MAYOR, ALDERMEN TO BE CHOSEN IN ELECTION TODAY

Qualified Students May Still Register; Polling Places Are Announced

Students who have not yet registered for voting may still do so today by being sworn in at the booths with the recommendation of two previous voters. Other qualifications, besides that the voter must be 21 years of age, are that he must have been a resident of the state for one year and resident of his ward for a period of ten days.

Polls Open at 6 O'clock

The polls open at 6 o'clock this morning will close at 8 o'clock tonight. Students will vote in the ward in which they are resident. Polling places in wards where students reside are first ward, city library; second ward, water works pumping station; fourth ward, Doty school; fifth ward: first precinct, Draper school, second precinct, No. 4 fire station; eighth ward, No. 2 fire station, and tenth ward, Randall school.

Vote on Five Ballots

Five different ballots will be voted on. The first will include the candidates for mayor, city treasurer, alderman, supervisors and justices of the peace for the ward; second, the school board ballot with two candidates; third, the judicial election ballot with the name of Christian Doerfler, unopposed candidate for the Wisconsin Supreme court; fourth, the constitutional amendment referendum which provides for changing the state constitution to increase the pay of state legislators from $500 per session to $750 per year; and fifth, the presidential primary ballot with the names of the candidates for president, vice president, delegates at large, and district delegates to the national party conventions.

Two Seek Mayor's Office

General candidates for office are I. Milo Kittleson and Clyde A. Gallagher, for mayor and Carl Moe for city treasurer. Aldermanic candidates in the student wards are first ward, Joseph Pearson and Joseph L. Starr; second ward, Edward S. Reynolds; fourth ward, W. L. Dowling and James A. Lutz; fifth ward, Henry Caesar and A. R. Rhode; eighth ward, Jacob H. Behrend and William A. Welscher; and tenth ward, Charles F. Rodolf and Herman J. Steffen.

KRAUSE TO ADDRESS MENORAH WEDNESDAY

Prof. E. J. Krause of the botany department will speak on "Religion and Science" at the meeting of the Menorah society in Lathrop parlors at 7:30 o'clock on Wednesday evening. The talk will be followed by an open forum discussion.

A vocal solo will be given by Cecil L. Eiseman '26 and Marjorie M. Rachlin will give a piano number. Samuel Lepkovsky, grad, will give a short talk.

A mixing period will follow and a short business session will conclude the meeting.

STUDENT INDUSTRIAL JOINT SUPPER TONIGHT

Reservations for the student industrial joint supper and discussion group, which will be held at 6 o'clock tonight in Miss Mary Anderson's apartments may be made with Louise Tobey '24, Barnard hall. Immigration will be the topic for discussion.

OUTING CLUB MEETS THURSDAY EVENING

Outing club will meet at 7:15 o'clock Thursday night in the fifth floor lecture room, Lathrop hall. The matter of giving a credit during vacation for hours done in the accredited sports will be explained. Whether or not hiking will be considered as a sport will be discussed. Several new members will also be admitted. Plans are being made to hold special excursions every Saturday for all members of Outing club.

Extra! Ice Goes Out on Mendota; Fool Fishes Frisk

All of the ice cleared off Lake Mendota last night and fish were seen jumping in the lake just before press time this morning. Enthusiastic fishermen are already on the job at their favorite haunts. They attribute the early opening of the lake to the exceptionally warm spring we have had so far. Yeh, this is April 1; we had almost forgotten it.

Really though, the weather man promises us fair weather beginning tomorrow. If he's just fooling us again—well, he just ain't fair, that's all. This April fool business is supposed to last only one day.

MAIL ORDERS FOR HARESFOOT READY

Blanks Can Be Procured at Union Building For All Performances

Mail order blanks for tickets for the various showings of the Haresfoot club's "Twinkle Twinkle" can now be had for any city in which the club will play by calling at the Union building any time after 11 o'clock this morning, according to Sidney Thorson '24, manager. A booth will be maintained on the main floor.

"Many students have asked how they can get mail order blanks for their parents and friends for out of town performances. And since many students wish to see the show in their home town, we are giving them this advance opportunity to send in for good seats," Thorson declared last night.

The itinerary of the Haresfoot club and the theaters in which "Twinkle Twinkle" will be given are April 7, Sheboygan Opera house, Sheboygan, Wis.; April 8, Appleton theater, Appleton, Wis.; April 9, Grand theater, Oshkosh, Wis.; April 10, Orpheum theater, Racine, Wis.; April 11, Rhode Opera house, Kenosha, Wis.; April 12, Rockford theater, Rockford, Ill.; April 14, Aryan Grotto, Chicago, Ill.; April 15, Murat theater, Indianapolis, Ind.; April 16, Majestic theater, Peoria, Ill.; April 17, Pabst theater, Milwaukee, Wis.

The mail order sale for the Madison performance is now open and managers declared that the demand for blanks yesterday far exceeded expectations. Mail orders should be addressed to the Parkway.

PROFESSOR DELWICHE HAS MINOR OPERATION

Prof. E. J. Delwiche of the agronomy department who is in charge of the Ashland, Spooner and Northern peninsular experiment stations is slowly recovering in St. Vicents hospital, Green Bay, from an operation in which a finger was amputated. Professor Delwiche was hurt in an accident at Ashland about three weeks ago, was taken to a hospital there and about a week ago was transferred to the Green Bay hospital where the operation on his finger was performed.

Fraternity Blaze a Dud; Would-be Heroes Are Foiled

If sororities were the first entrants in the all-fraternity fire race, fraternities are not going to give them a chance to have the distinction of being the last also. Delta Upsilon thought that interest in the race was dying down and so had a little fire party all of its own.

Sunday, shortly before 10 o'clock someone pulled a fire box and fire company No. 2 responded. When the fire department drew up in front of the house at 644 North Frances street, greatly excited and eager to be heroes at any cost, they found the brothers enjoying themselves, in the kitchen, in bed or otherwise, but there was no fire.

Members of the department report that a few D. U.'s were on the roof cleaning out a chimney. They left without even squirting a chemical on the house.

SYMPHONY PLAYS THIS AFTERNOON, TONIGHT AT 8.15

Evening Program Includes Suite By Prof. Burleigh, of Music School

Both the classic symphony and the modernistic program piece will be represented on the program of the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra when it plays in the men's gymnasium at 8:15 tonight, under the auspices of the Madison Orchestral association.

Give Special Program

The program includes Beethoven's Symphony No. 3, "Eroica;" "Mountain Pictures," a suite by Cecil Burleigh, professor of violin in the School of Music; Overture to "Phedre" by Massenet; "A Victory Ball," a fantasy for the orchestra by Ernest Shelling, an American pianist; and a Hungarian march from "The Damnation of Faust" by Berlioz.

"Mountain Pictures" by Professor Burleigh, a suite of tonal sketches, strikes the modern note of impressionism. The suite includes three sketches, which paint the western mountain country—"Crags and Cascades," "Distant Haze," and "Avalanche."

Play Suite by Burleigh

The orchestra will give a special program of lighter numbers at a concert in the men's gymnasium at 3:30 this afternoon.

Tickets are on sale at Hook's Music store. Special rates of $1.50 for the evening concert are offered students upon presentation of fee cards. Admission to the afternoon concert is $1.

MAIDS TO ASSIST AT MILITARY BALL

Mirrors, Powder, Hairpins Will Be Supplied For Con- venience of Ladies

Thirty-five maids have been engaged to assist in the boxes at the Military ball Friday night by the women's arrangements committee, according to W. Norris Wentworth '24, chairman of the committee.

"We have secured everything necessary for the convenience of the dancers at the dance," he stated.

Large hand—Badger Studio mirrors have been obtained from Gamm's jewelry store for the use of the women. This has never been done before at the Military ball or at prom, according to Wentworth.

Preparations have been completed with Rennebohm's to furnish the boxes with a good supply of powder, hairpins and other toilet articles for the women at the ball.

For the convenience of dancers who are not attending with a group, checkrooms have been arranged for in the assembly chambers, according to Wentworth.

FISH WRITES ARTICLE ON WILSON FOR LIT

Woodrow Wilson has been placed in the gallery of fame as the third greatest president of the United States by Prof. Carl Russell Fish, who has contributed an article on our war president for the April number of the Wisconsin Literary magazine to appear on the campus April 7.

This is the first of a series of articles by faculty members and major students that is in keeping with the plans of John F. Weimer '25, newly appointed editor.

"He lacked the tolerance of Washington" says Professor Fish of Wilson in his article. "He lacks too the infinite variety of approach of Lincoln. In definite accomplishments, however, he stands next to them among our presidents."

DRAW NEW PLANS FOR EXTERIOR DESIGN OF UNION BUILDING

Prexy Approves

Building Operations Postponed Until Final Sketches Are Accepted

Final sketches for the Memorial Union building have not yet been approved, it was learned yesterday and the building operations which had been scheduled for this spring will be postponed until satisfactory sketches are presented by the architects.

Exterior Designs Submitted
Exterior designs have been developed and presented to the Memorial Union building committee and are now under consideration. The committee has directed the architects to make a further study of the elevations for purposes of development and comparison. It was explained by one of the members of the committee that the process of procuring satisfactory designs for so great a building is one of gradual development, and that the best results can be obtained only by trial and comparison.

Floor Plans Accepted

The floor plans for the building were developed and accepted in substance by the committee last October and it was thought at that time that the elevations could be worked out in six months. Contingent on the production of the final designs for the exterior, the campaign committee announced that there would be building activity this spring. The production of satisfactory sketches has been a longer job than was first expected, however, and the beginning of work must wait upon the completion of the sketches.

Start West Wing First

The plan of the committee is to begin operations first on the west wing of the building which will be the commons unit. Enough money is on hand to construct this section of the building. The time of breaking ground hangs upon the completion of the sketches. The architects have promised that the sketch plans will be developed with all possible speed.

A Complex Problem

It was a hard blow to me, and I know it will be to the student body, to realize that building operations cannot begin this spring. But we must have satisfactory plans first. Those of us who have followed the situation closely for the past two years appreciated the difficulty of producing plans that are acceptable and adequate. The present status of the floor plans, for example, represents numberless conferences with every interested group on the campus, with architects and with alumni. The successes and failures of Union buildings elsewhere have been carefully studied.

Now the architects have brought forward sketches for the exterior of the building that represent a great advance over anything that has yet been designed. Nevertheless the committee believes that further studies should be made, to insure the most beautiful and satisfactory design possible.

It is an easier problem in many ways to design the office building for the Chicago Tribune than to create a complex structure that is to house dining rooms, club rooms, a theatre, a convocation hall, billiard and recreation rooms, and a small hotel—besides satisfying our ambitions for a memorial to our soldiers, and a home for Wisconsin spirit. Careful work for a few months longer will result in benefit to us all, as well as to coming generations.

(Signed),
E. H. GARDNER.

Take Necessary Time

The Memorial Union building is by far the largest university project contemplated for the immediate future. It presents a difficult archi-

ADVERTISERS HOLD CONVO WEDNESDAY

Prominent Men Will Speak During Three-day Conference

The first advertising conference ever to be held under the auspices of the university will commence at 3:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in 113 Sterling hall and will end with a dinner at 6:15 o'clock Thursday evening at the Park hotel.

"This conference is an endeavor to give university students interested in advertising an insight into direct mail advertising, one of the first phases of advertising they will use after leaving school," said Edward H. Gardner, professor of business administration, who is chairman of the meetings.

The conference will consist of three meetings. The first will be tomorrow afternoon. The second will be held from 3 to 5 o'clock Thursday in 402 Sterling hall and will be a round table discussion led by Mr. Buckley. The last will be the dinner at the Park hotel.

Among the speakers are three who have graduated from the course in commerce. They are W. E. Walker, vice-president of the First National bank; Clark Gillette, advertising manager of the Burgess Battery company; and L. H. Metz, formerly of the Hart, Schaffner and Marx advertising department; William Miller, advertising manager of the French Battery and Carbon company, and N. R. Williams of the Democrat Printing company will also speak.

Tickets for the dinner may be obtained from the office of the course in commerce, Paul Robertson, B. 193, or at the banquet. It will be best to get tickets early, Professor Gardner warns, so that the committee may know how many to prepare for.

Complete Plans For Barnard Magazine; to Be Out in May

Plans for the Barnard magazine which is published annually by students of Barnard hall are almost completed, according to Margaret Ashton '26, editor.

Each woman has submitted a snapshot of herself, and these with other cuts characteristic of Barnard life will give the magazine color. The news editors are working on corridor stories and a short story contest.

The dummy is now being made up, and the 1924 edition of the Barnard magazine will make its appearance the first week of May," said Mildred John '26, business manager.

MANY BOOKS MISSING

FROM S. G. A. LIBRARY

Lost, strayed, or stolen from the S. G. A. library in Lathrop hall are over 20 pieces of modern fiction and classical literature according to the reports given out by the S. G. A. office today. If any one has taken out a book and has forgotten to return it, he will be conferring a favor by returning it as soon as possible, so that the library can get back to its normal circulation.

AGRONOMY CHAIRMAN SPEAKS ON ALFALFA

The course in hotel management, which is said to have proved successful at Cornell university does not compare with the course in institutional management and the practice tea room here, explained Miss Bernice Frances Dodge, assistant professor in home economics, under whose supervision the tea room is conducted.

The course at Cornell university is intended primarily for men who contemplate the business world as hotel managers, a limited field as yet for women.

The tea room as conducted here is intended to give practice work to students who expect to enter the business world as managers of tea rooms or cafeterias. The plan has proved successful, according to Miss Dodge and students are serving one meal each day.

Selling is your great summer opportunity

H. F. Bowes is another of the several hundred college men who has been selling Fuller Brushes through summer vacations. He says:—"The first week with the Fuller Company I made $75.00. The training I received was a source of inspiration to me, and I felt I was obtaining a development I could get in no other way. Fuller Brushes offers an opportunity to the average college man that cannot be excelled in any other line of summer vacation work."

W. E. Harvard spent his first college vacation working in a garage. The next vacation work was in a railroad shop. The third summer he took up selling Fuller Brushes. His first week's experience and earnings were most gratifying—his average earnings for the ten weeks being slightly over $50.00 a week. Mr. Howard says:—"It is not possible for me to give in words my real estimate of the selling of Fuller Brushes as an opportunity for the average student during vacation periods."

The Fuller Brush Company has a limited number of openings, in fine territories, for college men who desire to take up the work during the summer vacation. You can secure full information from

CARDINAL SPORTS

VARSITY BASEBALL
MEN PREPARE FOR SOUTHERN JAUNT

Squad, 16 Strong, Leaves Friday on Spring Training Trip

Coach Guy S. Lowman is putting his charges through the final week of indoor work, and is picking the squad which, 16 strong, will invade the sunny South on its annual spring training trip.

Prospects look unusually bright for this time of the year. After a two months period spent in preparatory work in the gymnasium annex the squad has turned out a number of men that look as though they would be capable of holding their own with any team in the conference.

The pitching staff is the strongest that it has been for several years. Johnson and Christensen are both veterans with plenty of experience, and are in shape to give their opponents a lot of trouble.

Capt. Eddie Aschenbrenner, rated last spring as one of the best backstops in the Big Ten, is better than ever this season and should direct his pitchers and the entire team with coolness and judgment.

The infield is composed largely of green material, but Steen, first, Ellingson, second, Goss, third, and Murphy or Skaife, short, make a slick, speedy combination.

The outer garden will be tended by Emanuel, Servatius, and Dugan, with Radke and Tjoflat substituting. Of these men only Servatius has had varsity experience, but the others are showing up well and may spring a surprise on some of the teams they run up against.

The coach has chosen some of the men who will make the trip, but five berths remain to be filled, and he is not yet sure which men will be picked. The following are reasonably sure of taking the jaunt: Aschenbrenner, catcher, Johnson, Christensen and Luther, pitchers, Steen, Ellingson, Skaife, and Goss, infield, and Servatius, Emanuel and Dugan, outfield.

Work for the remainder of the week will consist largely of team play and base running, with some hitting drill. The pitchers are working every day and are in good shape, while the entire squad is physically fit and ready to go.

TRACK MEN START OUTDOOR TRAINING

Aspirants For Cinder Path Team Commence Work at Camp Randall

With the first meet of the 1924 outdoor track season less than three weeks away, intensive training for the cinder path men will begin this afternoon.

All of the runners, including sprinters, middle and long distance men, will take their initial workouts at Camp Randall today, along with most of the participants in field events. Pole vaulters and high jumpers will continue their trials in the gymnasium annex until warmer weather starts.

The varsity track equipment has been moved from the gymnasium, and lockers have been assigned to the candidates for the outdoor team. The cinder track at Camp Randall is in good condition, and men have been repairing the track and lanes for more than two weeks.

For the freshmen, three outdoor telegraphic meets have been arranged with the freshmen track teams of other conference schools. On Wednesday, May 14, a triangular meet has been scheduled with Iowa and Purdue while the dates for the meets with Illinois and Minnesota first year athletes have not been decided upon yet.

Preparations have begun for the first annual University of Wisconsin interscholastic relay carnival, which will be held at Camp Randall Saturday, May 8. This meet will consist of six relay races, in addition to special events in the 100-yard dash, 120-yard high hurdles, broad jump, high jump, 12-pound

Below, Star Tackle, to Assist Ryan With Team This Fall

Arrangements Have Been Made, Marty Will Help Develop Tackles

Marty Below, star tackle on the varsity football team for two years, and almost unanimous choice on mythical All-American teams this last season, will be one of Jack Ryan's assistants this next fall if his appointment is confirmed by the athletic council.

Authorities have been trying for some time to get "Marty" to come to Wisconsin and help develop the 1924 team, but it was not till yesterday that word was received that he had made the necessary arrangements and would be able to obtain leave of absence from his position.

If his appointment is confirmed by the athletic council, he will start work with the tackles on September 15.

Below was one of the best of a long string of good tackles that Wisconsin has turned out during the past few years. Ralph Scott, Jimmy Brader, Kibo Brumm and Below were all rated among the best in the conference and had the reputation of being able to beat their ends down the field after punts time and again.

If "Marty" can turn out a tackle as good as any of these, it will be a big help to the team in its quest after the 1924 title.

GREEK BASEBALL
MEN MEET TODAY

Final Arrangements For Season Will Be Made in Trophy Room

A meeting of all representatives of fraternities entered in Greek baseball will be held this afternoon in the trophy room of the gymnasium, at which time final arrangements for the season will be made.

The teams have been divided into eight divisions, as was done last year, with six teams in each division. Two places are still open, and the first two fraternities to enter teams will be given these places, which will close the entries.

The divisions are as follows:

First division: Beta, Farm House, Phi Mu Delta, Square and Compass, Alpha Delta, Theta Delta Chi.

Second division: Theta Kappa Epsilon, Alpha Chi Sigma, Lambda Chi Alpha, Chi Epsilon, Theta Xi.

Third division: Sigma Phi Epsilon, Alpha Chi Rho, Phi Beta Pi, Delta Pi Delta, Sigma Pi.

Fourth division: Chi Psi, Theta Chi, Delta Pi Epsilon, Delta Sigma Pi, Kappa Sigma, Sigma Chi.

Fifth division: Delta Upsilon, Phi Delta Theta, Delta Sigma Phi, Delta Kappa Epsilon, Gamma Eta Gamma, Chi Psi.

Sixth division: Phi Alpha Delta, Phi Sigma Delta, Zeta Beta Tau, Sigma Phi, Alpha Kappa Kappa, Phi Sigma Kappa.

Seventh division: Alpha Sigma Phi, Alpha Theta Pi, Triangle, Alpha Kappa Lambda, Phi Kappa Sigma, Phi Kappa.

Eighth division: Acacia, Phi Kappa Psi, Delta Chi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Alpha Gamma Rho, Kappa Psi.

Entry fees must be paid a week from today, according to Ez Crane.

Hitting the High Spots with Ken

Our snow drift gave us the merry ha-ha when we sailed by it today with our nose in the air.

That man John Bunge, guard on the La Crosse team, is none other than a brother of the George Bunge who starred on the football team here in '19, '21, '22. He was all-conference center one year.

Rumor has it that the Superior team is going to the national tournament at Chicago in spite of their reverse here Saturday night.

Fond du Lac's entry has already been received according to Alonzo Stagg.

United States seems to be getting a bad deal from the Olympic committee in France. Five diving events in which United States was sure to place have been left off the program.

The first intersectional football game to be played in the California Memorial stadium will be played between California and Pennsylvania universities January 1, 1925.

The success of the state tournament has assured its staging here for next year.

Dear Ken: Concerning stalling did you notice that the sole reason Appleton lost that close game to Fond du Lac was failure to stall in the last three minutes of the game?

Phi Sigma Kappas of Wisconsin to Bowl Local Series With Marquette Team

The Phi Sigma Kappa team, winner of the Wisconsin interfraternity bowling tournament, and Alpha Gamma Phi, winner of a similar tournament at Marquette, will put on a home and home series to determine the supremacy of the pin men in these schools.

Three games are to be rolled on the Wisconsin alleys here, and three games on the K. C. alleys in Milwaukee. The probable dates of these games are Friday, April 4th at Milwaukee, and Sunday, April 6th here.

The same team that bowled its way to the championship in the interfraternity tournament a few weeks ago will represent the Phi Sigma Kappas in the coming meet. The five men who top the pins for the Phi Sigs are Stebbins, captain, Hoffman, Weeman, Ruediger and Knutson.

Alpha Gamma Phi of Marquette will be represented by A. E. Bentzin, captain, "Red" Dunn, "Dick" Quinn, "Red" McGuile and "Count" Wegmann. This "Red" Dunn is the same "Red" that is known to all the athletic world for his prowess in football and basketball. His presence here on the Wisconsin alleys will prove an added attraction to sport fans.

A silver loving cup will be given to the winner of the series. This is a novel idea in the way of bowling matches and has added a great deal of interest to bowling here at Wisconsin. If this series proves successful, it is highly probable that other series will be arranged in future years.

Track Classes in Last Annex Meet in Gym Saturday

By holding the annual second semester interclass track meet Saturday, April 5, the final indoor meet of the season will take place in the gymnasium annex. The meet is scheduled to begin at 2 o'clock.

While the 11 o'clock and 3:30 o'clock sections have made the best marks in the previous trials and

FOND DU LAC TO ENTER TEAM IN NATIONAL TOURNEY

State High Champs to Be Represented at Chicago; Also Superior

Fond du Lac High, winner of the state title this year, will probably enter its team in the national tournament at Chicago, according to Prin. V. G. Barnes, president of the state high school athletic board. This tournament opens at Bartlett gym today. Superior, winner of second place, has also entered a team. Both of these schools have strong aggregations and should put in a strong bid for high honors.

The ninth annual state high school tournament, which was held in Madison last week, was a decided success, according to Norman Clark, who was in charge of it. "The tournament this year was very successful, especially from a financial viewpoint," he said yesterday.

Everybody seemed to be well satisfied, especially the high school teams and their respective coaches. They were satisfied with the officials and also the general way in which they were treated.

The tournament is a big event for the university, and this year showed that it should always be held at Wisconsin. Much enthusiasm was shown, and large crowds turned out for most of the games. Compared with the one last year, it was more successful in a financial way. Oregon, with a large delegation, contributed about 20 percent of the total gate receipts. Most of the teams stayed over for the banquet and the presentation of the trophies and the medals.

meets, it is expected that these two classes will make the best records in the final meet although the 1:30 o'clock group has several individual stars who may be counted upon for points in the respective events.

Among the men who will compete for honors in the different events are: 11 o'clock section—Laughlin, Wheeler, and O'Hara, 880 yard dash; Sheldon, high jump; Pease, 440 yard run and dashes; Shager, mile-run; Heiden, 440-yard dash; 1:30 o'clock class—Ingold, dashes, low hurdles and high jump; Thompson, high jump; Sauer, dashes and low hurdles; Katz, 440-yard run and dashes.

THE DOVE IN BUCKETS OF BLOOD
Not so long ago it seemed possible to hold to the position of hatred of war and at the same time maintain a belief in the efficacy of military training camps and R. O. T. C. units as being institutions organized primarily for the building up of the physique and morale of America's men. But in the light of editorials which have been run recently in metropolitan newspapers, and in the very obvious attitude of military leaders in encouraging the "blood and thunder" type of patriotism, it is inevitable that the thinking youth of today should lean toward the extreme pacific way of thinking.

A queer paradox this—an editorial is written to wean males away from pacifism, and in the buckets of blood of its words a struggling dove is seen, and the reader disgusted at gore and inhumanity hastens to rescue the dove and place it on a perch, heretofore not attained.

The Chicago Daily Tribune may convince a few ignorant individuals that pacifists are duo-sexed, are effeminate, and are confined to those of "female temperament, recognizable by their voices, appearances, and coquettish manners."

To the thinking college student, however, this type of rotten militaristic propaganda is not only absurd but is so revolting that the reaction has a reverse effect.

It is interesting in this connection to note that "as the colleges think today, so the nation will act tomorrow." And not only in this country but in all the nations of the world are students and youth coming to a realization of this truth. They are beginning to see that youth can no longer be bound by the convictions and traditions of age.

One of the first things which these youth or student groups observe is that it is their elders who are the authors of all war. They note the very obvious militant tendencies about them inspired by a greedy, grabbing, commercial age. They realize that if ever there is to be peace in the world, youth must be the one to speak out fearlessly for it.

Thus it is that student movements have grown up all over the world. In France a young man, Marc Sangier, chairman of the Third International Congress for Peace which was held in Fribourg, Germany, last August spoke before a huge audience of 7,000 people and declared, "I look with deep emotion on you, 7,000 German subjects, listening to me, a Frenchman, who loves his country as you love yours. Let us stand together for peace with the same determination with which we fought against each other on the battlefields. We are united for peace with justice, for the reconciliation of men in brotherhood and love."

This is the spirit which has been gaining headway in America. Bands of youths in the various colleges of the country have been uniting to obtain this same spirit. At Northwestern just now a great debate is taking place. During the Christmas holidays a great convention of students was held at Indianapolis at which one of the most interesting topics taken up, but which was side-tracked by officials, was this pacifist question. And as an example of the narrow-minded attitude of some of Wisconsin's own leaders, comes the report that Wisconsin delegates were instructed by their leaders not to attend the meeting at which the pacifist question was to be taken up.

But regardless of the powerful influences of the press, in spite of the capitalistic endeavors of big business to squelch opposition, and contrary to the stodgy resistance of age, the youth of today are thinking. The present youth has seen the horrors of recent battle-fields and he is insistent that those injustices should not be repeated. Youth will accept the challenge and will not sit by inactive while the secret ranks of reaction and militarism do their work.

MRS. WILLIAM F. ALLEN

Descended on one side from a long line of New England ministers and on the other from New England merchants, bred in the finest traditions of that part of the country, Mrs. William F. Allen, who died here Friday night, came to Madison as the young bride of the professor in history in 1869. It was a time when the university had not quite come of age, a time in which such a woman as she was bound to have effect on the institution. The teaching staff was composed of only 23 and as it grew to more than 1000, her interest grew with it. She wrote many papers on many subjects, some of them pertaining to the university as is illustrated by one of her most recent articles, "The University of Wisconsin after the Civil War," published in the Wisconsin Historical magazine. She was instrumental in founding the University league and the Madison Women's and Civics clubs and was closely associated with the Madison Literary club. "Outstanding, however, have been her contributions to human cheer, high idealism and sympathetic wisdom. From her personal circle, through the faculty to the students, to all who needed one with whom to rejoice or sorrow or counsel, she for half a century offered herself, a radiant personality."

OUR CIVIC PRIVILEGE

Today students who are of age are privileged to vote in the city elections. To many of us this may seem a privilege of small importance or interest to ourselves, but if we stop to think, we can not but realize that we are grossly mistaken if we think in this fashion. It is only too apparent that whether a student makes his permanent home in Madison or not the city's interests are his interests as long as he resides in Madison. He is closely concerned with protection against fire, with police protection, with the water supply and the street car service, with roads and other civic concerns. He is indirectly interested in every phase of city government in that it affects his rent; a good and efficient government saves money, is able to lower taxes and, as a consequence, rents are lowered.

Is the Union a Home? It Is!
Dean Lauds Michigan Union

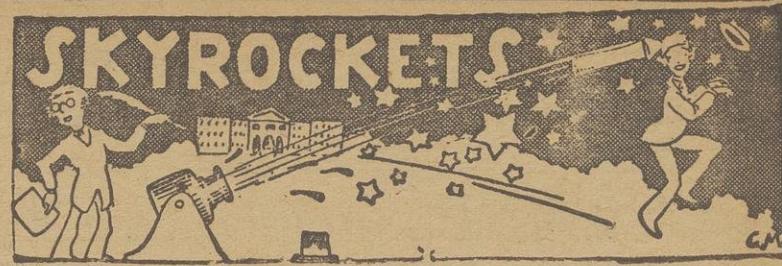

The following article came to the editor from Prof. George C. Sellery, Dean of the College of Letters and Science, who has been spending several days in Ann Arbor.

Good old Memorial Union at Wisconsin! Badger staff and students and, better still, Badger alumni, ought to spend a day and a night at the Michigan Union, as I am doing, and then get out and raise Wisconsin skies with cheers for our Union-to-be! I had breakfast in the ratskellarish cafeteria, and lunch in the big dining room upstairs, and—separately and distinctly—patronized the big tiled barber shop and read the papers in the enormous, open, inviting reading and lounging rooms on the first floor. Shades of Grand Rapids! What tables, and davenport, and easy chairs, and panelled wainscoting! Students coming and going, hats and coats informally piled here and there, some of the students getting up their work, others chatting quietly but happily in this corner and that. There's a homelike, comfortable, efficient (yes, let the old word ride, please) this-is-our-own-our-native-land atmosphere about the whole place that makes me feel sorry for our Wisconsin students. They don't know what they are missing. The Memorial Union is a vital necessity to sound living. Let's get it actually started and if more money doesn't roll in, then let the committee conduct a special tour for prominent, contributing alumni to Michigan, and then they'll understand what the Union will mean for Wisconsin.

Is a room in a boarding house a home? Not for a minute! Is a Union for students a home? It is! And there's no place like home.

I say nothing of the new million dollar Letters and Science building, of the magnificent Library, or of the new Collegiate gothic Law dormitories, libraries recreation centers that Oxford would envy, given to the university by a lawyer.

Wisconsin has the men, and the spirit.

SPRINGTIME

(With the Usual)

In the spring a young man's fancy Turns to woman and her clothes; Pairs of gaily colored slippers Match the hand-embroidered hose. Flimsy silks and flossy laces Take the place of heavy wraps; Gorgeous beads and gaudy trinkets Are imported by the Japs. They are decked in rare creations Trimmed in flowers and costly fur. (In the spring a young man's fancy, But the woman's fancier.)

Your Duchess.

This is a tale that's sad and true, And far more sad than it is true. Sisters it may happen to you, You never can tell when, why, or who.

This is the way it all came about: The party was nice, the lights were out.

A girl whose face looks like a pie Is just as stunning as you or I; And every man is a shadowy sheik, When lights are low, near the end of the week.

I twirled and danced until I was lame.

When lo, from out of the dark, HE came.

Tall, handsome, and danced,—well, you know,—

The Reader's Say-So

EDUCATION DEFINED

Editor, The Cardinal:

When you say in a recent editorial that "the purpose of an education is too abstract to be expressed in a few words or even many," some of us begin to wonder what we are in Madison for. Surely, we think to ourselves only in words. If no common selection of words will express the purpose of an education, then we cannot have an idea of what we as students are here for.

Of course, education goes on after the student leaves the university, but it is generally admitted that the whole process of education centers in the higher schools. I think the founders' and builders' of these schools must have had some rather definite idea of the merits and purposes. This idea, which the editorial writer is evidently ignorant of and has told the students they are ignorant of, seems to me to be very concisely and adequately stated in the words of Lawrence Abbot when he says:

"Education is the process of training men to be intelligent, useful and agreeable to his fellow men."

Applied to the policies of the university and to the idea of the average student, Mr. Editor, I believe this statement of the purpose of an education will stand.

SIX THINGS HE LEARNED

Editor, The Cardinal:

The longer one lives, the more he learns—especially if he attends a university. The last week has added more to my education than the last three or four years. These are some of the things I have learned—(1) that this country needs the Invisible Empire to run it; (2) that the United States is in such a distressed condition that the Klan must take it upon itself to protect (a) the teachings of Christ (b) pure womanhood (c) the Stars and Stripes. (3) that the Klan is illegal; (4) that the Klan is legal; (5) that the members of the Klan

Didnt say much, just sang real low.

And then I thought how great 'twould be

If he were only fond of me ... So then I asked him to a dance

Not realizing 'twas such a chance, For when I saw him in broad day-light

'Twas very different than at night. I know a very nice hombre

Who day and night is nice to see Not only sings but talks as well.— I certainly was a sad dumbbell,

And wished I hadn't ducked that man

Who drives me around in a nice tin can.

My sisters dear, a warning take And never a date in the dark to make,

For as some things that ain't just right,

They will not bear the strong daylight.

TWAS DOUG GIBSON

With more than an ordinary sense of humor we credit the dashing young Romeo who went serenading the other night and started each serenade with "My Love Belongs to Somebody Else..."

SPRING FEVER

The ardent swain was radiant. "I am going to marry a woman without a cent to her name," he said.

"Oh, well, a good dame is more to be desired than great riches," replied the chap with a cold in the head.

The rehearsals of the Spanish Play are progressing rapidly. The coach, director Sam Wofsy, insists on showing the budding Rudolfs just how to put their arms around the blushing Shebas.

Who took the census, we ask ye, we ask ya.

* * *

"You mustn't. I have a tainted mouth."

"What ya mean, tainted?"

"Tain't to be kissed."

Count Zaza

are, as a whole, highly educated; (6) that they are woefully ignorant.

It is disheartening to find that this country is in such great need of a savior. It is very alarming. There is only one thing that I cannot grasp—If men are aiming at the high ideals the Klan is supposed to stand for, why can they not act openly? Why all this mummery and masquerading during the dark of night? Will not my friends clear up this little, significant matter for me? That is the problem for the solution of which I have been living in hope during the past week. It is to be regretted that the gentlemen writing in defense of the Klan are so impressed with their modesty that they will not sign their names to their communications. Or is it shame?

Communications of the type sent in by C. T., appearing in Wednesday's issue, in no way reflect well on the writer. Why must the discussion be made a personal one? Are we not above that? It caused me great pleasure, indeed to find myself elevated to a position of command in the ranks of my "brothers"—presumably "the sons of Jacob." The idea had never occurred to me before. My eyes have been opened to a new field of endeavor.

If this country is so degraded and decrepit as to need some Invisible Empire to set it aright, then I am thoroughly in favor of the Klan. No, one is not enough. Let us have more of them. And we will, by George, if dear Colonel Simmons keeps up his good work.

FORMER STUDENT SUES PASTOR FOR DAMAGES

The suit of Mary Johnson, former student in the university, against the Rev. A. J. Soldan of Luther Memorial church, was taken under the advisement of Judge A. C. Hoppmann after a hearing in superior court Saturday morning. Miss Johnson charges that her automobile was badly damaged in a collision with Rev. Soldan's car June 20, 1920.

SPANISH CLUB COMEDY APRIL 7

"Una Yanqui en Espana" to Be Given Under Author's Direction

The prince searched for Cinderella by means of a little glass slipper, but in "Una Yanqui en Espana" the Spanish play which will be presented at Lathrop hall on Monday night, April 7, Edna searched for the prince by means of a pair of overalls.

The play, under the direction of the author, Samuel Wofsy, has the following cast: Clara Pratt, '26, Irene Norman, '25, Elizabeth Morey, '24, Lucy Jamieson, '24, Edith Miller, '26, Herbert Sappor, '24, Edwin Kleist, '26, Lewis Markvicka, '25, Lloyd Casten, '26, George Darby, '24, and Harold Beeman, '26.

Both Irene Norman and Herbert Sappor appeared in the last two annual Spanish plays, "De Madrid a Alcala" and "Nuestro Futuro Diputado," which were also written by Wofsy. Elizabeth Morey and Clara Pratt had leading parts in "Las Solteronas" presented by the Spanish club in January. Mr. Markvicka was in last year's Spanish play, and although Darby has never been in a Spanish play, he has had leading parts in four French plays.

The evening's program will contain in addition to the play, Spanish vocal selections by a sextette under the direction of Myrtha Biehausen, '25, and Spanish dances by Senorita Carmen Cadenas of the Romance language department.

WORLD of SOCIETY

Fraternities Hosts
To Many Guests
Over the Week End

Fraternities Hosts

There were many guests at the fraternities of the campus over the week end. Several initiations were held, and there were guests at some of the houses who came to attend initiations; there were quite a number of men who stayed over Sunday after having attended the finals of the state basket ball tournament. This week end there will be many guests who will have come down to attend Military Ball and its attendant social functions.

A. H. Trojan of Maywood, Ill., was a guest at the Delta Pi Epsilon house over the week end.

Jerome O. Bjerke, Milwaukee, was a week end guest at the Delta Pi Delta house.

Gerald Kops, Wesley H. Wendt, and Christopher Meyer all of Milwaukee were guests at the Delta Pi Epsilon house last week.

Charles Winding of Milwaukee visited his brother Fred Winding at the Alpha Tau Omega house last week end.

E. Morris Jones of South Bend was a guest at the Acacia house last week end.

Clifford Harper of Marquette University was a guest at the Beta Theta Pi house last evening.

BASSETT AIRS HIS VIEW ON SOROKINERussian Student Replies to Statements Made By Rostovtzeff

"I am not at all surprised to see Professor Rostovtzeff defend Professor Sorokine, and I welcome his criticism."

These were the remarks of Raymond Bassett '26, relative to Professor Rostovtzeff's comment on recent series of articles in The Cardinal.

Reiterating his opposition to tyranny and Bolshevik dictatorship, as expressed in his former articles, Bassett made plain his opinion that the Bolsheviks had suppressed free thought to the same extent that the old Czarist regime had done.

"Nevertheless, I tried to point out in my articles that the Bolsheviks are deserving of some credit for their work in the educational field," Bassett said.

"I am glad to hear Professor Rostovtzeff say" explained Bassett, "that the Russians have always longed for education. But he does not say what the Czarist government has done for the Russians, to satisfy their desire. It kept them in the darkness and ignorance."

Now everybody goes to school in Russia, and everybody pays. Even if proletarians are now the only privileged class, the great majority of the population is benefited."

DOUG'S DOUBLE ACTS DAREDEVIL AT THE STRAND

"LET'S GO"

Presented at the Strand
Produced by Truart Featuring
Richard Talmadge

BY J. F. W.

This new star acts like Doug Fairbanks and looks like Bryant Washburn, and the combination of such likeable faculties augurs well for a successful career. The picture isn't so much; albeit it is rather entertaining. It has no moral and no mission, and is built on the sketchy character of a musical comedy plot.

A preliminary caption assures audiences prone to skepticism that the athletic stunts performed by the star are genuine, and there is little room for doubt that the report is veritable. He precipitates himself from roof to roof and from moving train to moving train with startling agility, climbs ropes, poles, and ladders with feline lithe ness and grace, and literally hurls himself into the arms of a girl who does little in the picture but go to market in the most approved provincial fashion with a basket on her arm, wash the hero's wounds with a wet towel, and look pretty. There's a little dirty work afoot, too, to give the plot its proverbial thickening.

In view of the brevity of the feature, the managers have been lavish in providing extraneous bits in the manner of two comedies, one of them Baby Peggy and the other a la nut, a news reel and pictures of the engineer's parade.

INTERESTING FILMS NOW IN PRODUCTION

By CHATTY

How many moving picture producing companies do you think there are? The popular conception is that the grand total is some seven or eight. But that conception is quite wrong, for there are on the west coast exactly 23, yes sir, by count.

And what are all these companies doing in their studios? They all have on an average of four productions ready for release, five or six in the cutting room and three or four in production. They have to keep them coming fast.

And what of interest is coming to the public? Here are a few of them. But before the list is given the writer might offer up a fervent prayer that one of Madison's four theaters would hurry on and book "The Covered Wagon."

"The Woman on the Jury," which made a hit in legitimate and was

Hard-Hearted Gloria Foils Cruel Lawyer
"A SOCIETY SCANDAL"Presented at the Parkway
Featuring Gloria Swanson

BY F. H. W.

"A Society Scandal" . . . evidently the title roused the Parkway managers to heights and depths of publicity and was aimed to cause a furore among the townspeople and a stampede among the students . . . but the film itself was far from equaling the advance publicity.

The blazing pages which were inserted in the Sunday Cardinal by the management through the means of passes to the news carriers made a strenuous attempt to summarize the picture as the vilest . . . most sensational . . . and most daring presentation of this year, past, present, or future. In the picture there was no scene, however, which caused us to hope that no one had seen us come in. There were the situations which were utilized by the lawyer as evidence of the heroine's despicable life, but the picture carefully showed us that there was nothing right in these . . . and that little Gloria was wholly innocent and the abused victim of circumstances and the wiles of the lawyers.

As the play developed we watched her twist the lawyer . . . hard hearted and wily as he was, around her finger, until she gets him to the point where a tousled head of hair and a few screams blacken his name . . . and put him out of social high standing.

written by a young college graduate, is in production with First National along with Cytherea, played by an all star cast and Colleen Moore in "The Perfect Flapper" (this ought to be good).

The public is due for another parody (never seem able to get away from 'em) in the form of "When Knighthood Was in Tower" which will be along pretty quick.

The production of greatest note almost is coming from the direction of the Warner brothers in the form of John Barrymore in "Beau Brummel", that ever popular masterpiece which Clyde Fitch and Richard Mansfield were responsible for. Barrymore should make a good follower of Mansfield. It was Mansfield who made Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde a stage success.

Metro has Laurette Taylor's "Happiness" ready for release. Hartly Manners has written better plays, but it will be nice to see his wife in the movies again if only it doesn't mean that she is deserting the stage.

We'll have more for you Thursday.

INSPIRED CAST PUTS MOVIE FAR ABOVE AVERAGE

"FOOL'S HIGHWAY"

Presented at the Madison
Featuring Mary Philbin

BY TED

After several weeks of either poor or mediocre pictures, it is a relief to be able to review one that is really good. The success of "Fool's Highway" is due primarily to three people. First is Mary Philbin, whose portrayal of Mamie Rose is little less than beautiful. The other two are Irving Cummings who directed the picture—and markedly well at that—and Pat O'Malley who plays opposite Miss Philbin.

The story is laid on the Bowery in the early nineties, and consequently we see the old-time saloon in all its glory. Not the least among the picture's amusing things are the steam elevated railways, the feather bows and the costumes in general, and one very ancient automobile. But to us the most remarkable feature of the whole picture is the fact that even down to the minor characters, the acting is consistently good.

Those worthy of "honorable mention" are Charlie Murray as Mamie's father, Max Davidson as Old Levi, and William Collier Jr. as Old Levi's son Max.

Upstage Bits

By TORMENTOR

UP STAGE BITS—Theater Page

Tormenter wishes to apologize to any of the persons who feel insulted when he doesn't speak to them on the street. It's unintentional and merely the result of near-sightedness. He may write this column but he himself is not "up stage."

This column is liable to be jazzed up this morning. Too much influence, probably from that 10 piece band that Fairy Fairbanks and Jesse Cohen are getting ready for the Haresfoot trip.

Haresfoot chorus ladies and scene shifters are now pressing their spare pants for the numerous social engagements they are to have on the trip. Hardly a town but which has at least a dance planned for the boys.

The Haresfoot program came off the press last night and its pages have a lot about Messrs. this and Messrs. that. But they are more than that, they are also dancers par excellence. McCausland, Faust, Hil-

Norma is Dragged Up Out of Remote Past

"THE ISLE OF CONQUEST"

Featuring Norma Talmadge.

Produced by Selznick.

Presented at the Majestic.

BY D. M. L.

Norma Talmadge is the only redeeming feature in "The Isle of Conquest", and it is a Norma of 1917, one we scarcely recognize and who wears the now-impossible clothes of that date. Why on earth they drag a picture like this out of the past is more than we can understand.

The story has been done time and time again. It is the ship-wreck story with the young wife of the man-about-town and the once prosperous engineer, hating women because one double-crossed him, thrown together on an island (where are these island where people live undiscovered for months?). And it is not in the least up-to-date, but is of war-time, for the shipwreck is brought about by a submarine.

The acting of Norma is as usual good, and she makes a charming and irresistible person to be thrown on an island with. And the picture has some good scenery—one scene especially good of the out-of-doors. But the out of date costumes, the impossible subtitles—impossible both from grammar and thought—and the unfinished type of acting of the supporting cast, make the whole impossible.

dreth and Rivers execute every known dance step and some others with perfection.

Rumor has it that the Parkway attractions are tapering off and that such a show as is coming Saturday marks the beginning of the end.

But don't forget David Warfield who is coming in "The Merchant of Venice."

Isn't it too bad that a play that particularly would please the university people comes during a vacation season?

CLEVER ACTORS, HUMOROUS LINES MAKE FINE PLAY

BY ORPH OWL

"Potash and Perlmutter" is full of laughs. The situations involve enough suspense and dramatic possibilities to keep the audience interested throughout . . . although at certain times the lines seemed merely to mark time in trying to overwork the breathless suspense.

Abe and Maurice, the two partners, are extremely well played by Al Jackson and Melvin Hesselberg. They represent a partnership which never has a quiet moment . . . full of ups and downs both in their business enterprises, and in their expressed regard for each other.

The love making lacked all savor of romance . . . Mae Rey as Irma Potash the supposedly attractive daughter of old Abe was almost as useful in her own love scene as a wax dummy, and we doubt if there are many proposals made that resemble the one of Maurice for the clever designer, played by Dorothy LaVerne.

The book agent scene in the last act was clever . . . and we enjoyed it immensely. Especially the removal of the 50 cent cigar from the man's lips at the discovery of his true identity.

tectural problem. One set of sketch plans and elevations has been developed and presented to the committee. The committee directed the architects to make further studies of the building. It is, in fact, unusual for the first sketches of a great building of this kind to be acceptable. The Memorial Union building committee is determined to protect the interests of students and subscribers, and to realize the great hope which it holds for this building by taking the time necessary to develop the plans carefully and excellently.

JAMES D. PHILLIPS,

Floor Plans Done

A great step forward has been taken in the completion and acceptance of the general arrangement of the floor plans for the Memorial Union building. The next step is the further development of sketches suitable to the site and the nearby buildings. My best efforts will be directed along with those of the associate architect, Mr. Alexander Eschweiler, to produce these sketches as rapidly as possible.

(Signed),
ARTHUR PEABODY.

Mrs. Edith M. Abell, University of South Dakota, Amy M. Daniels, University of Iowa.

Department of physical education—Olga F. Anderson, University of Texas and Charlotte McEwan, Wellesley college.

Law school, Hugo C. Horack, University of Iowa and Maurice Van Hecke, University of Kansas.

Course in Journalism, Everett W. Smith, head of the division of journalism, Leland Stanford university.

Topographic engineering, John Staack of the U. S. Geological survey, and Henry Blake of the Wisconsin railway department.

Sociology, Harry E. Barnes, Smith college.

History, August C. Krey, University of Minnesota.

Romance languages, Elijah C. Hills, University of California, and Eugene M. Lebert, Grinnell college.
