

LIBRARIES

UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN-MADISON

The Wisconsin alumnus. Volume 44, Number 1 Nov. 1942

Madison, WI: Wisconsin Alumni Association, Nov. 1942

<https://digital.library.wisc.edu/1711.dl/QGZB5COYM65WR83>

This material may be protected by copyright law (e.g., Title 17, US Code).

For information on re-use, see

<http://digital.library.wisc.edu/1711.dl/Copyright>

The libraries provide public access to a wide range of material, including online exhibits, digitized collections, archival finding aids, our catalog, online articles, and a growing range of materials in many media.

When possible, we provide rights information in catalog records, finding aids, and other metadata that accompanies collections or items. However, it is always the user's obligation to evaluate copyright and rights issues in light of their own use.

19019
1553AL

The
WISCONSIN ALUMNUS

November, 1942

the *S*trongest Man in the World

THAT will be you, Johnny, just a few years from now!

Even today, Johnny, your dad, and millions like him, are doing jobs that call for the strength of a thousand strong men. But jobs which are easy with the powerful machines of American industry.

The power of these machines has made possible the comforts, even many of the necessities, which you enjoy. It's being used, all-out, to help win the war.

But tomorrow—there's where you come in! For tomorrow there will be jobs rebuilding a war-torn world, making it safer and finer than anything we have known. Jobs that will call for even more power and ingenuity and skill.

And you, Johnny—you'll do them! You'll have greater power and better tools to help you. You'll have new materials like plastics, new sciences like electronics. Scientists and engineers in General Electric are working on them now.

And that, Johnny, is why you're going to be the strongest man in the world. General Electric Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

☆☆☆

The volume of General Electric war production is so high and the degree of secrecy required is so great that we cannot tell you about it now. When it can be told we believe that the story of industry's developments during the war years will make one of the most fascinating chapters in the history of industrial progress.

G E N E R A L

E L E C T R I C

952-338E-211

The Wisconsin Alumnus is published quarterly by the Wisconsin Alumni Association and is entered as second class matter at the postoffice at Madison, Wis., under the act of March 3, 1879. Subscription to The Alumnus is $1.00 per year. This is included in the regular memberships of The Wisconsin Alumni Association which are $4, $2, and $1 annually. Family memberships, $5. Life memberships, $75. Sustaining memberships, $10.

THIS is a year of many changes. One of the least of these is that this issue of the ALUMNUS goes to press under a new editor. Thus starts a new regime, with all the accompanying hopes and fears that usually go hand in hand with any new venture.

So . . . in the beginning there was a new editor. Two years out of Journalism School, two years of advertising research and copywriting in a large department store in Indianapolis. Then back in Madison, editing!

Our Department of Facts and Figures reports that the magazine circulation is up to 8,000 — eight thousand — an alarming figure when it represents the total number of readers which a new editor must try to please!

But please I want to — each one of you eight thousand! I want to bring to all of you a bit of Madison as you knew it, and the campus you loved and lived on; I want to keep you in touch with your fellow alumni, many of whom “you knew when” and of whom you can be justly proud now for the great contributions they are making to their country, to the arts, to science.

I want to know what you want in order to please you more — will it be more University news, more alumni news? And do you like the new section, “Badgers In The Limelight?” Are we missing anything you’d like to know about?

Most of all I want to be good friends with each and everyone of you. So won’t you drop me a note telling me about yourself, where you are, what you’re doing, what you think about the magazine, wishing me Good Luck and Godspeed as I take over my new duties in the Wisconsin Alumni Association office!

The Editor

CHRISTMAS
SEALS

Protect Your Home from Tuberculosis

Buy
Red Cross
Christmas
Seals

WISCONSIN ALUMNUS

Published by the Wisconsin Alumni Association. Editorial and Business Offices at 770 Langdon Street, Madison, Wisconsin.

Jeanne Lamoreaux, Editor

Fred Baxter, Sports Editor

Marion Lea Stearns, Alumnae Editor

Margaret Schindler, Student Editor

Homer Montague, Photographer

Vol. 44 November, 1942 No. 1

In this issue:

| | Page |
|--|------|
| The President's Page | 3 |
| Wisconsin's Flying Caroline Iverson | 4 |
| Miss Helen White, Lady of Grace | 6 |
| Edward A. Birge | 8 |
| The University of Wisconsin — Its History and Its Presidents | 9 |
| Fightin' Badgers | 20 |
| University Activities | 38 |
| The Treasurer's Report | 67 |
| Here 'n There With the Clubs | 69 |
| Badgers In the Limelight | 73 |
| Trailing the Badgers | 75 |
| Have You Heard? | 82 |

This month's cover:

ANOTHER “Wisconsin First” is the 400-yard obstacle course, new and plenty tough, which is built on the shores of Lake Mendota and is used for the physical development of all ROTC men, in particular the volunteer group training in Ranger tactics. Here, complete with rifles, gas masks, walkie-talkies, and ready bayonets the “Rangers” are shown ready to charge after scaling an 8-foot wall barricade.

The Wisconsin Alumni Association

Memorial Union, Madison, Wis.

Organized in 1861 "to promote by organized effort the best interests of the University of Wisconsin"

OFFICERS

JUDGE CLAYTON F. VAN PELT, '22, President
PHILIP H. FALK, '21, 1st Vice-President
GEORGE L. EKERN, '28, 2nd Vice-President
MRS. HUGO KUECHENMEISTER, '13, Secretary
FRANK O. HOLT, '07, Treasurer
JOHN BERGE, '22, Executive Secretary

REGIONAL GOVERNORS

I.—Milo B. Hopkins, Vice-Pres., Central Hanover Bank & Trust Co., 70 Broadway, New York, N. Y.; II.—H. L. Coulter, 471 Greenwood Ave., Akron, Ohio; III.—George B. Sippel, Burger Brewing Co., Cincinnati, Ohio; IV.—William H. Haight, 39 S. La Salle St., Chicago, Ill.; V.—Frank V. Birch, 744 N. 4th St., Milwaukee, Wis.; VI.—Robert M. Connelly, Court House, Appleton, Wis.; VII.—Dr. M. L. Jones, 510 Third St., Wausau, Wis.; VIII.—Ralph E. Balliet, Supt. of Schools, Platteville, Wis.; IX.—Oscar Hallam, 520 Endicott Bldg., St. Paul, Minn.; X.—W. K. Murphy, 609 S. Grand Ave., Los Angeles, Calif.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Terms Expire June, 1943

Harry W. Adams, Public Service Bldg., Beloit; Walter Alexander, Union Refrigerator Transit Co., Milwaukee; Richard S. Brazeau, Brazeau & Graves, Wis. Rapids; Dr. James P. Dean, 113 N. Carroll St., Madison; Mrs. Lucy R. Hawkins, 1005 Main St., Evanston; Joseph W. Jackson, Madison & Wis. Foundation, Madison; Mrs. Hugo Kuechenmeister, R. No. 2, Thiensville; Mrs. V. W. Meloche, 2146 Fox Ave., Madison; Herbert Terwilliger, Genrich & Genrich, Wausau; Judge Clayton F. Van Pelt, Circuit Ct., Fond du Lac.

Terms Expire June, 1944

Mrs. L. D. Barney, 2318 Hollister Ave., Madison; Capt. Sam Boyer, M. C., Station Hosp., Camp Haan, Calif.; H. E. Broadfoot, 70 Pine St., New York; Mrs. O. E. Burns, 1737 Chase Ave., Chicago; Jerry Donchue, 606 N. 8th St., Sheboygan; William D. Hoard, Jr., W. D. Hoard Co., Fort Atkinson; F. F. Martin, Kimberly Clark Corp., Neenah; William N. Smith, 121 Bayley Ave., Platteville; Guy M. Sundt, Men's Gym., U. of Wis., Madison; Arthur E. Timm, 3012 N. Stowell Ave., Milwaukee.

Terms Expire June, 1945

George L. Ekern, 1 N. La Salle St., Chicago; Philip H. Falk, Supt. of Schools, Madison; Dr. Gunnar Gundersen, Gundersen Clinic, La Crosse; Frank O. Holt, Univ. Ext. Div., Madison; A. M. Kessenich, 300 Roanoke Bldg., Minneapolis; Mrs. R. E. Krug, 2213 E. Kenwood Blvd., Milwaukee; Major Franklin L. Orth, SOS, War Dept., Washington, D. C.; Harlan B. Rogers, Portage; Mrs. Marshall B. Wood, 420 N. Main St., Rockford.

Club Directors

Rubens F. Clas, 2303 E. Menlo Blvd., Milwaukee; Arthur E. Thiede, 1213 First Natl. Bank Bldg., Chicago; Ruth P. Kentzler, Route 2, Madison.

Senior Class Directors

Ray F. Black, Apt. D-11 Hayes, Presidential Gardens, Alexandria; John Bosshard, B42, Mellon Hall, Harvard Business School, Boston, Mass.

Past Presidents

Ernst von Briesen, 401 Brumder Bldg., Milwaukee; Asa G. Briggs, E-915 1st Natl. Bank Bldg., St. Paul; Harry A. Bullis, General Mills, Inc., Minneapolis; Charles L. Byron, 38 S. Dearborn, Chicago; Mrs. C. R. Carpenter, 50 Cambridge Rd., Madison; F. H. Clausen, Van Brunt Mfg. Co., Horicon; Judge Evan A. Evans, 1212 Lake Shore Dr., Chicago; Howard T. Greene, Brook Hill Farm, Genesee Depot; A. J. Goedjen, Wis. Public Service Corp., Green Bay; George I. Haight, 209 S. La Salle St., Chicago; Myron T. Harshaw, 400 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago; John S. Lord, 135 S. La Salle St., Chicago; Howard I. Potter, 164 W. Jackson Blvd., Chicago; Charles B. Rogers, Rogers & Vance, Fort Atkinson; Earl O. Vits, Aluminum Goods Mfg. Co. Manitowoc.

Association Representatives, Athletic Board

James P. Dean, Madison; Charles L. Byron, Chicago.

Association Representatives, Union Council

Robert B. L. Murphy, Madison; Frank Ross, Madison.

Association Representatives, Board of Visitors

Ralph Balliet, Platteville; Robert K. Coe, Whitewater; Myron T. Harshaw, Chicago; Mrs. Carl A. Johnson, Madison; Mrs. George Lines, Milwaukee; Basil I. Peterson, Madison.

The Regents of the University

Michael J. Cleary, Milwaukee; Herman L. Ekern, Madison; A. J. Glover, Fort Atkinson; Walter Hodgkins, Ashland; A. T. Holmes, La Crosse; Leonard J. Kleczka, Milwaukee; Frank J. Sensenbrenner, Neenah; Mrs. Barbara Vergeront, Viroqua; A. Matt Werner, Sheboygan; John Callahan, Madison.

The President's Page

AS THIS is the first issue of THE WISCONSIN ALUMNUS under my administration as president of the Association, I want to earnestly ask all of you to "Get on the team". The time has come to stop giving lip service and get down to serious business.

We have a war to win. This day and hour finds us at the most solemn moment in world history. Across our free institutions lies the ugly shadow of brutal aggression. The men of our armed forces are fighting bravely and grimly, with clear determination and purpose, to restore the light of freedom to a darkened world and protect our shores and loved ones at home.

You and I that are not on this great American team can be on a smaller team, not quite as great, not quite as important; but with equally clear determination and purpose we, too, can help chisel out the lighted V for Victory.

There are many things we can do. We can and must buy war bonds and stamps, co-operate with the United States government, contribute to war chest drives, and do our utmost for the USO. In this magazine you will find a report from the Association's War Activities Committee outlining the active war support demanded of all loyal alumni.

And over and above this we must realize that more than 3,000 of our own Badgers, men and boys that have tramped the same walks, sat in the same lecture seats that we have — are fighting for our ideals on far-flung battle fronts.

President Clayton F. Van Pelt

These men, far from home, by that very token are deeply interested in what's going on back in the states, in their state, in the state university they attended. They want to know what their team mates are doing, they want to feel that they are still a part of Wisconsin life no matter how many miles away they find themselves.

Fellow alumni, by becoming a Victory member of our Association you gain a place on this great American team. You have actually done something in strengthening our Association, and helping us to send a bit of old Wisconsin to these men in service through sending them our Association publications, free.

In conclusion, let me ask you again, to get on the team. In so doing you will be giving our fellow alumni in the service added inspiration to carry on in this great world conflict, until Victory comes — as in God's time it will.

Yours for the "Victory First Objective",

C. F. Van Pelt

President

She said "Give me LIFE" and meant her fascinating job as Aviation Researcher for LIFE Magazine, Wisconsin's Flying

Caroline Iverson, '39

by

Marion Lea Stearns, '39

CLASS of 1939 graduates in great numbers will remember Caroline Emilie Iverson as a prominent participant in campus activities. She lived in Barnard hall and took an active part in sports for women during her stay on the campus, as well as writing for campus publications. A graduate of the School of Journalism with a teacher's certificate, too, Caroline was Theta Sigma Phi's president her senior year.

But few, if any, of her associates — even her closest friends — dreamed that she would turn out to be a daring aviatrix and instructor in ground school, and now — because of her extensive experience in aviation, coupled with practical journalistic work — she is serving as Aviation Researcher on Life Magazine. And she is only 24 years of age!

Caroline calls herself "just lucky" to have been accepted for the first Civilian Pilot Training course given at the University of Wisconsin in Milwaukee in the summer of 1940. She was working at the Milwaukee Journal in the classified advertising department from 9 until 6 every day. But she managed to fly at 6 o'clock every morning before work and to attend ground school for three-hour sessions two evenings a week. After that summer course of flying at the Curtiss-Wright airport in a side-by-side two-seater Taylorcraft airplane, she had her private pilot's license and looked forward to occasional weekend flights when she could "drum up $6 to rent a plane for an hour." Caroline's father, J. E. Iverson, Make-up Editor of the Milwaukee Journal, was her first passenger, and Caroline almost scared him to death when she landed and said, "Boy, that's the windiest day I've been up. I'm glad we made that landing all right!"

In October, 1940, Dr. Ross H. Bardell, the University of Wisconsin at Milwaukee acting assistant director, asked Caroline if she wouldn't like to take the advanced flying course offered by the CPT, originally intended just for boys, and she decided to try it. The JOURNAL obligingly arranged for her to work every morning and all day Saturday during that fall so she could be free to take the course.

"I flew at 2 o'clock every afternoon for an hour of plenty tough flying — pushing a sturdy Waco PT-14 open biplane around the cold sky all fall and winter, wearing a fur-lined flying suit that fit the 6 ft. 2 in. boy in the class as well as me. It was an acrobatic course that lost me 10 pounds, but I finally mastered slow rolls, snap rolls, Immelmans, lazy eights, flying leaves, loops, chandelles, and all the rest well enough to pass the flight test at the end of the course.

Caroline Iverson, '39, who was a flight leader in the Wisconsin wing of the Civil Air Patrol

"More useful to my present job, however, was the ground school course in engines, aerodynamics, aircraft construction, advanced navigation, meteorology, a little radio, etc. We had school from 4 to 6:30 every afternoon, and I studied so hard to just attain an inkling of understanding of physics, math, and practical mechanics, that at the end of the course, I was able to write off ground instructor's ratings in three subjects."

During the spring of 1941, while Caroline continued her flight training and ground school work in the CPT Apprentice Instructor's course — the only girl in the state to get this course and that purely through error of the regional office which forgot to notice that she was a girl till she had almost completed it — she began teaching a class of fifty persons at the Wauwatosa, Wis., night school. In February the CPT class at Carroll College, Waukesha, Wis., was looking for an instructor and hired Caroline who taught navigation, meteorology, civil air regulations, and instruments, on CPT primary programs there for a year and a half. She was also an instructor in the University of Wisconsin at Milwaukee and in the Milwaukee School of Engineering.

Cross-country and long distance flying have brought Caroline's flying hours to 300, and she belongs to the "99s", national organization of women pilots (Milwaukee's president till June) and was a flight leader in the Wisconsin Wing of the Civil Air Patrol.

All this thrilling time flying in and out of Milwaukee was a great deal to give up when LIFE magazine offered her the position of Aviation Researcher in June of this year, so Caroline says. She accepted it, though, and now knows excitement in and out of New York. With the aviation field so prominent in the news, she feels she has had extra breaks on interesting stories to cover.

Checking for accuracy the articles that writers for LIFE produce, and "researching" new stories for them and photographers, is the way Caroline describes her job. She just returned to New York the middle of October from a trip in which she and a LIFE photographer spent a week at an air base working out a story on the ground crew of a bomber.

"Before I went," she says, "I had to go over all the material I could find on the subject to prepare a 'shooting script' or 'scenario'. Then, I arrived on the scene two days early to line up arrangements on the spot. When the photographer came, I had arranged for a short survey of the field, so that he could get the lay of the land and we went right to work taking pictures. I suppose we took about two or three hundred, each one intended to fill in a part of our picture-story. I took captions, arranged the men we photographed, and generally tried to pick up enough background to fill the explanatory paragraphs that you see in essay-type stories in LIFE.

Caroline, all ready to set off exploring the skies

"Back in New York, the story will be developed in the picture lab and presented to me for organization. I'll 'show' it to the writer, who works out the actual captions and text, and with him to the managing editor, Mr. Billings, and the art editor, Mr. Paxton, who lay out the story. Then the writer will call for my research, sit down and write the exact-space text. After he's done that, the story comes back to me for 'checking'. And boy, do we check!

For real fun just get Caroline to tell you sometime about her long distance flying, first to the Theta Sigma Phi national convention in Bloomington, Indiana, in August, 1941; then to Texas and Albuquerque, New Mexico, with Margaret Seip, '39, another Milwaukee girl pilot, to attend the convention of Ninety-Nines, and finally to the Pacific Northwest, Alaska, and the Yukon Territory — to within the Arctic Circle. This trip into the North was made with Eugene Darrow, at that time a sophomore at Carroll College, who had just pur-

(Continued on page 7)

There are certain institutions dear to Wisconsin campus. Carl Russell Fish and his red underwear was one, and there is "Wild Bill" Kiekhofer and his sky-rocketing Econ. 1a lectures. Another is Wisconsin's Lady of Grace and Accomplishments

Miss Helen White

by

Marion Lea Stearns, '39

TO GREET Prof. Helen Constance White in her homey apartment on the third floor of the Irving, 417 Sterling place, in Madison, Wis., and visit with this very approachable and sympathetic person, one could not know that she has won enviable recognition for her work as teacher and author in her 45 years.

Perhaps it is this unselfish and modest nature which forced her to give of herself almost to the extent of jeopardizing her own work as a graduate student in the English department on Wisconsin's campus after World War I.

"You see, I came here with the soldiers," she related, "arriving in Madison in 1919. Every Saturday morning I used to tutor whoever came to my office, almost to the neglect of my own graduate work. But I felt compelled to do what I could to 'get the boys on their feet.' Their English was incredible!"

Long held in the highest regard by students who knew her in connection with courses in Shakespeare and advanced composition which are her forte, Helen White, as she is best known to faculty and students alike, received this fall a special honor, the Laetare Medal presented by the University of Notre Dame.

Yearly for sixty years the University of Notre Dame has singled out a Catholic layman considered worthy of citation for outstanding achievement. Professor Helen Constance White is the 60th recipient of the award and the 13th woman to be so honored. She has a beautiful individually designed medal to show as evidence of the honor, and she received elaborate written commendation of her achievements from the two faculty members of the University of Notre Dame who traveled to Madison to make a personal presentation. Looking over the list of the 59 persons who received the award before her, Miss White commented, "The list shows great variety—ranging from John McCormick, the singer, to a general."

Frank, and yet extremely modest about her achievements, Prof. White remarked that it was a rare privilege to study in the Huntington library because of earning a Henry E. Huntington Library Research Fellowship for the year 1939-40 as a visiting scholar, an appointment which is in itself a literary recognition. She studied abroad on a Guggenheim Fellowship during the year 1928-29 and the summer of 1930.

At present the only woman holding a full professorship in the College of Letters and Science at the University of Wisconsin, Helen White has risen steadily to attain this rank. She was born in New Haven, Conn., Nov. 26, 1896, and stayed near her home for undergraduate and graduate work at Radcliffe College, Cambridge, Mass., receiving her B. A. in 1916 and her M. A. in 1917. For the next two years she was an assistant in English at Smith College, and has since been on the Wisconsin campus except for leaves. From 1919 till 1925 she was an instructor in English while she studied toward her Ph. D., awarded by the University of Wisconsin in 1924. From 1925 until 1933 she taught with the rank of assistant professor, raised to associate professor for the following three years, and to full professor in 1936.

Helen White, beloved to a generation of students, 1919 to 1942

Writing is another forte of this energetic Wisconsin alumna who has two books in process right now. One is a study of popular religious literature of the 16th century, and the other a novel which tells a story of the California missions.

"When these books will be published I can't say," Prof. White commented. "The fun is really over now, and the hard work ahead. I have worked out the pattern and know where the gaps lie. My present task is to read and study to gain knowledge of the proper material to insert where strengthening is needed."

"The Mysticism of William Blake," 1927, was Helen White's first book, followed by "English Devotional Literature, 1600-1640," 1931. She was co-editor with F. Foster of "Victorian Prose" in 1930. "The Metaphysical Poets," 1936, is her most recent critical work.

Historical romance characterizes her three novels, to date, "A Watch in the Night," 1933, "Not Built with Hands," 1935, and "To the End of the World," 1939.

When asked if she drew from the Wisconsin campus and students for material for her novels, Prof. White explained, "Not exactly, but working with young people year after year I can see great similarities between them. I must remind myself constantly that it is not fair to generalize — each individual is unique and must be treated as such. But there are recognizable relations, some traits and types which appear to be universal, and I become reacquainted with them each year in campus associates.

"One luncheon discussion in the Huntington library was built around revolutions in the history of literature, and when we came to a stopping place, my memory recalled so vividly a situation on the Wisconsin campus that I offered, 'One time at the University of Wisconsin . . .' which was greeted with friendly laughter. Many times my thoughts turned toward Madison for illustrations of ideas."

The American Association of University Women chose Wisconsin's professor as president in the spring of 1941 for a two-year term after she had served on national committees. Demands upon her these days are heavy, since this is convention year and policies and plans require her attention.

Serving as president of the A. A. U. W. has given Helen White opportunities to satisfy her yen for travel. Much in demand as a speaker because of her intelligent presentation and ready wit — and yet restricted by her teaching schedule at the University — she makes good use of vacation time. San Francisco heard her in August, 1941, and Boston at Christmas time. During her spring vacation in 1942 she was in Tuscaloosa, Alabama, and Duluth, Minnesota, and she would have gone into Canada if she could have spared the time! Going by plane to Havana, Cuba, for Thanksgiving, 1941, she attended meetings of the International Federation of University Women.

Belonging to things is considered by Helen White as "an occupational disease of my profession," and she lists as most important of the national organizations of which she is a member, besides A. A. U. W., Modern Language Ass'n of America, Modern Humanities Research Ass'n, American Federation of Teachers, and American Ass'n of University Professors.

Caroline Iverson, '39

(Continued from page 5)

chased a new Taylorcraft plane. He is now an aviation cadet in the Army Air Corps. Their experiences are scheduled to appear in a story in FLYING AND POPULAR AVIATION for November, according to a letter received from the editors . . . unless the War Department censors it. Caroline's and Gene's plane was the only one of six little planes that tried the trip that summer and came through without accident.

Glad of her choice, now that the LIFE job is several months underway, Caroline says she expects to stick to it — even though she misses flying the Taylorcraft in Milwaukee.

Caroline's New York City address is 119 East 29th street where she lives with another Wisconsin grad, Lois Hagen Johnson, '40, a researcher for Time Magazine.

Edward A. Birge

RESUMING an interrupted series of chapters on "The University of Wisconsin, Its History and Its Presidents", Dr. E. A. Birge takes pen in hand to write the tenth chapter — his own — in this series of historic steps in the building of a great state University.

Looking down the all-star list of authors who have contributed of their time, energies and abilities to make this series thoroughly and impressively authentic, it is no wonder that the chapters already run have aroused great interest among alumni and that the agitation to renew the series has been so marked. Following is a list of the presidents and their prominent biographers.

| | Date Run | Subject | Author |
|--------------|----------------|--|--|
| Chapter I | November, 1939 | John Hiram Lathrop (1850-1858) | Dr. Joseph Schafer , '94, superintendent of the State Historical Society. |
| Chapter II | February, 1940 | Henry Barnard (1858-1860) | Louise Phelps Kellogg , '97, research associate of the Wisconsin Historical Society. |
| Chapter III | April, 1940 | John Whelan Sterling (Never officially attained presidency, but known as "the father of the University.") | A. O. Barton , '96, register of deeds for Dane County and one of the first editors of the WISCONSIN ALUMNUS . |
| Chapter IV | July, 1940 | Paul Ansel Chadbourne (1866-1870) | Charles S. Schlichter , dean emeritus of the Graduate School. |
| Chapter V | November, 1940 | John H. Twombly (1871-1874) | August Derleth , '30, Sauk City poet and prolific author. |
| Chapter VI | February, 1941 | John Bascom (1874-1887) | George I. Haight , '99, Chicago barrister and University benefactor. |
| Chapter VII | April, 1941 | Thomas C. Chamberlin (1887-1892) | Dr. Harry L. Russell , 88, former dean of the College of Agriculture, now director of the Wisconsin Alumni Research Foundation. |
| Chapter VIII | July, 1941 | Charles Kendall Adams (1892-1902) | Richard T. Ely , economist, teacher, and author. |
| Chapter IX | November, 1941 | Charles Richard Van Hise (1903-1918) | Dr. C. K. Leith , '97, famed geologist, and M. M. Vance , '40, assistant in the history department. |
| Chapter X | November, 1942 | Edward Asahel Birge (1919-1925) | Dr. E. A. Birge |
| Chapter XI | February, 1943 | Glenn Frank (1925-1936) | Fred Holmes , '06, Madison attorney and author. |
| Chapter XII | April, 1943 | "Looking Ahead" | President Clarence A. Dykstra |

Casting about for a suitable biographer of Dr. Birge, Wisconsin's only living past president, it was decided to ask Dr. Birge to write his own history, which he has so graciously done. Appearing in this issue, then, is the story of the personal side of the presidency of Dr. Edward A. Birge, foremost limnologist in the world, Wisconsin's "Grand old man", a man who has been professor, dean, acting president, president, and president emeritus of the University of Wisconsin.

At the conclusion of the series the chapters will be bound together in book form and available to all alumni.

The University of Wisconsin

Its history and its presidents

Prof. Arthur Beatty, Editor-in-chief

Chapter X

Edward A. Birge

September 21, 1942

Secretary John Berge, Alumni Association.

My dear Mr. Berge:

I am very reluctant to comply with your request that I contribute to your series of sketches of the successive presidents of our University. You ask me to write a statement regarding my own presidency; and, quite apart from other obvious reasons for refusing, my scientific work is pressing for completion and I dislike to interrupt it. But you tell me that you are unable to find anybody who has both the knowledge and the will to undertake your job. I am not surprised that you have found this difficulty and I am well aware that I am personally responsible for much of your trouble. For I have kept on living quite without consideration for my biographer; and, since I am still alive, any person of good sense would naturally be unwilling to involve himself in that struggle between candor and courtesy which your job presents to him.

So, while I can not write the history of my presidency, I will try to tell you something of the personal side of that important septennium of my own life. I will write something about the way in which I came to be president and I will tell something about my aims and purposes while I was attempting to carry the duties of the office. I shall say little about their fulfillment.

I am fortunate in that I have a text ready at hand for the task. My long experience as dean brought me into more or less confidential touch with leading members of the faculties of other universities. Many of them had let me know, confidentially, as they said, how they regarded the administration of their own presidents. So, some half-dozen years after I had retired from our presidency, I asked a friend to tell me, confidentially, how the leading members of our faculty looked at my administration as it went on. My friend was not a member of the faculty and never had been one; but he knew many of the professors and could speak from knowledge. His reply was prompt, terse, and unequivocal. "When you were president", he said, "whatever you did was wrong, and what you didn't do was worse." "Well, then," I replied, "you make it plain that I was a normal president of a normal faculty." My condition was the standard one, especially for presidents of state universities.

So here is a text, or at any rate, one of my texts. For I must add the caution which the parson probably gave you in the most recent of the sermons to which you have listened. You must not push a text too far; the complexities of life are many-sided. My experience was that of all other university presidents. I received plenty of unselfish help from our professors—all the more unselfish and the more deserving of gratitude, because "if they had been in charge of affairs, they wouldn't have gone at things in this way." The matters in which they helped me, sacrificing their own leisure and their own best work, were not "the really important things that the University needed." And that judgment of theirs made me, like other presidents of other universities, all the more grateful for their abundant help.

II

There are one or two matters, unknown or quite forgotten, which preceded my presidency and express, in a decisive way, my attitude toward that position. The first of these came in 1911, the year in which I became sixty years old. President Van Hise had followed the practice of placing members of the faculty on the retired list when they reached the age of sixty-five. I cordially concurred in the wisdom of that plan; I would have been more than ready to turn from administration to limnology in 1917, or even in 1916, since my birthday fell in the summer vacation. But there was one practical difficulty; when Dr. Van Hise assumed the presidency in 1903 and organized his administration, he fixed the income for Dean Henry and myself, from the state of Wisconsin, at the same sum. But a part of my salary ($500) came to me as a member of the Natural History Survey, while the whole of Dean Henry's salary came through the University. At the time, this arrangement was quite satisfactory, but a few years later the University came to share in the Carnegie Pension Fund, and the pension for retired faculty members was based on their income from the University. So in 1911 I proposed that all of my pay come from the University and that I would continue my work for the Survey as my research work and without special pay. In this arrangement the state would be none the poorer and I should be the better off when I retired. To this arrangement president and regents gave cordial consent; but it came to nothing since the World War came on. But both president and regents knew in 1911 that I was not only willing to retire from administrative duties in 1917, but also that I was anxious to do so and was already making plans for my work after retirement.

The mention of the World War brings me to my second introductory matter. In the fall of 1916 I told President Van Hise that, if my successor in the deanship had been selected, I should be glad to take him in, confidentially, while I was preparing the financial budget for the succeeding year, the first year for the new man. I need not enlarge on the advantages of such an arrangement, especially as it came to nothing. For, to my great surprise, the reply of President Van Hise told me that I could not retire in 1917; that nobody was to retire who was able to continue his work. "We shall be in the war by next spring", he said, "I shall be much in Washington or elsewhere on government business. You will have to take over many of my duties for the duration of the war."

I have just written that this was a surprise to me; it was no less a disappointment, for all of my plans for the coming year were formulated or were in active preparation. They meant full time on lakes as soon as commencement should end the college year. But if the country was to go to war argument was not called for.

The arrangements for this situation were made as necessity came. There was no formal action by the regents, still less any appointment for me. But it was understood by all that the president would serve the country as he might be called upon to do, and that during his absences from Madison I should decide matters as for him.

Matters went on during the war with no administrative troubles in the University, but with the confusion and disorganization inevitable in a crisis so serious, so unexpected, and so prolonged. The end came, practically, with the armistice of Nov. 11, 1918; but just before that date came an irreparable loss to the University in the serious illness and unexpected death of President Van Hise.

III

It was natural that the regents should ask me to take over, in full, those duties of administration which I had been practically carrying for the term of the war. The president of the regents and the chairman of the executive committee discussed the situation with me in full and in confidence. They told me that the regents wanted me to "straighten out" matters in the University and get it ready for the peace which was to come. There was no expectation that this task would take less than three years. The legislature which was about to meet, in January, 1919, could not be asked to adopt any constructive policy for education, or even to consider it, in the confusions of the armistice, the discussion of the terms of peace and the return of our armies from Europe. Even the formulation of educational policies for the University must wait. To their proposals I replied that I would undertake the work which they proposed, if they wanted me to do it. But I added that both President Van Hise and I had recognized, before the war, that a general reorganization of the University must come in the near future. We had talked about this matter but we had made no plans for it. I told them also that I could not, and would not, attempt to carry out that great task. More on this subject later.

But within a few hours after we had come to this understanding, an unexpected difficulty arose. A committee of influential members of the faculty came to Dr. Vilas and asked that if I was to succeed President Van Hise, my position should be that of acting president. I was called back, the new situation was put up to me; and several confidential talks followed. In these there was nothing of interest, still less of importance. The general result was that the regents chose me as president of the University on December 17, 1917, and that I accepted the position in a letter of the same date.

In this letter of formal acceptance there was a condition, stated in the following paragraph:

"I am ready, therefore, to accept the presidency on the following condition: that the regents will promptly begin to look for another president, in the hope of finding within a short time a man to whom the office may be committed with full expectation that he may hold it for a long term."

The letter and especially this paragraph, exactly expressed my personal desire; but I did not expect the regents to take immediate action on it, and I felt sure that our general understanding would continue. This was the fact; the committee on the selection of a president remained, but, so far as I know, were quite inactive for a year; and the committee from the faculty were equally inactive.

Regent Kronshage introduced a resolution in the meeting of December 3, 1918, which asked me to withdraw my letter of the previous year, so far as it seemed to limit my term of office. I agreed to do so and withdrew it formally in a short letter dated December 7, 1918. But I said to the regents in their meeting that I wished to retire and give my full time to the lakes as soon as they thought that the interests of the University would permit. So I went on with the duties of the presidency, with this clear understanding on both sides.

Such were the conditions under which I took up the duties of the presidency. There was all sorts of confusion in the affairs of the University, both in its relations with the state and in its internal conditions. This first World War began and it closed more than a half century after the similar dates for our Civil War and there was practically no statesman in active service who could remember the causes for the successes or the failures that came in our war and in the following social readjustments. Conditions today are very different and they will be equally different when peace comes.

The entire campus shed its scholarly dignity to wildly celebrate the signing of the Armistice, November, 1918 . . .

IV

My first meeting with the regents, in December, 1918, gives me an item with which to start the official side of my story. The reorganization of the University by President Chamberlin had provided money for operation, some of which had been used for salaries of assistants and fellows, and for other matters connected with research. Legislatures had made appropriations for research in problems of applied sciences, many of them connected with agriculture. I had felt that a definite recognition, in legislation, of pure research would benefit both University and state; so I brought the notion before the regents. It was cordially endorsed by them and it went into the University bill in the general form of "Special Investigations". The result was an appropriation of $23,000 annually for that purpose. The sum is a trivial one, judged by our present standards, but I do not think that it was a trivial matter for the legislature to make formal recognition of research as one of the regular duties of the University.

The legislature of 1921 increased this annual appropriation to $30,000 and it remained near that amount during my term of office. It was largely increased during the administration of President Frank; and I do not need to tell the story of the great personal contributions to research from our alumni and from other friends. These have made even the enlarged appropriations from the state a small part of our research funds.

V

I have looked over the records of the University during the earlier years of my administration; I find all kinds of matters which interest me but none worth a place in this narrative before the somewhat dramatic skirmish with Mr. W. J. Bryan on the subject of evolution. I use the word dramatic with full intention; for the matter had a good deal of the piquant interest which belongs to a dramatic performance, as well as all of its unreality in practical life, after the curtain drops. More seriously, it was an insignificant incident in the Fundamentalist movement, to which Mr. Bryan gave so much work and energy in his later years.

The more public side of the affair or, to put it more accurately, its newspaper side began in the CAPITAL TIMES on Feb. 7, 1922, with a long letter from Mr. Bryan, setting forth his ideas regarding evolution and his judgment regarding believers in that view of nature, both executed with special reference to myself. He denounced as atheists everybody who accepted any form of the doctrine of evolution. Quite apart from his personal references, my position was such that I could not let the charges go unanswered. For they put me and, by plain inference, all teachers of modern science into his class of atheists; and again by plain inference, it put all of them, who, like myself, professed religious faith, into the position of hypocrites.

Therefore I replied to his letter, so far as it concerned myself. I addressed a personal letter to my pastor, Dr. Worcester, setting forth in some detail the origin and the nature of my basic religious beliefs. This letter was printed in the STATE JOURNAL of February 16, and it was circulated as a pamphlet, to which I gave a wide distribution, especially within the state. Thus I do not need to say much about it here. But perhaps it is worth while to call the attention of that majority of its recipients who probably did not give it the closest attention, to the fact that it was so worded as to make trouble for Mr. Bryan. It was so phrased that Mr. Bryan could not reply to it; indeed, he could not ask me questions about any statement in it, to which he might object.

I intended to bring about this situation, for my presidency gave me quite enough work, without engaging in wordy and useless controversies. I have always believed that Mr. Bryan, who had a high national reputation as a debater of exceptional skill, recognized this situation and that he did not want to continue the controversy, especially as the matter was hardly worth his attention. But the TIMES evidently thought that copy from Mr. Bryan was "good stuff"; a reply from Mr. Bryan was invited and on April 7 it appeared in the TIMES. You will note the late date two months after his first letter.

The letter repeated in substance the matter of his first letter but with two important changes of statement or emphasis. First: he stated explicitly that there are "theistic evolutionists" and he discussed them in some detail. This was plainly an implied retraction of his original charge that all evolutionists are atheists. Second: The letter contained an idea which was put forward in much looser wording in his first letter. This was the statement: "The hand that writes the pay check rules the school" and these words were not accidental; they formed the center of a long paragraph.

I have never understood how a practiced debater could surrender his case so completely into the hands of an opponent, as Mr. Bryan did by using the words quoted. Of course I did not omit them in my relatively brief reply, which ended the matter so far as newspapers are concerned.

But there is another side of the affair which ought not to be passed in silence; that is the effect of these accusations on the Wisconsin public. So far as I have a record of this, it is contained in the scores of letters which I received during the months of discussion. These are stowed in what I thought was a safe place until I saw photographs of the effect of German bombs on London. I have not exhumed them for this letter, and shall leave them for future biographers—if any! But there was one fact concerning them which surprised my daughter, who had the main work of reading them, and which equally surprised me. These letters came from all parts of the country except Wisconsin. Distant states, like Florida, seemed to be much more concerned about my orthodoxy than were my immediate neighbors. For some time we said to each other that there were no letters from Wisconsin. This was not literally true but it not unfairly sums up the general situation. And the Wisconsin situation at large may be equally well told in a story brought to me by a professor who had been attending an educational meeting in a somewhat distant city of our state.

Our professor went into a drug store for a soft drink, as he told me, and there he found a group of citizens who were discussing the "Bryan situation". The man who was talking was a salesman for a drug firm, whose route took him regularly on trips about the state, including Madison. He was telling his hearers that all citizens of the state knew that "Birge had slept in his pew in the First Congregational Church every Sunday for the past forty years." And in closing his disquisition he lapsed into the vernacular so far as to end with the words: "Birge an atheist! Oh, hell!"

I do not suppose that the gentleman was a graduate of the University, if he had been a graduate he would probably have closed with a more elegant word. But he expressed emphatically the feeling about the matter which was very generally held throughout the state. Anyway, I heard little or nothing about it after April, 1922.

VI

My second topic is more definitely concerned with University duties; indeed, it is by far the most important event in my presidency.

Fortunately for the University as well as for Wisconsin in general, our governor in 1920, Emanuel Philipp, was deeply and intelligently concerned with the advancement of state education. He did not want to dictate plans or methods whose formulation and execution are the work of the professional teacher. But he could sense (if I may use that vague word) the needs of the people in social and educational matters; he could do this with an accuracy which very few men have, and he knew how to meet their needs in practical life. So when he called a special session of the legislature, to meet on May 25, 1920, he was able to guide it to successful issues of the greatest value for Wisconsin's social and educational progress.

His message to the special session covers thirteen printed pages; three of them are devoted to the necessity for a full-time medical school and a state hospital at the University, and five more are concerned with the salaries of teachers in state institutions. I happen to know, indirectly, that the recommendations for a state hospital had a central importance in his mind; although that would hardly be inferred from a reading of the message. The Governor well knew that legislators dislike special sessions, and that it is difficult to hold such a session together long enough to secure legislation on matters of fundamental and general importance. He knew also that recommendations for state care for the crippled and diseased, especially children, would arouse the sympathy and cooperation of both state and legislature. He felt certain that by making this recommendation a leading subject in his message he could secure the time for fair consideration, not only of this great matter, but also for that of other subjects, like the salaries of teachers, whose importance called for immediate action.

In general accordance with the governor's recommendations, the University received from the special session the following items of major importance:

1. The extension of medical instruction from a two-year course to the full standard four-year course.

2. The authorization of the building and equipment of an adequate state hospital.

3. The appropriation of more than a million and a half dollars to cover the cost of site, hospital, and equipment.

4. The addition of more than a million dollars annually to state appropriations for University operation and maintenance.

My own part in directing the expenditure of these great sums was in many cases, little more than a formal one; such, for instance were the plans for the new hospital. But there was one matter, made possible by the new appropriations, with which the president was most closely concerned, which was of vital importance to the University, and regarding which there was no unanimous consensus in the faculty. This was the average increase which was to be made in the salaries of the staff. Some of our sister universities doubled these salaries and many of our faculty believed that we should take the same action. I did not so believe, and perhaps may now tell, for the first time, the reasons for my disagreement with men who were quite as well able to judge the situation as I was; quite as well able, I may repeat, except for certain matters in my life and the dates on which they occurred.

The first of these is what I may call an accidental bit of education which came to me, thirty or more years earlier, from Mr. L. S. Hanks, then the president of the State Bank. For a good many years three of us, members of the University faculty, met at his home for a weekly game of old fashioned whist. All of us were engaged in active work and we kept hours that a later generation would find ridiculously early. Our game lasted until about ten o'clock and the remainder of the evening was given to talk and discussion.

It was understood that any matter might be brought up and freely discussed and that no word said there would be repeated outside.

There was one subject on which Mr. Hanks talked to us freely and more than once; this was the effect of a war on our national economics. He told us that a war was regularly followed in this country, by a "boom" which was ended by a "panic"; and the violence of both boom and panic was roughly proportioned to the violence of the preceding war. The time element had the same relation; the number of years for the boom period and the time necessary for recovery from the panic were dependent on and roughly proportioned to the length and the character of the war. I think that you will see that this was not the kind of talk which a conservative banker would give to the general public, although the ideas would always be present in the bottom of his mind and ready for use if the unhappy occasion should come.

These talks of Mr. Hanks made a deep impression on me; all the greater for my own personal history. My arrival at Harvard in 1873 for graduate study—if I may compare things least with greatest—had coincided, almost to a day with the beginning of the panic of 1873. And as months added themselves into years the hopelessness of the academic situation became more and more evident. There were practically no new teaching positions for young men in the colleges of the country. College investments, college students, college incomes fell and continued to fall. The outlook for all of these conditions was a dark one and therefore that for a young graduate student was equally far from roseate.

The offer of a place at Wisconsin came to me as a complete surprise, like a special gift from heaven. And in fact it was the outcome of a half-dozen events, going back some eight years. Each of them was antecedently highly improbable in itself and the chances for their combined sequence are quite too small for computation. I suppose that the same may be said of any event which actually happens, but one has a deeper feeling about that situation in those matters which determine his own future!

So when I took up as president the question of the readjustment of salaries for the faculty, the work was done under the influence of the personal conditions and influences which I have sketched. Neither these nor similar experiences seem to have been present in the lives of other members of the faculty. At any rate they had no part in the counsels which I received in numerous private conversations.

The story of this readjustment of salaries

Wisconsin General Hospital, authorized by the special session of legislature, 1920

can not be presented in full; it is too complex. The legislative appropriations of the special session became effective for salaries of the second semester of the year 1920-21, and it was the budget for the year 1921-22 that told the story. The net result was an addition of fifty per cent to the average salaries of the faculty. I did not think it right for me to go farther than this. I believed that such an increase would enable the teachers to live in reasonable comfort during the year or two immediately before us. I did not look on the readjustment as a permanent one. My understanding with the regents called for my retirement in the near future; and while my retirement did not come as soon as I expected, the boom period was a longer one than I had looked for. I retired at a date when my successor could have easily readjusted salaries, if the conditions called for such action. And in taking this attitude toward that still unknown person I was not "wishing on him" anything which would injure his influence or his popularity in the University.

The general situation involved in this readjustment was discussed with Governor Philipp, a little by myself and more by some of the regents. I am sure that he would not have approved action which doubled salaries. I felt also that he might have agreed to a somewhat larger increase than that which I proposed, but I have no direct evidence on that point.

Since this is not a history but a personal story you will pardon an incident which concerns my predecessor rather than myself. When President Van Hise came into office, in 1903, his salary was fixed at $7,000, an adequate amount but by no means excessive as judged by the salary of his predecessor and the standards of the day. But as years passed and standards altered President Van Hise would not permit any increase in his salary. I never exchanged a word with him on the subject but I knew, first by grapevine telegraph and later by direct statement from regents, that more than once he had refused to accept any increase for himself until the finances of the University would permit like increases for the members of the faculty. Personally, he did not need more money; the income which had come to him as a geologist had put him in that fortunate condition. His work at the University and the direction given to it by Professor Irving were direct causes of that good fortune. So his attitude was just what would be expected from a man of his character.

But our regents were none the less unhappy; as they went about the country they were both joked and treated to good advice regarding their supposed attitude toward a distinguished president like Van Hise. And when I brought to Regent Vilas the question of salary for the president he literally exploded in a way that I never saw on any other occasion. He walked about the room and harangued me on the past history of the matter and its present status, and his final statement was that the regents would approve any recommendation which I might make regarding the salary for the president; provided that it was not less than $10,000. He hoped it might be larger, but it must not be smaller.

Fortunately, the sum which he named was just that which I had in mind, though I did not say so at the time. It bore just about the same relation to the $7,000 of Van Hise as the fifty percent increases for the faculty bore to their salaries. So it put me into the same class as the rest of the faculty. The regents adopted without dissent the general plan which I proposed.

Thus the special session of 1920 effected fundamental changes in our University. Our historians find many legislatures and many governors whose actions have greatly benefited us and they will always differ if they try to select the man and the legislature whose action had most value for us. Some may find it in the legislature of 1867, which under Governor Fairchild's leadership, gave us our first state appropriation of $7,000 annually; and which the following session increased to $10,000. Others may select that of 1876, which gave us the first mill-tax; others still may prefer that of 1875, which gave us Science Hall. I need not go through the list; still less shall I try to apportion relative merit. But I am certain that the nine-day special session of 1920 will always stand high in the list. I am glad that, since fate would have me president, this session should have come so early in my administration. And since I am writing about the State University of Wisconsin, I am doubly grateful that the results of the session should be as definitely and as permanently associated with the name of Governor Phillip as those of the legislation of 1867 are associated with the name of Governor Fairchild.

I have written frankly about this matter and I have told much that I never made public before. I thought it wise to do so, since we are now well along in a social revolution which makes all of this narrative little more than an old story; though I will confess that it is not a story quickly told. Legislation and officials in Washington now control the economics of the nation to a degree beyond the dreams of the 1920's. We may be sure that the present war will not be followed by a boom and a depression, if the powers present at our Capitol will then be used as freely as they now are.

VII

I may as well state here my reasons for refusing to undertake, as president, the needed reorganization of the University.

The fundamental reason, which was never stated definitely to the regents, lay in the fact that I was too old for the job. Such a reorganization should be undertaken by a man in middle life, who is in close and sympathetic touch with the men of his own age, with the men who are now entering the positions of social control. He should be a president who can look forward to twenty years or more of active service and who therefore can forecast the contingencies of the future from that position. The wisdom or the folly, with which such large measures are carried through, comes far more from the right feeling of the leader than from his intellectual processes. His arguments are still less important. But my age was approaching the three-score and ten which has always been the natural limit of life; and I did not intend either to push my old-fashioned ideas upon the University or to accept the ideas of those whose lack of administrative experience made them unsafe counsellors.

A second reason was present in the obvious fact that my administration could not, in any case, be a long one. Even if it lasted long enough to complete a reorganization, the University must soon pass into the leadership of a younger president, who would bring with him the ideas of his own generation. He ought not to find here a faculty thoroughly tired of discussing changes in the University; his faculty should be both ready and eager to undertake such a movement.

A less pretentious, but perhaps an even more potent personal reason was my desire to get some years of research work into my life before it came to an end. I knew that reorganization could not begin until restoration was complete; it must follow the confusions of restoration and four or five years would be needed to carry it through. At the end I should be good for nothing, even if I were still alive.

VIII

I have written of the cordial relations between the state and University, which I found when I became president. These continued in full during the administration of Governor Blaine. There was no significant change in the income from the state for operation during the years 1920-25. The University budget for the year 1920-21 placed this largest item at about $2,118,000; and this sum was nearly twice that in the budget for 1919-20. Operation necessarily showed small variations from year to year but none of them were significant.

The number of "two-semester students" in 1920-21 was about 7300; it passed 8000 in 1923-24 and 8300 in 1926-27. The great and rapid growth in numbers came in the administration of President Frank, bringing corresponding changes in income and expenditure.

Thus the friendliness of Governor Blaine's administration, as shown by the financial action of successive legislatures, took definite form chiefly in large appropriations for "capital account", in money for buildings and land. For buildings the three legislatures of 1921, 1923 and 1925 appropriated more than $1,500,000, a full million coming from the legislature of 1925. About $350,000 was given by the legislature of 1921, and that of 1923 gave $150,000 for the Extension Building in Milwaukee. The two largest expenditures at Madison were for additions to the Chemistry Laboratory and to Bascom Hall; these aggregated nearly $900,000, besides additional costs for heating plant, etc.

Emanuel Philipp, Governor in 1920, whose actions greatly benefited the University . . .

During the years 1921-25 there was begun and carried on the project of building the Memorial Union by contributions from Alumni and other friends of the University. This story properly belongs to the administration of President Frank, but nearly a half-million dollars were pledged to the fund before 1925. I was in full sympathy with the enterprise but I can not say that I made any important contribution to it, either in money or work.

IX

There is one important matter in my administration which can not come into my story, and the cause is mere ignorance on my part. Why was my retirement put off to so late a date as 1925, especially in view of the understanding with which I came into the presidency? I did not expect to retire in 1921, as there was still much confusion in the matter of salaries; but I did expect to retire in 1922. But nothing was said to me by the regents, and following my long-time custom, I asked no questions. As time passed I determined not to stay beyond 1925, my fiftieth anniversary, and as we approached close to that date I did not wish to retire before it came.

The presidency called on me for more work than befitted my age, and when I became free from it I had no expectation that I should be writing this screed at so late a date as 1942. If I could have seen any reasonable ground for such hopes I should have insisted on carrying out the original plans for an earlier retirement. As matters stand, I can only say that even at the time I appreciated the justice of the impatience of members of the faculty, roused by the inconsiderate way in which "the old man went on presiding". But the why was outside of myself and I can not explain it.

X

I have intimated that my presidency began and went on with general agreement among the regents on questions of general policy. I am sorry that I can not say the same of its close, although there was nothing at all personal in the situation. But, in my last meeting with the regents, August 5, 1925 there arose a fundamental difference of judgment among them and a consequent debate more sharp than anything of the kind in the preceding years.

It arose over a trivial matter—the appointment of a young research assistant in the medical school, who was to be paid a salary of a few hundred dollars a year. This sum was to be charged against a small gift from the Rockefeller Foundation; and these last words bring in the casus belli. All of us knew, quite unofficially, that the Foundation was ready to give the University a very large sum for medical buildings; and that Dean Bardeen had already received written assurance of that situation.

A general resolution was submitted to the regents stating that hereafter the University would not accept gifts of money from any endowed educational institution. The resolution was put in general terms and did not name any particular institution.

There followed a sharp debate, in which, I may now say, President Kronshage led the negative side. But the resolution passed by a called vote of nine to six. I am going out of my proper field so far as to add that it was reported to me that the gift proposed for our medical school went, apparently without local opposition, to the same school of a sister state university. Our own records show that the regents repealed their resolution in 1930, and that in 1940, ten years later, they adopted a somewhat elaborate resolution, setting forth their policy in more detail.

XI

I have written my story in a very miscellaneous fashion and you will not be surprised that I close it by telling of two events and two words which lie outside the period of the story. In the course of this letter I have mentioned the panic of 1873 and the depression of 1929. For the past dozen years I have thought that the two words sum up, as few single words are able to do, the changes in thought and motive that came to our nation in the two generations between the two events.

Wisconsin's "Grand Old Man" ...

A panic is primarily inside the persons affected; when your army is "struck by panic" the men, individually and therefore collectively, lose the power of acting as the situation demands. The word tells us that this internal disturbance comes from the gods, and its superhuman origin remained in the common mind of the people for many centuries after the worship of the old gods had ended.

But a depression is definitely a fact in what we call the outer world. We have no personal responsibility for it; we analyze it scientifically, not at all religiously; we determine its antecedent causes and we try to readjust that outer world. Our attempts are wise or unwise, as time will show; but the whole situation is viewed from a position opposite to that of 1873; and the two words express the change.

The inner history of our State University during the same period was as definitely determined by a people whose inner life was changing with the words. The presidency came to me just as the later phases of that movement were developing; and the record of my administration, both for good and for bad, was shaped by that situation rather than by the I and the me which have given this letter such a marked pronominal flavor.

Let me keep that flavor as I close by telling you that I am Very truly yours,

E. A. Birge.

The evening of September 5, 1940, saw gathered together at a dinner given to honor Dr. E. A. Birge for his great contributions to the science of limnology and in commemoration of his eighty-ninth birthday, over 300 fellow scientists, friends and admirers who met in this manner to listen and silently amend expressions of appreciation and gratitude offered Dr. Birge, beloved teacher, visioned scientist, and kindly philosopher, by renowned alumni and benefactors of the University such as Regent Michael J. Cleary, former dean Harry L. Russell, now director of the Alumni Research Association, George C. Sellery, former dean of the College of Letters and Science, who succeeded Dr. Birge, distinguished financier and scientist Martin J. Gillen, Adj. General Ralph M. Immell, and President Clarence A. Dykstra.

In his tribute to Dr. Birge, a colleague and fellow student, Mr. Gillen wrote, "One can pay no higher tribute to the distinguished, beloved guest of the evening, beloved by students and faculty and respected by all, than to note that his children, 'the scientific departments of the University' are today, in quality and performance, equal to the best in the land.

To the distinguished guest of the evening — to Dr. Edward A. Birge:

As one of the old Birge grads, I bow my head in humble homage to your sterling, spartan character, to the richness of a complete life, well lived, and to your many contributions to useful science. May you be with us many more years in vital mind and body."

Dr. E. A. Birge engaged in the research that has made him the greatest limnologist in the world

The University and the War

MAKING available to any soldier, with at least four months' service, a means for educational training along with his military tasks, the Army Institute, a war department agency, is now offering courses taught by correspondence and operated in co-operation with the University of Wisconsin extension division and the extension services of other institutions.

Since June, 1941, Wisconsin selectees have had the opportunity to take extension courses from the University at no charge except for textbooks. However, under the Army Institute plan, any enlisted men may enroll in correspondence courses from the University.

The study offerings include 64 of the army's own courses, together with courses offered by 77 accredited colleges and universities. The army's courses are described as practical courses of the non-credit type that contribute to the student's military efficiency.

The Army Institute plan will not interfere with Wisconsin's original offer to her own soldiers. According to Dean Frank O. Holt of the extension division, Wisconsin service men are still entitled to free instruction, one course at a time, but must pay for the necessary text materials.

Under the Army Institute plan, service men who are not residents of Wisconsin may take University extension courses for college or high school credit, at one-half price for instruction and text materials up to a total of $20. The national government takes care of the other half of the expenses. The student also pays an initial $2 fee to enroll in the course.

That the needs of enlisted personnel are being met by the Army Institute, is continually brought home by the letters received from the men in service relating the manner in which their studies are being put to use. Clerks are taking instruction in shorthand and bookkeeping, gunners in trigonometry, and motor maintenance men in mechanics. The men have found in the Army Institute the opportunity to meet the educational requirements of promotion, and assignment to duty which they are otherwise qualified to perform.

UNIVERSITY students and graduates and high school graduates are being personally aided in finding their proper places in the war effort through the military counseling service of the University here and in the branch office located in Milwaukee.

The counseling service began in the spring of 1940, but after Pearl Harbor in December, 1941, through the authorization of President Dykstra and the board of regents, the program was expanded to include 40 faculty counselors and deans to work with the students.

Dean W. W. Blaesser, executive secretary of the University personnel council, which sponsors the counseling service, is in charge of the program, which is now on a year-around basis.

Any alumni who wish information on possibilities for military service may address their inquiries to Room 123 Bascom Hall, Dean Blaesser stated.

The University realized the need for making military counseling available to high school graduates, so the counseling service remained in action this summer. Over 2,500 students and graduates availed themselves of this service during the summer months.

An integral part of the counseling program is the testing service located in the office of the Bureau of Guidance and Records. These tests help determine one's abilities and potentialities, and so are of aid in discovering what type of college training will be most useful to the individual and thus to the country.

As Dean Blaesser explains, "The basic goal of our service is to help the individual match his long-time educational and vocational goals with short-time military objectives in a way that will use his abilities to the best advantage of the nation."

Fightin' Badgers

1902

Master Sgt. Bertram F. ADAMS writes of his activities in the Q.M. office at the Lordsburg Internment camp, Lordsburg, N. Mex., where Japanese aliens and prisoners of war from the Pacific are sent. "The compound where the prisoners are kept is about one-half mile square surrounded by a triple row of fences and 37 watch towers. The area for the soldiers and prisoners are alike — one-story wooden shacks. The prisoners are paid 10c a day if they do not work and 80c a day when they work. They collect garbage and camp rubbish. The prisoners are given all necessary clothing (dyed dark green) and have the same food as the soldiers. We hope that our prisoners will receive as good treatment from the enemy. They bring in about 50 new prisoners every few days, all males." Sgt. Adams has spent 18 years in military service.

1913

Capt. Vernon R. BUXTON, recommissioned in the Marine corps in March, has been permanently assigned to the Navy yard, Marine barracks, in Charleston, S. Car., after completing a refresher course at Quantico, Va. . . . C. Abner HENDEE, past president of the Milwaukee Alumni club, has been called to active duty with the U. S. Navy as a lieutenant, senior grade. He has been stationed at the University of Minnesota. . . . Maj. George C. MARTINDALE is squadron commanding officer and counsel for defense in court martial cases at Craig Field, Selma, Ala.

1914

Capt. William F. GETTELMAN is an engineer in the Army, attached to the Air Corps Field Artillery Field Service at Stockton Field, California.

1915

Capt. Clarence J. BROWN, U.S.N., has been transferred from Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, to the Naval hospital, Philadelphia, Pa. . . . Col. Ira Lee PETERSON, U. S. Air Corps, is now stationed in Sioux Falls, S. D.

1916

Lt. Col. Fred DISTELHORST is stationed at Fort Sheridan, Ill. . . . Lt. Leonard J. SCHWARTZ, whose address is U.S. Naval Headquarters, New York City, is now in service overseas.

1917

Lt. Col. Leo BLIED has been recalled to active duty, stationed with the Third regiment at Camp Wheeler, Macon, Ga. . . . Maj. Franklin B. BOGART is in the Medical corps, temporarily located at Lawson General hospital, Atlanta, Ga. . . . Capt. George CHANDLER was granted a leave of absence as professor of philosophy and psychology, from Principia college, Elmhurst, Ill., and is now in the QM corps, stationed at Camp Grant, Rockford, Ill. . . . Maj. George A. GARRIGAN is stationed at camp headquarters, Camp Claiborne, La. . . . Maj. Graeme S. EASSON is on active duty with the U. S. Infantry at Fort Lawton, Seattle, Wash. . . . Lt. Col. Raymond E. PORTER is air officer at headquarters of the Sixth Corps Area in Chicago, Ill. . . . In August Lt. Col. Allison F. H. SCOTT wrote from Headquarters, Anti-Aircraft Training center, Fort Bliss, Tex., "In command of the 409th C.A. battalion (gun), the 'heavys', and have about three more months of intensive training ahead of me. Among my other duties I have been headquarters intelligence officer, plans and training officer, and public relations officer." . . . The address of Lt. Col. Eugene M. VIGNERON is HQ 51st Coast Artillery, APO 851, c/o Postmaster, New York City. He is in Puerto Rico.

1918

Lt. Comm. Ehrwald Frank BECK is at sea on the U.S.S. Medusa. His address is c/o Postmaster, San Francisco. . . . Maj. W. R. BRADFORD, air corps, has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for flights made during the Philippine campaign early this year. Major Bradford, who lived in the Philippines for the past 11 years, was a second lieutenant in the first World War, but did not get overseas then. His address is APO 501, c/o Postmaster, San Francisco. . . . Donald A. CALDWELL, yeoman third class, U.S.N.R., is attached to the main recruiting station in Fargo, N. D. . . . Col. Wolcott P. HAYES, commanding officer at the radio university of the army air forces at Scott Field, Illinois, manned the mound for the post's champion officer softball team. The team won three officer league championships this summer, with the hard-playing Colonel riding the crest of a 12-game victory streak.

1919

Lt. Col. Leo B. LEVENICK, Inspector General of the 34th Inf. Div., is now in Northern Ireland. His address is APO 34, c/o Postmaster, New York City. . . . Tower W. KING is junior administrative procurement inspector for the Army Air force. He is on inspection duty, covering the big bombers at Consolidated Aircraft in San Diego.

1920

Maj. Edward T. EVANS is stationed at Fort Sill, Okla., at the 26th General hospital. . . . Capt. Ian C. SCOTT, Army Air force, is with the Coast Artillery Field service, Columbus, Mississippi.

1921

Lt. Col. Leo W. PETERSON writes from "Somewhere in Australia," "I appreciate the magazine very much and it is a great help during foreign service to be able to keep track of all of the ex-Wisconsinites. Can assure you that Wisconsin is again making a splendid and envious reputation through its fighting forces." . . . Lt. Herbert J. SCHMIEGE's new address is 705 Blanco St., Austin, Tex. . . . In July Lt. Col. Kenneth S. WHITE, 818th Tank Destroyer battalion, Camp Bowie, Tex., fractured a bone in his left ankle, and spent the next few weeks with his foot in a cast. . . . Maj. Herbert B. WRIGHT, called to active duty in June from his medical practice in Shaker Heights, O., is now with the 8th Air Force HQ, APO 887, c/o Postmaster, New York City. He is in England, connected with a chain of hospitals.

1922

Capt. Herman C. RUNGE is at present stationed at Fort Hamilton, Brooklyn, N. Y.

1923

Nathan W. HOLLIDAY, Quincy, Ill., has enlisted in the navy as shipfitter, third class, and is now living at 604 East Woodbine St., Chevy Chases of seamanship and naval procedure at Great Lakes station. . . . Lt. Col. John M. RAE, with the War Department in Washington, D. C., is now living at 604 East Woodbine st., Chevy Chase, Md. . . . Lt. Comm. L. C. TSCHUDY is stationed at HQ, 8th Naval district, New Orleans, La. . . . Lt. Rolland F. WILLIAMS is now at the Navy Pre-Flight school, Iowa City, Iowa.

Lt. Col. Max A. Brackett, commanding officer at Savanna Ordnance Depot . . .

1924

Maj. Elmer W. BECKER is with the 815th Tank Destroyer battalion, Camp Cooke, Calif., "carrying the banner for the good old Badger state in this, our common war effort." . . . Capt. Emmett C. DYE's new address is Corps of Engineers, APO 828, c/o Postmaster, New Orleans, La. . . . Capt. Kenneth L. MUIR has been sent overseas from his previous station at the Glider base at Alliance, Neb. His address is 1686 HQ., S.O.S., APO 1200, c/o Postmaster, New York City.

1925

Capt. Gordon W. ABBOTT has been assigned to a medical detachment at Camp Polk, La. He had been practicing medicine in Elgin, Ill., before being called to duty. . . . Maj. Melvin C. DONKLE is in HQ, 3d Ordnance Training, Aberdeen Proving Ground, Aberdeen, Md. . . . Maj. Kendall E. ELSOM was transferred from Pennsylvania to Camp Claiborne, La. . . . Capt. Robert R. FISHER is base signal officer at the Tonopah Bombing and Gunnery range, Tonopah, Nev. . . . Lt. Leland W. GILLESPIE is stationed at Wright Field, Dayton, O., with the Air Service command. . . . Capt. Fred GUSTORF, co-author of the textbook "Copyreading and Editing" is using his journalistic training as public relations officer at Camp Roberts, Calif. . . . Maj. Oscar A. MOLDENHAUER is now at the Junior Officers Training center, Camp Bullis, Tex. . . . Capt. Albert G. SCHMEDEMAN is now with the War Department in the Military Intelligence service.

1926

Thomas F. DARENEAU, technician 5th grade, has been appointed to the Quartermaster officer candidate school, Camp Lee, Va. Before his induction March 15, he was an insurance agent in Houston, Tex. . . . Alfred B. PLAENERT, an area engineer with the War Department since 1937, has been stationed at Depew, N. Y., since April 1, in charge of the construction of a cast armor plate plant. . . . Capt. R. H. REED is with Co. D, 69th QM Battalion, Camp Haan, Calif. . . . Capt. Harry SHAPIRO is at the Induction station, Fort Snelling, Minn. . . . Capt. M. H. SIMPKINS has received his commission in the Army Air Force and has been assigned to Brooks Field, Tex., where he is a special service officer.

1927

Pvt. Norman C. ALLHISER is stationed at the Anti-Aircraft Training center, Battery A-28, Coast Artillery, Camp Wallace, Tex. He has applied for officer's training school. . . . Pvt. Ardin J. ARVESON was temporarily stationed at Ft. Sheridan, Ill. . . . Lt. Comm. Clifford D. BENSON is a surgeon at the Great Lakes, Ill., Naval hospital. . . . Pfc. Richard F. BERGSTRESSER is now in the Finance dept., at Base HQ, Dale Mabry field, Tallahassee, Fla. He ranked fifth in his class of 400 who graduated from the Air Corps Technical school, Ft. Logan, Colo., in July. . . . Lt. Comm. Marshall O. BOUDRY, formerly with the Mayo clinic at Rochester, Minn., has been named medical officer at the U. S. Naval Training school for radiomen, here on the University campus. . . . Maj. George Warren CUSTER, Signal Corps, is on the staff of the Army Air forces, Washington, D. C. . . . Pvt. George R. DENNIS is being trained in the Army Air corps at Clearwater, Fla. . . . Pfc. Lester G. DAUGS is overseas — the address is Port Detachment, APO 929, c/o Postmaster, San Francisco, Calif. . . . Capt. Ervin F. KURTH has been on duty with the U. S. Army since February, 1941. After temporary stops at Ft. Knox, Ft. Benning, and Camps Beauregard and Polk, since August, 1941, he has been in the Office of the Quartermaster General, Washington, D. C. . . . Lt. Floyd C. MAC GREGOR writes, "Am making use of the commission I received from Wisconsin ROTC work in 1926. Was called into active service in July and am stationed at Ft. Adams, R. I." . . . S/Sgt. Fred H. STEMM is in the medical corps, at the station hospital at Goldsboro Field, N. C. . . . Millard J. WILLIAMS has received his captain's commission in the Ordnance department, and reported for active duty at Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Md., August 22. . . . Col. Max A. BRACKETT has been appointed commanding officer of Savanna Ordnance Depot, Proving Grounds, Illinois. Ordered to active duty Dec. 1, 1940, as captain of Ordnance assigned to Savanna Depot, he next was appointed to executive officer of the Savanna Ordnance Unit Training Center, and then post executive officer. Oct. 1, 1941, he assumed command of the post.

1928

Raymond C. BANGS enlisted in the Navy as a Storekeeper, third class, and is now training at the Bloomington, Ind., Naval station. . . . Capt. Charles S. BLOCK is on active duty at the Chemical Warfare school, Edgewood Arsenal, Md. . . . Pvt. Gordon A. C. GROB, HQ Battery, 59th Armored Field Artillery Bn., Camp Chaffee, Ark., writes, "My work here is in the Battalion HQ office, and enjoy it very much. Am also keeping contact with my music. I am doing organ work at one of the chapels here at camp. Some weeks ago I served as accompanist for a musical revue, "Double Time," which was the first all-military show presented at Camp Chaffee. Was pleased in that six of my own musical compositions were featured in this revue, and, through it, I have now received a contract from New York regarding the promoting and publishing of my music." . . . Edward J. LOEWENTHAL is a corporal in the Army. . . . Maj. F. L. ORTH is in the HQ office, Services of Supply, War dept., Washington, D. C. . . . Maj. Leonard V. SAARI sends his new address, HQ, S.O.S., APO 1094, c/o Postmaster, New York City, and adds, "Enjoy reading the Alumnus and will be looking forward to getting it over there!"

1929

Budd Clarke CORBUS, Jr., is a lieutenant, senior grade, in the U. S. Navy. . . . Lt. Adolph F. DASLER has been appointed medical officer at the naval training school for electrician's and machinist's mates at the Naval Armory at Great Lakes, Ill. He will be responsible for the health of 450 men there. . . . Lt. Rodney S. DEXTER is temporarily in the U. S. Army Engineer office, Knobnoster, Mo. . . . C. Lee EGERT, formerly of the faculty of River Falls State Teachers college, Wis., received his lieutenant's commission in the U. S. Naval reserve in June. He is in the department of personnel administration in the air service division. . . . Capt. Leonard MATHES has been appointed personnel officer at HQ, Fourth Corps area, Atlanta, Ga. . . . Capt. Thomas F. MC CAUL is with Service of Supply, living at Marlyn Apts., 40 and Walnut streets, Philadelphia, Pa. . . . Allen J. PEDERSON has been on active duty with the medical corps of the Navy since May 14. He has been commissioned lieutenant, senior grade. . . . Lt. Oscar F. ROSENOW, air corps, is stationed at Robbins field, Macon, Ga. . . . Dr. Robert L. WAFFLE is now in Australia as a captain in the medical corps of the Army.

1930

Maj. Albert M. BUTLER, in Army Intelligence, is with the 35th div., Pasadena, Calif. . . . Capt. Harold W. GERLACH writes, "Since last spring I have been assigned to the Rock Island Arsenal as assistant to the Army inspector of Ordnance here. Present assignment is director of Inspectors school, and assistant to the officer in charge of arsenal inspection. Part of the time I act as Proof officer at the firing range — odd time work is on tank proof acceptance. The Alumnus comes as a welcome chance to forget these times and remember those pleasant days in Madison." . . . Lt. E. B. KUHE is in the medical corps on Mare Island, Calif. . . . Lt. H. F. PAGEL is with the medical detachment of the 46th Engineers, Ladysmith, Wis. . . . Lt. Donald H. PATTISON is with the Mayo Clinic unit at the U. S. Naval hospital, Corona, Calif. . . . Lt. Col. William P. RAWLES is in the Ordnance dept., U. S. Army, in Washington, D. C.

1931

Lt. Edgar M. ALSTAD is with the 355th Infantry regt., at Camp Carson, Colo. . . . Lt. Tullius BRADY is in the Army Air corps at Ft. Benning, Ga., where he is training. . . . Walter H. BRUMMUND received his promotion to major at the Midland Army Flying school for bombardiers, Midland, Tex. He is legal advisor to the commanding general of the post, and trial Judge Advocate of the general and special courts. . . . Pvt. G. Wyatt CABLE enlisted last February and is stationed at the Medical Detachment Station hospital, Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo. . . . Lt. Taylor D. HUNT is in the medical corps at Selfridge field, Mich. . . . Lt. Rolland A. KUCKUK is at the Post Office bldg. in Chicago, HQ, 6th Coast Artillery. . . . Capt. Franklin T. MATTHIAS has been promoted to major and is now in service in Washington, D. C. . . . Roger OSTREM is assistant engineer in the U. S. Engineer office at St. Mary's Fall Canal, Sault Ste. Marie, Mich. His work is under the supervision of the War department. . . . O/C Myron F. ROSE is in training at Camp Berkeley, Tex. . . . Lt. Edward SCHANTZ is stationed at Bel Air, Md. . . . Richard P. STAEFFLER was promoted to the rank of major last February, and in May was made commanding officer of the Arkansas Ordnance plant, Little Rock, Ark. . . . Maj. Lu-Verne J. WEBSTER, Marine corps, is stationed at Camp Berkeley, Tex. . . . Lt. David J. ZUBATSKY, of the Marines, is at Barnes General hospital, Vancouver, Wash. . . . Howard W. SIEGEL enlisted in the Naval reserve as a radio technician, second class, and is now training at Great Lakes Naval station.

1932

Pvt. Theodore BUERCK is attending photography school at Lowry field, Denver, Colo. He entered the Army Air corps July 14. . . . Harry M. CARTRIGHT, lieutenant, junior grade, is with the Civil Engineering corps of the Navy, assigned to the Bureau of Yards and Docks, Washington, D. C. . . . Maj. Einar R. DANIELS, medical corps, is stationed at Camp Grant, Ill. . . . Capt. Edwin J. DUBANE, after three months at Ft. Benning, Ga., Infantry school, is back at Camp Croft, S. C., HQ 36th Infantry Training bn. . . . Lt. William C. ERLER writes from the Naval Training school at Noroton Heights, Conn., "I am out here working like a Trojan — am not allowed to tell the nature of my work but it is in every phase of communications and very interesting. The worst part is the shots and the long hours of study, but I am getting back to my old college days habits." . . . Lt. John E. FERRIS, Jr., writes, "I was transferred to Waco Army Flying school from Randolph field and am now in the Purchasing and Contracting office for the construction of Waco Flying school No. 2, a Twin Engine Advanced school, which is now underway. After this, who knows?" . . . Pvt. Milo K. FIELDS is with Co. A, 66th bn., 14th regt., Camp Robinson, Ark. . . . Lt. Lawrence B. LAVOLD is with the 11th Armored Maintenance bn., at Camp Polk, La. . . . Capt. Abraham J. FORMAN is stationed at Torney General hospital, Palm Springs, Calif. . . . Maj. Erwin P. LUDWIG is overseas with the 135th Medical regt., which originally landed in Australia. . . . Orson M. NEWELL recently entered the armed forces. . . . Lt. Chester A. OHMA is in the engineers corps, stationed at Omaha, Neb. . . . Lt. Victor W. RANDECKER is flying for the U. S. Navy at the Corpus Christi, Tex., post. . . . Lt. Victor S. RICE, Jr., with the 726th Ordnance Co. overseas, sends his greetings to the class of '32 — "Count me out on the tenth anniversary reunion. I'll see you when Hitler is in Japan." . . . George F. RILEY, seaman, first class, is attending aerographer's school at Lakehurst, N. J. He was chosen honor man of his company during his preliminary training at Great Lakes. . . . Pvt. Robert L. ROTHSCCHILD is in the 22nd Technical School squadron at Lowry field, Denver, Colo. . . . Maj. A. N. SCHANTZ is stationed at Chanute field, Ill., with the 17th Technical School squadron. . . . Capt. Edward F. VOGT is stationed at Camp Custer, Mich., but his address is 641 W. Michigan st., Battle Creek, Mich. . . . Lt. Leonard H. WEISSKOPF, medical corps, has been assigned to Camp Grant, Ill. . . . Lt. Harry E. WOOD has been transferred to Co. A, 3d QMRTC, Ft. Warren, Wyo.

1933

Lt. Gerhard BECKER, USNR, is now training at the Harvard university naval training station. . . . Lt. Arnold L. COLPITTS is in charge of the Distant Reporting platoon with the A.E.F. His address is APO 946, c/o Postmaster, Seattle, Wash. . . . Philip T. DAKIN, GHQ, is a member of the American Field Service, now seeing action in Cairo. . . . Raymond N. DONLINGER, a former guidance director in Milwaukee, has enlisted as chief specialist in the Naval reserve and is now training at Great Lakes. . . . William W. FITZGERALD is principal traffic clerk at the Chicago Ordnance district, First National Bank building, Chicago. . . . Capt. Leslie B. GILBERT is believed to be among the captured American troops on the island of Luzon. Formerly a member of the Wisconsin Highway commission's staff, he was called into service in 1941 and ordered to the Philippines. His name had not appeared on the casualty lists through May 1. . . . Oliver J. HANSON was promoted to technical sergeant with the 1550th service unit of the medical detachment at Fort Knox, Ky. . . . Pvt. Robert O. HOMBERGER is stationed at Ft. Francis E. Warren, Wyo., with Co. C, 3rd QMTR. . . . Harold O. HOVERSON is with Battery F, 32nd bn., 8th Regt., F.A.R.T.C., Ft. Sill, Okla. . . . William T. KNIGHT, radio technician, second class, USNR, is now training at Great Lakes. . . . Herbert MANASSE is in the army air force. . . . Pvt. Claire B. MULHERN is with Co. B., 15th Bn., A.F.R.T.C., Ft. Knox, Ky. . . . Cecil E. MUNSON is at Great Lakes Naval station, as a specialist, third class. . . . Sgt. Frederick W. PEDERSON, one-time Warner Bros. script writer and free-lancer, has completed his training at Jefferson Barracks, Mo., and is now attending the Air Force Officer's school at Miami, Fla. He had been doing public relations at Jefferson Barracks. . . . Maj. Sidney POSNER, medical corps, is serving in Hawaii. . . . George F. REDMOND is in the Army Air corps. . . . Lt. Grant C. STONE, in the medical corps at Ft. Brady hospital, Mich., recently received his captain's bars. . . . Hardin C. WATERS, yeoman, third class, writes, "After serving in the office of the executive officer of the Coast Guard Merchant Marine Training station at Ft. Trumbull, Conn., I was transferred at the end of August to the U. S. Coast Guard Training station at Avery Point, Groton, Conn., where I am now stationed in the personnel office." . . . Lt. Lester E. WEBER, formerly with the 202nd Coast Artillery (A.A.), is now executive officer of the 509th C.A. bn. at Ft. Bliss, Tex. . . . Henry C. YOUNGERMAN is stationed at Camp Crowder, Mo. . . . Officer Candidate Jane PIERCE is completing her WAAC officer's training at Ft. Des Moines.

1934

Donald BARRY is with the Medical detachment of the 34th A.R., Camp Cooke, Calif. . . . Pvt. Fred J. BOLENDER, Jr., has been assigned to Co. A., 53d bn., 11th Training regt., Camp Robinson, Ark. . . . Pvt. Kermit A. DEMERSE, medical corps, is with HQ battery, 321st Field Artillery bn., 82nd div., Camp Claiborne, La. . . . David FELDMAN has entered the Army. . . . Lt. Robert A. HALVERSON is at the Umatilla Ordnance depot, Hermiston, Ore. . . . Pvt. Bernard J. HANKIN is overseas with Co. K, 128th Inf. His address is APO 32, c/o Postmaster, San Francisco. . . . Norman INLANDER is now in the Army. . . . Pvt. Norman G. JUSTL has been assigned to Co. A., First Finance Training bn., at Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Ind. . . . Lt. Lester W. LINDOW has been named head of the radio section of the public relations office at Camp Wolters, Tex. Four weekly programs originate from the camp, and with Lt. Lindow's appointment, an expansion of radio activities there is seen. . . . Corp. Donald S. OWEN is with HQ troop, 106th Cavalry, Camp Livingston, La. . . . Lt. Col. Harry L. ROGERS is now living in Little Rock, Ark., with his wife. . . . Lt. Truman CLIFTON, on leave from his post as assistant plant pathologist at Louisiana State university, is stationed at Key West Barracks, Fla. . . . Lt. Harry A. TRELEVEN has been assigned to the Pine Bluff Arsenal, Ark. . . . John VAN LOERT, who left his university position in the art education department this summer to go into service, is now training at Camp Wallace, Tex., Anti-Aircraft Training center. . . . J. Sherburne ELFNER is now working for Uncle Sam — since Oct. 5.

1935

Lt. Bernard H. AILTS, having received his first lieutenant's commission in the army medical corps, air service, has been stationed at the Station hospital, Barksdale field, Shreveport, La. . . . Lt. Gene ARENSON has been assigned to the 77th Armored Medical bn., Camp Polk, La. . . . Alton L. CARDINAL is attending Engineer Officer's Candidate school at Ft. Belvoir, Va. . . . Lt. Theodore W. DASLER, S. G., is at sea on the U.S.S. Aylwin. . . . Maj. Richard W. FELLOWS is with the 30th Bombardier group, March field, Calif. . . . Pvt. David GOLDING, transferred from Langley field to "somewhere in England" with the 817th Engineering battalion, aviation, writes, "I'm editing a battalion paper which I'm enclosing. I believe we are the only aviation engineer unit in the British Isles to publish one in the field." It's an interesting paper, and from the sound of things, life in England isn't half bad. . . . Lt. John E. GORMAN, medical corps, is at sea on the U.S.S. Mississippi. . . . Ens. John C. HICKMAN is now on active duty with the USNR. . . . Maj. Harold M. KEEFFE, Air corps, is stationed at Wright field, Dayton, O. . . . Lt. Wallace C. LIBERTY, with the 297th Inf. in Alaska, writes, "This is one damn fine country and not full of icebergs and igloos as the third grade geographies would lead one to believe. Over half of my outfit are Eskimos, and they are smart people and good soldiers." . . . Lt. Gil MC DONALD, Air corps, has been assigned to the office of the Commanding General, A.A.F., Washington, D. C. . . . William M. PALMER, who recently received his second lieutenant's commission, is with Co. B., 6th bn., O.R.T.C., Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md. . . . Capt. Harry M. PIKE is with the Army Air corps in the Yunnan province, China. . . . Pvt. Arvin H. QUAM has been transferred from Ft. Benjamin Harrison to the Post Finance office, Ft. Lewis, Washington. . . . Maj. William J. VAN RYZIN, of the Marines, may have been one of the unnamed heroes of the Solomon islands clash — he's with Marine corps unit 535, c/o Postmaster, San Francisco. . . . Lt. Oliver SCHANTZ is with the 80th A. regt., 8th div., at Ft. Knox, Ky. . . . Pvt. Arthur R. SCHULTZ is in the 80th Signal co., Camp Forest, Tenn. . . . Lt. Carl A. TURMO has been assigned to the 5th Squadron HQ, C.R.T.C., Ft. Riley, Kan. . . . Maj. William R. WENDT is at the Marine base, San Diego, Calif. . . . Solly MANASSE took part in the battle for Bataan as a staff sergeant with the 200 Coast Artillery.

1936

Merton R. ALBRECHT is in the First Communication squadron, March Field, Calif. . . . Fred BENEDICT is an officer's candidate in Co. F, 2nd Engineering School regt., Ft. Belvoir, Va. . . . Bernard BURTON, Battery A, 202 C.A., Seattle, Wash., writes, "Am now serving along with two other former U.W. men in a searchlight battalion guarding defense projects on Puget Sound. There is little glory in the life and though as yet no action, at least plenty of hard work." . . . Capt. H. W. DIETRICH has been transferred from Arizona to the 317th Medical bn., 92nd div., Ft. McClellan, Ala. . . . Lt. Joseph E. FISHELSON has just finished a course in rifles and heavy weapons at Ft. Benning, and has begun parachute school there. . . . Lt. (J.G.) Frederick GERRETSON is attending photography school at the Naval Air station, Pensacola, Fla. . . . Edwin O. GUNWALD, storekeeper, second class, Bremerton, Wash., writes, "It might be kinda embarrasin' if my creditors should find out where I am, but nostalgia for the old campus and the four lakes has caught me in a weak moment. Have worked as reporter on Texas papers and around Boston since graduation in '36, and am now in the naval reserve in the Puget Sound area. Plenty of water and scenery here." . . . Here's the address of Lt. William H. HAIGHT, overseas — Co. C, 2nd Inf., APO 5, c/o Postmaster, New York City. . . . Lt. Roy B. LARSEN, medical corps, has been stationed at Camp Grant, Ill., since his call to active duty in June. . . . Lt. John L. LEHIGH, overseas, is with Co. E., 127th Inf. Address APO 32, c/o Postmaster, San Francisco. . . . Lt. Vernon O. PETERSON's address is 500 McCormick bldg., Chicago. . . . Lt. Alfred PRINZ, Jr., QM department, is stationed at Will Rogers field, Oklahoma City. . . . Lt. Charles L. RICKS is at Talladega, Ala. . . . Capt. Gaylord W. SCHULTZ's last copy of the Badger Quarterly finally caught up to him — after going first to his Minneapolis residence, then forwarded to Randolph field, Tex., then to Brooks field, Tex., and finally reaching him at the Lubbock Army Flying school, where he is now commanding officer. . . . Capt. Isiah SIGMAN, air corps, is stationed at Sioux Falls,

S. D. . . . Dr. Orrin E. SWENSON, a flight surgeon with the American air force at New Delhi, India, has been recently promoted to the rank of major. Pending arrival of his superior, Maj. Swenson had been serving as chief medical officer of the 10th Area in India. He flew to India across the Atlantic to Cairo, and then to New Delhi in a bomber, with only three of its four motors running while over the ocean. Maj. Swenson reported a temperature of 140 degrees on one summer day there. . . . Ens. Emmett L. TABAT, USNR, is in the Navy department of Management Engineering, Washington, D. C. . . . Lt. Myron J. THOMPSON has been transferred from MacDill Field, Fla., to the 25th Technical School squadron, Lowry field, Colo. . . . Capt. W. J. TOMPKINS is on the teaching staff at Ft. Benning, Ga. . . . Ens. John C. WHITNEY is "somewhere on the ocean." . . . Pvt. Raymond E. WICKUS is completing his officer's training course at Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Ind. . . . Capt. P. M. WILKINSON's address is now Co. F, 135th Medical regt., APO 923, c/o Postmaster, San Francisco. . . . Capt. A. W. WONDERLEY is now with the War department in Washington, D. C.

1937

William E. ABRAM is with the 52nd Air Base squadron at Morrison field, W. Palm Beach, Fla. . . . Capt. Lowell H. BALLINGER, signal corps, is stationed at Riverside, Calif. . . . Sgt. Max BASSEWITZ is in the Quartermaster detachment at Fort Riley, Kan. . . . Capt. Clyde E. BAY is now at Ft. McClellan, Ala., where he is commander of a company of colored troops. . . . Joseph D. BICHLER is stationed at Ft. Sill, Okla. . . . Lt. Eugene P. BOARDMAN is overseas with the U. S. Marines. . . . William H. BRIGGS who enlisted in the Navy as an instructor in the Navy's physical conditioning program under Comm. Gene Tunney, has been transferred to the Great Lakes training station after preliminary training at Norfolk, Va. . . . Pvt. Carl CHERIN is in an Army antiaircraft battery at Ft. Eustis, Va. . . . Dr. Dann B. CLANDON, who has been stationed at the Station hospital, Camp Grant, Ill., was promoted from first lieutenant to captain in July. . . . Cpl. Sherman J. COVET is with the 1900 SCU, Ft. Douglas, Utah. . . . Lt. Wallace T. DREW, adjutant of the 12th Engineer Motorized battalion, is stationed at Ft. Jackson, S. C. . . . Ens. W. M. FLEMING is communications officer for the Supervisor of Shipbuilding, Bethlehem Steel Co., San Francisco, Calif. He writes, "Am living at 2719 Isabelle ave., San Mateo, with my wife and son Bill. Met Brother Phi Gam E. Gordon FINDLEY by chance recently. He is a second lieutenant in the Army, stationed at 41st Bomber HQ, Fresno, Calif." . . . Lt. George N. FOWELL is stationed at Camp Croft, S. C., with the 32nd Infantry battalion. . . . Conrad J. FRANTZ is adjutant of the 804th Signal Service regt., Camp Crowder, Mo. . . . Ens. Edmund J. FRAZER, USNR, is now in Washington, D. C. . . . Ens. Max M. GOISMAN is in San Juan, Puerto Rico. . . . Ens. Robert L. GREENHALGH is stationed at the Naval Training school, Local Defense Section base, Treasure Island, San Francisco, Calif. . . . Sgt. Jason GRISELL is at HQ C, Marine Reserve corps, Camp Grant, Ill. . . . Pvt. Charles B. GRUNOW, who entered the Army in June, is receiving training as a radio operator at Sioux Falls, S. D. . . . Pvt. Marshall B. HANKS is with Co. C. at Camp Cooke, Calif. . . . Corp. Lyman J. HOUFEK is with HQ Co. 1610 Coast Artillery, Camp Grant, Ill. . . . Hugh D. INGERSOLL writes, "I am a private in the Army Air Forces on detached service from 13 Base HQ and Air Base squadron, Bolling field, assigned to HQ Army Air forces in Washington, D. C." . . . Lt. E. N. JONES is adjutant of the 15th Infantry Training battalion, Camp Wheeler, Ga. . . . Lt. Allen R. KITTLESON is with the 6th Armored division, Camp Chaffee, Ark. . . . Ens. Hugh L. LUCAS has been named the security, welfare, and division officer at the Navy's school for radiomen and signalmen at the University of Chicago. . . . Frederick H. MUELLER has been promoted from first lieutenant to captain. Capt. Mueller is supply officer in the Medical Field Service school detachment at Carlisle Barracks, Pa. . . . Ens. Charles O. NEWLIN is a deck officer on a mine sweeper based at New London, Conn. . . . Robert L. OLSEN is a musician, second class, at the U. S. Naval Training school, Navy pier, Chicago. . . . Capt. Richard W. REIERSON has taken command of the 629th Technical School squadron at Gulfport field, the newest Army Air forces aviation mechanics school. . . . Bill RILEY, Corpus Christi, Tex., declined his reunion invitation with "Sorry, but there's a war going on that seems to require my presence and not on the bonnie brown banks of Mendota." . . . Tech. Sgt. Robert D. POLATSEK is in the public relation bureau of the HQ Armored force, Ft. Knox, Ky. . . . Sampson SHARFF is in a Coast Artillery battery, Ft. Crockett, Tex. . . . Lt. Louis A. SCHAUER is overseas with the 431st Bomb squadron. . . . Lt. Fred C. SCHWANBERG's address is 63rd Chemical depot co., APO 1233, c/o Postmaster, N.Y.C. . . . Lt. Richard C. SHANNON was transferred from Carlisle barracks to the 81st Medical battalion, Camp Polk, La. . . . Lt. Paul SKOW, who was serving with the Filipino Scouts on Bataan before its fall, is "missing in action," according to a War department communique. . . . Pvt. Everett A. STECKER is with HQ detachment, 325th Infantry, 82nd division, Camp Claiborne, La. . . . Robert E. STROHMANN has been promoted to sergeant at the Army Air forces Basic Flying school at Marana, Calif. He was transferred there from Chico field, Calif. . . . Pvt. J. W. WARFIELD is stationed at Ft. Sheridan, Ill. . . . Pfc. Wayne W. WETLAUFER is with the 1607th medical detachment at Ft. Sheridan, Ill. . . . Chief Specialist Theodore F. WIEDENBECK is at the U. S. Naval Training station at Norfolk, Va. . . . Pvt. Robert F. WILDE, formerly on the faculty at Marquette university in the zoology department, is in the 59th Medical training battalion at Camp Barkeley, Tex. . . . Cadet Henry S. WILLIAMS, former secretary to Sen. Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., was commissioned as a second lieutenant in the U. S. Army after graduating from the Chemical Warfare Service Officer Candidate school at Edgewood Arsenal, Md. . . . Carl H. ZEHMS has entered the Army.

1938

Mason BAER is in the U. S. Navy. . . . Cpl. Walter B. BAUMEISTER is overseas with Co. I, 128th Infantry. . . . Cpl. Donald C. BOOTH is now attending Officer Candidate school at Ft. Sill, Okla. He writes, "Spent 8 months in Hawaii. Sailed on Dec. 6 for the Philippines, but did an about face on Dec. 7. Then sailed again from San Francisco on Dec. 16, arriving in Honolulu Dec. 22. Sent back for officer training in July. Sorry, but I can't mention some of the experiences we had on the Islands." . . . Cadet William F. BRAASCH, Jr., is in Co. I, regiment of Cadets, Edgewood Arsenal, Md. . . . Lt. Col. George W. G. CARNACHAN, Chemical Warfare service, is at Pine Bluff Arsenal, Ark. . . . Cpl. Roger E. COON is overseas with Service co., 128th Infantry. . . . Pat W. COTTER, after receiving his second lieutenant's commission from Ft. Benning in May, was stationed with the 76th Infantry, Ft. Meade, Md. . . . Robert J. CRIKELAIR is in the Finance department, Camp Roberts, Calif. Duane E. DICKERSON is "somewhere at sea" with the Navy. . . . Cpl. Peter J. DORAN is stationed at Ft. McClellan, Ala. . . . Leon C. DOSCH is in Australia with the 135th Medical regiment as a pharmacist. . . . Lt. Charles "Chuck" FENSKE is back in Madison again — at the Army Air Force Technical school here. Oct. 10, W Club day at the Wisconsin-Missouri football game, "Chuck" presented the gold Ws to the new members of the W club. . . . Cpl. Robert H. GALE is with Co. D. 260th QM battalion, Tacoma, Wash. . . . Lt. Irving R. GLICK is stationed at Barksdale field, Shreveport, La. . . . Percy M. GOLDSTEIN has enlisted in the U.S.N.R. as a yeoman, third class, and is undergoing training at the Great Lakes station. . . . Lt. Richard H. GOLDSTONE graduated in September from the Army Air Forces statistical school at Harvard university, Mass. . . . Charles D. GOFF is now in the Army. . . . Lt. Sidney S. GRANT has reported for duty at the Selfridge Field Base hospital, Mich., after receiving his M. D. degree from Marquette university this summer. . . . Aviation Cadet Lowell G. HAUJEN is receiving training at Scott field, Ill. . . . Sgt. Roger L. JOHNSON is with the eastern branch of the AEF. . . . Pvt. Arthur W. KAPITANOFF is with the 405th Technical school squadron, Sheppard field, Tex. . . . Francis P. LARME is a lieutenant, junior grade, aboard the U.S.S. Neches. . . . Pvt. Arthur C. LARSEN is at Ft. Bragg, N. C., with Battery A, 14th battalion, F.A.R.C. . . . Maj. Aldro LINGARD is stationed at HQ, 10th Naval district, San Juan, Puerto Rico. . . . Cpl. Bernard E. METZ is stationed at Jefferson barracks, Mo. . . . Lt. Rodney K. PETERSON, Marine Air Navy, sends his address as Rancho Santa Fe, Box 11, Calif. . . . Ens. Bruce J. ROGERS, USNR, is at Ft. Schuyler, Bronx, N. Y. . . . Aviation Cadet George ROONEY, after completing his pre-flight training at Kelly field, Tex., is now completing his pilot's course at Coleman, Tex. He writes, "I made my first solo flight a few weeks ago, and our instructors are really putting us through a stiff course. I like it very much and hope I can make the grade. I have a score to settle with those Japs, and am anxiously awaiting my chance. I won't complain, though, if my opponents are Nazis." . . . Lt. William H. SCHULER, medical corps, is at the station hospital, Napier field, Dothan, Ala. . . . Pvt. Leonard H. SIEGEL's address: HQ & HQ detachment, 1st Proving battalion, Pakenham station, New Orleans, La. . . . Aviation Cadet Edwin V. SMART is finishing his navigator's course at Ellington field, Tex. . . . Ralph L. STEITZ, yeoman second class, USNR, is doing personnel work in the Ship's Writer's office at the Naval Training school, Chicago, Ill. . . . Lt. Robert TAYLOR has been transferred to the Holding and Reconsignment point at Voorheesville, N. Y. . . . Pfc. James A. THOMAS is overseas with the 128th Infantry Regiment. . . . Lt. William H. UPHAM is probably with the AEF in England, in the 11th Infantry regiment. . . . Maj. James S. VAUGHAN is in the 1st division signal corps at Arlington, Va. . . . Lt. Henry K. VOIGT is with Co. A, 13th Engineer battalion, APO 7, Los Angeles, Calif. . . . John D. WILSON is a physical fitness instructor in the US Navy. . . . Lt. H. E. WIRTH has been assigned to Harding field, Station Medical detachment, Baton Rouge, La.

1939

Sgt. Paul L. ALTPETER has been in continuous service since October 1940 with Battery A, 126th Field Artillery band. He is now in New York at Ft. Hamilton. . . . Ralph J. ANDERSON is attending the Army Air force officer candidate school, Miami Beach, Fla. . . . Pvt. Alvah T. AXTELL is in Student Co. A, 1st

Engineer school regt., Ft. Belvoir, Va. . . . Phillip B. BOCHER is at the U. S. Naval Air station, Jacksonville, Fla. . . . John A. BOEHCK, lieutenant, junior grade, is with an aircraft delivery unit, Terminal Island, San Pedro, Calif. . . . Lt. Walter E. BOND has been assigned to Co. C, 6th battalion, Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo. . . . Cadet Edward G. BRILL is taking his pre-flight training at Iowa City. . . . Lt. Ernest D. DAVIS is in the medical corps of the Army. . . . Cpl. William ENDER has been admitted to the armored force officer candidate school at Ft. Knox, after having been stationed at Ft. Custer, Mich., for 18 months. . . . Pvt. Ronald R. FAUST is in the 30th Technical school squadron at Scott Field, Ill. . . . Lt. Floyd H. GUTTORMSEN is in Co. S, 1st Student Training regt., Ft. Benning Ga. . . . Preston S. HALLMAN, Jr., is an aviation cadet at Randolph field, Tex. . . . Cpl. Gerald K. HARRIS is stationed at Camp Swift, Tex., with the 358th Field Artillery. . . . Homer HASWELL is training at the Great Lakes Naval station, Ill. . . . Lt. Arnold HEGGESTAD is in Australia with Co. H, 128th Infantry. . . . Robert C. INGOLD graduated from recruit training at the Great Lakes station as honor man of his company. He enlisted in September as apprentice seaman. . . . Pvt. Charles J. KALLEVANG is in the 34th Medical training battalion at Camp Grant, Ill. . . . Lt. Paul J. KANE received his commission in August at the Lubbock Army Flying school, Tex. He took his primary training at Coleman, Tex., and basic at Perrin Field. . . . Cadet Arthur C. KIEFER is in the Regiment of Cadets at Edgewood Arsenal, Md. . . . Aviation Cadet Stanley F. KIRSCHMAN is learning the important role of navigator at Ellington Field, Tex. . . . Pvt. N. Jerome KIVLIN writes from Wm. Beaumont General hospital, El Paso, Tex., "I have been hospitalized here for nearly three months and certainly appreciate the news of the campus that reaches me through the Alumni association." . . . Pvt. Gerald LAMBOLEY is stationed at Ft. Dix, N. J. . . . Gordon G. LANGENKAMP, chief specialist in athletics, USNR, is attending the physical instructor's school at the Norfolk, Va., Naval training school. . . . Staff Sgt. Donald F. LANPHEAR is attending the Finance officer's candidate school at Duke university, Durham, N. C. He will receive his second lieutenant's commission at the completion of the course. . . . Warren H. LELAND has been transferred from 102nd Cavalry, Ft. Jackson, S. C., to HQ 1, Army Corps, 1313 Green St., Columbia, S. C. . . . Cpl. Walter H. LINDERUD is a hospital attendant at the Army Air base, Greenville, S. C. . . . Capt. John W. MANN has been transferred from Edgewood Arsenal to the 82nd Chemical battalion, Ft. Bliss, Tex., where he is battalion adjutant. . . . Pvt. Frederick M. MARSH is

Lieut. Raymond A. Nicklas, '45, Green Bay, graduated from Ellington Field

Lieut. Preston S. Hallman, Jr., '39, Fond du Lac, graduated from Foster Field

Lieut. Edward G. Fitch, '40, Racine, graduated from Kelly Field

Lieut. Bernard A. Britts, '41, Wauwatosa, graduated from Foster Field

Lieut. John R. Sorensen, '42; Necedah, graduated from Lake Charles

Lieut. James W. Nesbitt, '41, Elwood, Illinois, graduated from Lake Charles

Lieut. Richard C. Mautner, '41, Madison, graduated from Foster Field

Lieut. Robert M. Hawkinson, '41, Green Bay, graduated from Lake Charles

Lieut. Robert M. Spika, '44, Racine, graduated from Ellington Field

Lieut. Wilbert A. Riemer, '41, Merrill, AAF Navigation School, Hondo, Texas

Lieut. George P. Bahler, '41, Wauwatosa, graduated from Kelly Field

Lieut. Gordon W. Fisher, '42, Waukesha, graduated from Moore Field

They Fly With Angels . . .

Lieut. Don R. Urquhart,
'43, Medford, graduated from Brooks Field

Lieut. Leonard O. Riemer,
'35, Merrill, graduated from Moore Field

Lieut. Howard W. Larson,
'39, Milwaukee, graduated from Lubbock
Field

Staff Sgt. Robert I.
Ward, '41, Madison, graduated from Ellington
Field

Lieut. Frederick J. Hessler,
'43, Sheboygan, AAF
Navigation School, Honolulu, Texas

Lieut. Rex I. Chalker,
'36, Milwaukee, graduated from Kelly Field

Lieut. Charles C. Wylie,
'41, Milwaukee, graduated from Lubbock Field

Lieut. William S. Malone,
'43, Waukesha, graduated from Foster
Field

Lieut. Daniel D. Nauman,
'44, Milwaukee,
graduated from Ellington
Field

Lieut. Andrew J. Koszarek,
'39, Antigo, graduated from Lubbock
Field

Lieut. William C. Solisburg,
'41, Aurora, Illinois, graduated from Kelly Field

High Above Radiant Clouds

The navy department has designed an escort vessel to carry the name of Frederick Curtis DAVIS, '39, who was among the first men killed in action at Pearl Harbor.

Ensign Davis killed aboard the U.S.S. Nevada, was also awarded the Navy Cross posthumously by President Roosevelt.

The service for which the Navy Cross was presented is set forth in the following citation:

"For distinguished service,

Ensign F. Curtis Davis

extraordinary courage and devotion to duty during the attack on the Fleet in Pearl Harbor, Territory of Hawaii, by Japanese forces on December 7, 1941. Since no ship's planes were aboard the U.S.S. Nevada, Ensign Davis on his own initiative and in a heroic effort to be of the greatest usefulness to his ship, was proceeding to the foremast structure to take charge of the forward anti-aircraft machine gun battery when killed by a bomb explosion."

stationed at Atlantic City, N. J. . . . Lt. Tully A. MAYER is now adjutant of the 56th Medical Training battalion at Camp Barkeley, Tex. In addition to his administrative duties, as battalion Special Service officer, he organized baseball and boxing teams that won the camp championship. . . . Gaylord O. MICKELSON is in an aviation cadet detachment at Lowry Field, Denver, Colo. . . . Paul E. MILLER's present address is unknown, according to word received from his father. . . . Lt. Melvin M. MUELLER is stationed at Chanute field, Rantoul, Ill. . . . Robert D. NASH is taking navigation training at the Army Air Force Navigation school at Hondo, Tex. . . . Lt. Edward PACAUSKY is in the 22nd Bombardier group, somewhere overseas. . . . Pvt. Tom PARRISH is stationed at Jefferson Barracks, Mo. . . . Marvin E. RACE is at the 1607th C.A.S.U. Station hospital, Ft. Sheridan, Ill. . . . Donald F. RAHN is at Buckley field, Colo. . . . Midshipman Robert W. REHFELD is temporarily at Abbott hall, Chicago, Ill. . . . Ens. John S. REZBA is in Chicago as a member of the U. S. Coast Guard Reserve. . . . W. John REYNOLDS is now in the Navy, stationed at the U. S. Naval Recruiting station, Plankinton Arcade bldg., Milwaukee. . . . Lt. Donald F. ROBERTS is with the 73rd Pursuit squadron at Wheeler Field, Ter. of Hawaii. . . . William SCHEMPF is a cadet in the meteorology division of the Army Air force, training at New York University. . . . Staff Sgt. Jack M. ROBINSON is in HQ squadron at the Army Air Force Technical school at Goldsboro, N. C. . . . William C. SCHENDEL was honor man of his class which graduated from the U. S. Naval hospital corps school at Great Lakes, and was promoted to the rank of hospital apprentice, first class. . . . Cpl. Melvin I. SCHIFTER, P. O. Box No. 242, New Orleans, La., is doing confidential work in the Army. . . . Lt. Malcolm S. SANDERS is a bombardier in the Army Air corps. . . . Kermit C. SEVERSEN is training at Great Lakes as a radio technician, second class. . . . Pvt. Robert W. SHACKTON is in Co. C, 72nd bn., 15th Training regt., Camp Joseph T. Robinson, Ark. . . . Cadet Kenneth D. SLOCUM is taking officer's training at the QM school, Camp Lee, Petersburg, Va. . . . Pfc. Milton D. SPEIZMAN has been transferred to station hospital, Brooks Field, Tex. . . . Sgt. David H. STEINBERG, 24th Infantry div., writes from overseas, "Notice that Wisconsin has quite a large representation in the services stationed in Hawaii. With the assistance of the Alumnus, we shouldn't have much difficulty in locating one another." . . . Leo E. SVITAVSKY received his second lieutenant's commission in mid-July at Ft. Benning Infantry school. . . . Harmon H. SWANTZ, petty officer second class, is at sea off the East coast near Newport, R. I. . . . Francis W. THOMPSON, chief specialist, USNR, is teaching prospective sailors the principles of seamanship. . . . Pvt. Eugene TOEPEL is stationed at Camp Wallace, Tex., with the 28th Coast Artillery Training battalion. . . . Lt. Richard C. TOTMAN is with an observation group in England. . . . Ens. Frederick E. VIKEN is at sea aboard the U.S.S. Minneapolis. . . . Lt. J. M. WERNER is a flight commander in the Army Air forces and, by this date, has left the United States for foreign service. . . . Lt. Allen S. ZIEN, Army Air Corps, is at Sloan field, Midland, Tex. . . . Preston S. HALLMAN and Donald G. WESTERBEKE were together at Randolph field, early this summer, taking their basic flying training. Westerbeke received his commission in September as a second lieutenant at the Lubbock Army Flying school, Tex. . . . Pfc. Jean C. HODGIN was promoted to the rank of corporal recently at the Davis-Monthan Field, Tucson, Ariz.

1940

Lt. Robert A. ANDERSON's address is 7th Station hospital, APO 1233, c/o Postmaster, N.Y.C. . . . Pvt. Wilfred BANK, 102 C.A.A.A. battery, writes, "I arrived in Australia March 9 and have been at our present position ever since. I accidently met Staff Sergeant Floyd VAN SICKEL, a brother alumnus, who is with the 138th Medical, Co. H, and it was grand reading university news in the latest Wisconsin State Journal (April 18) paper that he had." . . . Lt. Robert J. BARTELME has reported to the "West Point of the Air", Randolph field, Tex., to continue his training as a bombing pilot. . . . Lt. Bernard B. BECKER's last known address was Rizal, P. I., but he has been moved since the first of the year. An aerial photographer, he is undoubtedly participating in America's bombing raids on the Axis. . . . Eldor L. BERNIEN is overseas with the 453rd Ordnance Co., aviation. . . . Robert E. BLOCK is stationed at Duncan field, Tex., with the 13th Repair squadron. . . . Maj. Gordon M. BLY is ground school director at Perrin field, Tex. . . . Lt. John T. BODE, U. S. Marines, is now at Quantico, Va. . . . Lt. Urban W. BORESCH, overseas with the 34th Engineers, has been promoted to captain. . . . Aviation Cadet D. W. BUSSE, after completing his basic training at Enid Army Flying school, was sent to the Air Corps Advanced Flying school, Brooks Field, Tex. . . . Cpl. Robert E. CARISCH has received a promotion and transfer — he is now Lt. Carisch and is stationed at San Bernardino Air depot, San Bernardino, Calif. . . . Cleo O. CARLSON, yeoman 3rd class, is a typist in the log room aboard the U.S.S. Idaho. . . . Lt. James G. CARROLL, abroad with the 394th Bomb squadron, writes, "It surely is swell to hear from you and learn what you are doing back in Shangrai-La as it seems from here; what you are doing, by the way, seems to be considerable!" . . . Lt. Melvin J. CHADA is stationed with the 84th Chemical battalion, Camp Rucker, Ala. . . . Lt. (j.g.) William F. CHARLES, USNR, is stationed at section base, Bishop's Point, Oahu, T.H. . . . Elizabeth COCKRELL, accepted as an officer candidate in the WAACs, was in the second company to be trained at Ft. Des Moines. . . . Aviation Cadet Douglas CRAMER is at Santa Ana, Calif., A.F.R.T.C. . . . Pfc. Robert F. CURTISS, who entered the Army June 1, obtained his basic training at Camp Grant, Ill., in the Medical corps, and at present is stationed in Chicago attached to the QM depot as an inspector of dairy products and meat. . . . Lt. Jesse C. DIETZ, Jr., is overseas with the 819th Engineer battalion. . . . Lt. Constant C. DELWICHE is with the 88th Infantry at Ft. Bragg, N. C. . . . Lt. Jack W. DENGEL is an instructor in the 417th Infantry regt., Ft. George Meade, Md. . . . Robert DES JARLAIS is stationed at Ft. Sill, Okla., in the F.A.R.T.C.

. . . Lt. Wilson H. DONKLE is with the 97th Observation squad, Miami, Fla. . . . Bernard C. DREGNE, Viroqua, a former member of the farm security administration staff at Medford, has been commissioned as a 2nd Lt., having graduated from Ft. Monmouth, N. J., where he is receiving two months additional training. . . . Lt. Ward C. DUNLOP, Army Air corps, is stationed at San Angelo, Tex. . . . John A. DUNSTER is warrant officer in the 301st Ordnance regt., Camp Sutton, N. C. . . . Pfc. Stewart EDGERTON is with HQ Detachment, 772nd Military Police battalion, Ft. Ord, Calif. . . . Thomas J. FAUST is detachment commander of Detachment 905 QM Co., Rome Airport depot, N. Y. . . . Cadet Leo H. FLASCH is in the 2nd battalion at the Naval Aviation Pre-flight school at Iowa City. . . . Pfc. H. Weldon FRASE is "somewhere in Australia" with the 128th Inf., 1st battalion HQ Co. . . . Joseph A. FREID is a navigation cadet at the Army Air Forces Navigation school, Nondo, Tex. . . . Sgt. Hugh N. FRENZEL is stationed at the Army Gunnery school, Las Vegas, Nev. . . . Within the last four months, John F. GALLEGHER, Jr., has been promoted from Corporal to Technical sergeant to Officer Candidate. He is now at the Air Corps Administrative officers school, Miami Beach, Fla. . . . Stephen E. GAVIN has been inducted into the Army. . . . Robert W. GERHARDT is overseas with the 31st Interceptor control squad, APO 1109, San Francisco, Calif. . . . Merlin H. GOEHRING is doing "secret, confidential" work for the War department. His address is Box 242, New Orleans, La. . . . Ens. William P. GOODRICH, USNR, is in the office of Officer Procurement, Roanoke bldg., Minneapolis, Minn. . . . Don C. HARRISON is attending the Naval Reserve Mishipmen's school, U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md. . . . Sgt. Richard HELZ is stationed at Camp Chaffee, Ark. . . . Pvt. Walter C. ISENBERG, Jr., is in the 509th Ordnance Co., Camp Carson, Colo. . . . Lt. Daniel JAKOVICH is in Australia. . . . Cpl. Roger F. JENSEN is at the Reception center, HQ & HQ Co., Ft. Snelling, Minn. He writes, "I interview newly inducted selectees here. And when I sit at my desk conducting an interview, I try to remember the essential elements of 'every good interview' as we studied them in Don Lescohier's class in personnel management." . . . Lt. Donald R. KEEBAUGH is in Australia with the 832nd Signal Service Co. . . . Lt. Richard T. KEELEY, Army Air Force, is at Barksdale Field, Shreveport, La. . . . Lt. Martin A. KWITEK is with the 556th Signal Air Warning battalion, overseas. . . . Lt. Aleron H. LARSON, in service somewhere in the Australian combat zone, was recently wounded in action. . . . Harvey J. LE DAIN is in the Chemical Warfare Service, Huntsville Arsenal, Ala.

. . . Pvt. Louis LEPOYETZ is in the Service Co., 757th Tank battalion, Camp Young, Calif. . . . Pvt. Ralph LEWANDOWSKI has recently entered the army. . . . Lt. Walter A. LIEDKE is in Brighton, Mass., in the Army Signal Corps. . . . Sgt. Wayne A. LONG is at present in Chicago. . . . Ens. Henry Q. LUNDGREN is attending the Harvard Naval Training station, Cambridge, Mass. . . . Lt. Joseph L. MARUCHECK is stationed with the 87th Mountain Infantry regt., Ft. Lewis, Wash. . . . Jack E. MARTIN is attending the Officer Candidate school at Miami Beach, Fla. . . . Pfc. Wendell C. MATTHEWS is overseas in Base Section 4, HQ & HQ Co. . . . Ralph H. MOELLER, chief specialist in the USNR, has been transferred to the Great Lakes Naval Training station. . . . Sgt. George N. MUELLER is located at HQ of the 581st Technical School squadron, Miami Beach, Fla. . . . Henry F. NELSON is attending pre-flight school at Iowa City. . . . Lt. Donald W. PAFFEL received his commission in the Army Air Corps July 3 at Ellington field, Tex. . . . Sgt. Jan PEEKE, Army Air Corps, is somewhere in England. . . . Ens. John F. PETTEY, Jr., is in the office of the U. S. Naval hospital, Mare Island, Calif. . . . Cpl. Russell P. POLLOCK is stationed at Barksdale field, La., with the 44th Bomb squadron. . . . Pvt. Vern W. RAUK is at Ft. Wm. Harrison, Helena, Mont., in the First Special Service. . . . Carl H. SAUNDERS received his second lieutenant's commission in July at the QM school at Camp Lee, Va. . . . Lt. Lee SAVORIAS is assigned to the 79th Artillery div., Camp Pickett, Va. . . . Clarence J. SCHIESSER is attending the 2nd Engineer school regt., Ft. Belvoir, Va. . . . Joseph T. SCHMIDLING is at Scott field, Ill., in the 561st Technical School squadron. . . . Aviation Cadet Winfield S. SCOVELL has been training at Mather field, Sacramento, Calif. . . . Lt. David D. SELTZER is in the 377th Engineer battalion, Camp Pickett, Va. . . . Lt. (j.g.) John H. SENFT reported Oct. 1 at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Cambridge, for several months instruction in aeronautical engineering. . . . Lt. Bronislaus V. SLOTWINSKI is in the 101 Field Artillery battalion at Camp A. P. Hill, Fredericksburg, Va. . . . James G. SOLBERG, after completing his training in the twin-engine bomber type of aircraft at Lubbock Army Flying school, received his second lieutenant's commission in July. . . . Lt. Rosario SORBELLO has been transferred from Ft. Jackson, S. C., to the 350th Infantry, 88th div., Camp Gruber, Okla. . . . Pvt. Stanley A. SPRECHER is now in the Classification office, HQ Co., Engineer's Amphibian command, Camp Edwards, Mass. Although inducted in May, Pvt. Sprecher received his Master of Science degree from Oregon State College in absentia. . . . Lt. Chester P. SURPRISE is now stationed in Osborn, O. . . . Navigation Cadet William TOOLE received his second lieutenant's commission in the Army Air Corps at Turner field, Albany, Ga., in June. . . . Frederick J. VELDE is technical sergeant at the Army Air Force Technical school here in Madison. . . . John C. WARE is in Australia with the 32nd division. . . . Lt. Robert G. WARNEK is overseas in an Electronics Training group. . . . Wayland B. WATERS, who enlisted in the Coast Guard Reserve in June, expects to get his ensign's commission this fall at the Groton Coast Guard Station, Groton, Conn. . . . Robert D. WENDROFF, in the Philippines since last September, has not been heard from since February. He is listed by the War department as "missing in action." . . . Pvt. Carl L. WIEGAND is in the 12th Technical School squadron, Scott field, Ill. . . . Pvt. John A. WILKIE is in the finance department at Foster field, Victoria, Tex. . . . Pvt. Edward WISNEWSKY, at this time, is at Ft. Sheridan, Ill., Area E, Row 535. . . . Lt. Warren WILKE is stationed at Camp Robinson, Ark., in the 12th Infantry regt. . . . Morris KONIER, Gunnar E. PETERSON, and Charles J. SEARL are attending the Air Force Navigation school at Hondo, Tex. At the end of their training, after flying some 15,000 miles in practice flights, they will receive second lieutenant's commissions.

1941

Joseph BARNETT is stationed at Jefferson Barracks, Mo., in the 28th Technical School squadron. . . . Harold W. BAUMAN is a junior radio engineer in the U. S. Signal Corps Radar labs, Camp Evans, Belmar, N. J. . . . Lt. Carl J. BLOOM is stationed at the Bangor Air base, Bangor, Me. . . . Pvt. Eric BROWN is in the 602nd Coast Artillery Antiaircraft, at Ft. Bliss, Tex. . . . Lee CARTERON, who received his first lieutenant's commission in mid-September, and is Special Service officer of the 355th Infantry regt. at Camp Carson, Colo., writes, "In this new set-up I will fill a captain's job and have only two men in my company. We are attached to the Service company and continue work even in the combat area. This office includes taking care of the morale and recreation of the regiment." . . . Pvt. Robert CASHDAN, QMC, is stationed at Ft. Francis E. Warren, Wyo. . . . Lt. Harry D. CLARKE is with a marine detachment aboard the U.S.S. Ranger. He writes, "Thanks for the letters, news, and Alumnus. It's swell to know what's going on at Wisconsin and where your classmates are and what they are doing." . . . Pvt. Arthur CARR is at Ft. Sheridan, Ill. . . . Pfc. John G. COLLIER is in HQ & HQ squadron, 8th Air force, somewhere in England. . . . Lt. A. Roger CONOUT, Marine Corps Reserve, will be at the Naval Aerial Photography school, Pensacola, Fla., until the first of the year. . . . Cadet Harry H. COOLIDGE, Jr., is attending the Naval Aviation pre-flight school at Iowa City. He writes that brother, alum, Ens. Fred GAGE, is in charge of his platoon. . . . Capt. Omar S. CROCKER is with the 128th Infantry in Australia. . . . R. T. CULL, lieutenant, junior grade, USNR, is at the Norfolk, Va., Naval station. . . . Joseph F. CURTIN, who enlisted in the Third Flying Badger unit, received his ensign's commission in August at Corpus Christi, Tex. . . . Pvt. Roy F. DAWE is stationed at Ft. Riley, Kan. . . . Lt. George H. DE CHOW is now at HQ IV Army Corps, Camp Beauregard, La. . . . Lt. Eugene A. DELWICHE's present address is APO 833, Co. H, 5th Infantry, c/o Postmaster, New Orleans, La. . . . Pvt. Holt G. DERRICK is stationed with Co. B, 81st Chemical Battalion, Ft. D. A. Russell, Tex. . . . Pvt. Edward A. DUE is at Jefferson Barracks, Mo., in HQ Flight, 359th Technical School squadron. . . . Ens. James C. DUER's address is YP-152, U. S. Fleet Post Office, Seattle, Wash. In Alaska, he says that the summer climate is pleasant — "we walk around in our shirt sleeves" — and that the scenery is wonderful. . . . Lt. Leo H. EBERHARDT is overseas with the Service company of the 11th Infantry. . . . Ens. Thomas R. FAVELL is at sea aboard the U.S.S. Nightingale. . . . Cpl. Heith H. FELLOWS writes, "I was in the first convoy to land in Australia. Have met several Wisconsin graduates over here and have heard of quite a few more in the vicinity. One was Lt. Eugene GRAUER, '38, Air Corps. No matter where one goes, he will always bump into a 'Fightin' Badger'." . . . Lt. Donald F. FOGELQUIST is an instructor at the Annapolis Naval Academy. . . . Cadet Joseph H. FRANK, in the 5th Flying Badger unit, has completed his pre-flight training at Iowa City. . . . John E. FROST is in the 1st Platoon company, 29th battalion, Camp Grant, Ill. . . . Lt. Jack R. GERLACH is the aide de camp to the brigadier general at Camp Breckinridge, Ky. . . . Allan A. GERSHON, storekeeper third class, is assigned to Transport squadron one, Naval Air station, Norfolk, Va. . . . Malcolm "Mac" GESTLAND received his ensign's commission in mid-summer at the Pensacola Naval station. . . . Cpl. John N. GILKEY is now in Champaign, Ill. . . . Russell GOEDJEN is an ensign in the USNR. . . . Raymond GLASSCO is at the Air Corps Gunnery school, HQ squadron, Harlington, Tex. . . . Aviation Cadet John D. GOSIN is taking his flight training at Stockton field, Calif. . . . Lt. Jerome M. GRUBER is stationed at Ft. Monroe, Va., with the 132nd Engineers. . . . Pvt. Leslie L. GRUBIN's Australian address is Medical department, General hospital No. 42, APO 1142, c/o Postmaster, San Francisco, Calif. . . . Lt. Roger N. HABERMAN was assigned to HQ, 7th Armored division, Camp Polk, La., in July, after receiving his commission at Ft. Knox. . . . George A. HACHETT, 17th Field Artillery, writes to tell us of a promotion to Technical Sergeant and that his outfit is leaving the country, probably to England. . . . Pvt. Walter C. HANSEN is stationed at Lowry field, Denver, Colo., in the 10th Technical School squadron. . . . Pvt. Bertram R. HARRIS is stationed at the N.Y. Port of Embarkation doing meat and dairy inspection. . . . Cecil T. HAUGEN received his second lieutenant's commission in the Army Air force at Lubbock Army Flying school, Tex., in July. . . . Lt. Howard HENRY is in the Army Air Force. . . . Ens. Kenneth E. HIGLEY is now living at 1219 Colony road, Fredericksburg, Va. . . . Harry J. HINCHLIFFE notifies us of "A slight change in status" — from private to second lieutenant. He is now in the 901st Field Artillery battalion, Ft. George Meade, Md. . . . Lt. Charles F. HOBART is training at the Municipal Airport, Mobile, Ala. . . . Lt. Harry M. HOBBS, Jr., is stationed at the Marine recruiting office, Quantico, Va. . . . Pvt. Robert HOFMANN is in the finance section at Ft. Sheridan, Ill. . . . Officer Candidate William J. HOFFMAN is attending the Army Air force candidate school at Miami Beach, Fla. . . . Cadet John A. HOPPE has finished his naval aviation pre-flight training at Iowa City. . . . Ens. John KAISER is stationed at the U. S. Coast Guard base, San Francisco, Calif. He spent the summer at the Coast Guard Academy, New London, Conn. . . . Robert KAILING, when last heard from, was in the Territory of Hawaii. . . . Lt. Harry S. KAUL is now in England. . . . Lt. Robert J. KOLAR, Signal Corps, is stationed at Ft. Monmouth, N. J. . . . Lt. John J. KOZUSZEK, Army Air corps, is training at Morreson field, West Palm Beach, Fla. . . . Lt. Harold R. KRESSIN is at the Barrage Balloon school, Camp Tyson, Tenn. Pvt. George JUETEMEYER's address is Group D, room 1512, 923d S.S., Atlantic City, N. J. . . . Pvt. Kenneth J. LA BUDDE, on leave from his position as senior library assistant at the Milwaukee Public library, is stationed in the HQ battery of the Antiaircraft Training center at Ft. Sheridan. . . . Pfc. Ted JOHNSON is in Iceland with the 11th Infantry. . . . Gerald C. LEIGH, HQ Co., 186th Infantry, is now in Australia. . . . Henry J. LOHRMAN is in the cadet detachment at Chanute field, Ill. . . . Allison P. LOOMER is chief meteorologist at the Air-Observer school (R.C.A.F.), Chatham, New Brunswick, Canada. . . . Pvt. Alwyn M. LOUDEN was transferred from Brookley field, Mobile, Ala., to the 9th Transport squadron, Camp Williams, Wis. . . . Cpl. Colin Rhys LOVELL is in the Field Artillery Reserve Corps band, Fayetteville, N. C. . . . Ens. Gordon V. MARLOW, Naval Air Corps, is stationed at San Diego, Calif. . . . Robert P. MARTENS is in the 96th Medical detachment, Coast Artillery Antiaircraft, stationed on one of the Hawaiian islands. . . . Lt. Thomas E. MARFING is attending the Chemical Warfare school, Edgewood Arsenal, Md. . . .

Aviation Cadet Richard C. MAUTNER is in search of his silver wings in the Army Air forces. He took his basic training at Enid Army Flying school, Okla. . . . Pvt. Jas. MC MILLAN is with the 368 Technical School squadron, Scott field, Ill. . . . Ens. Arthur N. MELHUSE is stationed at the USN Aviation base, Grosse Isle, Mich. . . . Sgt. Thomas D. MERRILL is at Edgewood Arsenal, Md., HQ & HQ Co. . . . Ens. Charles M. METCALF is aboard an aircraft carrier on the Pacific. . . . Pfc. Gordon NEILSON, Medical detachment, Camp McCoy, Wis., was in Madison for the Marquette-Badger game Oct. 3. Glen L. MONTAGUE, director of schools at Camp Joseph T. Robinson, Ark., writes, "It was really something for Wisconsin to hold Notre Dame to that 7-7 tie. It looks as if you have a real football team up there this year." . . . Warren E. NELSON has been attending officer candidate school at Ft. Washington, Md. . . . Robert E. NYHAGEN enlisted in the Naval Reserve as yeoman, third class, and took his training at the Great Lakes station. . . . Pvt. Carl S. OLSON is at HQ & HQ 9th Air Base, Chico Army Flying field, Chico, Calif. . . . Lt. Edward J. POLATSEK is overseas with Co. A, 2nd Infantry regt. . . . Clifford J. RADTKE, formerly a chemist with Standard Oil of New Jersey, is now in the 83d Chemical battalion, Camp Gordon, Ga. . . . Martin W. REINEMANN is stationed at Camp Elliott, Calif. . . . Ens. W. Paul RESOP is at the Naval Proving grounds, Dahlgren, Va. . . . Ens. Paul L. REUTER is in the Naval Reserve and is living in Flushing, N. Y. . . . Pvt. Siegfried RIES is stationed at Camp Claiborne, La., in the 333d Engineers. . . . Robert C. RISCH is now training for his ensign's commission. . . . Lt. Norman N. ROSEN, after graduating from QM Officer Candidate school at Camp Lee, Va., in April as a second lieutenant, was assigned first to Camp Chaffee, Ark., and is now with the 679th QM Co., Camp Sutton, N. C. He writes, "Got my commission just one month ahead of Ray ZAHN. The remarkable fact is that Ray and I entered Wisconsin the same year and took almost the identical course and later found ourselves together in the army." . . . Robert W. ROWNTREE is stationed at Kelly Field, Tex. . . . Jas. SCHAEFER has enlisted in the Signal Corps reserve, and will be at 5043 W. Washington blvd., Milwaukee, for the next month. . . . Clarence SCHOENFELD, who made newspaper history in Alaska with his army daily paper, recently graduated from Ft. Benning's officer candidate school with his second lieutenant's commission. . . . Vernon C. SCHROEDER enlisted in the Naval

Ex-Cardinal Ed. Clarence Schoenfeld now wears a second lieutenant's gold bar

Reserve and took his recruit training as hospital apprentice, first class at the Great Lakes Naval station. . . . Pfc. Owen N. SEAMONSON is stationed at Ft. Sheridan, Ill. . . . William D. SHERVEY has entered the Army. . . . Pvt. Johnnie SHORT is now at the station hospital, Hunter field, Savannah, Ga. . . . Cpl. Richard A. SIGGELKOW is in the 15th Signal Service regt., Monmouth, N. J. . . . Cpl. Martin SILVERMAN is in the 20th Air Depot group, New Orleans Airport, La. . . . William F. SPREHN was transferred to aviation cadet training, classified as a pilot, and is training at San Antonio, Tex. . . . Sgt. Clarence L. SMITH is in HQ detachment, 7th regt., Ft. McClellan, Ala. . . . George P. SMITH is an officer candidate at the 2nd Engineers school, Ft. Belvoir, Va. . . . Pvt. John Anthony STREY is stationed at Camp Shelby, Miss., in Co. E, 172nd Infantry. . . . Bob SWENNES is stationed at Arcadia, Fla. . . . Robert W. THOMPSON is an ensign in the Navy. . . . Sgt. Melville A. TINKHAM, Air corps, is in the HQ Supply Squadron, 29th Air Depot group, Brookley field, Mobile, Ala. . . . Charles TEGGATZ is stationed at Lowry field, Colo. . . . Alvin M. VOSS is "somewhere on the Pacific." . . . Lt. Robert Browne WALLACE is now at the Wardman Park hotel, Washington, D. C. . . . William H. WASHBURN, inducted in September, is now at the Great Lakes Naval Training station, a pharmacist's mate. . . . Lt. Alton H. WEIGLEY received his commission in July at Camp Lee, Va. . . . Pvt. Harry W. WEINGARTNER is in Co. B, Training group, Ft. Knox, Ky. . . . Lt. Walter R. WENGER, Army Air force, is stationed at March field, Riverside, Calif. . . . Pvt. Winton W. WENZEL is in Flight C, 26th School squadron, Jefferson Barracks, Mo. . . . Melvin R. WHITE, director of radio at Indiana university before he entered the Navy, is now training as a radio technician, second class, at the Great Lakes Naval station. . . . Lt. John L. WITHERS is stationed at Ft. Huachuca, Ariz., in the 318th QM battalion, 93d Infantry. . . . Ens. Thomas A. WOOD is in a scouting squadron, Naval Air corps, Boston Mass. . . . Lt. Robert P. YEOMANS is in overseas service with the U. S. Marines. . . . Lt. R. William ZABEL, after being commissioned in the Marines last spring at Pensacola, Fla., is now instructing in squadron 12C, U.S.N.A.S., Corpus Christi, Tex. . . . Aviation Cadets George E. OLNEY and H. B. STRONG are together at Randolph field, Tex., training as fighting and bombing pilots. Upon completion of their course, they will receive their second lieutenants' commissions.

1942

Lts. John E. ARMSTRONG and Ralph W. ARNOLD are stationed at Ft. Benning, Ga. . . . Cpl. Robert BRAHM is taking officers training at Miami Beach, Fla. . . . David BRIGGS has arrived in Libya where he is an ambulance driver in the American Field Service. . . . Lt. Lyle E. BULL is in Co. R., 1st Student Training regt., Ft. Benning, Ga. . . . Pvt. Edward BURGESS is with Co. K, 378th Infantry, Camp Swift, Tex. . . . Pvt. Charles CARMAN is stationed at Camp Croft, S. C., in Co. B, 32nd battalion. . . . Pvt. William J. CRANE is in a Coast Artillery Service unit at Ft. Sheridan, Ill. . . . Bradford DONOVAN is an aviation cadet at Randolph field, Tex. . . . Pvt. Curtis J. CONSTAD is in HQ Co., Ft. Sheridan, Ill. . . . Lt. Clifford W. DORMAN is overseas with Co. C, 19th Engineers. . . . Ens. Howard M. DORWARD is now in Pasadena, Calif. . . . Aviation Cadet John E. DUFFEY is training as a navigator at Ellington field, Tex. . . . Robert DUDLEY is an aviation cadet at Cabins field, Corpus Christi, Tex. . . . Jack W. EAGAN is heading for a commission, having finished his pre-flight training at Iowa City. . . . Lt. William B. EARLEYWINE is an instructor in the Army Air corps, at Spokane, Wash. . . . Charles F. DU BOIS enlisted as storekeeper, third class, in the Naval Reserve, and is training at Great Lakes Naval station. . . . Fred W. FASS has begun training as a hospital apprentice, first class, at Great Lakes. . . . Lt. Archard J. GAMM, Jr., is in a signal company at Ft. Knox, Kentucky . . . Paul A. GEVELINGER entered the Iowa City Pre-flight school in July. . . . Lt. Robert J. GIESEN has completed his refresher course at Ft. Benning, Ga., Infantry school. . . . Lt. Frank J. GSHWANDTNER is stationed at Columbus, S. C. . . . Pvt. Melvin F. HAMANN, Marine corps, is at Camp Elliott, San Diego, Calif. . . . Lt. George H. HAY, Army Air corps pilot, is at Ellington field, Tex. . . . Lt. George P. HENRY is on foreign duty with Co. K, 11th Infantry. . . . Wilbur H. HOCKERMAN, Wendell HOLMES, and Clifford JAMES have been taking their pre-flight training at Iowa City. . . . Pvt. Robert F. JOHNSON is at Ft. Sheridan, Ill., RRC Area B. . . . Francis C. KEOHANE has taken his pre-flight training at Iowa City. . . . William J. KESE is in the office of Student Naval Reserve at Washington, D. C. . . . Donald J. KINGSTON is a second lieutenant in the Infantry. . . . Pvt. Jack K. KNOCKE is stationed at the Marine Corps base, San Diego, Calif. . . . Lt. William J. KUEHL has been assigned to Camp Murphy, Fla. . . . Harry J. LOWE is in the Hawaiian islands at an unknown Coast Guard station. . . . Elizabeth M. LUTZE is in the second company of officer candidates to be trained for the WAACS at Ft. Des Moines, Ia. . . . Lt. Richard W. MANGAN is stationed at Ellington field, Tex. . . . Aviation Cadet Robert J. MARTIN received his training at Scott field, Ill. . . . Lt. John J. MAYER, Signal Corps, is attending a special course at Harvard university. . . . Ens. William R. MAXWELL is at the Naval Air station, San Diego, Calif. . . . Keith S. MC CALLUM is in the Aviation Cadet detachment at Lowry field, Colo. . . . Lts. Hugh D. JONES and Fred J. MEYER are completing their three-months course at Ft. Benning, Ga. . . . George F. MILLER, A.S., is at the Coast Guard Training station, Doster, Mich. . . . Pvt. Edward MISEY has been stationed at Camp Lee, Va. . . . Lt. Charles L. MOORE is in the 1st Technical School squadron, Chanute field, Ill. . . . Second class Seaman Alden P. MORN-ER attended the Iowa City pre-flight school this summer. . . . Lt. James M. NEWTON, who received his wings at Kelly field, Tex., in July, is now at Will Rogers field, Okla. . . . Douglas OSTERHELD is in the aviation cadet detachment at Chanute field, Ill. . . . Lt. Thomas A. OTTO is in the Civilian Employment office, Chanute field, Ill. . . . Lt. Dan D. PALM was in the Infantry school at Ft. Benning, Ga., this summer. . . . Edward S. PECELUNAS took his flight training at Sacramento, Calif. . . . Cadet Candidate Leslie H. PHILLIPS spent the summer at Randolph field, Tex., in the Air Force Recruit detachment. He is now at the San Antonio Aviation Cadet center in the Enlisted Men's squadron, San Antonio, Tex. . . . Lt. Robert O. POHL has been at Ft. Benning, Ga. . . . Allen S. PORTER took his pre-flight training at Iowa City. . . . Erwin M. RITZ, C.P.O., chief specialist in athletics, is at the Physical Instructor school, Norfolk, Va. . . . Lt. Alfred F. ROACH, Chemical Warfare service, is stationed in the Hawaiian islands. . . . Lt. L. Lee ROBERTSON's address is Box 4729, Washington, D. C. . . . Robert J. SACHTSCHALE is a Naval flying cadet. . . . Wm. J. SAYERS is taking his flight training at the Naval Air station, Jacksonville, Fla. . . . Lt. Gerald D. SCHMIDT, Marines, is stationed at Quantico, Va. . . . Robert N. SEAVER is studying navigation at the Army Air Forces school, Nondo, Tex. . . . Pvt. Alastair SELLAR writes from Camp Edwards, Mass., "Am at present attached to a searchlight battery in the anti-aircraft division of the Coast Artillery. My application for the electrical specialists school in Camp Davis, N. C., should be coming through soon." . . . Orland D. SOUSEK attended the Iowa City pre-flight school this summer. . . . Lt. Eleon M. STENJEM is overseas with the 98th Bomb. group. . . . Lyle STEWART is stationed at Camp Robinson, Ark., in the 107th Medical Training battalion. . . . Lt. James S. STOREY graduated from the Ft. Benning Infantry school Sept. 1. . . . Frederick L. STRECKEWALD is assistant sales officer at Chanute field, Ill. . . . Allyn A. SUHR is at Ft. Benning, Ga. . . . Aviation Cadet Howard D. THOENIG is one of the Student Army flying cadets at Santa Ana, Calif. . . . William VAN CLEAF received his second lieutenant's commission in June. . . . Pvt. Robert J. VERGERONT is stationed at Jefferson Barracks, Mo., in the 355th Technical School squadron. . . . Sgt. Joseph VINEY is in Australia with the 138th Medical regt. . . . Ens. Robert G. WEIGANDT is an instructor in physical education at the Iowa City pre-flight school. . . . Duane G. WENZEL was at Ft. Benning, Ga., this summer. . . . Pvt. Jack WERNER is in HQ area 420, Ft. Sheridan, Ill. . . . Ens. Gordon A. WIBBERT is attending the naval training school in aviation engines at Cambridge, Mass. . . . Sgt. Delbert H. WOOD is stationed at Gunter Field, Montgomery, Ala. . . . Lt. Robert S. HENKEL is overseas with the 632nd Tank Destroyer base troops.

Ex-Union Prexy Doug Osterheld works for wings at Chanute Field

1943

Aviation Cadet Robert T. ALDER took his basic flight training at Randolph field, Tex. . . . Eugene L. ANDREAE, second class seaman, is located at the Naval Training station at Newport, R. I. . . . Pvt. Mark B. BAILEY is stationed at Fitzsimmons General hospital, Denver, Colo. . . . Eugene E. BEHLING is taking his pre-flight training at the Iowa City Naval pre-flight school. . . . Pvt. Carl BOHSTEDT's address is APO 604, c/o Postmaster, Miami, Fla. He is in the ferry command of the Air corps. . . . Loren COCKRELL is stationed at Dablo Heights, Canal Zone. . . . Frederick DAMLER, seaman second class, is attending the Iowa City pre-flight school. . . . Lt. John Pershing FITZGERALD, Signal corps, is now at Ft. Monmouth, N. J. . . . Michael J. FITZGERALD, Army Air corps, is stationed at Chico, Calif. . . . Aviation Cadet Frank FRISCH took his flight training at Santa Ana, Calif. . . . Robert W. GINTHER attended the Iowa City pre-flight school this summer. . . . Pvt. Fred O. HOPP is at Ft. Sheridan, Ill. . . . Naval Cadet James R. HORN took his pre-flight training at Iowa City this summer. . . . Sgt. Ted C. JAFFERIS is with the 15th Weather squadron in Australia. . . . Hugh C. JOHNSON is a second class seaman in the Naval Air Corps. . . . Aviation Cadet Ben JUSKIEWICZ is completing his training as a bombardier at the Midland Flying school, Tex. . . . Pvt. James KANTER is at Ft. Sheridan, Ill. . . . Aviation Cadet Donald J. KEEFFE has begun his basic flying training at Bainbridge, Ga. . . . Aviation Cadet Edward KIRSTEN writes from Iowa City pre-flight school, "Giving up my funeral director's and embalmer's license for a pilot's license is quite a thrill." . . . Paul F. KELLY is studying navigation at the Nondo Army Flying school, Tex. . . . Robert A. KLOTZBUECHER enlisted in the Naval Reserve as a baker, third class, and received his training at the Great Lakes Naval station. . . . George E. KUNDE is taking the navigation course at the Army Air Forces Navigation school, Nondo, Tex. . . . William T. LEWIS took his pre-flight training at the Iowa City Naval school. . . . Lt. Arnold P. LIBMAN is stationed at March field, Calif. . . . Aviation Cadet William MARTH is enrolled in the Iowa City pre-flight school. . . . Aviation Cadet Daniel R. MC NAMARA is at Maxwell Field, Montgomery, Ala. . . . Vernon MOLBREAK took his pre-flight training at Iowa City. . . . Robert K. RULAND is stationed at the Army Air base at Santa Ana, Calif. . . . Lt. George I. SHELDON is with the 82nd division, Camp Claiborne, La. . . . Pvt. Carl T. SKOWLUND is in the 505th Coast Artillery band at Camp Edwards, Mass. . . . Arthur R. WIESE, Jr., seaman first class, graduated as honor man of his class at the Great Lakes Naval Training station in September. . . . Cadet Edward VISKOCIL, second class seaman, was at the Iowa City pre-flight school this summer. . . . Pvt. Robert D. ZARNE is overseas with the Marines. . . . Lt. William S. MALONE is stationed at Hillsgrove, R. I., HQ, Air Corps troops. . . . Richard P. MARX, after completing his basic flight training at Enid Army Flying school, is taking advanced work at Ellington field, Tex. . . . Lt. Donald B. MC INTIRE is in Australia in the 13th Station hospital.

1944

Pfc. Theodore J. BAST is overseas with the 434th Infantry. . . . Aviation Cadet Lester V. BRANDHORST is training at Santa Ana, Calif. . . . Cadet Stuart B. CRAWFORD, in the 5th unit of Flying Badgers, is now at the Naval Reserve Air base, Wold Chamberlain field, Minneapolis, Minn. He took his pre-flight training at the Iowa City Naval school. . . . Lauren DUDLEY spent the summer at the Iowa

City pre-flight school. . . . Jack H. EDWARDS is at sea aboard the U.S.S. Fox. . . . Aviation Cadet Robert K. FRIEDLI has been assigned to Santa Ana, Calif., for his flight training. . . . Roger T. GREFSHEIM is in an anti-tank battalion at Camp Wallace, Tex. . . . Pvt. Myron Z. HOVDA, Jr., is stationed at Jefferson Barracks, Mo., in the 31st Technical School squadron. . . . Pvt. Leo LANSKY is with the 87th Infantry Training battalion, Camp Roberts, Calif. . . . Robert E. MUELLER is taking his seaman, second class training, at the Great Lakes Naval station. . . . Lt. George H. NESSELRODE is now living at 1117 Nevada ave., Colorado Springs, Colo. . . . Rahold C. PETERSON is now at Santa Ana, Calif., waiting to be classified for air training. . . . Pvt. Harold J. PLOUS entered the army in August. . . . Pvt. Frank D. REGAN is in the medical detachment of the 118th Field Artillery, Ft. Jackson, S. C. . . . David E. JAMES and Frank LVEDERS, both seamen, second class, took their training at the Iowa City pre-flight school. . . . Aviation Cadets Franklin T. MC HUGH, Edward B. JOHNSON, Merlin L. HASLEY, Joseph E. O'BRIEN, Thomas J. ROSS, and Jack M. THEISEN were at the Iowa City Naval pre-flight school this summer.

1945

Kenneth J. DU CHARME, apprentice seaman, was chosen honor man of his company at the completion of their recruit training period in August. . . . Martin M. LUCENTE is studying glider flying in the 26th Glider detachment, Aberdeen, S. D. . . . Aviation Cadets Thomas L. MC KNIGHT and Wilbur TEWS are in training at Santa Ana, Calif. . . . Aviation Cadets Arthur R. LEACH, Robert B. OLESON, Glenn L. RIEDER, and Thomas J. SCHMIDT took their pre-flight training at the Iowa City Naval station.

In Memoriam

To the Wisconsin alumni who have given their lives in the current war that this nation might not perish.

1940 James Russell GARVER, Madison, died June 11 at Jefferson Barracks, Mo.

1940 Jay James DUDLEY, Wausau, Ensign USN, died July 9 in an airplane crash in San Diego.

1940 Capt. Burnill C. DAVIS, Orfordville, died July 24 in the crash of a U. S. army plane near Boquete, Panama.

1942 Sgt. Norman SIEGEL, Milwaukee, died July 11, at Miami Beach, after an emergency operation.

1942 Pfc. Norman W. MORTENSEN, Camp Douglas, Marine Corps., was killed in action on one of the islands in the southwest Pacific ocean according to word from the war department.

1942 Sgt. Donald J. MORTON, Dodgeville, died Sept. 9, 1942 of a wound sustained when a bullet misfired on a routine training flight.

1941 Corp. Roy D. BRINDLEY, Madison, was killed in the torpedoing of U. S. merchant marine ships in the Atlantic.

1942 Lt. John I. DAY, Lancaster, died in an airplane crash in the Panama Canal Zone in August.

x '21 Comdr. Raymond A. HANSEN, formerly of Madison, was killed in action in the Coral sea.

1942 Lewis H. ROBERTS, Dodgeville, was killed in an air crash at Brooks Field, June 19.

1941 Ensign Kenneth E. HIGLEY, Marinette, was killed at the U. S. Navy Proving Ground at Dahlgreen, Va., Sept. 28.

1939 Pvt. Robert F. KUCHENBERG, Madison, died in Australia Oct. 7, from injuries received in a train accident.

x '42 Ensign Everett W. "Bud" KELSO, Waukesha, was killed in a collision of two navy planes Oct. 21, near Lameda, Calif.

University

Enrollment Down; Population Up!

ALTHOUGH regular enrollment dropped approximately 13 per cent at the University this fall, with 9,100 students registered, the campus is really busier than ever with an added population of almost 1,700 men and women (1,200 sailors and 480 WAVES) enrolled in the Naval Radio Training School, 200 Army Air Force mechanics enrolled in machinist courses, and a group of navy officers attending diesel engine classes.

This year's freshman class totaled 2,442 students, an increase of 129 over last year. Of this number, 44 per cent of the men are enrolled in the College of Engineering.

Approximately 2,574 cadets are now being trained in the Wisconsin Reserve Officers' Training Corps, the largest enrollment in the history of the University's military department.

University Adopts Year-Round Plan

THE University goes on a "round the clock" basis this year to enable students to get a degree in three years instead of the traditional four years as a result of action taken by the University faculty last summer.

All colleges of the University will offer a 12-weeks summer term which will enable students to complete their training by enrolling in three regular sessions and three summer terms.

The faculty voted unanimously in favor of the resolution thus conforming with action taken by the board of regents some weeks previous and also with a previous faculty decision that the University should do everything possible to aid the war effort.

Provision will be made to continue the shorter summer terms as they have been conducted in the past, it was announced by Dean Scott H. Goodnight, retiring director of the summer session, and Dr. J. H. Mathews, chairman of the war committee, for the convenience of summer session students, such as teachers.

In bringing the matter to the faculty's attention, President Dykstra pointed out that the nation's armed services, as well as industry, were calling for more and more trained manpower, and that it was the job of Universities throughout the country to train such manpower as rapidly as possible.

Prof. Wagner To Retire

PROF. GEORGE WAGNER, of the University zoology department, will conclude 40 years as educator, administrator, and scientist at the University upon reaching the legal retirement age next June.

Prof. Wagner came to Wisconsin as an instructor in biology in 1903. He has since been very active in University affairs, being president of the University Club, president of Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi, scientific society. He headed the University student discipline committee from 1918 to 1921. He is a well known authority on fish, bird and animal life.

Merle Curti New History Chairman

PROF. MERLE CURTI comes to Wisconsin from Columbia University to teach history, replacing Prof. John D. Hicks, former chairman of the department who left after summer school to teach at the University of California.

Contemporaneous history of the United States is the field of history which attracts Prof. Curti's special interest. He is a member of the social science research council which is recording the history of the present war. Incidentally, he is a student of a student of Pres. C. A. Dystra, having studied with Prof. Arthur Schlesinger at Harvard. Pres. Dykstra taught Prof. Schlesinger at Ohio State.

Dr. Allen, Dr. Duggar Will Retire In June

DR. CHARLES E. ALLEN and Dr. Benjamin M. Duggar of the botany department of the University will retire from the faculty at the end of the academic year when they reach the legal retirement age of 70.

Activities

Dr. Allen, who has been on the faculty since 1901, was editor of the American Journal of Botany and holds memberships in the National Academy of Sciences and the American Society of Naturalists. He was awarded an honorary degree at the University of Chicago in 1942.

Dr. Duggar has been on the faculty since 1927 and has contributed many papers and articles to scientific societies on various phases of botany.

John Stuart Curry, Artist, Honored JOHN STUART CURRY, re-appointed artist in residence in the College of Agriculture by the board of regents, was recently honored by the National Institute of Arts and Letters by being elected a member in the department of art.

Poli. Sci. Dept. Loses 5 Members FIVE members of the department of political science have heard the call of war, directly or indirectly, and this year finds Prof. Llewellyn Pfankuchen engaged in special research for the Department of State, and Prof. William Beard stationed at Santa Ana, California, teaching radio in an Army Air Corps radio school.

Prof. William Ebenstein is now doing research in Mexico on a grant, Prof. John M. Gaus is teaching in the department of political science at Harvard, and Prof. J. T. Salter is teaching at Stanford University in California. They all have one year leaves of absence.

J. D. Shannon, who holds a doctor's degree from Wisconsin, leaves the University of Kentucky to take over new duties in the political science department in the University, and David Fellman comes to the department from the University of Nebraska.

Faculty Loses 100 to War PRES. C. A. DYKSTRA has announced that over 100 University of Wisconsin faculty members have left the school to go directly into government or war service. This number includes only members of the regular staff, some of whom are, Prof. Erwin A. Gaumnitz, of the insurance department, Prof. Edward B. Schlatter of the French department, Prof. D. D. Lescoghier of the economics department, Prof. Julian Mack of the physics department, and Prof. J. W. M. Rothney of the School of Education.

University Library Among Top 30 THE University of Wisconsin library was ranked among the top 30 libraries of the United States on the basis of the excellence of its collections for advanced study and research in 17 specified fields, it was announced in a recent survey by the Board of Resources of the American Libraries of the American Library Association.

Kivlin Ass't Dean in Agric. School VICTOR E. KIVLIN, for several years director of the Wisconsin Farm Short Course, has been named by the regents assistant dean of the College of Agriculture. His appointment was recommended to the regents by Pres. C. A. Dykstra and Dean Chris L. Christensen.

In this position Dean Kivlin succeeds Ira L. Baldwin who has been named chairman of the department of agricultural bacteriology, succeeding Emeritus Professor E. G. Hastings.

Dean Kivlin received his bachelor's degree from the University in 1918, his master's degree in 1929. During the first World War he served in the Motor Training Corps. In 1924 he became assistant supervisor of agricultural education under the state vocational board, and was elected to the staff of the University in 1929. He has been director of the short course ever since.

John R. Barton will assume directorship of the Short Course.

The Regents

IN A RESOLUTION setting forth the University's basic policy of co-operation with the nations' war effort, the University board of regents voted last summer to give its executive committee and Pres. C. A. Dykstra full authority to act on all projects involving co-operation with the army and navy departments.

President Dykstra and the executive committee were further instructed to "go just as far as the University's facilities will permit" in providing space, facilities and personnel which may be required by the government or any branch of the armed forces.

Regent Herman L. Ekern, Madison, introduced the resolution, seconded by Regent A. T. Holmes, La Crosse, after a discussion in which President Dykstra explained to the board that scores of requests for assistance and co-operation are constantly coming before him, and that action on many matters must be taken immediately, if the proper co-operation is to be given.

Mark Ingraham Named New Dean

PROF. MARK H. INGRAHAM, chairman of the University mathematics department,

Prof. Mark Ingraham, named dean of the College of Letters and Science has been appointed by the regents as dean of the College of Letters and Science to replace Dean George C. Sellery.

Dean Sellery, who has been a member of the faculty since 1901, was made dean emeritus by the actions of the regents. He is retiring because he has passed his 70th birthday.

Dean Ingraham has been head of the mathematics department since 1935, and on the University staff intermittently since 1919. He rose to the rank of captain with the American Expeditionary Force in 1918-19. The new dean is a member of the American Mathematical society, the American Society of University Professors, the Mathematics Association of America, Phi Beta Kappa, Sigma Xi, and the University Club.

Prof. Langer Is New Math. Chairman

PROF. RUDOLPH E. LANGER has been appointed chairman of the mathematics department, filling the post vacated by Prof. Mark Ingraham who was promoted to the office of dean of the College of Letters and Science. Dr. Cornelius J. Everett, Jr., and Prof. Leaham Cohen have been advanced to the respective positions of professor of mathematics and visiting lecturer in mathematics.

New Members on Board of Visitors

Two new appointments to the University Board of Visitors were announced recently by the University board of regents. George P. Hambrecht, Madison, was reappointed to the board for a term ending in 1946. Marcus Jacobson, Waukesha, was appointed to succeed the late Fred H. Dorner on the board for a term ending in 1944.

Regents Accept $38,881 Gifts

AT A RECENT meeting of the board of regents it was voted to accept $38,881 in gifts and grants to the University of Wisconsin. Of the grants accepted, seven were for industrial fellowships in specified fields of study, five were designated for the continuation of research, and four were given as scholarships in various departments.

This sum is in addition to gifts and grants of $89,054 accepted by unanimous vote of the board of regents in its June meeting.

New Committee Appointments Named

PRES. A. J. GLOVER, Fort Atkinson, announced new committee appointments for the University board of regents last summer. They are: Executive committee—John Callahan, Madison; Leonard J. Kleczka, Milwaukee, and Glover. Finance—Michael J. Cleary, Milwaukee; Frank J. Sensenbrenner, Neenah; and Herman L. Ekern, Chicago. Personnel—Walter Hodgkins, Ashland; A. T. Holmes, La Crosse; Kleczma and Cleary. Regent - Faculty—Holmes, Sensenbrenner; Mrs. Barbara Vergeront, Viroqua; and Ekern. Educational—Kleczma, Mrs. Vergeront, and A. Matt Werner, Sheboygan. Welfare and Student Life—Mrs. Vergeront, Holmes, and Werner.

John Guy Fowlkes, who assumes direction of the University Summer Session

Dean Scott H. Goodnight, forced by illness to give up post as director of Summer Session

Fowlkes Takes Goodnight's Summer School Post

THE resignation of Scott H. Goodnight as director of the University's summer session, and the appointment of Prof. John Guy Fowlkes of the School of Education to succeed him, was approved by the board of regents at its recent meeting. Both recommendations were made to the regents by Pres. C. A. Dykstra.

Dean Goodnight, resigning on the advice of his physicians, will continue to hold his position as dean of men during regular session.

Dean Goodnight served as director of the summer session for 31 years. Under his direction the session, which when he took over his duties in 1912 as director had an enrollment of 1,100, has grown to an annual summer enrollment in normal times of from 4,000 to 5,000 students.

Dr. Fowlkes came to the University as an assistant professor of education in 1922. He has done considerable research in the field of secondary education and is the author of numerous books in the field. Dr. Fowlkes will continue his work in the School of Education.

The Campus at War

War Information Center In Library

SERVING as a clearing house on reference material on the war effort and civilian co-operation, a "key center" of war information is in operation at the University library. The center, which has collected more than 1,000 different publications, is primarily a reference library, enabling any citizen to inspect important publications and to provide essential information for public speakers and local committees. It is administered by the University Extension division with Prof. L. H. Adolfson in charge.

University Council Collects Ideas For War Effort

A COMMITTEE of five leading University scientists has been appointed by Pres. C. A. Dykstra to collect ideas designed to further the war effort. The group will be known as the University of Wisconsin Emergency Inventions Development council, and will gather ideas from students, faculty, alumni and citizens of the state with the intention of aiding the nation's war effort. Chairman of the committee is Dr. H. B. Wahlin, of the physics department, and other members include Edwin R. Shorey, of mining and metallurgy; Dr. Perry Wilson, of agricultural bacteriology, Dr. Frederic Mohs, of the medical school and Marvin J. Johnson, of biochemistry.

According to the chairman, "The committee will welcome any ideas on anything from a better anti-tank shell to a substitute for tin foil wrapping on cheese."

50 Air Craft

Machinists Graduate

LATE September saw the first 50 air craft machinists graduated from the University training course. The men had been here since summer training in the shops in the mechanical engineering department.

Pres. C. A. Dykstra and Col. Oscar L. Rogers, commanding officer of the Army Air Force Technical School, gave the graduation addresses. Band music was furnished by a unit of the University band directed by Prof. Ray Dvorak.

Guests of honor were Col. H. H. Lewis, professor of military science and tactics at the University, Lieut. Col. W. R. Young, commandant of the Army Institute, Lieut. Comdr. E. H. Schubert, Naval Radio Training school, and A. W. Peterson, university comptroller.

2 Profs. Attend College War Meet

PROF. L. R. INGERSOLL, of the physics department, and Prof. Herbert P. Evans, of the mathematics department, represented the University of Wisconsin at a special conference on adapting college courses to provide pre-induction training for students enrolled in army and navy deferred programs.

Army, navy, and air corps officers discussed with the educators the contents and methods of basic courses necessary for pre-induction training. These courses are in mathematics, physics, astronomy, meteorology, and map interpretation.

Induct Sixth Unit of "Flying Badgers"

UNDER the slogan, "Fly for the Navy and Avenge the Lexington," the sixth squadron of "Flying Badgers" was inducted at impressive ceremonies on the capitol steps the first of October.

The new naval aviation cadets were told by Lieut. Comdr. Carl G. Olsen, Chicago, senior naval aviation cadet selection board member, that the University of Wisconsin has more men in naval aviation than any other university in the country.

The sixth squadron of "Flying Badgers" were recruited as a part of a drive to enlist 5,000 naval fliers above the regular quota to avenge the sinking of the aircraft carrier, U.S.S. Lexington, in the battle of the Coral Sea.

As a part of the new drive, 126 University co-eds distributed 16,000 buttons on the Capitol Square prior to the induction ceremony.

The pins carried the slogan, "Fly for the Navy and Avenge the Lexington."

Patriotic Motif on Kiekhofers Wall

SOMETHING new has been added . . . and this year it's a patriotic motif added to the traditional painting of the Kiekhofers wall on Langdon street. Seven University students, arraigned before Judge Proctor on a disorderly conduct charge for engaging in the painting job, explained that they had added an appeal in red, white and blue paint, to buy war bonds and stamps. The judge deferred sentence.

Homecoming Ties In With War Effort

IN KEEPING with the Wisconsin tradition, plans for Homecoming this year were necessarily modified to be in accord with the nation's war effort. Wisconsin men and women in service were honored and proceeds of the celebration donated to the USO.

The traditional bonfire on lower campus, highlight of the pep rally the eve of the football game, was replaced this year with a huge scrap metal pile, the contribution of students and organized houses and dormitories. House decorations were eliminated and prizes usually given to the most cleverly decorated house were instead given to the ones contributing the most scrap.

The fraternity loving cup, long a lure for pledges, is gone for the duration as fraternities and sororities gave up their trophies and cherished plaques to be melted down and used for scrap.

An inauguration this year was the All-Pledge Beauty contest staged by the Cardinal. Beauty alone was not enough to win this contest, beauty plus the ability to sell the most Homecoming buttons was the deciding factor.

All Women Register For War Training

PRESIDENT C. A. DYKSTRA called a convocation of all women students in the University late in October, to tell them of their responsibility in the war effort and to register all University women in some sort of war training.

Besides a streamlined home nursing and first aid course to be given under the supervision of the University's Medical and Nursing schools, war courses include classes in sending and receiving of code, nutrition and canteen, service crafts, sewing, radio fundamentals, hostessing, and state science research projects.

Such all out registration of woman power, and the institution of the streamlined nursing course, are the first to be attempted by any college or university in America.

Military Counseling Service Aids In War Placement THE military counseling service of the University has aided several thousand university students, graduates and high school graduates in finding their own proper place in the war effort. The counseling service is on a year-round plan and is sponsored by the personnel council under authorization of President Dykstra and the board of regents. Dean W. W. Blaesser, executive secretary of the University personnel council, is in charge of the program along with Dean C. H. Ruedisili, assistant dean of the College of Letters and Science.

Agriculture

DEAN CHRIS L. CHRISTENSEN and his associates are going right ahead with plans for the Farm Short Course at the University this winter. They feel certain that now it will be needed more than ever to train farm boys to help meet the nation's demand for food, feed, and fiber.

The schedule for the Short Course has purposely been planned to enable farm boys to leave their farms after the fall work is done and to return to their farm duties in the spring before the spring's work sets in. The dates of the Short Course are November 16 to March 13, inclusive. Dean Christensen reports that already many have registered for the first five weeks and other registrations are coming in daily.

McNall, Ahlgren Study Cows vs Soil Erosion Cows — that have never heard the alarming statistics on soil erosion — seem to refrain from bringing it on if they can. Not intelligence, but their discriminating appetites and sheer laziness are responsible. But hungry cows are different, they're apt to be industrious erosion-promoters.

These are the implications of findings on the grazing habits of cattle, recently appearing in a study by H. O. Anderson and C. R. Hogland of the Soil Conservation service and P. E. McNall and Henry Ahlgren of the University of Wisconsin.

These men found evidence that where dairy cows have a chance to range over pasture land of varying slope . . . nearly level, moderately sloping, and steep . . . they do little grazing on the steep areas as long as they find plenty to eat elsewhere.

Because it seems likely that many farmers can get satisfactory erosion control without going to the expense of fencing off the steeper slopes and planting timber on them, providing they will observe this all-important principle, the quartette is issuing the warning, "Do not overstock the pastures!"

Mason Campbell New Dean at Rhode Island MASON CAMPBELL, who received advanced degrees from the University in 1918 and again in 1932, has been named dean of the Rhode Island College of Agriculture and director of the Rhode Island agricultural experiment station. While in Wisconsin, Dean Campbell specialized in dairy production.

Upon completing his work at Wisconsin, Campbell became professor of dairy production at the University of Vermont until he was named production manager and director of the Walker-Gordon Laboratories of New England. He served for a period of time on the faculty of the University of Illinois having charge of official testing and herd building work of that institution.

Dr. Sommer Wins $1,000 Borden Award DR. HUGO H. SOMMER, professor of dairy industry at the University of Wisconsin, received the Borden award for outstanding research at the annual meeting of the American Dairy Science association held at Michigan State College last summer.

Mr. W. A. Wentworth of the Borden Co. presented a gold medal and $1,000 to Dr. Sommer who was nominated for his contributions to the betterment of dairy manufacturing.

Dr. Sommer has pioneered in measuring the oxidation of fats and was one of the first to demonstrate the relationship between salt content of milk and the heat stability of milk protein. Results of these studies have found wide application in the evaporated milk industry.

In addition to his wide research Dr. Sommer is famous as a teacher and has two textbooks in the field of dairy manufacturing which have received wide acceptance in universities and the dairy industry. He attracts to his course in the physical chemistry of dairy products a large number of graduate students from the fields of chemistry, bio-chemistry, and bacteriology as well as his own university's dairy industry department.

Sigma xi names Dr. C. A. Elvehjem as national lecturer

E. H. Peterson Doing Research at Illinois

E. H. PETERSON, '39, has accepted a position in research with the department of animal pathology at the Illinois College of Agriculture at Urbana. While at Wisconsin, Peterson studied in the departments of agricultural bacteriology and veterinary science, and did outstanding work in the field of bovine mastitis.

"Theirs Is The Work" New Farm Drama

MISS GWENDOLYN STENEHJEN of the rural sociology department and Miss Marvel Ings, curator of the geological museum, have written a play, "Theirs Is The Work", which will be presented by many Wisconsin communities soon as a celebration of the harvest festivals expressing happiness and thankfulness for the bounty of crops and victory gardens.

One of the few full-time dramatic specialists in the country attached to an agricultural college, Miss Stenehjen and her staff conduct drama workshops and one-day drama institutes in communities all over the state, co-operating with the entertainment committees of the farm organizations.

"Theirs Is The Work" is built around two important keynotes in the farmer's defense program — that everyone must do what he knows best, and that food production will play a vital role in the winning of this war.

Dr. Elvehjem Named National Lecturer

DR. C. A. ELVEHJEM, professor of agricultural chemistry at the University, has been named by Sigma Xi, national honorary fraternity for the promotion of scientific research, as one of the five leading American scientists to be 1943 national lecturers for the fraternity, it was announced recently.

Sigma Xi lectures are annual events in the dissemination of the newest, most important advances in the selected fields of science.

Dr. Elvehjem will discuss "The Present Status of the Vitamin B Complex". He will explain that the vitamin B complex consists of at least a dozen separate factors, each of which can be obtained in pure form. He will report recent work on the use of sulfaguandine, and the evidence of the synthesis of several B vitamins in the intestinal tract.

Noble Clark Represents Wisconsin at Mexico

NOBLE CLARK, director of the University College of Agriculture experiment station, was Wisconsin's representative at the second annual Inter-American conference at Mexico City in July. He made the trip on the recommendation of Dean Chris L. Christensen of the College, who said the conference was "to develop better agricultural relations throughout the western hemisphere."

Commerce

by F. H. Elwell, director

FIVE members of the faculty of the School of Commerce have taken leaves of absence. Professor W. Bayard Taylor is State Price Officer of Wisconsin; Professor Erwin A. Gaumnitz is State Price Officer of Minnesota; Reserve Officer Ed Petersen is at a classifications school in Washington, D. C.; Ambrose Reiter is in the Army; and Harry Schuck is just completing his training course as an instructor in the Army Air Corps. Addresses are changing so frequently that it is advisable to direct mail for the last three to the Commerce Office, and it will be forwarded to their latest address. Professor Taylor's address is 601 Hotel Randolph, Milwaukee, Wis.; and Professor Gaumnitz's address is 2760 West River Road, Minneapolis, Minn.

The many friends of Professor Irene Hensy will be pleased to know that she is recuperating from her illness at the home of her brother, Earl, in Dupue, Illinois.

Phi Chi Theta Meets in Madison

THE biennial convention of Phi Chi Theta, national Commerce professional sorority, was held in Madison last June. The Wisconsin chapter certainly sold the hundred delegates on the beauties of Madison and on the way in which the faculty and students in Commerce work together at Wisconsin.

Wisconsin C.P.A.'s Convene at Union

THE annual fall conference of the Wisconsin Society of C.P.A.'s was held in the Union on Friday, October 2. Three of the nationally known accountants — T. Coleman Andrews of Richmond, Virginia, Ira N. Frisbee of Beverly Hills, California, and James L. Dohr of New York City — who had participated in the Convention of the American Institute of Accountants in Chicago, came up to visit friends and to speak at the Wisconsin Conference. Jim Dohr, '13, is now Director of Research for the American Institute of Accountants, as well as Professor of Accounting in the School of Business of Columbia University, and a partner in the firm of Greene & Greene, Attorneys at Law, New York City.

Commerce Turnout Is Big Success

THE annual fall Commerce Turnout was held at the Union on Wednesday, October 7, under the auspices of the Commerce Council. One of the high spots of the meeting was the election of two seniors to the Council to represent those students not members of the six Commerce organizations. Jerry Jaeyna and Neal Hundt were elected to the Council which meets monthly with Professor Elwell to discuss Commerce matters.

1st Wis. Retail Marketing Conference Held

THE first Wisconsin Retail Marketing Conference under the auspices of the School of Commerce was held in Madison on Monday, October 26, in the Union. Professors Aurner and Fellows arranged a strong program relative to the problems of retailers in a War Economy.

Engineering

ENGINEERING school enrollments soared way over last year's record of 1500 to hit an all-time high, according to figures from the dean's office. Now totalling nearly 1600 students, all classes, with the exception of the seniors, show a marked increase. The freshman class jumped from 448 last year to 637 this year. The total figure looms even larger in view of a 13% drop in total university registration.

It is hoped that the increased engineering enrollments will aid somewhat in filling the sharp need for engineers in defense work and with the armed forces. The War department alone will require 50,000 engineers during the coming year as civilian employees and in all quarters now the supply is far exceeded by the demand.

"Atom Sorter" In Use by Physics Department

TAKING its place among the maze of wires, atom busters, atom twist-

Fred Epling and the "atom sorter" he built ers, etc., set up on the ground floor of Sterling Hall, is a new atomic instrument of great engineering significance: a mass spectrometer known as the "atom sorter."

This instrument, patterned after one built by A. O. Nier of the University of Minnesota, was built and is operated by a graduate physics student, Fred Eppling, under the supervision of Dr. H. B. Wahlin of the physics department. The instrument has been operating successfully for six months, and according to Dr. Wilson and Dr. Burris of agricultural bacteriology, it has yielded many good results.

D. P. Davies Wins John Deere Medal

MR. DAVID P. DAVIES, vice-president and consulting engineer of the J. I. Case Co., has been chosen by the Jury of Awards of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers to receive the John Deere Medal. The honor was bestowed upon Mr. Davies for "Distinguished achievement in the application of Science and Art to the Soil."

In 1891 Mr. Davies enrolled as a special student in the mechanical engineering school of the University of Wisconsin. In 1892 he returned to the J. I. Case Co., where he had previously been employed as a machinist apprentice, and assisted in the design and made all the drawings for the first gas tractor.

During his connection with Case, he was responsible for the design of many types of tractors. These have been awarded prizes and medals in competition with others in foreign countries and in this country.

Mr. Davies has been a member of the Society of Automotive Engineers since 1917; and is a Director of the Milwaukee Post of the Army Ordnance Association. In February, 1940, he was honored by being elected as one of a select group to be given a Modern Pioneer Award by the National Association of Manufacturers. The awards are given in recognition for outstanding contribution to industrial progress through invention and research.

Engineering Faculty at Forest Products Lab.

DURING the summer the following members of the Engineering faculty were employed at the Forest Products Laboratory on special problems related to National Defense: Prof. W. S. Cottingham from Civil Engineering, Profs. J. B. Kommers, K. F. Wendt and M. O. Withey and Messrs. P. G. Fluck and H. R. Puckett from the Mechanics department, and Mr. D. J. Buroker from the Mechanical Engineering department.

Engineering Grads. Called To Vital Defense Jobs

Called from their jobs to work on vital defense projects are Engineering graduates J. T. Drow, c'31, from the Wisconsin Highway commission, R. S. Phillips, m'23, from the Portland Cement Association, R. S. McBurney, c'42, from Research Assistant in the department of Mechanics, C. A. Wiekping, c'21, CE'26, from Milwaukee City Testing Engineer, and K. H. Boller, m'34, P. F. McKinnon, c'37, R. H. Krone, c'35, W. C. Lewis, c'36, Horace Goodell, c'26, CE'31, Leroy W. Empey, c'36, all from the Wisconsin Highway commission.

Wis. Men Win Awards from Arc Welding Foundation

THE University of Wisconsin College of Engineering was represented among the awards given in the $200,000 progress awards program of the James F. Lincoln Arc Welding Foundation.

Mr. G. J. Storatz, M.S. (MetE) '39, assistant chief engineer at the Heil Co., Milwaukee, was awarded $3,700. John Payton Berkeley, B.A. '39, of the Berkeley Equipment Co., Corry, Pa., won $500. Arnold Meyer, B.S. (ME) '36, collaborated with Herman C. Frentzel, M.S. (MetE) '30, to win $250. Meyer and Frentzel are engineer and chief engineer at the Heil Co. of Milwaukee.

A paper submitted by C. H. Nielsen and H. N. Ekblom, engineer and chief engineer with the Link Belt Speeder Corporation, Chicago, and G. Johansson and E. Korensky, engineers with the Link Belt Speeder Corp. of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, was awarded $250.

Eugene A. Balsley, C.E. '02, Chicago, won $150, and N. M. Erdahl, development and research engineer with the Trackson Co., Milwaukee, also won $150. George Joe Klimt, draftsman in the engineering department of the Vilter Manufacturing Co., Milwaukee, was awarded $100, and Richard T. Logeman, B.S. (CE) '99, consulting engineer of Chicago, won $100.

Results of the arc welding studies show that the war industries have only begun to gain the benefits of modern arc welding; that further application of the welding process will slash hundreds of millions of dollars off the United Nations' war bill and will cut by 30% the time required to produce ships and planes.

Prof. L. F. Van Hagan, chairman of the civil engineering department of the College of Engineering, was a member of the 16-man Jury of Award that judged the papers submitted by engineers, designers and executives.

Wisconsin Grads at Metallurgist Meet

THE Wisconsin luncheon at the meeting of American Society of Metals, held October 14, was the scene of a glad get-together of Wisconsin alumni. Prof. J. F. Oesterle of the department of mining and metallurgy of the College of Engineering, reports that the following attended: James O. Christenson, B.S. '39, Captain of Ordnance Dept., technical division of the office of Chief of Ordnance, Washington, D. C.; Lester N. Dukelow, B. S. '27, Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp., Pittsburgh, Pa.; Walter W. Edens, M.S. '37, chief metallurgist, Ampeo Metal, Inc., Milwaukee; Ernest D. Fahlberg, B.S. '18, research engineer, Grede Foundries, Inc., Milwaukee; Arthur P. Gockel, B.S. '17, A. P. Gockel Machinery Co., Cleveland, Ohio; Thomas G. Harvey, M.S. '41, metallurgical engineer, Monarch Steel Co., Indianapolis, Ind.; Guenther H. Hille, B.S. '40, metallurgist, Ladish Drop Forge Co., Milwaukee; A. R. MacLaren, x'11, President of the Wisconsin Alumni club of Cleveland; Robert G. Matters, B.S. '34, research metallurgist, Allis-Chalmers Mfg. Co., West Allis, Wisconsin; Robert C. Overstreet, B.A. '41, assistant purchasing agent, Tinnerman Products, Inc., Cleveland, Ohio, Philip C. Rosenthal, B.S. '35, assistant supervising metallurgist, Battelle Memorial Institute, Columbus, Ohio; Merrill A. Scheil, B.S. '27, metallurgist, A. O. Smith Corp., Milwaukee; and Lawrence E. Simon, chief metallurgist, Electro-Motive division of General Motors, LaGrange, Illinois.

Extension Division by Louis W. Bridgman, editor

ADDED to the colorful military complement on the campus in October were about 480 women — 20 to 36 years of age — making up one of the WAVES units of the U. S. Navy and assigned to the University of Wisconsin for the study of radio code and communications. Direction of instruction is centered in the Extension Division.

All summer long the men of the navy — 1200 in all — continued their radio code training on the campus. There were monthly graduations as follows: July 26, 258 men; Aug. 23, 264; Sept. 27, 246; Oct. 26, 245. All these young men now are in active service — in Alaska, in the tropics, in the Atlantic, at bases on shore. With the coming of the WAVES the University is giving radio training to nearly 1,700 enlisted men and women of the Navy on a "round the clock" schedule, preparing them for important communication posts in the war effort.

In the Air, Too, Goes U. W. Training

CIVILIAN pilot training activities were more than doubled during the summer through accelerated programs necessitated by the intensified war program. Approximately 125 students, of ages all the way from 17 to 50, received training in various phases of the science of flight.

One significant development was the training of instructors for teaching aeronautics. This course, in the ground school phase, enrolled 65 students of two types: those preparing to pass the government examinations for certificates needed for teaching in government-approved ground and flight schools, and high school and college teachers desiring to qualify for teaching fundamental aviation subjects in their own schools.

Since June, flight training programs were conducted as follows:

Summer: Fulltime and parttime elementary courses for navy reserves, enrollment 60; fulltime ground instructors' course, enrollment 65; other courses, enrollment approximately 25; Fall: fulltime elementary and secondary courses for navy reserves, enrollment 20; fulltime elementary and secondary courses for army reserves, enrollment 20.

With the University's opening in September five fulltime programs of pilot training were under way, with the University serving both the navy and the army in giving CPT instruction for their reserves. The fall program at Madison was supplemented by similar courses at several other college centers, supervised by the Extension Division.

Wisconsin educators were importuned from Washington to institute pre-flight instruction in high schools. Because many small schools lack qualified teachers for this technical subject, Dean F. O. Holt proposed the offering of a University correspondence-study course in pre-flight aeronautics. Such a course was prepared and now is available to high school students in Wisconsin and other states. The aim is to impart to high school youth the fundamentals of the science as a background for more advanced training required by pilots, mechanics, and other workers in aircraft.

No Letdown In Manpower Aid

DURING the summer approximately 1,425 persons, enrolled in classes in 21 cities, received special training in government-subsidized courses aimed at increasing working skills for tasks necessary to speed war production. This program is known as Engineering, Science, and Management War Training. Summer classes were conducted at Ashland, Eau Claire, La Crosse, Appleton, Racine, Kenosha, Chippewa Falls, Cornell, Manitowoc, Beaver Dam, Two Rivers, Madison, Beloit, Green Bay, Janesville, Park Falls, Spooner, Sheboygan, Fond du Lac, Rhinelander, and Superior.

In the half year ending in June the Wisconsin program enrolled 4,011 students in 135 classes held in 33 cities. They represented 966 different businesses and industries.

In September the Extension Division, in charge of class organization, received government approval for about 75 new war-training classes in the fall program. The subjects were largely in industrial fields; others offered advanced training in business subjects, such as personnel management, office management, and cost control, especially applicable to war industries.

War Info. In Demand By Many

THE summer months brought increasing evidence of the usefulness of the University's war information center, established last June in the University library. Upwards of 500 visitors were shown the many resources of literature on the war effort and on civilian cooperation from which to draw ideas for local participation. Directed by Dr. L. H. Adolfson, of the department of political science, the center is staffed every weekday by representatives of the Extension Division and of cooperating organizations.

New Courses For Adult Minds

THE English department has added several new courses to the correspondence-study list. One, "The English Bible as Literature," offers a study of the Bible as a "phenomenon of English literary culture." The others are "The Victorian Age — Poetry and Essays," "Chaucer," and "Contemporary Essays."

The German department has introduced a correspondence course in military German, useful for government intelligence services and for general needs.

An unprecedented interest in Spanish courses has been shown with the impact of the South American influence since western hemispheric involvement in the war. The Extension Division has received three times as many registrations in Spanish courses as in some former years. An interesting fact also is the steady run of German enrollments, the level being but slightly under normal.

In Madison an evening class in Practical Russian was a timely new offering, while, in cooperation with the University's Spanish department and station WHA, the Extension Division offered a course in Spanish by the aid of radio.

Renew Debating In High Schools

TRAINING for leadership through organized forensics was renewed this fall as a function of the department of debating and public discussion. In cooperation with the Wisconsin High School Forensic association the department began a new year's program, starting with debate, in the state's high schools. The years' state debate topic centers on post-war world organization.

The department planned three high school speech institutes: At Wausau, Oct. 16; at Eau Claire, Oct. 24; at Madison, in November.

Pacific Isles Are Study Aid Topic

A NEW service for clubs studying current affairs is provided through a study aid, "Islands of the Pacific," offering sources of information on the best available literature on this topic. This study aid is offered in pamphlet form by the extension department of debating and public discussion.

Films Tell War Story To Schools

MANY new educational films, of special value as teaching aids in schools, were added to the collections of the bureau of visual instruction. Dealing with various phases of the war and defense, they include government-sponsored pictures and British and Canadian propaganda films. The bureau has been made the official depository (for Wisconsin) of government war films by authorization of the U. S. Office of Education and of the Coordinator of Inter-American Affairs.

Recent releases acquired for distribution include "Winning Your Wings," the Jimmy Stewart army air corps picture; "Western Front," concerning China's war effort; and "Men and the Sea," describing risks of the men who man our merchant marine.

Faculty Serves In Armed Forces

THE Extension Division has released numerous members of its staffs to serve with the nation's armed forces:

Milwaukee Center: George A. Parkinson (assistant director in charge of evening classes), lieutenant commander, U. S. Navy; Victor A. Reinders (assistant professor of chemistry), second lieutenant, A. C., U. S. Army; H. Wilkes Wright (psychology), U. S. army air force.

History: William Walsh, army air corps.

Geography: Robert Finley, instructor in army air corps at Randolph Field; E. M. Scott, U. S. Army; Paul W. Icke and John T. Mathisen, with the cartograph division, State department; Henry S. Heimonen, instructor in naval training at the naval officers' training school, Harvard University.

English: Lester F. Zimmerman, second lieutenant, army air corps, Randolph Field.

Mathematics: Harry Goheen, ensign, U. S. Navy reserve.

Field Organization: Carl Engler, chief petty officer, U. S. Navy, on recruiting duty in Wisconsin.

Business staff: John J. Kammer (senior accountant), first lieutenant serving the War department at Fort Richardson, Alaska.

Visual Instruction: Mrs. Gregg Montgomery (assistant), private in the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps.

ESMWT: Rollin M. Russell, Green Bay, in further training with the army signal corps at Northwestern University; the Rev. Fr. L. F. Jacobs, De Pere, instructor in radio, U. S. army signal corps, Chicago; Marshall Goff, La Crosse, with the cartograph division, State department.

Economics: John Lester Miller (associate professor), director of instruction (civilian status), at the Naval Radio Training School, University of Wisconsin.

Miss Hazel Manning, nat'l Phi U. president

kel is now on the faculty at the Rhode Island State College. Helen Gilbert, '39, is the research assistant in the animal nutrition laboratory working under Dr. Helen Parsons. Katherine Brusse, '36, will assist in the tea room and cafeteria management course this year. Miss Brusse who has been a nutritionist for the American Red Cross in New Jersey will also teach a Red Cross course in nutrition for students.

Hazel Manning Nat'l Phi U. Pres.

MISS HAZEL MANNING, chairman of the department of Clothing and Textiles, was recently elected national president of Phi Upsilon Omicron, the home economics professional sorority.

Miss Zuill Attends Nutrition Conference

ON OCTOBER 23-24 Miss Frances Zuill attended a conference called by Mr. M. L. Wilson, Assistant Director of the Office of Defense Health and Welfare Services, for chairmen of state nutrition committees in St. Louis. Following this conference she returned to Chicago for the annual meeting of the Land Grant College association October 24 to 30. Dr. Helen Parsons and Dr. May Reynolds attended the convention of the American Dietetic Association which was held in Detroit October 19 to 20.

1942 Graduates Placed 100 Per Cent

THE fall of 1942 finds the placement of the home economics graduates of the class of 1942 practically one hundred per cent. Matrimony has claimed a number of the recent alumnae; 24 of the majors in hospital dietetics and institutional management majors are taking their interne training; 33 in the teaching group have secured teaching positions; 8 are home agents; 20 are in commercial work; one is writing advertising copy; 8 have federal positions; one has a position with the State Laboratory of Hygiene; one is helping her family on the farm; one has a commercial fellowship; 3 are continuing their study.

Refresher Course In Clothing Held

ON SATURDAY, Oct. 17, a refresher course in clothing was held under the auspices of the resident and extension clothing departments of the University, the state vocational department and the state clothing and textile committee of the Wisconsin Home Economics

Home Economics

THIS year finds a number of new staff members in the Home Economics Department. In Related Art Miss Elinor Soule, a member of the faculty of the San Diego State College, has been appointed assistant professor for the year 1942-43 during the absence of Mrs. Ruth Randolph. Miss Charlotte Mees, '38, has replaced Jean Henkel, '37, as a part time instructor in Clothing and Textiles. Miss Hen-

Association. At this meeting the national clothing situation was discussed, new materials, care and repair of garments were considered, and W.P.B. rulings were explained. On the 16th and 17th of October the University sponsored a conference for first year teachers and a representative group of home economics teachers attended.

STUDENTS in the Home Management House were hostesses at a buffet supper recently, the guests being mechanics from the Army Air Corps.

Prof. Grant M. Hyde, forced to call off journalistic conference

Milwaukee Center

by Irene M. Bozak, recorder

DAY class enrollment at the Milwaukee Center for the first semester of 1942-43 shows an 8 per cent increase over that of the first semester of last year. The engineering courses in the day classes show an increase of 38 per cent over last year. For the first time in its history, the Milwaukee Center boasts of three girl students enrolled in full-time engineering programs. Misses Dorothy Rehm and Mildred Smith are enrolled in the Chemical Engineering course and Miss Jane Strosina is enrolled in Civil Engineering.

Staff Undergoes Several Changes

New day staff members include Mrs. Mildred Krahnke in mathematics, Mrs. Mildred Freeman in English, and Mrs. Margaret Curti in Psychology.

In addition to Lt. Commander George A. Parkinson who has been in active service in the Navy for some time, three other Extension faculty members are now in the armed forces. H. Wilkes Wright who was in the psychology department is now in the U. S. Army Air Force, Nashville, Tennessee. David Sheldon of the English department is at Fort Sheridan, Illinois, and Victor Reinders of the Chemistry department is an instructor in gunnery in Louisiana.

Holst Announces Plans For War Training Courses

EDWARD D. HOLST, assistant coordinator of Engineering-Science-

Management-War Training courses at the Milwaukee Center has announced that plans are being made to offer 34 courses in February. Over 900 students are now enrolled in the 25 courses being given during the current semester. The enrollment in six of the courses on the present schedule was so large that the classes had to be divided into two sections.

The Signal Corps has taken many of the men who completed the Radio Technician course; and the Signal Corps has now asked that the Milwaukee Center sponsor an advanced course in radio.

One of the most popular ESMWT courses is the one in Government Contracts and Accounting Procedure which has been of great help in auditing and accounting transactions of concerns that have war contracts.

Production Planning and Control, Personnel Management, and Time and Motion Study are other courses which have large enrollments.

The Engineering Sketching and Advanced Blue Print Reading have been found very helpful to those preparing themselves for work in war industries. Many women who have never done this type of work previously are enrolled in the course.

Journalism

by Frank Thayer, prof.

THE 23rd annual Wisconsin High School Editors' Conference, scheduled to be held in Madison on October 17 and 18 by the University of Wisconsin School of Journalism, has just been cancelled, although all arrangements were complete and some reservations had been received.

Many war-time difficulties — crowded hotels, restrictions on school busses, discouragement of private use of automobiles, speed limits — have come into the picture since the Conference was originally announced six weeks ago.

"It just doesn't seem patriotic to try to go ahead with it under the circumstances," the School of Journalism announced to the high schools of the state, in returning their reservations.

This is the first break in 23 years of annual high school editors meetings sponsored by the School of Journalism, and the faculty of the School hopes that the series may soon be resumed.

Enrollment Down Only 5 Per Cent

ENROLLMENT in the School of Journalism the first semester totals 368 majors in journalism, showing a loss of 5 per cent as against the corresponding semester of last year. The freshman, sophomore and senior classes indicate a gain as against last year. The junior class of this year is smaller than the junior class of 1941-42. The total classroom enrollment this year is 651, showing a loss of 8 per cent as against the corresponding semester of last year. The figures this year parallel approximately the journalism school enrollment in 1939. According to Director Grant M. Hyde, the percentage of women students in journalism has jumped from 35 to 65 per cent.

Prof. Hyde Attends Inland Daily Press Meet

PROF. GRANT M. HYDE represented the School of Journalism at the October meeting of the Inland Daily Press association in Chicago. The Daily Cardinal is a member of this association, together with the student daily papers at Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, Missouri, Northwestern, and Ohio State.

School of Music by George Hanson

A CLOSER relationship of the Pro Arte Quartet to Wisconsin students and public is the aim of a course inaugurated by Prof. Carl Bricken, director of the School of Music. A weekly series of lectures, demonstrations, and recitals reaches a large student audience in Music Hall, and through Station WHA is broadcast to citizens of the state. The course deals with the development of the string quartet, beginning with Haydn.

The world famous Pro Arte Quartet is beginning its third year of sponsorship by the University, through the generosity of alumni and Madison music lovers. It has played in many cities in the state outside Madison, receiving mention in TIME as well as Wisconsin newspapers.

A new member this year is cellist George Sopkin, who rounds out the organization with Antonio Brosa, first violin, Laurent Halleux, second violin, and Germain Prevost, viola.

In the new course, lectures by Prof. Bricken outline the history and technique of quartet-playing and of the quartet as a form, with illustrations by the ensemble. The finest examples by Haydn, Mozart, and Beethoven are performed as part of the course. Thus listeners have an unparalleled opportunity to become familiar with string quartet music at its best, with fine oral program notes.

This is the first course of its kind in an American university, as far as is known, and Wisconsin is fortunate that its personnel includes this notable ensemble.

Music School Grads In Military Bands

MILITARY bands are the present concern of Music School graduates George Schafer, Douglas Steensland, and Orville Shetney. Shetney was recently graduated from the Army Music School as a band leader.

Mills Library Is Reorganized

THE Mills Memorial Music Library, named in honor of Dr. Charles H. Mills, director of the School of Music from 1914 to 1937, is now being reorganized and reclassified so that it may be of greater use to students and faculty. In addition to the monumental sets bought by the Mills Memorial Fund, and the holdings of the department,

Pro Arte Quartet — teaches appreciation of string quartets to students, radio audience

The children of VICTORY must be sound and strong

WISCONSIN ALUMNI RESEARCH FOUNDATION

Approved for VITAMIN D upon periodic tests

This Seal Assures the Vitamin D Potency of Foundation-licensed Products

From the fire of our present trials will come a new concept of proper nutrition. From the ranks of American children must come the strength, the healthy vigor, and the staunch leadership the world will so sorely need.

No small part of the health and vigor required for these new responsibilities depends upon the development of bodies well formed and strong, upon teeth that are sound and healthy. And these largely depend upon how well Vitamin D is given the chance to mobilize food-calcium for bone and tooth structure. Calcium is also needed for its vital mission with relation to muscle tone, nerve function, blood clotting, and normal heart action.

The Foundation Seal, or the imprinted name of the Foundation itself, is assurance that all foods and pharmaceuticals so identified can be accepted as wholly reliable sources of Vitamin D, tested periodically for potency.

WHAT IS THE FOUNDATION ?—
 Let us mail you the booklet, Scholars from Dollars, the story of the Foundation and its work. Established in 1925, not for private profit, the Foundation receives and administers patentable discoveries voluntarily assigned. Through licensing arrangements with reliable concerns, funds are obtained. All net avails are devoted to the furthering of research. Foundation trustees serve without compensation. Send for your copy of Scholars from Dollars . . . today.

WISCONSIN ALUMNI RESEARCH FOUNDATION, MADISON, WISCONSIN

music and books from the Main Library are being transferred to Music Hall. Under the direction of Professors Bricken and Coon, the work is being done by George Hanson, carillonneur and assistant in music.

Law School

by L. K. Garrison, dean

PROFESSOR ALFRED L. GAUSEWITZ of the Law School has accepted a position as counsel to the Lord Manufacturing Company, a defense industry in Erie, Pennsylvania. He will be on leave of absence from the Law School, probably for the duration of the war.

Other members of the Law School faculty who are now on leave of absence are Professor Charles Bunn, who is with the State Department in charge of certain aspects of the lend-lease program; Professor Willard Hurst, who is on the legal staff of the Board of Economic Warfare; Professor William G. Rice, Jr., who is a special mediator for the National War Labor Board; and Professors Jacob H. Beuscher and John C. Stedman, who are on the legal staff of the Office of Price Administration, and who have to do with transportation matters and the rationing of rubber and gasoline.

Dean L. K. Garrison is the new general counsel for the National War Labor Board, and Professor N. P. Feinsinger is a special mediator for the Board; both are carrying their regular teaching assignments, but the hours have been concentrated in the early part of the week so that each may periodically assist the Board on a part-time basis. Thus six of the regular full-time faculty of thirteen are on leave of absence, and two are assisting the government part-time.

War Hits Enrollments; Down One-fourth

THE Law School enrollment is 100, as compared with a normal pre-war enrollment of over 400. It is probable that there will be a further sharp drop in the enrollment in February. Most of the present senior class (38 in number) will graduate then as a result of having taken the special fourteen weeks course given during the summer. In addition, some of our other students, particularly among the second year group (20 in number) will be drafted. A few may enter in February, but not many. While the Law School is carrying on with a reduced offering of courses, the faculty has been able thus far to work out an adequate schedule for each of the students. Tentative arrangements have been made whereby Justice J. D. Wickhem of the Supreme Court, and Glen Bell of the firm of Sanborn, Blake & Aberg, will collaborate in giving the course in Evidence during the second semester in place of Professor Gausewitz.

The first year class consists of 42 students, about half of whom are enlisted under one of the Army or Navy reserve plans and are subject to call for military duty at any time. The Navy has not indicated thus far that it expects to call any of the men before the completion of their work for a degree, which may be earned on the basis of two calendar years of pre-law, and two calendar years of law, which include two fourteen-week summer sessions. The Army has indicated that it may call a substantial number of the men now in training at the end of the present semester, but a final decision seems not yet to have been made.

The morale of the students is very high in spite of the uncertainties which confront so many of them. The faculty says that the present first year class is one of the ablest and most intellectually alert which has ever entered the school.

Medical School

TO FULFILL the great need for doctors and trained assistants needed by the Army and Navy, Wisconsin has given many of its prominent graduates in the medical field. Lieut. Col. William S. Middleton, former dean of the Wisconsin medical school, is now in England, while his former assistants and staff physicians are located at various army or navy centers.

Lieut. Col. F. L. Weston, Major H. H. Shapiro, and Major F. Daniels are stationed at Camp Grant. Lieut. Col. J. W. Gale, Major E. S. Gordon, Major K. E. Lemmer, and Major J. E. Bentley are stationed at Camp Custer.

Among the staff physicians located elsewhere are Lieut. Col. J. B. Wear, San Diego, Capt. J. B. Bingham, Capt. F. D. Geist, somewhere in the Pacific, and Major J. E. Dollard, air corps.

Resident physicians stationed at Camp Grant are Capt. J. L. Sims, Capt. S. C. Rogers, 1st Lieut. A. E. Culmer. Capt. J. D. Brownfield and Capt. W. E. Jones are stationed at Camp Custer.

Col. W. J. Bleckwenn is with the 135th medical detachment in Australia as are his assistants, W. J. Musser and Major J. Pessin. Points east and west claim other resident physicians such as Lieut. (j.g.) J. W. Nellon, Lieut. (j.g.) R. R. Rueckert, (Hawaii) Lieut. J. B. Larsen, Lieut. R. Barker, and Capt. H. H. Kohler.

Internes J. J. Connors is now a lieutenant (j.g.) in the navy, Paul Cunningham is a lieutenant (j.g.) at Great Lakes Naval Training Station, J. Ferrara is a 1st lieutenant in the army, L. Haus is a 1st lieutenant in the army, and R. Meyer is a 1st lieutenant at Camp Grant.

Kenney Method Treats Infantile Paralysis

FROM the Australian bush country comes a new kind of treatment of dreaded infantile paralysis. It is known as the Kenney method and is now being tried at the State General hospital at the University. This method is being introduced in Wisconsin through funds donated by the Manchester family of Madison.

No heavy braces and awkward splints are used in this new plan to prevent permanent crippling of victims of infantile paralysis. The chief difference between the Kenney system and methods commonly used is the fact that muscles are put to work immediately. Instead of allowing the muscles to be idle for several weeks, trained physiotherapists start massage and encourage the patients to exercise the muscles as soon as the pain lessens.

A 22-bed section of the children's hospital has been walled off as an isolation ward. Isolation is of great importance, Dr. Harold Coon, hospital superintendent, emphasized, since the best results are obtained if the patient starts treatment during the quarantine stage. Consequently the hospital is equipped with special diet kitchens and equipment so there is no danger of other hospital patients coming in contact with the contagious disease.

Sister Elizabeth Kenney, an Australian bush nurse, devised the treatment in 1910 that has been adopted throughout Australia. In 1940 Sister Kenney came to the United States to demonstrate the method. Wisconsin General's chief physiotherapist last winter studied under Sister Kenney at the center for training American nurses at Minnesota.

Naval Training School

WITH the opening of the WAVES school Oct. 9, the Navy has three units in training on the campus of the University. The first unit was established early in April to provide 16 weeks' practical training to enlisted men who will become radio operators with the U. S. fleet. Students at this school are selected by aptitude test during their first five weeks in the Navy, sent here for preliminary instruction, and upon graduation are assigned to ships and shore stations throughout the world. The constant enrollment of this school approximates 1200 men.

The second unit, opened August 1, is for training of junior naval officers in the operation and maintenance of diesel motors which now power most of the ships of the fleet. The constant enrollment of this school is 30 men.

Comdr. Greene, Lieut. Stratton review eight trim enlisted WAVES

The WAVES school is the third unit, the constant enrollment of which will be a little less than 500. The students will be sent to Madison immediately after enlistment to secure preliminary indoctrination for the Navy, in addition to extra training, for a period of 16 weeks, to become radio operators. The graduates of this school will be assigned to naval stations within the United States to relieve men who can thus be assigned to duties outside the United States.

After graduation, sailors "Sail at break of day" to ship and shore stations, taking over radio communications posts

WAVES Quattered At Barnard, Chad.

THE lady Bluejackets have taken over Barnard and Chadbourne Halls, and are served at university-operated dining rooms in the halls. They march to classes and use the same classrooms and equipment that the men sailors do, although the classes are not co-educational. The WAVES are actually in the Navy, and will be given the same pay, ratings, and regulations that govern all navy personnel.

Administration of the school is in charge of a Navy staff under Commander Charles F. Greene. Lieut. Dorothy C. Stratton is the senior women's officer. She is on a leave of absence as dean of women at Purdue University, a position which she has held since 1933. She holds a master's degree from the University of Chicago, and a doctor's degree from Columbia University.

Other WAVES officers, trained at the WAVE school at Smith College this summer, are Lieut. (j.g.) Eleanor S. O'Kane, Lieut. (j.g.) Jenny E. Turnbull, Lieut. (j.g.) Isabel De Courcy Porter, Lieut. (j.g.) Elinor Denton Rich, Ensign Kathleen Callahan, Ensign Katherine Johnston Sullivan, Ensign Zora Cernich, Ensign Kathryn Carney, and Ensign Georgiana C. Remer.

University Entertains At Football Game

THE Saturday of their arrival the WAVES were guests of the University at the Wisconsin-Missouri football game. They sat in a special section of the stadium, and were escorted by sailors. During the half they were saluted by the University band under the direction of Ray Dvorak, as they played "Anchors Aweigh" and formed the letters WAVES on the field.

WAVES Receive Uniforms Nov. 1

THE civilian part of the campus has been anxiously awaiting Nov. 1 when they were promised their first look at the skirted sailors in uniform. Late in October 75 fitters came to the campus and mass fittings were held in Great Hall of the Memorial Union. Up until November 1 the only uniforms seen were on the officers.

WAVES List Well-known Names

SUCH famous names as Edith Kingdon Gould, great granddaughter of the famed financier, Jay Gould, and Eleanor Saltonstall, daughter of the governor of Massachusetts, were among those listed on the WAVES roll call. The WAVES came from almost all 48 states and represented a few foreign countries. Requirements call for a high school education or equivalent, but 60% of the WAVES in Madison are college graduates.

Nursing

by Miss Christina C. Murray, director

AS A MEANS of assisting in the war effort in the preparation of additional well-qualified nurses for military and home service, the W. K. Kellogg Foundation, Battle Creek, Michigan, has made a gift of $4,000 to be used as a scholarship and loan fund. These scholarships are available to young women who are taking the basic professional nursing course.

School Receives $4,720 Grant THE United States Public Health Service has granted another allotment of $4,720 for scholarships for graduate nurses taking the public health nursing program. Up to the present time twenty-one nurses have received help from this and other allotments.

E. Anderson Public Health Nurse MISS ELIZABETH ANDERSON has been appointed assistant public health nurse in Iowa County and Miss Koeninfer has joined the public health nursing staff of Beloit. Eight more nurses will be ready for positions in the public health nursing field on the completion of their field work at the end of October.

Women's Physical Education

by Miss Blanche Trilling, director

THERE are more physical education positions for women than there are qualified graduates to fill them according to Miss Blanche M. Trilling, Director of the Department of Physical Education for Women at the University. All of the June graduates of the department who were available for positions have been placed, and requests for additional teachers are still being received. Physical education graduates have been in demand not only as teachers, but as recreational leaders, physical therapists, U.S.O. and Red Cross workers as well.

Although many of the twenty-six graduates in physical education of the class of 1942 are now teaching in public schools, other types of positions have claimed nearly one-half of the group. Three members of the class of 1942 are teaching in college positions. One is a supervisor at the Curtiss-Wright Airplane Plant in St. Louis. Another is doing recreational work in the Milwaukee system. One is employed in the Y.W.C.A. at Montgomery, Alabama. Two other members of the class of 1942 are engaged in hospital work, and one young woman is in training at Smith College as a candidate for an officer's commission in the WAVES.

The variety of opportunity in physical education for women is further reflected in the placement of graduate students. Of the seventeen graduate students who received advanced degrees last year, eight are now in public school work, eight are teaching in colleges or universities and one is a physical therapist. Besides the placement of last year's graduates, twenty-two recent alumnae have secured new positions through the influence of the department. The majority have been placed in physical education departments in colleges or universities. Two are now practicing physicians in women's colleges, connected not only with the physical education departments, but with the student health services as well; two are in the U.S.O. service; one is with the Red Cross abroad; one is a physical therapist in an Army Hospital in Denver; and two others are in Y.W.C.A.'s.

Sixty-five placements have been made during the past four months. These positions are dispersed among twenty-three states and an undisclosed foreign country. While the majority are located in Wisconsin and Illinois, the placements range from New York, Maryland and Massachusetts to Louisiana and Texas.

Mrs. H' Doubler Claxton teaches dancing under Ted Shawn

Margaret H'Doubler Guest Instructor MRS. MARGARET H'DOUBLER CLAXTON

spent a week in Massachusetts after the close of summer school as a guest instructor at Jacob's Pillow Dance Festival Incorporated. This festival is under the direction of Ted Shawn. Its purpose is to provide students with the finest possible dance education, to give dancers an opportunity to reach the public, and to offer the public both entertainment and education of the highest order in the art of dance.

New Appointments To Phy. Ed. Staff

THERE have been four new appointments to the staff of the department of Physical Education for Women: Miss H. Margaret Lea has a master's degree from Teacher's College at Columbia and holds a certificate of health and physical education from Wellesley College. She comes to Wisconsin from the University of Pennsylvania. Miss Catherine Marting has a master's degree from the University of Wisconsin and was a graduate assistant in the department last year. Both Miss Lea and Miss Marting have been appointed instructors in this department. Two new assistants in the department are Miss Ann Avery Smith who holds a master's degree from the University of California and has recently been teaching at Wellesley College, and Miss Joanna Sousley who is a graduate of the University of Illinois and has been teaching at Evanston Township High School.

Miss Glassow Works With Army, Navy

MISS RUTH GLASSOW, Associate Professor in this department, is on a short leave from the University. She is in Washington, D. C., assisting in the preparation of a College Physical Fitness Manual, a piece of work being carried out by the Washington Office of Education in collaboration with the Army and Navy.

Misses Meyer, Schwarz Write Book

MARGARET H. MEYER and Marguerite M. Schwarz, who have been members of the staff for several years, are joint authors of a book entitled "Team Sports for Women" published this past summer by W. B. Saunders Co.

Women Set 'Em Up In Lathrop Alleys

WOMEN pin-setters are again being used in Lathrop Hall bowling alleys. For the first time in years, no male students are available for pin-setting jobs. The girls promise to be good substitutes for the men.

In 1942 — WAVES; In 1917 — Red Cross

LATHROP HALL is to be used several nights a week during the coming year by the WAVES. It is interesting to compare the situation of World War I with that of the present World War. In October, 1917, a Red Cross Work Shop was opened in Lathrop Hall. Knitting, surgical dressings, cutting, and sewing were done here. In 1918, Lathrop Hall was taken over by the Student Army Training Corps. The bowling alleys were boarded over and a thousand men a day were fed in the first floor corridor and in the bowling alleys. Thus the basement became a large dining room. There were recreation rooms on the first floor, and vending machines for candy, gum, et cetera. On the second floor, the gymnasiums were dormitories and were crowded with cots. The fourth floor was used as officers' quarters, and on the fifth floor, the dance studio, the corrective room, and the lecture room formed another dormitory. It is too early to attempt a word picture of Lathrop as it may be when the WAVES become established on the campus.

Radio . . . WHA

by Harold Engel, ass't. director

THE University's "Political Education Forum" is hailed as "absolutely unique by no less an authority on the subject than Norman Thomas, the Socialist Party's nationally known campaigner. He spoke on the Forum from Radio Hall on October 13 and was lavish in his praise of the plan which provides free time on the air to all qualified parties and candidates for the discussion of campaign issues. "I wish all states would copy Wisconsin in this democratic service," said Mr. Thomas.

Children listen intently to lessons over radio WHA

Since 1932 WHA has been providing free time for political discussions to enable citizens to hear all sides of the questions upon which they are asked to vote. It is a practice in keeping with Wisconsin's traditional political liberality of thought and action.

Two Broadcast to Children 12 Years TWELVE years as broadcasters for children on the Wisconsin School of the Air is the record of Professor E. B. Gordon (Journeys in Music Land) and Mrs. Fannie Steve (Rhythm and Games). Both began with the project in 1931 and have presented some 350 broadcasts for in-school listening over state station WHA, at the University of Wisconsin.

Thousands of Children Hear School Broadcasts THE Wisconsin School of the Air opened its 1942-43 year of broadcasting on September 28 and is being heard by what is expected to be the largest audience in its twelve years on the air. Last year, more than 330,000 registrations were recorded, H. B. McCarty, the director, reported.

Eleven programs are offered each week to supplement schoolroom study in grades from kindergarten through high school. The programs are:

| | Grades |
|----------------------------------|--------|
| Monday | |
| 9:30 A.M. Afield with Ranger Mac | 5-8 |
| 1:30 P.M. Exploring the News | 5-8 |
| Tuesday | |
| 9:30 A.M. Storybook Land | 1-3 |
| 1:30 P.M. Let's Draw | 5-8 |
| Wednesday | |
| 9:30 A.M. Let's Find Out | 2-4 |
| 1:30 P.M. Journeys in Music Land | 4-8 |
| Thursday | |
| 9:30 A.M. Music Enjoyment | 1-4 |
| 1:30 P.M. American Neighbors | 5-8 |
| Friday | |
| 9:30 A.M. Rhythm and Games | Kgn. 3 |
| 10:45 A.M. The French Program | 9-12 |
| 1:30 P.M. Book Trails | 4-6 |

Complete teachers' manuals aid in the effective use of the broadcasts. In Wisconsin schools, the radio receiver has become an essential piece of equipment.

Sailors Do Programs For Folks Back Home ONE of the WHA contributions to the war effort is a transcribed feature made by the station and sent to the home communities of sailors attending the Naval Radio Training School at the University of Wisconsin. Men from a certain state gather in the WHA studios and do programs for the folks back home. These are then sent to stations in the home states. Gerald Bartell, former station production director, handles the broadcasts.

Comdr. Hanson Dies In Crash COMMANDER MALCOLM P. HANSON, first operator of WHA, "the oldest station in the nation," lost his life in an airplane crash in line of duty in Alaska on August 12. He left the University of Wisconsin station in 1918 to serve with the Navy in World War I, and returned to continue his work and again operate the station. He was chief radio operator on Admiral Byrd's first South Pole expedition in 1928-30. He was known as an expert in the short-wave field.

WHA Starts 16 New Programs SIXTEEN new programs starting in one week is what the WHA staff faced on September 28. The Wisconsin School of the Air opened its 12th year on that date and the Wisconsin College of the Air started its 10th year. Both run consecutively through a 32 weeks term.

Gerald Bartell Now in Navy GERALD BARTELL, WHA production director and producer of a number of the University of Wisconsin station's prize-winning broadcasts, has transferred his allegiance from radio to the United States Navy. His assistant producer, Ben Park, is carrying on for WHA.

R. O. T. C.

by Cadet Captain Bob Zigman

WITH the largest enrollment in its history the Reserve Officers' Training Corps started an energetic program for the fall term. With the University on a war time footing, the corps' activities were placed in high gear for the biggest job since its founding in 1867.

Under the able leadership of Colonel Herbert H. Lewis, the Wisconsin unit has pushed ahead to establish for itself a reputation of modern military training in all branches of the services that are offered at the University.

Commandos Train Soldiers For Land, Sea Fighting

BECAUSE of the demands of modern war, the officers of the corps have deemed it vital to give training in every phase of the modern conflict which is possible to simulate with the equipment available at the University. With this in mind the Wisconsin version of the commandos was organized last year. The unit known as the rangers is divided into four companies, two of which are used for sea borne tactics and two for land fighting. Three U. S. Navy cutters will be used for the latter. The drill is held every Sunday morning for three hours regardless of the weather; the training will continue through the winter months when skiing is stressed rather than the usual tactics for milder climates.

Later on in the year the training will be given on Saturday as well as Sunday and will have the same kind of training that the English commandos are getting. Included in this training are bayonet practice, scouting and patrolling, camouflage, marches, military first aid and military jiu-jitsu. The latter will be taught by Lieut. Newberry, a former varsity wrestler. The other instructors in charge of training are Lieut. Scott Cameron and Lieut. Peterson. Last spring's maneuver which attracted nation wide attention as the first of its type on any college campus in the nation, involved a raid on the lower campus by commandos landing from Lake Mendota. Its highlight was the capture of three dummies made up like Axis leaders.

400-yard Obstacle Course New . . . Tough

MORE stress than ever before has been put on the physical training of the men. An intensive 400-yard obstacle course has been built by the engineer unit under the command of Lieut. A. H. Peterson and Sgt. W. V. Webb of the corp of engineers. Construction of the course took six weeks and is an uphill grind through tough underbrush, and muddy terrain. The course is laid out between Elizabeth Waters Hall and Tripp Hall beginning and ending on the lake road. At its head the members of the corps encounter several high log hurdles, followed by piles of logs, high ladders, and anti-tankbarriers, a ten foot rope ladder, a long run of footboxes, another series of high fences, a large sunken trench, and finally an 8 foot wall which must be cleared before the course is completed.

Up the tower by footropes, down by rope landing mat — one of the obstacles in the 400-yard "Purgatory Path"

At the highest point of the course a high wooden tower has been erected which contains the scaffolding for the foot ropes. The men are required to climb up these ropes sailor fashion, without using their feet and then come down on a rope ladder. To be considered proficient in the course a student must be able to negotiate the course in ten minutes, but most of the men have been able to do it at a dead run in about five minutes.

Enrollment Jumps 955 Over June

THE enrollment of the corps as of Sept. 30 was 2,617, an increase of 955 over the enrollment of the corps when school closed last spring. The instruction staff has had a corresponding increase with the addition of Capt. George L. Hudson, 2nd Lieut. Robert D. Honig, and 2nd Lieut. Lloyd E. Williams all of the Infantry. Lieut. Kolar Chladek of the corps of Engineers is leaving for Fort Bragg, and is being replaced by Lieut. Francis H. Schiffer of the corps of engineers. The corps now has an instructional staff of fifteen officers and four enlisted men with the help of four civilians.

Corps Instructs Civilians in Radio

FOLLOWING the request of the president of the United States for all out civilian preparation, the corps will turn over its signal corps facilities to men and women for instruction in radio code work. Classes began on Oct. 12 and over 200 people are enrolled. The University is equipped with the latest army sending devices, including tape code reading and recording devices and forty key positions.

Engineering Tactics And Infantry Stressed

ENGINEERING tactics are being stressed as well as infantry work on the new program. The Wisconsin branch of the Society of American Military Engineers is putting on a concerted effort to acquaint the public with the work of the corps of engineers in modern warfare. Their program is in the form of public demonstrations on demolition work and other forms of engineering practices.

The first demonstration of this kind was held the night of October 7 on the lower campus. Forty engineering cadets under the leadership of Cadet Captains C. E. Northrop and E. C. Nehmer, various types of "booby" traps which contain several pounds of TNT were exploded. The concussions of the explosions were so loud that they attracted a very large crowd. The traps consist of explosive mines of various sizes and shapes. One handy type is the rat trap, in which a string is run from the trap to a hidden explosive. It is set off when a curious soldier tinkers with the trap. Others are in the form of sticks which set off charges when carelessly picked up, while others are fired by an all but invisible string stretched across a path or road. Most of the devices are being widely used in the present war.

Other demonstrations in the future will consist of the gasoline filled bottle which ignites and explodes when thrown against the side of a tank, and is commonly referred to as the Molotoff Cocktail.

Cadets Organize Pre-Service Groups

THE corps of cadets was far from inactive over the summer months. A group of senior corps cadets helped to organize and train the first pre-service military training course in the state at the extension division in Milwaukee. The unit which was comprised of about 200 men was under the direct leadership of the ROTC officers who acted as company and platoon officers. A company was under the command of Cadet Captain Bob Zigman, and B Company under the leadership of Cadet Captain William Callow. The advisory work was done by the members of the staff of the third Battalion of the State Guard under the leadership of Colonel Chester J. Tambert.

The course which ran for ten weeks took up the essential fundamentals of military drill and included lectures and movies on map reading, military courtesy, gunnery, law, first aid and hygiene, and military organization. The success of the work has been shown by the large number of men who were called in to service with this background as their only training and who were given their stripes.

Members of the instruction staff of the corps have been traveling throughout the state lecturing to various state guard units and civilian organizations on military affairs.

ROTC Protect Madison From State Guard Attack

STRANGE as it might seem 85 ROTC men of the University protected the city of Madison on Sunday, Sept. 20. The raid in effect was to test the attacking power of the state guard units in this area.

The specific route of action was from the University armory along the University drive to a destination at the base of picnic point. Machine guns, rifles, diving airplanes, gas land mines, and smoke screens were all part of the game.

The ROTC units assisted by 10 planes of the Madison Civil Air Patrol operating overhead and other members at work on the defending forces, attempted to halt the guard units as they attacked along the road.

The planes straffed the men and those that did not take cover were labeled as casualties, and given cards to designate their injuries. Medical detachments took care of the wounded. By noon the advancing guardsmen had reached a destination at the base of the point but found their way blocked by a strongly entrenched force of ROTC men.

Franklin Clarke Now Lieut. Col.

FRANKLIN W. CLARKE, '27, who has been on active duty with the military department since November 1940, was promoted to a Lieut. Colonel, the War Department announced on Sept. 10. Colonel Clarke is the adjutant to the commanding officer and is also the associate professor of Military Science and Tactics. Prior to joining the department he was a reserve officer for 12 years and an attorney here; he was graduated from the University law school in 1931.

•
PHI UPSILON OMICRON, professional home economics sorority, Saddle and Sirloin and the Agricultural Student Council bought war bonds totaling over $1,000, it is estimated.

The Theatre

by Fannie T. Taylor, ass't.

THE world premiere of the new Alfred Lunt-Lynn Fontaine comedy with music, "The Pirate," was staged in early September in the Wisconsin Union theater. The entire show, scheduled for October opening on Broadway, was assembled and rehearsed in the campus theater during the week preceding the opening, and played to three capacity houses before heading east.

According to S. N. Behrman, famous playwright and author of "The Pirate," "This is a thrilling place to work. I'd like to open all my plays here. It's the most beautiful theater in the United States and I should like to write a play for it, using the lake setting as Max Reinhardt has done in Salzburg."

Both Life Magazine and the New York Times covered the three-day opening with picture spreads in early October issues.

Wis. Players Look To Good Year A THREE-NIGHT sell-out was the goal reached by Wisconsin Players this season in one of the biggest campaigns the campus drama group has ever put on at the Wisconsin Union theater.

New shows, new directors, a whole new regime of production ideas, promised an exciting year in the campus playhouse. Ronald E. Mitchell, young director who brought a wealth of theater lore from his native Wales to Wisconsin, is staging most of the shows. Frederick A. Buerki and John Dietrich will assist him.

Program Lists 6 Brilliant Shows "WHAT EVERY WOMAN KNOWS," Sir James M. Barrie's infectious comedy, opened the season Oct. 22, 23, 24, with Mitchell directing.

"Dracula," favorite fiend of mystery fans and small boys, will take up residence in the stage wings in mid-November, appearing before the public the evenings of Nov. 12, 13, 14, just long enough to scare the wits out of every one across the footlights.

The adjectives for brilliance in the theater were long ago exhausted for Noel Coward. His inimitable stage sense, his wonderful timing, his iridescent dialogue are part of the theater lore of our day. Just to say that "Private Lives," his most famous comedy, will be produced Dec. 10, 11, 12, is news and enough for the inveterate and the casual theater-goer alike.

"Saint Joan," George Bernard Shaw's ironic tragedy of the "Maid of Orleans," will be given in late February. The first Shaw show given by the Players since the old Bascom theater days, the occasion will be a theater homecoming to most patrons. The Shavian wit was never sharper, the irony more biting, than in this great play.

Available for the first time this season to little theater groups, "The Man Who Came to Dinner" will be staged in all its colossal conceit and hilarious shenanigans March 18, 19, 20. A product of the Gold Dust twins of the theater, George Kaufman and Moss Hart, the farce has been rolling 'em in the aisles for several seasons in stage and screen versions.

No season these days would be complete without William Saroyan, the critics despair, the actors' puzzlement, the public's delight. One of his earlier and best shows, "My Heart's in the Highlands," will be staged April 8, 9, 10. On the same program, Orchestis, the University dance group, will present Dance Drama, their annual spring recital, one of the most popular programs of the campus theater season. Miss Margaret H'Doubler will direct.

THE Wisconsin speech department lists on its roster of graduates three who have university positions, and two who are employed in the Office of Civilian Defense at Washington. Prof. Dawn Hayworth, former chairman of the speech department at Michigan State College, and Prof. Robert Oliver, of Bucknell University in Pennsylvania, are in charge of the speaker's bureau in the Office of Civilian Defense at Washington. Both took their Ph. D. degrees at Wisconsin.

Robert Huber, who was in charge of freshman debate last year, received his Ph. D. degree in speech at the end of the summer session and is now assistant professor of speech at the University of Oregon.

Ronald E. Mitchell directs first Wisconsin Players' production, "What Every Woman Knows"

Miss Wynette Barnett, graduate assistant in speech here last year, is now speech instructor at New York University. Miss Jeanette Anderson, who received her master's degree in 1940, is now in charge of the speech clinic at Purdue University.

Union Concerts Feature Five Great Artists

FIVE great artists were selected by the Wisconsin Union concert committee this season for the twenty-third annual concert series in the Wisconsin Union theater.

The series opened Oct. 28, with the handsome young baritone start of concert, radio, and films, Igor Gorin.

Yehudi Menuhin, violinist, who is ranked today among the top ten artists in drawing power and earning power, follows November 18.

On Jan. 8, an exotic note from the war-torn islands of the Pacific enters the series with the appearance of the Bali-Java dancers, led by beautiful little Devi-Dja, former Balinese temple dancer.

Vitya Vronsky and Victor Babin, "the most brilliant two-piano team of our generation," will play on Feb. 9.

Dimitri Mitropoulos and the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra, paying the fourth of their annual visits to Madison, will conclude the series March 6.

On Oct. 12 a capacity audience enjoyed the dancing of Paul Draper and harmonica music by Larry Addler.

The Wisconsin Union

by Porter Butts, director

THE war has brought many personnel changes to the Wisconsin Union as it has everywhere else. During the past year 18 or more men have left the building for war service.

Most recent changes in personnel include the following shifts.

Evelyn Hansen has succeeded Mrs. Richard Showman as Union hostess, and has been named chief of all University of Wisconsin hostesses for service men's parties on campus. She is also acting as advisor to the Union activities bureau, replacing Sue Poston, now in Washington, D. C. Miss Hansen was formerly resident manager of the University of Missouri Read hall.

Mrs. Irving Tressler has taken over the direction of the Union Workshop, succeeding Mrs. Lester Antonius who resigned last spring. Mrs. Tressler, the former Anne Kendall, has been head of the craft shop at the Brooklyn, N. Y., adult education project, taught art in Washington, D. C., and has studied at Munich and Columbia university.

John Leland has succeeded Carl Cass, now an instructor at the Army Air Forces training school in Madison, as stage manager of the Wisconsin Union theater. Leland was formerly dramatic director at Washburne university, Topeka, Kans.

Mrs. Mildred Matthews, former supervisor of art education in St. Louis county, Mo., schools, is the new secretary of the Women's Self Government association. Her husband is a sergeant at the AAFTS.

Mrs. Helen M. Jefferson, formerly hostess at Langdon hall, women's dormitory at the University, is now assistant to Charles Owens, as counselor to students reserving rooms in the Union. She replaced John Jenkins, now in the Army.

Ted Bradley, former Hooper president, has been named outing supervisor, taking Robert Carnes' place. Carnes will go into overseas Red Cross service.

Student Workers Get Raise In Pay

STUDENTS returning to work at the Wisconsin Union this fall found rising wages

Twenty-third Annual Wisconsin Union Concert Series — Igor Gorin, Yehudi Menuhin, Bali-Java Dancers, and Vronsky and Babin, Pianists keeping pace with rising meal costs, and the minimum hourly rate for student employment increased from 35 cents to 40 cents an hour.

Basic hourly rates for the payroll in October was 42 cents per hour, the equivalent of the average cost of the "special" in the cafeteria. Wages are paid most students in coupons, redeemable at the Union dining rooms and billiard rooms. If meal costs go higher the wage rate will also rise. If they go down, the Union's rate will not go below the 40 cent floor this year, according to Porter Butts, Union director.

The aim of the Union Council, under a policy worked out last year with student employee representatives, is to provide three average meals daily for two and one-half hours of work.

Almost 300 students are employed by the Union which has an annual student payroll exceeding $50,000.

Students, Servicemen Enjoy Sunday's "At Ease" "AT EASE," a new informal gathering of students and servicemen on Sunday afternoons, has proved one of the most popular new programs initiated in the Wisconsin Union this year.

Refreshments are served in Great Hall each Sunday afternoon, followed by student and soldier-sailor entertainment, and dancing to records. The University has authorized Sunday dancing at this function to enable the Union to expand its program for service men, who have only Saturday and Sunday available for recreation in general.

Fifty to a hundred university girls act as hostesses during the afternoon, organizing games, serving refreshments, and acting as dancing partners. After the supper hour the program continues with the playing of symphony records by members of the Union Music committee.

The "At Ease" session is centered in Great Hall, but servicemen who are interested in other functions in the building are invited to attend "Movie Time," the Sunday concerts in the theater, or use the bowling alleys and billiard rooms.

Union workshop, where students meet to make gifts for servicemen

Students Make Gifts For Service Men in Workshop THE Wisconsin Union Workshop committee has organized a volunteer group of students to make craft articles in the workshop useful for recreation or for personal needs of service men. Typical objects that students can make — including cribbage and checker boards, shower sandals, and ash trays — were displayed in one of the Union galleries. Interested students meet every Thursday evening to turn out quantities of these and other articles, using only salvage or waste materials for the purpose. It is hoped that enough items can be made to supply the sick bay of the Navy School, the Army Mechanics quarters at the Y.M.C.A., and some of the day rooms at the Airport. Students will also make articles as individual gifts for their own friends in the service. Servicemen have been invited to make gifts themselves to send home.

Union Privileges Open To Servicemen BUILT as a Memorial to men in the armed forces in other wars, the Wisconsin Union has opened its doors as a recreation center for servicemen stationed on the University campus and in Madison during the current war.

The facilities of the two and a half million dollar "campus living room" have been opened to the six units on campus with the same privileges of membership given other students. Army and Navy men and the WAVES have been given member cards, corresponding to student fee cards, which admit them to all free events, and assure preference for any events for which admission is charged such as theater performances.

The units of the armed forces on the campus include the Naval Radio Training school, the Civilian Pilots of the U. S. Naval Reserves, the Army Institute, the Army Air Forces Training detachment, the Naval Ensigns taking Diesel engine training and the WAVES.

Special staff positions in the Union have been delegated to handle the extra work in connection with the use of the building as recreational headquarters for the armed forces. Miss Evelyn Hansen, Union hostess, is in charge, assisted by Miss Pat Bissell, graduate student and chairman of the Union house committee.

Officer personnel stationed on the campus have the same privileges in the use of the Union as the faculty and civil service staff, namely access to the lounges and dining rooms, but not free admission to recreational programs.

Enlisted men at the Army airport have also been given Union privileges through the use of a quota system of guest cards, issued daily. Because of the great number of men at the airport, free access by all the men at one time would engulf the building, so the quota system was devised by the Union Council, according to John Wickhem, student president of the Union this year.

Tripp Commons Helps Feed Armed Forces

SOME 250 men in the Army and civilian pilots in the Naval reserve are being fed in historic Tripp Commons of the Wisconsin Union this year. Three units of the armed forces eat there in day and night shifts starting at 6 in the morning and running through 3 a. m. the following morning.

Tripp Commons, long the center for the finest dining facilities on the campus and the home of 770, campus night club, will be taken over for the duration by the Army and Navy students serving themselves cafeteria-style in the oak-panelled dining room.

Out for the duration is 770, the campus night club. Other special dinners such as the annual Beefeaters dinner for the Union "family" of students and staff members, will be held in Great hall this year in all probability.

Miss Lora Palmer, assistant director of the Union, and Lewis Marston, chef, are in charge of the food program.

Art Salon Shows J. Davies' Collection

A TIMELY story of Russia's kaleidescopic history is told in the Joseph E. Davies' collection of paintings which the former Soviet ambassador gave to the University of Wisconsin in 1938.

The paintings from the collection were put on view in the Wisconsin Union main gallery by the student gallery committee this fall for the second time since they were given the University. The collection is the foremost gallery of Russian and Soviet art now owned in the United States. Original works by contemporary Soviet artists on the state payroll and some copies of museum pieces are included in the collection.

Icons and other religious paintings forming a part of the collection were not put on view this fall because of lack of space. Historically speaking the collection deals with Russian scenes, habits, and customs over a 500-year period.

Wis. Salon of Art To Be Nov. 4 — Dec. 3

THE ninth Wisconsin Salon of Art will be held Nov. 4 through Dec. 3 in the Wisconsin Union galleries this year, according to Marion Fredrichs, chairman of the Union gallery committee, which arranges the Salon each season.

Three famous names in the art world head the jury which will select the works to be exhibited from hundreds of entries from all parts of the state, and will make the awards. The jurists include Mitchell Siporin and Philip Guston, well-known American painters, and D. S. Defenbacher, director of the Walker art center, Minneapolis.

Other exhibits on the year long program arranged by the Gallery committee include "Our Leading Watercolorists" from the Museum of Modern Art, shown in early September; and selections from the Wisconsin Union loan collection; the Gregory print collection in December; paintings by John Van Koert; the fourth annual rural art show; Industrial art adapted to war needs; paintings owned in Madison; sculptors and their drawings; and the fifteenth annual exhibition of works by University students in May.

Union is Host Daily to 6,603 Visitors

ACCORDING to totals on the use of the Wisconsin Union released by Charles Owens, manager-supervisor of the Union building, every day 6,603 students, faculty, townspeople, and out of town visitors came through the doors of the imposing "campus living room" last year.

Over 3,000 people a day used the dining rooms; the popular Friday afternoon coffee hours, teas, and receptions called out 20,914 students and Union members; 103,960 games were played in the bowling alleys; 62,266 students attended the regular dances held during the campus social season; and the theater concerts, lecturers and plays drew 191,042 spectators.

Young, Adamic, Bourke-White on Forum

THREE famous Americans have been scheduled for appearances on Wisconsin Union forums this season, starting with the far eastern expert, James R. Young, who spoke Oct. 13, in the Wisconsin Union theater. Louis Adamic and Margaret Bourke-White will be heard later in the year, chairman Virginia Wicks, Madison, of the Union forum committee announced.

Varsity Sports

by Fred Baxter, sports ass't

THE pre-season dope had the Stuhldreher men listed as "darkhorses" and the present Fighting Badgers have shown themselves to be the inkiest of black stallions. Despite injuries, illness, a few losing battles with the books, and a plethora of other tough breaks, the 1942 edition of the Cardinal has come through all of its seven contests without meeting defeat.

Coach Harry Stuhldreher, always a believer in meeting the toughest kind of competition, has outdone himself in arranging a schedule this year. Of the ten Wisconsin opponents, six of them are rated in the top ten elevens in the nation, and the other four are not far behind.

The season opened with the entertaining of the Camp Grant Warriors on Camp Randall, marking the first time that a Badger eleven had battled with a service team since the last war. While the Cardinal men displayed a defense which was diabolically opposed to the method in which they operated when their opponents had the ball last fall, their offense was nothing to write home about and they were fortunate to come out on the long end of a 7 to 0 score which was occasioned when Bob Ray circled end in the second half.

If the 1942 season comes to a successful close, it will probably be recorded that the turning point came in the Badgers' second contest of the season, their battle with the team almost nationally ranked for number one honors, Notre Dame.

Their stingy defense held together and they refused to know the meaning of the word quit. In fact, they were so stubborn concerning ground gaining on the part of Notre Dame that when Elroy Hirsch romped 35 yards to score early in the third quarter, they found themselves on the long end of a 7-0 score. The Irish came back to tie in a few minutes, but the Badger defense then rose to Olympian heights to hold off Irish thrust after Irish thrust. In the closing minutes of play they were in the process of organizing a trek to pay dirt of their own.

Badger football followers the world over, when putting down their most desired 1942 win, have been almost unanimous in their opinion that Marquette would be the team that would really have to be beaten to wipe out the 28-7 licking of last year. Stuhldreher's men more than fulfilled the hopes of their well wishers by whitewashing the Hilltoppers to the tune of 35 to 7. This was really senior end Dave Schreiner's day. Three of the Badger markers were credited to him and his defensive play was a thing of beauty.

Missouri's Sugar Bowl eleven was next on the schedule and a mighty big obstacle to surmount they were. However, sophomore Elroy Hirsch took things in his own hands to score two touchdowns and lead the Badgers to a glorious 17-9 victory.

Gathering steam, the Badgers then invaded Chicago's Soldiers Field for a go against the big and powerful Great Lakes combination. The sailors started the fireworks going early in the game when they clicked on a pass play. However, the Cardinal men refused to get panicky and bounced back in the second half on a long run by sophomore Elroy Hirsch and a 101 yard runback of an intercepted pass by quarterback Jack Wink to win 13-7. This was the last non-conference game of the season and placed the Badgers high up in the notice of sports writers all over the nation.

As their first Big Ten opponent, the Badgers brazenly picked Purdue. It was a brazen act because Lafayette has not been particularly kind to Wisconsin teams of the past. Oct. 24 was the first time since 1925 that a Wisconsin club earned a win in Ross-Ade Stadium. This took place in 1940 when the Cardinal men were on the long end of a 14-13 score, a victory which was the Frank Merriwell finish of the year. However, the current squad takes great delight in defying tradition, breaking a jinx and doing the unexpected, so they reeled off a 13-0 win, the scores coming on plunges by Pat Harder and Bob Ray.

Next opponent on the list was Ohio State which came to Madison the number one team of the nation. The setting and background for the brilliant 17-7 Wisconsin win was perfect. It was Homecoming, the largest crowd in the history of Camp Randall was in the stands, neither team had met defeat up until the game, Harry Stuhldreher and Paul Brown, the two head coaches, are both citizens of Massillon, Ohio, and even Mother Nature co-operated by supplying a day of perfect football weather. The Badgers drew first blood on a touchdown and a field goal by Pat Harder to lead, 10-0, going into the last quarter when all hell really broke loose. Ohio State marched 96 yards without faltering for their only marker of the game.

The Badgers in the stands began to get a bit worried, but not the Badgers on the field. Taking the next kickoff, they bounced right back to score themselves without losing the ball, this one came on a pass from Hirsch to Schreiner.

Harry Stuhldreher has molded the current Badgers into a real going machine. There are several outstanding men on the squad, of course, but the Badgers are all supplying football of the kind that brings victories. Pat Harder, Elroy Hirsch, Mark Hoskins, Len Seelinger, Bob Ray, and Ashley Anderson are all doing yeomen work in the backfield while up front there has been genuine spirit and morale which has been of vital aid to the cause. Such stalwarts as Schreiner, Pat Lyons, Bob Hanzlik, Paul Hirsbrunner, Bob Baumann, Lloyd Wasserbach, Dick Thornally, Dean Currier, Red Vogds, and Fred Negus have all been doing their part to get the Badgers really on the Glory Road for the first season in many years.

Jones Men Win First Meet

COACH TOM JONES' cross country team is the only other Badger varsity squad which has started its season of competition. In their only meet of the year thus far the Badgers completely overwhelmed Milwaukee YMCA. After a disastrous record in 1941, the venerable mentor believes that things are again looking up in the sport which has provided the Badgers with their most Big Ten titles.

Basketball Chances for Pennant Look Good

"BUD" FOSTER has already started to build his 1942-43 cage five and prospects for the Wisconsin flag again hanging from the top of the Western Conference championship ladder are exceptionally fine. High scoring John Kotz will be back for his last year of competition. Should he keep up his record of his sophomore and junior years, he is bound to carve his name deep in the annals of basketball for all time. Other veterans available to Foster for game use include Fred Rehm, Bob Sullivan, Ray Patterson, and Walter Lautenbach.

"Pat" Harder, No. 34, starts Elroy Hirsch, No. 40, on his 58-yard jitterbug run against Ohio State Finances are fine but we need more members! . . . Read

The Treasurer's Report

THE eightieth fiscal year of the Wisconsin Alumni Association was satisfactorily completed on August 31, 1942, without using any red ink.

| | |
|---------------------|-------------|
| Total income ----- | $19,315.63 |
| Total expense ----- | 18,412.09 |

These figures indicate an encouraging increase over the preceding year, ending August 31, 1941: Total income—$17,994.52; total expense—$17,520.70. As a matter of fact, this is the sixth consecutive year in which Association income has increased.

Most of our Association's income, of course, comes from membership dues. Last year, for example, $15,404.11 out of our total income of $19,315.63 came from membership dues. That is, approximately 80% of the Association's income is from membership dues. Compared with the membership income of $8,086 for the year 1935-36, these figures show that your Association has made noteworthy progress during the last six years.

The various Association funds also show a healthy condition. A year ago the student loan fund showed a balance of $10,144.26; this last year—$10,227.23. On August 31, 1941, the life membership fund showed a balance of $37,711.64; on August 31, 1942, this balance was $37,961.64. The interest from this fund is used for current operations.

Your treasurer hopes that the current fiscal year, beginning September 1, 1942, will continue this splendid progress. Your Association must have increased income to do the jobs which need to be done. Heading this list, of course, is the job of sending our publications, free, to Wisconsin alumni in Uncle Sam's armed forces.

Approximately 3,000 Badgers are in military service and the number is growing daily. These Badgers are not asking any favors. But they're human. They'll fight better if we help them to keep in touch with the things they are fighting for. They'll win the war more quickly if we show them that we appreciate the splendid job they are doing. Most of them are recent graduates. Many enlisted before graduation. All of them are hungry for news about their University and their fellow alumni.

As treasurer of your Association, I should like to talk very plainly with you about this job. It costs money to carry on this work. Since approximately 80% of this money comes from membership dues, we must have more membership income if we are to do the jobs that need to be done. There are three ways in which you can help to lick this problem.

First, pay your dues promptly. Many of you have already done this because membership income for September and October was the highest in ten years. Association money can't be spent twice. If it's used in sending out bills and statements, it can't be used to send our publications to Badgers in the armed forces. Every dollar saved in collection expense means one more dollar for constructive service.

Second, if your bank balance permits, change from regular membership at $4 a year to victory membership at $10 a year for the duration. This extra income will all be used for sending Wisconsin news to our fellow alumni in the armed forces.

Third, encourage non-members to become full-time Badgers by joining the Association. Ten chances to one you know some alumnus who can and should be a member. Maybe this alumnus has thought about joining but has put it off because that is the easy thing to do in these hectic war days. In many instances, a suggestion from a member like yourself is all that is necessary to turn this non-member into a full-time Badger.

More membership income means more services for members, it means a strengthening of the Association as "the right arm of the University", it means loyal and active support of President Van Pelt's "Victory First Objective!"

by Frank O. Holt
Treasurer
Wisconsin Alumni Association

Alumni and Their War Activities

THE special War Activities Committee of the Wisconsin Alumni Association met in the Association offices Saturday, September 26, and drafted the following resolution:

"The War Activities Committee of the Wisconsin Alumni Association expresses its full approval of all the war work which the University of Wisconsin is now carrying on. It commends the board of regents, the president, the members of the faculty, and the general student body for their initiative and co-operation with the War and Navy departments and all other federal agencies in establishing and furthering war activities.

"The committee heartily endorses President C. A. Dykstra's recent publicized statement that 'Colleges and Universities must contribute in every possible way to our supreme national effort for victory, and should devote their facilities 100 per cent to the war effort.'

"It is the judgment of the committee that President Dykstra's proposal should be carried out in fullest measure at the University of Wisconsin, and the Alumni Association hereby pledges its maximum support to that end. Your committee supports all proposals to expand the University's war program and recommends that every request of governmental war agencies for increased classrooms, teaching facilities, laboratories, dormitories, and personnel for war training and research be given first consideration over and above all University functions, making the primary purpose of the University of Wisconsin the winning of the war.

"With equal emphasis, your War Activities committee calls upon all loyal Badgers and every alumni club to co-operate in the program of war activities outlined in the attached report. Such co-operation is paramount if we are to assume the leadership and responsibility which rightfully belong to us as former students and graduates of a great University.

"Accordingly, your committee recommends the continuation and expansion of all activities now sponsored by the Wisconsin Alumni Association and its affiliated clubs and urges the development of new war activities as fast as funds and personnel permit.

"Your committee further recommends that all alumni clubs make a careful analysis of their activities to insure that these activities are closely correlated with the war work of the University of Wisconsin. This three way co-operation is essential if Wisconsin and its alumni are to render the greatest service in winning this war and safeguarding the future of higher education."

The existing war activities program of the Association includes a war records clerk to keep as complete a record as possible of all Wisconsin alumni in military service, the sending of all Association publications to men in the service, free, and complete co-operation with the government and University war programs.

Suggestions made by the committee for furthering the Association's program include:

1. The Association might request the Daily Cardinal to make available to the Association for mailing to alumni in service a condensed monthly summary of news.

2. If a supply of picture postcards of University buildings or grounds could be made available to the Association, they could be mailed periodically to service men and women who are Wisconsin alumni.

3. Articles should be published in the November WISCONSIN ALUMNUS informing all Wisconsin men and women about the U. S. Army Institute Special Service Branch of the war department, which now operates for the express purpose of army personnel education by correspondence; and also on the War Counseling service now being carried on by members of the University faculty, both at the University for the student body and throughout the state to counsel high school boys about their war preparation.

The committee further suggested that alumni clubs be urged to:

4. Locate Wisconsin men and women who might be stationed nearby and develop a war activities program which includes them.

5. Hold special meetings to which service men and women located nearby could be invited.

It was suggested by the Committee that individual members could help by:

6. Writing letters to men in the service, including local boys whose home ties might not bring them many letters.

7. Inviting soldiers and sailors to visit in their homes.

(Continued on page 81)

The new War Records Office checks on the boys in service

MORE than 3,000 University of Wisconsin Alumni are in the armed forces and more are joining each day. The University, faced with the task of keeping adequate track of "her boys" has created a new service department, that of War Records clerk in the Alumni Records office, for the express purpose of keeping as complete a record as possible on Badgers in military service.

The War Records clerk, Miss Mable Wiley, checks newspapers, magazines, letters, and special army and navy releases to obtain every bit of information possible on University of Wisconsin men and women in their country's service. Her files list men and women under arms, their correct address, ranks or ratings, and any honors or awards won.

It is hoped that after the war the Alumni War Records will show a complete picture of the contribution made to the war by the University and alumni.

Miss Wiley, War Records clerk, requests all servicemen, and relatives and friends of servicemen to notify the War Records office in the Memorial Union, of any man who may be starting his military career or who might not be listed on the records, the correct addresses of these men and women, and any advancement or military recognition awarded them.

"Any information regarding the whereabouts" of men and women in the service will be greatly appreciated by the War Records Office.

Here 'N There With The Clubs

Berkeley Alumni Enjoy Picnic

FIFTY San Francisco, Oakland, and Alameda alumni met for a delightful afternoon picnic at John Hinkel Park in Berkeley on Sunday, September 27. Dr. John D. Hicks, Morrison professor at the University of California, who just came to Berkeley from Madison where he was chairman of the history department, spoke on "The University of Wisconsin and the War". He was introduced by Professor Frederick Paxon.

The group enjoyed community singing led by Harry Hindman, all gathered around a pleasantly burning fireplace. Ethel Rose Taylor, president, presided over the meeting.

Olap Lauregard, former president of Portland Alumni club, spoke informally, as did Sergeant Robert Bernnard, U. S. Army, former president of the Seattle Alumni club; Ensign Mark Goedjen, U.S.N.; Anga M. Bjornson; Dr. Herbert E. Bolton; Marie Merkel; H. L. and Bonnie Hetherington Riden; Misses Claire and Helen Thursby, and Frank V. Cornish.

Officers for the coming year will be, Mrs. Raymond T. Birge, (Irene Walsh), President; Arnold Perstein, Vice-President; and Frank V. Cornish, who will continue his very ably handled job as Secretary-Treasurer.

Chicago Alumnae Have Full Fall Program

ON SATURDAY, November 7, in the Cordon Club, the Chicago Alumnae club held its first meeting under the direction of the new president, Mrs. Bernard James McShane (Ethelyn Sell until two weeks ago). Miss Helen Zepp of Park Ridge directed arrangements for the meeting, with Lida Johnson assisting as program chairman.

A "Wisconsin Women in War Work" program was presented, with alumnae active in USO, service centers, Traveler's Aid society, Girl Scouts, consumer research projects, and WAVES contributing to the program. Lieut.

Ruth Woodward of the Navy and Mrs. Lucy Rogers Hawkins, Wisconsin Alumni Association board member, were among the speakers.

The club is busy again working on scholarship funds, combining their efforts with those for the War Effort Contributions.

At the first meeting of the year, held in October at the Chicago College Club, Mrs. Alonzo Benn, general vice chairman of the D. A. R. Correct Use of the Flag committee, talked on "Origin and Correct Use of the Flag."

Members are contributing to the blood bank in the way of war contributions, besides taking an active part in war and service work in Chicago.

Detroit Club Sends Regards

DETROIT alumni met Saturday, October 24, and from all reports it was a great success. Mr. R. T. Johnstone writes, "We only had 21 at the meeting but there was not one of the fellows but that was 'tops' in his field and really very worthwhile. I would be glad to stack the 21 there up against any 21 in any alumni organization of any school in the country, and naturally, quality counts. Although we may not have large numbers I do feel that we now have the basis of a strong and lasting organization here in Detroit."

"Everyone here is delighted with the showing of the football team this year and sincerely hope they will be able to knock Ohio State off and have a big Homecoming."

(Editor's Note: We did.)

Eau Claire, Green Bay, Wausau Receive U. W. Counseling Service

THE Alumni clubs of Eau Claire, Green Bay and Wausau were responsible for bringing to the young people of their cities the University developed Counseling service early in the fall. Dean Chester Ruedisili of the University spoke at a mixer in Eau Claire and also held personal consultations at the high school. Dr. Merlin H. Hayes of the University staff advised the young people of Wausau, and the young people of Green Bay benefited by the advice given by University's Dean Willard W. Blaesser.

At these meetings prospective students and their parents were given the opportunity to ask the University staff members questions about the University, and to discuss the problem of college education during the present emergency, particularly as to the course of action high school graduates should take in either continuing their education or accepting jobs in defense industries.

Dr. H. M. Stang, president of the Eau Claire club, writes, "I feel sure that he (Dean Ruedisili) accomplished a great deal in Eau Claire and I believe that the Alumni club also benefited. . . ."

Fox River Valley District Honors Two Presidents

AS IT happened that the Fox River Valley district this year was so honored as to claim the outgoing and the incoming presidents of the Wisconsin Alumni Association, the coincidence was duly celebrated as a party held at the Butte des Morts Country Club last July 27.

Al Goedjen, 1941-42 president, Green Bay, and Judge Clayton Van Pelt, Fond du Lac, were the two presidents honored. The party was handled by the regional governor of District VI, Bob Connelly. Speakers were President Dykstra, Goedjen, Van Pelt, and John Berge, secretary of the Association.

About 150 loyal alumni from the Fox River Valley were present, augmented by a Madison delegation, including Harry Stuhldreher, Phil Falk, Fay Elwell, Frank Holt, and John Berge.

Al Goedjen, President Dykstra, Frank Holt and "Van" Van Pelt at the Fox River Valley Reception

Minneapolis Alumni Meet To Hear Dean Holt

A HIGHLY enthusiastic group of Wisconsin alumni met for luncheon at the Radisson Hotel in Minneapolis on October 8 to meet Dean Frank Holt and hear his talk on "The University and the War."

John H. Sarles, president, reports that although most of the members present had read about the war activities on the campus, Dean Holt's message really made the picture come alive and gave them a true understanding of the many services being performed by the University and the Alumni Association.

The Navy was well represented at the luncheon with Lieutenant Commander Hefferman, who is in charge of the Naval Officer Procurement in Minneapolis, and two members of his staff, Ensign William P. Goodrich and Ensign R. D. Johns. They were also happy to welcome Lieutenant Ab Hendee who is now stationed at the University of Minnesota School for Naval Radio Instruction.

The Minneapolis club met again November 6 to see the motion pictures of the Wisconsin-Great Lakes game and to hear about the team from Frank Jordan who scouts Minnesota.

Milwaukee Alumni Fete L. Lochner

THE Milwaukee Alumni club had a very fine dinner meeting at the Milwaukee University club late in October honoring Wisconsin's outstanding war correspondent, A.P.'s Louis Lochner.

Mr. Lochner spoke briefly before dinner. The occasion was in celebration of Lochner's being in Milwaukee to deliver an address on "What About Germany?", which is also the title of his recently published book.

Waukegan Alumni Hold Paul Bunyan Breakfast

WISCONSIN alumni in Waukegan and vicinity held their annual Paul Bunyan pancake breakfast at Petrifying Springs near Kenosha one Sunday last August. Baseball, the order of the day, was necessarily postponed due to a mild cloudburst.

New officers, elected at a business meeting, will be: Emerson Cole, president; Douglas Frost, vice-president; Miss Thekla Klatt, secretary, and Mrs. Kenneth Metzler, treasurer. Retiring officers are: Harry E. Sagen, president; Emerson Cole, vice-president; and Mrs. Herbert Duescher, secretary.

Prof. Pulver Addresses Southern Cal. Alumnae

MRS. W. A. WARREN of Pasadena, newly elected president of the Wisconsin Alumnae Association of Southern California, presided over the September meeting which was held at the Gourmet Club in Hollywood.

Prof. H. E. Pulver, of the University of Wisconsin Extension division, College of Engineering, who was guest of honor, spoke on "What the University of Wisconsin Is Doing For Defense."

He told the club that defense work last year kept him and 92 assistant instructors busy conducting large classes at the university and in other parts of the state. His department alone conducted 110 classes for 3100 students.

At the close of Prof. Pulver's talk vacation experiences were related by Mrs. L. G. Kepler, vice-president from Altadena, who told of her trip to Corpus Christi, Texas; Miss Genevieve Church-Smith, Pasadena; and Mrs. H. A. Loftsgordon of Madison, who had arrived in Los Angeles for her annual visit. Mrs. Loftsgordon will serve as treasurer of the organization to fulfill the vacancy left by Miss Ida Isabelle Jones, who resigned.

Staff appointments are now being made to men and women college graduates and undergraduates. Interesting positions available for those who may plan eventually to enter a profession or business where applied psychology plays an important role. An excellent opportunity to learn in a practical way some of the fundamentals of personality and behavior and thus to acquire a better understanding of oneself as well as others. For detailed information, write to the General Director of Nursing, Neuro-Psychiatric Institute, 200 Retreat Avenue, Hartford, Connecticut.

FIGHTING WORDS

—from our fighting men

... delivered on every front by Western Electric equipment

"Get the message through!" is the tradition of men in the Signal Corps. More than 5,500 of them are from the Bell System.

OUT of peace-time telephone making come war-time telephones like these. On every front, they keep the armed forces in contact.

In the air, on land and water and under the sea, they give commanders control of operations ... multiply the effectiveness of every fighter. Like the men who use them, they are tough and dependable. They come from Western Electric; for 60 years manufacturer for the Bell System.

 Western Electric
ARSENAL OF COMMUNICATIONS

Badgers In The Limelight

Governor-elect on the Progressive ticket, Orland S. Loomis

Orland S. Loomis, '17, Is New Wisconsin Governor

The people of Wisconsin went to the polls Tuesday, Nov. 3, and by an overwhelming vote elected Orland Steen Loomis, Mauston, the new governor of the state. Governor-elect Loomis has practiced law in Mauston since his graduation from the University law school in 1917, except during 1918 and 1919 when he was in the army and served nine months in France.

Loomis was city attorney of Mauston from 1922 till 1931, was elected to the assembly in 1928, and in 1932 and 1933 served in the Senate where he was a leader of the Progressive forces. He was elected president pro-tempore of the senate in 1933.

In 1935 Loomis was appointed director of the Rural Electrification administration by Gov. Phil LaFollette, and in 1916 he was elected attorney general and served one term. As attorney general he fought for liberal legislation and defended liberal state laws from attack in the courts.

Shortly before going to war Mr. Loomis married a classmate of his, the former Florence Ely, who received a B. S. degree in home economics from the University in 1916. They have three children, the oldest son, Bob, having left the sophomore class at the University to enlist in the navy.

Roy L. French, '24, Says, "Winston, Here I Come!"

It all comes from having teacher's pets, we say. Anyway, now Roy L. French, '24, is off to London to be a major in the U. S. Army Air Forces and will serve on the staff of Maj. General Ira Eaker, commander of the American bombing forces in Europe.

It wasn't very many years ago that the situation was somewhat reversed and Gen. Eaker was getting his degree at the University of Southern California under the director of the School of Journalism, our own Roy L. French.

Early this summer Gen. Eaker asked French to become a member of his staff. Red tape unwinds slowly, but Sunday, October 4, found the genial journalist on his way to London to assume his duties in the combat intelligence service.

Philip Parrish, '19, Puts Words Into the Mouth of Ship-builder Kaiser

If Henry J. Kaiser, the cargo plane wizard and ship-building genius, took time off to write his own speeches, the war effort might be the loser by a half a dozen ships or planes. So the superefficient Kaiser has a ghost writer to do that job — and that's Philip H. Parrish, '19. Mr. Parrish, editorial writer on the Portland Oregonian, besides having the exalted position of writing speeches and articles for one of the "biggest" men in the production industry, has a wealth of journalistic experience on the west coast papers and several books to his credit, "Before the Covered Wagon," and "Historic Oregon."

Dr. Mark Tempkin, '33, Operates and Saves a Life

Dr. Mark Tempkin, '33, must be happy now that he chose to follow the medical profession. He is one of two army surgeons "somewhere in Australia" credited with a delicate brain operation that saved the life of Sgt. Clarence Hoehn of Munster, Texas.

Working in a field hospital the doctors removed the nose cap of a shell fired by a Japanese zero fighter and also took out a piece of bone which was pressing upon the brain center.

Sgt. Hoehn was tail gunner of a bomber which was attacked by 20 zeros for 40 minutes during Allied raids on Lae, New Guinea.

"Cy" Peterman, '22, Off to Cover the War!

He's off again! Ivan "Cy" Peterman, '22, is off to London where he will represent the Philadelphia Inquirer as an accredited war correspondent covering the western war theatre — including Europe, Russia and Egyptian campaigns.

Wearing the uniform of a correspondent he will be directly under the command of Gen. Eisenhower, chief in command of the A.E.F., and will accompany U. S. forces on actual operations.

"Cy" is a graduate of the School of Journalism, and while in school was active in sports, especially wrestling, and worked on the Daily Cardinal.

"Quiz Kid" Roy Blough, '22, Gives Answers to Morgenthau

When it comes to taxes, this man knows all the answers. He can tell how a sales tax would affect the purchasing power of American consumers, what would happen if the treasury department added a couple cents to the federal cigaret tax, the effect on business of an increased corporation tax.

His name is Roy Blough, M. A. '22, Ph. D. '29. He's "Uncle Sam's No. 1 Answer Man", head of the tax research department. "The Dr. I. Q. of Business" has his fingers on the nation's pulse and whenever the treasury department wants some "Information, Please" they ask our Mr. Blough. His scientific findings guide the treasury in its tax program, and it's his job to figure out the effect of the levy before the treasury department asks Congress to enact it.

Blough formerly taught economics at the University and was chief statistician for the Wisconsin tax commission.

"What About Germany" — Lochner Reviewed by Grant M. Hyde

Wisconsin alumni who heard Louis Lochner deliver that amazing talk on Nazi Germany at the reunion dinner here in Madison on June 16, 1939, may now read it all — and much more — in a book. Since his return to the United States last June, after 21 years of newspaper work in Germany, including 14 years as chief of the Berlin bureau of the Associated Press, he has written his observations of the Nazis and their warfare into a 395-page volume, "What About Germany?" just published by Dodd, Mead & Company.

Classmates of his in old '09 and others who knew him during his first 10 years out of college, will find in the book a new Louis Lochner. The vigorous hater of all kinds of war, whom we knew years ago in Madison, has changed. He is "fighting mad" now. He has found a justification for war — for this war, at least. To me, the change is very striking for I have known Lochner for 32 years, have watched his development as a newspaper man, and now read with much interest the last paragraph of his Foreword, in which he writes:

"I want the reader to feel as burning an anger as I do at the perversion of civilization that Adolph Hitler is trying to foist on an unwilling world, including millions of his own countrymen. It is my hope that the reader will realize what I had to learn during nine years of Nazism, even at the sacrifice (for the duration) of treasured pacifistic principles, that there is no other slogan for me, there can be no other slogan for lovers of liberty everywhere, than that with which I have hitherto closed all my talks — Hitler MUST be beaten, Hitler CAN be beaten, Hitler WILL be beaten!"

One cannot really review a book like this. One can only say that it includes all that other eye-witnesses have told us, from an even closer range than they, and that it brings the material up to date — since he was the last American newspaper man to come out.

He tells the story in crisp journalistic writing that reads rapidly and convincingly. He has illustrated the book with 19 photographs of Hitler and his closest cronies. He has told what he saw on officially-conducted tours to various parts of the fighting fronts. He has explained Nazism, not only as it appears to an American newspaper man, but as it appears to one whose knowledge of the German language and of the German people is so intimate that he may transmit to us their very thoughts on the events of the last 20 years. He shows the kind of reporting that won him the Pulitzer Prize in 1939.

Speaking as an inveterate reader of journalists' eye-witness accounts of this war, I am inclined to think that Louis Lochner has done a book of which his university classmates and other Wisconsin alumni will be proud. At any rate, every Wisconsin alumnus will be eager to read the book.

Trailing the Badgers

eighteen ninety-two

THEODORE R. RUNNING, professor emeritus of mathematics at the University of Michigan, is now living at 1019 Michigan ave., Ann Arbor, Mich.

eighteen ninety-four

PROF. WILLIAM O. RICHTMANN, of the University pharmacy department, was one of eight state pharmacists to be honored at the state convention of the Wisconsin Pharmaceutical association in Milwaukee the last week in September for holding membership in the association for 25 years or more.

eighteen ninety-seven

PROF. C. K. LEITH, who is now acting as consultant to the materials division of the War Production board, was elected in April to honorary membership in the Institution of Mining and Metallurgy of London, England, in recognition of his original work on the economics of mining, and his contribution to the study of geology.

eighteen ninety-nine

CHAS. T. HUTSON, of the law firm of Balingier, Hutson, & Boldt, Seattle, Wash., reports that the Navy has taken over the building in which his firm had their offices. They are now located at 1302 Hoge building, Seattle.

nineteen hundred

Lucy Salamanca, head of the Congressional research section of the Legislative Reference Service of the Library of Congress, has dedicated her book, "Fortress of Freedom", the story of the Congressional library, to JUDGE AUGUST C. BACKUS, for "a lifetime devoted to the rehabilitation of the unfortunate, during which he has recognized the power and influence of good books." Judge Backus is general counsel for the Schlitz Brewing company, and resides in Milwaukee.

nineteen one

NELSON J. WILCOX has been appointed general solicitor for the Chicago and Northwestern Railways, with offices in Chicago. . . . Dr. H. T. PLUMB has begun work in the electrical engineering department at the University of Utah.

nineteen two

FREDERICK O. LEISER, retired local YMCA executive, was named director of the Madison rent area by Price Administrator Leon Henderson. . . . Thomas F. DAVLIN, manager of the Wisconsin Development authority which supplies technical services to rural electric cooperatives, has been secretary to Harry SAUTHOFF, Progressive Congressional representative, since May 1, and is managing his campaign for re-election. . . . Horace C. GROUT has been named general manager of the western lines of the Canadian Pacific railway, with headquarters at Winnipeg. He joined the railroad in 1898 in construction work.

nineteen four

MABEL GODDARD, head of the English department at the Arsenal Technical school's, Indianapolis, Ind., since 1920, has retired. Now living in Freeport, Ill., she is doing writing and editorial work. Miss Goddard is co-author of English Fundamentals and American English, in four volumes.

nineteen five

WILLIAM MILNE, principal of the Price County Normal school in Phillips, Wis., took office in July as district governor of Rotary International. Unanimously elected at the Rotary convention in Toronto, Canada, Mr. Milne will devote much of his time during his year in office in visiting the 44 Rotary clubs in Wisconsin and Michigan which make up his district.

nineteen six

MR. and MRS. VICTOR R. GRIGGS (Irma KUSSEL) are now living at 3104 24th ave., N. E., Portland, Ore. . . . Benjamin J. RODERICK, Brodhead, lieutenant commander of the Madison Consistory, AASR, was given the 33d and last degree in Masonry at Boston in September during the sessions of the Scottish Rite for the Northern Masonic jurisdiction. . . . A full-page color photograph and an article by Dr. Ralph D. HETZEL, president of Penn State college, were featured on the cover of the June 21 issue of "Everybody's Weekly", the supplement to the Sunday Philadelphia Inquirer. Dr. Hetzel's article, "Training Youth in Vital Roles for Industry", described the responsibility of American educational institutions to provide the facilities that will make for more useful citizens.

nineteen seven

WARREN A. GELBACH is in charge of structural engineering on the construction of the Pantex Ordnance plant at Amarillo, Tex., which is scheduled for completion March 1, 1943. . . . Carl ZAPFFE, manager of iron ore properties of the Northern Pacific Railway company, Brainerd, Minn., and author of many articles on mining and geology, has been appointed to serve on Rotary International's Committee on Participation of Rotarians in the Post-War World.

nineteen nine

THEO. H. SCHOENWETTER is employed in the department of the Los Angeles county auditor, Hall of Records, and is living in Santa Monica. During the regular school term, he teaches bookkeeping, auditing, and Civil Service at the Santa Monica Evening High school. . . . Mary COLEMAN is working in the office of the Alien Property Custodian, New York City. . . . Frank A. DE BOOS, formerly vice-president of the Fred G. Nagle Co., Detroit, Mich., is now manager of the Farwell building in that city.

nineteen ten

MRS. HAZEL STRAIGHT STAFFORD, recently elected president of the professional speech arts sorority here, has begun her winter season of novelogues. "Novelogue" is the word coined by Mrs. Stafford to express her unusual condensations of the new books, both fiction and non-fiction. . . . Ray O. FISCHER, Jefferson, Wis., was one of eight state pharmacists honored by the Wisconsin Pharmaceutical association at its state convention in September for holding membership for 25 years or more.

nineteen thirteen

DR. GLADYS BRANEGAN, for 10 years dean of the division of household and industrial arts at Montana State college, in recognition of her achievements and leadership in the home economics field, has been selected for listing in "Who's Who in America." Dr. Branegan is the immediate past president of the American Home Economics association and is the author of "Home Economics Teacher Training under the Smith-Hughes Act."

nineteen fourteen

JOHN V. MC CORMICK is a candidate for re-election as Judge of the Municipal court of Chicago. He received the highest vote given any candidate for associate judge both in the regular primary election and the primary among members of the Chicago Bar association.

nineteen seventeen

GEORGIA EBBERT KLAUSER writes, "Last fall Irene COOK HOHMANN, Margaret SHUGRUE and I planned to return to Wisconsin for our reunion in June, but since then we have moved to California and I regret, the trip is a bit too long for me to take. Our son Bud, a sophomore at De Pauw university, spent the summer with us out here." . . . Chas. A. HOLMES is assistant division engineer for the State Highway commission at Wisconsin Rapids. . . . Donald R. BURNHAM is in charge of the U. S. Field station at Tucumcari, N. M., where different varieties of crops are tested to discover those most profitably grown in that area. . . . Fred KEATING is in charge of a similar station at Big Springs, Tex. . . . James E. WELLS, Jr., has been appointed deputy governor of the Farm Credit Administration. He has been in government service for 15 years. . . . Mrs. Sarah VANCE DUGAN has been elected president of the Association of Food and Drug Officials of the United States. Mrs. Dugan is also director of the Bureau of Foods, Drugs, and Hotels, Department of Health, of the State of Kentucky. . . . Mrs. Kate WHITNEY CURTIS, on sabbatical leave from her position with the Chicago Teachers college this year, is a field representative in Water Safety and First Aid for the American Red Cross. . . . William F. CALLANDER, who retired as chairman of the Crop Reporting board and as chief of the Division of Agricultural Statistics in the U. S. Department of Agriculture, will continue as consultant to the Crop Reporting board and has become agricultural statistician in charge of the Orlando, Fla., office. . . . Meta WOOD WARDEN is now teaching in East Central Junior college, Decatur, Miss.

nineteen eighteen

ESTHER FORBES' newest literary work, "Paul Revere and the World He Lived In", was chosen as the July Book of the Month and is now on the best-seller list of non-fiction. A Yankee through and through, Miss Forbes' choice of Paul Revere and his times as the subject of a book is perfectly natural. . . . Marion NEPRUD is aiding in the War Housing program of the Federal Public Housing authority by serving as "Housing Management Training Advisor" in region 6, which includes Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Indiana, Illinois, North and South Dakota. Her headquarters are at 201 N. Wells st., Chicago. . . . Dan STEELE is the author of "The Red Can-Can", a short story of how a band of Russian guerrillas outwitted a Nazi Colonel, which is in the November issue of Esquire, now on sale.

As Mr. Steele served as a First Lieutenant in North Russia for about a year, his material for the story is authentic and first-hand. . . . Hugo H. SOMMER, the third Wisconsin man in the past four years to receive the honor, was awarded the Borden prize of $1,000 and a gold medal for the year's most meritorious contribution to dairy science. Prof. Sommer, of the University Ag college faculty, received the award at the mid-summer meeting of the American Dairy Science Association for his studies on oxidation of fats and the effect of metals and light on such oxidation and his pioneer work on the relation of the salt content of milk to the heat stability of milk proteins.

nineteen twenty

DOROTHY BESS, one-half of the Saturday Evening Post writing team of Dorothy and Demaree Bess, brings us up-to-date on her life since she left the University—"I left school in the middle of my sophomore year, it being my destiny, apparently, never to stay long in one place. I began newspaper work in Chicago in 1918, and in less than a quarter of a century succeeded in working my way to New York, via Springfield, Ill., Minneapolis, San Francisco, Honolulu, Tokyo, Peking, Shanghai, Moscow, and all the capitals of western Europe. In the summer of 1925 I met Demaree Bess in Tokyo, and we were married there in 1927. In writing for the Post we pool our efforts—my husband doing most of the work, and I accepting much of the credit."

nineteen twenty-one

JOHN N. THOMSON was appointed treasurer of the State of South Dakota late in August to fill an unexpired term. . . . Forrest E. SMITH has recently moved to Asheville, N. C., where he is establishing himself as a manufacturing representative for Steel Products. . . . Mrs. Rold ULLESTAD, the former Rhea HUNT, prominent in midwest art circles because of her work in silver and pewter as designer and creator and pictures of which were shown in a recent issue of House and Garden, is now living in Manhattan, Kan., for the duration. Her husband, a major in the dental corps, has been assigned to Ft. Riley. . . . Mrs. Ullestad is past president of the U. W. Alumnae club of Chicago and of the North Shore alliance of Delta Delta Delta. . . . Carroll O. WHALEY, Chicago editor and writer, has a unique hobby—he buys and rehabilitates old parlor organs, equipping them with practically indestructable bellows of his own invention, bellows which do not use rubber. Mr. Whaley is also working on a book dealing with American religious life. . . . Rosamond ALLEN is in the Children's Service bureau at St. Petersburg, Fla.

nineteen twenty-two

MARY ISABEL WINSLOW has resumed her former position as professor of romance languages at the College of St. Francis, Joliet, Ill. Since receiving her Ph. D. degree here in 1935, Miss Winslow has been a member of the Spanish faculty at the University and at Lake Erie college in Painesville, O.

nineteen twenty-three

LIPPERT S. ELLIS has resigned as vice-director of the Oklahoma Agricultural Experiment station, where he had been since Jan. 1, 1939, to accept a position as Regional Research supervisor, Division of Land Economics, Bureau of Agricultural Economics, with the U. S. Department of Agriculture. His headquarters will be Little Rock, Ark. . . . Gertrude HAVEN, who has been teaching at Chippewa Falls, Wis., is now on the faculty of North High school, Sheboygan, teaching history. . . . Gertrude ERBE is now supervisor of vocal music in Kankakee, Ill. She had been director of the Voice and Public School Music departments at the State Teachers college, Ellendale, N. D.

nineteen twenty-four

PEARLE E. KNIGHT, in collaboration with Prof. Harry G. Paul of the University of Illinois, is publishing an anthology of American literature for high school under the title, "In America." . . . Ralph E. AMMON, director of the state department of agriculture since 1938, has been granted a leave of absence to become affiliated with the Prairie Farmer Publishing Co. and radio station WLS in Chicago. . . . Beulah JACKSON CHARMLEY, Whitewater writer and poet laureate of Wisconsin, is to have 35 articles, stories, and poems published in national publications in the near future. A series of 10 articles on vocational guidance will run in the national weekly, "Girlhood Days", and a novelette, "To Lead My People" will appear in "Youth", a Philadelphia publication. . . . Charles J. CHAMBERS, in charge of the construction of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.'s housing developments as recounted in the July ALUMNUS, was erroneously placed in the class of 1913. Sorry, 1924 was the year of his graduation from the Engineering college.

nineteen twenty-five

JOHN L. BERGSTRESSER, formerly with the department of education at the University of Chicago, has accepted the appointment as dean of men at the College of the City of New York. His address is now 3900 Greystone ave., Apt. 33A, New York City. . . . Harold "Mike" GRIFFIN, city-editor of the Louisville Courier-

Journal, is also Time magazine's correspondent in that city. In a mid-summer issue of Time, the magazine broke its own rule about the anonymity of its writers and accredited "Mike" with the article, "What Is the Matter With the People?"

nineteen twenty-six

WALDEMAR NAUJOKS writes, "I am afraid that Messrs, Hitler, Mussolini, and Hirohito have upset my plans for joining the reunion this year. With our boys fighting at the front and my firm busy producing forgings for aircraft, navy, and army requirements, I do not feel that I want to leave my desk until the job of making our country safe is finished." . . . Ben ROCHE, formerly on the animal husbandry staff of the College of Agriculture here, has resigned to take over the operation of the noted 400-acre Merryman farm, located on the York Pike, between York, Pennsylvania, and Baltimore, Maryland. . . . H. G. KOENIG is treasurer and assistant secretary of Air Communications, Inc., Kansas City, Mo., in charge of engineering and development of aircraft radio equipment. Mr. Koenig and his partner organized the firm in 1939. . . . Dr. Otto TOENHART has begun private medical practice at Cassville, Wis. . . . Robert R. WRIGHT, Ironwood, Mich., attorney, was elected state commander of the American Legion at the Upper Peninsula Legion convention in August. . . . Gladys Anne DOLLOFF, who received her M. A. degree at Boston university this summer, is teaching English at Lakewood, O. . . . Sister M. WILFRED, O. S. F., (Myrl A. ROSS) writes "On Aug. 8 I made perpetual vows in the order of the School Sisters of St. Francis. For the past six years I have been teaching in the Alvernia high school, a school for girls, in Chicago."

nineteen twenty-eight

DR. E. M. HILDEBRAND, of the Cornell university department of plant pathology, represented the University of Wisconsin at the inaugural of Everett Case as Colgate university's new president. . . . Virginia STANLEY, on the editorial staff of the Washington Times-Herald, is the first member of the Women's National Press club to be assigned to foreign service with the Red Cross. She has arrived safely in London. . . . Ethel A. NIEJAHR is teaching mathematics and art at Rothschild, Wis. . . . Charlotte WOLLAEGER has assumed duties at Lawrence college, Appleton, Wis., as dean of women. . . . Elaine STEWART SCHULTZ writes from Bay City, Mich., "Sorry not able to make the reunion. I'm doing volunteer service work and am also active in A. A. U. W. and Panhellenic groups. I have two sons, ages 12 and 7." . . . Robert B. SCHWENGER has been appointed deputy executive officer for the United States of the recently established secretariat for the combined food board of the United States and the United Kingdom.

nineteen twenty-nine

WARREN C. PRICE, after three years on the Des Moines Register, has gone to the University of Oregon as an assistant professor of journalism. He is taking the position formerly occupied by Charles HULTEN, '30. The Prices (Lillian SHIDALL, '32), have two children, Katy, 4, and William, 1. . . . Elmer G. DAHLGREN is now technical secretary of the research and coordination committee of the Interstate Oil Compact commission, State Capitol building, Oklahoma City, Okla. . . . J. Holmes MARTIN, of the poultry department at Purdue university, is working with poultrymen, trying to teach more efficient methods of raising poultry in an attempt to alleviate the farm labor shortage.

nineteen thirty

ESTHER HAIGHT is now on the music department faculty at Iowa Wesleyan college, Mount Pleasant. For the past year, she had been at National Park college, Washington, D. C., and had previously instructed music at Wells Settlement house, Minneapolis, and with the Civic Music association, Chicago. . . . Harold "Pat" MORRISEY, ag instructor at the Oregon high school for the past three years, is now coaching athletics there.

nineteen thirty-one

LYMAN S. MOORE has accepted a position as assistant administrator of the National Housing administration in Washington, D. C. He left his post as assistant city manager of Kansas City to take over his new duties. . . . Dr. Gladys EVERSON is associate professor of home economics at Wayne university, Detroit. . . . Carl O. PAULSON has been named librarian at Central State Teachers college, Stevens Point, Wis. For the past two years, he had been teaching English at Augsburg college, Minneapolis. . . . Arbie O. THALACKER was appointed general manager of the Rex Products company, Detroit, Mich., national leader in the metal cleaning field. He retains his former position of secretary in addition to his new duties.

nineteen thirty-two

DR. RUDOLPH NAGY, research engineer at the Westinghouse Lamp division, has developed a "Sterilamp", which uses ultraviolet rays to kill bacteria present in even so-called sterilized milk bottles. . . . Robert MAGDOFF, with six years experience in reporting Russian affairs, is now in Kuibishev, the new Soviet capital, reporting on the "News of the World" series. . . . Mynard BESSERT and his wife, Alice DIETERLE, are living at 3136 S. 40th st., Milwaukee, Wis. Mr. Bessert has been with Cudahy Bros. company since his graduation from the University. . . . Ruth BIEHUSEN BARNES writes, "Please change my address to 2322 Terrace st., Bremerton, Wash., Manette station. We've just finished our new home, and unless evacuation is ordered, hope this is permanent. The house, our new son, Stanton John, born Oct. 31, '41, and my husband's overtime schedule at the Navy yard keep us more than busy, but we're sold on the West."

nineteen thirty-three

DR. JOHN LAWRENCE ONCLEY, instructor in chemistry at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and an associate in physical chemistry at the Harvard medical school, was recently awarded the $1,000 American Chemical society prize in pure chemistry, given annually for outstanding research work by a man or woman under 36 years of age. Dr. Oneley, only 32, received the recognition for his contributions in the field of protein chemistry. . . . Philip J. CANEPA, acting director of the Dane county welfare department for the last year, has accepted the position of deputy district attorney here. . . . Alice GREENBERG DREWS and her husband, Fred, are living in Rothschild, Wis. They have a daughter, Dianne. . . . Burdette BLAKELY has been named conservationist of the Dane county soil conservation district and will also be supervisor of the U. S. Soil Conservation personnel working in Green, Jefferson, and Waukesha counties. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. WADSWORTH, and new daughter Anne, are now living in Washington, D. C., where Mr. Wadsworth is on the staff of Reese Taylor, Chief of the Iron and Steel branch, Materials division, of the War Production Board.

nineteen thirty-four

WAYNE N. VOLK, assistant to the traffic engineer of the state highway commission, is now traffic engineer, having been appointed to fill his chief's vacancy. . . . Stanley GOLDSCHMIDT was appointed acting sanitarian for Rock county, Wis., in Beloit. . . . Eugene H. FLORENCE, Trempealeau county agricultural agent for the past six years, is now a field representative of the Wisconsin Dairy Industries association. . . . Dorothy BRUE is now librarian at North high school, Sheboygan, Wis. . . . H. Herbert HOUSTON is now teaching social science at North high school, Sheboygan.

nineteen thirty-five

JAMES S. O'NEILL, USO drama director at Fayetteville, N. C., has scored unusual success with his soldier-actors from Ft. Bragg. So far they have produced Lady Gregory's "Rising of the Moon", Kirkpatrick's "The Nine Lives of Emily", and "The Valient." O'Neill also directs radio programs over their local station, using service men as the entertainers. . . . Ralph D. HYSLOP is now Minister for Student Life of the Division of Christian Education of the Board of Home Missions of the Congregational-Christian churches. His duties will include travelling among the colleges having an appreciable Congregational Christian constituency, meeting the students and pastors. . . . Mrs. Ora CZESKLEBA ISAACSON will teach shorthand and typing and English in the Oconto Falls high school, Wis. . . . Walter M. BJORK has left his position on the district attorney's staff here to become associated with the Madison law firm of Roberts, Roe and Boardman. . . . Jerome W. MOHRHUSEN is now teaching at Leyden Community high school in Franklin Park, Ill., and is living at 1915 N. Sayre ave., Chicago. . . . Louis E. DEQUINE, Jr., has been promoted to chief engineer of American Bemberg Corp., Elizabethton, Tenn.

nineteen thirty-six

LOUIS BUSSE was one of eight state pharmacists honored at the state convention of the Wisconsin Pharmaceutical association in Milwaukee for holding association membership for 25 years or more. Mr. Busse is a druggist in Reedsburg, Wis. . . . Ruth FAZEN MUNCH and her family have moved to 3401 Osborne blvd., Racine, Wis., where her husband is doing defense work at the J. I. Case plant. She has a son, Donald, 2, and a daughter, Karen, born in June. . . . Two '36-ers are on the faculty of South Side Junior high school in Sheboygan—Norbert SCHUMANN and Arthur HOFFMAN. . . . Jimmy FALLON is now coaching basketball at Lincoln high school, Milwaukee, where he himself starred in football in his high school days. He succeeds Harold CARROLL, '28, who is now in the Army. . . . Lynn JORDAN is head coach of football and basketball and is teaching science at Merrill high school, Wis. . . . Katherine BRUSSE has joined the home ec staff of the University as an instructor in institutional management. She had been working as a Red Cross nutritionist in the East.

nineteen thirty-seven

JOSEPH F. KERSCHER, 1796 25th st., Cuyahoga Falls, O., has been with the Goodyear Tire and Rubber co. as a rubber compounder for five years. He was married in Cleveland June 19 of this year and spent his honeymoon at Madison, the Dells, and Milwaukee. He'd like to hear from some of his old college friends. . . . Henry B. HERMAN is a social worker for the Ethical Culture society in New York City. . . .

Margaret ANDERSON is teaching speech, and Curtis G. PECORE is teaching mathematics at Sheboygan Central high school. . . . Atty. Edwin M. WILKIE has joined the local district attorney's staff.

nineteen thirty-eight

MARVEL INGS is a journalist, but you'll find her in a museum—the Geology museum here on the campus to be exact. She is one of the three known women curators of geology museums, and the first woman to hold the post here. As a writer, she has publicized the museum throughout the state and has made geology into a fascinating subject. . . . Phyllis CLAUS is supervisor of vocal music in the Monroe, Wis., public schools. . . . Lauren BRUSH has accepted the position of instructor in accounting at the Louisiana state university at Baton Rouge. . . . Doris B. THYSELL has been supervisor of physical education in the elementary grades at Austin, Minn., for the last four years. . . . Myron L. SILVER was recently promoted to an assistant attorney general in the attorney general's office for the State of Wisconsin. . . . Erland W. JOHNSON is now on the faculty of Central high school, Sheboygan after teaching science at De Pere for seven and one-half years. . . . Alice NUSS is now teaching at Merrill high school. . . . Eleanor ROSSMAESSLER is teaching home ec at Sheboygan Central high.

nineteen thirty-nine

MARGARET PINKLEY VARDA seems assured of election to the Wisconsin assembly. In the primary, Mrs. Varda, who is seeking her husband's seat in the assembly, won the Progressive nomination with 449 votes to her opponent's 158. The junior partner of the law firm of Varda and Varda, she is also carrying on the legal practice of the firm while her husband, John, is training in the air corps. . . . Gene BRODHAGEN is football coach at Viroqua high school, Wis. . . . Helen GILBERG is on the home economics staff of the University as a research assistant in the nutrition laboratory. . . . Arthur L. KRENZIEN, who graduated from Harvard Law school in June, is associated with the firm of Davis, Polk, Wardwell, Gardiner, & Reed of New York City. . . . Vivian McKENNA is in the home ec department of the Richland Center high school. . . . Herbert O. PAUL is assistant to the director of the physical education department at White-water State Teachers' college. . . . Gertrude THOMSEN is working as a dietitian overseas. . . . Dorothy ROBERTS is hostess dietitian at the Service club in Ft. Sheridan, Ill. . . . Eleanor AFFELDT has changed from teaching English at the South Side Junior high school in Sheboygan to a similar position at Central high. . . . M. Elizabeth BETTINGER has taken her former post.

nineteen forty

ROBERT D. GOFF, 2227 Washington, San Francisco, Calif., is hull inspector for the W. A. Bechtel Co., Marine shipbuilding division, "one of the new 'miracle' yards of which you will hear much in the very near future," he writes. "During the months of April and May I participated in the Japanese evacuation, being acting evacuation agent in various areas in California and Washington. We on the Pacific coast are now used to the permanent dimouts, to huge convoys, to warships of all nations and soldiers from all over the world, to the drone of warplanes on patrol overhead all the time, to coast artillery and anti-aircraft guns, to camouflaged forts, airports, buildings. Really, things are quiet out here." . . . Harriett THOMPSON is now advertising copy supervisor at the Procter and Gamble co., Cincinnati. . . . Leona PRATT is teaching music and English at Williams Bay, Wis. . . . Harold LOGAN is a field representative for the McMillen Feed Mills, Fort Wayne, Ind. . . . Sylvia TURNER is a technician at Watts hospital, Durham, N. C. . . . John N. GRIGGS, Jr., having graduated from the N. Y. university law school and passed the New York state bar examination, is practicing law in New York City. . . . Alta MOORE and Kenneth CUTHBERT are teaching at Merrill high school, Wis. Miss Moore is in the social science department; Cuthbert is director of instrumental music.

nineteen forty-one

CHARLOTTE GRIESMER is now advertising manager of J. C. Penney Co. in Milwaukee. . . . Margery M. KUPLIC, who had been teaching in Edgerton since her graduation, has accepted a position in the physical education department of the University of Nebraska. . . . Donald VOEGELI, former music assistant at University station WHA, was employed during the summer at the Badger Ordnance works, Merrimac, Wis., to handle the public address system. . . . W. F. ZUNKE is located at Port Arthur, Tex., as a field engineer in the construction of a synthetic rubber plant for the Defense Plant corp. . . . Henry SCHOENFELD, Jr., who joined the National Youth Administration in Milwaukee upon graduation, is now unit supervisor there with the NYA. One part of his job consists of working with the Milwaukee Vocational school in planning a co-operative war production training program for Milwaukee youth. He adds, "Have tried to enlist three times—once each in the army, navy, and marines—and each time rejected for poor vision. They won't even have me in the draft. However, the standards may change and you may yet hear of me in Uncle Sam's forces." . . . Querin DEUSTER is instructing in piano at Carroll college, Waukesha. . . . A recent bridegroom, Marcus C. HANSEN is now living at 301 Wiltshire Apts., 815 E. Capitol st., Washington, D. C. He is employed in the Naval Ordnance laboratory, Navy yard, in Washington. . . . Nick LEE, 1940 national collegiate heavyweight champ for Wisconsin, is now assistant to boxing coach Johnny Walsh. . . . Elnora MANTHEI is librarian and instructor in freshman English at Racine-Kenosha Normal school at Union Grove, Wis. . . . Jean MC CAMMOND LOVELL is teaching English in the Fayetteville, N. C., high school while her husband is stationed at Ft. Bragg. . . . Edward SCHWAGER is now athletic coach at White-water State Teachers college, Wis. . . . Robert SHAW is author of the new radio serial, "Front Page Farrell," being heard over NBC. . . . Elmer C. RIECK is teaching math at the Merrill public schools. . . . Marjorie HOVIE ANDERSON is a dietitian at Ft. Lewis, Tacoma, Wash.

nineteen forty-two

HARRY ORLADY, just graduated from the United Air Lines' training school at Cheyenne, is one of 23 pilots who have been made first officers with United Air Lines. He now has been assigned to the Denver-Chicago-New York section of the United's coast-to-coast route. He is based at Chicago. . . . Marjorie BAKKEN is manager of the advertising department of the DeKalb Daily Chronicle, DeKalb, Ill. . . . Henry DOLL is a bacteriologist with Armour & Company, Chicago, assigned to Dennison, Ia., where the company maintains an egg drying plant. . . . Ruth HUMPHREY is teaching home economics at Prairie du Sac, Wis. . . . Betty BIART has been appointed civilian defense recreation coordinator for the city of Madison, planning recreation for service men, defense workers, and teen-age groups. . . . Dorothy WITTMAN has accepted a position as medical technologist at St. Joseph's hospital, Tacoma, Wash. . . . Irene BLACKFORD has begun work on the library staff in Lima, O. . . . Dorothy PAPER has left for Rochester, N. Y., where she has a scholarship to study at the Colgate-Rochester Divinity school. . . . Howard R. BAILER is with the Pittsburgh Des Moines Steel Co., Pittsburgh. . . . Fred A. BERTLE is working in the TVA soils laboratory at the Kentucky dam, Gilbertsville, Ky. . . . Max P. BROKAW has been with Mason & Hanger on the construction of the Badger Ordnance plant, Merrimac, Wis. . . . Duane E. DIXON has been with the U. S. Engineers engaged on the location of the Alaskan Highway in Canada. . . . Gordon J. FELDHUSEN, Jr., has accepted a position with the McDonnell Aircraft corp., Lambert-St. Louis airport, Robertson, Mo. . . .

Charles C. FISK is with TVA in the water control planning department at Knoxville, Tenn. . . . Virginia JACKSON is in the Office of War Information, New York City. . . . Nancy Jane PARTRIDGE will head the newly-formed speech and dramatic department of the Merrill high school. . . . Alfred H. GLENN is in the drafting room of the Chicago Bridge & Iron co., Chicago. . . . Joyce LARSON is assistant chemist for the Badger Ordnance works, Merrimac. . . . Richard C. GREEN is with the McDonnell Aircraft corp., St. Louis, Mo. . . . Alice ZELL, Anna BAKER, and Harriet TEWS are teaching physical education, home economics, and mathematics, respectively, at Williams Bay, Wis. . . . Wallace G. HUBER is believed to be with the Bethlehem Steel corp., taking the loop course. . . . Alfred C. INGERSOLL is employed by Linde Air Products, Tonawanda, N. Y. . . . Herbert E. JOHNSON and Robert W. NORDLIE are in the aircraft plant of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber co., Akron, O. . . . Milton A. NERO is with Dravo corp., Pittsburgh, in the estimating department. . . . Ruby ENGDAHL and Eileen RATHER are in the home economics department of Central high school, Sheboygan. . . . Roger W. PETERS is with the National Advisory committee for Aeronautics at Langley field, Va. . . . Douglas R. SCOTT and Clifford J. TICE, Jr., are with Dravo corp., laying out work in the shipyard on Neville island, Pittsburgh, Pa. . . . Paul C. SODEMANN and John O. WAGNER are with TVA at Knoxville, Tenn. . . . Robert S. MC BURNEY has taken a position in the Forest Products Laboratory here. . . . Myron O. THOMPSON and John C. SPIEKERMANN, Jr., are with the Boeing Aircraft co., Seattle, Wash. . . . Willard W. WARZYN is with the Dravo corp., Pittsburgh.

Alumni War Activities

(Continued from page 68)

8. Planning social affairs for soldiers and sailors stationed nearby or on leave in the locality.

9. Contributing suitable books, magazines, games, musical instruments, athletic equipment, cards, furniture, and good pictures to nearby camps or service centers.

10. Stimulating churches, lodges and clubs to which alumni belong to open their doors to all service men.

11. Inviting soldiers or sailors to ride in their cars whenever reasonably convenient.

12. Inviting commissioned or non-commissioned officers to homes, clubs, social affairs, etc., to make them and their families feel at home in the community.

Have You Heard?

Marriages

- 1903 Minnie Stowell Wallace, Chicago, to Dr. William D. FROST, Madison, on July 25. Dr. Frost is emeritus professor of agricultural bacteriology at the University. Dr. Frost was former president of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Assn. At home at 1010 Grant St., Madison.
- 1908 Lillian Schowalter, Milwaukee, to Charles E. YOUNG, on June 6. Prof. Young is head of the department of Romance languages at the University extension in Milwaukee. At home at 7440 W. Garfield Ave., Wauwatosa.
- 1912 Mary West, to Francisco M. CARDENAS, Coah, Mex., on June 8 at Corpus Christi, Texas.
- 1915 Mabel Holm, Wentworth, to Oscar E. ROESELER, Superior, on July 18. Mr. Roeseler is city sealer of Superior.
- 1925 H. Melita HANISCH, Waupun, to Harold Hansen, Green Bay, on April 3. Mrs. Hansen was French teacher in Green Bay West high school. At home at 425 S. Monroe Ave., Green Bay.
- x '27 Leola Gardisky, formerly of Antigo, to Erwin J. WILLIAMS, Madison, on July 29. Mr. Williams is employed at the Rentschler Floral Co. At home at 612 Howard Place.
- 1928 Jean Blakney, Milwaukee, to Hugh F. MACKIN, Madison, on June 20. Lt. Mackin is stationed at Camp Crowder, Mo.
- 1928 Mabel NOTT, Janesville, to Franklin S. KOTICK, Manitowoc, on May 31. At home at 220 E. College Av., Appleton, where Mr. Kotick is a research chemist with the Western Condensing Co.
- 1928 Margaret REUTER, formerly of Madison, to Gordon W. Heffernan, Manitowoc, on Dec. 31, 1941. Both Mr. and Mrs. Heffernan have been teaching in the Manitowoc public schools. At home at 816 N. 11th St., Manitowoc.
- x '28 Ann NELSON, Algoma, to E. Benjamin Redman, Aurora, Ill., on June 21. At home in Aurora.
- x '28 Mabel PESTIEN, Sheboygan, to Dr. J. W. Paulus, on July 4. At home in West Allis, Wis.
- 1931 Alice KELLY, Mineral Point, to John Zettel, Exeland, on May 23. At home at 901 Hartzell St., Pacific Palisades, Calif.
- 1931 Elian MORRIS, Cambria, to Corp. Stuart W. Pratt, formerly of Merrill, on June 27. At home in Fayette, N. Car.
- 1932 Marion Campbell, of Eau Claire, to Edward A. ANDREWS, Milwaukee, on June 6. Mr. Andrews is doing research at the University of Minnesota.
- x '32 Elizabeth Fato, to Ralph H. PATTERSON, both of Milwaukee, on July 11. At home at 4135 W. Martin Drive, Milwaukee.
- 1933 Dovie Kinlaw, Lumberton, N. Car., to Herbert C. LEE, formerly of Milwaukee, on June 6. Dr. Lee is practicing surgery in Richmond, Va., and is assistant professor in surgery at Medical college of Va. At home at 1413 Park Ave., Richmond.
- 1933 Marjorie BACKUS, Madison, to Nils K. ANDERSON, Riverside, Ill., on June 27.
- 1941 Mr. Anderson is a chemical engineer with the Universal Oil Prod. Co., Chicago.
- x '34 Vivian MACK, Madison, to Arno C. x '35 HANDEL, on June 27. Mrs. Handel is employed by the State Motor Vehicle Dept., and Mr. Handel is with the state traffic patrol of the Motor Vehicle Dept.
- x '34 Doris Waltman, to Joseph H. DOERFLER, both of Appleton, on June 20. At home at 1210 W. Lorain St. Mr. Doerfler is assistant city assessor.
- x '35 Orene Skyrud, Blair, to Leland L. LAMBOLEY, Monroe, on May 29. At home at 1915-7th St., Monroe, where Mr. Lamboley is manager of the Ninneman Coal & Ice Co.
- 1935 Dorothy LITTEL, to Otto H. Mueller, both of Sauk City, on June 27. At home at 126 E. Wilson St., Madison.
- 1935 Grace SUGDEN, Mukwonago, to Raymond C. Runkle, formerly of Hartford, on June 27. At home in Cleveland, O.
- 1935 Phyllis B. BARTLETT, New York, to Dr. John Pollock, on July 18. Mrs. Pollock taught in the University English department for eight years. For one year, she did research in the London museum, on a Wisconsin scholarship.
- 1936 Cora LAWRENCE, Madison, to Edward x '41 J. SMITH, Racine, on Feb. 10. Mrs. Smith had been teaching in the Hazel Green high school. Mr. Smith is employed at the Gisholt Machine Co.
- 1936 Elizabeth Salmond, Chattanooga, Tenn., to Lt. George J. WING, formerly of Oconomowoc, on June 20. Lt. Wing is an instructor at Ft. Benning.
- 1936 Helen THEILER, Tomahawk, to John T.

- 1940 BODE, Green Bay, on June 27. Lt. Bode is stationed at Quantico, Va.
- 1936 Jean FINDLAY, Madison, to C. Carlton BRECHLER, formerly of Madison, on July 7. Lt. Brechler is an administrative officer at McClellan Field.
- 1936 Gertrude HEINZ, Milwaukee, to Robert T. Langemo, Long Beach, Calif., on June 11.
- 1937 Doris Hardy to A. Thomas SCHWALM, both of Oshkosh, on May 29. At home in Oshkosh.
- 1937 Imojean SHULTS, Baraboo, to (Johann)
- 1938 Joe Max ONSRUD, Stoughton, on June 14. At home at 2617 E. Johnson St., Madison. Mr. Onsrud is employed at Oscar Mayer's.
- 1937 Betty SCHLIMGEN to James C. GEISLER, both of Madison, on June 13. At home at 1632 Monroe St. Mr. Geisler is associated with the London & Lancashire Indemnity Co.
- 1937 Agnes Heard, Springfield, N. J., to Burton B. KNAPP, formerly of Northfield, Minn., on June 27. At home at Westfield, N. J.
- 1937 Kathryn Barnstein, to Herbert E. PLEUSS, Manitowoc, on May 16. Mr. Pleuss is a chemist with the Heresite & Chemical Co. At home at 1213A S. 13th street.
- 1937 Linda ROSENHEIMER, Kewaskum, to
- 1936 Robert G. KRONCKE, Milwaukee, on June 24. At home at 1723 E. Beverly Rd., Milwaukee.
- 1937 Dorothea MARBES to Walter Cruice, both of Milwaukee, on June 27.
- 1937 Bernice Theobald, Potsdam, N. Y., to G. Thorpe MERRIMAN, Madison, on June 29. Mr. Merriman is stationed at Fort Sheridan.
- 1937 Marian WEPFER, Madison, to Robert C.
- 1940 SCHMITZ, Milwaukee, on June 20. Mrs. Schmitz is a pharmacist and medical technician at Madison Gen. hospital.
- 1937 Eleanor B. BEERS, Platteville, to Charles E. Waddell, New York City, on July 18. At home at 139 E. 35th St., New York, N. Y.
- 1937 Faythe SCHUSTER, Madison, to Lt. William F. MacKoske, of Beaver Dam, on July 7. Mrs. MacKoske is employed by the Farmers Mutual Automobile Ins. Co.
- x '37 Mary Ames, Chicago, to Thomas F. MEAGHER, Fond du Lac, on July 23.
- 1937 Winifred MAURER, Antigo, to Unicio J.
- x '42 VIOLI, Racine, on July 30. Mr. Violi is attending the University. At home at 207 N. Randall St.
- 1937 Patricia Burke, Green Bay, to Richard M. LAIRD, Marshfield, on Aug. 1.
- 1938 Cordelia WERNECKE, Plymouth, to
- 1940 Harold L. SKULDT, Madison, on June 5. Lt. Skuldt is with the U. S. army engineer's corps at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.
- 1938 Violet VOSS, formerly of Kiel, to Raymond Spring, Martinsburg, W. Va., in June. At home at 1630 Park Road, NW, Washington, D. C.
- 1938 Mildred Thompson to Chester A. GJERTSON, both of Stoughton, on July 5. Mrs. Gjertson is secretary to the publisher of the Wis. State Journal.
- 1938 Helene Gerlach, Cedar Falls, Ia., to James A. HAY, Racine, on June 20.
- 1938 Joyce HILDEBRANDT, Jefferson, to Dr. John Henderson, Santa Ana. At home at 1402 Washington Heights, Ann Arbor, Mich.
- x '38 Edith Loper to Robert L. HOOKER, both of Lodi, on June 18.
- 1938 Margaret Powers, Marinette, to Milton R. MEHLHOUSE, Madison, on June 25. At home at 413 W. Wilson St., Madison. Mr. Mehlhouse is associated with the law firm of Maloney, Wheeler, and Mehlhouse.
- 1938 Margaret Parker, Alexandria, Va., to Charles E. McKEOWN, Milwaukee, on June 27. Dr. McKeown is an interne at the Medical College of Virginia hospital, Richmond, Va.
- 1938 Helen Frieder to Robert C. RANDOLPH, Manitowoc, on June 20. Lt. Randolph of the U. S. Med. Corps is awaiting his final military instructions.
- 1938 Ellen SEXTON, Marshfield, to Donovan
- 1937 M. OLSON, Iola, on July 11.
- x '38 Golden SCHMIDT, Madison, to Ralph W. Holzmiller, Reedsburg, on July 5. Lt. and Mrs. Holzmiller will be at home in Salt Lake City, Utah.
- x '38 Margaret S. PAINTER, Wausau, to Jay S. Seeley, Chicago, on July 11. At home at 1168 S. Thomas St., Barcroft, Arlington, Va. Mrs. Seeley has been associated with the clinic of the Bellings Hospital, U. of Chicago.
- 1938 Dene Hocker, Loyolsockville, Pa., to John D. BEULE, Beaver Dam, on July 16. At home in Loyolsockville. Mr. Beule is associated with the research department of the Pa. game commission.
- 1939 Katharine HOLLOWAY, Madison, to Eugene C. Winslow, W. Rutland, Vt., on May 28. In the fall, Mr. Winslow will teach chemistry at Cornell Univ., Ithaca, N. Y., where they will reside.
- 1939 Marion Weber, Madison, to Melvin N. BONDEHAGEN, Mayville, on June 7. Mr. Bondehagen is associated as engineer with the May-steel Products, Inc.
- 1939 Mary Louise Loftis, Kennedy, Ala., to John S. BICKLEY, Madison, on May 17. Pvt. Bickley is stationed at Keesler Field.
- x '39 Audrey Jones, Houston, to John A. BOEHCK, Milwaukee, on June 20. En-

- sign Boehck has been stationed at Ft. Worth, Tex.
- 1939 Barbara DUDLEY to John R. SHAW, x '39 both of Madison, on June 15. At home at 1906 Birge Terrace. Mr. Shaw is associated with Brown's Book shop.
- x '39 Blanche Schmitz, Potter, to Wilbert W. BEHNKE, Brillion, on June 13. They are residing in Brillion where Mr. Behnke operates the Brillion Monument and Concrete Works.
- 1939 Blanche Austin, Minneapolis, Minn., to Arthur V. HANKINSON, formerly of Madison, on June 5. At home at Kankakee, Ill.
- 1939 Mary Marguerite Fisher, Eau Claire, to Paul J. MATEICKA, Milwaukee, on June 6. At home in Indianapolis, Ind.
- x '39 Virgene Voss, Randall, to Harmon H. SWANTZ, Union Grove, on June 6. At home at 24 Green Lane, Newport, R. I.
- x '39 Orpha Bashan to Ernest W. SULLIVAN, Madison, on June 4. Mr. Sullivan has been employed in the office of the navy dept., Washington.
- x '39 Mildred Schoen to Walter E. OTTO, both of Green Bay, on June 12. Lt. Otto is stationed at Gunther Field, Ala.
- 1939 Eleanor Foth to William G. PFRANG, both of Neenah, on May 30. Pvt. Pfrang is at the radio technical school at Scott Field.
- 1939 Ruth Kath, Lowell, to Robert J. MATHWIG, Oshkosh, on June 13. Dr. Mathwig is serving his internship at the Receiving hospital, Detroit, Mich.
- 1939 Kathryn KUECHENMEISTER, Milwaukee, to James S. VAUGHAN, Madison, on June 6. They will make their home at 808 N. Wayne St., Arlington, Va. Capt. Vaughan is stationed in the office of the chief signal officer, Washington.
- 1936 Susan Duncan, Winnetka, Ill., to Robert F. HRUDKA, Manitowoc, on June 20. At home in Niagara Falls, N. Y.
- x '39 Yvonne BRICHTSON, Milwaukee, to Paul 1938 A. CHRISTENSON, Waupaca, on June 27. At home in Milwaukee.
- 1939 Helen Shain to Melvin K. ANDERSON, both of Madison, on July 4. At home at 1238 Spaight St. Mr. Anderson is an electrical engineer at the Gisholt Machine Co.
- 1939 Janet Statz to George C. HANK, both of Madison, on June 20. Dr. Hank is serving his internship at the Multomah Hospital, Portland, Ore.
- x '39 Mae Wagner to Arthur C. KIEFER, both of Wausau, on June 27. Sgt. Kiefer is in the officer candidate school of the chemical warfare division, Edgewood Arsenal, Md.
- 1939 Beatrice Salter, Milwaukee, to Edward P. LINDERGREN, Madison, on June 6.
- Mr. Lindergren is an inspector of navy material. At home at 5506 Winthrop Ave., Chicago.
- x '39 Janet NELSON, Madison, to Rodney K.
1938 PETERSON, Edgerton, on June 20. Lt. Peterson is a naval flight surgeon attached to the first marine air wing. At home in San Diego, Calif.
- 1939 Elizabeth ANGER, Wauwatosa, to Thomas A. WOOD, Milwaukee, on June 22. At home in Boston, Mass., where Ensign Wood is stationed with the naval air corps.
- 1939 Ottelia KINTZEL, formerly of Madison, 1940 to George M. SUTTON, on May 17. At home at 1711 Bruner St., Rockford, Ill.
- 1939 Marguerite SPAHR to Stanley I. MEIER, both of Madison, on June 28. Mrs. Meier is a dietitian employed at the Wis. General hospital. Pvt. Meier is an x-ray technician at the base hospital at Ft. Sheridan.
- x '39 Doris McCORDIC, Madison, to Donald E.
1936 LEITH, on July 11. At home at 121 Ward Parkway, Kansas City. Mr. Leith is assistant office manager of the Cudahy Packing Co. in Kansas City, Kans.
- 1939 Phyllis Shamberg, Hutchinson, Kans., to Allen S. ZIEN, Milwaukee, on June 28. Lt. Zien is stationed in Midland, Tex.
- x '39 Lois SCHAUS to Patrick W. COTTER, 1938 both of Madison, on July 11. Lt. Cotter is stationed at Ft. Meade, Md.
- x '39 Jeanette Peterson to Harold W. IHRKE, both of Oshkosh, on June 21. Mr. Ihrke is a civil service instructor in an army air force technical school in St. Louis, Mo.
- 1939 Irene Swanson, Springfield, Mo., to Conrad H. HOEPPNER, Spooner, on June 12. Mr. Hoepfner is employed in Washington, D. C., as associate radio engineer with the government.
- 1939 Catherine Henderson, Egg Harbor, N. J., to August G. ECKHARDT, Viroqua, on June 26. At home in Chevy Chase, Md.
- x '39 Marion CANRIGHT, Milwaukee, to Robert E. BLOCK, West Allis, on July 22. 1940 Pvt. Block is with the air corps administrative staff at Duncan Field.
- x '39 Eleanor Larson, La Crosse, to Paul W. TYVAND, Whitehall, on June 30.
- 1939 Edith Bicknese, Wheatland, Ia., to Robert J. STIEFVATER, Manitowoc, on July 18. Mr. Stiefvater is a production engineer at the Manitowoc Shipbuilding Co. At home at 1107 S. 8th St.
- 1939 Helen E. REZIN to Robert A. Gottchalk, both of Wisconsin Rapids, on July 25. At home in Cranmoor, Wisconsin Rapids.
- 1939 Lois M. Bunkelman, Fond du Lac, to Lt. Theodore K. POSSELT, Portage, on July 22.

- x '39 Naomi J. Chier to Leonard C. KRAMER, both of Milwaukee, on July 30. At home in the Shorecrest Hotel, Milwaukee.
- x '40 Mildred HARRINGTON, Mazomanie, to Stanley N. DAVIDSON, Madison, on May 26. M/Sgt. Davidson is associated with the state headquarters of selective service in Madison.
- 1940 Alice DAVIS, Madison, to Noble S. 1939 HEANEY, Glen Ellyn, Ill., on June 20.
- 1940 Ellen BENSON, Madison, to Andrew O. 1941 HUMLEKER, Fond du Lac, on June 6.
- 1940 Pearl HANSON, Eleva, to John O. 1940 WARD, Mondovi, on June 12.
- 1940 Eleanor E. GISH, Chevy Chase, Md., to 1938 Edwin L. CROW, Milwaukee, on June 13. Mr. Crow is an instructor in mathematics at the Case School of applied science.
- x '40 Margaret B. FRYE to Kenneth P. 1939 SWAFFORD, both of Madison, on June 4. At home in Los Angeles where Dr. Swafford will begin a year's internship in a California hospital.
- x '40 Helen Whyte, Kenosha, to Frank J. GRIFFITH, Racine, on June 13. Lt. Griffith has enlisted as a flying cadet.
- 1940 Jean Nelson to Harry A. STANGBY, both of Fond du Lac, on June 6. At home at 78 Sixth St. Mr. Stangby is an accountant at the Giddings & Lewis Machine Tool Co.
- 1940 Laura LAUE to Ward C. DUNLOP, both of Milwaukee, on May 30. Lt. Dunlop is stationed at Goodfellow Field.
- 1940 Enis MONTLEY, Kenosha, to Ivan H. 1940 WITT, Fredonia, on May 30. At home at 1112 Q St., Lincoln, Nebr.
- x '40 Maurine POLAN, Milton, to Allison P. x '41 LOOMER, Chatham, New Brunswick, Canada, on June 2. Mr. Loomer is a meteorologist in the Aviation Training school in Chatham.
- 1940 Clarice Witte, Madison, to John F. WINTERMANTEL, Prairie du Sac, on June 16. At home in Memphis where Mr. Wintermantel is a chemist with the du Pont Co.
- 1940 Lillian MIEGEL, Milwaukee, to W. 1941 David HAUFEE, Wausau, on June 17. At home in Madison, where Mr. Haufe will complete his last year in the medical school at the University.
- 1940 Eileen THOMPSON to R. Frank MEIER, 1940 both of Madison, on June 14. At home at 222 N. Hamilton St. Mr. Meier is employed at the Madison-Kipp Corp.
- 1940 Eleanor Mitchell, Madison, to Herbert C. TAYLOR, Warren, on June 14. At home in Chester, Pa., where Mr. Taylor is a student at Crozer seminary.
- 1940 Inez MILBAUER, Clintonville, to Richard F. TASCHEK, Darlington, on June 17. At home in Niagara Falls, N. Y.
- 1940 Mary ROBINSON, Kenosha, to Warren 1942 E. WINTON, Spring Brook, on June 16.
- 1940 Jane SCHUMACHER, Stoughton, to Bernard A. MINCH, Madison, on June 7. At home at 916 Jean St., La Crosse.
- x '40 Rosemary Kuether, Appleton, to Arthur E. DeMERSE, Black Creek, on June 13. At home in Cheyenne, Wyo.
- 1940 Dorothy Opstedal, Madison, to Donald L. NEWTON, Milwaukee, on June 20. At home in Detroit, Mich.
- 1940 Elizabeth Benedict, Clinton, Ia., to Gene L. ERION, Omaha, Nebr., on June 20. Mr. Erion is associated with the Wisconsin Taxpayers Alliance. At home at 405 N. Frances St.
- 1940 Willene CONE, Muskegon, Mich., to John M. WITTE, Madison, on June 20. At home at 4833 N. 4th St., Milwaukee.
- 1940 Dorothy Myrtle GEE, Luck, to Ferrel E. 1941 PHELPS, Chicago, on June 27. At home in Chicago.
- 1940 Estelle LINDOW, Sheboygan Falls, to 1939 Robert H. PFEIFER, New London, on June 20. At home at St. Paul, Minn., where Dr. Pfeifer will serve a year's internship at Anker hospital.
- x '40 Ruth MERKLE, Appleton, to Lyle F. R. 1941 KNUDSON, formerly of Racine, on June 10. Ensign Knudson is stationed in San Diego.
- 1940 Henrietta McAfee, Hinsdale, Ill., to John A. KORTH, Fond du Lac, on June 20. Mr. Korth is a research chemist.
- x '40 Erna KESSLER, Monroe, to Robert MacIver, Eau Claire, on June 10. At home in Madison.
- 1940 Kathleen MENOHER, Madison, to John 1941 E. HOEFT, New York, on June 27. They will make their home in New York City, where Mr. Hoeft is employed by the Babcock & Wilcox Co.
- 1940 Joan MITHUS, Mt. Horeb, to Marvin 1939 WELLS, Milwaukee, on June 18. At home at 424 N. Pinckney St., Madison.
- 1940 Amy RISCH, St. Louis, Mo., to Corp. Robert A. Barrows, Sheboygan, on June 20. At home at 1627 Washington St., Denver, Colo. Before her marriage Mrs. Barrows taught at Central High School, Sheboygan.
- 1940 Sheila SMITH, Oakfield, to Ralph G. 1940 SCHLAWIN, Cochrane, on June 25. Mr. Schlawin is employed by the General Electric Co., in Pittsfield, Mass., where they will reside.
- x '40 Isabelle NYHAGEN, Stoughton, to Arthur N. MELHUSE, Madison, on June 20. Ensign Melhuse is an instructor in the U. S. Naval Air Corps.
- 1940 Dorothy NOHR, Madison, to Henry C. Hitt, Christopher, Ill., on June 20. At home in the Kenmore Park Apts., Elmhurst, Ill.
- 1940 Mildred BEUCHEL, Sheboygan, to Vie-

- 1940 tor W. KOEPESELL, Shawano, on June 20. Mr. Koepsell will teach at Calumet, Mich.
- 1940 Flora DEXTER, Kenosha, to Warren W.
- 1938 WOESSNER, Brooklyn, N. Y., on June 27. Dr. Woessner is a research chemist. They will make their home in Wilmington, Del.
- 1940 Muriel Farnum, Wilton, Me., to Karl R. MEDROW, Madison, on June 27. Lt. Medrow is an instructor at the Naval Radio school, Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Me.
- 1940 Harriet Gay Goys, Wauwatosa, to Algot SMITH, Wentworth, on June 13. At home in Wausau.
- 1940 Loretta Weinstein to Eugene S. COHN, both of Milwaukee, on June 6.
- 1940 Alice VINT, Union Grove, to Hugh R.
- x '42 WATSON, Milwaukee, on June 27. Mr. Watson is in the army medical corps at Camp Grant, Ill.
- 1940 Margaret Sjolander, Holmen, to Bronislaus V. SLOTWINSKI, Stevens Point, on June 19. Lt. Slotwinski is at Ft. Sill.
- x '40 Virginia Merritt, Chippewa Falls, to Joseph H. SCHEIDLER, Jim Falls, on June 20. Mr. Scheidler is employed at the Drummond Co., Eau Claire.
- 1940 Mary Jane NEWMAN, Madison, to John Anderson, St. Louis, on May 20. Mrs. Anderson is employed in the Physiology Dept. of the U. of Chicago.
- 1940 Evelyn Hillier, Lodi, to Irvin H. KREISMAN, Peoria, Ill., on Aug. 31. At home in Arlington, Va. Mr. Kreisman is stationed in Washington, D. C.
- x '40 Winifred BANCROFT, Richland Center, to Robert F. BREWER, on Sept. 19. At home in Milwaukee where Mr. Brewer is employed by the Allis-Chalmers Co.
- x '40 Charlotte H. BOWMAN, Racine, to Denys M. Leigh-Taylor, Los Angeles, on July 11. At home in Beverly Hills, Calif.
- x '40 Virginia Weix, Antigo, to Chester J. ZARZYCKI, Milwaukee, on July 18.
- 1940 Sally Jane CURTIN, Milwaukee, to Richard G. WALSH, Oshkosh, on July 10. At home in Hartford, Conn., where Mr. Walsh will resume his experimental work for the U. S. army air force.
- x '40 Mary Burleton, Beaver Dam, to Earl J. SKALITZKY, Waterloo, on July 25. Mr. Skalitzky is fieldman for the Dairy Herd Improvement Assn., headquarters in Fond du Lac.
- 1940 Goldie E. Elmstrom, Chicago, to Herman C. SCHWARZ, Sheboygan, on July 18.
- 1940 Helen Gurran, Ossining, N. Y., to Leonard A. DUCHARME, Adams, on July 25. S/Sgt. Ducharme is stationed at Brookley Field. At home at 254 N. Conception St., Mobile, Ala.
- x '41 Vivian Vetter to John J. DEAN, both of Madison, on June 13. At home at 1910 Birge Terrace. Mr. Dean is employed in the x-ray department at Wisconsin General hospital.
- x '41 Dorothy EICHSTADT to Meldger Figi, both of Monroe, on June 6. At home at 2431 W. Capitol Dr., Milwaukee. Mr. Figi is employed by the First Credit Co. Mrs. Figi formerly was secretary at the Monroe Clinic.
- x '41 Helen White, Racine, to Clemens H. FRERES, on May 29. At home in San Diego.
- 1941 Ruth ARTMANN, Madison, to Ralph C. FRANK, Milwaukee, on June 7. At home in Boston.
- 1941 Esther FINN, Seneca, to Phillip B. DENT, Almond, on June 13. At home at Portsmouth, Va.
- 1941 Beulah HOEFT, Antigo, to Leroy N. MEYER, Hales Corners, on May 30. At home in Hales Corners. Mr. Meyer is a state poultry inspector.
- 1941 Jean GRINDE, DeForest, to Holt G.
- x '41 DERRICK, Green Bay, on May 30. Mrs. Derrick will continue her teaching duties at Kohler high school. Mr. Derrick has been called into service.
- 1941 Gene FARNSWORTH, Marinette, to Eldon J. MUELLER, Waupun, on July 10. Mr. Mueller is a special agent with FBI.
- 1941 Mary DeBARDELEBEN, Madison, to x '43 William G. BERG, Phillips, on May 28. At home at 435 W. Dayton, Madison.
- 1941 Jeanne CAVANAUGH, Milwaukee, to Harry B. Olstad, Sheboygan, on May 16. Mrs. Olstad has been teaching at Central high school, Sheboygan.
- 1941 Beatrice BAHR, Monroe, to Henry Q. LUNDGREN, Pembine, on June 7. At home in Billings, Mont. Mrs. Lundgren is speech correctionist in the Beloit public schools.
- 1941 Helen Kopp, New Glarus, to Marvin SCHWENN, Madison, on May 29. Mr. Schwenn is employed as a chemical engineer at Kenmore, N. Y.
- 1941 Dorothy SWIFT, Wauwatosa, to John x '41 RAE, Jr., No. Stonington, Conn., on June 10. Mrs. Rae is a research assistant in the chemistry dept. At home at 260 Langdon St., Madison.
- 1941 Lucille Moore to Darrel S. METCALFE, Arkansasaw, in May.
- 1941 Florence Brockbank, Ladysmith, to Carl M. JOHNSON, Edgar, on June 6. At home in Edgar. Mr. Johnson is agriculture instructor at the Edgar high school.
- x '41 Edna Rathman, Milwaukee, to Orlando A. HILL, Barneveld, on June 20.
- 1941 Marion WILLITZ, Madison, to Keith S. McCALLUM, Portage, on June 1. At home at 1020 Clymer Pl., Madison.
- 1941 Audrey KNIBB, St. Louis, Mo., to

- 1942 Charles D. AMBELANG, Kenosha, on June 15.
- 1941 Fern Zehr, Madison, to Edwin C. WELSH, Portage, on June 6. At home in Chicago.
- x '41 Anna WALGREN, Lewisburg, Pa., to 1942 William V. LUETKE, Ontario, Wis., on June 1. Dr. Luetke will intern for a year at the John Sealy hospital at Galveston, Texas.
- x '41 Marion HELMS, Mineral Point, to Herbert M. SCHWALBACH, Milwaukee, on June 20. At home at 188 Bellevue Ave., Upper Montclair, N. J.
- x '41 Ruth Ziltner, New Glarus, to Walter R. WENGER, Argyle, on July 8. Mr. Wenger received his wings and his commission as a second lieutenant at Brooks Field.
- 1941 Paula Graff, Manitowoc, to Joseph J. ETZKIN, Wausau, on June 28. Mr. Etzkin is an engineering inspector for the navy dept., and has been on duty in Milwaukee.
- 1941 Mayetta JOHNSON to John M. WIEDEMAN, both of Milwaukee, on July 6. Mr. Wiedeman is completing his studies in the U. of Cincinnati medical school.
- 1940 1941 Elizabeth ALLMAN, Sheboygan, to Robert W. McKinney, Kalamazoo, Mich., on June 20. At home in Victorville, Calif.
- x '41 Marjorie A. BURGARD, Sheboygan, to Dr. Charles F. Williams, Indianapolis, on June 26. Mrs. Williams is employed as a registered nurse on the staff of Memorial hospital, Sheboygan.
- x '41 Erna Kirkegaard, Racine, to Paul D. BRUSKO, Racine, on June 27. At home at 816 Lake Ave. Mr. Brusko is employed at the Gorton Machine Co.
- x '41 Anne Bright, Fort Atkinson, to Robert E. KAUFFMAN, Janesville, on June 27. At home at 307 W. Keefe Ave., Milwaukee.
- 1941 Constance HUSTING, Mayville, to J. 1940 William CARLSON, Plum City, on June 15. At home at 730 Spring St., Paso Robles, Calif.
- 1941 Fern Heidt, Randolph, to Russell L. MOHR, Cambria, on July 11. At home in Madison, where Mr. Mohr is employed at the radio technical school.
- x '41 Emma Schneider, Muscoda, to Thomas D. MERRILL, Eau Claire, on July 2. Sgt. Merrill is stationed at Edgewood Arsenal, Md.
- 1941 Evalyn RASMUSSEN, Kenosha, to Lester G. LUNDSTED, Oshkosh, on July 3. At home at 20658 E. River Rd., Grosse Ile, Mich.
- 1941 Marion PRINTZ, Madison, to Dr. Cary S. Peabody, Lake Odessa, Mich., on July 4. Mrs. Peabody is on the nursing staff at Wis. General Hospital.
- 1941 Lois Thorsberg, Midland, Mich., to Robert H. LALK, Ft. Atkinson, on April 11.
- 1941 Virgie NELSON, Sharon, to Roy M. Johnson, Milltown, on June 5. Mrs. Johnson has been Home Ec instructor at Milltown. At home at Luck, Wis.
- 1941 Patricia PARK, Kansas City, Mo., to 1941 Howard L. BOORMAN, Madison, on June 5. At home at 1125 Twelfth St. NW., Washington, D. C.
- 1941 Eileen SMITH, Bessemer, Mich., to Earl 1940 W. HABERMAN, Milwaukee, on June 20. Pvt. Haberman is stationed at Camp Grant.
- 1941 Ruth SCHNEIDER, Wauwatosa, to Walter G. SCHMIDT, Manitowoc, on June 20. At home in Kaukauna.
- 1941 Marion Thielke, Milwaukee, to Charles O. TEGGATZ, on June 18. Lt. Tegatz is a member of the flying cadets of the army air force stationed at Lowry Field.
- x '41 Virginia LIETZ, Wausau, to Edmond F. 1940 ZEISIG, Milwaukee, on June 20. Ensign Zeisig will report for service with the navy, Oct. 29.
- 1941 Lorene Thompson, Phelps, to Roland A. TRYTTEN, Ripon, on June 14. At home at Ripon.
- 1941 Ethel Roglitz, Fort Atkinson, to Woodrow J. MISTELE, Jefferson, on July 11.
- 1941 Margery BRIDGMAN to Arthur L. x '42 SELL, both of Madison, on July 31.
- 1941 Ethyle STRIKE, Madison, to William H. 1941 BLOCH, Neenah, on July 11. 1st Lt. Bloch is on duty with a U. S. naval air station, the Banana River branch, in Cocoa Beach, Fla.
- x '41 LaVerne Carstens to Jack F. NADON, both of Milwaukee, on April 4.
- 1941 Doris N. HENNEMAN, Belmont, to James Leahy, Kendall, on July 18. At home on the Trenary farm near Belmont.
- 1942 Karen S. ANDERSON, Washington, Ia., 1940 to Gaylord E. PITTS, Mt. Horeb, on June 6. At home at 419 Sterling Ct., Madison. Mr. Pitts is attending the University.
- 1942 Eunice Dunn, Madison, to Ralph M. BUCHEN, Montello, on June 6.
- 1942 Betty BURGHUFF, Madison, to G. Nelson HAUSER, Milwaukee, on June 1. At home at 1024 E. Ogden Ave., Milwaukee, where Mr. Hauver is a naval material inspector.
- 1942 Jeanne CARROLL, Chippewa Falls, to x '42 Willard W. WARZYN, So. Milwaukee, on June 2.
- 1942 Theresa Gyland, Deerfield, to William H. BROWN, Jr., Madison, on June 7. At home at 135 W. Wilson St., Madison. Mr. Brown is employed at the Gisholt Machine Co.
- 1942 Edith Moore, Green Bay, to Stephen J.

- BAISCH, Lake Geneva, on June 6. Lt. Baisch is with the 183rd Engrs., stationed at San Luis Obispo, Calif.
- 1942 Bernice Onsager, Madison, to Fredolph A. HENDRICKSON, Centuria, on June 1. Lt. Hendrickson is stationed at Ft. Benning, Ga.
- 1942 Helen M. HERMAN, Harshaw, to
- 1942 Charles J. HILL, Rosendale, on May 30.
- 1942 Frances E. HORNER to Francis C.
- 1937 KERR, both of Madison, on April 24.
- 1942 Maude R. HARPER, Janesville, to Nyie
- 1940 C. AUSTIN, Neenah, on June 13. At home at 128 Harrison St., Neenah. Mr. Austin is an engineer at the Kimberly-Clark Co.
- 1942 Beatrice SOMMERFIELD to Walter C.
- 1943 BABCOCK, both of Madison, on June 6. Mr. Babcock is a medical student at the University.
- 1942 Myrtella J. SOBEL, Wauwatosa, to
- 1938 Lewis B. NELSON, Emmett, Idaho, on June 20. At home in Rice Lake, Wis., for the summer.
- 1942 Helene C. SCHUETTE, Madison, to
- 1940 Frank C. YOUNG, Winnetka, on June 6. Mr. Young is stationed at Camp Grant.
- 1942 Barbara TRACY, Madison, to Gordon V.
- 1941 MARLOW, Madison, on June 1. Ensign Marlow is stationed in San Diego.
- 1942 (Hazel) Elberta PAULSON, Hollandale,
- 1941 to Harland D. WYCOFF, Nye, on June 1. At home at Kankakee, Ill.
- 1942 Lynette Schaefer to John R. LAUGH-
NAN, both of Sauk City, on May 30. Mr. Laughnan has accepted a scholarship appointment at the University of Missouri.
- 1942 Dorothy Reinold, Milwaukee, to Walter J. McGUIRE, Portage, on May 30. At home in Hibbing, Minn., where Mr. McGuire is employed with the Oliver Mining Co.
- 1942 Merrillyn OLSON, Madison, to Carstens
- 1940 SLACK, on June 13. At home at 509 Crosby St., Akron, O.
- x '42 Jean PARMAN to Otto Kappel, both of Madison, on June 6. At home at 530 Clemons Ave.
- 1942 Marjorie NOVOTNY, Madison, to John
- 1940 F. HOLT, Edgerton, on June 5.
- 1942 June Hahn, Northport, Mich., to Roger L. PENTZIEN, Manitowoc, on June 3. Lt. Pentzien is in the U. S. Army with the 13th Comet Engrs.
- 1942 Valerie KRAPPFEL, Madison, to Gilbert T. Schowalter, formerly of Milwaukee. At home in Boise, Idaho, where Lt. Schowalter is stationed.
- 1942 Jeanne SOMMER, Wauwatosa, to Ralph
- 1941 C. POMARNKE, Madison, on June 6. At home at 1641-16th Ave., Columbus, Ga.
- 1942 Zoe Montague, Stoughton, to Milton A. NERO, Green Bay, on May 31. Mr. Nero is employed by the Dravo Corp in Neville Island, Pa.
- 1942 Patricia MOYLE, Big Bend, to Robert
- 1939 L. KELSO, formerly of Madison, on June 2. Mr. Kelso is a chemist with the Rohm & Haas Co., Bristol, Pa.
- 1942 Jane WILKINSON, Milwaukee, to Thomas D. Greenwood, on June 12. S/Sgt. Greenwood is stationed at Jefferson Barracks, Mo.
- 1942 Irene ZEFF, Wausau, to Irwin KRAM-
SKY, Milwaukee, on June 14. At home at 4625 Drexel Blvd., Chicago. Mr. Kramsky is a chemist.
- 1941 Janet ZIEN to Corp. Herbert Ulrich, both of Milwaukee, on June 14. At home at Battle Creek, Mich.
- 1942 Lois Zwicky, Fond du Lac, to Robert N. ROSHOLT, Iola, on June 18. At home at 1115 Mount St., Madison.
- 1942 Virginia Oertel, Shawano, to James G. ROGERS, Marion, on June 2. Mr. Rogers will be stationed at Ft. Ord, Calif.
- 1942 Helen VAN DERVEER, Antigo, to Alfred M. GRUHL, Milwaukee, on Dec. 31, 1941. Mrs. Gruhl is attending the University. Mr. Gruhl is associated with the Gruhl Sash & Door Co.
- x '42 Florence Wurth to Ray F. WATER-WORTH, both of Madison, on June 22. At home at 450 N. Few St. Mr. Water-worth is employed at the Gisholt Machine Co.
- 1942 Gertrude WOODSIDE, Portage, to Donald L. TIMMERMAN, Sioux Falls, S.
Dak., on June 27. At home at 620 S.
Ingersoll, Madison. Mr. Timmerman is employed at Gisholt Machine Co. He was a member of the 1941 National championship basketball team and was on the University track team.
- x '42 Dorothy E. WELKE to Robert E. Mc-x '42 DONALD, both of Madison, on June 20. At home in the Norris Ct. Apts.
- 1942 Arlyn SEMRICH, Watertown, to Earle
W. NORTH, Burlington, on June 27. Mr.
North is head of the English department in the Washington senior high school,
New London.
- 1942 Margaret A. THOMPSON, Madison, to Francis L. KUREK, Chicago, on June 6. Mr. Kurek is a chemical engineer with the Continental Can Co. of Chicago.
- 1942 Bonnie Jeanne BEGER, Bartlesville, Okla., to Ralph E. Mueller, New Glarus, on June 21. At home on the Jos. Hoes-ley farm near New Glarus.
- 1942 Martha KNUTSON, Lodi, to Norman P.
Scheide, on June 27. At home at 205
Madison Ave., Lodi. Rev. Scheide is pastor of both the Lodi Lutheran and Dekorra Lutheran churches.
- x '42 Alma Piazza to Ray R. RISLEY, both of Madison, on July 4. Mr. Risley is an in-

- spector engineer for the Hercules Powder Co.
- x '42 Jean Beyler to Albert V. PFAHLER, both of Madison, on June 27. At home at 1937 University Ave. Mr. Pfahler is employed at the Madison Kipp Corp.
- 1942 Thelma Byom to Curtis J. DONSTAD, both of Madison, on June 25. At home at 309 Clemons Av. Mr. Donstad is a Pvt., U. S. Army at Ft. Sheridan.
- x '42 Elenore Spreda, Stevens Point, to Ray D. MIKICH, Winchester, on June 12.
- x '42 Mary Jane MANIERRE, Milwaukee, to Peter C. Foote, on June 26. At home at 4001 N. Prospect Ave., Milwaukee.
- 1942 Dorothy PERSSON, Wheatland, Wyo., to 1937 Frederick A. MEYTHALER, Monroe, on June 29. At home in Madison.
- x '42 Darlene Ayers to John E. SPETH, both of Madison, on June 20. At home in Madison.
- 1942 Grace M. McCUE, Janesville, to Charles 1941 M. ADAMOWICZ, Kenosha, on June 20.
- 1942 Ardis GRIEM, New Holstein, to Frederick B. ARPS, on July 2. Mr. Arps is assistant general manager of the Arps Corp.
- 1942 Margery C. MITCHELL, Deerfield, Ill., to Wesley F. Miller, Columbus, on July 13.
- 1942 Miriam M. MARTIN to Harry R. WIGDERSON, both of Madison, on July 18. Mr. Wigderson is a weather observer in the U. S. air force.
- x '42 Jane B. GRIFFIN, Ladysmith, to Richard J. O'Connor, Oak Park, Ill., on July 9. Mrs. O'Connor is a case worker in the welfare Dept. of Ladysmith.
- x '42 Marjorie ANDERSON to Wintertown U. Day, both of Kimberly, on July 11. At home in Neenah.
- x '42 Audrey GILLEN, Milwaukee, to Capt. George Gosch, Jr., St. Louis, Mo., on July 18.
- 1942 Jeanne DAIS, Madison, to Howard F. x '41 YOUNG, Waukesha, on July 26. At home in Rockford, Ill. Lt. Young is with the Medical corps at Camp Grant.
- x '42 Bernice Wallrich, Shawano, to William F. MENGEL, Wisconsin Rapids, on July 18. Mr. Mengel is a senior at Notre Dame Univ. At home in South Bend, Ind.
- x '42 Ruth McGIVERN, Kenosha, to Donald x '38 R. TULLY, on July 18. At home at 2207 Ridge Ave., Evanston, Ill. Mr. Tully is connected with the U. S. Navy and will teach typing at the Radio school at Northwestern.
- x '42 Agnes Moe to William O. BENNETT, both of Madison, on July 4.
- 1942 Priscilla J. WHITE, Oshkosh, to Lt. Arthur B. White, Topeka, Kans., on July 25.
- 1943 Mary M. BARR, Milwaukee, to David S. 1943 ANTHONY, State College, Pa., on June 3. Mr. Anthony is an industrial fellow in Biochemistry at the University.
- 1943 Alice Rude, Colfax, to Kenneth G. ERICKSON, Highland, on May 27. Mrs. Erickson is Dunn Co. public health nurse. Mr. Erickson expects to be inducted into the army soon.
- 1943 Shirley HANSEN, Milwaukee, to Leonard E. BROBERG, Rockford, Ill., on 1940 June 20. At home at 4442 N. Oakland Ave., Milwaukee.
- x '43 Stephanie Skorup to Joe F. KOVAC, both of Milwaukee, on June 6.
- x '43 Vivian Matteoni to Lester C. STITGEN, Madison, on May 30. At home at 851 Oak St., Winnetka, where Mr. Stitgen is an inspector at the Buick Co., near Chicago.
- 1942 Doris DEAN to Richard T. KEELEY, x '40 both of Madison, on July 3. At home at 727 McArthur Dr., Bossier City, La.
- 1943 Jean LAPPLEY, Mazomanie, to Donald J. VOEGELI, Monticello, on June 6. At home at 616 W. Johnson St., Madison.
- 1943 Jeannette LEWIS to C. Irvin Peckarsky, both of Milwaukee, on June 7. At home in Milwaukee.
- x '43 Christine Carol, New York City, to Troy A. LANGE, Madison, on May 23. Lt. Lange is an instructor in the officers' training school at Miami Beach.
- 1943 Katherine WILLIAMS, Waupaca, to 1942 James S. CAREW, on May 15.
- 1943 Bernice MULDOON, Eau Claire, to x '40 Ralph H. EVANS, Madison, on June 5. At home at 706 S. Baldwin St., Madison.
- 1940 Martha WELLS, Combined Locks, to 1942 Robert G. LEWIS, Osseo, on June 6. At home in Madison.
- 1943 Barbara ROBERTSON to Charles N. 1941 BELIK, both of Milwaukee, on June 20. At home at 1809 Lake Bluff Blvd., Milwaukee.
- 1943 Joyce Olson, Madison, to Hartley W. VOIGT, Chetek, on June 7. At home at 614½ W. Johnson St., Madison.
- x '43 Esther Lee, Madison, to George I. SHELDON, Tomahawk, on May 2. Lt. Sheldon is stationed at Camp Claiborne, Louisiana.
- x '43 Janet S. LEITSCH, Columbus, to Arthur J. Schwerin, N. Hollywood, on June 14. At home at 120 Maynard, Glendale.
- 1943 La Verne Schulman to Arnold P. LIBMAN, both of Milwaukee, on June 13. Lt. Libman is stationed at March Field.
- 1943 Alice ELWELL, DePere, to Jordan L. 1941 PAUST, Columbus, on June 20. Lt. Paust is stationed with the Reserve Officers Training Corps at the University, as an instructor.
- 1943 Mary Jean OELAND, Madison, to Edward W. HIRD, Benton, on July 4. Mr.

- Hird is a student at the University and is associated with the Madison board of health.
- 1943 Elise F. Ott to Robert J. CASPER, both of Milwaukee, on June 30. Ensign Casper is attached to the 7th naval district, at Miami. At home at 426 NE 26th St., Miami, Fla.
- x '43 Barbara Dunbar to John A. SPRAGIA, both of Elkhorn, on June 22. Mr. Spragia is employed by the Railway Express Co., Elkhorn.
- 1943 Eleanor N. SWAIN, Chicago, to Richard S. Gallagher, Brookline, Mass., on July 11. At home in Brookline.
- 1943 Vivian Schoville, Soldiers Grove, to Verland A. OLSON, Black River Falls, on July 18. At home in Madison.
- 1943 Else DANIELS, Oxford, to Robert H. MAAS, Watertown, on July 4.
- 1942 Elizabeth Swaneutt to Peter J. WARREN, both of Wauwatosa, on June 28. At home in Los Angeles.
- 1943 Virginia SCHLYTTER, Wittenberg, to Alfred W. HARPER, Pt. Washington, on July 18. At home at Norfolk, Va.
- 1943 Janet HUCHTHAUSEN, Manitowoc, to Robert J. Roessler, Chicago, on July 15.
- 1943 Margaret Cartier, Whitewater, to John W. DERTHICK, Elkhorn, on July 14. Ensign Derthick is an instructor in the U. S. naval air corps at Lee Field.
- 1944 Mary Ellen GUNDERSON, Madison, to Curtiss Avars, on June 5.
- 1944 Rosalind M. DAITCH, Madison, to William MERKOW, Milwaukee, on June 14. At home at 431 Sterling Ct.
- 1944 Jean COUCH, Milwaukee, to Harry P. DONNER, Watertown, on June 1. At home at 435 W. Dayton St., Madison. Mr. Donner is a student at the University.
- 1944 Arlene Pfahler, Milwaukee, to Robert G. BACON, Cudahy, on June 6. At home at 1143 Erin St., Madison.
- 1944 Verona Humke, Greenwood, to Robert J. JACKSON, Owen, on June 6. At home on a farm near Longwood, Wis.
- 1944 Edith JANOT, Milwaukee, to Walter C. SCHNEIDER, Cedarburg, on May 30.
- 1941 Anne SCHURCH, Barneveld, to Dr. J. LeRoy Sims, Madison, on May 30. At home at 1316 W. Dayton St., Madison. Dr. Sims is an instructor in the University medical school.
- 1944 Bonnie SPERLE, Stoughton, to Robert E. MILLIGAN, Milwaukee, on June 13. At home at 260 Langdon St., Madison. Mr. Milligan is associated with the Gisholt Machine Co.
- 1944 Elsie SPERLE, Stoughton, to Everett W. WALL, Madison, on June 13. Mr. Wall is associated with the Buick Aviation Aircraft Co., Melrose Park, Ill.
- 1944 Virginia SMITH, Milwaukee, to William F. Voelz, Jr., on June 13. At home at 2244 N. Prospect Ave., Milwaukee.
- 1944 Barbara ZAPATA, Madison, to John O. MARSH, Rahway, N. J., on May 31. At home in E. Lansing, Mich.
- 1944 Harriet A. ALEXANDER, Providence, R. I., to Ralph R. MEYER, Stevens Point, on June 30. Dr. Meyer is a 1st lieutenant in the medical corps at Camp Grant.
- 1937
- 1944 Norma DeVoe to Thomas R. BENNETT, both of Madison, on July 4. At home at 107 N. Butler St. Mr. Bennett is employed by the war dept. at the Madison Airport.
- 1944 Marjorie BURGER to Elias Gunnell, both of Manitowoc, on June 27. At home in Manitowoc.
- 1944 Joyce G. BAGLEY, Marinette, to Nathan E. WIESE, Kewaunee, on June 19. At home in Clintonville where Mr. Wiese is affiliated with the Four Wheel Drive Auto Co.
- 1939
- 1944 Virginia Syse to Ole P. GUNDERSON, both of Madison, on June 28. At home at 325 W. Main St. Mr. Gunderson is employed in Selective Service headquarters at Madison.
- 1944 Geraldine Lee to Robert C. GRIMSRUD, both of Wauwatosa, on June 6. At home at 8131 W. North Ave., Wauwatosa.
- 1944 Beth Taylor to Glen R. HAYS, both of Portage, on June 21.
- 1944 Viola COLLIER, Necedah, to James D. Moore, Madison, on July 15. At home in Madison.
- x '44 Julia HOLMES, Wauwatosa, to Edmund O. TEMPLETON, Northbrook, Ill., on June 20. At home at 2218 Sherman Ave., Evanston, Ill.
- 1942
- 1944 Henrietta Landwehr, to Jerome M. MAAS, both of Sheboygan, on June 24. At home at 509 N. Lake St., Madison, where Mr. Maas is a student at the University.
- 1944 Margaret BOHN to Wendell D. PALMER, both of Milwaukee, on June 20. At home at 1420 E. Capitol Dr.
- 1941
- 1944 Bernice D. McCaughey to William C. OSWALD, both of Madison, on June 27. At home at 3022 W. Pierce St., Milwaukee.
- 1944
- 1944 Virginia GRIFFITH to Corp. Kenneth Taubert, both of Madison, on July 25. At home in Champaign, Ill.
- 1944 Dorothy Bonner, Madison, to Wilmer E. GIERACH, Merrill, on July 26. Mr. Gierach is a student at the University. At home at 910 W. Dayton St., Madison.
- 1945 Phyllis L. BROWN, Racine, to Robert C. OVERSTREET, on May 30. Mr. Overstreet is assistant purchaser for the Tinnerman Products Co. At home at 12002 Lake ave., Lakewood, Ohio.
- 1941

- 1945 Mary Gardner, Platteville, to John E. DUFFEY, Muscoda, on Sept. 20, 1941.
- 1945 Suzanne H. FINDLAY, Madison, to Edward N. DEGROOT, Racine, on June 6. At home at 410 Castle Pl., Madison. Mr. DeGroot is employed at the Gisholt Machine Co.
- 1945 Claire Casey, Elkhorn, to Don F. WARRICK, Sharon, on June 15. At home at 116 S. Jackson St., Elkhorn.
- 1945 Frances MOSLEY, to Culver A. HEFFERNON, both of Madison, on June 13. At home in Newark, N. J.
- 1945 Shirley ARMSTRONG, Mauston, to Gerald F. RABIDEAU, Antigo, on June 27.
- 1942 Marjorie Champagne, Neenah, to Kenneth J. DUCHARME, Menasha, on June 22.
- 1945 Roberta BRINKLEY, Madison, to George L. Saddler, Portland, Ore., on July 18.
- 1936 To Mr. and Mrs. Reuben OSTREWSKY, Roselle, N. J., a son, on May 17. Another son celebrated his fifth birthday on July 29.
- 1936 To Pvt. and Mrs. Roger SHERMAN, Indianapolis, Ind., a daughter, on Aug. 29. Pvt. Sherman is stationed at Ft. Benning, Ga.
- 1937 To Capt. and Mrs. Dann B. CLAUDON (Margaret A. ROSSBACH, '42), Milwaukee, a son, on Aug. 13.
- 1937 To Capt. and Mrs. R. W. REIERSON, Biloxi, Miss., a son, on July 18. Capt. Reiersen is commanding officer of the 629th technical school squadron at Gulfport Field, Miss.
- 1938 To Dr. and Mrs. Wade R. Plater (Aleen ANDERSON), Madison, a son, on June 10.
- 1938 To Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haase (Florence BLISS), Chicago, a son, on Sept. 15.
- 1938 To Lt. and Mrs. Edward Hartman (Dorothy BERGENGREN), Madison, a daughter, on Oct. 2.
- 1940 To Mr. and Mrs. John MURRAY (Jean WILLETT, '39), Madison, a son, on June 5.
- 1941 To Mr. and Mrs. Ross E. CRAWFORD (Janet BICKLER, '41), Denver, a son, on Sept. 23.
- 1942 To Mr. and Mrs. Gene ENGLUND, Kenosha, a son, on Sept. 22.
- 1942 To Lt. and Mrs. Woodrow P. SWANCUTT, Madison, a daughter, on May 30.
- 1942 To Mr. and Mrs. George DENEAU, Madison, a son, on Sept. 4. Mr. Deneau is in training with the F. B. I., Border Patrol, at El Paso, Tex.

Births

- 1923 To Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth N. MILLS, Glenside, Pa., a daughter, on Jan. 13.
- 1928 To Dr. and Mrs. Raphael LEVY (Helen SILVERMAN, '28), Baltimore, Md., a son, on Aug. 16.
- 1930 To Capt. and Mrs. Howard SUBY, Boston, Mass., a son, on Sept. 12.
- 1931 To Dr. and Mrs. Harold P. RUSCH (Clara ROBINSON, '33), Madison, a daughter, June 17. Dr. Rusch is assistant professor of Oncology and a cancer research fellow at the University.
- 1934 To Mr. and Mrs. Frederic HOLT (Harriet OLDENBURG, '34), Richland Center, a son, on Sept. 25. Mr. Holt is principal of the Richland Center High School and is the son of Dean and Mrs. Frank O. Holt.
- 1934 To Prof. and Mrs. George V. BOHMAN, Hanover, N. H., a son, on June 30. Prof. Bohman, chairman of the department of public speaking at Dartmouth college, spent the year, 1939-40 in residence at the University.
- 1935 To Lt. and Mrs. Homer L. BAKER (Janet BENKERT, '37), Alexandria, Va., a daughter, on June 17. Lt. Baker is in the Army Ordnance Dept., Washington.
- 1936 To Mr. and Mrs. James E. ELLICKSON, Syracuse, N. Y., a son, on April 30.
- 1936 To Lt. and Mrs. William H. HAIGHT (Pauline COLES, '39), Madison, a son on Sept. 25. Lt. Haight is stationed in Iceland.
- 1936 To Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Klein (Marjorie WEBER), Shawano, a son, on June 18.

Deaths

- 1871 Henry L. GREEN, Chicago, died June 13. He entered the steel business in 1873 in Milwaukee where he was employed for nine years and then established his own firm in Chicago. He had actively headed this organization until just recently.
- 1884 Curtis A. BOORMAN, St. Petersburg, Fla., died May 28. Dr. Boorman had practiced medicine in Wisconsin Rapids for 55 years.
- 1887 Theodore M. THORSAN, Superior, died April 18. He had practiced law in Superior for several years. Later retired to a farm, and established the post office of Dewey, a few miles out of Superior.
- 1888 John S. ROESELER, Superior, died June 20. His teaching career began in a one-room log school in Lomira, Dodge Co., Wis., when he was 16. He served as assistant librarian at the University for

- one year and as instructor in American History for another year. He served as principal and superintendent of schools of Sauk Co. for four years. He was principal of Sheboygan High School; principal of the State Industrial School for Boys, Waukesha; Superintendent of a county agricultural school; and taught in the Howe School in Superior from 1919 to 1926.
- 1888 Robert L. SABIN died in Portland, Ore., on April 30, 1942. He was 82 years old.
- 1891 Wilhelm H. LINDERUD, Stoughton, director of the Capital Times office in Stoughton for the last 15 years, died Sept. 10.
- 1893 Herbert J. PIPER, Milwaukee, attorney for the town of Lake, died Aug. 2. He had practiced law in Milwaukee for 44 years. He had been an attorney for the Milwaukee Road for 18 years and attorney for the town of Lake, 17 years.
- 1895 Mrs. Arthur J. ARN (Anna TARNUTZER), Kansas City, Mo., died March 20.
- 1895 Walter S. HANSON, Oklahoma City, died Sept. 7. He was an insurance adjuster for Fire Companies Adjustment bureau.
- 1895 Samuel H. CADY, Evanston, former vice president and general counsel of the North Western railroad, died Oct. 4. He had been a member of the law firm Cady, Strehlow & Kaftan, Green Bay, from 1897 to 1921. From 1921 to 1924 he was an attorney for the C. N. W. Ry. Co. at Milwaukee.
- 1896 Edward C. BEBB, Washington, D. C., principal engineer in the Bureau of Water Power, Federal Power Commission and an authority on hydro-electric projects died Aug. 7.
- 1896 Frank W. LUCAS, Madison, died July 2. He served three terms as alderman and was a member of the Madison board of education and of the board of public works. He had been a partner in Buell & Lucas for 35 years; and was a past president of the Dane County Bar association.
- 1897 Louise Phelps KELLOGG, Madison, died July 11. She was widely known as a Wisconsin historian and an antiquarian. Senior research associate of the State Historical society, she was the author of many books and articles whose excellence brought her national renown.
- 1897 William A. HAYES, a Milwaukee attorney, died Sept. 13. He was former General counsel for the Soo Line and a leader in the Democratic party of Wisconsin for many years.
- 1897 Emil S. LUETH. N. Yakima, Wash., died at his home at the age of 69. He was building inspector for the city of Yakima and had been the city electrical inspector.
- 1898 Arlene GROVER, Madison, head of the University library order department until her retirement last fall, died June 14.
- 1898 Lloyd D. SMITH, Waupaca, died Aug. 4. He served as City Attorney for twenty-seven years and three terms as District Attorney.
- 1899 Thomas W. TORMEY, Madison, died July 8. Dean of the medical profession in Dane county, he was licensed to practice medicine in Wisconsin in 1904 and at that time opened his offices in Madison. He was later joined by his brother, Dr. Albert R. In recent years the Tormey clinic has been expanded to include Dr. Thomas' two sons, Dr. Thomas W., Jr., and Dr. Weston C.
- 1899 Harry N. CARTER, Portland, Ore., died July 20. A native of Humbird, Wis., he had made his home in Portland, where he was an accountant.
- 1905 Victor R. GRIGGS, Portland, Ore., died Aug. 23. Mr. Griggs was one of the five founders of the national society of Scabard & Blade, organized at the University in 1905. He was engaged in the practice of law for many years, at one time serving as Asst. Attorney General of Oregon.
- 1906 Grace D. LATTA, Antigo, formerly of Albion, died Sept. 1.
- 1907 Allen C. HIBBARD, Oakland, Calif., died about June 20. He had been engaged in real estate and insurance for about 25 years.
- 1908 Hartwich B. WILHELMSSEN, Sparta, died July 11. He had been engaged in farming and had operated the Angelo General Store for about 8 years.
- 1908 Dr. Walter G. SEXTON, Marshfield, prominent Wisconsin urologist, died Sept. 27. He was associated with the late Dr. K. W. Doege in general practice and surgery and in 1917, when the Marshfield Clinic was organized, became one of its six original members.
- 1909 Fred H. KESTER, Windsor, Canada, engineer and bridge builder, died in August. He was known for his work with the Canadian Bridge Co., Ltd., of Windsor, where he rose to be president and general manager. He supervised the construction of Canada's important bridges.
- 1909 Alwin S. THOMPSON, Madison, died Aug. 30. He was assistant state procurement officer for the federal treasury.
- 1911 Claire R. ACLY, Madison, director of bank properties for the first National bank, died Sept. 27.
- 1912 Joseph D. SCHAUS, Milwaukee, died July 17. He was a salesman for the Hummel & Downing Co. for 26 years.

- 1913 Evalyn C. HOLMAN, Madison, vice-chairman of the Dane County Republican club, died July 19.
- 1913 (Emmet James) Welch WALKER, St. Louis, was killed in an automobile accident at Quincy, Fla., on Dec. 3, 1941.
- 1913 Wm. F. ROECKER, head of the science department of Boys' Trade & Technical high school, Milwaukee, since 1916, died Sept. 13. Author of articles on science and teaching methods, he previously had taught at Central high school, Madison, and at Sturgeon Bay, Spencer, Plymouth, Sheboygan, Menomonie and Durand, Wis.
- 1914 Arnold K. FITGER, Beverly Hills, died June 27. With his father, he founded the Celite Co. at Lompoc, pioneering in the silica industry.
- 1916 Richard U. JONES, St. Paul, Minn., died July 9, 1941. He had been a Prof. and Dean at Macalester College in St. Paul.
- 1916 Gerhard W. DUEMLING, Milwaukee, died Sept. 6. He had been employed as a chemist at Globe Steel Tube Co. Known as a linguist, he frequently acted as an interpreter in Milwaukee courts.
- 1917 Mrs. Roger E. TRAFFORD (Frances KLEINHEINZ), Madison, died July 31. She taught school and did food demonstration work in Washington county for the federal government, during the first World war.
- 1917 Lafayette M. SHEFFER, Athens, Ga., died June 20. He was a nationally recognized expert in agricultural education, having been Assistant State Supervisor of Agricultural Education for about 12 years and later was appointed State Supervisor.
- 1918 Leone BRYHAN, head librarian at the Wisconsin legislative reference library for eight years, died July 29.
- 1919 Mrs. Douglas G. CAMPBELL (Bertha OCHSNER), New York City, died Sept. 17. She was an internationally known dancer, having appeared on the concert stage in Budapest, Vienna, Munich and other European cities as well as in major cities in this country. She was in the original group of students experimenting with dancing as a creative art under Margaret H'Doubler of the University staff.
- 1920 Mrs. Winifred V. MILLER (Winifred VANDERPOOL), Madison, widow of Harry L., died Aug. 31. Until recently a teacher at East High School, she was a member of Phi Beta Kapp and Sigma Alpha Iota.
- 1921 Comdr. Raymond A. HANSEN, formerly of Madison, was killed in action in the Coral sea. He was appointed to the U. S. Naval academy at Annapolis in 1918, graduating in 1922. He had been in command of the U. S. cruiser Vincennes since last spring. He had previously served in all branches of the navy and had been in charge of the navy's experimental diving station at Washington, D. C.
- 1922 Frederick R. HANSON, Wauwatosa, died Oct. 3. He suffered a heart attack during the Wis.-Marquette football game at Madison. He was former president of the Milwaukee W club and intensely interested in everything pertaining to the University.
- 1922 John W. IRWIN, Legion, Tex., died Aug. 23. He had been employed at Marshall Field & Co., Chicago.
- 1922 Andrew P. DIDIER, Milwaukee, post office employee, died Sept. 2.
- 1924 Elmer G. HAMLEY, Green Lake, died Aug. 4. He was president of the Green Lake Bible Institute.
- 1925 Herbert S. GRENOBLE, a former University instructor and member of the Forest Products laboratory staff, died Sept. 22 at Richmond, Va. He was on the faculty of the U. of Richmond.
- 1926 Kenneth LEITH, Amherst, Va., formerly of Madison, died June 10. He was the son of Prof. and Mrs. C. K. Leith. Prof. Leith, on leave from the University Geology dept., is associated with the War Production board, Washington.
- 1926 Mrs. Ralph E. PURUCKER (Wilma E. KLUENDER), Madison, died Sept. 13.
- 1929 Mrs. George M. TREPANIER (Eileen COWGILL), Madison, died June 21. She was the wife of the credit manager of the Capital Times.
- 1930 Frances L. BENNETT, English teacher in the Stoughton junior high school, died July 26.
- 1930 Arthur PEABODY, Madison, died Sept. 6. He was the retired state architect, having designed about 70 state and campus buildings, including the Memorial Union and the Wisconsin General hospital. In 1930 he was awarded an honorary doctor of letters degree by the University. He was secretary of the Wisconsin board of architects and Engineers, and a fellow of the American Institute of Architects.
- 1931 Maurice W. LOWELL (Maurice W. Levine), formerly of Milwaukee, died June 18 in a Chicago hospital. He was a free lance radio production director at New York City for the last several years. He had also held similar posts in Chicago and New York for the N.B.C.
- 1933 Mrs. Robert C. PENNER (Georgiana MOCKLY), Milwaukee, died June 28, after a long illness. She was a member of Alpha Phi and had taught the fifth - grade at the 18th St. school for several years.

- 1935 Kenneth W. KUNDERT, Monroe, was accidentally electrocuted while working on his father's farm, on July 11. He was agricultural instructor in the Blanchardville high school for five years, before going to the high school at Jefferson, Wis.
- 1940 Pvt. James Russell GARVER, Madison, died June 11, at Jefferson Barracks, Mo. Before entering the army he was associated with his father in the Garver's Supply Co.
- 1940 Ensign Jay James DUDLEY, Wausau, died July 9, in an airplane crash in San Diego. He was a member of the "Flying Badgers", the first group of University students to enter naval flying service as a unit.
- 1940 Capt. Burnill C. DAVIS, Orfordville, died July 24 in a U. S. army plane crash near Boquet, Panama. He was a brother of Ensign Frederick C. Davis, '39, USN, who was killed in the attack on Pearl Harbor.
- 1941 Corp. Roy D. BRINDLEY, Madison, was killed in the torpedoing of U. S. merchant marine ships in the Atlantic.
- 1941 Dorothy CRETNEY, Dodgeville, was killed in an airplane crash in Milwaukee. She had been manager and clearance officer of the Cherryland airport at Sturgeon Bay. She had been a teacher in home economics in the Sturgeon Bay high school for a year.
- 1941 Ensign Kenneth E. HIGHLEY, Marinette, died Sept. 28, when a piece of armor plate fell on him at the U. S. Navy Proving Ground at Dahlgreen, Va. He had been a member of the naval reserve and was called to active duty Jan. 5. His duties were to test armor plate and shells.
- 1941 Pvt. Byron R. BENNETT, Monroe, died in Alaska.
- 1942 Normal SIEGEL, Milwaukee, died July 11 at Miami Beach, after an emergency operation. He was a Sergeant in the U. S. Army, and had been in service seven months.
- 1942 Norman W. MORTENSEN, Camp Douglas, marine corps, was killed in action on one of the islands in the southwest Pacific ocean according to word from the war department.
- 1942 Sgt. Donald J. MORTON, Dodgeville, died Sept. 9 of a wound sustained when a bullet misfired on a routine training flight.
- 1942 Lt. John I. DAY, Lancaster, died in August in an airplane crash in the Panama Canal Zone.
- 1942 Lewis H. ROBERTS, Dodgeville, was killed June 19 in an air crash at Brooks Field.
- 1942 Robert E. ELLIS, Madison, died July 12, in a Janesville hospital as the result of a plane crash a mile east of Clinton. He was a civilian instructor at the army pre-glider training school at Janesville.
- 1943 Donn J. GAHAGAN, Madison, died in a plane crash near Winona, Minn., on July 17.

It is with great sorrow that the Alumni Association notes the untimely passing of two of the Association's best loved friends — Harry R. Schwenker, '23, director of the athletic ticket sales department of the University, and Frederick R. Hanson, '22, secretary and former president of the Milwaukee W club.

Harry Schwenker died Thursday night, October 8, of a sudden heart attack while listening to the nightly "Meet the Team" radio program.

Mr. Schwenker had been athletic sales manager since 1930, and a member of the athletic department for 10 years before that. An active member of the "Old Timers" club of Roundy Coughlin, Wisconsin State Journal sports editor, he was also at one time active in the management of the old Madison Blues semi-professional ball club.

A trumpeter from the University band played "Taps" and a tribute was read in Mr. Schwenker's honor just before the flag raising ceremonies in Camp Randall the day of the Wisconsin-Missouri football game.

Frederick R. Hanson, Wauwatosa, former University football player, died of a heart attack at Camp Randall stadium Saturday, October 3, after watching Wisconsin make its second touchdown against Marquette.

The Notre Dame game the weekend before which Mr. Hanson missed because he was in poor health was only the third Badger game he had missed since 1916. The other two were the Columbia and U.C.L.A. games in recent years.

Active in alumni affairs Mr. Hanson was secretary and former president of the Milwaukee W Club. At the time of his death he was a lumber specialist for the War Production Board in Milwaukee.

Committee Personnel

EXECUTIVE—Judge C. F. Van Pelt, chairman; Philip H. Falk, George L. Ekern, Dean F. O. Holt, Mrs. Hugo Kuechenmeister, Dr. Gunnar Gundersen, William D. Hoard.

MEMBERSHIP—A. J. Goedjen, chairman; Ensign John Archer, Ray D. Black, H. E. Broadfoot, Mrs. O. E. Burns, Mrs. R. E. Krug, L. F. Madiand, Wallace Meyer, Basil I. Peterson, Charles B. Rogers, John H. Sarles, Guy Sundt, Arthur Thiede, Herbert Terwilliger.

CONSTITUTION—Myron T. Harshaw, chairman; Asa G. Briggs, Ernst von Briesen, Rubens F. Clas, Major Franklin L. Orth.

LIFE MEMBERSHIP—Dean F. O. Holt, chairman; L. M. Hanks, Judge C. F. Van Pelt.

STATE RELATIONS—Dr. Gunnar Gundersen, chairman; Harry W. Adams, Walter Alexander, Dr. James P. Dean, Jerry Donohue, Judge Evan A. Evans, Joseph W. Jackson, Judge Alvin C. Reis, Harlan B. Rogers.

SCHOLARSHIP—Philip H. Falk, chairman; Mrs. L. D. Barney, Richard S. Brazeau, F. F. Martin, Robert B. L. Murphy, William N. Smith.

MAGAZINE—Mrs. Lucy Rogers Hawkins, chairman; Donald L. Bell, Frank Thayer, Arthur Towell, Mrs. Marshall B. Wood.

ATHLETIC—Arthur E. Timm, chairman; Robert Wiley, Dr. H. M. Stang, Dr. Merrit L. Jones, A. J. Goedjen, F. F. Martin, Judge C. F. Van Pelt, Earl O. Vits, Dr. A. R. Tormey, Walter Weigent, Guy S. Conrad, George B. Nelson, William H. Craig.

ALUMNI AWARDS—F. H. Clausen, chairman; Charles L. Byron, A. M. Kessenich, Mrs. Hugo Kuechenmeister, Mrs. V. W. Meloche, Ernst von Briesen.

GIFTS AND BEQUESTS—Howard T. Greene, chairman; Harry A. Bullis, George I. Haight, John S. Lord, Howard I. Potter.

STUDENT RELATIONS AND AWARDS—Dean F. O. Holt, chairman; John Bosshard, Mrs. C. R. Carpenter, Mrs. William T. Evjue, Lowell Frautsch, Wilfred Harris, William D. Hoard, Jr., Ruth P. Kentzler, Mrs. George Lines.

PLACEMENT—John S. Lord, chairman. Vice-chairmen: Harry A. Bullis, William S. Kies, Myron T. Harshaw, Walter Alexander, Prof. Henry R. Trumbower, F. F. Martin.

Alumni Club Directory

AKRON, OHIO—Clifford Burg, '37, president, 2643 Elmwood, Cuyahoga Falls; Mrs. C. G. Hoover, 498 Storer Ave., secretary.

APPLETON, WIS.—Kenneth J. Benson, '30, secretary-treasurer, 206 Zuelke Bldg.

BARABOO, WIS.—Harold M. Langer, '17, president.

BELOIT, WIS.—Raymond E. Gotham, '36, Beloit Public Schools; Bernice Cranston, '39, secretary-treasurer, Cranston Road.

BOSTON, MASS.—Lionel Mulholland, '17, temporary secretary, 40 Court St.

BUFFALO, N. Y.—Grant A. Barnett, '34, president, Kaiser-Earnett Coal Corp.; Adolph Hove, '30, secretary, Dominion Natural Gas Co., Jackson Bldg.

CEDAR FALLS, IOWA—Billie Kaplan, '34, president, State Theatre, Waterloo; Coella Correll, '40, secretary-treasurer, 816 College Ave., Cedar Falls.

CENTRAL OHIO—Dr. William E. Warner, '23, president, Ohio State University, Columbus; Gladys E. Palmer, '18, secretary-treasurer, Ohio State University.

CHICAGO, ILL.—Arthur E. Thiede, '04, president, 1213 1st Natl. Bank Bldg.; William H. Craig, '05, secretary, 228 N. La Salle St.

CHIPPEWA FALLS, WIS.—O. B. Meslow, '30, president, Chippewa Printery; Martin N. Hein, '21, secretary.

CINCINNATI, OHIO—Norman C. Lucas, '16, president, 1315 Carew Tower; Virginia Delaney, '37, secretary, 1233 Blanchard Ave.

CLEVELAND, OHIO—A. R. MacLaren, '11, president, 330 Beech St., Berea.

COLORADO—John H. Gabriel, '87, president, 421 C. A. Johnson Bldg., Denver; L. A. Wenz, '26, secretary, 3855 Perry, Denver.

CORNELL UNIVERSITY—Dr. James M. Sherman, '12, president, Cornell Univ., Ithaca; Dr. E. M. Hildebrand, '28, secretary, Klinewoods Road, Ithaca.

DETROIT, MICH.—Donald F. Schram, '22, president, 15436 Cherrylawn Ave.; Wallace M. Jensen, '29, secretary-treasurer, 282 Hillcrest Rd., Grosse Pointe Farms.

EAU CLAIRE, WIS.—Dr. H. M. Stang, '16, president, 314 E. Grand Ave.; Harlan Niebuhr, '31, secretary, Court House.

EVANSVILLE, IND.—Otto A. Knauss, '13, president, Igleheart Bros. Inc.; William Rorison, '25, secretary, 622 Lombard Ave.

FOND DU LAC, WIS.—Ervin A. Weinke, '28, president, 395 Ledgeway Ave.; Mrs. Kenneth E. Worthing, '26, secretary-treasurer, 193 4th St.

FORT ATKINSON, WIS.—Franklin Sweet, '93, 500 S. Main; Irene Varney, '32, secretary.

FOX VALLEY—Leonard C. Mead, '12, president, 525 Fulton, Geneva, Ill.; Dr. K. L. German, '32, secretary, 2 S. Broadway, Aurora, Ill.

GRAND FORKS, N. D.—O. G. Libby, '92, president, U. of N. Dak.; Mrs. E. F. Chandler, '99, secretary-treasurer, University Station.

GREEN BAY, WIS.—Margaret Hill, '26, first vice-president, 215 S. Broadway, De Pere; Dorothy Schober, '32, secretary, 814 Cherry St.

HONOLULU, HAWAII—Frank Bellows, '15, president, 2400 Sonoma St.; Mrs. J. C. H. Brown, '34, secretary, 3020 Hibiscus Dr.

HOUSTON, TEXAS—Laurens B. Fish, '27, president, 2005 Danville.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND.—Merrill Esterline, '25, president, 231 E. 62nd St.; Robert I. Blakeman, '23, secretary-treasurer, 5004 N. Pennsylvania.

IOWA COUNTY—Kenneth F. Fox, '36, president, Dodgeville, Wis.; Elizabeth C. Davies, '38, secretary-treasurer, Dodgeville.

IRON RANGE CLUB—J. P. Vaughan, '07, president, Supt. of Schools, Chisholm; Constance Hampl, '27, secretary, Hibbing Jr. College, Hibbing.

KANSAS CITY, MO.—Samuel L. Chaney, '37, president, 215 W. Pershing Road.

KNOXVILLE, TENN.—Aubrey J. Wagner, '33, president, Gen. Engr. Div., TVA; E. S. Birkenwald, '22, secretary, 913 S. 21st., Apt. 2.

LA CROSSE, WIS.—Charles Gelatt, '39, president, Northern Engr. Co.; Mrs. Robert Johns, secy-treas., 209 17th Place.

LOUISVILLE, KY.—William E. Crutcher, '38, president, 714 Ky. Home Life Bldg.; Mrs. A. E. Gonzebach, '26, 315 Godfrey Ave.

MADISON, WIS.—Ruth P. Kentzler, '17, president, Route 2, Madison, Roy T. Ragatz, '27, secretary-treasurer, 119 Monona Ave.

Alumni Club Directory, (continued)

MANITOWOC COUNTY, WIS.—Harold A. Kugler, '34, president, 108 Commerce Bldg., Manitowoc; John C. Danielson, '36, secretary, 927 S. 8th St., Manitowoc.

MARSHFIELD, WIS.—Mary Schubert, '32, president, 314 S. Central Ave.; Klara Dahlke, '39, secretary-treasurer, 910 Wis. St.

MENOMONIE, WIS.—Ira O. Slocumb, '20, president, 706 11th St.; Joe Flint, '03, secretary, 919 9th St.

MILWAUKEE, WIS.—L. F. Madland, '35, president, 5127 N. Shoreland Ave.; Raymond H. Myers, '35, secretary, 623 W. State St.

MILWAUKEE "W" CLUB—Herbert W. Schmidt, '25, president, 2550 N. 63d St.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.—John H. Sarles, '23, president, 600 1st Natl. Bank Bldg.; Robert W. Stauff, '37, secretary, 205 4th St., White Bear Lake.

MONROE, WIS.—Arthur C. Benkert, '34, vice-president, 1403 17th St.; Mrs. Miner W. Anderson, '27, secretary, 100 11th St.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—R. Worth Vaughan, '27, president, 120 Broadway.

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA—Ethel Rose Taylor, '10, president, 900 Natl. Bank Bldg., Berkeley; Frank V. Cornish, '96, secretary, 1923 Dwight Way, Berkeley.

OMAHA, NEBR.—Dr. Lyman J. Cook, '11, president, 311 Medical Arts Bldg.; Marian V. Wiemer, secretary, '33, 113 S. 52nd St.

OSHKOSH—Radford E. Boeing, '31, Vice-president, 51 Pleasant Ave.; Mrs. William H. Friedrich, '38, secretary-treasurer, 1094 Algoma Blvd.

PEORIA, ILL.—J. D. Blossom, '24, president, Central Natl. Bank & Trust Co.

PENSACOLA, FLA.—Dillon F. Smith, '15, president, 1235 Lakeview Ave.; Mrs. Allen Magée, '31, secretary, 1504 N. Spring St.

PHILADELPHIA, PA.—Ralph W. Collie, '06, president, 260 S. Broad St.; Mrs. C. O. Wheeler, '29, secretary-treasurer, 12 Rosemont Ave., Ridley Park.

PITTSBURGH, PA.—R. T. Griebing, '23, president, 125 Carnegie Pl.; A. J. Ackerman, '26, secretary-treasurer, Dravo Corp.

PLATTEVILLE, WIS.—MacArthur McKichan, '32, president, Kopp & Brunkhorst.

PORTAGE, WIS.—T. C. Kammholz, '32, president; Helen Cochrane, '29, secretary.

PORTLAND, ORE.—E. G. Drew, '22, vice-president, 3104 N. E. 31st Ave.; F. C. McGowan, '01, secretary-treasurer, 4325 N. E. Halsey St.

PURDUE-LAFAYETTE, IND.—Prof. G. D. Scarseth, '22, acting president, Purdue University.

RACINE, WIS.—Anne L. Nagel, '28, secretary, Box 106.

RICE LAKE, WIS.—George Mills, '18, president, 102 N. Main St.; Ottmar J. Falge, '12, secretary, 400 W. 4th St., Ladysmith.

RICHLAND CENTER, WIS.—Dr. W. C. Edwards, '21, president.

ROCKFORD, ILL.—David Connolly, '31, president, 114 N. Church St.; Carol Cibelius, '41, secretary, 831 Overlook Rd.

ST. LOUIS, MO.—Leslie V. Nelson, '17, president, Union Electric Light & Power Co.

ST. PAUL, MINN.—Victor E. Feit, '21, president, 480 S. Snelling Ave.; Rudolph E. Low, '28, secretary, 1st Natl. Bank Bldg.

SAN DIEGO, CALIF.—Prof. Oscar W. Baird, '10, president, State College; Dr. Berenice Stone, '26, secretary-treasurer, 3668 Pershing Dr.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y.—R. H. Richardson, '40, president, 1061 Glenwood Blvd.; Laura L. Blood, '12, 1627 Rugby Road.

SEATTLE, WASH.—Loren Bennett, '22, secretary, 16433 41st Ave. N. E.

SHEBOYGAN COUNTY, WIS.—Betty Thorkelson, '23, president, 609 Tree Court, Kohler.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA—Mark F. Jones, '10, president, 756 S. Broadway, Los Angeles; Sam Wright, '21, secretary-treasurer, 6970 La Presa Dr., Hollywood.

SPARTA, WIS.—Dr. DeWitt Beebe, '28, president, 501 Spring St.; Mrs. C. D. Lehman, secretary-treasurer, E. Pine St.

SPOKANE, WASH.—E. H. Hughes, '03, president, S. 119 Howard St.; Mrs. Ralph Ortell, '22, secretary, 2020 S. Lincoln St.

STEVENS POINT, WIS.—Clifford Peickert, '36, president, Fisher, Cashin & Reinholdt; Mrs. R. B. Freed, '33, secretary-treasurer, 1317 Clark St.

SUPERIOR, WIS.—Leonard Moran, '20, vice-president, Box 137; Mrs. Mary A. Doyle, '36, secretary-treasurer, 1211 N. 21st St.

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—Robert C. Salsbury, '25, president, State Tower Bldg.

TOLEDO, OHIO—Robert Beverlin, '33, president, 2647 Powhatan; Charlotte Bissell, '33, secretary, 624 Virginia.

TULSA, OKLA.—Adam M. Butler, '29, president, Darnell Real Estate; Florence Blackmore, '26, secretary-treasurer, Tulsa Univ.

VERNON COUNTY—Judge Lincoln Neprud, '21, president, Court House, Viroqua, Wis.; Mrs. H. R. Vergeront, '06, Halcyon Heights, Viroqua.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—George E. Worthington, '10, president, 1636 44th St. N. W.; Ray Black, '41, secretary-treas., Apt. D-11 Hayes, Presidential Gardens, Alexandria, Va.

WAUKEGAN, ILL.—Emerson H. Cole, '22, president, 637 Myrtle Ave.; Thekla Klatt, '37, secretary, 445 N. Genesee St.

WAUSAU, WIS.—Ralph Boughton, '26, president, 1st American State Bank; Veronica Egan, '25, secretary-treasurer, 511 Franklin St.

WEST BEND, WIS.—Harold O. Leiser, '29, president, Amity Leather Products Co.; Fay Hickey, '36, secretary, 526 S. 8th Ave.

WISCONSIN RAPIDS, WIS.—Richard S. Brazeau, '37, president, Brazeau & Graves; John Natwick, '34, secretary-treasurer, 431 Granite St.

Alumnae Club Directory

CHICAGO, ILL.—Mrs. B. J. McShane, '24, president, 629 W. Deming Place; Edith E. Stoner, '29, secretary, 659 Wrightwood Ave.

DETROIT, MICH.—Mrs. Allen E. Wright, '05, president, 13171 Ohio; Mrs. D. F. Schram, secretary, 15436 Cherrylawn.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.—Mrs. Gerald Koepcke, '26, president, 5030 2nd Ave., S.; Mrs. R. W. Lovering, '26, secretary, 4433 Colfax Ave., S.

ST. PAUL—Mrs. Dean H. Field, '17, president, 141 S. Wheeler; Mrs. F. J. Hoffman, '14, secretary, 1940 Fairmount.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA—Mrs. William A. Warren, '98, president, 842 Adelaide Dr., Pasadena; Genevieve Church-Smith, '98, secretary, 1900 N. Hill Ave., Pasadena.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA JUNIORS—Mrs. Edwin Riggert, '23, 4270 W. 1st St., Los Angeles, president; Mrs. C. J. Townsend, '30, secretary, 4847 W. Park Dr., N. Hollywood.