MADISON EDITOR SPEAKS TONIGHT TO PRESS CLUB

Chester C. Platt of Capital Times Will Address Scribes' Meet

Chester C. Platt, city editor of The Capital Times, will speak on "Printing the News" at the cafeteria supper of Press club tonight in the Woman's building.

Mr. Platt, who was editor of The Ithaca News, The Ithaca Democrat, and The Times of Batavia, N. Y., will explain what news is, how it should be written, what kinds of news should not be published, and relate how various forces influence the news columns.

At one time Mr. Platt was private secretary to Governor Sulzer, and he will show how the attitude of the newspapers of New York influenced the impeachment trial of that governor.

Production Manager For Haresfoot Play

FRANCIS "BOZ" WHITNEY

Francis Whitney, Milwaukee, is assistant production manager of this year's Haresfoot production, "Mary's Lamb," and has charge of converting twenty men into dainty, demure, dancing damsels. He is training the chorus and promises to have the best vampire chorus that has been seen on any stage. Whitney was in the 1917 production, "Jamaica Ginger," and from his experiences there learned the art of converting athletes into bewitching chorus girls.

Haresfoot, in putting on "Mary's Lamb," has found one of the best musical shows that has been produced and taken on the road by any company. The lines contain more laughs per inch than a movie film can in a foot. The majority of these laughs are produced by the clever lines and acting of "Chuck" Carpenter, aided by Whitney's chorus girls.

The mail order seat sale for "Mary's Lamb" is now open at the Fuller theater for all three performances to be given April 23 and 24.

OMICRON NU HAS NATIONAL MEET HERE NEXT WEEK

Honorary Home Ec Society Holds Convention at Madison April 14 to 17

The annual national convention of Omicron Nu, honorary home economics society, will be held at the University of Wisconsin April 14 to 17.

The colleges represented at the convention will be Mich. Agricultural college, East Lansing, Mich.; New York State Teachers' college, Albany, N. Y.; Iowa State Teachers' college, Ames, Iowa; Purdue university, La Fayette, Ind.; University of Illinois; University of Nebraska; University of Kansas; Kansas State Teachers' college, Manhattan, Kan.; University of Washington, Pullman, Wash.; Oregon Agricultural college, Corvallis, Ore.; Cornell university, Ithaca, N. Y.; Oklahoma College of Agriculture and Mechanics, Stillwater, Okla.; and Florida Agricultural college, Tallahassee, Fla.

Each chapter will send one delegate from the student membership, and some chapters will also be represented by alumnae. In other cases faculty members will accompany the delegates.

Miss Marion S. Van Lieu, head of the department of home economics at New York State Teachers' college, is president of the organization, and Miss Hazel Manning, of the University of Wisconsin, is vice president.

Plans for the convention include a business meeting, a trip about the city, and a banquet. The delegates will be housed at Barnard hall, as the convention occurs during spring vacation.

Omicron Nu is a comparatively young society, having been founded in 1912. Although the large majority of the members are women, men who have done scientific work along nutritional lines are eligible for membership.

The convention was held last year at Albany, New York.

Alice to Have He-man Lover at Sophomore Story Book Ball

Alice in Wonderland, with a lover! Impossible? No, indeed! Mr. Lewis Carroll related all the other phases of that heroine's existence with proper exactness, but neglected totally the romance, which grownup children will all agree is the very most important part.

Red Gauntlet, whose main purpose in life just at present is to please Blue Dragon at a Story Book ball, Saturday afternoon in Lathrop gymnasium, have obligingly decided to satisfy the seniors on the question of whether Alice had a love affair by inventing one for her. She'll still have the inevitable short hair, in order that she may easily be recognized, but the knight—or knave (the sophomores haven't disclosed just which he is to be), will be bravest of the brave, and very manly.

The guests at the party are each asked to represent some story by their costume, and it is suggested that interest would be heightened if groups of girls chose to characterize individual stories.

WEATHER MAN MAY CALL OFF MILTON GAME

First Preliminary Contest Will Not be Played Unless it is Warmer

Whether the first baseball game of the season will be played this afternoon will depend on the weather man, for Coach Kent has decided to cancel the battle unless the sun warms things up more than it has the last few days. The cancellation, if necessary, was purposely left until this morning in hopes that the weather would warm up sufficiently to permit the game.

The recent changes in weather have made definite calculations for outdoor activities almost impossible.

Milton college will be the Badger's opponent, if the sun permits and the contest will be played on the lower campus instead of the Camp Randall diamond, for the purpose of attracting a larger crowd than the preliminaries usually draw out. The game will start about 3:30.

Coach Kent has picked a probable lineup to start the game but it will be continually changed in order to give as many of the candidates as possible a chance to play a few innings. Ogle, Miller, or Williams will start in the box with all three probably in the game before the end. Either Barry or Davey will do the catching, with Willogard at first, Gifford at second, Farrington at short stop and Lyman or Falk at third. In the outfield Snow will be in the center garden, Emmanuel in left and Doyle in right.

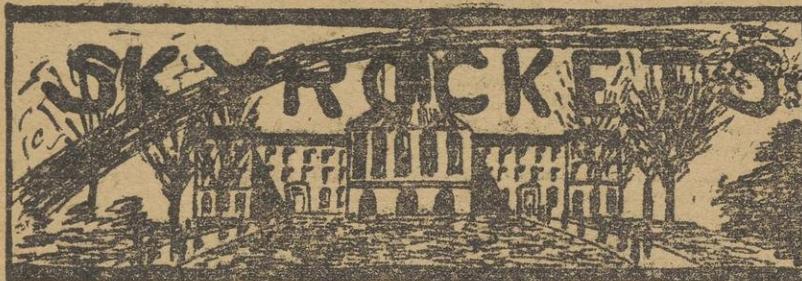

Of the men in this lineup Miller, Williams, Doyle, Emmanuel and Lyman were members of last year's squad; Farrington and Ogle played in 1917; Falk was out last year until injured and kept out of the game for the season; Gifford and Barry were members of last year's freshman team and Davey played on the freshman nine in 1917.

The second preliminary contest will be with Campion college of Prairie du Chien Saturday.

5-YEAR FOOTBALL CONTRACT GIVEN FACULTY O. K.

Official faculty sanction was given to the five-year football contract with the University of Chicago in the regular meeting Monday afternoon, and thus removed the last obstacle in the way of holding the football classic of the middle west between the Badgers and the Maroons at Stagg field for a period of the next five years.

It is the plan of the athletic departments of the two institutions to make this Chicago-Wisconsin game the Yale-Harvard battle of the west, an attraction which will focus the interest of the season upon these two teams.

WE got a kind of hunch that this here weather ain't gonta let up very soon, and that all the canoeing that we'll do will be on a lake full of icebergs.

Hiram Johnson kinda upset the Michigan primaries or secondaries in an interesting way. It won't mean anything, though, except a chance for Taylor Merrill to pass out a few more "Wood" buttons.

Pat Dennis tells us of his experiences in the libe. You know he and Duke Brooks and Whit Seymour have to trot around after 10 o'clock—they're the only ones that get to stay—and pick up the books, fountain pens, and notebooks, always selling them back at 100 per cent increase. Pat tells that it was quite dull every night until he found, one hot night, lying loose on one of the chairs, a pink georgette crepe waist. GIVE APPLIED MUSIC COURSE IN SUMMER

In response to the growing demand for instruction in practical music, the Music school has made arrangements to stress the teaching of applied music in its 1920 summer session courses. It has enlarged its summer staff of applied music teachers from two to seven to meet the demand.

The course in the appreciation of music, which is one of the most popular in the school, will specialize in orchestral and instrumental music. Several organ recitals will be given by Dr. C. H. Mills, director of the school, in connection with this course.

Community music, choral music, dramatics and the school festival, the community pageant and drama movement will also be offered in the summer session in response to the increasing demand for such courses.

MANY ENTRIES FOR ATHLETIC BOARD POSTS

Six Places Go by Default;
Others Are Closely Contested

Editor's Note—The following article is the third of a series to be published listing the candidates for the various board positions in the coming elections and explaining the election rules in force in each case.

Athletic board, with six positions going by default, with two men each out for the jobs of minor sports and cross-country representatives, and with eight candidates in the field for the two openings for non-“W” sophomore representative, presents strange contrasts in the degree of competition which the coming election will afford.

Those winning by default were Stevens Gould, president, George Bunge, vice president, Carson Lyman, baseball representative, Harold Knapp, basketball representative, Frank Weston, football representative, and Malcolm McCartney, track representative.

Wayne Ramsey and Wellington Brothers are both out for position as cross-country representative, and John Koch and Howard Stark are contesting for the minor sports position. Both these positions require “W” men.

Brothers won his “W” in cross country in 1918 and 1919, he is captain elect of the cross-country team for 1920, and was a member of last year's track team and this year's squad.

Ramsey won his “W” in cross country in 1918 and 1919 and is a member of this year's track squad.

Stark won his numerals in freshman football and swimming, won his “W” in football in 1919 and in swimming in 1920, and is a member of Star and Arrow.

Koch is a junior agric. He won his numerals on the frosh swimming team and was also a member of the frosh gym squad. As a sophomore he won his “sWt.” This year as a member of the varsity swimming team he won his “W.”

Eight candidates who are competing for the two sophomore non-positions open are Ralph Wakes, Elmer Kletzein, Albert J. Knollin, Earl Miller, C. Seymour Nason, George Stolley, Herbert L. Wible, and Clarence Wille.

Kletzein was on the freshman team last year, varsity team this year, and is a member of Hesperia and of Gamma Sigma, honorary fraternity.

Knollin was a numeral man on freshman track team last year, freshman basketball, and a member of this year's varsity track squad.

Miller was on the freshman basketball team. He is a sophomore in the Commerce course and a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity.

Nason was freshman track manager last year.

Stolley is on the varsity track squad and was captain of the sophomore football team.

Wible is a member of Philomathia and has participated in inter-class boxing.

Wille is on varsity track squad and is acting circulation manager of The Daily Cardinal.

The members of Athletic board are elected by all the qualified male electors of the school, that is all sophomores, juniors, and senior men.

Cottage With Two Beds for 10 Offered

A local cottage owner, a woman, sent a letter to the Association of Commerce stating that she has a cottage to rent, with two beds, to accommodate 10 persons. It is believed, however, that the two beds are probably merely new ones, and that the prospective renters, if there should be ten in the family, will not have to sleep in two beds.

SCHOLASTIC DRIFTING

STUDENT standards in scholarship are crying for improvement in practically all universities. Academic records have fallen to the breaking point in many institutions. Wisconsin is no exception.

"The number of students leaving college because of delinquencies in class work is greater at present than ever before in the history of American institutions of learning," was the comment made at a conference of deans of men recently at the University of Illinois.

Some are inclined to dismiss the subject with a wave of the hand and the rubber stamp, "Blame it on the war." The problem can be solved only by conscious effort to get at the root of the trouble and willingness to go the limit in making the necessary repairs.

Increased enrollments have handicapped many institutions in giving adequate instruction to students. Crowded conditions in class-rooms and rooming houses are partly responsible for the widespread malady that has weakened scholastic records.

But the real solution lies with the student. Very soon after he enters college, the freshman comes to the cross-roads that lead either to academic success or academic failure. The one points toward books and studies as coming first; the second points toward pleasure as the primary interest. Social life, a certain amount of it, is necessary to divert the student's mind from the grind and routine of college work. It creates college friendships and a keener interest in the institution. But it can be a hindrance as well as a help if it is allowed to interfere with scholastic progress.

Are you willing to accept an abbreviated, half-way education? If you choose to shirk, the loss is yours. Sooner or later that fact is realized.

Wisconsin students, in common with those in other universities, need to take a new foothold in the climb to scholarship honors. Do your climbing early. And keep it up.

AN OBJECT LESSON

AUTHORITIES at Tulane University, New Orleans, dealt a hazing a death blow when the entire freshman class of 450 students was suspended for carrying class warfare to an extreme.

The lesson that this drastic legislation teaches may be the ultimate means for solving the hazing problem throughout the collegiate world. Class suspension was used for the sole purpose of properly placing the blame. It will show the yearlings at Tulane that they must of necessity temper class activities.

In addition it will make them realize that the entire class is responsible for the acts of extremists. Individual members are permitted to return by stepping forth and on their honor announcing that they were not responsible for the sporadic outbreaks. In this manner the guilty parties can be singled out and given the proper punishment.

This method can be applied with equally beneficial results wherever the problem of hazing gets out of bounds. It should be a warning to all underclassmen in American colleges. The hitherto involved question of placing the blame is now made a comparatively simple matter.

In any discussion of responsibility for any class outbreak the question usually simmers down to a few ring-leaders. Even then the blame cannot be accurately placed. Those often responsible feel that they can incite their class and avoid the blame in the shuffle that usually ensues when the event is history.

Tickets may be obtained at Morgan's or at the University pharmacy. They are selling for fifty cents. Spectators' tickets may also be obtained at the door the evening of the ball.

OFFICER'S FORMAL SOLD OUT

Tickets for the officers' formal which will be held at the Park hotel from 6 to 8:30 preceding the ball are entirely sold out. Music for the dinner will be furnished by a picked orchestra of five men, members of the First Regimental band, and will play under the personal direction of Lieutenant Jaquish. Jaquish also has charge of the 25-piece orchestra which will play for the Military ball.

In addition to the regular music for the ball proper, the First Regimental band, in full dress blues, will give a concert during the reception from 8:30 to 9:00 at the armory. A special program has been selected and will feature martial music.

What the College Editors Say

EXAMINATIONS

Harvard has announced that hereafter the award of degrees will be based upon general examinations in the students' particular field, at the end of the college course. Such a radical move has somewhat startled other colleges over the country. The plan to test the scope of a student's education by an examination covering the whole of a four year course of study has been discussed in a desultory way, but such a plan in actual practice is entirely new.

Under the present college educational system the student with the highest grades is quite frequently not the best educated man in his class. Gifted with an almost inhuman assiduity just previous to examinations, and an ability to continually slave, he hurdles through college in a succession of leaps, each of which carries him no higher than the one before. In no way is the co-ordination and digestion of his knowledge encouraged. Except for the fact that some far-seeing professors attempt as much as possible to make their examinations general and comprehensive, there is, under the present system too much tendency toward the demand for a melee of disorganized, detailed material.

Under the proposed system of comprehensive examinations coming with the completion of college courses there need be no "cramming." The expectation of such a test will stimulate the student to constructive thought and to relate facts to facts. It will encourage an appreciation of the utilitarian side of knowledge. It will test the actual understanding of a subject, the assimilation, grouping, and appreciation of ideas, in other words, culture, and education in its most liberal form.—University of Washington Daily.

MUSIC SCHOOL FACULTY GIVE RECITAL TONIGHT

Miss Mary E. Moutray of the voice department, and Miss Dorothy Beecher, piano instructor, both of the faculty of the School of Music, will appear in joint recital this evening at 8 o'clock in Music hall auditorium. This is the first of a series of recitals to be given by the faculty of the School of Music this year.

This is Miss Moutray's first appearance before a Madison audience. She is a pupil of Herbert Witherspoon and Madame Frances Alda. While in New York, she appeared as soloist in Grace Methodist Episcopal church, and also as an understudy of Alice Neilson in light opera. At the outbreak of the war she joined a theatrical overseas troupe which gave programs at the training camps in this country. Miss Moutray has a dramatic soprano voice of rare sweetness and charm.

COMMERCE GRAD SPEAKS TODAY AT VOCATION MEET

SENATE ASKS FOR SHORTER CLASS HOURS

Protests Against Instructors Holding Classes Over 50 Minute Period

The April meeting of the student senate was held last night at 7 o'clock in President Birge's office. Senators M. V. O'Shea, R. C. Chadbourn, W. K. Colline, C. V. Joerndt, C. W. Travers, H. B. Taylor, D. J. Teare, M. C. Borman, R. E. Frost, R. L. Rewey, C. B. Emery, L. E. Kaumheimer, W. S. Smith, and Lawrence Hall were present.

Because of the general and growing sentiment of the student body against the tendency of instructors to hold classes over the allotted fifty minute period the senate adopted a resolution to petition the faculty to discontinue this practice. The student body will be appealed to to co-operate in this movement by being on hand at the opening of classes. This will silence the protest of instructors who prolong classes to make up the time lost by tardy students.

The proposition of the recommendation to the Wisconsin legislature of a four year medical course in the university was also endorsed by the senate. The endorsement will be placed before the legislature when it considers this project.

New Hazing Rules

A discussion of the hazing situation was held in which it was decided that the present laxness of the enforcement of traditions was due to the difficulty in getting sophomores to personally testify before the senate against freshmen. To remedy this a measure was passed instructing the traditions committee to report violators to the judiciary committee of the senate by a signed card stating the details of the violation and the witnesses. The violators will then be summoned and upon a plea of guilty will be punished according to senate ruling. If a plea of not guilty is entered a certain time and place will be appointed for trial and judgment.

Election Requirements

Requirements for the election to the Cardinal Board of Control were placed for investigation in the hands of the judiciary committee, who will consult with the editor of The Cardinal and present their decision before the senate so that the require-

Ye Gods! Goloshes Win Dolphin Race in Mermaid Meet

A pink ballet costume, a swimming pool, and a crowd of spectators made an interesting contrast in a feature event of the swimming exhibition given by the Dolphin club last night in the Lathrop hall.

The event was a fancy dress race, and there were four contestants: one arrayed in flowing robes of yellow, one with umbrella and galoshes, one in a grey quaker costume, and the ballet dancer. All wore hats, and as they plunged in at the end of the pool, the costumes wilted until by the end of the race they were scarcely recognizable. The ballet costume was not used to such rough treatment and had to be supplemented by a copious robe before the wearer emerged, last in the race. And strangely enough it was the wearer of galoshes who won.

The exhibition was a display of unusual ability in the water, and the events were run in quick succession without delays or mistakes.

Marion Kimball won the plunge for distance, breaking her former record and making 53 feet. In the swimming under water event Rosemary Lyons made about 6 feet more than the total 60 feet length of the pool, and the other three contestants all made the 60 feet.

Olga Anderson and Evelyn Voss demonstrated various methods of breaking strangle holds in life-saving and also some resuscitation methods.

The class relay race was won by the juniors, sophomores coming out second, seniors third, and freshmen last. Fancy dives of all kinds were made as the closing number of the program. Other events were the evolution of swimming, and the Dolphin school.

ments may be fixed before the time for election to these offices shall have arrived. The question of the lack of Wisconsin athletic news in the Chicago Tribune was also introduced. A resolution to petition the Chicago Tribune to remedy this was passed.

Vincent O'Shea resigned as chairman of the election committee and Clyde B. Emery was elected to fill the vacancy.

SPANISH PLAY SCORES SUCCESS

A clever, one-act playlet entitled "Un Episodio en un Dormitorio" was presented by three members of the Spanish club at an open meeting held Tuesday evening in Lathrop parlors. After the play Prof. Charles D. Cool of the Romance language department gave a short talk in Spanish on "Students I Have Known," and the famous jazz duo, Coleman Clague and David Roberts entertained the members with several numbers on piano and saxophone.

The playlet was a snappy farce dealing with an unexpected episode in a men's dormitory. Philip Gates was very good as Professor Celario, a learned astronomist and teacher. J. Carroll Coleman as Pasqual Benitez, a student, and Gladys Greene as Irene Lopez, the fiancee of Pasqual, portrayed their roles with marked ability.

After the program Spanish songs were sung by the club and the regular conversation groups followed.

STUDENTS MAKE NEW CITY MAPS

New maps for various Wisconsin cities involving new plans for parks, boulevards, and traffic routes, presenting new ways to meet the housing problems, recreational lacks, and other municipal questions, are suggested in some of the stores of their home cities that are being made by students in the course in city planning. About 100 students are enrolled in the course under Prof. L. S. Smith this year.

Some of the cities and their problems that have been analyzed by these students recently are shown by the following titles of some of their topics: "Janesville's Housing Problem," "Milwaukee's Parks and Boulevards," "Port Washington City Planning Problems," "The Garden City of Kohler," "Parks and Playgrounds in La Crosse," "City Planning Needs and Municipal Recreation Facilities in Sheboygan," "Industrial Housing Developments at Eclipse Park, Beloit," "Suggestions on Housing Scheme for Madison's Italian District," "Our Capital City, Its Good and Bad Points," "Need of Parks and Boulevards in Wisconsin," "Mayville's Need for City Planning," "Fire Menace in Wisconsin."

OCTOPUS WILL LAST, SAYS FISH

Gives Strong Endorsement
To Wisconsin Humor
Magazine

"The Octopus will last," said Prof. Carl Fish, when interviewed for an opinion on those issues of the magazine which have appeared so far.

"I have looked through every number," Professor Fish said, "and have been impressed with the fact that each number has been better than the one before. This steady improvement is a strong argument in favor of the durability of The Octopus."

"When I first came here, The Sphinx was, perhaps, better than some issues of The Octopus have been, but it deteriorated as rapidly as The Octopus has improved. The failures of The Sphinx and The Awk were inevitable when their standards began to fall."

"Certainly there is need of a humorous magazine at Wisconsin, and The Octopus is by far the most promising that has yet appeared. It compares very favorably with those of other universities."

All the humor in the university is not represented in the Octopus, Professor Fish thinks. There is room for much more satire than has yet appeared, and the editors' opportunity of extracting this is the basis of his prediction of future success.

KEATS CHU SPEAKS AT Y. M. C. A. MEET

Keats S. Chu will speak at the Fellowship meeting at the university Y. M. C. A. at 7 o'clock tonight. Keats Chu, who is an L and S. graduate student, has been active in forensics as a speaker on the team which opposed the Minnesota debaters.

COMMERCE SCHOOL PUSH DRIVE FRIDAY

science students are planning big things in the way of enthusiasm-creators. The hill will be canvassed thoroughly and the commerce men expect to lead the "Ag" school total by a big margin. The plans for Friday are under the direction of Freddie Bickel, Ralph Horton, and Walter Neisser, who have been plotting to stage some real stunts.

Volunteer Your Subscription

Every effort is being made to bring the drive to a successful conclusion by the opening of the spring vacation. The committee feels that there are still a large number of students who are with-holding their subscriptions until they are personally solicited. The impossibility of reaching every student is obvious and students are strongly urged to mail in the blanks which have been sent them. Bulletins have been placed above the blackboards in all of the class rooms urging those who have not subscribed to "Volunteer Your Subscriptions."

There will be a meeting of fraternity representatives tonight at 7:00 in the Union building. The men who are candidates for Union board positions are competing with each other to secure subscriptions, and every effort is being concentrated to put the campaign squarely over the top.

The fund was increased approximately $1,500 by proceeds from Union Vodvil.

CALIFORNIA CLUB

There will be a short meeting at 7 o'clock this evening at Lathrop parlors. All students from far western states are invited.

ALL SET FOR PEPPY STUNTS AT JAMBOREE

Costumes May be Secured
Today at Lathrop; Wide
Choice is Available

Preparations are practically completed for the all-university Jamboree which is to be given Saturday evening at 8:15 in the men's gymnasium under the auspices of student senate and S. G. A.

Costumes for the affair may be secured today in the S. G. A. room of Lathrop hall between 10 a. m. and 5 in the afternoon. Everything will be there from paper hats to fancy canes and disguises of all shapes and sizes. The prices of rental range from 75 cents to $2.50. The committees in charge are especially anxious that the students come in groups or as individuals. The sale of tickets is being retarded on account of the fact that many women do not wish to come escorted. This is not to be a couple affair, but a general frolic for all.

Every minute of the evening has been arranged for in planning the program. At 8:45 the solemn strains of the funeral march will peal forth, announcing the fact that the debt of $270, left to the university at the death of the late lamented "Awk," has at last passed away. The senate will be pall-bearers of the corpse, and the S. G. A. groups will form in the procession in order of their registration. At 9:15 the final burial ceremony will take place. Dr. J. C. Elsom will pronounce the benediction while the ritual incense is burned.

At 10 o'clock, "Chuck" Morris will appear with more of his magical paraphernalia. "Harry Lauder" is also scheduled to be present on this occasion.

The real noise of the evening will commence at 11 o'clock. Confetti and serpentine will give the place an atmosphere of true revelry which will last until the final jazzy note is sounded at 12 o'clock.

Prizes to be awarded to the cleverest and most attractive groups are on display now in McKillop's window on State street. A cup, bookends, and a pair of candlesticks are the rewards. The individual prizes are bookends and a pastel picture.

The judges will be Miss Amanda L. Marlatt, Miss Bertha O. Oehler, Miss Gertrude E. Johnson, Frances Ellen Tucker, and Ralph Scheinflug. Dean and Mrs. Goodnight, and Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Townsend will chaperon the party.

Doughnuts, peanuts, and soft drinks will be sold at booths throughout the evening. Ten of "Thompson's best" will play for the dancing.

Scribes at Sword's Points Over Im- pending Battle

Federal relations and an ice bound atmosphere were apparent yesterday morning after two campus publications had opened their offices in the Union building for the day's work. Members of the Cardinal staff shunned with disgust their former literary workers of the Octopus, while the latter openly spurned all ordinary journalists. And the simple acceptance of a challenge to a baseball game to be held Sunday morning at 9 o'clock on the lower campus was the cause of it all.

Responding to the call of their captain, "Dick" Loewenthal, the Cardinal force lined up strongly, forming a team in short order. Suspecting attempts to lure the material to the opponent's side, the squad was watched carefully. Members reported the extension of attractive positions on the Octopus staff by unknown co-eds. Silence on the part of Captain "Bob" Herz suggests the possibilities of a whirlwind team of stellar capacities from the producers of the eight-legged humor sheet.

Rumor has it that both teams will leave for a short spring training trip on Saturday. Opposite corners of Camp Randall are hinted as possible destinations. Extensive measures are being taken by each side to prevent the possible entrance of spies into the camp, while other means are being contemplated to secure the attendance of Coach

Lowman to pass judgment on the practice games.

WISCONSIN UNION DELEGATE FOR NATIONAL MEET

Wisconsin Union is to be represented at a national convention of university unions to be held at Ann Arbor May 6, 7, and 8. Union board has voted to send one student for Wisconsin. The representative will be chosen soon.

The Michigan Union is planning the program. This will include several outside speakers, one from Harvard, one from Iowa, and other active centers, in addition to prominent Michigan alumni.

More than 50 unions have signified their intention of sending a representative and some of them two or three to the gathering. An idea of the representative character of the meeting can be gained from the fact that Harvard, Princeton, Pennsylvania, Ohio State, Illinois, Iowa, and Minnesota will have men there.

The May convention will not be the first national convention of unions, although the first one to be held in Ann Arbor. Plans are being made to form a national organization at this time, to elect officers and take steps to make it a permanent institution.

MATH CLUB

There will be a meeting of Math club tonight at 7 o'clock in 201 North hall. As this is a very important meeting all members are urged to attend.
