VISUAL MEET IS BIG EVENT OF NEW WEEK

List of Lectures Includes Discussion of Many In- teresting Subjects

The feature of next week's schedule will be the first annual conference of the National Academy of Visual Instruction, which will be held at the university from Wednesday until Saturday, inclusive. P. P. Claxton, United States Commissioner of Education, will address the convention Friday.

The weekly calendar includes, in addition, several lectures by members of the faculty. Prof. W. E. Leonard will give a talk on "Meditations of a Classical Romanticist." Prof. Jastrow will give the third of the series of lectures he is conducting, "Systems of Mental Healing."

Dr. Smiley Blanton, who has charge of the speech clinic during the summer session, will lecture on "Stuttering and Shell Shock." Prof. Elsom of the department of physical education will lecture on "The Reconstruction of Wounded Soldiers" and "Getting Acquainted with the Birds."

Prof. Snow will give two lectures, one on "Soap Bubbles and Surface Tension," and the other his talk on "Snowflakes."

During the week the following exhibits will be on display in the Historical Museum, fourth floor of the Library building:

1. Autographs of Signers of the Declaration of Independence.
2. Wisconsin Public Land Survey Maps, 1847-1850.
3. Martha Walter oil paintings.
4. American Indian corns.
5. Collection of book plates.

CARDINAL TALKS

Watchful Waiting

Students do not forget. The action of the police officer who shot and killed a sophomore several weeks ago is a living and bitter memory. The trial of the officer who is charged with murder does not come until after the university opens in the fall. The students are looking forward to this trial to see that proper action is taken to prevent a recurrence of such a tragedy.

Slow Down

Recently a judge jailed a reckless automobile driver for 14 days. The driver had hurt no one and could have paid a large fine. The judge took the only action which he thought would stop the reckless driving which threatened to kill pedestrians.

Many a child's skull has been crushed and many adults have been killed by automobile drivers, who in attempts to exhibit skill and daring and good judgment, demonstrate only a lack of a well balanced mentality.

Students here at the university should be careful in using their cars on the campus. The curves on the hill are dangerous and careful driving is necessary if accidents are to be avoided.

GRAD STUDENTS TO HOLD MEETING TUESDAY NIGHT

To Organize Club for Summer Session Ac- tivity

Graduates now in attendance at the university will be given a chance to get together at the first summer meeting of the Graduate club next Tuesday. All the graduate students at the summer session are invited. The meeting will be at Lathrop hall in the S. G. A. room, at 5:45, those attending bringing their trays up from the cafeteria.

The present Graduate club was organized at the beginning of school last year and since then has had great success. All the meetings were well attended, there being usually about 200 present. During the year the club gave a dance every month for the graduates. The hikes and picnics given in the spring were very popular and had big turnouts.

It is hoped that every graduate student here will turn out for the first meeting. The meetings are very informal, and lively discussions are held. Plans for entertainment for the rest of the summer will be started at the first weekly meeting Tuesday. The club will have dances, picnics, hikes, or any other form of entertainment that the members desire.

SOLDAN TO TALK AT VESPER MEET

The second of the Sunday night vesper services will be held at 7:00 p. m. on Sunday in the Open Air theater at the rear of Bascom hall. Should the weather not be favorable, the meeting will be held in Lathrop hall. Rev. A. J. Soldan of Luther Memorial church will preach on Sunday night at the vesper services.

The record for attendance at similar services was broken on last Sunday night, when about 800 people were out for the first evening of the series. Dean S. H. Goodnight presided at this meeting, and Leo Kohl had complete charge of the arrangements. The meeting for Sunday night has been elaborately planned and a larger crowd is expected than on the previous occasion.

BEEKEEPERS WILL HOLD MEET HERE

The second Wisconsin Beekeepers school and conference will be held Aug. 16 to 21 at the Wisconsin College of Agriculture, according to plans announced by H. F. Wilson of the economic entomology department. The Wisconsin Beekeepers' association is co-operating.

Dr. E. F. Phillips and G. S. Demuth of the United States department of agriculture will appear on the program together with the members of the agricultural college staff.

One hundred and sixty people attended the meeting last year and plans are being made by the state beekeepers' association to increase the number to 250 this year.

Those in attendance will camp on the shore of Lake Mendota and will be able to combine a profitable meeting with an enjoyable outing.

NET CHAMPS TO START TOURNEY

An all-university tennis tournament for men students is being organized under the direction of the athletic department. Both single and double matches will be included in the schedule. The singles will be played off first. A charge of 25 cents entrance fee will be made for the purpose of furnishing the winner with a prize.

Lists will be open for entry from now until Tuesday and the students will sign up at the offices of the athletic department in the gymnasium. The drawings will be made Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock to arrange the schedule of play. Play will start on Wednesday and the first round completed by 5 p. m. Saturday.

10,213 STUDENTS SET NEW RECORD FOR ENROLLMENT

Figures for 1919-20 Show Big gain; 13,124 in Extension Work

Exactly 10,213 different students have been enrolled in the university during the current year, since July, 1919, according to the final catalog figures which have just been announced by the registrar. The total includes 7,294 students in the regular semester sessions, 2,235 others in the 1919 summer session, 148 federal board soldiers, and 536 agricultural short course students.

In addition, 13,124 students have been enrolled in the correspondence study courses of the extension division.

The greatest gain is in the regular two semester sessions. The total of 7,294 different students enrolled in one or both semesters of this year represents an increase of 37 per cent over any preceding year. In addition, 239 federal board students (disabled soldiers) have been enrolled part or all of the year, and the 148 of these who are not numbered elsewhere raise the increase to 39 per cent.

The record-breaking total of 7,294 for the regular semester sessions includes the 6,872 who enrolled in September, 1919, and the new students who entered at the opening of the second semester in February.

Of the 3,213 students enrolled in the 1919 summer session, only 2,235 are counted in the grand total because the other 978 summer school students enrolled again in the fall and are numbered as regular session students.

The agricultural short course students numbered in the grand total included 403 students in the short course in agriculture and 133 students in the dairy course.

Of the total number who have attended the university this year, 6,228 are men and 3,985 are women. Of the 7,294 in the regular semester sessions, 4,793 are men and 2,501 are women. This changes the proportion of men and women from 3-to-1 as in former years to roughly 2-to-1 this year.

WATER FETE AND VENETIAN NIGHT HELD SAME DAY

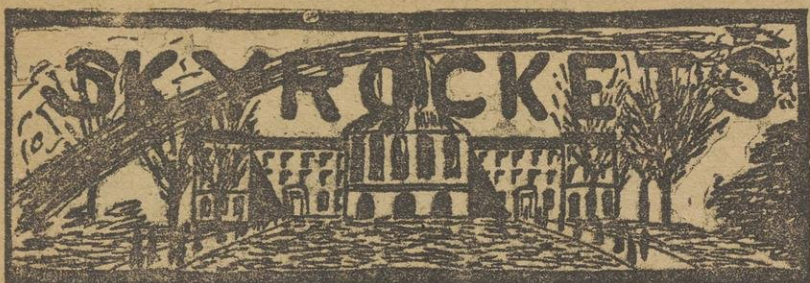

The Water Carnival and Venetian Night will be held on Friday, July 23, on Lake Mendota. This year the Forest Products Laboratory is co-operating with the university to put the events over in as big a manner as possible. The Forest Products will furnish the fireworks for the Venetian Night celebration and will put up the prizes for the various events in the Carnival. Students can begin planning for their canoe decoration early in anticipation of the event.

CIRCLE FRANCAIS HEARS Mlle. BOURQ

Mlle. Claire Bourq, a resident of Rheims and now living at the French house, spoke last night before the members of the Cercle Francais on the "Cathedral of Rheims", which was illustrated by stereopticon views of the cathedral as it appeared before the German bombardment and after.

Mlle. Bourq gave a short history of the cathedral, its construction, costliness, and extreme popularity, and told of its unfortunate plight during the war.

Other features of the evening were a piano selection and singing of familiar French songs by the assembly. Miss Fernande Helie presided in the absence of Miss Edith Hanna, the president.

CONVENTIONAL DEADLOCK Favorite Daughters Swimming Strong in Party Scramble

AUDITORIUM, SAN DYMAISON—With the opening of the Bathing Beauty Contest here today delegations were voting solidly in deadlock formation as the weather remained cool and overcast.

At 11:00 p. m. the thirty-ninth ballot was cast off and the Party adjourned to Bernard's Rendezvous to play the machine a royal flush and two ten balls resulting, expectation filled the air and the convention, which only a moment before had been in the height of disorder in a demonstration, quieted down like a dying Ford, until a doughnut might almost have been heard to drop in the great Auditorium hall.

Fran Frudy took the speaker's place and said in substance, "I am about to make an announcement of the greatest importance; after which I shall move a recess of twenty minutes."

Having moved the recess to its proper place she continued.

"A Freida Rummy has asked me to express her sincere thanks and what not to every delegate who has voted for her nomination, but being unwilling to delay the proceedings further has authorized me to release these poor fish from her string so that the convention may proceed with the dance."

There was a roar of "Hurrah for Paris Green," as the convention gesticulated feelingly, and soon the great auditorium took on the aspect of a Kale Mixer after the rush, the fortieth ballot being Ballyhooed as follows:

Elanore Riley	364½
Ruth Smith	364½
Evaline Lee	180¼
Kathrine Baird	69
Dorothy Patrick	33
Kathrine Schultz	37&
Gladys Wang	"8%

The gang adjourned in a Green River sandwits.

TALKS ON WIT OF COLUMN SCRIBE

The column conductor as a daily humorist, the philosopher who helps us to make life a pleasant round 365 days in the year, was discussed by Prof. H. F. Harrington of the journalism department of the university in his lecture, "The Wit and Wisdom of the Column Conductor," at Bascom hall Thursday afternoon.

He traced briefly the history of the "rectangles of wit and wisdom" from the time of Eugene Field, whose broad humor and pictorial quality first gave the column a personal flavor, to the present day when it is a regular feature in journalism. Verses and prose selections were quoted from the writings of Bert Leston Taylor, Franklin P. Adams, Arthur Guiterman, Leigh Mitchell Hodges, and Don Marquis.

This is the first of a series of special public lectures on "The Functions of Newspapers in a Democracy."

No further action has been taken by Mrs. Donald Kiester, wife of the Milwaukee "mystery professor," according to Burr W. Jones, attorney for Mrs. Kiester.

"Mrs. Kiester was in Madison recently and went from here to Milwaukee and Chicago," said Burr W. Jones today. "There is nothing new in the divorce action. The summons was served a long time ago, but no complaint. There is no immediate prospect of issuing the complaint and any further proceedings for some time."

IOWA BOOSTS TEACHERS' PAY

Wisconsin Lags in Increasing Salaries, Report

In view of the reluctance of some school boards and communities to increase the salaries of their superintendents for next year, the following comparisons with conditions in Iowa are interesting. Iowa was ranked much higher than Wisconsin in the recent report on school conditions issued by the Russell Sage Foundation.

"We have in Wisconsin 80 incorporated cities with school superintendents and 44 other towns or small cities where the head of the school is a supervising principal, nominally under the supervision of the county superintendent," says Carter Alexander, first assistant state superintendent of public education.

"The increases in salaries of superintendents for 42 of the 80 superintendents and for 39 of the 44 supervising principals have been obtained. While all have not been represented, it is certain that the increases not yet reported are less than those reported for it is the tendency of school men to announce increases in salary. Recently similar data were obtained from the school authorities of Iowa.

"In a nutshell the situation is this: The upper fourth of the Iowa men have been advanced 39% more of their salary for the past school year than the upper fourth of the Wisconsin men. The lower fourth of the Iowa men have been advanced 55% more than the Wisconsin men. The middle half of the Iowa men have been advanced 50% more than the Wisconsin men. Since the Iowa salaries and the Iowa increases in dollars are much larger than the Wisconsin salaries and the Wisconsin increases to begin with, it is indeed a case of "to him that hath shall be given."

STONE ENTHUSES OVER NEW BANK

Brotherhood Chief is at Head of Movement at Cleveland

Co-operative banking as a means of combating existing economic evils was discussed by Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, who left Madison this morning after a conference with Senator La Follette at Maple Bluff farm.

After attending the opening session of the third party convention called by the Committee of 48, at Chicago tomorrow, Mr. Stone will go to Cleveland where a co-operative bank, organized under the federal law, and backed by the railroad brotherhoods, and farm organizations, is about to be opened.

Warren Stone is one of the "Big Four" among the railroad brotherhood chiefs, and no American labor leader is more influential than he. Stocky of frame, his hair and moustache gray, but his steel blue eye flashing keenly, he looked the part of a man of large affairs yesterday as he chatted affably with friends who called upon him at Madison.

Mr. Stone spoke of the co-operative banking plan with enthusiasm. "Our bank will be organized with one idea and that will be to give service," he said. "The old banking system, organized for profit, has resulted in a condition where a man borrowing money usually feels that someone is doing him a favor. This should not be so, and it will not be so, in the new bank we are starting at Cleveland."

Mr. Stone suggested that the next step in co-operation will be the ownership of newspapers in large centers of population throughout the country. He declared that when the co-operative banks were started its enemies predicted there would be difficulty in securing the services of competent bankers, but that this fear had not been borne out by actual experience. He expressed the opinion that it would be equally possible to enlist experienced journalists in the venture of co-operative newspapers.

"Labor," the weekly newspaper published at Washington, D. C., by the railroad brotherhoods now has a circulation of 350,000. It carries no advertising. Mr. Stone, who is a member of the board of directors, said it was the largest labor paper in the world and that it is still growing at the rate of several thousand new subscribers weekly.

Janitors Get Raise—The salaries of about 80 janitors were advanced $10 a month beginning July 1 and their hours of work were cut from eight to seven, by M. F. Blumenfeld, state superintendent of public property. Now instead of coming to work at 6 a. m. and working until 2 p. m., they now come at 8 and work until 1.

CROWD FILLS HALL FOR HOUR OF SONG

Approximately 1,000 persons "were comin' through the rye" with Professor Peter Dykema, Wednesday evening, at the second musical gathering in Music hall. The program of song included "The Lost Chord," "Aloha Oe," and "The Star Spangled Banner." Mr. Leon Iltius, instructor in the school of music and pianist for the community "sings," entertained with several piano solos.

The capacity attendance resulted in such beautiful singing that a concert or festival is being considered for the end of the series. Next week the Indian syllables, Wah! tah-hol will be attempted.

The miniature recital of the next meeting, which begins promptly at 7:15 p. m. in Music hall, Monday, will be given by two of the vocal instructors of the University School of Music, Miss Mary Elizabeth Moutray, soprano, and Miss Josephine Jones, contralto. Miss Jones will sing one of the late compositions by Oley Speaks, Elysium. Miss Moutray will give the celebrated air from Saint-Saens' Samson and Delilah, My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice. The two ladies will be heard together in the duet from Offenbach's Tales of Hoffman, The Barcarolle.

ALPINE BEAUTY SHOWN IN TALK BY E. G. ROEDDER

Through winding gorges and caves of snow and ice; across rivers on covered zig-zag bridges; down Alpine village streets between narrow-verandahed cottages; and along roaring mountain torrents to the peak of Matterhorn were some of the paths described in an illustrated lecture on "Switzerland and the Legend of William Tell," by Prof. E. G. Roedder at the university, Thursday afternoon.

That Lake Mendota is more constant in coloring than Geneva, though the Swiss Lake surpasses all its European neighbors, and that mountain climbing is the most daring of all sports, including aviation, were points brought out in the talk.

William Tell stands for an ideal of these people because of his stubborn resistance to an oppressor, and he is still held in reverence, though his story is legendary.

NEGRO DEAF MUTE WRITES "GUILTY" IN THEFT TRIAL

One of the most peculiar cases of petty larceny up before Superior court was that of Theodore Bolan, colored mute, who pleaded guilty, in writing, this morning to having stolen a pair of trousers from the tailor shop of F. C. Jack, King st. The negro seemed to understand perfectly what was being said and officials were at a loss to know whether or not he was faking speechlessness.

The negro wrote on a piece of paper that he took a pair of trousers in the tailor shop to be repaired and having no others to wear except a very tattered pair, he appropriated some new ones.

Bolan said he was married and lived on E. Washington Ave., but his home and his wife could not be found. The negro is being examined for insanity which is thought to have been caused by shell shock.

LEMON EXTRACT; GUESS THE REST

Pleading that lemon extract which he had purchased at a grocery store in Beloit was the cause of his drunkenness, George Webrich was fined $10 and costs in superior court this morning. While intoxicated Webrich broke a window at the home of Morton Hookenson, Few st., with whom he was lodging. The window was also paid for by Webrich who was released after promising not to molest the Hookenson home again.

Let Bridge Contracts—Contracts will be let for the construction of six Dane county bridges in the office of F. L. Lipke, county highway commissioner, this morning. The bids will be considered by the county highway committee, composed of Chairman W. H. Sommers, R. J. Caldwell and J. C. Olson.

RUINS PORTRAYED IN TALK ON ROME

"The Monuments of the Seven Hills" of Rome were described with great vividness by Prof. Grant Showerman in his fourth illustrated lecture on Roman civilization given this morning at 9:00 in 260, Bascom hall.

Ruins and remnants of ancient churches, temples, columns and baths were particularly stressed by Prof. Showerman for in them the quintessence of Roman genius in art, work, and worship may be found. Of the seven hills the most interesting from the archeological standpoint are the Capitoline and the Aventine. Turning to modern Rome, Prof. Showerman showed the majestic administrative buildings that have either replaced dilapidated ruins or have been built out of the bricks or marble of these ruins to retain the classical background. In speaking of the cathedral of St. Peter's, he said that it was the pinnacle of Roman achievement and with the Forum furnishes the greatest amount of interest to the discriminating tourist.

Rotarians to Camp—Madison Rotarians will attend the dedication of the permanent Boy Scout camp at Green Lake, Sunday. This camp was made possible by donations of the Rotary club.

Pick Hospital Site—First steps for the realization of Wisconsin's state general hospital which has been made possible through the action of a special session of the legislature recently, were taken yesterday by the state board of education in its action approving the two blocks of land on which the institution is to be built. The purchase price of this land, which is located on two blocks extending from Charter to N. Warren sts. on University ave. and Linden Drive, will be about $250,000.

MUSEUM CHIEF TELLS CONTENT OF GALLERIES

Exhibits and Collections Explained in Timely Article

By Charles F. Brown, Chief.

The State Historical museum occupies the entire upper (fourth) floor of the Library building and includes 10 large and small exhibition halls, an office, laboratory, and store rooms. Its collections of historical materials are very extensive, nearly 20,000 specimens being on exhibition and a large number in reserve, the latter being exhibited at different times during the year in special exhibits.

In the auditorium of the Museum an exhibition of 26 very attractive oil canvasses by the well known New York artist, Martha Walter, is now being made. In the north hall the exhibits illustrating a fully equipped Colonial kitchen and an early Wisconsin drug store are perhaps the most interesting to visitors. The east hall contains among many other exhibits the famous Daniel Webster carriage.

A smaller adjoining hall is completely filled with specimens illustrating the French and Indian Revolutionary, Mexican, Black Hawk, Civil and Spanish American wars. Among these are a bake kettle, powder horn and gun, formerly belonging to the famous frontiersman, Daniel Boone, and the great silver bowl presented to Gen. Joseph Bailey of Wisconsin for saving the Union fleet of gunboats during the Red River expedition.

A similar hall is devoted to hundreds of specimens illustrating the part taken by Wisconsin soldiers in the recent World war. Between these two is a long hall upon the walls of which are a large collection of framed Arundel, Medici and Japanese prints. In a large number of cases are fine collections of Mexican and Chinese materials. The large entrance hall of the Museum contains fine collections of coins, medals and early American paper money. Here also are models of the first locomotive, of Great Lakes sailing vessels, of a Mississippi river raft boat and raft, and of a pioneer log cabin. One of the first Wisconsin printing presses occupies a prominent position.

The Indian history hall contains a rich collection of specimens from Wisconsin and many other North American tribes. The archeological collections are particularly fine. The Henry P. Hamilton collection of native copper implements being the largest and most valuable of its kind in the world.

In the adjoining hall is the fine collection of Brussels and rare Italian laces. A number of cases in this hall are given up to collections of South seas, Philippine and Japanese ethnological collections.

POTAWATOMI STILL RESIDE IN WISCONSIN

A detailed history of the Potawatomi Indians in Wisconsin and elsewhere has been written by Publius V. Lawson, of Menasha, for the latest number of the Wisconsin Archeologist, published by the Wisconsin Archeological society.

Traces of the Potawatomi are to be found in Kewaunee, Manitowoc, Sheboygan, Ozaukee, Washington, Dodge, Milwaukee, Waukesha, Racine, Walworth, Rock, and Winnebago counties. Large collections of their stone, metal, bone and antler implements and ornaments, as well as earthenware vessels are on exhibition in the State Historical museum.

Remnants of the tribe are in Wisconsin, Kansas, Oklahoma, and Canada today, according to Mr. Lawson. From a census in 1834 totalling 64,734, the last records reveal that a band of some 6,731 Indians remain "to perpetuate the national fire and sacredly keep it burning." They are divided as follows: Oklahoma, 2,222; Kansas, 777; Wisconsin, 342; Canada, 3,000; and Michigan, 300.

The early habitat of the Potawatomi, whose name means "those who make or keep the fire," and indicating that they are the chosen people, appears to have been all of eastern Wisconsin and portions of neighboring states. They have attached their names to Lake Michigan and its tributary streams, as well as to more than 50 towns, cities, counties, and states.

Early accounts of the Indians as known by various explorers such as Radisson, Groseilliers, Perrot, Father Allouez, and others are touched upon by Mr. Lawson, as well as their early wars, their relations with the British and French, border wars, massacre at Fort Dearborn, Blackhawk war, treaties and cessations.
