Here's Complete Text of Max Lerner's Challenge To Knapp Group

MAX LERNER
... wants showdown

"The Wisconsin yarn is complete poppycock. The university faculty committee is talking through its collective academic hat.

"It has no 'documentary proof' or any other proof that I was 'Communist' in 1938 or at any other time in my life for the simple and satisfying reason that I never have been and never could be.

"My entire record is open to them or anyone else to examine to their hearts content and is one I am proud of as an American, a human being, and a democrat.

"Included in it is a record of continuing invective and abuse by the Communist press against me as a liberal ever since I started writing extensively, including year 1938.

Evidently the faculty committee made its decision not only without evidence but also without research.

"I do not ever ask to lecture anywhere. In this case the university invitation came several times and I accepted this time because I regard it important for students everywhere to have the chance for that 'competition of ideas' which is the best definition of education in democracy.

"If the University of Wisconsin faculty committee has the courage of its position it will admit its fear of me is the fear of my liberalism and my plain-spoken willingness to attack reactionaries and stuffed shirts and know-nothings as well as to plague Communists and fascists.

"I will come to the university and confront directly any members of the committee or any so-called advisers of the committee or anyone else. I should like nothing better than a show down.

"For what is really dangerous in this era of despair is the fear of affirming the positive values of democracy, among them the unqualified freedom of discussion. What a spectacle this is of the faculty committee showing the students of the university its craven fear of democratic discussion and its disregard for the critical and objective confronting of all issues."

"But I take heart from the courage of the Wisconsin student body.

"American democracy does have a future, despite the Communists and despite the reactionary know-nothings."

Lerner Lashes Knapp Committee

Court Frees Schmid, Ash; Lacks Sufficient Evidence

BY ABBY MANN

Charges of violation of student regulations against Philip L. Ash, and Robert L. Schmid were thrown out of student court Thursday by Chief Justice Charles Johnson. The charges brought by university police for defacing university property during the recent student elections were ruled out because they lacked sufficient evidence.

Wisconsin Student association (WSA) prosecutor Don Mueller said last night that he would ask for reconsideration of the case next week. Mueller said that he would base his plea on the grounds that under different interpretation of the law his evidence is sufficient.

The cases of Owen Gillick and Don Bowman, also on charges of defacing university property during the recent elections, were postponed until next week when the defense asked for more time to obtain witnesses.

Frank Ornstein, chairman of the student board elections committee, said that he would present charges of his own against Asch and Schmid if they were not brought before the court again by Mueller.

Ornstein said that the defendants could be prosecuted under the regulations of the elections committee governing election publicity. If Bowman and Gillick are not found guilty after their trial is resumed next week, he will also bring elections committee charges against them.

Visiting Historian Urges Global TVA

By JIM DICKSON

World government advocate Stringfellow Barr said last night in a Union forum speech that "an international TVA" is the major solution to the world's ills.

Barr, a noted historian and new president of the Foundation for World Government, said that the present Point Four program — expanded and reformed — could reduce the threat of war and establish a productive world economy.

Forum Members Reaffirm Desire To Sponsor Speech

BY JEAN MATHESON

Max Lerner yesterday severely criticized the Kemper Knapp committee for its "craven fear of democratic discussion" and said he would "come to the university and confront the members of the committee."

"I should like nothing better than a show down," Lerner said in a statement to the Cardinal.

Student board, earlier this week, had said the faculty committee's refusal to sponsor Lerner for a campus speech here May 13 was "partly on the grounds that Lerner is alleged to have been a Communist in 1938."

In reply to the charge, Lerner said the committee has "no 'documentary proof' or any other proof that I was a 'Communist' in 1938 or at any other time in my life for the simple and satisfying reason that I never have been and never could be."

In another development yesterday, the Union forum committee unanimously reaffirmed its desire to sponsor Lerner's address May 13. Acting committee chairman Gerry Churchill said a wire would be sent immediately to Lerner explaining the committee's decision.

The forum committee has been working on bringing Lerner to the campus since last year, Churchill said. It was allotted $500 this year by the Knapp fund, but choices of speakers must be approved by the (continued on back page)

Mac Demands Realistic Policy Toward Korea

CHICAGO — (U.P.) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur told some 125-thousand people in Soldier Field last night, that a specific delineation of objectives is needed in Korea.

The ex-Far East commander said "some will tell you that the pacification and unification of all Korea is the objective, others will say the objective will be reached if all enemy forces are cleared from South Korea." MacArthur continued that none declare in the "traditional ringing tones of the American patriot" that the objective is victory over an aggressor who began war (continued on back page)

Regulations Force SDA To Circulate Petition off Campus

The Students for Democratic Action (SDA) will be unable to solicit student signatures for a petition in front of Bascom hall this week. The petition, urging a federal scholarship program, will have to remain off campus because of a student personnel regulation prohibiting use of campus sites for student sales and distributions during school sessions.

Registrar Kenneth Little said yesterday that the regulations were not made to curb circulation of petitions. The rules are solely to control littering of campus grounds and to prevent congestion in and around campus buildings, he explained. Student sales and distributions may be carried on during registration period when school is not in session, he added.

Unable to use campus sites, the SDA is carrying on its drive by circulating the petitions throughout the organized men's and women's dorms. They also plan to distribute the petition in the Union.

Human Relations Convo Convenes

A three-day conference on human relations for university students is being held at Camp Anokijig, near Boykyn, April 27-29, under the sponsorship of the student board and the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

Conference members will leave this afternoon by bus and swing into a panel discussion after arriving at the camp. Speakers on the panel are Joy Newberger, chairperson of the Human Relations committee; Herb Goldsmith, vice president of National Student association; Gordon Klopff, coordinator of student activities; and Mrs. Lu Markiewicz, executive secretary, university YMCA.

Campus Red Cross Blood Drive Urgently Seeks Type 'O' Today

By JIM JOHNSON

Blood donors who know they have "O" type blood are needed in the campus Red Cross blood drive today, Jim Jensen, solicitations chairman, told the Cardinal last night.

An emergency call for "O" type blood to be sent to Korea was received by the Madison Red Cross Wednesday, and part of the increased burden was turned over to the campus group, Jensen said.

About 200 donors have appointments for today, Jensen said, but only about 80 of those will have the type that is sent to Korea. Forty per cent of blood donors are usually type "O".

Type "O" is the only blood that is sent to the front, Madison Red Cross authorities stated. It is a "universal" type which can be given to anyone, and battle conditions prohibit laboratory tests to determine what type blood to use.

The Red Cross bloodmobile will be in the basement of Turner house, Kronshage unit, from 1:30 to 7:30 p. m., Jensen said.

Blood donors must have parental permission if they are under 21, Jensen stated, and all donors should refrain from eating fatty foods before donating blood as excessive fats in the blood make it unfit for use in transfusions.

We'd Like An Explanation On Lerner Decision To the Knapp Committee

YOUR COMMITTEE has been set up to act as trustees and administrators of a fund whose main purpose is to serve Wisconsin students. We believe, therefore, that it is only fair to ask from you a statement of your reasons for rejecting the Union forum committee's choice of Max Lerner as a speaker under your sponsorship.

Whether or not student groups succeed in bringing Lerner to the campus on their own, the Cardinal believes it is in both your and the campus's best interests to explain your decision. A statement from you—whether it be concurred in or not by the student populace—will at least help clear the air of the rumors and implications currently floating around.

WE ALSO WANT to remind you that Lerner last spoke on the campus June 29, 1948. His lecture at that time was sponsored by the university committee on lectures and convocations.

We're wondering why Lerner was acceptable for university sponsorship on June 29, 1948 but unacceptable on May 13, 1951.

To Student Board

THE RECOMMENDATION of the long-awaited International house at your Tuesday meeting was noteworthy for the meaning it will have for both foreign and American students.

Such a house is especially needed in these days when international awareness and understanding are so intensely sought after.

The proposal for an International house was first initiated more than 15 years ago. During that time a good many barriers had to be overcome and a good many details worked out.

The plan has since met with success in a number of outstanding universities throughout the nation. The house will be a happy addition to the Wisconsin campus.

YOUR 1951 SHOW, "Good News", has been living up to its name with each of this week's performances.

The current batch of high-stepping male chorines are proving that shows by your 53-year-old organization are getting better every year.

"Good News" is great entertainment, we think. Badgers who will see the show in its final performances this weekend are in for a real treat.

To the Cardinal:

In order to clarify the position of the student board elections committee, I would like to take this opportunity to state the reason for the action that is now being taken against various violators of both the election and campus regulations.

As was apparent in the election this month, for some reason or another, few students applied for the campus officers, with the result that there were many default positions. We feel that this situation stems from the general attitude of the students towards the election procedure.

The feeling is, that unless a student has what is known as "political pull" his chance for a position is almost nil. This feeling is due to the fact that for many years election violations have gone past student board without sizable action being taken. With the result that the feeling has been that a person who can best evade the rules and who can cut as many legal corners as possible will have a better chance of being elected. One candidate has used every opportunity to take advantage of another which has led to an unpleasant system of cutthroat methods.

Therefore it is our contention that by putting the proverbial foot down, by clamping down on these violations, by effecting a clearer and stricter interpretation of the rules, students will be elected more on their merits rather than upon shady methods.

As a result less default positions will appear and each student will feel that whether or not he knows the illegal way of doing things, he stands strictly upon his merits and nothing more. Gone will be the slipshod campaigning, political "ax throwing", and deals made in "smoke filled rooms".

The only thing left for us to do now is to prosecute to the fullest extent and to let the future speak for itself. It is needless to say that with more candidates running, there will be greater student interest in the "farce", that student elections has often been called.

Writing for Frank, myself, and the rest of the election committee, I would like to say no matter how petty and specific we seem to get, our interests are in better future elections, nothing else.

SENIOR PROJECT: A DOWNRIGHT ABSURDITY To the Cardinal:

I have heard and seen plenty of crazy ideas in my four years on the Wisconsin campus, but never have I seen one that matches, for downright absurdities, the idea of the present senior class to raise $1,000,000. Where did they dream up that little nightmare? Or was the idea put into the minds of some of our glory-seeking big wheels by one of the more senile members of the Alumni association?

These are just two of the more obvious questions which come to mind as I think of the futility of the project, and the obvious lack of thought that must have been present when the goal of $1,000,000 was decided upon. Nothing like this has ever been accomplished before and in these times a drive like this will be about as successful as a trapdoor in a rowboat.

If the drive was for something really useful on campus it might have a little success, but this auditorium they intend to build will be nothing more than a white elephant. There is no need for such a building on this campus, and besides it is way out of the range for the drive's finances.

Perhaps a new shower stall in the armory would be a more appropriate goal for our ambitious fund raisers of the class of 1951.

Mr. Average R. Senior

Clarence Bylsma Says

MHA: It's Real Student Government

Newly-elected senior class president Clarence Bylsma sat down awhile back and wrote a piece about what he considers "real student government"—the MHA. The column was printed in the SPECTATOR, the MHA newspaper. Here's what Bylsma had to say.—Ed.

LAST WEEK, in passing, I remarked that the strongest and most effective student government of the Wisconsin campus was the Men's Halls association. Someone asked me one night why it was and I was happy to tell him. Because I believe in experiment so firmly, I'd like to take this opportunity to set down the story of real student government.

Basically, the strength of the MHA hinges upon the fact that we run the whole damn shebang ourselves. That may seem pretty self-evident from the words "self-government." That's after all, what student government is supposed to be all about.

But I think we must look deeper than the mere words and see what, in fact, is the situation. Here in the halls, we have advisors for our government, just like the rest of the organizations on campus, but here, they manage to remain just that.

THEY MAY CAJOLE, beg, plead, and ask, but you won't find them doing the work of MHA themselves. Rather than do it, they let it remain undone. If it is to be done it must be done by students. If social programs fail here, the blame rests solely on the student, for an advisor, a housefellow, or a staff member doesn't step in at the last moment and save the program. I can conceive of no more effective way of getting us to shoulder responsibility.

In such places as the Union on the contrary, the feeling is that programs can't be sacrificed while students procrastinate, and staff members often step in and carry through. There is no better way to kill student responsibility than to let the student know that if he fails, a staff member will be around to pull the program out of the hole.

Here in the Halls, we know that unless we do the thing ourselves, or if we do it sloppily, there will be no one to cover for us and to save us. That's one reason why things go so well in MHA, for no one wants to get the reputation of being a shirker, but if you give a man a crutch to rely on, he is soon unable to do without it and he acts as though he needed it.

THIS IS why many faculty and staff members feel that students are incapable of accepting responsibility. If the SPECTATOR fails to hit the den some week, Arnie Dammen doesn't run over to the office and crank it out for us. But we're sure to hear about it from the cabinet; and since most of us don't like to hear from cabinet, the job usually gets done, and the failures serve as a reminder of the consequence of inaction.

Part of the real power of MHA is its power to collect dues from members of the association. Without money, the theoretically most powerful government is a sham. It costs money to prove the many services of the association and if anything costs American money, they are usually concerned about how the project is being run. So it is here in the Halls.

If student board is ever going to be really effective, it will need the power to compel the payment of a tax of some kind. It is better too if that tax is direct and not hidden for then the student will show more concern with where his money is going. If our MHA dues were paid as part of room and board, I venture that our Association would not mean so much to us.

OUR MEMBERSHIP in MHA gets us something; it is important that MHA cards be required for movies, library facilities, barbell equipment, footballs, irons, etc, since when we need our membership in this government, and that value is no less great because we may not consciously associate the card with the privilege.

17 Tracksters Set For Drake Relay

Wisconsin's 17-man track contingent is in Des Moines, Ia., this morning for the opening of the 42nd annual Drake relays. The squad, including Coach Riley Best, left by bus late yesterday.

Best's top prospects to capture points in the two-day event is Capt. Ted Bleckwenn in the shotput and discus and the two mile relay team of Dick Lione, Walt Mars, Don Soe, and Sam Greenlee.

Frank Duis, a freshman, has entered unattached in the invitational mile. Duis has run in the Milwaukee Journal relays and Chicago Daily News games this year.

Field event entries for the Badgers include: Lyle Levenich, discus; Dick Kellman and Al Cherne in the high jump, with Bob Johnson in the broad jump. The four mile relay quartet includes Jim Urquhart, Walt Deike, Tom Ward and Don Firchow.

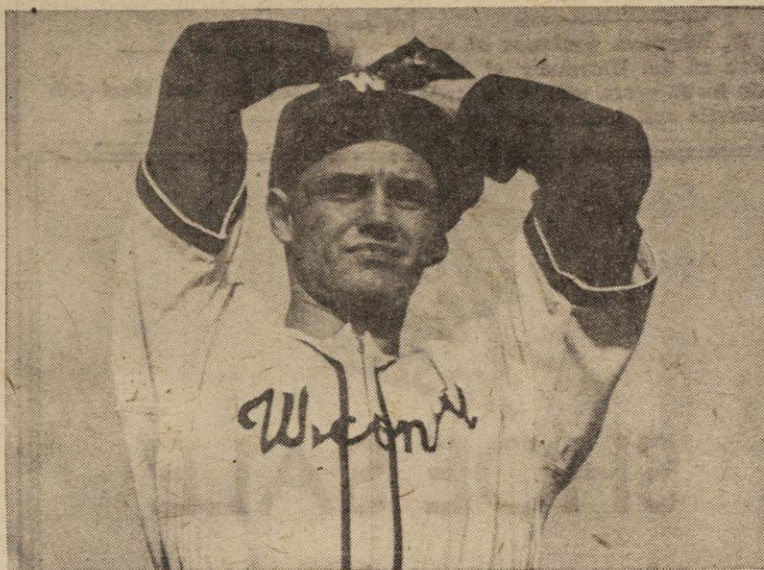

LeRoy "Luke" Collins will run 440 yds., Keith Carlson and Roy Burks 220 and Greenlee a half mile in the sprint medley event.

Irish Netters Trim Badgers, 5-4; Michigan State Here Today

SOUTHPAW RONNIE MOORE, sleek sophomore hurler, who stands 5' 10" and weighs 160 pounds is Coach Dynie Mansfield's choice to pitch tomorrow's game against the Gophers at Minneapolis.

The 19 year old Badger has two wins on his 1951 record and has struck out 13 batters in 16 innings.

Cards, Radke Face Minnesota; Bauer Forced To Quit Squad

Gene Radke, veteran Card twirler, will be after his third straight and first conference win of the young baseball season when Wisconsin meets Minnesota in the first game of a two game series at Minneapolis this afternoon. Game time is 3 p. m.

Radke, the only holdover from last season's mound staff, has already racked up two wins without a loss. His first victory came after relieving starter Vern Andrews at Bradley. He notched his second win on a neat eight hit, 11-3, win over Memphis naval air station on the recent southern tour.

In 17 and two-thirds innings Radke has yielded twenty hits, fanned 13 and given up 11 base-on-balls. His conference record for last year's season was no wins against one loss.

Catching Radke's offerings will be sophomore Tom Cooper. Left-handed hitting Cooper is currently smacking the ball at a .406 clip and has driven in eight runs.

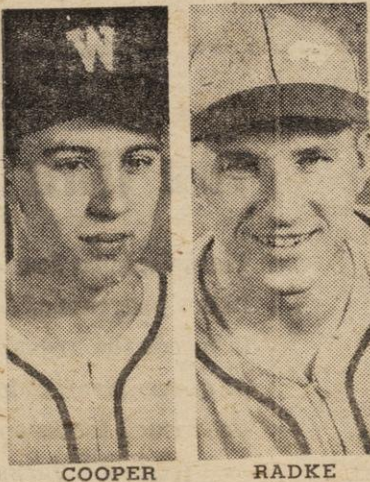

The remainder of the lineup includes Ronnie Barbian at first base, Capt. Shelly Fink at second base, Harvey Kuenn at shortstop and Mel Gaestel at the hot corner.

Paul Furseth will be in left field, Jim Van Dien in center field and either Don Kenefick or Bob Van Eerden will patrol right field.

Ernie Bauer, third base letterwinner last season has been forced by physician's advice to quit baseball. Bauer fractured his throwing arm in a slide in third base in 1949 and has had numerous operations since then.

The Badgers will make the long trip back to Madison by bus right after the conclusion of the Saturday game.

The university offers 1,379 different courses each semester.

Golfers Battle MU On Nakoma Course At 9 a.m. Today

Wisconsin's golf team, fresh from a "breeze" win over Beloit Tuesday, return to the familiar confines of the Nakoma country club course for their home opener against the Marquette Hilltoppers this afternoon.

The match marks the first half of a two game home and home series between the two schools. Last year, while matching strokes on the same basis, Coach Joe Steinauer's linksmen swept both matches.

Steinauer is sticking by the same line-up that took the Beloit match on the Buccaneer course. The six-man squad is composed of five lettermen and one sophomore. But the Badger coach indicates that some changes may be in the offing.

Today's contest is scheduled to begin at 9 a. m. and will be split into morning doubles with the single matches in the afternoon.

Former Gridder Neenah Coach

Jerry Thompson, former Wisconsin football star, has been hired as football coach at Neenah high school. Thompson quit his position as head football coach at Augustana college, Sioux Falls, S. D. to accept the position at Neenah. He will succeed Art Paff who resigned recently.

By BILL HENTZEN

Notre Dame netters won its third match in the last four years with Wisconsin yesterday afternoon on the Badger courts, 5-4. Today at two o'clock, the Cards meet Michigan State here.

Ken Ohm had his most successful day so far this season as he won both of his matches, singles and doubles. They were both three set matches. Bob Reagan and Bill Grunow each won their second singles match.

The individual scores were: Ken Angyal (N) beat Jim Deloye, 6-4, 6-2; Ken Ohm (W) beat Ray Smith, 6-2, 6-8, 6-2; Pat Tonti (N) beat Don Negendank, 6-1, 3-6, 7-5; Herb Hoene (N) beat Bill Rudelius, 6-0, 6-4; Bob Reagan (W) beat Tom Overholser, 6-1, 3-6, 6-4; Bill Grunow (W) beat Jack Massicotte, 6-4, 8-6. Angyal-Smith (N) beat Deloye-Negendank, 6-3, 6-3; Ohm-Rudelius (W) beat Tonti-Hoene, 6-2, 9-11, 6-4; Overholser-Jim Hennessy beat Reagan-Endres, 6-4, 5-7, 6-4.

In today's match with Michigan State, Badger captain Jim Deloye faces States captain Len Brose, who was last years central collegiate conference champion. The Spartans have two promising sophomores, Wally Kau, and John Sahraian, who should hold down top positions. The rest of the squad will be composed of the Kimble brothers, Ken and Keith, Dave Mills and Dick Rieger.

State will meet all Western Conference teams, except Iowa, in dual competition before the championships May 24, 25, 26 at Evanston, Ill.

Next Monday the Badgers meet Marquette here. The Badgers have beaten Marquette five years in a row.

Sonju Puts Crew Through 2nd Time Trials Today

By DON ROSE

With the weather prospects fairly good today, Coach Norm Sonju has scheduled the second two mile time trial for his "yet to be tested" varsity crew.

Sonju will send only the varsity over the two mile course. He shook up the jay-vees lineup considerably last night, and it will be several days before the boat will be rowing smoothly again.

Boating of the varsity last night were: bow Del Barrett, 2- Pete Wackman, 3- Bob Roehre, 4- Vic Steuck, 5- Paul McKenzie, 6- Bob Espeseth, 7- Jim Schmidt, stroke R. Y. Nelson, and Cox Duane Daentl.

This is probably the same shell Sonju will send against Yale May 5, although he says there will probably be some changes before the end of the season.

As the varsity shapes up now, the average crewman is 182 pounds and stands 6' 1 3/4". This is four pounds heavier than last year and one fourth inch taller.

Badger oarsmen are eagerly awaiting the outcome of the Pennsylvania-Yale-Columbia race tomorrow to find out how they will compare against Wisconsin.

Bob Reinke struck out seven Phi Sigma Delta's as his Delta Sigma Phi teammates won by an 11-7 score. Chi Psi defeated Zeta Beta Tau 5-2. A long homer and double by Ken Halverson paced Alpha Gamma Rho to a 7-6 victory over Phi Epsilon Kappa. Home runs by Si Toabe and Henry Kaczowski Kappa Psi to a 17-7 win over the Spencerettes.

Beta Theta Pi pitcher Bill Buechl held the Phi Kappa's to 4 runs on four hits as his teammates scored 16 runs. John Hahn smashed a long homer for the Beta's.

Alpha Epsilon Pi defeated Delta Kappa Epsilon 8-4. The only homer of the game was hit by Herb Rossin.

New officers commissioned in June will not be ordered to duty if they have had previous service of two years or more unless the military situation requires that some of them be ordered to duty later on.

About one-third of the 10,000 cadets who will be commissioned from training in the nation's colleges and universities will be called to duty in July. Another third will go in August, and the remainder in September. Present plans call for the new officers to report to their basic branch of the army—infantry, corps of engineers, etc.—for 90 days training soon after entry into active duty.

Barr said that the foreign policy of the U. S. is based on four false assumptions. He outlined these as:
