SECURE MARGARET
BANNING TO TALK
AT MATRIX MEET

Novelist and Short Story Writer is Engaged by Theta Sigma Phi

Mrs. Margaret Caulkin Banning, famous novelist and short story writer, will be the honor guest and principal speaker at the annual Matrix Table banquet which will be given Friday, February 25, at the Loraine hotel by Theta Sigma Phi, honorary journalism fraternity for women.

The Matrix Table banquet was given for the first time on the Wisconsin campus last year. It is an event inaugurated by Theta Sigma Phi as a national function, and is given by each of the chapters. The purpose of the Matrix table is to present an opportunity for the representative women among the student body, the faculty, and the local townswomen to meet.

Famous Women Speak

Mrs. Sophie Kerr Underwood was the honor guest at the first Matrix Table of the Wisconsin chapter, held here last year. Miss Zona Gale and Mrs. Genevieve Forbes Herriek, prominent for her work on the Chicago Tribune, were also guests of the chapter.

Speakers for the Matrix Table are selected because of their positions in the profession of journalism and because of their interest in their community. Mrs. Banning is well known for her novels, her latest being "The Women of the Family," as well as her short stories which appear regularly in the Saturday Evening Post.

NATIONAL MASONIC
CONVO HELD HERE

Madison Plays Host to Square and Compass During Vacation

The national convention of Square and Compass was held in Madison from Dec. 29 to Dec. 31 at the Wisconsin chapter house, 614 Langdon street.

Otis Ingebritsen of the local chapter opened the convention at 3 o'clock on Wednesday by introducing the national president, H. B. Funk. Dean Goodnight and Mayor Schmedeman welcomed the delegates for the university and the city of Madison. Charles E. Plegg of Chicago, a 33rd degree Mason and a member of the National League of Masonic clubs was also present.

Madison Lodge No. 5 entertained the delegates and Wisconsin members of Square and Compass at a 6 o'clock banquet at the Masonic Temple. After dinner the Wisconsin Square degree team put on the third degree of Masonry for Alfred J. Ballow. Oliver Schunk of New Jersey was in the Master's chair.

After the meeting on Thursday, the delegates were taken on a sight seeing tour of Madison and the campus.

Mr. B. B. Clark, a 33rd degree Mason, Mr. E. W. Parkinson, and Mr. Plegg gave short talks at the 6 o'clock banquet given Thursday at the University club. Following the dinner the delegates were guests at the basketball game and later attended a dance at the chapter house.

The convention closed at noon on Dec. 31. Officers for the next two years were elected. Howard B. Funk was re-elected national president; Phil B. Coates, of Georgia Technical Institute was elected vice president; Oliver Schunk was elected national secretary to take the place of Mr. Foss. Dean G. J. Eldridge of Idaho and Mr. Davis of Virginia were re-elected treasurer and historian respectively.

WATCH REACTIONS OF HAWK NOW ON DISPLAY

Between classes the lobby of the Biology building, which is always crowded at that time, is particularly congested in one spot that is around the table where the zoology department has a specimen on display each week. The particular attraction this week is a young but large hawk which is a native of this continent. The interest displayed is not because of the specimen's beauty or rarity but because a few intelligent, student experimenters wish to discover the bird's reaction to knives, keys, pencils and pens that are poked and jabbed at it. The critics and observers of the results are all men, for women give the oft repeated experiment but a passing look of disgust and continue on their way.

Prom Music

Campus Awaiting Choice of Orchestra for Event; Saunders', Copeland's, and Pollack's Bands Under Consideration

Footloose eds and co-eds who are planning to attend Prom this year are still living in suspense regarding whose orchestra is to furnish the music which is to inspire their gyrations 'midst the marble columns of the capitol, Edward O'Hara, chairman of the music committee, said yesterday.

"However," O'Hara stated, "the committee has narrowed its choice to three. It is very likely that Coon Saunders' Victor recording orchestra will be picked to play at Wisconsin's famous social event, but Cope Harvey's band, made up entirely of Wisconsin alumni, is still under active consideration."

The latter organization, O'Hara explained, holds a peculiar appeal for the occasion due to its Badger personnel besides being a really good orchestra. The third possibility is Ben Pollack's orchestra from the Southmoor Hotel, Chicago, rated among the very best in the Chicago district.

In an endeavor to satisfy a widespread demand, efforts were made to obtain the well-known and popular Waring's Pennsylvanians. This plan has proved impossible, however, because they are not in this district, and bringing them here would not only be expensive but somewhat impractical.

The music committee has decided to secure only one orchestra for Prom this year just as was done a year ago. Two years ago two bands were employed for the occasion.

Assisting O'Hara on the committee are William Morris, John Best, James Sipfle, Charles Dollard, Betty Seamen, and Edith Reppert.

Novel Christmas
Present Arranged
by Barnard Women

The university women of Barnard arranged for a novel Christmas present before the Christmas recess for two children, in the form of expenses for tonsillotomy operations. The children were found to be suffering from tonsillitis and with no funds for an operation so the residents of Barnard made contributions enough to pay the hospital and surgical expenses.

Barnard inhabitants also made additional gifts to the needy in cash to two homeless, penniless old women that are suffering from tuberculosis. One of the women is a patient at the tuberculosis sanitarium at Wales, while the other is confined to the Wisconsin General Hospital.

These same university women through their generosity have provided three months milk supply for two destitute families of this city. These women also provided 25 children with toys by saving and contributing a portion of their Christmas money.

NATIONAL HEADS
FAVOR FRATERNITY
HOUSE MOTHERS

Group Officials Commend Dean Goodnight's Suggestions for Changes

The suggestion by Dean Scott H. Goodnight in the annual report on fraternity and sorority houses that house mothers be instituted in fraternities met with editorial disapproval by the Chicago Tribune, the State Journal and Time magazine. The attitude of some of the editors that the idea is both new and foolish was attacked by Dean Goodnight in a statement given to the Daily Cardinal yesterday.

The complete statement follows: "The report on the annual inspection of fraternity and sorority houses as gotten out recently by the office of the Dean of Men was sent not only to the president and regents, but also to the chapters living in the houses inspected and to the national organization of these chapters. From the latter have come many acknowledgments and several approvals of the suggestions made to fraternities. The national president of one of the largest fraternities in the country writes, for example, as follows:

"Results Uniformly Good"

"I am indebted to you for the copy of your very excellent report of December 14th. Of course I am pleased to see that the house stands well in the list of those inspected. I am especially interested in your observations on inducing fraternities at Wisconsin to provide a house mother. My observations in various parts of the country from Maine to Kansas lead me to feel that you will make no mistakes by urging this practice upon the fraternities."

"I believe that the results have

WANTED—ONE BRUNETTE
FOR PROM PLAY LEAD

Wisconsin Players is up against it! They have been looking for the female lead for the pre-prom play "Captain Applejack" for more than two weeks without success. W. C. Troutman, director, dropped in the Daily Cardinal office yesterday afternoon and explained his plight. The type of young lady he is looking for is a rather tall brunette, playing the part of a foreign countess, capable of semi-villainous acting. "She should be good-looking, able to act, and must know how to wear clothes," Mr. Troutman said. Tryouts will be held at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon in the Law building.

Ach Looley!

Fliegende Blaetter, Oldest Comic Publication in Germany, Reprints Bit of Prose From "Der Wisconsin Octopus"

That bread cast upon the waters returns sometimes in strange forms and from surprising places. The conclusion reached by Don C. Trenary, Editor-Emeritus of The Octopus, the other day, through the kindness of Prof. George Wagner, The Octopus received a clipping from Fliegende Blaetter, one of the most famous of European comic papers, published in Berlin. In the issue of June 4th, 1926, this periodical published a reprint from "Der Wisconsin Octopus," a prose bit fathered by Trenary last spring.

Prof. Wagner's letter says, "I thought that the enclosed clipping from the oldest and most famous of German comic papers would interest you. The Octy's fame is apparently spreading."

We quote the German for students to crack their teeth upon:

Wie man's macht, ist's Verkehrt
Ich bin fertig mit den Frauen.
Ich kan sie nicht verstehen.

Letzten Donnerstag ging ich mit Marie auf den Huegel. Marie ist ein huedisches maedchen, alle ihre Freunde sagen ihr das. Wir wurden vertraulich.

"Sage mir," bat sie, "meine Fehler."

Ich wolte taktvoll sein. Eine Schmeichelei nach der andern floss von meinen Lippen. Sie unterbrach mich. "Du luegst mich an. Du versuchst, dich angenehm zu machen. Ich hasse dich." Und sie ging weiter.

Letzte Nacht traf ich mit Leonore. Wir wurden vertraulich.

"Sage mir," bat sie, "meine Fehler."

Ich erinnerte mich an Marie. Ich sagte Leonore ihre Fehler.

"Du abscheulicher Mensch!" rief sie aus, "Ich hasse dich." Und fort war sie.

Wie kann man es dem schoenen Geschlecht recht machen? Wissen Sie es?

Badger Director
Elected Chief of Extension League

Professor William H. Lighty, director of the department of extension teaching, was unanimously elected president of the National University Extension association at a convocation held recently in Salt Lake City.

"Every possible element of usable knowledge shall become the possession of those who can make use of it, whether they are on the campus, in the ship or office, or on the farm," declared Prof. Lighty as the policy that the association would follow.

Professor Lighty has attended every extension convention held since the first one which convened in Madison in 1914, and is the only man elected to the presidency who did not hold the position of dean or director of an extension department. His election was a recognition of the policies he contributed which have guided the whole extension movement.

N. W. MAN NAMED

AS GRID MENTOR

Has Brilliant Coaching Career at Earlham, Illinois College, Oak Park, and N. W.

Announcement was made late last night by George Little, Director of Athletics, that Glenn Thistlethwaite, at present head football coach at Northwestern University, will come to Wisconsin this spring to take over the duties of head coach here.

Mr. Thistlethwaite replaces Coach Little in order that the latter may devote full time to his duties as director of athletics. In regards to the appointment of the Northwestern mentor, Mr. Little said, "We are very happy and fortunate to secure Glenn Thistlethwaite as football coach for Wisconsin. We will be able to cooperate to give the great sport of football the attention it deserves, and to put Wisconsin among the leaders of the Big Ten."

FIRST COACHED IN ILLINOIS

Glenn Thistlethwaite was graduated from Earlham college, Richmond, Ind., in 1908. There he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa and distinguished himself in undergraduate athletics.

Upon graduation, he went to Illinois college at Jacksonville, Ill., where he served as athletic director for two years. He then returned to Earlham, and acted as director of athletics there for four years. During that time he turned out a gridiron aggregation that won the Indiana college championship.

Wisconsin Delegation Largest Group at Inspiring Religious Conference

Over fifty-five representatives from Wisconsin attended the National Student Conference held for four days, from December 28 through January 1. The Wisconsin delegation was the largest group among the three thousand delegates coming from all over the nation. The sending of delegates to the conference was under the sponsorship of the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., and other religious organizations on the campus. The conference was a significant achievement, being inspiring in its scope and pertinent to modern problems that youth is facing today.

The theme of the whole conference was "What Resources Has Jesus For Life in Our World?" The treatment of this theme was divided into four cycles, each cycle comprising a day's program. These programs, "Can God Be Accessible To Us and How," "A God Who is the Father of All Mankind," "The Divine Possibilities of Human Life," and "The Meaning of the Cross," lasted all day, with worship, talks by men and women well known all over the world, and informal discussion groups in which students and leaders could express their own ideas and receive the stimulus of others.

One of the main features of the conference was the exhibit showing the real relation of the student Christian movement to the world's life, by means of dramatizations, motion pictures, special costuming and decorations.

DEBYE WILL JOIN PHYSICS MATH STAFF

Dutch Professor Will Start Duties With New Semester

Dr. Peter Debye, former professor at the University of Utrecht and of Göttingen, and now head of the physics department at the Technical high school in Zurich, Switzerland, will become acting professor of mathematical physics at the University of Wisconsin during the second semester. One of the courses he will offer will deal with the molecular theory of the dielectric and magnetic properties of matter.

Dr. Debye has been a contributor to the Encyclopedia of the Mathematical Sciences and is one of the editors of the Physikalische Zeitschrift, a leading European physical journal. Scientific papers dealing with the theory of electrons in metals, the use of probability in the theory of radiation, the theory of specific heat, the theory of photoelectric effect, X-rays, and atomic structure are included in his contributions to theoretical physics.

He was born in Holland in 1884, and studied at the University of Munich. In the spring of 1925, he visited the University of Wisconsin, while on a lecture tour of the United States. He speaks English easily.

City, Carrier To Confer Over Pond St. Bridge

A conference on the construction of the proposed Pond st. viaduct over the North Western road tracks will be held at Chicago, Jan. 14, with officials of the North Western railroad Co., it was announced by Frank Jenks, city attorney.

The conference will be called for the purpose of coming to an agreement with the company on the question of building the overhead bridge within the next year. The construction was ordered completed before Jan. 1, this year, by the railroad commission, but the company appealed the case to the circuit court asking an extension of time to Dec. 31 of this year. The meeting at Chicago has been called with the view of agreeing on completion of the structure this year and withdrawal of the suit now pending. The cost of the bridge will be apportioned between the city and railway company.

Yale Man Dedicates History Book To U. W.

A new book, "A History of the Ancient World," written by Prof. M. Rostovtzeff at Yale, is dedicated to the University of Wisconsin which "made it possible to resume my learned studies and carry them on without interruption."

Prof. Rostovtzeff, who has lectured in universities in Kiev, Petrograd, Oxford, and Yale, taught history at the University of Wisconsin from 1920 to 1925. The book was planned and written between 1921 and 1923 at Madison.

FRATERNITY OFFICERS APPROVE DEAN'S REPORT

almost uniformly been good. Of course there have been occasional instances where the individual selected did not fit, which has not been good. There have also been occasional instances where the fraternity did not appreciate the office of house mother, but expected to make her merely another employee. There little or nothing is accomplished, but when the position is properly filled by a competent and refined person, the improvement in the upkeep of the house and in the atmosphere of it as a home, has been, in my observations, universally noticeable.

"Of course many fraternity houses are not so arranged as to make it possible for a house mother to live in them. Separate rooms with toilet conveniences are almost absolutely essential. I recall, however, one of our houses in which the house mother resides in a nearby home and spends the day at the chapter house, with excellent results. That particular house is one of the best kept houses I have visited."

"Will Be Actual Mother"
Again, an officer of one of the oldest nationals writes:

"I am glad to be able to inform you that in connection with the new House provision has been made for the installation of a 'house mother.' She will not be a 'housekeeper' but will be an actual 'mother' and will function as such in the house."

"It may not be uninteresting to you to know that twenty-five years ago, inaugurated the 'house mother' idea at the University of Kansas. The lady served the chapter continuously for 21 years and retired because of ill health. For a year or two other fraternities made sport of the innovation but they were soon forced to follow suit and today no fraternity chapter at Kansas could run without a 'House Mother.' The Kansas idea spread to the neighboring states of Oklahoma, Missouri and Nebraska. Tennessee and portions of Indiana have joined with their endorsement."

"I know that our Wisconsin chapter will be benefited by the motherly influence of Mrs. — and I venture the prediction that, before many years, every chapter in your university will have a 'House Mother.'"

Comments Dean's Work
A grand secretary writes concerning the matter of building too expensively as follows:

"I am in receipt of the report of your house inspectors showing conditions at the — house. I recall the report you made last year and am just as much pleased to get the report this year, although our house does not rate as high as I should like to see it. The second report being O. K. is encouraging" because it shows cooperation on the part of our men. I note the inspector's liberal statement in regard to our house, excusing the men because of the fact that they are planning a new house.

"I want to thank you for sending this report to the central organization as it is very useful to us in meeting just such conditions as we had to meet this year with our chapter at Madison. I want to assure you of our hearty cooperation for the betterment of fraternal conditions."

Collection of the 1926 taxes will be started by Carl Moe, city treasurer, next Monday. The tax roll is now being completed and the tax statements will be mailed out the latter part of this week.

Dog licenses are now due and are being collected by the city treasurer. Approximately 1,000 dogs are in the city.

Water rentals for the central portion of the city bounded on the west by Murray st. and on the east by Patterson st. are also due.

Madison Is Fastest Growing City In State

Figures show that Madison is the fastest growing city in Wisconsin. At the beginning of the new year, Madison's population is estimated at between 52,500 and 54,000, an increase of approximately 37 or 38 per cent since the 1920 census. Kenosha, with a gain of 33 per cent, is next to Madison in speed of population growth. Milwaukee showed the smallest gain of any of the larger cities of the state, its increase being only approximately 15 per cent.

The examinations are open to students who are not in residence at the university now, as well as resident students, but only in the former case if the non-resident student left the university in good standing. Students who incurred conditions prior to last semester and who have not since been in residence, may also be written off at this time, if application is made.

The examinations will be held on Saturday afternoon January 15 at hours in rooms to be announced by official bulletin in Bascom Hall, Engineering Building and Agricultural Hall, two days before the examinations. Students who have failed to make proper application will be refused admittance to examinations and their conditions will lapse into failures.

"The fact is, that civilization requires slaves. The Greeks were quite right there. Unless there are slaves to do the ugly, horrible, uninteresting work, culture and contemplation become almost impossible. Human slavery is wrong, insecure, and demoralizing. On mechanical slavery, on the slavery of the machine, the future of the world depends."

SLAVES

In a quarter-century the General Electric Company has produced electric motors having a total of more than 350,000,000 man-power. Electric light, heat, and transportation have also contributed their part to the freeing of men. These are America's slaves. Through their service American workers do more, earn more, and produce quality goods at lower cost than anywhere else in the world.

The college-trained man is the first to grasp these facts which raise man from a mere source of physical power to be a director of power, thus realizing the true economic value of the human mind.

You will find this monogram on all kinds of electrical machinery. To insure quality, ask for it on equipment when you buy for factory, office, or home.

A series of G-E advertisements showing what electricity is doing in many fields will be sent on request. Ask for booklet GEK-18.

APPOINT BRANDOW BADGER HOCKEY COACH FOR YEAR

Famous Player, Tutor, Books
Games With Canadian Teams

With the appointment of Willis R. (Rube) Brandow, of Duluth, Minn., as coach of the Wisconsin hockey six announced, plans are rapidly going forward toward the development of the Badger play.

Brandow's coming to Wisconsin should put the game on the upgrade, since he has not only a winning personality, but also a high-calibre playing reputation, being until his arrival here Monday, a member of the Detroit Greyhounds.

To Play Canadians

Simultaneous with his arrival, he announced that he is making negotiations with the University of Manitoba, of Winnipeg, Canada, to appear here against the university team in a two game series, January 21 and 22. The Canadians are booked for St. Paul the preceding days, and if satisfactory negotiations can be made, Wisconsin hockey fans should see some of the best in the ice game appear on the local rink.

It has only been because the contractors of the Detroit Greyhounds failed to complete their rink in time to fill their engagements in the American Hockey league schedule, that it has been possible to get Brandow to Wisconsin.

Was On Title Teams

Brandow's first appearance was with the Selkirks of Manitoba, an amateur team, which won the intermediate championship of Manitoba in 1916 and 1917. The next year the team won the junior title, and the following year took the Western Canadian title and went to the finals for the dominion championship, losing to the Hamilton, Ont., team in an overtime period. In 1919-20, his last year with the Selkirks, Brandow's team won the senior title and lost but one game, that to the Falcons, who were the Olympic champions.

The following year Brandow became a professional hockey player, joining the Alberta Tigers. The next season he played with Duluth. This year he started with the Greyhounds, but with their disbanding has come to Wisconsin.

Lieb To Assist Jones

Tom Lieb, who has been coaching the pucksters, will assume duties as assistant to Tom Jones in track. Lieb will work with the weight men.

The opening game of the Badger hockey season will be Friday night when they engage the Janesville Athletic Club on the local rink. A second game will be played Saturday afternoon, and the next week the Wisconsin team will go into action against Emil Iverson's University of Minnesota title-holders in a game series here at Madison.

Intramurals

Hockey

Entries for interfraternity hockey must be handed in to the Intramural office by January 8. As greater and better ice facilities are being provided this year in the history of the school, more interest is expected. Delta Sigma Pi took the puck chasing title last year, with Theta Chi second, and Beta Pi third. Complete equipment will be furnished and charged to the fraternities competing. The equipment will be available at the rink at the time of the scheduled match, and will be delivered to the manager of the team. The manager must return it immediately following the match, to the intramural manager at the rink.

Basketball

The second round of the fraternity basketball race will begin today with the following games:

Beta Theta Pi vs. Sigma Pi—

12:15

Phi Beta Pi vs. Delta Chi—12:15

Church League

Luther Memorial will meet the Presbyterian indoor baseball team at the Gym Annex at 7:15 tonight.

TRAINING TABLE TIPS

Who's Franklin?

Who's Wabash?

Who's Depauw?

Not so bad, this vacation business. Untroubled by scholastic requirements, Wisconsin slapped down three ambitious opponents in a row, during vacation. Nothing else to worry about till Indiana's struggling young amateurs come rolling in on Saturday night.

The last Wisconsin victory over Syracuse was probably the most valuable from the standpoint of national prestige. Syracuse has been knocking the frosting off eastern cakes for some two years now and it hurt her pride considerably to come in second against the Badgers.

Hank Kowalczyk, Wisconsin center, slumped back into his carefree basket-shooting style Monday night and made four goals. Hank has an aged-in-Indiana basket-eye but he doesn't get on so famously with close officiating.

Notre Dame, already more or less well-known for her football teams, seems also to have acquired the winning habit in basketball. The Irish checked in with a 19-18 victory over Iowa and two conquests over Northwestern. Notre Dame, by the way, appears in Madison next month as another one of those bad ogres along Wisconsin's rocky cage path.

After setting a dizzy pace for forty minutes, Illinois drew in with a 27-13 success over Minnesota Monday night. "Pug" Daugherty, the aggressive gent who proved quite an asset to the Illini football team, was no less effective in a basketball costume and accounted for a majority of his team's points.

Chicago appears to be sinking into newer and more abysmal depths athletically. The Maroon cage team has looked worse than average all season and came out Monday night with an unimposing defeat at the hands of Iowa State college, more popularly known as Ames. One team that the champion-pickers won't need to lose sleep over.

After slamming Iowa and Northwestern vigorously through the ropes, Wabash college picked on one too many small colleges during vacation. Evansville college opened the Little Giants' eyes with a 29-24 defeat on their home floor, and then just to prove it wasn't a joke, duplicated the trick, 30-24, at Evansville three nights later. Incidentally, Franklin college has defeated Evansville twice in a similar decisive manner.

Purdue, just out of Spradlings, looked not so good in her game against Wabash Friday. The adroit "Red" Robinson, Crimson forward, gathered ten field goals as his share of the 42-31 trimming he and his mates handed the Boilermakers.

And if you question anyone immediately connected with this column, you'll find that Michigan isn't weak in the basketball department. The Wolverines, too, defeated Syracuse, though less easily than Wisconsin did, and they will have to be reckoned with in the won and lost column.

WISCONSIN BASKETBALL TEAM VICTORS THREE TIMES IN FOUR STARTS; OPEN BIG TEN SATURDAY

Franklin Alone to Win From Badgers in Pre-Conference
Game

With three victories in four starts, the Wisconsin basketball team closed its 1927 preliminary season with a victory over the strong Syracuse five Monday night at Cleveland by a 31 to 24 score.

After coming out on the short end of a 27 to 24 score, in their opening tilt with Franklin, December 17, the Badgers have wrested three straight victories, one each from Marquette, De Pauw, and Syracuse.

Open Conference Saturday

The task of meeting what stacks up as the strongest team in the Western Conference lies before Dr. W. E. Meanwells five Saturday night when they open their conference season against the veteran Indiana University quintet.

The results of the pre-season games:

Wisconsin 24, Franklin 27

By jumping to an immediate lead, and headed but once during the game the Franklin college five took the Badgers into camp, Friday, Dec. 17.

The little Hoosier team jumped from a 37 to 17 defeat at the hands of Indiana the night before, to show the Badgers a powerful offensive and a well-grounded defense. The Badgers made two more baskets than did Franklin, but counted only four free throws on 10 fouls, while the Indians made 11 points on 15 Cardinal fouls.

With less than five minutes to go the Wisconsin five took the lead for the first time, but Lyons, the giant center, and Wooden, a snappy forward, pulled the game out of the fire.

Wisconsin 29, Marquette 26

Playing a defensive game equal to the best that Tebell and Williams ever gave, and adding eight points to his team's score, Rolph Merkle, the Badger captain for the first half of the season, lead his teammates to a 29 to 26 victory over the Marquette five, December 17.

Wisconsin 24, De Pauw 20

On December 30th, Meanwell's basketball cagers flashed their greatest basketball ability when they turned back the highly touted De Pauw five from Greencastle, Indiana. The Badgers jumped into the lead also immediately after the toss-up and never relinquished it although the Hoosiers did attempt a great rally in the closing minutes of the game and drew up within 4 points of the conquering Badgers.

The famous Meanwell short pass attack was at its best this night and with Behr and Andrews in the center of the famous attack, the Badgers were unstoppable. Captain Merkle at the guard post had another great night and added 4 baskets to the Badger side of the score board.

Wisconsin 31, Syracuse 24

The victory over Syracuse Monday night at Cleveland, Ohio, was undoubtedly the biggest job the Badger cagers have accomplished this year. The eastern college who had heretofore lost but 3 games in 2 years, and romped off with the eastern championship last year was entirely at the mercy of the Badgers from the beginning to the end of the great classic.

Saturday evening the Syracuse five dropped a close and furious battle to Michigan at Ann Arbor, but the easterners claimed western officiating was responsible. However, against the Badgers Monday night they had their own official and were ready to call the battle the real test. But it did no good. The easterners were outplayed in every department of the game and the Meanwell short pass attack worked so brilliantly that it brought gasps from the crowd that viewed the contest.

Kowalczyk, the giant Badger sophomore center, and "Charlie" Andrews were the Badger stars in the contest and it looks like Meanwell is going to have the necessary center strength this year. Kowalczyk sank 4 baskets and played a gallant floor game while "Charlie" Andrews was never better in his whole career. He was here and there seemingly at the same time and was a constant menace to the big eastern guards.

Police Receipts For 3 Months Are $3,419

Total receipts of the Madison police department during the past three months amounted to $3,419.53, according to a statement filed with W. R. Winckler, city clerk, by F. L. Trostle, chief of police. Expenditures for the same period amounted to $198.42. The receipts were received from officers and ambulance fees.

N. W. MAN NAMED TO SUCCEED LITTLE AS GRID MENTOR

Has Brilliant Coaching Career
at Earlham, Illinois College,
Oak Park, and N. W.

Physical Education. His nine years at the Illinois school was exceptionally brilliant, and he produced one national high school, three interstate championships, and two county championship teams.

He began his career at Northwestern five years ago. Since he has been head coach there, he has developed that university's football situation to a high state of perfection. Northwestern tied for second place in the Big Ten last year, and tied for the conference championship this year. Coach Thistlethwaite's record is especially remarkable in view of the fact that formerly Northwestern had never been very successful on the gridiron.

WILL ARRIVE FRIDAY

Mr. Thistlethwaite will probably arrive in Madison Friday, according to Mr. Little, to confer with athletic officials. Although his release will be determined to some extent by Northwestern, he will be here in time for early practice next spring.

Establish Division Under Little

During the past two years Wisconsin has won eleven, tied two and lost three football games, which gives the Badgers first division rating in Big Ten circles.

Coach Little in giving up football after 13 years of coaching will turn all responsibility over to the new men.

According to his own statement, Director Little finds that there is at Wisconsin a growing program of outdoor sports for all students.

Facilities in the form of gymnasium and fields, and water sport facilities are limited, but arrangements are already under way to provide more and better playing spaces.

Twenty Wisconsin Football Men Get Letters for Work

MADISON, Wis.—Twenty Wisconsin football men who participated the required time in conference games this fall have been awarded the major "W". This number includes nine seniors who have completed their grid careers at Wisconsin. Six members of the Badger squad were voted the reserve letter signifying that they have completed as varsity players during the recent season, but not for a sufficient time to earn their major letter.

The following men were awarded the major "W":

Rollie Barnum, Jefferson Burrus, Don Cameron, Cole Wallace, Ralph Conner, Edwin Crofoot, Doyle Harmon, Robert Kasiska, Joe Kresky, Robert Kreuz, Lester Leith, Eugene Rose, Paul Schuette, Austin Straubel, George VonBremer, Rube Wagner, Myron Welch, Earl Wilke, Jack Wilson, Bob Ellis, Manager.

Walter Muegge received a "W" because in the past two years he participated in various games and in addition has spent four years, including S. A. T. C. in 1918 as a member of the Varsity football squad.

The following men were awarded the reserve letter—A. W. A.: Ray Bartlett, Earl Burbridge, Robert Carney, George Hotchkiss, Stanley McGiveran, Marvin Schweers, Frank Shaw, Art Mansfield.

The following members of the Varsity squad were awarded their class numerals and sweaters: Binish, Engelke, Forman, Clement, Gottstein, Hagemeister, Hawley, Hall, Horwitz, Krug, Orcutt, Pierson, Rueckert, Stupecky, Splees, Riviers, Thelander, Van Horne, Wrend, Barr, McCartney, Winder, Eves.

BRUSSELS—Crown Prince Leopold and his bride, Astrid of Sweden, must struggle along on a paltry $140,000 a year. Plans to give them more have been declared unconstitutional.

DESK EDITOR—WESLEY F. PETERSON

It's Too Bad, John

Ex-Governor John Blaine, Wisconsin's most recent political czar, passes out of the picture as boss of politics in this state. After the inauguration of Governor Fred R. Zimmerman Monday noon, it is reported that John left for New Orleans for a vacation which has been delayed for five years. Next March he will become a United States senator at Washington.

John's passing as governor of the state and theoretically as boss of the university would have passed without comment from us if he had made his exit more gracefully, but it happened that during the last fortnight of his administration he became embroiled in a political fight with Prof. Ford H. MacGregor, of the extension department of this university. The manner in which Blaine conducted himself in this controversy reflects on him to his discredit. It shows him up in his true light—as Boss Blaine, the political opportunist, who after playing politics and being tossed around like a football for a dozen years, has plowed his way to the United States senatorship, the highest honor which a state can confer on a man.

Prof. MacGregor, who is also secretary of the League of Wisconsin Municipalities, wrote a "Taxation Catechism," wherein he criticized the present system of taxation in Wisconsin. He charges that the state government gets more than its share of taxes collected; that by collecting the greater share of special taxes, it gets out of levying a general state tax.

"The present system," claims Prof. MacGregor, "involves our whole tax system in politics. . . . Tax legislation is based in political expediency. The most effective campaign argument is reduction in taxes. The tax which touches the number of voters is the general property tax. That administration which can reduce this general property tax has a popular campaign argument. If the state by absorbing all the special taxes, by keeping the portions which should go to local unities of government, can get enough money so that it can avoid the necessity of levying a general property tax, then it has a far more powerful campaign argument.

"In other words, if the tax system can be so manipulated that the state gets all its revenues from these special taxes and does not have to levy a general property tax, thus taking away these special taxes from the local governments and making the local governments levy the general property taxes, then the state can shift the blame for high taxes, in the minds of the voters, from the state to the localities. Candidates for state office can go out on campaign and say to the voters: 'Why! It isn't the state government that makes your taxes high. There is no state tax this year. If you wish to reduce your taxes, go to your cities, or your villages. It's your local government that makes your taxes high. The state is collecting no general property tax this year.'

Blaine answered the catechism in an undignified and characteristically Blaine manner by charging in a letter to President Frank that it was full of "lies and misrepresentations." He intimated in his letter to the president that Prof. MacGregor was not behaving as a good university professor should behave. It was ostentatiously an effort to make the professor walk the plank. Later, Judge Rosa, an expert on taxation in Wisconsin, reported that the catechism was a very able survey of the taxation situation.

We object to the ex-governor's attitude because it is plainly an effort to suppress academic freedom. He lost his head as he often does. Blaine has continually tried to mix politics and the university, in his manner in dealing with appointments. We think that any public educational institution should look with a favorable attitude on pro and con discussions of social, political, and economic ideas. The university should be closely connected with state affairs. It should be an instrument of service. It cannot be that if freedom of discussion is to be suppressed at this university. We object to suppression of conservative ideas as well as we object to the stifling of liberal and progressive principles.

High Priced Prom Music

Prom is drawing near, and once more the problem of getting an elaborate, well-known, expensive orchestra comes up. In a news story on the Daily Cardinal's front page this morning, Edward O'Hara, chairman of the music committee of the prom, says that the selection has narrowed down to three out-of-town bands. Local music hasn't even been considered,—this in face of the fact that a local orchestra could be secured for one third the price of a foreign orchestra. Besides this, local music is fully as good as anything which could be imported.

Those who heard the 17-piece local orchestra at the inauguration ball at the state capital Monday night will agree that it produces just as good dance music as can be secured for student dancing. The men who play in this orchestra are experienced in playing for student dancers. They know what students like, and they are the best musicians in a college town which is noted for its orchestras and social affairs.

The argument will come up that a local orchestra will drive away patronage. That isn't true. A local musical organization played for Jimmy Brader's Prom in 1922, and the crowd that year was as large and enthusiastic as it ever was. But during the past few years there has been a craze for orchestra's with a national reputation. Cost hasn't been considered. The charge has been made throughout the state that the prom costs too much. Of course it costs too much when you carry coal to Newcastle.

Approximately $1,000 could be saved by engaging a local orchestra. If the prom committee finds that it has too much money on hand, it could give such a surplus to the Memorial Union. The Memorial Union building committee would be more deserving of that $1,000 than a foreign orchestra, which contributes nothing to this community. Local business men are solicited for funds for the Memorial Union. Why shouldn't a local business be patronized when it comes to selecting music, especially when it means such a saving?

The Daily Cardinal is in favor of hiring a local orchestra for the 1928 prom.

Hurley Isn't the Only Place

Twenty-nine saloons are to be padlocked up in Hurley, Wis., known as the "Tia Juana of the North." The people of the state are shocked to think that conditions such as exist in Hurley are possible. Gov. Fred Zimmerman announces his intention of making Hurley a part of Wisconsin. Hurley folks are being informed that a prohibition law exists.

But prohibition agents shouldn't stop at Hurley. They should look further. We have been home to spend a couple of weeks with the folks in the old home town. The home town people are shocked to hear about conditions in Madison, where ten minute service is one of the advantages of an underground bootlegging system. After two weeks of intensive and objective study, we have decided that Madison is a cloistered monastery in comparison to our native domicile.

Most every town in the northern part of this state is reeking with illicit liquor, sold openly in "soft drink" parlors. It is not unusual for a town of 3,000 to be supporting a dozen or more "blind pigs." Roulette wheels flourish in one small tourist town, and moonshine is sold in connection. Homecoming lumberjacks, students,—anybody, in fact, have excellent facilities furnished them for "stew" parties.

The Daily Cardinal reiterates what we have often said before. We think that prohibition is a failure, and that the eighteenth amendment should be modified.

Yep, we're back.

And of course the university greeted us cheerfully. (. . . I refer here to the con exam signs they stuck up on the campus to say hello with.)

The first thing we found in the Rocket box was a Christmas Carol by Nitwit Nellie.

Don't you know, my dear Nellie, that Christmas is still 353 days off?

But we must have our little Christmas joke. Vern Loughran, for example, told me there is a movement on foot to put Christmas in February. When I asked him "Whazyidea," he says, "So the Scotch can profit by the January sales."

A guy I hate
Is Jack McGupp
In vacation he got all his School work caught up.

Papa also wishes to cheerfully greet you back with the information that exams start in 19 days.

Ha! Ha! Ha! Wasn't that last one funny though?

(The following is the worst joke we made up during vacation):

"Why is good automobile oil like a door bell?"
"Stops knocks."

And here is our prize joke:
"Are you from Milwaukee?"
"No, I'm from St. John's Military Academy."

One of the boys tells us how Bibs danced with Glenn Frank at a party immediately preceding vacation. She tried to think of a way to start the conversation and finally said, "How do you like college?"

The girl who sits behind us in French class said, "I just hated to come back to school." . . . She lives in Burlington, Wisconsin.

Papa just loves this nice warm weather . . . You have to swim back to your feet whenever you slip and fall.

GORDY WAS right. The outstanding humorati of the campus will form an honor club as soon as a fitting name can be discovered for a society with both Zopelka and Jonah in it.

NEB IS HOOKED

And did you hear the news? Our old rocketeer Nebuchadnezzar was MARRIED last week. (The capitals are my own.)

Neb is certainly original, for he is said to be the only rocketeer that ever got married. The rest of the writers always believed there was such a thing as carrying a joke too far.

DEMOLAY CLUB

There will be an important meeting of the university DeMolay club at the Square and Compass house, 614 Langdon street at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening. Accounts for the recent theater benefit should be settled at once.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

All 10 women's intramural basketball teams that are to participate in the final games see the bulletin board in Lathrop Hall for the schedules of the final games.

WOMEN'S COMMERCE CLUB

Women's Commerce Club will meet tonight in the W. S. G. A. reading room in Lathrop Hall at 7:45.

When Papa was a child, his parents informed him that the story of Little Red Riding Hood was a fairy tale. Now the song by the same name is attempting to prove it, the claim being that the story was forced upon an unsuspecting public.

It is alleged, for example, that Little Red Riding Hood . . . well—er—ah—brought toastwishes instead of sandwiches to her grandmother.

The whole matter is a painful exposure that may influence the Cardinal editorial policy considerably.

We call it a very unfavorable balance of trade—"Christmas comes but once a year," while final exams come twice.

ODE TO THE SORE EYE SPECIAL

(After The Kasidah)

Such general joy could never fade; And yet the chilling whisper came;

This face had paled, that form had failed; Had flunked exams, had grabbed the train.

We have plans well under way to build a structure similar to that being used at the union building, to enable us to dispose of or cigarette ashes.

Helufitis that the union building is no longer strictly a hole. Rocket writers will have to lay off work until they think of something else that's funny.

The ice boating reminds us of the time we fell off one of the vehicles when said vehicles was going 60 per. Landing upon the south side, we wish to state that ice is not always cold, the exception being when the party of the first part is moving at a fast rate relative to the ice of the second part.

ZOPELKIAN TRAGEDY!

We see that the Honey Tea Room has closed down, and Hey, Zope, did you get that $5 Rocket Prom deposit back?

A frosh told us yesterday that he didn't get any ties for Christmas, but we told him that he couldn't kiss us.

Did you know that—
1. Canoeing season has not yet begun.
2. That the library is also a good place to study in.
3. That it's easier to write this sort of thing than study French.
4. That I'm going to call this a column and quit.

Well, I am . . . PAPA ACON.

LOCAL FOREST LAB WORKER HONORED

Aldo Leopold Elected Member of American Foresters Executive Council

Aldo Leopold, associate director of the Forest Products Laboratory here, has been elected to membership on the executive council of the Society of American Foresters, according to a communication from the national headquarters of the society. Members of the executive council of American Foresters are elected to hold office for five years. The members of the executive council who will serve with Mr. Leopold during 1927 are: T. T. Munger, director of the Pacific Northwest forest experiment station; J. G. Peters, assistant chief of public relations of the U. S. Forest Service; E. H. Frothingham, director of the Appalachian forest experiment station; and R. Y. Stuart, commissioner of forestry for Pennsylvania.

The election of a representative of a forest products research institution is regarded as significant of the increasing recognition of forest utilization as an important part of forestry.

Readers' Say-So

THAT ORGANIZED CHEERING
Editor, The Daily Cardinal:

Albee, '29, bewails the lack of organized cheering at the Wisconsin-Marquette basketball game last year. Wisconsin, it seems, was greatly disgraced that evening! Albee, Old TOPPER, Wisconsin went to Milwaukee to beat Marquette at basketball rather than to demonstrate superiority in organized cheering. Wisconsin won that game 42 to 26. Wisconsin got what it went after.

And Albee, even from the standpoint of cheers and cheer leaders, Wisconsin also beat Marquette! From Wisconsin men came spontaneous cheers, just wild yells of satisfaction at great things being done to our friends the enemy. From Marquette came duty responses to the demands of the leaders. Who would have had it differently?

And again, Albee, don't forget that Wisconsin had on the floor the greatest little old producer of spontaneous cheers in the business in Doc. Meanwell and his always fighting boys. Organized cheers, Albee, are 98 per cent bunk! It is team fight, team skill, and the ability to come through, rather than organized noise, that counts.

So Albee, here's to more fighting and winning, teams at Wisconsin, and to fewer cheer leaders.

Yours for Wisconsin,
"27"

Pianist Made Debut When
10 Years Old

Harold Bauer Will Play
In U. W. Recital Saturday

Harold Bauer, who will play at the University Stock pavilion on Saturday night in a joint recital with Pablo Casals, world famous cellist, is what one might call a "self-made" musician. Born of a musical family, he began studying the violin at the age of six. At ten he appeared in public.

After his debut in London, where his family lived, he played much in public. At twenty he went to Paris expecting the musical world to bow before him. He found that engagements for the violin were not easy to get, but that an accompanist was apt to be a more marketable commodity. Bauer decided to use his slight knowledge of the instrument and after a few weeks practice he succeeded in securing some engagements.

His first chance came very soon. He was asked to substitute for another man who was to accompany Paderewski on a second piano.

"At that time," says Mr. Bauer, "I knew about enough to be able to play the essential notes in a difficult passage, those that could not be spared." Mr. Paderewski was evidently impressed, he was interested enough to give helpful hints from time to time and to get him a job.

The job consisted of playing sonatas for violin and piano twice a week with an old Polish aristocrat who had escaped from Poland during the insurrection and had managed to preserve considerable of his fortune.

Later on he was offered an engagement to tour with a singer as her accompanist in Russia and he could not refuse the chance. Then to Constantinople where he had to wait for money from Paris, for he had been robbed en route. In Constantinople he played a concert alone which was apparently a great

Criticize Goodnight
For Women's Plea

The suggestion attributed to Dean Scott H. Goodnight of the University of Wisconsin that fraternities provide themselves with house mothers is commented upon in the magazine, "Time" as follows:

"Male undergraduates of the University of Wisconsin, and not a few recent graduates, suffered embarrassment and chagrin last week at dances, stag parties, afternoon teas and other holiday gatherings where they encountered young ladies and gentlemen from other universities. They, bold "Badgers," were badly badgered because of a report of their Dean of Men, Dr. Scott Holland Goodnight. After examining social and hygienic conditions in Wisconsin's fraternity houses, Dr. Goodnight said: "I believe that resident housemothers in fraternity houses would represent a real improvement in fraternity life, and I hope to see the day when some of the fraternities will give the plan a fair trial."

"Har, har!" crowed the bully-boys from Minnesota, Illinois, Ohio, Chicago. "Har, Har! House mummies for Wisconsin boys. Har, har!"

"Crumbled Badger wits: 'Oh, that old Goodnight, good night!'"

Methodist Bishop Urges
Great Religious Revival

CHICAGO.—A great religious revival is needed in this country, declared Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes of Chicago, presiding at the opening of the executive meeting of the world service commission of the Methodist Episcopal church here today. Bishop Hughes urged more widespread evangelistic preaching in the 25,000 churches of the sect, and asked that efforts be made to have the 5,000,000 members subscribe to a pledge of loyalty to the church and to the Lord.

success, for, on his return to Paris engagements multiplied. Mr. Bauer is a real cosmopolite. He has played in Spain, Italy, France, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland, Holland, the Scandinavian countries, Russia, England, Australia, Honolulu, Turkey, and in every state in this Union except two.

WISCONSIN GRAD
AWARDED HONOR

Lowell Ragatz Receives History Prize for Meritorious Work

Lowell Joseph Ragatz, a University graduate, was awarded the Justin Windsor prize for 1926 by the American Historical Association at Rochester, New York, during the holidays.

This prize is the highest award given by the association and was established by President Dana Munro. It is given to the historical student whose first work in American history published within a two year period is judged to merit it. Dr. Ragatz' paper was on the decline of the British West Indies.

Dr. Ragatz was one of the founders and first editor of the Octopus, president of the Cardinal board of control, business manager of the Literary Magazine and editor of the 1920 Badger while he attended this university. As a junior he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa, and he was an honor graduate in 1920.

Wright's Prints
Put On Sale To

Frank Lloyd Wright's collection of Japanese prints which the famous Spring Green, Wis., architect gathered in his years of residence in the Orient, have been placed on sale by the Bank of Wisconsin of this city to satisfy notes which Mr. Wright owed the bank and as security for which the architect gave the prints.

Announcement that the prints are actually on the market was made this week in advertisements of the Anderson galleries of New York City which appeared in New York papers.

when his thesis on "Anglo French Diplomacy in Egypt, 1875-1904" was awarded the university Jubilee medal. In 1925 he received his Ph. D. from this university.

He is now an instructor in history at George Washington university, Washington, D. C., but his home is in Prairie Du Sac, Wisconsin.

Yule Decorations of Poinsettias, Greens Predominate

Many holiday weddings of interest took place during Christmas recess. Among the weddings in the faculty were those of Miss Louise Boissot and Mr. Maurice Weiler, Miss Frances Landon and Prof. Vincent E. Kivlin, and Miss Frances P. Brayton to Mr. Philip E. Person.

Weiler-Boissot

The marriage of Miss Marie Louise Boissot and Mr. Maurice Weiler, both of whom are members of the French department, was solemnized at three o'clock on the afternoon of Dec. 24 at Le Maison Francaise. The Rev. N. C. Kimball, Episcopal student chaplain, read the marriage service.

A tea followed the ceremony with Mmes. C. H. Greenleaf, Fayard, and Miss Laura Johnson as hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Weiler will visit at their homes in France next summer, returning in the fall to resume their work here.

Kivlin-Landon

A bride of New Year's Day was Miss Frances Landon '21, of the Music school, whose wedding to Prof. Vincent Kivlin of the agricultural department, took place at the home of the bride's parents, in Clintonville at high noon.

MANY GROUP ROOMS ARE UNOCCUPIED

Dean of Men Recommends House Mothers for Fraternities

Twenty per cent of the rooms in fraternity lodges of the University of Wisconsin are unoccupied, according to the report of the annual fall inspections just issued from the office of Scott H. Goodnight, dean of men.

The sorority houses are better filled than those of the men, the inspectors found. In 63 fraternity houses with a combined capacity of 1,631 men, there were living when the inspectors made their visits, 1,318 men. In 26 sorority houses with a capacity of 544 women students, there were 504 occupants.

"There is apparently a tendency toward overbuilding at present," Dean Goodnight notes. "Several fraternities with exceptionally large houses find it difficult to keep them filled and the result is an unduly heavy expense upon the individuals in order that the chapter may keep up its overhead. The university very properly assumes no responsibility for the business affairs of its student group, but it might be timely to consider whether means might be found to discourage groups from undertaking building enterprises that are beyond their reach."

The inspectors found that better conditions prevail in the houses of the Greek letter societies this year than ever before. Only one fraternity and one sorority house were reported as harboring fire hazards. Sixty-five per cent of the women's houses and 56 per cent of the fraternity houses graded A or A minus on the report as to cleanliness and lack of fire hazards. All the women's houses graded B or better, and six of the men's houses fell below B grade.

"The groups are giving far more thought to their living standards than did those of a few years ago," comments Dean Goodnight. "The sororities maintain a somewhat higher average than the men in this respect, chiefly, perhaps, because an experienced matron resides in each sorority house as chaperon—in some cases as a paid housekeeper—while the boys are left largely to their own devices. The writer believes that resident housemothers in fraternity houses would represent a real improvement in fraternity life and he hopes to see the day when some of the fraternities will give the plan a fair trial."

In order to keep the student groups at a high standard of housekeeping and fire prevention, Dean Goodnight believes that three inspections annually, instead of the one now made, should be requested of the Madison city council by the president and the regents of the university.

SINGAPORE STRAITS SETTLEMENTS—The fate of the majority of the places in the vast flooded area of the Malay states is still unknown.

Loeb, Leopold Released To Go In Court

Habeas Corpus Writs Are Issued; Murderers Are Sued

JOLIET, Ill.—Habeas corpus writs permitting Nathan Leopold Jr. and Richard Loeb, slayers of Bobby Franks, to appear in circuit court here were issued today by Judge Frank L. Hooper.

Hits Coolidge For Attack On The Press

Says Newspapers Cannot Be Muzzled On Foreign Policy

WASHINGTON—President Coolidge was criticised in the senate today by Sen. King (Dem., Utah), for what he termed "a lecture to the press for its criticism of the president's foreign policy."

The senator said he had been unable to determine what this country's foreign policy is, but "it is not a wise thing to attempt to muzzle the press or retard its discussion of the foreign policy."

The reference was to a recent White House utterance in which the president was represented as feeling that the government was being handicapped in foreign affairs because of the attitude of some American newspapers.

Try it for a week
—this new type mouth wash

"You'll enjoy
new benefits"
say 10,000 dentists
and physicians

YOU want a clean, sweet mouth, of course. You want to safeguard your health, too. Here's a remarkable means of doing both!

It's a new mouth wash—Char-Tex. Wholly unlike any mouth wash you've ever used before!

Dentists and physicians have long been using Char-Tex in private practice. Now it is available for home use.

Char-Tex is different in this: it is not an astringent. It does not shrink the gums; does not contract the blood vessels.

It works on Nature's own principle—stimulation. It speeds up the flow of healthful blood in the capillaries. Brings up white corpuscles to kill disease germs and heal in Nature's way.

New benefits

Of course Char-Tex sweetens and purifies the mouth and breath. But it renders a greater service. It actually promotes health. It is a powerful germicide—yet so harmless you can swallow it.

You need not fear Pyorrhea, bleeding gums and other mouth infections. Char-Tex is an efficient safeguard.

It also helps prevent and relieve sore throat, smokers' throat, tonsillitis, colds.

These plus benefits come from just the simple daily habit of using Char-Tex as a wash and gargle. You can just feel its stimulating action, bringing new antiseptic cleanliness.

A week's trial will convince you that Char-Tex gives you new benefits. If you are not more than satisfied, your money will be refunded. Start using Char-Tex today. At all drug and department stores, 50c and $1.00 a bottle.

300 Attended Last Year

The Matrix Table banquet is the largest affair given for the women of the college community during the year. Over 300 women attended the banquet last year. The chapter intends to send out approximately 500 invitations this year, as the great success of the first Matrix Table has made local women as well as the women students interested in the Matrix Table.

While the speakers chosen to address the banquet are women interested in and famous in the field of writing, the event is not designed only for those interested in journalism as a profession. Everyone is interested in reading and this common interest was the cause of Theta Sigma Phi adopting the Matrix table as a national policy.

Local Chapter in Charge

The members of the local chapter of Theta Sigma Phi in charge of the banquet are: Florence Allen '27, Helen Allyn '27, Mary Brandel '27, Gladys Eld '27, Daisy Grenzow '27, Esther Hawley '27, Annette Hirschfeld '27, Helen Liebman '27, Rose Mantell '27, Edna Miller '27, Maude Parry '27, Florence Schauer '27, and Winifred Wise '27.

SECRETARY WILBUR COMMENDS STUDENT

Praises Victor Randecker for Courageous Recovery of Body

Victor W. Randecker of Stoughton, a student in mechanical engineering in the College of Engineering, has recently been commended by the Secretary of the Navy for his efforts to rescue the occupants of a seaplane which fell into Lake Michigan near the Great Lakes Naval Training station last summer while Randecker was there in training.

In part, the letter reads as follows:

"In reviewing the record of the board of investigation to inquire into the crash of the seaplane on Aug. 7, 1926, the department notes with pleasure the heroic part you took in attempting to rescue the occupants of the plane.

"The declarations before the board reveal that you and Russell Irvin Burns, seaman second class, V-5 USNR, immediately after the crash voluntarily dove from the seawall and swam to the wrecked plane some 300 yards away through a sea too rough for others to succeed. Arriving at the wreck you immediately set to work to release the bodies of the two officers. You, together with Burns, were able to effect a prompt recovery of the body of Ensign Stone before you yourself became exhausted.

"It is the opinion of the department that the duty performed by you on this occasion under existing conditions was hazardous and at times dangerous to your safety.

"The department commends you for your conduct on this occasion."

Randecker is something of an athlete, having earned his numerals in wrestling. He is specializing in aviation and plans to take further training in flying at Great Lakes and Hampton Roads stations.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Another resolution to repeal the 18th amendment was introduced today in the house. Its author is Rep. Cochran (Dem. Mo.)
