For the Year Ending April 25, 1910

With

Report of Annual Meeting

Held April 25, 1910

CANTWELL PRINTING COMPANY
MADISON, WIS.

THE annual meeting of the Madison Park and Pleasure Drive Association was held in the gymnasium of the High School building on Monday evening, April 25, 1910, at the conclusion of the annual dinner

The meeting was called to order by Albert H. Hollister, chairman.

As the minutes of the previous annual meeting had already been published in the report the reading of such minutes was omitted.

On motion a committee of three consisting of M. S. Dudgeon, W. A. Oppel and John S. Main was appointed to nominate officers for the ensuing year.

The report of the treasurer and of the auditing committee was then read and on motion the report was received and placed on file.

The committee on nominations reported in favor of the election of the following persons as officers of the association for the ensuing year, viz.:

President, J. C. Schubert.

Vice-President, Andrew S. Brown.

Secretary, Charles N. Brown.

Treasurer, Frank W. Hoyt.

Directors, Halle Steensland, W. D. Curtis, Fred M. Schlimgen, Frank W. Cantwell, Frank W. Hoyt, and G. M. Fisk.

On motion the report of the committee was adopted and the secretary was instructed to cast the ballot of the members of the association for the persons named respectively as officers of the association. The secretary having reported the ballot cast, the persons named were declared duly elected.

The following resolution offered by W. R. Bagley was unanimously adopted by rising vote:

WHEREAS, John M. Olin, president of this association from the time of its organization, was compelled during the past year to resign that position and to sever his official connection with this association; and

WHEREAS, the members of this association realize that the progress and success of this association has been due principally to his efforts; and

WHEREAS, gifts for the benefit of the city aggregating more than $250,000 have been secured largely through his personal solicitation and in consequence of the confidence inspired by his management of the association and his connection with it; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the members of the Madison Park and Pleasure Drive Association, assembled in annual meeting, that we express and convey to Mr. Olin in behalf of the city of Madison and the inhabitants thereof, our deep sense of gratitude for the services which he has rendered to our city by the work which he has taken up and accomplished and that we express to him our profound sorrow and regret that it is not possible for him longer to continue to be the active and guiding spirit in the work so broadly planned and so successfully carried out by him;

Resolved, further, that the secretary of the association be directed to furnish Mr. Olin a copy of this resolution and that the resolution be published in the annual report of the association and that it be spread upon the records of the association.

The annual report of the directors was then read by the secretary.

The paper upon "Parks and the City Plan" was presented by Mr. John Nolen.

Hon. B. H. Meyer spoke of "Children and the Parks."

Mr. Olin spoke of "The Future."

At the conclusion of Mr. Olin's address the following resolution was offered by Hon. A. L. Sanborn:

Resolved, that it be the sense of this meeting that a committee of nine citizens of Madison should be appointed, three from the common council, the mayor to be a member ex-officio and he to appoint the other two, two from the members of this association to be appointed by the directors thereof, two from the club to be formed as successor to the Forty Thousand Club, to be appointed by the president of such club, and two from the members of the faculty of the university, to be appointed by the president of the university, such appointees to be residents and tax payers of the city of Madison.

Such committee to make a thorough investigation to determine the best general form of city government for Wisconsin cities of the class of the city of Madison and the best general park law for cities of such class, and to report its conclusions on or before the meeting of the next legislature, accompanying such report with a proposed law in each case.

Resolved further, that a copy of this resolution be sent by the secretary of the association to the mayor of the city, to the president of the association which is to succeed the Forty Thousand Club, and to the president of the university, with the request that action be taken under it.

Resolved further, that upon the appointment of the different members of such a committee, the mayor of the city be, and he is hereby requested to call the members of such committee together for the purpose of organization and the planning of the work.

Mr. Olin then presented the following letter from Mrs. Anna M. Vilas:

MADISON, WIS., April 25, 1910.

JOHN M. OLIN, ESQ.

SIR,—I hereby propose to contribute the sum of $25,000 to the Madison Park and Pleasure Drive Association, or to its successors or assigns, to be paid $5,000 thereof on or before the first of March, 1911, and $5,000 annually thereafter for a period of four years, for the purposes and upon the conditions hereinafter named:

First.—The city of Madison shall acquire, on or before two years from the date hereof, as an addition to Henry Vilas Park, lots 18, 19, 20, 21, 22 and 23, of block 303, and all of block 304 south of the south line of Erin street extended through to Warren street, and all land south of lot 19, in said block 304, out to the waters of Lake Wingra, all in Greenbush addition to the city of Madison, and shall acquire the land necessary to extend, and cause to be extended, Erin street through to Warren street with a width of not less than sixty-six feet.

Second.—The Madison Park and Pleasure Drive Association or its successors and assigns, shall, on or before November 1, 1912, cause said additional lands to be improved as a part of and an addition to Henry Vilas Park, in accordance with the plans or designs furnished by some competent landscape architect approved of by the directors of said association, it being understood, however, that the money for the making of such improvement shall be provided by the city.

Third.—The said city of Madison shall, on or before November 1, 1912, cause the low or filled portion of Henry Vilas Park to be filled by a filling of sufficient depth to leave the surface of said park, after all settling has taken place, of sufficient height above the water line at its ordinary stage to make said park sufficiently dry for park purposes at all times of the year,* and shall also cause to be done whatever dredging may be necessary to complete the connection between Lake Wingra and Lake Monona as originally planned by O. C. Simonds, landscape architect.

Fourth.—The city shall, on or before November 1, 1913, cause to be constructed two appropriate bridges across the lagoon in said park, one at the westerly and the other at the easterly end of same, to be located as indicated in the design of said park prepared by Emil T. Mische, such bridges to be constructed of such material and of such design as may be approved of by the directors of the Madison Park and Pleasure Drive Association, or by the park board of said city, in case the work of said association is transferred to such board; and said city shall also cause to be constructed, on or before November 1, 1913, the road or driveway around the outer edge of the island in said park as indicated in the design of said park prepared by said Emil T. Mische.

Fifth.—It is my wish that the money which I hereby agree to contribute on the conditions above named shall be used to meet the expense of acquiring said additional lands for said park which lie south of the south line of Erin street extended, it being my understanding that said sum is ample to meet the expense of acquiring said lands, provided there is paid for the same a liberal but not exorbitant price.

ANNA M. VILAS.

After the reading of the letter the following resolution was offered by Mr. Schubert and on motion was adopted by rising vote:

Resolved, that the very generous gift offered to this association and to the city by Mrs. Anna M. Vilas, of $25,000 for the purpose of securing land for an addition to Henry Vilas Park, be accepted, on the terms and conditions contained in a letter written by Mrs. Vilas to John M. Olin, dated Madison, Wis., April 25 1910, and that the thanks of this association be tendered to Mrs. Vilas for this liberal and public-spirited act.†

The meeting then adjourned.

* This condition as to the dredging of the canal was subsequently withdrawn.

† The gift was accepted by vote of the common council of the City of Madison on May 17, 1910.

Annual Report of the Directors

O the members of the Madison Park and Pleasure Drive Association:

In presenting this report the directors feel that they know the one thought that is uppermost in the minds of all here present and that is the feeling of regret that the annual report of the association should not be presented, as it has been presented for so many years, by Mr. Olin. Year after year at each recurring annual meeting of the members of this association, Mr. Olin has stood before you giving you vivid pictures of the work accomplished by the association under his management and painting in glowing colors the rosate visions which, during the coming months, he meant to make substantial realities. If you, members of the association, miss him, much more do we, upon whom has devolved the burden which he has laid down, regret the absence of the master spirit whose dominating optimism has been our inspiring and moving force for more than seventeen years.

Statistics

Continuing the example which has been set in past reports this report will give a summary of the work up to

Other Contributions

As before stated, this summary includes only the contributions made directly to the association, and is exclusive of contributions made by the city of Madison. It does not take into account about 80 acres of land used for parks and driveways outside of the city but held in trust for the city, nor does it include about 33 acres in the parkway between lakes Wingra and Monona, nor Kendall Park, worth at the time it was donated by Judge Carpenter not less than $2,000, nor Burr Jones Field, worth at least $4,000 when contributed by Mr. Jones, nor the $2,500 contributed by Mr. Jones for the Olive Jones field in the Tenth ward, nor the $10,000 contributed by Halle Steensland for the Steensland Bridge, nor about $56,000 expended by the railway companies in making the Yahara Parkway possible.

City Aid

As above stated, the summary given does not include appropriations made to acquire lands for parks, or amounts expended in improvements in and adjacent to the parks for which the city has been obliged to pay because of its ownership of land upon one or both sides of the improvement. These items are as follows:

Bonds issued July 1, 1903.....	$35,000 00
Bonds issued July 1, 1905.....	19,500 00
Bonds issued Oct. 1, 1908.....	30,000 00
		$84,500 00
Amount levied as direct taxes to secure park lands in addition to the bonds issued, approximately.....		8,000 00
Amount expended for permanently improving and macadamizing streets occasioned by the ownership by the city of park lands adjoining such streets as follows:
Main street.....	$1,875 00
Washington avenue.....	1,500 00
Drake street.....	1,935 00
Johnson street.....	2,500 00
Brittingham Boulevard.....	2,326 00
Brittingham Place.....	1,675 00
Marston avenue.....	2,965 00
		14,776 00
Amount expended in improving streets within parks as follows:
Burr Oak Drive, Henry Vilas Park.....	$2,900 00
Bay View Drive, Brittingham Park.....	7,153 06
		10,053 06
Amount expended for extending storm sewers and drains through parks.....		4,266 06
Total amount expended by the city for permanent improvements.....		$121,595 12

It should be stated that the foregoing amounts, in cases where the work is still in progress, are the engineer's estimates, and is supposed to cover the entire cost of the work which has not yet been finished. This substantially completes all streets in or adjacent to the parks excepting Thornton avenue in Tenney Park, the upper end of Burr Oak Drive and Meadow Drive in Henry Vilas Park and Warren street adjacent to Henry Vilas Park.

It is to be noted that the total amount expended and to be expended by the city in acquiring and permanently improving the parks, is less than one-half the amount contributed to the association by its members.

Half Mill Tax

In the annual budget levied in 1908 there was incorporated a provision for a half mill tax for park purposes. This tax was again levied in 1909 and seems now to be a regular established item of municipal expenditure. The amount realized in 1909 was $12,460 and the amount this year will be $14,750. The time has gone by when it is necessary to advance any arguments to the tax payers of Madison in favor of a reasonable expenditure for park purposes. The parks of Madison are their own best advocates. It is believed that the tax payers generally pay willingly to 50 cents which is thus levied for park purposes on each $1,000 of the assessed valuation of their property.

Method of Securing Subscriptions

Anyone who has had anything to do with circulating subscription papers knows the enormous labor involved in securing subscriptions from a membership the size of ours. Owing to the fact that the subscribers are scattered all over the city, that many of them have no regular places of business, that many of them are liable to be out of the city or otherwise absent when the solicitor calls on them, it is necessary to go over the city repeatedly and to spend many valuable hours in the fruitless endeavor to make a thorough canvass. To meet these conditions some way had to be devised to lessen the work of securing the subscriptions. The plan of postal card subscriptions has been in successful operation for several years. This year the method was as follows: In the latter part of January, the directors invited a number of representative citizens to meet with them and go over the list of subscribers for the past year and to add to it persons who had not been subscribers. The committee then decided what in their judgment would be a proper sum to ask from each individual in view of his circumstances and the amount which it was desired to raise. A postal card was then sent to each individual bearing a form of a pledge with the amount which he was asked to contribute inserted. Accompanying this was a circular letter signed by the directors explaining the reason why this method of solicitation was adopted and explaining that the person addressed should feel perfectly free to change the amount or to decline to contribute if in his judgment he was not able to contribute or he was not willing to do so.

These circulars brought immediate responses from a very considerable number of subscribers. In some instances the amount named on the postal card was less than the subscriber was willing to contribute and the amount was increased. In other cases, the amount was decreased and in a few cases cards were returned with a statement that the person signing it declined to contribute. About twelve hundred cards were sent out and subscriptions amounting to about $3,000 were received. About four weeks later a printograph circular, resembling an autograph letter, which was individually addressed and was signed by the secretary, was sent to each person from whom a response had not been received. Another postal card filled out for the same amount as the original was enclosed. This brought a considerable number of responses, increasing the subscriptions about $1,000.

The directors realize that this is perhaps not the ideal way to procure subscriptions but the great advantage which it has of saving the time of the solicitor and also of the subscriber is its justification. It may seem to some who receive the circular for the first time like an unwarrantable attempt to dictate the amount which a person shall subscribe, but if the circular is carefully worded and the reason for that method of procedure is clearly stated, no person should take offense. As a matter of fact, no objections to this method of procedure have been made to the directors by any of those to whom the circulars have been sent this year.

It will be interesting to note that of the subscribers above named 39 are new ones. Of these one subscribed $25, thirteen $10 each, twenty-two $5 each and three $3 each.

This method of securing subscriptions has attracted a great deal of attention among people in other cities engaged in similar work and the secretary has had very many inquiries as to the exact method pursued and as to the forms of subscriptions and circulars used.

After the circulars had ceased to produce results the subscription papers bearing names copied from subscription cards have been in circulation. This work has been under the charge of Charles G. Riley, who as in former years has called others to his aid.

The work of solicitation is still in progress and it is certain that the total subscription this year will come up to $6,000, that being the amount which the directors felt that it was necessary to have in order to carry on the necessary work outside the city.

Planting Trees, Shrubs and Vines

In the eight years prior to 1909, the association had planted 140,839 trees, shrubs and vines. During the season of 1909, 9,110 were purchased from outside nurseries, 83 trees were obtained from our own nursery and 10,509 plants were collected, making a total for 1909 of 19,702. For the present spring we have ordered 199 trees and 8,309 shrubs and obtained from the nursery 136 trees and 560 shrubs and have collected 8,000 shrubs and 40 trees, making a total of 17,244, or a total, for the ten years, of 177,435 plants, trees and shrubs. The principal planting this year has been in Brittingham Park, where the number of plants has been 10,426, Tenney Park 3,218, 3,090 on the drives, 350 in Henry Vilas Park and 210 shrubs in Orton Park.

Nursery

In this connection the directors deem it proper to place upon record a statement concerning the nursery of the association which up to this time has never appeared in the reports. Shortly after the work of the association commenced, Mr. Olin bought a quantity of seedling trees which he planted upon a tract of land purchased for that purpose from Mr. Raymer, with the intention of furnishing the trees to the association at cost when they should be of the proper size to plant. By the time, however, that the trees were ready to plant Mr. Olin, feeling that some one might criticise him for selling trees to the association even if he sold them at cost, decided to give the trees to the association and from that time the association has not only had the use of the land originally purchased but Mr. Olin has purchased an additional tract to which the association has extended its nursery. The association has therefore had, as a free gift from Mr. Olin, trees which had cost him $550 when he gave them to the association and has had the use of the land free of charge. The directors have felt that this fact should be made known to the public and it would have been published had not Mr. Olin been the one to write the annual report.

The value of this nursery to the association is much greater than it might appear at first glance. By raising our own trees from seedlings we are able to get far better trees than we could purchase, and by reason of the fact that we are able to plant them immediately after they are dug we are able to get far better results from trees of our own raising than could be obtained from trees shipped here from a distant nursery.

This year we have been able to supply the city of Madison with a quantity of unusually fine trees for planting along newly improved streets on which the trees set last year had died. We were able to furnish them for one-half of what it would have cost to procure inferior trees elsewhere.

Tenney Park

From the last annual report it appears that there had been spent up to that time, in the improvement of the old portion of Tenney Park, exclusive of the cost of maintenance, $24,029.70. There have been no improvements in this park such as should be properly charged to maintenance, so that the sum represents the total cost of the old portion of the Park.

Tenney Park Addition

Up to the time of the last report there had been paid on account of the improvement of the addition to Tenney Park the sum of $41,480.10. Since that time there has been expended upon this improvement the sum of $8,880.74. This makes the total cost of the addition to the park $49,360.84, and brings the total cost of the whole park up to $74,390.54. Of this sum the city has contributed for the purchase of lots $32,270.50 and $6,887.58 for construction. Mr. Tenney has contributed $12,968. The remaining $22,209.46 has been contributed by private individuals, subscribers for the work of the association.

Work Accomplished During the Last Season

Not all of the work outlined in last year's report has been completed. The greater portion of the park was covered with top soil upon which grass has now begun to make a fine showing. A considerable portion of the planting was completed and the remainder is now being done. The sanitary nearest Sherman avenue has been erected and the drinking fountain at the corner of Sherman avenue and Marston avenue.

Work to be Done the Present Season

In addition to completing the planting and seeding of that portion of the park between Sherman avenue and Johnson street it is hoped to complete that portion of the park between Sherman avenue and Lake Mendota. This was filled last year with clean sand pumped from the lake and for this reason seems to offer ideal facilities for a sand playground for the children. Plans for such a playground and for the covering and seeding of the remainder of that portion of the park are being prepared by Mr. Nolen and it is proposed to carry out the work along such lines as he shall suggest.

The lagoon affords ideal facilities for an enjoyment always dear to children—a swan boat. It is believed that such a boat upon the lagoon would pay for itself besides affording untold delight to the little ones. The sand garden, the wading pool and a swan boat certainly ought to make the park popular with the future citizens of Madison.

Bridges in Tenney Park

None of the bridges mentioned in last year's report have been completed, although, as there stated, plans had then been made by the city engineer, acting in connection with Mr. Ferry of Milwaukee, for the four necessary bridges. As pointed out in last year's report it was impossible for the association to use any portion of its funds for the erection of the bridges, so that in order that they might be erected the work would have to be done at the cost of the city. The matter has been taken up with the city authorities and was presented to the common council. On June 25, 1909, the finance committee of the council to whom the matter of the erection of the bridges during the year 1909 was referred, reported a resolution which was adopted by the council with but three dissenting votes. The resolution recited that the committee recognized the desirability of completing Tenney Park during that season, including the erection of four bridges, but that owing to the pressing demands upon the funds of the city it was considered best to postpone the erection of the bridges until 1910. The committee was careful in the resolution to say that the passage of that resolution was not to be construed as an evidence of opposition to the park work on the part of the common council, it being the sense of the council that Tenney Park should be completed at as early a date as was practicable under all the circumstances.

Buildings for Tenney Park

To complete the park so that it may serve the public satisfactorily several things are necessary. One of these is a pier to provide a convenient landing place for those coming from Lake Mendota by boat. This pier should be built, if possible, in the form of a breakwater so placed that it would afford a shelter to boats and launches. Such a breakwater, with the curving shore of the park and the point beyond the Yahara, will make a harbor in which boats can find shelter when landing or when waiting for the lock to be opened. There should be some simple shelter upon or adjacent to the pier for those waiting for boats

In time a regular park pavilion should be erected on the island opposite the Marston avenue entrance to the park as well as an ornamental pavilion on the point built out into the lake at the entrance to the lock. Perhaps it is not necessary to build both of these at once but at least one of these should be built the present season. In time there must be a band stand, but this can wait. These buildings as well as the bridges must be paid for by the city and the expense will probably have to met by an issue of bonds. The bridge, the pier and one pavilion should all be made at one time as they can thus be made more cheaply and with less injury to the park and with less interruption of its use. Mayor Schubert in his annual message to the council has urged the necessity for the speedy completion of this park and it is hoped that the work may be taken up and the park completed during the present season.

Henry Vilas Park

The cost of this park, exclusive of maintenance, but including the cost of macadamizing Burr Oak Drive, has been $66,895.59. Of this amount the city contributed $5,900, Senator and Mrs. Vilas, $35,000, and the remaining $25,695.59 has been contributed by members of the association.

Planting in Henry Vilas Park

The planting in this park was substantially completed in 1907 but since that time 375 trees and shrubs have been planted, making the total number at this time 53,656. The cost of maintaining this park during the present season was $1,214.71 which is slightly less than last year and is perhaps a trifle less than will be required for the work during the present season. As is elsewhere stated Burr Oak Drive has been macadamized by the city from Elm Court to the city limits and the beginning of the Edgewood property. This serves as an important link in the boulevard system and will be greatly appreciated by the users of the park.

It is greatly to be regretted that the association has not the funds to complete this park by the erection of the necessary bridges and the construction of the driveway upon the island. As it as present exists the improved portion of park is very attractive and persons competent to judge declare that the view from the ridge at the north-western extremity of the park looking across the meadow dotted with trees to the grove beyond is one of the most beautiful park vistas in America.

Additions to Henry Vilas Park

It is absolutely essential to the proper development of the park that the high ground lying across Warren street from the park should be secured and added to the park and the directors have reason to believe that this will ultimately be accomplished. This will permanently rid the park from the objectionable ice houses across Warren street and will give an unequalled opportunity for a park house and pavilion which will command an unrivaled prospect of lake, wood and meadow. The directors are proposing to set up a drinking fountain near the north-eastern corner of the park early the present season. The directors also realize that a park shelter with proper conveniences should be built in this park at the earliest possible moment at which funds are available.*

Brittingham Park

The total amount expended by the association in Brittingham Park during the year is $9,377.90, of which $5,300 was contributed by Mr. Brittingham towards the construction of the bath house. This makes the amount contributed by Mr. Brittingham $22,300.00 and the total cost of the park not counting streets constructed by the city but including the boathouse, $57,768.09.

Planting in Brittingham Park

Up to the beginning of the present season 24,896 trees and shrubs had been planted in this park, almost all of the trees coming from the nursery of the association. During the present season we shall plant 10,426 trees and shrubs which will complete that portion of the park lying between Washington avenue and the railroad tracks.

Protection of the Shore Line

During the early season of 1909 a great deal of damage was done to the shore line of this park by the storms. It became necessary, therefore, to protect the banks from the action of the waves. This has been done by placing rock and crushed stone along the whole shore line of the park. So well was this work done that this spring's storms have done little or no damage.

* Mrs. Vilas' gift made and accepted since the above written secured this much desired addition.

Bath House, Brittingham Park

The Triangle

It was not possible to finish the work in the triangle during the last season. A large portion of the rough grading has been completed and the roadway blocked out. The foundation stone for the road were hauled during the winter and the roadway will be constructed by the city during the early portion of this season. The finishing of the grading will be completed and it is probable that the seeding can most of it be done during the coming season. The planting will have to wait until next year but it can probably all be completed then.

Bath House and Boat House

The bath house given by Mr. Brittingham was built during the past winter and is now practically completed. It is proposed to provide the proper bathing facilities so that it may be in use during the whole of the present bathing season. The boat house is practically completed and as soon as the necessary platforms and run ways can be constructed it will be ready for the use of the public.

Both the bath house and the boat house will be under the control of the association. It is proposed to put the boat house under the charge of a competent man who will be allowed to sell bait and fishermen's supplies and rent fishing tackle under proper regulations, and possibly to keep a few boats for rent. The charges for storing boats have not yet been fixed, but it is believed that the boat house should be made self sustaining. It is proposed to employ a man and his wife at the bath house to be constantly on hand during the bathing season. Regulations for the use of the establishment are under consideration.

Continuation of Monona Street

At various times during the past year the question of the continuation of Monona street through Brittingham Park has been before the common council. On the original plat of Warren's Addition this street was platted to the water's edge. The end of the street next to the water was low and boggy. There was no beach, the bog and the water joining each other by imperceptible gradations. It was not possible to use the street as a means of access to the lake for any purpose. It was so soft and boggy that no boat house even was maintained at the end of the street. Today, even, although a large amount of filling was done on the street at the time the adjacent property was filled, there are cattails growing in the middle of the street sixty feet inside the line of the curb of the street which joins it at the lower end. Since the construction of the park, however, the owners of property on Monona street have tried hard to have the street continued across the park in a direct line to the water's edge and would undoubtedly have succeeded but for the determined opposition of the directors of the association aided by Mayor Schubert. The proposition was presented to the common council by the street committee without consultation with the park superintendent or the directors of the association but was defeated before the council after a hearing in which several of the directors of the association had taken part. It was revived just before election, and passed by the council. At the next meeting of the council after election the mayor called the matter up and after giving reasons for his course declared that unless the vote by which the resolution was adopted was reconsidered he would veto it. Upon this suggestion the vote was reconsidered and the resolution was re-referred. There was a hearing before the street committee at which the directors and Mr. Nolen vigorously presented their objections and the resolution was not reported. It will probably never be revived unless the supporters of the measure feel that they can count enough votes to override the mayor's veto.

The attitude of the property owners seems to the directors to be wholly unwarranted, and the attitude of those members of the common council who have assumed the right to dictate as to the interior arrangement of the park seems to the directors absolutely indefensible. The construction of the park across the end of the street has not robbed the property owners along that street of any right which they enjoyed before it was constructed. The street had no outlet at the lake end, and the water in the summer was hidden by a rank growth of cat-tails and sedge beyond which lay an area of green scum punctuated with patches of bull-rushes. In the construction of the park the street was filled clear to the end thereof and as part of the improvement an extension of Brittingham Place has been laid out, filled and macadamized connecting Monona street with Brittingham Place and Bay View Drive. This extension of Brittingham Place is the same length as the proposed extension of the street and furnishes identically the same means of access to the lake as would be furnished by an extension of Monona street. Walks were planned from Monona street both north and south and since the erection of the bath house a pathway has been constructed leading from the end of the street directly to it.

The construction of a street across the park at the point proposed would be a serious injury to the park. Parks are designed to give the appearance of natural conditions and to give such an appearance in a limited area broad effects are absolutely necessary. To cut up a park by streets laid upon the checkerboard plan would be utterly ruinous. Brittingham Park is very narrow and the widest part and the part where the greatest effect of breadth and spaciousness can be made is the portion opposite Monona street. To cut this space in two by the construction of a street across it would be disastrous. If the property owners on Monona street have the right to have this street extended why may not the property owners on Brittingham Court have their street extended, and why may not the owners of property on Murray street and Chandler street demand that their streets be continued to the water's edge. Why may not the owners of lots on Dickinson street demand that Tenney Park be cut in two by a street across it to Sherman avenue and the owners of lots in Wingra Park insist that all their streets be continued to the present shore line of Lake Wingra. Such requests would be no more absurd than the demand of the owners of lots on Monona street, and to grant them would be no more injurious.

But the question of the propriety of the action itself is not so vital to the interest of the parks as the question of the attitude of the common council towards it. The association holds the title to this and other parks as trustees for the city, and its duty is to administer that trust for the benefit of the public. To aid the association in the discharge of this duty it has employed, at a very considerable expense, men specially trained in planning, constructing and maintaining parks. It is the duty of the association to give the opinions of its advisers the greatest possible consideration, for in this way it will best serve public interests, and it is its duty to resist to the utmost of its power any attempt, from any source, to unwarrantably and injuriously interfere with the management or development of the property entrusted to them. The directors of the association can not but feel that the attempt of certain members of the common council to interfere with the development of the park along the lines planned by the experts elected by the common council, without consultation with such experts and against their expressed opinion without consultation with the officers of this association and later against their earnest protest, was not only indefensible and inexcusable but in the highest degree presumptuous. It is as unjustifiable as would be the directions of the common council to the city attorney as to the contents of his brief in case of an appeal of a city case to the Supreme Court. The association is responsible to the public for the proper discharge of its duties and owes it to the public to protect the parks from anything which will menace their beauty or their usefulness.

Boulevard to South Madison

Under the contract between the property holders and the association the property owners are to put in the macadam driveway during the present season. The association has graded the shore and protected the water line with crushed stone and has provided the soil to be used in planting. As soon as the roadway is completed the association will be ready to plant and seed the strip lying between the driveway and the water's edge. It is hoped this may all be completed in the early spring of 1911 so that the public may get the benefit of it.

Monona Lake Park

The same report must be made concerning this park that has been made concerning it for several years last past. Absolutely nothing has been accomplished in reference to securing the remainder of the land necessary for the park. A portion of it has been acquired by the city at a cost of $5,500 but it lies there entirely unimproved and the city is getting no benefit whatever from its investment. It is time that the matter should be taken up and pushed with vigor.

The fact that nothing has been done has seriously prejudiced the association in the minds of the people of that portion of the city. They do not realize that the association is not directly responsible for the delay in securing the park. As a matter of fact the association has nothing whatever to do with it. The matter of the condemnation of the land, or the purchase of the land in case an agreement can be reached, is entirely in the hands of the legal department of the city and the association has had nothing whatever to do with it, except, that through its officers, it has continued to urge the necessity for prompt action.

Burrows' Park

As stated in the last report, Senator George B. Burrows, an honored and influential citizen of Madison, left to the association by his will the south half of his beautiful farm lying along the eastern shore of Lake Mendota. The estate has now been settled and the title to the land in question has passed to the association. The land, however, is subject to a lease which has still one year to run and it will not be possible for the association to enter into possession of the land until the first of April, 1911. In the meantime the association hopes to have surveys made and a plan prepared for the improvement of the park. The land owned by the Johnsons and their associates lying immediately south of the lands of the golf club and extending for about one-half a mile on the lake shore almost to the limits of the Burrows tract is to be platted into lots and a considerable portion of it filled. Arrangements should be made for such filling as may be necessary in Burrows Park so that it can be made in connection with the filling of the Johnson tract.

ENTRANCE TO HENRY VILAS PARK

Concerts in the Parks

Towards the end of the summer the Capital City Band, then newly organized, volunteered to give concerts on alternate Sunday afternoons in Tenney Park and Henry Vilas Park. In order to aid the band in paying for its instruments it was allowed to erect a stand at which simple refreshments were served. The concerts proved to be very attractive and reliable estimates placed the number in attendance at the second concert in Tenney Park at four thousand. The fact that 2,700 ice cream cones were sold in the park that afternoon is a good indication that the estimate is conservative.

Use of the Parks

It is certain that the use of the parks is rapidly increasing. Each pleasant summer afternoon and evening and every Sunday the parks are thronged with visitors, especially families with children. There can be no doubt that the parks are becoming better appreciated and more generally used. The drives are more for those who ride but the parks are for the masses who have no carriages. The automobilist can get his fresh air and his wider outlook in the country but the men and women with no vehicle but the baby carriage must rely upon the parks for their glimpses of nature. It is highly gratifying that the parks seems to be serving this class more and more.

Drives

The work on the drives during the last year has consisted principally in maintenance so far as the Farwell Drive is concerned. On the Lake Mendota Drive the rustic bridge, which had become unsafe, was taken down and replaced by an entirely new bridge. The plan is substantially that of the old bridge as repaired but new abutments have been constructed of cement and the bridge has been somewhat shortened. It was built by our own employees during the winter and by reason of its superior construction it ought to last considerably longer than the bridge which it replaced, which, however, stood for fifteen years. The total cost of the bridge was $1,075.30.

Proposed Improvements

Property owners just beyond Merrill Springs are proposing to dredge out a lagoon and harbor in the marsh through which the spring brook now flows. If this improvement is carried out the Lake Mendota Drive will be relocated on a somewhat better grade through the lands of Mr. Warner, coming back to its original course at the beginning of the Mendota Beach plat.

Mr. Warner has expressed himself as willing to convey to the association the right of way through his property and also to convey to the association a considerable parcel of land along the lagoon adjacent to the driveway for the use of the public. Negotiations are pending between Mr. Warner and other property owners interested and between him and the association, and it is hoped that the improvement will be carried out as it will certainly be a great addition to that portion of the drive.

On the Farwell Drive some changes were made to better accommodate the use of automobiles between the Westport Road and Maple Bluff.

The drive leading from the cemetery through Owen Park was macadamized and the macadam was continued through the Larkin farm to the intersection of the north and south road leading through that farm from the Sauk Road to the Mineral Point Road. This road which is 6,332 feet in length cost $3,750. Through Owen Park the course of the road was changed and at the western extremity of the park the road was widened so as to furnish an excellent outlook to the west.

This system of driveways leading from the cemetery corner through Owen Park to intersect the driveway running from the Mineral Point road to the Sauk road has never been officially named by the directors of the association and it would seem that in the interest of definiteness some suitable name should be chosen.

If the funds of the association permit it is proposed to continue the macadam from the end of Burr Oak Drive in Henry Vilas Park where it enters the Edgewood property along the lake shore through that property to intersect the public highway near Mr. Chase's residence. This will be greatly appreciated by the users of the Burr Oak Drive in Henry Vilas Park.

Automobiles on the Drives

The matter of the use of automobiles on the drives has been frequently considered by the directors and has given them not a little trouble.

Automobiles were first permitted upon the drives west and south of the city on Tuesday afternoons and Thursday forenoons and before 9 o'clock on the first and third Sundays in each month. There has been no modification of this rule. On the Farwell Drive they were excluded from that portion of the drive beginning at the Westport road and extending to the Woodard Drive near Mr. Wooton's cottage and permitted to use the remainder of the drive Wednesday forenoons and Friday afternoons and before 9 o'clock on the second and fourth Sundays in each month. This has been so far modified as to permit automobile owners, resident at Maple Bluff to go to and from their cottages and to permit automobile owners, members of the golf club, to use the drive going to and from the golf grounds. These last concessions were made after prolonged discussion and against the opposition of some members of the board. Some changes were made in the driveway and a special driveway was constructed to avoid the most dangerous portions of the drive then thrown open. Naturally the granting of permission to the residents of Maple Bluff and members of the golf club aroused the residents of Woodward Grove, who, by committee, presented to the directors the matter of allowing them similar rights. Owing to the resignation of our president and the fact that the vacancy was not filled, the directors have put off the settlement of the question. It is, however, a question which must be fairly met and considered and one of which the consideration must not be delayed. It seems inevitable that the automobiles must be given greater privileges upon the drives, and that such privileges may now be given to them without the liability to accident which was certain before horses had become used to motor vehicles. There have never been any restrictions as to the use of automobiles upon the University Drive and so far as is known no accident has ever occurred there. There is another matter besides the possibility of accidents which must be considered in connection with the use of our drives and parks by automobiles, and that is the serious injury to the roadway which these vehicles occasion. It is certain that automobiles, especially if driven at speed, are vastly more injurious to roadways than traffic by horses and ordinary vehicles. Generally speaking the automobilists have not been willing to contribute very generously to the work of the association owing to the restrictions above referred to and whether larger contributions can be expected from them in return for greater privileges is somewhat uncertain. It is certain, however, that their friendly cooperation in the work of the association will not predispose the officers of the association to treat them without respectful consideration. If automobilists are given greater privileges of use of the drives they ought to expect to meet some considerable share of the increased cost of maintenance which will surely result.

Waterway From Madison to the Gulf

Shortly after the publication of last year's report the Yahara River Improvement Association was organized with Mr. W. W. Warner as president. By a vigorous campaign which was at once instituted more than $8,000 was subscribed for the work of constructing a canal from Lake Monona to Lake Waubesa. Of the money subscribed the committee has collected about $7,000 which it now has in the bank and it is making efforts to secure a right of way from the property owners through or in front of whose land the canal must pass. There seems to be an incredible and unexplainable reluctance on the part of the property owners to permit the construction of the canal except under conditions which are practically prohibitory. The government engineers who inspected the route, as well as other engineers who were consulted by the association, are unanimous in the opinion that the canal should be cut through the marsh bordering the stream but only one property owner has been willing to accede to this agreement. Negotiations have been actively prosecuted for several months. The association has not yet been able to secure the consent of the property owners interested. It is feared that a resort to the legislature will be required in order to secure such legislation as will make it impossible for the improvement to be held up at the whim of interested property owners seeking selfish advantages. The fact that so large a sum of money has been actually paid in cash is a guarantee that the matter is one which the people will not let die but will insist upon carrying through.

West Washington Avenue

This street, leading from Brittingham Park to Warren street one block north of the entrance to Henry Vilas Park, forms an important portion of the boulevard system. It was macadamized two years ago and last year a row of elm trees was set out on either side along the whole length of the street. Some of the property owners, however, did not take out the trees planted upon the street but left them, where the street was cut down, standing on mounds of earth and presenting a very unsightly condition. Trees left in this situation are not only unsightly but are certain to die in a short time. Thinking that the city needed an object lesson, the directors decided at the beginning of the present season to make an effort to improve this street by seeing that the newly planted trees were properly cared for and that the old trees were removed so as to give the new ones a chance and to see also that the lawns were properly graded, seeded and cared for during the whole of the season. Acting under instructions of the board, Mr. MacLean has interviewed the property owners along the street and has succeeded in securing the hearty cooperation of almost all of them. The directors believe that the object lesson furnished by this street will be such as to lead property owners in other portions of the city to see the wisdom of treating and improving streets as a whole.

Outside Interest in our Work

As in former years the work of the association has continued to excite the interest of people engaged in similar work throughout the United States and even in foreign countries. The mayor of Wellington, New Zealand, in his inaugural message took occasion to refer in very complimentary terms to the work of our city and to commend it as an example. The department of parks at the Seattle Exposition requested our association to furnish an exhibit and in response to the request an album was prepared showing a quantity of views in and about the city and fifteen enlarged photographs of park scenes were exhibited.

This exhibit was made possible by the real estate men of the city who subscribed about $60 toward the total cost of about $75. This exhibit attracted a great deal of attention and before the close of the exhibition the Boston 1915 Committee requested that the exhibit might be sent to Boston for display in the Old Art Gallery with the other exhibits of that committee. At this exhibition also the Madison exhibit was very favorably commented upon.

At the solicitation of the Illinois Outdoor Art Association the secretary attended the session of that association in the city of Bloomington for the purpose of giving an account of the work accomplished in Madison and he was also called to Fort Wayne, Indiana, to attend a meeting of the Commercial Club of that city which was proposing to inaugurate a municipal park system. At the request of the American Academy of Political and Social Science the secretary prepared a report upon the park movement in Madison which was published in the bi-monthly transactions of the academy which appeared in March, 1910, and which was devoted to Public Recreation Facilities. The evidence that the work of the association is making Madison very favorably known as a desirable residence city cannot possibly be ignored. To use a slang expression it is the work of which this association is the representative that has "put Madison on the map."

Madison's City Plan

The members of the association will naturally be interested in the progress of the City Plan of Madison because it will vitally concern parks and drives as well as other features of city improvement. At the last annual meeting a report and plans were presented by Mr. Nolen of the proposed treatment of the Lake Monona approach to the new capitol and the improvement of the East Madison railroad approaches. This report was afterwards presented to the legislature and referred to the committee of which Senator Whitehead was the chairman which was appointed to investigate the matter of those improvements in which the city and the state are both interested. Since the last annual meeting the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad Co. has torn down the old station and began the erection of a new and more adequate depot on the same site. While the new building will be welcome it is to be regretted that its construction was not accompanied by an attempt to solve in a more complete way all the problems connected with the East Madison railway approaches. Mr. Nolen has presented to the Citizens' Committee of Fifty on the City Plan a preliminary statement outlining the scope and character of the report. It includes a summary of the main points to be taken up under the following headings: 1. The Individuality of Madison as a City; 2. Madison as a Capital City; 3. Madison as an Educational Center; 4. Madison as a Resort and Place of Residence; 5. The Future City Plan of Madison. The recommendations of the report will be enforced by plans and illustrated by photographs, and will cover in a comprehensive way the various improvements required at present and in the immediate future to make Madison a model city.

The completed report will be ready for presentation within the coming year.

Officers

In order that there be a record of all the persons who have been officially connected with the association since its organization, there is given in the appendix to this report a list of all of the officers from the time of the organization of the association, on the 10th day of July, 1894, up to the annual meeting of 1910. The association was reorganized with the same name, under chapter 55 of the laws of 1899, on the 10th day of April, 1899, the officers of the old association having been re-elected. From this it will be seen that there has been but one president, four vice-presidents, one secretary, one treasurer and twenty-three directors, one of whom has been such by reason of his holding the office of mayor for four successive years and three others by having been elected by the common council from among their number.

Resignation of Mr. Olin

On the 20th of September, 1909, Mr. Olin presented to the directors his resignation as president of the association. It was accepted by the directors with great reluctance but the reasons given and the knowledge of the directors of the circumstances impelling Mr. Olin to sever official relationship with the association seemed to leave them no alternative. As soon as the announcement was made a movement was instituted outside the board of directors to persuade Mr. Olin to reconsider his action. A petition signed by hundreds of our most prominent citizens was presented to Mr. Olin asking him to continue as president of the association. The same reasons which seemed to compel the resignation made its withdrawal impossible and Mr. Olin with great reluctance felt compelled to adhere to his original determination. The directors had known for several years that Mr. Olin was desirous of being relieved of the burden of the work and that he was only induced to continue it by the very urgent solicitation of those parties interested. The directors had hoped that Mr. Olin might be able to continue until the work which had been instituted by him should be completed and had urged him to continue with that end in view.

Mr. Olin was active in the movement which started the park work here and was the first president of the association, being elected on the day it was organized, July 10, 1894. From the beginning of the movement he was its master spirit. He had charge of the subscription list, doing a great part of the solicitation himself. He looked after the details of the work, purchased supplies, made contracts for dredging, for right-of-ways, for the conveyance of lands. He staked out driveways, planned for planting, drew voluminous reports, prepared communications to the council, to the newspapers, to railway officials, trimmed trees, prepared monthly statements of payments, made elaborate financial estimates, interviewed aldermen, made trips to consult railway officials and in a hundred other ways gave unstintingly of his time and energy. It is not too much to say that the time spent by Mr. Olin in looking after the work of the association if it had been professionally devoted to the interest of some wealthy corporate client would have brought him a revenue of $5,000 or more a year.

The work for which this association has for all these years enjoyed the credit has been in a very real sense the personal work of its president and the directors feel that at this time they are only doing justice to Mr. Olin in placing upon record their recognition of the indebtedness of the work to Mr. Olin. The plans of the association have been almost exclusively his plans. The will and the determination which has carried them out have been his will and his determination. The directors have always recognized the unselfish and whole-souled devotion of Mr. Olin to this work and have been willing to follow him in all of his undertakings and to give him their loyal support. Without his efforts it is doubtful if the association would have been organized and if organized it certainly would have had a different form and probably have accomplished little or nothing. We feel that it is no more than the truth to say that whatever measure of success the association has achieved has been entirely due to the inspiration and energy of Mr. Olin.

The park system of this city will be his enduring monument and the impulse which he has given toward civic improvement will be effective long after the present generation is forgotten.

Upon the resignation of Mr. Olin the directors voted to place the management of the affairs of the association in the hands of a committee of three consisting of Mr. Curtis, Mr. Schlimgen and the secretary. That committee has been acting as an executive committee looking after the work of the association and taking charge of its affairs and in behalf of the directors has prepared and submits the foregoing report.

EDGEWOOD DRIVE

Parks and the City Plan

BY JOHN NOLEN

Fred Law Olmsted, Sr., forty years ago made three statements about parks in connection with the laying out of Franklin Park, Boston, which remain to this day the cardinal principles of park making. They are, first: That in scarcely anything to be determined by local public opinion, acting influentially upon local legislation and administration, is a city likely to be so much made or marred for all its future as in proceedings in prosecution of a park project. Secondly, that in order that those in charge of a park work may proceed economically, they must be able to proceed with confidence, method and system, steadily step after step, to carry to completion a well matured design. Finally, that for every thousand dollars judiciously invested in a park, the dividends to the second generation of the citizens possessing it will be much larger than to the first, the dividends to the third generation much larger than to the second.

What is the application of these principles to Madison? First, that Madison is what it is, largely as a result of its park making. Of all the factors under the control of the population this is the most important. What folly then, to ever talk of parks as an issue. There would be more reason to ask the people of Madison to decide whether it is desirable to have this city retain the State Capitol or the University, for, notwithstanding their over-balancing benefits, there are some objections from the point of view of the city to both these institutions. To the parks there are none. Happily the outcome of the recent municipal election indicates beyond doubt that the people of Madison at last understand the relation of parks to their permanent prosperity. Only short-sightedness and lack of imagination have kept anyone from understanding this relationship.

The second principle which Mr. Olmsted lays down is that in order to proceed economically, those in charge of a park must be able to proceed with confidence. Is this now possible at Madison? Is there any assurance yet that can be depended upon from year to year, of liberality in either the issue of bonds for the acquisition of land and permanent construction or in the levying of current taxes for the necessary cost of maintenance? And yet without such confidence there must inevitably be waste and a lack of system and method.

The final principle, that of steadily increasing dividends to future generations is apparently not yet well understood. If it were, there would be a much more liberal attitude toward bond issues for park purposes. Such a park system as Madison should have, would without question, justify a bonded indebtedness for parks alone of three hundred thousand dollars, say ten dollars per capita, which is the average for cities the country over. Would ten dollars per capita with interest, payable in twenty or forty years, be a burden? I think not. It would not be an expense but an investment, warranted by financial, as well as other returns; and the dividends to the second generation would be larger than to the first and to the third larger than to the second. Remember that park lands for Madison will never cost less; that once bought they steadily increase in value; that the experience of all cities, Madison included, proves that parks more than pay for themselves and that no city regrets its park land purchases. Buy land is the advice that needs to be repeated over and over again to every American city.

To make parks effective, however, other factors of the city plan must be considered. The public works of a city are dependent one upon the other. For example, the surroundings of parks influences the character of the parks themselves. Through selfishness or ignorance the value of the city's investment in parks may be considerably reduced. Ugly poles and wires, preventable smoke, bill-boards and other nuisances, all these destroy the very values that parks are supposed to create, and should not, therefore, be permitted. Even the character of private buildings abutting on park property, stores, apartment houses, saloons, etc., should be reasonably regulated.

More important still are the facilities for easily reaching parks. The value and use of Tenney Park, of Vilas Park, of Brittingham Park will be determined largely by the ease with which people can get to them. In the case of Tenney Park, the electric car facilities, according to Madison's low standard of service, are fairly satisfactory. In the case of Brittingham Park and Vilas Park, the facilities even judged by these standards are unsatisfactory. Other cities have postponed the consideration of this point until proper provision was impossible or if not impossible very expensive. Philadelphia is now constructing a parkway from the center of the city to Fairmount Park, its largest pleasure ground, at a cost of six million dollars. Other illustrations could be given.

Moreover, Madison like other cities should aim, not at a series of detached or isolated parks, each separate from the other, but at a park system. Just as the city has a school system, a connected street system, a sewer system, and a water system, so it should have a park system. Such a system should provide for each section of the city, for each class of the population, for each proper and varying taste. East Madison for example needs parks as much as South Madison or any other section. The needs of children and young people and working people should be much more fully provided for. Then convenient and agreeable parkway connections must be made, not merely ordinary streets taken and marked boulevards. That action of itself renders them not a whit more attractive. These streets must be freed from nuisances, properly planted with good trees and in some cases widened to serve the new and larger demands upon them.

Before it is too late Madison's measure for parks should be taken. Its achievements in park making should be compared with other cities of its present size, and with some larger cities which represent its future size. Comparison should be made with Hartford, Connecticut, Brookline, Mass., Winona, Minnesota, La Crosse and Oklahoma City. What are the present park requirements of Madison? What is the rate of growth of this city? What will the future requirements be? These questions need to be seriously asked and answers to them attempted. At the present rate of increase Madison in 1925 will have a population of fifty thousand and in 1940—but thirty years from now—one hundred thousand. If such figures should prove to be true, and they are likely to be exceeded, how many acres of parks would this larger Madison require? Certainly the present acreage must be increased many fold. Where is unplatted, unimproved and inexpensive property to be had? Will it be easier to get it in 1925 when Madison has fifty thousand population or in 1940 when Madison has one hundred thousand or more? We shall not then be content to ask "How big is Madison?" We shall ask also "Is it a good place for the growth of children? Is it a good place to work and play in?"

Madison is a city of contrasts. Side by side are to be seen beauty and unsightliness, intelligent municipal policy and a policy less intelligent, private generosity, passing all records, and public parsimony, which, circumstances considered, likewise passes all records, individual wealth and community poverty. Much of this could be changed; in fact, is being changed. But a more consistent and more aggressive policy should be promptly adopted. More regard should be paid in most cases to the common welfare. For instance, the beautiful lake shores, stretching in every direction, should not be allowed to pass more and more into private hands for purely private purposes. The mistakes of the past in this respect should not be repeated. The street trees should be controlled in the interest of the whole population; and there should be no more threats to destroy the parks by cutting streets through them to suit the capricious wishes of a few individuals. The city, itself, acting through its council should certainly be the main contributor to public parks and playgrounds. It should not permit itself to be outstripped by any group of private individuals, who, no matter how great their number, represent only a part of the population. The city should be ever ready to match and more than match any fund that could be privately raised for public purposes. It should depend upon no class, no group so completely as it has in the past. It should learn from the public policy and generosity of the government of a city like La Crosse, which with the same population as Madison and less wealth, has accomplished more in one year than Madison has in two, where the council has provided a hundred thousand dollars for park work within twelve months, and is ready apparently to provide a hundred thousand more. The time for action, large, wise, vigorous, far-seeing action has come. In fact, it is already late. Further delay means simply the increase of difficulties, the increase of expense.

The Future

BY JOHN M. OLIN

I do not know the reason that induced the directors to assign this topic to me, unless it be that in the past history of the work of the association, I have, on several occasions, at its annual dinners, emphasized the importance of "looking ahead," as a business proposition. To do this, in this kind of work, has required no prophetic vision; only a fair amount of common sense.

At the annual meeting of 1902, I urged, for the first time, the necessity of the city's securing some lands for park and playground purposes and of paying for the same by the issuing of long time bonds; and at the succeeding meeting of 1903, I took up the subject, What Next. Not until 1903, did the city ever issue a bond for the securing of park lands, and then for only $35,000. I had urged that the issue be made not less than $50,000. I have, within the last twenty-four hours, looked over the prices named at which we could then have secured certain lands, part of which the city did secure that year. Not a single piece of those lands could today be secured for three times their market value in 1903 and in many cases these lands are now held at from four to five times their value in 1903 and this leads me to the first point which I wish to emphasize tonight.

Securing Lands for Parks

1. The need to secure now, without delay, whatever lands the city may reasonably need for park and playground purposes, and especially for the latter purpose.

The cry has been raised of late and made a political issue in the recent campaign, that we have been going too fast in our park work, and that no plan should be entertained for further growth or expansion. Now the one radical mistake this city has made is that it has been too slow in securing lands for public purposes absolutely needed for the best interests of the citizens of Madison. Had this city, in 1903, issued $100,000 of bonds instead of $35,000, and wisely expended the same in securing the needed lands at their then values, this city would be richer today by from $200,000 to $300,000. I do not think that there is a person here, at all familiar with land values in Madison, who will question this statement.

Hence, we made a financial mistake in 1903. We all plainly see this now. But with the aid of this experience, we shall make a still greater mistake, if we do not, while it is yet possible, secure the additional lands absolutely needed to complete an adequate system of parks and playgrounds for the capital city of the state. This city should secure the lands necessary for at least two large athletic fields. One of these should be located on the east side of and adjoining Mills street, to accommodate the west end of the city, and the other on the Soelch property adjoining the Yahara river, to accommodate the eastern portion of the city. Today the city owns no playground or field where its high school students could play even a game of baseball. These lands should be paid for by the issuing of long time bonds. Under the existing state constitution, such bonds can run for only twenty years. But the last legislature passed a resolution amending the constitution so that bonds may be issued running for fifty years to pay for lands purchased for a public purpose. It is believed that this resolution will be passed by the next legislature and that it will be adopted by a popular vote. Hence, any bonds issued for securing lands for public purposes, should be so issued that they could be refunded on the basis of fifty years instead in our park work, and that no plan should be entertained for further growth or expansion. Now the one radical mistake this city has made is that it has been too slow in securing lands for public purposes absolutely needed for the best interests of the citizens of Madison. Had this city, in 1903, issued $100,000 of bonds instead of $35,000, and wisely expended the same in securing the needed lands at their then values, this city would be richer today by from $200,000 to $300,000. Hence, any bonds issued for securing lands for public purposes, should be so issued that they could be refunded on the basis of fifty years instead of twenty. Better rates of interest can thus be secured, and the burden of meeting such obligations will be distributed over fifty years instead of twenty years, and thereby the people of the present generation will be to that extent relieved.

No better investment can be made by a city than securing, at proper time, all lands needed for public purposes. This is the policy which has been pursued so successfully by the German cities.

Nor need we fear lest our bonded indebtedness become too great. I do not wish to be misunderstood in this statement. I think we issue bonds too readily for some municipal purposes, especially for the construction of buildings. I wish that a policy might be adopted, under which we would pay by general taxation for every school building or other public building that might be constructed in the future. Buildings wear out and decay, especially the kind we are apt to build. But this is not true of the lands we purchase. They are steadily increasing in value and will be here to serve future generations as well or better than the present, and these future generations will be glad to pay their share of the burden, and will thank those of the present for having made possible the ownership and enjoyment of these lands to the succeeding generations.

Need of Expert Advice

2. The need of following expert advice of our park work.

I regard the present as a critical time in the park and playground work of this city. When we located and constructed our first drives in 1892, we had not the aid of any expert advice. As a result, we made many mistakes. Many of these we have since remedied at considerable expense. Some of them cannot be remedied. The directors soon found that the only safe course to pursue was to call to their aid the service of some one competent in this particular line of work. For a number of years Mr. O. C. Simonds of Chicago made the plans and gave expert advice, and was of great service to the association. The directors next employed Emil T. Mische, a trained landscape architect, who had served an apprenticeship of some eight years with the well known firm of Olmstead Brothers. Mr. Mische came here at the small salary of $1,200 a year. At the end of his first year's service, there was a fight made in the council against raising his salary to $1,500 for the second year. Though the salary was raised, I know that Mr. Mische felt keenly the objection made. Hence, when the city of Portland, Oregon, called him there as superintendent of their park work at a salary of $2,500 per year and a house furnished, Mr. Mische promptly accepted the offer, though he was fond of Madison and his work here. His two years of service was of great aid to our park work. To him is due the excellent plan for Henry Vilas Park. Upon the resignation of Mr. Mische, the directors found it necessary to change the plan of hiring a trained landscape architect who should devote his entire time to the work of this city. Madison is too small a city to meet the expense of such undivided service. Hence, the work which Mr. Mische did was divided. The detail work on the ground was entrusted to a park foreman, Mr. William G. MacLean, who is still rendering faithful and efficient service in that capacity. The other part of the work, that of the landscape architect, has, since the resignation of Mr. Mische, been in charge of Mr. John Nolen. It is unnecessary for me to say to this audience that Mr. Nolen is unusually well equipped for his work. The association was most fortunate in being able to secure his services. Moreover, he has not only served the city. He has done excellent work for a number of other cities in this state, especially at La Crosse, and has rendered most valuable aid to the State Park Commission. His services for our park work has cost the city but $1,200 per year. How much longer the board can secure his his services for this small sum, I do not know. But one thing is certain, that neither he nor any other competent man in his line of work, and having pride in his work and profession, will consent to serve very long any city after its common council ceases to show any respect for his plans or his judgment by assuming to override them without any reason therefor and against the unanimous opposition of the board of directors. You are all familiar with the attempt that has been made during the past year to extend Monona street through Brittingham Park, after the same has been graded and shrubs ordered for planting, without any reason therefor. It was only through the stand taken by Mayor Schubert that this needless act of destruction to the park has been thus far averted.

Another striking illustration of the need of the following expert advice in the park work is the recent proposition to the common council of meeting the expenses of constructing one stock steel bridge in Tenney Park on condition that the common council would agree not to build any other bridge in the park at public expense. This proposition came after plans had been secured by the board of directors for three bridges in the park and one road bridge, all absolutely needed to complete the park planned. The engineering for the plans of these bridges was done by Mr. Icke. His plans were then submitted to Mr. Nolen. Thereafter, the work of both Mr. Icke and Mr. Nolen was submitted to Mr. George B. Ferry, architect, of Milwaukee, who is responsible for the plans as finally adopted by the board. You will see from this statement what pains the board has taken to get the most appropriate design for these bridges.

And yet it was with great difficulty that Mayor Schubert prevented the acceptance by a majority of the council of this absurd proposition.

This well illustrates the necessity of following the advice of men qualified in their special line of work. To construct a stock steel bridge as proposed in this place would make the board of directors, who, after all, are responsible to the city for this work, the laughing stock of all persons having any judgment as to what is fit or proper park work. Should such a bridge as proposed be constructed, I, for one, should have no pleasure in ever visiting this park.

If these four bridges are constructed as planned, Tenney Park will be one of the most unique and enjoyable small parks to be found in the country. But it must not be forgotten that these bridges are a part of the plans or designs of the park.

It may be here stated that Mr. Ferry made no charge for his services on these four bridges. Nor did he make any charge for the service he rendered in the constructing of the Steensland bridge. He did this work free of charge because of his interest in the general work that was here being carried on largely by voluntary contributions.

New Park Laws

3. The organization of the park work under a new park law.

The time has come when the work of this association should be put upon a permanent basis to be maintained by general taxation. The work which this association was organized to do has been maintained for eighteen years largely, and until within the past few years wholly, by voluntary contributions. During this time over a quarter of a million dollars have been donated by the citizens of Madison to carry forward this work. For the past few years the city has been carrying more of the burden each year, and it is now felt that it would be better to turn over to the city the whole management of our parks and drives. But before this is done, the statute should be carefully considered to see what, if any, change should be made to give for a city of the class of Madison as perfect and complete a park law as possible. There should be brought into existence a park board so created as to be independent of all political considerations and influences as possible, and yet be a part of the city government and responsible to the people. The law should provide that upon the formation of such a park board all the property held in trust by the present association should be transferred to such board upon the same trust and conditions under which it is now held and administered by the present association. Such transfer should include, I think, not only the property inside the city limits, but as well all property held in trust outside the city limits. I think that it would be unwise to divide the work into two parts, that within and without the city. Much of that which is now outside the city will, at no distant date, be brought within the limits. Moreover, the drives lying outside the city can be maintained at a very moderate expense, and no portion of our park has so helped Madison as the drives outside the city limits. They constitute the unique feature of our work. Such reorganization of the park work would, I think, remove largely the objections of the work.

In case such a transfer of the property and work should be made from this association to such a park board, the question arises whether this association should cease to exist. Perhaps its present organization should cease, but the body of citizens comprising its membership should continue, if not under the same name, then under some other appropriate name. There is a very important work which such an organization can do for this city. Its service, in large part, might consist in the creation of an intelligent public sentiment and the formation of correct opinions and of a right spirit throughout the community, so as to secure the existence of a general attachment to what is essential to the city; in calling attention to what ought to be done or not done, or preventing action on the part of the city or public spirited citizens. There is ample work for such an organization of citizens here in Madison. It could and should cover the work of a municipal art league or society. Its membership could stand ready to aid the city along artistic lines, not only through meeting the expense of expert advice, but by financial contributions for the erection of works of art, the expense of which the city might not as yet feel justified in meeting through general taxation.

For Commission Government

4. The need of a change in our form of city government.

But the greatest need of the city, not only in its park work but in every other department of city work, is a radical change in our present form of government. Madison needs to adopt what is commonly spoken of as commission form of government. Just why this change in city government which has arisen within the last few years and which is proving to be so popular, should be designated as a commission form of government is difficult to understand, unless it be that the first commission named, as I remember, at Galveston, Texas, was appointed. But in every case, so far as I have seen, the governing board under this new city administration is elected by a popular vote, and this form of government is in fact more democratic than the present form of government, since it provides in most cases for the recall, the referendum and initiative. Hence it would be more appropriate and I think less apt to arouse criticism to adhere to the old name of common council. I notice that in the proposed charter for the city of Cambridge, Massachusetts, to be voted on next November, the governing body is called supervisors, five in number, one of whom is supervisor of administration and ex-officio mayor.

Our present form of city government is about as bad as could well be. Our city is divided into ten wards, with two councilmen from each ward. Things were bad enough before the council, as a condition of voting the mayor the meager salary of $1,000 per year, voted to its members at the same time the sum of $300 each per year, or $25 per month. The result of this has been to deteriorate the membership of the council.

There are good men in the common council. There always have been such men. But the good men do not today constitute a majority of the council, and it is asking a good deal of a good man to serve as a member of the council under present conditions.

The proper government of a city requires a high order of talent. The financial questions alone are most important. Over a half million dollars are yearly collected and distributed in this city, exclusive of special assessments and money expended that is raised through the issuing of bonds. The tax payer is vitally interested in having this money wisely and economically expended. He has no interest in the politics of those who administer this great fund, but he is interested in having good streets, good water and good schools.

Now, under the present system, it is absolutely impossible to secure a good business administration, to say nothing about moral issues. The number of the council is more than five times too large. Each member is selected by some particular ward and in most cases the alderman does not rise above what he considers the interest of the voters in his particular section of the city. Under such a system, it is impossible to fix responsibility. But it is unnecessary for me to dwell upon the defects of the present system of city government. They are familiar to you all. I presume nine-tenths of this audience would vote for a change in our form of city government.

This movement toward commission form of government or small council is sweeping the country. It is not generally understood how far it has spread across the United States, and especially the west. At the present time more than one-third of the large cities west of the Mississippi have adopted it or are considering doing so. Following Galveston, with one or two exceptions, every city of size in the state of Texas, ranging from Dallas and Houston—places of 90,000—downward, has taken up this new form. The same process has been going on in Iowa. Des Moines adopted the plan first, then Cedar Rapids, Burlington, Keokuk and Sioux City, making more than three-quarters of the city population of the state. In 1909 the state of Kansas adopted a law similar to that of Iowa and today nearly ninety per cent of the cities of any size in Kansas have adopted and are working under the new plan, including Kansas City, Kansas, with 100,000 people, Wichita, Topeka and Leavenworth.

From these centers the movement has spread in all directions. St. Joseph, Missouri, with 125,000 people, has come under the plan; Memphis, with 160,000, and five smaller cities in Tennessee; Tacoma, Washington; Berkeley, Riverside and San Diego, California; Colorado Springs and Grand Junction, Colorado; and the principal cities of North and South Dakota, Idaho and Oklahoma. Four Massachusetts cities are operating under the plan. In all, about seventy American cities have adopted it. Buffalo, New York, with a population of 400,000, last fall voted more than three to one to ask the legislature of New York to enact a charter substantially the same as that of Des Moines to be submitted to the voters of Buffalo after its enactment for final approval or disapproval.

Committee Proposed

As is known to all, the last legislature passed a law, chapter 448, permitting a commission form of government for cities of the class of Madison. Two cities have voted on the question of the adoption of this plan, Janesville rejecting the law and Eau Claire adopting it. The experiment at Eau Claire will be watched with interest. I hope it will be thoroughly successful.

But the law enacted was neither drawn nor considered with the greatest care, and I think needs amendment in certain important particulars. Hence, before the meeting of the next legislature, there should be made a careful investigation by some competent committee of all the different city charters or laws providing for this form of city government, and a conclusion reached as to what changes should be made in the law enacted by the legislature to secure the best possible law for the government of a city like Madison. I wish that some action might be taken at this meeting looking to the appointment of such a committee. Suppose a committee of nine should be appointed, two from the members of this association, three from the common council of whom the mayor should be ex-officio, and should appoint the other two, two from the new club or organization that is to succeed the Forty Thousand Club, and two from the members of the faculty of the university to be appointed by the president, such appointees to be residents and tax payers of the city. Such a committee should be required to make its report on or before the meeting of the next legislature, and should accompany its report with a copy of the proposed law to be enacted by the legislature.

Such committee should also be asked to investigate and report as to the best park law to be adopted by the legislature, having in mind the suggestion here made of this association turning its property over to a park board that might be appointed under such a law.

After the legislature has given us the best possible law for the government of the city of Madison, the people of this city should, as soon as possible thereafter, see that the question is submitted to a popular vote for the adoption or rejection of such law. If the question is submitted properly, and due discretion had, there is no doubt in my mind to the outcome.
