business assistant are asked to report promptly at that hour.

COUNCIL OF 40

The Council of 40 will meet today at 4:30 p. m., in Prof. Julius Olson's office, 62 Bascom hall.

Y. W. C. A. TEA

Members of the Y. W. C. A. will entertain all university girls at a tea this afternoon at the home of President Birge, 772 Langdon street, from 2:00 to 6:00. Junior advisors are urged to call for their advisees and take them to the tea.

W. A. A. PARTY

The W. A. A. party for all university girls will be held in the Lathrop gymnasium tonight.

JUNIOR ADVISORS

Juniors who have not been able to get in touch with their advisees are urged to report their difficulties to the committee and make arrangements for other assignments. Headquarters of the committee are in the lobby of Lathrop.

GLEE CLUB TRYOUTS

Preliminary tryouts for vacancies in the Glee club will be held Thursday and Friday at 4:30 p. m., and Saturday morning from 9:00 to 12:00 in 27 Music hall. Other appointments may be made with Prof. Swinney, 27 Music hall.

through forged checks. While we admit that last season the banks and merchants in the city lost approximately $700.00 through forged checks by the student body, we certainly have no idea of using this method of reimbursing ourselves. This evil of forging checks could be largely obviated, should the university use the signature feature in connection with the student fee card, which could be obtained easily at the time of registration. These cards would act as a identification with the merchants at the time the student transacted business with them.

"You are advised that the banks in the city have not acted hastily in this matter, and have not come to this conclusion in an arbitrary way, but a committee was appointed to interview the heads of the university, including President Birge, Business Manager Thorkelson, Secretary McCaffrey, and others. Without exception, these gentlemen have concurred in the action taken in making this raise."

UNIVERSITY INN HAS NEW MANAGER

E. K. Naftalin, formerly manager of the Barker Bakery and Coffeeateria on State street, has leased the University Inn, 1317 University avenue, where he will conduct a first class restaurant, catering to the students and general public.

The management will serve home cooked foods at reasonable prices. A specialty will be made of chicken dinners on Sundays.

President Birge has ordered classes dismissed at 11 o'clock on Friday if the weather is fair. In case of rain, 11 o'clock classes on Friday will meet and the Varsity Welcome with preliminary pageant will be held on Monday at 11 o'clock.

WOMEN MEET AT FIRST OF S. G. A. LIST OF PARTIES

"Varsity," sung by hundreds of Wisconsin women, both freshmen and upperclass-women, under the direction of Prof. E. B. Gordon, opened the most successful S. G. A. party in the history of the university last evening. Lathrop gymnasium was crowded to the doors.

A short program of songs and speeches started the evening, and dancing to the music of Thompson's best orchestra rounded out the party. Dean F. Louise Nardin spoke fittingly to the girls about loyalty to themselves and to the university. Marie Bodden welcomed the girls on behalf of the S. G. A. She explained that the association was a medium for all university activities and that it was there to help the students.

These two speeches were followed by a discourse by Dr. Elsom upon the value of friendships and the ability to make friends. He introduced some novel mixing stunts in the way of hand-shaking and getting acquainted ideas, and after that the music and dancing began.

This party is the first of three entertainments planned for the new women. The tea this afternoon and the W. A. A. party tonight will complete the list.

ENROLLMENT MAY SET 8,000 RECORD

increase over last year's registration in most of the institutions is placed at 30 per cent.

Wisconsin's record last year ran well over 6,500, an enormous increase over the previous year when it was 4,000. The largest number entered before that was in 1916-17 when 5,318 students enrolled.

Fees Remain Same
Matriculation expenses have not increased, the non-resident tuition remaining at $62 and the state fee at $15 which includes the $3 medical fee established last year.

An additional requirement of the registration process makes it necessary for the student to endorse the back of that portion of his fee card retained by himself as a receipt. This is being done in an effort to cooperate with local merchants who are requesting students to show their fee cards when presenting checks. Both student and merchant are protected by this, since several forgeries were experienced last year.

AT THE FULLER

Lou Tellegen, Goldwyn star, who plays the leading role opposite his wife, Geraldine Farrar, in "Flame of the Desert," is no ordinary nimrod, for he has hunted ferocious beasts in Brazil, has tracked the tiger to his lair and has indulged in all sorts of big game hunts in Africa. Between scenes in this latest production, Mr. Tellegen went into the California mountains with the intention of bringing home a buck, but he was sadly disappointed. He returned with a kit full of shells and luncheon and says his tramp through the mesquite and chaparral was harder work than breaking through the jungles of South America. Starting tomorrow the "Deep Purple" will be shown at the Fuller. Without doubt, this is one of the best pictures shown in this city in some time.

NEW COUNCIL FROSH HOSTS

Junior Organization of "Y" Offers Three Evenings
for New Men

The first of the entertainments being given by the newly organized Junior council of the Y. M. C. A. for the new men got under way at 7:30 last night in the Y parlors. The program, which was lively and varied, featured "Sparks" Dodge, the whirlwind monologist, "Doc" Dorward, with his droll Scottish songs, Varsity singing "school," where many of those present first heard the old Wisconsin songs, and a fiercely fought indoor field meet with novelty shot puts and tugs of war.

This evening a second stunt has been arranged by the same committee which will take a party of all freshmen who desire to go on a wiener roast to Sunset Point. Additional features have been projected and another hit is expected to be made. The party is scheduled to leave the Y at 7:30.

The annual Frosh banquet, which is to be the last event, is set for 6:45 tomorrow night to take place in the Y. M. C. A. It will be the first general opportunity, outside the preliminary programs, for the freshmen to get together, and the tickets are being disposed of rapidly. Prof. A. B. Hall, who has presided over the banquet for many years, will again be in charge, and the list of the speakers for the evening is planned to leave no side of campus life untouched.

For the faculty Prof. Carl Russell Fish will be the speaker. "Red" Weston, captain of the team and president of the Y, will give a short talk on the football season, while "Wes" Travers, vice-president of the Y, will present other activities. Frank Kuehl will represent ETALL. Frank Kuehl will represent forensics, "Milt" Borman will explain the significance of the letters sent the freshman by the Sophomore Commission, and "Bud" Follett will explain traditions.

'Y' GIVES TEMPORARY DIRECTORY SERVICE

The sophomore commission of the university Young Men's Christian association is to have charge of a temporary student directory. This directory is to be at the service of all students, and is intended to lessen the confusion and delay occasioned by changed residences and misdirected mail, and to aid students in locating each other the first few weeks.

In order to make the directory as complete as possible, the commission asks all students, men or women, to send their names, addresses and telephone numbers, to the Y. M. C. A. as soon as possible.

SORORITIES MUST CONFORM TO NEW RUSHING RULING

Problems Complicated by Strict Enforcement of Pan-Hellenic Laws

Changes in Pan-hellenic rules, combined with the large number of new girls entering the university this fall, have increased the complications of sorority rushing. On account of the university parties on Monday night and Tuesday, rushing will not begin until Wednesday at 2:00 p. m. At this time the round of entertainment will commence with teas at all of the houses.

Strict rules limit the time each day in which members of sororities may rush, and infringement of the rules will be punished by the Pan-hellenic association. The sororities are adhering strictly to the rule prohibiting ostentatious rushing. There is to be no rushing with cars and extravagant parties will be taboo.

Rushing parties will conform to S. G. A. rules, and there is to be no rushing before 4:30 p. m. on Thursday and Friday and 9:30 a. m. on Saturday, or after 10:00 p. m. on Wednesday and Thursday, and 11:00 p. m. on Friday and Saturday. These limited hours result in a conflict of dates that adds considerable excitement to the usual rush.

Sororities will entertain with dinners, formal and informal, novel supper parties, picnics, and other appropriate evening functions. Rushing chairmen and committees have been working all summer on the organization of the lists and the parties.

Rushing closes at 11:00 p. m. on Saturday, and the following two days are "silence days" during which time the bids are received and sent out from the office of the dean of women.

JOBS FOR NEEDY ARE NOW AVAILABLE

The Y. M. C. A. is issuing an appeal to the men who intend to work this semester to keep from taking all of the available jobs unless absolutely needful of funds.

According to Secretary Wolf, who has charge of student employment, jobs are often taken only for the purpose of getting extra spending money, depriving others of employment who are dependent upon it. This makes conditions difficult for the latter, and leads to many men dropping from the university. Furthermore, according to Mr. Wolf, the first rush soon stops and many good jobs come in with no takers.

The Employment bureau will endeavor to handle the situation as well as conditions will permit, but hopes for aid from the men themselves.

SENIOR SACRIFICES LIFE TO SAVE GIRL

Harold ("Mike") Murray Killed By Speeding Car in Chicago Street

Struck by a speeding automobile, Harold ("Mike") Murray, senior in the University of Wisconsin, was killed, and Miss Lucile Cumfer, to whom he was engaged to be married, seriously hurt, while returning to their homes in Chicago one night early in September. The driver of the car did not stop after hitting them, and his identity is not known.

Murray was a student in the college of agriculture and a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity. He completed his junior year last spring and intended to return to Madison this fall to complete his course.

Murray was killed while attempting to save the life of the girl whom he was escorting. The story of his sacrifice was told by Miss Cumfer after she had regained consciousness.

"Mr. Murray wore thickly-lensed glasses," said Miss Cumfer, "and that may be the reason he did not know the car was so near. It was coming so fast that I didn't have any time to get out of the way. He did not hesitate as it bore down on us. He stepped in front of the car and pushed me quickly aside. I saw the car knock him down as it hit me."

MORE SUBSCRIBERS THAN LAST SEASON, IS AIM OF OCTOPUS

The Octopus, campus humor magazine, began its subscription drive yesterday, confident that last year's circulation mark will be shattered.

Subscription booths have been established at the bursar's office, Lathrop hall, and on the hill. Lydia Henricks and Elizabeth Chandler are in charge of the campaign and through their assistants are urging all students to support the magazine by subscribing.

The Octopus is looking for a lot of "funny bone ticklers" among the various classes of the university, and all who wish to try out for positions on either the business or editorial staff are asked to report to the Octopus office in the Union building any day this week. The office will be open from 9 to 12.

Corn Sugar?

Baltimore Scientists Claim
Corn Yields Sugar at 4
Cents a Pound; U. W. Professor Doubts.

CAN cane or table sugar be made out of corn?

A prominent professor of agricultural chemistry at the university does not believe that up to the present date any successful method has been found.

"We know, of course," he declared, "that the cornstalk has a sugar content, but so far experiments to make table sugar out of it in any considerable quantities have failed. I think that if any appreciable progress had been made in this field technical journals would have carried articles on it."

Word has been received here that after more than three years of intensive effort Dr. Arthur W. Smith and S. F. Evans of Baltimore have perfected a process by which white sugar of the best domestic and commercial kinds may be obtained from corn. The report comes from the General Food Products Co. of New York and declares that in view of the almost unlimited supply of corn in this country, there need never be another sugar shortage. The account also states that the sugar may be manufactured for less than 4 cents a pound, and that the price of that commodity will therefore soon be more than cut in half.

A 2 Years' Course in Commerce

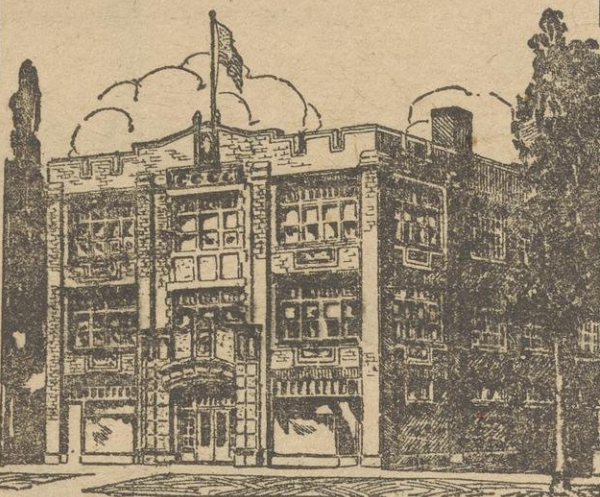

WITH the opening of the Fall Term, September 6th, the "4C" College of Commerce introduces into its curriculum an Advanced Course in Commerce, eligible only to graduates of a high school course of its equivalent. The character and completeness of this course is not excelled by any school, public or private, throughout the country.

¶ The subjects included are none but what are essential to the needs of responsible Business Positions as Bookkeepers, Accountants and Secretaries. Graduates from this course will be in such urgent demand that positions paying from $2,000 to $2,500 per annum will be available to start with.

¶ Calls for our graduates in the past have been heaping upon the Employment Service Department of this institution in such large numbers, from cities within a radius of 500 miles from Madison, that the management of this school has become convinced that many hundreds of graduates from high schools would welcome an advanced accounting course which could be completed in two years, and at the same time not sacrifice anything in accounting usually attained in a four years' course.

¶ As will be noticed from the schedule of studies, the first year is devoted to preliminary and fundamental subjects in addition to five units of accounting, while the entire second year deals in C. P. A. problems. In all fairness to other institutions of learnings, we wish to emphasize the fact that this course should not be confused with commercial courses usually offered by business colleges, etc. This is an extensive course of accounting and any students completing the work will have more accounting units to his credit than is offered at state universities, notwithstanding the fact that the latter is a four years' course.

STENOGRAPHY INCLUDED

While the student may graduate from this course without any knowledge of stenography, yet we advise that all include stenography during the last six months of the course. Stenography is one of the best assets in the Business World. Many a man or woman high up in the Office Profession owes much of his or her rapid advancement to a knowledge of stenography. With conscientious application to the work, any student should be able to complete the full course, including stenography, within two years.

H. S. COMMERCIAL CREDITS ACCEPTED

Any student having graduated from a commercial course in high school, will receive credit on the first year's work if his course has been of a satisfactory character.

COACHES DRAFT 1921 SCHEDULE IN BASKETBALL

New Rule Will Allow Man to Re-enter Game After Being Taken Out; Mean- well Honored

Dr. E. W. Meanwell, Wisconsin basketball coach and medical advisor of the athletic department, will be back in Madison today, after having been chosen president of the Western Conference Basketball association at the meeting of the association at the Auditorium Hotel, Chicago, just concluded.

Dr. Meanwell, popular coach, whose record at Missouri and at Wisconsin has earned him the title of the "greatest basketball coach in the world" was the unanimous choice of the basketball association for the presidency. The Badger coach was also honored by being made one of a committee of three to name officials for the winter's games. L. W. St. John of Ohio State, and Dr. L. J. Cooke of Minnesota were the others. Dr. Cook was elected secretary.

The 1920-21 basketball schedule for all of the conference schools was drafted and made public today. Wisconsin will open the conference basketball season on Jan. 3 with a game at Northwestern. Games follow at Michigan and at Chicago, and the first home game will be played Jan. 22 with Illini. The teams which Wisconsin will play are Northwestern, Michigan, Chicago, Illini, Minnesota and Ohio State.

The schedule as drafted shows that the Badgers will have as difficult a schedule of games as they have had in some time. Northwestern, one of the strongest teams in the conference, will be met instead of Iowa. A feature of the conference meeting was the renewal of athletic relations between Chicago and Northwestern, rivals for years. The two schools have not played each other in intercollegiate contests since Stagg charged ringers from Great Lakes were being played by the Purple. Chicago and Northwestern will play two games in basketball this year.

The most important rule change was one which has been hanging fire for a long time and which will mean a lot to the game as it is played. The association adopted a rule whereby a player may be removed from a game and reinstated once during the contest. This change is expected to make the play more speedy and more interesting. Star players may be saved for the closing moments of a contest under it, and men will be given a chance to rest. Games may be continued immediately after a man has been injured and the injured man substituted after he has had plenty of time to recover. This rule met with almost no opposition.

Madison was exceedingly well represented at the meeting. Morris Kent, last year's varsity baseball coach, and at present director of Athletics at Ames, attended the meeting in quest of games. George Levis, former Badger star and Madison High school coach, was there. Levis is now basketball coach at Indiana. The Indiana schedule includes Ohio, Northwestern, Minnesota, Purdue, and Iowa, but a game has not been booked with Wisconsin. Levis refused to bring a team here to play against the Badger squad.

The Wisconsin schedule follows:
WISCONSIN

Jan. 3—Northwestern at Northwestern.

Jan. 8—Michigan at Michigan.

Jan. 15—Chicago at Chicago.

Jan. 22—Illinois at Wisconsin.

Jan. 24—Michigan at Wisconsin.

Jan. 29—Minnesota at Minnesota.

Feb. 12—Northwestern at Wisconsin.

Feb. 19—Illinois at Illinois.

Feb. 21—Ohio State at Ohio State.

Feb. 26—Chicago at Wisconsin.

March 5—Minnesota at Wisconsin.

March 8—Ohio State at Wisconsin.
