CAMPUS GROUP WILL CAMPAIGN TO "SAVE" DRILL

War Veterans Oppose Abolition

A campaign among university students to "save" military training here from destruction in the state legislature has been launched by the local Gun and Blade club, a campus organization of more than 200 World war veterans.

Action to the effect that the members of the veterans' club go on record as strongly opposed to abolition of military training for youths at the university was taken by the club at their annual banquet held recently.

Adopted Unanimously

The resolution was adopted unanimously by the club. A bill for optional military training is now pending in the legislature.

"Enactment of the bill into law would be a terrific blow to our national defense, a blot upon the fair name of our state and an absolute repudiation of the glorious record of the famous 32nd division of Wisconsin," E. M. Boerke '25, national president of the Gun and Blade clubs, declared yesterday.

"The only reason advanced in favor of this measure is that it costs too much money."

Corps Here Efficient

"We have at present one of the most efficient organizations in the country. If it does cost in the neighborhood of half million dollars a year, every cent of that is spent in the state and ultimately returns to the taxpayer."

"It seems incredible, but it seems that our pacifist friends have forgotten that if it had not been for the national guard and other measures of preparedness which were taken in spite of them, they would now be paying millions of dollars to the Prussian militarists," Boerke declared.

The young man out of high school "naturally shirks" military training at the university because he does not realize its future value, Boerke charged.

"Some would certainly elect this training, but the cake-eating, lounge lizard, the pale, anemic tea-hound, those who need it most, would pass it up with scorn."

PRESBYTERIANS PLAN TO BUILD A NEW CHURCH

Madison is soon to have a new university church. The Presbyterian drive for a new church and social hall in Madison will continue this week.

Three thousand, five hundred dollars was pledged by the 75 students at the banquet held last week, and solicitors, under the direction of Ralph Owens, field secretary of the University department will visit other students and Madisonians this week.

In order to raise funds in this campaign, seats in the church will be sold. A seat on a side aisle may be bought for 100 dollars, while a seat in the middle aisle can be purchased for 200 dollars. The name plate of the purchaser will be placed on the seat, marking it for future students. All smaller contributions will probably be used for the 5,000 dollar pipe organ. It is expected that the contributions from the rest of the state will put up the church.

PYTHIA TO HOLD OPEN MEETING FOR TRYOUTS

Pythia literary society will hold an open meeting Friday, March 9, in the dancing gymnasium on the fifth floor of Lathrop hall at 7 o'clock for all university women interested in literary work.

No regular Pythia meeting will be held this week on account of the all-university religious conference.

"This will be the last open meeting of the year," said Marjorie Capron '24, president of the society, "and will precede tryouts to be announced later."

S. G. A. WILL HOLD MEET TO NOMINATE OFFICERS

S. G. A. holds its annual spring mass meeting tonight for every woman student of the university to nominate next year's officers for the organization, at 7:15 o'clock in the Concert room at Lathrop.

One nomination for each office is given by Keystone, and additional ones are made from the floor for each office. The regular elections will take place later on in March on the same day with the final elections for W. A. A. and Y. W. C. A.

The nominations from Keystone for the S. G. A. officers for next year are: president, Margaret Callisen '24; vice president, Helen Kingsford '24; secretary, Mary Burchard '24; treasurer, Mary Devine '25; and census chairman, Gladys Norgord '25.

"This is the one important mass meeting of the year held by S. G. A. and it is absolutely essential that every university woman come out and see that the right nominations for the officers are made," said Cleo Parsley '23, president of S. G. A. for this year who will preside at the meeting.

DOYLE READING AT 8 TONIGHT

Prof. F. A. Pyre Praises "The White-headed Boy" as Significant

Romantic Ireland, the Ireland of Laurette Taylor's "Peg O' My Heart," of simple peasant folk who have somehow found the true happiness of living, is the setting for "The Whiteheaded Boy," Lennox Robinson's racy play of Irish life.

Prof. F. A. Pyre of the English department considers the play one of the most significant in recent years. He calls it a pleasant change from the hollow and often pointless farces which clutter the modern stage.

William Butler Yeats and Lady Gregory have dramatized Irish life, and Lord Dunsany expressed some of its poetic beauty in his transcendent prose. Lennox Robinson has combined these elements in his modern play.

Miss Mary Agnes Doyle reads "The Whiteheaded Boy" in room 165 Bascom hall tonight at 8 o'clock. She appears under the auspices of the University players.

OUTING CLUB TO HEAR TALK BY DOC ELSOM

Nominations for officers for Outing club for next year will be made at a meeting tonight at 7:15 o'clock in the S. G. A. room.

Outing club board has already made two nominations for each office which will be announced at the meeting, and additional nominations are to be made from the floor. The election will be made at a later meeting.

Dr. James E. Elsom, associate professor of the physical education department, will speak on "The Values of Outdoor Sports," and will illustrate the talk with a number of his slides.

Fifteen new members will be taken in and four pins will be awarded to women who have obtained the necessary 25 hours of sports.

Y. W. to Hold Nomination Meet at Lathrop Tuesday

Nomination of Y. W. C. A. officers will take place in the Concert room at Lathrop hall next Tuesday at 12:45 o'clock.

Candidates for office may be nominated from the floor. The following have been named for office: President, Jeanette Kenan '24, Marion Metcalf '24; vice-president, Dorothy John '25, Elizabeth Stoult '25; secretary, Marion Strong '25, Roberta Odell '26; treasurer, Alice Cummings '25 and Helen Winkelman '24.

Women who have not re-signed their Y. W. C. A. pledge this year are asked to do so at once. The meeting for the nomination of officers will be for members only. Installation of the new officers will take place on April 15.

BELOW ELECTED NEW PRESIDENT OF 'W' WEARERS

Club Organizes For Service

Martin P. Below '24, was elected president of the Varsity "W" club at a meeting held in the trophy room of the gym yesterday noon. Rudolph L. Hohfeld was elected vice-president and Howard Johnson secretary and treasurer.

The meeting was held for the purpose of getting the club better organized for more efficient work in the future. For the past several months, the organization has been comparatively inactive.

Jones Points Way

Prof. T. E. Jones, athletic director of the university, gave a talk to the members of the club on organization and service. He outlined the possible work which the club might do.

A club made up of letter men of any school should be the backbone of all athletics in the school, according to Mr. Jones. He intimated that the "W" club, under efficient organization, would be a great asset to athletics.

President Below announced that he would name various committees of the club in the near future, and that the club would soon function as an active unit.

Pins Now Available

Many alumni of the club, who have written to the office for pins, may receive them at the gym office, according to Mr. Jones. A club with a strong alumni membership wearing pins in all parts of the country should be well recognized.

About 40 "W" men attended the meeting.

FACULTY WILL NOT INITIATE GET-TOGETHER

Administrative officials of the university yesterday noon spiked the proposal that the faculty set aside a day in the near future for a university-legislature get-together.

The officials felt that it would be more advisable for the students to invite members of the legislature to visit the campus and make an inspection tour of the laboratories, class and lecture rooms, and places of interest about the institution. It is expected that some organization of students will act upon the suggestion of the officials.

That the legislature would welcome the invitation to come down here and observe the conditions on the campus is the opinion generally expressed about the campus. Few of them have taken the opportunity to personally inspect the institution, it is thought.

Yellow Tassel Announces

Junior Committee Heads

Committees for the work to be conducted by junior women were announced by the officers of Yellow Tassel, junior women's organization, yesterday. They are as follows:

All-university senior swingout: Lois E. Jacobs '24 and Janet K. Marshall '24, co-chairmen. Committee to be announced later.

April Fool's party: Janet Cummings '24, chairman; Mabel Jobse '24, Mary Aspinwall '24.

There will be a meeting of all these committees and the officers of Yellow Tassel Friday noon at 12:45 in the S. G. A. room.

WEATHER: MODERATE

Partly cloudy weather Thursday and Friday. Moderate temperature.

HARESFOOT TO HAVE ELABORATE PROGRAM

The programs for "Kikmi," Haresfoot club's production this year, will be the most elaborate thing of the kind ever attempted by a university dramatic organization. Instead of the usual folder type of program, a 32-page booklet will be used.

At least half of the program will be display advertising, a large proportion of which will be sold to out-of-the-city advertisers. The Allen A. Hosiery company and the J. I. Case company already have contracted for space in the booklet. Approximately 10 pages of the advertising space has been sold to Madison merchants. The rest will be taken by advertisers in cities on the Haresfoot circuit.

The booklet will contain pictures of the leading characters in the production and several group pictures of the entire cast. A short history of the Haresfoot organization together with interesting sidelights on this year's work in particular.

George Hazen '23, is in charge of the printing of the programs. Ten thousand copies will be printed.

SENATE PLANS MASS MEETING

Lamb Sends Out Letters to Invite Organizations to Participate

Plans for the student massmeeting for general debate of the point system are now being made by officers of the Student Senate, under which auspices the meeting will be held, Senator Maynard Brown '24, president, announced last night.

In order that all campus organizations shall cooperate with the senate for the event, letters will be sent out tomorrow by Senator Francis Lamb '23, secretary, to all fraternities and sororities. A personal invitation to attend the debate fest will be made in the senate letters.

"Future action of the senate upon the point system greatly depends upon the popular sentiment of the students," Brown declared.

"The senate is very anxious to ascertain the opinion of the student body, and for that reason has delayed decision upon the matter until the results of the mass meeting are judged."

Senator Ralph Balliette '23, chairman of the special committee to investigate the point system, is out of the city for the week. He will return the latter part of the week and at that time will assist in plans for the meeting.

The meeting will be open to all students, senate officers explain. No member of the senate will participate in the discussion or the debates.

GLEE CLUB TO SEEK FUNDS FOR TRIP EAST

Solicitors will visit fraternity and sorority houses today in a campaign to raise the necessary $250 which the Glee club still needs to help defray expenses for its trip to New York to attend the Eastern Intercollegiate Glee club contest.

This will be the first time that Wisconsin has attended such a meet and after its recent win at the Midwest contest at Chicago it should have an opportunity to break into the national musical limelight.

The Glee club, composed of 17 singers, will leave for New York tomorrow afternoon, and will return Monday evening. This hasty trip is necessary, as the club has a concert scheduled in Madison next week.

GOPHER TICKET SALE TO BEGIN TOMORROW

Ticket sale for the Minnesota-Wisconsin basketball game on Saturday begins at 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Students will be permitted to purchase two tickets apiece. Sale of pasteboards for the Northwestern-Wisconsin contest on Monday night begins at 9 o'clock on Saturday morning.

DR. WILCE WILL COME HERE FOR RELIGIOUS MEET

Lauds John R. Mott in Letter

Dr. John L. Wilce, football coach at Ohio State university will be here for the annual religious conference this week, according to a communication received from the former Wisconsin grad by conference officials yesterday.

Dr. Wilce was president of the student association when John R. Mott, conference speaker, was here for the first religious convocation.

"The Mott conference was a great inspiration to me," he says. "I am glad of the opportunity of coming back to Madison for this occasion."

Will Address Frats

The Ohio coach will assist in making speeches at fraternity and sorority house and other organizations during the noon hour on Friday. He will impress upon the students the necessity of attending the all-university convocation at 3:30 o'clock Friday afternoon.

"The presence of Jack Wilce at the conference is an unexpected addition to the program," said Frederick E. Wolfe, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. "Students will appreciate the privilege of hearing Dr. Mott when Wilce makes the trip from Ohio to hear him again."

Many Wisconsin grads are planning to be here for the meetings of the conference. Among these men are Paulie Meyers, Leo Cole, Ross Rogers, Herbert Lindsay, Earl Brandenberg and Chester Hartlett.

Childs Also Coming

Jack Childs is coming from New York city. "I feel that I can not afford to miss the meetings led by such a man as John R. Mott," he writes. "I will be in Madison if I possibly can."

Sterling Tracy '22, who has been in Madison for a few days, was urged to prolong his visit in order to attend the conference but was unable to do so.

Dean Frederick W. Roe has said "The students ought to give Mott their greatest support because of the cause which he represents. The danger to the Christian religion today is no longer Darwinism nor is it Bryanism, but it is the attitude of indifference taken by so many people."

"BLUE BANDITS" TO BE NEW GUN AND BLADE PLAY

The Gun and Blade club has chosen the comic opera, "The Blue Bandits," for its annual production. Rehearsals will begin tonight at Music hall under the personal direction of John T. McDonough, author-composer.

This production will be much different than either of the previous shows staged by this club. It is full of music, catchy songs, original comedy, and also has a genuine plot.

Many legion posts throughout the state have already staged "The Blue Bandits" with success and preparations are already underway to produce this opera in Milwaukee immediately following its production here.

It will be staged entirely by ex-service men and many have already signified their intentions of helping make "The Blue Bandits" an artistic and financial success. About 60 students will take part.

Dolphin Club Will Hold

Final Tryouts Tonight

The last tryouts this year for Dolphin club will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the Lathrop pool. Any girl student in the university is eligible to try out and admittance is based on endurance, form, swimming and diving. A poster has been on the Lathrop bulletin board and all girls who are interested may sign there before 7 o'clock this evening.

CO-EDS LEAD IN YELL CONTEST

Alumni Contribute 10 Out of the 150 Cheers Handed in

By THE YELL EDITOR

Wisconsin men and women are vying with each other for first honors in the yell contest with the coeds slightly in the lead.

Over 150 yells have been handed to the judging committee. The alumni have contributed 10 of these and the remainder are about evenly divided with the coeds holding the advantage.

All the submitted yells are given a preliminary try out by a group of students before several of the judging committee to select the ones used at basketball games. The yells are then filed and the best ones will be selected at the end of the contest after another try out.

The yells worked out from characteristic Wisconsin Indian crys show much promise. The greatest difficulty appears to be in getting the right rhythm and several may be returned for correction.

The better yells submitted yesterday are:

FEWER ACCIDENTS RESULT OF KNICKERS

"When all women wear knickers, there will be fewer accidents," said Harry Sellner, vice-president of the Retail Clothiers association and proprietor of stores at New York, Philadelphia, Newark, and Trenton.

University co-eds are becoming more sensible in their dress if the sale of knickers is any criterion, for more than four times as many knickers are being sold this season as were sold last year. This information was given by Joe Ripp, acting manager of the Co-op, yesterday.

Girls were timid about wearing knickers at first, Ripp said, but because of the many sports at the university, he believes that they have become a permanent part of the co-ed's wardrobe. Tweeds lead the race for popularity. Dull colors are most in demand. Along with the knickers has come the short jacket craze.

Campus Cafe Installs Orchestra For Evenings

The wail of a saxophone and the strains of a violin were heard issuing from the Campus lunch room yesterday. Many students hurrying to their afternoon classes were tempted to linger long enough to see a real honest-to-goodness orchestra established there. The orchestra is made up of students. They are to play every evening from six to seven-thirty o'clock.

BOBBED HAIR DYING NO MORE "FRINGE"

Will co-eds adopt the bangs of olden days now called the "fringe"?

"Never", Mrs. Wengel, manager of the Merinello Beauty parlors, says. "The fringe never will be popular with the modern girl. Though most girls find it rather trying at first to get accustomed to hairpins and nets, Bobbed hair is dying a painful death and the marcelled dips will replace even a suggestion of bangs."

Mrs. Hicks of the Rosemary Beauty shop believes that because bangs are not becoming to the average girl, they will not be adopted. Marceled hair, or the more fashionable big hair dress does not need the addition of bangs, for a soft wave over the forehead is more attractive."

"I believe that the "Dutch Bob" will soon be very popular on the campus", Mrs. Boorman whose beauty shop is well known to many co-eds says.

"Only recently, I bobbed the hair of several girls who wanted it done because it is more convenient to care for, especially if one is fond of sports. Bobbed hair is youthful and suited to most types. Think what a convenience it is to have short hair, especially for summer when one is out of doors, swimming or hiking most of the time."

According to London reports, flappers have adopted this fashion of hair dress because it is favored by Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon.

Thirteen Teams to Enter in Water Basketball Meet

Thirteen teams have already entered the interfraternity water basketball meet. Some strong teams are entered and a great deal of competition is looked for before the completion of the schedule.

There may be one of two teams to enter in the next day or so. All fraternities who contemplate entering a team are urged to make their entries at once as the schedule will start next Thursday, according to a statement made by Ed Banner '24, yesterday.

The arrangement of the schedule has not been completed, since the men in charge expect a few more entries but will be completed within the next few days.

New York Club Censors Yale's Most Popular Song

Yale's most popular song, "Bright College Years" to the tune of "Die Wacht Am Rhein" should be eliminated from the college song repertoire, the Yale club of New York declares. The graduates say that their college should have a song which is appropriate for all occasions. The song was not sung during the war but was later revived. Again it has had to be eliminated to prevent hurting the feeling of distinguished Allied guests, Marshal Foch and Georges Clemenceau, during their visits to this country.

PURPLE WATER MEN DOPED TO BEAT BADGERS

Ineligibilities to Hurt Wisconsin

Coach Joe Steinauer's Varsity fish are pointed hard toward the meet with the Purple sharks here on Friday night. There is almost no hope for the Badgers to win the meet due to ineligibility and the tardy completion of the new gym tank.

"There are too many of my men ineligible for us to hope to win the meet from Northwestern," Coach Steinauer said yesterday. "We are working hard every day and are going to give them a hard run, however. Maurice Johnson, another of the sprinters, was declared ineligible for the meet Friday."

Bennett Best Bet

Captain Johnny Bennett is the strongest bet for the Badgers to hold down the Purple men. Our weakest spot is in the sprints. Ewald is gone; Johnson was lost within the last day or two; and Jimmy Hippie, the star performer of last year's frosh aggregation, has not been eligible this year. All these men performed in the sprints. Sterling Ewald is the loss most felt, since he has had varsity experience and is one of the fastest sprint men in the Badger pool.

Wisconsin lost a meet to Minnesota which the coach considered a 50-50 break. Later on the Purple sharks took the Gophers into camp and Minnesota was doped to win by a large score. Two of the Gopher men fell down in the winning event and had to be dragged from the tank. According to the dope, the Purple tanksters are due for a walkaway when they come here on Friday.

Breyer Purple Hop

Breyer is one of the strongest men on the Purple card. He is entered in four events in which he has previously tacked up four firsts. He is expected to be the high scorer of the meet. Captain Bennett, who is entered in the same events is the only one who can be depended to hold the Purple flash in hand.

Entries are:

Relay—Wisconsin: Story, Porter, Lyons, Ellicot, Gilbreath, and Captain Bennett; Northwestern: Captain Paver, Winslow, Dickey, Breyer, Beschwitz, and Ortlepp.

Fancy Diving—Wisconsin: Kock and Maroney; Northwestern: Corbett, Sleight and Wells.

220-yard swim—Wisconsin: Captain Bennett, Porter, Story and Taylor; Northwestern: Breyer, Beschwitz, and J. Dickson.

Plunge—Wisconsin: Dummer, Salzstein; Northwestern: Dickson, Schaffer and J. Dickson.

150-yard back stroke—Wisconsin: Czerwonky, Ellicot, Gilbreath and Porter; Northwestern: J. Hayford, Wagnew, Dickey.

100-yard swim—Wisconsin: Gilbreath, Porter and Captain Bennett; Northwestern: Paver, Beschwitz and Breyer.

Water basketball—Wisconsin: No entries yet made; Northwestern: Captain J. Hayford, Slott, Mills, Penfield, Phillips, Thompson, Brene, Viennedridge, Wells and Ortlepp.

Officials of the meet: timers, Vail, Burke and Taylor; judges, Duncan, Borgelt and Felton; announcer, Steinauer; clerk, Brown; dive judges J. H. White, Linden Leitz and Kubosch; starter, J. H. White.

DEKES WIN FROM D. U. IN GREEK BASKETBALL

The D. K. E. basketball team won over the Psi U's by a score of 16 to 7 in the only inter-fraternity game played Tuesday night.

The game was hard fought from start to finish. The Psi U's outplayed the Deke five during the first half and lead by a narrow margin, 5 to 4. The losing team fought hard to the finish, but were unable to stop the Deke attack.

Washington Ball Team Will Take Spring Training Trip The University of Washington's veteran baseball team composed largely of players who last year participated in winning the Northwestern championship will take a baseball trip in the spring. They will meet Penn state, Yale, Michigan, and another eastern institution yet to be named. This announcement was made Monday. North Dakota is on the schedule for June 4, and the last games will be played at Ann Arbor.

COLUMBIA MAY GET N. D. COACH

Blue and White Offered $15,000 to Rockne Last Year

Rumor at Columbia university has it that Knute Rockne, the great Notre Dame coach, will lead the eastern school in football this fall. This rumor is based upon the fact that Johnnie Mohardt, Notre Dame star two years ago, has been in conference with the athletic authorities at Columbia during the early part of this week.

Rockne was offered something like $15,000 to coach the Blue and White eleven last fall but was at that time under contract at Notre Dame. However, Manager Bob Watt of Columbia has been in South Bend since then for a conference with him, and it is possible that Mohardt who is thoroughly conversant with Rockne's system has been delegated to take charge at Columbia until he himself is at liberty to desert the Notre Dame team.

This would mean that Rockne has consented to take the Columbia offer in 1924, and hope is again revived on the campus.

INTER-FRAT TANK CAGE SCHEDULE BEGINS MARCH 3

U. of Missouri Man Will Coach Princeton Football

Z. G. Clevenger, athletic director of the University of Missouri, has been chosen head coach of the Princeton football squad, with W. W. Roper, the Tiger's head coach, as advisory coach. He will be assisted by a Princeton graduate as yet not selected, and two Missouri men, "Chuck" Lewis and Capt. W. C. Dunkel.

BURKE TO SEND THREE TEAMS TO INDIAN RELAYS

6 Men Enter Special Events

With the completion of several time trials, Coach Mead Burke of the varsity track squad has practically decided upon the men who will go to Urbana on Saturday to take part in the annual Illinois relays.

Competition in the half-mile and the mile runs has been exceedingly keen during the past week and there have been six or seven men fighting for honors in each event. Competition such as this is bound to bring out winning runners before the end of the season.

Enter Three Teams

Wisconsin will send three relay teams to Urbana besides six men to take part in the special events. The relays are causing much interest with the entrance of some of the best teams in the country.

In addition to entering the medley race, the Badgers will run in two of the other three relay events. The other relay races are the mile, two mile, and four mile runs.

Ramsey took the half mile race in the time trial and will be one of the relay men to make the trip to Urbana.

Two mile runs were held in which Tschudy and Vellely won in good time. Both men have been showing up well throughout the season and will be strong additions to the relay squad. Schneider, who placed ahead of Ramsey in the mile run at Iowa City last Saturday, is the fourth man who is certain of going to Illinois.

Positions Still Open

In the course of the next two days five or six other distance men will be chosen to complete the relay squad.

Six men will compete in the special events for the Badgers. Special events consist of the high jump, broad jump, shot put, high and low hurdles, and sprints.

Platten and Tuhtar will high jump and Wisconsin should place in the event. The local annex record, made by Platten last year is above the Illinois record.

Captain Spetz and Johnson will work in dashes and Van Ells will put the shot. Hammann, all around man, may enter either the broad jump, the hurdles, or the shot put.

CASTNER STARS FOR CATHOLICS

Four goals out of five in the 5 to 1 victory of Notre Dame over Michigan at hockey Thursday were made by Paul Castner, Notre Dame captain. The game was featured by the excellent footwork of Castner for the Catholics and Kohn for Michigan.

Vigorous drills between now and the first game Friday night will be a big factor in the Badgers' preparation for the final series of the season. As Capt. Howard Combacker showed to advantage in Wisconsin's encounter with Marquette here and in the Minnesota series, he will be depended upon to lead the Viner men through to a double victory.

Swimming Honor Tests Are Postponed Until Next Week

The tests for swimming honors which were to have been held this evening in the Lathrop pool have been postponed until Tuesday March 6 and the following Tuesday, March 13, on account of the short notice given the entrants.

All persons passing the tests will be awarded swimming honors which will give them 50 W. A. A. points.

The requirements are posted on the Lathrop bulletin board and all girls wishing to try out are asked by Olga Anderson '23, in charge of the tests, to sign for the week they prefer to come.

PUCKSTERS TO PLAY JESUITS

Badgers to Meet Marquette in Two Games at Milwaukee

Two games with Marquette university pucksters on Friday and Saturday will furnish the final competition for Coach A. K. Viner's Wisconsin hockey team.

The Badger squad returned yesterday from Minneapolis where it dropped a pair of contests to the champion Gophers. Minnesota was forced into overtime periods to win the first tilt, 1 to 0, on Monday, but the Gophers skated away with a 4 to 0 victory on the following day.

The Minnesota outfit is leading in the Triangular Hockey association, having lost only one game to Michigan and tied one with Wisconsin. Michigan is in second place and the Badger pucksters trail in third position.

Wisconsin's puck chasers are not anticipating any easy time in their encounters with Marquette in the Castle Gardens Friday and Saturday, for only a spectacular last period rally in the game here gave them a 3-2 victory over the same aggregation here February 17. Although relying to a great extent upon individual play, the Hilltoppers had the puck in Wisconsin territory a good share of the time. A victory over Minnesota, Wisconsin's conqueror of this week, is also credited to Marquette.

Vigorous drills between now and the first game Friday night will be a big factor in the Badgers' preparation for the final series of the season. As Capt. Howard Combacker showed to advantage in Wisconsin's encounter with Marquette here and in the Minnesota series, he will be depended upon to lead the Viner men through to a double victory.

Army Takes Seventeenth Game From Navy This Year

Fast smooth team work of the Army basketball team won for them the seventh straight win from the Navy this season in the game played at Annapolis Saturday night.

RIVAL GRIDMEN WILL CLASH IN GAME SATURDAY

Gopher Five to Play Here

Capt. Gus Tebell and Rollie Williams will get a chance to renew old acquaintance when the Wisconsin and Minnesota basketball teams meet for the second time on Saturday night.

Ecklund, Gopher guard, was also an end on the football team last fall.

On the gridiron he first learned the identity of Tebell and Williams and it is probable that he will have to stop their rushes down the court just as he attempted to hold them on his football field.

Better and Better

Although Minnesota holds the cellar position in Conference standings, the Gophers have been doing a Prof. Coue. They forced Chicago to go overtime in a game which the Maroons won, 24 to 21, and they held Iowa to a six-point victory last Monday night.

Minnesota is doubly dangerous when it stacks up against Wisconsin. Long-standing rivalry makes a noteworthy battle of contests between these institutions. In past years, the Gophers have often sprung a surprise and upset Wisconsin in crucial games.

Coach Cook has been handicapped by an injury to Hultkranz, who was unable to play all season, and by the ineligibility of veterans. Ecklund is up among the elite in individual high scoring records. Pesek, center, plays a steady game. Olson, Bergsland, Vancura, Severinson, and Wolden are members of the Gopher squad. Severinson has had previous Varsity experience.

Varsity Forwards Good

Although the effectiveness of the Wisconsin defense has somewhat overshadowed the work of the forward and center, these men rank with the best in the Big Ten. Les Gage is a player of the steady type, not often spectacular, but possessing the reserve force which is important in a close game. With a total of 61 points, he comes within the charmed circle of the first ten men in individual records.

Les is a power on the floor and fits in as one of the main cogs in Coach Meanwell's scoring combination. Dwight Spooner has risen to the limelight in the last two games. The Michigan tilt here was the first appearance in a full game on the armory court. His three baskets in the Purdue contest were instrumental in putting the Badgers on top.

MAYBE A CANNY MOVE

A man with a microscope—or a telescope—might see two institutional roosters eyeing each other from their respective perches at the ends of State street.

Yesterday one of those roosters had an opportunity to invite the other over to search in his yard and get acquainted. But he didn't.

There may have been good reasons. Perhaps trouble was feared. Roosters do fight, but surely not when one cordially shows the other a good scratching ground and points out the worm of progressive existence. Perhaps it was thought that the legislators might not come. Perhaps they wouldn't. But certainly they wouldn't if they weren't asked. Perhaps the present situation was thought to be too ticklish, ticklish to the point where a misstep might prove fatal to somebody.

If the situation is ticklish, then more than ever is there need for frankness somewhere, —need for university and legislature getting together. Somebody, regardless of his estimate of the value of sitting tight, must open up sometime with a frank attitude and play host, or the situation will eternally be ticklish.

The need for a university-legislature get-together has been amply demonstrated. It is common in other states. Faculty and student body would like to see one here.

Administrative officials have suggested that the student body conduct the inspection. But that is beside the point. The present misunderstandings are not between the legislators and students.

The plan for a university-legislature get-together,—seemingly in order from a progressive point of view,—apparently has got off to a poor start with yesterday's non-action by administrative officials.

But it is to be hoped that the plan has not met its final death. Present practical conditions may prohibit its institution immediately. That was not the entire intent of the proposal. It was expected rather that a first step be taken toward making legislative inspection a function, regular, accepted, and peaceable, to be held at the beginning of each session. Regardless of yesterday's action, that opportunity still remains.

As for the present situation, perhaps the move made yesterday was singularly canny after all. Perhaps the administrative officials know better than anyone that the surest method of getting legislators to see what's what down university way is to hint that they're not invited.

BRASS TACKS FOR A CHANGE

It is a far cry, according to many, from the ideal life in a state university to the dream shattering realities of the world of actualities. It cannot be said, however, that all is trivial and of no consequence in this sequestered existence. College students have come to a realization of the necessity of a consideration of the more serious things of life.

This weekend the entire university will unite in observing a religious conference—an annual affair and one which is associated with under-the-surface things. Morning-watches, banquets and heart-to-heart talks with prominent religious leaders are scheduled for every day.

The instigators of the conference have announced that it is a democratic thing with no reference to creed or denomination. In all respects it is an-university event and deserves the cooperation of every student.

It is interesting to note that the conference leaders have explained their position in a very concise and pert manner. In no sense is the conference a wishy-washy affair with a revival atmosphere. It is an earnest and serious consideration of the fundamental truths in religion, with all sham and non-essential elements excluded.

The university has declared the first convocation of the year for the first address of the conference Friday afternoon when Dr. John R. Mott, internationally known as a religious leader, will speak. Lathrop gymnasium should be packed at 3:30 Friday to give the conference a rousing start.

FOOL NATURE?

A yawning countenance and deep rings below the eyes of a certain acquaintance this morning as he hastily sips his coffee on his way to his 8 o'clock is evidence enough that in trying to beat nature's law of sleep he has got the worst end of the deal.

His physical dissipations have made him a bankrupt institution. He will not be able to meet the obligations, physical and mental, which will be placed upon him in the lecture room and class recitation. As a studying machine his efficiency is almost nil. He has loaned his vitality and has no reserve upon which to rely. He tells you that he is feeling "rotten".

The student whose physical and mental being are fast developing cannot guide his hours of sleep in accordance with the standards of a mature man such as Thomas Edison who grew to fame and fortune on four or five hours of slumber. The idea is simply out of joint with the scheme of things.

He might better cut open a vein and sacrifice his blood than to deprive himself of that natural process of life which is instrumental in blood manufacture and purification.

Man can go forty days without solid food of any kind, seven days or longer without water, but he cannot live six days without sleep.

It is known also that the hours for sleep which yield the biggest returns are between 8 o'clock in the evening and 6 o'clock in the morning. During this time the blood circulation in the body changes and the vitality is at low ebb.

Chalk these hours down on your schedule for sleep and at the top write these words:

"It is not the wise student who burns the midnight oil and sleeps away the morning sun."

Editors Say—

ENGLISH—THE BASIC SUBJECT

(Ohio State Lantern)

No subject has been more in the public mind in recent years than education. Captious criticism has been directed against the whole structure of the American educational system, and it passes without comment that many valuable suggestions, prompted by a spirit of genuine helpfulness, have also been offered for its improvement.

Ultimately the whole question resolves itself into an inquiry into the ends of education—whether it is to be utilitarian or strictly academic—and then into whether these ends are being served. Much has been said in defense of both a strictly classical education and a specialized training, and yet in the welter of comment and argument which has been expended on this point, a fact of fundamental importance has been overlooked.

Practical education is assumed to be acquired skill and knowledge which can be put into practice constantly. The point as argued by defenders of the modern trend of education is indisputable; but in the search for the practical side of education the study of the English language has been grossly neglected.

This verbal means of communication is used nearly every minute of a person's waking hours. Supposedly it lies at the basis of all human intercourse and precedes any other subject taught in the schools. More consideration of the fact that the use of any bit of acquired knowledge which colleges may impart depends upon its being communicated in some fashion, argues the justification and practicability of the study of English.

The ears of readers of newspapers and magazines have long been attuned to the cry that products of our highly efficient educational system cannot use the English language effectively. It must be admitted that the criticism is true.

If college education in especial is to be practical, if it is to place in the hands of its subjects tools which they can use constantly and well, if ornamental courses are to be erected to places of importance at the expense of elemental subjects, the study of English will be restored to its proper place. It is the keystone of education.

INTIMATE GLIMPSES OF OUR UNIVERSITY

No. 2 The Medical School

Can you imagine taking a knife and a saw and cutting up somebody's brother or father and getting away with it? They do it daily in the medical school and get credit for it. The boys say it is pretty stiff work too. After these cut-ups spend about six years finding what makes the heart go around, then they take enough ology courses to drive a lunatic insane. They have to learn more big names than a Polish mail-man and then after spending a few years in hospitals practising on the good natured customers, they buy an office and a shingle on the dollar-down plan and start selling pink pills and prescriptions. If you get sick call the undertaker directly and eliminate the middleman's profit.

WANTS LANDLADIES TO COOPERATE

Editor, The Cardinal:

It appears to be my task to write a few words in explanation of the article that appeared in the February 20th, Cardinal, to which our landlady takes exception.

In the first place, Mrs. Cape did not write that article,—only answered a few questions put to her by the Cardinal staff.

In the second place, what was told The Cardinal is true. There are rooms that can be obtained now, and could be had in February and in September, this year, last year, and previous years,—large, light, airy, clean, comfortable rooms in the Latin quarter, close to the campus, at $2.50 to $3. per student, where students are privileged to entertain friends, press and wash.

There may be houses in certain sections that rent for $40 but there are many others that rent for $50 to $75.

There may be three or four months in a year that it will cost $40 for coal, but it does not cost that the whole year.

But, Landlady, why not have a get-together on this proposition?

Could we not have our rooms standardized so that renting rooms would not be such a gamble?

Why have ourselves advertised throughout the state as profiteers, when one neighbor does not know what the other is charging for rooms?

For my part, I would welcome a movement, either by the university or the landlady, that would put a standard price upon rooms, so that the student coming to Madison would know that he would not have to pay $6 for his room, while across the street his classmate would be paying $3 for the same room.

Much of the expense entailed in keeping roomers could be eliminated. Much of the expense, that goes to make room and board so high priced as to keep a student from the university who would otherwise be able to come, might be eliminated, could landladies come to some determinate stand as to prices paid and prices charged.

Then for the sake of the student, let us get together.

MRS. ALICE CAPE,
307 N. Orchard street.

FROM PURDUE ON RADIO

Editor, The Cardinal:

The radio broadcast of the Wisconsin-Purdue basketball game sent out by the university station Saturday night was received here very clearly and was much appreciated. I was in the radio station during the entire game and we had little trouble in getting the news.

Of course it was rather a "bitter pill" for us to swallow but from what we heard, it must have been some game. We were able to hear the band, crowds cheering, referee's whistle and all but saw the game. During the first half WOC at Davenport, Iowa, was on exactly the same wavelength as you were, but we had little trouble from them as they were playing music.

Accept our congratulations on the fine manner in which the broadcast was carried out. I hope that it will be kept up for all basketball and for football games too.

WEEK-END ORPHEUM

BILL IS PROMISING

A glance over the Orpheum bookings for the week-end indicate that the new program, starting this afternoon, is chuck full of high class entertainment.

"Birds of Paradise," singing and dancing novelty, will feature the Chalfonte sisters. One of the girls has the reputation of being a toe dancer of unusual ability, and the other charming miss is said to possess a trained voice. Both the sisters are charming and graceful.

In one of his best "bashful" parts, Neil Mack, with Vera Velmar will be seen on the new show in "A Writing Room Wrangle." The vehicle is a delicious bit, depicting the meeting of a Montana rancher with an up-to-date city girl in the mezzanine of a fashionable hotel.

Belle Montrose will appear in a comedy skit called "Her Only Chance." Billed together and professionally known as the Jack George Duo, where ever vaudeville has a foothold, this inimitable couple are relied upon to garner many laughs with their present offering which they call "Who Dat Said Who."

There will be something doing every second while the three Melvin brothers hold the stage, their tricks being of the sensational and thrilling kind. A concert on the "saxophobia," producing the effect of a quartette of saxophones, will be the somewhat different act by Sullivan and Mack.

OLD GRADS TO UNITE IN JUNE

Four Men of '68 Will Meet With 10 Other Classes

The four members of the class of '68, together with the members of 10 other classes, will reunite here in June for the annual class-day celebrations.

"Only those classes whose numbers end in three or eight will meet this year," Mr. R. S. Crawford, general secretary of the Alumni association said yesterday.

"The twenty-fifth reunion is always the best attended as it marks the passing of a quarter of a century, and the old graduates like to celebrate it in Madison," Mr. Crawford declared.

The reunions will take place over the weekend of June 15 and instead of holding commencement day on Wednesday it will be held on Monday. It is expected that the weekend reunions will draw more alumni to Madison than ever before.

On class day the members of the 11 classes plan to have picnics, dinners and receptions. Each class makes its own plans, and the details are taken care of by some member who lives in or near Madison.

A general Alumnae day will probably be held on Saturday, when all classes join together in parades and meetings. Dinners, receptions and dances will take place during the evening.

At least a dozen of the class of '73 plan to attend their reunion. During that year no co-eds graduated from the university nor were any degrees given in engineering or in science. Only 17 men received a degree in Ph. B., which was then the most popular degree on the campus. Five B. A. degrees were granted.

Graduates have come from all parts of the country to celebrate their class reunion, and it is believed that the record for distance was made in 1917 by a man who came from the Philippines to meet his old classmates.

It is "friendship and sentiment that draw the graduates back to Madison, rather than any set program of events," Mr. Crawford asserted.

Texas Grads to Celebrate Their Independence Day

Texas university graduates and former students here in Madison will meet for the celebration March 2 at the home of Ruby A. Black, 419 Sterling place, on Friday evening.

March 2 is Texas Independence day, and it is a tradition that in any city or town in the country where there are at least two persons from Texas, they shall get together.

All Texas graduates and students are invited by Miss Black to attend this get-together. If any person has not received a written invitation, they are asked to call Ruby Black, Fairchild 535.

MARCH ALUMNI MAG
IS OUT WITH REVIEWS

The Wisconsin Alumni magazine for March has appeared with reviews, articles and news of the U. W. clubs and the alumni.

The cover for this month bears a cut of Zona Gale '95, who was recently appointed a regent of the university. "Everybody in the Badger and a Badger for Everyone" by Frances Warren '24, a complete resume and description of this year's Badger, is one of the features of the issue. The new football coach problem is adequately discussed by Paul Hunter. Intercollegiate athletics is W. R. Okeson's subject, and the New York association of the western conference universities is explained by W. D. Richardson ex-'10.

These articles with the regular news of the clubs, alumni, class and campus notes make the March is one of the most interesting of the Wisconsin Alumni magazines that has yet appeared, according to the editors.

Health-Peace-Plenty

Recovery of Ancient Eastern charm presents an inestimable boon to mankind in bestowing Power and Success upon all wearers.

Evil influences are removed, accidents warded off, planetary malignance overcome. Its touch betokens the dawn of a new existence. Its wear immediately releases all the powers for good and brings that joy and bliss, love and plenty, which you have long hoped for and struggled to obtain.

"Trilokbejoy" or The Mystic Charm
(Conqueror of the Universe)

A Divine Gift! Sought after for centuries! Recovered by mere accident from the disciple of a Hindu Sage, dweller of the sanctified, mysterious, snowy heights of the Himalayas. Confirmed sceptics testify to its miraculous powers. Men and women everywhere acclaim its potentiality in realizing material expectations, bringing in prosperity and securing a lover's affection. To be worn as a pendant or on the arm. Write Name and Address legibly stating SEX of the intending wearer when ordering.

Movie directors, please copy

IN fiction and the movies all college men naturally fall into two groups. Those who pass their days and nights "Rah! Rah!"-ing and snake-dancing; and those who never appear except with evening clothes—and cane.

The man who works his way through college simply doesn't figure.

Taking care of a furnace, running a laundry, waiting on table, tutoring, covering for a city paper, working in shop or office in vacation—all this may be lacking in romantic appeal, but it is an essential part of the college picture.

And a valuable part. The whole college is the gainer for the earnestness of men who want their education that hard.

Valuable to the college, but even more to the men who travel this rough going. They learn an important lesson in Applied Economics—the amount of sweat a ten dollar bill represents.

If you are one of them you may sometimes feel that you are missing a good deal of worthwhile college life. If you are not, you may be missing a good deal, too.

SCHOLARSHIP FUND OF

CHINESE CO-ED GROWS
"Although no definite figures for the total amount turned in during the S. G. A. drive for the scholarship for Wei Lung have been compiled, estimates on the bigger houses which have already been covered show that the average for every girl in the houses is 50 cents apiece," said Dorothea Wilgus '24 yesterday.

The flying squadrons have been covering all of the houses in the student district where a large number of women students live, and are getting good results.

All of the money must be turned in by Friday noon to Dorothea Wilgus in the S. G. A. office between 12:30 and 1:15 o'clock and she asks the smaller houses which have not been personally canvassed to bring their contributions in at this time.

"The women of the university took this scholarship upon themselves several years ago and it is up to us to do as well this year as they have done former years. It's the spirit that counts as well as the actual money," added Dorothea Wilgus.

BALLOONS AID WEATHER MAN

Reports of Tests Made Here
Go to United States
Bureau

Daily pilot balloon ascension reports are made here at the local weather bureau to the United States bureau at Washington by Prof. Eric R. Miller, officer in charge.

Small rubber balloons filled with hydrogen gas, with a definite lifting power are released from the top of the Biology building every afternoon. The theodolite, an especially constructed and very powerful microscope is used to watch the balloons as they rise. They are carefully observed as long as they remain visible.

The value of these observations, although they may seem of little importance is of great advantage to all air navigation. The reports are of especial worth to all airplane mail stations located in the northern states.

Velocities of air currents at various altitudes are determined by the speed of the balloon in its ascension. Professor Miller is able quickly to calculate the necessary data by the use of prepared charts.

A card is placed inside each balloon which requires that the finder return it immediately to the weather bureau here recording the time, place, and condition in which the balloon was found. Many interesting results have been obtained by this aspect of the observations. Recently Professor Miller has received a card from the eastern part of Pennsylvania, a distance of about 600 miles away.

An exceptionally good observation was obtained yesterday due to the clearness of the atmosphere. The balloon sent up reached a distance of 2,790 meters before it became invisible. The balloons used in making these observations are constructed of high grade rubber which is necessary to withstand the great pressure brought to bear upon them.

Each balloon costs 50 cents. Professor Miller has been recording these observations for the last four years.

BASKET MEN MEET GOPHERS SATURDAY

Tebell during an outside play. With a Purdue guard practically hanging to him, Spooner tossed a short basket. He is especially accurate on the longer tries and has a powerful snap of the wrists which make these throws possible.

Douglas Gibson has "come through" after getting away to a bad start this season. Gibby is the keystone of the Wisconsin primary defense. On the attack, he consistently drops the sphere through the net. Ken Elsom, who plays center or forward, Diebold, and Barwig are a trio of substitutes who will be eligible for Big Ten competition next year. Gibson also has another year of competition and Spooner is only a sophomore.

Girls' Glee Club Concert a Blend of Sweet Voices

By L. C.

Those who attended the concert given by the Girls' Glee club of the university at Music hall last night will long remember the exquisite blending and sweetness of the voices and of the effective chorals.

Two songs by Daniels, "The Voice of My Beloved" and "The Eastern Song", both beautifully interpreted in the impressive style suitable to the type of composition, opened the program.

"The Snow," by Elgar, the succeeding number, was the most effective of the evening from the standpoint of varied and artistic rendition. "Where My Caravan has Rested", by Lohr, was remarkable for the leanness with which the difficult passages of the work were presented, and these two numbers showed up the technical ability of the singers to great advantage.

Brahm's slow and sweet lullaby son, "The Little Dustman," affording of the voices although it was not as effective as some of the other songs. "Dear Lad o' Mine" gave the singers opportunity to demonstrate better their dramatic ability, and they did. It was easily the most dramatic of the smaller numbers on the program.

Two piano solos from Chopin were played by Frances Landon, piano soloist. Vocal solos by Louise Madden, M2, Helen Peterson, H. E. 1, Helen Wood, L & S grad, Merle Gibbs, M 4, and Harriet Dohr, M4, were given during the singing of Smart's cantata, "King Rene's Daughter," the closing number of the program. The cantata was a triumph for the girls of the club and for their director, Dr. C. H. Mills.

About 40 girls took part in the concert as singers, and Jane Dudley and Genevieve Hicks, violinists, and Beatrice Perham, played with them.

W. A. A. Conducts Auction to Raise Funds For Cottage

Spirited bidding at the W. A. A. auction sale held Tuesday night in Lathrop hall brought the proceeds well near $85, according to Nina Faris '25, auctioneer. Competition was highest between bidders for "Rollie Williams" ties, which were sold for $2 each. Home-made cake found ready purchasers in a score or more of masculine epicures lounging around Lathrop hall, at 50 cents per slice. The money derived from the sale will go to swell the fund being raised by W. A. A. for the construction of a cottage across Lake Mendota. The next money-making project will be a St. Patrick's bridge party on March 17, tickets to sell at 50 cents each.

The gripe epidemic has greatly decreased according to the University clinic. There have been no cases of flu and the Gamma Phi Beta sorority is the only house on the campus which has been placed under quarantine for scarlet fever.
